Ver. 15. Apron] The Word is found only here and in Iſa. iii. 22. Several render it cloke or mantle, but that is reckoned up by Iſaiah beſides, and ſo is vail. It is generally underſtood to be ſome linen Thing, or ſome Cloth; and the two famous Tranſlators Jun. and Trem. turned it ventrale, Apron, which was the moſt proper Thing for Boaz to bid her bring; and ſo the περιζωμα of the Septuagint is to be underſtood, being Something girded about her by the Derivation of the Word, and which would hold Corn. The Gen. turn it ſheete.

Ib. he went] as the Hebrew is, and to do what follows, Chap. iv. 1. ſo Jun. and Trem. have ingreſſus eſt, as likewiſe Munſt. and the Tigurin Bib. nay the Targum has בֹּעַז Boaz.

Ver. 16. Who] If ſhe had known her to be her Daughter, ſhe needed not to have aſked who ſhe was. But this Abſurdity is removed, by conſidering it as two diſtinct Queſtions; which might be aſked when ſhe knocked at the Door for Entrance, or becauſe it was not light enough for Naomi to know her perfectly.

17. She

17. She ſaid withal; he gave me theſe ſix Meaſures of Barley: for he ſaid to me, Go not empty to thy Mother-in-law.

18. And ſhe replied, Sit ſtill, my Daughter, till thou knoweſt how the Matter will fall: for the Man will not reſt, but finiſh it to Day.

CHAP. IV.

NEXT Boaz went up to the Gate, and ſitting down there, behold the Kinſman of whom he ſpoke paſſed along; ſo calling him by his Name, he ſaid, Turn aſide, ſit down here: Which he did accordingly.

2. He likewiſe took ten Men of the Elders of the City, who ſate down there, at his Requeſt.

3. Then he ſaid to the Kinſman: Naomi who is come back out of the Country of Moab, has Part of a Field to ſell that was our Brother Elimelech's.

4. Which I thought I would inform thee of, that thou mighteſt buy it before the Inhabitants, and the Elders of my People: if thou wilt redeem it, do; but if thou wilt not, let me know; for there is none beſides thee to do it, and I am next to thee. And he ſaid, he would redeem it.

5. But when Boaz replied, At the Time thou buyeſt the Field from Naomi, thou muſt buy alſo of Ruth the Moabiteſs the Wife of the Dead, to raiſe up his Name upon his Eſtate;

6. The Kinſman anſwered, I cannot redeem it for my ſelf, leſt I ſhould ſpoil my own Eſtate: redeem my Right for thy ſelf, ſince I cannot do it.

7. Formerly in Iſrael upon Redemption and Exchange, to confirm every Thing, one pulled off his Shoe, and gave to another; and this was an Evidence among them.

8. Accordingly the Kinſman bidding Boaz buy it for himſelf, pulled off his Shoe.

9. At this Boaz ſaid to the Elders, and all the People; Ye are Witneſſes to Day, that I buy all which was Elimelech's, and all which was Chilion's and Mahlon's, from Naomi;

10. And that I alſo purchaſe Ruth the Moabiteſs, the Wife of Mahlon, to be my Wife, to raiſe up the Name of the Dead upon his Eſtate, that it may not be deſtroyed from his Brethren, and the Gate of his Place: ye are Witneſſes to Day.

11. We are, ſaid all the People who were at the Gate, and the Elders: the Lord make the Woman who is coming into thy Houſe, like Rachel and Leah, thoſe two that built up the Family of Iſrael; and do thou valiantly in Ephratah, and have a Name famous in Beth-lehem.

12. Let thy Family too be like that of Pharez, whom Tamar bore to Judah, from the Offspring which the Lord ſhall give thee of this young Woman.

13. Thus Boaz married Ruth, and going in to her, the Lord gave her Conception, and ſhe bore a Son.

14. With that the Woman ſaid to Naomi; Bleſſed be the Lord who has not let thee fail of a Kinſman to Day, whoſe Name ſhall be famous in Iſrael.

15. Nay he will be a Reſtorer of Life to thee, and a Suſtainer of thy old Age; becauſe thy Daughter-in-law who loves thee has born him, ſhe who is better to thee than ſeven Sons.

16. So Naomi took the Child, and putting him in her Boſom, was his Nurſe.

17. And the Women who were Neighbours gave him a Name, ſaying there was a Son born to Naomi, which Name was Obed: he was the Father of Jeſſe, the Father of David.

18. Now theſe were the Generations of Pharez: he begot Hezron,

19. And he Ram, and he Amminadab,

20. And he Nahſhon, and he Salmah,

21. And he Boaz, and he Obed,

22. And he Jeſſe, and he David.

Ver. 1. he ſaid] The Heb. has not unto whom, nor the former Engliſh Tranſlations; ſo remiſs were thoſe whom King James employed: however the old Lat. has, ad eum.

Ver. 4. inform thee of] Tynd. do the to wete, the Biſh. differently ſpelled, doe thee to wit.

Ib. Inhabitants] Gen. aſſiſtants.

Ver. 5. buy alſo] not it, but her to be his Wife underſtood, as Ver. 10. Deut. xxv. 5, 6. which made the Kinſman refuſe to buy the Land, when he had conſented to do it before; and ſimply buying the Land would not raiſe up the Name of the deceaſed Huſband: the Chald. and vulg. Lat. expreſs here the taking her; ſee Buxt. Vindic. p. 761.

Ib. raiſe] Tynd. ſteare, ſo Gen. and Biſh.

Ver. 8. the Kinſman] But the vulg. Lat. contrary to the Heb. Booz ſaid to his Kinſman, Take off thy Shoe.

Ver. 11. do—valiantly] The like Words are together in Pſa. cxviii. 15, 16. and the Noun is Strength, Valour, &c. Accordingly Sebaſt. Mun. renders it, tu age ſtrenue, and Leo Jud. tu ſtrenue age.

Ib. a Name] as Ver. 14.

Ver. 13. gave her Conception] in our former Tranſlations, gave that ſhe conceived.

Ver. 15. thy Daughter-in-law who loves thee has born him] But the com. Lat. of thy Daughter-in-law is he born who will love thee.

NOTES

NOTES upon the FIRST BOOK of SAMUEL.

CHAP. I.

AND there was a certain Man of Ramathaim-zophim, of Mount Ephraim, whoſe Name was Elkanah, the Son of Jeroham, the Son of Elihu, the Son of Tohu, the Son of Zuph, an Ephrathite;

2. Who had two Wives, the Name of one was Hannah, and that of the other Peninnah; and the latter had Children, but Hannah none.

3. Now that Man went up out of his City from Year to Year, to worſhip and ſacrifice to the Lord of Armies at Shiloh; where the two Sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, the Prieſts of the Lord were.

4. Moreover on the Day when Elkanah ſacrificed, he gave Peninnah his Wife, with all her Sons and Daughters, Parts.

5. And to Hannah he gave one Part with a ſorrowful Look; becauſe he loved Hannah, and the Lord had ſhut up her Womb.

6. And becauſe of that, her Adverſary alſo provoked her to Indignation, that ſhe might make her fret.

7. He likewiſe doing ſo Year by Year, at her going up to the Houſe of the Lord, ſhe thus provoked her; therefore ſhe wept, and did not eat.

8. Elkanah her Huſband then would ſay to her, Hannah, Why weepeſt thou? And why doſt not thou eat? And why is thy Heart ſad? Am I not better to thee than ten Children?

9. At laſt Hannah roſe up after the eating and drinking at Shiloh, when Eli the Prieſt was ſitting upon a Seat, againſt a Poſt of the Temple of the Lord;

10. And ſhe being in bitterneſs of Soul, prayed to the Lord, and wept grievouſly.

11. She alſo made this Vow, O Lord of Armies, If thou wilt at all look on the Affliction of thy Handmaid, and remember me, not forgetting thy Handmaid, ſo that thou wilt give her male Iſſue, I will give him to the Lord all the Days of his Life, and a Razor ſhall not come up on his Head.

12. And as ſhe prayed much before the Lord, Eli obſerved her Mouth.

13. However Hannah ſpoke in her Heart, only her Lips moved, without her Voice being heard; therefore Eli thought ſhe was drunk.

14. Whereupon he ſaid to her, How long wilt thou be drunk? Put away thy Wine from thee.

15. But Hannah made anſwer; No, my Lord: I am a Woman oppreſſed in Mind, and have not drunk either Wine or ſtrong Drink; but have poured out my Soul before the Lord.

16. Do not repreſent thy Handmaid to have the Look of an ungodly Woman: for I have ſpoken hitherto, from the Abundance of my Meditation and Diſpleaſure.

17. Then Eli made reply, Go in Peace; and the God of Iſrael grant thy Petition which thou haſt aſked him for.

18. Who rejoined, Let thy Handmaid be in favour with thee. So the Woman went her Way, and eat, having her ſorrowful Countenance no more.

19. And they roſe early in the Morning, and worſhipping before the Lord, went back to their Houſe at Ramah; and Elkanah had the knowledge of Hannah his Wife, whom the Lord remembered.

20. For when the Time was come about, after Hannah had conceived, ſhe bore a Son; and called his Name Samuel, Becauſe, ſaid ſhe, I aſked the Lord for him.

21. Afterwards when the Man Elkanah went up with all his Family, to offer to the Lord the yearly Sacrifice, and his Vow;

22. Hannah

22. Hannah did not go up: for she said to her Husband, Not till the Child is weaned; then I will have him, that he may appear before the Lord, and abide there for ever.

23. To whom Elkanah her Husband said, Do what thou likest, abide till thou hast weaned him, only the Lord confirm his Word. Accordingly the Woman abode, and gave her Son suck, till she weaned him.

24. And she carried him up with her when she had done that, with three Bullocks, one Ephah of Flour, and a Bottle of Wine, and had him to the House of the Lord at Shiloh; the Boy being a Child.

25. They also killed a Bullock, and brought the Child to Eli.

26. When she said; O my Lord, by thy Soul's living, my Lord, I am the Woman who stood with thee here praying to the Lord.

27. For this Child I prayed, and the Lord has given me my Petition which I asked him for.

28. Therefore I also give him that was asked, all his Days to the Lord, who was petitioned for him. At which he worshipped the Lord there.

CHAP. II.

MOREOVER Hannah prayed, and said: Through the Lord my Heart triumphs, my Horn is lifted up by the Lord: my Mouth is enlarged against my Enemies, because I am glad in thy Salvation.

2. None is holy like the Lord, for there is none besides thee; and no Rock like our God.

3. Do not talk very loftily so much, or let hard Things come out of your Mouth: for the Lord is a God of Knowledge, and such Doings are not right.

4. The Bows of the powerful are broke, and those who were fallen are girded with Strength.

5. The full are hired for Bread, and the hungry cease; even the barren bears seven, and she who has many Sons languishes.

6. The Lord causes to die, and makes alive: he brings down to the Grave, and brings up.

7. The Lord makes poor, and makes rich: he puts down, he also sets up.

8. He raises up the Poor from the Dust, from the Dunghill he lifts up the Needy, to make them sit with Princes, and cause them to possess the Throne of Glory: for the Stations of the Earth are the Lord's, and he put the World upon them.

9. He will keep the Feet of his pious ones, but the Wicked shall be silent in Darkness: for unavailing is the Strength of Man.

10. Those who contend with the Lord shall be broke in pieces, in Heaven will he thunder upon them, the Lord will judge the Limits of the Earth; as also give Strength to his King, and lift up the Horn of his anointed one.

11. Afterwards Elkanah went to his House at Ramah, and the Boy ministred to the Lord before Eli the Priest.

12. But the Sons of Eli were ungodly Persons, they knew not the Lord.

13. And it was the Manner of the Priests with the People; when any Man offered a Sacrifice, the Priest's Servant came, as the Flesh was boiling, with a Fork of three Teeth in his Hand:

14. Which he striking either into the Pan, Kettle, Cauldron or Pot; all that the Fork brought up, the Priest took of it: according to this they did at Shiloh, to all Israel who came thither.

15. As also before they burnt the Fat, the Priest's Servant came, and said to the Man who sacrificed, Give the Priest Flesh to roast: for he will not take boiled Flesh of thee, but raw.

Ver. 3. such Doings are not right] Those which she had just dissuaded from. Mont. non directa sunt opera, the Works are not right; Jun. and Trem. non disponuntur actiones, the Deeds are not put in order. This Verb in Niphal, signifying to be right or equal, is in Ezek. xviii. 25, 29. & xxxiii. 17. To him, not by him, instead of not, by the Change of a Letter, but of the same Sound, is a marginal Reading. The Sept. having God for not, the Author of the present State of the Hebrew Text says לא was read אל by them, p. 141. for which there is no Necessity, since לו to him might be translated God from אל before. He adds, and so in Job xiii. 15. whereas they have not God there.

Ver. 5. cease] to be hungry.

Ver. 7. he puts down] It is said that Æsop asking Chilo what God was doing? received for Answer, Τὰ μὲν ὑψηλὰ ταπεινοῦν, τα δὲ ταπεινὰ ὑψοῦν, Humbling the lofty, and exalting the humble, Diog. Laertius in Vit. Chilo. according to that also in the Poem of the Virgin-mother, Luke i. 52.

Ver. 14. of it] Trem. and Jun. ex eo, of it; Mont. illud, that; Coverdale says, that toke the Priest therof.

Ver. 15. raw] having the Fat on it, which should have been burnt, Lev. vii. 23, 25, 31. & iii. 16, 17. so that the Crime of Eli's Sons was double, besides what follows, Ver. 22.

16. To whom the Man ſaying, They will burn the Fat quite up preſently, then take thee according as thy Mind deſires; he would reply to him, But thou ſhalt give now, and if not, I will take by Force.

17. Thus the Sin of the young Men was very great before the Lord; for Men contemned the Lord's Offering.

18. However Samuel miniſtred before the Lord, a Boy girded with a linen Ephod.

19. Whoſe Mother made him a little Cloak, and brought up to him from Year to Year, when ſhe came up with her Huſband to offer the yearly Sacrifice.

20. Eli too thus bleſſed Elkanah and his Wife, The Lord make thee have Offſpring from this Woman, inſtead of the Petition which the Lord was aſked for. So they went to his own Place.

21. When the Lord viſited Hannah, ſo that ſhe conceived, and bore three Sons and two Daughters; while the Boy Samuel grew up with the Lord.

22. Now Eli was very old; and heard all that his Sons did to all Iſrael, and how they lay with the Women who aſſembled at the Door of the publick Tent.

23. With that he ſaid to them; Why do you ſuch Things as theſe, whereby I hear the evil Things of you from all theſe People?

24. Let it not be, my Sons: for it is not a good Report which I hear; you make the People of the Lord tranſgreſs.

25. If one Man ſins againſt another, the Judge will judge him; but if a Man ſins againſt the Lord, who ſhall pray for him? Nevertheleſs they would not hearken to what their Father ſaid, though the Lord ſhould ſlay them.

26. But the Boy Samuel went on in being great and good, both with the Lord, and likewiſe with Men.

27. There came alſo a Man of God to Eli, and declared to him: Thus ſays the Lord; Was I at all revealed to thy Father's Family, when they were in Egypt at the Houſe of Pharaoh?

28. And did I chooſe him out of all the Tribes of Iſrael for a Prieſt to me, to offer up on my Altar, to burn Incenſe, to have on an Ephod before me, giving them all the Sacrifices of the Iſraelites by Fire?

29. Why then do you kick at my Sacrifice and Offering, which I commanded for my Habitation; and doſt thou honour thy Sons above me, by making your ſelves fat with the chief of all the Offerings of Iſrael my People?

30. Therefore ſays the Lord God of Iſrael, I fully ſaid thy Family and that of thy Father might walk before me for ever; but now the Lord ſays, Far be it from me, for them who honour me I will honour, and thoſe that deſpiſe me ſhall be contemned.

31. Lo the Days are coming when I will cut off thy Arm, and the Arms of thy Father's Family, ſo that there ſhall not be an old Man in thy Houſe.

32. Nay thou ſhalt behold Diſtreſs for my Habitation, in all that it does well to Iſrael; and there ſhall not be an old Man in thy Houſe continually.

The *Chald. 35. I will further raiſe me up a faithful Prieſt, that ſhall do as it is in my Heart and Soul; for whom I will build a ſure Houſe, and he ſhall walk before my anointed one at all Times.

CHAP. III.

NOW the Boy Samuel miniſtred to the Lord before Eli; and the Word of the Lord was precious at that Time, no Viſion coming forth.

2. In which Time Eli lying down in his Place, whoſe Eyes began to be dim, he being unable to ſee;

3. Before the Lamp of God went out, in the Temple of the Lord, where the Ark of God was, Samuel alſo lay down.

4. And the Lord called to him; who anſwered, Here am I.

5. Whereupon he ran to Eli, and ſaid, Here am I, ſince thou calledſt me. But he ſaid, I did not call, go back, lie down. Accordingly he went, and lay down.

6. Then the Lord called yet again, Samuel. And he getting up, went to Eli, and ſaid, Here am I, ſince thou didſt call me. But he anſwered, I did not call, my Son, return, lie down.

7. This was before Samuel knew the Lord, and before his Word was revealed to him.

8. Moreover the Lord called Samuel again the third time; at which he roſe up, and going to Eli, ſaid, Here am I, for thou didſt call me. Then Eli underſtood that the Lord had called the Boy.

9. Therefore he ſaid to Samuel; Go, lie down; and if he calls thee, thou ſhalt ſay, Speak, O Lord, for thy Servant hears. So Samuel went, and lay down in his Place.

10. And the Lord came, and ſtanding, called as at the other Times, Samuel, Samuel. Upon this he ſaid, Speak, for thy Servant hears.

11. The Lord then ſaid to him; Behold I will do a Thing in Iſrael, at which both the Ears of every one who hears it ſhall tingle.

12. On that Day will I confirm to Eli all which I have ſpoken concerning his Family, beginning and finiſhing.

13. For I have told him, that I will judge his Family for ever, for the Iniquity which he knows; becauſe his Sons made themſelves vile, and he did not reſtrain them.

14. And therefore I ſwear concerning the Family of Eli, that the Iniquity of it ſhall neither be purged by Sacrifice nor Offering for ever.

15. After which Samuel lay till the Morning, and opened the Doors of the Lord's Houſe: for he was afraid of telling Eli the Viſion.

16. But he called him, and ſaid, Samuel my Son. Who anſwered, Here am I.

17. And he replied, What is the Matter which he ſpoke to thee? Do not conceal it from me, I pray; by God's doing to thee ſo and ſo beſides, if thou concealeſt any Thing at all of it.

18. Accordingly Samuel told him all the Things, concealing nothing from him; who ſaid, It is the Lord, let him do what he pleaſes.

19. And as Samuel grew up, the Lord was with him, and did let none of all his Words fall to the Ground.

20. Nay all Iſrael from Dan to Beerſheba knew, that Samuel was confirmed to be a Prophet of the Lord.

21. The Lord likewiſe appeared again at Shiloh: for it was there that he had been revealed to Samuel by his Word.

CHAP. IV.

THE Word of Samuel alſo was to all Iſrael; and they went out to meet the Philiſtines in Battle, and encamped by the Stone of Help, as the Philiſtines did at Aphek.

2. Who ſet themſelves in Order to meet Iſrael, and extending the Battle, Iſrael was defeated before them; and they killed of the Army in the Field about four thouſand Men.

3. Whereupon the People went into the Camp, and the Elders of Iſrael ſaid, Why has the Lord defeated us to Day before the Philiſtines? Let us fetch to us the Ark of the Lord's Covenant from Shiloh, that coming amongſt us, it may ſave us from the Power of our Enemies.

4. Accordingly the People ſent to Shiloh, that they ſhould bring up from thence the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord of Armies who inhabits the Cherubs; and the two Sons of Eli were there with the Ark of God's Covenant, Hophni and Phinehas.

5. And upon its coming into the Camp, all Iſrael ſhouted with ſuch a great Shout, that the Earth echoed.

6. When the Philiſtines hearing the Noiſe of the Shout, aſked, Why is the Noiſe of this great Shouting in the Camp of the Hebrews? And they underſtood that the Ark of the Lord was come thither.

7. At this they were afraid: for they ſaid, God is come into the Camp. Adding; Wo is unto us, for there has not been like this heretofore.

8. Wo is to us; Who ſhall deliver us from the Power of this mighty God? This is the very God who ſmote the Egyptians with all the Plagues in the Wilderneſs.

9. Strengthen your ſelves, and be Men, O Philiſtines, that you may not ſerve the Hebrews, as they have ſerved you: therefore be Men, and fight.

10. So the Philiſtines fought, and Iſrael was defeated, inſomuch that they fled to their reſpective Tents, and there was a very great Slaughter: for there fell of them thirty thouſand Footmen.

11. Nay the Ark of God was taken, and the two Sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were killed.

12. Then a Man of Benjamin ran from the Army, and came to Shiloh that Day, with his Cloaths torn, and Earth upon his Head.

13. And when he came, behold Eli was ſitting upon a Seat at the Side of the Way watching, becauſe he was afraid at his Heart for the Ark of God; and as the Man went in, telling it in the City, they all cried out.

14. Thus Eli hearing the Noiſe of the Crying, ſaid, Why is the Noiſe of this Tumult? The Man alſo made haſte, and came, that he might tell him:

15. He being in his ninety eighth Year, and his Eyes were ſet, ſo that he could not ſee.

16. To whom the Man ſaid, I am come from the Army, whence I fled to Day. And he aſked, How is the Matter, my Son?

17. Then the Meſſenger made anſwer, Iſrael fled before the Philiſtines, and there was alſo a great Slaughter among the People; and thy two Sons likewiſe, Hophni and Phinehas, are dead, nay the Ark of God is taken.

18. And as ſoon as he mentioned the Ark of God, Eli fell from the Seat backward by the Side of the Gate, and his Neck broke, ſo that he died; for he was an old Man, and heavy: who had judged Iſrael forty Years.

19. Beſides his Daughter-in-law, the Wife of Phinehas, was with child, ready to lie in, and hearing the News of the Ark of God being taken, and that her Father-in-law and Huſband were dead; ſhe bowed, and was delivered, for her Pains were turned upon her.

20. And about the Time of her Death, though the Women who ſtood by her ſaid, Do not fear, for thou art delivered of a Son. Yet ſhe did not anſwer, nor regard;

CHAP. V.

THUS the Philiſtines took the Ark of God, and brought it from the Stone of Help to Aſhdod:

2. Which having taken, they carried it into the Houſe of Dagon, and placed it by him.

3. But when the Aſhdodites roſe early the next Day, behold Dagon was fallen on his Face to the Ground, before the Ark of the Lord; whereupon they took him, and put him in his Place again.

4. Yet getting up betimes in the Morning the next Day, behold he was fallen as before; and his Head, with both the Palms of his Hands were cut off on the Threſhold, only the fiſhy Part was left to him.

5. Therefore the Prieſts of Dagon, and all who go into his Houſe, do not tread upon his Threſhold in Aſhdod to this Day.

6. Moreover the Hand of the Lord was heavy on the Aſhdodites, and he made them deſolate: for he ſmote thoſe of Aſhdod, and the Coaſts of it, with the Piles.

7. And the Men of Aſhdod ſeeing that it was ſo, ſaid, The Ark of the God of Iſrael ſhall not abide with us; for his Hand is hard, both upon us, and Dagon our god.

8. They therefore ſent, and gathered all the Lords of the Philiſtines to them, and aſked, What ſhall we do with the Ark of the God of Iſrael? Who anſwered, Let it be carried about to Gath. So they carried it about.

9. But after they had done that, the Hand of the Lord was on the City with a very great Vexation, the Men of which he ſmote from the leaſt to the greateſt; and the Piles they had were out of Sight.

10. With that they ſent the Ark of God to Ekron; but at the coming of it thither, the Ekronites thus cried out, They have brought about the Ark of the God of Iſrael to us, to kill us and our People.

11. So they ſent, and gathered together all the Lords of the Philiſtines, and ſaid, Send away the Ark of the God of Iſrael, and let it return to its Place, that it may not kill us and our People. For there was a deadly Vexation in all the City, the Hand of God was very heavy there.

12. The Men who did not die, being ſmitten with the Piles; and the Cry of the City went up to Heaven.

CHAP. VI.

AND the Ark of the Lord was in the Country of the Philiſtines ſeven Months.

2. At length calling the Prieſts and Diviners, they enquired, What ſhall we do with the Ark of the Lord? Let us know in what Manner we ſhall ſend it to its Place.

3. Who anſwered, If you ſend away the Ark of the God of Iſrael, ſend it not empty, for you muſt by all means render him a Treſpaſs-offering; then you may be healed, and it will be known to you, why his Hand is not put away from you.

4. And they replied, What muſt the Treſpaſs-offering be, which we ſhall render to him? To which the others ſaid: Five golden Piles, and five golden Mice, the Number of the Lords of the Philiſtines; becauſe all the People, and your Lords, have the ſame Plague.

5. For when you have made Images both of your Piles and Mice, that corrupt the Country, and have given Glory to the God of Iſrael; perhaps he will lighten his Hand from you, your gods and Country.

6. Why then ſhould you make your Hearts heavy, as the Egyptians and Pharaoh did theirs? When he wrought among them, did not they let the People go, ſo that they went away?

7. Now therefore take a new Cart, which

8. You ſhall then take the Ark of the Lord, and put it on the Cart, and the golden Things which you render to him for a Treſpaſs-offering you ſhall lay in a Box at the Side of it: thus ſhall you ſend it away that it may go.

9. See moreover, if it goes up the Way of its own Frontier to Beth-ſhemeſh, he has done us this great Hurt; but if not, we ſhall know that it was not his Hand which ſmote us, it was a Chance that we had.

10. And the Men did ſo; for they took two Milch-cows, and harneſſed them to the Cart, and ſhut up their young ones in the Houſe.

11. They alſo laid the Ark of the Lord on the Cart, and the Box, with the golden Mice, and the Images of their Emerods.

12. And the Cows went ſtraight along in the Way, namely that to Beth-ſhemeſh, going in one Road, and went on bellowing, without turning aſide to the right Hand or left: for the Lords of the Philiſtines went after them, as far as the Bounds of Beth-ſhemeſh.

13. Now thoſe of Beth-ſhemeſh were reaping the Wheat-harveſt in the Vale; and looking up, they ſaw the Ark, which they were glad to ſee.

14. And the Cart went into a Field of Joſhua the Beth-ſhemeſhite, and ſtood ſtill there, where was a great Stone; then they cleaved the Wood of the Cart, and offered up the Cows a Burnt-offering to the Lord.

15. Beſides the Levites took down the Ark of the Lord, and the Box which was with it, wherein were the golden Things, and put on the great Stone; the Men of Beth-ſhemeſh alſo offered up Burnt-offerings, and ſacrificed Sacrifices that Day, to the Lord.

16. Which the five Lords of the Philiſtines ſeeing, returned to Ekron that Day.

17. And for theſe were the golden Emrods, which the Philiſtines rendered for a Treſpaſs-offering to the Lord; for Aſhdod one, for Gaza another, for Aſhkelon another, for Gath another, for Ekron another.

18. The golden Mice likewiſe were the Number of all the Cities of the Philiſtines, belonging to the five Lords, both thoſe fortified and Towns; even to the great Stone of Mourning, on which they placed the Ark of the Lord, that is to this Day in the Field of Joſhua the Beth-ſhemeſhite.

19. However the Lord ſmote of the Men of Beth-ſhemeſh, becauſe they looked into his Ark, ſeventy Perſons, as he did of the People fifty thouſand Perſons; ſo that the People mourned, becauſe the Lord ſmote them with a great Plague.

20. And the Men of Beth-ſhemeſh ſaid, Who is able to ſtand before this holy Lord God? And to whom ſhall he go up from us?

21. Whereupon they ſent Meſſengers to the Inhabitants of Kirjath-jearim to ſay, The Philiſtines have brought back the Ark of the Lord, come down, fetch it up to you.

CHAP. VII.

SO the Men of Kirjath-jearim came, and carried it up, which they had into the Houſe of Abinadab on the Hill, and conſecrated his Son Eleazar to look after it.

and all the Family of Iſrael lamented after the Lord.

3. Now Samuel ſpoke thus to all the Family of Iſrael, If you return to the Lord with your whole Hearts, put away the gods of the Strangers from among you, with Aſhtaroth; and preparing your Hearts for the Lord, ſerve him alone, then he will deliver you from the Power of the Philiſtines.

4. Accordingly the Iſraelites put away Baalim and Aſhtaroth, ſerving the Lord alone.

5. Samuel further ſaid, Gather together all Iſrael to Mizpeh, that I may pray for you to the Lord.

6. Whither they gathered together, and drawing Water, poured out before the Lord, nay faſted that Day, and confeſſed there, that they had ſinned againſt the Lord; and Samuel judged the Iſraelites at Mizpeh.

7. But the Philiſtines hearing that they were gathered thither, their Lords went up againſt Iſrael; which they hearing of, were afraid by reaſon of the Philiſtines.

8. Therefore they ſaid to Samuel, Be not ſilent from crying to the Lord our God for us, that he may ſave us from the Power of the Philiſtines.

9. Upon which he took a ſucking Lamb, and offered up for a Burnt-offering wholly to the Lord; as alſo cried to him for Iſrael, not unanſwered by the Lord.

10. For as Samuel was offering up the Burnt-offering, and the Philiſtines came nigh to the Battle againſt Iſrael; the Lord thundered with great Claps upon them that Day, and routed them, ſo that they were defeated before the Men of Iſrael:

11. Who going out of Mizpeh, purſued the Philiſtines, and ſmote them till they were below Beth-car.

12. Then Samuel took a Stone, and put between Mizpeh and the Rock, and called the Name of it The Stone of Help: for he ſaid, Hitherto the Lord has helped us.

13. Thus were the Philiſtines brought down, and came again no more into the Confines of Iſrael; nay the Hand of the Lord was againſt them all the Time of Samuel;

14. Inſomuch that the Cities which they had taken from Iſrael were reſtored to it, from Ekron to Gath, it likewiſe reſcued the Borders of them out of their Hands; and there was Peace between Iſrael and the Amorites.

15. And Samuel judged Iſrael all the Days of his Life.

16. Moreover he went from Year to Year, round about to Beth-el, Gilgal and Mizpeh, judging Iſrael at all theſe Places.

17. And his Return was to Ramah, for his Home was there; where he judged Iſrael, and built there an Altar to the Lord.

Ways;

Ways; now make us a King to judge us, like all the Nations.

6. But Samuel diſliked the Matter, when they ſaid, Give us a King to judge us. Whereupon he prayed to the Lord.

7. Who ſaid to him; Hearken to what the People ſpeak, in all that they ſay to thee: for they have not rejected thee, but have rejected me from reigning over them.

8. According to all the Deeds which they have done, from the Day that I brought them up out of Egypt, to this Day, forſaking me, and ſerving other gods; ſo they do alſo to thee.

9. Yet now hearken to what they ſay; but let it be when thou haſt fully teſtified againſt them, and told them the Manner of the King who ſhall reign over them.

10. So Samuel ſpoke all the Words of the Lord, to the People who aſked him for a King.

11. And he ſubjoined: This will be the Manner of the King who ſhall reign over you; he will take your Sons, that he may put them for himſelf to his Chariots, and for his Cavalry, and that they may run before his Chariots;

12. And be put for him Captains both of Thouſands and Fifties; as alſo to do his Ploughing, reap his Harveſt, and make the Inſtruments of his War, with thoſe of his Chariots.

13. He will likewiſe take your Daughters, for Confectioners, Cooks and Bakers:

17. He will take the Tithe of your Flocks; and you ſhall be Servants to him.

18. So that you ſhall cry out at that Time, by reaſon of your King whom you have choſen for your ſelves; but at that Time the Lord will not anſwer you.

19. Nevertheleſs the People refuſed to hearken to what Samuel ſpoke, and ſaid; No, but there ſhall be a King over us:

20. That we alſo may be like all the Nations, and our King may judge us, go out before us, and fight our Battles.

21. And when Samuel had heard all the Words of the People, he ſpoke them in the Hearing of the Lord.

22. Upon which the Lord ſaid to him, Hearken to what they ſay, and make them a King. Then Samuel ordered the Men of Iſrael, to go to their reſpective Cities.

CHAP. IX.

AND there was a Man of Benjamin, whoſe Name was Kiſh, the Son of Abiel, the Son of Zeror, the Son of Bechorath, the Son of Aphiah, a valiant Benjaminite:

2. Who had a Son, and his Name was Saul, a young Man and comely, ſo that there was no Man of the Iſraelites more comely than he; being from his Shoulders upward the talleſt of all the People.

3. And the Aſſes of Kiſh his Father, being loſt, he ſaid to his Son Saul, Take now one of the Servants with thee, and get ready, go ſeek for the Aſſes.

4. So he paſſed over Mount Ephraim, and through the Country of Shaliſhah, but they did not find them: they alſo paſſed through the Country of Shaalim, where they were not; as he did that of the Benjaminites, yet they did not find them.

5. When they came to the Country of Zuph, Saul ſaid to his Servant who was with him, Come, and let us go back; leſt my Father ſhould no longer mind the Aſſes, but be in care for us.

6. And he anſwered him, Behold now there is a Man of God in this City, who is an honourable Man; all that he ſays fully comes to paſs: now let us go thither; perhaps he will tell us our Way wherein we ſhould go.

7. Whereupon he replied to his Servant, And behold when we go, what ſhall we bring to the Man, ſince the Proviſion is gone out of our Vehicles, and there is no Preſent to carry to the Man of God? What is there with us?

Behold I have got in my Cuſtody the fourth Part of a Shekel of Silver, which I will give him, that he may tell us our Way.

9. Heretofore in Iſrael a Man ſpoke thus when he went to enquire of God, Come, and let us go to the Seer. For he who is now a Prophet, was heretofore called a Seer.

10. And Saul ſaid to him, Thy Saying is good; come, let us go. Accordingly they went to the City where the Man of God was.

11. As they were going up in the Aſcent of it, they met with young Women coming out to draw Water; to whom they ſaid, Is the Seer here?

12. Who made anſwer to them; He is behold before thee: make haſte now; for he came to Day to the City, becauſe there is a Sacrifice to Day for the People on the high Place.

13. Juſt as you enter into the City, you may find him, before he goes up to the high Place to eat; for the People will not eat till he comes, becauſe he bleſſes the Sacrifice, after which they eat who are invited: now therefore go up, for you may find him preſently.

14. Then going up into the City, when they were come within it, lo Samuel met them, coming forth to go up to the high Place.

15. Now the Lord had revealed to Samuel's Ear, a Day before Saul came, as follows,

16. About this Time to Morrow I will ſend to thee a Man from the Country of Benjamin, whom thou ſhalt anoint for a Ruler over my People Iſrael, that he may ſave them from the Power of the Philiſtines: for I have looked on my People, becauſe their Cry is come to me.

17. Beſides when Samuel ſaw Saul, the Lord ſaid to him, There is the Man of whom I ſpoke to thee, he ſhall rule over my People.

18. And Saul drawing nigh to him at the midſt of the Gate, ſaid, Be pleaſed to tell me where the Seer's Houſe is.

19. Upon this he made anſwer to Saul; I am the Seer; go up before me to the high Place, that you may eat with me to Day; and in the Morning I will let thee go, and tell thee all which is in thy Heart.

20. And as for thy Aſſes that have been loſt now three Days, do not mind them, for they are found; and to whom is the whole Deſire of Iſrael? Is it not to thee, and to all thy Father's Houſhold?

21. To which Saul made reply, Am not I a Benjaminite, of the leaſt of the Tribes of Iſrael, and my Family the ſmalleſt of all thoſe of the Tribes of Benjamin? Why then doſt thou ſpeak ſuch a Matter as this to me?

22. But Samuel took him and his Servant, and introduced them into the Parlour, giving them a Place among the chief of thoſe that were invited, who were about thirty Men.

23. Next he ſaid to the Cook; Give me the Part that I gave thee; of which I ſaid to thee, Set it by thee.

24. And when the Cook had taken up the Shoulder with what was upon it, for him to ſet it before Saul; he ſaid, Behold that which was left, ſet it before thee, and eat; for it was kept for thee to the appointed Time, ſaying, I have invited People. Thus Saul eat with Samuel that Day.

25. Afterwards they went down from the high Place to the City, and he talked with Saul upon the Roof.

called him to the Roof, and ſaid, Get ready, that I may let thee go. Which Saul did, and they both went out, he and Samuel abroad.

27. As they were going down at the End of the City, Samuel ſaid to him, Tell the Servant, that he ſhould paſs on before us (who paſſed on;) but ſtand thou ſtill preſently, that I may let thee hear the Word of God.

CHAP. X.

HE then took a Vial of Oil, and poured upon his Head, and kiſſing him, ſaid: Is it not becauſe the Lord anoints thee to be Ruler over his Poſſeſſion?

2. When thou goeſt from me to Day, thou wilt find two Men by Rachel's Sepulchre, in the Border of Benjamin at Zelzah, who will tell thee; The Aſſes are found that thou wenteſt to ſeek for, and behold thy Father lets alone the Affair of them, and is in care for you, ſaying, What ſhall I do for my Son?

3. And thou ſhalt paſs away from thence further, and come to the Oak of Tabor, where three Men going up to God at Beth-el will meet with thee; one bringing along three young Goats, another carrying three Loaves of Bread, and the other a Bottle of Wine.

4. Who will aſk thee of thy Welfare; and give thee two Loaves of Bread, which thou ſhalt receive of them.

5. After that thou ſhalt come to the Hill of God, where the Garriſon of the Philiſtines is; and as thou comeſt thither to the City, thou wilt meet a Company of Prophets coming down from the high Place, with a Lute, Timbrel, Pipe, and Harp before them, and they will propheſy.

6. At this the Spirit of the Lord will come upon thee, ſo that thou wilt propheſy with them; and wilt be turned into another Man.

7. And when theſe Signs come to thee, do what thou findeſt to be done, ſince God is with thee.

8. Thou ſhalt afterwards go down before me to Gilgal, and behold I will come down to thee, to offer up Burnt-offerings, to ſacrifice Sacrifices of Peace-offerings: ſeven Days ſhalt thou tarry, till I come to thee, and let thee know what thou muſt do.

9. Thus when he had turned his Back to go from Samuel, God turned him into another Mind, and all theſe Signs came to paſs that Day.

10. In particular they came thither to the Hill, and lo a Company of Prophets meeting him, the Spirit of God came upon him, ſo that he propheſied amongſt them.

11. All the People therefore who knew him in Time paſt, ſeeing plainly that he propheſied with the Prophets, ſaid one to another, What is the Matter with the Son of Kiſh? Is Saul alſo among the Prophets?

12. To which a Man from thence made anſwer, But who is their Father? Thereupon it became a Proverb, Is Saul alſo among the Prophets?

13. At length when he had made an end of propheſying, he went to the high Place.

14. And Saul's Uncle aſked him, and his Servant, Whither did you go? And he ſaid, To ſeek for the Aſſes, and when we ſaw that they were gone, we went to Samuel.

15. Whereupon he replied, Tell me, I pray, what Samuel ſaid to you.

16. And Saul anſwered him, He told us plainly that the Aſſes were found. But the Matter of the Kingdom he did not tell him, of which Samuel ſpoke.

17. Moreover Samuel called the People to the Lord at Mizpeh,

18. And ſaid to the Iſraelites; Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael, I brought up Iſrael from Egypt, and delivered you from the Power not only of the Egyptians, but of all the Kingdoms that oppreſſed you.

19. Yet ye have now rejected your God, who himſelf ſaved you from all your Harms and Diſtreſſes, having ſaid to him, But thou ſhalt ſet a King over us. Now therefore preſent your ſelves before the Lord, by your Tribes and Thouſands.

20. So Samuel made all the Tribes of Iſrael come near, and that of Benjamin was taken.

21. Next he made this Tribe come near by its Families, and that of Matri was taken; as was laſtly Saul the Son of Kiſh, whom they ſought after, but he could not be found.

22. Therefore they aſked again of the Lord, Will the Man yet come hither? And the Lord ſaid, There he is hid at the Things.

23. Then they ran, and fetched him from thence; who placing himſelf in the midſt of the People, was the talleſt of them all, from his Shoulders upward.

24. Upon which Samuel ſaid to them, Do you ſee whom the Lord has choſen, that there is none like him among all the People? And they all ſhouted, and ſaid, Let the King live.

25. Beſides Samuel told them the Manner of the Kingdom, and wrote it in a Book, which he laid up before the Lord: ſo he let them all go to their reſpective Homes.

26, And Saul alſo went to his Home at Gibeah; and there went with him a Retinue, whoſe Hearts God touched.

27. But ſome ungodly Perſons ſaid, How ſhall he ſave us? And they deſpiſed him, bringing him no Preſent; yet he was like one ſilent.

CHAP. XI.

NOW Nahaſh the Ammonite came up, and encamped againſt Jabeſh-gilead; ſo that all the Men of it propoſed to him, Make a Treaty with us, and we will ſerve thee.

2. To whom he ſaid, Thus will I do it, by pulling out all your right Eyes, and putting it a Reproach upon all Iſrael.

3. And the Elders of Jabeſh replied to him, Let us alone ſeven Days, that we may ſend Meſſengers into all the Bounds of Iſrael; and if none will ſave us, we will come out to thee.

4. So the Meſſengers went to Gibeah of Saul, and ſpoke the Words in the Hearing of the People; who all burſt out a crying.

5. But behold Saul coming after the Herd out of the Field, ſaid, What is the Matter with the People, that they cry? And they told him the Words of the Men of Jabeſh.

6. And the Spirit of God came upon him, when he heard theſe Words, and he was very angry.

7. So that he took a Yoke of Oxen, which he divided in Pieces, and ſent into all the Bounds of Iſrael by the Hands of Meſſengers, who ſaid, Thus ſhall it be done to his Oxen that does not come forth after Saul and Samuel. And the Dread of the Lord fell upon the People, inſomuch that they came out as one Man.

8. Whom he numbered in Bezek, and the Iſraelites were three hundred thouſand: and the Men of Judah thirty thouſand.

9. Moreover they ſaid to the Meſſengers who came, ſay thus to the Men of Jabeſh-gilead, To Morrow you ſhall have Help as ſoon as the Sun gives heat. And when the Meſſengers came, and told them, they were glad.

10. With that the Men of Jabeſh ſaid, To Morrow we will come out to you, that you may do to us entirely as you pleaſe.

11. Whereas the next Day Saul put the People into three Companies, who got in within the Camp in the Morning Watch, and ſmote the Ammonites till the Heat of the Day; and ſuch as remained were ſo diſperſed, that there were not two of them left together.

12. Then the People exclaimed to Samuel, Who ſaid, Shall Saul reign over us? Give up the Men, that we may put them to death.

13. But Saul anſwered, There ſhall no Man be put to death this Day: for to Day has the Lord made Preſervation in Iſrael.

14. Afterwards Samuel ſays to the People, Come, and let us go to Gilgal, and renew the Kingdom there.

15. Accordingly all the People went thither, and there they made Saul King before the Lord in Gilgal, where they ſacrificed Sacrifices of Peace-offerings before the Lord; and there Saul, with all the Men of Iſrael, were very joyful.

2. Now

2. Now therefore behold the King will walk continually before you, as I have done from my Childhood to this Day, and being now old and grey-haired, my Sons lo they are with you.

3. Here am I, teſtify againſt me before the Lord and his anointed one, whoſe Ox I have taken, or whoſe Aſs it is, or whom I have wronged, whom troubled, or of whoſe Hand taken a Ranſom, that I might blind my Eyes with it; and I will reſtore it to you.

4. And they anſwered, Thou haſt neither wronged us, troubled us, nor taken aught from the Hand of any one.

5. Then replied he to them, Let the Lord be a Witneſs to you, and his anointed one the ſame this Day, that you do not find any thing with me. Who rejoined, Let them be Witneſs.

6. Samuel alſo ſaid to the People: It was the Lord, who prepared Moſes and Aaron, and who brought up your Forefathers from the Country of Egypt.

7. And now preſent your ſelves, that I may judge you before the Lord, by all his righteous Things, which he has done with you and your Fathers.

8. When Jacob was come to Egypt, and your Forefathers cried to the Lord, he ſent Moſes and Aaron, who brought them out of Egypt, and made them dwell in this Place.

9. But they forgot the Lord their God; and he delivered them up into the Power of Siſera, Captain of the Army of Hazor, and into the Power of the Philiſtines, with that of the King of Moab, who fought againſt them.

10. Yet when they cried to the Lord, and ſaid, We have ſinned, becauſe we have forſaken the Lord, and ſerved Baalim and Aſhtaroth; but now deliver us from the Power of our Enemies, and we will ſerve thee;

11. The Lord ſent Jerubbaal, Bedan, Jephthah and Samuel; and delivered you from the Power of your Enemies round about, ſo that you dwelt ſecurely.

12. But you ſeeing that Nahaſh King of the Ammonites was coming againſt you, ſaid to me, No, but a King ſhall reign over us; when the Lord your God was your King.

13. And now here is the King whom you choſe, whom you aſked; for behold the Lord has put a King over you.

14. If you will fear the Lord, ſerve him, hearken to what he ſays, and not rebel againſt his Command; both you and likewiſe the King who reigns over you, will be following the Lord your God.

15. On the other hand if you will not hearken to what the Lord ſays, but do rebel againſt his Command, his Hand will be againſt you, as againſt your Fathers.

16. Now alſo preſent your ſelves, and ſee this great Matter, which the Lord will do in your Sight.

17. Is it not Wheat-harveſt now? I will call to the Lord, that he may give Thunder and Rain: ſo know, and ſee that your Wickedneſs is great, which you have done in the Sight of the Lord, to aſk for you a King.

18. Accordingly Samuel called to the Lord, who gave Thunder and Rain that Day; exceedingly afraid therefore of the Lord and Samuel,

19. All the People ſaid to him, Pray for thy Servants to the Lord thy God, that we may not die; though we have added to all our Sins, the Wickedneſs of aſking for us a King?

20. Samuel then ſaid to them: Do not fear, having done all this Wickedneſs; yet turn not aſide from after the Lord, but ſerve him with your whole Heart.

21. I ſay do not turn aſide: ſince it will be after empty Things, which will neither profit, nor deliver, becauſe they are empty.

22. For the Lord will not forſake his People, by reaſon of his great Name; ſince he has been pleaſed to make you a People to himſelf.

23. As for me, far be it from me that I ſhould ſin againſt the Lord, by ceaſing to pray for you; on the contrary I inſtruct you in the good and right Way.

The *vulg. 25. But if you do very wickedly, both you and your King will be conſumed.

CHAP. XIII.

SAUL having reigned his firſt Year, and beginning to reign the ſecond Year over Iſrael;

2. He choſe him three thouſand of them, two thouſand being with himſelf in Michmaſh and on Mount Beth-el, and a thouſand with Jonathan in Gibeah of Benjamin; the reſt of the People he let go to their ſeveral Tents.

3. And Jonathan beat a Garriſon of the Philiſtines that was in Geba, which they heard of; whereupon Saul had the Trumpet blown through all the Country, with this Speech, Let the Hebrews hear.

4. So all Iſrael heard it ſaid, Saul has beat a Garriſon of the Philiſtines, ſo that Iſrael is even odious among them. And the People were called after him to Gilgal.

5. The Philiſtines alſo were gathered together to fight with Iſrael, thirty thouſand belonging to Chariots, and ſix thouſand Horſemen, with People as the Sand which is upon the Sea-ſhoar for Multitude; and going up, they encamped at Michmaſh, on the Eaſt of Beth-aven.

6. Then the Men of Iſrael ſaw that they had Diſtreſs, for the People were ſtraitened; therefore they hid themſelves in Caves, among Thorns, in Rocks, Caſtles and Pits.

7. Nay ſome Hebrews paſſed over Jordan, to the Country of Gad and Gilead; but Saul himſelf was yet in Gilgal, and all the People followed him trembling.

8. And he ſtaid ſeven Days, according to the appointed Time which was for Samuel, when he was not come thither; and the People were diſperſed from him.

9. Upon this Saul ſaid, Bring hither to me a Burnt-offering, and Peace-offerings; and he offered up the former.

10. Which when he had made an end of doing, behold Samuel came; whom he went out to meet, that he might ſalute him.

11. And Samuel ſaying, What haſt thou done? Saul anſwered, Becauſe I ſaw that the People were diſperſed from me, and thou didſt not come at the appointed Time of the Days, and the Philiſtines were gathered up to Michmaſh:

12. Therefore I ſaid, Now will the Philiſtines come down to me at Gilgal, and I have not made ſupplication before the Lord; ſo I ſtrengthened my ſelf, and offered up a Burnt-offering.

13. Samuel however replied to him; Thou haſt done fooliſhly: thou haſt not kept the Commandments, that the Lord thy God ordered thee; when the Lord would now have confirmed thy Kingdom in Iſrael for ever.

14. Whereas now thy Kingdom ſhall not ſtand: the Lord has ſought him out a Man according to his Mind, and he will enjoin him to be Ruler over his People; becauſe thou haſt not kept what the Lord commanded thee.

15. Moreover Samuel getting ready, went up from Gilgal to Gibeah of Benjamin; and Saul numbered the People who were preſent with him, about ſix hundred Men.

16. He too, and Jonathan his Son, with thoſe People, ſtaid at Gibeah of Benjamin; while the Philiſtines encamped at Michmaſh.

17. Out of whoſe Camp there came three Companies of Spoilers: one turned into the Way to Ophrah, to the Country of Shual;

18. Another likewiſe turned the Way to Beth-horon; as the other did that to the Border, which looks againſt the Valley of Zebohim, towards the Wilderneſs.

19. Now there was not a Smith to be found in all the Country of Iſrael; leſt, as the Philiſtines ſaid, the Hebrews ſhould make Swords or Spears.

20. But all Iſrael went down to them, to have their reſpective Plough-ſhares, Spades, Axes, and Mattocks ſharpened.

Ver. 25. very] not ſtill, which would be if the Words were tranſpoſed, as thoſe who underſtand Hebrew know. So that it has the Caſt of Ignorance, eſpecially as there is the ſame again in Chap. xxvi. ult.

Ver. 1. beginning to reign] which the Verb frequently denotes, as may be found in the Hiſtory of the Kings: thus the Verſe connects well, but I am ſure not in the common Tranſlation.

Ver. 5. belonging to Chariots] as 1 Chron. xix. 7, 18. where ſee the Comments. Thus there is no Need to ſuppoſe with ſome noted modern Writers, that thirty thouſand for the Largeneſs of it is an Error of the Text.

Ver. 6. Caſtles] So Jun. and Trem. have arcibus, and the Tigurin Bible arces; others Towers. The Word is beſides in Judg. ix. 46, 49. where the common Tranſlation has hold.

Ver. 7. ſome Hebrews] which may be tranſlated inſtead of Hebrew men, according as is common in the preſent Verſion.

Ver. 18. Zebohim] This differing one Letter from that in Hoſ. xi. 8.

Ver. 20. Spades] Jun. and Trem. Caſt. Munſt. the old Lat. Tranſ. with Pagn. and Montan. have it rendered ſo by ligo; agreeing with the Lexicons.

21. Yet there were Files for the Mattocks, Spades, Forks and Axes; and to ſet the Goads.

22. Thus on the Day of Battle, neither Sword nor Spear was to be found in the Hands of any of the People, who were with Saul and his Son Jonathan; however there was with them.

23. Beſides the Garriſon of the Philiſtines went out to the Paſſage of Michmaſh.

CHAP. XIV.

AND one Day the Son ſaid to the young Man who carried his Arms, Come, and let us paſs over to the Garriſon of the Philiſtines, which is on that Side; but he did not tell his Father.

2. Who in the mean time ſtaid at the End of Gibeah, under a Pomegranate-tree which was in Migron, with about ſix hundred Men as before;

3. Together with Ahijah the Son of Ahitub, the Brother of I-chabod, the Son of Phinehas, the Son of Eli the Lord's Prieſt at Shiloh, who had on an Ephod; but the People did not know that Jonathan was gone.

4. Now between the Paſſages by which he endeavoured to paſs to the Garriſon of the Philiſtines, there was a ſharp Rock on each Side, the Name of one being Bozez, and that of the other Seneh.

5. The Point of one was ſituate on the North over againſt Michmaſh, and the other on the South over againſt Gibeah.

6. And when Jonathan ſaid to the young Man who carried his Arms, Come, and let us paſs over to the Garriſon of theſe uncircumciſed, perhaps the Lord will work for us; ſince there is no Reſtraint to him, to ſave whether by many or few;

7. He anſwered him, Do all that is in thy Heart; turn thee aſide, here I am with thee according to thy Mind.

8. Then replied Jonathan; Behold we will paſs over to the Men, and diſcover our ſelves to them.

9. If they ſhall ſay thus to us, Be quiet till we come to you; we will ſtand ſtill in our Place, and not go up to them.

10. But if they ſay thus, Come up to us; we will go up, for the Lord has given them up into our Power: and this ſhall be a Sign to us.

11. Accordingly they both diſcovered themſelves to the Garriſon of the Philiſtines; who ſaid, Behold the Hebrews come out of the Holes where they hid themſelves.

12. The Men of the Garriſon alſo ſpoke to them as follows, Come up to us, and we will let you know Something. Then Jonathan ſaid to him who carried his Arms, Come up after me, for the Lord has given them up into the Power of Iſrael.

13. So he climbed up on his Hands and Feet, and the other after him; and they fell before Jonathan, he who carried his Arms killing after him.

14. And the firſt Slaughter that they made, was of about twenty Men in about half an Acre of ploughed Land.

15. With that there was a Trembling in the Camp, in the Field, and among all the People, even the Garriſon and Spoilers themſelves trembled; nay the Earth ſhook, for it was a Trembling from God.

16. And when the Watchmen of Saul in Gibeah of Benjamin looked, behold the Multitude diſſolved, and went away, beating down one another.

17. Therefore Saul ſaid to the People that were with him, Number now, and ſee who is gone from us. Which they doing, behold Jonathan and he who carried his Arms were abſent.

18. He then ſaid to Ahijah, Bring nigh the Ark of God: for it was at that Time with the Iſraelites.

19. And whilſt he was ſpeaking to the Prieſt, the Multitude that was in the Camp of the Philiſtines went away very faſt; at this Saul ſaid to him, Withdraw thy Hand.

Ver. 3. Ahijah] the ſame as Ahimelech, Chap. xxi. 1, &c. with xxii. 20.

Ver. 6. And when] as in Ver. 1.

Ver. 14. in about half an Acre of ploughed] The Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text, p. 452, 453. extols Mr. Hallet in his Notes on peculiar Texts of Scripture, 3 Vol. 8vo, for ſuppoſing the LXX, inſtead of כבחצי מענה read בחציים ובמעות as he himſelf does that for צמד they did read ובגמרי with Darts, and with Stones (the Word ſignifies Gravel as in Iſa. xlviii. 19. and how did they kill Men with that? But the LXX have it throwing of Stones) and with Flints, as if they were not Stones; and if the Hebrew had ſuch an Impropriety, what a Noiſe ſhould we have had of its being wrong.

Ib. ploughed Land] from the Coupling of the Beaſts in ploughing it.

Ver. 15. the Earth] Vulg. the Camp was troubled; yet in a few Editions it is the Earth or Country, the Participle conturbata ſerving for both, either as fem. ſing. or neut. plur.

Ver. 18. Ark] it being fetched from Kirjath-jearim on certain Occaſions, Chap. xi. 15.

Ib. with] 'namely in the Camp, whither ſometimes 'it was brought, as 1 Sam. iv. 5.' Poole. And the Verb ſignifying bring nigh may ſhew it was there.

Ver. 19. Multitude] The ſame Word as in Ver. 16. and as the Watchmen only ſaw them, it is not likely the Noiſe was heard. Thus tranſlate likewiſe Jun. and Trem. with Pagn. and Mont.

20. Next

20. Next he and all the People who were with him being called together, went to the Battle; when lo their Swords were one againſt another, by the very great Tumult.

21. And even the Hebrews alſo that were with the Philiſtines, as in Days before, who went up with them round about into the Camp, were for the Iſraelites, that were with Saul and Jonathan.

22. Nay all the Men of Iſrael likewiſe who had hid themſelves on Mount Ephraim, hearing that the Philiſtines were fled, followed cloſe after them in the Battle.

23. Thus the Lord ſaved Iſrael that Day; and the Battle paſſed on to Beth-aven.

24. But on the ſame they were ſtraitened: for Saul charged the People by the following Curſe, Let the Man be curſed who ſhall eat Food till the Evening, when I have taken vengeance on my Enemies. Therefore none of the People ſo much as taſted any.

25. Yet all thoſe of the Country came into a Wood, where there was Honey atop of the Ground.

26. Nevertheleſs when they came thither, and behold the Honey ran, there was none reached his Hand to his Mouth; becauſe they feared the Oath.

27. Whereas Jonathan did not hear when his Father charged the People by Oath; ſo he put forth the End of the Staff that was in his Hand, and dipt it in a Honey-comb: and bringing back his Hand to his Mouth, his Eyes were enlightened.

28. But a Man of the People ſpoke as follows; Thy Father ſtrictly charged the People by this Oath, Let the Man be curſed who ſhall eat Food to Day: ſo that the People are faint.

29. To which Jonathan ſaid; My Father has troubled the Country: ſee, I pray, that my Eyes are enlightened, becauſe I taſted a little of that Honey;

30. Much more if the People had eat plentifully to Day, of the Spoil of their Enemies that they found: for now the Slaughter does not increaſe among the Philiſtines.

31. However they ſmote them that Day from Michmaſh to Aijalon; but the People were very faint:

32. Inſomuch that they made to the Spoil, and took the Flocks and Herds, with the young ones of the latter, and killed on the Ground; whom they eat in the Blood.

33. Upon this they told Saul, that the People ſinned againſt the Lord, by eating in the Blood; ſo he ſaid, You tranſgreſs; roll to me now a great Stone.

34. He added further; Diſperſe among the People, and ſay to them, Bring nigh to me your ſeveral Oxen and Sheep, which kill here, and eat; that you may not ſin againſt the Lord by eating in the Blood. At this all the People brought nigh their Oxen reſpectively with them that Night, and killed there.

35. Beſides Saul built an Altar to the Lord, which was the firſt he did.

36. Afterwards he ſaid, Let us go down after the Philiſtines by Night, and prey upon them till the Morning-light, not leaving a Man of them; and they anſwered, Do all that thou pleaſeſt. Whereupon the Prieſt ſaid, Let us draw near hither to God.

37. So Saul aſked of God, Shall I go down after the Philiſtines? Wilt thou give them up into the Power of Iſrael? But he did not anſwer him that Day.

38. Therefore Saul ſaid, Come nigh hither, all the uttermoſt of the People; and know and ſee wherein this Sin has been to Day.

39. For by the Lord's living, who ſaves Iſrael, if it ſhould be even in Jonathan my Son, he ſhall quite die. And none anſwered him of all the People.

40. In the next place he ordered all Iſrael, Be you on one Side, and I and my Son Jonathan will be on the other; the People anſwered him again, Do what thou pleaſeſt.

41. And Saul ſaid to the Lord God of Iſrael, Grant it may be quite right; ſo Jonathan and he were taken, and the People went out.

42. Again he ſaid, Caſt between me and Jonathan my Son; and Jonathan was taken.

43. Upon which Saul aſked him, Tell me what thou haſt done; and Jonathan told him thus, I having juſt taſted a little Honey, with the Top of the Staff that was in my Hand, behold I muſt die.

Ver. 20. Tumult] It is not diſcomfiture.

Ver. 24. when] Moſt of the Latin Tranſlators have till, which however ſeems leſs proper, and the Verb is of the preterperfect Tenſe.

Ver. 30. increaſe] the Heb. being a Verb, and of this Signification, without any Sign of a Queſtion.

Ver. 32. made] Flew is a marginal Reading, and as it may ſeem not a very good one, eſpecially as our Tranſlators have turned it flew upon.

Ib. Herds] For Oxen have not young.

Ver. 43. This is the 5th Verſe ſucceſſively, beſides ſome others near, wherein our Tranſlators have put a full Point; which I mention for the Irregularity of it, the Matter being compared with diſtant Places in general.

44. And

44. And Saul replied, By God's doing ſo and ſo beſides, thou ſhalt quite die, Jonathan.

45. But the People ſaid to him, Shall Jonathan die, who has made this great Preſervation in Iſrael? Far be it off; by the Lord's living, a Hair of his Head ſhall not fall to the Ground, for he has acted with God this Day: thus the People ranſomed Jonathan, ſo that he did not die.

46. At length Saul went up from after the Philiſtines, who went to their own Place.

47. And having taken the Kingdom over Iſrael, he fought againſt all his Enemies round about, againſt Moab, the Ammonites, Edom, the Kings of Zobah, and the Philiſtines; and all whom he turned againſt, he hurt.

48. He likewiſe made an Army, and beat Amalek, and delivered Iſrael from the Power of thoſe who plundered them.

49. And Saul's Sons were Jonathan, Iſhui and Melchi-ſhua; as alſo the Names of his two Daughters, that of the Firſt-born Merab, and the Younger's Name Michal.

50. The Name too of his Wife was Ahinoam, the Daughter of Ahimaaz, as that of the Captain of his Army was Abner, the Son of Ner his Uncle.

51. And Kiſh the Father of Saul, with Ner Abner's Father, was the Son of Abiel.

52. There was alſo ſtrong War againſt the Philiſtines all the Time of Saul; therefore when he ſaw any ſtout Man, or any Perſon of Valour, he took him to himſelf.

CHAP. XV.

AND Samuel ſaid to Saul: The Lord ſent me to anoint thee for a King over his People Iſrael; now therefore hearken to the Words that the Lord ſays.

2. Thus ſays the Lord of Armies; I have counted up what Amalek did to Iſrael; what they put for them in the Way, when they came up from Egypt.

3. Now go thou, and ſmite Amalek, and you ſhall deſtroy all that they have, and thou ſhalt not ſpare them; but kill both Man and Woman, both Child and ſucking Infant, both Ox and Sheep, both Camel and Aſs.

4. Which Saul publiſhed to the People, and numbered them in Telaim, two hundred thouſand Footmen, and ten thouſand Men of Judah.

5. He then went to a City of Amalek, and lay in wait in the Valley.

6. And he ſaid to the Kenites, Go, depart, get you down, from among the Amalekites, that I may not conſume you with them; ſince you ſhewed Kindneſs to all the Iſraelites, when they came up from Egypt. Accordingly they departed from within Amalek.

7. So Saul ſmote Amalek, from Havilah till one comes to Shur, which is before Egypt.

8. Nay he took Agag the King of it alive, and deſtroyed all the People with the Edge of the Sword.

9. However he and the People ſpared Agag, with the beſt of the Flocks and Herds, and the ſecond Sort, as likewiſe the Lambs, and all that was good, and would not deſtroy them; but every Thing which was contemptible and waſte, that they deſtroyed.

10. Samuel had therefore the Word of the Lord, as follows;

11. I am ſorry becauſe I made Saul King: for he is turned back from following me, and has not confirmed my Words. At which Samuel was diſpleaſed, and cried to the Lord all Night.

12. Then he roſe early to meet Saul in the Morning; but it was told him thus, Saul came to Carmel, and behold he ſet him up a Monument, and going round about, paſſed on, and is gone down to Gilgal.

13. To whom when Samuel came, Saul accoſted him, The Lord bleſs thee, I have confirmed the Lord's Word.

14. Nevertheleſs Samuel ſaid, Why then is there this Noiſe of the Flocks in my Ears, and that of the Herds which I hear?

15. And Saul anſwered, They brought them from the Amalekites, becauſe the People ſpared the beſt of the Flocks and Herds, that they might ſacrifice to the Lord thy God; and the reſt we have deſtroyed.

16. Stop, replied Samuel to him, that I may tell thee what the Lord ſpoke to me to Night; who bade him ſpeak out.

17. And Samuel replied; Though thou waſt little in thy own Regard, didſt not thou become Head of the Tribes of Iſrael, and waſt anointed by the Lord King over it?

18. Afterwards the Lord ſent thee on an Expedition, and ſaid, Go, and deſtroy thoſe Sinners the Amalekites, fighting againſt them till they are conſumed.

19. Why then didſt not thou hearken to what the Lord ſaid, but ruſh on the Spoil, and do what he diſliked?

20. And Saul ſaid to him; Therein I did hearken to what the Lord ſaid, and went on the Expedition that he ſent me; nay have brought Agag King of Amalek, and deſtroyed Amalek.

21. But the People took from the Spoil of the Flocks and Herds, the chief of what was to be deſtroyed, to ſacrifice to the Lord thy God in Gilgal.

22. Is the Lord, ſaid Samuel, as well pleaſed with Burnt-offerings and Sacrifices, as in obeying what he ſays? Behold to obey is better than Sacrifice, to be attentive than the Fat of Rams.

23. For Rebellion is as the Sin of Divination, and to be headſtrong like an Idol and the Teraphs: becauſe thou haſt rejected the Word of the Lord, he likewiſe rejects thee from being King.

24. Upon this Saul anſwered him; I have ſinned, becauſe I tranſgreſſed the Command of the Lord, and thy Words: for I feared the People, and hearked to what they ſaid.

25. Now therefore forgive my Sin, I pray, and come back with me, that I may worſhip the Lord.

26. Yet Samuel replied to him, I will not go back with thee: becauſe thou haſt rejected the Word of the Lord, he likewiſe rejects thee from being King over Iſrael.

27. For Samuel was turned about to go away; but he took hold of the Skirt of his Mantle, and it tore.

28. At which Samuel ſaid to him; The Lord tears the Kingdom of Iſrael from thee to Day, that he may give it to thy Neighbour who is better than thou.

29. And alſo the Strength of Iſrael will not lye, nor repent: for he is not a Man, to repent.

30. Again he ſaid, I have ſinned; honour me now, I pray, before the Elders of my People and Iſrael, and come back with me, that I may worſhip the Lord thy God.

31. So Samuel went back after Saul, who worſhipped the Lord.

Ver. 23. Divination] as elſewhere, and witchcraft belonging to Women.

Ib. to be headſtrong] It is a Verb infinitive, to force or preſs on; which Verb is found in the following Places, Gen. xix. 3, 9. & xxxiii. 11. Judg. xix. 7. 2 Kings ii. 17. & v. 16.

Ib. an Idol] which was called by this Name, becauſe of the Iniquity and Vanity belonging to it, as Iſa. lxvi. 3. and ſo Sant. Pagn. renders it here. Beſides as iniquity is improper.

Ib. Teraphs] See Gen. xxxi. 19.

Ver. 26. I will not] Poole writes on it, 'This was no 'Lye, though he afterwards returned, becauſe he ſpoke 'what he meant; though afterwards he ſaw reaſon to 'change his Intentions. Which, adds he, may relieve 'many perplexed Conſciences, who think themſelves 'obliged to do what they have ſaid they would do.' What Pity it was Jephthah, Herod, &c. did not know this! But are all Promiſes mere Nothings? And is it no Lye to break them? Does not a Man's Word bind him? Is not that a Security againſt the Alteration of his Mind? People of tender Conſciences will take care what they ſay, and ſhould repent of Lying, when they are guilty of it, inſtead of fancying that the Change of their Mind makes their Words void. Nor ſhould the Example of Samuel himſelf, any more than Noah's being drunk, &c. juſtify a Perſon not to perform what he has poſitively ſaid he would; but I cannot allow him to be the Patron of Liars, who only ſaid he would not go back with Saul, and went back after him, Ver. 31. for though Saul wanted Samuel to honour him with his Company, grace his Triumph, and join with him in worſhipping the Lord, Ver. 30. there is no Mention but of Saul's worſhipping, as the Effect of Samuel's Abſence, who might go back after him only to kill Agag. And why elſe ſhould with, being three times the ſame, Ver. 25, 26, 30. be changed into after, Ver. 31? It is ſaid of Lokman the famous eaſtern Philoſopher, who is ſuppoſed to be firſt an Ethiopian Slave, and brought into the Country of Iſrael about the Time of David, that upon being aſked by a noble Iſraelite, how he had attained ſuch a high Degree of Virtue? he anſwered, By theſe three eaſy Steps, I have always ſpoke the Truth, kept my Word, and never meddled with what did not concern me, Univerſal Hiſt. B. i. Ch. 11. 5.

Ver. 27. For] Elſe why did Saul intreat him to come back with him, and he refuſe? So that the Time or Order of this and the two next Verſes may be underſtood to be between the 23d and 24th.

32. Next Samuel ſaid, Bring hither to me Agag King of Amalek; and Agag went to him delicately: for he ſaid, Surely the Bitterneſs of Death is departed.

33. But Samuel ſaid, According as thy Sword has deprived Women of Children, ſo ſhall thy Mother among them be deprived of one. And he cut Agag to pieces before the Lord in Gilgal.

34. At laſt Samuel went away to Ramah; and Saul up to his Houſe, at Gibeah of Saul.

35. Whom Samuel came to ſee no more to the Day of his Death, though he mourned for him; ſince the Lord was ſorry becauſe he had made Saul King over Iſrael.

CHAP. XVI.

AFTER that the Lord ſaid to Samuel, How long wilt thou mourn for Saul, ſince I have rejected him from reigning over Iſrael? Fill thy Horn with Oil, and come, I will ſend thee to Jeſſe the Beth-lehemite; for I have looked me out a King among his Sons.

2. But he ſaid, How ſhall I go, ſince Saul will hear, and kill me? And the Lord anſwered; Take a Heifer of the Herd with thee, and ſay, I am come to ſacrifice to the Lord.

3. Invite Jeſſe alſo to the Sacrifice; and I will let thee know what thou ſhalt do, and thou ſhalt anoint for me whom I tell thee.

4. And Samuel did what the Lord ſaid, going to Beth-lehem; whom the Elders of the City trembled to meet, and aſked, Doſt thou come in Peace?

5. Who anſwered, Yes, I am come to ſacrifice to the Lord; ſanctify your ſelves, and come with me to the Sacrifice. He likewiſe ſanctified Jeſſe and his Sons, whom he invited to it.

6. Now when they were come, and he ſaw Eliab, he ſaid, Verily before the Lord is his anointed one.

7. Whereas the Lord ſaid to him, Look not at his Countenance, nor at the Height of his Stature; becauſe I have rejected him: for it is not what Man perceives; ſince Man perceives according to the Appearance, but the Lord does according to the Heart.

8. Jeſſe in the next place calling Abinadab, made him paſs before Samuel; and he ſaid, The Lord alſo has not choſen this.

9. Then making Shammah paſs, he ſaid the ſame.

10. Thus Jeſſe made ſeven of his Sons paſs before Samuel; who ſaid to him, The Lord has not choſen theſe;

11. Adding, Are the Children finiſhed? And he anſwering, The youngeſt is yet leſt, and behold he keeps the Flock; Samuel ſaid to Jeſſe, Send, and fetch him; for we will not turn aſide, till he is come hither.

12. Therefore he ſent, and brought him; who was ruddy, with a fair Countenance, and a good Look: and the Lord ſaid, Get ready, anoint him; for this is he.

13. Samuel accordingly took the Horn of Oil, and anointed him amongſt his Brothers; and the Spirit of the Lord came upon David, from that Day upward: then Samuel got ready, and went to Ramah.

14. But the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, and an evil one from the Lord troubled him.

Ver. 32. Surely &c.] It is in the Chald. Targum, בבעו רבוני מריר מותא as if in the modern Idiom, Pray, Sir (conſider) Death is bitter: but though the Hebrew Word is ſar, it does not ſignify Sir; notwithſtanding another ſar may, viz. שַׂר from שׂור whence the Miſtake.

Ib. departed] Neither does the Word mean paſt, nor could Agag ſay it was paſt, for he had not ſuffered it.

Ver. 13. amongſt] Patrick ſays, 'It had better have been tranſlated, from the midſt of;' quite oppoſite to the Meaning of the Hebrew Word: but he ſuppoſes Eliab did not know of it by Chap. xvii. 28. which may rather ſhew the contrary, that he reproached David for his Pride on this Account, and deſpiſed his being anointed, as he was refuſed himſelf, Ver. 6, 7. and Patrick on Chap. xx. 31. ſeems to allow Saul himſelf might know of it; ſee Chap. xxiii. 16. & xxiv. 20.

Ver. 14. an evil one] Perhaps on due Conſideration this will appear to be here to him, if it might not be rendered a ſullen Temper: for the Emotion of the Soul may be called, eſpecially in the eaſtern Manner, a Spirit, as that of the Air Wind. But this will not affect the Spirit of the Lord mentioned before, whoſe Spirit is not a Temper, though Man's may, yet otherwiſe it is the Soul, as in Eccleſ. xii. 7. Job xxxiv. 14.

16. Let our Lord, we pray, bid thy Servants before thee, ſeek for a Man who knows how to play on a Harp; and when the evil Spirit from God is upon thee, he playing with his Hand, thou wilt be well.

17. So Saul ſaid to them, Look me out a Man now who can play well, and bring to me.

18. And one of the Servants made anſwer, Behold I have ſeen a Son of Jeſſe the Beth-lehemite, who knows how to play, and is a valiant Man, a Warrior, underſtanding Buſineſs, and a comely Perſon; with whom the Lord is.

19. Whereupon he ſent Meſſengers to Jeſſe, to ſay, Send me thy Son David, who is with the Flock.

22. Nay Saul ſent thus to Jeſſe, Vouchſafe to let David attend on me; for he is got in Favour with me.

23. And when the Spirit from God was on him, Danid took a Harp, and played with his Hand; ſo Saul was refreſhed, and became well, the evil Spirit departing from him.

CHAP. XVII.

AND the Philiſtines gathered their Camps to Battle, being gathered to Sochoh, which belonged to Judah; and encamped between that and Azekah, in the Limit of Dammim.

2. Saul and the Men of Iſrael were likewiſe gathered, and encamping at the Vale of Oaks, ſet the Battle in order to meet them.

3. When they ſtood upon a Mountain on that Side, and the Iſraelites upon another on this; there being a Valley between them.

4. And a Man came out between, from the Camps of the Philiſtines, whoſe Name was Goliath of Gath; his Height was ſix Cubits and a Span.

5. Upon whoſe Head was a Helmet of Steel, and he had on a ſcaley Corſlet; the Weight of the latter being five thouſand Shekels of Steel.

6. There were alſo Boots of Steel up from his Feet, and a Lance of Steel between his Shoulders.

7. The Pole too of his Spear was like the Weavers Beam, and his Spear's Head was ſix hundred Shekels of Iron; moreover one carrying a Shield went before him.

8. And he ſtood, and calling to the Armies of Iſrael, ſaid to them; Why do you come out to ſet the Battle in order? Am not I a Philiſtine, and you Servants to Saul? Chooſe you out a Man, and let him come down to me.

9. If he is abie to fight with me, and beat me; we will become Servants to you: and if I prevail againſt him, and beat him, you ſhall become Servants to us, and ſerve us.

10. Beſides the Philiſtine ſaid, I reproach the Armies of Iſrael this Day; give me a Man, that we may fight together.

11. And Saul with all Iſrael hearing theſe Words of his, were daunted, and exceedingly afraid.

12. Now David was the Son of that Man the Ephrathite, of Beth-lehem-judah, whoſe Name was Jeſſe, who had eight Sons; and he went among Men for an old Perſon in the Time of Saul.

Perſon might be ſucceeded by the Spirit of Whoredom, Drunkenneſs, &c.

A learned Friend of mine adds, This was agreeable to the common Style of the Eaſtern People; who without imputing Evil to the Author of every Good, acknowledged it to be conſiſtent with his Juſtice to permit wicked Men to repeat the Fruits of their Doings, and therefore expreſſed it in this Manner, as the moſt emphatical.

Ib. Sochoh] As our Tranſlators alſo have it 1 Kings iv. 10.

Ver. 4. between] as juſt before, not ſignifying Champion at all; and one may wonder why it has been tranſlated at ſuch a Rate, when it reads ſo well literally, and being in the dual Number ſo elegantly denotes between the two Armies, eſpecially as it is repeated when ſingular in the Hebrew, and applied to each of the two Things that Something is between; which could not be here, becauſe what he was between is but underſtood, not expreſſed; and Valley in the foregoing Verſe has between plural, as there were more Camps than one of a Side, Ver. 1, 4, 10, 45. In the Chald. this is בֵּינֵידוֹן between them; and Kimhi expounds it בין שתי המערכות between the two Armies; Munſt. tranſlates inter utroſque, between both; Leo Jud. and Pagnin. inter duas acies, between the two Armies.

13. And

13. And his three eldeſt Sons were gone, who went after Saul to the Battle; the Names of thoſe being Eliab the Firſt-born, his ſecond Abinadab, and the third Shammah.

14. As for David, he was the youngeſt, the three eldeſt being gone after Saul.

15. But he was gone back from him, to feed his Father's Flock at Beth-lehem.

16. Thus the Philiſtine came nigh Morning and Evening, and preſented himſelf forty Days.

17. And Jeſſe ſaid to his Son David; Take now for thy Brothers this Ephah of parched Corn, with theſe ten Loaves, and run to them at the Camp.

18. As likewiſe carry theſe ten Milk-cheeſes to the Captain of the Thouſand; and go ſee concerning thy Brothers Welfare, and take up what they have pawned.

19. In the mean time Saul, and they, with all the Men of Iſrael, were at the Vale of Oaks, fighting with the Philiſtines.

20. So David roſe early in the Morning, and leaving the Flock to a Keeper, took, and went as Jeſſe commanded him; and when he came to the Carriage, the Army was going out to be ſet in order, and they ſhouted to the Battle.

21. Iſrael and the Philiſtines ſetting themſelves in order, one Army to meet the other.

22. Therefore David put down the Things from him into the Cuſtody of the Keeper of the Things, and ran to the Army; and being come, he aſked his Brethren of their Welfare.

23. And while he was talking with them, behold there came up the Man between, whoſe Name was Goliath, the Philiſtine of Gath, from the Armies of the Philiſtines, and ſpoke according to the former Words; which David heard.

24. But all the Men of Iſrael when they ſaw him, fled from his Preſence, and were exceedingly afraid.

25. A Man alſo of Iſrael ſaid, Have you ſeen this Man who is come up? For it is to reproach Iſrael; and that Man who beats him, the King will enrich with great Riches, and give him his Daughter, making his Father's Family free in Iſrael.

26. David further ſpoke to the Men that ſtood by him as follows, What ſhall be done to the Man who beats this Philiſtine, and takes away the Reproach from Iſrael? For who is this uncircumciſed Philiſtine, that he ſhould reproach the Armies of the living God?

27. And the People anſwered him according to the foregoing Speech, that thus it ſhould be done to the Man who beat him.

28. However Eliab his eldeſt Brother hearing when he ſpoke to the Men, was angry with him, and ſaid, Why didſt thou come down? And with whom haſt thou left thoſe few Sheep in the Wilderneſs? I know thy Pride, and the Evil of thy Heart; for thou art come down, that thou mayeſt ſee the Battle.

29. And David ſaid, What have I now done? Was it not Buſineſs?

30. Then he turned about from him towards another, and ſaid as already mentioned; and the People returned him Word as they did before.

31. And the Words being heard which David ſpake, they told them before Saul, who had him fetched.

32. And David ſaid to him, Let no Man's Courage fail for him; thy Servant will go, and fight with this Philiſtine.

33. Whom he anſwered, Thou art not able to go this Philiſtine, to fight with him: for thou art a Youth, and he a Warrior from his Youth.

34. Upon which David thus expreſſed himſelf to Saul, When thy Servant was his Father's Shepherd over the Sheep, and there came a Lion, or a Bear, and took a Lamb out of the Flock;

Tranſpoſition indeed when three Letters have new Places! nor that all, but בשאנים being writ for בשנים in Years, whence he reckons an old man and ſtricken in years the truer reading, agreeably (for agreeable) to the Syriack and Arabick Verſions, State &c. p. 524. Yet then his [and] would be wanting in the Heb. and [ſtricken] be old uncouth Tranſlation, nay the Hebrew would read thus, and the Man (for) an old Man went in Years; in the happy Diſcovery of which he may hug himſelf.

Ver. 17. this Ephah] The Conſtruction being as of theſe Words in Ver. 11. and this Man, Ver. 25.

Ver. 18. take up their Pawn] In the com. Lat. however, learn with whom they are placed; and Jonathan in the Chald. bring their Condition; concerning which and more may be conſulted Buxt. Vind. p. 781, 782, 783.

Ver. 26. takes away] So at the End of the 151ſt Pſalm, extant in the Greek Verſe of Apolinarius, upon this Subject, David is perſonated ſaying, Λώβην δ' ἐξαλάωσα περίφρονος Ισραήλ.

And I took away the Reproach of Iſrael, looking at it round about: which Pſalm I have ſeen in Engliſh, only by R. B. Eſq. 1638, but there much enlarged, and this turned,

So this reproach Ben-Jeſſe tooke from honour'd Iſrael.

Ib. ſhould reproach] The Verb and Noun being from the ſame Root.

Ver. 28. Why] מַה being only interrogative with לָמָּה as in Chap. xx. 8. Gen. xviii. 13. Num. xi. 20. 2 Sam. xii. 23. & xviii. 22. & xix. 42. 1 Kings xiv. 6. Prov. xvii. 16. and which alſo does not ſignify hither.

Ver. 29. Buſineſs] which to do my Father ſent me hither, Jun. and Trem. the Heb. alſo having it.

Ver. 34. or a Bear] Thus Trem. and Jun. turn it, and the ſeveral following Words in the ſingular Number ſhew; which to ſignify two different Things, without

35. I went

35. I went forth after him, and beat him, and delivered it out of his Mouth: then on his riſing up againſt me, I took hold of his Beard, and beat him, ſo that I killed him.

36. Thy Servant beat both Lion and Bear; and this uncircumciſed Philiſtine will be as one of them, becauſe he has reproached the Armies of the living God.

37. The Lord, continued David, who delivered me from the Paw of a Lion, and that of a Bear, will deliver me from the Hand of this Philiſtine. Then Saul ſaid to him, Go, and the Lord be with thee.

38. And he armed David with his Arms, putting a Helmet of Steel upon his Head, and arming him with a Corſlet.

39. But David ungirded his Sword from his Apparel, and would go, becauſe he had not tried them; ſaying to Saul, I cannot go in theſe, becauſe I have not tried them. So he put them off from him.

40. And taking his Staff in his Hand, he choſe five ſmooth Stones out of the Valley, which he put in a Shepherd's Bag that he had, namely a Satchel, and his Sling was in his Hand: thus he went nigh to the Philiſtine.

41. Who likewiſe came on, getting near to David as he came, with the Man that carried the Shield before him.

42. But when he looked, and ſaw David, he deſpiſed him; becauſe he was a Youth, and ruddy, with a fair Countenance.

43. The Philiſtine alſo ſaid to him, Am I a Dog, that thou comeſt againſt me with Staves? And he curſed David by his gods.

44. Nay he ſaid to him, Come to me, and I will give thy Fleſh to the Fowls of the Air, and to the Beaſts of the Field.

45. On the other hand David ſaid to the Philiſtine, Thou comeſt to me with a Sword, Spear and Lance; whereas I come to thee in the Name of the Lord of Armies, the God of the Hoſts of Iſrael, whom thou haſt reproached.

46. This Day will the Lord deliver thee into my Power, that I may ſmite thee, and take off thy Head from thee, nay give the Corpſes of the Camp of the Philiſtines this Day to the Fowls of the Air, and to the Beaſts of the Earth; ſo all the Earth ſhall know, that there is a God in Iſrael.

47. All this Congregation too ſhall know, that the Lord does not ſave by Sword nor Spear: for the Battle is the Lord's, who will give you up into our Power.

48. And when the Philiſtine got ready, and came on, drawing near to meet David; he ran apace towards the Army to meet the Philiſtine.

49. Next he thruſt his Hand into the Bag, and taking thence a Stone, ſlung, and ſtruck the Philiſtine on his Forehead; ſo that the Stone ſunk into it, and he fell upon his Face to the Ground.

50. Thus David was too ſtrong for the Philiſtine with a Sling and a Stone, whom he beat, and killed; having no Sword in his Hand.

51. Therefore he ran, and ſtanding by the Philiſtine, took his Sword, which he pulled out of its Sheath, and not only killed him, but cut off his Head with it. When the Philiſtines ſeeing that their ſtrong one was dead, they fled.

52. At which the Men of Iſrael and Judah got ready, and ſhouting, followed the Philiſtines till one comes to the Valley, and to the Gates of Ekron; ſo that they fell down wounded in the Way to Shaaraim, as alſo to Gath, and Ekron.

53. Moreover when the Iſraelites returned from purſuing after them, they ſpoiled their Camps.

any Dependency on each other, is quite beſide both Language and Senſe. So Patrick comments, that they came, not both together, but at ſeveral times; and it is likely more than once.

Ver. 39. ungirded his Sword from] עַל is upon, and מִן from, joined to it gives it a contrary Meaning from upon or off from; for which the whole Scripture may witneſs by a Multitude of Inſtances, and one more even in this Verſe. So girded from off or upon may ſignify ungirded from; or elſe as ſome Verbs in Hebrew have alſo a Signification juſt contrary to their proper one, girded may ſignify ungirded. The common Way of tranſlating ſeems unintelligible.

Ver. 40. Valley] So the Word ſignifies principally, as alſo Jun. and Trem. turn it; beſides (and I could add more) we know a Valley was there, but not that there was a Brook.

Ver. 45. Lance] This was carried by the Giant between his Shoulders, Ver. 6. it may ſeem in the Manner of Arrows; as likewiſe to throw, which the ancient Warriors did their Lances; and ſo not intended of the Shield, that another carried before, Ver. 7. The Word is found in theſe other Places, viz. Joſh. viii. 18, 26. Job xli. 29. Jer. vi. 23. rendered by the King's Tranſlators ſpear; Jer. l. 42. lance; and Job xxxix. 23. ſhield, where it plainly appears to be an offenſive Weapon. Caſtal. turns it here and Ver. 6. by lancea. If it be thought this makes too many Weapons of one Kind, and incommodious to be held in Hand; let it be conſidered, that the Lance placed behind was firſt to be taken, and flung at the Adverſary; that the Spear only was carried in Hand, to puſh with; and the Sword hung by the Side, to be uſed laſt if wanted.

Ver. 49. ſlung] So the Heroes in Homer generally perform their Exploits by diſtant Fighting.

Ver. 51. ſtanding by] Heb. to or at; as likewiſe Caſt. and Montan. render it ad. To ſtand upon him was an unfit Place to cut off his Head.

54. Afterwards David took the Head of the Philiſtine, and brought it to Jeruſalem; but his Armour he put into his Tent.

55. And as Saul ſaw him go forth to meet the Philiſtine, he ſaid to Abner the Captain of the Army, Whoſe Son is this Youth, Abner? And he anſwered, By thy Soul's living, O King, I know not.

56. Do thou aſk, replied the King, whoſe Son this Lad is.

57. At laſt as David returned from the Slaughter of the Philiſtine, Abner took him, and had him before Saul, with the Philiſtine's Head in his Hand.

58. To whom Saul ſaid, Whoſe Son art thou, young Man? And David anſwered, The Son of thy Servant Jeſſe the Bethlehemite.

CHAP. XVIII.

AND as ſoon as he had made an end of ſpeaking to Saul, Jonathan's Soul was bound up with that of David; and he loved him as his own Soul.

2. Saul alſo took him that Day, and would not let him go back to his Father's Houſe.

3. And Jonathan made a Covenant with him, for his loving him as aforeſaid.

4. Nay he ſtript himſelf of the Robe which was upon him, and gave it to David; with his Garments, even to his Sword, Bow and Girdle.

5. And David going out, whitherſoever Saul ſent him, ſo proſpered, that he ſet him over the Warriors; beſides all the People liked him, as did Saul's Servants.

6. But at their coming, when David returned from beating a Philiſtine, the Women came out of all the Cities of Iſrael, to ſing, and meet King Saul in Dances; with Timbrels, Mirth, and a Concert of Muſick.

7. Who playing, ſpoke thus, Saul has beat his Thouſands, and David his ten Thouſands.

8. Very angry at which, and diſliking that Expreſſion, Saul ſaid, They aſcribe to David ten Thouſands, and to me they do Thouſands; and there is but the Kingdom more for him.

9. And he was eying David from that Day forward.

10. The next Day too the evil Spirit from God came on him, and he propheſied within the Houſe, whereupon David was playing with his Hand as at other Times; when there being a Spear in Saul's Hand,

11. He threw it, ſaying, I will ſtrike it through David, even into the Wall; but David turned aſide from his Preſence twice.

12. And Saul feared by reaſon of him, becauſe the Lord was with him. and was departed from himſelf.

13. Therefore he put him away from him, and made him his Captain of a Thouſand; ſo he went out, and came in, before the People.

14. Moreover David was proſperous in all his Ways, the Lord being with him.

15. And Saul ſeeing whereby he proſpered much, was afraid becauſe of him.

16. Nevertheleſs all Iſrael and Judah loved David, becauſe he went out, and came in, before them.

17. At length Saul ſaid to him, Behold I will give thee my eldeſt Daughter Merab for a Wife; only be thou a valiant Perſon for me, and fight the Lord's Battles: for he thought, Let not my Hand be on him, but let thoſe of the Philiſtines.

Ver. 55. All that can be made of this is, that Saul and Abner did not know whoſe Son David was, as alſo Ver. 56, 58. ſhew, which might well be: ſo that the common ſilly Enquiry, how they did not know David, like that of Gen. iv. 16, 17. who was Cain's Wife that he took in the Land of Nod, might be ſpared. It is ſtrange that Commentators ſhould be ſo unattentive, and in particular that Poole after conſulting ſo many to compoſe his Synopſis Criticorum, ſhould labour ſo hard at it in his Engliſh Annotations.

Ver. 1. he loved him] Which Cowley dreſſes out thus in his Davideis, Book ii.

For when the noble Youth at Dammin ſtood
Adorn'd with Sweat, and painted gay with Blood,
Jonathan pierce'd him through with greedy Eye,
And underſtood the future Majeſtie
Then deſtin'ed in the Glories of his Look;
He ſaw, and ſtrait was with Amazement ſtrook,
To ſee the Strength, the Feature, and the Grace
Of his young Limbs; he ſaw his comely Face,
Where Love and Rev'erence ſo well mingled were;
And Head, already crown'd with golden Haire.
He ſaw what Mildneſs his bold Sp'rit did tame,
Gentler then Light, yet powerful as a Flame.
He ſaw his Valour by their Safety prov'ed;
He ſaw all this, and as he ſaw, he lov'ed.

Ver. 5. proſpered] Look forward to Ver. 30.

Ver. 6. coming] as Trem. and Jun. well obſerve, ab aliqua alia pugna contra Peliſchtæos, from ſome other Fight againſt the Philiſtines. Yet our Annotators, Poole and Patrick, ſuppoſe it was from the Slaughter of Goliath, which Ver. 5, 9. and ten Thouſands, Ver. 7. may refute without any farther Remark.

Ib. a Philiſtine] as the Edomite, Num. xx. 18. ſee Ver. 14. Vulg. adds, and carried his Head into Jeruſalem.

Ib. a Concert of Muſick] Tabrets or Timbrels being Inſtruments of it, and ſo making an Impropriety.

Ver. 11. through David &c.] Which ſeems plainly enough to be the Meaning of the Hebrew, into David and into the Wall, ſince the Prepoſition alſo ſignifies through.

Ver. 17. thought] So this Verb not only ſignifies ſometimes, but is rendered in our common Bible, as Chap. xx. 26. and where more neceſſary than here, eſpecially as 'poſited? How it comes to ſignify ſo, I underſtand is thus, becauſe to think is the ſame as to ſay mentally or to one's ſelf, as in Chap. xxvii. 1. 1 Kings xii. 26. Gen. xxvii. 41. Pſa. xiv. 1.

18. But

18. But David ſaid to him, Who am I? Or what is my Life, and my Father's Family in Iſrael, that I ſhould be Son-in-law to the King?

19. Yet at the Time Merab his Daughter ſhould have been given to David, ſhe was given to Adriel the Meholathite for a Wife.

20. However his Daughter Michal loving David, when they told Saul, he approved of the Matter.

21. For he thought, I will give him her, that ſhe may become a Snare to him, and the Hands of the Philiſtines may be on him: ſo he ſaid to him, In one of the two thou ſhalt be joined to me by Marriage that Day.

22. Beſides Saul commanded his Servants, Speak thus to David privately, Lo the King delights in thee, and all his Servants love thee, now therefore be joined to the King by Marriage.

23. And when they ſpoke theſe Words in David's Hearing, he ſaid, Is it light in your Sight to be joined to the King by Marriage, when I am a Man poor and baſe?

24. So the Servants of Saul told him, that David ſpoke according to theſe Words.

25. To which he replied; Thus ſhall you ſay to him, The King has no Delight in a Dowry, but in a hundred Foreſkins of the Philiſtines, to take vengeance on his Enemies. For Saul intended to make him fall by the Hands of the Philiſtines.

26. And upon his Servants telling David theſe Words, he approved of the Matter, to be joined to the King by Marriage; the Days being not fulfilled.

27. Accordingly he got ready, and went, with his Men, and killed of the Philiſtines two hundred Men: whoſe Foreſkins he brought, and gave them compleat to the King, that he might be joined to him by Marriage: upon this Saul gave him his Daughter Michal for a Wife.

28. But he ſaw and knew, that the Lord was with David; Michal his Daughter alſo loved him.

29. Saul was therefore yet more afraid by reaſon of him, and he was David's Enemy continually.

30. Afterwards the Princes of the Philiſtines came forth; and from their coming David had the moſt ſucceſs of all the Servants of Saul, ſo that his Name was much eſteemed.

CHAP. XIX.

AT length Saul ſpoke to Jonathan his Son, as well as to all his Servants, to kill David; whereas he delighted in him exceedingly.

2. So Jonathan told him as follows; Saul my Father is endeavouring to kill thee; now therefore take heed, I pray, in the Morning, that thou mayeſt abide in ſecret, and be hid.

3. And I will go out, and ſtand at my Father's Side in the Field where thou art, to whom I will ſpeak of thee; and when I ſee how it is, will tell thee.

4. He accordingly ſpoke well of him to Saul his Father, expoſtulating with him; Let not the King do amiſs againſt his Servant David; becauſe he has not done amiſs to thee, and becauſe his Deeds to thee have been very good.

5. For he ventured his Life, and beat the Philiſtine, by which the Lord made the great Preſervation to all Iſrael, that thou ſaweſt, and waſt glad at: why then wouldeſt thou do amiſs againſt innocent Blood, to kill David for nothing?

6. And Saul hearkened to what he ſaid; nay he ſwore, By the Lord's living, he ſhall not be put to death.

7. Then Jonathan called David, and told him all theſe Words; he alſo introduced him to Saul, and he was before him as in Time paſt.

8. After that there was War again; and David going out, fought with the Philiſtines,

---

Ver. 20. his Daughter Michal loving David] But the Vulgate, David loved Michol the other Daughter of Saul, which the Hebrew determines otherwiſe.

Ver. 21. of the two] Thus making a ſham Pretence of keeping his Promiſe; ſo much ſtill practiſed by ſuch as Saul.

Ib. that Day] which he appointed, according to Ver. 26.

Ver. 25. Foreſkins of the Philiſtines] which the Iſraelites had not, being circumciſed; for which reaſon Saul might demand them, that he might not be deceived.

Ver. 30. had—ſucceſs] or proſpered. Thus the Targum has it, viz. אַצְלַח Kimhi and Lev. Ben Gerſ. expound it by הצליח more of which may be ſeen in Pagnine's Lexicon. As likewiſe Jun. and Trem. render it by ſecundor, to be proſperous; and in Buxtorf's Lexicon the Word is explained, ſecundari, proſperari; ſo alſo the Margin of the Geneva Bible interprets it both here and at the 5th Verſe.

Ver. 1. There is the Hebrew Athnah for the Middle of the Verſe, where the King's Tranſlators have ended it; which ſeems to have been a Miſtake from the Septuagint, and agrees with no other Tranſlation that I have ſeen.

Ver. 2. in the Morning] Perhaps when he was to go to Court, as now ſaid. So it is in the Hebrew, not until. The Latin Tranſlators have moſtly but manè, for in the Morning, yet Pagn. and Montan. in mane; Coverdale has in the Mornynge.

Ver. 3. thou art] The vulg. Lat. Tranſlator thinking he is better, did not ſcruple to make it ſo.

Ib. how it is] Pagn. and Mont. more literal, and I will ſee what, and tell to thee; but מה is how as well as what: in the Geneva Bible is, "And I will ſee what hee ſaith, "and will tell thee;" by Caſtal. better, & videbo quid ſit (how it is) tibique indicabo.

and ſlew them with a great Slaughter, and they fled from his Preſence.

9. But Saul had the evil Spirit from the Lord, as he was ſitting at home, holding his Spear, while David played with the Hand.

10. And Saul attempted to ſtrike through him with the Spear, even into the Wall; but he got away from his Preſence, ſo that he ſtruck the Spear into the Wall; and David fleeing, eſcaped that Night.

11. Nevertheleſs he ſent Meſſengers to David's Houſe to watch him, and kill him in the Morning; but it was told him thus by Michal his Wife, If thou doſt not eſcape with thy Life to Night, to Morrow thou wilt be killed.

12. So ſhe let him down through a Window; and he went away, and fleeing, eſcaped.

13. Beſides ſhe took a Teraph, and put into the Bed, and made a Bolſter of Goats Hair for his Pillow; which ſhe covered with a Garment.

14. And when Saul ſent Meſſengers to take David, ſhe ſaid, He is ſick.

15. With that he ſent them to ſee him, and ſaid, Bring him up in the Bed to me, that I may kill him.

16. But at their going in, behold there was a Teraph in the Bed, with a Bolſter of Goats Hair for his Pillow.

17. Saul therefore aſked Michal, Why haſt thou deceived me thus, and ſent away my Enemy, ſo that he is eſcaped? And ſhe anſwered him; He ſaid to me, Let me go; Why ſhould I kill thee?

18. Thus David fleeing, eſcaped, and got to Samuel at Ramah, and told him all that Saul had done to him; ſo he and Samuel went, and dwelt in the Habitations.

19. And it was told Saul, that behold David was in the Habitations at Ramah.

20. Upon this he ſent Meſſengers to fetch him, who ſeeing the Aſſembly of Prophets propheſying, and Samuel ſtanding placed over them; the Spirit of God was upon the Meſſengers of Saul, and they alſo prophefied.

21. Which being told Saul, he ſent other Meſſengers, and they likewiſe propheſied; yet he ſent Meſſengers again the third time, and they propheſied too.

22. At laſt he alſo went to Ramah, and coming to a great Well which was in Sechu, he aſked thus, Where are Samuel and David? And it was ſaid, Behold in the Habitations at Ramah.

23. Therefore he went thither to thoſe Habitations; and the Spirit of God was likewiſe upon himſelf, ſo that he went on, propheſying as he went, till he came into the Habitations at Ramah.

24. And he ſtript off his Cloaths alſo, and propheſied too before Samuel, moreover lay down naked all that Day, and all Night: therefore they ſay, Is Saul alſo among the Prophets?

CHAP. XX.

HOWEVER David fled from the Habitations at Ramah; and came, and ſaid before Jonathan, What have I done? What is my Iniquity? Or what is my Offence before thy Father, that he ſeeks after my Life?

2. Who anſwered him, Far be it off, thou ſhalt not die; behold my Father does neither great nor ſmall Matter, without diſcovering it in my Hearing: Why then ſhould he hide this Matter from me? That will not be.

3. But David yet ſwore as follows; Thy Father fully knows that I am got in Favour with thee, therefore he thinks, Let not Jonathan know this, leſt he ſhould be grieved; but ſurely, by the Lord's living, and thy Soul's living, there is but as it were a Step between me and Death.

4. Then replied Jonathan to him, Whatever thou ſhalt ſay thy Mind is, that will I do for thee.

5. To whom David ſaid; Behold the New-moon will be to Morrow, and I ſhould ſit with the King entirely to eat; but let me go, that I may be hid in the Field, till the third Evening.

Ver. 10. through] See the foregoing Chap. Ver. 11.

Ver. 13. a Garment] which might deceive the Meſſengers better than a Cloth; nor does the Hebrew Word mean that.

Ver. 19. Habitations] which is the Meaning of Navoth, or, as it ſeems without the Points, Navith; for Najoth is only in the Margin. Moreover Ramah was a City or Town, Joſh. xviii. 25. Judg. xix. 13. 1 Sam. xxviii. 3. not a Country or Region; therefore the Heb. Navoth which was in it, was not a Place, but Habitations or Houſes, which probably belonged to Samuel or his Family, Chap. i. 19. & ii. 11. & vii. 17. & xxv. 1. or elſe to the Prophets mentioned Ver. 20.

Ver. 24. all Night] Here is not that, as to Day.

Ver. 2. does] will do being too inconſiſtent with ſhould that follows.

Ver. 3. thinks] as at Chap. xviii. 17. for it is quite improbable that David knew Saul ſaid ſo, and indeed improbable he ſaid ſo to any one.

Ib. as it were] here being the Hebrew Adverb of Compariſon.

Ver. 4. ſay] ſo the Verb ſignifies, not deſire.

6. If

6. If thy Father ſhould at all want me; thou mayeſt ſay, David aſked earneſtly of me, that he might run to Beth-lehem his City, becauſe the yearly Sacrifice is there for all the Family.

7. If he ſhould ſay thus, It is well: there will be Peace to thy Servant: but if he ſhould be highly incenſed, know that Harm is concluded by him.

8. And thou ſhouldeſt ſhew Kindneſs to thy Servant, ſince thou haſt brought him into a Covenant of the Lord with thee: nevertheleſs if there is Iniquity in me, kill me thy ſelf; for why ſhouldeſt thou bring me to thy Father?

9. Far be it from thee, ſaid Jonathan, for if I at all know, that Harm is concluded by my Father to come upon thee, ſhall not I tell it to thee?

10. But David queſtioned with him, Who ſhall tell me, whether what thy Father anſwers thee be hard?

11. And he replied to David, Come, and let us go out into the Field; which they both did.

12. Again Jonathan ſaid to him; By the Lord God of Iſrael, when I have ſearched my Father about the Time to Morrow or the third Day, and behold there is Good to David; what ſhall not I then ſend to thee, and diſcover it in thy Hearing?

13. By the Lord's doing to Jonathan ſo and ſo beſides, ſhould Harm to thee pleaſe my Father, I will diſcover it in thy Hearing, and ſend thee away, ſo that thou ſhalt go in Peace; and the Lord be with thee, as he has been with my Father.

14. Thou ſhalt likewiſe if I am then alive, not only ſhew the Kindneſs of the Lord to me, that I may not die;

15. But ſhalt not cut off thy Kindneſs from my Family for ever, even not, when the Lord cuts off the Enemies of David reſpectively from the Surface of the Ground.

16. And Jonathan covenanted with the Family of David, that the Lord ſhould require it of thoſe who ſhould be David's Enemies.

17. Nay he made David ſwear again, ſince he loved him; as he did with the Love of his own Soul.

18. Jonathan ſaid further to him: The New-moon is to Morrow; and thou wilt be miſſed, becauſe thy Seat will be vacant.

19. So thou ſhalt go down the third Day early, and come to the Place where thou waſt hid on the Day of the Affair; and ſtay by the Stone thou wenteſt to.

20. I will then ſhoot three Arrows at the Side of it, for my ſhooting at a Mark.

21. And behold when I ſend a Youth, Go, find out the Arrows: if I ſhould any how ſay to him, Behold the Arrows are on this ſide of thee; take it, that thou mayeſt come: that there is Peace to thee, and the Matter is Nothing by the Lord's living.

22. But if I ſhould ſay thus to the Lad, Behold the Arrows are beyond thee: go, for the Lord ſends thee away.

23. Moreover in the Matter of which I and thou have ſpoken, behold the Lord be between me and thee for ever.

24. David accordingly hid in the Field, and when it was the New-moon, the King ſate down to eat of the Meat.

25. And he ſate upon his Seat, as at other Times, on a Seat by the Wall, and Jonathan riſing up, Abner ſate down at Saul's Side; but David's Place was vacant.

26. Nevertheleſs Saul ſaid Nothing that Day: for he thought, There is ſome Accident; he is not clean, it is becauſe he is not clean.

27. Whereas the next Day, the ſecond of the New-moon, when his Place was vacant, Saul ſaid to Jonathan his Son, Why does not the Son of Jeſſe come to the Meat, both Yeſterday and to Day?

Ver. 12. By the Lord] We are juſt told this was ſaid to David, not to the Lord; and certainly Jonathan was not to ſend unto the Lord, and ſhew it him, as the Words lie in the common Tranſlation. Now a Queſtion being uſed in Hebrew for a ſtrong Affirmation, for which ſee 1 Kings xii. 16. Jer. viii. 22. and the Beginning of the next Verſe ſhewing that Jonathan here ſwore, I tranſlate with [By] as elſewhere. So the firſt Part with Good is interrogative as before, and the latter with Harm poſitive.

Ver. 14. if I am then alive] when David ſhould be King. The Particle ם אִ ſignifies if, not while.

Ver. 16. Enemies] if any of Jonathan's own Family ſhould break the Agreement, and be Enemies of David.

Ver. 18. to him] The preſent Bible having to David, is an open Inſtance of the Careleſſneſs of its Tranſlators.

Ver. 19. the third Day] Morrow in the preceding Verſe, as likewiſe the Time of Jonathan's going, Ver. 34, 35. ſhew it to be Day, and the like Ver. 12. otherwiſe the Hebrew might ſeem to be the third time. The Tigurin Bible has it like this, tertio autem die deſcendes; which is more ſuitable than adding ſtayed and a Conjunction.

Ib. early] Heb. very, i. e. very early, that he might not be ſeen, which agrees with Ver. 35. It has been beſt done (that I have ſeen) by Miles Coverdale thus, on the thyrde daye come doune ſone.

Ib. the Stone thou wenteſt to] Heb. the Stone of going.

Ver. 21. on this ſide of thee] or behither thee, as vulgarly ſaid: Heb. from thee and hither; the like Ver. 22.

Ib. take it] That is for a Sign; it is not take them. Moreover by the Hebrew Pointing Jonathan bade David, and not the Youth, take: for Rebia, agreeing with our Semicolon, comes before take it, and not after as in the common Tranſlation.

28. And he anſwered him; David had really Leave from me, to run to Bethlehem.

29. For he ſaid, Let me go, I pray, becauſe we have a Family-ſacrifice in the City, and my Brother himſelf has commanded me; and now if I am in Favour with thee, let me get away, I beſeech thee, and ſee my Brethren: therefore he is not come to the King's Table.

30. Incenſed with Jonathan at this, Saul ſaid to him; O Son of Perverſeneſs and Rebellion! Do not I know that thou haſt choſen the Son of Jeſſe to thy own Shame, and to that of thy Mother's Nakedneſs?

31. For as long as ever the Son of Jeſſe lives upon the Ground, thou and thy Kingdom will not be eſtabliſhed: therefore now ſend, and fetch him to me, for he ſhall be put to death.

32. And Jonathan made anſwer to Saul his Father, Why ſhould he die? What has he done?

33. But Saul threw a Spear at him, to kill him; whereby Jonathan knew that it was concluded by his Father to put David to death.

34. Whereupon he aroſe from the Table in the Heat of Anger, and would not eat Meat the ſecond Day of the New-moon, becauſe he was grieved for David, ſince his Father had expoſed him to Shame.

35. In the Morning alſo he went out into the Field at David's appointed Time, accompanied with a little Youth.

36. To whom he ſaid, Run, find out now the Arrows that I ſhoot: the Youth ran, and he ſhot an Arrow beyond him.

37. And as he was going to the Place of the Arrow that Jonathan ſhot, he called thus after him, Is not the Arrow beyond thee?

38. Be ſpeedy, make haſte, added he, do not ſtay. And his Youth having gathered up the Arrow, came to his Maſter.

39. He however did not know any Thing, only Jonathan and David knew the Matter.

40. And Jonathan gave his Arms to the Youth that he had, and ſaid to him, Go, carry them into the City.

41. As ſoon as he was gone, David roſe up from the ſouth Side, and fell on his Face to the Ground, bowing down three times; and they kiſſed one another, and wept together, till David did exceſſively.

42. At length Jonathan ſaid to him, Go in Peace; foraſmuch as we have both of us ſworn thus in the Name of the Lord, The Lord be between me and thee, and betwixt my Offspring and thine, for ever.

43. He accordingly got ready, and went away; and Jonathan came into the City.

CHAP. XXI.

THEN David came to Nob to Ahimelech the Prieſt; who trembled to meet him, and aſked him, Why art thou quite alone, and no Man with thee?

2. To whom David ſaid; The King has given me a Matter in charge, and ordered me, Let no Man know any Thing of the Matter in which I ſend thee, and which I give thee in charge; and I have let the young Men know it is at ſuch a Place.

3. Now therefore what is there under thy Cuſtody? Give me five Loaves with me, or what there is preſent.

4. And the Prieſt made him anſwer, No common Bread is under my Cuſtody, but conſecrated Bread there is, if the young Men have but been kept from Women.

5. Hereupon David made reply to him, But Women have been with-held from us ſince about the third Day when I came out, and the Things of the young Men are holy; nay that Bread is in a manner common, foraſmuch as there will be ſome conſecrated to Day in the Veſſel.

Ver. 28. to run] Which is ſupplied from Ver. 6.

Ver. 36. he ſhot] Our celebrated Cowley in his Davideis, B. ii. Not. 37. writes, 'It was a ſubtilty that I cannot 'for my life comprehend; for ſince he went to David, 'and talked to him himſelf, what needed all that politique 'trouble of the ſhooting.' When this Signal for David's Departure was agreed upon, it was ſuppoſed there might be ſome caſual Obſervers; but as it unexpectedly happened there was Nobody to ſee them, Jonathan ſent his Servant away upon a reaſonable Pretext, and had an affecting Interview with David.

Ver. 37. was going] his Queſtion that follows to the Youth, denoting the Arrow was beyond him, Ver. 22.

Ver. 43. This is a diſtinct Verſe from the foregoing, both in the Hebrew and other Tranſlations which are parted into Verſes, beſides our laſt, and the Biſhops.

Ver. 1. Ahimelech] After having followed our eminent Expoſitors Poole and Patrick on Chap. xiv. 3. who there ſay Ahijah is the ſame that is called Ahimelech; I muſt leave them now, when the former here aſſerts, and the latter ſpeaks of it as generally ſuppoſed, that they were Brothers.

Ver. 5. Things] Jun. and Trem. render it Inſtrumenta; which they expound, id eſt, quibuſcunque ad iter hoc conficiendum inſtructi ſunt, to be, whatever they were provided with to perform that Journey: Munſter ſays it was indumenta, their Cloaths. And Patrick, who ſays it is their Bodies, adds that holy is ſeparated from Women; which makes it ſuperfluous, as that was told juſt before.

Ib. foraſmuch as] or even becauſe. The Engliſh Marginal Reading, which Patrick prefers, is, eſpecially when this Day there is other ſanctified; Jun. alſo and Trem. tranſlate, tum etiam eo die cum ſanctificandus eſt alius, then alſo when there is other Bread to be conſecrated the ſame Day. This the next Verſe confirms.

Ib. will be] the Hebrew Verb being in the future Tenſe.

6. So

6. So the Prieſt gave him conſecrated Bread; becauſe there was none there, but the Preſence-loaves taken away from before the Lord, to put hot Bread on the Day it was taken.

7. But a Man was there of the Servants of Saul that Day, retained before the Lord, whoſe Name was Doeg the Edomite; a powerful one of the Shepherds who belonged to Saul.

8. Moreover David ſaid to Ahimelech, Is there not here alſo under thy Cuſtody Spear or Sword? For I took neither my Sword nor Arms with me, becauſe the King's Matter was in haſte.

9. The Sword of Goliath the Philiſtine, anſwered the Prieſt, whom thou didſt ſmite in the Vale of Oaks, is there wrapt up in a Cloth behind the Ephod; if thou wilt take it to thee, do, for there is no other beſides it here. And David replied, There is none like that, give it me.

10. He then got ready, and fled that Day from the Preſence of Saul, and came to Achiſh King of Gath.

11. But the Servants of Achiſh ſaid to him, Is not this David the King of the Country? Did not they ſpeak thus of him in Dances, Saul has defeated his Thouſands, and David his ten Thouſands?

12. And David minded theſe Words, and was much afraid by reaſon of Achiſh King of Gath.

13. Therefore he altered his Behaviour in their Sight, and made himſelf mad in their Cuſtody: for he made Marks upon the Doors of the Gate, and let down his Spittle on his Beard.

14. At which Achiſh ſaid to his Servants; Behold you ſee the Man is diſtracted; Why did you bring him to me?

15. Do I want ſuch as are diſtracted, that you have brought him to be ſo with me? Should he come into my Houſe?

CHAP. XXII.

SO David got away from thence, and eſcaped to the Cave of Adullam; which his Brothers, and the whole Family of his Father hearing of, they went down to him thither.

2. There alſo gathered themſelves together to him every Man who was either ſtreightened, or was in Debt, or of a troubled Mind, and he became a Captain over them; thus there were with him about four hundred Men.

3. Afterwards he went from thence to Mizpeh of Moab; and ſaid to the King of Moab, Let my Father and Mother come forth to you, I pray, until I know what God will do for me.

4. And he brought them before him; with whom they dwelt all the Time David was in the Fortification.

5. At length the Prophet Gad ſaid to David, Do not abide in the Fortification, go, and get thee into the Country of Judah. Accordingly he departed, and came to the Wood of Hereth.

6. And when Saul heard that David was diſcovered, and the Men who were with him; as he ſate at Gibeah under a Tree in Ramah, with his Spear in his Hand, and all his Servants ſtanding by him,

7. He ſaid to them; Hear now, you Benjaminites, will the Son of Jeſſe give even all of you, Fields and Vineyards; make you all Captains of Thouſands, and of Hundreds?

8. That all of you conſpired againſt me, and there was none diſcovered to my Hearing, when my Son made a Covenant with him; nor was there any of you ſorry for me, and made ſuch Diſcovery, that my Son has raiſed up my Servant againſt me, by lying in wait, as at this Time.

9. Then Doeg the Edomite, who ſtood by the Servants of Saul, made anſwer; I ſaw the Son of Jeſſe come to Nob, to Ahimelech the Son of Ahitub.

10. Who enquired of the Lord for him, and gave him Proviſion; as he did likewiſe the Sword of Goliath the Philiſtine.

11. Upon which the King ſent for Ahimelech, the Son of Ahitub, the Prieſt, and all the Family of his Father, the Prieſts who were in Nob; and they all came to him.

Ver. 6. Preſence-loaves] Becauſe they were in the peculiar Preſence of the Lord, as the following Words ſhew; according to which Jun. and Trem. explain it on Exod. xxv. 30. where ſee.

Ver. 10. from the Preſence of] See the ſame in Heb. 1 Kings ii. 7. with the parallel Places there brought.

Ver. 5. Hereth] The firſt Vowel being changed to a by the Accent, like what is obſerved on Gen. x. 24. and ſo Jun. and Trem. have both Syllables with e.

Ver. 6. Tree] Gibeah and Ramah being contiguous, Judg. xix. 13. a Tree in the Limits of one might grow over Part of the other.

Ver. 9. ſtood by] Seb. Munſt. qui & ipſe ſtabat juxta ſervos, who alſo himſelf ſtood by the Servants; the Tigurin Verſ. qui & ipſe ſtabat inter (among) ſervos; Seb. Caſtal. qui etiam inter Sauli ſtipatores aderat, who alſo was preſent among Saul's Life-guard; Trem. and Jun. qui adſtabat cum ſervis, who ſtood by with the Servants. It is not likely that Doeg took care both of the Cattle, Chap. xxi. 7. and the King's Perſon. The like Words alſo are in Ver. 17.

Ib. come to Nob] for he ſaw him there.

12. When

12. When Saul ſaid, Hear now, Son of Ahitub; who anſwered, Here am I, my Lord.

13. To whom he replied, Why did thou and the Son of Jeſſe conſpire againſt me; when thou gaveſt him Bread and a Sword, and enquiredſt of God for him, that he might riſe up againſt me, by lying in wait, as at this Time?

14. And Ahimelech made anſwer to the King; And who is there among all thy Servants ſo faithful as David, being the King's Son-in-law, and one that ſets out at hearing thee, and is honourable in thy Houſe?

15. Did I begin that Day to enquire of God for him? Far be it from me: let not the King lay the Matter on his Servant, and all the Family of my Father; ſince thy Servant knew Nothing of all this, ſmall or great.

16. Nevertheleſs the King ſaid, Thou ſhalt quite die, Ahimelech, with all thy Father's Family.

17. And he ſaid to the Footmen who ſtood by him, Turn about, and kill the Lord's Prieſts, becauſe their Help alſo is with David, and becauſe they knew that he fled, and did not diſcover it to my Hearing. But his Servants would not put out their Hands, to fall on the Prieſts of the Lord.

18. Next he ſaid to Doeg the Edomite, Do thou turn about, and fall on the Prieſts. Accordingly he did, and killed that Day fourſcore and five Men, who had on a linen Ephod.

19. He alſo put thoſe of Nob, the City of the Prieſts, to the Sword, namely both Man and Woman, both Child and ſucking Babe; as likewiſe Ox, Aſs, and ſmall Cattle.

20. Yet there eſcaped one Son of Ahimelech, the Son of Ahitub, whoſe Name was Abiathar, and fled after David;

21. Whom he telling, that Saul had killed the Prieſts of the Lord;

22. David ſaid to him; I knew that Day, ſince Doeg the Edomite was there, that he would fully tell Saul: I have brought this about on all the Perſons of thy Father's Family.

23. Abide with me, do not fear, ſince he who ſeeks my Life, ſeeks thine; but thou ſhalt be in Safeguard with me.

CHAP. XXIII.

AND they had told David as follows; Behold the Philiſtines are fighting againſt Keilah, and they ſpoil the Floors.

2. Then he enquired thus of the Lord, Shall I go, and defeat theſe Philiſtines? And the Lord anſwered him, Go, and thou ſhalt defeat them, and ſave Keilah.

3. But David's Men ſaid to him, Behold we are afraid here in Judah; and much more, ſhould we go to Keilah, againſt the Armies of the Philiſtines.

4. Therefore he enquired of the Lord yet again, who made him anſwer, Get ready, go down to Keilah; for I will give up the Philiſtines into thy Power.

5. Accordingly David and his Men went thither, and fought with the Philiſtines, and brought away their Cattle, ſmiting them with a great Slaughter; thus he ſaved the Inhabitants of Keilah.

6. And when Abiathar, the Son of Ahimelech, fled to David at Keilah, he went down with the Ephod in his Cuſtody.

7. Afterwards it was told Saul that David was come to Keilah; at which he ſaid, God has delivered him into my Power: for he is ſhut up, by going into a City that has Gates and Bars.

8. With that he made a Declaration of War to all the People; that they ſhould go down to Keilah, to beſiege David and his Men.

9. But David being not unacquainted that Saul was contriving Miſchief againſt him, ſaid to Abiathar the Prieſt, Bring hither the Ephod.

10. And David ſaid; O Lord God of Iſrael, thy Servant has been fully informed, that Saul is attempting to come to Keilah, that he may deſtroy the City for my ſake.

11. Will the Owners of Keilah deliver me up into his Power? Will Saul come down, as thy Servant has heard? O Lord God of Iſrael, tell thy Servant, I beſeech thee. And the Lord anſwered, He will come down.

12. Moreover to David's aſking, Will the Owners of Keilah deliver me, and my Men, into the Power of Saul? the Lord ſaid, They will.

Ver. 15. begin] Have not I done it before? As probably he might by Saul's Order.

Ver. 1. And they had told] Not Then they told, it being before, not after Abiathar fled to David, Ver. 6. ſo Lightfoot, &c.

Ib. Floors] plundered the Iſraelites of their Corn and Proviſion.

Ver. 4. give] The Hebrew Verb here and Ver. 14. is not the ſame with that in Ver. 11, 12.

Ver. 6. the Ephod] that which belonged to the high Prieſt, Exod. xxviii. 6. & xxxix. 1, 2. not an Ephod, which denotes a common one ſuch as is mentioned Chap. xxii. 18. for Enquiry being made of God by this which Abiathar had, Ver. 9. it muſt have the Urim in it, Exod. xxviii. 28, 30. Lev. xxvii. 21.

13. At

13. At this he got ready, with his Men, about ſix hundred Perſons, and went out of Keilah, going about where they could; and when it was told Saul that David was eſcaped from thence, he forbore to go forth.

14. And David abode in the Wilderneſs in Fortifications, eſpecially on a Mountain in the Wilderneſs of Ziph; and though Saul ſought for him at all Times, God did not give him up into his Power.

15. Nay he found that Saul was come out to ſeek his Life, when he was in the Wilderneſs of Ziph in a Wood.

16. However Jonathan his Son got ready, and went to David at the Wood, and ſtrengthened him through God;

17. Saying to him, Do not fear: for Saul my Father will not find thee out, nay thou wilt be King over Iſrael, and I ſhall be ſecond to thee; and even he is not ignorant that it will be ſo.

18. They alſo both made a Covenant before the Lord; and David ſtaid in the Wood, Jonathan going home.

19. But the Ziphites went up to Saul at Gibeah, and ſaid; Does not David hide himſelf with us, in Fortifications in the Wood, on the Hill of Hachilah, which is on the South of the Deſart?

20. Now therefore come down, O King, according to all the Deſire of thy Soul to do it; and it ſhall be ours to deliver him into the King's Power.

21. The Lord bleſs you, anſwered Saul, becauſe you have had compaſſion upon me.

22. Go, I pray, confirm it more, and know, as well by ſeeing his Place to which his Track is, as who ſees him there: for it is told me he is exceeding crafty.

23. Therefore ſee and know of all the hiding Places, where he conceals himſelf, and come again to me with the Certainty, ſo will I go with you; and if he is in the Country, I will ſearch for him through all the Thouſands of Judah.

24. So they got ready, and went to Ziph before Saul; David and his Men being in the Wilderneſs of Maon, in a Plain on the South of the Deſart.

25. For Saul and his Men going to ſeek after him, they told David, and he went down the Rock, and abode in the Wilderneſs of Maon; which Saul hearing, purſued after him there.

26. When Saul went on one Side of a Mountain, and David with his Men on the other Side of it; ſo that David haſtened to get away becauſe of Saul, ſince he and his Men were compaſſing him and his about, to take them.

27. But a Meſſenger came to Saul, and ſaid, Make haſte, and go; for the Philiſtines are invading the Country.

28. Upon which he returned from purſuing after David, and went to meet the Philiſtines: therefore they called that Part The Rock of Partings.

29. And David going up from thence, dwelt in Fortifications at En-gedi.

CHAP. XXIV.

HOWEVER as Saul returned from after the Philiſtines, they told him, that behold David was in the Wilderneſs of En-gedi.

2. At this he took three thouſand choſen Men out of all Iſrael, and went to ſeek for David and his Men, before the Rocks of the wild Goats.

3. And coming to the Folds of the Flocks in the Way, there was a Cave, whither he went in to cover his Feet; while David and his Men were abiding in the Sides of the Cave.

4. Whereupon David's Men ſaid to him; Lo this is the Day of which the Lord ſaid to thee, Behold I will give up thy Enemy into thy Power, that thou mayeſt do to him as thou likeſt. Then David got ready, and cut off the Skirt of the Robe which Saul had privately.

5. But after that his Conſcience troubled him, becauſe he had done it.

6. Inſomuch that he ſaid to his Men, Far be it from me by the Lord, that I ſhould do this Thing to my Maſter, the Lord's anointed one, to put forth my Hand againſt him; ſince he is the anointed one of the Lord.

7. Thus David kept them off with the Words, and would not ſuffer them to riſe up againſt Saul; who at length got ready to go from the Cave, and went on his Way.

8. David alſo got ready after that, and going out thence, called thus after Saul, My Lord O King. And when he looked behind him, David bowed his Face to the Ground, and reverenced.

9. And he expoſtulated with Saul: Why doſt thou hearken to theſe Words of Men, Behold David ſeeks thy Hurt?

10. Lo this Day thou haſt ſeen with thy own Eyes, how the Lord gave thee up to Day into my Power in the Cave, and it was ſpoken to kill thee, but there was Compaſſion upon thee: for I ſaid, I will not put forth my Hand againſt my Lord, ſince he is the Lord's anointed one.

11. Beſides my Father, ſee, even ſee the Skirt of thy Robe in my Hand: for by my cutting that off, and not ſlaying thee: know, and ſee, that there is no Hurt nor Rebellion with me, neither have I done amiſs to thee; yet thou hunteſt my Life, to take it.

12. The Lord will judge between me and thee, and the Lord will revenge me on thee; but my Hand ſhall not be upon thee.

13. According as the Proverb of old Time ſays; From the Wicked comes forth Wickedneſs; but my Hand ſhall not be upon thee.

14. After whom is the King of Iſrael come out? After whom doſt thou purſue? After a dead Dog? After ſome Flea?

15. But the Lord will be Judge, and judge between me and thee; he will even ſee, and pleading my Cauſe, judge me out of thy Power.

16. And as David made an end of ſpeaking theſe Words to Saul, he thus uttered himſelf, Is this thy Voice, my Son David? and burſt out a crying.

17. Nay he ſaid to David: Thou art more righteous than I: for thou haſt requited me with Good, notwithſtanding I requited thee with Harm.

18. And thou haſt declared to Day, how thou haſt done me good, how the Lord delivered me into thy Power, and thou didſt not ſlay me.

19. For when a Man meets with his Enemy, will he let him go well on the Way? Therefore the Lord reward thee with Good, for what thou haſt done to me this Day.

20. And now behold I know that thou wilt entirely reign, and the Kingdom of Iſrael will be eſtabliſhed in thy Power.

21. Now therefore ſwear to me by the Lord, that thou wilt not cut off my Offſpring after me, and that thou wilt not deſtroy my Name out of my Father's Family.

22. Accordingly David ſwore to him; and then Saul went home, as David with his Men did up to a Fortification.

CHAP. XXV.

AT length Samuel died, and all Iſrael were gathered together, and made lamentation for him, whom they buried in his Houſe at Ramah. And David getting ready, went down to the Wilderneſs of Paran.

2. Now there was a Man in Maon, whoſe Buſineſs was in Carmel, and he was very great, having three thouſand Sheep, with a thouſand Goats; and this was when he ſheared his Flock in Carmel.

3. The Man's Name too was Nabal, and that of his Wife Abigail: who was a Woman of good Underſtanding, and handſome Features; but the Man was one of hard and ill Dealings, and was a Calebite.

Ver. 5. his Conſcience troubled him] for making even ſuch an Approach to Treaſon: ſo ſacred to a Subject is the Perſon of a King.

Ver. 6. The Vulgate adds at the End, The Lord lives ——againſt the Lord's Anointed, from Chap. xxvi. 10, 11.

Ver. 12. will revenge] So Jun. and Trem. have ulciſcetur; not ulciſcatur, let him revenge, which would have been neither proper to ſay to the King, nor agreeable to the Reſt of the Speech, nor yet ſuitable to David's Clemency.

Ver. 13. but my Hand] Part of the Proverb; which elſe would be a mere Tautology, and the Proverb too affronting.

Ver. 20. know] well ſeems to have been added in the laſt Engliſh Tranſlation, by Overſight of looking on the foregoing Verſe, where there is מובה twice.

Ver. 1. Samuel died] If we compute his Birth ten Years in Eli's Government, ſuppoſing the Lord ſpoke to him as related ſo many alſo before Eli died, when he himſelf was of the Age of twenty (and it cannot well be put ſooner) he might live within a few Years of ſeventy, according to the ſucceeding Chronological Table, with which it well agrees.

Ver. 2. Buſineſs] Heb. Work.

Ib. this was when] So the Hebrew. David going then to the Wilderneſs of Paran, Ver. 1.

Ver. 3. a Calebite] Tyndal.

4. And David heard in the Wilderneſs, that he was ſhearing his Sheep.

5. With this he ſent ten young Men, to whom he ſaid; Go up to Carmel, and when you come to Nabal, aſk him of his Welfare in my Name.

6. Then you ſhall ſay thus of living; And mayeſt thou be well, and thy Family well, and all that thou haſt well.

7. And now, if I am not miſinformed, thou haſt Shearers; now the Shepherds whom thou haſt being with us, we did not put them to ſhame, nor was any Thing of their's lacking all the Time they were in Carmel.

8. Aſk thy young Men, and they will tell thee; that theſe may be in thy Favour, ſince they come on a good Day: be pleaſed to give what thou meeteſt with to thy Servants, and to thy Son David.

9. So his young Men went, and ſpoke to Nabal according to all theſe Words in the Name of David; and were quiet.

10. Whereas Nabal made his Servants anſwer; Who is David? Or who is the Son of Jeſſe? There are many Servants at this Time who break out from the Preſence of their ſeveral Maſters.

11. Should I then take my Victuals and Drink, eſpecially my Meat which I have killed for my Shearers, and give to Men of whom I know not from whence they are?

12. At which David's young Men turned to their Way; and going back, told him according to all theſe Words.

13. Therefore David ſaid to his Men, Gird on your ſeveral Swords; which they did, as he alſo girded on his: ſo about four hundred Men went up after him, and two hundred ſtaid by the Things.

14. But one of the young Men told Abigail, the Wife of Nabal, as follows; Behold David ſent Meſſengers from the Wilderneſs to bleſs our Maſter, and he fell foul on them.

15. Yet the Men were very good to us; and we were not put to ſhame, nor did we miſs any Thing all the Time we went about with them, when we were in the Field.

16. They were a Wall to us both by Night and Day, all the Time we were with them feeding the Flock.

17. Now therefore know and ſee what thou ſhouldeſt do, ſince there is Harm concluded againſt our Maſter, and upon his Family: for he is ſuch an ungodly Perſon, that one cannot ſpeak to him.

18. Upon this Abigail made haſte, and got two hundred Loaves, two Bottles of Wine, five Sheep ready dreſſed, five Seahs of parched Corn, a hundred Cluſters of Raiſins, and two hundred Bunches of Figs; which ſhe put upon Aſſes:

19. Saying withal to her young Men, Paſs on before me, behold I will come after you; but did not tell her Huſband Nabal.

20. And as ſhe rode upon an Aſs, and went down into the Covert of the Mountain, behold David and his Men were coming down to meet her; ſo ſhe met them.

21. For David had ſaid; Verily in vain have I kept all which he had in the Wilderneſs, ſo that there was not any Thing lacking of whatever belonged to him; ſince he has returned me Ill for Good.

Ver. 6. of living] This Place is variouſly rendered. In the vulg. Lat. Bible, 'And you ſhall ſay, Let there 'be to my Brothers and to thee Peace, and Peace to thy 'Houſe, and to all whatſoever thou haſt, let there be 'Peace (to which is added) making thine and all thy 'Things ſafe for many Years.' Which laſt is neither in Hebrew, Greek nor Chaldee; and to my Brothers came by taking לחי for לאחי for which the Edition of Gryphius, printed 1542, ſubſtitutes vive vel per viventem, that it may be read thus, 'Live thou, let there be 'Peace to thee, &c. Or, 'By living let there be Peace 'to thee, &c.

In Munſter's Tranſ. 'And you ſhall ſay, Be thou ſo 'well, that thou mayeſt be in Peace, &c.'

In Caſtalio's, 'And to him and his Family, and to all 'wiſh ye a happy Life.'

In the Tigurin Bib. 'And you ſhall ſay, Life, Peace 'and Safety [we wiſh] both to thee, &c.'

In that of Pagnin. 'And ſay you thus, For Life both 'thou ſhalt be peaceable, and thy Houſe peaceable, and 'all which thou haſt peaceable.'

Of the Septuagint, 'And you ſhall ſay this, For the 'Time both thou and thy Family are well, &c.'

The Targ. 'And you ſhall ſay thus, For thy living 'both thou art in Peace, &c.'

All theſe, with our Biſhops Tranſ. 'So mayſt thou 'live, &c.' are diſproved by the Hebrew Accent, which ſhews that the Speech David's Men were to make, began after living, beſides other Faults. And from hence may be obſerved the Benefit of minding the Original Accents, to render according to them, which no Tranſlator I think has much done, beſides Jun. and Trem. in the Verſion they made together.

Who tranſlated it, 'And ſay to him, ſo doing: (in 'the Marg. living) do both thou enjoy Peace, and thy 'Houſe Peace, &c.'

But this was altered in ſucceeding Editions, for thus or ſo manifeſtly belongs to the Men, and not to Nabal, being between the Verb and its Prepoſition;

And made to be in this Manner, 'And thus ſhall 'you ſay to him, if he is well; do both thou, &c.' Wherein, like the laſt Engliſh Tranſlators, they make too bold with the Original, by adding what that will not juſtify.

The Geneva Bible has it, 'And thus ſhall ye ſay for 'ſalutation, (Marg. for life) Both thou, and thine 'houſe, and all that thou haſt, bee in peace, wealth and 'proſperitie.'

And Tyndal, 'And thus wiſe ſaye unto my frende: 'peace be to the, peace be &c.

23. And when Abigail ſaw David, ſhe made haſte, and got down from the Aſs; then fell before him upon her Face, bowing down to the Ground.

24. Beſides ſhe fell at his Feet, and ſaid: On me my ſelf, my Lord, be the Iniquity; but let thy Handmaid, I beg, ſpeak in thy Hearing, and hear her Words.

25. Let not my Lord, I pray, take notice of this ungodly Man Nabal; for as his Name is, ſo is he; his Name is Nabal, and Vileneſs is with him: whereas I thy Handmaid did not ſee the young Men of my Lord, whom thou ſenteſt.

26. And now, my Lord, by the Lord's living, and thy Soul's living, ſince the Lord has with-held thee from coming for Blood, and thy own Hand helping thee; now will thy Enemies, and thoſe who ſeek for Harm againſt my Lord, be as Nabal.

27. Now alſo let this Bleſſing which thy Handmaid has brought to my Lord, be even given to the young Men who continually accompany him.

28. Forgive, I beſeech thee, the Failing of thy Handmaid: for the Lord will throughly make for my Lord a firm Houſe; ſince he fights the Lord's Battles, and no Evil has been found in thee in thy Time.

29. Nevertheleſs Man riſes up to purſue thee, and to ſeek thy Life: whereas the Life of my Lord is bound up in the Bundle of the Living, with the Lord thy God; but as for the Lives of thy Enemies, he will ſling them away in the Hollow of the Sling.

30. And when the Lord does to my Lord, according to all the Good that he has ſpoken concerning thee, and appoints thee to be Ruler over Iſrael;

31. This will be no Staggering to thee, nor Stumbling of Heart to my Lord, either to have ſhed Blood undeſervedly, or for him to have helped himſelf; and when the Lord does well to my Lord, thou wilt remember thy Handmaid.

32. And David ſaid to Abigail; Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, who has ſent thee this Day to meet me.

33. Bleſſed too be thy Senſe, and bleſſed thou; who has ſtopped me this Day from coming for Blood, and my own Hand helping me.

34. For indeed by the Lord God of Iſrael's living, who has with-held me from doing thee Hurt; unleſs thou hadſt made haſte, and come to meet me, there would not have been left to Nabal a grown Male, till the Light of the Morning.

35. He further received of her what ſhe brought him; and ſaid to her, Go up in Peace home; ſee I have hearkened to what thou ſayeſt, and accepted thee.

36. And at Abigail's coming to Nabal, behold he had an Entertainment in his Houſe like that of a King, and his Mind was merry within him, he being exceeding drunk: therefore ſhe did not tell him any Thing, ſmall or great, till the Light of the Morning.

37. But in the Morning, when the Wine was gone out of him, his Wife told him theſe Things; upon which his Heart was dying within him, and he became as a Stone.

38. Nay in about ten Days, the Lord ſmote him, ſo that he died,

39. And when David heard that Nabal was dead, he ſaid, Bleſſed be the Lord, who has pleaded the Cauſe of my Reproach from Nabal, and yet kept back his Servant from Harm: for the Lord has rendered the Wickedneſs of Nabal on his own Head. Afterwards David ſent, that he

41. At this ſhe aroſe, and bowed down with the Face to the Ground, and ſaid, Behold let thy Handmaid be a Servant-maid to waſh the Feet of my Lord's Servants.

42. She alſo made haſte, and getting ready, rode upon an Aſs, with five Maids of hers walking along with her; thus ſhe went after the Meſſengers of David, and became his Wife.

43. David likewiſe took Ahinoam of Jezreel, ſo that even they both became his Wives.

44. On the other hand Saul had given Michal his Daughter, David's Wife, to Phalti the Son of Laiſh, who was of Gallim.

CHAP. XXVI.

AGAIN the Ziphites came to Saul at Gibeah with advice, Does not David hide himſelf on the Hill of Hachilah before the Deſart?

2. Therefore Saul got ready, and went down to the Wilderneſs of Ziph, having three thouſand choſen Men of Iſrael with him, to ſeek for David there.

3. And he encamped on the Hill of Hachilah, which is before the Deſart by the Way; while David abiding in the Wilderneſs, found that he was coming after him thither.

4. For he ſent Spies, and knew that Saul was coming for certain.

5. At this he got ready, and went to the Place where Saul encamped, and ſaw the very Place where he lay, with Abner the Son of Ner the Captain of his Army; Saul lying among the Carriage, and the People encamping round about him.

6. When David thus expreſſed himſelf to Ahimelech the Hittite, and Abiſhai the Son of Zerujah Joab's Brother, Who will go down with me to Saul at the Camp? And Abiſhai ſaid, I will.

7. Accordingly they went to the People by Night, and behold Saul lay ſleeping among the Carriage, with his Spear thruſt into the Ground at his Pillow; Abner and the People lying round about him.

8. Whereupon Abiſhai ſaid to David, God has delivered thy Enemy into thy Power to Day; now therefore let me ſmite him, I pray, with the Spear, even to the Ground at once, which I will not repeat to him.

9. But he anſwered Abiſhai, Do not deſtroy him: for who can put forth his Hand againſt the Lord's anointed one, and be blameleſs?

10. David ſaid further; By the Lord's living, the Lord ſhall ſmite him; or his Time ſhall come for him to die; or he ſhall go down into a Battle, and be deſtroyed.

11. Far be it from me of the Lord, that I ſhould put forth my Hand againſt his anointed one; but now do take the Spear and Pot of Water which are at his Pillow, and let us be gone.

12. Thus David taking both theſe Things, they went away: and none either ſaw, knew, or awaked; for they were all aſleep, becauſe a ſound Sleep of the Lord was fallen upon them.

13. Next David paſſed beyond, and ſtood upon the Top of a Mountain far off: there being a great Space between them.

14. Then he called thus to the People, and Abner the Son of Ner, Wilt not thou anſwer, Abner? At length he made anſwer, Who art thou that calleſt to the King?

15. And David replied to him; Art not thou a Man? And who is like thee in Iſrael? Why then didſt not thou keep thy Maſter the King? For one of the People came to deſtroy him.

16. This Thing is not good that thou haſt done; by the Lord's living, you ſhould be put to death, who have not kept your Maſter, the anointed one of the Lord: for now ſee where the King's Spear and the Pot of Water are, which were at his Pillow.

17. And Saul knowing his Voice, ſaid, Is this thy Voice, my Son David? Who anſwered, It is, my Lord O King.

18. This he ſeconded with, Why does my Lord purſue after his Servant? For what have I done? And what Harm is there with me?

19. And now let my Lord the King vouchſafe to hear the Words of his Servant, if the Lord has ſtirred thee up againſt me, let him ſavour an Offering; but if the Sons of Men, they are curſed before the Lord, becauſe they

22. And David made anſwer; Here is the King's Spear; and let one of the young Men come over, and fetch it.

CHAP. XXVII.

AFTERWARDS David ſaid in his Heart, Now ſhall I be deſtroyed ſome Day by the Power of Saul; there is Nothing better for me, than that I ſhould quite eſcape into the Country of the Philiſtines; whereby he will deſpair of me, to ſeek for me any more in any of the Bounds of Iſrael, ſince I ſhall be eſcaped from his Power.

2. Accordingly he got ready, and paſſed over, accompanied with the ſix hundred Men, to Achiſh the Son of Maoch, King of Gath.

3. With whom he and they reſided in Gath, as alſo their reſpective Families, including his two Wives, Ahinoam of Jezreel, and Abigail who had been Nabal's Wife, of Carmel.

5. And David ſaid to Achiſh, If now I am got in Favour with thee, let ſome give me a Place in one of the Cities of the Country, that I may dwell there: for why ſhould thy Servant dwell in the Metropolis of the Kingdom with thee?

6. Whereupon he gave him Ziklag at that Time; therefore the Kings of Judah have it to this Day.

7. Now the Number of the Days which David dwelt in the Country of the Philiſtines was ſome Days over four Months.

8. In the mean time David and his Men went up, and fell on the Geſhurites, Gerzites and Amalekites; for theſe were they who inhabited the Country of old, going by Shur, even to that of Egypt.

9. And David ſmote the Country, not keeping alive either Man or Woman; he alſo took the Flocks, Herds, Aſſes, Camels and Cloaths; then came back to Achiſh.

However ſome from Chap. xxix. 3. have taken Days for a Year; which Kimhi explains, that Achiſh meant he found David to be good in the Time he was there, as if it had been Years. But there is no Need for ſuch Interpretation, if we underſtand thoſe four Months and Days to be the Time that David dwelt in Ziklag, for then he might be Years with Achiſh in his City, which Achiſh might intend by the Diſtinction of Days and Years. Moreover the Country here being the ſame with the Country in Ver. 5. as diſtinguiſhed from the metropolitan City, may ſhew it pretty plainly. 12. And Achiſh believing David, ſaid, He makes himſelf quite odious among his People Iſrael, ſo he ſhall be my Servant for ever.

CHAP. XXVIII.

AND at that Time the Philiſtines gathered together their Camps for War, to fight with Iſrael; and Achiſh ſaid to David, Know fully, that thou ſhalt go out with me in the Army, and thy Men.

2. Whom David anſwered, Therefore thou ſhalt know what thy Servant can do. And Achiſh replied to him, I will therefore make thee the Keeper of my Head at all Times.

4. And the Philiſtines being gathered together, came and encamped in Shunem; Saul likewiſe gathered together all Iſrael, and they encamped in Gilboa.

5. But afraid at ſeeing the Camp of the Philiſtines, ſo that his Heart trembled exceedingly;

6. Saul enquired of the Lord; who did not anſwer him, either by Dreams, Urim or Prophets.

7. Then he ſaid to his Servants, Seek out for me a Woman who has a familiar Spirit, that I may go to her, and enquire of her. To whom they ſaid, Behold there is ſuch a one at En-dor.

8. With that Saul diſguiſed himſelf, putting on other Cloaths; ſo he went, attended with two Men, and they came to the Woman by Night: when he ſaid, Divine for me, I pray, by the familiar Spirit, and bring up to me him that I tell thee.

9. But ſhe anſwered him, Behold thou knoweſt what Saul has done, how he has cut off thoſe who had familiar Spirits, and the Sorcerers, out of the Country; why then doſt thou put a Snare for my Life, to cauſe me to die?

10. At this Saul ſwore to her by the Lord as follows, By the Lord's living, no Blame ſhall befal thee for this Matter.

11. So ſhe ſaid, Whom ſhall I bring up to thee? And he anſwered, Bring me up Samuel.

12. And when the Woman had ſeen Samuel, ſhe cried out aloud, ſpeaking thus to Saul, Why haſt thou deceived me? For thou art Saul.

13. But the King ſaid to her, Be not afraid; for what haſt thou ſeen? And ſhe anſwered Saul, I ſaw a god coming up out of the Earth.

14. He further aſked her, What is the Form of him? Who anſwered, An old Man coming up, and he is covered with a Cloak. And Saul knew that it was Samuel, and bowed the Face to the Ground, doing reverence.

15. When Samuel ſaid to him, Why haſt thou diſturbed me, by bringing me up? And Saul anſwered, I am exceedingly in Diſtreſs; for the Philiſtines make war with me, and God is departed from me, and will anſwer me no more, either by the Miniſtry of Prophets, or by Dreams: therefore I have called thee, to let me know what I ſhall do.

NOW the Philiſtines had gathered together all their Camps to Aphek, and the Iſraelites encamped at a Fountain which was in Jezreel.

2. And the Lords of the Philiſtines paſſed on with Hundreds, and Thouſands; but David and his Men marched among the hindermoſt with Achiſh.

3. Upon which the Princes of the Philiſtines ſaid, What are theſe Hebrews? And Achiſh anſwered them, Is not this David, the Servant of Saul King of Iſrael, who has been with me theſe Days, or theſe Years, and I have not found aught amiſs in him from the Day he deſerted to this Day?

4. They however were ſo enraged at him, that they ſaid to him; Make the Man return, and let him go back to his Place where thou haſt appointed him, and not go down with us to the Battle, that he may not become an Adverſary to us there: for with what will he make himſelf acceptable to his Maſter? Will it not be with the Heads of theſe Men?

5. Is not this David, of whom they ſpoke thus in Dances, Saul has beat his Thouſands, and David his ten Thouſands?

6. Then Achiſh called David, and ſaid to him; By the Lord's living, thou art upright, and I like thy going out and coming in with me in the Camp; for I have found no Ill in thee from the Day thou cameſt to me till this Day: nevertheleſs the Lords of the Philiſtines do not like thee.

7. Now therefore return, and go in Peace; that thou mayeſt not do what they diſlike.

8. Yet David ſaid to him, But what have I done? Or what haſt thou found in thy Servant, from the Day on which I was firſt before thee to this Day, that I muſt not come, and fight with the Enemies of my Lord the King.

9. And he made anſwer to David; I acknowledge that I like thee as an Angel of God; only the Princes of the Philiſtines have ſaid, He ſhall not go up with us to the Battle.

And this is properly enough related here, to have the Account of David, to which it belongs, lie all together; who thus alſo left the Philiſtine Army ſome Days before Saul went to the Witch, and was ſlain on the Morrow, Ver. 11. Chap. xxx. 1. 2 Sam. i. 1, 2. So that there is no Need to ſuppoſe with Uſher in his Annals, that Saul and his Sons were not ſlain the next Day after his being with the Witch, in Contradiction to Chap. xxviii. 19.

Ver. 5. of whom] Heb. who of him, which is the Hebrew Idiom frequent enough; but this the Engliſh Tranſlators it ſeems not underſtanding, have not only made לו of him to be one to another, but alſo added the like, Chap. xviii. 7. & xxi. 1. to have the Reading agreeable, where לו is not.

Ver. 6. By] Surely, if at beſt pretendedly taken from a Hebrew Word after the Lord liveth, diſcovers great Unſkilfulneſs in that Tongue, called the holy.

Ver. 8. was firſt] or began to be, according as ſome Hebrew Verbs ſometimes ſignify, and the Senſe here requires.

10. Therefore

10. Therefore now riſe early in the Morning, with the Servants of thy Lord who came along with thee; and as ſoon as you are ſo riſen, and have Light, go away.

11. Accordingly David roſe up early, with his Men, to go back in the Morning to the Country of the Philiſtines; and they went up to Jezreel.

CHAP. XXX.

BUT when David and his Men came to Ziklag, on the third Day, the Amalekites had fallen on the South, and on that, nay had ſmitten Ziklag, and burnt it with Fire.

2. They had alſo taken the Women priſoners who were therein, with the ſmall as well as great, not killing a Perſon; whom they had led off, and were gone on their Way.

3. So that upon their coming to the City, behold it was burnt with Fire, and their Wives, Sons and Daughters, were taken priſoners;

4. At which David and the People who were with him burſt out a crying, till there was no Strength in them to cry.

5. David's two Wives were likewiſe taken priſoners, Ahinoam the Jezreeliteſs, and Abigail who had been the Wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

6. And he was diſtreſſed exceedingly, for the People talked of ſtoning him, becauſe the Souls of them all were grieved for their ſeveral Sons and Daughters; but David ſtrengthened himſelf through the Lord his God.

7. He moreover ſaid to Abiathar the Prieſt, the Son of Ahimelech, Bring nigh to me, I pray, the Ephod; which he did accordingly.

8. When David aſked thus of the Lord, Shall I purſue after this Troop? Can I overtake it? Who anſwered him, Purſue, for thou ſhalt throughly overtake, and wholly reſcue.

9. So he went, accompanied with the ſix hundred Men, and came to the Brook Beſor; where thoſe who were left ſtaid.

10. But David himſelf purſued with four hundred Men; two hundred ſtaying, who were too faint to paſs over the Brook Beſor.

11. And ſome met with an Egyptian Man in the Field, whom they fetched to David; and gave him Bread, that he might eat, and made him drink Water.

12. Beſides they gave him Part of a Bunch of Figs, and two Cluſters of Raiſins; ſo that when he had eat, his Spirit returned to him; for he had neither eat Bread, nor drunk Water, three Days and three Nights.

13. Next David ſaid to him, To whom doſt thou belong? And from whence art thou? Who anſwered; I am an Egyptian Youth, a Servant to an Amalekite Man; and my Maſter left me, becauſe I was ſick three Days ago.

14. We fell on the South of the Cherethites, and upon that which belongs to Judah, as likewiſe upon the South of Caleb; and Ziklag we burnt with Fire.

15. Whereupon David ſaid to him, Wilt thou bring me down to this Troop? And he replied, Swear to me by God, that thou wilt neither kill me, nor deliver me up into the Power of my Maſter, and I will bring thee down to them.

16. Accordingly he did, and behold they were ſpread abroad all over the Country; eating, drinking and feaſting, for all the great Spoil which they had taken out of the Country of the Philiſtines, and that of Judah.

17. And David ſmote them from the Twilight, even to the Evening of their next Day: and there was not a Man of them eſcaped, excepting four hundred young Men who rode upon Camels, and fled away.

18. Thus David reſcued all that the Amalekites had taken, as he did alſo his two Wives:

19. Inſomuch that there was not lacking to them either ſmall or great, whether Sons, Daughters, Spoil, or any Thing that they

Ver. 2. with the ſmall as well as great] By removing this from the Order it ſtands in the Original, and putting a Semicolon contrary to the Hebrew Pointing, King James's Tranſlators have made this belong to the ſlaying, which belongs to the taking captive, which ſhews how little they regarded the Hebrew Accents; and inſtead of making the Tranſlation better, made it worſe than the Geneva one, that they were to mend, which has, 'And had taken the Women that were therein Priſoners, both ſmall and great, and ſlew not a Man.' Beſides they changed ſmall and great manifeſtly without any Reaſon, but after their careleſs Manner.

Ver. 6. through] See Pſa. iii. 2.

Ver. 7. hither and thither may be looked on as Flouriſhes of the King's Tranſlators, but brought thither is not very elegant.

Ver. 12. of Raiſins] This is put by our Tranſlators in another Character, to ſhew that they added it, and yet the Hebrew is the ſame as in Chap. xxv. 18. where they make no diſtinction.

Ver. 16. all over the Country] at their Places of Rendezvous. However Country may be wide enough, without being earth.

had taken to themſelves: David brought back all.

20. He likewiſe took all their Flocks and Herds which ſome drove before the other Cattle, and ſaid, This is David's Spoil.

21. Then he went to the two hundred Men, who were too faint to go after him, whom they made abide at the Brook Beſor; and they came out to meet both David, and the People who were with him: and thoſe he coming nigh to, aſked them of their Welfare.

22. However all the bad and ungodly Perſons, of them who went with him, made anſwer, Becauſe they did not go with us, we will not give them any of the Spoil that we have retaken; excepting their reſpective Wives and Children, whom they may take away, and go.

23. But David ſaid; You muſt not do ſo, my Brethren; it is what the Lord has given us, who preſerved us, and gave up the Troop that came againſt us into our Power.

24. Nay who will hearken to you in this Matter? For as the Part of him who goes down to the Battle, ſo alſo is his who abides at the Things, they ſhare alike.

25. Which was from that Day upward; for he made it an Ordinance, and a Cuſtom for Iſrael, to this Day.

26. And after David was come to Ziklag, he ſent ſome of the Spoil to the Elders of Judah his Friends, ſaying, Behold a Bleſſing for you, of the Spoil of the Lord's Enemies;

27. To thoſe who were at Beth-el, and to thoſe who were at South-Ramoth, and to thoſe who were at Jattir,

28. And to thoſe who were at Aroer, and to thoſe who were at Siphmoth, and to thoſe who were at Eſhtemoa,

29. And to thoſe who were at Rachal, and to thoſe who were at the Cities of the Jerahmeelites, and to thoſe who were at them of the Kenites,

30. And to thoſe who were at Hormah, and to thoſe who were at Chor-aſhan, and to thoſe who were at Athach,

31. And to thoſe who were at Hebron, and to all the Places whither David himſelf and his Men went about.

CHAP. XXXI.

AND the Philiſtines fighting againſt Iſrael, the Men of Iſrael fled from their Preſence, and fell down ſlain on Mount Gilboa.

2. Nay the Philiſtines followed Saul and his Sons ſo cloſe, that they killed of the latter Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malchi-ſhua.

3. Whereby the Battle was heavy againſt Saul; beſides the Men who ſhot with Bows finding him, he was exceedingly afraid of the Archers.

4. Therefore he ſaid to him who carried his Arms, Draw forth thy Sword, and thruſt me through with it, leſt theſe uncircumciſed ones ſhould come, and thruſt me through, and make ſport with me. But he would not, becauſe he feared exceedingly; ſo Saul took a Sword, and fell upon it.

5. And when the other ſaw that Saul was dead, he fell alſo upon his Sword, and died with him.

6. Thus died Saul, and three of his Sons, with him who carried his Arms, as likewiſe all his Men that Day together.

7. And the Men of Iſrael who were at the Side of the Vale, with them at the Side of Jordan, ſeeing that thoſe before mentioned were fled, and that Saul and his Sons were dead, forſook the Cities, and ran away; upon which the Philiſtines came, and dwelt in them.

Thus the Univerſal Hiſtory obſerves, 'that in this Place and 'Chronicles the Root of the Verb is חול (as I may add, Montan. puts it in both Places, and Buxt. in Concord.) 'which ſignifies to be in dread, in pangs, &c. and not 'חלל to wound. NOTES

NOTES upon the SECOND BOOK of SAMUEL.

CHAP. I.

NOW after the Death of Saul, when David was returned from ſmiting the Amalekites, he abode in Ziklag two Days.

2. And on the third Day there was a Man came from Saul at the Camp, with his Cloaths torn, and Earth upon his Head; who when he was come to David, fell to the Ground, and reverenced.

3. To whom David ſaid, Where doſt thou come from? And he anſwered him, From the Camp of Iſrael am I eſcaped.

4. And David replied to him; How was the Matter? Tell me, I pray. And he related, that the People fled from the Battle, and alſo many of them fell, and died; and likewiſe Saul and Jonathan his Son were dead.

5. Then David aſked the young Man his Intelligencer, How doſt thou know, that Saul and Jonathan his Son are dead?

6. Who ſaid; I happened accidentally to be on Mount Gilboa, and behold Saul was leaning upon his Spear; and lo the Chariots, and chief of the Horſemen followed him cloſe.

7. When looking behind him, and ſeeing me, he called to me; and I ſaid, Here am I.

8. And he replied to me, Who art thou? I anſwered him again, I am an Amalekite.

9. Whereupon he ſaid to me, Stand upon me, I pray, and put me to death, becauſe the chequered Cloak holds me; for my Life is yet whole in me.

10. So I ſtood upon him, and put him to death; for I knew that he could not live after he was fallen; then I took the Crown which was on his Head, and the Bracelet that was on his Arm, and have brought them hither to my Lord.

11. At which David took hold on his own Cloaths, and tore them; and likewiſe all the Men who were with him.

12. Moreover they made lamentation, wept, and faſted till the Evening; for Saul, and Jonathan his Son, with the People of the Lord, even the Family of Iſrael, becauſe they were fallen by the Sword.

13. David ſaid further to the young Man his Informant, From whence art thou? who anſwered, I am the Son of a ſtrange Man, an Amalekite.

14. And David replied to him, How didſt not thou fear to put forth thy Hand, to deſtroy the anointed one of the Lord?

15. He alſo called to one of the young Men, and ſaid, Go nigh, fall on him; and he ſmote him, ſo that he died.

16. For David ſaid to him, Thy Blood is chargeable on thy own Head; becauſe thy Mouth has teſtified againſt thee, by ſaying, I put to death the anointed one of the Lord.

17. Afterwards David lamented with this Lamentation, for Saul and Jonathan his Son:

18. (This he ſpoke to teach the Sons of Judah concerning the Bow; which behold is written in the Book of the Upright;)

19. O Beauty of Iſrael thruſt through on thy high Places! how are the Powerful fallen!

20. Do not divulge it in Gath, nor declare it in the Streets of Aſhkelon; leſt the Daughters of the Philiſtines ſhould rejoice, leſt the Daughters of the uncircumciſed ones ſhould triumph.

21. O Mountains of Gilboa, let there be no Dew, nor Rain upon you, or Fields of Offerings: for there the Shield of the Powerful was deſpiſed, the Shield of Saul as of one not anointed with Oil.

Ver. 8. an Amalekite] As Saul highly offended God for not executing his Vengeance on the Amalekites, 1 Sam. xv. we find him now ſlain by one, and David upon performing it to the utmoſt of his Power, 1 Sam. xxx. 17. advanced to the Throne. So juſt and equal are the Ways of Providence!

Ver. 9. chequered Cloak] In the Engliſh Marg. coat of mail; and ſo Lightfoot, my Coat of Maile hath withheld me: anguiſh may be from the old Lat. anguſtiæ, but is quite foreign to the Hebrew.

22. From

22. From the Blood of the Pierced, from the Fat of the Powerful, the Bow of Jonathan turned not back, nor the Sword of Saul returned ſucceſsleſs.

23. Saul and Jonathan were lovely and delightful in their Lives, and in their Death were not divided: they were ſwifter than Eagles, they were ſtronger than Lions.

24. O Daughters of Iſrael, weep ſorely for Saul, who cloathed you in Scarlet, with fine Dreſſes, who put Ornaments of Gold upon your Garments.

25. How are the Powerful fallen within the Battle! Thou Jonathan thruſt through on thy high Places!

26. I am troubled for thee, my Brother Jonathan; thou waſt very pleaſant to me: thy Love was more tranſporting to me than is the very Love of Women.

27. How are the Powerful fallen, and the Weapons of War periſhed!

CHAP. II.

AND after this, David enquired thus of the Lord, Shall I go up into one of the Cities of Judah? Who ſaid to him, Do. Whither, ſaid David, ſhall I go up? And he anſwered, To Hebron.

2. Accordingly David went up thither, and likewiſe his two Wives, Ahinoam the Jezreeliteſs, and Abigail who had been the Wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

3. His Men alſo who were with him he had up, with their reſpective Families; and they dwelt in the Cities of Hebron.

4. Then the Men of Judah came, and there they anointed David to be King over the Family of Judah; and they told him, that the Men of Jabeſh-gilead were thoſe who buried Saul.

5. Upon this he ſent Meſſengers to them, and ſaid to them; The Lord bleſs you, who have done this Kindneſs to your Maſter Saul, and have buried him.

6. And now the Lord ſhew Kindneſs and Truth to you; and I alſo will do you ſuch Good as you have done in this Matter.

7. Now therefore ſtrengthen your Hands, and be valiant Perſons, for your Maſter Saul is dead; and alſo the Family of Judah have anointed me to be King over them.

8. But Abner the Son of Ner, the Captain of the Army that belonged to Saul, took Iſh-boſheth Saul's Son, and carrying him over to Mahanaim;

9. Made him King of Gilead, the Aſhurites and Jezreel, over Ephraim, Benjamin and all Iſrael.

10. This Iſh-boſheth was in his fortieth Year, when he began reigning over Iſrael, and he reigned two Years; only the Family of Judah was after David.

11. And the Number of Days which David was King at Hebron, over them, was ſeven Years and ſix Months.

12. Next Abner the Son of Ner went forth, and the Servants of Iſh-boſheth the Son of Saul, from Mahanaim to Gibeon.

13. Joab too the Son of Zeruiah, and the Servants of David went forth, and they met together by the Fiſh-pond of Gibeon; when they ſate, theſe by the Fiſh-pond on one Side, and thoſe by it on the other.

14. And Abner ſaid to Joab, Let ſome young Men now get up, and play before us; to which Joab ſaid, Let them.

15. So they got up, and paſſed over, in Number twelve belonging to Benjamin, and Iſh-boſheth the Son of Saul, and ſo many of David's Servants.

16. And they caught hold one of another by the Head, with their Swords in one another's Sides, and fell down together; therefore that Place was called The Part of Edges, which is at Gibeon.

17. Afterwards there was an exceeding hard Battle that Day; but Abner was beat, with the Men of Iſrael, before the Servants of David.

18. The three Sons of Zeruiah being there, Joab, Abiſhai and Aſahel; and the latter was light of his Feet like one of the wild Roes.

19. And he purſued after Abner, without turning aſide, to go to the right Hand or left from following him.

20. Therefore Abner looking behind him, aſked, Art thou Aſahel? Who anſwered, I am.

21. Then he ſaid to him, Turn thy ſelf

22. With that Abner ſaid yet again to him, Get thee away from following me; Why ſhould I ſmite thee to the Ground? For how ſhould I lift up my Face to Joab thy Brother?

23. However he refuſed to depart; therefore Abner with the hinder Part of the Spear ſtabbed him at the ſhort Ribs, ſo that it came out behind him, and he fell down there, and died in that Place: where every one, who came thither, ſtood ſtill.

24. Now as Joab and Abiſhai were purſuing after Abner, the Sun ſet, when they came to the Hill of Ammah, which is before Giah, at the Way to the Wilderneſs of Gibeon.

25. But the Benjaminites gathered themſelves together after Abner, and becoming one Troop, ſtood upon the Top of a Hill.

26. When Abner called to Joab, and ſaid, Shall the Sword conſume for ever? Doſt not thou know that there will be Bitterneſs at laſt? How long then wilt thou not bid the People return from following their Brethren?

27. And Joab anſwered, By God's living, unleſs thou hadſt ſpoken, the People would then have gone up at the Morning from following their reſpective Brethren.

28. So Joab blew a Trumpet, and all the People ſtood ſtill, and purſued no more after Iſrael; nor did they fight again any more.

29. And Abner with his Men walked through the Plain all that Night; and paſſing over Jordan, went through all Bithron, and came to Mahanaim.

30. Joab likewiſe returned from after him, and gathered all the People together; and there were wanting of David's Servants nineteen Men, beſides Aſahel.

31. Whereas they ſmote of Benjamin, and Abner's Men, three hundred and ſixty who died.

32. Moreover they took up Aſahel, and buried him in his Father's Grave, which was at Beth-lehem; and Joab with his Men going all Night, it became light to them at Hebron.

CHAP. III.

BESIDES there was a long War between the Family of Saul and that of David; but David went on in being ſtrong, and the Family of Saul went on decaying.

2. And there were Sons born to David in Hebron: his Firſt-born being Amnon, of Ahinoam the Jezreeliteſs;

3. His ſecond Chileab, of Abigail who had been the Wife of Nabal the Carmelite; the third Abſalom, the Son of Maachah, the Daughter of Talmai King of Geſhur;

4. The fourth Adonijah, the Son of Haggith; the fifth Shephatiah, the Son of Abital;

5. And the ſixth Ithream, of Eglah his Wife: theſe were born to him there.

6. Now while there was War between thoſe two Families, Abner ſtrengthened himſelf for that of Saul.

7. But he had a Concubine, whoſe Name was Rizpah, the Daughter of Aijah; and it was ſaid to Abner, Why didſt thou go in to my Father's Concubine?

8. Exceedingly incenſed at theſe Words of Iſh-boſheth, he ſaid; Am I a Dog's Head, who againſt Judah to Day do Kind-

Ver. 23. hinder Part] What, and how, was that? The Aſſembly in their Annotations ſay, With the Pike of his Spear in the lower End, for their Spears were double pointed. Which was a notable Way to be ſtabbed with their own Spears, by the Enemies catching hold of the other Part, and dangerous otherwiſe: but ſuppoſing them wiſer, I ſhall impoſe my own Conceit, that Abner not attempting to turn againſt Aſahel, by which Stay he might have had more upon him; Aſahel ſhewed him in looking back, that he intended not to kill, but ſeize him, perhaps as a Trophy of Victory according to Ver. 21. which Abner might alſo know by his Threats; that thereupon when he came near, Abner thruſt his Spear backward unexpectedly into him; and that might be the hinder Part, as carried ſo in Flight, if not hanging like a Sword.

Ib. ſhort Ribs] So the five lowermoſt are called; the Hebrew Ordinals and Numerals being alſo often indiſtinct, and thus it may be either fifth or five. Now is it not too ſtrange, that Abner here, Joab Chap. iii. 27. and again Chap. xx. 10. with Rechab and Baanah, Ch. iv. 6. ſhould puſh juſt at the fifth Rib, as the Hebrew Prepoſition likewiſe is not under?

Ib. would then] See on Gen. xxxi. 42.

Ib. at the Morning] that followed, and therefore not before, and they might perhaps have purſued in the Night by Moon-light; for which but may be underſtood before this, and might be inſerted, as in Ruth i. 17. &c. though I am not ignorant that Commentators take it for the Morning before, and that by Abner's ſpeaking was meant that in Ver. 14. but cannot force my ſelf to believe it: for it appears that Joab and his Men, if not the other, came from Home that Morning, and probably did not arrive at the Place of Battle before Noon, Ver. 13, 32. however they were not following Abner's Men, before he ſpoke that in Ver. 14. and ſo could not have gone up from doing it.

Ver. 1. the Family of Saul and that of David] The Vulg. tranſpoſes Saul and David, to put them in the Order that follows I ſuppoſe.

Ver. 7. it was ſaid] No Places throughout the Scripture, I ſuppoſe, may want ſuch Additions in tranſlating more than this and Chap. v. 8. as here is Saul of the ſame Number and Gender before; and yet both may well enough be done without.

neſs to the Family of Saul thy Father, to his Brethren and Friends, and have not let thee be found in the Power of David, that thou layeſt upon me a Crime concerning this Woman to Day?

9. By God's doing ſo for Abner, and ſo beſides for him, as the Lord has ſworn to David, ſo for him will I do;

10. By making the Kingdom paſs from the Family of Saul, and by confirming the Throne of David over Iſrael and Judah, from Dan even to Beer-ſheba.

11. And he could not return Abner a Word again, becauſe he feared him.

12. Accordingly Abner ſent Meſſengers to David, repreſenting himſelf, to ſay, Whoſe is the Country? Adding, Make thy Treaty with me, and behold my Power ſhall be with thee, to turn about all Iſrael to thee.

13. Who anſwered, Well, I will make a Treaty with thee; only I require one Thing of thee, that is, thou ſhalt not ſee my Face, except before thou comeſt to do it, thou haſt made Michal the Daughter of Saul be brought.

14. David likewiſe ſent Meſſengers to Iſh-boſheth the Son of Saul, to ſay, Deliver up my Wife Michal, whom I eſpouſed to me with a hundred Foreſkins of the Philiſtines.

15. So Iſh-boſheth ſent, and took her from the Huſband, Phaltiel the Son of Laiſh.

16. And her Huſband went with her, going on weeping after her to Bahurim; when Abner ſaid to him, Go back; and he did.

17. The Speech of Abner too had been with the Elders of Iſrael as follows; You have heretofore been ſeeking for David to be King over you.

18. Now therefore accompliſh it: ſince the Lord has ſpoken thus of him, By the Power of my Servant David will I ſave my People Iſrael from that of the Philiſtines, and of all their Enemies.

19. And Abner having likewiſe ſpoken in the Hearing of the Benjaminites, went alſo to ſpeak in that of David at Hebron, all which Iſrael liked, as did the whole Family of Benjamin.

20. To whom he coming thither, accompanied with twenty Men; David made for Abner, and the Men who were with him, an Entertainment.

21. When Abner ſaid to him, I will get ready, and go, and gather together all Iſrael to my Lord the King, that they may make a Treaty with thee, and thou mayeſt reign over all that thy Soul deſires. Upon this David ſent Abner away, and he went in Peace.

22. After which lo David's Servants and Joab came from a Troop, and brought much Spoil with them; Abner being then not with David at Hebron.

23. And when Joab and all the Army that was with him were come, they told him, that Abner the Son of Ner came to the King, who ſent him away, and he went in Peace.

24. Therefore Joab went to the King, and ſaid; What haſt thou done? Behold Abner coming to thee, why didſt thou ſend him away, that he might go freely?

25. Thou mighteſt have known that Abner the Son of Ner came to ſeduce thee; as alſo to know thy going out and coming in, and even all that thou doeſt.

26. Joab then going out from David, ſent Meſſengers after Abner, who brought him back from the Well of Sirah; but David did not know it.

27. Upon Abner's returning to Hebron, Joab took him aſide to the midſt of the Gate, to ſpeak with him quietly; and ſtabbed him there in the ſhort Ribs, ſo that he died, for the Blood of Aſahel his Brother.

28. But David hearing of it afterwards, ſaid; I and my Kingdom ſhall be quit by the Lord for ever, from the Blood of Abner the Son of Ner.

29. Let it remain upon the Head of Joab, and on all his Father's Family; and let there not fail from his Family one who has a Flux, or is leprous, or holds by a Staff, or falls by the Sword, or wants Bread.

30. Thus Joab and his Brother Abiſhai ſlew Abner, becauſe he killed their Brother Aſahel at Gibeon in the Battle.

31. King David further ſaid to Joab and all the People who were with him, Tear your Cloaths, gird on Sackcloth, and make lamentation before Abner; he alſo walked after the Coffin.

32. And they buried him at Hebron; and the King burſt out a crying at Abner's Grave, all the People likewiſe cried.

33. Nay the King lamenting for him, ſaid, Did Abner die as a vile one does?

34. Thy Hands were not bound, nor thy Feet put into Chains; as one falls before the Sons of Iniquity, thou felleſt. At which all the People wept again for him.

35. Afterwards they came to make David eat Bread while it was Day, but he ſwore thus, By God's doing to me ſo and ſo beſides, I will not taſte Bread or any Thing, before the Sun ſets.

36. Which all the People knowing, liked it; as all that the King did, they liked.

37. For all the People, and all Iſrael, knew the ſame Time, that it was not of him to kill Abner the Son of Ner.

38. He moreover ſaid to his Servants; Do not you know, that there is a Prince and a great one fallen this Day in Iſrael?

39. And I am tender to Day, though anointed King; for theſe Men the Sons of Zeruiah are too hard for me: the Lord will recompenſe him who has done the Evil, according to his Evil.

CHAP. IV.

AND when Saul's Son heard that Abner was dead at Hebron, his Hands were ſlack; and all Iſrael were troubled.

2. Now he had two Men, Captains of Troops, the Name of one was Baanah, and that of the other Rechab, the Sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, of the Benjaminites, for Beeroth alſo was counted to Benjamin.

3. But the Beerothites fled to Gittaim, where they are Sojourners to this Day.

4. The Son too that Jonathan the Son of Saul had was crippled in the Feet; being in his fifth Year when the News came of Saul and Jonathan from Jezreel, whom his Nurſe took up, and fled; and in her making haſte to flee away, he fell down, and was lame, whoſe Name was Mephiboſheth.

5. And the Sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, Rechab and Baanah, went, and got about the Heat of the Day to the Houſe of Iſh-boſheth, who was lying on a Bed at Noon.

6. Whither they coming into the midſt of the Houſe, as if to fetch Wheat, ſtabbed him at the ſhort Ribs; and both the Brothers eſcaped.

7. Thus they entered the Houſe, when he lay upon his Bed in his Bed-chamber, and ſmote him, ſo that they killed him, and took off his Head; which taking away, they went the Way of the Plain all Night.

8. And they brought the Head of Iſh-boſheth to David at Hebron, and ſaid to the King, Here is the Head of Iſh-boſheth the Son of Saul, thy Enemy, who ſought thy Life; and the Lord has given my Lord the King Vengeance this Day, on Saul and his Offſpring.

9. Whereas David made anſwer to thoſe Sons of Rimmon the Beerothite; By the Lord's living, who has redeemed my Soul out of all Diſtreſs;

10. One told me thus, Behold Saul is dead; who was a Bringer of good News in his own Regard, yet I took hold of him, and killed him at Ziklag; which I gave him for the News:

11. Much more when wicked Men have murdered an innocent Perſon, in his own Houſe upon his Bed; ſhall I not now require his Blood of you, and take you away from the Earth?

12. Accordingly David commanded the young Men, who killed them, cut off their Hands and Feet, and hanged them up over the Fiſh-pond at Hebron; the Head of Iſh-boſheth they alſo took, and buried in Abner's Grave at Hebron.

But the Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text imagines this was originally as in Chron. the ה being corrupted into ע p. 19. printed 1753; yet provides us with an Anſwer himſelf, that the two ſacred Hiſtorians did not always expreſs the ſame Senſe in the very ſame Words, p. 24.

2. Even

2. Even in time paſt, when Saul was King over us, thou waſt he who didſt bring Iſrael out and in; nay the Lord ſaid to thee, Thou ſhalt feed my People Iſrael, and thou ſhalt become Ruler over Iſrael.

3. And when all the Elders of Iſrael were come thither to King David, he made a Treaty with them there before the Lord; and they anointed him to be King over Iſrael.

4. David was in his thirtieth Year when he began to reign, reigning forty Years.

5. At Hebron he reigned over Judah ſeven Years and ſix Months; as he did at Jeruſalem thirty and three Years, over all Iſrael and Judah.

6. And the King went with his Men to Jeruſalem, to the Jebuſites the Inhabitants of the Country; who ſaid thus to David, Thou canſt not come in hither, unleſs thou takeſt away the Blind and Lame; meaning he could not go in thither.

7. Nevertheleſs David took the Fortification of Zion, which is the City of David.

8. For he ſaid that Day, Let any one beat the Jebuſites, and get to the Conduit, and the Lame and Blind that are hated by David's Soul. Therefore they ſay, He that is blind and lame cannot get into the Houſe.

9. Afterwards David dwelt in the Fortification, and called it The City of David; and he built round about from the Fortreſs inward.

10. And he went on ſtill in being great, the Lord God of Armies being with him.

11. Moreover Hiram King of Tyre ſent Meſſengers to David, with Cedar-trees, Carpenters and Maſons; who built him a Houſe.

12. Now he knew that the Lord had eſtabliſhed him to be King over Iſrael, and that he had raiſed up his Kingdom for the ſake of this his People.

13. Beſides he took more Concubines

Ver. 2. didſt have Iſrael out and in] Here, ſays the Author of the preſent State of the printed Heb. Text, are two evident Corruptions, one the radical ה is dropt; but ſo it is in the ſame Participle, 1 Kings xxi. 21. Jer. xix. 15. & xxxix. 16. and in the Verb beſides, and was therefore likely done by the firſt Penmen: the other indeed may be more objected, but is inſignificant.

Ver. 6. Blind] I underſtand what is ſaid of the Blind and Lame thus; that the Lord's People calling the Idols ſo, as Iſa. xliii. 8. becauſe they could not ſee nor walk, thoſe Jebuſites told David in a vaunting retorting Way, he could not come in thither, unleſs he took them away; the Heathens counting their Idols the Safeguard of their Cities, and theſe were probably placed at the Gate for that Purpoſe, where the Conduit was. When the Iſraelites had beat the Inhabitants, and were got into the City, the latter, I ſuppoſe, fled into their Houſes, which the Idols could not do, ſo were taken; from whence aroſe the following Proverb in Deriſion to ſuch gods, ſignifying that Nobody can do what he is not capable of. Divers noted Commentators would have it that the Jebuſites meant their blind and lame People could defend the City; but as they muſt have been too few for ſuch a Pretence, this does not agree with unleſs thou takeſt away, which would have been rather beateſt, nor with that are hated of David's Soul; ſee Stackhouſe's Hiſt. Bibl. L. v. 4. However ſince Bedford in his late Scripture Chronology, printed in folio, B. v. Ch. 4. 39. renders ſome Part of it in Favour of this latter Opinion, I am willing to ſet it in a clear Light. כי אם הסירך העורים ופסחים which I have, unleſs thou takeſt away the Blind and Lame; he turns, for the blind and the lame will drive thee away! in which tranſlating he has entirely left out אם which with כי is a diſcretive or exceptive Conjunction, but, unleſs, &c. making the Senſe, but thou muſt take away, or unleſs thou takeſt away, as Lev. xxi. 2. Mic. vi. 8. Gen. xlvii. 18. He adds, "which well agrees with the "Rule in Erpenius's Arabick Grammar, Lib. v. Cap. 1. "Plurali humano eleganter quoque præponi verbum ſingulare." To what purpoſe would that be if it does, ſince it ſhould agree with the Hebrew? But certainly it does not agree with that Rule, the Hebrew Verb here being infinitive, as following כי אם and as it is put both in Montanus's Verſion and Pagninus's Theſaurus; whereas it is the finite Verb Erpenius ſpeaks of, whoſe next Words are, eodem fere genere in Præterito, ſed non raro diſcrepante in Futuro; as it would have been abſurd to ſay the former Part of an infinite Verb. Conſequently thoſe Things do not agree at all. And it may be taken for a general Rule concerning a Pronoun put to an infinite Verb behind it; that if there is another Verb before governing that Verb, the affixed Pronoun is the Object or Accuſative; but if there is no ſuch other Verb (which is the Caſe here) the Affix is the Subject or Nominative Caſe. So with this very Verb, and in the ſame Conjugation, Joſh. vii. 13. until you take away the accurſed thing; not, until the accurſed thing takes away you. Beſides the Verb is to remove or take away, not drive away. Bedford tranſlates again, "Whoever goes firſt, and "ſmites the Jebuſites, and throws down into the ditch, "that was under the wall, the blind and the lame." Here too the Verb does not ſignify to throw down; however in this Conjugation Kal; nor the Prefix into after this Verb, to the Conſtruction of which it belongs, and is not to be underſtood as alone. Once more our Author tranſlates, that the Blind and Lame ſay of David, He ſhall not come into our Houſe. But how oddly does this accord with על־כן therefore or wherefore? and cannot mean becauſe, as it is in the Margin of the Engliſh Bible. If the Blind and Lame had alſo ſaid this, the Hiſtorian who afterwards told that they ſaid ſo, muſt needs have uſed the preterite Tenſe; whereas he has put it in the future Tenſe, which is here uſed for the preſent, as the Senſe ſhews (the Hebrew being without the preſent Tenſe) they ſay, not they ſaid. A parallel Inſtance in Num. xxi. 27. begins with the ſame Words. The Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text here may ſo eaſily be anſwered, that I leave it as needleſs.

15. Ibhar, Eliſhua, Nepheg, Japhia,

16. Eliſhama, Eliada and Eliphelet.

17. But when the Philiſtines heard that they had anointed David to be King over Iſrael, they all came up to ſeek for him; which he hearing of, went down to the Fortification.

18. And the Philiſtines came, and ſpread abroad in the Giants Vale.

19. David then enquired thus of the Lord, Shall I go up againſt the Philiſtines? Wilt thou deliver them into my Power? And the Lord ſaid to David, Go up, for I will wholly deliver them into thy Power.

20. So David went to Baal-perazim, where he beat them, and ſaid, The Lord has broke my Enemies before me, like the breaking out of Waters; therefore he called the Name of that Place Baal-perazim.

21. They alſo left their Images there, which David and his Men took away.

22. However the Philiſtines came up yet again, and ſpread abroad in the Giants Vale.

23. Whereupon David enquired of the Lord, who ſaid; Thou ſhalt not go up: turn about behind them, and come to them over againſt the Mulberry-trees.

24. And when thou heareſt the Sound of going on the Tops of the Mulberry-trees, then ſhalt thou ſtir: for then the Lord goes out before thee, to ſmite the Camp of the Philiſtines.

25. Therefore he did juſt as the Lord commanded him; and ſmote them from Geba till one comes to Gezer.

CHAP. VI.

AND David again gathered up all the choſen Men in Iſrael, thirty thouſand.

2. Then he got ready, and all the People who were with him, and came from Baalim of Judah, to bring up from thence the Ark of God, the Name of which is called by that of the Lord of Armies, who inhabits the Cherubs.

3. And they carried it on a new Cart, that they might take it from the Houſe of Abinadab, which was at Gibeah; Uzza and Ahio his Sons guiding the Cart.

4. Thus they who were with the Ark of God, took it from thence; and Ahio went before it.

5. Moreover David and all the Family of Iſrael played before the Lord on all Inſtruments of Fir-wood, namely on Harps, Lutes, Timbrels, Cornets and Cymbals.

6. But when they came to the Floor of Nachon, Uzzah reached out to the Ark of God, and took hold of it, becauſe the Oxen ſhook it.

7. At this the Lord was angry with him, and God ſmote him there for the Error; ſo that he died there by the Ark of God.

Lord

Lord made a Breach on Uzza: thus that Place is called The Breach of Uzza to this Day.

9. Nay David was afraid of the Lord that Day, and ſaid, How ſhall the Ark of the Lord come to me?

10. So that he would not take it away to himſelf into the City of David, but had it aſide to the Houſe of Obed-edom the Gittite:

11. Where it abode three Months; and the Lord bleſſed Obed-edom, with all his Family.

12. But it being told King David, that the Lord had bleſſed the Family of Obed-edom, and all which he had, by reaſon of the Ark of God; he went, and brought it up from his Houſe, to the City of David with Gladneſs.

13. And when they who carried it were gone on ſix Paces, he ſacrificed Oxen and fat Cattle.

14. Beſides David danced with all his Might before the Lord, being girded with a linen Ephod.

15. Thus he, and the whole Family of Iſrael, brought up the Ark of the Lord with ſhouting, and the Sound of the Cornet.

16. However as it came into the City of David, Michal Saul's Daughter looked out at a Window, and ſeeing King David leaping and dancing before the Lord, ſhe deſpiſed him in her Heart.

17. So they brought the Ark of the Lord, and ſet it in its Place, within the Tabernacle which David had pitched for it; and he offered up Burnt-offerings before the Lord, and Peace-offerings.

18. And when David had made an end of offering them up, he bleſſed the People in the Name of the Lord of Armies;

19. Diſtributing to every one of the Multitude of Iſrael, both Men and Women, one Cake of Bread, one Piece of Fleſh, and one Bottle of Wine: then all the People went to their reſpective Homes.

20. David too returned to bleſs his Family; when Michal above mentioned came out to meet him, and ſaid, How honourable to Day was the King of Iſrael, who was uncovered to Day in the Sight of the Handmaids of his Servants, as one of the vain ones is wholly uncovered!

21. But he anſwered her; It was before the Lord, who has choſen me above thy Father, and above all his Houſhold, to appoint me Ruler over his People Iſrael: therefore I will play before the Lord.

22. And I will yet be more baſe than this, and will be lowly in my own Sight; and with the very Handmaids, whom thou mentioneſt, I ſhall be honourable.

23. Therefore ſhe had no Child, to the Day of her Death.

CHAP. VII.

AND when the King was ſettled in his Houſe, and the Lord had given him reſt round about from all his Enemies;

2. He ſaid to Nathan the Prophet, See now I dwell in a Houſe of Cedar, while the Ark of God abides within a Curtain.

3. And Nathan anſwered him, Go, do all that is in thy Heart; for the Lord is with thee.

4. However that Night he had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

5. Go, and tell my Servant David; Thus ſays the Lord, Wouldeſt thou build me a Houſe to dwell in?

6. Since I have not dwelt in a Houſe, from the Day that I brought up the Iſraelites from Egypt, even to this Day, but have gone about in a Tent and a Tabernacle.

7. Whitherſoever I went about with all the Iſraelites, did I ſpeak ſuch a Word to one of the Magiſtrates of Iſrael, whom I commanded to feed that People of mine, as, Why do ye not build me a Houſe of Cedar?

8. Now therefore thou ſhalt declare ſo to my Servant David; Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, I took thee from the Fold, from after the Flock, to be Ruler over my People Iſrael.

9. And I have been with thee whitherſoever thou wenteſt, and have cut off all thy Enemies from thy Preſence; that I might make thee a great Name, like that of the great Men who are on the Earth.

10. Moreover

10. Moreover I will appoint a Place for my People Iſrael, and plant them, ſo that they ſhall dwell in a Place of their own, and not be moved again; nor ſhall the Sons of Iniquity afflict them any more as formerly;

11. And even from the Time that I ordered there ſhould be Judges over my People Iſrael, till I gave thee reſt from all thy Enemies: the Lord alſo tells thee, that he will make thee a Family.

12. When thy Days are fulfilled, and thou lieſt down with thy Fathers, I will ſet up thy Offspring after thee, who will proceed forth from thy ſelf; and will confirm his Kingdom.

13. He ſhall build a Houſe to my Name, and I will confirm the Throne of his Kingdom for ever.

14. I will be to him a Father, as he ſhall to me a Son; whom, when he commits Iniquity, I will rebuke with the Rod of Men, and with the Stripes of Mankind.

15. But my Kindneſs ſhall not be taken away from him; as I took it from Saul, whom I put away from before thee.

16. For thy Family and Kingdom ſhall be ſure for ever before thee, thy Throne ſhall be confirmed for evermore.

17. According to all theſe Words, and this whole Viſion, ſo ſpoke Nathan to him.

18. Then King David went in, and ſitting before the Lord, ſaid: Who am I, O Sovereign Lord? And what is my Family, that thou haſt brought me on hither?

19. And this was yet ſo little in thy Sight, O Sovereign Lord, that thou haſt alſo ſpoken of thy Servant's Family for a long while; and is this the Manner of Men, O Sovereign Lord?

20. And what ſhall David ſpeak yet more to thee, ſince thou knoweſt thy Servant, O Sovereign Lord?

21. For thy Word's ſake, and according to thy Mind, haſt thou done all this great Matter, to make it known to thy Servant.

22. Therefore thou art great, O Lord God: for there is none like thee, nor any God beſides thee, according to all that we have heard with our Ears.

23. And what one Nation on the Earth is like thy People Iſrael: whom God went to redeem for a People to himſelf, and to make him a Name, and to do for you great and terrible Things along to thy Country; by reaſon of thy People whom thou redeemedſt to thy ſelf from Egypt, the Nations and their gods?

24. Thou haſt alſo confirmed thy People Iſrael to thy ſelf, for a People to thee for ever; and thou Lord art a God to them.

25. Now therefore, O Lord God, eſtabliſh the Word which thou haſt ſpoken concerning thy Servant, and his Family, for ever; and do according as thou ſpokeſt.

26. So ſhall thy Name be magnified for ever as follows, The Lord of Armies is God over Iſrael; and the Family of thy Servant David will be confirmed before thee.

27. Since thou, O Lord of Armies the God of Iſrael, haſt revealed thus to the Ear of thy Servant, I will build thee a Houſe; therefore he has found in his Heart to make this Prayer to thee.

28. And now, O Sovereign Lord, thou art he that is God, and thy Words are Truth, who haſt ſpoken this Good of thy Servant.

29. Therefore now let it pleaſe thee to bleſs the Family of thy Servant, that it may be for ever before thee: for thou haſt ſpoken, O Sovereign Lord, and with thy Bleſſing let it be bleſſed for ever.

AND after this David beat the Philiſtines, ſo that he humbled them; and he took the Bridle of Ammah out of their Poſſeſſion.

measured them with a Line, to cast them down to the Ground; that is he measured with two Lines to put to death, and with a full Line to keep alive: so they became his Servants, carrying Presents.

3. David too beat Hadadezer the Son of Rehob King of Zobah, when he went to recover his Border at the River Euphrates.

4. From whom he took a thousand Chariots, seven hundred Companies of Horsemen, and twenty thousand Footmen; and he hamstringed all the Chariot-horses, only left of them for a hundred Chariots.

5. And when the Syrians of Damascus came to help this Hadadezer, David slew of them twenty two thousand Men.

6. Nay he put Garrisons in Syria of Damascus, and the Syrians became his Servants, carrying Presents: thus the Lord saved David whithersoever he went.

7. Besides he took the Shields of Gold that the Servants of Hadadezer were armed with, which he brought to Jerusalem.

8. From Betah likewise, and Berothai, Hadadezer's Cities, did King David take very much Brass.

9. And Toi King of Hamath hearing, that David had beat all the Army of Hadadezer;

10. He sent Joram his Son to King David, to ask of his Welfare, and bless him, because he had fought against Hadadezer, and beat him, for he was one who had Wars with Toi; and with him were Instruments of Silver, as there were likewise of Gold and Brass.

11. Them also King David consecrated to the Lord, with the Silver and Gold which he consecrated, of all the Nations that he subdued;

12. Of Syria, Moab, the Ammonites, Philistines, Amalek, and the Spoil of Hadadezer the Son of Rehob, King of Zobah.

13. And David got a Name, when he returned from his slaying the Syrians, by that of eighteen thousand, in the Valley of Salt.

14. Afterwards he put Garrisons in Edom, which he did in all of it, so that all the Edomites became David's Servants; and the Lord saved him whithersoever he went.

15. So David reigned over all Israel, and he was one who did Judgment and Justice to all his People.

16. Now Joab the Son of Zeruiah, was over the Army; and Jehoshaphat the Son of Ahilud, the Recorder.

17. Zadok likewise the Son of Ahitub, and Ahimelech the Son of Abiathar, were the Priests; and Seraiah was the Secretary;

18. And Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada, was over both the Cherethites and Pelethites; as David's Sons were Princes.

CHAP. IX.

MOREOVER David said, Is there yet any who is left of the Family of Saul, that I may not be ungenerous to him for Jonathan's Sake?

2. And there was of it a Servant, whose Name was Ziba, whom they called to David; and the King said to him, Art thou Ziba? Who answered, Thy Servant is.

3. Then he asked, Is there yet no Man of the Family of Saul, that I may shew the Kindness of God to him? And Ziba said to him, There is yet a Son of Jonathan, lame of his Feet.

4. To whom the King replied, Where is he? And Ziba said to him, Behold he is at the House of Machir the Son of Ammiel, in Lo-debar.

5. With that King David sent, and fetched him from thence.

6. And when Mephibosheth the Son of Jonathan, the Son of Saul, was come to him, he fell on his Face, and reverenced; and David said, Mephibosheth; who answered, Here is thy Servant.

7. And he replied to him, Do not fear, for I will throughly shew Kindness to thee for the sake of Jonathan thy Father, and will restore to thee all the Land of thy Grandfather Saul; thou mayest also eat Victuals on my Table continually.

8. At this he bowed down, and said, What is thy Servant, that thou shouldest look on such a dead Dog as I?

Ver. 3. Hadadezer] Josephus in Antiq. Lib. vii. 6. quotes from the 4th Book of Nicolaus Damascenus's History, that Adad who reigned over Part of Syria, made war with David King of the Jews, and was overcome at Euphrates; that his Posterity reigned to the tenth Generation, having the same Name; and that the third from this, to take away the Dishonour, fought against the Jews, and wasted Samaria: which Josephus applies to 1 Kings xx. The last of those Kings might be Rezin, or however the last of that Kingdom, 2 Kings xvi. 9.

9. Beſides the King called Ziba Saul's Servant, and ſaid to him; All that belonged to Saul, and to all his Family, I have given to thy Maſter's Son.

10. Thou ſhalt therefore, with thy Sons and Servants, till the Land for him, and bring in, that there may be Food for him, which he may eat; this however he may continually on my Table. Now Ziba had fifteen Sons, and twenty Servants.

11. And he ſaid to the King, Entirely as my Lord the King has commanded his Servant, ſo will thy Servant do: though Mephiboſheth ſhould eat on my Table as one of the King's Sons.

12. Mephiboſheth too had a little Son, whoſe Name was Micha; and all who dwelt in the Houſe of Ziba were Servants to Mephiboſheth.

13. Who dwelt at Jeruſalem, for he did eat continually on the King's Table, and was lame of both his Feet.

CHAP. X.

AND after this, the King of the Ammonites dying, Hanun his Son reigned in his room.

2. Upon which David ſaid, I will ſhew Kindneſs to Hanun the Son of Nahaſh, as his Father did to me. So he ſent to comfort him by the Miniſtry of his Servants concerning his Father: and David's Servants went into the Country of the Ammonites.

3. But their Princes ſaid to Hanun their Lord, Doſt thou think David honours thy Father, that he has ſent Comforters to thee? Has not he ſent his Servants to thee, in order to ſearch out the City, to ſpy it, and overthrow it?

4. Therefore Hanun took David's Servants, and ſhaved off half their Beards, and cut off their Garments in the middle to their Buttocks; ſending them away.

5. And ſome told David, at which he ſent to meet them, becauſe the Men were exceedingly aſhamed; and the King ſaid, Stay at Jericho till your Beards are grown, and then come back.

6. However when the Ammonites found that they were odious to David, they ſent, and hired of the Syrians of Beth-rehob, and thoſe of Zoba, twenty thouſand Footmen, and of the King of Maachah a thouſand Men, as alſo of the Men of Tob twelve thouſand.

7. This David hearing, ſent Joab, with all the Army of the ſtout Men.

8. So the Ammonites came out, and ſet the Battle in order at the Entrance of the Gate; and the Syrians of Zoba, and Rehob, as likewiſe the Men of Tob and Maachah, were by themſelves in the Field.

9. Whereupon Joab ſeeing that the Front of the Battle was towards him, both before and behind, he choſe ſome of all the choice Men of Iſrael, and ſet in order to meet the Syrians.

10. And the reſt of the People he delivered into the Cuſtody of Abiſhai his Brother, that he might ſet in order to meet the Ammonites.

11. He alſo ſaid; If the Syrians are too ſtrong for me, thou ſhalt be to ſave me; and if the Ammonites are too ſtrong for thee, I will come to ſave thee.

12. Be thou ſtrong, and let us make our ſelves ſo, for our People, and for the Cities of our God; and the Lord do what he likes.

13. Joab then, and the People that were with him, drew nigh to the Battle againſt the Syrians, who fled from his Preſence.

14. And the Ammonites ſeeing that the Syrians were fled, did flee from the Preſence of Abiſhai, and got into the City: ſo Joab returned from the Ammonites, and came to Jeruſalem.

15. Nevertheleſs when the Syrians ſaw that they were beat before Iſrael, they gathered together.

16. Hadarezer likewiſe ſent, and brought out the Syrians who were beyond the River, and they came to Helam; Shobach the Captain of Hadarezer's Army being before them.

17. Which being told David, he gathered all Iſrael, and paſſing over Jordan came to Helam; where the Syrians ſet in order to meet him, and fought with him.

18. But the Syrians fled from the Preſence of Iſrael, and David ſlew thoſe of ſeven hundred Chariots, and forty thouſand Horſemen; nay he ſmote Shobach the Captain of their Army, ſo that he died there.

19. Thus all the Kings, the Servants to Hadarezer, ſeeing that they were beat before Iſrael, made peace with them, and ſerved them; and the Syrians were afraid to help the Ammonites any more.

CHAP. XI.

MOREOVER at the Return of the Year, at the Time Kings go out, David ſent Joab, accompanied with his Servants, and all Iſrael; and they ſpoiled the Ammonites, nay laid ſiege againſt Rabbah; but David abode at Jeruſalem.

2. And at the Time of Evening, he riſing up from his Bed, and walking about upon the Roof of the King's Houſe, ſaw from thence a Woman waſhing her ſelf; who was of a very beautiful Look.

3. With that he ſent, and enquired for her; and one ſaid, Is not this Bath-ſheba the Daughter of Eliam, the Wife of Uriah the Hittite?

4. Then David ſent Meſſengers, and fetched her; and when ſhe was come to him, he lay with her, ſhe having conſecrated her ſelf from her Uncleanneſs: afterwards ſhe returned home.

5. And the Woman conceived; whereupon ſhe ſent, and told David, that ſhe was with Child.

6. At this he ſent to Joab, Send me Uriah the Hittite; whom Joab ſent to him.

7. And when he was come to him, David aſked about the Welfare of Joab, as alſo about that both of the People and the War.

8. After which David ſaid to him, Go down home, and waſh thy Feet. But Uriah going out of the King's Houſe, though there went forth after him a Diſh of Meat from the King,

9. Lay down at the Door there, with all the Servants of his Lord, and went not down home.

10. This they told David of; who ſaid to him, Didſt not thou come from a Journey? Why didſt not thou go down home?

11. And Uriah anſwered him, The Ark, with Iſrael and Judah, abide in Tents; nay my Maſter Joab, with the Servants of my Lord, are encamped out in the Field; and ſhall I go home, to eat, drink, and lie with my Wife? By thy living, and thy Soul's living, I will not do this Thing.

12. David then ſaid to him, Abide here alſo to Day, and to Morrow I will let thee go. Accordingly Uriah abode in Jeruſalem that Day, and the next.

13. And David called him, that he might eat and drink before him, and he made him drunk; yet he went out in the Evening to lie on his Bed with the Servants of his Lord, and went not down home.

14. Therefore in the Morning, David wrote a Letter to Joab, and ſent by Uriah.

15. In which he wrote thus, Do you put Uriah towards the Front of the ſtrongeſt Part of the Battle, and turn back from following him; that he may be ſmitten, and die.

16. So when Joab had obſerved the City, he put him at a Place where he knew that valiant Men were.

17. And the Men of the City came out, and fought with Joab, ſo that there fell ſome of the People, the Servants of David; and likewiſe Uriah the Hittite died.

18. Upon which Joab ſent, that he might tell David all the Affairs of the War.

19. And he commanded the Meſſenger as follows; When thou haſt made an end of telling all the Affairs of the War to the King;

20. If his Wrath get up, and he ſays to thee, Why did you go nigh the City to fight? Did not you know how they throw off the Wall?

21. Who ſlew Abimelech, the Son of Jerubbeſheth? Did not a Woman caſt upon him a Piece of a Milſtone off the Wall, ſo that he died at Thebez? Why did you go nigh the Wall? Then thou ſhalt ſay, Thy Servant Uriah the Hittite alſo is dead.

22. Accordingly the Meſſenger went; and when he came, told David all for which Joab ſent him.

23. And he ſaid to David, When the Men had prevailed over ſome, and came out to others of us into the Field, we got to be over them to the Entrance of the Gate.

Ver. 18. forty thouſand Horſemen] Theſe ſeem to be the Horſe and Foot together, being called Footmen, 1 Chron. xix. 18. where they might be denominated from the greater Number, and here from the principal Sort; nay might be termed by either Name, becauſe the Footmen might occaſionally, or at this Time, fight on horſeback, or elſe the Horſemen on foot.

Ver. 20. throw] Agreeable to the next Verſe, and the principal Meaning of the Word.

Ver. 23. ſome—others of us] which requires no Explication, nor Vindication, but N. B.

24. Whereby

24. Whereby the Throwers threw on thy Servants off the Wall, and there are ſome of the King's Servants dead; and likewiſe thy Servant Uriah the Hittite is dead.

25. But David ſaid to the Meſſenger; Thus ſhalt thou ſay to Joab, Let not this Thing diſpleaſe thee, ſince the Sword conſumes one as well as another: make the Battle ſtrong againſt the City, and deſtroy it; to which do thou ſtrengthen him.

26. Now the Wife of Uriah hearing that he her Huſband was dead, lamented for him.

27. However when the Mourning was paſt, David ſent, and took her to his Houſe, and ſhe became his Wife, and bore him a Son; but the Thing which he had done diſpleaſed the Lord.

CHAP. XII.

AND the Lord ſent Nathan to David; who coming to him, ſaid to him; There were two Men in one City, one rich and the other poor.

2. The rich had very great Flocks and Herds.

3. But the poor had nothing at all, excepting one little Ewe-lamb, which he bought, and kept alive, ſo that it grew up together with him, and his Sons: it did eat of his Morſel, and drink of his Cup, nay lay in his Boſom, and was as a Daughter to him.

4. And there coming a Traveller to the rich Man, he ſpared to take of his own Flocks and Herds, to make ready for the Paſſenger who came to him; and took the poor Man's Ewe-lamb, and made ready for that Man.

5. Upon this David was very angry with the Man; inſomuch that he ſaid to Nathan; By the Lord's living, the Man who has done this ſhall be put to death.

6. And he ſhall reſtore the Lamb fourfold; becauſe he has done this Thing, and becauſe he did not ſpare.

7. Then Nathan ſaid to him: Thou art the Man. Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael; I anointed thee to be King over Iſrael, and I delivered thee from the Power of Saul.

8. Beſides I gave thee thy Maſter's Houſe, and his Wives into thy Boſom, nay gave thee the Family of Iſrael and Judah; and if that had been a Little, I would have added to thee ſuch and ſuch Things as theſe.

9. Why haſt thou deſpiſed the Word of the Lord, by doing what diſpleaſed him? Thou haſt ſlain Uriah the Hittite with the Sword, and taken his Wife to be thine; having killed him with the Sword of the Ammonites.

10. Now therefore the Sword ſhall not depart from thy Houſe for a great while; becauſe thou haſt deſpiſed me, and taken that Uriah's Wife to be thy own.

11. Thus ſays the Lord; Behold I will raiſe up Miſchief againſt thee out of thy own Houſe, and take thy Wives before thy Eyes, and give to thy Neighbour; who ſhall lie with them in the Sight of this Sun.

12. For thou didſt it in ſecret; but I will do this Thing openly to all Iſrael, and the Sun.

13. And David ſaid to Nathan, I have ſinned againſt the Lord. Whereupon Nathan replied to him; The Lord alſo puts away thy Sin, thou ſhalt not die.

14. Only becauſe thou haſt let the Enemies of the Lord highly contemn by this Thing, even the Son who is born to thee ſhall quite die.

15. And when Nathan was gone home, the Lord ſmote the Child, whom the Wife of Uriah bore to David, ſo that it was mortally ſick.

16. Therefore David beſought God for the Boy; and kept a Faſt, nay went in, and ſtaid all Night, lying on the Ground.

17. But the Elders of his Houſe roſe up to him, to raiſe him up from the Ground; yet he would not let it be, nor did he eat any Victuals with them.

18. However on the ſeventh Day the Child died; and David's Servants were afraid to tell him that it was dead, for they ſaid, Behold when the Child was alive we perſuaded him, and he did not hearken to what we ſaid; and how will he do ill, ſhould we tell him it is dead!

19. Nevertheleſs David ſeeing that his Servants whiſpered, underſtood that it was; upon this he aſked them, Is the Child dead? And they ſaid, It is.

20. He then roſe up from the Ground, and having waſhed, anointed himſelf, and changed his Cloaths, he went into the Houſe of the Lord, and worſhipped; next he came home, and aſking, they put ſome Victuals for him, and he eat.

Ver. 17. let it be] for without this (as often the Verb-ſubſtantive is to be underſtood in the Hebrew) it may be aſked, He would not what? Raiſe him up?

Ver. 19. ſeeing] Vulg. heard, to make it better, but I think worſe: for he might rather ſee them, than hear them whiſpering.

21. Whereupon

21. Whereupon his Servants ſaid to him, What is this Thing which thou haſt done? Thou didſt faſt, and weep, for the Child being alive, and when it was dead, thou didſt riſe up, and eat Victuals.

22. And he anſwered; While the Child was yet alive, I faſted, and wept; for, thought I, Who knows but the Lord may be gracious to me, that the Child may live.

23. But now it is dead, Why ſhould I faſt? Can I make it return again? I ſhall go to it, but it will not return to me.

24. Afterwards David comforted Bathſheba his Wife, and going in to her, lay with her; and ſhe bore a Son, whoſe Name he called Solomon, and the Lord loved him.

25. Who ſending by the Miniſtry of Nathan the Prophet, he called his Name Beloved of the Lord; becauſe of the Lord.

26. And Joab fought againſt Rabbah of the Ammonites, that he might take the royal City.

27. At which he ſent Meſſengers to David with this Advice; Having fought againſt Rabbah, I have even taken the City of Water.

28. Now therefore gather the reſt of the People, and encamp againſt the City, and take it; leſt being taken by me, it ſhould be called by my Name.

29. Accordingly David gathered all the People, and going to Rabbah, fought againſt it, and took it.

30. And he took off their King's Crown from his Head, the Value of which was a Talent of Gold with the precious Stones, and it crowned David's Head; beſides he brought out the Spoil of the City very much.

31. He brought out the People too who were therein, and put under a Saw; as alſo Threſhing-inſtruments of Iron, and iron Axes, nay made them paſs through the Brick-kiln; and ſo did he to all the Cities of the Ammonites: then he, and all the People, returned to Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XIII.

AND after that his Son Abſalom having a fair Siſter, whoſe Name was Tamar, Amnon the Son of David loved her.

2. And he was ſo diſtreſſed, that he became ſick for this his Siſter, becauſe ſhe was a Virgin; and he thought it would be ſtrange to do any Thing to her.

3. Now Amnon had a Friend, whoſe Name was Jonadab, the Son of Shimeah David's Brother; and he was a very expert Man;

4. Who ſaid to him, Why art thou ſo thin, being the King's Son, Morning by Morning? Wilt not thou tell me? And Amnon anſwered him, I am in love with Tamar the Siſter of my Brother Abſalom.

5. Then Jonadab replied to him, Lie upon thy Bed, and feign thy ſelf ſick; and when thy Father comes to ſee thee, ſay to him, Let Tamar my Siſter come, I pray, and get me to eat ſome Victuals, by dreſſing the Food in my Sight, that I may ſee, and eat from her Hand.

6. So Amnon lay down, and feigned himſelf ſick; and the King coming to ſee him, he ſaid to him, Let Tamar my Siſter come, I pray, and make a Couple of Cakes in my Sight, that I may eat from her Hand.

7. Accordingly David ſent word home to her, Go now to thy Brother Amnon's Houſe, and dreſs ſome Food for him.

8. With that Tamar went thither, and he was lying down; then ſhe took Dough, having kneaded it, and made Cakes in his Sight, and baked them.

9. Moreover ſhe took the Pan, and turned them out before him; but he refuſed to eat, and ſaid, Cauſe every one to go out from me: ſo every one did.

10. Next he ſaid to her, Bring the Food into the Chamber, that I may eat from thy Hand. Accordingly Tamar took the Cakes which ſhe had made, and carried thither to Amnon her Brother.

11. Which ſhe having nigh to him, that he might eat, he took hold of her, and ſaid to her, Come, lie with me, my Siſter.

12. But ſhe anſwered him; Do not, my Brother, do not humble me, for it ſhould not be ſo done in Iſrael: do not this Vileneſs.

Ver. 23. Why] How much better and wiſer is this Anſwer, than that celebrated one of Solon himſelf, the great Law-maker of Athens, on a like Occaſion, when he was perſuaded not to weep, ſince Weeping would avail Nothing, "For this Cauſe I do weep?"

Ver. 25. Beloved of the Lord] as the Hebrew ſignifies; the Loſs of which in the Engliſh Tranſlation ſee on Pſa. cxxvii. 2.

Ver. 26. that he might] Ver. 28.

Ver. 30. Value] As the Hebrew Word may ſignify Weight or Value, it is not congruous to be the former here, becauſe the Crown was not all Gold, as alſo becauſe the Weight would be far too great.

Ver. 31. Threſhing-inſtruments] As in Amos i. 3. and the Verb there joined with it ſhews.

Ver. 8. lying] otherwiſe lain, notwithſtanding how it may be vulgarly expreſſed; laid being not the Participle of lie, but of lay, and ſo denotes being done by ſome other Perſon or Thing.

Ver. 12. Do not] אַל being a Particle of perſuading from a Thing, as twice beſides in this Verſe; rarely of denying; ſee Buxt. Gram. Lib. ii. Cap. 19.

Ib. humble] Vid. Gen. xxxiv. 2. and concerning Vileneſs, Ver. 7. of the ſame Chapter.

13. For I, whither ſhall I cauſe my Reproach to go? And thou wilt be as one of the vile ones in Iſrael: now therefore ſpeak, I pray, to the King, for he will not with-hold me from thee.

14. Nevertheleſs he would not hearken to what ſhe ſaid; but being ſtronger than ſhe, humbled her, and lay with her.

15. Amnon then had a very great Hatred to her; for it was greater than the Love which he before had for her; inſomuch that he bade her, Get up, be gone.

16. And ſhe ſaid to him, There is no Cauſe for this great Heinouſneſs, to ſend me away being more than the other that thou haſt done to me. Yet he would not hearken to her;

17. But called his young Man who waited on him, and ſaid, Send this Woman now out from me, and lock the Door after her.

18. And though ſhe had on a Garment of ſeveral Sorts, becauſe the King's Daughters who were Virgins were cloathed with ſuch Robes; his Waiting-man had her out abroad, and locked the Door after her.

19. Therefore Tamar took Aſhes upon her Head, and tore that Garment, as alſo put her Hand upon her Head, and going away, went on crying.

20. To whom Abſalom her Brother ſaid, Has thy Brother Aminon been with thee? Yet now, my Siſter, hold thy Peace, as he is thy Brother; do not mind this Matter. Then Tamar remained, and was deſolate, at his Houſe.

21. And upon King David's hearing of all theſe Things, he was very angry.

22. In the mean time Abſalom would not ſpeak to his Brother Amnon either Bad or Good: for he hated him, by reaſon that he had humbled Tamar his Siſter.

23. And in two Years Time, Abſalom having Shearers at Baal-hazor, which is by Ephraim, he invited all the King's Sons.

24. He likewiſe came to the King, and ſaid, Behold now thy Servant has Shearers, let the King, I pray, and his Servants, go with thy Servant.

25. Whereas the King anſwered him, Let us not, my Son, let us not now all of us go, leſt we ſhould be burdenſome to thee. And notwithſtanding he urged him, he would not go, but bleſſed him.

26. At which Abſalom ſaid, If not, be pleaſed to let my Brother Amnon go with us? And the King replied to him, Why ſhould he go with thee?

27. However Abſalom preſſing on him, he let Amnon and all the King's Sons go with him?

28. And Abſalom commanded his young Men thus; See now when Amnon's Mind is merry with Wine, and I give you notice to ſtrike him; then kill him, do not fear: Will it not be becauſe I command you? Take courage, and be Sons of Valour.

29. They alſo did to Amnon, as he commanded; with that all the King's Sons roſe up, and riding upon their reſpective Mules, fled.

30. And while they were in the Way, the following News came to David, Abſalom has ſlain all the King's Sons, ſo that there is not one of them left.

31. Upon this the King got ready, and tearing his Cloaths, lay on the Ground; and all his Servants ſtood by with their Cloaths torn.

32. But Jonadab the Son of Shimeah David's Brother made anſwer; Let not my Lord think, they have killed all the young Men, the King's Sons, ſince Amnon alone is dead: for by the Talk of Abſalom it has been appointed, from the Day he humbled Tamar his Siſter.

33. Now therefore let not my Lord the King ſo regard the Matter, as to think all his Sons are dead; becauſe it is only Amnon.

34. And Abſalom fled. The young Man too who kept watch looking up, ſaw plainly that there were many People came along in the Way behind him, on the Side of the Mountain.

35. When Jonadab ſaid to the King, Behold the King's Sons are coming: according to the Word of thy Servant, ſo it is.

36. And as he made an end of ſpeaking, behold they came, who burſt out a crying; and the King alſo, with all his Servants, cried very much.

37. In the mean while Abſalom fled, who went to Talmai the Son of Ammihud King of Geſhur; and he mourned for his Son continually.

38. Thus he being fled, and gone to Geſhur, was there three Years.

39. So that King David longed to go

AND Joab the Son of Zeruiah knowing, that the Heart of the King was upon Abſalom;

2. He ſent to Tekoah, and fetched from thence a wiſe Woman, to whom he ſaid; Feign thy ſelf now to mourn, and put on now Garments of Mourning, and be not anointed with Oil, but be as a Woman who has theſe many Days been mourning for the Dead;

3. And go to the King, and ſpeak to him according to this Speech: he putting Words ſo in her Mouth.

4. Accordingly the Woman of Tekoah ſpoke to the King, falling upon her Face to the Ground, and reverencing, with this Expreſſion, Save, O King.

5. To whom he ſaid, What is the matter with thee? And ſhe anſwered; I am verily a widow Woman, my Huſband being dead.

6. And thy Handmaid had two Sons, who contending in the Field, and there being none between them to deliver; one ſtruck the other, ſo that he killed him.

7. At which behold the whole Family is riſen up againſt thy Handmaid, and they ſay, Deliver up him who ſmote his Brother, that we may kill him for the Life of his Brother whom he has ſlain, and may deſtroy even the Heir; thus will they quench my Coal that is left, making my Huſband not to have Name or Remainder upon the Surface of the Ground.

8. Whereupon the King ſaid to her, Go home, and I will give command concerning thee.

9. But ſhe anſwered him, Upon me, my Lord O King, be the Iniquity, and upon my Father's Family; and let the King, and his Throne, be innocent.

10. To which the King replied, When any ſpeaks to thee, bring him to me, and he ſhall not touch thee again any more.

11. Yet ſhe added, Let the King, I pray, remember the Lord thy God, not to let the Revengers of Blood increaſe the ſlaying, that they may not deſtroy my Son. By the Lord's living, ſays he, there ſhall not a Hair of thy Son fall to the Earth.

12. The Woman nevertheleſs rejoined, Let thy Handmaid, I beſeech thee, ſpeak a Word to my Lord the King; who ſaid, Do.

13. And ſhe proceeded; Why then doſt thou intend ſuch as this againſt the People of God? For the King ſpeaks theſe Words like one who is in fault, for him not to bring again his expelled one.

14. For we muſt quite die, and be like Water poured out on the Ground, which cannot be gathered up; and ſince God takes not away the Life, he ſhould have ſome Thoughts that the expelled one may not remain ſo from him.

15. And now as I came to ſpeak this Matter to the King my Lord, it was becauſe the People made me afraid; and thy Handmaid thought, I will now ſpeak to the King, who perhaps will do the Buſineſs of his Handmaid.

16. Becauſe he can hear to deliver her from the Power of the Man, who would deſtroy me and my Son together, from the Poſſeſſion of God.

17. Thy Handmaid too thought, The Word now of my Lord the King will be for Quietneſs: for as an Angel of God, ſo is he to hear Good or Evil, and the Lord thy God is with thee.

18. The King then made reply to her, Conceal not from me, I pray, the Matter that I ſhall aſk thee. And ſhe ſaid, Let my Lord the King now ſpeak.

19. And he aſked, Is not the Hand of Joab with thee in all this? To which the Woman made anſwer; By thy Soul's living, my Lord O King, there is no going to the right Hand or the left, from all that my Lord the King ſpeaks; for thy Servant Joab himſelf commanded me, and told thy Handmaid all that ſhe ſhould ſay:

20. In order to turn about the Look of the Thing, has thy Servant Joab done this Matter; and my Lord is wiſe, as with the Wiſdom of an Angel of God, to know all that is on the Earth.

21. Upon which the King ſaid to Joab, Behold now ſince I have done this Thing, go, bring again the young Man Abſalom.

Earth,

Earth, and reverenced, and bleſſed the King; he alſo ſaid, Thy Servant knows to Day that I am in Favour with thee, my Lord O King, becauſe the King has performed the Requeſt of his Servant.

23. So he got ready and went to Geſhur, and brought Abſalom to Jeruſalem.

24. But the King ſaid, Let him turn aſide to his Houſe, and not ſee my Face: which Abſalom did accordingly.

25. Now there was not a Man among all Iſrael, ſo much to be praiſed for being handſome, as Abſalom: from the Sole of his Foot even to his Crown there was not a Blemiſh in him.

26. And when he cut off his Hair (which he uſed to do at every Year's End, becauſe it was heavy upon him) the Hair of his Head weighed two hundred Shekels, by the King's Weight.

27. There were alſo born to Abſalom three Sons, and one Daughter, whoſe Name was Tamar: ſhe was a Woman of a fair Countenance.

28. Thus Abſalom abode in Jeruſalem two Year's Time, and ſaw not the King's Face.

29. At length he ſent for Joab, to ſend him to the King, but he would not come to him; nor yet when he ſent again the ſecond time.

30. Therefore he ſaid to his Servants, See, there is a Piece of Joab's Land at my Part, where he has Barley; go, and ſet it on fire: ſo they did.

31. Hereupon Joab got ready, and went to Abſalom at Home, and aſked him, Why have thy Servants ſet the Piece of Land which I have on fire?

32. And Abſalom anſwered him; Behold I ſent thus to thee, Come hither, that I may ſend thee to the King, to ſay, Why am I come from Geſhur? It would be better for me that I ſhould be there ſtill; now therefore let me ſee the King's Face, and if there be Iniquity in me, let him put me to death.

33. Joab accordingly went to the King, and told him; who called Abſalom, and he went to him, and bowed down to him, upon his Face to the Ground before the King; and he kiſſed Abſalom.

CHAP. XV.

BUT after this, Abſalom prepared him Chariots and Horſes, with fifty Men to run before him.

2. Nay he would riſe early, and ſtand at the Side of the Way to the Gate; and every Man who had a Cauſe to come with to the King for Judgment, Abſalom called to him, and ſaid, Where is the City thou art of? Who anſwering, Thy Servant is of ſuch a one of the Tribes of Iſrael;

3. Abſalom replied to him, See that thy Matters are good and right; though there is none to hear thee from the King.

4. Moreover he wiſhed, Oh that I was Judge in the Country, that every Man who has a Cauſe or Judgment might come to me, and I would do him juſtice.

5. Beſides when a Man came near to bow down to him, he put forth his Hand, and taking hold of him, kiſſed him.

6. And after this manner did he behave to all Iſrael who came to the King for Judgment; thus Abſalom ſtole away the Hearts of the Men of Iſrael.

7. And at the Term of forty Years, he ſaid to the King; Let me go, I pray, and perform what I vowed to the Lord to do at Hebron.

8. For thy Servant made the following Vow while I abode at Geſhur in Syria, If the Lord will at all bring me again to Jeruſalem, I will ſerve him.

9. And the King anſwering him, Go in Peace; he got ready, and went to Hebron.

10. But he ſent Spies through all the Tribes of Iſrael, to tell; When you hear the Sound of the Trumpet, ſay, Abſalom reigns at Hebron.

11. There went alſo with him two hundred Men invited from Jeruſalem, who went in their Integrity; for they knew not any thing of the Matter.

12. He further ſent for Ahithophel the Gilonite, David's Counſellor, from his City Giloh, when he was offering Sacrifices; and the Conſpiracy was ſtrong, for the People went on increaſing with Abſalom.

13. Then there came one who told David, that the Hearts of the Men of Iſrael were after Abſalom.

14. Whereupon he ſaid to all his Servants, who were with him at Jeruſalem, Get ready, and let us flee, elſe there will be no eſcaping for us from the Preſence of Abſalom: make haſte to go away, leſt he making haſte, ſhould overtake us, and forcibly bring Miſchief upon us, by ſmiting the City with the Edge of the Sword.

15. And the King's Servants ſaid to him, According to all that my Lord the King ſhall chooſe, here are thy Servants.

16. So the King went forth, and all his Houſhold accompanied him; only he left ten Women who were Concubines, to keep the Houſe.

17. Thus he going forth, and all the People accompanying him, remained at a Houſe far off.

18. And all his Servants paſſed on at his Side, with all the Cherethites and Pelethites; as likewiſe all the Gittites, ſix hundred Men who came along with him from Gath, paſſed on before the King.

19. But he ſaid to Ittai the Gittite; Why doſt thou go with us too? Return, and abide with the King; ſince thou art a Stranger, and art alſo removing to thy Place.

20. Whereas thou cameſt Yeſterday, ſhall I make thee go wandering with us to Day, when I am going whither I can? Return, and cauſe thy Brethren to return; Kindneſs and Truth be with thee.

21. And Ittai made anſwer to the King, By the Lord's living, and my Lord the King's living, in the very Place where my Lord the King ſhall be, whether in Death or in Life, even there will thy Servant be.

22. David then replied to him, Go, and paſs over. Accordingly he did, as likewiſe all his Men, and the Children who were with him.

23. And the whole Country cried aloud, when all the People paſſed over; the King alſo went over the Brook Kidron, and all the People towards the Way of the Wilderneſs.

24. Nay there was Zadok too, and all the Levites with him, carrying the Ark of God's Covenant; which they ſet down, and Abiathar went up, till all the People had made an end of paſſing out of the City.

25. Nevertheleſs the King ſaid to Zadok; Have back the Ark of God into the City: if I am in Favour with the Lord, he will bring me back, and ſhew me that, and the Habitation of it.

26. But if he ſhould ſay thus, I do not delight in thee; here am I, let him do to me as he pleaſes.

27. He likewiſe ſaid to that Prieſt; Art thou a Seer? Go back then into the City in Peace, and your two Sons with you, Ahimaaz thine, and Jonathan the Son of Abiathar.

28. See, I will ſtay in the Plain of the Wilderneſs, till Word comes from you to tell me.

29. Therefore Zadok and Abiathar carried back the Ark of God to Jeruſalem, and they abode there.

30. But David went up on the Aſcent of Olivet, weeping as he went, and his Head was covered, and he walked barefooted; all the People too who were with him covered their Heads reſpectively, and went up in the ſame Manner.

31. It was moreover told David, that Ahithophel was among them who conſpired with Abſalom; at which he ſaid, Make the Counſel of Ahithophel fooliſh, I beſeech thee, O Lord.

32. And when David came to the Top, where he worſhipped God, behold Huſhai the Archite met him, with his Coat torn, and Earth upon his Head.

35. And will not Zadok and Abiathar the Prieſts be there with thee? To whom thou ſhalt tell every Thing that thou heareſt from the King's Houſe.

36. Behold their two Sons are there with them, Ahimaaz Zadok's, and Jonathan Abiathar's; by whoſe Means you may ſend to me every Thing that you hear.

37. Accordingly Huſhai David's Friend went into the City, when Abſalom came to Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XVI.

NOW when David was paſſed a little from the Top, behold Ziba Mephiboſheth's Servant met him, with a couple of Aſſes ſaddled, upon which were two hundred Loaves, a hundred Cluſters of Raiſins, a hundred of Summer-fruits, and a Bottle of Wine.

2. And the King aſked Ziba, What haſt thou theſe for? To which he anſwered, The Aſſes are for the King's Houſhold to ride on, the Loaves and Summer-fruits for the young Men to eat, and the Wine is for thoſe to drink who are faint in the Wilderneſs.

3. The King enquired further, And where is thy Maſter's Son? And Ziba anſwered him; Behold he abides at Jeruſalem: for he ſaid, This Time will the Family of Iſrael reſtore to me my Father's Kingdom.

4. Upon this the King ſaid to Ziba, Behold thou ſhalt have all that belongs to Mephiboſheth. And he replied, I bow down, being got in Favour with thee, my Lord O King.

5. And as King David was going to Bahurim, behold there came out a Man from thence of the Family of the Houſe of Saul, whoſe Name was Shimei, the Son of Gera, who coming out, curſed as he came.

6. Nay he flung Stones at David, and all his Servants; though all the People, and all the ſtout Men were at his right Hand and left.

7. And Shimei ſaid thus in his curſing; Get thee out, get thee out, O bloody and ungodly Man.

8. The Lord has returned upon thee all the Blood of the Houſhold of Saul, in whoſe Place thou haſt reigned, and the Lord has given the Kingdom into the Power of Abſalom thy Son; and behold thou art in thy own Miſchief, becauſe thou art a bloody Man.

9. At which Abiſhai the Son of Zeruiah ſaid to the King, Why ſhould this dead Dog curſe my Lord the King? Let me paſs over, I pray, and take off his Head.

10. But he anſwered; What have you to do with me, O Sons of Zeruiah? For he may curſe, becauſe the Lord has ordered him, to curſe David; and who ſhall ſay, Why doeſt thou ſo?

11. Beſides David ſaid to Abiſhai and all his Servants; Behold my own Son who proceeded forth from my ſelf ſeeks my Life; and much more now may a Benjaminite: let him alone, ſince he may curſe, becauſe the Lord has bid him.

12. Perhaps the Lord will look on my Affliction, and he may render Good to me inſtead of his Curſing this Day.

13. So he and his Men went on the Way; Shimei going on the Side of the Mountain over againſt him, where he went along curſing, throwing Stones, and flinging Earth.

14. At length the King, and all the People who were with him, came faint, and were refreſhed there.

15. Abſalom too, and all the People, the Men of Iſrael, came to Jeruſalem; and Ahithophel was with him.

16. And when Huſhai the Archite, David's Friend, came to Abſalom, Huſhai cried

17. To whom Abſalom ſaid, Is this thy Favour to thy Friend? Why didſt not thou go with him?

18. But Huſhai anſwered him; No: for whom the Lord, and his People, and all the Men of Iſrael chooſe, ſhall not I be for, and abide with him?

19. And again with whom ſhould I ſerve? Should it not be before his Son? As I have ſerved before thy Father, ſo will I be before thee.

20. And Abſalom ſaying to Ahithophel, Give Counſel for you, what we ſhall do.

21. He anſwered him, Go in to thy Father's Concubines, whom he has left to keep the Houſe; and when all Iſrael hear that thou art odious to thy Father, the Hands of all who are with thee will be ſtrong.

22. Accordingly they pitched a Tent for Abſalom upon the Roof, and he went in to his Father's Concubines in the Sight of all Iſrael.

23. And the Counſel of Ahithophel, which he gave in thoſe Days, was as if a Man enquired of the Word of God: ſo was all of it, both to David and Abſalom.

CHAP. XVII.

MOREOVER Ahithophel adviſed Abſalom; Let me now chooſe out twelve thouſand Men, and getting ready, purſue after David to Night.

2. So ſhall I come upon him, while he is weary and of weak Hands, and make him afraid, whereby all the People who are with him will flee; and I will ſmite the King alone.

3. And I will bring back all the People to thee, according as they may return: by the Man whom thou ſeekeſt for ſhall all the People be in Peace.

4. Which Saying Abſalom approved of, as did all the Elders of Iſrael.

5. However Abſalom ſaid, Call now alſo Huſhai the Archite; that we may hear what he has likewiſe to adviſe.

6. Who coming to Abſalom, he ſaid thus to him, Ahithophel having counſelled after this Manner, ſhall we do what he adviſes? If not, do thou ſpeak.

7. Upon which Huſhai ſaid to him, The Counſel that Ahithophel has given is not good this Time.

8. For added he: Thou knoweſt, that thy Father and his Men are ſtout, and they are of bitter Minds, like a Bear deprived of its Young in the Field; and he being a Warrior, will not lodge with the People.

9. Behold he is now hid in one of the Pits, or another Place; and as ſoon as there is falling among them at firſt, ſome Perſon who hears will ſay, There is a Slaughter among the People that follow Abſalom.

10. Then even he who is a valiant Perſon, whoſe Heart is like that of a Lion, will utterly melt: for all Iſrael know that thy Father is ſtout, and thoſe who are with him be valiant Men.

11. But I counſel, there ſhould be throughly gathered to thee all Iſrael, from Dan even to Beer-ſheba, as the Sand which is at the Sea for Multitude; and that thou thy own ſelf go into the Battle.

12. Thus ſhall we come to him in one of the Places, where he will be found, and ſhall encamp againſt him, as the Dew falls upon the Ground; ſo that there ſhall not be left of him, and all the Men who are with him, even one.

13. And if he be got into a City, all Iſrael ſhall bring Ropes to that City; and we will draw it to the Brook, until even a ſmall Stone is not found there.

14. With this Abſalom and all the Men of Iſrael ſaid, The Counſel of Huſhai the Archite is better than that of Ahithophel: for the Lord had appointed to make void the Counſel of Ahithophel, which was good, that he might bring Evil upon Abſalom.

15. Next Huſhai told Zadok and Abiathar the Prieſts; After this and this Manner did Ahithophel counſel Abſalom, and the Elders of Iſrael, and after this and this Manner have I counſelled.

16. Now therefore ſend ſpeedily, and tell David thus, Do not lodge to Night in the Plains of the Wilderneſs, and beſides paſs wholly over; leſt the King ſhould be devoured, and all the People who are with him.

18. Nevertheleſs a Youth ſaw them, and told Abſalom; but they both went away ſpeedily, and came to a Man's Houſe at Bahurim, who had a Well in his Court, and they went down there.

19. The Woman further took, and ſpread a Covering upon the Mouth of the Well, and laid about ground Corn upon it; ſo that the Matter was not known.

20. Yet Abſalom's Servants came to her at the Houſe, and aſked, Where is Ahimaaz and Jonathan? But ſhe told them, They are paſſed over the River of Water: whom when they had ſought for, and could not find, they returned to Jeruſalem.

21. And after they were gone, thoſe came up out of the Well, and went and told King David; to whom they ſaid, Get ready, and paſs ſpeedily over the Water, for thus Ahithophel has counſelled againſt you.

22. Accordingly David got ready, and all the People who were with him, and went over Jordan; there being by the Light of the Morning not even one lacking, who was not paſſed over it.

23. But Ahithophel ſeeing that his Counſel was not executed, ſaddled his Aſs, and got ready, and went to his Houſe at his own City, then giving charge about his Family, he hanged himſelf; thus he died, and was buried in his Father's Grave.

24. David alſo went to Mahanaim; and Abſalom paſſed over Jordan, accompanied with all the Men of Iſrael.

25. And he put Amaſa over the Army, inſtead of Joab; Amaſa being the Son of a Man whoſe Name was Ithra, an Iſraelite, who went in to Abigail, the Daughter of Nahaſh, the Siſter of Zeruiah Joab's Mother.

26. So Iſrael and Abſalom encamped in the Province of Gilead.

27. And when David was come to Mahanaim, Shobi the Son of Nahaſh from Rabbah of the Ammonites, Machir the Son of Ammiel from Lo-debar, and Barzillai the Gileadite from Rogelim;

28. Brought Beds, Baſons, Potters Veſſels, Wheat, Barley, Flour, even of parched Corn, Beans, Lentiles, and parched Corn,

29. With Honey, Butter, Sheep, and Cheeſes of the Herd, for David, and the People who were with him, to eat: for they ſaid, The People are hungry, faint, and thirſty in the Wilderneſs.

CHAP. XVIII.

AND David numbered the People who were with him, and put over them Captains both of Thouſands and Hundreds.

2. He moreover ſent the People, one third Part in the Cuſtody of Joab, another in that of his Brother Abiſhai the Son of Zeruiah, and the other in the Cuſtody of Ittai the Gittite; and the King ſaid to the People, I will alſo go quite out with you.

3. But they anſwered, Thou ſhalt not; for if we at all flee away, they will not regard us, nor yet if half of us die; for thou art now as ten Thouſand of us: now therefore it will be well, that thou ſhouldeſt but help us out of the City.

4. And the King replied to them, I will do what you like. So he ſtood at the Side of the Gate, while all the People went forth by Hundreds and Thouſands.

5. When he thus commanded Joab, Abiſhai and Ittai, Be gentle for my ſake to the young Man Abſalom. And all the People heard, when the King commanded all the Captains upon Abſalom's Account.

6. Thus the People went forth into the Field to meet Iſrael; and the Battle was in the Wood of Ephraim:

7. Where the People of Iſrael were defeated before the Servants of David; and a great Slaughter was there that Day of twenty Thouſand.

8. For the Battle there was diſperſed all over the Country; and the Wood conſumed more of the People, than the Sword did that Day.

9. And

9. And becauſe Abſalom was meeting the Servants of David directly before; and rode upon a Mule, it went under a thick Place of a great Oak, and his Head caught hold of the Oak; ſo that he was placed between the Heaven and the Earth, and the Mule that was under him paſſed away.

10. Which a certain Man ſeeing, told Joab thus, Behold I ſaw Abſalom hanged on an Oak.

11. And he ſaid to the Man who told him, And behold when thou ſaweſt it, why diſt not thou ſmite him there to the Ground? And there is with me to have given thee, ten Shekels of Silver and a Girdle.

12. But the Man anſwered him; Although I ſhould have a thouſand Shekels of Silver weighed into my Hand, I would not ſtretch it forth againſt the King's Son: for in our Hearing the King charged thee, Abiſhai and Ittai, to take care of any one being againſt the young Man Abſalom.

13. Otherwiſe I ſhould have acted wrongfully againſt my own Life, ſince there is no Matter concealed from the King; and thou wouldeſt have ſtood at a diſtance.

14. However Joab replied, I ſhall not tarry ſo before thee; and taking three Darts in his Hand, he ſtuck them into Abſalom's Heart, who was yet alive in the middle of the Oak.

15. Ten young Men alſo, who carried Joab's Arms, went round about, and ſmiting Abſalom, they killed him.

16. Whereupon Joab blew a Trumpet, and the People returned from purſuing after Iſrael: for he kept them back.

17. Then they took Abſalom, and threw him into a great Pit in the Wood, placing a very great Heap of Stones upon him; and all Iſrael fled to their ſeveral Tents.

18. Now Abſalom in his Life-time had taken, and ſet him up a Pillar, which was in the King's Vale; for he ſaid, I have no Son who may make my Name be remembred. So he called it by his own Name, which is called Abſalom's Monument to this Day.

19. And Ahimaaz the Son of Zadok ſaid, Let me run now, and declare to the King, that the Lord has delivered him from the Power of his Enemies.

20. Whom Joab anſwered, Thou ſhalt not be the News-man this Day, but ſhalt carry News another Day; and not this, becauſe the King's Son is dead.

21. So he ordered Cuſhi, [Go, tell the King what thou haſt ſeen; and bowing down to Joab, he ran.

22. Nevertheleſs Ahimaaz the Son of Zadok ſaid to him yet again, But howſoever it be, let me now alſo run after Cuſhi. And though Joab objected, Why wilt thou run, my Son, ſince there is no News found for thee?

23. Yet however it be, ſaid he, let me run; at which he bade him run: then Ahimaaz ran the Way of the Plain, and paſſed by Cuſhi.

24. And David ſitting between the two Gates, the Watchman went on the Roof of the Gate, upon the Wall, and looking up, ſaw plainly that there was a Man running alone.

25. Upon this he called, and told the King; who ſaid, If he be alone, he has News to tell. And he came on apace, drawing near.

Ver. 9. becauſe] which Noldius ſhews to be the Meaning of ו in divers Places. And if the Context be duly conſidered, it may appear incredible that Abſalom met the Servants of David, or even that the Oak was in the Way to meet them; becauſe then paſſing by it, they would doubtleſs have ſeen him. This being in the Diſcomfiture or Flight, and Abſalom alone, quite forbid the former, as that in Ver. 10, 11. does alſo the latter. I have put Side for Tide, as ſuppoſing it wrong printed; and choſe to give a Quotation rather from this Poem, than either of the two foregoing, viz. The Death of Abel, and Job's Curſe, by reaſon of the too great Inconſiſtencies with Holy Writ therein.

Ver. 22. ſince there is no News found for thee] Literally ſo in Hebrew, but the old Lat. has firſt, come hither, and then has this rendered, non eris &c. thou wilt not be a Carrier of good News, viz. by carrying ſuch; but the College of Doway have turned it into Engliſh, thou ſhalt not &c. quite in another and wrong Senſe.

26. The Watchman likewiſe ſaw another Man running, ſo he called to the Porter, and ſaid, Behold there is another runs alone. And the King anſwered, This alſo brings News.

27. The Watchman then ſaid, I ſee the running of the firſt is like that of Ahimaaz the Son of Zadok. At which the King declared, That is a good Man, and comes for good News.

28. At length Ahimaaz calling, ſaid to the King, It is well, and bowed down to him with his Face to the Ground; as alſo added, Bleſſed be the Lord thy God, who has delivered up the Men, that lifted up their Hands againſt my Lord the King.

29. But ſays the King, Is the young Man Abſalom well? And he anſwered, I ſaw a great Tumult, at Joab's ſending the King's Servant, and me thy Servant, but I did not know for what.

30. And the King ſaid, Turn aſide, ſtand here. Accordingly he turned aſide, and ſtood ſtill.

31. Behold alſo Cuſhi came; and he ſaid, The News brought, my Lord O King, is that the Lord has delivered thee to Day from the Power of all who roſe up againſt thee.

32. The King however aſked him, Is the young Man Abſalom well? And Cuſhi anſwered, Let the Enemies of my Lord the King, and all who riſe up againſt thee for Harm, be like him.

33. Affected at this, he went up to the Chamber of the Gate, and wept; lamenting thus as he went, My Son Abſalom, my Son, my Son Abſalom; oh that I had died inſtead of thee, O Abſalom, my Son, my Son!

CHAP. XIX.

AND it was told Joab, Behold the King weeps, and mourns for Abſalom.

2. So that the Preſervation that Day became Mourning to all the People: becauſe they then heard, that the King was grieved for his Son.

3. Therefore the People ſtole away that Day, to go into the City; as thoſe do who are aſhamed when they flee in a Battle.

4. And the King not only covered his Face, but cried aloud, My Son Abſalom, O Abſalom, my Son, my Son.

5. Joab then went to him at the Houſe, and ſaid; Thou haſt made the Faces of all thy Servants aſhamed to Day, who have delivered thy Life on it, and the Lives of thy Sons and Daughters, with thoſe both of thy Wives and Concubines,

6. By loving thoſe who hated thee, and by hating ſuch as love thee: ſince thou haſt declared now, that Princes and Servants are Nothing to thee; for I know to Day that if Abſalom was alive, and all of us were dead on it, then thou wouldeſt approve of it.

7. Now therefore get ready, go forth, and ſpeak kindly to thy Servants: for I ſwear by the Lord, that ſhouldeſt thou not go forth, there will not a Man ſtay with thee to Night; and this will be worſe to thee, than all the Harm which has come upon thee from thy Youth till now.

8. With that the King got ready, and ſate at the Gate; and when all the People were told thus, Behold the King ſits at the Gate; they came before him, for Iſrael were fleeing to their reſpective Tents.

9. However all the People were pleading in all the Tribes of Iſrael as follows; The King reſcued us from the Power of our Enemies, and delivered us from that of the Philiſtines, but now he is fled out of the Country from Abſalom.

10. And he, whom we anointed over us, is dead in the Battle, now therefore why are you ſilent about bringing the King back?

11. Then King David ſent word to Zadok and Abiathar the Prieſts; Speak thus to the Elders of Judah, Why are you the laſt to bring the King home again, when the Speech of all Iſrael is come to him at his Houſe?

12. You are my Brethren, you are my Bone and Fleſh: why then are you the laſt to bring back the King?

13. Say alſo to Amaſa, Art not thou my Bone and Fleſh? By God's doing ſo for me and ſo beſides, thou ſhalt be Captain of the Army before me at all times, in the room of Joab.

the Men of Judah as of one Man, ſo that they ſent to the King, Return thou; and all thy Servants.

15. So the King returned, and came to Jordan; thoſe of Judah coming to Gilgal, to go and meet the King, to have him over Jordan.

16. And Shimei the Son of Gera the Benjaminite, who was of Bahurim, made haſte, and came down with the Men of Judah to meet King David.

17. With whom were a thouſand Men of Benjamin, and Ziba the Servant of the Family of Saul, attended with his fifteen Sons and twenty Servants, and they went over Jordan before the King.

18. For there paſſed over a Paſſage-boat to fetch over the King's Houſhold, and to do what he liked; and Shimei the Son of Gera fell down before the King, when he was got over Jordan,

19. And ſaid to him; Let not my Lord reckon Iniquity to me, nor remember what thy Servant did perverſely, the Day on which my Lord the King came out of Jeruſalem, for the King to regard it.

20. Becauſe thy Servant knew that I had ſinned, therefore behold I came to Day the firſt of all the Family of Joſeph, to come down to meet my Lord the King.

21. But Abiſhai the Son of Zeruiah made anſwer, Shall not Shimei be put to death for this, ſince he has curſed the Lord's anointed one?

22. To which David replied, What have you to do with me, O Sons of Zeruiah, that you are become Adverſaries to me to Day? Shall there be a Man put to death on it in Iſrael? For do not I know, that I am to Day King over Iſrael?

23. And he ſaid to Shimei, Thou ſhalt not die; nay, he ſwore to him.

24. Beſides Mephiboſheth the Grandſon of Saul came down to meet the King; who had not dreſſed his Feet, dreſſed his Beard, nor waſhed his Cloaths, from the Day the King went away, till that on which he came in Peace.

25. And when he met the King coming to Jeruſalem, he was aſked by him, Why didſt not thou go with me, Mephiboſheth?

26. Who anſwered; My Lord O King, my Servant deceived me: for thy Servant thought, I would ſaddle me an Aſs, that I might ride on it, and go with the King, becauſe thy Servant is lame.

27. Whereas he has ſlandered thy Servant to my Lord the King; who being as an Angel of God, do what thou likeſt.

28. For there was not any of my Father's Family but dead Men to my Lord the King, nevertheleſs thou didſt put thy Servant among thoſe who eat at thy Table; and what Juſtice have I more, that I ſhould cry yet to the King?

29. And the King replied to him; Why doſt thou ſpeak any more of thy Affairs? I have ſaid, Thou and Ziba part the Land.

30. But Mephiboſheth to him again, Let him even take all; as it is after my Lord the King is come home in Peace.

31. Barzillai the Gileadite likewiſe came down from Rogelim; and paſſed over Jordan with the King, to bring him over it.

32. Now he was very old, being in his eightieth Year; and he had maintained the King while he abode at Mahanaim, for he was a very great Man.

33. The King therefore ſaid to him, Do thou paſs on with me, that I may maintain thee with me at Jeruſalem.

34. And Barzillai anſwered him; How much Time is my whole Life, that I ſhould go up with the King to Jeruſalem.

35. I am at this Time in my eightieth Year, do I diſtinguiſh between Good and Ill? Can thy Servant taſte what I eat, and what I drink? Shall I hearken any more to the Voices of Men-ſingers and Women-ſingers? Why then ſhould thy Servant be yet a Burden to my Lord the King?

36. Thy Servant will paſs a little over

Jordan with the King: for why ſhould he requite me with this Recompence?

37. Let thy Servant return, I pray, that I may die in my own City, by the Grave of my Father and Mother; but behold let thy Servant Chimham go along with my Lord the King, and do for him what thou likeſt.

38. Accordingly the King anſwered, Chimham ſhall go along with me, that I may do for him what I like; nay whatever thou ſhalt chooſe of me, I will do for thee.

39. Thus all the People paſſed over Jordan, as did the King; who having kiſſed Barzillai, and bleſſed him, he returned to his Place.

40. Moreover the King went on to Gilgal, as Chimham did with him; all the People of Judah conveying the King, and alſo half thoſe of Iſrael.

41. And behold all the Men of Iſrael came to the King, and ſaid to him, Why did our Brethren the Men of Judah ſteal thee away, and have the King and his Houſhold over Jordan, and all David's Men with him?

42. To whom all the Men of Judah gave anſwer, It was becauſe the King is kin to us; and why are you angry for this Matter? Have we eat at all of the King's? Has he given us any Gift?

43. But the Men of Iſrael made reply to them, We have ten Parts in the King, and have even more in David than you; why then did you make us contemptible, and not have our Advice firſt to bring the King back? However the Words of the Men of Judah were too hard for thoſe of the Men of Iſrael.

CHAP. XX.

NOW it fell out that an ungodly Man was there, whoſe Name was Sheba, the Son of Bichri, a Benjaminite; who blew a Trumpet, and ſaid, We have no Part in David, nor have we Poſſeſſion in the Son of Jeſſe; Away to your reſpective Tents, O Iſrael.

2. With that all the Men of Iſrael went up from after David, following him; but the Men of Judah adhered to their King, from Jordan even to Jeruſalem.

3. And when David came to his Houſe at Jeruſalem, he took the ten Concubines, whom he left to keep it, and put them in a Houſe of Cuſtody, and maintained them, but went not in to them; thus were they confined to the Day of their Death, in a Life of Widowhood.

4. Then ſaid the King to Amaſa, Call to me the Men of Judah in three Days, and do thou attend here.

5. Accordingly Amaſa went to call them, but he ſtaid above the ſet Time that he appointed him.

6. Therefore David ſaid to Abiſhai, Now will Sheba the Son of Bichri do us more Hurt than Abſalom; take thy Lord's Servants, and purſue after him, leſt he ſhould find for himſelf ſome fortified City, and eſcape from our Sight.

7. So there went out of Jeruſalem, to purſue after him, Joab's Men, with the Cherethites, Pelethites, and all the ſtout ones.

8. Theſe were by the great Stone that is at Gibeon, Amaſa going before them; when Joab was girded with his Garment that he wore, which was a Girdle, with a Sword hanging at his Side in its Sheath, and as he went along, it fell out.

9. And he ſaid to Amaſa, Art thou well, my Brother? And took hold of him by the Beard with the right Hand, to kiſs him.

10. But Amaſa not taking heed to the Sword which was in Joab's Hand, he ſtabbed him with it at the ſhort Ribs, and ſhed out his Bowels to the Ground, ſo that without repeating it to him, he died; then Joab, and Abiſhai his Brother, purſued after Sheba the Son of Bichri.

11. Moreover one of the young Men of Joab ſtood by him, and ſaid, Whoſoever is pleaſed with Joab; and whoſoever is for David, let him follow Joab.

12. And Amaſa rolled in Blood within the Road; but the Man ſeeing that all the People who came by him ſtood ſtill, he carried him aſide thence into the Field, and threw a Garment over him.

13. When he was taken away out of the Road, all the Men paſſed on after Joab, to purſue after that Sheba.

15. They went then, and laid ſiege againſt him in Abel of Beth-maachah, and made a Rampart at the City, which ſtood in a Fort; and all the People who were with Joab were overthrowing the Wall, to make it fall.

16. Upon this a wiſe Woman called out of the City; Hear you, hear, tell Joab, I pray, Come near hither, that I may ſpeak to thee.

17. And when he was come near her, the Woman aſked, Art thou Joab? Who anſwered, I am: then replied ſhe to him, Hear the Words of thy Handmaid; and he ſaid, I do.

18. They uſed to ſpeak thus, ſays ſhe, formerly, Let them throughly enquire at Abel, and finiſh ſo.

19. I am of the peaceable faithful ones of Iſrael: thou art endeavouring to deſtroy a City and a Mother in Iſrael; why wouldeſt thou devour the Poſſeſſion of the Lord?

20. To this Joab made anſwer; Far be it, far be it from me, that I ſhould devour, or deſtroy.

21. The Matter is not ſo; for a Man of Mount Ephraim, named Sheba the Son of Bichri, has lifted up his Hand againſt King David: do thou deliver him up only, and I will go from the City. And the Woman ſaid to him, Behold his Head ſhall be thrown to thee by the Wall.

22. At which ſhe went to all the People in her Wiſdom, and they cut off his Head, and threw to Joab; who blew a Trumpet, and they diſperſed from the City to their reſpective Tents: Joab alſo returned to Jeruſalem to the King.

23. And he was over all the Army of Iſrael, and Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada over both the Cherethites and Pelethites,

CHAP. XXI.

THERE was beſides a Famine in the Time of David three Years, Year after Year, ſo that he ſought the Preſence of the Lord; who ſaid, It is for Saul, and for the bloody Family, becauſe he put the Gibeonites to death,

2. Upon which the King called the Gibeonites, that he might ſpeak to them; now they being not of the Iſraelites, but of the Remnant of the Amorites, to whom the Iſraelites had ſworn, Saul endeavoured to ſlay them in his Zeal for the Poſterity of Iſrael and Judah.

3. And David aſked them, What ſhall I do for you? And with what ſhall I make atonement, that you may bleſs the Poſſeſſion of the Lord?

4. Whom the Gibeonites anſwered, We will have no Silver or Gold of Saul, or of his Family, and thou ſhalt put no Man to death for us in Iſrael. And he replied, What you require, I will do for you.

5. Then they ſaid to the King; The Man who conſumed us, and who contrived againſt us, that we might be deſtroyed from placing our ſelves in any of the Bounds of Iſrael;

6. Let ſeven Men of his Sons be given to us, that we may hang them to the Lord in Gibeah of Saul, the choſen one of the Lord; to which the King ſaid, I will give them.

7. Nevertheleſs he ſpared Mephiboſheth, the Son of Jonathan, Saul's Son; for the Oath of the Lord which was between them, namely himſelf and Jonathan the Son of Saul.

8. So the King took the two Sons of Rizpah the Daughter of Aiah, whom ſhe bore to Saul, Armoni and Mephiboſheth, and the five Sons of Michal's Siſter the Daughter of Saul, whom ſhe bore to Adriel the Son of Barzillai the Meholathite.

9. And he delivered them up into the Power of the Gibeonites, who hanged them on the Mountain before the Lord, ſo that they fell ſeven of them together; and were put to death in the firſt Days of Harveſt, at the Beginning of Barley-harveſt.

Aiah took Sackcloth, and ſpread out for her on the Rock, from the Beginning of Harveſt till Water was poured out upon them from Heaven; and did not ſuffer the Fowls of the Air to reſt upon them by Day, nor the Beaſts of the Field by Night.

11. And it was told David what Rizpah the Daughter of Aiah, Saul's Concubine, did.

12. He then went, and took the Bones of Saul, and thoſe of Jonathan his Son, from the Owners of Jabeſh-gilead; who had ſtolen them from the Street of Beth-ſhan, where the Philiſtines hanged them up, at the Time they ſlew Saul on Gilboa.

13. And he brought up their Bones from thence; they alſo gathered up the Bones of theſe who were hanged.

14. The Bones of Saul, and Jonathan his Son, they buried too in the Country of Benjamin at Zela, in the Grave of Kiſh his Father, and did all that the King commanded: after which God was intreated for the Country.

15. And the Philiſtines had War again with Iſrael; when David going down, accompanied with his Servants, fought with them, and he became faint.

16. Moreover Iſhbi-benob, who was of the Sons of a Giant, the Weight of whoſe Spear was three hundred Shekels Weight of Braſs, and he girded with new, even ſaid he would ſlay David.

17. But Abiſhai the Son of Zeruiah helped him, and beat the Philiſtine, and killed him; then David's Men ſwore thus to him, Thou ſhalt not go out with us again to Battle, that thou mayeſt not quench the Lamp of Iſrael.

18. And after this there was a Battle again at Gob with the Philiſtines; then Sibbechai the Huſhathite ſlew Saph, who was of the Children of the Giant.

19. There was alſo a Battle again at Gob with the Philiſtines; and Elhanan the Son of Jaarim of the Weavers a Beth-lehemite, ſlew the Brother of Goliath the Gittite, the Handle of whoſe Spear was like a Weaver's Beam.

20. Nay there was a Battle again at Gath; where was a Man of great Dimenſion, the Fingers of whoſe Hands and the Toes of whoſe Feet were by ſixes, being twenty four in Number, and he was likewiſe born to the Giant.

21. And he reproached Iſrael; but Jonathan the Son of Shimea David's Brother ſlew him.

22. Theſe four were born to a Giant at Gath, and fell by the Hand of David, and thoſe of his Servants.

CHAP. XXII.

AND David ſpoke to the Lord the Words of this Poem, when he had reſcued him from the Power of all his Enemies, with that of Saul, as follow:

2. The Lord is my firm Place, and my Fortification, as alſo my Deliverer;

3. The God of my Rock, in whom I will truſt; my Shield, and the Horn of my Salvation, my high Place, and my Refuge, my Saviour, that ſaveſt me from Violence.

4. I will call upon the Lord, who is to be praiſed; ſo ſhall I be ſaved from my Enemies.

5. When the Waves of Death ſurrounded me, the Floods of Ungodlineſs terrified me;

6. The Pangs of the Grave compaſſed me, the Snares of Death prevented me:

7. I called upon the Lord in my Diſtreſs, and called out to my God; and he heard my Voice from his Temple, and my crying out was in his Ears.

8. Then the Earth ſhook, and moved; the Foundations of the Heavens trembled, Ver. 13. hanged] that is the ſeven beforementioned, the Verb being the ſame uſed concerning them, Ver. 6, 9. and different from that uſed concerning Saul and Jonathan, Ver. 12.

Ver. 16. new] Poole ſays, rather with a new Girdle than Sword; but I think rather with new Armour in general, in which Caſe the Subſtantive may be omitted, as it is in Hebrew.

Ver. 19. of the Weavers] for why ſhould it not be tranſlated? And there is [of] according to the Hebrew, which being made, after the Manner of that Language, in the Word before, accounts for its Difference from that in 1 Chron. xx. 5. and alſo ſerves to confute the Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text, who ſticks not to ſay the Words there have evidently been corrupted into the Words now found in Samuel, and that oregim was taken into the middle of the Verſe from the End of it, by Overſight (or Underſight) after the foregoing Word was writ, p. 79, 80. ſince it is much more probable to ſuppoſe, that Word is written otherwiſe than in Chron. for the Conſtruction or joining it with this, than for Nothing. So that this Author may be a little too bold in affirming, when he has placed the Words in Chron. and Sam. together, The Corruption is now evident to every Eye, when it is ſtrange the following את ſhould be into בית and אחי into את What did the Tranſcriber think one Letter was two, and preſently that two were one, and this in ſuch ſhort Words? when the Senſe of the Words, and the Shape of the Letters too, are ſo unlike, &c?

9. Smoak went up through his Noſe, and Fire out of his Mouth conſumed; by which Coals were kindled.

10. He alſo bended the Heavens, and came down; there being a Miſt under his Feet.

11. Beſides he rode on a Cherub, and did fly; nay was ſeen upon the Wings of the Wind.

12. And he made Darkneſs Tabernacles round about him, cloſe Waters, thick Clouds of the Skies.

13. By the Brightneſs that was before him, were kindled Coals of Fire.

14. The Lord thundered from the Heavens, and the Higheſt gave forth his Voice.

15. He alſo ſent Arrows, and diſperſed them; Lightning, and routed them.

16. Even the Channels of the Sea were ſeen, the Foundations of the World diſcovered; with the Rebuke of the Lord, by the Blaſt of the Breath of his Noſe.

17. Sending from on high, he took me, drew me out of much Water.

18. He reſcued me from my ſtout Enemy, from thoſe who hated me; becauſe they were too ſtrong for me.

19. Who prevented me at the Time of my Calamity; but the Lord was a Staff to me.

20. And brought me out to a large Place, delivering me; for he delighted in me.

21. The Lord recompenſed me according to my Virtue: he rendered to me after the Purity of my Hands.

22. For I obſerved the Ways of the Lord, and was not wicked contrary to my God.

23. All his Judgments were likewiſe before me; as for his Ordinances, I did not depart from them.

24. Nay I was perfect towards him, and kept my ſelf from having Iniquity.

25. So the Lord rendered to me according to my Virtue, after my Purity before his Eyes.

26. To the kind one thou ſheweſt thy ſelf kind, to the perfect Man perfect,

27. To the pure one pure, and to him who is perverſe froward.

28. Since thou doſt ſave the afflicted People, and thy Eyes are upon the haughty, that thou mayeſt humble them.

29. Thou art alſo my Candle, O Lord; and the Lord makes my Darkneſs bright.

30. By thee too I run through a Troop; by my God I leap over a Wall.

31. As for God, his Way is perfect, the Word of the Lord is tried: he is a Shield to all that truſt in him.

32. For who is God beſides the Lord? And who the Rock beſides our God?

33. It is God is my Strength, Ability, and diſengages my Way to be perfect;

34. Making my Feet as the Hinds, and ſetting me upon my eminent Places.

35. He teaches my Hands War: and a ſteel Bow has been broken by my Arms.

36. And thou haſt given me the Shield of thy Salvation, and thy Mildneſs has made me great.

37. Thou enlargeſt my Steps under me; inſomuch that my Ankles do not ſlip.

38. I purſue my Enemies, and deſtroy them; nay do not return till they are conſumed.

39. Thus I conſume them, and ſtrike them, ſo that they cannot get up: and they fall down under my Feet.

40. For thou girdeſt me with Ability for War; overthroweſt them under me that riſe up againſt me.

41. And thou haſt given me the Necks of my Enemies, that I may cut off thoſe who hate me.

42. They look about, but none ſaves; to the Lord, but he does not anſwer them:

43. While I beat them ſmall, as the Duſt of the Ground; ſtamp them, kick them about, as the Dirt of the Streets.

44. And thou deliverеſt me from the Contentions of my People; keepeſt me to be the Head of the Gentiles: a People that I knew not ſerve me.

45. Strangers ſubmit themſelves to me: they hearken to me by the Report of the Ear;

46. Who decay, and for fear ſhake out of their cloſe Places.

47. The Lord lives, and bleſſed is my Rock: ſo let the God of the Rock of my Salvation be exalted.

48. It is God renders Vengeance for me, and brings down the People under me;

49. As alſo brings me forth from my Enemies: and thou doſt exalt me above them that riſe up againſt me; reſcueſt me from the very violent Man.

51. He makes the Salvation of his King great; and will ſhew Kindneſs to David his anointed one, and his Offspring for ever.

CHAP. XXIII.

AND theſe are David's laſt Words. David the Son of Jeſſe ſays, and the Man raiſed up high, the anointed one of the God of Jacob, and the pleaſant Pſalmiſt of Iſrael ſays:

2. The Spirit of the Lord ſpeaks by me, and his Word is on my Tongue.

3. The God of Iſrael ſays, the Rock of Iſrael tells me; He who rules over Men ſhould be righteous, ruling with the Fear of God.

4. Who is as the Light of the Morning, when the Sun riſes; a Morning without Clouds, by the Brightneſs after Rain on the tender Graſs out of the Earth.

5. For though my Family be not ſo with God, he has made an everlaſting Covenant with me, ſet in order in all Things, and preſerved: for it is all my Safety, and is all Delight; though he ſhould not make it increaſe.

6. Whereas the Ungodly are all of them as Thorns removed with a Tool, becauſe they cannot be taken away by the Hand;

7. But the Man's who meddles with them muſt be filled with the Iron and Wood of a Fork, and they are wholly burnt with Fire in the Place.

8. Theſe are the Names of the ſtout Men whom David had: He that ſate in the Seat the Tahchemonite, the chief of the Captains, who at his Pleaſure had the Handle of his Spear againſt eight hundred, that were ſlain at one Time.

9. And after him was Eleazar the Son of Dodo, the Son of an Ahohite; who was one

---

Ver. 51. makes—great] a Verb the ſame as in Pſa. xviii. ult. by Buxtorf's Concordance, and is ſo rendered by Pagn. Munſt. Caſtal. as alſo in the Vulg. and Tigurin Bibles. Nay if the Marginal Reading migdol be allowed, there is no ſuch Word elſewhere for Tower, but always migdal, from which this differs in Hebrew, both in a Conſonant and Vowel.

Ver. 1. laſt Words] nempe verba prophetiæ, that is of Propheſying, as Grotius writes.

Ver. 4. when the Sun riſes] or the Sun riſing. The Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text labours hard to ſhew that Jehovah is here left out, by the differing Copies of the Septuagint, which he owns to be unintelligible, and would have it be, And as the Morning Light ſhall Jehovah, the Sun, ariſe; ſo turning off from the Subject treated on, nay making it inconſiſtent with the Beginning of the next Verſe. The ſenſeleſs Things he mentions belong, and ſtill with Jehovah added, to his own Tranſlation, Is not the Sun the Light of the Morning, &c. p. 468—471. for is The Sun ſhall ariſe as the Sun proper? Or is the Cauſe, being ſpiritual, compared to the natural Effect?

Ib. on the tender Graſs] As the Morning Sun-ſhine on the young Graſs after Rain, ſo is the Government of a good Prince among the People.

Ver. 5. is all Delight] being without my, and how preferable!

Ver. 6. removed] The proper Meaning, in proper Senſe.

Ver. 7. filled] ſo the Hebrew, and conſequently is to be referred to Hand.

Ib. a Fork] a ſpear, to do what? to fight with the Buſhes? If the Hebrew Word commonly ſignifies Spear, that is a very good Reaſon for its ſignifying Fork on Occaſion, and here appears a Neceſſity for it; as a Fork is the Utenſil to carry away or lift up Thorns. Since our Fork alſo is an Inſtrument with either two or three Spikes, why may not the Hebrew Hanith be with one or more?

Ver. 8. He that ſate in the Seat] His Name Jaſhobeam may ſignify he ſate with, and might be made from this Joſheb-baſhebeth, which ſome alſo have counted a proper Name; but being two Words, and ſo directly grammatical, rather ſeem not ſo. The Vulgate has David ſitting or who ſate, ſilly! making David one of his own ſtout Men.

Ib. Captains] The Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text does not only alter one Paſſage of Scripture by another, and that other by the firſt; but the Hebrew Words for this and that in 1 Chron. xi. 11. being ſomething different in the Letters, he poſitively aſſerts they are both corrupted, as this ſignifies the third, and that thirty, p. 83. without taking any Notice of their meaning Captains.

Ib. at his Pleaſure] Neither Jun. and Trem. Caſtal. Munſt. the Vulg. nor Tigurin Verſions are ſo abſurd as to make this Jaſhobeam's Name: the former tranſlate, huic gratum fuit invadere octingentos, it was pleaſant to him to fall upon eight hundred; but that is not literal like this. A Miſtake.

Ib. Handle] or Wood, according to the Meaning of the Hebrew; he being a Tahchemonite, not an Eznite.

Ib. eight hundred, that were ſlain] 300 by him as the ſtouteſt, 1 Chron. xi. 11. and the other 500 by Eleazar and Shammah: for the Hebrew does not ſay whom he ſlew, but only ſlain, or who were ſlain. The Attempt of the Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text to ſhew that eight is a Corruption from three, is unworthy of a fair Critick: for could שלש had that been the right Reading here, have been miſtaken for שמנה was לש taken to be מנה by the Likeneſs of the Letters? And did not the Tranſcriber know two Letters from three? What if a ſingle Letter was put for the whole Number, which is firſt to be proved the Manner of the Hebrew Bible formerly, as it is not now, did he then think ש was ך and were all Copies that are in Being made from that ſingle falſe one? Or ſhall it be ſuppoſed done deſignedly? Who then would alter 300 into 800 againſt Chron. or without altering it there alſo? Indeed who would have ſo increaſed the Number? All utterly improbable to be done! And no Copy, out of the many this Writer had ſearched, nay no Verſion found with 300 here. But he would prove it by two other extraneous Numbers owing to Miſtakes in the ſimilar Letters, p. 97. while ש and ך are not ſo, nor can he prove thoſe Numbers are miſtaken; or if they were, that would not ſhew this to be.

Ver. 9. the Son of an Ahohite] as it is here, though not in 1 Chron. xi. 12. and Eleazar being this, was conſequently the other.

of the three ſtout Men with David, when they reproached the Philiſtines that were gathered there to Battle, and the Men of Iſrael went away up.

10. He got ready, and beat the Philiſtines until his Hand was weary, and it cleaved to the Sword, ſo that the Lord wrought great Preſervation that Day; and the People turned back after him only to ſpoil.

11. After him too was Shammah the Son of Age the Hararite; and the Philiſtines being gathered into a Company, where Part of the Field was full of Lentiles, and the People being fled from the Preſence of the Philiſtines,

12. He ſtood within the Part, and delivering it, beat the Philiſtines; ſo that the Lord wrought great Preſervation.

13. Moreover the three chief above the thirty went down, and came at Harveſt to David, at the Cave of Adullam; the Company of the Philiſtines encamping in the Giants Vale.

14. David alſo was then in the Fortreſs and the Garriſon of the Philiſtines was then at Beth-lehem.

15. And David longing, ſaid, Oh that I could drink Water out of the Ciſtern of Beth-lehem, which is at the Gate!

16. With that the three ſtout Men broke through the Camp of the Philiſtines, and drew Water out of the ſame; which taking up, they brought to David: nevertheleſs he would not drink it, but poured it out to the Lord.

17. For he ſaid, Far be it from me, O Lord, that I ſhould do this; is it not the Blood of the Men who went in Danger of

Ib. when they reproached] This Hebrew בחרפם is imagined by the Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text to be corrupted from בפס דמים at Paſdammim, 1 Chron. xi. 13. but could any Tranſcriber ſo miſtake? The ד and ר he ſays, are frequently miſtaken; What in a different Place, and in the next Word as it were? that I deny. He goes on, The ם is only diſtinguiſh'd from a ח by its union at the bottom; but I deny that too, for the Sides of the former are both curved, of the latter both ſtraight, and the right Corner of that at the Top round, of this ſquare; and the black Lines to write on, pretended elſewhere to miſlead the Tranſcribers, would not, I preſume, make the Bottom of the ם appear white or open. The ו ſays he alſo, is frequently omitted in Nouns of the Plural Number; ſeldom would have been much truer, however this is not omitted. To make this important Piece of Work compleat, he had the left Side of the מ it ſeems, in his Printer's Type, almoſt filed or cut away, which brings it, quoth he, very nearly to a פ p. 137. but ſurely he might have left the very out, and if the Tranſcribers formerly wrote Mem ſo, it may be thought they knew it from a Pe; nay ם being taken to be מ Ver. 27. ſhews that the latter had the ſame Form as now. But beſides theſe Miſtakes, to fall out thus marvellouſly together, he has miſſed (for a good Reaſon no doubt) the greateſt, a whole Letter (which with the Yod are really two) not in this pretended Corruption; a Corruption alſo for which he brings no Copy nor Verſion to ſhew it ſo. However he pleads the [there,] directly relative to ſome Place; yes to with David. As for there being here no Nominative Caſe to the following Verb, it is at moſt but the Relative to Philiſtines underſtood, as divers Times in the Hebrew Bible.

Ib. and the Men] This as far as to where Part in Ver. 11. is reckoned by the Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text to be all left out of 1 Chron. xi. 13. by ſome Tranſcriber; but as he ſays little to prove, the leſs need be ſaid to diſprove it. Yet with great Confidence he has publiſhed, If any one ſhould be diſpos'd to deny this Defect in Chronicles, he need only be deſir'd to make out from that alone the Hiſtory of the 37 Mighty Men, which ſeems abſolutely impoſſible. For Shammah is there omitted, p. 132. But hold a little! for they in Chron. Ver. 14. muſt be at leaſt another beſides Eleazar, and ſo will not make fewer than Shammah, as the whole Number will keep it from making more; and they is confirmed by three plural Verbs, which our Critick indeed, to make thorough Work, ſays ſhould be ſingular, but poorly ſupports it by ſaying, the LXX being ſingular (he muſt mean their Verſion is ſo, for otherwiſe 70 are plural) is a plain Proof of it, p. 142. for is their Tranſlation a plain Proof, againſt all the Copies of the Original, even his ſeventy applauded ones, and againſt all other Tranſlations? Are they, whom he himſelf complains ſo much of for being wrong, a Proof that they are right? I may add, it is well known that the firſt Book of Chronicles abounds with Fragments only of Hiſtory. An Argument alſo againſt the Omiſſion is, that שם there is not put in 1 Chron. xi. 13. with Part (though our common Tranſlation has where as here in Ver. 11.) apparently becauſe שם is but the third Word before in the Hebrew, which would not have been the Caſe, had this in Sam. been alſo in Chron. and accordingly שם is in Sam. Ver. 11.

Ver. 11. Part of the Field] which the Hebrew properly ſignifying, makes Lentiles here accord well with Barley, 1 Chron. xi. 13. ſo inconſiſtent in the common Tranſlation.

Ver. 13. the three] theſe three according to the Tranſlations of Caſt. Coverd. and Jun. and Trem. and otherwiſe Abiſhai ſlaying 300, Ver. 18. might have been as great as the firſt of thoſe. Beſides the Order of the Matter, and no other Names being mentioned, may ſhew it, and eſpecially theſe things in the plural Number, Ver. 17. and ſo it is to be underſtood as in the 16th Verſe; as likewiſe our Tranſlators have added theſe to them in the 17th Verſe.

Ib. the three Chief above the thirty] So I had expreſsly rendered it before I read The preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text, and I ſuppoſe divers Years before the Author wrote it; it may therefore be ſome Confirmation to the Reader that we ſo exactly agree; ſee that, p. 146, 147, 148.

Ib. Company] From troop in the common Engliſh, which it does not appear that היה ought for certain to be render'd any where in the Bible, ſays the Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text; he takes Occaſion to plead for its being corrupted from מחנה in Chron. but could any Tranſcriber think מ ג was ?

Ver. 15. The 70, ſays the Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text, have here a Clauſe which is not in the Original, but is very improperly repeated from the preceding Verſe.

Ib. longing] The Vulgate ſays for Water from the Lake. Theſe Books of the Scripture being leſs minded than ſeveral others, and having fewer Commentators to watch them, as I may term it, has given Liberty for more Corruptions to creep in.

Ver. 17. who went] This ſeems foiſted in, ſays the Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text, to make the Paſſage Senſe, but even with it that is apparently incompleat; which latter deſtroys the Probability of the former, and is Senſe defective in Senſe?

their Lives? Therefore he would not drink it. Theſe Things the three ſtout ones did.

18. Abiſhai likewiſe the Brother of Joab, the Son of Zeruiah, was the chief of three, who brandiſhed his Spear againſt three hundred that were ſlain; ſo that he had a Name among the three.

19. Was it not becauſe he was the moſt honourable of the three, that he became the Captain of them? However he did not get to thoſe three.

20. And Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada, a Man's Son of Kabzeel, who lived with great Exploits; he ſlew two ſtout Moabites, he alſo went down and ſlew a Lion within a Pit on a ſnowy Day.

21. Beſides he ſlew an Egyptian Man, one of much Appearance, and though there was a Spear in the Egyptian's Hand, he went down to him with a Stick; and taking the Spear by force out of the Egyptian's Hand, he killed him with his own Spear.

22. Theſe Things Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada did, and had a Name among the three ſtout men.

23. He was more honourable than the thirty, but did not get to thoſe three; and David put him at his Hearing.

24. Aſahel the Brother of Joab was over thirty: Elhanan the Son of Dodo of Bethlehem,

25. Shammah the Harodite, Elika the Harodite,

26. Helez the Paltite, Ira the Son of Ikkeſh the Tekoite,

27. Abiezer the Annethothite, Mebunnai the Huſhathite,

28. Zalmon the Ahohite, Maharai the Netophathite,

29. Heleb the Son of Baanah the Netophathite, Ittai the Son of Ribai from Gibeah of the Benjaminites,

30. Benaiah a Pirathonite, Hiddai from the Brooks of Gaaſh,

31. Abi-albon the Arbathite, Azmaveth the Barhumite,

32. Eliahba the Shaalbonite, of the Sons of Jaſhen Jonathan,

Ver. 23. Hearing] The preſent Tranſlation has this Word after the ſame manner bidding, 1 Sam. xxii. 14. but this is the Meaning of it; and ſo Pagn. tranſlates literally, ad auditum ſuum, at his Hearing; Leo Judæ, ut eſſent audiens ei, that he might be hearing him; which is explained in the Margin, that he might ſtand by ready, and hear the King's Orders.

Ver. 24. Aſahel] the loweſt of the ſecond three; as it would be unaccountable that one of them ſhould be omitted, when thirty meaner ones are particularized.

Ib. over] For it is impoſſible, ſays the Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text well, that Aſahel ſhould be one of or among the Thirty, p. 178.

Ib. thirty] as a round Number, he being over the thirty one who follow.

Ver. 27. Mebunnai] It may be allowed to the Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text, from Ch. xxi. 18. 1 Chron. xi. 29. & xx. 4. & xxvii. 11. that the right Name at firſt was Sibbechai; nay that this מבני was a Corruption from that סבכי by the Likeneſs of the Letters, I ſhall not diſpute with him. Yet the Miſtake might fall out before the Time of Ezra and the Pointing, as it is manifeſt ſuch did, if he put the Keris or Marginal Readings, to whom they may be beſt aſſigned; nay the Error might ariſe in ſome other Writing, before this Part of the Scripture was indited, whereby this Man, as alſo others, might have two Names, which might therefore be retained in the Bible. It is not credible this Alteration was made after the Uſe of the Hebrew Points, by reaſon of the different Vowels; and if the Vowel-Points had been a late Invention, how could the Jews of that Time have this Reading of e, and u, and ſingle b, and double n, otherwiſe than i, and e, and double b, and ſingle c, in Chron? And who will pretend that the very diligent Maſſorites did not compare theſe Places together, and ſo would have made Points alike, had they been the Authors of them? But Ezra putting the Vowels according to the Pronunciation in Uſe, when Hebrew was the Mother-Tongue of the Jews, makes the Matter clear and ſatisfactory. I ſuppoſe this came to be מבני as ſignifying one of the Sons of, and is accordingly rendered in the Greek, which makes ſome Senſe, though the Author of State &c. ſays none; and that Senſe ſeems to have promoted the Change, not merely the Similitude of the Letters.

Ver. 28. Zalmon] This צלמון does the Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text in his Manner, ſuppoſe corrupted from עילי which is in 1 Chron. xi. 29. p. 188, 189. though in pag. 207. he writes, It is a confeſs'd Maxim with all good Critics, that Something may much more eaſily be omitted than added; nay thus he reckons mon added in, and the 3d Verſe after bon left out in Chron. While it is no Wonder in the Scripture for a Man to have two Names.

Ver. 30. a Pirathonite] Here being not the Article ה as in 1 Chron. xi. 31. but here being י at the End of Benaiah, as it is an Augment in ſeveral Scripture Names, the Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text ſays, it is certainly part of the ה at the beginning of this Word: for ſuch ſtrange Conceits are familiar with him.

Ver. 32. Shaalbonite] The Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text remarks well here, That the Learned ſeem to have drawn an unanſwerable Argument againſt the Greek Verſion's being the Work of One Man, or the Work of Many concurring in the ſame Method of tranſlating, from that great Difference, which is found thro' the ſeveral Books of the Old Teſtament, in the Greek Expreſſion of the very ſame Proper Names. For in this, and the adjoining Verſes, we ſee that the Tranſlator of Chronicles renders the Local Names by a Literal Expreſſion of the Hebrew Words; but the Tranſlator of Samuel gives them a Greek Termination, p. 197, 198.

Ver. 33. Shammah] the Son of Shage, 1 Chron. xi. 34. which makes them agree; but the Author of State &c. tranſlates, Jonathan (from the foregoing Verſe) the ſon of Shamha, ſuppoſing him the ſame as in Chap. xxi. 21. 1 Chron. xx. 7. which is not to be ſo readily granted, foraſmuch as the Father of that Jonathan was שמעא this שמה, and were עא and ה not known apart in Tranſcribing? beſides that this Jonathan would thus be diſtinguiſhed from that, by being called the Hararite. As here is the foregoing Author's triumphant Inſtance, that the Hebrew Verſes are not rightly parted, p. 244. he may ſeek for another.

CHAP. XXIV.

AND the Lord was again angry with Iſrael: for David was ſtirred up thus againſt them, Go, number Iſrael and Judah.

2. Whereupon the King ſaid to Joab the Captain of the Army, who was with him, Go about now through all the Tribes of Iſrael, from Dan to Beer-ſheba, and muſter the People; that I may know the Number of them.

3. However Joab ſaid to him, Now the Lord thy God add to the People, as both theſe and thoſe are, a hundred-fold, which let the Eyes of my Lord the King ſee; but why does he delight in this Thing?

4. Nevertheleſs the King's Word became earneſt with Joab, and againſt the Captains of the Army; inſomuch that he and they went out before him, to muſter the People of Iſrael,

5. And they paſſed over Jordan, and encamped at Aroer, on the right Hand of the City, which is within the Valley of Gad, and towards Jazer.

6. Next they went to Gilead, and the lower new Country; as they did alſo to Dan-jaan, and round about to Zidon.

7. Moreover they went to the Fortreſs of Tyre, and all the Cities of the Hivites and Canaanities; they went forth likewiſe into the South of Judah to Beer-ſheba.

8. Thus having gone about through all the Country, they came at the End of nine Months and twenty Days to Jeruſalem.

9. And Joab gave the Number of the Muſtering of the People to the King, that there were of Iſrael eight hundred thouſand Men of Ability drawing forth a Sword, and

Ver. 34. the Son of a Maachathite] another beſides Eliphelet, named Hepher, as may appear by 1 Chron. xi. 36. there being three between Ahiam and Hezro or Hezrai the Carmelite, and accordingly ſo many in this Verſe; beſides the Likeneſs of the Names Maachathite and Mecherathite. Nay there are but thirty ſix named beſides this, Ver. 39.

Ver. 36. Son] The Nathan of whom he is recorded to be the Brother, 1 Chron. xi. 38. may ſeem ſome noted Man, and that his Father ſhould be alſo Nathan, as here, is Nothing ſtrange; ſo that we need not be obliged to the Author of State &c. for reconciling theſe Words, by a careleſs Tranſcriber's writing Son inſtead of Brother, pag. 213.

The Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text having pointed out the Miſtakes and Corruptions, as he ſays, in this and the correſpondent Chapter in Chron. denies he ſhould receive any Satisfaction from the Diſcovery or Publication of them. Such a Satisfaction, in general, adds he, would be ungenerous; but, in the preſent caſe, it would be impious, p. 242. Yet after I find him ſaying, I muſt confeſs, that I was agreeably ſurpriz'd at this Diſcovery, viz. of other Readings than the common Hebrew, which he had recommended, as true, upon Conjecture, p. 262. Was that no ſuch Satisfaction then to him? Further he ſays, Would he (meaning himſelf) not wiſh to find this the real ſtate of the Caſe? that the ancient written Heb. Copies (imaginary ones) from whence the ancient Verſions were made, contain'd the True Readings in thoſe places, where our later written or printed Copies have been corrupted, p. 266. Again, It muſt be a proper Foundation for Satisfaction and Joy (which he repeats) to find that the Difficulties and Obſtructions in the printed (Heb.) Copies of the Old Teſtament, are not ſo neceſſarily owing to Moſes and the Prophets, p. 270, 271. And ſuch as have a ſufficient Veneration for the Scripture, may not think I have ſaid too much in Vindication of it, when they hear he declares, That there have been made in the printed Hebrew Bibles, very many and very material Miſtakes, which have greatly injur'd the true Senſe, p. 247.

Ver. 39. thirty and ſeven] The common Engliſh has but 30 beſides the 6 chief ones, but this Tranſlation having one more in Ver. 34. and another in 1 Chron. xi. 27. makes 37 in each Book, ending with Uriah there as here. The Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text indeed reckons Joab for the firſt, to make up 37, who is not mentioned in all this Chapter, nor in two before, but is found at the third back in another Catalogue; ſo that ſuch an Interpretation is doing Violence to common Underſtanding. And becauſe this Author would have Eliphal and Hepher in 1 Chron. xi. 35, 36. to be but one, by a monſtrous Alteration of the Hebrew, he reckons in Zabad after Uriah, 1 Chron. Ver. 41. to make up the 37, p. 183. when at that Rate he might have brought in fifteen more.

Ver. 1. was ſtirred up] by Satan, 1 Chron. xxi. 1. not by the Lord, as the common Tranſlation has it (or is very abſurd) in Oppoſition to that Text: ſo Caſt. renders it paſſively impulſus eſt; Jun. and Trem. cum incitaſſet Adverſarius, Davidem, when the Adverſary had ſtirred up David; and Grot. ſays, activum pro paſſivo, ut ſæpe, id eſt, commotus eſt, nempe a diabolo; it is active for paſſive, as often, that is, was moved, to wit by the Devil.

Ib. thus] not to ſay, at leaſt the Original is not ſo; but he was prompted thus by the Tempter.

Ib. number] That David had the People numbered through Pride, or a vain Confidence in them, appears by the Words of Joab, 1 Chron. xxi. 3. as well as the juſt Puniſhment of it; ſee the Note on Ver. 17. Nay a Plague was in a manner threatened, when the People ſhould be numbered without giving a Ranſom each, Exod. xxx. 12.

Ver. 6. the lower new Country] See 1 Chron. xxi. 10.

Ver. 9. that there were] Divers Inſtances lead me to think that the Books of the Chronicles were compoſed from ſome private Memoirs, and that theſe of Samuel and the Kings were a publick and general Hiſtory, though in Epitome from ſome larger Books of Chronicles ſince loſt. According to which I ſuppoſe, thoſe are the true Sums of the People that were numbered in 1 Chron. xxi. 5. and by the Expreſſion were delivered in ſo to David himſelf. But Joab, perhaps with David's Conſent, willing of the Men of Judah five hundred thouſand.

10. But David's Heart ſmote him after he had counted up the People; upon which he ſaid to the Lord, I have ſinned exceedingly in what I have done; yet now, O Lord, take away, I beſeech thee, the Iniquity of thy Servant, for I have done very fooliſhly.

11. And when he roſe up in the Morning, Gad the Prophet, his Seer, had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

12. Go, and ſpeak to David; Thus ſays the Lord, I put on thee three Things, chooſe thee one of them, that I may do to thee.

13. Accordingly Gad came to David, and told him in this manner, Shall there come to thee ſeven Years of Famine in thy Country? Or wilt thou flee three Months before thy Enemies, while they purſue thee? Or ſhall there be three Days Peſtilence in thy Country? Now know, and ſee what Word I ſhall carry back to him who ſent me.

14. And David anſwered him, I am exceedingly diſtreſſed; let us fall now into the Treatment of the Lord, for his Compaſſions are great, and let me not fall into that of Man.

15. So the Lord made a Peſtilence be in Iſrael, from the Morning to the Time appointed; inſomuch that there died of the People, from Dan to Beer-ſheba, ſeventy thouſand Men.

16. But the Angel ſtretching forth his Hand to Jeruſalem to deſtroy it, the Lord was ſorry for the Harm, and ſaid to the Angel who deſtroyed the People, It is a great deal, ceaſe now thy Hand; and the Angel of the Lord was by the Floor of Araunah the Jebuſite.

17. And David ſpoke to the Lord, when he ſaw the Angel who ſmote the People, as follows, Behold I have ſinned, and committed Iniquity; but as for theſe Sheep, what have they done? Let thy Hand, I pray, be on me, and my Father's Family.

18. Then Gad came to David that Day, and ſaid to him, Go up, erect an Altar to the Lord, in the Floor of Araunah the Jebuſite.

19. And David went up according to the Word of Gad, as the Lord commanded.

20. Now when Araunah looking, ſaw the King and his Servants coming on to him, he went out, and bowed down to the King with his Face to the Ground.

21. And Araunah ſaid, Why does my Lord the King come to his Servant? And David anſwered, To buy of thee the Floor, to build an Altar to the Lord, that the Slaughter may be ſtopped from the People.

22. Upon this he replied to David, Let my Lord the King take, and offer up what he likes; ſee the Oxen are for the Burnt-offering, and the Flails and Inſtruments of the Oxen for the Wood.

23. Araunah gave all as a King to the King; he alſo ſaid to the King, The Lord thy God accept thee.

24. But he declared to Araunah, No, for I will wholly buy of thee for a Price; and will not offer to the Lord my God Burnt-offerings for nothing. So David bought the Floor, and the Oxen for fifty Shekels of Silver.

25. Where he built an Altar to the Lord, and offered up Burnt-offerings and Peace-offerings: thus the Lord was intreated for the Country, and the Slaughter was ſtopped from Iſrael.

to make his own Tribe ſeem great in Proportion to the reſt, might enlarge the odd Number of it to 500000, and abate 300000 of the others, which he gave in publickly to the King, as it is ſaid here. He might indeed do this latter firſt, and tell David the true Sums privately afterwards. However the Numbers here ſeem too diſproportionate to the Tribes, to be the real Account: I further obſerve that drawing forth a Sword is omitted here to the Men of Judah, without which Circumſtance ſome might be added to avoid a poſitive Lye; and valiant is added to thoſe of Iſrael, perhaps to leſſen their Sum under that Epithet, in like manner. Other Accounts are too inconſiſtent.

Ver. 12. put on] and not as at 1 Chron. xxi. 10.

Ver. 13. ſeven] It being three in 1 Chron. xxi. 12. See thoſe Numbers reconciled in the Notes on the Chronological Table, Part 4th. But the Author of the preſent State of the printed Hebrew Text ſcoffs at ſuch an Attempt, not ſparing even Archbiſhop Uſher, and falling foully on Buxtorf, though for Nothing that he ſaid to it, ſo piqued was he againſt the Defenders of our Bible. He puts in Capital Letters, to expoſe the latter, that he would have us PIOUSLY BELIEVE EACH IS RIGHT, where he is not ſpeaking of it; and where he ſubjoins, Hiſtoriæ illæ, thoſe Hiſtories, not this, are ſhort Epitomes, at which the Author of State of the printed Heb. thus inſults him, Can we, with any appearance of ſenſe, aſſert that 3 is an hiſtorical Epitome of 7? Then upbraids him with ſaying in pag. 414. of Anticrit. where there is no ſuch Thing, The Truth of a Matter does not conſiſt in Words, by which he may ſeem to mean ſome, to be diſtinct from the following, but in the Sentence, which would be undoubtedly true in There is no God, Pſa. iv. 1. ſee his State of the Heb. p. 473, 474. How unaccountable is it, if the Years, Months and Days, were all here originally 3, for one of them to be altered to 7! even for one numeral ג only to be altered to ז when it does not appear the Scripture was ſo written, the Chald. and old Lat. having likewiſe 7!

Ver. 17. what have they done] Notwithſtanding David takes the Blame on himſelf, the People were guilty, and ſo deſerved the Puniſhment, Ver. 1. for the Lord would not have been angry with them for Nothing.

Ver. 24. fifty] This ſeems to be the firſt Purchaſe of the Oxen only; and when David ſaw that the Lord anſwered him there, 1 Chron. xxi. 28. he alſo bought the Floor and Land, as Ver. 25. to continue ſacrificing in that Place, Ver. xxix. 30.

NOTES upon the FIRST BOOK of the KINGS.

CHAP. I.

NOW King David being advanced in old Age, they covered him with Cloaths, yet he was not warm.

2. Therefore his Servants ſaid to him, Let ſome ſeek out a young Virgin for our Lord the King, that ſhe may ſtand before the King, and be a Helper to him; nay let her lie in thy Boſom, that our Lord the King may be warm.

3. They accordingly ſought for a fair young Woman through all the Bounds of Iſrael, and found Abiſhag the Shunammiteſs, whom they brought to the King.

4. And the young Woman was exceeding fair; and became a Helper to the King, waiting on him, but he had not the knowledge of her.

5. In the mean time Adonijah the Son of Haggith exalted himſelf, ſaying, I will be King; and got him ready Chariots, and Horſemen, with fifty Men to run before him.

6. For his Father had not grieved him at any Time by ſaying, Why didſt thou do this? And he was alſo of very good Features, and was born after Abſalom.

7. Beſides he had Conference with Joab the Son of Zeruiah, and with Abiathar the Prieſt, who following helped Adonijah.

8. However Zadok the Prieſt, Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada, Nathan the Prophet, Shimei, Rei, and the ſtout Men whom David had, were not with him.

9. Moreover he killed Sheep, Oxen, and fat Cattle, at the Stone of Zoheleth, which was by the Fountain of Rogel; and invited all his Brothers the King's Sons, with all the Men of Judah the King's Servants;

10. Excepting Nathan the Prophet, Benaiah, the ſtout Men, and Solomon his Brother.

11. Upon this Nathan ſpoke to Bathſheba, the Mother of Solomon, as follows: Haſt not thou heard that Adonijah the Son of Haggith reigns, of which our Lord David is ignorant?

12. Now therefore come, I pray let me adviſe thee; that thou mayeſt deliver thy own Life, and that of thy Son Solomon.

13. Come, and go in to King David, and ſay to him; Didſt not thou, my Lord O King, ſwear thus to thy Handmaid, Solomon thy Son ſhall reign after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my Throne? And why does Adonijah reign?

14. Behold while thou art ſpeaking there to the King, I will alſo come in after thee, and compleat thy Words.

15. So ſhe went in to the King into the Chamber, he being very old; and Abiſhag the Shunammiteſs waited on him.

16. And Bath-ſheba bowed, and reverenced him; who aſked, What wouldeſt thou have?

17. To whom ſhe ſaid; My Lord, thou ſworeſt by the Lord thy God to thy Handmaid, Solomon thy Son ſhall reign after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my Throne.

18. Yet now behold Adonijah reigns, and now, my Lord O King, unknown to thee.

19. He has alſo killed Oxen, fat Cattle, and Sheep abundantly, and invited all the King's Sons, with Abiathar the Prieſt, and Joab the Captain of the Army; only not thy Servant Solomon.

20. Whereas the Eyes of all Iſrael are upon thee thy ſelf, my Lord O King, to tell them who ſhall ſit upon the Throne of my Lord the King after him.

21. Otherwiſe it will come to paſs, when my Lord the King lies down with his Fathers, that I and my Son Solomon ſhall become Offenders.

22. And behold while ſhe was ſpeaking to the King, Nathan the Prophet alſo came in.

23. With this they told the King, that there was Nathan the Prophet, who coming in before the King, bowed down to him, upon his Face to the Ground,

24. And ſaid; My Lord O King, haſt thou declared, Adonijah ſhall reign after me, and he ſhall ſit upon my Throne?

25. For he is gone down to Day, and has killed Oxen, fat Cattle, and Sheep abundantly, and invited all the King's Sons, the Captains of the Army, and Abiathar the Prieſt; who behold eat and drink before him, and cry out, Let King Adonijah live:

26. Excepting that me my ſelf thy Servant, with Zadok the Prieſt, Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada, and thy Servant Solomon, he has not invited.

27. Is this Matter from my Lord the King, and thou haſt not let thy Servant know, who ſhould ſit upon the Throne of my Lord the King after him?

28. To which King David made anſwer, Call Bath-ſheba to me; who went in before the King, and ſtood before him.

29. When he ſwore thus, By the Lord's living, who has redeemed my Soul out of all Diſtreſs,

30. According as I ſwore to thee by the Lord God of Iſrael, that Solomon thy Son ſhould reign after me, and he ſhould ſit upon my Throne in my room; I will do ſo this Day.

31. Whereupon ſhe bowed with her Face to the Ground, and reverencing him, ſaid, Let my Lord King David live for ever.

32. He likewiſe ſaid, Call to me Zadok the Prieſt, Nathan the Prophet, and Benaiah the Son of Jehoida; who came before the King.

33. And he ſaid to them; Take with you the Servants of your Lord, and cauſe my Son Solomon to ride upon the Mule which belongs to me; and bring him down to Gihon.

34. Where let Zadok the Prieſt, and Nathan the Prophet, anoint him to be King over Iſrael; as alſo blow a Trumpet, and ſay, Let King Solomon live.

35. Then ſhall you aſcend after him, and he ſhall come, and ſit upon my Throne, that he may reign in my room: for I have appointed him to be Ruler both over Iſrael and Judah.

36. And Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada made anſwer to the King; So let it be, may the Lord God of my Lord the King ſay thus.

37. As the Lord has been with my Lord the King, ſo let him be with Solomon, and magnify his Throne above the Throne of my Lord King David.

38. Accordingly Zadok the Prieſt, Nathan the Prophet, Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada, with the Cherethites, and Pelethites went down, and cauſing Solomon to ride upon King David's Mule, brought him to Gihon.

39. And Zadok the Prieſt took a Horn of Oil out of the Tabernacle, and anointed Solomon; then they blew a Trumpet, and all the People ſaid, Let King Solomon live.

40. All the People too came up after him, and played on Pipes, and made great Rejoicing; ſo that the Ground was pierced with their Noiſe.

41. Which Adonijah and all the Gueſts who were with him heard, when they had done eating; and Joab hearing the Sound of the Trumpet, ſaid, Why is the Noiſe in the City, being in a Tumult?

42. While he was ſpeaking, behold alſo Jonathan the Son of Abiathar the Prieſt came; and Adonijah ſaid, Come in, for thou art a valiant Man, and bringeſt good News.

43. But Jonathan made anſwer to him; Verily our Lord King David has made Solomon King.

44. For the King has ſent Zadok the Prieſt, Nathan the Prophet, Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites, and Pelethites with him, whom they cauſed to ride upon the King's Mule.

45. Next Zadok the Prieſt, and Nathan the Prophet anointed him to be King in Gihon, and they are come up from thence rejoicing; ſo that the City is in a Tumult: that is the Noiſe which you have heard.

came to bleſs our Lord King David, ſaying, God make the Name of Solomon better than thy own, and magnify his Throne above thine; with that the King bowed upon the Bed.

48. Nay beſides thus ſaid the King, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, who has given to Day one ſitting upon my Throne, which my Eyes ſee.

49. Terrified at this, all the Gueſts whom Adonijah had roſe up, and went their ſeveral Ways.

50. He himſelf was likewiſe afraid becauſe of Solomon, and riſing up, went, and took hold of the Horns of the Altar.

51. So it was told Solomon as follows; Behold Adonijah is afraid of King Solomon; lo therefore he holds the Horns of the Altar, and ſays, Let King Solomon ſwear to me preſently, that he will not put his Servant to Death with the Sword.

52. If he will, anſwered Solomon, be a worthy Perſon, there ſhall none of his Hair fall to the Ground; but if there be Miſchief found in him, he ſhall be put to death.

53. At this he ſent, and they brought him down from the Altar; when he came, and bowed down to King Solomon; who ſaid to him, Go to thy Houſe.

CHAP. II.

AND when the Time of David approached for him to die, he commanded Solomon his Son, as follows:

2. I am going the Way of all the Earth, be thou therefore ſtrong and manly.

3. Eſpecially keep the Charge of the Lord thy God, to walk in his Ways, to keep his Ordinances, Commandments, Rules and Teſtimonies, as there is written in the Law of Moſes; that thou mayeſt proſper in all that thou doeſt, and whitherſoever thou turneſt:

4. That the Lord may confirm his Word which he ſpoke thus concerning me, If thy Sons will take heed to their Way, to walk before me in Truth, with their whole Heart and Soul; thou ſhalt not have a Man cut off, ſaid he, from the Throne of Iſrael.

5. And thou knoweſt alſo what Joab the Son of Zeruiah did againſt me, that which he did to the two Captains of the Armies of Iſrael, to Abner the Son of Ner, and Amaſa the Son of Jether, whom he ſlew, and made the Blood of War in Peace; putting the Blood of War upon his Girdle that was on his Loins, and in his Shoes that were on his Feet.

6. Do then according to thy Widom, and let not his grey Hair go down to the Grave in Peace.

7. But ſhew Kindneſs to the Sons of Barzillai the Gileadite, and let them be among thoſe who eat at thy Table; becauſe they came ſo to me when I fled from the Preſence of Abſalom thy Brother.

8. Behold alſo there is with thee Shimei the Son of Gera, a Benjaminite of Bahurim, who curſed me with a vehement Curſe on the Day I went to Mahanaim; but he coming down to meet me at Sordan, I ſwore to him by the Lord, that I would not put him to death with the Sword.

9. Yet now hold him not quit: for thou art a wiſe Man, and knoweſt what thou ſhouldeſt do to him, that thou mayeſt bring down his grey Hair with Blood to the Grave.

10. Afterwards David lay down with his Fathers, and was buried in the City of David.

11. And the Time that he reigned over Iſrael was forty Years: reigning ſeven Years at Hebron, as he did thirty three at Jeruſalem.

12. Next Solomon ſate upon the Throne of his Father David, and his Kingdom was throughly eſtabliſhed.

13. At length Adonijah the Son of Haggith went to Bath-ſheba the Mother of Solomon; who enquired, Doſt thou come peaceably? And he anſwered, Yes;

14. Adding, I have ſome Buſineſs to thee. And ſhe replied, Tell it.

the Kingdom was mine, and that all Iſrael ſet their Faces upon me to reign; whereas the Kingdom is turned about, and become my Brother's, becauſe it was his from the Lord.

16. Now therefore I aſk one Petition of thee, do not turn me away. And ſhe bade him declare it.

17. Whereupon he ſaid, Speak, I pray, to King Solomon, for he will not turn thee away, that he may give me Abiſhag the Shunammiteſs for a Wife.

18. And Bath-ſheba replied, Well, I will ſpeak for thee to the King.

19. So ſhe went in to King Solomon, to ſpeak to him for Adonijah; at which he roſe up to meet her, and bowed down to her, then ſitting down upon his Throne, he cauſed a Seat to be put for his Mother, that ſhe might ſit at his right Hand.

20. And ſhe ſaid, I aſk one ſmall Petition of thee, do not turn me away. Whom he anſwered, Aſk, my Mother, for I ſhall not treat thee ſo.

21. With that ſhe ſubjoined, Let Abiſhag the Shunammiteſs be given to Adonijah thy Brother for a Wife.

22. Then King Solomon made anſwer to her, But why doſt thou aſk her for Adonijah? Aſk alſo the Kingdom for him, ſince he is my Brother older than I; even for him, for Abiathar the Prieſt, and Joab the Son of Zeruiah.

23. He ſwore too by the Lord as follows; By God's doing to me ſo and ſo beſides, Adonijah has ſpoken this Matter againſt his own Life.

24. And now by the Lord's living, who has eſtabliſhed me, and cauſed me to ſit upon the Throne of David my Father, and who has made me a Family as he ſpoke, Adonijah ſhall be put to death this Day.

25. Accordingly he ſent Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada for it, who fell on him, ſo that he died.

26. The King alſo ſaid to Abiathar the Prieſt, Get thee to thy own Fields at Anathoth, for thou deſerveſt to die; but I will not put thee to death at this Time, becauſe thou didſt carry the Ark of the Sovereign Lord before my Father David, and becauſe thou waſt afflicted in all wherein he was.

27. Thus Solomon thruſt out Abiathar from being Prieſt to the Lord, to fulfil the Word of the Lord which he ſpoke concerning the Family of Eli at Shiloh.

28. And when the News came to Joab (for he turned aſide after Adonijah, though he did not after Abſalom) he fled to the Tabernacle of the Lord, and took hold of the Horns of the Altar.

29. And it being told King Solomon that Joab was fled thither, and behold was at the Altar; he ſent Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada, with Orders to go, fall on him.

30. For Benaiah went to the Tabernacle of the Lord, and ſaid to him; Thus ſays the King, Come forth; but he anſwered, No, for I will die here. And Benaiah brought the King back this Word, Thus ſpoke Joab, and thus he anſwered me.

31. Therefore the King ſaid to him; Do as he has ſpoken, even fall on him, and bury him; that thou mayeſt put away the Blood, which he ſhed without cauſe, from me and my Father's Family.

32. So the Lord ſhall make his Blood return upon his Head, who fell on two Men more righteous and good than himſelf, and ſlew them with the Sword, unknown to my Father David; Abner the Son of Ner, Captain of the Army of Iſrael, and Amaſa the Son of Jether, Captain of the Army of Judah.

33. Whoſe Blood returning on the Head of Joab, and on that of his Offspring for ever, David and his Offspring, Family and Throne, ſhall have Peace for ever from the Lord.

34. Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada accordingly went up, and falling on him, put him to death; and he was buried at his own Houſe in the Wilderneſs.

35. In whoſe room the King put this Benaiah over the Army, as he did Zadok the Prieſt in the room of Abiathar.

36. Beſides the King ſent for Shimei, and ſaid to him; Build thee a Houſe in Jeruſalem, and dwell there, without going forth from thence any whither.

37. For at the Time thou goeſt out, and paſſeſt over the Brook Kidron, know fully that thou ſhalt quite die; thy Blood ſhall be chargeable on thy own Head.

Ver. 27. Abiathar] He was the Offspring of Ithamar, as Zadok was of Eleazar, the Sons of Aaron, 1 Chron. xxiv. 1, 2, 3, 6. ſo that the high Prieſthood was now reſtored to the latter, Num. xxv. 11, 12, 13. 1 Kings ii. 35.

Ver. 30. For] It appearing that the Tranſactions of this Verſe were before Solomon's Order in the preceding one, which appears further by the repeating of that Order in the next. So Jun. and Trem. begin this Verſe with Nam, and Caſt. tranſlates in the like Senſe.

Ver. 37. know fully] The Hebrew future-imperative; which requires to be rendered thus, as in Ver. 42. as may eaſily be ſeen, ſince he was to know it now.

38. And

38. And Shimei ſaid to the King, The Matter is good; as my Lord the King orders, ſo will thy Servant do. And he dwelt in Jeruſalem a conſiderable time.

39. However at the End of three Years, two of the Servants belonging to Shimei ran away to Achiſh the Son of Maachah King of Gath; and they told him, that behold his Servants were in Gath.

40. At this Shimei got ready, and ſaddling his Aſs, went thither to Achiſh, to ſeek after his Servants; ſo he going, brought them from Gath.

41. And it was told Solomon, that Shimei had gone from Jeruſalem to Gath, and was returned.

42. Upon which the King ſent for him, and ſaid to him; Did not I make thee ſwear by the Lord, and proteſted thus to thee, Know fully, that at the Time thou goeſt out, and goeſt any whither, thou ſhalt quite die? And thou ſaideſt to me, The Matter I hear is good.

43. Why then didſt not thou keep the Oath of the Lord, and the Commandment that I enjoined thee?

44. Thou knoweſt, added he to Shimei, all the Miſchief that thy Heart is conſcious of, which thou didſt to David my Father; therefore the Lord will make thy Miſchief return on thy own Head.

45. And King Solomon ſhall be bleſſed, and the Throne of David eſtabliſhed before the Lord for ever.

46. So the King commanded Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada, and he went out, and fell on him, ſo that he died: thus was the Kingdom eſtabliſhed to Solomon.

CHAP. III.

AND Solomon allied himſelf by Marriage with Pharaoh King of Egypt; for he took his Daughter, whom he brought to the City of David, till he had done building his own Houſe, and the Houſe of the Lord, with the Wall of Jeruſalem round about.

2. Only the People ſacrificed in the Chapels, becauſe there was no Houſe built to the Name of the Lord, till thoſe Days.

3. And Solomon loved the Lord, ſo as to go in the Ordinances of David his Father; only in the Chapels he ſacrificed, and burnt Incenſe.

4. The King alſo went to Gibeon, to ſacrifice there; for that was the great Chapel: Solomon offered up a thouſand Burnt-offerings upon that Altar.

5. At Gibeon did the Lord appear to Solomon in a Dream by Night; and God ſaid, Aſk what I ſhall give thee.

6. And Solomon anſwered; Thou didſt ſhew to thy Servant David my Father great Kindneſs, according as he walked before thee in Truth and Righteouſneſs, and in Uprightneſs of Heart with thee; nay thou haſt kept this great Kindneſs for him, that thou haſt given him a Son ſitting upon his Throne, as it is this Day.

7. For now, O Lord my God, thou haſt made thy Servant King in the room of my Father David; and I am a little Youth, unknowing how to go out and come in.

8. Beſides thy Servant is among thy People whom thou haſt choſen, a great People who cannot be numbered nor counted up for Multitude.

9. Give thy Servant therefore an attentive Heart, to judge thy People, to underſtand between Good and Evil: for who is able to judge this thy numerous People?

10. And the Lord liked the Matter, that Solomon aſked this Thing.

11. Therefore God ſaid to him; Becauſe thou haſt asked for this Thing, and not long Life, nor yet Riches, for thy ſelf, neither asked for the Life of thy Enemies, but haſt asked Underſtanding for thy ſelf to hear Judgment:

12. Behold I do according to thy Requeſt: lo I give thee a wiſe and underſtanding Heart, in which there has not been the like of thee before, nor ſhall riſe up after thee.

13. And I alſo give thee what thou haſt not aſked, both Riches and Honour; in which there ſhall not be a Man among the Kings like thee all thy Days.

14. Moreover if thou wilt walk in my Ways, by keeping my Ordinances and Commandments, as David thy Father walked, I will prolong thy Time.

15. And Solomon awaking, behold it was a Dream; and he went to Jeruſalem, where ſtanding before the Ark of the Lord's Covenant, he offered up Burnt-offerings, and made

16. Then came there two Women, who were Harlots, to the King, and ſtood before him.

17. And one Woman ſaid; O my Lord, I and this Woman dwelling in one Houſe, I was brought to bed with her there.

18. On the third Day alſo of my Delivery, ſhe was likewiſe delivered; and we were together, no Stranger being with us there in the Houſe, beſides we two.

19. And this Woman's Son died in the Night, becauſe ſhe overlaid him.

20. With that ſhe got up in the Night, and took my Son from beſide me, while thy Handmaid was aſleep, and laid him in her Boſom; and her dead Son ſhe laid in mine.

21. And when I aroſe in the Morning to give my Son ſuck, behold he was dead; but on my conſidering of him then, behold he was not my Son whom I bore.

22. Whereas the other Woman ſaid, No, for the living is my Son, and the dead one thine; but this ſaid, No, for the dead is thy Son, and the living one mine: thus they pleaded before the King.

23. To which he gave ſentence; Since that ſays, This who is living is my Son, and the dead one thine; and this ſays, No, for the dead is thy Son, and the living one mine;

24. Fetch me, continued he, a Sword: which being brought before him,

25. He ſaid, Cut the living Child in two, and give half to one, and half to the other.

26. Whereupon the Woman, whoſe the living Son was, ſpoke thus to the King, becauſe her Compaſſion was kindled for her Son, and ſaid, O my Lord, give her the live Child, and by no means kill it. But that ſaid, Let it be neither mine nor thine, cut it.

27. At this the King made anſwer, Give the firſt the live Child, and by no means kill it; ſhe is the Mother of it.

28. So when all Iſrael heard of the Judgment which the King made, they feared becauſe of him: for they ſaw that the Wiſdom of God was within him, to do Judgment.

CHAP. IV.

THUS King Solomon was King over all Iſrael.

2. And theſe were the Princes which he had: Azariah the Son of Zadok, the Prieſt;

3. Elihoreph and Ahiah the Sons of Shiſha, the Secretaries; Jehoſhaphat the Son of Ahilud, the Recorder;

4. And Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada, over the Army; and Zadok and Abiathar, the Prieſts;

5. And Azariah the Son of Nathan, over the Officers; and Zabud the Son of Nathan a Prince, the King's Friend;

6. And Ahiſhar, over the Houſhold; and Adoniram the Son of Abda, over the Tribute.

7. Moreover Solomon had twelve Officers over all Iſrael, who provided for the King and his Family; each having it to do a Month in the Year.

8. Theſe alſo are their Names: the Son of Hur, on Mount Ephraim;

9. The Son of Deker, in Makaz, in Shaalbim, Beth-ſhemeſh, and Elon-beth-hanan;

10. The Son of Heſed, in Aruboth, to whom belonged Sochoh, and all the Diſtrict of Hepher;

11. The Son of Abinadab, in all the Region of Dor, who married Taphath the Daughter of Solomon;

12. Baana the Son of Ahilud, at Taanach, Megiddo, and all Beth-ſhean, which is by Zaretanah below Jezreel, from Beth-ſhean to Abel-meholah, to beyond Jokmeam;

13. The Son of Geber, in Ramoth-gilead, to whom belonged the Towns of Jair the Deſcendant of Manaſſeh, which were in Gilead; to whom alſo belonged the Region of

16. Baana the Son of Huſhai, in Aſher, and in Aloth;

17. Jehoſhaphat the Son of Paruah, in Iſſachar;

18. Shimei the Son of Elah, in Benjamin;

19. Geber the Son of Uri, in the Province of Gilead, the Country of Sihon King of the Amorites and Og King of Baſhan, who had been the only Officer that was in that Country.

20. Judah and Iſrael were many, like the Sand which is at the Sea for Multitude, eating, drinking, and being glad.

21. And Solomon was Governor over all the Kingdoms from the River to the Country of the Philiſtines, and to the Border of Egypt; who brought Preſents, and ſerved him all the Days of his Life.

22. Solomon's Food too for one Day was, thirty Cors of fine Flour, and ſixty Cors of Meal,

23. Ten fat Oxen, twenty Oxen of the Paſture, and a hundred Sheep, beſides Harts, Roe-bucks, Fallow-deer, and fatted Fowls.

24. For he ruled over all on this ſide the River, from Tiphſah to Gaza, over all the Kings on this ſide the River; and had Peace on all Sides of him round about.

25. Thus Judah and Iſrael dwelt ſecurely, under their own Vines and Fig-trees, from Dan to Beer-ſheba, all the Time of Solomon.

As for this being called the Ezrahite from his Father Zerah, as ſome think; it is not likely, becauſe Chalcol and Darda, whom they ſuppoſed to be his Brothers, as well as Heman, from that Text, would have been Ezrahites too, and not the Sons of Mahol another Man: for it is unaccountable that in telling who the four Sons of Zerah were, they ſhould be diſtinguiſhed in this Manner; nay the Family of Zerah were called Zarhites, Joſh. vii. 17. Num. xxvi. 13. And the wiſe Men here named were rather living in the ſame Age with Solomon, than long before, as the others were.

Ib. Chalcol and Darda] I am inclined to think they were Iſraelites, becauſe their Father is named. Hence Solomon being compared with the wiſe Men only of his own Nation, it is no Wonder that the famous Lokman, ſurnamed Al-hakim, the Wiſe, is not mentioned on this Occaſion, though it ſhould be true as related, that he lived in the Reign of David and Solomon, and came into the Country of Iſrael, *D'Herbel. much that his Renown was in all the Nations round about.

32. And he ſpoke three thouſand Proverbs; as alſo his Poems were a thouſand and five.

33. Beſides he ſpoke of Trees, from the Cedar that is on Lebanon to the Hyſſop that comes out on the Wall; as he did of Beaſts, Fowls, creeping Things, and Fiſhes.

34. And there came of all People to hear the Wiſdom of Solomon from all Kings of the Earth who heard of it.

CHAP. V.

AND Hiram King of Tyre ſent his Servants to Solomon, when he heard that they had anointed him to be King in the room of his Father: for Hiram was a Lover of David continually.

2. Solomon alſo ſent word to Hiram;

3. Thou knoweſt that David my Father could not build a Houſe to the Name of the Lord his God, becauſe of the Wars which compaſſed him about, till the Lord put them under the Soles of his Feet.

4. But now the Lord my God has given me reſt round about: there is no Adverſary, nor ſcarce an ill Accident.

5. So behold I think to build a Houſe to the Name of the Lord my God, according as the Lord thus ſpoke to my Father David, Thy Son, whom I will put in thy room upon thy Throne, ſhall build a Houſe to my Name.

6. Now therefore command, that they ſhould cut me Cedars at Lebanon; and my Servants ſhall be with thine, and I will give thee thy Servants Wages, entirely as thou ſhalt order: for thou knoweſt that there is no Man among us, who knows how to hew Timber like the Zidonians.

7. And when Hiram heard the Words of Solomon, he was very glad, and ſaid, Bleſſed be the Lord to Day, who has given David a wiſe Son over this great People.

8. Moreover he ſent Word to Solomon; I have hearkened to that for which thou haſt ſent to me; I will do all that thou deſireſt, for Cedar-trees and Fir-trees.

9. Theſe my Servants ſhall bring down from Lebanon to the Sea, and I will put with Barges on it, for the Place of which thou ſhalt ſend to me, and will diſperſe them there, for thee to receive; and thou wilt do what I deſire, in giving my Houſhold Food.

10. Accordingly he gave Solomon, of Cedar-trees and Fir-trees, all that he deſired.

11. As Solomon did him twenty thouſand Cors of Wheat, to be Meat for his Houſhold, and twenty Cors of beaten Oil: thus he gave to Hiram Year by Year.

Agreeable to this the Girt of the largeſt Tree was meaſured ſix Fathoms, by one mentioned in the Memoirs of the Miſſionaries, Tome iv. p. 358. So Rauwolff reckons the greateſt Cedars ſeveral Fathoms about, and ſays, theſe Trees are green all the Year long, and as high as our Fir-trees, having large Boughs that make them bend one Way; but then, in 1575, he counted twenty four ſtanding round in a Circle, and two more decayed with Age, but found no young ones thereabout, Travels by Ray, Part ii. And Corten, who ſtaid on the Mountain ſeven Weeks in the Year 1738, and rode from Tripoly on a Mule, reckons four or five Hours ſteep Aſcent from the Bottom, then three or four Hours not ſo ſteep, to the Convent of the Carmelites, an Hour above which is the Source of a River that runs through Tripoly; and two Hours Walk up a ſteep Hill the Cedars, which he computed about five hundred large and ſmall, eighteen looking exceeding ancient, and one he meaſured ſeven Fathoms and four Spans round the main Stem, two of them being counted 3000 or 2500 Years old; but he could not get to the Top of Lebanon for the Steepneſs.

12. And

12. And the Lord gave Solomon Wiſdom, as he ſpoke to him; and there was Peace between Hiram and Solomon, by a Treaty they two made.

13. King Solomon further raiſed a Levy out of all Iſrael, which was thirty thouſand Men:

14. Whom he ſent to Lebanon ten thouſand in a Month by turns, they being a Month at Lebanon, two Months at home; and Adoniram was over them.

15. He too had ſeventy thouſand who carried Burdens, and eighty thouſand who cut on the Mountain;

16. Beſides the chief of the Officers belonging to him, who were over the Work, three thouſand and three hundred, that ruled over the People who wrought in it.

17. And the King commanding, they brought great Stones, valuable ones, and to lay the Foundation of the Houſe hewn Stones;

18. Which Solomon's Builders, and thoſe of Hiram, with the Giblites did carve: thus they fitted Timber and Stones, to build the Houſe.

CHAP. VI.

AND in the four hundred and eightieth Year of the coming of the Iſraelites out of the Country of Egypt, in the fourth Year of Solomon's reigning over Iſrael, in the Month of Zif, which is the ſecond Month, he began building a Houſe for the Lord.

2. The Length of which was ſixty Cubits, its Breadth twenty, and Height thirty Cubits.

3. As likewiſe the Porch before the Temple of it was twenty Cubits long againſt the Front of the Houſe's Breadth, ten broad out before the Houſe.

4. He alſo made for the Houſe Windows of Caſements ſhut.

5. And he built againſt the Wall of the Houſe Galleries round about, both to the Temple and the Oracle; making Side-chambers there.

6. The Breadth of the lower Gallery, was five Cubits, the Breadth of the middle ſix, and that of the third ſeven: for he made Leſſenings to the Houſe round about abroad, that they might not have hold in the Walls of it.

7. And when the Houſe was built, it was done with Stone carried compleat; ſo that there were not heard Hammers, or Ax, any Inſtruments of Iron in the Houſe, while it was building.

8. The Door of the middle Side-chamber was at the right Side of the Houſe; and they went up in Winding-ſtairs to the middle, and from thence to the third.

9. Thus he built the Houſe, and finiſhed it; as alſo wainſcotted it with Beams and Boards of Cedar.

10. And building Galleries againſt all the Houſe five Cubits high, they had hold of it with Timber of Cedar.

11. Now Solomon had the Word of the Lord as follows;

12. Concerning this Houſe that thou buildeſt, if thou wilt walk in my Ordinances, do my Rules, and keep all my Commandments by going in them, I will confirm my Word with thee, which I ſpoke to David thy Father;

13. Nay I will dwell among the Iſraelites, and not forſake my People Iſrael.

14. So Solomon built the Houſe, and finiſhed it.

15. The Walls of which he wainſcotted with Planks of Cedar on the Inſide, where he covered them with Wood, from the Floor of the Houſe to the Cieling; and laid the Floor of the Houſe with Planks of Fir.

16. He even wainſcotted twenty Cubits on the Sides of the Houſe as aforeſaid; doing thus to it on the Inſide of the Oracle, the very holy Place.

17. And the Forepart of the Houſe, namely the Temple, was forty Cubits.

18. Beſides the Cedar at the Houſe within was with Carving of Gourds, and open Flowers: all was Cedar, there was no Stone to be ſeen.

19. And he prepared the Oracle in the inmoſt Part of the Houſe, to put there the Ark of the Lord's Covenant.

20. Of the Oracle alſo there twenty Cubits was the Length, twenty the Breadth, and ſo many the Height of it, which he covered with preſerved Gold; as he did the Altar of Cedar.

21. Solomon likewiſe covered the Houſe within with preſerved Gold; and made a Partition with Chains of Gold before the Oracle, and covered that with Gold.

22. Thus he was covering the whole Houſe with Gold, till he had finiſhed all of it; the whole Altar too which was towards the Oracle he covered with Gold.

23. He further made in the Oracle two Cherubs with Olive-wood, the Height of which was ten Cubits.

24. And both the Wings of a Cherub were each five Cubits; it being ten from the End of one of his Wings to that of the other.

25. Accordingly the other Cherub was ten Cubits; the two Cherubs having the ſame Dimenſion, and the ſame Cutting:

26. The Height of one was ten Cubits, and ſo of the other.

27. And he put the Cherubs in the inmoſt Part of the Houſe, and they ſpread forth their Wings, ſo that the Wing of one touched one Wall, and that of the other Cherub the other Wall: as their Wings did one another at the Middle of the Houſe.

28. Moreover he covered the Cherubs with Gold.

29. And he carved all the Walls of the Houſe round about with Work of Cherubs, Palm-trees and open Flowers, within and without.

30. He covered the Floor of the Houſe too with Gold, within and without.

31. And at the Entrance of the Oracle he made Doors with Olive-wood, the Lintel and Poſts being a fifth Part.

32. The two Doors alſo were Olive-wood, upon which he made Carvings of Cherubs, Palm-trees and open Flowers, which he covered with Gold; as likewiſe ſpread Gold upon the Cherubs and Palm-trees.

33. And ſo he made at the Entrance of the Temple Poſts with Olive-wood, on the fourth Part.

34. Next the two Doors were Fir-wood; the two Leaves of one Door were folding, as were thoſe of the other:

35. Where he carved Cherubs, Palm-trees and open Flowers; which he covered with Gold fitted upon the Carving.

36. And he built the inner Court with three Rows of hewn Stone, and a Row of Cedar-beams.

37. In the fourth Year was the Foundation of the Lord's Houſe laid, in the Month of Zif.

38. And in the eleventh Year, in the Month of Bul which is the eighth Month, the Houſe was finiſhed according to all the Things and Manner of it: ſo he was building it ſeven Years.

CHAP. VII.

SOLOMON alſo was building his own Houſe thirteen Years, when he finiſhed all of it.

2. He likewiſe built the Houſe of the Wood of Lebanon, the Length of which was a hundred Cubits, the Breadth of it fifty, and its Height thirty, upon four Rows of Cedar Pillars, with Beams of Cedar upon them.

3. And it was planked with Cedar above upon the Beams, which were upon forty five Pillars, fifteen in a Row.

4. There were moreover Windows in three Rows, and one Caſement was againſt another threefold.

5. Beſides all the Doors and Poſts were ſquare with the Windows, as well as the Caſements triple over againſt others.

6. And he made a Porch of Pillars, its Length was fifty Cubits, and the Breadth of it thirty; and the Porch was before them, with Pillars and a Beam there.

7. A Porch too for a Throne where he might judge, a Porch for Judgment he made, and planked with Cedar from one Side of the Floor to the other.

8. And at the Houſe where he dwelt, there was another Court on the Inſide of the Porch according to this Work; Solomon likewiſe made a Houſe for Pharaoh's Daughter, whom he married, like this Porch.

9. All theſe were of valuable Stones according to the Dimenſions of hewn Stones, ſawed with Saws, on the Inſide and Outſide, even from the Foundation to the Eves, and from the Outſide to the great Court.

10. Nay the Foundation was of valuable Stones, great ones, Stones of ten, and thoſe of eight Cubits.

11. And above were valuable Stones, according to the Dimenſions of hewn Stone, and Cedar.

12. Moreover the great Court round about was with three Rows of hewn Stone, and a Row of Cedar-beams; as there was to the inner Court of the Lord's Houſe, and the Porch of the Houſe.

13. King Solomon further ſent, and fetched Hiram from Tyre.

14. He was the Son of a widow Woman of the Tribe of Naphtali, whoſe Father was a Tyrian Man, a Braſier; and he was full of Wiſdom, Underſtanding and Knowledge, to do all Work in Braſs; who coming to King Solomon, did all his Work.

15. For he formed two Pillars of Braſs; the Height of a Pillar was eighteen Cubits, and a Line of twelve Cubits would compaſs each Pillar.

16. And he made two Chapiters of molten Braſs, to put upon the Tops of them: five Cubits being the Height of one Chapiter, and ſo many that of the other.

17. There were Infoldings of infolded Work, Wreaths of chain Work, for thoſe Chapiters; ſeven for one, and ſo many for the other.

18. Thus he made the Pillars, and two Rows of Pomegranates round about upon one Infolding, to cover the Chapiters which were upon the Top; and ſo he made for each Chapiter:

19. Thoſe Chapiters being in the Porch of Lilly-work, four Cubits.

20. As for the Chapiters upon the two Pillars alſo above, over againſt the Belly which was at the Side of the Infolding, there were beſides two hundred Pomegranates in Rows round about each Chapiter.

21. In the next Place he ſet up the Pillars at the Porch of the Temple; and when he ſet up the right one, he named it Jachin; as when he did the left one, he named that Boaz.

22. Upon the Top of the Pillars likewiſe was Lilly-work: thus he finiſhed the Work of them.

23. He made too a molten Sea: which

Ten Cubits in the Text is about eighteen Feet and a quarter, eight Cubits about fourteen Feet and a half: which might be the common Length of the Stones, if they belonged to this Building at Balbeck; but it is not generally thought ſo, though who the Builder ſhould be beſides Solomon ſeems ſcarce conceivable.

was ten Cubits from one Side of its Brim to the other, being of a round Compaſs, and its Height five Cubits, a Line of thirty compaſſing it about.

24. And there were Gourds under the Brim of it, incloſing it round about, ten in a Cubit all round the Sea: they were caſt in two Rows, when that was caſt.

25. It ſtood upon twelve Oxen, three looking to the North, three to the Weſt, three to the South, and three to the Eaſt, the Sea being upon them above; and all their hinder Parts were inward.

26. And the Thickneſs of it was a Hand's-breadth, having a Brim like the Work of that belonging to a Cup, with Flowers of Lillies; it contained two thouſand Baths.

27. Moreover he made ten Baſes of Braſs: the Length of a Baſe was four Cubits, its Breadth ſo many, and three the Height of it.

28. And this was the Work of the Baſes; they had Borders, and theſe were between the Ledges.

29. As alſo upon thoſe Borders there were Lions, Oxen and Cherubs, and upon the Ledges was a Stay above: and under the Lions and Oxen were Joinings of ſpreading Work.

30. Beſides a Baſe had four Wheels of Braſs, and Plates of Braſs; as the four Corners of it had Shoulders, which were molten, under the Waſhing-veſſel, from the Side of each Joining.

31. The Mouth of which on the Inſide of the Chapiter and above was a Cubit, and its Mouth was round to the Stay-work a Cubit and a half; and alſo upon the Mouth of it were Carvings, with their Borders ſquare, not round.

32. Now the four Wheels were under the Borders, and the Axle-trees of the Wheels were in the Baſe; and the Height of a Wheel was a Cubit and a half.

33. And the Work of the Wheels was like that of a Chariot-wheel: their Axle-trees, Stocks, Felloes, and Spokes were all caſt.

34. The four Shoulders likewiſe to the four Corners of a Baſe, were of the Baſe.

35. And on the Top of the Baſe the Height was half a Cubit round about; where the Hands and Borders of it were of the ſame.

36. Upon the Tables alſo of its Hands, and upon the Borders of it, he engraved Cherubs, Lions and Palm-trees, according to the naked Place of each, and the Joinings round about.

37. According to this he made the ten Baſes: all of them had the ſame Caſting, the ſame Dimenſion, the ſame Cutting.

38. He further made ten Waſhing-veſſels of Braſs: one contained forty Baths, it was four Cubits; the ten Baſes having one Waſhing-veſſel upon each of them.

39. And he put five Baſes on the right Side of the Houſe, and five on that which was the left of it; as he did the Sea at the right Side of the Houſe eaſtward, over againſt the South.

40. So when Hiram had made the Waſhing-veſſels, with Shovels and Bowls; he finiſhed doing all the Work which he made King Solomon for the Houſe of the Lord:

41. The two Pillars, and the Balls of the Chapiters that were upon the Top of them, and the two Infoldings to cover thoſe Balls,

42. And the four hundred Pomegranates for the two Infoldings, two Rows of them for one Infolding, to cover the two Balls of the Chapiters that were atop of the Pillars,

43. And the ten Baſes, and the ten Waſhing-veſſels upon them,

44. And one Sea, and the twelve Oxen under the Sea,

45. And the Pots, Shovels and Bowls: all thoſe Things which Hiram made King Solomon for the Houſe of the Lord being clean Braſs.

46. On the Plain of Jordan did the King caſt them, in the Clay-ground, between Succoth and Zarethan.

47. But Solomon let alone all the Things for the exceeding great Abundance, from ſearching out the Weight of the Braſs.

48. He likewiſe made all the Things that were at the Houſe of the Lord: the Altar of Gold, and the Table of Gold upon which was the Preſence-bread;

50. With the Basons, musical Instruments, Bowls, Spoons, and Censers of preserved Gold; nay the Hinges for the Doors of the inmost House, the very holy Place, and for the Doors of the House at the Temple, of Gold.

51. Thus all the Work being finished, which King Solomon made for the House of the Lord; he brought in the consecrated Things of his Father David, putting the Silver, Gold and Instruments, among the Treasures of the Lord's House.

CHAP. VIII.

THEN he gathered together the Elders of Israel, and all the chief of the Tribes, the Princes of the Fathers of the Israelites, to himself at Jerusalem, to bring up the Ark of the Lord's Covenant, from the City of David, which is Zion.

2. So all the Men of Israel were gathered together to him, at the Feast in the Month of Ethanim, which is the seventh Month.

3. All the Elders of Israel likewise came, and the Priests carried the Ark.

4. And they with the Levites brought up the Ark of the Lord, the publick Tent, and all the holy Instruments that were in it.

5. And with King Solomon himself the whole Assembly also of Israel, who were assembled to him, were before the Ark, sacrificing Sheep and Oxen, that were not told, nor numbered for Multitude.

6. The Priests too brought in the Ark of the Lord's Covenant to its Place, at the Oracle of the House, into the very holy Place, even under the Wings of the Cherubs.

7. For the Cherubs spread their Wings on the Place of the Ark; insomuch that they covered over both that, and the Poles of it above.

8. And they drew forth the Poles, so that the Tops of them appeared from the holy Ark before the Oracle, but did not without: where they are to this Day.

9. There was Nothing in the Ark but the two Tables of Stone, which Moses placed there at Horeb; where the Lord made a Covenant with the Israelites, when they came out of the Country of Egypt.

10. And when the Priests came out of the holy Place, a Cloud filled the House of the Lord:

11. Insomuch that the Priests could not stand to minister by reason of it; for the Glory of the Lord filled his House.

12. Then said Solomon; The Lord has spoken of dwelling in Darkness.

13. I have throughly built thee a Dwelling-house, a Settlement for thy Habitation evermore.

14. And the King turning about his Face, blessed the whole Congregation of Israel; who all stood.

15. And he said: Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who has fulfilled with his Hand, what he spoke with his Mouth to my Father David as follows;

16. From the Day that I brought my People Israel out of Egypt, I have chosen no City out of all the Tribes of Israel to build a House in, that my Name might be there; only I chose David to be over this my People.

17. And it was in the Heart of David my Father, to build a House to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

18. But the Lord said to him; Forasmuch as it is in thy Heart to build a House to my Name, thou doest well that it is so:

19. However thou shalt not build the House, but thy Son who proceeds forth from thy self shall build a House to my Name.

20. Accordingly the Lord has confirmed his Word which he spoke; I being risen up in the room of David my Father, and sitting upon the Throne of Israel, as the Lord promised, and have built a House to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

21. I have also put there a Place for the Ark, where the Covenant of the Lord is, which he made with our Forefathers when he brought them out of the Country of Egypt.

tion of Iſrael, ſpread forth his Hands towards Heaven,

23. And prayed: O Lord God of Iſrael, there is no god like thee, in the Heaven above, or upon the Earth below, keeping Covenant and Kindneſs with thy Servants, that walk before thee with their whole Heart.

24. Who haſt kept with thy Servant David my Father what thou ſpokeſt to him: not only ſpeaking with thy Mouth, but fulfilling with thy Hand, as at preſent.

25. Now therefore, O Lord God of Iſrael, keep with thy Servant David my Father what thou thus ſpokeſt to him, Thou ſhalt not have a Man fail from before me of ſitting upon the Throne of Iſrael; only if thy Children take heed to their Way, to walk before me, as thou haſt done.

26. Even now, O God of Iſrael, let thy Word be verified, I pray, which thou ſpokeſt to thy Servant David my Father.

27. Though will God indeed dwell upon the Earth? Behold Heaven and the Heaven of Heavens cannot contain thee, much leſs this Houſe which I have built.

28. Yet have regard to the Prayer of thy Servant, and to his Supplication, O Lord my God, by hearkening to the Cry, and to the Prayer, which thy Servant prays before thee to Day:

29. That thy Eyes may be open to this Houſe Night and Day, to the Place of which thou haſt ſaid, My Name ſhall be there; that thou mayeſt hearken to the Prayer, which thy Servant ſhall pray towards this Place.

30. Thus hearken to the Supplication of thy Servant and People Iſrael, which they ſhall pray towards this Place; do thou even hear at Heaven the Place of thy Habitation, and having heard, forgive.

32. Hear thou at Heaven, and act, ſo that thou mayeſt judge thy Servants, by condemning the Wicked to render his Way on his Head, and by juſtifying the Virtuous to give him according to his Virtue.

33. When thy People Iſrael are beat before the Enemy, for that they have ſinned againſt thee, and returning to thee, ſhall confeſs thy Name, pray, and make ſupplication to thee in this Houſe,

34. Do thou hear at Heaven, and forgive their Sin; and bring them again to the Country which thou gaveſt to their Forefathers.

35. When the Heaven is ſhut up, ſo that there is no Rain, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; and they pray towards this Place, confeſs thy Name, and return from their Sin, becauſe thou afflicteſt them:

36. Do thou hear at Heaven, and forgive the Sin of thy Servants and People Iſrael, when thou haſt taught them the good Way that they ſhould go in; and give Rain upon thy Country, which thou haſt given thy People for a Poſſeſſion.

37. When there is Famine in the Country, when there is Peſtilence, when there is Blaſting, Mildew, Locuſts, Caterpillars, when their Enemies beſiege them in the Country at their Gates, when there is any Plague, any Sickneſs;

38. All Prayer, all Supplication which ſhall be of any Man, or of all thy People Iſrael, who knowing the ſeveral Plagues of their own Hearts, ſhall ſpread forth their Hands towards this Houſe:

39. Do thou hear at Heaven thy ſettled Habitation, and forgive, and act, ſo that thou mayeſt render to each one according to all his Ways, whoſe Heart thou knoweſt: ſince thou alone knoweſt the Hearts of all Mankind;

40. That they may fear thee all the Days which they live upon the Surface of the Country, that thou gaveſt to our Forefathers.

41. As for a Stranger alſo, who is not of thy People Iſrael, but comes from a Country far off for thy Name's ſake;

House which I have built is called by thy Name.

44. When thy People shall go out to War against their Enemy, the Way that thou sendest them, and shall pray to the Lord the Way to the City which thou hast chosen, and to the House which I have built to thy Name:

45. Hear at Heaven their Prayer and Supplication, and do that which is their Right.

46. When they sin against thee, since there is no Man who does not sin, so that thou being angry with them, deliverest them up before the Enemy, and they carry away their Prisoners, to their own Country far off or near;

47. And they shall return in their Hearts in the Country whither they are carried away, and thereupon make supplication to thee at the Country of their Captivity, saying, We have sinned, and committed Iniquity, have done wickedly:

48. When they return to thee with their whole Heart and Soul, in the Country of their Enemies who carried them away, and pray to thee the Way to their own Country that thou gavest their Forefathers, to the City that thou hast chosen, and the House that I have built to thy Name:

49. Hear at Heaven thy settled Habitation, their Prayer and Supplication, and do that which is their Right;

50. And forgive thy People who have sinned against thee, even all their Transgressions which they have committed against thee, and give them Compassion before those who have carried them away, so that they may have Compassion on them.

51. For they are thy People and Possession, whom thou brougheſt out of Egypt, from within the iron Furnace:

52. That thy Eyes may be open to the Supplication both of thy Servant and of thy People Israel, that thou mayest hearken to them in all their calling to thee.

53. For thou didst put them apart for a Possession to thy self, out of all the People of the Earth, as thou spokest by the Ministry of thy Servant Moses, when thou broughtest our Forefathers out of Egypt, O Sovereign Lord.

54. And when Solomon had made an end of praying all this Prayer, and Supplication to the Lord, he rose up from before the Lord's Altar, from kneeling on his Knees, with his Hands spread forth towards Heaven.

55. Next he stood, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel aloud as follows:

56. Blessed be the Lord, who has given Rest to his People Israel, according to all that he spoke: there has not failed one Word of all his good Words, which he spoke by the Ministry of his Servant Moses.

57. The Lord our God be with us, as he has been with our Fathers; may he not leave us, nor forsake us:

58. That he may incline our Hearts to him, to go in all his Ways, and to observe his Commandments, Ordinances and Rules, which he commanded our Fathers.

59. And let these my Words with which I have made supplication before the Lord, be near to the Lord our God by Day and Night; that he may do the Right, both of his Servant, and of his People Israel, each Day's Matter the very same Day.

60. In order for all the People of the Earth to know that the Lord himself is God; there is none else.

61. Therefore let your Hearts be perfect with the Lord your God, by going in his Ordinances, and observing his Commandments, as at this Day.

62. Besides the King, and all the Israelites with him, offered Sacrifices before the Lord;

63. Solomon offering in the Sacrifice of Peace-offerings, which he offered to the Lord, twenty two thousand Oxen, and a hundred and twenty thousand Sheep: thus the King and all the Israelites dedicated the House of the Lord.

64. On that Day the King consecrated the Middle of the Court, which was before the House of the Lord; because he offered there the Burnt-offerings, Oblations, and Fat of the Peace-offerings: for the brasen Altar that was before the Lord, was too little to contain them.

65. Solomon made a Feast too at that Time, accompanied with all Israel, a great Congregation, from the Entrance of Hamath to the River of Egypt, before the Lord our God, seven and seven Days more, even fourteen.

66. On the eighth Day he let the People go, who blessed the King; and they went to their Tents glad, and of a chearful Heart, for all the Goodness which the Lord had shewn to David his Servant, and his People Israel.

CHAP. IX.

AND when Solomon had made an end of building the Houſe of the Lord, and the King's Houſe, with all his Deſire which he was pleaſed to do;

2. The Lord appeared to him the ſecond time, as he had done at Gibeon,

3. And ſaid to him: I have heard thy Prayer and Supplication, which thou haſt made before me; I have conſecrated this Houſe that thou haſt built, to put my Name there for ever: where my Eyes and Heart ſhall be continually.

4. As for thee, if thou wilt go before me, as thy Father David went, in Perfectneſs of Heart and Virtue; to do entirely as I have commanded thee, obſerving my Ordinances and Rules:

5. I will eſtabliſh the Throne of thy Kingdom in Iſrael for ever, as I promiſed thus to David thy Father, Thou ſhalt not have a Man fail from the Throne of Iſrael.

6. If you or your Children at all turn back from following me, ſo that you will not obſerve my Commandments, my Ordinances which I have put before you; but go, and ſerve other gods, and worſhip them:

7. I will cut off Iſrael from the Surface of the Country which I have given them, and caſting the Houſe that I have conſecrated to my Name from my Face; Iſrael ſhall become a Proverb and Taunt among all People.

8. And at this Houſe that is moſt high, ſhall every one who paſſes by it be aſtoniſhed, and hiſs; and they ſhall ſay, Why has the Lord done thus to this Country and Houſe?

9. To which others ſhall anſwer, Becauſe they forſook the Lord their God, who brought their Forefathers out of the Country of Egypt, and taking hold of other gods, bowed down to them, and ſerved them; therefore has the Lord brought upon them all this Harm.

10. And at the End of twenty Years, wherein Solomon built the two Houſes, that of the Lord and the King's Houſe:

11. Hiram King of Tyre having furniſhed him with Cedar-trees, Fir-trees and Gold, according to all his Pleaſure; then King Solomon gave Hiram twenty Cities in the Country of Galilee.

12. So Hiram came out of Tyre, to ſee the Cities which Solomon gave him; but he did not approve of them.

13. Therefore he ſaid, What Cities are theſe which thou haſt given me, my Brother? And they are called the Country of Cabal to this Day.

14. Moreover Hiram ſent the King a hundred and twenty Talents of Gold.

15. Now this was the Motive for the Levy, which King Solomon brought up to build the Houſe of the Lord, his own Houſe, the Fortreſs, the Wall of Jeruſalem, Hazor, Megiddo and Gezer;

16. Pharaoh King of Egypt had gone up, and taken Gezer, burnt it with Fire, and ſlain the Canaanites who dwelt in the City, which he gave a Preſent to his Daughter Solomon's Wife:

17. Whereupon Solomon built Gezer, and lower Beth-horon,

18. And Baalath, and Tadmor in the Wilderneſs, in the Country;

19. All the Cities likewiſe of Stores that he had, together with the Cities for Chariots, and thoſe for Horſemen, beſides what he deſired to build at Jeruſalem, Lebanon, and in the whole Country of his Dominion.

20. As for all the People that were left of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebuſites, who were not of the Iſraelites;

21. On ſuch as were their Children that were left after them, in the Country, whom the Iſraelites could not deſtroy, Solomon has put a Tribute of Servitude to this Day.

22. Whereas of the Iſraelites he made no Slave: for they were Warriors, and his Servants, Princes, Captains, and the Governors of his Chariots and Cavalry.

Ver. 6. at all] Neither the Hebrew Grammarians nor Annotators, that I know of, and ſuppoſe, have diſtinctly remarked the Senſe of the Duplication of a Hebrew Verb finite and infinite, when interrogative and dubitative; though both occur in the Scripture, and muſt be tranſlated, if not expounded. The former indeed, as in 2 Sam. xix. 42. Judg. xi. 25. Gen. xliii. 7. Jer. xxv. 29. & xl. 14. Ezek. xiv. 3. & xviii. 23. 1 Sam. ii. 27. 2 Chron. xxiii. 13. Iſa. l. 2. Zech. vii. 5. Num. xxii. 30. can ſcarcely be denied the ſame as when negative; but the latter (as with if Engliſh) is not ſo clear, Inſtances of which ſee in Exod. xv. 26. & xix. 5. & xxii. 4, 12, 23, 26. & xxiii. 22. Lev. vii. 18. & xv. 24. & xix. 7. & xx. 4. & xxvii. 19, 31, 33. Num. xii. 14. & xxi. 2. & xxx. 6, 12, 14, 15. & xxxv. 26. Deut. viii. 19. & xi. 13, 22. & xv. 5. & xxviii. 1. Joſh. xxiii. 12. Judg. xi. 30. & xiv. 12. 1 Sam. i. 11. & xx. 6, 9, 21. Jer. xii. 16. & xvii. 24. & xxii. 4. & xxxviii. 17. & xlii. 10, 15. Zech. vi. 15. 2 Sam. xv. 8. & xviii. 3. Eſt. iv. 14. 2 Kings xx. 39. & xxii. 28. and here, where not only Leo Judæ, but thoſe great Interpreters Jun. and Trem. have for the ſame omnino, wholly, the greateſt, inſtead of our at all, the leaſt. On weighing the Senſe, by the Ballance of the Contexts, and conſidering that if is otherwiſe conſtructed as a Queſtion, I render as ours here before. And take the Senſe negatively in both to be contrary, as Jer. xxxviii. 15.

Ver. 15. the Fortreſs] 'It ſeems to have been, writes 'Poole, an eminent, and large, and ſtrong Fort or Caſtle 'in Jeruſalem; as may be gathered from 1 Kings xi. 27. '2 Chron. xxxii. 5.' which Jun. and Trem. here accordingly render munitionem; ſee on Judg. ix. 6.

Ver. 22. Slave] the ſame Word in Hebrew as in 2 Chron. viii. 9, only ſingular here.

23. These were the chief of the Officers who were over the Work belonging to Solomon, five hundred and fifty, who ruled over the People that wrought in the Work.

24. But Pharaoh's Daughter came up from the City of David, to her House that he had built for her: then did he build the Fortress.

25. And three times a Year he offered up Burnt-offerings, and Peace-offerings, upon the Altar that he built to the Lord, and burnt the Incense on it, which was before the Lord; when he had finished the House.

26. And King Solomon made a Fleet at Ezion-geber, which is by Eloth, at the Shoar of the Red Sea, in the Country of Edom.

27. Hiram also sent his Servants in the Fleet, Sailors that knew the Sea, with Solomon's Servants.

28. Who went to Ophir, and fetched from thence four hundred and twenty Talents of Gold, and brought to King Solomon.

CHAP. X.

AND the Queen of Sheba hearing the Fame of Solomon, concerning the Name of the Lord, came to try him with difficult Questions.

2. So she came to Jerusalem with a very great Retinue, with Camels carrying Spices, as also very much Gold, and precious Stones; and when she was come to Solomon, she spoke to him all that was in her Mind.

3. However he told her all her Matters; there was Nothing hid from the King which he did not tell her.

4. At length when the Queen of Sheba had seen all the Wisdom of Solomon, the House that he had built,

5. The Meat of his Table, the sitting of his Servants, the standing of his Waiters with their Cloaths, and of his Butlers, and his Ascent by which he went up to the House of the Lord, there was Spirit in her no longer.

6. And she said to the King; The Saying was true which I heard in my own Country, concerning thy Things, and concerning thy Wisdom.

7. Nevertheless I did not believe the Words, until I came, and my Eyes saw; whereas behold half was not told me: thou exceedest in Wisdom and Prosperity the Report that I heard.

8. Happy are thy Men, happy these thy Servants, who stand before thee continually, hearing thy Wisdom.

9. The Lord thy God be blessed, who delighted in thee, to put thee upon the Throne of Israel; by the Love of the Lord to Israel for ever, he also made thee King, to do what is right and just.

10. Besides she gave the King a hundred and twenty Talents of Gold, very many Spices, and precious Stones: there came such abundance of Spice no more, as that which the Queen of Sheba gave King Solomon.

11. And the Fleet too of Hiram which carried Gold from Ophir, brought from thence very many Almug-trees, and precious Stones.

12. Then the King made of the Almug-trees Pales to the House of the Lord and the King's House, as likewise Harps and Lutes for the Singers: there has not come Almug-trees so, nor been seen to this Day.

13. King Solomon also gave the Queen of Sheba all her Desire which she asked, besides what he gave her according to his State: so she turned, and went to her own Country, with her Servants.

14. And the Weight of the Gold which came to Solomon in one Year, was six hundred sixty six Talents of Gold;

Ver. 23. five hundred and fifty] Mention and Distinction being before made, of the Strangers and Israelites, I suppose with the Generality of Expositors, both Jews and Christians, that the 250 in 2 Chron. viii. 10. were of the latter, and these the whole; other Ways of Resolution being framed on Distinctions about which the Context is silent.

Ver. 28. Ophir] seems to have been on the south Side of Arabia, Prideaux's Connect. Anno 740. And I may add, to be so named from Ophir, Gen. x. 29. who having a Brother called Havilah, next to himself, and the Country of that Name being in the East of Arabia, Gen. ii. 11. probably Ophir might be adjacent to it in the South-east; agreeable to the Settlement mentioned, Gen. x. 30. Besides it seems by the Account of bringing Gold from Ophir being inserted within the Relation of the Queen of Sheba, Chap. x. 11. that it was in the Parts she came from, namely somewhere in Arabia. However in the Universal History, B. i. Ch. 7. 7. after discussing and rejecting various Opinions touching the Place, it is supposed to be somewhere in the East Indies, by reason of the three Years Voyage; which notwithstanding was to Tarshish, that probably did lie there, 1 Kings x. 22. for it is not the Fleet of Hiram which went to Ophir, but that of Tarshish which went with it (some of the Way) that was three Years returning, and brought Gold as well as the other. So Eupolemus, as cited by Eusebius, De Præp. Evang. Lib. ix. says Urphe or Ophir was an Island in the Red Sea; that is, as Prideaux shews, the southern Ocean, which extending it self between India and Africa, washeth up to the Coast of Arabia and Persia.

Ver. 12. Pales] to make or inclose the Walks, 2 Chron. ix. 11.

Ib. State] as in Est. i. 7. & ii. 18. it being an excellent Way to compare Passages of Scripture together, and render them as they are alike.

15. Beſides what was from Men finding it out, and the Traffick of Merchants, with all the Kings of Arabia, and the Princes of the Country.

16. Moreover King Solomon made two hundred Bucklers of Gold hammered out, ſix hundred Shekels of Gold being put in one Buckler.

17. There were likewiſe three hundred Shields of Gold beat out, three Manehs of Gold being put in one Shield, and the King placed them in the Houſe of the Wood of Lebanon.

18. And he made a great Throne of Ivory, which he covered with fine Gold.

19. To the Throne were ſix Stairs, and the Top of it was round behind it, and Stays were on both Sides of the Sitting-place, two Lions ſtanding by the Stays,

20. Twelve Lions alſo ſtood there upon the ſix Stairs on both Sides: there was not ſuch made for any Kingdoms.

21. All King Solomon's Drinking-veſſels too were Gold, and all the Veſſels of the Houſe of the Wood of Lebanon preſerved Gold: none were Silver; that was a Thing not eſteemed in the Time of Solomon.

22. For the King had a Fleet of Tarſhiſh at Sea, with the Fleet of Hiram: once in three Years came the Fleet of Tarſhiſh, bringing Gold and Silver, Ivory, and Apes, and Peacocks.

23. And he was the greateſt of all the Kings of the Earth, both in Riches and Wiſdom.

24. So that thoſe of all the Earth ſought the Preſence of Solomon, to hear his Wiſdom which God had put in his Heart.

25. And they brought their ſeveral Preſents, Inſtruments both of Silver and Gold, together with Garments, Armour and Spices, Horſes and Mules, each Year's Things the ſame Year.

26. He too gathered Chariots and Horſemen, having a thouſand and four hundred Chariots, and twelve thouſand Horſemen; that he brought to be in the Chariot-cities, and with the King in Jeruſalem.

27. Nay the King made Silver be in Jeruſalem like Stones, as he did Cedars like Sycamores, which are in the Vale abundantly.

28. Solomon had alſo Horſes brought out of Egypt, and Yarn; the King's Merchants taking the Yarn at a Price.

29. A Chariot likewiſe came up, coming out thence, for ſix hundred Shekels of Silver, and a Horſe for a hundred and fifty; and ſo for all the Kings of the Hittites, with thoſe of Syria, were they brought out by them.

CHAP. XI.

BUT King Solomon loved many Women who were Strangers, beſides the Daughter of Pharaoh, Women of the Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Zidonians, Hittites;

2. Of the Nations of which the Lord ſaid to the Iſraelites, Ye ſhall not come among them, nor they among you; who ſurely will turn your Hearts aſide after their gods: to them Solomon cleaved in Love.

3. He having ſeven hundred Wives who were Princeſſes, and three hundred Concubines; and his Wives turned aſide his Heart.

4. For in the Time of his old Age, they turned his Heart aſide after other gods; ſo that it was not perfect with the Lord his God, like the Heart of David his Father.

5. And he went after Aſhtoreth the goddeſs of the Zidonians, and after Milcom the Abomination of the Ammonites.

6. Thus Solomon did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with; and did not follow him fully, like his Father David.

7. Then he built a Chapel to Chemoſh the Abomination of Moab, on the Hill that is before Jeruſalem, and to Molech the Abomination of the Ammonites.

8. And ſo he did for all his ſtrange Wives; who burnt incenſe, and ſacrificed to their gods.

9. Whereupon the Lord was angry with him, becauſe his Heart was turned aſide from the Lord God of Iſrael, who had appeared to him twice,

10. And had given him command concerning this Thing, that he ſhould not go after other gods: but he did not obſerve what the Lord commanded.

11. He therefore ſaid to Solomon; Becauſe this is with thee, and thou haſt not obſerved my Covenant and Ordinances, which I commanded thee; I will throughly tear the Kingdom from thee, and give it to thy Servant.

12. But yet I will not do it in thy Time, for the ſake of David thy Father; from the Hand of thy Son will I tear it.

13. However I will not tear away all the Kingdom, I will give one Tribe to thy Son, for David my Servant's ſake, and for the ſake of Jeruſalem which I have choſen.

14. Accordingly the Lord raiſed up an Adverſary to Solomon, Hadad the Edomite, who was of the King's Offspring in Edom.

15. It having been when David was at Edom, when Joab the Captain of the Army went up to bury the Slain, after he had made a general Slaughter of the Males in Edom;

16. (For Joab and all Iſrael abode there ſix Months, till he had cut off the Generality of them)

17. That Hadad, accompanied with ſome Edomite Men of his Father's Servants, fled to go into Egypt, he being a little Boy.

18. So they got ready, and went out of Midian, to Paran, and taking Men with them from thence, went to Egypt, to Pharaoh King of it; who gave him a Houſe, ordered him Food, and gave him Land.

19. And Hadad got in Favour with Pharaoh exceedingly; inſomuch that he gave him his own Wife's Siſter for a Wife, the Siſter of Tahpenes the Queen.

20. She alſo bore him Genubath his Son, whom Tahpenes bred up in Pharaoh's Houſe; ſo that he was there among the Sons of Pharaoh.

21. And when Hadad heard in Egypt that David lay down with his Fathers, and that Joab the Captain of the Army was dead, he thus addreſſed Pharaoh, Let me go, that I may depart to my own Country.

22. To whom Pharaoh ſaid, But what haſt thou wanted with me, that behold thou endeavoureſt to go thither? And he anſwered, Nothing, but let me by all means go.

23. Beſides God raiſed up an Adverſary to him, Rezon the Son of Eliada, who fled from Hadadezer King of Zobah his Maſter.

24. With that gathering together Men to him, he became Captain of a Troop, when David had ſlain thoſe there; and they went to Damaſcus, and dwelt in it, reigning in the ſame.

25. And he was an Adverſary to Iſrael all the Time of Solomon, beſides the Harm which was of Hadad; and he vexed Iſrael, when he reigned over Syria.

26. Jeroboam likewiſe the Son of Nebat, an Ephrathite of Zeredah, a Servant to Solomon, whoſe Mother's Name was Zeruah a widow Woman, even lifted up the Hand againſt the King.

27. And this was the Motive whereby he did it: Solomon built the Fortreſs, ſtopped up the Breaches of the City of David his Father;

28. The Man Jeroboam was then powerful in Strength, and Solomon ſeeing that the young Man was one who would do Buſineſs, he ſet him over all the Charge of the Family of Joſeph.

29. Now at that Time Jeroboam going out of Jeruſalem, the Prophet Ahijah the Shilonite met with him in the Way, who had covered himſelf with a new Garment, and they two were alone in the Field;

30. At this Ahijah taking hold of the new Garment that was upon him, tore it in twelve Pieces;

31. And ſaid to Jeroboam: Take thee ten Pieces, for thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael; Behold I will tear the Kingdom out of the Hand of Solomon, and will give ten Tribes to thee:

32. (But he ſhall have one Tribe, for the ſake of my Servant David, and for Jeruſalem's ſake, the City which I choſe out of all the Tribes of Iſrael)

33. Becauſe they have forſaken me, and worſhipped Aſhtoreth the goddeſs of the Zi-

To look no further than Garments and what belongs to them, we have two Names for the ſame, as Stockings and Hoſen, Cap and Quoif, Girdle and Belt, and by one Letter only different Shirt and Shift, yet different Names; moreover with the Spelling varied Ribband and Ribbon, Peruke, Periwig, &c. nay in Cloaths and Clothes as if the a or e was tranſpoſed, and changed by the Nearneſs of Sound; we have alſo like this crudled and curdled, ſo Claſp and Haſp ſome pronounce Claps and Haps, Hæps being indeed the original Saxon Name. donians, donians, Chemoſh the god of Moab, and Milcom the god of the Ammonites, and have not walked in my Ways, by doing what I approve of, even my Ordinances and Rules, like David his Father.

34. Nevertheleſs I will not take any of the Kingdom out of his Hand: for I will make him a Prince all the Days of his Life, for the ſake of David my Servant whom I choſe, who obſerved my Commandments and Ordinances.

35. Yet I will take the Kingdom out of his Son's Hand, and give ten Tribes of it to thee.

36. And to his Son will I give one Tribe; that there may be a Lamp to David my Servant continually before me in Jeruſalem, the City where I choſe for me to put my Name.

37. So will I take thee, and thou ſhalt reign over all that thy Soul deſires, being King over Iſrael.

38. Nay if thou wilt hearken to all that I command thee, and walk in my Ways, and do what I approve of, by obſerving my Ordinances and Commandments, as David my Servant did; I will be with thee, and build thee a firm Houſe, as I built for David, and will give Iſrael to thee.

39. And I will afflict the Offspring of David for this, but not continually.

40. Therefore Solomon endeavoured to put Jeroboam to Death; but he got ready, and fled to Egypt, to Shiſhak King of it, and was there till Solomon's Death.

41. As for the reſt of the Affairs of Solomon, and all that he did, with his Wiſdom, are they not written in the Book of his Affairs?

42. And the Time which Solomon reigned at Jeruſalem, over all Iſrael, was forty Years.

43. When he lay down with his Fathers, being buried in the City of his Father David; and Rehoboam his Son reigned in his room.

AND Rehoboam went to Shechem; for all Iſrael came thither to make him King.

2. Which when Jeroboam the Son of Nebat heard (who was yet in Egypt, to which he fled from the Preſence of King Solomon, and dwelt there)

3. Upon their ſending for him, he and all the Congregation of Iſrael came, and ſpoke thus to Rehoboam,

4. Thy Father made our Yoke hard; nowtherefore do thou make his hard Service lighter, and his heavy Yoke which he put upon us, and we will ſerve thee.

5. To whom he ſaid, Go away yet three Days, and come again to me: accordingly the People went away.

6. And King Rehoboam conſulted thus with the old Men, who ſtood in the Preſence of Solomon his Father while he was alive, How do you adviſe, that I ſhould return this People Word?

7. Who ſpoke to him as follows, If thou wilt be a Servant to this People to Day, wilt ſerve them, and in anſwering them give them good Words, they will be Servants to thee at all Times.

8. But he left the Counſel of the old Men, which they gave him, and conſulted with the young Men that were bred up with him, who ſtood before him.

9. To theſe he ſaid; What do you adviſe, that we may return this People Word, who have ſpoken thus to me, Make the Yoke lighter which thy Father has put upon us?

10. And they ſaid to him as follows; Thus tell this People who have ſpoken ſo to thee, Thy Father made our Yoke heavy, and do thou make it lighter to us; My little Finger, anſwer thou to them, ſhall be thicker than my Father's Loins.

11. For now whereas my Father loaded you with a heavy Yoke, I will add to your Yoke; my Father chaſtiſed you with Whips, but I will do it with Scorpions.

Ver. 34. any of] The Diſtinction of his Son's Hand in the next Verſe ſhewing this was ſpoken of Solomon himſelf, according to Ver. 12. and ſo requires this Meaning, which the Hebrew Word has; and is likewiſe tranſlated by Jun. and Trem. quicquam.

Ver. 37. over] The Letter being ב and not כ

Ver. 40. to Shiſhak King] Whereas by my Chronological Tables at the End of Daniel, Shiſhak began his Reign but the Year before Jeroboam did his, an Objection might ariſe thence to ſuch Computation; this may be fairly eluded, if it muſt be longer back, either by ſuppoſing Shiſhak was not King then, or only over Part of Egypt, or elſe that Pſuſennes, inſtead of reigning forty ſix Years, reigned but forty one, according to Euſebius, which would make the Beginning of Shiſhak's Reign five Years ſooner: I prefer the former, which other Circumſtances conſiderably ſtrengthen, viz. Shiſhak's beginning a new Dynaſty, probably effected by a civil War or Conqueſt that took up ſome Time; and as Solomon was allied to the reigning Family, it is rational to ſuppoſe Jeroboam would join in the Oppoſition, which might be a few Years before Shiſhak became (entire) Monarch; beſides if Shiſhak reigned ſix Years before Rehoboam, his Excurſion into Judah would be in his eleventh Year, that is in the ſecond Year after his Wars were finiſhed abroad, as ſhewn after the Tables from Diodorus Siculus.

Ver. 10. anſwer thou to them] not in the Bible of Sixtus the Pope.

12. So Jeroboam and all the People came to Rehoboam the third Day; as the King had ordered, that they ſhould come again to him then.

13. And he gave the People a ſurly Anſwer, leaving the Counſel of the old Men, which they had given him.

14. For he ſpoke to them according to the Counſel of the young Men as follows, Whereas my Father made your Yoke heavy, I will add to your Yoke: my Father chaſtiſed you with Whips, but I will do it with Scorpions.

15. Thus the King did not hearken to the People: for the Cauſe was from the Lord, that he might confirm his Words, which he himſelf ſpoke by the Miniſtry of Ahijah the Shilonite, to Jeroboam the Son of Nebat.

16. And when all Iſrael ſaw that he hearkened not to them, the People returned this Word to him, What Part have we in David? Nor is there Poſſeſſion in the Son of Jeſſe; away to thy Tents, O Iſrael, now look home, David. Accordingly Iſrael went to their Tents.

17. But as for the Iſraelites that dwelt in the Cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

18. Then he ſent Adoram, who was over the Tribute: but all Iſrael ſtoned him with Stones, ſo that he died: upon which King Rehoboam ſtrengthened himſelf to get up into the Chariot, to flee to Jeruſalem.

19. And Iſrael have rebelled againſt the Family of David to this Day.

20. Moreover when all Iſrael heard that Jeroboam was come again, they ſent for him to the Aſſembly, and made him King over all Iſrael: there was none that followed the Family of David, beſides the Tribe of Judah alone.

21. However when Rehoboam was come to Jeruſalem, he gathered together all the Family of Judah, and the Tribe of Benjamin, a hundred and eighty Thouſand choſen Men Warriors; to fight with the Family of Iſrael, that he might reſtore the Kingdom to himſelf the Son of Solomon.

22. But Shemaiah the Man of God had God's Commiſſion as follows:

23. Speak to Rehoboam the Son of Solomon King of Judah, to all the Family of Judah and Benjamin, and the reſt of the People, in this manner;

24. Thus ſays the Lord, You ſhall not go up, nor fight with your Brethren the Iſraelites; return to your reſpective Homes, for this Thing is brought to paſs by me. And they hearkened to the Word of the Lord, for they returned, that they might go according to the ſame.

25. Afterwards Jeroboam built Shechem on Mount Ephraim, and dwelt in it; and going out from thence built Penuel.

26. And Jeroboam ſaid in his Heart; Now will the Kingdom return to the Family of David:

27. If this People go up to offer Sacrifices in the Houſe of the Lord at Jeruſalem, their Hearts will return to their Maſter Rehoboam King of Judah; nay they will ſlay me, as well as return to him.

28. Therefore the King took counſel, and made two golden Calves; then he ſaid to them, It is a great deal for you to go up to Jeruſalem; here are thy gods, O Iſrael, who brought thee up out of the Country of Egypt.

29. And he ſet one in Beth-el, and the other put he in Dan.

30. So that this Thing became a Sin: for the People went before one, even to Dan.

31. Beſides he made Chapel-houſes; and made Prieſts of the meaneſt of the People, who were not of the Poſterity of Levi.

32. Jeroboam further made a Feaſt on the fifteenth Day of the eighth Month, like the Feaſt which was in Judah, and offered up on the Altar (ſo he did in Beth-el) to ſacrifice to the Calves that he had made; and placed in Beth-el the Prieſts of the Chapels which he made.

33. So he offered up on the Altar which he had made in Beth-el, on the fifteenth Day of the eighth Month, in the Month which he deviſed out of his own Heart; he even made a Feaſt for the Iſraelites, and offered up on the Altar, by burning incenſe.

CHAP. XIII.

BUT behold there came a Man of God from Judah, by the Word of the Lord,

2. And he called out againſt the Altar by this Word of the Lord; O Altar, Altar, thus ſays the Lord, Behold a Son ſhall be born to the Family of David, whoſe Name will be Joſiah, and he ſhall ſacrifice upon thee the Prieſts of the Chapels who burn incenſe upon thee, and Mens Bones ſhall be burnt upon thee.

3. Moreover he gave the following Token at the ſame Time; This is the Token which the Lord has expreſſed, Behold the Altar ſhall be rent, and the Aſhes that are upon it be poured out.

4. And when the King heard the Words of the Man of God, with which he called out againſt the Altar in Beth-el, Jeroboam ſtretched forth his Hand from the Altar againſt him, and ſaid, Take hold of him; but the ſame Hand dried up, ſo that he could not pull it back to him.

5. The Altar too was rent, and the Aſhes were poured out from it, according to the Token which the Man of God gave by the Word of the Lord

6. Whereupon the King gave anſwer to him, Make ſupplication now before the Lord thy God, and pray for me, that my Hand may be reſtored to me. And upon his making ſupplication before the Lord, the King's Hand was reſtored to him, and became as at firſt.

7. Then he ſaid to the Man of God, Come home with me, and recruit; and I will give thee a Preſent.

8. Who replied to the King; If thou wilt give me half thy Houſe, I will not go with thee; nor will I eat or drink any Thing in this Place.

9. For ſo it was commanded me by the Word of the Lord expreſsly, Thou ſhalt not eat or drink any Thing; nor return the Way that thou goeſt.

10. So he went another Way, and did not return in that wherein he came to Beth-el.

11. Now there dwelt a certain old Prophet in Beth-el; one of whoſe Sons came, and told him all the Work which the Man of God had done that Day there; thoſe Words that he ſpoke to the King, they alſo told their Father.

12. And he enquired of them, What Way did he go? For his Sons had ſeen the Way that the Man of God went, who came from Judah.

13. He ſaid further to them, Saddle the Aſs for me; which they did, and he rode on it.

14. And going after the Man of God, he found him ſitting under an Oak; whom he aſked, Art thou the Man of God who cameſt from Judah? And he anſwered, I am.

15. He then ſaid to him, Come home with me, and eat ſome Victuals.

16. Who replied; I cannot return with thee, nor go with thee; nor will I eat or drink any Thing with thee in this Place.

17. For it was ſaid to me by the Word of the Lord, Thou ſhalt not eat or drink any Thing there; nor return by going in the Way wherein thou wenteſt.

18. But he ſaid to him; I am alſo a Prophet like thee, and an Angel has ſpoken thus to me by the Word of the Lord, Bring him back with thee to thy Houſe, and let him both eat and drink Something: whereas he lyed to him.

19. Upon which he went back with him, and both eat and drank Something at his Houſe.

20. However as they were ſitting at the Table, the Prophet who brought him back had the Word of the Lord.

21. And he called out to the Man of God who came from Judah as follows: Thus ſays the Lord; Becauſe thou haſt rebelled againſt the Mouth of the Lord, and not kept the Commandment which the Lord thy God enjoined thee,

22. But haſt returned, and both eat and drank Something, in the Place of which he ſaid to thee, Do not eat or drink any Thing; thy Corpſe ſhall not come to the Sepulchre of thy Fathers.

23. Accordingly after he had both eat ſome Victuals, and drunk, and the other had ſaddled the Aſs for the Prophet whom he brought back;

24. When he departed, a Lion met with him in the Way, and killed him; ſo that his Corpſe was caſt in the Way, and the Aſs ſtood by it, as the Lion alſo did.

25. And behold Men paſſing by, ſaw the Corpſe caſt in the Way, with the Lion ſtanding by it; ſo they came, and told it in the City, wherein the old Prophet dwelt.

26. Which when the Prophet who brought him back from the Way heard of, he ſaid,

Ver. 23. ſaddled the Aſs for the Prophet] Vulg. the Prophet ſaddled his Aſs.

It is the Man of God who rebelled againſt the Mouth of the Lord; therefore he has given him up to a Lion, that has torn him, and killed him, according to the Word which the Lord ſpoke to him.

27. He alſo ſaid thus to his Sons, Saddle the Aſs for me; which they did.

28. And he went, and found his Corpſe caſt in the Way, with the Aſs and Lion ſtanding by it; the Lion having not eat the Corpſe, nor torn the Aſs.

29. So he took up the Corpſe of the Man of God, and putting it on the Aſs, had it back; and the old Prophet went into the City, to make lamentation, and to bury him.

30. Beſides he put it in his own Grave; and they lamented for him, Alas, my Brother.

31. And after he had buried him, he told his Sons, that when he himſelf died, they ſhould bury him in the Sepulchre wherein the Man of God was buried; putting his Bones by the other's.

32. For the Matter would throughly come to paſs, which he proclaimed by the Lord's Commiſſion, both againſt the Altar that was in Beth-el, and all the Chapel-houſes that were in the Cities of Samaria.

33. After this Thing Jeroboam did not return from his evil Way; but made again ſome of the meaneſt of the People Prieſts of the Chapels; filling his Hand that was willing, who became one of them.

34. And according to this Matter it became Sin to the Family of Jeroboam; even to the cutting off, and to the deſtroying it from the Surface of the Ground.

CHAP. XIV.

AT that Time Abijah the Son of Jeroboam became ſick.

2. Upon this Jeroboam ſaid to his Wife; Get ready, I pray, and diſguiſe thy ſelf, for them not to know that thou art the Wife of Jeroboam; and go to Shiloh, behold Ahijah the Prophet is there, who ſpoke about my being King over this People.

3. Moreover take with thee ten Loaves, and Biſcuits, as alſo a Pot of Honey, and go to him; he will tell thee how it will be with the Child.

4. And his Wife did ſo, for ſhe got ready, and went to Shiloh, going to Ahijah's Houſe; who could not ſee, becauſe his Eyes were ſet by reaſon of his old Age.

5. But the Lord had ſaid to him, Behold the Wife of Jeroboam is coming to aſk a Thing of thee for her Son, becauſe he is ſick, to whom thou ſhalt ſpeak after this and this manner: for when ſhe comes, ſhe will feign her ſelf a Stranger.

6. So when Ahijah heard the Sound of her Feet coming in at the Door, he ſaid: Come in, O Wife of Jeroboam; why doſt thou feign thy ſelf a Stranger? For I am ſent to thee with a hard Thing.

7. Go, tell Jeroboam: Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael; Foraſmuch as I exalted thee from among the People, and made thee Ruler over my People Iſrael,

8. Tearing the Kingdom from the Family of David, and giving it to thee; and yet thou haſt not been like my Servant David, who obſerved my Commandments, and who went after me with all his Heart, to do only what I approved of;

9. Nay thou haſt done worſe than any who have been before thee; for thou haſt gone, and made thee other gods, and molten Images, to provoke me, and haſt caſt me behind thy Back:

10. Therefore behold I will bring Evil to the Family of Jeroboam, and will cut off from himſelf the grown Male, him who is ſhut up, and him who is left in Iſrael; and will take away the Poſterity of his Family, as one does Dung, till it be finiſhed.

11. Him who dies of Jeroboam in the City ſhall the Dogs eat, and him who dies in the Field ſhall the Fowls of the Air eat: for the Lord has ſpoken it.

12. And do thou get ready, go home: when thy Feet enter into the City, the Child ſhall die.

13. For whom all Iſrael ſhall make lamentation, and bury him, for this alone of Jeroboam ſhall come to the Grave; becauſe there is found in him ſome Good towards the Lord God of Iſrael, in the Family of Jeroboam.

14. The Lord will further raiſe him up a King over Iſrael, who ſhall cut off the Family of Jeroboam at that Time; and what even now?

15. Beſides the Lord will ſmite Iſrael, as a Reed is ſhaken in the Water, and will root

Ver. 31. that when] It is proper this Sentence ſhould be oblique, as the Relation of the Writer; not direct, as the very Expreſſion of the old Prophet; becauſe Samaria was not then built, Chap. xvi. 24. up Iſrael from this good Country which he gave to their Forefathers, and diſperſe them beyond the River; becauſe they have made their Groves, provoking the Lord.

16. Thus will he give Iſrael up; becauſe of the Sins of Jeroboam, wherein he ſinned, and wherein he made Iſrael ſin.

17. And Jeroboam's Wife got ready, and going away, went to Tirzah: when ſhe came to the Threſhold of the Houſe, the Boy died.

18. Whom they buried, and all Iſrael made lamentation for him, according to the Word of the Lord, which he ſpoke by the Miniſtry of his Servant Ahijah the Prophet.

19. As for the reſt of the Affairs of Jeroboam, how he fought, and how he reigned, behold they are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael.

20. And the Time that Jeroboam reigned was twenty two Years; then he lay down with his Fathers, and Nadab his Son reigned in his room.

21. And Rehoboam the Son of Solomon reigned in Judah; who was in his forty firſt Year when he began reigning, and reigned ſeventeen Years in Jeruſalem, the City which the Lord choſe out of all the Tribes of Iſrael to put his Name there, whoſe Mother was named Naamah an Ammoniteſs.

22. And Judah did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with; and they moved him to Jealouſy, more than all that their Fathers did, by their Sins which they committed.

23. For they alſo built them Chapels, Statues and Groves, upon every high Hill, and under every green Tree.

24. And there were Sodomites too in the Country; doing after all the abominable Things of the Nations that the Lord expelled from the Preſence of the Iſraelites.

25. So in the fifth Year of King Rehoboam, Shiſhak King of Egypt came up againſt Jeruſalem.

26. And he took the Treaſures of the Houſe of the Lord, thoſe of the King's Houſe, taking away all, as he did all the Shields of Gold that Solomon had made.

27. Inſtead of which King Rehoboam made Shields of Braſs, and committed them to the Cuſtody of the chief of the Footmen who kept the Gate of the King's Houſe.

28. So that at the King's coming to the Houſe of the Lord, the Footmen carried them, then brought them back to their own Chamber.

29. As for the reſt of his Affairs, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

30. There being War between him and Jeroboam continually.

31. And Rehoboam lay down with his Fathers, being buried with them in the City of David, whoſe Mother's Name was Naamah, an Ammoniteſs; and Abijam his Son reigned in his room.

CHAP. XV.

AND in the eighteenth Year of King Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, Abijam began reigning over Judah.

2. Three Years reigned he in Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Maachah, the Daughter of Abiſhalom.

3. And he went in all the Sins of his Father, which he did before him; and his Heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, like that of David his Father.

4. Yet for David's ſake the Lord his God gave him a Lamp in Jeruſalem, by ſetting up his Son after him, and by eſtabliſhing Jeruſalem:

5. Becauſe David did what the Lord approved of, and turned not aſide from all that he commanded him all the Days of his Life, excepting in the Matter of Uriah the Hittite.

6. And there was War between Rehoboam and Jeroboam as long as the former lived.

7. As for the reſt of Abijam's Affairs, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? There being War between him and Jeroboam.

8. At length he lay down with his Fathers, they burying him in the City of David, and Aſa his Son reigned in his room.

9. In the twentieth Year alſo of Jeroboam King of Iſrael, Aſa began reigning over Judah.

10. Moreover he reigned forty one Years in Jeruſalem, whoſe Grandmother's Name was Maachah, the Daughter of Abiſhalom.

Ver. 16. wherein] the Hebrew Relative, whoſe Antecedent ſeems rather Sins than Jeroboam; eſpecially as it is repeated, and if he either had Sins, or made Iſrael ſin, he muſt ſin himſelf; which Tautology is thus prevented, and ſo the judicious Caſtal. Jun. and Trem. make it; ſee Chap. xv. 3, 26, 30. & xvi. 13, 26.

Ver. 20. lay down] according to Chap. xvii. 19. It does not appear that the Hebrew Verb ſignifies be ſlept, though the old Lat. is dormiuit; ſee Chap. xix. 5.

Ver. 10. Grandmother's] as Ver. 2. & 2 Chron. xi. 20, 21. ſhew; and ſome have tranſlated. Thus likewiſe ſhe appears to have been the Grandaughter, or Daughter in the ſecond Deſcent, of Abſalom, 2 Chron. xi. 20, 22. (though I would not be too bold to render it ſo) becauſe Abſalom's own Daughter was named Tamar, 2 Sam. xiv. 27. as David called the Father of Abijam here in Ver. 3. we eaſily ſee to be in the ſecond Aſcent, and therefore may very well be expreſſed ſo. And this

11. And

11. And Aſa did what the Lord approved of, like David his Father.

12. For he made all the Sodomites paſs out of the Country, and put away all the filthy Idols that his Fathers had made.

13. Nay as to Maachah his Grandmother, he even put her away from being Queen, becauſe ſhe made a horrible Idol at a Grove; Aſa too cut down, and burnt her Idol, at the Brook Kidron.

14. But the Chapels were not taken away; however the Heart of Aſa was perfect with the Lord all his Days.

15. And he brought the conſecrated Things of his Father, and thoſe of his own, into the Houſe of the Lord, Silver, Gold and Inſtruments.

16. There was War likewiſe between him and Baaſha King of Iſrael all their Days.

17. And the latter came up againſt Judah, and built Ramah; that he might not let any go out, or come in, to Aſa King of Judah.

18. Who took all the Silver and Gold, that were left in the Treaſures of the Houſe of the Lord, and thoſe of the King's Houſe, and delivered them into the Cuſtody of his Servants; which he tranſmitted to Benhadad, the Son of Tabrimon, the Son of Hezion, King of Syria, who dwelt at Damaſcus, with this Meſſage,

19. There being a Treaty between me and thee, between my Father and thine; lo I have ſent thee a Preſent of Silver and Gold: go, break thy Treaty with Baaſha King of Iſrael, that he may go up from me.

20. Accordingly Ben-hadad hearkened to King Aſa, ſending the Captains of the Armies that he had, againſt the Cities of Iſrael; and he conquered Ijon, Dan, Abelbeth-maachah, and all Cinneroth, beſides all the Country of Naphtali.

21. And as ſoon as Baaſha heard of it, he left off building Ramah, and dwelt at Tirzah.

22. With that King Aſa publiſhed to all Judah, none being exempted, and they took away the Stones of Ramah, and the Timber of it, with which Baaſha was building; and he himſelf built with them Geba of Benjamin, and Mizpah.

23. As for the reſt of all Aſa's Affairs, and all his Power, with all that he did, and the Cities which he built, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? But at the Time of his old Age he was ill in his Feet.

24. And Aſa lay down with his Fathers, being buried with them in the City of his Father David; and Jehoſhaphat his Son reigned in his room.

25. In the ſecond Year of Aſa King of Judah, Nadab alſo the Son of Jeroboam began reigning over Iſrael; over which he reigned two Years.

26. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, going in the Way of his Father, and in his Sin wherein he made Iſrael ſin.

27. So Baaſha the Son of Ahijah, of the Family of Iſſachar, conſpired againſt him, and ſlew him at Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philiſtines; for Nadab and all Iſrael laid ſiege againſt it.

28. And Baaſha killed him in the third Year of Aſa King of Judah, and reigned in his room.

29. When he reigned likewiſe, he ſlew all the Family of Jeroboam, without leaving to him any who breathed, till he had deſtroyed him; according to the Word of the Lord, that he ſpoke by the Miniſtry of his Servant Ahijah the Shilonite:

30. For the Sins of Jeroboam, wherein he both ſinned, and made Iſrael ſin, by his Indignation with which he provoked the Lord God of Iſrael.

31. As for the reſt of Nadab's Affairs, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael?

Maachah, called by a little Alteration Michaiah, 2 Chron. xiii. 2. as Abſalom is here Abiſhalom, was the Daughter of Uriel, 2 Chron. xiii. 2. who it ſeems had her by Tamar; in which Manner thoſe Texts are better reconciled than I have found it done.

Ver. 12. filthy Idols] as the Hebrew Word ſignifies, being like Lumps of Dung or Excrements; and called thus in Contempt, as horrible Idol another Word, Ver. 13. in Deteſtation.

Ver. 16. all their Days] that is after it began, and there might be Skirmiſhing between them before, as remarked on 2 Chron. xiv. 1.

Ver. 25. Nadab] Bedford in his Scripture Chronology, Lib. vi. 1. 6. & Tab. 46. computes that Nadab reigned in his Father's Life-time, about two Years before his Death, and ſo both died in the ſame Year. But there is Nothing of this appears on Record, nor is there any Neceſſity to reckon ſo: for how obviouſly do ſeventeen Years of Rehoboam, three of Abijam, and the ſecond Year of Aſa anſwer to the twenty ſecond of Jeroboam? And though the two firſt Reigns did not amount to quite twenty Years, becauſe Aſa began reigning in the twentieth of Jeroboam, it is but counting one Day more than they wanted of twenty Years back, from the End of twenty two to Jeroboam's Death and the Beginning of Abijam's Reign. Nor does his Way of Reckoning well agree with the following Verſe; and the Lord's ſtriking Jeroboam, 2 Chron. xiii. 20. has no Signs of a languiſhing Diſeaſe, but ſuch a one only as he died of. And whereas by his Computation the firſt Year of Nadab and the firſt of Aſa are the ſame Year, as it ſtands in his Table, p. 688. it is impoſſible to be right by 1 Kings xv. 25. See the Obſervations on the Table of the Kings.

32. And there was War between Aſa, and Baaſha King of Iſrael, all their Days.

33. In the third Year of Aſa Kind of Judah, Baaſha the Son of Ahijah began reigning over all Iſrael in Tirzah, twenty four Years.

34. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, going in the Way of Jeroboam, and in his Sin with which he made Iſrael ſin.

CHAP. XVI.

THEN Jehu the Son of Hanani had the Lord's Commiſſion againſt Baaſha as follows;

2. Whereas I exalted thee from the Duſt, and made thee Ruler over my People Iſrael; and yet thou haſt gone in the Way of Jeroboam, and made my People Iſrael ſin, to provoke me with their Sins:

3. Behold I will take away the Poſterity both of Baaſha and his Family; and will make thy Family like that of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat.

4. Him who dies of Baaſha in the City ſhall the Dogs eat, and him who dies of him in the Field ſhall the Fowls of the Air eat.

5. As for the reſt of Baaſha's Affairs, and what he did, with his Power, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael?

6. And Baaſha lay down with his Fathers, and was buried at Tirzah; whoſe Son Elah reigned in his room.

7. Thus alſo by the Miniſtry of Jehu the Son of Hanani the Prophet, was the Word of the Lord againſt Baaſha and his Family, even for all the Evil with which he diſpleaſed the Lord, in provoking him by the Work of his Hands, in being like the Family of Jeroboam, and becauſe he ſlew it.

8. In the twenty ſixth Year of Aſa King of Judah, Elah the Son of Baaſha began reigning over Iſrael in Tirzah two Years.

9. And his Servant Zimri, Captain of half the Chariots, conſpired againſt him, as he was in Tirzah, drinking himſelf drunk at the Houſe of Arza, who was the Steward of the Houſe in Tirzah.

10. For Zimri went in, and ſmote him, ſo that he killed him, in the twenty ſeventh Year of Aſa King of Judah; and reigned in his room.

11. And in his reigning, when he ſate upon his Throne, he ſlew all the Family of Baaſha, not leaving him one grown Male; either of his Kindred, or Friends.

12. So Zimri deſtroyed all the Family of Baaſha, according to the Word of the Lord that he ſpoke againſt him, by the Miniſtry of Jehu the Prophet:

13. For all the Sins of Baaſha, and thoſe of Elah his Son, wherein they ſinned, and in which they made Iſrael ſin, by provoking the Lord God of Iſrael with their Vanities.

14. As for the reſt of Elah's Affairs, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael?

15. In the twenty ſeventh Year of Aſa King of Judah, did Zimri reign ſeven Days in Tirzah; and the People were encamped againſt Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philiſtines.

16. And the People who were encamped hearing it ſaid, Zimri has conſpired, and alſo ſlain the King; all Iſrael made Omri the Captain of the Army King over Iſrael, that Day in the Camp.

17. At which he went up, accompanied with all Iſrael, from Gibbethon; and they laid ſiege againſt Tirzah.

18. And when Zimri ſaw that the City was taken, he went into the Palace of the King's Houſe; which Houſe he burnt upon him with Fire, and died:

19. For his Sins that he committed, by doing what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, by going in the Way of Jeroboam, and in his Sin which he did by making Iſrael ſin.

20. As for the reſt of Zimri's Affairs, with his Conſpiracy that he made, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael?

21. Then were the People of Iſrael divided in the midſt: half of them were after Tibni the Son of Ginath to make him King, and half after Omri.

22. But the People who were after the latter, were ſtronger than thoſe who were after the former; ſo Tibni was put to death, and Omri reigned.

23. In the thirty firſt Year of Aſa King of Judah, Omri was ſettled in reigning over Iſrael twelve Years; reigning ſix Years in Tirzah.

Ver. 7. ſlew it] the Family of Jeroboam, Chap. xv. 29. which it ſeems he did in a cruel unjuſt Manner, as there probably were innocent Children in it; but did not ſlay Jeroboam himſelf, 2 Chron. xiii. 20.

Ver. 23. was ſettled in reigning] after the civil War with Tibni, Ver. 21, 22. for Omri began to reign ſeveral Years before, Ver. 15, 17, 29. ſee Lightfoot's Proleg. to Harmony of the Evangeliſts.

Ib. ſix Years] the laſt of which, as will appear by the Chronological Table, was not the 31ſt, but the next Year of Aſa: for it here ſeems likely that when Omri was ſettled in reigning, he bought Samaria, and built the City; which it is not probable he would do before, nor that he ſhould then remove his Court in leſs than a Year: ſo that Lightfoot's Account of this is void, Ibid.

24. And

24. And he bought the Hill of Samaria of Shemer, for two Talents of Silver; and built on it, calling the Name of the City which he built, after that of Shemer the Maſter of the Hill, Samaria.

25. Omri alſo did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, nay did worſe than any who was before him.

26. And he went in all the Way of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, and in his Sin wherein he made Iſrael ſin, by provoking the Lord God of Iſrael with their Vanities.

27. As for the reſt of Omri's Affairs which he did, and his Power that he acted with, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael?

28. At laſt Omri lay down with his Fathers, and was buried in Samaria; whoſe Son Ahab reigned in his room.

29. Now Ahab the Son of Omri began reigning over Iſrael, in the thirty eighth Year of Aſa King of Judah; and he reigned over Iſrael in Samaria, twenty two Years.

30. He likewiſe did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, more than any who was before him.

31. For was it light for him to go in the Sins of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, ſo that he married Jezebel the Daughter of Ethbaal King of the Zidonians, nay went and ſerved Baal, and worſhipped him?

32. Beſides he raiſed up an Altar to Baal, at the Houſe of Baal, which he built in Samaria.

33. Ahab too made a Grove: thus he did more to provoke the Lord God of Iſrael, than any of the Kings of Iſrael who were before him.

34. In his Time Hiel the Beth-elite built Jericho: he laid its Foundation with the Loſs of Abiram his eldeſt Son, and ſet up the Gates of it with that of Segub his youngeſt; according to the Word which the Lord ſpoke by the Miniſtry of Joſhua the Son of Nun.

CHAP. XVII.

AND Elijah the Tiſhbite, one of the Sojourners of Gilead, declared to Ahab, By the Lord God of Iſrael's living, before whom I ſtand, there ſhall not be Dew or Rain theſe Years, but according to my Word.

2. Afterwards he had the Word of the Lord as follows;

3. Go from hence, and turn thee eaſtward; and hide by the Brook Cherith, that is before Jordan.

4. Of which Brook thou ſhalt drink; and I have commanded the Ravens to ſuſtain thee there.

5. So he went, and did according to the Word of the Lord: that is he went, and dwelt by the Brook Cherith, which is before Jordan.

6. And the Ravens brought him Bread and Fleſh in the Morning, as likewiſe the ſame in the Evening; and he drank of the Brook.

7. But at the End of the Seaſon, the Brook dried up; becauſe there was no Rain in the Country.

8. Next he had the Word of the Lord thus,

9. Get ready, go to Zarephath, that belongs to Zidon, and abide there; behold I have commanded a widow Woman there to ſuſtain thee.

10. Accordingly he got ready, and went thither, and when he came to the Gate of the City, behold a widow Woman was there picking up Wood; to whom he called, and ſaid, Fetch me, I pray, a little Water in a Veſſel, that I may drink.

Ib. no Rain] Menander, writing of Tyre, as quoted by Joſephus, relates, that in the Time of Ithobal who was King of it, there was a great Drought from the Month of Hyperberetæus to the ſame Month in the next Year, Antiq. Lib. viii. 7. Now by the Chronology at the End of Daniel, this King reigned about eleven Years with Ahab, and by the Sacred Hiſtory the Famine appears to be in the former Part of Ahab's Reign, which concludes it to be the ſame, and juſtifies the Scripture. As for the different Length of the Time, eſpecially conſidering Tyre was by the Sea-ſide, that might not be deſtitute of Rain ſo long as the Country of Iſrael, which was alſo to be peculiarly puniſhed; beſides that Menander might not reckon the Drought to begin, till the Want of Rain for a conſiderable while had made it ſo. The Occaſion of Elijah's praying for this Judgment, Jam. v. 17. is to me pretty evidently the Perſecution which was in the Kingdom of Iſrael, Chap. xviii. 4. and that Perſecution was probably about the Time of the Reformation in Judah, 2 Chron. xvii. 1, 6, 7, 9. ſo that the with-holding of the Rain may be computed, with ſufficient Probability, to begin the next Year, as I place it in the Table; and with which the other Affairs, both before and after, well concur: though Uſher himſelf has not ventured to meddle with it.

11. Which

11. Which as ſhe was going to do, he called thus to her, Do bring me a Bit of Bread in thy Hand.

12. Who anſwered, By the Lord thy God's living, I have not any, but a Handful of Flour in a Tub, and a little Oil in a Pot; and behold I am picking up two Bundles of Wood, that I may go in, and make it ready for me and my Son, that we may eat it, and die.

13. But Elijah replied to her; Fear not, go in, make ready according to thy Words; only make me a little Cake from thence firſt, and bring out to me, and make for thee and thy Son laſt.

14. For thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael, The Tub of Flour ſhall not be conſumed, nor ſhall the Pot of Oil fail; till the Day the Lord gives Rain upon the Surface of the Ground.

15. Whereupon ſhe went, and did according to the Word of Elijah; and ſhe, he, and her Family did eat ſome Time.

16. The Tub of Flour was not conſumed, nor did the Pot of Oil fail; according to the Word of the Lord, that he ſpoke by the Miniſtry of Elijah.

17. And after theſe Things, the Son of the Woman, the Miſtreſs of the Houſe, was ſick; and his Sickneſs became very ſtrong, until there was no Breath left in him.

18. Therefore ſhe ſaid to Elijah, What haſt thou to do with me, O Man of God? Thou art come to me, to bring my Iniquity into remembrance, and to cauſe my Son to die.

19. And he ſaid to her, Give me thy Son. So he took him out of her Boſom, and carried him up into a Chamber, where he abode, and laid him down upon his own Bed.

20. He then called on the Lord in this manner, O Lord my God, haſt thou even done hurt to the Widow with whom I ſojourn, by cauſing her Son to die?

21. He further ſtretched out himſelf upon the Child three times, and called on the Lord as follows, O Lord my God, let the Soul of this Child, I beſeech thee, return into him.

22. And the Lord hearkened to what Elijah ſaid; ſo that the Soul of the Child did return into him, and he became alive.

23. So Elijah took the Child, and bringing him down out of the Chamber into the Houſe, delivered him to his Mother; when he ſaid, See thy Son is alive.

24. Upon which the Woman acknowledged to him, Now by this I know that thou art a Man of God, and that the Word of the Lord in thy Mouth is Truth.

CHAP. XVIII.

AND in a great while, being in the third Year, Elijah had the Word of the Lord thus, Go, ſhew thy ſelf to Ahab, and I will give Rain upon the Surface of the Ground.

2. Accordingly Elijah went to ſhew himſelf to him; and the Famine was grievous in Samaria.

3. Ahab had therefore called Obadiah who was the Steward of the Houſe; and he feared the Lord greatly.

4. For when Jezebel deſtroyed the Lord's Prophets, Obadiah took a hundred Prophets, and hid them fifty Men in a Cave, whom he ſuſtained with Victuals and Drink.

5. And Ahab ſaid to him, Go through the Country, to all the Fountains of Water, and to all the Brooks: perhaps we ſhall find Graſs, to keep the Horſes and Mules alive, and not make a deſtruction of the Beaſts.

6. So they parted the Country between them, to paſs through it: Ahab went one Way alone, as Obadiah did another.

7. And as Obadiah was in the Way, behold Elijah met him; whom he knowing, fell upon his Face, and ſaid, Is it thou, my Lord Elijah?

8. Who anſwered him, It is I; go, tell thy Maſter, Here is Elijah.

9. To which he replied: In what have I ſinned, that thou wouldeſt deliver thy Servant into the Power of Ahab, for him to kill me?

10. By the Lord thy God's living, there is not a Nation or Kingdom, to which my Maſter has not ſent to enquire whether thou waſt there; and they ſaying, No; he made thoſe of the Kingdom or Nation ſwear, that they had not met with thee.

11. Yet now thou ſayeſt; Go, tell thy Maſter, Here is Elijah.

12. And when I am gone from thee, the Spirit of the Lord will take thee away whither I know not; and on my going to tell Ahab, and his not finding thee, he will ſlay me: whereas thy Servant has been one who feared the Lord from my Youth.

13. Was it not told my Lord what I did, when Jezebel ſlew the Prophets of the Lord; that I hid a hundred Men of them by fifty in a Cave, and ſuſtained them with Victuals and Drink?

14. And now thou ſayeſt; Go, tell thy Maſter, Here is Elijah; whereupon he will ſlay me.

15. But Elijah ſaid, By the living of the Lord of Armies, before whom I ſtand, I will ſhew my ſelf to him this Day.

16. With that Obadiah went to meet Ahab, and told him; and Ahab went to meet Elijah.

17. Whom when Ahab ſaw, he ſaid to him, Is it thou that troubleſt Iſrael?

18. Whereas he anſwered, It is not I have troubled Iſrael, but thou and thy Father's Family, by reaſon of your forſaking the Commandments of the Lord, and thy going after Baalim.

19. And now ſend, gather to me all Iſrael to Mount Carmel; and the Prophets of Baal four hundred and fifty, with thoſe of the Groves four hundred, who eat at Jezebel's Table.

20. Ahab accordingly ſent to all the Iſraelites, and gathered together the Prophets to Mount Carmel.

21. Where Elijah drew nigh to all the People, and ſaid, How long do ye halt in two Opinions? If the Lord is God, go after him; and if Baal, go after him. To which the People did not anſwer him a Word.

22. He ſaid further to them; I am left a Prophet of the Lord alone; whereas the Prophets of Baal are four hundred and fifty Men.

23. Therefore let them give us two Bullocks, and chooſe them one, and dividing it in pieces, put upon the Wood, but put no Fire; and I will make ready the other, and lay upon the Wood, but put no Fire.

24. Then call you on the Name of your gods, as I will on the Name of the Lord, and let that God who anſwers by Fire be God. And all the People made anſwer, The Propoſal is good.

25. Whereupon Elijah ſaid to the Prophets of Baal, Chooſe for you one Bullock, and make ready firſt, ſince you are many; then call on the Name of your gods, but put no Fire.

26. So they took the Bullock that was given them, and made ready, and called on the Name of Baal from Morning till Noon, ſaying, O Baal, anſwer us; but there was no Voice, nor any that anſwered: they alſo leaped upon the Altar which was made.

27. Nay at Noon Elijah mocked them, and ſaid, Call aloud, ſince he is a god, and may be muſing, either becauſe there is a Purſuit for him, or becauſe there is a Journey for him: perhaps he is aſleep, and muſt be awaked.

28. And they called out aloud, as alſo cut themſelves after their Manner with Swords and Spears, till the Blood guſhed out upon them.

29. However when Noon was paſt, and they had propheſied till the Oblation was to be offered up, and there was no Voice, nor any either anſwered, or hearkened;

30. Elijah ſaid to all the People, Draw nigh to me: which they did accordingly; and he repaired the Altar of the Lord that was thrown down.

31. He taking twelve Stones according to the Number of the Tribes of the Sons of Jacob; who had this Word of the Lord, Thy Name ſhall be Iſrael.

32. And he erected the Stones into an Altar in the Name of the Lord; and made a Trench round about it, like that of a Houſe, for two Seahs of Seed.

33. The Wood too he put in order, and divided the Bullock in pieces, and put upon it.

34. Moreover he ſaid, Fill four Pails with Water, and pour out on the Burnt-offering and the Wood; again he ſaid, Do it the ſecond time, which they did; he likewiſe ſaid, Do it the third time, and they did ſo.

35. Thus the Water ran round about the Altar, and he even filled the Trench with it.

We had it before turned ſo widely, it ſeems, by taking it to be like a Houſe in Bigneſs; which is an untoward Compariſon, but perhaps will not readily appear here again, as two Seahs were but about five Gallons, the Altar being ſmall like a Grate for Fire.

Ver. 34. The King's Tranſlators have here left the Hebrew Diviſion of the Verſes, as well as that of the Latin and other Engliſh Tranſlators.

36. And when the Oblation was to be offered up, Elijah the Prophet drew nigh, and ſaid; O Lord God of Abraham, Iſaac, and Iſrael, make known to Day that thou art God in Iſrael, and that I am thy Servant; who have done all theſe Things by thy Word.

37. Anſwer me, O Lord, anſwer me, for this People to know that thou art the Lord God, and that thou turneſt their Hearts backward.

38. At this the Fire of the Lord fell down, and conſumed the Burnt-offering, Wood, Stones and Earth; nay licked up the Water that was in the Trench.

39. Which when all the People ſaw, they fell upon their Faces; and ſaid, The Lord himſelf is God, the Lord himſelf is God.

40. And Elijah ſaid to them, Take the Prophets of Baal, let not a Man of them eſcape. So they took them; whom he had down to the Brook Kiſhon, and killed them there.

41. After which he ſaid to Ahab, Go up, eat and drink; for there is a Sound of Abundance of Rain.

42. And while Ahab went up, to eat and drink, Elijah went up to the Top of Carmel, and proſtrating himſelf to the Ground, put his Face between his Knees.

43. Next he ordered his young Man, Go up now, look the Way to the Sea: who went up, and when he had looked, did declare, There is Nothing. However he ſays, Go again, ſeven times.

44. And at the ſeventh he ſaid, Behold there is a little Cloud like a Man's Hand coming up from the Sea; then replied he, Go up, tell Ahab, Harneſs, and go down, that the Rain may not ſtop thee.

45. Now in the mean while the Heaven was black with Clouds and Wind, and there was a great Rain; and Ahab rode, going to Jezreel.

46. And the Hand of the Lord being on Elijah, he girded up his Loins, and ran before him to the Entrance of it.

CHAP. XIX.

BUT Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, and all how he ſlew all the Prophets with the Sword.

2. Whereupon ſhe ſent a Meſſenger to him, threatening, By the gods doing ſo and ſo beſides, I will make thy Life like one of theirs, to Morrow about this Time.

3. Which he perceiving, got ready, and going for his Life, came to Beer-ſheba that belongs to Judah; where he left his young Man.

4. But he himſelf went into the Wilderneſs a Day's Journey, and got, and ſate down under a Juniper-tree; when intreating with his Soul that he might die, he ſaid, It is a great deal now, O Lord, take away my Life, for I am no better than my Fathers.

5. Under which Tree he lay down, and ſlept; where behold an Angel touched him, and ſaid to him, Riſe up, eat.

6. He then looking, lo there was at his Pillow a Cake baked on the Coals, and a Pot of Water; ſo he eat, and drank, and lay down again.

7. And the Angel of the Lord returned the ſecond time, and touching him, ſaid, Riſe up, eat; becauſe the Journey may be too much for thee.

8. So he roſe up, did eat, and drink; in the Strength of which Food he went forty Days and forty Nights, to Horeb the Mountain of God.

9. Whither he came to a Cave, and lodged there; and behold he had the Word of the Lord, who ſaid to him, What Buſineſs haſt thou here, Elijah?

10. And he anſwered, I have been throughly zealous for the Lord God of Armies, though the Iſraelites have left thy Covenant, thrown down thy Altars, and ſlain thy Prophets with the Sword; and I being left alone, they endeavour to take away my Life.

11. At which it was, Go forth, and ſtand on the Mountain before the Lord; who behold paſſed by, when a great and ſtrong Wind burſt the Mountains, and broke the Rocks in pieces before him, the Lord being not in the Wind; and after that there was an Earthquake, the Lord being not in it;

12. After the Earthquake alſo was a Fire, which the Lord was not in; and after the Fire there was a ſmall Voice in Silence.

13. This when Elijah heard, he wrapt his Face in his Cloak, and going forth, ſtood at the Entrance of the Cave; and behold there was a Voice to him, that ſaid, What Buſineſs haſt thou here, Elijah?

14. Who anſwered, I have been throughly zealous for the Lord God of Armies, though the Iſraelites have left thy Covenant, thrown down thy Altars, and ſlain thy Prophets with the Sword; and I being left alone, they endeavour to take away my Life.

15. But the Lord ſaid to him; Go back on thy Journey towards the Wilderneſs of Damaſcus; and when thou art come, anoint Hazael to be King over Syria.

16. And Jehu the Grandſon of Nimſhi ſhalt thou anoint to be King over Iſrael; as thou ſhalt Eliſha the Son of Shaphat, of Abel-meholah, to be a Prophet in thy room.

17. Whereby him who eſcapes from the Sword of Hazael, ſhall Jehu kill; and him who eſcapes from the Sword of Jehu, Eliſha ſhall kill.

18. Yet I have ſeven thouſand left in Iſrael, all whoſe Knees have not bowed to Baal, and every Mouth of whom has not kiſſed him.

19. Accordingly he went from thence, and found Eliſha the Son of Shaphat, who was ploughing with twelve Yoke before him, and he at the twelfth; ſo Elijah paſſed by him, and caſt his Cloak on him.

20. With that he left the Oxen, and running after Elijah, ſaid, Let me, I pray, kiſs my Father and Mother, and then I will come after thee. Who anſwered him, Go back, for what have I done to thee?

21. And he returned from after him, and took a Yoke of Oxen, which he killed, and boiled the Fleſh of them with their Inſtruments, and gave to the People, that they might eat; then he got ready, and went after Elijah, miniſtring to him.

CHAP. XX.

AND Ben-hadad King of Syria gathered together all his Army, there being thirty two Kings with him, as alſo Horſes and Chariots; and going up, he laid ſiege againſt Samaria, and fought againſt it.

2. Moreover he ſent Meſſengers to Ahab King of Iſrael, into the City,

3. And ſaid to him; Thus ſays Ben-hadad, Thy very Silver and Gold is mine; and the beſt of thy Wives and Children themſelves are mine.

4. To which the King of Iſrael made anſwer, According to thy Word, my Lord O King, I am thine, and all that I have.

5. Then the Meſſengers came again, and ſaid: Thus Ben-hadad makes reply; Though I have ſent to thee, that thou ſhouldeſt give me thy Silver, Gold, Wives and Children;

6. Yet about this Time to Morrow, I will ſend my Servants to thee, who ſhall ſearch thy Houſe, and the Houſes of thy Servants; and all that is deſirable in thy Sight, they ſhall put with them, and take away.

7. Whereupon the King of Iſrael called all the Elders of the Country, and ſaid, Know now, and ſee that he is ſeeking Hurt: for he has ſent to me for my Wives, Children, Silver and Gold; which I have not withheld from him.

8. But all the Elders, and all the People adviſed him, Do not hearken, nor conſent.

9. He therefore ſaid to the Meſſengers of Ben-hadad; Tell my Lord the King, All for which thou didſt ſend to thy Servant at firſt I will do, but this Thing I cannot do. So they went, and carried him back Word.

10. Upon this Ben-hadad ſent to him, and ſaid, By the gods doing to me ſo and ſo beſides, the Duſt of Samaria ſhall not be ſufficient for Handfuls, for all the People who accompany me.

11. Nevertheleſs the King of Iſrael made anſwer; Say, Let not him boaſt who is girding on, like him who is pulling off.

12. And when he heard this Saying, as he was drinking with the Kings in the Tents, he ſaid to his Servants, Put in order; which they did againſt the City.

Ver. 12. in Silence] of other Things, or of Elijah himſelf. So Jun. and Trem. have it, ſilentio; as the Word is in Job iv. 16. and in Buxtorf's Lexicon. A wiſe Man, ſays Seneca, like God himſelf, does his Buſineſs without Noiſe or Tumult, L'Eſtrange's Edit. 8. p. 429.

Ver. 16. Grandſon] by 2 Kings ix. 2.

Ver. 3. The Verſes were here altered in the Biſhops Bible.

Ver. 6. with them] Put it in their hand may ſeem odd to an intelligent Reader, eſpecially as it was firſt to be taken in the Hand; and the Hebrew evidently ſignifies no other than I have rendered it.

Multitude?

Multitude? Behold I will deliver it into thy Power to Day, for thee to know that I am the Lord.

14. And Ahab aſking, By whom? He replied; Thus ſays the Lord, By the young Men of the Princes of the Provinces. Who, enquired he, ſhall ſet the Battle in order? And he anſwered, Thou.

15. So he numbered theſe Men, who were two hundred thirty two; as he did after them the whole People of all the Iſraelites, ſeven thouſand.

16. And they went out at Noon; while Ben-hadad was getting himſelf drunk in the Tents, with thoſe thirty two Kings who aſſiſted him.

17. The young Men before mentioned alſo went out firſt; and Ben-hadad ſending, they told him, that there were Men come out of Samaria.

18. At which he ſaid, If they are come out for Peace, take them alive; or if for War, do the ſame.

19. Thus theſe young Men aforeſaid going out of the City, and the Army that followed them;

20. They ſlew their reſpective Men, ſo that the Syrians fled, and Iſrael purſued them; Ben-hadad King of Syria eſcaping upon a Horſe, with the Horſemen.

21. The King of Iſrael too went out, and ſmote the Horſes and Chariots; as likewiſe ſlew the Syrians with a great Slaughter.

22. Again the Prophet came to the King of Iſrael, and ſaid to him, Go, ſtrengthen thy ſelf, and know, and ſee what thou doeſt: for at the Return of the Year the King of Syria will come up againſt thee.

23. And the King of Syria's Servants ſaid to him: Their God is a God of the Hills, therefore they were ſtronger than we; but ſhould we indeed fight with them in the Plain, ſhall not we be ſtronger than they?

24. However do this Thing; Take away the Kings from their ſeveral Places, and put Captains in their room.

25. And do thou muſter thee an Army like that which is fallen of thine, with other Horſes and Chariots like thoſe, and let us fight with them in the Plain; ſhall not we be ſtronger than they? And he hearkened to what they ſaid, and did ſo.

26. Accordingly at the Return of the Year, Ben-hadad numbered the Syrians, and went up to Aphek, to fight with Iſrael.

27. The Iſraelites likewiſe were numbered, being compleat, and went to meet them; before whom they encamped like two little Flocks of Goats, whereas the Syrians filled the Country.

28. But a Man of God came, and ſpoke as follows to the King of Iſrael; Thus ſays the Lord, Becauſe the Syrians have ſaid, The Lord is a God of the Hills, yet is not a God of the Vales; therefore will I deliver all this great Multitude into thy Power, and you ſhall know that I am the Lord.

29. And theſe encamping over againſt thoſe ſeven Days, on the ſeventh Day the Battle approached, and the Iſraelites ſlew of the Syrians a hundred thouſand Footmen in one Day.

30. Nay thoſe who were left fleeing to Aphek into the City, there fell a Wall upon twenty ſeven thouſand Men of them; but Ben-hadad fled, and got into the City, to an inner Chamber.

31. And his Servants ſaid to him, Behold now we have heard concerning the Kings of the Family of Iſrael, that they are kind ones; let us, we pray, put Sackcloth on our Loins, and Ropes on our Heads, and go out to the King of Iſrael, perhaps he will ſave thy Life.

32. So they girded Sackcloth on their Loins, having Ropes on their Heads, and coming to the King of Iſrael, ſaid; Thy Servant Ben-hadad intreats, Save my Life, I beſeech thee. And he ſaid, Is he yet alive? He is my Brother.

33. Now the Men conjecturing, made haſte and pronounced expreſsly whether it was from him, repeating, Thy Brother Ben-hadad; and he replied, Go in, fetch him: at which Ben-hadad came out to him, and he made him get up into the Chariot.

34. Who offering him, The Cities which my Father took from thine I will reſtore, and thou ſhalt make thee Streets in Damaſcus, as my Father made in Samaria. Then, ſays he, I will let thee go by that Covenant: ſo he made the Covenant with him, and let him go.

Ver. 23. God] as Ver. 28.

Ib. ſhall not] לא making a Queſtion, and לא being not; ſo in Ver. 25.

Ver. 27. compleat] This Hebrew Verb found only beſides in Ezek. xxvii. 4, 11. our Tranſlators have rendered there in the like Senſe by perfect.

Ver. 28. and you] There is ו for [and] in the Hebrew, therefore it ſhould not be in the Italick Print.

Ver. 33. pronounced expreſsly] That the Verb, being Chaldee and found only here among the Hebrew, does thus ſignify, ſee Buxt. Chald. Lex.

Ib. whether it] He being in the Chariot, they might not at firſt diſtinctly hear whether he called Ben-hadad his Brother, and ſo repeated it to be ſure, which agrees well with the Context.

Ib. Go in] Agreeable to the Meaning of the Verb, and to Ben-hadad came out.

35. But

35. But a certain Man, of the Sons of the Prophets, ſaid to his Neighbour by the Word of the Lord, Smite me, I pray; which the Man refuſed to do.

36. Whereupon he declared to him, Becauſe thou doſt not obey what the Lord ſays, behold when thou goeſt from me, a Lion ſhall ſlay thee. Accordingly when he went from him, a Lion met with him, and ſlew him.

37. Afterwards he met with another Man, and ſaid, Smite me, I pray; ſo the Man did, till he was wounded.

38. The Prophet in the next place went, and ſtaid for the King in the Way, having diſguiſed himſelf with a Veil over his Eyes.

39. And as the King paſſed by, he cried out to him in this manner; Thy Servant went out amidſt the Battle, and behold a Man turning aſide, brought another to me, and ſaid, Keep this Man, if he be at all miſſing, thy Life ſhall be for his, or elſe thou ſhalt pay a Talent of Silver.

40. But while thy Servant was buſy here and there, he was gone. And the King of Iſrael anſwered him, So ſhall be thy Judgment, thou haſt determined it.

41. He then made haſte, and took off the Veil from his Eyes; and the King of Iſrael knew that he was one of the Prophets.

42. And he declared to him; Thus ſays the Lord, Becauſe thou haſt let the Man of my Curſe go out of Cuſtody, therefore both thy Life and the People ſhall be for his.

43. At this the King of Iſrael went home, with Diſtaſte and Indignation; and came to Samaria.

CHAP. XXI.

AND after theſe Things Naboth the Jezreelite having a Vineyard which was in Jezreel, by the Palace of Ahab King of Samaria;

2. He ſpoke thus to Naboth, Give me thy Vineyard, that I may have it for a Garden of Herbs, becauſe it is near by my Houſe, and I will give thee another for it better than that: or if thou likeſt it, I will give thee the Price of it in Money.

3. Who anſwered him, Far be it from me by the Lord, that I ſhould give the Poſſeſſion of my Fathers to thee.

4. Therefore Ahab went into his Houſe, with Diſtaſte and Indignation, for thoſe Words which Naboth the Jezreelite ſpoke to him, that he would not give him the Poſſeſſion of his Fathers; and he lay down upon his Bed, and turning about his Face, would eat no Victuals.

5. With that Jezebel his Wife coming to him, enquired of him, Why does thy Mind turn away, ſo that thou wilt eat no Victuals?

6. Becauſe, ſaid he to her, I ſpoke to Naboth the Jezreelite, and ſaid to him, Give me thy Vineyard for Money, or if it pleaſe thee, I will give thee another for it; and he anſwered, I will not give thee my Vineyard.

7. Then ſhe replied to him, Thou doſt now manage the Kingdom over Iſrael; riſe up, eat ſome Victuals, and let thy Heart be chearful, I will give thee the Vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.

8. So ſhe wrote Letters in Ahab's Name, and ſealed with his Seal, which ſhe ſent to the Elders and Nobles who were in Naboth's City, dwelling with him.

9. And ſhe wrote in them as follows; Proclaim a Faſt, and cauſe Naboth to ſit at the Head of the People.

10. Cauſe alſo two Men, ungodly Perſons, to ſit before him, and let them give this Evidence againſt him, Thou didſt blaſpheme God and the King; then have him out, and ſtone him, that he may die.

11. And the Men of his City, the Elders and Nobles who dwelt in it, did as Jezebel ſent to them, as it was written in the Letters which ſhe ſent to them.

12. They proclaimed a Faſt, and cauſed Naboth to ſit at the Head of the People.

13. And there came two Men, ungodly Perſons, and ſate before him, who gave this Evidence againſt him before the People, Naboth did blaſpheme God and the King; then they had him abroad out of the City, and ſtoned him with Stones, ſo that he died.

14. Next they ſent Word to Jezebel, Naboth is ſtoned, and dead.

15. Which when ſhe heard, ſhe ſaid to Ahab, Riſe up, poſſeſs the Vineyard of Na-

Ver. 38. The Prophet] who, Joſephus ſays, was Micaiah, Antiq. Lib. viii. 8. ſpoken of Chap. xxii. & Chap. xxii. 8. favours it.

Ib. with a Veil over his Eyes] אדר according to the Hebrews being from אדר a Tire or Veil, by Tranſpoſition of the Letters, a Thing not ſtrange in that Language. So ſpeaks David Kimhi in the Book of Roots; and thus the great Lexicon of Pagnine expounds it; and Leigh in Critica Sacra, with the literal Verſion of Montanus: as alſo the Targum has טעמרא which has the like Signification. Nay Aſhes upon his Face may ſeem abſurd, the Original alſo being Eyes, and not Face.

Ver. 43. with Diſtaſte] Heb. as if turning away; rendered variouſly, and heavy widely.

Ver. 1. having] for doubtleſs he had it, as in the common Tranſlation, as well at the Time of and before theſe Things, as after, Ver. 3. which is therefore improper.

Ver. 5. turn away] as at Chap. xx. ult. but another Word, and more common.

both the Jezreelite, which he refuſed to give thee for Money: for he is not alive, but dead.

16. When Ahab too heard that Naboth the Jezreelite was dead, he roſe up to go down to his Vineyard, that he might have the Poſſeſſion of it.

17. But Elijah the Tiſhbite had the following Commiſſion of the Lord:

18. Get ready, go down to meet Ahab King of Iſrael, who is at Samaria; behold he will be in the Vineyard of Naboth, whither he is going down to poſſeſs it.

19. To whom thou ſhalt ſpeak as follows; Thus ſays the Lord, Haſt thou killed, and alſo poſſeſſed? Then ſhalt thou denounce to him; Thus ſays the Lord, In the Place where the Dogs licked up the Blood of Naboth, ſhall Dogs lick up the Blood even of thee thy ſelf.

20. And Ahab ſaid to Elijah, Haſt thou found me, O my Enemy? Who anſwered; I have, becauſe thou haſt delivered up thy ſelf to do what the Lord is diſpleaſed with.

21. Who behold ſays, I will bring Harm to thee, and take away thy Poſterity; as likewiſe cut off from Ahab the grown Male, with him who is ſhut up, and him who is left in Iſrael.

22. Nay I will make thy Family like thoſe of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, and of Baaſha the Son of Ahijah, for the Indignation to which thou haſt provoked, and for making Iſrael ſin.

23. And alſo of Jezebel the Lord thus ſpeaks; Dogs ſhall eat Jezebel by the Fort of Jezreel.

24. Him who dies of Ahab in the City ſhall the Dogs eat, and him who dies in the Field ſhall the Fowls of the Air eat.

25. But Ahab was an unparalleled Inſtance of one who delivered himſelf up to do what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, being ſet on by Jezebel his Wife.

26. For he did very abominably in going after filthy Idols; according to all that the Amorites did, whom the Lord expelled from the Preſence of the Iſraelites.

27. Nevertheleſs when Ahab heard theſe Words, he tore his Cloaths, put Sackcloth upon his Fleſh, faſted, lay in Sackcloth, and walked gently.

28. Upon which Elijah the Tiſhbite had this Word of the Loed,

29. Doſt thou ſee that Ahab is humbled at my Preſence? Becauſe he is humbled by reaſon of me, I will not bring the Harm in his Time, in his Son's Time will I bring it upon his Family.

CHAP. XXII.

AND they abode three Years without any War between Syria and Iſrael.

2. But in the third Year, Jehoſhaphat King of Judah went down to the King of Iſrael.

3. Who ſaid to his Servants, Do you know that Ramoth-gilead belongs to us? And are we ſilent from taking it out of the Power of the King of Syria?

4. And when he aſked Jehoſhaphat, Wilt thou go with me to War at Ramoth-gilead? Jehoſhaphat anſwered the King of Iſrael, I am the ſame as thou art, my People are the ſame as thine, my Horſes the ſame as thy own.

5. But added he to him, Enquire, I pray, the Word of the Lord preſently.

6. Upon this the King of Iſrael gathered together the Prophets, about four hundred Men, and ſaid to them, Shall I go againſt Ramoth-gilead to war, or ſhall I forbear? And they declared, Go up, and the Lord will deliver it into the King's Power.

7. However Jehoſhaphat aſked, Is here no Prophet of the Lord yet, of whom we may enquire?

Ver. 19. Place] Dogs licking his Blood was fulfilled on Ahab himſelf, Chap. xxii. 38. but this Part of the Denunciation to be in that particular Spot of Ground was transferred to his Son, 2 Kings ix. 25, 26. on his own humbling himſelf, ſince ſuch Threatenings are to be underſtood conditionally, as declared Ver. 29.

Ver. 21. Who—ſays] Which not only the Matter evidences, but Ver. 23. ſhews; and the like is to be underſtood elſewhere, and is added in the preſent Tranſlation.

Ver. 23. ſpeaks] Which being declared by Elijah, 2 Kings ix. 36. appears to be done now; though the preſent Engliſh makes it look as if added by the Hiſtorian, however with the Mark for the Beginning of the Paragraph at Ver. 25.

Ver. 28. Upon which] How merciful is the Lord! And withal, as here, how juſt!

Ver. 29. Becauſe] In the Book called Sad-der in the modern Perſian Language, publiſhed at the End of Hyde's Hiſt. Relig. Vet. Perſarum, printed at Oxford, 1700, being a Compendium of and Tranſlation from the Zend-aveſta of Zoroaſtres, mentioned on Gen. i. 31. it is related that Zerduſht, as they call Zoroaſtres, ſaw a Man plunged in Gehenna or Hell, with one Foot only ſticking out; and upon Enquiry, was told he had been the Prince of thirty three Cities, and reigned many Years, with Oppreſſion, Injuſtice, Pride and Luxury, without doing any one good Action; but once ſeeing a Sheep caught in a Thicket, ſo that it would have periſhed for Want of Food, he was moved with Compaſſion, and alighting from his Horſe, releaſed the Sheep, and had it to the Paſture; for which his Foot remained out of Gehenna. This Exhortation follows it there; 'Endeavour 'therefore to do all the Good thou canſt; for God is 'kind and merciful, and will reward the very ſmalleſt 'Good thou doeſt.' Compare Ver. 25, 26. of this Chap. with the following Verſes.

Ver. 2. third] the three, Ver. 1. being not whole ones.

Ver. 3. Ramoth-gilead] I know not why the common Tranſlation has Ramoth in Gilead here, and not afterwards, and when it is not ſo in the Original.

8. And

8. And the King of Iſrael anſwered him, There is yet one Man to enquire of the Lord from him; but I hate him, for he does not propheſy well concerning me, but ill, even Micaiah the Son of Imlah. To which Jehoſhaphat replied, Let not the King ſay ſo.

9. He therefore called an Officer, and ſaid, Make haſte for Micaiah the Son of Imlah.

10. Now the King of Iſrael, and Jehoſhaphat King of Judah, ſate upon their reſpective Thrones, ſuitably cloathed, in the Floor at the Entrance of the Gate of Samaria; and all the Prophets propheſied before them.

11. And Zedekiah the Son of Chenaanah, having made him Horns of Iron, declared; Thus ſays the Lord, With theſe ſhalt thou puſh the Syrians, till thou haſt conſumed them.

12. All the Prophets likewiſe propheſied ſo, ſaying, Go up to Ramoth-gilead, and proſper, for the Lord will deliver it into the King's Power.

13. So the Meſſenger who went to call Micaiah, ſpoke thus to him, Behold now the Words of the Prophets are good with one Conſent to the King; let thy Word, I pray, be like that of one of them, and ſpeak thou Good.

14. But Micaiah ſaid, By the Lord's living, what the Lord ſays to me, I will ſpeak.

15. And coming to the King, he aſked him, Micaiah, ſhall we go againſt Ramoth-gilead to war, or ſhall we forbear? Who anſwered him, Go thou up, and proſper, ſince the Lord will deliver it into the King's Power.

16. Yet when the King ſaid to him, How many times ſhall I require thee to ſwear, that thou wilt ſpeak to me Nothing but the Truth in the Name of the Lord?

17. He replied; I ſaw all Iſrael ſcattered on the Mountains, as Sheep that have no Shepherd; and the Lord ſaid, Theſe have no Maſter, let them return to their ſeveral Homes in Peace.

18. At which the King of Iſrael ſaid to Jehoſhaphat, Did not I tell thee, he would not propheſy well concerning me, but ill?

19. Beſides he ſaid: Therefore hear thou the Word of the Lord; I ſaw him ſitting upon his Throne, and all the Army of Heaven was ſtanding by him, at his right Hand and at his left.

20. When the Lord ſaid, Who will perſuade Ahab, that he may go up, and fall at Ramoth-gilead? Which one propoſing in this Manner, and another in that;

21. There came forth a Spirit, and ſtood before the Lord, who ſaid, I will perſuade him; and upon the Lord's aſking him, By what?

22. He anſwered, I will go forth, and be a falſe Spirit in the Mouths of all his Prophets. And he replied, Thou ſhalt perſuade, and alſo prevail; go out, and do ſo.

23. Therefore now behold the Lord has put a falſe Spirit into the Mouths of all theſe thy Prophets; and the Lord has ſpoken ill concerning thee.

24. With that Zedekiah the Son of Chenaanah going nigh, ſtruck Micaiah on the Cheek, and aſked, Where was it the Spirit of the Lord paſſed from me to ſpeak to thee?

25. And Micaiah ſaid, Behold thou wilt ſee on that Day, in which thou ſhalt go into an inner Chamber to hide.

26. The King of Iſrael notwithſtanding ordered; Take Micaiah, and have him back to Amon the Governor of the City, and to Joaſh the King's Son.

27. And tell: Thus ſays the King, Put this Man into a Houſe of Reſtraint; and make him live upon both the Victuals and Drink of Oppreſſion, till I come in Peace.

28. Whereas Micaiah ſaid, If thou at all returneſt in Peace, the Lord has not ſpoken by me; hear, added he, all theſe People.

29. So the King of Iſrael, and Jehoſhaphat King of Judah, went up to Ramoth-gilead.

30. And the former ſaid to Jehoſhaphat, I will diſguiſe my ſelf, and go into the Battle, but do thou put on thy Garments. Accordingly he diſguiſed himſelf, and went into the Battle.

31. Now the King of Syria had thus commanded the thirty two Captains of the Chariots

riots that he had, Do not fight with ſmall or great, but with the King of Iſrael alone.

32. And when they ſaw Jehoſhaphat, they ſaid, Verily it is the King of Iſrael, and turned aſide to fight againſt him; at which he cried out.

33. But as ſoon as they ſaw that it was not the King of Iſrael, they turned back from after him.

34. And a Man drawing a Bow undeſignedly, hit the King of Iſrael between the Breaſt-plate and the Joints; ſo that he ſaid to his Charioteer, Turn thy Hand, and have me out of the Army: for I am ſick.

35. The Battle alſo came to ſuch a Height that Day, that the King was made to remain in the Chariot before the Syrians; but he died in the Evening, and the Blood was poured out of the Wound into the Bottom of the Chariot.

36. And it was cried thus throughout the Army about Sun-ſet, Every Man away to his reſpective City, or Country.

37. Thus the King died, and was brought to Samaria, where they buried him.

38. And the Chariot being rinſed at the Fiſh-pond of Samaria, the Dogs licked up his Blood, while they were waſhing the Armour; according to the Word that the Lord had ſpoken.

39. As for the reſt of Ahab's Affairs, and all that he did, including the ivory Houſe together with all the Cities which he built, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael?

40. So Ahab lay down with his Fathers, and Ahaziah his Son reigned in his room.

41. Moreover Jehoſhaphat the Son of Aſa began reigning over Judah, in the fourth Year of Ahab King of Iſrael.

42. He was in his thirty fifth Year when he began reigning, and reigned twenty five Years at Jeruſalem: whoſe Mother's Name was Azubah, the Daughter of Shilhi.

43. And he went in all the Way of Aſa his Father, he turned not aſide from it, doing what the Lord approved of.

44. Only the Chapels were not taken away; the People did yet ſacrifice, and burn incenſe in them.

45. And Jehoſhaphat had Peace with the King of Iſrael.

46. As to the reſt of Jehoſhaphat's Affairs, and his Power that he acted with, and with which he fought, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

47. And the reſt of the Sodomites who were left in the Time of Aſa his Father, he took away out of the Country.

48. There was now no King in Edom, a Governor being King.

49. Jehoſhaphat made Ships of Tarſhiſh to go to Ophir for Gold, but they went not, for the Ships were broke at Ezion-geber.

50. Then Ahaziah the Son of Ahab ſaying to Jehoſhaphat, Let my Servants go with thine in Ships; he would not.

51. And Jehoſhaphat lay down with his Fathers, being buried with them in the City of his Father David; and Jehoram his Son reigned in his room.

52. Ahaziah the Son of Ahab began reigning over Iſrael in Samaria, when Jehoſhaphat had been ſeventeen Years King of Judah; and he reigned over it two Years.

53. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with; going in the Way both of his Father and Mother, and in that of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, who made Iſrael ſin.

54. For he ſerved Baal, and worſhipped him; and provoked the Lord God of Iſrael, according to all that his Father had done.

Ver. 38. while they were waſhing] For why ſhould the Waſhing of the Armour be mentioned elſe? I don't find this has been properly tranſlated by any before. The Biſhops have the waſhing of the Armour only, according to the Word of the Lord, there being a Colon before. That the Hebrew Vau does ſometimes ſignify while, may be ſeen ſufficiently in Noldius's Particles, as well as my Preface. The Word for Armour as here ſpelled, coinciding with another for Whores, the Seventy turned it ſo, whom ſome Moderns have indiſcreetly followed, making it and Whores waſhed, which is gravely expounded to be themſelves in the Pond. The vulgar Latin has it more trifling than our vulgar Engliſh, and they waſhed the Harneſs, which laſt Word the College of Doway have ſtill more ridiculous the raynes of the bridle.

There will then be left for Joſhua ſeventeen, which requires no farther Proof; and Caleb's Speech of his Age, &c. being put between the Account of the Wars and Diviſion of the Country, ſhews it was then ſubdued; but Joſhua was yet at Gilgal, where the Camp was during the Wars, Joſh. iv. 19. & v. 10. & ix. 6. & x. 6, 43. from whence it appears that they were lately over. The Objection which Bedford mentions, Scrip. Chr. L. v. 1. 4. of a long time, Joſh. xxiii. 1. eaſily vaniſhes, the Hebrew being many days, as in Jer. xiii. 6. where doubtleſs the Time was not ſo long. And Joſhua was old enough to be the Iſraelites General the firſt Year of their going from Egypt, Exod. xvii. 9. As to his being called נַעַר Exod. xxxiii. 11. it may be better rendered Servant than young Man, as in 2 Sam. ix. 9. & xvi. 1. where it is uſed of Ziba who had fifteen Sons, and ſeems an old Servant of Saul. Other Sums of Years to be met with may be thus computed: the forty in Judg. iii. 11. from Joſhua's Deceaſe, whoſe Age was the laſt Period of Years beforementioned, excepting the eight Years, Ver. 8. included therein; which might begin twenty Years more or leſs after Joſhua's Deceaſe, and ſo leave Room for what is related in the 1ſt and 2d Chapters of Judges. So the eighteen Years, Chap. iii. 14. are in the eighty, Ver. 30. only at their Beginning; and the twenty Years, Chap. iv. 3. are to be reckoned in the forty, Chap. v. 31. with the ſeven, Chap. vi. 1. in the forty, Chap. viii. 28. the End of one Reſting-time being counted from the End of the foregoing. As there is no Mention of Years concerning Shamgar, and the Relation of him is after the Concluſion of the eighty Years, that falls under the next forty Years, which Chap. iv. 1. & v. 6. confirm. Thoſe Judges were raiſed up occaſionally, but the following till Jephthah were in a regular Succeſſion, and after him till Samſon. The Reaſon why another Judge did not immediately ſucceed Jair when he died, appears to be the Troubles the Iſraelites had from the Ammonites, who having oppreſſed the two Tribes and half on the other ſide Jordan eighteen Years, paſſed over that Year into Canaan, Chap. x. 8, 9. ſo that the Interval being but part of a Year, does not interrupt the Chronology, belonging to Jephthah's ſix Years. The 300 Years ſpoken of Chap. xi. 26. are not to be ſtrictly regarded, being not the Words of the inſpired Hiſtorian like the reſt, but of Jephthah, who needed not to tell the King of Ammon preciſely how long the Iſraelites had dwelt in thoſe Cities, but to make the Time as long as he could by Hundreds of Years, without adding a Hundred; which real Time amounts to 249 Years. Next the Iſraelites being given into the Power of the Philiſtines forty Years, Chap. xiii. 1. is to be underſtood twenty from Abdon's to Samſon's Death, and twenty after: for the Philiſtines had the Maſtery in Samſon's Time, Chap. xv. 11. who did not overcome with an Army like Ehud, Barak, Gideon and Jephthah, though he did great Exploits as a ſingle Man. The five laſt Chapters of the Book of the Judges contain two Stories miſplaced, which were tranſacted earlier, as we may find by Chap. xviii. 1. & Ver. 12. compared with xiii. 25. and xix. 10, 11, 12. compared with i. 8. & xx. 28.

Sir John Marſham, and others after him, have imagined the Judges to belong only to a Part of the Country, and ſo two of them to have been at the ſame Time, in different Diviſions, which they make four, eaſtern, &c. But this is to me quite improbable, being without any Hints of ſuch a Thing through the Hiſtory of ſo many Perſons; in the next place it throws all their Times into Uncertainty, when the Scripture has been ſo exact concerning the Numbers of their Years ſucceſſively; and to what Purpoſe, if not ſucceſſive? While perhaps this was deviſed only to avoid ſome Difficulties which are here removed.

Uſher making the Judges to ſucceed one another, however takes away the twenty Years from Samſon, and aſcribes twenty one to Samuel, beſides forty to Saul: whereas Samſon is twice ſaid to judge Iſrael twenty Years, Judg. xv. 20. & xvi. 31. like the reſt of the Judges in Chap. x. & xii. and the forty Years which ended at Saul's Death, Acts xiii. 21. appear to ſucceed thoſe of the Judges, and begin with Samuel's Adminiſtration, eſpecially as the Original Word is κἀκεῖθεν, and from thence. I find further that Jonathan the Son of Saul was old enough to command Part of the Army at the Entrance of his Father's Reign, 1 Sam. xiii. 1, 2. when he was probably at leaſt about twenty, and the Father about forty Years of Age; and who can believe that Saul was about fourſcore at his Death? Since there is no Mention of his being old, and the Account of his going to the Witch and being in the Battle is unſuitable to ſuch an Age, 1 Sam. xxviii. 8, 20, 25. & xxxi. 3, 4. much more his being ſwifter than an Eagle, and ſtronger than a Lion, 2 Sam. i. 23. conſidering too what is ſaid of that Age, Pſa. xc. 10. 2 Sam. xix. 32, 35. Uſher again varies in reckoning ten Years between Gideon's Death and Abimelech's Reign; of which there is not the leaſt Sign, but the contrary in chooſing a Succeſſor to Gideon from among his Sons, Judg. ix. and continuing the Chain of Chronology through the Time of the Judges. On the other hand he begins the forty Years of Reſt ending with Othniel's Death, from the firſt Reſt procured by Joſhua, as he himſelf terms it, ſix Years after the Entrance into Canaan; but as it is from the Beginning of that firſt Reſt, it utterly confounds them together, and becomes abſurd. Note, Bedford has taken ſome of Uſher's Numbers wrong into the 41ſt Table of his Scripture Chronology; and for the Computation here uſed, I find the Judgment of no leſs a Man than Lightfoot, Vol. i. p. 43. and Howel ſays, 'from the Death of Eli, when the Ark was taken, to the 'Death of Saul, muſt be forty Years,' Hiſt. of the Holy Bible, Book vi.

When we come into the 1ſt Book of Samuel, after Eli's forty Years, we meet with twenty in Chap. vii. 2. which ſeems not a little to have puzzled Interpreters; becauſe David brought the Ark from Kirjath-jearim forty ſeven Years after, when he had been made King over all Iſrael. Cowley indeed on his Davideis, B. iv. n. 13. where he mentions ſeveral improbable Opinions, reckoning thirty Years to Samuel's Government and ten to Saul's, puts the Beginning of theſe twenty to be three Years before Saul's Reign; but inſtead of twenty ſeven Years after Samuel began to govern, it appears not to be quite one, 1 Sam. vi. 1. Others have imagined, it ſeems, that it was twenty Years after Eli died, before Samuel took the Government on him, doing what is related after the 2d Verſe, where the twenty Years are mentioned. But there is no neceſſary Connection between them, beſides the latter being put next after the former; which two firſt Verſes might better have been divided into the foregoing Chapter. Moreover it is plain that Samuel ſucceeded Eli preſently or ſoon after, Chap. iii. 20. Acts xiii. 20. 1 Sam. iv. 1. compared with Chap. vii. 3. It is not ſaid that Samuel ſpoke or did what follows at the End of twenty Years, but that the Ark abode ſo long in Kirjath-jearim; that is, as I compute, the twenty Years of Samuel's governing, who wrote this Hiſtory after he had laid that Office down; during which Time the Iſraelites lamented after the Lord, they truſting in his Ark for their Protection, Chap. iv. 3. till they got a King to truſt in, Chap. viii. 20. thus they grieved for their own Safeguard; nay as ſoon as Saul was King, they ſeem to have fetched it, and carried it back again, Chap. xi. 15. as was done afterwards upon Occaſion, Chap. xiv. 18. So Howel ſays, 'that twenty Years muſt be referred to the 'Time of the ſingle Adminiſtration of Samuel in the Go-'vernment,' Hiſtory of the Holy Bible, B. vi.

Before I go on to the Reign of David, I would take notice of a Paſſage in the Acts of the Apoſtles, which Book is very ill tranſlated. That at preſent ſtands thus, Chap. xiii. 20. after that he gave unto them Judges about the ſpace of four hundred and fifty years; which muſt be wrong, ſince from Joſhua until Samuel it was but 339 Years: and if it were to be reckoned from the going out of Egypt, which the Words will not bear, as thoſe Years were after Canaan was divided, and the forty Years in the Wilderneſs were named before, the whole is but 396, which could have been counted at moſt but 400; yet Uſher himſelf reckons thoſe Years either from the Birth of Iſaac, or Rejection of Iſhmael, or both, to the Conqueſt of Canaan by Joſhua, even though they are ſaid to begin after that. The Tranſlation therefore ſhould be in this Manner, as it were four hundred and fifty Years; ὡς very well and properly ſignifying as it were, or as if it were; which Broughton frequently, and earneſtly, pleads for in his Works to be rendered after a ſort; and Bedford has it after a manner. Beſides if we obſerve from whence the 450 Years were taken, we may be fully ſatisfied of this tranſlating; by collecting together the Years of the Iſraelites ſuffering in the Time of the Judges, under Meſopotamia,	8	—	Chap. iii. 8.

the Moabites,	18	—	Ver. 14.
Canaanites,	20	—	Chap. iv. 3.
Midianites,	7	—	Chap. vi. 1.
Ammonites,	18	—	Chap. x. 8.
Philiſtines,	40	—	Chap. xiii. 1.

the Total of which is 111, and adding it to the real Time of the Judges 339, we have this 450 Years. It ſeems that this falſe Quantity had been received by the Jews for the true Space of Time that the Judges ruled, or at leaſt by thoſe Jews of Antioch, in whoſe Synagogue Paul was then preaching: which is no Wonder, ſince the Numbers of Years in the Book of the Judges would be very difficult to compute of themſelves, and rather ſeem 450 than 339 Years; nay it is aſſerted in the Aſſembly's Annotations, the Judges did govern ſo long: the Jewiſh Writers were alſo very ignorant in Chronology, and withal very bold, of which Inſtances enow might be given; and what adds ſufficient Weight to this, is Joſephus counting it in the like erroneous Manner, Antiq. L. viii. 2. It would not therefore have been well for Paul to contradict thoſe Jews in ſuch a ſmall Matter, who were ſo willing to hear the Goſpel preached, by which they might have been hindered from receiving it. Thus it was very prudent to ſay as it were 450 years, becauſe it ſeemed ſo to them. He likewiſe comprehended the Years of Samuel in the forty he attributed to Saul, as he did the 111 in thoſe 450.

Within David's Reign occurs alſo a Number, which has afforded no little Difficulty, viz. the forty in 2 Sam. xv. 7. which I preſume muſt be referred to the Beginning either of Saul's or David's Reign, for Abſalom himſelf could not be ſo old, 2 Sam. iii. 3. though Howel writes, it is more likely they commenced from his Birth, Hiſt. of the Holy Bible, B. vi. If the firſt, Abſalom's Rebellion was when his Father had reigned twenty Years in all, ſeven in Hebron and thirteen in Jeruſalem, at which Time Abſalom, being his third Son born in Hebron, 1 Chron. iii. 2. would be leſs than twenty Years of Age; out of which allowing a competent Time for him to ingratiate himſelf with the People, which ſeems at leaſt to be ſome Years, and ſubſtracting the two whole Years he was at Jeruſalem, 2 Sam. xiv. 28. the three at Geſhur, Chap. xiii. 38. and the two before, Ver. 23. to compute his Age when Tamar was raviſhed by Amnon; we ſhall find him much too young to be a Houſekeeper to receive Tamar, and manage ſo ſubtilly as he did, Ver. 20. He would be alſo too young for the Murder of Amnon, and to have four Children, Chap. xiv. 27. and notwithſtanding his having three Sons, it appears that he was a conſiderable, or rather long Time, without any one, by their dying, for which reaſon he ſet up a Statue or Pillar to preſerve his Name, Chap. xviii. 18. All which concurring Circumſtances, with his Daughter being a fair Woman, Chap. xiv. 27. plainly indicate Abſalom to be far more than twenty, I may ſay not much leſs than forty, Years old at his Death.

But dating the forty Years with the Reign of David, all theſe Objections are removed, and I truſt ſo may the new ones which will ariſe, without altering the forty Years to four, as in ſome Copies of the vulg. Latin, &c. David reigning forty Years and ſix Months, Chap. v. 5. might be his actual reigning, before which there muſt be ſome Time back to the Death of Saul, from whence his Reign otherwiſe was dated; nay we find that he and his Men dwelt in Hebron before he was made King there, 2 Sam. ii. 3. which Time added to the ſix Months, and what might be included under the Term, agreeable to the like Expreſſion, 2 Kings xviii. 10. Jer. xxxiv. 14. with Exod. xxi. 2. may be ſufficient for Abſalom's uſurping the Kingdom, before David reſigned the Government to Solomon. Jun. and Trem. render this Place with ante before forty Years, and expound it alſo of David's Reign, as likewiſe Abarbanel, Peter Martyr, &c. ſee Buxtorf's Anticritica, p. 1104. and for the ſame Poole's Annot. and Allen's Chain of Scripture Chronology. As to what follows the Story of Abſalom in the 2*d Book of Samuel*, we ſhall find it to be Relations of Matters done moſtly before Abſalom's War. The Hiſtory of David's Troubles from the 12th to the 21ſt Chap. ſeems annexed to the 12th, to ſhew the Puniſhment of his Sin, and the Fulfilling of the Threatening denounced againſt him, Chap. xii. 10, 11, 12. after which the Hiſtorian went back to gather up ſome Particulars that were remarkable, and not to be loſt, as in the five laſt Chapters of Judges. The fetching, and burying, Saul's and Jonathan's Bones, was probably but a few Years after their Death, yet following the three Years of Famine, Chap. xxi. 14. which with Chap. xxii. 1. compared with Chap. vii. 1. and Chap. xxi. 8, 9. with xvi. 8. ſhew what is told in Chap. xxi. to have been in Order of Time long before. And the laſt Chapter will be put back with it: for the ſeven Years of Famine offered to David, Ver. 13. are three Years, 1 Chron. xxi. 12. which how is it to be underſtood, but that this was in the Year after the three Years of Famine aforeſaid, ſo that three Years more (in which we may reckon the Parts of that Year) would make ſeven? Or that this was in the laſt of the three Years, and one of the ſeven would be ſabbatical? Moreover Gad being David's Seer, ſhews it was not in the laſt Part of his Reign: for of Gad there is early Mention, and his being then a Prophet, 1 Sam. xxii. 5. and that he lived not till the Time of Solomon, is evident, becauſe writing the Hiſtory of his Time, as the Manner was then, he wrote the Acts of David, i. e. ſome of them, like Samuel, 1 Chron. xxix. 29. but not of Solomon, as Nathan did, 2 Chron. ix. 29. nor do we find him named in David's latter Days known to be ſuch, particularly in 1 Kings i. 7, 8, &c. where, had he been living, we might expect to find Mention made of him. Nay the Word again, 2 Sam. xxiv. 1. may ſhew it has Relation to Chap. xxi. 1. which is what was, as the Mathematicians ſay, to be proved.

David's Want of Heat might be owing to ſome Diſeaſe, which has been ſuppoſed to be a dead Palſy, as well as old Age, 1 Kings i. 1. notwithſtanding he might be able not long before to flee from Abſalom (though by Pſa. lxxi. old then) whoſe ſetting himſelf up to be King, might alſo put his next Brother upon it ſoon after, 1 Kings i. 6. as it had done Sheba, 2 Sam. xx. 1. as likewiſe Joab's Affront, 2 Sam. xix. 13. might cauſe him to promote it, and join with him, 1 Kings ii. 28. both which would more likely be that Year, than ſome Years after. And David having ten Concubines at once, 2 Sam. xv. 16. and yet Abiſhag ſought for to keep him warm, intimates his aforeſaid Illneſs to be ſoon after he put them away becauſe of Abſalom, Chap. xx. 3. otherwiſe he would doubtleſs have had more, and ſuch as were fit to cheriſh him in old Age, without ſeeking for Abiſhag. David's being anointed by Samuel, as Uſher, Lightfoot, and Carpzove ſuppoſe, or Saul's ſlaying the Prieſts, according to Jerome, &c. do neither of them ſeem likely to be a Date or Epocha to reckon the forty Years from; beſides beſides would render the Number quite uſeleſs, as it would not ſettle or ſhew the Time of any Thing, and ſo be unworthy of the holy Scripture. But this Number is extraneous to the main Chronology; and Bedford has nothing of it in his large Chronology, by reaſon of the Difficulty, as may be thought; yet of other Opinions, and their Reaſons, ſee Buxtorf's Vindication, p. 1003—1010.

From the Time that Rahab the Harlot was ſaved, who was the Mother of Boaz, Mat. i. 5. to David's Birth, was 367 Years, and if we allow the ſixty ſeven to Rahab before ſhe bore Boaz, there will be for him, Obed and Jeſſe, 100 each when their ſaid Sons were born, every one of which was a great Age. Therefore the Time of the Judges could not be about 450 Years, which would make each of the Men about 130 Years old, and Rahab 100, when they had a Son, which is incredible. In Confirmation of the former, Jeſſe was an old Man in King Saul's Days, 1 Sam. xvii. 12. yet lived many Years after David his youngeſt Son was born, Chap. xxii. 3. as likewiſe Boaz appears to have been old, when he married Ruth, Book iii. 10. which Hiſtory (that I find Uſher in his large accurate Chronology ſay Nothing of) falls thus in the Time of Deborah, and is according to the Mind of Vorſtius on Ganz Chron. p. 219. and not as Joſephus ſays, under the Government of Eli, Antiq. Lib. v. 11. above 150 Years after.

I have only to ſubjoin, that Rehoboam being the Son of forty one Years, i. e. entered his 41ſt Year, as Gen. v. 32. at the End of his Father's forty Years Reign, 1 Kings xiv. 21. yet Solomon might not be married till after David died (which might be very ſoon after his Son's Acceſſion to the Throne) if he reigned almoſt forty one, and Rehoboam was little more than forty Years old. For it is not very probable that Solomon married an Ammoniteſs, Rehoboam's Mother, 1 Kings xiv. 21, 31. while David lived; which is charged on him for a Crime, and beſides the Ammonites were David's great Enemies: accordingly I find him contracted to a Wife the ſame Day his Mother crowned him, Cant. iii. ult. which may be ſuppoſed ſoon after his Father's Death or Burial, and the Marriage quickly after that. So that we muſt drop our preſent Tranſlation, Rehoboam was fourty and one years old when he began to reign, 1 Kings xiv. 21. 2 Chron. xii. 13.

As it appears that the noted Deſtruction of Troy by the Greeks was 408 Years before the Beginning of the Olympiads, by Diodorus Siculus, Pref. & Lib. xiv. Dionyſius Halicarnaſſæus, Antiq. Lib. ii. Solinus, Polyhiſt. Cap. 2. &c. ſo the Reigns of the Trojan Kings before being thus,

Dionyſius not only gives theſe Particulars, Lib. i. Cap. 7, 8. but in the Beginning of Chap. 9. ſays Romulus and Remus built Rome 432 Years after the taking of Troy, in the firſt Year of the 7th Olympiad, quoting likewiſe for it Porcius Cato and Eratoſthenes; which was indiſputably the 3962d of the Julian Period; Euſebius alſo putting the firſt Year of Romulus at the ſame time in his Chronicon. And though Plutarch in the Life of Romulus, relates that he founded Rome two Years before, in the third of the 6th Olympiad; he might be miſled by Tarrutius, whom he there ſpeaks of, a conceited Calculator of Romulus's Nativity, who pretended to know by the Actions of his Life, that he was conceived and born at ſuch a Day there mentioned, ſuitable with a Poſition of the Heavens to his Fancy. But Romulus being eighteen Years old, when he began reigning and laid the Foundation of the City, according to Fabius, cited by Dionyſius, Lib. i. 10. and as he ſays all who had written of his Affairs agreed, Lib. ii. 6. at the End; then by Computation, if Romulus was born in the ſecond Year of the 2d Olympiad, as Tarrutius calculated, he would be but ſeventeen Years old in the third Year of the 6th Olympiad. Beſides that it is added, there was a total or great Eclipſe of the Sun when Romulus was conceived, in the Year before his Birth: whereas Dacier obſerves, in his Note on this Place of Plutarch, that Aſtronomers ſay there was a great Solar Eclipſe on the 11th of the Month Athyr, anſwering to November, in the ſecond Year of the 2d Olympiad, but none the Year before; and Alſtedius has the Eclipſe the 7th of May following in 7 gr. ♉ about Noon, Chronolog. 4. at which Time if Romulus was conceived, he would be 18 the firſt of the 7th Olympiad as before. Sir John Marſham alſo declares, Can. Chron. ad Secul. 16. that the Reckoning of Varro, as he words it, Tarrutium hunc auctorem habent, has this Tarrutius for its Author (as indeed Plutarch relates, that Varro ſet him to calculate the Nativity of Romulus) Authority doubtleſs weak enough! The ſame Dionyſius alſo ſaying, Lib. ii. 6. ſub fin. that Romulus reigned thirty ſeven Years, and lived fifty five, makes mention of another Eclipſe of the Sun at his Death; put by Alſted on May 26, in the 3999th Year of the Julian Period, Chron. 4. agreeing with what goes before.

The ſame great and diligent Hiſtorian proceeds, Lib. i. 9. ſub fin.

The Beginning of the Government by Conſuls who ſucceeded, Dionyſius accordingly counts to the firſt Year of the 68th Olympiad; which he proves from the taking of Rome by the Gauls 120 Years after, being by the Conſent of almoſt all Authors at the firſt Year of the 98th Olympiad: a Cenſus, or Valuation, for a Tax and Regiſter, being made, as he writes, δευτέρῳ πρότερον ἔτει τῆς ἁλιόσεως, in the ſecond Year before the City was taken; which was recorded in the Tables of the Cenſors, to be in the 119th Year after the Kings were expelled. Livy likewiſe writes at the End of his firſt Book, Regnatum Romæ ab urbe condita ad liberatam annos 244, Kingly Government at Rome from the Building of the City to the Deliverance was 244 Years. And towards the Concluſion of the fifth Book, in the Speech of Furius Camillus, when the City lay in Ruins by the Gauls, there is trecenteſimus ſexageſimus ſexageſimus quintus Urbis agitur, it is now the 365th Year of the City.

In the Chronicon of Euſebius it is written, that Janus, Saturnus, Picus, Faunus, Latinus reigned in Italy before Æneas about 150 Years: the particular Years of whom from Helvicus, including the Time of Saturn in that of Janus, are thus.

The applying this to the Julian Period partly depends on what is ſhewn by the Arundelian Marbles at Oxford (compoſed, as Newton ſays, ſixty Years after the Death of Alexander the Great, Chron. Ch. 1.) that Troy was taken in the 22d Year of Meneſtheos, as at the End of Exod. by which Cecrops began that Kingdom, as I compute, fifty ſeven Years before the Iſraelites came out of Egypt.

That Cecrops reigned about the Time of Triopas King of the Argives, who began reigning at the Year of the Jul. Per. 3159, as at the End of Exod. may appear by Tatian, Orat. ad Græcos, p. 132. Clem. Alexandrinus, Stromat. Lib. i. and Euſebius, Præp. Evang. Lib. vi. 9. And that Cecrops began reigning in the Time of Marathon King of Sicyon, whoſe Reign commenced An. Jul. Per. 3155, by the Table following Exod. Caſtor relates, in Euſeb. Chron. Lib. i.

Afterwards Athens was governed by Archons, of whom the following is the Catalogue while they held it for Life:

They had then ſeven Archons for ten Years each, which extended to the Year of the *Jul. The firſt of thoſe ſeven Archons being named Charops, Dionyſius, Lib. i. 9. ſays Rome was built in the firſt Year of his Government, that was the firſt of the 7th Olympiad: with which the foregoing Catalogue alſo preciſely agrees. After thoſe Creon was the firſt yearly Archon, from whom, Africanus reckoning the 903d Year to the 250th Olympiad, when Gratus Severianus and Claudius Seleucus were Conſuls at Rome, An. NOTES upon the SECOND BOOK of the KINGS.

CHAP. I.

AND Moab rebelled againſt Iſrael after the Death of Ahab.

2. Beſides Ahaziah fell down through a Lattice in his Chamber that was in Samaria, and was ill; therefore he ſent Meſſengers, bidding them go, enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron, whether he ſhould recover from that Illneſs.

3. Upon which the Angel of the Lord ſaid to Elijah the Tiſhbite; Get ready, go up to meet the Meſſengers of the King of Samaria, and ſay to them; Is it becauſe there is no God at all in Iſrael, that you go to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron?

4. And therefore thus ſays the Lord, Thou ſhalt not come down from the Bed whither thou art gone up, but ſhalt quite die. Accordingly Elijah went.

5. At this the Meſſengers returned to him; who aſked them, Why are you come back?

6. Whom they anſwered: There came up a Man to meet us, and ſaid to us; Go back to the King who ſent you, and tell him, Thus ſays the Lord, Is it becauſe there is no God at all in Iſrael, that thou ſendeſt to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron? Therefore thou ſhalt not come down from the Bed whither thou art gone up, but ſhalt quite die.

7. And he enquired of them, What Manner of Man was it who came up to meet you, and ſpoke to you theſe Words?

8. And they anſwered him, He was a hairy Man, wearing a leathern Girdle on his Loins; It is, replied he, Elijah the Tiſhbite.

9. Then he ſent to him a Captain of Fifty with his Fifty; who went up to him, when behold he was ſitting upon the Top of the Mountain, and ſaid to him; O Man of God, the King ſays, Come down.

10. But Elijah made anſwer to him, If I am then a Man of God, let Fire come down from Heaven, and conſume thee and thy Fifty; which it did accordingly.

11. Again alſo he ſent to him another Captain of Fifty with his Fifty; who ſpoke in this manner to him; O Man of God, thus ſays the King, Come down quickly.

12. Whereupon Elijah made reply to them, If I am a Man of God, let Fire come down from Heaven, and conſume thee and thy Fifty; which the Fire of God did accordingly.

13. He likewiſe again ſent a Captain of the third Fifty with his Fifty; and that Captain going up, went, and kneeled down upon his Knees before Elijah, and beſought him in the following manner; O Man of God, let my Life, I beſeech thee, and the Lives of theſe thy fifty Servants be precious in thy Sight.

14. Behold there came Fire down from Heaven, and conſumed the two Captains of the former Fifties and their Fifties; now therefore let my Life be precious in thy Sight.

15. And the Angel of the Lord ſaid to Elijah, Go down with him, be not afraid of his Preſence: ſo he aroſe, and went down with him to the King.

16. To whom he declared; Thus ſays the Lord, Foraſmuch as thou haſt ſent Meſſengers to enquire of Baal-zebub the god of Ekron (is it becauſe there is no God at all in Iſrael to enquire his Word?) therefore

Ver. 3. no God at all] This which the doubling of the Negative, like that of the Heb. Verb, as on Gen. iii. 4. may well ſignify, makes proper Senſe; which is ſpoiled, together with the Idiom of the Original, by putting one Negative to becauſe. Thus according to Lewis de Dieu here, two Negatives are in Heb. magis negare, to deny the more.

Ver. 6. Go back,] So the Hebrew Accents ſhew it ſhould be pointed, there being a Miniſter at Go, and a King at back; notwithſtanding Buxtorf. Gram. Lib. ii. Cap. 23. as well as our Engliſh, quite inverts their Senſe and Power: that it is to be rendered only back or again, need not be ſhewn to any who know the Hebrew, or will conſult even Buxt. Lexic. on the Word, and conſider the plain Meaning of what was ſaid, and that to the King belongs to Go, and not that the Meſſengers were bid go any where elſe; ſo that the proper Diſtinction is between the Command and the Circumſtance of it.

Ver. 10. Then] For its being thus poſited, and not as in the common Engliſh, the Hebrew of it is before that for If.

Ib. conſume thee and thy Fifty] For they were not improbably wicked Miſcreants, willingly and frequently employed, as might be now intended, to take and kill the Prophets of the Lord, as 1 King. xviii. 4. and who deſerved to die for being Idolaters, Ver. 2. according to the Law, Deut. xiii.

Ver. 14. conſumed] as Ver. 10, 12. being the ſame Verb.

Ver. 16. his Word] what he ſays, as we ſay enquire the Way; ſo 1 King. ult. 5.

thou ſhalt not come down from the Bed whither thou art gone up, but ſhalt quite die.

17. So he died according to the Word of the Lord that Elijah ſpoke; afterwards Jehoram obtained the Kingdom in his room, in the ſecond Year of Jehoram the Son of Jehoſhaphat King of Judah; for he had no Son.

18. As for the reſt of Ahaziah's Affairs which he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael?

CHAP. II.

NOW when the Lord would take up Elijah by a Whirlwind to Heaven, he and Eliſha went from Gilgal.

2. But Elijah ſaid to him, Stay here, I pray, for the Lord ſends me to Beth-el; at which Eliſha proteſted, By the Lord's living and thy own, I will not leave thee: ſo they went down to Beth-el.

3. And the Sons of the Prophets who were there came forth to Eliſha, and ſaid to him, Doſt thou know that the Lord will take away thy Maſter from thy Head to Day? Who anſwered, Yes, I do; hold your peace.

4. Again Elijah ſaid to him, Eliſha, ſtay here, I pray, for the Lord ſends me to Jericho; at which he proteſted, By the Lord's living and thy own, I will not leave thee: ſo they came to Jericho.

5. The Sons of the Prophets likewiſe who were there came nigh to Eliſha, and ſaid to him, Doſt thou know that the Lord will take away thy Maſter from thy Head to Day? Who anſwered, Yes, I do; hold your peace.

6. Elijah alſo ſaid to him, Stay here, I pray, for the Lord ſends me to Jordan; at which he proteſted, By the Lord's living and thy own, I will not leave thee: ſo they both went.

7. And fifty Men of the Sons of the Prophets went, and ſtood at a great diſtance off, while they two ſtood by Jordan.

8. Then Elijah took his Cloak, and wrapping it together, ſtruck the Water, which parted in the midſt hither and thither; and both of them paſſed over on dry Land.

9. And when they were gone over, Elijah ſaid to Eliſha, Aſk for what I ſhall do for thee, before I am taken from thee; and Eliſha ſaid, Let me then have, I pray, a double Portion of thy Spirit.

10. To this he replied, Thou haſt aſked for a hard Thing: if thou ſeeſt me taken from thee, it will be ſo to thee; but if not, it will not be.

11. And as they went on, talking as they went, behold there was a Chariot and Horſes each of Fire, which made a ſeparation between thoſe two; and Elijah went up by a Whirlwind to Heaven.

12. Which Eliſha ſeeing, cried out, My Father, my Father! the Chariot of Iſrael, and the Horſemen of it; and he ſaw him no more: ſo he took hold of his own Garments, and tore them in two Pieces.

13. Afterwards he took up the Cloak of Elijah that fell off from him, and going back, ſtood at the Bank of Jordan.

14. This he took, and ſtriking the Water, ſaid, Where is the Lord God of Elijah? It is even he; and when he ſtruck the Water, it parted in the midſt hither and thither, ſo that he paſſed over.

15. Therefore the Sons of the Prophets, who were in Jericho at a diſtance, ſeeing him, declared, The Spirit of Elijah does reſt

Ver. 17. obtained the Kingdom] For he began reigning ſeveral Years before, Chap. iii. 1. and Jehoram the Son of Jehoſhaphat King of Judah began to reign in his fifth Year, Chap. viii. 16. as Bedford alſo places it in his Table, p. 690. but I find from him no Reſolution of this Difficulty or Text, either in the Hiſtory, Table, or Indexes. The Caſe ſeems to be thus, that Jehoſhaphat had ſome Part of the Kingdom of Iſrael, which after his Death was reſtored to this their King Jehoram: for Jehoſhaphat is not only called King of Iſrael, 2 Chron. xxi. 2. but it is read of his ordering the People, from Beer-ſheba (in the Tribe of Simeon, Joſh. xix. 2.) to Mount Ephraim, 2 Chron. xix. 4. and their Return to the Kingdom of Iſrael might be occaſioned by Jehoram King of Judah's ſlaying their Princes, 2 Chron. xxi. 4.

What Lightfoot has invented is very unſatisfactory; that Jehoram the Son of Jehoſhaphat was made King, when his Father was going to War with Ahab at Ramoth-gilead, 2 King. ult. and this was the ſecond Year of his reigning, Harm. of Old Teſt. for as he grants Jehoſhaphat reſumed the Government again when he came back, and would have it that he conſtituted Jehoram King a ſecond Time, ſeveral Years after; it is incredible ſuch former reigning ſhould be made a Date of Computation, and eſpecially when there was no ſecond Year in it, that with Ahab being a very ſhort Expedition; and even Jotham's is not reckoned ſo, 2 Chron. xxvi. 21. 2 King. xv. 5. yet Uſher has the like with Lightfoot.

Ver. 7, 15. at a diſtance] Heb. from before; and rendered in the com. Trans. afar off, Chap. iv. 25. far off, Num. ii. 2. far, Judg. ix. 17. aloof from, Pſal. xxxviii. 11.

Ver. 14. even he] which agrees exactly with the Heb. and there is a Stroke called Legarme for a Pauſe, between this and the next, the next alſo being and: though this may be a new Diſcovery (as it is to me) it may prove ſo far the right, that no other will anſwer by much ſo near to the Expreſſion of the Original, nor indeed at all; and the Meaning now is apparent, and very good, that Eliſha being ſenſible of the Divine Preſence there, expreſſed it thus. The Hebrew for even he being aph hu, and the LXX among the reſt not knowing what to make of it, joined the two Words wrong together, and that to the foregoing, which a great Hebrew Point ſeparates, putting in their Tranſlation aphpho, the Vulg. Lat. has even now, but the Heb. Word does not ſignify now; ſeveral of the modern Verſions place it to that before, others torture it like our Engliſh.

upon Eliſha. So they went to meet him, bowing down to the Ground to him.

16. And they ſaid to him, Behold now there are with thy Servants fifty valiant Men, let them go, we pray, and ſeek after thy Maſter, leſt the Spirit of the Lord ſhould have taken him up, and caſt him on one of the Mountains, or in one of the Vallies. But he ſaid, Do not ſend.

17. However they being urgent on him a good while, he ſaid, Send. So they ſent fifty Men, who ſought three Days, but could not find him.

18. Upon whoſe returning to him, for he ſtaid at Jericho, he ſaid to them; Did not I tell you, Do not go.

19. And the Men of the City related to Eliſha, Behold now the Situation of the City is good, as our Lord does ſee; but the Water is bad, and the Land barren.

20. With that he ſaid, Fetch me a new Diſh, and put in Salt there; which they fetched to him.

21. Next going forth to the Spring of the Water, he threw in the Salt there, and ſaid; Thus ſays the Lord, I cure this Water; there ſhall be no more henceforth Death, or Barrenneſs.

22. Thus the Water has been cured to this Day, according to the Word that Eliſha ſpoke.

23. Moreover he went up from thence to Beth-el: and as he was going up in the Way, there came little Lads out of the City, and ſcoffed at him in this manner, Get thee up, Bald-pate, get thee up, Bald-pate.

24. And he turned behind him, and looking at them, curſed them in the Name of the Lord; upon which two Bears came out of the Wood, and tore forty two Children of them.

25. He further went from thence to Mount Carmel, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

CHAP. III.

AND Jehoram the Son of Ahab began reigning over Iſrael in Samaria, when Jehoſhaphat had been eighteen Years King of Judah; and he reigned twelve Years.

2. He alſo did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, but not like his Father and Mother: for he put away the Statue of Baal that his Father made.

3. However he adhered to the Sins of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, wherein he made Iſrael ſin; he did not depart from them.

4. Now Meſha King of Moab was a Sheep-man; and rendered to the King of Iſrael a hundred thouſand Sheep, and ſo many Rams, with the Wool.

5. But when Ahab was dead, the King of Moab rebelled againſt him.

6. King Jehoram therefore went out of Samaria at that Time, and muſtered all Iſrael.

7. Beſides he went, and ſent Word to Jehoſhaphat King of Judah, The King of Moab has rebelled againſt me, wilt thou go with me againſt Moab to War? And he anſwered, I will go up, I am the ſame as thou art, my People are the ſame as thine, my Horſes the ſame as thy own.

8. Then he aſked, What Way ſhall we go up? And he anſwered, That of the Wilderneſs of Edom.

9. So the Kings of Iſrael, Judah, and Edom went, going round about ſeven Days Journey; till there was no Water for the Army, and for the Cattle which accompanied them.

10. With that the King of Iſrael exclaimed, Alas, for the Lord has called theſe three Kings, to deliver them into the Power of Moab.

11. Nevertheleſs Jehoſhaphat aſked, Is here no Prophet of the Lord; that we may enquire of the Lord from him? And one of the Servants of the King of Iſrael made anſwer, Here is Eliſha the Son of Shaphat, who poured Water upon Elijah's Hands.

12. To which Jehoſhaphat replied, The Word of the Lord is with him. So he, with the Kings of Iſrael and Edom, went down to him.

13. But Eliſha ſaid to the King of Iſrael, What haſt thou to do with me? Get thee to thy Father's Prophets, and to thoſe of thy Mother. Whereas he anſwered him, No, for the Lord has called theſe three Kings, to deliver them into the Power of Moab.

Ver. 17. a good while] See the like, Judg. iii. 25.

Ver. 23. little Lads] Who might be great Boys, and ſcoff at Eliſha wickedly becauſe he was a Prophet; beſides they might not be killed, which if they had, we might expect it to be ſaid ſo, and are not to feign Things, and then reflect on them; on the contrary ſo many being torn, and by that only being ſaid none killed, may ſeem occaſioned by their fighting with the Bears. However it was not the Prophet killed them, nor made the Bears do it.

Ver. 1. had been eighteen Years King] as ſaid of his Brother before, 1 King. ult. 52.

Ver. 3. wherein] as 1 King. xiv. 16. which alſo the plur. Pronoun at the End of the Verſe confirms.

Ver. 12. he, with] Here is Nothing loſt in this new Way of tranſlating the Scripture, nor in numerous other Places; and my great Veneration for it would make me ſorry the Loſs ſhould be much, though a deal overballanced by the Gain at the ſame Time.

Ver. 13, 14. for the Lord, &c.] See Chap. vi. 33.

14. Upon

14. Upon this Eliſha replied, By the living of the Lord of Armies, before whom I ſtand, unleſs I accepted Jehoſhaphat King of Judah, I would neither look towards thee, nor ſee thee;

15. Yet now fetch me a Muſician. And as he played, the Power of the Lord was upon him,

16. And he ſaid; Thus ſays the Lord, Make in this Valley many Ditches:

17. For thus adds he, You ſhall not ſee Wind, nor Rain, yet the ſame Valley ſhall be full of Water; that ye may drink, with your Cattle and Beaſts.

18. Nay this is a light Thing in the Sight of the Lord; he will alſo deliver Moab into your Power.

19. And ye ſhall ſmite every fortified City, and every choice one, cut down every good Tree, ſtop up all Fountains of Water, and injure every good Piece of Land with Stones.

20. Accordingly in the Morning, as the Oblation was offered up, behold there came Water from the Way of Edom, ſo that the Country was full of it.

21. Now when all the Moabites heard that the Kings were coming up to fight with them, they called all who began to wear a Girdle and upward, and ſtood at the Border.

22. And riſing early in the Morning, when the Sun roſe upon the Water, the Moabites ſaw it at a diſtance red like Blood.

23. At which they ſaid, This is Blood, the Kings are wholly become waſte, and ſmite one another; now therefore Moab away to the Spoil.

24. So they went to the Camp of Iſrael, but the Iſraelites got ready, and ſmote them, ſo that they fled from their Preſence; and they kept on ſmiting them even in Moab.

25. And they demoliſhed the Cities, on every good Piece of Land they reſpectively threw Stones, and filled it, ſtopped up every Fountain of Water, and cut down every good Tree, till in the Wall of Hareſeth they were made to leave the Stones of it; yet the Slingers went about, and ſmote it.

26. For when the King of Moab ſaw that the Battle was too ſtrong for him, he took with him ſeven hundred Men who drew forth a Sword, to break through to the King of Edom; but they could not.

27. Therefore he took his own firſt-born Son, who would have reigned in his room, and offered him up for a Burnt-offering upon the Wall; at which there was great Wrath in Iſrael: ſo they marched from him, and returned to the Country.

CHAP. IV.

A CERTAIN Woman alſo, of the Wives of the Sons of the Prophets, cried thus to Eliſha, Thy Servant my Huſband is dead, who as thou knoweſt feared the Lord; and the Creditor is come to take my two Children to him for Servants.

2. To whom he ſaid, What ſhall I do for thee? Tell me what thou haſt in the Houſe. And ſhe anſwered, Thy Handmaid has Nothing at all there, excepting a Pot of Oil.

3. And he replied; Go aſk for Veſſels abroad for thee of all thy Neighbours, empty ones not a few.

4. Then ſhalt thou go in, and ſhut the Door about thee and thy Sons; next pour forth into all thoſe Veſſels, removing the full.

5. She accordingly went from him, and ſhut the Door about her and her Sons: they brought to her, and ſhe poured out.

6. At laſt when the Veſſels were full, ſhe ſaid to her Son, Bring me a Veſſel more; and he anſwered her, There is not any more: then the Oil ſtaid.

7. Whereupon ſhe came, and told the Man of God, who ſaid, Go, ſell the Oil, and pay thy Debt, afterwards live thou and thy Sons on what is left.

8. And on a Day Eliſha paſſed to Shunem, where was a great Woman, who took hold of him to eat ſome Victuals; after which at his paſſing by, he turned aſide thither to do ſo.

9. For ſhe ſaid to her Huſband; Behold now I know that he is a holy Man of God, who paſſes by us continually.

10. Let us make, I pray, a little Chamber at the Wall, and put for him there a Bed, Table, Seat and Candleſtick; and when he comes to us, he ſhall turn aſide thither.

11. So on a Day he went thither, and turning aſide into the Chamber, lay there.

Ver. 27. own] his alone leaves it doubtful, whether it was the Son of the King of Edom, or of the King of Moab; whereas own confines it to the latter, as it is ſhewn to be particularly on Am. ii. 1. For the Heathens ſacrificing their Children in Times of great Calamity to their gods, ſeveral Authors might be quoted, as Porphyry De Abſtin. Lib. 2. *Ælianus, Var. 12. And he ſaid to Gehazi his young Man, Call this Shunammiteſs; who called her, that ſhe might ſtand before him.

13. Moreover he ſaid to him; Tell her now, Behold as thou haſt had all this Care for us, what ſhall be done for thee? Wouldeſt thou be ſpoken for to the King, or to the Captain of the Army? And ſhe anſwered, I would dwell among my own People.

14. And he replied, What then ſhall be done for her? To which Gehazi anſwered, Verily ſhe has no Son, and her Huſband is old.

15. Call her, ſaid he again; accordingly he did, and ſhe ſtood at the Door.

16. He then declared, At this appointed Time, according to the Time of Life, thou ſhalt embrace a Son. But ſhe ſaid, No, my Lord, O Man of God, do not tell thy Handmaid an Untruth.

17. And the Woman conceived, and bore a Son, at that appointed Time, according to the Time of Life, which Eliſha foretold her.

18. However when the Child was grown up, he went out on a Day to his Father to the Reapers.

19. Where he cried out to his Father, O my Head, O my Head! therefore he ſaid to a young Man, Have him to his Mother.

20. Who had him along to her; upon whoſe Knees he ſate till Noon, and then died.

21. And ſhe went up, and laid him upon the Bed of the Man of God; ſo ſhutting him up, went out.

22. In the next place ſhe called her Huſband, and ſaid, Send me, I pray, one of the young Men, and one of the Aſſes; that I may go apace to the Man of God, and come again.

23. But he ſaid, Why wilt thou go to him to Day? It is neither New-moon nor Sabbath; and ſhe anſwered, It is well.

24. She alſo ſaddled the Aſs, and ſaid to her young Man, Guide, and go on; do not with-hold riding for me, except I tell thee.

25. Thus ſhe went on, and got to the Man of God at Mount Carmel: and when he ſaw her at a diſtance, he ſaid to Gehazi his young Man, There is that Shunammiteſs.

26. Now run, I pray, to meet her, and aſk her, Art thou well? Is thy Huſband well? Is the Child well? and ſhe anſwered, Well.

27. At length ſhe came to the Man of God at the Mountain, and took hold of his Feet: whereupon Gehazi went nigh, to thruſt her away; but he ſaid, Let her alone, for her Soul is grieved in her, and the Lord has hid it from me, and not told me.

28. And ſhe ſaid, Did I aſk a Son of my Lord? Did not I ſay, Do not deceive me?

29. Upon which he ſaid to Gehazi, Gird up thy Loins, and take my Staff in thy Hand, and go; when thou meeteſt with any one, do not ſalute him; and when any one ſalutes thee, do not anſwer him: and put my Staff upon the Face of the Boy.

30. Nevertheleſs the Boy's Mother ſaid, By the Lord's living and thy own, I will not leave thee: ſo he got ready, and went after her.

31. Gehazi too paſſed on before them, and put the Staff upon the Boy's Face; but there was no Voice, nor any Senſation: therefore he returned to meet him, and told him, that the Boy did not awake.

32. And when Eliſha was come into the Houſe, behold the Boy being dead, was laid upon his Bed.

33. So he went in, and ſhut the Door upon them both, and made ſupplication to the Lord.

34. He moreover went up, and lay upon the Child, putting his own Mouth, Eyes and Hands, upon his, and proſtrated himſelf upon him: at length the Fleſh of the Child became warm.

35. Next having returned, and walked in the Houſe once forward and backward, he went up, and again proſtrated himſelf upon him; and after the Boy had ſneezed ſeven times, he opened his Eyes.

36. At which he called Gehazi, and ſaid, Call this Shunammiteſs; who calling her, ſhe came in to him: and he ſaid, Take up thy Son.

37. With that ſhe came, and fell at his Feet, bowing down to the Ground; then ſhe took up her Son, and went forth.

Ver. 17. bore a Son] Although there is no Time mentioned when either the Birth or Death of this Child was (which Duck in his Shunammite firſt put 14, then altered to 7 Years apart) nor does our penetrating Uſher attempt at it, yet the ſeven Years of Famine following it, both to be comprehended in about ten Years of Jehoram's Reign, falls well as in the large Table.

Ver. 29. put my Staff] Which, ſays Grotius, would have been ſufficient, if the Woman had believed it; and therefore the Prophet might do well in trying it.

Ver. 37. came] By the foregoing Verſe of the laſt Tranſlation ſhe was come in, and this begins, Then ſhe went in, which is abſurd; whereas the Gen. Tranſ. was in the Manner of this, as alſo Coverdale's.

38. Elisha further returned to Gilgal, there being a Famine in the Country, and the Sons of the Prophets sate before him; and he said to his young Man, Put on the great Pot, and boil Broth for the Sons of the Prophets.

39. And one went forth into the Field to gather Herbs, and found a wild Vine, of which he gathered wild Sprouts his Lap full; and coming, cut into the Pot of Broth, for they did not know them.

40. Afterwards they poured out for the Men to eat: and as they were eating of the Broth, they thus cried out, There is Death in the Pot, O Man of God; and they could not eat.

41. And he said, Fetch Meal then, and throw into the Pot: next he said, Pour out for the People, that they may eat; and there was not any Hurt in the Pot.

42. Besides there came a Man from Baal-shalishah, and brought the Man of God Loaves of the First-fruits, twenty Loaves of Barley, and new Ears in the Husk; and he said, Give to the People, that they may eat.

43. Whereas he who waited on him said, What, shall I put this before a hundred Men? Yet he replied, Give to the People, that they may eat; for thus says the Lord, They shall eat, and leave.

44. Accordingly he put before them; and they did eat, and leave, according to the Word of the Lord.

CHAP. V.

AND Naaman, the Captain of the King of Syria's Army, was a great Man before his Master, and in Reputation, because by him the Lord gave Help to Syria; the Man too was valiant, but leprous.

2. The Syrians also going forth in Troops, took prisoner a little Girl out of the Country of Israel, who attended on Naaman's Wife.

3. And she said to her Mistress, I wish my Master was before the Prophet who is in Samaria; then he would recover him from his Leprosy.

4. Whereupon one went, and told his Master, that thus and thus spoke the Girl who was of the Country of Israel.

5. Therefore the King of Syria said, Come go, and I will send a Letter to the King of Israel. So he went, taking with him ten Talents of Silver, six thousand Pieces of Gold, and ten Suits of Cloaths.

6. And he brought the Letter to the King of Israel which expressed, And now when this Letter comes to thee, behold I have sent to thee Naaman my Servant, that thou mayest recover him from his Leprosy.

7. But when the King of Israel read the Letter, he tore his Cloaths, and said, Am I God, to make die and live, that he sends to me to recover a Man from his Leprosy? For only know now, and see, that he takes occasion against me.

8. However when Elisha the Man of God heard that the King of Israel tore his Cloaths, he sent Word to him, Why didst thou tear thy Cloaths? Let him come now to me, and he shall know that there is a Prophet in Israel.

9. So Naaman went with his Horses and Chariots, and stood at the Door of Elisha's House.

10. And Elisha sent a Messenger to tell him, Go, and wash seven times in Jordan, and thy Flesh shall be restored to thee, so that thou shalt be clean.

11. Enraged at this, Naaman went away, and said, Behold I thought he himself would have come out to me, and stood, and calling on the Name of the Lord his God, have stroaked his Hand on the Place, that he might recover the leprous,

13. Upon this his Servants drew nigh, and ſpoke to him as follows; Our Father, had the Prophet told thee a great Matter, wouldeſt not thou do it? And much more when he ſays to thee, Waſh, and be clean.

14. He therefore went down, and dipt himſelf in Jordan ſeven times, according to the Words of the Man of God; and his Fleſh was reſtored like that of a little Child, and he became clean.

15. Then he went back to the Man of God, with all his Company, whither when he was come, he ſtood before him, and ſaid, Behold now I know that there is no God on all the Earth, excepting in Iſrael; now therefore receive, I pray, a Bleſſing from thy Servant.

16. Nevertheleſs he ſaid, By the Lord's living, before whom I ſtand, I will receive none; and though he importuned him to it, yet he refuſed.

17. But ſhall there not, ſaid Naaman, be given now to thy Servant, a Couple of Mules Burdens of Earth? For thy Servant will no more offer Burnt-offering or Sacrifice to other gods, but to the Lord.

18. For this Thing the Lord forgive thy Servant; when my Maſter goes into the Houſe of Rimmon, to bow down there, who leans upon my Hand, and I bow down in the Houſe of Rimmon: which when I do, the Lord, I pray, forgive thy Servant for it.

19. And he anſwered him, Go in Peace: ſo he went from him about a Mile.

20. Gehazi the young Man of Eliſha the Man of God however ſaid, Behold my Maſter having with-held this Naaman the Syrian, from his receiving of him what he brought; by the Lord's living, I will run after him, and take Something of him.

21. Accordingly he followed after him; whom when Naaman ſaw running after him, he got down from the Chariot to meet him, and ſaid, Is it well?

22. And he anſwered; It is, my Maſter has ſent me to ſay, Behold there are juſt now come to me two young Men from Mount Ephraim of the Sons of the Prophets; give them, I pray, a Talent of Silver, and two Suits of Cloaths.

23. To which Naaman replied, Conſent to take two Talents; and he was urgent on him, and tied up two Talents of Silver in a Couple of Bags, with two Suits of Cloaths, and delivered to two of his young Men, which they carried before him.

24. Theſe, when he came to the Aſcent, he received for them, and laid up in the Houſe; then he let the Men go, and they went away.

25. Afterwards going in, that he might ſtand by his Maſter, Eliſha aſked him, From whence now, Gehazi? Who anſwered, Thy Servant did not go any whither.

26. But he replied to him; Did not my Heart go, when the Man turned from his Chariot to meet thee? Is it a Time to receive Silver, and to receive Garments, Oliveyards, Vineyards, Flocks, Herds, Servantmen or Maids?

27. The Leproſy therefore of Naaman ſhall cleave to thee, and thy Offſpring for ever. And he went out from before him leprous like Snow.

MOreover the Sons of the Prophets ſaid to Eliſha, Behold now the Place where we dwell before thee is too narrow for us;

2. Let us go, we pray, to Jordan, and take from thence each a Rafter, and make us there a Place where we may dwell. And he anſwered, Go.

3. And one intreated, Conſent, I pray, and go with thy Servants; to which he replied, I will.

4. So he went with them, and they came to Jordan, and cut down Wood.

5. And as one was felling a Rafter, the Iron fell into the Water; upon which he cried out, and ſaid, Alas, my Maſter, for it was borrowed.

6. Then the Man of God aſked, Whereabout did it fall? And when he had ſhewn him the Place, he cut off a Stick, and caſt there, and made the Iron ſwim.

7. At this he ſaid, Take it up to thee: accordingly he reached out his Hand, and took it.

8. And the King of Syria being at war with Iſrael, took this Counſel with his Servants, At ſuch a Place ſhall be my Camp.

9. When the Man of God ſent Word to the King of Iſrael, Take heed of paſſing that Place; for thither the Syrians are to come down.

10. The King of Iſrael thereupon ſent to the Place which he told him, and warned him of, and took heed of himſelf there; not once nor twice:

11. Inſomuch that the King of Syria ſtormed at Heart for this Thing; ſo he called to his Servants, and aſked them, Will not you tell me who of ours is for the King of Iſrael?

12. And one of them anſwered, None, my Lord O King: for Eliſha the Prophet, who is in Iſrael, tells him the Words that thou ſpeakeſt in thy Bed-chamber.

13. He then replied, Go, and ſee where he is, that I may ſend, and fetch him. And it was told him thus, Behold he is in Dothan.

14. Therefore he ſent thither Horſes, Chariots, and a great Army; which came by Night, and compaſſed the City about.

15. And he who waited on the Man of God riſing early, and going forth, there was an Army ſurrounded the City, with Horſes and Chariots; upon which the young Man ſaid to him, Alas, my Maſter, how ſhall we act?

16. But he anſwered, Do not fear: theſe who are with us are more, than thoſe that are with them.

17. And Eliſha prayed in this manner, O Lord, open his Eyes, I beſeech thee, that he may ſee. Accordingly the Lord opened the young Man's Eyes, and he ſaw plainly that the Mountain was full of Horſes and Chariots of Fire, round about Eliſha.

18. When they alſo came down to him, Eliſha prayed in this manner to the Lord, Strike, I beſeech thee, this People blind: which he did, according to the Word of Eliſha.

19. And Eliſha ſaid to them, This is not the Way, nor is this the City; come after me, and I will bring you to the Man whom you ſeek for: but he brought them to Samaria.

20. Next when they were come into Samaria, he ſaid, O Lord, open the Eyes of theſe, that they may ſee. So the Lord opened their Eyes, and they ſaw plainly that they were in the midſt of Samaria.

21. Now the King of Iſrael ſaid to Eliſha, when he ſaw them, Shall I kill? Shall I kill them, my Father?

22. Who anſwered, Thou ſhalt not; wouldeſt thou kill thoſe whom thou takeſt priſoners with thy Sword and Bow? Put Victuals and Drink before them; thus let them eat, and drink, and go to their Maſter.

23. So he prepared a great Entertainment for them, and when they had eat and drunk, he ſent them away, and they went to their Maſter; whereby the Troops of Syria came again no more into the Country of Iſrael.

24. Yet after this Benhadad King of Syria gathered togther all his Army, and went up, and laid ſiege againſt Samaria.

28. The King ſaid further to her, What is the Matter with thee? And ſhe anſwered; This Woman ſaid to me, Deliver up thy Son, that we may eat him at preſent, and we will eat mine hereafter.

29. Accordingly we boiled my Son, and eat him: and I ſaid to her another Day, Deliver up thy Son, that we may eat him; but ſhe had hid hers.

30. And no ſooner did the King hear the Woman's Words, but he tore his Cloaths, as he paſſed on the Wall; and the People ſaw plainly that there was Sackcloth upon his Fleſh on the inſide.

31. He ſaid too, By God's doing to me ſo and ſo beſides, the Head of Eliſha the Son of Shaphat ſhall not ſtand upon him to Day.

32. For which he ſent a Man from before him, Eliſha then ſitting in his Houſe, as did the Elders with him: but before the Meſſenger came to him, he ſaid to the Elders, Will you ſee that this murdering Perſon has ſent to take away my Head? Look when the Meſſenger comes, ſhut the Door, and preſs him at it; is not the Sound of his Maſter's Feet behind him?

33. While he was ſpeaking to them, behold alſo the Meſſenger came down to him; and he ſaid, Behold this Evil is of the Lord, why ſhould I wait for the Lord any longer?

CHAP. VII.

THEN ſaid Eliſha; Hear ye the Word of the Lord, who ſays thus, To Morrow about this Time there ſhall be a Seah of fine Flour for a Shekel, and two Seahs of Barley for the ſame, at the Gate of Samaria.

2. But a Duke, upon whoſe Hand the King leaned, made the Man of God anſwer, Lo ſhould the Lord make Flood-gates in Heaven, could this Thing be? And he replied, Behold thou ſhalt ſee with thy Eyes, but ſhalt not eat of it.

3. Now there were four leprous Men at the Entrance of the Gate, who ſaid one to another; Why do we ſit here till we die?

4. If we ſay, we will go into the City, the Famine is in it, and we ſhall die there; and if we ſit here, we ſhall die: now therefore come, and let us deſert to the Camp of Syria; if they keep us alive, we ſhall live; and if they put us to death, we muſt die.

5. So they roſe up in the Twilight, to go to the Camp of Syria; and when they came to the utmoſt Part of it, behold Nobody was there.

6. For the Lord had made them hear a Sound both of Chariots and Horſes, a Sound of a great Army; ſo that they ſaid one to another, Behold the King of Iſrael has hired againſt us the Kings of the Hittites, and thoſe of Egypt, that they may come againſt us,

7. Therefore they roſe up, and fled in the Twilight, leaving their Tents, Horſes and Aſſes, the Camp as it was; and fled for their Lives.

8. And when thoſe Lepers came to the utmoſt Part of the Camp, they went into one Tent, and did eat, drink, and carry from thence Silver, Gold and Garments, as alſo went, and hid; then they returned, and went into another Tent, and carrying from thence, went, and hid.

9. At length they ſaid one to another, We do not right, this Day is a Day of News, and we hold our peace; whereas if we ſhould tarry till the Light of the Morning, ſome perverſe Thing may meet with us: now therefore come, and let us go, and tell the King's Houſhold.

10. Accordingly they went, and calling to the Porter of the City, told them as follows, We came to the Camp of Syria, and behold Nobody was there, nor Voice of Mankind; but Horſes tied, and Aſſes tied, with the Tents as they were.

11. Upon this he called the Porters, and they told the King's Houſhold within.

12. With that the King roſe up by Night, and ſaid to his Servants; I will tell you now what the Syrians have done to us; they are ſenſible that we are hungry, ſo they are gone out of the Camp to hide in the Field, having propoſed, When they come out of the City, we will take them alive, and get into it.

14. They took then two Chariot-horſes; and the King ſent after the Camp of Syria, with Orders to go, and ſee.

15. Thus they went after them to Jordan, and behold all the Way was full of Garments and Things, which the Syrians had thrown away in their making haſte; with that the Meſſengers returned, and told the King.

16. Whereupon the People went out, and plundered the Camp of Syria: ſo there was a Seah of fine Flour for a Shekel, and two Seahs of Barley for the ſame, according to the Word of the Lord.

17. Moreover the King appointed the Duke upon whoſe Hand he leaned to be Steward of the Gate, where the People trod him down, ſo that he died; according to what the Man of God foretold, which he did when the King came down to him.

18. For when the Man of God ſpoke thus to the King, Two Seahs of Barley for a Shekel, and a Seah of fine Flour for the ſame, there ſhall be about this Time to Morrow, at the Gate of Samaria;

19. The Duke made him anſwer, But lo ſhould the Lord make Flood-gates in Heaven, could ſuch a Thing as this be? And he replied, Behold thou ſhalt ſee with thy Eyes, but ſhalt not eat of it.

20. And ſo it was to him: for the People trod upon him at the Gate, ſo that he died.

CHAP. VIII.

BESIDES Eliſha ſpoke to the Woman whoſe Son he had reſtored to life, as follows, Get ready, and go with thy Family, and ſojourn where thou canſt: for the Lord has called for a Famine, and it will alſo come into the Country ſeven Years.

2. So the Woman got ready, and did according to the Order of the Man of God; going with her Family, and ſojourning in the Country of the Philiſtines ſeven Years.

3. At the End of which ſhe returned from thence; and went forth to cry to the King, for her Houſe and Land.

4. Who had been ſpeaking thus to Gehazi the young Man of the Man of God, Rehearſe to me, I pray, all the great Things that Eliſha has done.

5. And as he was rehearſing to the King, how he had reſtored the Dead to life, behold the Woman, whoſe Son he had reſtored to life, cried to him for her Houſe and Land; then Gehazi ſaid, My Lord O King, this is the Woman, and this her Son whom Eliſha reſtored to life.

6. Upon which the King aſked the Woman, and ſhe told him: ſo he appointed for her an Officer, ſaying, Reſtore not only all that ſhe had, but all the Increaſe of the Land, from the Day ſhe left the Country till now.

7. Eliſha alſo went to Damaſcus, and Ben-hadad King of Syria was ſick; when it was told him, that the Man of God was come thither.

8. Therefore he commanded Hazael; Take a Preſent with thee, and go to meet the Man of God; by whom enquire of the Lord, whether I ſhall recover from this Diſeaſe?

9. Hazael accordingly went to meet him, having taken a Preſent with him, even of every good Thing of Damaſcus forty Camels Burdens; thus he came, and ſtanding before him, ſaid; Thy Son Ben-hadad King of Syria has ſent me to thee to enquire, Shall I recover from this Diſeaſe?

10. Whom Eliſha anſwered; Go, ſay, Thou wilt not wholly recover: for the Lord has ſhewn me, that he will quite die.

11. And he ſettled his Countenance, putting it ſo a good while; nay the Man of God wept.

12. At this Hazael aſked, Why does my Lord weep? And he anſwered, Becauſe I am ſenſible what Harm thou wilt do to the Iſraelites; their ſtrong Holds wilt thou ſet

13. Whereas Hazael ſaid, What then will ſuch a Dog as thy Servant be, that he ſhould do this great Thing? And Eliſha ſaid, The Lord has ſhewn me thou wilt be King over Syria.

14. And going from Eliſha, he came to his Maſter, who aſked him, What did Eliſha ſay to thee? And he anſwered, He told me, thou wouldeſt wholly recover.

15. But the next Day he took a Cloth, and dipt in Water, and ſpread upon his Face, ſo that he died; Hazael alſo reigned in his room.

16. And in the fifth Year of Joram the Son of Ahab King of Iſrael, while Jehoſhaphat was King of Judah, Jehoram his Son began reigning.

17. He was in his thirty ſecond Year when he did, and reigned eight Years at Jeruſalem.

18. And he went in the Way of the Kings of Iſrael, as the Family of Ahab did; for he had Ahab's Daughter for his Wife: thus he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with.

19. Yet the Lord would not deſtroy Judah, for the ſake of David his Servant: according as he ſaid of him, that he would give him a Lamp for his Sons continually.

20. In his Time Edom revolted from under the Power of Judah, and made a King over them.

21. Whereupon Joram paſſing to Zair, and all the Chariots with him, got ready at Night, and beat the Edomites who compaſſed him about; ſo that the Captains of the Chariots, and the People fled to their Tents.

22. Nevertheleſs Edom has revolted from under the Power of Judah to this Day: then did Libnah revolt at the ſame Time.

23. As for the reſt of Joram's Affairs, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

24. And Joram lay down with his Fathers, being buried with them in the City of David; and Ahaziah his Son reigned in his room.

25. In the Year that was the twelfth of Joram the Son of Ahab King of Iſrael, Ahaziah the Son of Jehoram King of Judah began reigning.

26. Ahaziah was in his twenty ſecond Year when he did, and reigned one Year at Jeruſalem, whoſe Mother's Name was Athaliah, the Daughter of Omri King of Iſrael.

27. He went too in the Way of the Family of Ahab, doing what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, like that Family: for he was a Son-in-law of it.

28. Nay he went with Joram the Son of Ahab, to war againſt Hazael King of Syria at Ramoth-gilead; and the Syrians ſmote King Joram.

29. Therefore he returned to be cured at Jezreel, becauſe of the Wounds with which they ſmote him at Ramah, when he fought againſt the King already mentioned; and Ahaziah, the Son of Jehoram King of Judah, went down to ſee this Son of Ahab at Jezreel, becauſe he was ill.

CHAP. IX.

ON this occaſion Eliſha the Prophet called one of the Sons of the Prophets, and ſaid to him: Gird up thy Loins, and taking this Vial of Oil with thee, go to Ramoth-gilead.

2. Whither being come, look there for Jehu the Son of Jehoſhaphat, the Son of Nimſhi, and going in, make him riſe up from among his Brethren, and have him into an inner Parlour.

3. Next take the Vial of Oil, and pour upon his Head, and declare; Thus ſays the Lord, I anoint thee to be King over Iſrael; then open the Door, and flee, without tarrying.

4. Accordingly the ſame young Man, the Prophet, went to Ramoth-gilead.

5. And when he was come, behold the Captains of the Army were ſitting; ſo he ſaid, I have a Meſſage to thee, O Captain; whereupon Jehu aſked, To which of us all? And he anſwered, To thee, O Captain.

6. Who getting up, and going into the Houſe, he poured the Oil on his Head, and declared to him: Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael; I anoint thee to be King over Iſrael, the People of the Lord.

7. And thou ſhalt ſmite the Family of Ahab thy Maſter; that I may take vengeance for the Blood of my Servants the Prophets, and that of all the Servants of the Lord, ſhed by Jezebel.

8. Nay all the Family of Ahab ſhall periſh; ſince I will cut off from Ahab the grown Male, him who is ſhut up, and him who is left in Iſrael.

9. For I will make his Family like thoſe of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, and of Baaſha the Son of Ahijah.

10. Moreover the Dogs ſhall eat Jezebel in the Part of Jezreel, whom none ſhall bury. Then he opened the Door, and ran away.

11. And Jehu going forth to the Servants of his Maſter, one ſaid to him, Is it well? Why came this mad Man to thee? Whom he anſwered, You know the Man, and his Diſcourſe.

12. But they replied, It is falſe; do tell us. So he ſaid; After this and this Manner he told me, that thus ſays the Lord, I anoint thee to be King over Iſrael.

13. Upon which they made haſte, and took their reſpective Garments, and put under him at the Top of the Stairs; as alſo blew a Trumpet, and proclaimed, Jehu reigns.

14. So Jehu the Son of Jehoſhaphat, the Son of Nimſhi, made a Conſpiracy againſt Joram; when Joram had been keeping Ramoth-gilead, with all Iſrael, by reaſon of Hazael King of Syria.

15. But King Jehoram was returned to be cured at Jezreel, of the Wounds with which the Syrians ſtruck him, when he fought againſt that King; therefore Jehu ſaid, If it be your Mind, let none who would eſcape get out of the City, to go and tell this at Jezreel.

16. Jehu then rode, that he might get thither, as Joram lay there: whom Ahaziah King of Judah was gone down to ſee.

17. And there ſtood a Watchman upon the Tower in Jezreel, who ſaw the Company of Jehu when he was coming, and ſaid, I ſee a Company; at which Jehoram ſaid, Fetch a Horſeman, and ſend to meet them, and let him aſk, Is it well?

18. There went accordingly a Perſon on Horſeback to meet him, and ſaid; Thus ſays the King, Is it well? But Jehu anſwered, What haſt thou to do with being well? Turn about behind me. So the Watchman told, that the Meſſenger went to them, but did not return.

19. Whereupon he ſent a ſecond Perſon on Horſeback, who went to them, and ſaid, Thus ſays the King, Is it well? Again Jehu anſwered, What haſt thou to do with being well? Turn about behind me.

20. When the Watchman told thus, He went quite to them, but does not return; and the leading on is like that of Jehu the Son of Nimſhi, for he leads on madly.

21. Therefore Jehoram ſaid, Harneſs; and his Chariot was harneſſed. Then Jehoram King of Iſrael, and Ahaziah King of Judah, went forth in their reſpective Chariots; which doing to meet Jehu, they met with him at the Plat of Naboth the Jezreelite.

22. Now when Jehoram ſaw Jehu, he ſaid, Is it well, Jehu? Who anſwered, What is well, whilſt the Whoredoms of thy Mother Jezebel, and her Witchcrafts are ſo many?

23. At this Jehoram turned his Hands, and fled, ſaying to Ahaziah, There is Deceit, Ahaziah.

24. But Jehu took a Bow in his Hand, and ſmote him between his Arms, ſo that the Arrow went out from his Heart, and he fell down in his Chariot.

25. With that he ſaid to Bidkar his Captain; Take him up, throw him into the Part of the Field of Naboth the Jezreelite: for remember when I and thou were riding both together after Ahab his Father, the Lord put this Burden upon him.

26. Did not I ſee Yeſterday the Blood of Naboth, and that of his Sons? ſaid the Lord, and I will recompenſe thee in this Plat, ſaid he: now therefore take him up, throw him into it, according to the Word of the Lord.

27. This when Ahaziah King of Judah ſaw, he fled the Way of the Garden-houſe: but Jehu purſued after him, and ſaid, Smite him alſo in the Chariot; which they did in

28. Afterwards his Servants carried him to Jeruſalem, and buried him in his Sepulchre, with his Fathers in the City of David.

29. And Joram the Son of Ahab, having reigned eleven Years, Ahaziah began reigning over Judah.

30. Then Jehu went to Jezreel; which Jezebel hearing of, put her Eyes in paint, dreſſed her Head well, and looked out at a Window.

31. As Jehu too went in at the Gate, ſhe ſaid, Was it well with Zimri, who ſlew his Maſter?

32. At which he lifted up his Face towards the Window, and ſaid, Who is for me? Who? When there looked out to him two or three Eunuchs.

33. And he ſaid, Throw her down; which they did: and ſome of her Blood was ſprinkled on the Wall, and on the Horſes, nay he trod upon her.

34. At length when he was gone in, and had eat, and drunk, he ſaid, Go look now for this curſed Woman, and bury her, ſince ſhe is a King's Daughter.

35. However when they went to bury her, they found nothing of her but the Scull, the Feet, and the Palms of the Hands.

36. So they returned, and told him, who ſaid; It is the Matter that the Lord ſpoke by the Miniſtry of his Servant Elijah the Tiſhbite, namely; In the Part of Jezreel ſhall the Dogs eat the Fleſh of Jezebel.

37. The Carcaſe of her ſhall likewiſe be as Dung upon the Surface of the Field there; whereby they ſhall not ſay, This is Jezebel.

CHAP. X.

AHAB having alſo ſeventy Sons in Samaria, Jehu wrote Letters, and ſent thither, to the Princes of Jezreel the Elders, and to thoſe who bred them up for Ahab, as follows;

2. And now when this Letter comes to you, ſince your Maſter's Sons are with you, and there are with you Chariots, and Horſes, as alſo a fortified City, and Armour:

3. Look therefore for the beſt and fitteſt of them, and put upon the Throne of his Father; and fight for your Maſter's Family.

4. But they were exceeding much afraid, and ſaid, Behold two Kings did not ſtand before him, and how ſhall we?

5. Therefore the Steward of the Houſe, and the Ruler of the City, with the Elders, and thoſe who bred them up ſent Word to Jehu, We are thy Servants, and will do all that thou ſhalt order us: we will not make any one a King; do what thou approveſt of.

6. At this he wrote a Letter to them the ſecond time as follows, If ye are for me, and will hearken to what I ſay, take the Heads of the Perſons your Maſter's Sons, and come to me about this Time to Morrow at Jezreel; the King's Sons, ſeventy Perſons, being with the great Men of the City, who brought them up.

7. And when the Letter came to them, they took the King's Sons, and killed the ſeventy Perſons, whoſe Heads they put in Baſkets, and ſent to him at Jezreel.

8. Upon which a Meſſenger went, and told him, that they had brought the Heads of the King's Sons; and he ſaid, Put them and hid in Samaria, where being caught, he made a ſecond Eſcape, but was overtaken, and ſmitten going to Gur, &c. Bedford ſuppoſes his Father Joram had ſlain all his own Brethren in the ſame Place, and therefore Jehu ſent him thither to be ſlain, Scrip. Chron. L. vi. 2. 71. whom Stackhouſe follows, Hiſt. Bib. L. vi. 3. But it is ſtrange that the King of Judah ſhould ſlay his Brother ſo far in the Country of Iſrael, Joſh. xvii. 11. as it is that Jehu's Servants ſhould carry Ahaziah thither to kill him, and only wounding him mortally, ſhould let him flee to another Place. Thoſe Authors indeed add in Vindication of their Expoſition, that Jehu's Order was only to ſmite him; whereas the Heb. Word alſo ſignifies to ſlay, however if Jehu afterwards ordered him to be carried from Samaria to Ibleam, he muſt needs then command what ſhould be done to him, which Order only the Executioners were to act by, and it is abſurd to imagine ſuch an Order from Jehu after Ahaziah was taken in Samaria, and brought before him.

Ver. 29. eleven] The looking on Chap. viii. 25. may be ſufficient to warrant this tranſlating, conſidering that in the twelfth there cannot be rendered to be the ſame with in the eleventh here, and that from the fifth Year of Joram to the eleventh could not be eight Years, Chap. viii. 16, 17. but to the twelfth might be ſo many current ones, as obſerved on the Table of the Kings. Yet Bedford in reſolving this Scruple, brings the twelfth Year to the eleventh, ſaying, "By this it is very evident, that Joram "reigned one Year before his Father Ahab's Death, who "made Joram his Viceroy, whilſt he was preparing for "the Battle of Ramoth-gilead," and ſo his Reign hath a double Reckoning, Scrip. Chron pag. 599, 600. But this is diſproved by 1 King. xxii. 26. and Bedford himſelf afterwards ends Jehoram's eight Years above-mentioned in the twelfth Year of Joram King of Iſrael, Tab. xlvi. pag. 691. And as Bedford places ſome of Joram's Reign under his Father Ahab's, he muſt conſequently the whole of Ahaziah's, the other Brother who reigned before him, which he does, p. 690. but the contrary plainly appears both by 1 King. xxii. 40, and by 2 King. i. 1. 2. Now as he ſeems to have taken his Scheme of it from Lightfoot, with ſome Addition, this Anſwer may be more than ſufficient for the latter.

Ver. 36. Dogs eat] As Means or Inducements to it, Jehu's Horſe, or the Horſes, might have trod out her Bowels, and no Perſon dared to go near the Body, to hinder the Dogs from ſeizing her.

in two Heaps at the Entrance of the Gate, till the Morning.

9. And in the Morning he went out, and ſtanding, ſaid to all the People; You are righteous, behold I conſpired againſt my Maſter, and killed him; but who ſlew all theſe?

10. Know now, that there ſhall Nothing fall to the Ground, of the Word which the Lord ſpoke concerning the Family of Ahab: for the Lord does what he ſpoke by the Miniſtry of his Servant Elijah.

11. So Jehu ſlew all that were left of the Family of Ahab at Jezreel, with all his great Men, Acquaintance and Prieſts; till he had no Remainder left.

12. Next he got ready, and went, that he might go to Samaria: when he was at the Shearing-houſe of the Shepherds in the Way,

13. Jehu met with the Brethren of Ahaziah King of Judah, and ſaid, Who are you? And they anſwered, We are the Brethren of Ahaziah, and are going down to ſalute the Children of the King, and thoſe of the Queen.

14. With that he ſaid, Take them alive; ſo they did: and killed them at the Pit of the Shearing-houſe, forty two Men, and he left not a Man of them.

15. Moreover going from thence, he found Jehonadab the Son of Rechab meeting him, who bleſſed him; to whom he ſaid, Is thy Heart right, as mine is with thine? If it is, on Jehonadab's aſſerting it, give me thy Hand: which he did, and he took him up to himſelf into the Chariot.

16 For added he, Come with me, and ſee my Zeal for the Lord. So they made him ride in his Chariot.

17. And at his coming to Samaria, he ſlew all who were left of Ahab there, till he had deſtroyed him; according to the Word of the Lord that he ſpoke to Elijah.

18. In the next place Jehu gathered together all the People, and ſaid to them; Ahab ſerved Baal a little, Jehu will ſerve him much.

19. Now therefore call to me all the Prophets of Baal, his Servants and Prieſts, let not a Man be lacking, for I have a great Sacrifice for him; every one who is lacking ſhall not live. But Jehu did it in Fraud, that he might deſtroy thoſe who ſerved Baal.

20. Jehu ſaid further, Sanctify a ſolemn Day for Baal; and they proclaimed it.

21. Beſides he ſent through all Iſrael, and all who ſerved Baal came, inſomuch that there was not a Man left who did not come; and going into the Houſe of Baal, it was quite filled up.

22. And he ſaid to the Steward of the Wardrobe, Bring forth Cloaths for all thoſe who ſerve Baal; he accordingly brought them forth Cloathing.

23. Then went Jehu, and Jehonadab the Son of Rechab, into the Houſe of Baal; and he ſaid to thoſe who ſerved him, Search, and ſee that there be here with you none of the Servants of the Lord, but ſuch only as ſerve Baal.

24. But when they went in to offer the Sacrifices, and Burnt-offerings, Jehu put him fourſcore Men without, and ſaid, The Man who lets one of the Men eſcape whom I have brought to your Hands, his Life ſhall be for the Life of him.

25. And as ſoon as he had done offering the Burnt-offering, he ſaid to the Footmen, and Captains, Go in, kill them, let not a Man get out. So they put them to the Sword; and the ſame throwing them out, went to the Town of the Houſe of Baal:

26. Where they brought out the Statues of the Houſe of Baal, and burnt them.

27. Nay they broke down the Statue of Baal, as they did his Houſe, and made it a Jakes to this Day.

28. Thus Jehu deſtroyed Baal out of Iſrael.

29. However he did not depart from following the very Sins of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, wherein he made Iſrael ſin; the golden Calves which were both at Beth-el and in Dan.

30. And the Lord ſaid to him, Becauſe thou haſt done well, by performing what I approved of, having performed to the Family of Ahab according to all that was in my Heart, the Sons of the fourth Generation to thee ſhall ſit upon the Throne of Iſrael.

31. Yet he did not take heed to go in the Laws of the Lord God of Iſrael with all his

CHAP. XI.

AND Athaliah the Mother of Ahaziah ſeeing that her Son was dead, got ready, and deſtroyed all the royal Iſſue.

2. But Jehoſheba the Daughter of King Joram, Ahaziah's Siſter, took Joaſh the Son of Ahaziah, ſtealing him away from among the King's Sons who were killed, together with his Nurſe, into a Bed-chamber: thus they concealed him from the Preſence of Athaliah, ſo that he was not killed.

3. And he was with her at the Houſe of the Lord hid ſix Years, while Athaliah reigned over the Country.

4. And in the ſeventh Year Jehoiada ſent, and took the Princes of Hundreds, the Captains and Footmen, whom he brought to him at the Houſe of the Lord; where making a Covenant with them, and cauſing them to ſwear, he ſhewed them the King's Son.

5. Then he commanded them as follows; This is the Thing that you ſhall do; a third Part of you coming in on the Sabbath, ſhall keep the Charge of the King's Houſe,

6. Another ſhall be at the Gate of Sur, and the other at that behind the Footmen: thus ſhall you keep the Charge of the Houſe, that it may not be broke down.

7. And two Parts of you all going forth on the Sabbath, ſhall keep the Charge of the Lord's Houſe for the King.

8. You ſhall alſo compaſs the King round about, with your reſpective Weapons in your Hands; and let him who enters into the Ranks be killed: thus be you with the King, both when he goes out and comes in.

9. And the Captains of Hundreds did entirely as Jehoiada the Prieſt commanded, taking their ſeveral Men who entered in on the Sabbath, with thoſe that went out on it; and came to him.

10. Beſides the Prieſt gave to the Captains of Hundreds, the Spears and Shields which were King David's, that were in the Houſe of the Lord.

11. And the Footmen ſtood, each having his Weapons in his Hand, from the right Side of the Houſe to the left Side of it, at the Altar, and at the Houſe, by the King round about.

12. He next brought forth the King's Son, and put the Crown upon him, with the Teſtimony, and they made him King, anointing him; they alſo clapt Hands, and ſaid, Let the King live.

13. Now when Athaliah heard the Noiſe of the running of the People, ſhe came to them at the Houſe of the Lord.

14. And looking, behold the King ſtood by a Pillar, as the Manner was, attended with the Princes and Trumpeters; while all the People of the Country rejoiced, and blew Trumpets: upon which ſhe tore her Cloaths, and cried out Conſpiracy, Conſpiracy!

15. But Jehoiada the Prieſt commanded the Captains of Hundreds, the Officers of the Army, ſaying to them, Have her out to the Inſide of the Ranks, and him who comes after her kill with the Sword: for the Prieſt ſaid, Let her not be killed at the Houſe of the Lord.

16. Accordingly they laid Hands on her, as ſhe went the Way of the Entrance of the Horſes at the King's Houſe; and ſhe was killed there.

17. Afterwards Jehoiada made a Covenant between the Lord, and the King and People, that they ſhould be the People of the Lord; as likewiſe between the King and the People.

18. Whereupon all the People of the Country went into the Houſe of Baal, and broke it down: his Altars and Images did they break effectually, and ſlew Mattan the Prieſt of Baal before the Altars. The Prieſt too put Offices in the Houſe of the Lord.

19. Laſtly he took the Princes of Hundreds, the Captains, Footmen, and all the People of the Country, who brought the King down from the Houſe of the Lord, and went the Way of the Gate of the Footmen to the King's Houſe; where he ſate upon the Throne of the Kings.

20. And all the People of the Country were glad, and the City was ſtill, when they had killed Athaliah with the Sword at the King's Houſe.

21. Jehoaſh was in his ſeventh Year when he began reigning.

CHAP. XII.

IN the ſeventh Year of Jehu did Jehoaſh begin reigning, and reigned forty Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Zibiah of Beer-ſheba.

2. And he did what the Lord approved of, all his Time, wherein Jehoiada the Prieſt inſtructed him.

3. Only the Chapels were not taken away; the People yet ſacrificed, and burnt incenſe in them.

4. And Jehoaſh ſaid to the Prieſts; All the Money of the conſecrated Things which is to be brought to the Houſe of the Lord, that of him who paſſes, that of the Perſons by their reſpective Eſtimations, and all the Money which comes into the Heart of each to bring to the Houſe of the Lord,

5. Let the Prieſts take to them from their ſeveral Acquaintance, and let them make whole the Breaches of the Houſe, wherever any ſhall be found.

6. Yet in the Year that was the twenty third of King Jehoaſh, the Prieſts had not done them.

7. Upon this he called Jehoiada the Prieſt, and the others, and ſaid to them, Why have not you made whole the Breaches of the Houſe? Now therefore do not receive Money from your Acquaintance; ſince you ſhould deliver it for thoſe Breaches.

8. So the Prieſts conſented not to receive Money from the People, nor to make whole the Breaches of the Houſe.

9. But Jehoiada the Prieſt took a Cheſt, and bored a Hole in the Lid of it; and putting it by the Altar on the right Side, as a Man goes into the Houſe of the Lord, the Prieſts who kept the Threſhold put there all the Money that was brought to the Lord's Houſe.

10. And when they ſaw that there was much Money in the Cheſt, the King's Scribe and the Prieſt aſcended, and tied up the Money when counted, that was found at the Houſe of the Lord.

11. Which they gave being weighed into the Hands of thoſe who did the Work, that were ſet over the Houſe of the Lord; and they delivered it out to the Carpenters and Builders, who wrought there;

12. As likewiſe to Maſons and Stonecutters, and to buy Timber and Stone which was cut, to make whole the Breaches of the Lord's Houſe, and for all that it was laid out upon the Houſe, to make it whole.

13. Only there were not made for the Lord Baſons of Silver, muſical Inſtruments, Bowls, Trumpets, any Inſtruments either of Gold or Silver, with the Money that was brought thither.

14. For they gave it to thoſe who did the Work, and made whole the Houſe of the Lord with it.

15. Nor did they reckon with the Men into whoſe Hands they delivered the Money, to give to thoſe who did the Work: for they dealt faithfully.

16. The Money for Guilt, and that for Sins, was not brought to the Houſe of the Lord; it belonged to the Prieſts.

17. Then Hazael King of Syria went up, and fought againſt Gath, and took it; after which he ſet his Face to come up againſt Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XIII.

IN the Year that was the twenty third of Joaſh King of Judah, Jehoahaz the Son of Jehu began reigning over Iſrael in Samaria ſeventeen Years.

2. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with: and went after the Sins of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, wherein he made Iſrael ſin, not departing from them.

3. Incenſed therefore at Iſrael, the Lord delivered them into the Power of Hazael King of Syria, and into that of Ben-hadad the Son of Hazael, all his Time.

4. But Jehoahaz made ſupplication before the Lord; who hearkened to him, for he ſaw the Oppreſſion of Iſrael, becauſe the King of Syria oppreſſed them.

5. And the Lord gave the Iſraelites one who ſaved, ſo that they came out from under the Power of the Syrians; and dwelt in their Tents, as in time paſt.

6. Yet they did not depart from the Sins of the Family of Jeroboam, in which he made Iſrael ſin, they walked therein; and the Grove alſo ſtood at Samaria.

7. Though he had left Jehoahaz no People, excepting fifty Horſemen, ten Chariots, and ten thouſand Footmen: for the King of Syria deſtroyed them, and made them as the Duſt is by Threſhing.

8. As for the reſt of the Affairs of Jehoahaz, and all that he did, with his Power, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael?

9. And Jehoahaz lay down with his Fathers, and they buried him in Samaria; whoſe Son Joaſh reigned in his room.

10. When Joaſh had been thirty ſeven Years King of Judah, Jehoaſh the Son of Jehoahaz began reigning over Iſrael in Samaria ſixteen Years.

11. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with: he departed not from any of the Sins of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, in which he made Iſrael ſin; he walked therein.

12. As for the reſt of the Affairs of Joaſh, and all that he did, and his Power with which he fought againſt Amaziah King of Judah, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael?

13. Joaſh too lay down with his Fathers, and Jeroboam ſate upon his Throne; Joaſh being buried in Samaria with the Kings of Iſrael.

14. And when Eliſha was ſick of his Sickneſs that he died of, Joaſh King of Iſrael went down to him, and weeping before him, ſaid, My Father, my Father, the Chariot of Iſrael, and the Horſemen of it!

15. To whom Eliſha ſaid, Take a Bow and Arrows; which he took to him.

Ver. 10. thirty ſeven Years] which was ſtrictly his thirty eighth Year, and he reigning but till the fortieth, as in the Table, from the Time that Jehoaſh King of Iſrael began reigning in the former Year, to the ſame Time in the latter, would be juſt two Years; conſequently if Joaſh King of Judah died, and his Son Amaziah began reigning ſooner in the Year, it would be in the ſecond Year of that King of Iſrael, as Chap. xiv. 1. So that there is no Need, as there is no Proof, to begin Amaziah's Reign before the End of his Father's, as Bedford does, and that three Years current, Scrip. Chron. L. vi. 1, 7. He might have put it as well either two Years or one, it being alſo merely uncertain that Way. However it appears that Jehoahaz King of Iſrael did not die till the next Year after this in which his Son began reigning, becauſe he reigned ſeventeen Years from the twenty third of Joaſh King of Judah, Ver. 1. which to his thirty ninth might be ſo many current ones. Then Jehoaſh King of Iſrael reigning ſixteen Years, two of which being in the Time of Joaſh King of Judah, the whole will fall out to be full Years in the fifteenth of Amaziah, Chap. xiv. 23. and from the Death of Jehoahaz to the ſame fifteenth Year will be ſixteen current Years, as in the Table. On the contrary from the thirty ſeventh Year of Joaſh King of Judah, as it is here in the preſ. Tranſ. to the fifteenth of Amaziah, the Beginning and End of the Reign of Jehoaſh King of Iſrael, is more than ſixteen Years of any Sort. I have to add, that Jehoahaz being oppreſſed by the Syrians, Ver. 7, 22. might when he was taken ill conſtitute his Son King, and live till the next Year as above; according to what was obſerved of Jehoſhaphat on Chap. viii. 16.

Ver. 14. when Eliſha] being before what is related in the preceding Ver. as at Ver. 20.

Hand;

Hand; Eliſha likewiſe put his Hands upon the King's.

17. Next he ſaid, Open the Window eaſtward; ſo he did: then Eliſha ſaid, Shoot; and when he ſhot, he ſaid, The Arrow of the Lord's Safety, and the Arrow of Safety againſt Syria; for thou ſhalt ſmite the Syrians at Aphek, till they are conſumed.

18. He ſaying further, Take the Arrows; theſe were taken by him; whereupon he ordered the King of Iſrael to ſtrike on the Ground; who ſtriking three times, ſtopped.

19. Being in a Wrath therefore at him, the Man of God ſaid, Thou ſhouldeſt have ſtruck five or ſix times, then wouldeſt thou have beat the Syrians, till they were conſumed; whereas now thou wilt beat Syria but three times.

20. So Eliſha died, and they buried him; then the Troops of Moab came into the Country at the Entrance of the Year.

21. And as ſome were burying a Man, behold they ſaw a Troop, at which they caſt him into the Grave of Eliſha; in which when the Man was ſunk down, ſo that he touched the Bones of Eliſha, he became alive, and aroſe upon his Feet.

22. And Hazael King of Syria had oppreſſed Iſrael all the Time of Jehoahaz.

23. But the Lord was gracious to them, had mercy upon them, and regard to them, becauſe of his Covenant with Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob; and would not deſtroy them, nor caſt them from before him to this Time.

24. At length Hazael King of Syria died, and Ben-hadad his Son reigned in his room.

25. Then Jehoaſh the Son of Jehoahaz took again the Cities out of the Poſſeſſion of Ben-hadad the Son of Hazael, which he had taken out of the Poſſeſſion of Jehoahaz his Father in War: three times did Joaſh beat him, and recovered the Cities of Iſrael.

CHAP. XIV.

IN the ſecond Year of Joaſh the Son of Joahaz King of Iſrael, Amaziah the Son of Joaſh King of Judah began reigning.

2. Who when he did was in his twenty fifth Year, and reigned twenty nine Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Jehoaddan of Jeruſalem.

3. And he did what the Lord approved of, but not like David his Father; doing entirely as his Father Joaſh had done.

4. Only the Chapels were not taken away; the People did yet ſacrifice, and burn incenſe in them.

5. And as ſoon as the Kingdom was confirmed in his Power, he ſlew his Servants who had ſlain the King his Father.

6. However he did not put the Children of thoſe who ſlew him to death; as it is written in the Book of the Law of Moſes, wherein the Lord thus commanded, Fathers ſhall not be put to death for the Children, nor ſhall Children for the Fathers, but each ſhall die for his own Sin.

7. He ſlew ten thouſand Edomites in the Valley of Salt, and took the Rock in the War; the Name of which he called Joktheel to this Day.

8. Then Amaziah ſent Meſſengers with Word to Jehoaſh, the Son of Jehoahaz, the Son of Jehu, King of Iſrael, Come, let us look one another in the Face.

9. But he ſent Word to Amaziah King of Judah; A Bramble which was in Lebanon ſent to treat thus with a Cedar that was there, Give thy Daughter to my Son for a Wife; whereas a wild Beaſt that was in Lebanon went by, and trod down the Bramble.

Ver 20. died] Joaſh King of Judah being killed by two (probably chief) Servants of his, one an Ammonite and the other a Moabite by the Mother, 2 Chron. xxiv. 25, 26. for which his Son Amaziah put them to death, when the Kingdom was confirmed to him after that Inſurrection, 2 Chr. xxv. 3. which was ſcarcely before the ſecond Year of his Reign; and in Revenge for this it ſeems moſt likely, that ſome Troops came from Moab, which Nation might have employed thoſe Regicides, and entered Iſrael, as being in Alliance with Judah, Ch. xii. 17. and xiii. 3. 2 Chr. xxv. 5, 6. and then weak, Ver. 7. beſides ſince this may be well ſuppoſed to be in the next or Amaziah's third Year, conſequently Eliſha died in his ſecond and the fourth of Joaſh, by the Table at the End of Dan. and ſo fifty nine Years after Elijah; all which appears very conſiſtent, and may not be diſagreeable to underſtand.

Ver. 21. ſunk down] Heb. went, not caſt into, and was let down.

Ver. 24. died] This ſeems to be after Joaſh King of Iſrael did, Chap. xii. 17, 18. with 2 Chron. 24, 25. and before Eliſha, Ver. 17, 22. which fixes the Year as in the Table, and ſo he reigned forty ſeven Years. The Moabites infeſting Iſrael in the fifth Year of their King Joaſh, according to that on Ver. 20. and the Tab. I allow the next Year for their being ſtopped by Victory or Peace; then ſuppoſing Joaſh would not delay the War againſt Syria, from whom Iſrael had ſuffered ſo much, when he was aſſured by that great Prophet Eliſha of Conqueſt, V. 17. I place theſe three Defeats in the three enſuing Campaigns, and the Surrender of the Cities by Siege in the following Years. Thus too there would have been Space, as requiſite, for him to have beat the Syrians five or ſix times, Ver. 19. but now it appears they defended themſelves at Home againſt him; ſo that when he could do no more, he ſpared a hundred thouſand Men to aſſiſt Judah, 2 Chr. xxv. 6. All which conſpire to fix the Time of theſe Victories nearly to that wherein I have placed them. In ſuch Diſquiſitions I may hope for ſome Indulgence, as I know not that they have been uſed by others: and even little Matters, that tend to clear up any Difficulties reſpecting the Holy Scriptures, enhance in ſome degree their intrinſick Value.

Ver. 1. Joahaz] Heb.

Ver. 7. Joktheel] The Gathering of God, perhaps for their worſhipping him there.

Ver. 9. Bramble] Beſides the Heb. Word not ſignifying thiſtle, that being not Wood, it leſs accords with Cedar to denote the two Kings.

10. Thou

10. Thou haſt throughly beat Edom, and thy Heart lifts thee up: glory, and abide at Home; for why wilt thou make war for Hurt, that thou thy ſelf mayeſt fall, and Judah with thee?

11. Yet Amaziah would not hearken; ſo Jehoaſh King of Iſrael went up, and they looked one another in the Face, he and Amaziah King of Judah at Beth-ſhemeſh, which belonged to Judah.

12. And Judah was ſmitten before Iſrael, ſo that they fled to their ſeveral Tents.

13. Amaziah alſo King of Judah, the Son of Jehoaſh, the Son of Ahaziah, did Jehoaſh King of Iſrael take at Beth-ſhemeſh; and came to Jeruſalem, breaking down the Wall of it, at the Gate of Ephraim to the Corner-gate, four hundred Cubits.

14. Beſides he took away all the Gold, the Silver, and all the Inſtruments that were found at the Houſe of the Lord, and in the Treaſures of the King's Houſe, as alſo Sons for Hoſtages; and returned to Samaria.

15. As for the reſt of the Affairs of Jehoaſh that he did, and his Power, and how he fought with Amaziah King of Judah, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael?

16. And Jehoaſh lay down with his Fathers, being buried in Samaria with the Kings of Iſrael; and Jeroboam his Son reigned in his room.

17. And Amaziah the Son of Joaſh King of Judah, lived after the Death of Jehoaſh the Son of Jehoahaz King of Iſrael, fifteen Years.

18. As to the reſt of Amaziah's Affairs, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

21. At length all the People of Judah took Azariah, when he was in his ſixteenth Year, and made him King in the room of his Father Amaziah.

22. He built Elath, which he recovered to Judah, after the King was laid down with his Fathers.

23. In the Year that was the fifteenth of Amaziah the Son of Joaſh King of Judah, Jeroboam the Son of Joaſh King of Iſrael began reigning in Samaria forty one Years.

24. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with: he departed not from any of the Sins of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, wherein he made Iſrael ſin.

25. He recovered the Border of Iſrael from the Entrance of Hamath to the Sea of the Plain; according to the Word of the Lord God of Iſrael, that he ſpoke by the Miniſtry of his Servant Jonah the Son of Amittai the Prophet, who was of Gath-hepher.

26. For the Lord ſaw the Affliction of Iſrael was very bitter; there being none ſhut up, and none left, nor any Helper for Iſrael.

27. And the Lord did not ſay that he would blot out the Name of Iſrael from under Heaven; ſo he ſaved them by the Power of Jeroboam the Son of Joaſh.

28. As for the reſt of Jeroboam's Affairs, and all that he did, and his Power with which he fought, and how he recovered Damaſcus and Hamath of Judah for Iſrael, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael?

29. And Jeroboam lay down with his Fathers, with the Kings of Iſrael; at length Zechariah his Son reigned in his room.

Ver. 12. ſmitten] Joſephus in Antiq. Lib. ix. 10. relates that this fell out in the fourteenth Year of Amaziah, and ſo but a little before the Death of Joaſh; and indeed if it had not been after the Victories of the latter over the Syrians, Ch. xiii. ult. he would ſcarce have been ſo ſure of maſtering Amaziah, as he ſhews himſelf to be in the ſecond Verſe back from this; nor is he to be deemed of ſufficient Strength in the Beginning of his Reign, by comparing Chap. xiii. 7. with 2 Chr. xxv. 5.

CHAP. XV.

IN the Year that was the twenty ſeventh of Jeroboam King of Iſrael, Azariah the Son of Amaziah King of Judah began reigning.

2. Who when he did was in his ſixteenth Year, and reigned fifty two Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Jecholiah of Jeruſalem.

3. And he did what the Lord approved of, entirely as Amaziah his Father had done.

4. Only the Chapels were not taken away: the People did yet ſacrifice, and burn incenſe in them.

5. And the Lord ſmote the King, ſo that he was leprous to the Day of his Death, and dwelt in a ſeparate Houſe, while Jotham his Son was over the Houſe, judging the People of the Country.

6. Now the reſt of Azariah's Affairs, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

7. And Azariah lay down with his Fathers, they burying him with them in the City of David; and Jotham his Son reigned in his room.

8. In the Year that was the thirty eighth of Azariah King of Judah, Zechariah the Son of Jeroboam reigned over Iſrael at Samaria ſix Months.

9. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with as his Fathers had done: he departed not from the Sins of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, wherein he made Iſrael ſin.

10. So Shallum the Son of Jabeſh conſpired againſt him, and ſmote him before the People, inſomuch that he killed him; and reigned in his room.

11. As for the reſt of Zechariah's Affairs, behold they are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael.

12. That was the Word of the Lord which he ſpoke thus to Jehu, The Sons of the fourth Generation to thee ſhall ſit upon the Throne of Iſrael; and ſo it came to paſs.

13. Shallum the Son of Jabeſh began reigning in the Year that was the thirty ninth of Uzziah King of Judah, and reigned the Space of a Month at Samaria.

14. When Menahem the Son of Gadi went up from Tirzah, and going thither, ſmote him there; and having killed him, reigned in his room.

15. As to the reſt of Shallum's Affairs, and his Conſpiracy that he made, behold they are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael.

16. Then Menahem ſmote Tiphſah, and all who were in it, with its Borders from Tirzah; which he did, becauſe they would not open to him; cutting up all the Women of it with Child.

17. In the Year that was the thirty ninth of Azariah King of Judah, Menahem the Son of Gadi began reigning over Iſrael ten Years at Samaria.

18. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with: he departed not from the Sins of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, wherein he made Iſrael ſin, all his Time.

19. Pul King of Aſſyria coming againſt the Country, Menahem gave him a thouſand Talents of Silver; that his Power might be with himſelf, to ſtrengthen the Kingdom in his own Poſſeſſion.

20. And Menahem got the Silver out of Iſrael, from all who had a great deal of Wealth fifty Shekels of Silver apiece, to give to the King of Aſſyria; ſo he returned, and did not ſtay there in the Country.

21. As for the reſt of Menahem's Affairs, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael?

22. And Menahem lay down with his Fathers, and Pekahiah his Son reigned in his room.

23. In the Year that was the fiftieth of Azariah King of Judah, Pekahiah the Son of Menahem began reigning over Iſrael at Samaria two Years.

24. He likewiſe did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with: he departed not from the

Ver. 1. twenty ſeventh] This compared with Chap. xiv. 2, 23. ſhews an Interregnum of eleven Years between Amaziah and Azariah, as in the Tables at the End of Dan. But Uſher endeavours to avoid it, by ſuppoſing that Jeroboam was made Partner with his Father Joaſh in reigning, ſo long before his Father's Death, that his twenty ſeventh Year was at the very End of Amaziah's Reign, Annal. p. 75. and Chron. ſacr. p. 14, 15. at which Rate all the Reigns of both Kingdoms might be computed without any Space of Time between them, whereas Uſher himſelf allows of the other two that follow, and upon the ſame Account as this, by the Calculation of the Beginning of Reigns in the determinate Years of the Reigns in the other Kingdom, and by the Time of reigning; beſides that all the Years of all the Kings Reigns every where elſe are counted from the Time, or one of the Times, when they are related to begin reigning, and here is no Intimation of its being otherwiſe; but what eſpecially reſtricts the Manner of reckoning is the Number 390 in Ezek. iv. 5. which ſo nicely agrees with my Chronology, while to the ſame Period Uſher makes but 380 Years, and to the Captivity but 386. Moreover Amaziah's being killed by a Conſpiracy, Ch. xiv. 19. ſuits with a Vacation to the Throne, and eſpecially as his Son was then a Child.

25. And Pekah the Son of Remaliah his Captain conſpired againſt him, and ſlew him in Samaria, in the Palace of the King's Houſe, with Argob and Arieh, there being with him fifty Men of the Sons of the Gileadites; and when he had killed him, he reigned in his room.

26. As for the reſt of the Affairs of Pekahiah, and all that he did, behold they are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael.

27. In the Year that was the fifty ſecond of Azariah King of Judah, Pekah the Son of Remaliah began reigning over Iſrael at Samaria twenty Years.

28. Moreover he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with: he departed not from the Sins of Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, wherein he made Iſrael ſin.

29. In the Time of Pekah King of Iſrael came Tiglath-pileſer King of Aſſyria, and took Ijon, Abel-beth-maachah, Janoah, Kedeſh, Hazor, Gilead and Galilee, the whole Country of Naphtali; and carried the People of them priſoners to Aſſyria.

30. And Hoſhea the Son of Elah made a Conſpiracy againſt Pekah the Son of Remaliah, and ſmiting him, killed him, and reigned in his room, at twenty Years of Jotham the Son of Uzziah.

31. As for the reſt of Pekah's Affairs, and all that he did, behold they are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael.

32. In the ſecond Year of Pekah the Son of Remaliah King of Iſrael, Jotham the Son of Uzziah King of Judah began reigning.

33. Who when he did was in his twenty fifth Year, and reigned ſixteen Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Jeruſha the Daughter of Zadok.

34. And he did what the Lord approved of, entirely as Uzziah his Father had done.

35. Only the Chapels were not taken away; the People did yet ſacrifice and burn incenſe in them: he built the higheſt Gate of the Lord's Houſe.

36. As for the reſt of Jotham's Affairs, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

37. In thoſe Days the Lord began to ſend againſt Judah, Rezin the King of Syria, and Pekah the Son of Remaliah.

38. And Jotham lay down with his Fathers, being buried with them in the City of his Father David; and Ahaz his Son reigned in his room.

CHAP. XVI.

IN the Year that was the ſeventeenth of Pekah the Son of Remaliah, Ahaz the Son of Jotham King of Judah began reigning.

2. Ahaz when he did was in his twentieth Year, and reigned ſixteen Years at Jeruſalem; but did not what the Lord his God approved of, like his Father David.

3. For he went in the Way of the Kings of Iſrael; and even made his Son paſs through the Fire; according to the Abominations of the Nations, that the Lord expelled from the Preſence of the Iſraelites.

4. Beſides he ſacrificed, and burnt incenſe in the Chapels, upon the Hills, and under every green Tree.

5. Then Rezin King of Syria, and Pekah the Son of Remaliah King of Iſrael came up to Jeruſalem to war; and they laid ſiege againſt Ahaz, but could not overcome him.

6. At that Time Rezin King of Syria recovered Elath to Syria, and caſt the Jews out of it; whither the Syrians came, and have dwelt there to this Time.

9. Who hearkened to him, ſo that he went up againſt Damaſcus, taking it, and carried thoſe of it priſoners to Kir; he alſo killed Rezin.

10. Now King Ahaz went to meet Tiglath-pileſer King of Aſſyria at Damaſcus, and ſaw an Altar that was there; whereupon he ſent to Uriah the Prieſt the Likeneſs of the Altar, and its Building, according to all the Work of it.

11. Thus he built an Altar: entirely as King Ahaz ſent from Damaſcus, ſo did Uriah the Prieſt make it, againſt he came from thence.

12. When the King alſo came from Damaſcus, and ſaw the Altar himſelf, he went near to the ſame, and offered upon it.

13. He further burnt his Burnt-offering and Oblation, poured out his Drink-offering, and ſprinkled the Blood of the Peace-offerings which he had, upon the Altar.

14. And the braſen Altar too which was before the Lord, he brought from the Front of the Houſe, from between the Altar and the Houſe of the Lord, putting it upon the north Side of the Altar.

15. And King Ahaz commanded Uriah the Prieſt as follows, Upon the great Altar burn the Burnt-offering of the Morning, and the Oblation of the Evening, as alſo the King's Burnt-offering, his Oblation, and the Burnt-offering of all the People of the Country, their Oblation and Drink-offerings; all the Blood likewiſe of the Burnt-offering, with all that of the Sacrifice ſhalt thou ſprinkle upon it: and the braſen Altar ſhall be for me to make enquiry.

16. So Uriah the Prieſt did, entirely as he commanded.

17. And King Ahaz cut off the Borders of the Baſes, took off the Waſhing-veſſel from them, and took down the Sea from the braſen Oxen that were under it, putting it upon a Pavement of Stones.

18. The Covert likewiſe for the Sabbath, which they had built at the Houſe, and the King's Entry without, he turned aſide from the Houſe of the Lord; by reaſon of the King of Aſſyria.

19. As for the reſt of the Affairs of Ahaz that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

20. And Ahaz lay down with his Fathers, being buried with them in the City of David; and Hezekiah his Son reigned in his room.

CHAP. XVII.

IN the twelfth Year of Ahaz King of Judah, Hoſhea the Son of Elah began reigning at Samaria, over Iſrael nine Years.

2. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, only not like the Kings of Iſrael who were before him.

3. Againſt him came up Shalmaneſer King of Aſſyria; to whom he became a Servant, and rendered Preſents.

4. But the King of Aſſyria found Conſpiracy in Hoſhea, who ſent Meſſengers to So King of Egypt, and brought up no Preſent to himſelf as Year by Year; therefore he ſhut him up, and bound him in a Houſe of Reſtraint.

5. For he came up through all the Country, and aſcending to Samaria, laid ſiege againſt it three Years.

6. In the ninth Year of Hoſhea the King of Aſſyria took Samaria, and carried the Iſraelites away priſoners to Aſſyria; and made them dwell in Halah, and Habor, at the River Gozan, and in the Cities of the Medes.

7. Thus it came to paſs becauſe the Iſraelites ſinned againſt the Lord their God, who had brought them up out of the Country of Egypt, from under the Power of Pharaoh King of it; and feared other gods:

8. As likewiſe went in the Ordinances of the Nations, that the Lord expelled from the Preſence of the Iſraelites, and of the Kings of Iſrael, which they made.

9. The Iſraelites alſo concealed Things that were not right, againſt the Lord their God; and built them Chapels in all their Cities, from the Tower of the Keepers to the fortified City.

10. They further ſet them up Statues, and Groves, upon every high Hill, and under every green Tree.

11. Where they burnt incenſe in all the Chapels, like the Nations that the Lord cauſed to be carried away from their Preſence; and did evil Things to provoke the Lord:

13. Beſides

13. Beſides though the Lord teſtified both againſt Iſrael and Judah, by the Miniſtry of all the Prophets, every Seer, as follows, Return from your evil Ways, and keep my Commandments, my Ordinances, according to all the Law that I commanded your Fathers, and which I ſent to you by the Miniſtry of my Servants the Prophets;

14. Yet they would not hearken, but hardened their Necks like thoſe of their Fathers, who did not believe in the Lord their God.

15. Moreover they not only rejected his Ordinances, and Covenant which he made with their Forefathers, and his Teſtimonies which he declared to them; but went after Vanity, becoming vain, and after the Nations that were round about them, of whom the Lord commanded them not to do like thoſe.

16. They even left all the Commandments of the Lord their God, and made them molten Images, two Calves; as they did alſo Groves, and worſhipped all the Army of Heaven, and ſerved Baal.

17. Nay they made their Sons and Daughters paſs through the Fire, uſing Divinations and Soothſaying, and delivered themſelves up to do what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, to provoke him.

18. Therefore was he very angry with Iſrael, and put them away from before him: there were none left, only the mere Tribe of Judah.

19. Nor did Judah keep the Commandments of the Lord their God, but went in the Ordinances of Iſrael which they made.

20. With that the Lord rejected all the Offspring of Iſrael, afflicted them, and delivered them into the Power of Spoilers; till he had caſt them from his Face.

21. For he tore Iſrael from the Family of David, and they made Jeroboam the Son of Nebat King; who drove them from after the Lord, and made them commit a great Sin.

22. And the Iſraelites went in all the Sins of Jeroboam which he did; they departed not from them:

23. Until the Lord put Iſrael away from his Face, as he had threatened by the Miniſtry of his Servants the Prophets. Thus were they carried away from their own Country to Aſſyria, to this Day.

24. And the King of Aſſyria brought ſome from Babylon, Cuthah, Avah, Hamath and Sepharvaim; whom he put to dwell in the Cities of Samaria, in the room of the Iſraelites: ſo they poſſeſſed Samaria, and dwelt in the Cities of it.

25. At the Beginning of whoſe dwelling there, they did not fear the Lord; therefore he ſent Lions among them, that ſlew ſome of them.

26. Then they ſpoke to the King of Aſſyria as follows, The Nations that thou haſt carried away, and cauſed to dwell in the Cities of Samaria, not knowing the Manner of the God of the Country; he has ſent Lions among them, which behold kill them, foraſmuch as they are ignorant of that.

27. Whereupon the King of Aſſyria commanded thus, Have thither one of the Prieſts whom you brought away from thence, letting them go, and dwell there; and let him teach them the Manner of the God of the Country.

28. Accordingly one of the Prieſts whom they had carried away from Samaria came, and dwelt at Beth-el, and taught them how they ſhould fear the Lord.

29. Yet each Nation made their own gods, and placed them in the Houſes of the Chapels which the Samaritans made, each Nation in their Cities where they dwelt.

30. Since the Men of Babylon made Succoth-benoth, and the Men of Cuth made Nergal, as thoſe of Hamath did Aſhima,

31. And the Avites made Nibhaz and Tartak, the Sepharvites alſo burnt their Children in the Fire to Adrammelech and Anammelech the gods of Sepharvaim.

32. So they feared the Lord, and made them of the meaneſt among themſelves Prieſts of the Chapels, who offered for them in the Houſes of the Chapels.

33. They feared the Lord, and ſerved their own gods; according to the Manner of the Nations that they carried away from thence.

34. Who to this Day do after the former Manners; fear not the Lord, nor do according to their own Ordinances and Manner, even according to the Law and Commandment, that the Lord enjoined the Sons of Jacob, whoſe Name he put to be Iſrael.

35. With whom the Lord made a Covenant, and thus commanded them; You ſhall

CHAP. XVIII.

AND when Hoſhea the Son of Elah had been three Years King of Iſrael, Hezekiah the Son of Ahaz King of Judah began reigning.

2. It was in the twenty fifth Year when he did, and he reigned nine and twenty Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Abi, the Daughter of Zechariah.

3. And he did what the Lord approved of, entirely as his Father David had done.

4. He took away the Chapels, broke down the Statues, and cut down the Groves: as alſo beat in pieces the Serpent of Braſs that Moſes made; for to thoſe Days the Iſraelites burnt incenſe to it; whereas he called it a brazen Thing.

5. In the Lord God of Iſrael did he truſt; ſo that after him there was none like him among all the Kings of Judah, nor of thoſe who were before him.

6. For he cleaved to the Lord, and did not depart from following him; but kept his Commandments that the Lord enjoined Moſes.

7. And the Lord was with him, he proſpered whitherſoever he went out; inſomuch that he rebelled againſt the King of Aſſyria, and would not ſerve him.

8. He ſmote the Philiſtines to Gaza and its Borders, from the Tower of the Keepers to the fortified City.

9. Now in the fourth Year of King Hezekiah, which was the ſeventh Year of Hoſhea the Son of Elah King of Iſrael, Shalmaneſer King of Aſſyria came up againſt Samaria, and laid ſiege to it.

10. And they took it at the Term of three Years: in the ſixth Year of Hezekiah, which was the ninth of Hoſhea King of Iſrael, was Samaria taken.

11. Thus the King of Aſſyria carried the Iſraelites away priſoners to Aſſyria, and placed them in Halah and Habor, at the River Gozan, and in the Cities of the Medes:

12. Becauſe they did not hearken to what the Lord their God ſaid, but tranſgreſſed his Covenant, all that Moſes the Servant of the Lord commanded; and would neither hear, nor do it.

13. And in the fourteenth Year of King Hezekiah, Sennacherib King of Aſſyria came up againſt all the fortified Cities of Judah, that he might take them.

14. Upon this Hezekiah King of Judah ſent Word to him at Lachiſh, I have offended, return from me; what thou putteſt upon me I will bear. So he impoſed on him three hundred Talents of Silver, and thirty Talents of Gold.

15. And Hezekiah gave him all the Silver that was found at the Houſe of the Lord, and in the Treaſures of the King's Houſe.

16. At that Time he cut off the Things of the Doors of the Lord's Temple, and of the Pillars that he himſelf had covered; and gave them to the King of Aſſyria.

17. Nevertheleſs he ſent Tartan, Rab-

And the Heb. Word in this Verſe properly ſignifies three. The Reader may judge whether this is not more agreeable and likely, than groundleſsly to count two Beginnings to the Reign of Hezekiah, and ſo compute the Numbers by two different Dates; or what is worſe, to make Hezekiah's Reſtoration of the true Religion in the twenty ninth and thirtieth Chap. of 2 Chr. to be while Ahaz was living; nor is it likely Ahaz, ſuch an Idolater at laſt, 2 Chr. xxviii. 22, 23, 24, 25. ſhould make his Son who was quite otherwiſe King in his Life-time.

ſaris and Rab-ſhakeh from Lachiſh againſt King Hezekiah, with a huge Army to Jeruſalem; who aſcended, that they might come to Jeruſalem, and being got up, came, and ſtood at the Conduit of the uppermoſt Fiſh-pond, which was in the Highway of the Fuller's Field.

18. And when they had called to the King, there went out to them Eliakim the Son of Hilkiah, who was Steward of the Houſe, Shebna the Scribe, and Joah the Son of Aſaph the Recorder.

19. To whom Rabſhakeh ſaid: Tell now Hezekiah; Thus ſays the great King, the King of Aſſyria; What Truſt is it wherein thou truſteſt?

20. Thou vaunteſt, but vaunteſt in vain, There is Counſel and Power for War: now upon whom doſt thou truſt, that thou rebelleſt againſt me?

21. Now behold thou putteſt thy truſt upon the Staff of this bruiſed Reed Egypt; which a Man leaning upon, it will enter into his Hand, and pierce it: ſo will Pharaoh King of Egypt be to all that truſt upon him.

22. And though you ſay to me, We truſt on the Lord our God; is it not he whoſe Chapels and Altars Hezekiah has taken away, and ſaid to Judah and Jeruſalem, You ſhall worſhip before this Altar in Jeruſalem?

23. Therefore now engage thy ſelf, I pray, to my Maſter the King of Aſſyria; and I will give thee two thouſand Horſes, if thou art able to put thee Riders upon them.

24. How then wilt thou turn back the Face of one Captain, of the leaſt of my Maſter's Servants: putting thy Truſt upon Egypt, for Chariots and Horſemen?

25. Am I now come up without the Lord againſt this Place, to deſtroy it? The Lord ſaid to me, Go up againſt that Country, and deſtroy it.

26. Then ſaid Eliakim the Son of Hilkiah, Shebnah and Joah, to Rabſhakeh, Speak, we pray, to thy Servants in Syriack, for we underſtand it, and do not talk with us in the Jewiſh Language, in the Hearing of the People who are upon the Wall.

27. But Rabſhakeh replied to them, Has my Maſter ſent me to thine and thee, to ſpeak theſe Words? Was it not to the Men who ſit upon the Wall, to eat their Dung and drink their Urine with you?

28. So Rabſhakeh ſtood, and called aloud in the Jewiſh Language, ſaying as follows: Hear the Word of the great King, the King of Aſſyria.

29. Thus ſays the King, Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he is not able to deliver you from his Power.

30. Nor let Hezekiah make you truſt on the Lord by ſaying, The Lord will deliver us, and this City ſhall not be given throughly up into the Power of the King of Aſſyria.

31. Do not hearken to him: for thus ſays the King of Aſſyria; Make a Bleſſing for me, and come out to me; then eat each one of his own Vine and Fig-tree, as alſo drink each the Water of his Ciſtern:

32. Till I come, and fetch you away to a Country like your own, a Country of Corn and Wine, a Country of Bread and Vineyards, a Country of Olives for Oil and Honey; that you may live, and not die: and do not hearken to Hezekiah, though he perſuades you thus, The Lord will deliver us.

33. Have the gods of the Nations at all delivered their reſpective Lands, from the Power of the King of Aſſyria?

34. Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim, Hena and Ivah? For have they delivered Samaria from my Power?

35. Which are they among all the gods of the Countries, who have delivered their Country from my Power, that the Lord ſhould deliver Jeruſalem from it?

36. The People however held their Peace, and did not anſwer him a Word: for this was the King's Commandment, Do not anſwer him.

37. Next Eliakim the Son of Hilkiah who was Steward of the Houſe, Shebna the Scribe, and Joah the Son of Aſaph the Recorder, went to Hezekiah with the Cloaths torn; and told him the Words of Rabſhakeh.

kiah, This Day is a Day of Diſtreſs, Rebuke and Contempt: for the Children are come to the Birth, and there is no Might to bring forth.

4. Perhaps the Lord thy God will hear all the Words of Rabſhakeh, whom the King of Aſſyria his Maſter has ſent to reproach the living God, and will rebuke the Words which the Lord thy God has heard: therefore put up a Prayer for the Reſidue that is found.

5. Accordingly the Servants of King Hezekiah went to Iſaiah.

6. And he ſaid to them; So ſhall you tell your Maſter, Thus ſays the Lord, Be not afraid by reaſon of the Words that thou haſt heard, with which the young Men of the King of Aſſyria have blaſphemed me.

7. Behold I will put ſuch a Spirit into him, and he ſhall hear ſuch News, that he ſhall return to his own Country; in which I will cauſe him to fall by the Sword.

8. And Rabſhakeh returned, and found the King of Aſſyria fighting againſt Libnah: for he had heard that he was marched from Lachiſh.

9. Who when he heard ſay of Tirhakah King of Ethiopia, Behold he is come forth to fight with thee; ſent Meſſengers again to Hezekiah with Orders:

10. Thus ſhall you make a Speech to Hezekiah King of Judah; Let not thy God deceive thee, in whom thou truſteſt, by ſaying, Jeruſalem ſhall not be given up into the Power of the King of Aſſyria.

11. Behold thou haſt heard what the Kings of Aſſyria have done to all Countries, to deſtroy them utterly; and ſhalt thou be delivered?

12. Did the gods of the Nations deliver them whom my Fathers deſtroyed, Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the Edenites who were in Thelaſſar?

13. Where is the King of Hamath, the King of Arpad, and the King of the City of Sepharvaim, of Henah and Ivah?

14. And when Hezekiah had received the Letter from the Hands of the Meſſengers, and read it; he went up to the Houſe of the Lord, and ſpread it before him.

15. Before whom he prayed, and ſaid; O Lord God of Iſrael, who inhabiteſt the Cherubs, thou thy ſelf art God alone, of all the Kingdoms of the Earth: thou having made the Heaven, and the Earth.

16. Incline thy Ear, O Lord, and hear; open thy Eyes, O Lord, and ſee; even hear the Words of Sennacherib, who has ſent him to reproach the living God.

17. Indeed, O Lord, the Kings of Aſſyria have laid waſte the Nations, and their Land;

18. And put their gods into the Fire: for they were not gods, but the Work of Men's Hands, Wood and Stone; ſo they deſtroyed them.

19. Now therefore, O Lord our God, ſave us, I beſeech thee, from his Power; for all the Kingdoms of the Earth to know, that thou art the Lord God alone.

20. Then Iſaiah the Son of Amoz ſent Word to Hezekiah: Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael, What thou haſt prayed to me concerning Sennacherib King of Aſſyria, has not been unheard by me.

21. This is the Matter that the Lord ſpeaks againſt him; The Virgin, the Daughter of Zion, deſpiſes thee, mocks thee, the Daughter of Jeruſalem ſhakes the Head after thee.

22. Whom haſt thou reproached, and blaſphemed? And againſt whom haſt thou raiſed the Voice, and looked up on high? Againſt the Holy One of Iſrael?

23. Thou haſt reproached the Lord by the Miniſtry of thy Meſſengers, and ſaid; I will go up to the Height of the Mountains, to the Sides of Lebanon, with the Multitude of my Chariots: where I will cut down his tall Cedars, the choiceſt of his Fir-trees; and come to the Lodging-place of his Border, to the Wood of his Carmel.

24. I have dug, and drunk ſtrange Waters; and dried up all the Streams of the Siege with the Soles of my Feet.

26. Therefore were their Inhabitants ſhorthanded, were daunted, and aſhamed: they were like the Herb of the Field, and the tender Pot-herb, Graſs of the Roofs, and Corn blaſted before it is grown up.

31. For a Reſidue ſhall go forth from Jeruſalem, and a Remnant eſcape from Mount Zion: the Zeal of the Lord will do this.

32. Therefore thus ſays the Lord concerning the King of Aſſyria; He ſhall not come to this City, nor ſhoot an Arrow there, nor come before it with a Shield, nor make a Rampart againſt it.

33. In the ſame Way wherein he came, ſhall he return, and not come to this City, ſays the Lord.

36. So Sennacherib King of Aſſyria marched, and going back again, dwelt at Nineveh.

37. And as he was worſhipping in the Houſe of Niſroch his god, Adrammelech and Sharezer ſlew him with the Sword, who eſcaped to the Country of Ararat: and Eſarhaddon his Son reigned in his room.

CHAP. XX.

IN thoſe Days was Hezekiah ſick likely to die, to whom Iſaiah the Son of Amoz the Prophet came, and ſaid to him; Thus ſays the Lord, Make thy Will, for thou wilt die, and not live.

2. Upon this he turned about his Face to the Wall, and prayed to the Lord, ſaying,

3. I beſeech thee, O Lord, remember now, how I have walked continually before thee in Truth, and with a perfect Heart, and have done what thou waſt pleaſed with; and Hezekiah wept a great deal.

4. When Iſaiah being not got out to the middle of the City, had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows;

5. Go back, and tell Hezekiah the Ruler of my People; Thus ſays the Lord God of thy Father David, I have heard thy Prayer, ſeen thy Tears; behold I will heal thee, on the third Day thou ſhalt go up to the Houſe of the Lord.

6. And I will add to thy Time fifteen Years: as alſo deliver thee and this City from the Power of the King of Aſſyria; and will defend this City, for my own ſake, and for the ſake of David my Servant.

7. Iſaiah alſo ſaid, Take a Bunch of Figs; which they did; and putting upon the Boil, he recovered.

9. And Iſaiah replied, This ſhall be a Sign to thee from the Lord, that he will do the Thing which he has ſpoken; ſhall the Shadow go on ten Degrees, or go back ſo many?

10. To which Hezekiah anſwered, It is a ſlight Thing for the Shadow to decline ten Degrees; no, but let it return backward ten Degrees.

11. So Iſaiah the Prophet called on the Lord; and he cauſed the Shadow on the Degrees, which was gone down upon thoſe of Ahaz, to return backward ten Degrees.

12. At that Time Berodach-baladan, the Son of Baladan, King of Babylon ſent a Letter, and a Preſent to Hezekiah: for he heard that he had been ſick.

13. And Hezekiah hearkened to them, ſhewing them the whole Houſe of his Odours, the Silver, Gold, Spices, the good Oil, the Houſe of his Veſſels, and all that was found in his Treaſures: there was Nothing which he did not ſhew them, in his Houſe, and in all his Dominion.

14. Afterwards Iſaiah the Prophet came to King Hezekiah, and ſaid to him, What did theſe Men ſay? And from whence did they come to thee? And he anſwered, They came from a Country far off, from Babylon.

15. And upon his enquiring, What did they ſee in thy Houſe? Hezekiah acknowledged, They ſaw all that was in it; there was Nothing, which I did not ſhew them, in my Treaſures.

16. Then ſaid Iſaiah to him; Hear the Lord's Commiſſion,

17. Behold the Days are coming, when all that is in thy Houſe, and what thy Fathers have treaſured up to this Day, ſhall be carried away to Babylon; there ſhall be Nothing left, ſays the Lord.

18. Nay they ſhall take of thy Sons who ſhall proceed out from thee, whom thou ſhalt beget; and they ſhall be Officers in the Palace of the King of Babylon.

19. Whereupon Hezekiah ſaid to Iſaiah, The Lord's Commiſſion that thou ſpeakeſt is good: for is it not, ſaid he, if there be Peace and Truth in my Days?

20. As for the reſt of Hezekiah's Affairs, and all his Power, with how he made a Fiſh-pond, and a Conduit, and brought Water to the City, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

21. And Hezekiah lay down with his Fathers, and Manaſſeh his Son reigned in his room.

CHAP. XXI.

MANASSEH was in his twelfth Year when he began reigning, and reigned fifty five Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Hephzi-bah.

2. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with; according to the Abominations of the Nations, that the Lord expelled from the Preſence of the Iſraelites.

3. For he built up again the Chapels which his Father Hezekiah had deſtroyed, raiſed up Altars to Baal, made a Grove as Ahab King of Iſrael did, worſhipped all the Army of Heaven, and ſerved them.

4. He alſo built Altars in the Houſe of the Lord, of which the Lord ſaid, I will put my Name in Jeruſalem.

5. And he builded Altars to all the Army of Heaven, in the two Courts of the Lord's Houſe.

6. Beſides he made his Son paſs through the Fire, uſed ſoothſaying, divined, and had to do with familiar Spirits and Sorcerers; doing what the Lord was much diſpleaſed with, to provoke him.

7. Nay he put a carved Image belonging to the Grove that he had made, in the Houſe of which the Lord ſaid to David and his Son Solomon; In this Houſe and in Jeruſalem, that I have choſen out of all the Tribes of Iſrael, will I put my Name for ever.

8. And I will not remove the Feet of Iſrael again, from the Country which I gave

9. But they would not hear; and Manaſſeh made them err, to do worſe than the Nations, that the Lord had deſtroyed from the Preſence of the Iſraelites.

10. And the Lord ſpoke by the Miniſtry of his Servants the Prophets as follows:

11. Becauſe Manaſſeh King of Judah does theſe Abominations, doing worſe than all that the Amorites did who were before him, and makes Judah alſo ſin by his filthy Idols.

12. Therefore thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael; Behold I will bring Harm upon Jeruſalem and Judah, at which both the Ears of every one who hears it ſhall tingle.

13. For I will ſtretch out over Jeruſalem the Line of Samaria, and the Plummet of the Family of Ahab; and will wipe Jeruſalem as one does a Diſh, and being wiped, turns it upon its Face.

14. So will I forſake the Reſidue of my Poſſeſſion, and deliver them into the Power of their Enemies; whereby they ſhall become a Prey and Spoil to all of them:

15. Becauſe they have done what I diſlike, and have provoked me, from the Day on which their Forefathers came out of Egypt to this Day.

16. And Manaſſeh alſo ſhed innocent Blood very much, till he had quite filled up Jeruſalem; beſides his Sin wherein he made Judah ſin, by doing what the Lord was diſpleaſed with.

17. As for the reſt of Manaſſeh's Affairs, and all that he did, with his Sin which he ſinned, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

18. And Manaſſeh lay down with his Fathers, being buried in the Garden of his own Houſe, in that of Uzza; and Amon his Son reigned in his room.

19. Amon was in his twenty ſecond Year when he began reigning, and reigned two Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Meſhullemeth, the Daughter of Haruz of Jotbah.

20. He likewiſe did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, as Manaſſeh his Father had done.

21. For he went in all the Way wherein his Father went; and ſerved the filthy Idols that his Father ſerved, and worſhipped them.

22. Moreover he forſook the Lord God of his Fathers, and went not in the Way of the Lord.

23. At length the Servants of Amon conſpired againſt him, and killed the King in his own Houſe.

24. But the People of the Country ſlew all that conſpired againſt him; and the ſame made Joſiah his Son King in his room.

25. As for the reſt of Amon's Affairs which he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah:

26. And he being buried in his Sepulchre in the Garden of Uzza, Joſiah his Son reigned in his room.

CHAP. XXII.

JOSIAH was in his eighth Year when he began reigning, and reigned thirty one Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Jedidah, the Daughter of Adaiah of Boſkath.

2. And he did what the Lord approved of; going in all the Way of David his Father, without turning aſide to the right Hand or left.

3. Now in the eighteenth Year of King Joſiah, he ſent Shaphan, the Son of Azaliah, the Son of Meſhullam, the Scribe, to the Houſe of the Lord, with this Meſſage;

4. Go up to Hilkiah the high Prieſt, and cauſe him to finiſh the Affair of the Money that is brought into the Houſe of the Lord, which the Keepers of the Door gather from the People.

5. And let them deliver it into the Hands of ſuch as manage the Work, that are ſet over the Houſe of the Lord, who ſhall give it to the Doers of the Work which is there, to repair the Breaches of the Houſe;

6. To Artificers, Builders, and Maſons, even to buy Timber and Stone that is cut, to repair the Houſe.

7. But the Money was not reckoned to them, that was delivered into their Hands; becauſe they managed faithfully.

8. And Hilkiah the high Prieſt ſaid to Shaphan the Scribe, I have found the Book of the Law in the Houſe of the Lord; Hilkiah alſo gave the Book to him, and he read it.

9. Then Shaphan the Scribe came to the King, and brought him back Word, and ſaid, Thy Servants have poured out the Money that was found in the Houſe, and delivered it into the Hands of thoſe that manage the Work, who are ſet over the Houſe of the Lord.

10. Beſides he told the King thus, Hilkiah the Prieſt has given me a Book; and Shaphan read it before him.

11. And as ſoon as the King heard the Words of the Book of the Law, he tore his Cloaths.

12. He alſo commanded Hilkiah the Prieſt, Ahikam the Son of Shaphan, Achbor the Son of Michaiah, Shaphan the Scribe, and Aſaiah a Servant of the King, as follows,

13. Go, enquire of the Lord for me, and for the People, even for all Judah, concerning the Words of this Book that is found: for the Wrath of the Lord is great, that which is kindled againſt us, becauſe our Fathers have not hearkened to the Words of this Book, to do according to all that is written for us.

14. So Hilkiah the Prieſt, Ahikam, Achbor, Shaphan and Aſaiah, went to Huldah the Propheteſs, the Wife of Shallum, the Son of Tikvah, the Son of Harhas, Keeper of the Garments, ſhe dwelling at Jeruſalem in the ſecond Part; and they ſpoke to her.

15. Who ſaid to them: Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael, Tell the Man that ſent you to me;

16. Thus ſays the Lord: Behold I will bring Harm to this Place, and upon the Inhabitants of it, even all the Things of the Book which the King of Judah has read;

17. Becauſe they have forſaken me, and burnt incenſe to other gods, that they might provoke me by all the Work of their Hands; ſo ſhall my Wrath be kindled againſt this Place, and not be quenched.

18. But concerning the King of Judah who ſent you to enquire of the Lord, thus ſhall you tell him; Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael, As for the Words which thou haſt heard,

19. Foraſmuch as thy Heart is tender, and thou didſt humble thyſelf before the Lord, when thou heardeſt what I have ſpoken againſt this Place, and the Inhabitants of it, that they ſhould become a Deſolation and a Curſe, and didſt tear thy Cloaths, and weep before me; I alſo heard, ſays the Lord.

20. Therefore behold I will gather thee to thy Fathers, and thou ſhalt be gathered to thy Grave in Peace, and thy Eyes ſhall not ſee all the Harm which I will bring upon this Place. And they brought the King back Word.

CHAP. XXIII.

UPON this the King ſent, and they gathered to him all the Elders of Judah and Jeruſalem.

2. He then went up to the Houſe of the Lord, all the Men of Judah, and all the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem being with him, as alſo the Prieſts and Prophets, nay all the People from the leaſt to the greateſt; where he read in their Hearing all the Words of the Book of the Covenant, that was found in the Houſe of the Lord.

3. And the King ſtanding at a Pillar, made a Covenant before the Lord, to go after him, and to keep his Commandments, Teſtimonies and Ordinances, with all the Heart, and all the Soul, to confirm the Words of this Covenant that were written in this Book; and all the People ſtood to the Covenant.

4. After which the King commanded Hilkiah the high Prieſt, and the Prieſts of the ſecond Order, with the Keepers of the Door, to bring out of the Temple of the Lord all the Inſtruments that were made for Baal, for the Grove, and all the Army of the Heavens; and he burnt them without Jeruſalem, in the Fields of Kidron, and carried the Aſhes of them to Beth-el.

5. And he put away the black ones, whom the Kings of Judah had appointed, and cauſed to burn incenſe in the Chapels, in the Cities of Judah, and round about Jeruſalem, with thoſe that burnt incenſe to Baal, to the Sun, and Moon, and Planets, and to all the Army of the Heavens.

6. He likewiſe brought the Grove out of the Houſe of the Lord, without Jeruſalem, to the Brook Kidron, and burnt it there, beating it ſmall to Duſt, and throwing the Duſt of it upon the Graves of the Sons of the People.

7. And he broke down the Houſes of the Sodomites, which were at the Houſe of the Lord, where the Women wove Booths for the Grove.

8. Beſides

8. Beſides he brought all the Prieſts from the Cities of Judah, and polluted the Chapels where thoſe burnt incenſe, from Geba to Beer-ſheba; and broke down the Chapels of the Gates, which were at the Entrance of the Gate of Joſhua the Governor of the City, that were on a Man's left Hand at the Gate of the City.

9. Yet the Prieſts of the Chapels did not go up to the Altar of the Lord in Jeruſalem, but eat unleavened Cakes amongſt their Brethren.

10. And he polluted Topheth, which was in the Valley of the Sons of Hinnom; that no Man might make his Son or Daughter paſs through the Fire to Molech.

11. Moreover he put away the Horſes that the Kings of Judah had given to the Sun, by the coming in of the Houſe of the Lord, at the Room of Nethan-melech one of the Officers, which was in the Suburbs; and the Chariots of the Sun he burnt in the Fire.

12. The Altars too which were upon the Roof of the Chamber of Ahaz, that the Kings of Judah had made, and thoſe that Manaſſeh had made in the two Courts of the Lord's Houſe, did the King break down, and daſh in pieces from thence, throwing the Duſt of them into the Brook Kidron.

13. And the Chapels which were before Jeruſalem, that were on the right hand of the Mountain of Corruption, which Solomon King of Iſrael built to Aſhtoreth the Abomination of the Zidonians, to Chemoſh the Abomination of Moab, and Milcom the Deteſtation of the Ammonites, did the King pollute.

14. He further broke in pieces the Statues, and cut down the Groves; and filled the Places of them with Men's Bones.

15. And alſo the Altar which was at Beth-el, the Chapel that Jeroboam the Son of Nebat made, with which he cauſed Iſrael to ſin, both that Altar and the Chapel he broke down; and burnt the Chapel, beating it ſmall to Duſt, as likewiſe burnt the Grove.

16. Then Joſiah looking, ſaw the Graves which were there on the Mountain: with that he ſent, and took the Bones out of them, which he burnt upon the Altar, and polluted it; according to the Word of the Lord that the Man of God did proclaim, who proclaimed thoſe Things.

17. And he aſked, What is that Monument which I ſee? When the Men of the City anſwered him, It is the Grave of the Man of God who came from Judah, and proclaimed thoſe Things that thou haſt done againſt the Altar of Beth-el.

18. Therefore he replied, Let him alone, let not any one remove his Bones: ſo they let his Bones eſcape, with thoſe of the Prophet who came from Samaria.

19. And all the Houſes of the Chapels likewiſe that were in the Cities of Samaria, which the Kings of Iſrael had made to provoke, Joſiah took away; and did to them according to all the Deeds that he had done at Beth-el.

20. Nay he killed all the Prieſts of the Chapels who were there, upon the Altars, and burning Men's Bones upon them, returned to Jeruſalem.

21. Afterwards the King thus commanded all the People, Make a Paſſover to the Lord your God, as it is written in the Book of this Covenant.

22. For there was not made ſuch a one, from the Time of the Judges who judged Iſrael, even all the Time of the Kings of Iſrael and thoſe of Judah;

23. As in the eighteenth Year of King Joſiah, when this Paſſover was made to the Lord in Jeruſalem.

24. And alſo thoſe that had familiar Spirits, with the Sorcerers, Teraphs, filthy Idols, and all the Abominations which were ſeen in the Country of Judah, and in Jeruſalem, Joſiah took away; that he might confirm the Words of the Law, that were written in the Book which Hilkiah the Prieſt found in the Houſe of the Lord.

25. So that like him there was no King before him, who returned to the Lord with all his Heart, with all his Soul, and all his Might, according to the whole Law of Moſes; and after him there roſe up none like him.

26. However the Lord did not return from the Fervency of his great Anger, by which he was angry with Judah, for all the Provocations with which Manaſſeh had provoked him.

27. And he ſaid; I will alſo put Judah away from before me, as I did Iſrael; and will reject this City Jeruſalem that I choſe, and the Houſe of which I ſaid, My Name ſhall be there.

Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

29. In his Time Pharaoh-nechoh King of Egypt went up againſt the King of Aſſyria, to the River Euphrates; whom King Joſiah going to meet, the ſame killed him at Megiddo, when he ſaw him.

30. And his Servants carried him dead from thence, and bringing him to Jeruſalem, buried him in his own Grave; then the People of the Country took Jehoahaz the Son of Joſiah, and anointing him, made him King in the room of his Father.

31. Jehoahaz was in his twenty third Year when he began reigning, and reigned three Months at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Hamutal, the Daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

32. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, according to all that his Fathers had done.

33. At length Pharaoh-nechoh bound him at Riblah in the Country of Hamath, for reigning at Jeruſalem; and put a Fine upon the Country of a hundred Talents of Silver, and a Talent of Gold.

34. The ſame too made Eliakim the Son of Joſiah King in the room of Joſiah his Father, and turned his Name to Jehoiakim; taking away Jehoahaz, who went to Egypt, and died there.

35. And Jehoiakim gave the Silver and Gold to Pharaoh, but rated the Country, to give the Money according to his Command: of each of the People of it according to his Worth he exacted the Silver and Gold, to give to Pharaoh-nechoh.

36. Jehoiakim was in his twenty fifth Year when he began reigning, and reigned eleven Years at Jeruſalem; and the Name of his Mother was Zebudah, the Daughter of Pedaiah of Rumah.

37. He likewiſe did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, according to all that his Fathers had done.

CHAP. XXIV.

IN his Time came up Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon; to whom Jehoiakim became a Servant three Years, then he turned back, and rebelled againſt him.

2. Whereupon the Lord ſent againſt him the Troops of the Chaldeans, with thoſe of Syria, Moab, and the Ammonites, whom he ſent againſt Judah to deſtroy it; according to the Word that the Lord ſpoke by the Miniſtry of his Servants the Prophets.

3. Verily according to the Mouth of the Lord it was againſt Judah, to put them away from before him, for the Sins of Manaſſeh, according to all that he did;

4. And in particular the innocent Blood, which he ſhed, ſo that he filled Jeruſalem with it, which the Lord would not forgive.

5. As for the reſt of Jehoiakim's Affairs, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah?

6. And Jehoiakim lay down with his Fathers, his Son Jehoiachin reigning in his room.

7. Now the King of Egypt came again no more out of his Country: for the King of Babylon took from the Flood of Egypt to the River Euphrates, all that belonged to him.

8. Jehoiachin was in his eighteenth Year when he began reigning, and reigned three Months at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Nehuſhta, the Daughter of Elnathan of Jeruſalem.

9. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, according to all that his Father had done.

10. At that Time the Servants of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon came up to Jeruſalem, that the City might be brought into a Siege.

11. Afterwards he came againſt the City, and his Servants beſieged it.

12. To whom Jehoiachin King of Judah went out, with his Mother, Servants, Princes and Officers; and the King of Babylon took him in the eighth Year of his Reign.

13. And he brought out from thence all the Treaſures of the Houſe of the Lord, and thoſe of the King's Houſe; particularly he cut off all the Things of Gold that Solomon King of Iſrael made in the Temple of the Lord, according as the Lord had ſpoken.

14. Nay he carried away all theſe of Jeruſalem, even all the Princes, and all who were valiant, ten thouſand Priſoners, with every Carpenter and Smith: there were none left beſides the poor People of the Country.

15. Thus he carried away Jehoiachin to Babylon; as likewiſe the King's Mother, with his Wives, Officers, and the mighty Men of the Country, did he cauſe to go away priſoners from Jeruſalem thither.

16. And all the ſtout ones ſeven thouſand, with the Carpenters and Smiths a thouſand, all the ſtout Warriors, were thoſe whom the King of Babylon carried away priſoners thither.

17. Moreover he made Mattaniah his Uncle King in his room, and turned his Name to Zedekiah.

18. Zedekiah was in his twenty firſt Year when he began reigning, and reigned eleven Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Hamutal, the Daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

19. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

20. For it came to paſs in Jeruſalem and Judah, that Zedekiah rebelled againſt the King of Babylon, by the Anger of the Lord, till he had caſt them from before him.

CHAP. XXV.

AND in the ninth Year of his Reign, on the tenth of the tenth Month, came Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, with all his Army, againſt Jeruſalem, and encamped againſt it, building Forts againſt it round about.

2. So the City came to be in a Siege, till the eleventh Year of King Zedekiah.

3. When on the ninth of the fourth Month the Famine became ſo grievous in the City, that there was no Food for the People of the Country.

4. Thus the City was broke into, and all the Warriors fled by night the Way of the Gate between the two Walls, which was by the King's Garden, the Chaldeans being againſt the City, round about; and he went the Way of the Plain.

5. But the Army of the Chaldeans purſued after the King, and overtook him on the Plains of Jericho, all his Army being diſperſed from him.

6. And taking the King, they carried him up to the King of Babylon at Riblah; and they pronounced Judgment on him.

7. Next they killed the Sons of Zedekiah before his Eyes, put out his own Eyes, and binding him with Chains, carried him to Babylon.

8. Moreover on the ſeventh of the fifth Month, which was in the nineteenth Year of King Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard, a Servant of his, came to Jeruſalem;

9. Who burnt the Houſe of the Lord, and that of the King: all the Houſes likewiſe of Jeruſalem, eſpecially every great one did he burn with Fire.

10. And the Walls of Jeruſalem round about, did the whole Army of the Chaldeans, who were with him, break down.

11. The reſt alſo of the People that were left in the City, and the Deſerters who deſerted to the King of Babylon, with the reſt of the Multitude, Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard carried away.

12. Yet he left ſome of the Poor of the Country, for Vine-dreſſers and Huſbandmen.

13. And the Pillars of Braſs which were in the Lord's Houſe, as alſo the Baſes, and the braſen Sea that was there, the Chaldeans broke; and took away the Braſs of them to Babylon.

14. The Pots too, the Shovels, muſical Inſtruments, Spoons, and all the braſen Things with which they miniſtred, they took:

15. As did the Captain of the Guard the Cenſers, and Bowls, what was Gold in Gold, and what was Silver in Silver;

Ver. 13. cut off all the Things] of which the other Part was not Gold, and of no Value to Nebuchadnezzar: for that he did not cut in pieces all the Veſſels is plain by Ezr. i. 7. Dan. v. 2, 3.

Ver. 14. ten thouſand] The Carpenters and Smiths being a thouſand, and the valiant Men ſeven thouſand, there remain two thouſand for the Princes or Nobility, including perhaps their Families.

Ver. 15. Cenſers] See Exod. xxvii. 3

16. With

16. With the two Pillars, one Sea, and the Baſes which Solomon made for the Houſe of the Lord, the Braſs of all theſe Things being without Weight.

17. The Height of one Pillar was eighteen Cubits, and the Chapiter upon it was Braſs, the Height of the Chapiter being three Cubits, with the Infolding and the Pomegranates upon it round about all Braſs; the other Pillar too had like theſe upon the Infolding.

18. Beſides the Captain of the Guard took Seraiah the principal Prieſt, Zephaniah the ſecond Prieſt, and the three Door-keepers.

19. And out of the City he took one Officer, him who was General over the Warriors, and five Men of thoſe that were intimate with the King who were found in the Country, as alſo the chief Scribe of the Army that muſtered the People of the Country, and ſixty Men of the ſame People who were found in the City:

20. Even them did Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard take, and carried them to the King of Babylon at Riblah;

21. And he ſmote them, and killed them there in the Country of Hamath. Thus was Judah carried away from their own Country.

22. But as for the People that were left in the Country of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon left, over them he ſet Gedaliah, the Son of Ahikam, the Son of Shaphan.

23. Which when all the Captains of the Armies, with their Men, heard; they came to Gedaliah, at Mizpah, even Iſhmael the Son of Nethaniah, Johanan the Son of Kareah, Seraiah the Son of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah the Son of a Maachathite, with their Men.

24. And Gedaliah ſwore to them and their Men in this manner, Be not afraid of being the Servants of the Chaldeans: dwell in the Country, and ſerve the King of Babylon, ſo it ſhall be well with you.

25. Nevertheleſs in the ſeventh Month Iſhmael the Son of Nethaniah, the Son of Eliſhama, of the royal Family, came, accompanied with ten Men, and ſmote Gedaliah, ſo that he died, as likewiſe the Jews and Chaldeans who were with him at Mizpah.

26. Then all the People from the leaſt to the greateſt, with the Captains of the Armies, got ready, and went to Egypt: for they were afraid by reaſon of the Chaldeans.

27. And in the ſeven and thirtieth Year of the Captivity of Jehoiachin King of Judah, on the twenty ſeventh of the twelfth Month, Evil-merodach King of Babylon, in the Year that he began reigning, lifted up the Head of Jehoiachin King of Judah from the Priſon-houſe.

28. To whom he ſpoke well, and put his Seat above thoſe of the Kings who were with him at Babylon.

29. And changing his Priſon-garments, he did eat Victuals continually before him, all the Days of his Life.

30. For his Proviſion was a continual one given him from the King, each Day's Allowance the very ſame Day, all the Days of his Life.

43. And

43. And theſe were the Kings who reigned in the Country of Edom, before the Iſraelites had one to reign: Bela the Son of Beor, the Name of whoſe City was Dinhabah.

44. And when he died, Jobab the Son of Zerah of Bozrah reigned in his room.

45. He alſo dying, Huſham of the Country of the Temanites reigned in his room.

46. This likewiſe died, and Hadad the Son of Bedad, who beat Midian in the Region of Moab, reigned in his room; and his City was named Avith.

47. Next he died, in whoſe room Samlah of Maſrekah reigned.

48. And he being dead, Saul of Rehoboth of the River ſucceeded him.

49. Whom, upon his Deceaſe, Baalhanan the Son of Achbor ſucceeded.

50. When the laſt too was dead, Hadad reigned in his room; the Name of whoſe City was Pai, and that of his Wife Mehetabel, the Daughter of Matred, Me-zahab's Daughter.

51. But when Hadad died, there were Dukes of Edom; Duke Timna, Duke Aljah, Duke Jetheth,

52. Duke Aholibamah, Duke Elah, Duke Pinon,

53. Duke Kenaz, Duke Teman, Duke Mibzar,

54. Duke Magdiel, Duke Iram: theſe were the Dukes of Edom.

CHAP. II.

THESE were the Sons of Iſrael; Reuben, Simeon, Levi and Judah, Iſſachar and Zebulun,

2. Dan, Joſeph and Benjamin, Naphtali, Gad and Aſher.

3. The Sons of Judah were, Er, Onan and Shelah, the three who were born to him of the Daughter of Shua the Canaaniteſs; but the Lord being diſpleaſed with Er the Firſt-born of Judah, he cauſed him to die.

4. And Tamar his Daughter-in-law bore him Pharez and Zerah: all the Sons of Judah being five.

5. The Sons of Pharez were, Hezron and Hamul.

6. And the Sons of Zerah, Zimri, Ethan, Heman, Chalcol and Dara; all of them five.

7. And the Sons of Carmi, Achar the Troubler of Iſrael, who did amiſs with the curſed Thing.

8. Moreover the Sons of Ethan, Azariah.

9. The Sons of Hezron alſo, who were born to him, Jerahmeel, Ram and Chelubai.

10. And Ram begot Amminadab, as Amminadab did Nahſhon, the Prince of the People of Judah;

11. Nahſhon too begot Salma, and he Boaz,

12. And he Obed, and he Jeſſe.

13. Jeſſe likewiſe begot his Firſt-born Eliab, and Abinadab the ſecond, and Shimha the third,

14. Nethaneel the fourth, Raddai the fifth,

15. Ozem the ſixth, David the ſeventh.

16. And their Siſters were, Zeruiah and Abigail: the Sons of Zeruiah being Abiſhai, Joab and Aſah-el, three.

17. And Abigail bore Amaſa, his Father being Jether the Iſhmeelite.

18. Beſides Caleb the Son of Hezron begot of Azubah a Wife, and of Jerioth even theſe her Sons, Jeſher, Shobab and Ardon.

19. And when Azubah was dead, Caleb took him Ephrath, who bore him Hur.

20. And Hur begot Uri, as Uri did Bezaleel.

21. After which Hezron went in to the Daughter of Machir, the Father of Gilead, whom he took when he was in his ſixtieth Year; and ſhe bore him Segub.

22. And Segub begot Jair, who had twenty three Cities in the Province of Gilead.

23. Nay he took Geſhur and Aram, with the Country-towns of Jair from them, with Kenath and its Towns, ſixty Cities: all theſe belonged to the Sons of Machir, the Father of Gilead.

24. And after Hezron was dead at Caleb-ephrathah, Abiah Hezron's Wife bore him Aſhur, the Father of Tekoa.

25. And the Sons of Jerahmeel the Firſt-born of Hezron were, Ram the Firſt-born, then Bunah, and Oren, and Ozem, Ahijah.

26. Jerahmeel had alſo another Wife, whoſe Name was Atarah, ſhe was the Mother of Onam.

27. And the Sons of Ram the Firſt-born of Jerahmeel were, Maaz, Jamin, and Eker.

28. The Sons of Onam likewiſe were, Shammai and Jada; the Sons of Shammai, Nadab and Abiſhur.

29. And the Name of Abiſhur's Wife was Abihail, who bore to him Ahban and Molid.

30. And the Sons of Nadab, Seled and Appaim; but Seled died without Sons.

31. The Sons alſo of Appaim, Iſhi; and the Sons of Iſhi, Sheſhan; and thoſe of Sheſhan, Ahlai.

32. And the Sons of Jada the Brother of Shammai, Jether and Jonathan; but Jether died without Sons.

33. And Jonathan's Sons, Peleth and Zaza: theſe were the Sons of Jerahmeel.

34. Now Sheſhan having no Sons, but Daughters, and having an Egyptian Servant, whoſe Name was Jarha;

35. He gave his Daughter to that Servant for a Wife, and ſhe bore him Attai.

36. And Attai begot Nathan, and he Zabad,

37. And he Ephlal, and he Obed,

38. And he Jehu, and he Azariah,

39. And he Helez, and he Eleaſah,

40. And he Siſmai, and he Shallum,

41. And he Jekamiah, and he Eliſhama.

42. The Sons of Caleb too the Brother of Jerahmeel were, Meſha his Firſt-born, who was the Father of Ziph; with the Sons of Mareſheh the Father of Hebron.

43. Hebron's Sons being Korah, Tappuah, Rekem, and Shema.

44. And Shema begot Raham the Father of Jorkeam, as Rekem did Shammai.

45. Moreover the Son of Shammai was Maon, and Maon was the Father of Beth-zur.

46. And Ephah Caleb's Concubine bore Haran, Moza and Gazez; Haran begetting Gazez.

47. The Sons of Jahdai alſo were, Regem, Jotham, Geſhan, Pelet, Ephah, and Shaaph.

48. Maachah being the Concubine of Caleb, he begot Sheber and Tirhanah.

49. She likewiſe bore Shaaph the Father of Madmannah, Sheva the Father of Machbena, and the Father of Gibeah; and the Daughter of Caleb was Achſa.

50. Theſe were the Sons of Caleb the Son of Hur, the Firſt-born of Ephrathah; Shobal the Father of Kirjath-jearim.

51. Salma the Father of Beth-lehem, Hareph the Father of Beth-gader.

52. And Shobal the Father of Kirjath-jearim had Sons, Haroeh, half of the Menuhites.

53. And the Families of Kirjath-jearim, the Ithrites, Puthites, Shumathites and Miſhraites: from theſe came forth the Zareathites, and Eſhtaulites.

54. The Sons of Salma were, Beth-lehem, and the Netophathites, Ateroth of the Houſhold of Joab, and half of the Manahethites, the Zorites.

55. And the Families of the Scribes who dwelt at Jabez, the Tirathites, Shimeathites, Suchathites: thoſe were the Kenites who came of Hamath, the Father of Beth-rehab.

CHAP. III.

AND theſe were the Sons of David, who were born to him at Hebron: the Firſt-born Amnon, of Ahinoam the Jezreeliteſs; the ſecond Daniel, of Abigail the Carmeeliteſs;

2. The third Abſalom the Son of Maachah, the Daughter of Talmai King of Geſhur; the fourth Adonijah, the Son of Haggith;

3. The fifth Shephatiah, of Abital; the ſixth Ithream, of Eglah his Wife.

4. There were ſix born to him at Hebron, where he reigned ſeven Years and ſix Months; and at Jeruſalem he reigned thirty three Years.

5. And theſe were born to him at Jeruſalem: Shimea, Shobab, Nathan and Solomon, four, of Bath-ſhua, the Daughter of Ammiel;

6. With Ibhar, Eliſhama, Eliphelet,

7. Nogah, Nepheg, Japhia,

8. Eliſhama,

8. Eliſhama, Eliada and Eliphelet, nine.
9. All were the Sons of David, beſides the Sons of the Concubines, and Tamar their Siſter.
10. And the Son of Solomon was Rehoboam; Abijah his Son, Aſa his Son, Jehoſhaphat his Son,
11. Joram his Son, Ahaziah his Son, Joaſh his Son,
12. Amaziah his Son, Azariah his Son, Jotham his Son,
13. Ahaz his Son, Hezekiah his Son, Manaſſeh his Son,
14. Amon his Son, Joſiah his Son,
15. The Sons too of Joſiah were, the Firſt-born Johanan, the ſecond Jehoiakim, the third Zedekiah, the fourth Shallum.
16. And the Sons of Jehoiakim, Jechoniah his Son, Zedekiah his Son.
17. Moreover the Sons of Jechoniah, Aſſir, Shealtiel his Son,
18. And Malchiram, and Pedaiah, and Shenazar, Jekamiah, Hoſhama, and Nedabiah.
19. As alſo the Sons of Pedaiah, Zerubbabel and Shimei; and thoſe of Zerubbabel, Meſhullam and Hananiah, with Shelomith their Siſter;
20. And Haſhubah, Ohel, Berechiah, Haſadiah, Juſhab-heſed, five.
21. And Hananiah's Son, Pelatiah and Jeſhaiah; the Sons of Rephaiah, the Sons of Arnan, the Sons of Obadiah, the Sons of Shechaniah.
22. The Sons likewiſe of Shechaniah, Shemaiah; and thoſe of Shemaiah, Hattuſh, Igeal, Bariah, Neariah and Shaphat, ſix.
23. And the Son of Neariah, Elioenai, Hezekiah and Azrikam, three.
24. And the Sons of Elioenai, Hodaiah, Eliaſhib, Pelaiah, Akkub, Johanan, Delaiah and Hanani, ſeven.

CHAP. IV.

THE Sons of Judah, Pharez, Hezron; with Charmi, Hur, and Shobal.

2. And Reaiah the Son of Shobal begot Jahath, as Jahath did Ahumai and Lahad: theſe were the Families of the Zorathites.
3. And theſe were of the Father of Etam, Jezreel, Iſhma and Idmaſh; the Name of their Siſter being Hazlelponi:
4. With Penuel the Father of Gedor, and Ezer the Father of Huſhah: theſe were the Sons of Hur, the Firſt-born of Ephrathah, the Father of Beth-lehem.
5. Beſides Aſhur the Father of Tekoa had two Wives, Helah and Naarah.
6. And Naarah bore him Ahuzam, Hepher, Temeni and Haahaſhtari: theſe were the Sons of Naarah.
7. Helah's Sons alſo were, Zereth, Jezohar and Ethnan.
8. And Koz begat Anub, Hazobebah, and the Families of Aharhel the Son of Harum.
9. Jabez too was more honourable than his Brethren; whoſe Name his Mother called Jabez, Becauſe, ſaid ſhe, I bore him with Grief.
10. And Jabez called thus on the God of Iſrael, Oh that thou wouldeſt throughly bleſs me, and enlarge my Bounds, that thy Hand would be with me, and thou wouldeſt let no Harm grieve me. And God brought to paſs what he aſked.
11. Next Chelub the Brother of Shuhah begot Mehir, who was the Father of Eſhton.
12. And Eſhton begot Beth-rapha, Paſeah, and Tehinnah the Father of Ir-nahaſh: theſe were the Men of Rechah.
13. Moreover the Sons of Kenaz were, Othniel and Seraiah; and the Sons of Othniel, Hathath.
14. Meonothai further begot Ophrah; and Seraiah begot Joab the Father of thoſe in the Valley of Artificers, for they were ſuch.
15. And the Sons of Caleb the Son of Jephunneh were, Iru, Elah and Naam; and the Sons of Elah, even Kenaz.
16. And Jehallelel's Sons, Ziph and Ziphah, Tiria and Azarel.

Ver. 3. Father] It ſeems to me ſtrictly here to mean Grandfather, and that Hazlelponi was the Mother of Etam, which will account for the Manner of Expreſſion. The Author of the Preſent State of the Printed Hebrew Text tranſlates, THESE are the FATHER of Etam, then ſays, This is the true Verſion of the printed Hebrew; and if Words ever wanted Senſe, they do ſo here, p. 483. But mind, if they do, it is owing to himſelf; unleſs he can prove the Heb. cannot mean of the Father, but אֲבִי being both the perfect and conſtructed Form (even allowing him the Benefit of the Points, which he is utterly undeſerving of) denotes as well theſe of, as ſimply theſe.

17. The Sons likewiſe of Ezrah, Jether, Mered, Epher, and Jalon and Mered's Wife conceived Miriam, Shammai, and Iſhbah the Father of Eſhtemoa;

18. And his Wife Jehudijah bore Jered the Father of Gedor, Heber the Father of Socho, and Jekuthiel the Father of Zanoah: thoſe being the Sons of Bithiah the Daughter of Pharaoh, whom Mered took.

19. There were alſo the Sons of his Wife Hodiah, the Siſter of Naham, the Father of Keilah the Garmite, and Eſhtemoa the Maachathite.

20. As likewiſe Shimon's Sons, Amnon and Rinnah, Ben-hanan and Tilon; and the Son Iſhi, Zoheth and Ben-zoheth.

21. The Sons of Shelah Judah's Son were Er the Father of Lechah, and Ladah the Father of Mareſhah, with the Families of the Houſe for the Service of fine Linen, of the Houſe of Aſhbea;

22. And Jokim, and the Men of Chozeba, with Joaſh and Saraph, who bore rule at Moab, and Jaſhubi-lehem: which are ancient Matters.

23. They were Potters, and dwelt at the Plants and Hedges; where they reſided with the King in his Buſineſs.

24. The Sons of Simeon were, Nemuel and Jamin, Jarib, Zerah, Saul;

25. Shallum his Son, Mibſam his Son, Miſhma his Son.

26. And the Sons of Miſhma, Hamuel his Son, Zaccur his Son, Shimei his Son.

27. Shimei too had ſixteen Sons and ſix Daughters, but his Brethren had not many Sons; all their Family not multiplying ſo much as the Sons of Judah.

28. And they dwelt at Beer-ſheba, Moladah, Hazar-ſhual,

29. At Bilhah, at Ezem, at Tolad,

30. At Bethuel, at Hormah, at Ziklag,

31. At Beth-marcaboth, at Hazar-ſuſim, at Beth-birei and Shaaraim: theſe were their Cities till the Reign of David.

32. And their Villages were, Etam and Ain, Rimmon and Thochen, and Aſhan, five Cities;

33. With all their Villages which were round about thoſe Cities to Baal: theſe were the Habitations and Pedigree that they had.

34. Beſides there was Meſhobab, Jamlech, and Joſhah the Son of Amaziah.

35. As there was Joel, and Jehu the Son of Joſhibiah, the Son of Seraiah, the Son of Aſiel;

36. Together with Elioenai, Jaakobah, Jeſhohaiah, Aſaiah, Adiel, Jeſhimiel and Benaiah;

37. And Ziza the Son of Shiphi, the Son of Allon, the Son of Jedaiah, the Son of Shimri, the Son of Shemaiah.

38. Theſe who came by Name were Princes in their Families, and the Houſhold of their Fathers increaſed into a Multitude.

39. And they went to the Entrance of Gedor, as far as to the Eaſt of the Valley, to ſeek out Paſture for their Flocks.

40. And they found fat and good Paſture; the Country alſo was of wide Space, quiet and peaceable: for thoſe of Ham dwelt there before.

41. But theſe written by Name came in the Time of Hezekiah King of Judah, and ſmote their Tents, with the Habitations that were found there, and deſtroying them to this Day, dwelt in their room; becauſe there was Paſture for their Flocks there.

42. Nay ſome of theſe Sons of Simeon, five hundred Men, went to Mount Seir, having Pelatiah, Neariah, Rephaiah, and Uzziel, the Sons of Iſhi, for their Captains;

43. And ſmiting the Reſidue of Amalek that was eſcaped, have dwelt there to this Day.

CHAP. V.

AND the Sons of Reuben the Firſt-born of Iſrael (for he was the Firſt-born, but when he profaned his Father's Bed, his Birth-right was given to the Sons of Joſeph, Iſrael's Son; however the Pedigree is not to be reckoned up after the Birth-right.

2. For Judah was powerful among his Brothers, and from him was the Ruler; though Joſeph had the Birth-right)

3. The Sons, I ſay, of Reuben Iſrael's Firſt-born were, Enoch and Phallu, Hezron and Carmi.

4. The Sons of Joel, Shemaiah his Son, Gog his Son, Shimei his Son,

5. Micah his Son, Reaiah his Son, Baal his Son,

6. Beerah his Son, whom Tilgath-pilneſer King of Aſſyria carried captive, he being Prince of the Reubenites.

7. And his Brethren after his Families,

when

when the Pedigree was reckoned up after their Generations, were the chief, Jeiel and Zechariah;

8. As alſo Bela the Son of Azaz, the Son of Shema, the Son of Joel; he dwelt in Aroer, even to Nebo and Baal-mean.

9. At the Eaſt likewiſe he dwelt as far as to the Entrance of the Wilderneſs, that is from the River Euphrates; becauſe their Cattle multiplied in the Province of Gilead.

10. And in the Time of Saul they made war with the Hagarites, who fell by their Hands; then they dwelt in their Tents, againſt the whole Front of the Eaſt of Gilead.

11. Before whom dwelt the Poſterity of Gad, in the Country of Baſhan as far as Salcah;

12. Joel the chief, Shapham the ſecond, Janai and Shaphat, in Baſhan.

13. And their Brethren of the Houſhold of their Fathers were, Michael, Meſhullam, Sheba, Jorai, Jacan, Zia and Eber, ſeven;

14. (Theſe were the Sons of Abihail, the Son of Huri, the Son of Jaroah, the Son of Gilead, the Son of Michael, the Son of Jeſhiſhai, the Son of Jahdo, the Son of Buz)

15. Ahi the Son of Abdiel, the Son of Guni, the chief of the Houſhold of their Fathers.

16. And they dwelt in Gilead, Baſhan, and its Towns, as likewiſe in all the Suburbs of Sharon, upon their Goings forth.

17. The Pedigree of them all was reckoned up in the Time of Jotham King of Judah, and in that of Jeroboam King of Iſrael.

18. The Poſterity of Reuben, the Gadites, and the half Tribe of Manaſſeh, of valiant Perſons, Men carrying Shield and Sword, bending the Bow, inſtructed in War, were forty four thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty, who went out to Battle.

19. And they made War with the Hagarites, Jetur, Naphiſh and Nodab.

20. Againſt whom they were helped, ſo that the Hagarites were delivered into their Power, and all who were with them: for they cried to God in the War, and he was intreated by them, becauſe they truſted in him.

21. So they carried away their Cattle, their Camels fifty thouſand, the Flocks two hundred and fifty thouſand, and Aſſes two thouſand; as alſo Perſons of Mankind a hundred thouſand.

22. For many fell down ſlain, becauſe the War was of God; and they dwelt in their room till the Captivity.

23. And the Poſterity of the half Tribe of Manaſſeh dwelling in the Country, multiplied from Baſhan to Baal-hermon, Senir and Mount Hermon.

24. Now theſe were the chief of the Houſhold of their Fathers, ſuch as were ſo; namely Epher, Iſhi, Eliel, Azriel, Jeremiah, Hodaviah, and Jahdiel, valiant Men, famous ones.

25. However they did amiſs againſt the God of their Fathers, and went a whoring after the gods of the People of the Country, whom God had deſtroyed from their Preſence.

26. Upon which the God of Iſrael ſtirred up the Spirit of Pul King of Aſſyria, and that of Tilgath-pilneſer King of Aſſyria, ſo that he carried them captive, even the Reubenites, Gadites, and the half Tribe of Manaſſeh, and had them to Helah, Habor, Hara, and the River Gozan, to this Day.

CHAP. VI.

THE Sons of Levi were, Gerſhon, Kohath and Merari.

2. And the Sons of Kohath, Amram, Izhar, and Hebron, and Uzziel.

3. As alſo the Children of Amram, Aaron, Moſes and Miriam; and Aaron's Sons, Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.

4. Eleazar begot Phinehas, he Abiſhua,

5. He Bukki, he Uzzi,

6. He Zerahiah, he Meraioth,

7. He Amariah, he Ahitub,

8. He Zadok, he Ahimaaz,

9. He Azariah, he Johanan,

10. And he Azariah, him who executed the Prieſthood in the Houſe which Solomon built at Jeruſalem;

11. Azariah alſo begot Amariah, he Ahitub,

12. He Zadok, he Shallum,

13. He Hilkiah, he Azariah,

14. He Seraiah, he Jehozadak,

15. And Jehozadak went away, when the Lord carried Judah and Jeruſalem captive, by the Power of Nebuchad-nezzar.

16. The Sons of Levi were, Gerſhom, Kohath and Merari.

17. Moreover theſe were the Names of Gerſhom's Sons, Libni and Shimei.

18. And the Sons of Kohath were, Amram, Izhar, Hebron and Uzziel.

19. The Sons of Merari, Mahli and Muſhi: theſe being the Families of the Levites after their Fathers.

20. Of Gerſhom, Libni his Son, Jahath his Son, Zimmah his Son,

21. Joah his Son, Iddo his Son, Zerah his Son, Jeaterai his Son.

22. The Sons of Kohath, Amminadab his Son, Korah his Son, Aſſir his Son,

23. Elkanah his Son, Ebiaſaph his Son, and Aſſir his Son,

24. Tahath his Son, Uriel his Son, Uzziah his Son, Saul his Son.

25. And the Sons of Elkanah, Amaſai and Ahimoth.

26. The Sons of this Elkanah were, Zophai his Son, and Nahath his Son,

27. Eliab his Son, Jeroham his Son, Elkanah his Son.

28. And the Sons of Samuel, the Firſt-born Vaſhni, then Abiah.

29. The Sons of Merari, Mahli; Libni his Son, Shimei his Son, Uzza his Son,

30. Shimea his Son, Haggiah his Son, Aſaiah his Son.

31. And theſe were they whom David ſet over the Miniſtry of the Muſick at the Lord's Houſe, from the Time the Ark reſted.

32. So they miniſtred before the Habitation of the publick Tent with Muſick, till Solomon had built the Houſe of the Lord in Jeruſalem; when they ſtood in their Manner, at their Service.

33. Even theſe ſtood, together with their Sons: of the Sons of the Kohathites, Heman a Singer, the Son of Joel, the Son of Samuel,

34. The Son of Elkanah, the Son of Jeroham, the Son of Eliel, the Son of Toah,

35. The Son of Zuph, the Son of Elkanah, the Son of Mahath, the Son of Amaſai,

36. The Son of Elkanah, the Son of Joel, the Son of Azariah, the Son of Zephaniah,

37. The Son of Tahath, the Son of Aſſir, the Son of Ebiaſaph, the Son of Korah,

38. The Son of Izhar, the Son of Kohath, the Son of Levi, the Son of Iſrael;

39. And his Brother Aſaph who ſtood at his right Hand, Aſaph the Son of Berachiah, the Son of Shimea,

40. The Son of Michael, the Son of Baaſeiah, the Son of Malchiah,

41. The Son of Ethni, the Son of Zerah, the Son of Adaiah,

42. The Son of Ethan, the Son of Zimmah, the Son of Shimei,

43. The Son of Jahath, the Son of Gerſhom, the Son of Levi;

44. And the Sons of Merari their Brethren at the left Hand, Ethan the Son of Kiſhi, the Son of Abdi, the Son of Malluch,

45. The Son of Haſhabiah, the Son of Amaziah, the Son of Hilkiah,

46. The Son of Amzi, the Son of Bani, the Son of Shamer,

47. The Son of Mahli, the Son of Muſhi, the Son of Merari, the Son of Levi.

48. Their Brethren too the Levites were put for all the Service of the Tabernacle of God's Houſe.

49. But Aaron and his Sons burnt incenſe upon the Altar of Burnt-offering and that of Incenſe, were for all the Buſineſs of the very holy Place, and to make atonement for Iſrael, according to all that Moſes the Servant of God commanded.

50. Theſe being the Sons of Aaron, Eleazar his Son, Phinehas his Son, Abiſhua his Son,

51. Bukki his Son, Uzzi his Son, Zerahiah his Son,

52 Meraioth his Son, Amariah his Son, Ahitub his Son,

53. Zadok his Son, Ahimaaz his Son.

54. Whoſe Habitations were theſe at their Palaces, in their Bounds; belonging to the Poſterity of Aaron, of the Family of the Kohathites: for they had the Lot.

55. To whom they gave Hebron in the Country of Judah, with its Suburbs round about it.

56. But the Land of the City, and its Villages, they gave to Caleb the Son of Jephunneh.

57. To the Poſterity of Aaron likewiſe they gave Cities of Judah, Hebron for Re-

58. And Hilen, Debir,

59. And Aſhan, and Beth-ſhemeſh, with their reſpective Suburbs;

60. And out of the Tribe of Benjamin, Geba, Alemeth and Anathoth, with their ſeveral Suburbs; all their Cities were thirteen Cities by their Families:

61. Beſides to the Poſterity of Kohath, who were left of the Family of the Tribe; out of the half Tribe of Manaſſeh, by Lot ten Cities:

62. And to the Poſterity of Gerſhom after their Families, out of the Tribes of Iſſachar, Aſher, Naphtali, and of Manaſſeh in Baſhan; thirteen Cities:

63. To the Poſterity of Merari after their Families, out of the Tribes of Reuben, Gad, and Zebulun, by Lot twelve Cities.

64. Thus the Poſterity of Iſrael gave to the Levites, Cities with their Suburbs.

65. And they gave by Lot out of the Tribes of the Poſterity of Judah, Simeon and Benjamin, theſe Cities which they called by Name.

66. And of the Families of the Poſterity of Kohath, there were alſo Cities of their Bounds, out of the Tribe of Ephraim.

67. They even gave them Cities for Refuge, Shechem on Mount Ephraim, Gezer,

68. Jokmeam, Beth-horon,

69. Aijalon and Gath-rimmon, with their ſeveral Suburbs.

70. And out of the half Tribe of Manaſſeh, Aner and Bileam, with theirs, for the Family of the Poſterity of Kohath who were left;

71. To the Poſterity of Gerſhom, out of the Family of the half Tribe of Manaſſeh, Golan in Baſhan with its Suburbs, and Aſhtaroth with its Suburbs;

74. As alſo out of the Tribe of Aſher, Maſhal, Abdon,

75. Hukok and Rehob, with their ſeveral Suburbs;

76. Out of the Tribe likewiſe of Naphtali, Kedeſh in Galilee, Hammon and Kirjathaim, with their ſeveral Suburbs;

77. To the Poſterity of Merari who were left, out of the Tribe of Zebulun, Rimmono, Tabor, with both their Suburbs;

78. And on the other ſide of Jordan, at the Eaſt of it, againſt Jericho, out of the Tribe of Reuben, Bezer in the Wilderneſs, Jahzah,

79. Kedemoth and Mephaath, with their ſeveral Suburbs;

80. And out of the Tribe of Gad, Ramoth in Gilead and Mahanaim, with both their Suburbs;

81. Laſtly Heſhbon and Jazer, with both theirs.

CHAP. VII.

AND the Sons of Iſſachar were, Tola and Phuah, Jaſhub and Shimron, four.

2. The Sons alſo of Tola, Uzzi, Rephaiah, Jeriel, Jahmai, Ibſam and Samuel, the chief of the Houſhold of their Fathers belonging to Tola, valiant Men in their Generations: the Number of them in the Time of David, was twenty two thouſand and ſix hundred.

3. Moreover the Sons of Uzzi, Izrahiah; and thoſe of Izrahiah, Michael, and Obadiah, and Joel, Iſhiah, five, chief ones all of them.

4. And with them, by their Generations, by the Houſhold of their Fathers, were Troops of an Army for War, thirty ſix thouſand: for they had many Wives and Sons.

5. And their Brethren in all the Families of Iſſachar, very valiant Men, had their Pedigree reckoned up in all eighty ſeven thouſand.

6. Of Benjamin were, Bela, and Becher, and Jediael, three.

7. And the Sons of Bela, Ezbon, Uzzi, Uzziel, Jerimoth and Iri, five, the chief of the Houſhold of the Fathers, very valiant Men; whoſe Pedigree was reckoned up, twenty two thouſand and thirty four.

8. Becher's Sons likewiſe, Zemirah, Joaſh, Eliezer, Elioenai, Omri, Jerimoth, Abiah, Anathoth and Alemeth: all theſe being the Sons of Becher.

9. And their Pedigree was reckoned up by their Generations, the chief of the Houſhold of their Fathers, valiant Men, twenty thouſand and two hundred.

thoſe

thoſe of Bilhan, Jeuſh, Benjamin, Ehud, Chenaanah, Zethan, Tharſhiſh, and Ahiſhahar.

11. Of all theſe Sons of Jediael, by the Heads of the Fathers, very valiant Men, were ſeventeen thouſand and two hundred, going out an Army for War.

12. With Shuppim and Huppim, the Sons of Ir, Huſhim the Sons of Aher.

13. The Sons of Naphtali were, Jahziel, Guni, Jezer and Shallum, Bilhah's Sons.

14. The Sons of Manaſſeh, Aſhriel (whom his Wife bore, his Concubine a Syrian Woman bearing Machir the Father of Gilead;

15. And Machir took a Wife, whoſe Name was Maachah, the Siſter of Huppim and Shuppim) and the Name of the ſecond was Zelophehad, who had Daughters.

16. So Maachah the Wife of Machir bore a Son, and named him Pereſh, whoſe Brother's Name was Shereſh; and his Sons were, Ulam and Rakem.

17. And Ulam's Sons, Bedan: theſe were the Sons of Gilead, the Son of Machir, the Son of Manaſſeh.

18. His Siſter Hammolecheth alſo bore Iſhhod, Abiezer, and Mahlah.

19. And the Sons of Shemida were, Ahian, Shechem, Likhi and Aniam.

20. Next Ephraim's Sons, Shuthelah; and Bered his Son, and Thahath his Son, and Eladah his Son, and Thahath his Son,

21. And Zabad his Son, and Shuthelah his Son, with Ezer and Elead; whom the Men of Gath that were born in the Country ſlew, becauſe they went down to take their Cattle.

22. At which Ephraim their Father mourned many Days, and his Brothers came to comfort him.

23. However he went in to his Wife, and ſhe conceived, and bore a Son; whom he named Beriah, becauſe it was ill with his Family.

24. And his Daughter was Sheerah, who built Beth-horon the lower and the upper, with Uzzenſheerah.

25. Rephah further was his Son, and Reſheph, and Telah his Son, and Tahan his on,

26. Laadan his Son, Ammihud his Son, Eliſhama his Son,

27. Non his Son, Joſhua his Son.

28. Whoſe Poſſeſſions and Habitations were Beth-el with its Towns; and on the Eaſt Naaran, as alſo on the Weſt Gezer and Shechem, with both their Towns, as far as Gaza with its Towns;

29. And by the Side of the Poſterity of Manaſſeh, Beth-ſhean, Taanach, Megiddo, Dor with their reſpective Towns: in theſe dwelt the Poſterity of Joſeph, the Son of Iſrael.

30. The Sons of Aſher were, Imnah, Iſhvah, Iſhvi and Beriah, with Serah their Siſter.

31. And Beriah's Sons, Heber, and Malchiel, who was the Father of Birzavith.

32. Heber too begot Japhlet, Shomer and Hotham, with Shuha their Siſter.

33. Japhlet's Sons likewiſe were, Paſach, Bimhal and Aſhvath; theſe being his Sons.

34. Beſides the Sons of Shamer were, Ahi and Rohegah, Jehubbah and Aram.

35. And the Son of his Brother Helem, Zophah, Imma, Sheleſh and Amal.

36. The Sons of Zophah, Suah, Harnepher, Shual, Beri and Imrah,

37. Bezer, Hod, Shamma, Shilſhah, Ithran and Beera.

38. And Jether's Sons, Jephunneh, Piſpah and Ara.

39. As likewiſe the Sons of Ulla, Arah, Hanniel and Rizia.

40. All theſe were the Poſterity of Aſher, the chief of the Family of the Fathers, choice very valiant Men, the chief of the Princes; whoſe Pedigree being reckoned up for an Army for War, their Number was twenty ſix thouſand Men.

CHAP. VIII.

BENJAMIN alſo begot Belah his Firſtborn, Aſhbel the ſecond, and Ahrah the third,

2. Nohah the fourth, and Rapha the fifth.

3. And Bela had Sons, Addar, Gera, Abihud,

4. Abiſhua, Naaman, Ahoa,

5. Gera, Shephuphan and Huram.

6. And theſe were the Sons of Ehud, theſe themſelves the chief of the Fathers, belonging to the Inhabitants of Geba, whom they removed away to Manahath.

7. So Naaman, Ahijah and Gera, them he removed away; and begot Uzza, and Ahihud.

8. Shaharaim likewiſe begot Children in the Country of Moab, after he had ſent them away; Huſhim and Baara being his Wives.

9. And he begot of Hodeſh his Wife, Jobab, Zibia, Meſha, Malcham,

10. Jeuz, Shachiah and Mirmah: theſe were his Sons, the chief of the Fathers.

11. Moreover of Huſhim he begot Abitub, and Elpaal.

12. And the Sons of Elpaal were, Eber, Miſham, and Shemed; he built Ono, and Lod with its Towns:

13. Beriah alſo, and Shema; who were the chief of the Fathers belonging to the Inhabitants of Aijalon; they made the Inhabitants of Gath flee.

14. With Ahio, Shaſhak and Jeremoth,

15. Zebadiah, Arad, Eder,

16. Michael, Iſhpah and Joha, the Sons of Beria.

17. And Zebadiah, Meſhullam, Hiſki, Heber,

18. Iſhmerai, Jezliah and Jobab, the Sons of Elpaal.

19. As likewiſe Jakim, Zichri, Zabdi,

20. Elienai, Zilthai, Eliel,

21. Adaiah, Beraiah and Shimrath, the Sons of Shimei.

22. Together with Iſhpan, Eber, Eliel,

23. Abdon, Zichri, Hanan,

24. Hananiah, Elam. Antothijah,

25. Iphdeiah and Penuel, the Sons of Shaſhak.

26. And Shamſherai, Shehariah, Athaliah,

27. Jaareſiah, Eliah and Zichri, the Sons of Jeroham.

28. Theſe were the chief of the Fathers, the chief belonging to their Generations; theſe dwelt at Jeruſalem.

29. And at Gibeon dwelt Gibeon's Father, the Name of whoſe Wife was Maachah;

30. His firſt-born Son too was Abdon, then Zur, Kiſh, Baal, Nadab,

31. Gedor, Ahio and Zecher.

32. And Mikloth begot Shimeah; who alſo dwelt before their Brethren, at Jeruſalem with them.

33. And Ner begot Kiſh, as Kiſh did Saul, and Saul begot Jehonathan, Malchiſhua, Abinadab and Eſhbaal.

34. Jehonathan's Son moreover was Meribbaal, and Merib-baal begot Micah.

35. And the Sons of Micah were, Pithon, Melech, Taareah and Ahaz.

36. Beſides Ahaz begot Jehoaddah, as did Jehoaddah Alemeth, Azmaveth and Zimri; and Zimri begot Moza.

37. And Moza begot Bineah; Raphah was his Son, Eleaſah his Son, Azel his Son.

38. And Azel had ſix Sons, whoſe Names were theſe, Azrikam, Bocheru, Iſhmael, Sheariah, Obadiah and Hanan; all theſe being his Sons.

39. The Sons of whoſe Brother Eſhek were, Ulam his Firſt-born, Jeuſh the ſecond, and Eliphelet the third.

40. And Ulam's Sons were Men that were valiant, bending the Bow, and having many Sons and Grandſons, a hundred and fifty. All theſe were ſome of the Deſcendants of Benjamin.

CHAP. IX.

AND the Pedigree of all Iſrael being reckoned up, behold they were written in the Book of the Kings of Iſrael, and of Judah who were carried away to Babylon for their Wickedneſs.

2. For the former Inhabitants who were in their Poſſeſſion in their Cities, were Iſrael, the Prieſts, Levites and Aſſiſtants.

3. And at Jeruſalem dwelt of the Poſterity of Judah, of thoſe of Benjamin, and thoſe of Ephraim and Manaſſeh:

4. Uthai the Son of Amihud, the Son of Omri, the Son of Imri, the Son of Bani, of the Poſterity of Pharez the Son of Judah;

5. And of the Shilonites, Aſaiah the Firſt-born, with his Sons;

6. Of the Poſterity alſo of Zerah, Jeuel, and their Brethren, ſix hundred and ninety.

7. And of the Poſterity of Benjamin, Sallu the Son of Meſhullam, the Son of Hodaviah, the Son of Haſſenua;

9. And their Brethren by their Generations, nine hundred and fifty ſix: all theſe Men were chief of the Fathers, by the Houſhold of their Fathers.

10. There were beſides of the Prieſts, Jedaiah, Jehoiarib and Jachin;

11. Azariah likewiſe the Son of Hilkiah, the Son of Meſhullam, the Son of Zadok, the Son of Meraioth, the Son of Ahitub, the Ruler of the Houſe of God;

12. With Adaiah the Son of Jeroham, the Son of Pahſhur, the Son of Malchijah; and Maaſai the Son of Adiel, the Son of Jahzerah, the Son of Meſhullam, the Son of Meſhillemith, the Son of Immer;

13. And their Brethren, the chief of the Houſhold of their Fathers, a thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty, ſtout Men for the Buſineſs of the Service of God's Houſe:

14. As alſo of the Levites, Shemaiah the Son of Haſhub, the Son of Azrikam, the Son of Haſhabiah, of the Poſterity of Merari;

15. Moreover Bakbakkar, Hereſh, and Galal, and Mattaniah the Son of Micah, the Son of Zichri, the Son of Aſaph;

16. And Obadiah the Son of Shemaiah, the Son of Galal, the Son of Jeduthun; with Berechiah the Son of Aſa, the Son of Elkanah, who dwelt in the Villages of the Netophathites:

17. And the Porters, Shallum, Akkub, Talmon, Ahiman, and their Brethren, Shallum being the chief;

18. Who were to that Time at the King's Gate eaſtward: they were Porters in the Companies of the Poſterity of Levi.

19. And Shallum the Son of Kore, the Son of Ebiaſaph, the Son of Korah, and his Brethren (of the Houſhold of his Father) the Korahites, were over the Buſineſs of the Service, Keepers of the Tent-doors; whoſe Fathers were over the Lord's Company, Keepers of the Entrance.

20. Phinehas the Son of Eleazar being Ruler over them heretofore, with whom the Lord was.

21. Zechariah the Son of Meſhelemiah, was Porter of the Gate belonging to the publick Tent.

22. All of them choſen for Porters at the Doors, were two hundred and twelve: thoſe had their Pedigree reckoned up in their Villages, thoſe David and Samuel the Seer founded in their Truſt.

23. So they and their Sons were over the Gates belonging to the Lord's Houſe, the Houſe of the Tent, by Wards.

24. At the four Winds were the Porters, towards the Eaſt, Weſt, North and South.

25. And their Brethren in their Villages, were to come at ſeven Days, from Time to Time with theſe.

26. For thoſe four ſtrong Porters, who were Levites, were in the Truſt, and were over the Rooms and Treaſuries of the Houſe of God.

27. And they lodged round about the Houſe of God; becauſe the Charge was for them, and they were for the opening, Morning by Morning.

28. Some of them further were for the Inſtruments of Service; becauſe they had them in, and brought them out, both by Number.

29. And ſome of them were appointed for the Inſtruments, that is for all the holy ones, as alſo for the fine Flour, Wine, Oil, Frankincenſe and Spices.

30. Beſides ſome of the Sons of the Prieſts made the Ointment of the Spices.

31. And Mattithiah one of the Levites, who was the Firſt-born of Shallum the Korahite, was in Truſt over the Work of the Pans.

32. And ſome of their Brethren, of the Sons of the Kohathites, were over the Bread that was ſet in order, to prepare it each Sabbath.

33. Of theſe alſo there were Singers, the chief of the Fathers of the Levites, in the Rooms at liberty: for they were over them Day and Night in the Buſineſs.

34. Theſe were the chief of the Fathers of the Levites, the chief by their Generations; theſe dwelt at Jeruſalem.

35. And at Gibeon dwelt Gibeon's Father, Jeiel, the Name of whoſe Wife was Maachah.

40. Jehonathan's Son moreover was Meribbaal, and Meri-baal begot Micah.

41. And the Sons of Micah were, Pithon, Melech and Tahrea.

42. Afterwards Ahaz begot Jarah, as did Jarah Alemeth, Azmaveth and Zimri; and Zimri begot Moza.

43. And Moza begot Binea; whoſe Son was Rephaiah, Eleaſah his Son, Azel his Son.

44. And Azel had ſix Sons, whoſe Names were theſe, Azrikam, Bocheru, Iſhmael, Shearíah, Obadiah and Hanan; theſe being his Sons.

AND the Philiſtines fighting againſt Iſrael, the Men of Iſrael fled from their Preſence, and fell down ſlain on Mount Gilboa.

2. Nay the Philiſtines followed ſo cloſe after Saul and his Sons, that they killed of the latter Jonathan, Abinadab and Malchiſhua.

3. Whereby the Battle was heavy againſt Saul; beſides thoſe who ſhot with Bows finding him, he was afraid of the Archers.

4. Therefore he ſaid to him who carried his Arms, Draw forth thy Sword, and thruſt me through with it, leſt theſe uncircumciſed ones ſhould come, and make ſport with me; but he would not, becauſe he feared exceedingly: ſo Saul took a Sword, and fell upon it.

5. And when the other ſaw that Saul was dead, he fell alſo upon a Sword, and died.

6. Thus died Saul, and three of his Sons, as did his whole Family together.

7. And all the Perſons of Iſrael who were in the Vale, ſeeing that they were fled, and that Saul and his Sons were dead, forſook their Cities, and ran away; upon which the Philiſtines came, and dwelt in them.

8. Now the next Day the Philiſtines coming to ſtrip the Slain, found Saul and his three Sons fallen on Mount Gilboa.

9. With that they ſtript him, and taking his Head and Armour, ſent into the Country of the Philiſtines round about, to declare it to their Images, and the People.

10. They alſo put his Armour in the Houſe of their gods, and fixed his Scull in the Houſe of Dagon.

11. But when all Jabeſh-gilead heard, all that the Philiſtines had done to Saul;

12. All the valiant Men got ready, and took up his Body, and thoſe of his Sons, and bringing them to Jabeſh, buried their Bones under an Oak in Jabeſh, and faſted ſeven Days.

13. So Saul died for his Wickedneſs that he had committed againſt the Lord, againſt the Word of the Lord which he did not obſerve, and alſo for aſking one who had a familiar Spirit to make enquiry.

14. And as he did not enquire of the Lord, he cauſed him to die, and turned about the Kingdom to David the Son of Jeſſe.

CHAP. XI.

THEN all Iſrael were gathered to David at Hebron, and ſaid; Behold we are thy Bone and Fleſh.

contrary! unleſs it could come (but unlikely) from Ch. vii. 15.

Ver. 39. Ner] called Abiel, 1 Sam. ix. 1. and xiv. 51. Patrick in his Commentary upon the firſt of thoſe Texts, expounding this in Chron. Ner begat Kiſh, ſays, 'it is 'evident Ner was Kiſh his Brother, 1 Sam. xiv. 51.' as if there could not be two Ners; and by making but one, Jeiel muſt be both his Father and Grandfather, Ver. 35, 36. He alſo ſays, 'by begetting muſt be meant the 'giving him his Breeding and Education;' which beſides ſuch a ſtrange Meaning of the Word, is not very likely for a Brother to do; and as it ſeems the younger one too, by being put laſt, 1 Sam. xiv. 51. though he was mentioned juſt before, and by their Father Ner being younger than his Brother Kiſh, Ver. 36. nay it is probable that the Occaſion of the younger Ner taking his Name from his Father, was his being born after his Father's Death, and ſo muſt be the youngeſt Brother, and upon that Account might have his Father's Name.

Ver. 40. Meri-baal] So it is the ſecond Time, and may be rightly, for being ſpelled thus differently, the firſt Writer might give it both Ways; which Carpzove (a noble Vindicator of the Heb. Scripture) may better believe, than the Author of the Preſent State of the Printed Hebrew Text diſbelieve, notwithſtanding his Taunt at it, with Let Carpzove believe it! p. 486.

Ver. 41. Tahrea] Why ſhould and Ahaz be added here from Ch. viii. 35. any more than and Mikloth, Ch. viii. 31. from Ver. 37. of this?

Ver. 3. afraid] the ſame as 1 Sam. xxxi. 3.

Ver. 6. whole Family] that were there, as all his Men, 1 Sam. xxxi. 6. for otherwiſe he had ſeveral left.

Ver. 14. not enquire] The Heb. Word is not the ſame as in 1 Sam. xxviii. 6. and ſo is clear of a Contradiction: the Truth ſeems to be, Saul aſked ſlightly, but did not properly enquire.

3. And

3. And when all the Elders of Iſrael were come to the King at Hebron, David made a Treaty with them there before the Lord; and they anointed him to be King over Iſrael, according to the Word of the Lord by the Miniſtry of Samuel.

4. And David with all Iſrael went to Jeruſalem, which was Jebus, where the Jebuſites were, the Inhabitants of the Country.

5. But the Inhabitants of Jebus ſaid to David, Thou canſt not come in hither. Nevertheleſs David took the Fortification of Zion, which is the City of David.

6. For he ſaid, Let any one beat the Jebuſites firſt, he ſhall be chief and Captain. So Joab the Son of Zeruiah went up firſt, and was chief.

7. Afterwards David dwelt in the Fortification; therefore they called it The City of David.

8. And he built the City round about, from the Fortreſs to what was round about; Joab repairing the reſt of the City.

9. And he went on ſtill in being great, becauſe the Lord of Armies was with him.

10. Now theſe were the chief of the mighty Men whom David had, that ſtrengthened themſelves with him in his Kingdom, with all Iſrael, to make him King; according to the Word of the Lord concerning Iſrael;

11. Even theſe were the Number of the ſtout Men whom David had: Jaſhobeam the Son of a Hachmonite, the chief of the Captains, who brandiſhed his Spear againſt three hundred, that were ſlain at one Time.

12. And after him was Eleazar the Son of Dodo an Ahohite; who was one of the three ſtout Men.

13. He was with David at Pas-dammim, where the Philiſtines were gathered to Battle, Part of the Field being full of Barley, and the People being fled from the Preſence of the Philiſtines;

14. They ſtood within the Part, and delivering it, beat the Philiſtines; ſo that the Lord ſaved with a great Preſervation.

15. Moreover the three chief above the thirty went down upon the Rock to David, at the Cave of Adullam; the Camp of the Philiſtines encamping in the Giants Vale.

16. David was alſo then in the Fortreſs, and the Garriſon of the Philiſtines was then in Beth-lehem.

17. And David longing, ſaid, Oh that I could drink Water out of the Ciſtern of Beth-lehem, which is at the Gate!

18. With that the three broke through the Camp of the Philiſtines, and drew Water out of the ſame; which taking up, they brought to David: nevertheleſs he would not drink it, but poured it out to the Lord.

19. For he ſaid, Far be it from me of my God to do this; ſhall I drink the Blood of theſe Men in Danger of their Lives? For they have brought it ſo: therefore he would not drink it. Theſe things the three ſtout ones did.

20. Abiſhai likewiſe the Brother of Joab, was the chief of three, who brandiſhed his Spear againſt three hundred that were ſlain; ſo he had a Name among the three.

Ver. 3. according to the Word of the Lord] The Author of the Preſent State of the Printed Hebrew Text adds fulfilled, p. 26, 27. but if the Word of the Lord to this Purpoſe was by Samuel, as we may find it in 1 Sam. xiii. 14. and xv. 28. why ſhould the Scripture be forced by ſuch an Addition into ſuch an Impropriety; by a Man too who does not allow of leſs Supplements elſewhere, that he may ſhew the Heb. to be improper?

And for a farther Confirmation from himſelf that they were, he does not pretend Zabad the Son of Ahlai, v. 41. was ever the ſame as thirty and ſeven in all, Sam. ult. or that Chron. having this Zabad, to make up the 37, as he reckons, inſtead of Elika the Harodite, Sam. v. 25. are either of them corrupted or wrong.

23. Beſides he ſlew an Egyptian Man, one of five Cubits in Meaſure, and though there was a Spear in the Egyptian's Hand like a Weaver's Beam, he went down to him with a Stick; and taking the Spear by force out of the Egyptian's Hand, he killed him with his own Spear.

24. Theſe Things Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada did, and had a Name among the three ſtout Men.

25. Behold he himſelf was more honourable than the thirty, but did not get to thoſe three; and David put him at his Hearing.

26. And the ſtout Men of the Armies were: Aſahel the Brother of Joab, Elhanan the Son of Dodo from Beth-lehem,

AND theſe came to David at Ziklag, while he was ſhut up by reaſon of Saul the Son of Kiſh, and they were among the ſtout Men, Helpers in the War;

2. Armed with Bows, both right and left-handed with Stones, and Arrows in the Bow, of Saul's Brethren of Benjamin:

Ver. 25. at his Hearing] Look 2 Sam. xxiii. 23. where the Septuag. have it ſo, but here, in his Family.

Ver. 27. Shammahs] For Shammoth in Heb. is plural, and there were two Harorites or Harodites, 2 Sam. xxiii. 25. the Heb. Letters anſwering to our d and r being ſo nearly alike, that they are ſeveral times uſed one for the other: nay otherwiſe the Duplicature of theſe Liſts of Heroes is ſpoiled, which runs ſo regularly through the whole, as to the Men, although ſome Names are varied.

Ver. 34. Of the Sons] This appears by 2 Sam. xxiii. 32. and ſo Jun. and Trem. tranſlate.

Ver. 35, 36. The Author of the Preſent State, &c. would perſuade us that Eliphal the Son of Ur and Hepher the Mecherathite were only one Man, and that not by two Names, but by being a Corruption from Eliphelet the Son of Ahaſbai, the Son of the Maachathite, 1 Sam. xxiii. 34. p. 204, 205, 206. If our modiſh Sceptics can believe this, one may hope, that, upon a Compariſon, they will become better diſpoſed to credit the great Truths of Revelation in the Scripture: for here it is required to give Faith, that אור : חפר Ur. Hepher is corrupted by Miſtake of the Letters from אחסבי בן Ahaſbai, the Son of. How poſſibly? Why the ו and ר are parts of ח and ם, but neither of them are true Parts, which might have diſcovered that their Parts were not thoſe Letters. The next is חפר ſays he, is corrupted from ביבן whereas if the latter was in one Word, אחסבי בן was corrupted too, and muſt be doubled ſo, by being parted thus אחס ביבן and then how came they reſtored as now, and not the other? To mention no more, are יב when ſeparated alſo, like פ

Ver. 36. Ahijah] It is ſcarce to be denied, that this is the ſame Perſon with the correſponding one in 2 Sam. xxiii. 34. as the Series of the two Catalogues agree throughout; Eliam then might be called here אחיה by Contraction from his Father's Name אחיתפל much likelier than, with the Author of the Preſent State, &c. p. 207. for Chron. to be ſo corrupted from Sam. and even while both were extant in the ſame Bible.

Ver. 42. with] The Author of the Preſent State, &c. tranſlates, but the thirty were ſuperior to him, or his Superiors, which is evident, he ſays, becauſe every Worthy is here recorded only for his own perſonal Valour, p. 224, 225. but how did he know that? If the reſt are, this might not. And is his being a Captain of the Reubenites ſuch? Is not with more agreeable to that, than were above him, as this Author might more literally have turned it.

and Pelet, the Sons of Azmaveth, as likewiſe Berachah, and Jehu the Anthothite;

4. Iſhmaiah too the Gibeonite, a ſtout Man among thirty and over thirty, with Jeremiah, Jahaziel, Johanan, and Jozabad the Gederathite;

5. Eluzai, Jerimoth, Bealiah, Shemariah, and Shephatiah the Haruphite;

6. Elkanah, Iſhijah, Azareel, Joezer and Jaſhobeam, the Korhites;

7. As alſo Joelah and Zebadiah, the Sons of Jeroham from Gedor.

8. And of the Gadites there were ſeparated to David, to the Fortification at the Wilderneſs, valiant ones, warlike Men for Battle, that could uſe Buckler and Shield, whoſe Faces were as a Lion's, and they were like Deer upon the Mountains to make haſte;

9. Ezer the chief, Obadiah the ſecond, Eliab the third,

10. Miſhmannah the fourth, Jeremiah the fifth,

11. Attai the ſixth, Eliel the ſeventh,

12. Johanan the eighth, Elzabad the ninth,

13. Jeremiah the tenth, Machbannai the eleventh:

14. Theſe were of the Poſterity of Gad, Captains of the Army; one of the leaſt was over a hundred, and the greateſt over a thouſand.

15. Theſe were they who paſſed over Jordan in the firſt Month, when it overflowed all its Banks, and made all thoſe of the Vales flee, both at the Eaſt and Weſt.

16. Beſides there came ſome of the Poſterity of Benjamin and Judah, to the Fortification to David.

17. Before whom David went out, and ſpoke in this manner to them, If you are come peaceably to me to help me, my Heart ſhall be together with you; but if it is to betray me to my Adverſaries, when there is no Wrong in me, the God of our Fathers ſee, and rebuke.

18. Then the Spirit cloathed Amaſai, the chief of the Captains, to ſay, We are thine, David, and for thee, O Son of Jeſſe; Peace, Peace be to thee, and Peace to thy Helpers, for thy God helps thee. So David received them, and put them for the chief of the Troop.

19. And ſome of Manaſſeh fell to David, when he came with the Philiſtines to the Battle againſt Saul, but they did not help them; becauſe the Lords of the Philiſtines on Counſel ſent him away, ſaying, He will deſert to his Maſter Saul, to the Danger of our Heads:

20. When he went to Ziklag, there fell to him of Manaſſeh, Adnah, Jozabad, Jediael, Michael, Jozabad, Elihu and Zillethai, chief of the thouſands who belonged to Manaſſeh.

21. And they helped with David over the Troop, for all of them were valiant Men, and were Captains in the Army.

22. For at that Time Day by Day came ſome to David to help him, till it was a great Army like one of God.

23. And theſe are the Numbers belonging to the chief of ſuch as being armed for Battle, came to David at Hebron, to turn about the Kingdom of Saul to him, according to the Command of the Lord:

24. The Poſterity of Judah who carried Shield and Spear, ſix thouſand and eight hundred armed for Battle;

25. Of the Poſterity of Simeon valiant Men for War, ſeven thouſand and a hundred;

26. Of the Poſterity of Levi, four thouſand and ſix hundred;

27. And Jehoiada the Ruler of the Aaronites, with whom were three thouſand and ſeven hundred;

28. Nay Zadok a valiant young Man, and twenty two Captains of his Father's Family;

29. And of the Poſterity of Benjamin the Kinſman of Saul, three thouſand, for before that a Multitude of them kept the Charge of Saul's Houſe;

30. And of the Poſterity of Ephraim, twenty thouſand and eight hundred, valiant ones, famous Men in the Family of their Fathers;

31. Moreover of the half Tribe of Manaſſeh, eighteen thouſand, who were expreſſed by Name, to come and make David King;

32. And of the Poſterity of Iſſachar, who were acquainted with Politicks for the Times, to know what Iſrael ſhould do, the chief of them two hundred, and all their Brethren at their Command;

33. Of Zebulun, that went out to Battle, ſet in order for War, with all Weapons of it, fifty thouſand, who kept in order without a double Mind;

34. And of Naphtali, a thouſand Captains, accompanied by thirty ſeven thouſand, with Shield and Spear;

Ver. 19. our Heads] by his falling on them in the Battle.

Ver. 21. over the Troop] agreeable to Ver. 18. and thus Noldius puts it in his Concordance, p. 688. Jun. and Trem. have, fuerunt adjumento Davidi adjuncti turmæ ejus, were for a Help to David joined to his Troop.

Ver 23. chief] bands being quite beſide the Original.

Ver. 34. ſeven thouſand] In an Edition of the Bible printed at Oxford, 1709, is put falſely eight thouſand and ſix hundred, from the next Verſe as it appears.

35. As

35. As likewiſe of the Danites, who were ſet in order for War, twenty eight thouſand and ſix hundred;

36. Next of Aſher, who went out to Battle, ſet in order for War, forty thouſand;

37. And beyond Jordan, of the Reubenites, Gadites and half Tribe of Manaſſeh, with all warlike Inſtruments for Battle, a hundred and twenty thouſand.

38. All theſe Warriors who kept orderly in rank, came with a perfect Mind to Hebron, to make David King over all Iſrael; and all the reſt of Iſrael were alſo of one Mind to do the ſame.

39. And they were there with David three Days, eating and drinking: for their Brethren prepared for them.

40. And thoſe too who were near them, as far as Iſſachar, Zebulun and Naphtali, brought Bread on Aſſes, Camels, Mules and Oxen, Meat, Flour, Bunches of Figs, Cluſters of Raiſins, Wine, Oil, Oxen and Sheep abundantly: for there was Gladneſs in Iſrael.

CHAP. XIII.

AND David took counſel with the Captains of Thouſands and Hundreds, with every Ruler.

2. He alſo ſaid to the whole Congregation of Iſrael; If it is well to you, and is from the Lord our God, let us get out, and ſend to our Brethren who are left in all the Countries of Iſrael, and with them the Prieſts and Levites in the Cities of their Suburbs, that they ſhould come together to us.

3. And let us bring about the Ark of our God to us: for we did not enquire of it in the Time of Saul.

4. Upon which the whole Congregation ſaid they would do ſo: for all the People approved of the Thing.

5. Thus David gathered all Iſrael together, from Shihor of Egypt even to the Entrance of Hamath, to bring the Ark of God from Kirjath-jearim.

6. Then he and all Iſrael went up to Baalah, otherwiſe Kirjath-jearim, which belonged to Judah, to bring up from thence the Ark of God the Lord, who inhabits the Cherubs, which is called by his Name.

7. And they carried it upon a new Cart, from the Houſe of Abinadab; Uzza and Ahio guiding it.

8. Moreover David and all Iſrael played before God, with their whole Strength, namely on Muſick even of Harps, Lutes, Timbrels, Bells and Trumpets.

9. But when they came to the Floor of Chidon, Uzza reached out his Hand, to take hold of the Ark, becauſe the Oxen ſhook it.

10. At this the Lord was angry with him, and ſmote him, becauſe he reached out his Hand to the Ark; ſo that he died there before God.

11. And David was diſpleaſed that the Lord made a Breach on Uzza: thus that Place is called The Breach of Uzza to this Day.

12. Nay David was afraid of God that Day, ſaying, How ſhall I bring the Ark of God to me?

13. So that he did not take away the Ark to himſelf at the City of David, but had it aſide into the Houſe of Obed-edom the Gittite.

14. Where it abode with his Family three Months; and the Lord bleſſed the Family of Obed-edom, with all that he had.

CHAP. XIV.

MOREOVER Hiram King of Tyre ſent Meſſengers to David, with Cedar-trees, Maſons and Carpenters, to build him a Houſe.

2. Now he knew that the Lord had eſtabliſhed him to be King over Iſrael, that he had raiſed up his Kingdom high for the ſake of this his People.

3. Beſides he took more Wives in Jeruſalem, and begot more Sons and Daughters.

4. And theſe are the Names of thoſe whom he had born there; Shammua and Shobab, Nathan and Solomon,

5. Ibhar, Eliſhua, Elphelet,

6. Nogah, Nepheg, Japhia,

7. Eliſhama, Beeliada and Eliphelet.

8. But when the Philiſtines heard that David was anointed to be King over all Iſrael, they all came up to ſeek for him; which he hearing of, went out before them.

Ver. 6. which is] Here being but the Heb. Relative, in which Language whoſe is denoted by putting alſo a Pronoun to a following Noun or Prepoſition, as for this in 2 Sam. vi. 2. If our Tranſlators meant that the Ark was called The Ark of God, as juſt before, it is obſcurely and poorly expreſſed; but if they would ſignify (as it ſeems) that God's Name was then called upon the Ark, how could that be in the Time of Ezra, the ſuppoſed Writer of this Book?

Ver. 8. Strength] See ſome Variation, 1 Chron. xiii. 8.

Ib. Bells] So Zech. xiv. 20. and this the only Meaning Buxtorf gives it, as its Root or Verb likewiſe ſignifies to ring; but ſo they are to be thought Hand-bells.

Ver. 9. ſhook] the ſame as 2 Sam. vi. 6. in the Heb. and doubtleſs ſhould in Engliſh.

Ver. 2. that he had] which 2 Sam. v. 12. ſhews.

9. And

9. And the Philiſtines came, and invaded the Giants Vale.

10. David then enquired thus of God, Shall I go up againſt the Philiſtines? And wilt thou deliver them into my Power? And the Lord ſaid to him, Go up, and I will deliver them into thy Power.

11. So they came up to Baal-perazim, where he beat them; and David ſaid, God has broke my Enemies by my Power, like the breaking out of Waters: therefore they called the Name of that Place Baal-perazim.

12. They alſo left their gods there, and David ordered that they ſhould be burnt in the Fire.

13. However the Philiſtines proceeded again, and invaded the Vale.

14. Whereupon David enquired again of God, and he ſaid to him; Thou ſhalt not go up after them: turn about from them, and come to them over againſt the Mulberry-trees.

15. And as ſoon as thou heareſt the Sound of going on the Tops of the Mulberry-trees, then ſhalt thou go out to the Battle: for God goes out before thee, to ſmite the Camp of the Philiſtines.

16. Therefore he did as God commanded him; and they ſmote the Camp of the Philiſtines, from Gibeon even to Gezer.

17. Thus David's Renown went into all the Countries, and the Lord put the Dread of him upon all the Nations.

CHAP. XV.

AND he not only made him Houſes in the City of David, but prepared a Place for the Ark of God, and pitched a Tabernacle for it.

2. Then David ſaid, None are to carry the Ark of God but the Levites: for the Lord has choſen them to do it, and to miniſter to him for ever.

3. And he aſſembled all Iſrael to Jeruſalem, to bring up the Ark of the Lord to its Place, which he had prepared for it.

4. He likewiſe gathered the Poſterity of Aaron, and the Levites:

5. Of the Poſterity of Kohath, Uriel the chief, and his Brethren a hundred and twenty;

6. Of the Poſterity of Merari, Aſaiah the chief, and his Brethren two hundred and twenty;

7. Of the Poſterity of Gerſhon, Joel the chief, and his Brethren a hundred and thirty;

8. Of the Poſterity of Elizaphan, Shemaiah the chief, and his Brethren two hundred;

9. Of the Poſterity of Hebron, Eliel the chief, and his Brethren eighty;

10. Of the Poſterity of Uzziel, Amminadab the chief, and his Brethren a hundred and twelve.

11. And David called to Zadok and Abiathar the Prieſts, with the Levites, Uriel, Aſaiah and Joel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab.

12. To whom he ſaid; You being the Heads of the Fathers of the Levites, conſecrate your ſelves, with your Brethren, that you may bring up the Ark of the Lord God of Iſrael, to the Place I have prepared for it.

13. Becauſe you did not at the very firſt, the Lord our God made a Breach among us, ſince we did not ſeek him as was right.

14. Accordingly the Prieſts and Levites conſecrated themſelves, to bring up the Ark of the Lord God of Iſrael.

15. And the Poſterity of the Levites carried the Ark of God, as Moſes commanded according to the Word of the Lord, on their Shoulders, with the Poles upon them.

16. David alſo ordered the chief of the Levites to appoint their Brethren Muſicians, with Inſtruments of Muſick, Lutes, Harps and Bells, making themſelves be heard, by exalting the Voice with Gladneſs.

17. Upon which the Levites appointed Heman the Son of Joel, and of his Brethren, Aſaph the Son of Berechiah; as alſo of the Poſterity of Merari their Brethren, Ethan the Son of Kuſhaiah;

18. And with them their Brethren who were next, Zechariah, Ben, Jaaziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Benaiah, Maaſeiah, Mattithiah, Elipheleh, Mikneiah, Obed-edom and Jeiel, Porters.

19. And the Muſicians, Heman, Aſaph, and Ethan, were to make themſelves be heard with Bells of Braſs;

20. Moreover Zechariah, Aziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Maaſeiah and Benaiah, with Lutes upon the Virgin-inſtruments;

21. As alſo Mattithiah, Elipheleh, Mikneiah, Obed-edom, Jeiel and Azaziah, with Harps upon the eighth to be chief.

22. And Chenaniah the chief of the Levites was for the Tune: he inſtructed in that, for he had underſtanding.

23. Beſides Berechiah and Elkanah were Porters for the Ark.

24. And Shebaniah, Joſhaphat, Nethaneel, Amaſai, Zechariah, Benaiah and Eliezer, the Prieſts, blew Trumpets before the Ark of God; Obed-edom and Jehiah being Porters for it.

25. So David and the Elders of Iſrael, with the Captains of thouſands, went to bring up the Ark of the Lord's Covenant, from the Houſe of Obed-edom with Gladneſs.

26. And by God's aſſiſting the Levites who carried the Ark of the Lord's Covenant, they ſacrificed ſeven Bullocks and ſo many Rams.

27. And David was dreſſed in a Robe of fine Linen, as likewiſe all the Levites who carried the Ark, the Muſicians, and Chenaniah the chief for the Tune of the Muſicians; David alſo wore a linen Ephod.

28. Thus all Iſrael brought up the Ark of the Lord's Covenant, with Shouting, the Sound of the Cornet, Trumpets and Bells, cauſing themſelves to be heard with Lutes and Harps.

29. However as it came to the City of David, Michal Saul's Daughter looked out at a Window, and ſeeing King David ſkipping and playing, deſpiſed him in her Heart.

CHAP. XVI.

SO they brought the Ark of God, and ſet it within the Tabernacle which David had pitched for it; and they brought near Burnt-offerings and Peace-offerings before God.

2. And when David had made an end of offering them up, he bleſſed the People in the Name of the Lord;

3. Diſtributing to all Perſons of Iſrael, both Men and Women, a Loaf of Bread, a Piece of Fleſh, and a Bottle of Wine apiece.

4. And he put ſome of the miniſtring Levites before the Ark of the Lord, even to record, give thanks, and praiſe the Lord God of Iſrael;

5. Aſaph the chief, next to him Zechariah, Jeiel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Mattithiah, Eliab, Benaiah, Obed-edom and Jeiel, with Inſtruments of Lutes and Harps, and Aſaph made himſelf be heard with Bells;

6. Benaiah alſo, and Jahaziel the Prieſts, with Trumpets continually before the Ark of God's Covenant.

7. On that Day then David gave out firſt, to give thanks to the Lord, into the Hand of Aſaph and his Brethren:

8. Give thanks to the Lord, call on his Name, make known his Acts among the People;

9. Sing to him, ſing melodiouſly to him, diſcourſe of all his Wonders;

10. Glory in his holy Name, let the Heart of thoſe who enquire for the Lord be glad;

11. Seek the Lord, and his Strength, enquire for his Preſence continually;

12. Remember his Wonders which he has done, his Miracles, and the Judgments of his Mouth:

13. You Poſterity of his Servant Iſrael, you Children of Jacob his choſen ones.

14. He is the Lord our God, his Judgments are on the whole Earth.

15. Remember you his Covenant for ever, the Thing that he commanded to a thouſand Generations;

16. Which he confirmed with Abraham, and was his Oath to Iſaac;

17. And eſtabliſhed it to Jacob for an Ordinance, to Iſrael an everlaſting Covenant,

18. As follows, I will give thee the Country of Canaan, the Line of your Poſſeſſion:

19. When you were Perſons to be numbered, as being few, and Sojourners in it;

20. And they went about from Nation to Nation, and from one Kingdom to another People.

21. He ſuffered no Perſon to oppreſs them, but reproved Kings for their ſakes,

22. Do not touch my anointed ones, nor hurt my Prophets.

23. Sing to the Lord, O whole Earth, declare his Salvation from Day to Day.

24. Tell his Glory in the Nations, his Wonders among all the People.

25. For great is the Lord, and to be praiſed exceedingly; nay he is to be feared the moſt of all gods.

26. For all the gods of the People are Idols; whereas the Lord made the Heavens.

27. Majeſty and Honour are before him, Strength and Joy are in his Place.

28. Aſcribe to the Lord, O Families of the People, aſcribe to the Lord Glory and Strength.

29. Aſcribe to the Lord the Glory of his Name; take up an Offering, and come before him: bow down to the Lord in the Place of holy Grandeur;

30. Tremble by reaſon of his Preſence, all the Earth: the World alſo is eſtabliſhed, it cannot be moved.

31. Let the Heaven be glad, and the Earth rejoice; and let them ſay in the Nations, The Lord reigns.

32. Let the Sea roar, and what it is filled with; the Field be triumphant, and all that is in it.

33. Then let all the Trees of the Wood ſing, by reaſon of the Preſence of the Lord: for he comes to judge the Earth.

34. Give thanks to the Lord, becauſe he is good; ſince his Kindneſs is for ever.

35. And ſay, Save us, O God of our Salvation, gather us together, and deliver us from the Gentiles; that we may give thanks to thy holy Name, may glory in thy Praiſe.

36. Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, from everlaſting to everlaſting; and let all the People ſay, So let it be, and praiſe the Lord.

37. And he left there before the Ark of the Lord's Covenant, Aſaph and his Brethren, to miniſter before the Ark continually, for each Day's Buſineſs the very ſame Day;

38. As alſo Obed-edom and their Brethren, ſixty eight; with Obed-edom the Son of Jeduthun, and Hoſah, for Porters:

39. And Zadok the Prieſt, with his Brethren the Prieſts, before the Tabernacle of the Lord, in the high Place that was at Gibeon,

40. To offer up Burnt-offerings to the Lord, upon the Altar of Burnt-offering continually Morning and Evening, and for all that is written in the Law of the Lord, which he gave in charge for Iſrael;

41. And with them Heman and Jeduthun, as likewiſe the reſt that were choſen, who were expreſſed by Name, to give thanks to the Lord, becauſe his Kindneſs is for ever.

42. Moreover with Heman and Jeduthun themſelves, Trumpets and Bells, for ſuch as ſhould make themſelves be heard, and with God's Inſtruments of Muſick; the Sons of Jeduthun being Porters.

43. Then all the People went to their reſpective Homes, and David turned about to bleſs his Houſhold.

CHAP. XVII.

AND when David was ſettled in his Houſe, he ſaid to Nathan the Prophet, Behold I dwell in a Houſe of Cedar, while the Ark of the Lord's Covenant is under Curtains.

2. And Nathan anſwered him, Do all that is in thy Heart; for God is with thee.

3. However that Night he had God's Commiſſion as follows:

4. Go, and tell David my Servant; Thus ſays the Lord, Thou ſhalt not build me a Houſe to dwell in;

5. Since I have not dwelt in a Houſe, from the Day on which I brought up Iſrael, to this Day, but have been from one Tent and Tabernacle to another.

6. Whitherſoever I went about with all Iſrael, did I ſpeak ſuch a Word to one of the Judges of Iſrael, whom I commanded to feed my People, as, Why do not ye build me a Houſe of Cedar?

7. Now therefore thou ſhalt declare ſo to my Servant David; Thus ſays the Lord of Armies, I took thee from the Fold, from after the Flock, to be Ruler over my People Iſrael.

8. And I have been with thee whitherſoever thou wenteſt, and have cut off all thy Enemies from thy Preſence; that I might make thee a Name, like that of the great ones who are on the Earth.

9. Moreover I will put a Place for my People Iſrael, and plant them, ſo that they ſhall dwell in a Place of their own, and not be moved again; nor ſhall the Sons of Iniquity conſume them any more as formerly;

10. And even from the Times that I appointed Judges over my People Iſrael, till I ſubdued all thy Enemies: I alſo tell thee, that the Lord will build thee a Houſe.

11. And it ſhall come to paſs when thy Days are fulfilled, to go to thy Fathers, that I will ſet up thy Offspring after thee, who ſhall be one of thy Sons; and will confirm his Kingdom.

12. He ſhall build me a Houſe, and I will confirm his Throne for ever.

13. I will be to him a Father, as he ſhall to me a Son; and will not take away my Kindneſs from him, as I did from him who was before thee.

Ver. 36. let] as may appear by Pſa. cvi. 48. where is the ſame Paſſage, only ſomething different.

Ver. 42. themſelves] Thus there is no Tautology and Abſurdity, as in the com. Eng. Bib. for Heman and Jeduthun to be with Heman and Jeduthun; in Confirmation of which there is Nothing for with in Heb. to Trumpets, as there is before: after which Manner Jun. and Trem. tranſlate, and Lewis de Dieu in his Animad. on it pleads, quoting Dan. vii. 24. and Ezr. v. 3. for parallel Inſtances; and if more are required, ſee enow in Noldius's Concord. but to have a Pronoun demonſtrative, as well as relative, to belong to the preſent, as well as paſt Word or Words, is certainly plain Conſtruction.

Ver. 8. wenteſt] walked being incongruous, as in divers other Places of the com. Eng. Bib.

Ver. 10. build thee a Houſe] how ſee 2 Sam. vii. 11.

14. For

14. For I will ſettle him in my Houſe and Kingdom for ever, and his Throne ſhall be confirmed for evermore.

15. According to all theſe Words, and this whole Viſion, ſo ſpoke Nathan to him.

16. Then King David went in, and ſitting before the Lord, ſaid: Who am I, O Lord God? And what is my Family, that thou haſt brought me on hitherto?

17. And this was ſo little in thy Sight, O God, that thou haſt ſpoken concerning thy Servant's Family for a long while; nay haſt looked on me like a Man of high Rank, O Lord God.

18. What ſhall David add yet to thee, for the Honour of thy Servant, ſince thou knoweſt him?

19. O Lord, for thy Servant's ſake, and according to thy Mind, haſt thou done all this great Matter, to make known all theſe great Things.

20. O Lord, there is none like thee, nor any God beſides thee, according to all that we have heard with our Ears.

21. And what one Nation on the Earth is like thy People Iſrael: whom God went to redeem for his own People, to make thee a Name, with great and terrible Things, by driving out Nations; by reaſon of thy People whom thou redeemedſt from Egypt?

22. Thou haſt alſo put thy People Iſrael, for a People to thee for ever; and thou Lord art a God to them.

23. Now therefore, O Lord, let the Word be verified which thou haſt ſpoken concerning thy Servant, and his Family, for ever; and do according as thou ſpokeſt.

24. Let it even be verified, ſo ſhall thy Name be magnified for ever as follows, The Lord of Armies, the God of Iſrael, is a God to Iſrael; and the Family of David thy Servant will be confirmed before thee.

25. Since thou, O my God, haſt revealed to the Ear of thy Servant, that thou wilt build him a Houſe; therefore he has found this to pray before thee.

26. And now, O Lord, thou art he that is God, who haſt ſpoken this Good concerning thy Servant.

27. Therefore now do thou pleaſe to bleſs the Family of thy Servant, that it may be for ever before thee: for thou haſt bleſſed, O Lord, and let it be bleſſed for ever.

CHAP. XVIII.

AND after this David beat the Philiſtines, ſo that he humbled them; and took Gath with its Towns out of their Poſſeſſion.

2. Moreover he beat the Moabites: ſo they became his Servants, carrying Preſents.

3. David too beat Hadarezer King of Zobah at Hamath, when he went to place his Border at the River Euphrates.

4. From whom he took a thouſand Chariots, ſeven thouſand Horſemen, and twenty thouſand Footmen; and he houghed all the Chariot-horſes, only left of them for a hundred Chariots.

5. And when the Syrians of Damaſcus came to help this Hadarezer, David ſlew of them twenty two thouſand Men.

6. Nay he put Garriſons in Syria of Damaſcus, and the Syrians became his Servants, carrying Preſents: thus the Lord ſaved David whitherſoever he went.

7. Beſides he took the Shields of Gold that the Servants of Hadarezer were armed with, which he brought to Jeruſalem.

8. From Tibhath likewiſe, and Cun, Hadarezer's Cities, did David take very much Braſs; with which Solomon made the braſen Sea, the Pillars, and braſen Inſtruments.

9. And Tou King of Hamath hearing, that David had beat all the Army of Hadarezer King of Zobah;

10. He ſent Hadoram his Son to King David, to aſk of his Welfare, and bleſs him, becauſe he had fought againſt Hadarezer, and beat him, for he was one who had Wars with Tou; as likewiſe all manner of Inſtruments of Gold, Silver and Braſs.

11. Them alſo King David conſecrated to the Lord, with the Silver and Gold which he took away from all the Nations, from Edom, Moab, the Ammonites, Philiſtines and Amalek.

12. And Abiſhai the Son of Zeruiah ſlew of the Edomites, eighteen thouſand, in the Valley of Salt.

13. Afterwards he put Garriſons in Edom, ſo that all the Edomites became David's Servants; and the Lord ſaved him whitherſoever he went.

14. So David reigned over all Iſrael, and was one who did Judgment and Juſtice to all his People.

16. Zadok likewiſe the Son of Ahitub, and Abimelech the Son of Abiathar, were the Prieſts, and Shauſha was the Secretary;

17. And Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada, was over the Cherethites and Pelethites; as David's Sons were the chief at the King's Hand.

CHAP. XIX.

AND after this Nahaſh King of the Ammonites dying, his Son reigned in his room.

2. Upon which David ſaid, I will ſhew Kindneſs to Hanun the Son of Nahaſh, becauſe his Father did to me. So he ſent Meſſengers to comfort him for his Father; and David's Servants went into the Country of the Ammonites to him, for that Purpoſe.

3. But their Princes ſaid to Hanun, Doſt thou think David honours thy Father, that he has ſent Comforters to thee? Are not his Servants come to thee, in order to ſearch out, overthrow, and ſpy the Country?

4. Therefore Hanun took David's Servants, and ſhaved them, and cut off their Garments in the middle to the Breech; ſending them away.

5. And ſome went and told David concerning the Men, at which he ſent to meet them, becauſe they were exceedingly aſhamed; and the King ſaid, Stay at Jericho until your Beards are grown, and then come back.

6. However when the Ammonites found that they made themſelves odious to David, Hanun and they ſent a thouſand Talents of Silver, to hire them Chariots and Horſemen, from Meſopotamia, and Syria of Maachah and Zobah.

7. And they hired them thirty two thouſand belonging to Chariots, with the King of Maachah and his People, who came, and encamped before Medeba; the Ammonites too were gathered from their Cities, and came to the Battle.

8. This David hearing, ſent Joab, with all the Army of the ſtout Men.

9. So the Ammonites came out, and ſet the Battle in order at the Entrance of the City; and the Kings who came were by themſelves in the Field.

10. Whereupon Joab ſeeing that the Front of the Battle was towards him, before and behind, he choſe ſome of all the choice Men of Iſrael, and ſet in order to meet the Syrians.

11. And the reſt of the People he delivered into the Cuſtody of Abiſhai his Brother, that they might be ſet in order to meet the Ammonites.

12. He alſo ſaid; If the Syrians are too ſtrong for me, thou ſhalt be ſaving me; and if the Ammonites are too ſtrong for thee, I will ſave thee.

13. Be thou ſtrong, and let us make our ſelves ſo, for our People, and for the Cities of our God; and the Lord do what he likes.

14. Joab then, and the People that were with him, drew nigh before the Syrians to the Battle, who fled from his Preſence.

15. And the Ammonites ſeeing that the Syrians were fled, did flee alſo themſelves from the Preſence of Abiſhai his Brother, and got into the City: ſo Joab came to Jeruſalem.

16. Nevertheleſs when the Syrians ſaw that they were beat before Iſrael, they ſent Meſſengers, and b.ought out the Syrians who were beyond the River; Shophach the Captain of Hadarezer's Army being before them.

17. Which being told David, he gathered all Iſrael, and paſſing over Jordan, came to them, and ſet in order againſt them; and when he had ſet the Battle in order to meet the Syrians, they fought with him.

18. But the Syrians fled from the Preſence of Iſrael, and David ſlew of them ſeven thouſand belonging to Chariots, and forty thouſand Footmen; nay he killed Shophach the Captain of the Army.

19. Thus the Servants of Hadarezer ſeeing that they were beat before Iſrael, made peace with David, and ſerved him; and the Syrians would not help the Ammonites any more.

CHAP. XX.

MOREOVER at the Time of the Return of the Year, at the Time when Kings go out, Joab led the Force of the Army; and ſpoiled the Country of the Ammonites, nay went and beſieged Rabbah, but David abode at Jeruſalem; while Joab was beating Rabbah, and deſtroying it.

2. And David took off their King's Crown from his Head, the Value of which he found to be a Talent of Gold, with the precious Stones in it, and it crowned David's Head; beſides he brought out the Spoil of the City very much.

3. He brought out the People too who were therein, and cut with a Saw, as alſo Threſhing-inſtruments of Iron, and Hand-ſaws; and ſo did David to all the Cities of the Ammonites: then he, and all the People, returned to Jeruſalem.

4. And after this there roſe up a Battle at Gezer with the Philiſtines: then Sibbechai the Huſhathite ſlew Sippai, one of the Children of the Giant, and they were humbled.

5. There was alſo a Battle again with the Philiſtines; and Elhanan the Son of Jair ſlew Lahmi the Brother of Goliath the Gittite, the Handle of whoſe Spear was like a Weaver's Beam.

6. Nay there was a Battle again at Gath; where was a Man of great Meaſure, whoſe Fingers and Toes were by ſixes, being twenty four, and he was likewiſe born to the Giant.

7. And he reproached Iſrael; but Jonathan the Son of Shimea David's Brother ſlew him.

8. Theſe were born to a Giant at Gath, and fell by the Hand of David, and thoſe of his Servants.

CHAP. XXI.

AND Satan ſtanding up againſt Iſrael, ſtirred up David to number them.

2. Whereupon he ſaid to Joab and the Captains of the People, Go, count up Iſrael from Beer-ſheba to Dan, and bring it to me; that I may know the Number of them.

3. However Joab ſaid, The Lord add to his People, as they are, a hundred-fold; are they not, my Lord the King, all of them my Lord's Servants? Why does he require this? Why ſhould it become Guilt to Iſrael?

4. Nevertheleſs the King's Word was earneſt againſt Joab; inſomuch that he went out, and going about through all Iſrael, came to Jeruſalem.

5. And Joab gave the Number of the Muſtering of the People to David, that there were of all Iſrael a million and a hundred thouſand Men drawing forth a Sword, and of Judah four hundred ſeventy thouſand ſuch Men.

6. But he did not muſter Levi and Benjamin among them, for the King's Word was abominable to Joab.

7. Moreover God being diſpleaſed for this Thing, ſmote Iſrael.

8. Nay David ſaid to God, I have ſinned exceedingly in that I have done this Thing; yet now take away, I beſeech thee the Iniquity of thy Servant, for I have done very fooliſhly.

9. And the Lord ſpoke to Gad, David's Seer, as follows:

10. Go, and ſpeak this to David; Thus ſays the Lord, I offer to thee three Things, chooſe thee one of theſe, that I may do to thee.

11. Accordingly Gad came to David, and ſaid to him; Thus ſays the Lord, Accept thee,

12. Either three Years of Famine; or three Months to be conſumed from the Preſence of thy Enemies, while their Sword is overtaking; or the Sword of the Lord three Days, even the Peſtilence in the Country, while the Lord's Angel is deſtroying through all the Bounds of Iſrael: and now ſee what Word I ſhall carry back to him who ſent me.

13. And David anſwered him, I am exceedingly diſtreſſed; let me fall now into the Treatment of the Lord, for his Compaſſions are very great, and let me not fall into that of Man.

14. So the Lord made a Peſtilence be in Iſrael; inſomuch that there fell of Iſrael ſeventy thouſand Men.

15. But God ſending an Angel to Jeruſalem, to deſtroy it, as he was deſtroying, the Lord beheld, and was ſorry for the Harm, and ſaid to the Angel who deſtroyed, It is a great deal, ceaſe now thy Hand; and the Angel of the Lord ſtood by the Floor of Ornan the Jebuſite.

16. And David looking up, ſaw him ſtand between the Earth and Heaven, with his Sword drawn forth in his Hand, ſtretched out over Jeruſalem; at which David, and the Elders who were covered with Sackcloth, fell upon their Faces.

17. David alſo ſaid to God, Was it not I ordered the People to be numbered? So I was he who ſinned, and did very ill; but as for theſe Sheep, what have they done? O Lord my God, let thy Hand, I pray, be on me, and my Father's Family, but on thy People let there be no Plague.

18. Then the Angel of the Lord ordered Gad to ſay to David, that he ſhould go up, to erect an Altar to the Lord, in the Floor of Ornan the Jebuſite.

19. And David went up at the Word of Gad, which he ſpoke in the Name of the Lord.

20. Ornan likewiſe turning back, ſaw the Angel, whereupon his four Sons who were with him hid themſelves, while he was threſhing Wheat.

21. Now when David was going to Ornan, who taking a view ſaw him, he went out of the Floor, and bowed down to David, with the Face to the Ground.

22. And David ſaid to Ornan, Grant me the Place of the Floor, that I may build on it an Altar to the Lord; which thou ſhalt grant to me for the full Money, that the Slaughter may be ſtopped from the People.

23. Upon this he replied to David, Take thee, and let my Lord the King do what he likes; ſee I give the Oxen for the Burnt-offerings, and the Flails for the Wood, as alſo the Wheat for the Meat-offering, I give all.

24. But King David declared to Ornan, No, for I will wholly buy for the full Money; becauſe I will not take what is thine for the Lord, even to offer up an Offering for nothing.

25. So David gave him for the Place ſix hundred Shekels of Gold by Weight.

26. Where he built an Altar to the Lord, offering up Burnt-offerings and Peace-offerings; and called on the Lord, who anſwered him by Fire from Heaven upon the Altar of Burnt-offering.

27. Beſides the Lord ordered the Angel, and he put his Sword again into its Sheath.

28. At that Time when David ſaw, that the Lord had anſwered him at the Floor of Ornan the Jebuſite, he ſacrificed there.

29. For the Tabernacle of the Lord which Moſes made in the Wilderneſs, and the Altar of Burnt-offering, at that Time were in the Chapel at Gibeon.

30. But David could not go before it to ſeek God, becauſe he was affrighted by reaſon of the Sword of the Angel of the Lord.

CHAP. XXII.

AFTERWARDS David ſaid, It is this is for the Houſe of the Lord God, and this for the Altar of the Burnt-offering belonging to Iſrael.

2. And he ordered to gather together the Strangers in the Country of Iſrael, and appointed Stone-cutters to cut hewn Stone, to build the Houſe of God.

3. Iron alſo abundantly, for Nails for the Doors of the Gates, and for the Joinings, did David prepare, as likewiſe Braſs in Abundance without Weight;

4. With Cedar-trees out of Number: for the Zidonians and Tyrians brought Cedar-trees to him abundantly.

5. For David ſaid, My Son Solomon being a young Man and tender, and the Houſe to be built for the Lord to be made vaſtly great, for Renown and Glory to all Countries, I will prepare for it; which he did abundantly before his Death.

6. He likewiſe called his Son Solomon, and commanded him to build a Houſe for the Lord God of Iſrael;

7. David ſaying to him: My Son, it was in my own Mind to build a Houſe to the Name of the Lord my God.

8. But the Word of the Lord was to me as follows; Thou haſt ſhed Blood abundantly, and made great Wars: thou ſhalt not build a House to my Name, because thou hast shed much Blood on the Earth before me.

9. Behold there shall be a Son born to thee, who will be a Man of Rest, and I will give him rest from all his Enemies round about: for his Name shall be Solomon, and I will make Peace and Quietness in Israel in his Time.

10. He shall build a House to my Name, nay he shall be a Son to me, as I will a Father to him; and I will establish the Throne of his Kingdom over Israel for ever.

11. Now, my Son, the Lord be with thee; and do thou prosper, and build the House of the Lord thy God, as he has spoken concerning thee.

12. But the Lord give thee Sense and Understanding, and command thee concerning Israel; that thou mayest keep the Law of the Lord thy God.

13. Then wilt thou prosper, if thou takest heed to do the Ordinances and Rules, which the Lord commanded Moses for Israel: be courageous, and strong; do not fear, nor be daunted.

14. And behold in my Affliction, I have prepared for the House of the Lord a hundred thousand Talents of Gold, a Million of Talents of Silver, Brass and Iron without Weight, because there is Abundance of it; as also Timber and Stone have I prepared, to which thou mayest add.

15. Besides there are with thee Abundance of Workmen, Stone-cutters, and Artificers of Stone and Wood, with all manner of skilful Men in all Business.

16. Of the Gold, Silver, Brass and Iron, there is no Number. Get ready, and act, and the Lord will be with thee.

17. Moreover David thus commanded all the Princes of Israel, to help Solomon his Son;

18. Is not the Lord your God with you? And has not he given you rest round about? For he has delivered the Inhabitants of the Earth into my Power, and the Earth is subdued before the Lord and his People.

19. Now put your Heart and Soul, to seek the Lord your God; and get ready, and build the Sanctuary of the Lord God, to bring the Ark of the Lord's Covenant, and the holy Instruments of God, to the House that is to be built to the Name of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

AT length when David was old, and full of Days, he made his Son Solomon King over Israel.

2. And he gathered all the Princes of Israel, with the Priests and Levites.

3. The Levites being numbered from their thirtieth Year upward; their Number by their Reckoning was thirty eight thousand Men.

4. Of these twenty four thousand were to be chief over the Business of the Lord's House, and six thousand Magistrates and Judges;

5. As were four thousand Porters, and four thousand praised the Lord with the Instruments that I made, said he, to praise with.

6. And David parted them into Partitions, to the Sons of Levi, Gershon, Kohath and Merari.

7. Of the Gershonites were, Ladan and Shimei.

8. The Sons of Ladan were, the chief Jehiel, then Zetham and Joel, three.

9. The Sons of Shimei, Shelomith, Haziel and Haran, three: these were the chief of the Fathers belonging to Ladan.

10. And the Sons of Shimei were, Jahath, Zina, and Jeush, and Beriah: these four were Shimei's Sons.

11. Jahath being the chief, and Zizah the second; but Jeush and Beriah had not many Sons, so they were in one Muster, according to their Father's Family.

12. The Sons of Kohath were, Amram, Izhar, Hebron and Uzziel, four.

13. The Sons of Amram were, Aaron and Moses; and Aaron was separated to consecrate the very holy Things, with his Sons for ever, to burn incense before the Lord,

14. As for Moſes the Man of God, his Sons were called of the Tribe of Levi.

15. The Sons of Moſes were, Gerſhom and Eliezer.

16. Of the Sons of Gerſhom, Shebuel was the chief.

17. And Eliezer's Sons were, Rehabiah the chief; Eliezer having no other Sons, but thoſe of Rehabiah were exceeding many.

18. Of the Sons of Izhar, Shelomith was the chief.

19. Of the Sons of Hebron, Jeriah the chief, Amariah the ſecond, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth.

20. Of the Sons of Uzziel, Micah the chief, and Iſhiah the ſecond.

21. The Sons of Merari were, Mahli and Muſhi; the Sons of Mahli, Eleazar and Kiſh.

22. And Eleazar died, having no Sons but Daughters; and the Sons of Kiſh their Kinſmen married them.

23. The Sons of Muſhi were, Mahli, Eder and Jeremoth, three.

24. Theſe were the Sons of Levi, after the Houſhold of their Fathers, the chief of the Fathers, at the Muſtering of them by the Number of Names, after their Reckoning; who did the Buſineſs belonging to the Service of the Lord's Houſe, from their twentieth Year upward.

25. For David ſaid; The Lord God of Iſrael has given reſt to his People, that they may dwell in Jeruſalem for ever;

26. And alſo to the Levites, who are not to carry the Tabernacle, with all its Inſtruments for the Service of it.

27. For by the latter Words of David, they were the Number of the Poſterity of Levi, who were from their twentieth Year upward:

28. Becauſe their Station was at the Hand of the Aaronites, for the Service of the Lord's Houſe, in the Courts and Rooms, and for the cleanſing of every holy Thing, with the Work of the Service of God's Houſe;

29. As alſo for the Bread ſet in order, the fine Flour for the Meat-offering, the unleavened Biſcuits, both of a Pan and bliſtered in baking, and of every Meaſure and Dimenſion;

30. And withal to ſtand Morning by Morning, to give thanks and praiſe the Lord, and ſo at the Evening;

31. To offer up all the Burnt-offerings likewiſe to the Lord, at the Sabbaths, Newmoons and appointed Times, by Number, according to the Rule concerning them continually before the Lord.

32. Beſides they kept the Charge of the publick Tent, and the Charge of the Holy Place, with that of the Aaronites their Brethren, belonging to the Service of the Lord's Houſe.

CHAP. XXIV.

AND for the Sons of Aaron were their Partitions, his Sons being Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar;

2. But Nadab and Abihu died before their Father, and had no Sons; ſo Eleazar and Ithamar executed the Prieſthood:

3. Theſe David parted, both Zadok of the Sons of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the Sons of Ithamar, to their Office in their Service.

4. However there were found more of Eleazar's Sons for chief Men than of Ithamar's, who were parted; of the Sons of Eleazar ſixteen for the Houſhold of the Fathers, and of the Sons of Ithamar eight for their Fathers Houſhold.

5. Thus were they parted by Lots, thoſe with theſe: for the Governors of the Holy Place, and the Governors for God, were of the Sons of Eleazar and thoſe of Ithamar.

6. And Shemaiah the Son of Nethaneel the Scribe, one of the Levites, wrote them down, before the King, the Governors, Zadok the Prieſt, Ahimelech the Son of Abiathar, and the chief of the Fathers belonging to the Prieſts and Levites: one Houſhold of a Father was taken for Eleazar, and that taken which had been taken for Ithamar.

7. Now the firſt Lot came out for Jehoiarib, the ſecond for Jedaiah,

21. Of Rehabiah, that is, of his Sons, the chief Iſhiah.

22. Of the Izharites, there was Shelomoth; of the Sons of Shelomoth, Jahath;

23. And the Sons of Hebron, Jeriah, Amariah the ſecond, Jahaziel the third, Jekameam the fourth;

24. Of the Sons of Uzziel, Micah; of thoſe of Micah, Shamir;

25. Micah's Brother Iſhiah; of his Sons, Zechariah;

26. The Sons of Merari, Mahli and Muſhi; of the Sons of Jaaziah, Beno;

27. The Sons of Merari by Jaaziah, Beno, Shoham, Zaccur and Ibri;

28. Of Mahli, Eleazar, who had no Sons;

29. Of Kiſh, his Sons, Jerahmeel;

30. As likewiſe the Sons of Muſhi, Mahli, Eder and Jerimoth: theſe were the Poſterity of the Levites, by the Houſhold of their Fathers.

31. And they alſo caſt Lots over againſt their Brethren the Aaronites, before King David, Zadok and Ahimelech, with the chief of the Fathers belonging to the Prieſts and Levites; the chief Fathers over againſt their younger Brethren.

CHAP. XXV.

AND David, with the Captains of the Army, ſeparated for the Service, of the Sons of Aſaph, Heman and Jeduthun, ſome to propheſy with Harps, Lutes and Bells; the Number of which Artiſts for their Service was:

2. Of the Sons of Aſaph, Zaccur, Joſeph, Nethaniah and Aſharelah, his Sons, at his own Hand, who himſelf propheſied at the King's Hands;

3. Of Jeduthun, his Sons Gedaliah, Zeri, Iſaiah, Haſhabiah, Mattithiah, Shimei, ſix, at the Hands of their Father Jeduthun with a Harp, who propheſied for giving thanks and praiſing the Lord;

4. Of Heman, his Sons, Bukkiah, Mattaniah, Uzziel, Shebuel and Jerimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti and Romamti-ezer, Joſhbekaſhah, Mallothi, Hothir, Mahazioth:

5. All theſe being the Sons of Heman, the King's Seer in the Words of God, to lift up the Horn; for God gave Heman fourteen Sons, and three Daughters.

6. All theſe were at the Hands of their Father, for Muſick at the Houſe of the Lord, with Bells, Lutes, and Harps, for the Service of God's Houſe: at the King's Hands being Aſaph, Jeduthun and Heman.

7. And the Number of them with their Brethren, who were inſtructed in Muſick for the Lord, all that had underſtanding, was two hundred and eighty eight.

8. They alſo caſt Lots one Ward over againſt another, as well the ſmall as the great, the Learned with the Learner.

9. And the firſt Lot came out to Aſaph, for Joſeph; the ſecond for Gedaliah, who with his Brethren and Sons were twelve;

10. The third for Zaccur, who his Sons and Brethren were twelve;

CHAP. XXVI.

CONCERNING the Partitions of the Porters: of the Korhites there was Meſhelemiah the Son of Kore, of the Sons of Aſaph.
2. And Meſhelemiah's Sons, Zechariah the Firſt-born, Jediael the ſecond, Zebadiah the third, Jathniel the fourth,
3. Elam the fifth, Jehohanan the ſixth, Elihoenai the ſeventh.
4. And Obed-edom's Sons, Shemaiah the Firſt-born, Jehozabad the Second, Joah the third, Sachar the fourth, Nethaneel the fifth,
5. Ammiel the ſixth, Iſſachar the ſeventh, Peullethai the eighth: for God bleſſed him.
6. Shemaiah his Son had alſo Sons born, who were Rulers in their Father's Family; as being valiant Men:
7. His Sons were, Othni, and Rephael, and Obed, Elzabad, his Brethren being ſtout Men, Elihu and Semachiah.
8. All theſe of the Sons of Obed-edom, they with their Sons and Brethren, ſtout Perſons in Ability for Service, were ſixty two, belonging to him.
9. And Meſhelemiah had Sons and Brethren, eighteen ſtout Men.
10. Beſides Hoſah of the Sons of Merari had Sons, Shimri the chief (for though he was not the Firſt-born, yet his Father made him the chief)
11. Hilkiah the ſecond, Tebaliah the third, Zechariah the fourth: all the Sons and Brethren of Hoſah were thirteen.
12. Among theſe were the Partitions of the Porters, among the chief Men, with Wards over againſt their Brethren, to miniſter in the Houſe of the Lord.
13. They likewiſe caſt Lots, as well the ſmall as the great, according to the Houſhold of their Fathers, for each Gate.
14. And the Lot eaſtward fell for Shelemiah; then they caſt Lots for Zechariah his Son, a Counſellor of Underſtanding, whoſe Lot came out northward;
15. For Obed-edom ſouthward, and for his Sons the Houſhold of Aſuppim;
16. For Shuppim and Hoſah weſtward, with the Gate Shallecheth in the Road going up, Ward over againſt Ward.
17. Eaſtward were ſix Levites, northwards four for a Day, ſouthwards four for a Day, and towards Aſuppim two and two.
18. Towards Parbar weſtward, were four at the Road, two at Parbar.
19. Theſe were the Partitions of the Porters, among the Sons of the Korhites, and thoſe of the Merarites.
20. And of the Levites, Ahijah was over the Treaſures of the Houſe of God, with thoſe of the conſecrated Things.
21. Of the Sons of Ladan, thoſe of the Gerſhonite Ladan, of the chief Fathers belonging to him, there was Jehieli.
22. The Sons of Jehieli, Zetham, and his Brother Joel, were over the Treaſures of the Lord's Houſe.
23. There were ſome of the Amramites, Izharites, Hebronites, Uzzielites.

Ver. 11. for] Where [for] is not Italick in theſe Verſes, there is ל in Heb.

Ver. 17. northwards] Heb. to the northward, doubly denoted.

24. Moreover Shebuel, the Son of Gerſhom, the Son of Moſes, was Ruler over the Treaſures.

25. And his Kinſmen by Eliezer were, Rehabiah his Son, Iſaiah his Son, Joram his Son, Zichri his Son, and Shelomith his Son.

26. That Shelomith and his Brethren were over all the Treaſures of the conſecrated Things, which King David, and the chief Fathers, with the Captains of Thouſands and Hundreds, and the Captains of the Army conſecrated.

27. From the Battles and from the Spoil they conſecrated, to make the Lord's Houſe ſtrong.

28. Nay all that Samuel the Seer, Saul the Son of Kiſh, Abner the Son of Ner, and Joab the Son of Zeruiah conſecrated, whoever did conſecrate, it was in the Cuſtody of Shelomith and his Brethren.

29. Of the Izharites, Chenaniah and his Sons were for the outward Buſineſs over Iſrael, for Magiſtrates and Judges.

30. Of the Hebronites, Haſhabiah and his Brethren, ſtout Men, a thouſand and ſeven hundred, were in the Office of Iſrael on this ſide Jordan weſtward, for all Buſineſs of the Lord, and the King's Service.

31. Of the Hebronites, Jerijah was the chief, of them after their Generations, according to the Fathers: in the fortieth Year of David's Reign they were ſought, and there were found among them valiant Men, at Jazer of Gilead.

32. And his Brethren, ſtout Men, were two thouſand and ſeven hundred chief Fathers; whom King David ſet over the Reubenites, Gadites, and the half Tribe of Manaſſeh, for every Matter of God and that of the King.

CHAP. XXVII.

AND the Iſraelites after their Number, the chief Fathers and Captains of Thouſands and Hundreds, with their Officers that miniſtred to the King in every Matter of the Partitions, who came in and went out Month by Month, in all the Months of the Year, were of each Partition twenty four thouſand.

2. Over the firſt Partition for the firſt Month, was Jaſhobeam the Son of Zabdiel; in whoſe Partition were twenty four thouſand.

3. Of the Children of Pharez, was the the chief of all the Captains of the Armies for the firſt Month.

4. And over the Partition of the ſecond Month, was Dodai the Ahohite, of whoſe Partition alſo Mikloth was Ruler; and in his Partition were twenty four thouſand.

5. The third Captain of the Army for the third Month, was Benaiah the Son of Jehoiada the chief Prince; in whoſe Partition were twenty four thouſand.

6. That Benaiah was powerful among the thirty, and over the thirty; of whoſe Partition was Ammizabad his Son.

7. The fourth for the fourth Month, was Aſahel the Brother of Joab, and Zebadiah his Son after him; in whoſe Partition were twenty four thouſand.

8. The fifth Captain for the fifth Month, was Shamhuth the Izrahite: in whoſe Partition were twenty four thouſand.

9. The ſixth for the ſixth Month, was Ira the Son of Ikkeſh the Tekoite; in whoſe Partition were twenty four thouſand.

10. The ſeventh for the ſeventh Month, was Helez, the Pelonite of the Ephraimites; in whoſe Partition were twenty four thouſand.

11. The eighth for the eighth Month, was Sibbechai the Huſhathite of the Zarhites; in whoſe Partition were twenty four thouſand.

12. The ninth for the ninth Month, was Abiezer the Anthothite of the Benjaminites; in whoſe Partition were twenty four thouſand.

13. The tenth for the tenth Month, was Maharai the Netophathite of the Zarhites; in whoſe Partition were twenty four thouſand.

14. The eleventh for the eleventh Month, was Benaiah the Pirathonite of the Ephraimites: in whoſe Partition were twenty four thouſand.

15. The twelfth for the twelfth Month, was Heldai the Netophathite of Othniel; in whoſe Partition were twenty four thouſand.

16. And over the Tribes of Iſrael, the Ruler of the Reubenites, was Eliezer the Son of Zichri; of the Simeonites, Shephatiah the Son of Maachah;

17. Of the Levites, Haſhabiah the Son of Kemuel; of the Aaronites, Zadok;

18. Of Judah, Elihu one of David's Brothers; of Iſſachar, Omri the Son of Michael.

19. Of Zebulun, Iſhmaiah the Son of Obadiah; of Naphtali, Jerimoth the Son of Azriel.

20. Of the Ephraimites, Hoſea the Son of Azaziah; of the half Tribe of Manaſſeh, Joel the Son of Pedaiah;

21. Of the half of Manaſſeh at Gilead, Iddo the Son of Zechariah; of Benjamin, Jaaſiel the Son of Abner;

22. Of Dan, Azarel the Son of Jeroham: theſe were the Princes of the Tribes of Iſrael.

23. But David did not take the Number of them from their twentieth Year downward, becauſe the Lord ſaid he would multiply Iſrael to be as the Stars of Heaven.

24. Joab the Son of Zeruiah began numbering, but did not finiſh, there being Wrath for it upon Iſrael; nor was the Number put into that of the Chronicles of King David.

25. And over the King's Treaſures was Azmaveth the Son of Adiel; as was over thoſe in the Field, Cities, Villages and Towers, Jehonathan the Son of Uzziah;

26. Over ſuch alſo as did the Buſineſs of the Field, for the Tillage of the Ground, was Ezri the Son of Chelub;

27. And over the Vineyards was Shimei the Ramathite; but over what was in the Vineyards of the Wine-treaſures, Zabdi the Shiphmite;

28. Beſides over the Olive-trees, and the Sycamores which were in the Vale, was Baal-hanan the Gederite; and over the Treaſures of Oil Joaſh;

29. And over the Herds that fed in Sharon was Shitrai the Sharonite, as over thoſe in the Vallies was Shaphat the Son of Adlai;

30. Over the Camels likewiſe was Obil the Iſhmeelite; and over the Aſſes Jehdeiah the Meronothite;

31. And over the Flocks was Jaziz the Hagerite: all theſe were the Princes of the Subſtance which King David had.

32. As for Jehonathan David's Uncle, he was a Counſellor, wiſe Man, and a Secretary Jehiel the Son of the Hachmonite was with the King's Sons,

33. Ahithophel was a Counſellor to the King, Huſhai the Archite was the King's Friend,

34. After Ahithophel was Jehoiada the Son of Benaiah, and Abiathar, and the Captain of the Army belonging to the King was Joab.

CHAP. XXVIII.

AND David gathered together all the Princes of Iſrael, thoſe of the Tribes, and thoſe of the Partitions who miniſtred to the King, as alſo the Captains both of Thouſands and Hundreds, and the Stewards of all the Subſtance and Poſſeſſion, belonging both to the King and his Sons, with the Officers, ſtout ones and every valiant Man, to Jeruſalem.

2. Then King David ſtood up on his Feet, and ſaid: Hear me, my Brethren and People; it was in my own Mind to build a Houſe of Reſt for the Ark of the Lord's Covenant, and for the Foot-ſtool of our God, and I had prepared to build;

3. But God ſaid to me, Thou ſhalt not build a Houſe for my Name, becauſe thou haſt been a Man of War, and haſt ſhed Blood.

4. However the Lord God of Iſrael choſe me above any other of my Father's Family, to be King over Iſrael for ever: for he has choſen Judah to be Ruler, and of the Family of Judah that of my Father; and of my Father's Sons he liked me, to make King over all Iſrael.

5. And of all my Sons (for the Lord has given me many) he has likewiſe choſen my Son Solomon, to ſit upon the Throne of the Lord's Kingdom over Iſrael.

6. And he ſaid to me, Solomon thy Son himſelf ſhall build my Houſe and Courts: for him have I choſen for a Son to me, and I will be to him for a Father.

7. Moreover I will eſtabliſh his Kingdom even for ever, if he will be courageous to do my Commandments and Rules, as at preſent.

Hearing of our God, obſerve, and ſeek all the Commandments of the Lord your God; that you may inherit the good Country, and cauſe your Children after you to poſſeſs it for ever.

9. As for thee, my Son Solomon, know the God of thy Father, and ſerve him with a perfect Heart and willing Mind; ſince the Lord examines all Hearts, and underſtands every Idea of the Thoughts: if thou ſeekeſt him, he will be found by thee; but if thou forſakeſt him, he will caſt thee off for evermore.

10. See now, ſince the Lord has choſen thee to build a Houſe for the Sanctuary; be courageous, and do it.

11. Beſides David gave his Son Solomon the Pattern of the Porch, and of its Houſes, Treaſuries, Chambers, and inner Rooms, with the Place of the Atonement-covering;

12. The Pattern likewiſe of all that was with him by the Spirit, of the Courts of the Lord's Houſe, and all the Parlours round about; for the Treaſures of the Houſe of God, and thoſe of the conſecrated Things;

13. As alſo for the Apartments of the Prieſts and Levites, for all the Buſineſs of the Service of the Lord's Houſe, and all the Inſtruments of its Service:

14. Of Gold by Weight for golden Things, for all the Inſtruments of each Service; for all Inſtruments of Silver by Weight, for all the Inſtruments of each Service;

15. Even the Weight for the Candleſticks of Gold, and their Lamps of Gold by Weight, each Candleſtick and its Lamps; and for the Candleſticks of Silver by Weight, for a Candleſtick and its Lamps, according to the Service of each Candleſtick;

16. And Gold in Weight for the Tables of the Bread ſet in order, for each Table, with Silver for the Tables of Silver;

17. And for the Forks, Bowls and Covers, pure Gold; as likewiſe for Baſons of Gold by Weight for each Baſon, and for Baſons of Silver the ſame:

18. For the Altar too of Incenſe, refined Gold by Weight; and Gold for the Pattern of the Chariot of the Cherubs that ſpread out, and covered over the Ark of the Lord's Covenant.

19. The whole in Writing by the Hand of the Lord upon me he taught, all the Work of the Pattern,

20. Said David, and to his Son Solomon; Be courageous and ſtrong, and act, do not fear, nor be daunted: for the Lord God, my God will be with thee, he will not neglect thee, nor forſake thee, till thou haſt finiſhed all the Work of the Service of the Lord's Houſe.

21. And behold there are the Apartments of the Prieſts and Levites, for all the Service of the Houſe of God; as there is with thee for all Work, every one who is noble in Wiſdom for all Service, and the Princes with all the People will be according to all thy Words.

CHAP. XXIX.

MOREOVER King David ſaid to all the Congregation: My Son Solomon, whom alone God has choſen, is young and tender; and the Work is great, ſince the Palace is not for Man, but for the Lord God.

2. Now I have prepared with all my Might for the Houſe of my God, Gold for golden Things, Silver for ſilver ones, Braſs for braſen ones, Iron for iron ones, and Wood for wooden ones; Onyx Stones, and thoſe to be ſet, Stones painted and variegated, with all manner of precious Stones, and Marble Stones abundantly.

3. And further in my Good-will to the Houſe of my God, I have a Property of Gold and Silver, which I have given for it, over and above all that I prepared for the holy Houſe;

4. Three thouſand Talents of Gold being that of Ophir, and ſeven thouſand Talents of refined Silver, to cover the Walls of the Houſes;

5. The Gold for golden Things, and the Silver for ſilver ones, and for all Work by the Hands of Artificers. Now who will offer himſelf freely to Day, to fill his Hand for the Lord?

6. Upon this the chief Fathers, and the Princes of the Tribes of Iſrael, as likewiſe the Captains of Thouſands and Hundreds, with the Stewards of the King's Work offered freely;

7. And gave for the Service of the Houſe of God, five thouſand Talents and ten thouſand Drams of Gold, ten thouſand Talents of Silver, eighteen thouſand Talents of Braſs, and a hundred thouſand Talents of Iron.

8. They likewiſe with whom precious Stones were found, gave them to the Treaſure of the Lord's Houſe, by the Hand of Jehiel the Gerſhunnite.

9. Then were the People glad for their offering freely, for they did with a perfect Heart to the Lord; and King David too was affected with great Gladneſs.

10. So David bleſſed the Lord in the Sight of the whole Congregation in the following manner: Bleſſed be thou, O Lord God of Iſrael our Father, from everlaſting to everlaſting.

11. Of thee, O Lord, is Greatneſs, Power, Glory, Eternity and Majeſty; ſince all Things in Heaven and Earth are: of thee, O Lord is the Kingdom, and thou doſt raiſe up thy ſelf to be the Head of all.

12. Both Riches and Honour are from before thee, and thou ruleſt over all, and in thy Hand is Might and Power; nay it is in thy Hand to make any great and ſtrong.

13. Therefore now, our God, we give thee thanks, and praiſe thy glorious Name.

14. But yet who am I, and what is my People, that we ſhould have Ability to offer freely after this manner? For all is from thee, and what is from thy own Hand we give to thee.

15. For we are Strangers before thee, and Sojourners like all our Fathers: our Days upon the Earth are as a Shadow, without any other Hope.

16. O Lord our God, all this Abundance which we have prepared, to build thee a Houſe to thy holy Name, it is from thy Hand, and all is thy own.

17. I being alſo ſenſible, O my God, that thou trieſt the Heart, and likeſt upright Things; I have in the Uprightneſs of my Heart freely offered all theſe, and do now ſee thy People with Gladneſs, who are preſent to offer freely to thee.

18. O Lord of Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob, our Fathers, keep this for ever in the Idea of the Thoughts of thy People's Heart, and prepare their Heart for thee;

19. And give my Son Solomon a perfect Heart to keep thy Commandments, Teſtimonies and Ordinances, nay to do all things, particularly to build the Palace for which I have prepared.

20. David ſaid further to all the Congregation, Bleſs the Lord your God, I beſeech you: accordingly the whole Congregation bleſſed the Lord God of their Fathers, bowing, and doing reverence, to the Lord and the King.

21. And they ſacrificed Sacrifices to the Lord, and offered up Burnt-offerings to him the next Day after that, a thouſand Bullocks, a thouſand Rams, a thouſand Lambs, and their Drink-offerings, with Sacrifices abundantly for all Iſrael.

22. They eat and drank too, before the Lord that Day with great Gladneſs, and made Solomon the Son of David King the ſecond time, anointing him to the Lord, to be the Ruler, and Zadok to be the Prieſt.

23. Next Solomon ſate upon the Lord's Throne, to be King in the room of his Father David, and proſpered; whom all Iſrael obeyed.

24. Nay all the Princes, and the powerful ones, and likewiſe all King David's Sons, gave the Hand to be under King Solomon.

25. Thus the Lord magnified Solomon highly in the Sight of all Iſrael, and put upon him that royal Dignity which had not been upon any King before him in Iſrael.

26. Now David the Son of Jeſſe having reigned over all Iſrael;

27. The Time that he did being forty Years (ſeven Years he reigned at Hebron, as he did thirty three at Jeruſalem)

28. He died in good old Age, full of Days, Riches and Honour; and Solomon his Son reigned in his room.

29. As for King David's Affairs, the former and latter, behold they are written in the Affairs of Samuel the Seer, in thoſe of Nathan the Prophet, and thoſe of Gad the Beholder;

30. With all his Reign, and his Power, as alſo the Times which paſſed over him, over Iſrael, and all the Kingdoms of the Countries.

NOTES

NOTES upon the SECOND BOOK of the CHRONICLES.

CHAP. I.

AND Solomon the Son of David became ſtrong in his Kingdom; ſince the Lord his God being with him, magnified him highly.

2. Then Solomon ſpeaking to all Iſrael, to the Captains of Thouſands and Hundreds, to the Judges, and every Prince of all Iſrael, the Heads of the Fathers;

3. He, and the whole Congregation with him, went to the Chapel that was at Gibeon: for the publick Tent of God was there, which Moſes the Lord's Servant made in the Wilderneſs.

4. But the Ark of God David had brought up from Kirjath-jearim, into the Place he had prepared for it; becauſe he pitched a Tent for it at Jeruſalem.

5. And the braſen Altar that Bezaleel, the Son of Uri, the Son of Hur made, he put before the Tabernacle of the Lord; to which Solomon and the Congregation ſought.

6. Thither alſo Solomon went up to the braſen Altar before the Lord, which was at the publick Tent, and offered up a thouſand Burnt-offerings upon it.

7. That Night God appeared to Solomon, and ſaid to him, Aſk for what I ſhall give thee.

8. Whom Solomon anſwered; Thou haſt not only ſhewn great Kindneſs to my Father David, but alſo made me reign in his room.

9. Now, O Lord God, let thy Word to him be confirmed; ſince thou haſt made me reign over a People who are many like the Duſt of the Earth.

10. Give me now Wiſdom and Knowledge, that I may go out before this People, and come in: for who can judge this thy great People?

11. And God replied to him; Becauſe this is in thy Heart, and thou doſt not aſk Riches, Subſtance, Honour, or the Life of thy Adverſaries, as thou doſt not alſo many Days; but aſkeſt Wiſdom and Knowledge for thy ſelf, that thou mayeſt judge my People, over whom I have made thee reign:

12. Wiſdom and Knowledge is given thee, I will likewiſe give thee Riches, Subſtance and Honour, ſuch as no Kings had who were before thee, and as none ſhall after thee.

13. So Solomon came from before the publick Tent, at the Chapel which was in Gibeon, to Jeruſalem, and reigned over Iſrael.

14. And he gathered Chariots and Horſemen, having a thouſand and four hundred Chariots, and twelve thouſand Horſemen; which he placed in the Chariot-cities, and with the King in Jeruſalem.

15. Where the King made Silver and Gold be like Stones, as he did Cedars like Sycomores, which are in the Vale abundantly.

16. Solomon had alſo Horſes brought out of Egypt, and Yarn; the King's Merchants taking the Yarn at a Price.

17. They likewiſe brought up a Chariot out from thence, for ſix hundred Shekels of Silver, and a Horſe for a hundred and fifty; and ſo for all the Kings of the Hittites, with thoſe of Syria, they were brought out by them.

CHAP. II.

AND Solomon concluded to build a Houſe to the Name of the Lord, as well as one for his Kingdom.

2. So he numbered ſeventy thouſand Men to carry Burdens, and eighty thouſand Men to cut on the Mountain, with three thouſand and ſix hundred who were chief over them.

3. And Solomon ſent Word to Huram King of Tyre: Do as thou didſt with my Father David, to whom thou ſenteſt Cedars to build him a Houſe, to dwell in it.

4. Behold I am about to build a Houſe to the Name of the Lord my God, to conſecrate to him for burning Incenſe of Odours before him, and for the continual Bread ſet in order, and the Burnt-offerings at the Morning and Evening, Sabbaths, New-moons, and the appointed Times of the Lord our God; this being for ever in Iſrael.

5. And the Houſe which I am about to build is great: for our God is the greateſt of all gods.

Ver. 1 his God] omitted by the Lat. Vulgate.

Ver. 5. he put] David, Ver. 4.

6. But

6. But who has Power to build him a Houſe, ſince Heaven and the Heaven of Heavens cannot contain him? Who then am I that I ſhould build him a Houſe, unleſs for burning incenſe before him?

7. Now therefore ſend me a Man ſkilful in working with Gold, Silver, Braſs, Iron, Purple, Crimſon, and Blue, and who knows how to make Engravings, with the ſkilful ones that are with me in Judah and Jeruſalem, whom my Father David prepared.

8. Send me alſo Trees of Cedar, Fir and Algum, from Lebanon (for I know that thy Servants underſtand cutting of Trees there) and behold my Servants ſhall be with thine;

9. Even to prepare me Timber abundantly: for the Houſe which I am about to build will be great and wonderful.

10. And behold I will give to thy Servants the Hewers who cut Timber, twenty thouſand Cors of threſhed Wheat, and the ſame of Barley, ſo many Baths of Wine, and the like of Oil.

11. And Huram King of Tyre anſwered in Writing, which he ſent to Solomon: Through the Lord's Love to his People, he has put thee King over them.

12. Bleſſed is the Lord God of Iſrael, continued Huram, that made the Heaven and Earth, who has given King David a wiſe Son, acquainted with Underſtanding and Ingenuity, that ſhall build a Houſe for the Lord, as well as one for his Kingdom.

13. And now I ſend thee a wiſe Man, acquainted with Ingenuity, of my Father Huram;

14. A Woman's Son of the Daughters of Dan, whoſe Father was a Man of Tyre, acquainted in working with Gold, Silver, Braſs, Iron, Stone, Wood, Purple, Blue, fine Linen and Crimſon; as alſo to make any Engraving, and to contrive any Contrivance, that may be put to him, with thy wiſe Men and thoſe of my Lord thy Father David.

15. Now therefore the Wheat, Barley, Oil, and Wine, which my Lord has ſpoken of, let him ſend to his Servants.

16. And we will cut Trees out of Lebanon, according to all thy Need, and bring them to thee in Floats by Sea to Joppa, that thou mayeſt fetch them up to Jeruſalem.

17. Upon this Solomon numbered all the ſtrange Men who were in the Country of Iſrael, after the Numbering which David his Father had made of them, and there were found a hundred fifty three thouſand and ſix hundred.

18. Seventy thouſand of whom he cauſed to carry Burdens, and eighty thouſand to cut on the Mountain, with three thouſand and ſix hundred to be the chief, to make the People work.

CHAP. III.

THEN Solomon began to build the Houſe of the Lord, at Jeruſalem on Mount Moriah, on which he appeared to his Father David, at the Place that David prepared in the Floor of Ornan the Jebuſite.

2. And he began building on the ſecond of the ſecond Month, in the fourth Year of his Reign.

3. Now theſe were for the Foundation, for Solomon to build the Houſe of God: the Length in Cubits by the firſt Meaſure was ſixty Cubits, and the Breadth twenty.

4. The Length alſo of the Porch which was in the Front, before the Breadth of the Houſe, was twenty Cubits, and the Height a hundred and twenty; which he overlaid on the inſide with pure Gold.

5. And the greater Houſe he covered with Fir-wood, as he did that with good Gold, upon which he wrought Palm-trees and Chains.

6. Beſides he overlaid the Houſe with precious Stones for Comelineſs, and the Gold was that of Parvaim.

7. He likewiſe covered the Houſe, the Beams, Poſts, its Walls and Doors, with Gold, and engraved Cherubs upon the Walls.

8. And

8. And he made the very holy Houſe, the Length of it being before the Breadth of the Houſe twenty Cubits, and its Breadth ſo many; which he covered with ſix hundred Talents of good Gold.

9. The Weight too of the Nails was fifty Shekels of Gold, and he covered the Chambers with Gold.

10. Moreover in the very holy Houſe he made two Cherubs of moveable Work, and overlaid them with Gold.

11. And the Wings of the Cherubs were twenty Cubits long: one Wing was five, reaching to one Wall of the Houſe, and the other the ſame, reaching to the Wing of the other Cherub.

12. A Wing likewiſe of the other Cherub was five Cubits, reaching to the oppoſite Wall of the Houſe, as the other Wing was ſo many, joining to the Wing of the firſt Cherub.

13. The Wings of theſe Cherubs ſpread twenty Cubits, they ſtanding on their Feet, and their Faces were inward.

14. He further made a Hanging of Blue, Purple, Crimſon and fine Linen, upon which he wrought Cherubs.

15. And he made two Pillars before the Houſe thirty five Cubits long, and the Crown that was upon the Top of each five Cubits.

16. So he did Chains as in the Oracle, and put upon the Top of the Pillars; making a hundred Pomegranates, which he put on the Chains.

17. In the next place he ſet up the Pillars before the Temple, one at the right Hand, and the other at the left; naming the former Jachin, and the latter Boaz.

CHAP. IV.

HE alſo made a braſen Altar, whoſe Length and Breadth was each twenty Cubits, and its Height ten Cubits.

2. As he did a molten Sea; which was ten Cubits from one Side of its Brim to the other, being of a round Compaſs, and its Height five Cubits, a Line of thirty compaſſing it about.

3. And there was the Likeneſs of Oxen under it, incloſing it quite round about, ten in a Cubit all round the Sea: they were caſt in two Rows when that was caſt.

4. It ſtood upon twelve Oxen, three looking to the North, three to the Weſt, three to the South, and three to the Eaſt, the Sea being upon them above; and all their hinder Parts were inward.

5. And the Thickneſs of it was a Hand's-breadth, having a Brim like the Work of that belonging to a Cup, with Flowers of Lillies; it was capable of containing three thouſand Baths.

6. Beſides he made ten Waſhing-veſſels, and put five on the right Hand and five on the left, to waſh in them, wherein they rinſed the Work of the Burnt-offering; but the Sea was for the Prieſts to waſh in.

7. And he made ten Candleſticks of Gold after the Manner of them, and put in the Temple, five on the right Hand, and five on the left.

8. He likewiſe made ten Tables, and placed in there in the ſame Manner; and made a hundred Bowls of Gold.

9. Moreover he made the Court of the Prieſts, the great Yard, and the Doors of it, overlaying their Doors with Braſs.

10. And he put the Sea on the right Side eaſtward, over againſt the South.

11. Huram too made the Pots, and Shovels, as well as the Bowls; ſo he finiſhed doing the Work which he made King Solomon for the Houſe of God:

12. The two Pillars, and the Balls even of the Chapiters upon the Top of them, and the two Infoldings to cover thoſe two Balls,

13. And the four hundred Pomegranates for the two Infoldings, two Rows of them for one Infolding, to cover the two Balls of the Chapiters that were atop of the Pillars.

14. He made alſo the Baſes, as he did the Waſhing-veſſels upon them,

15. One Sea, and the twelve Oxen under it,

Ver. 8. twenty Cubits] in the Inſide from one Wall to the other, as is certain by Ver. 11. ſo for the Body of the Temple.

Ver. 10. moveable] as Buxtorf ſhews in his Lexicon, and Mercer on that of Pagninus; there being a Verb of that Signification, from whence it may be regularly deduced, and muſt elſe be quite uncertain.

Ver. 15. thirty five] Being their Height from the Ground, the braſen Pillars of 18 Cubits long, as 1 King. vii. 15. 2 King. xxv. 17. Jer. lii. 21. ſtanding, I ſuppoſe, on Pedeſtals of Stone 17 Cubits high, concurrent with Univer. Hiſt. B. xvii. 7. not with Lightfoot, who reckons them 17 Cubits and a half long apiece, and half a Cubit within the Chapiter, Harm. of old Teſt. for that is not only far too ſhort for the Height of the Porch, Ver. 4. where they ſtood, Ver. 17. 1 King. vii. 21. but alſo diſproportionable to their Bigneſs, 1 King. i. 15. and the counting theſe Meaſures by different Cubits, as ſome do, may appear abſurd, eſpecially if it be conſidered, that none pretend there were Cubits in the Proportion of 18 to 35.

Ver. 16. a hundred] in one Row, there being two ſuch Rows on each Pillar, 1 King. vii. 20. Chap. iv. 13.

Ver. 5. capable] according to the Note on 1 King. vii. 26.

Ver. 12. even of] See 1 King. vii. 4. and Ver. 13.

16. And the Pots, Shovels and Forks: Huram his Father making King Solomon all their Things for the Houſe of the Lord of poliſhed Braſs.

17. On the Plain of Jordan did the King caſt them, in the Clay-places of the Ground, between Succoth and Zeredathah.

18. And Solomon made all theſe Things in great Abundance; for the Weight of the Braſs was not ſearched out.

19. Solomon likewiſe made all the Things which were at the Houſe of God: namely the Altar of Gold, and the Tables with the Preſence-bread upon them;

20. And the Candleſticks with their Lamps, to burn after the Manner before the Oracle, of preſerved Gold;

21. And the Flowers, as well as the Lamps, and Tongs of Gold, it being very compleat Gold;

22. With the muſical Inſtruments, Bowls, Spoons, and Cenſers of preſerved Gold; nay the Entrance of the Houſe, the inner Doors of it at the very holy Place, and the Doors of the Houſe at the Temple, of Gold.

CHAP. V.

THUS all the Work being finiſhed, which Solomon made for the Houſe of the Lord; he brought in the conſecrated Things of his Father David, and put the Silver, Gold and all the Inſtruments, among the Treaſures of God's Houſe.

2. Then he gathered together the Elders of Iſrael, and all the chief of the Tribes, the Princes of the Fathers of the Iſraelites, to Jeruſalem, to bring up the Ark of the Lord's Covenant, from the City of David, which is Zion.

3. So all the Men of Iſrael were gathered together to the King, at the Feaſt which was in the ſeventh Month.

4. All the Elders of Iſrael likewiſe came, and the Levites carried the Ark.

5. And with the Prieſts they brought up the Ark, the publick Tent, and all the holy Inſtruments that were in it.

6. And King Solomon with the whole Aſſembly of Iſrael, who were aſſembled to him before the Ark, ſacrificed Sheep and Oxen, that were not told, nor numbered for Multitude.

7. The Prieſts too brought in the Ark of the Lord's Covenant to its Place, at the Oracle of the Houſe, into the very holy Place, even under the Wings of the Cherubs.

8. For the Cherubs ſpread forth their Wings over the Place of the Ark; inſomuch that they covered over both that, and the Poles of it above.

9. And they drew forth the Poles, ſo that the Tops of them appeared from the Ark before the Oracle, but did not without: where it is to this Day.

10. There was Nothing in the Ark but the two Tables, which Moſes put in at Horeb; where the Lord made a Covenant with the Iſraelites, when they came out of Egypt.

11. And when the Prieſts came out of the holy Place (for all thoſe found were conſecrated, without any to keep the Apartments.)

12. The Levites that were Singers, all of them belonging to Aſaph, Heman, Jeduthun, with their Sons and Brethren, cloathed in fine Linen, having Cymbals, Lutes and Harps, ſtood at the Eaſt of the Altar, accompanied with a hundred and twenty Prieſts who blew Trumpets.

13. Then the Trumpeters and Singers being as one, in making one Sound be heard, in praiſing and giving thanks to the Lord; as they elevated the Voice with the Trumpets, Cymbals and Inſtruments of Muſick, and with praiſing the Lord, becauſe he is good, ſince his Kindneſs is for ever; the Houſe, which was that of the Lord, was filled with a Cloud:

14. Inſomuch that the Prieſts could not ſtand to miniſter by reaſon of it, for the Glory of the Lord filled God's Houſe.

CHAP. VI.

THEN ſaid Solomon; The Lord has ſpoken of dwelling in Darkneſs.

2. And I have built thee a Dwelling-houſe, even a Settlement for thy Habitation evermore.

3. And the King turning about his Face, bleſſed the whole Congregation of Iſrael; who all ſtood.

4. And he ſaid: Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, who has fulfilled with his Hands, what what he ſpoke with his Mouth to my Father David as follows;

5. From the Day that I brought my People out of the Country of Egypt, I have choſen no City out of all the Tribes of Iſrael to build a Houſe in, that my Name might be there, nor did I chooſe a Man to be Ruler over my People Iſrael:

6. Only I choſe Jeruſalem, that my Name might be there, as I did David to be over my People Iſrael.

7. And it was in the Heart of David my Father, to build a Houſe to the Name of the Lord God of Iſrael.

8. But the Lord ſaid to him; Foraſmuch as it is in thy Heart to build a Houſe to my Name, thou doſt well that it is ſo:

9. However thou ſhalt not build the Houſe, but thy Son who proceeds forth from thy ſelf ſhall build a Houſe to my Name.

10. Accordingly the Lord has confirmed his Word which he ſpoke, I being riſen up in the room of David my Father, and ſitting upon the Throne of Iſrael, as the Lord promiſed, and have built a Houſe to the Name of the Lord God of Iſrael.

11. I have alſo put there the Ark, where the Covenant of the Lord is, which he made with the Iſraelites.

12. And ſtanding before the Altar of the Lord, before all the Congregation of Iſrael, he ſpread forth his Hands,

13. (For Solomon had made a braſen Pulpit, and put it within the Yard, its Length and Breadth being five Cubits each, and Height three, upon which he ſtood, and kneeling upon his Knees before the whole Congregation of Iſrael, ſpread forth his Hands towards Heaven)

14. And prayed: O Lord God of Iſrael, there is no god like thee, in the Heaven, or on the Earth, keeping Covenant and Kindneſs with thy Servants, that walk before thee with their whole Heart.

15. Who haſt kept with thy Servant David my Father what thou ſpokeſt to him: not only ſpeaking with thy Mouth, but fulfilling with thy Hand, as at preſent.

16. Now therefore, O Lord God of Iſrael, keep with thy Servant David my Father what thou thus ſpokeſt to him, Thou ſhalt not have a Man fail from before me of ſitting upon the Throne of Iſrael; only if thy Children take heed to their Way, to walk in my Law, as thou haſt done before me.

17. Even now, O Lord God of Iſrael, let thy Word be verified, which thou ſpokeſt to thy Servant David.

18. Though will God indeed dwell with Men upon the Earth? Behold Heaven and the Heaven of Heavens cannot contain thee, much leſs this Houſe which I have built.

19. Yet have regard to the Prayer of thy Servant, and to his Supplication, O Lord my God, by hearkening to the Cry, and to the Prayer, which thy Servant prays before thee.

20. That thy Eyes may be open to this Houſe Day and Night, to the Place of which thou haſt ſaid, thou wouldeſt put thy Name there; that thou mayeſt hearken to the Prayer, which thy Servant ſhall pray towards this Place.

21. Thus hearken to the Supplication of thy Servant, and thy People Iſrael, which they ſhall pray towards this Place; do thou even hear from Heaven the Place of thy Habitation, and having heard, forgive.

22. If a Man ſins againſt his Neighbour, and an Oath is put on him to make him ſwear, which comes before thy Altar in this Houſe;

23. Hear thou from Heaven, and act, ſo that thou mayeſt judge thy Servants, by requiting the Wicked to render his Way on his Head, and by juſtifying the Virtuous to give him according to his Virtue.

24. And if thy People Iſrael are beat before the Enemy, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; and returning, ſhall confeſs thy Name, pray, and make ſupplication before thee in this Houſe;

25. Do thou hear from Heaven, and forgive their Sin; and bring them again to the Country which thou gaveſt to them and their Forefathers.

26. When the Heaven is ſhut up, ſo that there is no Rain, becauſe they have ſinned againſt thee; and they pray towards this Place, and confeſs thy Name, returning from their Sin, becauſe thou afflicteſt them:

27. Do thou hear at Heaven, and forgive the Sin of thy Servants and People Iſrael, when thou haſt taught them concerning the good Way that they ſhould go in; and give Rain upon thy Country, which thou haſt given thy People for a Poſſeſſion.

28. When there is Famine in the Country, when there is Peſtilence, when there is Blaſting or Mildew, Locuſts or Caterpillars, when their Enemies beſiege them in the Country at their Gates, when there is any Plague, or any Sickneſs;

29. All Prayer, all Supplication which

Ver. 16. their Way] Vulg. my Ways.

ſhall

ſhall be of any Man, or of all thy People Iſrael, who knowing their ſeveral Plagues and Griefs, ſhall ſpread forth their Hands towards this Houſe:

30. Do thou hear from Heaven thy ſettled Habitation, and forgive, and render to each one according to all his Ways, whoſe Heart thou knoweſt; ſince thou alone knoweſt the Hearts of Mankind:

31. That they may fear thee, to go in thy Ways, all the Days which they live upon the Surface of the Country, that thou gaveſt to our Forefathers.

32. As for a Stranger alſo, who is not of thy People Iſrael, but comes from a Country far off for thy great Name's ſake, thy ſtrong Hand and Arm ſtretched out; when ſuch ſhall come, and pray towards this Houſe:

33. Hear thou from Heaven thy ſettled Habitation, and do according to all for which the Stranger calls to thee; that all People of the Earth may know thy Name, even to fear thee like thy People Iſrael, and to know that this Houſe which I have built is called by thy Name.

34. When thy People ſhall go out to war againſt their Enemies, the Way that thou ſendeſt them, and ſhall pray to thee the Way to this City which thou haſt choſen, and to the Houſe which I have built to thy Name:

35. Hear from Heaven their Prayers and Supplications, and do that which is their Right.

36. When they ſin againſt thee, ſince there is no Man who does not ſin, ſo that thou being angry with them, delivereſt them up before the Enemy, and they carry them away their Priſoners, to a Country far off or near;

37. And they ſhall return in their Hearts in the Country whither they are carried away, and thereupon make ſupplication to thee in the Country of their Captivity, ſaying, We have ſinned, committed iniquity, and done wickedly:

38. When they return to thee with their whole Heart and Soul, in the Country of their Captivity, of thoſe who carried them away, and pray the Way to their Country that thou gaveſt their Forefathers, to the City that thou haſt choſen, and the Houſe that I have built to thy Name:

39. Hear from Heaven thy ſettled Habitation, their Prayer and Supplications, and do that which is their Right, and forgive thy People who have ſinned againſt thee.

40. Now, my God, let thy Eyes be open, I beſeech thee, and thy Ears attentive to the Prayer of this Place.

41. And now ariſe, O Lord God, to thy Reſt, with the Ark of thy Strength: let thy Prieſts, O Lord God, be cloathed with Salvation, and let thy pious ones be glad with Goodneſs.

42. O Lord God, turn not back the Face of thy anointed one: remember the Favours to thy Servant David.

CHAP. VII.

NOW when Solomon had done praying, there came down Fire from Heaven, which conſumed the Burnt-offering and Sacrifices, and the Glory of the Lord filled the Houſe:

2. Inſomuch that the Prieſts could not go into the Lord's Houſe, becauſe the Glory of the Lord filled it.

3. No ſooner did all the Iſraelites ſee the Fire come down, and the Lord's Glory in the Houſe, but they bowed with the Faces to the Ground upon the Pavement, and worſhipped, giving thanks to the Lord, becauſe he is good, ſince his Kindneſs is for ever.

4. Beſides the King and all the People offered Sacrifices before the Lord;

5. King Solomon offering a Sacrifice of twenty two thouſand Oxen, and a hundred and twenty thouſand Sheep: thus the King and all the People dedicated the Houſe of God.

6. The Prieſts alſo ſtood in their Charges, and the Levites with the Lord's Inſtruments of Muſick, which King David had made to give thanks to the Lord, becauſe his Kindneſs is for ever, when David praiſed by their Miniſtry; and the Prieſts blew Trumpets before them, all Iſrael ſtanding.

7. And Solomon conſecrated the middle of the Court, which was before the Houſe of the Lord; becauſe he offered there the Burnt-offerings, and Fat of the Peace-offerings: for the braſen Altar that he had made, could not contain the Burnt-offerings, Oblations, and the Fat.

8. He made a Feaſt too at that Time ſeven Days, and all Iſrael with him, a very great Congregation, from the Entrance of Hamath to the River of Egypt.

Ver. 29. towards this Houſe] the ſame as in 1 King. viii. 38. which is ſtrange, if their Negligence were not, that our Tranſlators ſhould ſo vary; and ſee Luke i. 10. ſo in Ver. 32. where it is ſtill worſe, as being for Strangers.

Ver. 38. of thoſe who] as appears not only by the parallel Text, 1 King. viii. 48. but the Want of a Subject otherwiſe to the Verb, or proper Antecedent to they, if אשר alone may be allowed to ſignify whither.

9. And

9. And they made of the eighth Day a ſolemn one: for they made the Dedication of the Altar ſeven Days, and the Feaſt ſo many.

10. And on the twenty third Day of the ſeventh Month he let the People go to their Tents, glad and of a chearful Heart; for the Goodneſs which the Lord had ſhewn to David, Solomon, and his People Iſrael.

11. Thus Solomon having finiſhed the Houſe of the Lord, and the King's Houſe, and made all proſperous that came into his Heart to do, at the Lord's Houſe and his own;

12. The Lord appeared to Solomon in the Night, and ſaid to him: I have heard thy Prayer, and choſen me this Place for a Houſe of Sacrifice.

13. If I ſhut up the Heaven, ſo that there is no Rain, or if I command the Graſhoppers to conſume the Country, or though I ſend Peſtilence among my People;

14. Yet ſhould my People who are called by my Name be humbled, and pray, ſeeking my Face, and turning from their evil Ways: then will I hear from Heaven, forgive their Sin, and heal their Country.

15. Now ſhall my Eyes be opened, and my Ears be attentive, to the Prayer of this Place.

16. And I have now choſen and conſecrated this Houſe, that my Name may be there for ever; where my Eyes and Heart ſhall be at all Times.

17. As for thee, if thou wilt go before me, as thy Father David went; even to do entirely as I have commanded thee, obſerving my Ordinances and Rules:

18. I will eſtabliſh the Throne of thy Kingdom, as I made a Covenant thus with thy Father David, Thou ſhalt not have a Man fail of ruling over Iſrael.

19. But if you turn back, and forſake my Ordinances and Commandments, which I have put before you; as alſo go, and ſerve other gods, and bow down to them:

20. I will pluck thoſe up from my Country which I have given them, and caſting this Houſe that I have conſecrated to my Name from my Face, will make it a Proverb and Taunt among all People.

21. And at this Houſe which is moſt high, ſhall every one who paſſes by it be aſtoniſhed, and ſay, Why has the Lord done thus to this Country and Houſe?

22. To which ſome ſhall anſwer, Becauſe they forſook the Lord God of their Fathers, who brought them out of the Country of Egypt, and taking hold of other gods, bowed down to them, and ſerved them; therefore has he brought upon them all this Harm.

CHAP. VIII.

AND at the End of twenty Years, wherein Solomon built the Houſe of the Lord, and his own Houſe;

2. Thoſe Cities which Huram gave him did Solomon build, and made the Iſraelites dwell there.

3. Solomon further went to Hamath-zobah, and prevailed againſt it.

4. And he built Tadmor in the Wilderneſs, with all the Cities of Stores which he did at Hamath.

5. He likewiſe built both the upper and lower Beth-horon, fortified Cities, with Walls, Gates and Bars;

6. And Baalath, and all the Cities of Stores which he had, together with all the Cities for Chariots, and thoſe for Horſemen, nay all that which he deſired to build at Jeruſalem, Lebanon, and in the whole Country of his Dominion.

7. As for all the People that were left of the Hittites, and Amorites, and Perizzites, and Hivites, and Jebuſites, who were not of Iſrael;

8. On ſuch of their Children as were left after them in the Country, whom the Iſraelites did not diſpatch, Solomon has put a Tribute to this Day.

9. Whereas of thoſe who were Iſraelites he made no Slaves for his Work: for they were Warriors, the chief of his Captains, and the Governors of his Chariots and Cavalry.

10. And these were the chief of the Officers who belonged to King Solomon, two hundred and fifty, that ruled over the People.

11. Besides Solomon brought up Pharaoh's Daughter from the City of David, to the House that he had built for her: for he said, My Wife shall not dwell in the House of David King of Israel, because those Places are holy to which the Ark of the Lord is come.

12. Then he offered up Burnt-offerings to the Lord, upon the Lord's Altar, which he had built before the Porch;

13. Even each Day's Matter the same Day, by offering up according to the Commandment of Moses, at the Sabbaths, New-moons, and the appointed Times three times in a Year, in the Feast of unleavened Bread, in that of Weeks and that of Tabernacles.

14. Nay he appointed according to the Rule of his Father David, the Partitions of the Priests in their Service, and of the Levites in their Charges, to praise and minister before the Priests, for each Day's Matter the very same Day, as also the Porters in their Partitions at each Gate: for so had David the Man of God commanded.

15. Nor did they depart from the King's Commandment to the Priests and Levites, concerning any Matter, particularly the Treasures.

16. And all Solomon's Work was prepared against the Day of the founding of the Lord's House, and till it was finished; the House of the Lord being compleat.

17. Then Solomon went to Ezion-geber, and Eloth, at the Shoar of the Sea, in the Country of Edom.

18. Huram also by the Hand of his Servants sent him Ships, and Servants that knew the Sea, who went with Solomon's Servants to Ophir, and fetched from thence four hundred and fifty Talents of Gold, and brought to King Solomon.

CHAP. IX.

AND the Queen of Sheba hearing the Fame of Solomon, came to try him with difficult Questions at Jerusalem, with a very great Retinue, and Camels carrying Spices, as also Gold in abundance, and precious Stones; and when she was come to Solomon, she talked with him all that was in her Mind.

2. However he told her all her Matters, and there was Nothing hid from him which he did not tell her.

3. At length when the Queen of Sheba had seen the Wisdom of Solomon, the House that he had built,

4. The Meat of his Table, the sitting of his Servants, the standing of his Waiters with their Cloaths, and of his Butlers with theirs, and his Ascent by which he went up to the House of the Lord, there was Spirit no longer in her.

5. And she said to the King: It was a true Saying which I heard in my own Country, concerning thy Things, and concerning thy Wisdom.

6. Nevertheless I did not believe the Words, until I came, and my Eyes saw; whereas behold half the Greatness of thy Wisdom was not told me: thou exceedest the Report that I heard.

7. Happy are thy Men, and happy these thy Servants, who stand before thee continually, and hear thy Wisdom.

8. The Lord thy God be blessed, who delighted in thee, to put thee upon his Throne, to be King for himself: by the Love of thy God to Israel, to make it remain for ever, he also put thee for a King over them, to do what is right and just.

9. Besides she gave the King a hundred and twenty Talents of Gold, Spices very abundantly, and precious Stones: and there was not such Spice, as that which the Queen of Sheba gave King Solomon.

10. And the Servants too of Huram, with his Servants, who brought Gold from Ophir, brought Algum-trees, and precious Stones.

11. Then the King made of the Algum-trees Walks to the House of the Lord and the King's House, as likewise Harps and Lutes for the Singers: and there were no such as those seen before in the Country of Judah.

12. King Solomon alſo gave the Queen of Sheba all her Deſire which ſhe aſked, beſides what ſhe brought to the King: ſo ſhe turned, and went to her own Country, with her Servants.

13. And the Weight of Gold which came to him in one Year, was ſix hundred ſixty ſix Talents of Gold;

14. Beſide what was from Men finding it out, and Traders that brought it, with all the Kings of Arabia, and the Princes of the Country, who brought Gold and Silver to Solomon.

15. Moreover King Solomon made two hundred Bucklers of Gold hammered out, ſix hundred Shekels of which Gold were put into one Buckler.

16. There were likewiſe three hundred Shields of Gold hammered out, three hundred Shekels of Gold being put into one Shield; and the King put them into the Houſe of the Wood of Lebanon.

17. And he made a great Throne of Ivory, which he covered with pure Gold.

18. Now to the Throne were ſix Stairs, with a Step of Gold, faſtened to it, and Stays were on both Sides of the Sitting-place, two Lions ſtanding by the Stays.

19. Twelve Lions alſo ſtood there upon the ſix Stairs on both Sides: there was not ſuch made for any Kingdom.

20. All King Solomon's Drinking-veſſels too were Gold, and all the Veſſels of the Houſe of the Wood of Lebanon preſerved Gold: none were Silver, that was a Thing not eſteemed in the Time of Solomon.

21. For the King had Ships which went to Tarſhiſh, with the Servants of Huram: once in three Years came the Ships of Tarſhiſh, bringing Gold and Silver, Ivory, and Apes, and Peacocks.

22. And he was the greateſt of all the Kings of the Earth, in Riches and Wiſdom.

23. So that they all ſought the Preſence of Solomon, to hear his Wiſdom which God had put in his Heart.

24. And they brought their ſeveral Preſents, Inſtruments both of Silver and Gold, with Garments, Armour and Spices, Horſes and Mules; each Year's Things the ſame Year.

25. He too had four thouſand Stables for Horſes and Chariots, and twelve thouſand Horſemen; that he placed in the Chariot-cities, and with the King in Jeruſalem.

26. And he ruled over all the Kings, from the River to the Country of the Philiſtines, and to the Border of Egypt.

27. Nay the King made Silver to be in Jeruſalem like Stones, as he did Cedars like Sycomores, which are in the Vale abundantly.

28. They likewiſe brought Horſes out of Egypt for Solomon, and out of all Countries.

29. As for the Reſidue of his Affairs, the former and latter, are they not written in the Affairs of Nathan the Prophet, in the Prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite, and in the Viſion of Iddo the Seer againſt Jeroboam the Son of Nebat?

30. And Solomon reigned at Jeruſalem over all Iſrael forty Years.

31. When he lay down with his Fathers, being buried in the City of his Father David; and Rehoboam his Son reigned in his room.

CHAP. X.

AND Rehoboam went to Shechem; for all Iſrael came thither to make him King.

2. Which when Jeroboam the Son of Nebat heard (who was in Egypt, to which he fled from the Preſence of King Solomon) he returned from Egypt;

3. They having ſent for him: ſo he and all Iſrael came, and ſpoke thus to Rehoboam,

4. Thy Father made our Yoke hard; now therefore make his hard Service lighter, and his heavy Yoke which he put upon us, and we will ſerve thee.

5. To whom he ſaid, Let there be yet three Days, and come again to me: accordingly the People went away.

6. And King Rehoboam conſulted thus with the old Men, who ſtood before Solomon his Father while he was alive, How do you adviſe, that I ſhould return Word to this People?

7. Who ſpoke to him as follows, If thou wilt be humane to this People, wilt pleaſe them, and give them good Words, they will be Servants to thee at all Times.

8. But he left the Counſel which the old Men gave him, and conſulted with the young Men that were bred up with him, who ſtood before him.

9. To theſe he ſaid, What do you adviſe, that we may return this People Word, who have ſpoken thus to me, Make the Yoke lighter which thy Father put upon us.

10. And they ſaid to him as follows; Thus tell the People who have ſpoken ſo to thee, Thy Father made our Yoke heavy, and do thou make it lighter to us; My little Finger, ſay thou to them, ſhall be thicker than my Father's Loins.

11. For now whereas my Father loaded you with a heavy Yoke, I will add to your Yoke: my Father chaſtiſed you with Whips, but I will with Scorpions.

12. So Jeroboam and all the People came to Rehoboam the third Day; as the King had ordered, that they ſhould come again to him then.

13. And he gave them a ſurly Anſwer, King Rehoboam leaving the Counſel of the old Men.

14. For he ſpoke to them according to the Counſel of the young Men, as follows, Whereas my Father made your Yoke heavy, I will add to it: my Father chaſtiſed you with Whips, but I will with Scorpions.

15. Thus the King did not hearken to the People: for the Motive was from God, that the Lord might confirm his Word, which he ſpoke by the Miniſtry of Ahijah the Shilonite, to Jeroboam the Son of Nebat.

16. And when all Iſrael ſaw that the King hearkened not to them, the People returned this Word to him, What Part have we in David? Nor is there Poſſeſſion in the Son of Jeſſe; each one away to thy Tents, O Iſrael, now look home, David. Accordingly all Iſrael went to their Tents.

17. But as for the Iſraelites that dwelt in the Cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

18. Then he ſent Hadoram, who was over the Tribute; but him the Iſraelites ſtoned with Stones, ſo that he died: upon which King Rehoboam ſtrengthened himſelf to get up into the Chariot, to flee to Jeruſalem.

19. And Iſrael have rebelled againſt the Family of David to this Day.

CHAP. XI.

HOWEVER when Rehoboam was come to Jeruſalem, he gathered together the Family of Judah and Benjamin, a hundred and eighty thouſand choſen Men Warriors; to fight with Iſrael, that he might reſtore the Kingdom to himſelf.

2. But Shemaiah the Man of God had the Lord's Commiſſion as follows:

3. Speak to Rehoboam the Son of Solomon King of Judah, and to all Iſrael in Judah and Benjamin, in this manner;

4. Thus ſays the Lord, You ſhall not go up, nor fight with your Brethren; return to your reſpective Homes, for this Thing is brought to paſs by me. And they hearkened to the Words of the Lord, for they returned from going againſt Jeroboam.

5. And Rehoboam dwelt at Jeruſalem, and built Cities of Fortification in Judah;

6. Namely Beth-lehem, Etam, Tekoa,

7. Beth-zur, Socho, Adullam,

8. Gath, Mareſhah, Ziph,

9. Adoraim, Lachiſh, Azekah,

10. Zorah, Aijalon and Hebron, which are fortified Cities in Judah and Benjamin.

11. And he made the Fortifications ſtrong, in which he put Rulers, with Magazines of Food, Oil and Wine;

12. Nay in every particular City Shields and Spears, and ſtrengthened them very much, as Judah and Benjamin belonged to him.

13. And the Prieſts and Levites who were in all Iſrael, preſented themſelves to him from all their Borders.

14. For the Levites left their Suburbs and Poſſeſſion, and went to Judah and Jeruſalem; becauſe Jeroboam and his Sons caſt them off from executing the Prieſthood to the Lord:

15. As he appointed him Prieſts for the Chapels, Devils, and the Calves that he made.

16. And after them out of all the Tribes of Iſrael, ſuch as gave their Hearts to ſeek the Lord God of Iſrael, came to Jeruſalem, to ſacrifice to the Lord God of their Fathers.

17. So they made the Kingdom of Judah ſtrong, and ſtrengthened Rehoboam the Son of Solomon three Years: for they went in the Way of David and Solomon ſo long.

18. And Rehoboam married Mahalath the Daughter of Jerimoth, the Son of David: Abihail the Daughter of Eliab, the Son of Jeſſe;

19. And ſhe bore to him Children, Jeuſh, Shemariah and Zaham.

20. After her likewiſe he took Maachah the Daughter of Abſalom, who bore to him Abijah, Attai, Ziza and Shelomith.

21. He alſo loved Maachah the Daughter of Abſalom, the moſt of all his Wives and Concubines: for he took eighteen Wives and ſixty Concubines, and begot twenty eight Sons and ſixty Daughters.

22. Beſides he appointed Abijah the Son of Maachah to be the chief Ruler among his Brethren, becauſe he would make him King.

23. And being prudent, he diſperſed ſome of all his different Children to all the Countries of Judah and Benjamin, into all the fortified Cities, and gave them Victuals abundantly; he requiring Abundance of Wives.

CHAP. XII.

BUT when he had eſtabliſhed the Kingdom, and made himſelf ſtrong, he forſook the Law of the Lord, and all Iſrael with him.

2. So in the fifth Year of King Rehoboam, Shiſhak King of Egypt came up againſt Jeruſalem (becauſe they had done amiſs againſt the Lord)

3. With a thouſand and two hundred Chariots, and ſixty thouſand Horſemen; and the People were without Number who came from Egypt with him, the Lubites, Succhites and Ethiopians.

4. And taking the fortified Cities which belonged to Judah, he came to Jeruſalem.

5. Upon this the Prophet Shemaiah came to Rehoboam and the Princes of Judah, who were gathered together to Jeruſalem by reaſon of Shiſhak, and ſaid to them; Thus ſays the Lord, As you left me, I have alſo left you in the Power of Shiſhak.

6. Then the Princes of Iſrael, and the King became humbled, and ſaid, The Lord is righteous.

7. And when the Lord ſaw that they were humble, Shemaiah had his Commiſſion as follows; Since they are become humble, I will not deſtroy them, but give them ſome little Deliverance, and my Wrath ſhall not be poured out on Jeruſalem by the Power of Shiſhak.

8. But they ſhall become Servants to him, that they may not only know my Service, but that of the Kingdoms of other Countries.

9. Now Shiſhak King of Egypt coming up againſt Jeruſalem, took the Treaſures of the Houſe of the Lord, and thoſe of the King's Houſe, taking away all, as he did the Shields of Gold that Solomon had made.

10. Inſtead of which King Rehoboam made Shields of Braſs, and committed them to the Cuſtody of the chief of the Footmen who kept the Gate of the King's Houſe.

11. So that at the King's coming to the Houſe of the Lord, the Footmen came, and carried them, then brought them back to heir own Chamber.

12. However when he was humble the Lord's Anger turned back from him, ſo that he would not deſtroy wholly; nay even in Judah Matters were well.

13. And King Rehoboam ſtrengthening himſelf in Jeruſalem, reigned: for he was in his forty firſt Year when he began reigning, and reigned ſeventeen Years in Jeruſalem, the City which the Lord choſe out of all the Tribes of Iſrael to put his Name there, whoſe Mother was named Naamah, an Ammoniteſs.

14. He nevertheleſs did what was evil, becauſe he prepared not his Heart to ſeek the Lord.

15. As for his Affairs, the former and latter, are they not written in the Affairs of Shemaiah the Prophet, and Iddo the Seer concerning Pedigree? There being Wars with him and Jeroboam continually.

16. And Rehoboam lay down with his Fathers, being buried in the City of David, and Abijah his Son reigned in his room.

CHAP. XIII.

IT was in the eighteenth Year of King Jeroboam, when Abijah began reigning over Judah.

2. Three Years reigned he at Jeruſalem, whoſe Mother's Name was Michaiah, the Daughter of Uriel of Gibeah; and there was War between him and Jeroboam.

3. And Abijah ſet the Battle in order, with an Army of powerful Men for War, four hundred thouſand choſen ones; againſt whom Jeroboam put the Battle in order, with eight hundred thouſand choſen valiant Men.

4. Then Abijah roſe up from Mount Zemaraim, which is on Mount Ephraim, and ſaid: Hear me, Jeroboam and all Iſrael,

5. Is it not for you to know, that the Lord God of Iſrael gave the Kingdom over Iſrael, to David himſelf and his Children for ever, by an incorruptible Covenant?

6. Yet Jeroboam the Son of Nebat, a Servant of Solomon the Son of David, roſe up, and rebelled againſt his Lord.

7. And there gathered together to him vain Men, ungodly Perſons, who ſtrengthened themſelves againſt Rehoboam the Son of Solomon, when he was a Youth, and of a tender Heart, and was not ſtrong before them.

8. And now ye think to make your ſelves ſtrong before the Kingdom of the Lord, in the Power of the Sons of David; ye being a large Multitude, and the Calves of Gold with you, that Jeroboam made you for gods.

9. Have not ye driven away the Prieſts of the Lord, Aaron's Sons, and the Levites, and made you Prieſts like the People of the Countries? Any one upon coming to fill his Hand with a young Bullock of the Herd, and ſeven Rams, may be a Prieſt to ſuch as are not gods.

10. But as for us, the Lord is our God, whom we have not forſaken; and the Prieſts that miniſter to the Lord are Aaron's Sons, and the Levites are in the Buſineſs.

11. Who burn to the Lord Burnt-offerings each Morning and Evening, and Incenſe of Odours, as alſo put the Bread in order upon the pure Table, and the Candleſtick of Gold with its Lamps, to burn each Evening; for we keep the Charge of the Lord our God: whereas ye have forſaken him.

12. So behold God is with us for a Captain, and his Prieſts with ſounding Trumpets, to ſound forth againſt you: O Iſraelites, do not fight with the Lord God of your Fathers, for you will not proſper.

13. However Jeroboam brought about an Ambuſcade, to come behind them; ſo that they themſelves were before Judah, and the Ambuſcade behind them.

14. And Judah looking, behold they had the Battle before and behind; upon this they cried to the Lord, and the Prieſts blew the Trumpets.

15. The Men of Judah alſo ſhouted; and it came to paſs when they did, that God beat Jeroboam and all Iſrael, before Abijah and Judah:

16. Inſomuch that the Iſraelites fled from the Preſence of Judah, and God delivered them into their Power.

17. Whom Abijah and his People ſlew with a great Slaughter, there falling ſlain of Iſrael five hundred thouſand choſen Men.

18. Thus were the Iſraelites humbled at that Time; and the People of Judah were ſtrengthened, becauſe they depended upon the Lord God of their Fathers.

19. And Abijah purſuing after Jeroboam, took Cities from him, Beth-el, Jeſhanah and Ephraim, with their Towns.

20. Nay Jeroboam retained Strength no more in the Time of Abijah; and the Lord ſmote him, ſo that he died.

21. Whereas Abijah became ſtrong, took him fourteen Wives, and begot twenty two Sons and ſixteen Daughters.

22. As for the reſt of Abijah's Affairs, with his Ways and Sayings, they are written in the Hiſtory of the Prophet Iddo.

CHAP. XIV.

AND Abijah lay down with his Fathers, they burying him in the City of David, and Aſa his Son reigned in his room; in whoſe Time the Country was quiet ten Years.

2. And Aſa did what the Lord his God liked, and approved of.

Ver. 5. gave the Kingdom] So upon an Invaſion of the Turks, Manugeher King of Perſia, as Tabari an ancient Author of that Nation writing his Life relates, ſpoke piouſly thus; 'The moſt holy and high God delivered to 'me this Kingdom, that I might render him Praiſe and 'Glory by my Actions as a Prince, preſerving my People 'in Plenty and Peace, and impartially diſtributing Juſtice, 'that thereby the glorious Gift of God might in my Hand 'be ſtrengthened and increaſed. Ib. incorruptible] The Heb. Word uſed elſewhere for Salt ſeems metaphorical here, unlike what it is Num. xviii. 19. for what was there of Salt literally in this Covenant, that it ſhould be called a Covenant of Salt?

4. Nay he ordered Judah to ſeek the Lord God of their Fathers, and to perform the Law and Commandment.

5. He even took away out of all the Cities of Judah, the Chapels and ſun-burnt Images; and the Kingdom was quiet before him.

6. Beſides he built fortified Cities in Judah; as the Country was quiet, and there was no War with him in theſe Years, becauſe the Lord gave him reſt.

7. So he ſaid to Judah; Let us build theſe Cities, and incloſe each with a Wall and Towers, Gates and Bars, while the Country is before us; ſince we have ſought the Lord our God, upon doing which he has given us reſt on every ſide. Accordingly they built, and proſpered.

8. And Aſa had an Army that carried Bucklers and Spears, out of Judah three hundred thouſand, and out of Benjamin that carried Shields and bended Bows, two hundred and eighty thouſand; all theſe being valiant Men.

9. And when Zerah the Cuſhite came out againſt them, with an Army of a thouſand thouſands, and three hundred Chariots, coming to Mareſhah;

10. Aſa went out before him, and they put the Battle in order in the Valley of Zephathah, at Mareſhah.

11. And Aſa called thus to the Lord his God, O Lord, it is no difference with thee to help between many and ſuch as have no Power, help us, O Lord our God; for we depend upon thee, and in thy Name go againſt this Multitude: O Lord thou art our God, let not Man rule with thee.

12. Then the Lord beat the Cuſhites before Aſa and Judah, ſo that they fled.

13. Whom Aſa and the People that were with him purſued to Gerar, and there fell of them, without their having Recovery; for they were broken before the Lord, and his Camp: and theſe carried away very much Spoil.

14. Moreover they ſmote all the Cities round about Gerar, for the Dread of the Lord was upon them; they alſo plundered all the Cities, for there was much Plunder in them.

15. And they likewiſe ſmote the Tents of Cattle, driving away Sheep and Camels abundantly, and returned to Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XV.

AND the Spirit of God being upon Azariah the Son of Oded,

2. He went out before Aſa, and ſaid to him: Hear me, Aſa, with all Judah and Benjamin, the Lord will be with you, while ye are with him; and if ye ſeek him, he will be found by you; but if ye forſake him, he will forſake you.

3. Now Iſrael has been a great while without the true God, without a teaching Prieſt, and without the Law.

4. However when they returned to the Lord God of Iſrael in their Diſtreſs, and ſought him, he was found by them.

5. And in thoſe Times there was no Peace to him who went out, or to him who came in: for great Vexations were upon all the Inhabitants of the Countries.

6. One Nation likewiſe was beat by another, and one City by another: for God did vex them with all Diſtreſs.

7. Be you therefore ſtrong, and let not your Hands be ſlack: for there will be a Reward for your Work.

8. Encouraged at hearing theſe Words, and the Prophecy of Oded the Prophet, Aſa took away the deteſtable Things out of the whole Country of Judah and Benjamin, and out of the Cities which he had taken from Mount Ephraim, and renewed the Altar of the Lord that was before the Lord's Porch.

9. Beſides he gathered together all Judah and Benjamin, as alſo the Strangers with them

Ver. 12. beat] That this was in the Beginning of the fifteenth Year of Aſa's Reign, is apparent from Chap. xv. 2, 10, 11. However in the late Univerſal Hiſtory, Book I. Ch. vii. Sect. 7. it is ſaid, 'Archbiſhop Uſher places this 'famous Action in the firſt Year of Aſa's Reign, Ann. 'ſub A. But it ſeems the Miſtake was made by conſulting only the Eng. Tranſlation of Uſher's Annals, which is incorrect, and evidently not done by himſelf, where the Words are, 'In the Beginning of Aſa his Reign;' which notwithſtanding is far from juſtifying the Quotation, and even there [15] ſtands againſt it for the Years of Aſa's Reign.

Ver. 8. and the Prophecy] Though it may ſeem too bold to affirm, whether this was the ſame with the foregoing or not; yet I am inclined to think the former, and that Oded had ſome Hand in it, notwithſtanding his Son Azariah was inſpired to deliver it, Ver. 1. out out of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, and out of Simeon: for they deſerted to him out of Iſrael abundantly, when they ſaw that the Lord his God was with him.

10. Thus they were gathered together at Jeruſalem in the third Month, at the fifteenth Year of the Reign of Aſa.

11. At which Time they ſacrificed to the Lord of the Spoil that they had brought, ſeven hundred of the Herd, and ſeven thouſand of the Flock.

12. They further entered into a Covenant to ſeek the Lord God of their Fathers, with their whole Heart and Soul;

13. And that whoever would not ſeek the Lord God of Iſrael ſhould be put to death, whether ſmall or great, whether Man or Woman.

14. Moreover they ſwore to the Lord aloud, and with Shouting, as likewiſe with Trumpets and Cornets.

15. And all Judah were glad for the Oath, as they ſwore with their whole Heart, and ſought him with their whole Will, ſo that he was found by them; and the Lord gave them reſt on every ſide.

16. Nay as to Maachah the Grandmother of King Aſa, he put her away from being Queen, becauſe ſhe made at a Grove a horrible Idol; Aſa too cut down, broke in pieces, and burnt her Idol, at the Brook Kidron.

17. But the Chapels were not taken away out of Iſrael; however the Heart of Aſa was perfect all his Days.

18. He alſo brought the conſecrated Things of his Father, and thoſe of his own, into the Houſe of God, Silver, Gold and Inſtruments.

19. Now there had been no War till the thirty fifth Year of the Kingdom of Aſa.

CHAP. XVI.

IN the thirty ſixth of Aſa's Kingdom, Baaſha King of Iſrael came up againſt Judah, and built Ramah, that he might not let any go out, or come in, to Aſa King of Judah.

2. Then Aſa took Silver and Gold, out of the Treaſures of the Houſe of the Lord and the King's Houſe, and tranſmitted to Benhadad King of Syria, who dwelt at Damaſcus, with this Meſſage,

3. There being a Treaty between me and thee, as there was between my Father and thine; lo I have ſent thee Silver and Gold: go, break thy Treaty with Baaſha King of Iſrael, that he may go up from me.

4. Accordingly Ben-hadad hearkened to King Aſa, ſending the Captains of the Armies who belonged to him, to the Cities of Iſrael; and they conquered Ijon, Dan, Abel-maim, and all the Store-cities of Naphtali.

5. And as ſoon as Baaſha heard it, he left off building Ramah, and let his Work ceaſe.

6. With that Aſa the King took all Judah, and they carried away the Stones of Ramah, and the Timber of it, with which Baaſha was building; and he built with them Geba and Mizpah.

7. At which Time Hanani the Seer came to Aſa King of Judah, and ſaid to him; For thy depending upon the King of Syria, and not depending upon the Lord thy God, therefore is the Army of the King of Syria eſcaped from thee.

8. Were not the Cuſhites and Lubites, an Army of a Multitude, of Chariots and Horſemen very many? Yet for thy depending upon the Lord, he delivered them into thy Power.

9. For as to the Lord, his Eyes go about through the whole Earth, to make himſelf ſtrong with them whoſe Heart is perfect to him. Thou haſt done fooliſhly in this; for henceforth there will be Wars with thee.

10. Diſpleaſed therefore at the Seer, Aſa put him into the Houſe of the Stocks, becauſe he had indignation with him for this; he alſo troubled

Ver. 16. Grandmother] for which turn back to 1 King. xv. 10.

Ver. 19. Now there had been] For the War in the 35th Year appears to be that before mentioned with Zerah, which was in that Year by the Chronology, and it would be ſtrange to ſay there was no War from the 35th unto the five and thirtieth Year; as for [more] you may ſee it is an Addition of the Tranſlators, to the Injury of the Senſe and Trouble of Computation; and by the Verſe that follows this, the War with Baaſha began in the next Year. Though I ſuppoſed this Interpretation might be new, on looking I find Jun. and Trem. have tranſlated, For there had been.

Ver. 1. Aſa's Kingdom] the Kingdom of Judah, which was then Aſa's: ſo this was in the 16th Year of his Reign, according to the Chron. Table, and Baaſha died in the 26th, 1 King. xvi. 8. therefore could not do what is here related 10 Years after. Thus the laſt Verſe of the foregoing Chap. is to be underſtood; the Heb. Word properly ſignifying Kingdom. And thus Lightfoot expounds it, and ſays it ſhould be rendered, Prolegom. to The Harm. of the four Evang. Elwood by a Miſtake (of the Pen or Preſs) in the Annotations of Jun. and Trem. on Chap. xv. 19. and his own Miſtake of that Verſe for this, computing the 36th Year of the Kingdom to be in the 14th Year of Aſa's Reign, argues that this could not be the 36th Year of the Kingdom, becauſe it was after the 15th of Aſa, Chap. xv. 10. the Mention of which is Refutation ſufficient; yet Howel, it ſeems, thought it good enough to take for his own, and Stackhouſe to quote from him. Bedford places the Defeat of Zerah 10 Years in Aſa's Reign, Chap. xiv. 1. when this ſeems rather the Beginning of that or other Troubles, as it is very unlikely the Oxen and Sheep were kept five Years before they were offered, Chap. xv. 10, 11. But that being in the third Month of Aſa's 15th Year, and the Beginning of Baaſha's War at the End of the 16th, leaves Room for the Reſt mentioned, Ver. 15. and ſeems to adjuſt the whole in a Manner moſt agreeable to the ſeveral Texts.

troubled ſome of the People at the ſame Time.

11. Behold as for Aſa's Affairs, the former and latter, lo they are written in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Iſrael.

12. Now Aſa in the thirty ninth Year of his Reign was ill in his Feet, till his Diſeaſe was at a great Height; and even in his Diſeaſe he did not ſeek the Lord, but to the Phyſicians.

13. And Aſa lay down with his Fathers, dying in the forty firſt Year of his Reigning.

14. Whom they buried in his Sepulchres which he had dug for himſelf in the City of David, and laid in a Bed that was full of Spices of ſeveral Kinds, made into Balſam by the Apothecary's Work; they alſo made an exceeding great Burning for him.

CHAP. XVII.

AND Jehoſhaphat his Son reigned in his room, who made himſelf ſtrong againſt Iſrael.

2. For he put Forces in all the fortified Cities of Judah, as he did Garriſons in the Country of it, and in the Cities of Ephraim which Aſa his Father had taken.

3. And the Lord was with him, becauſe he went in the former Ways of David his Father, and did not ſeek to Baalim;

4. But ſought to the God of his Father, and went in his Commandments, and not according to the Work of Iſrael.

5. So the Lord eſtabliſhed the Kingdom in his Power, and all Judah gave Jehoſhaphat Preſents, and he had Riches and Honour abundantly.

6. Thus his Heart was exalted in the Ways of the Lord, that he might yet take away the Chapels and Groves out of Judah.

7. And in the third Year of his Reign he ſent to his Princes, namely Ben-hail, Obadiah, Zechariah, Nethaneel and Michaiah, to teach in the Cities of Judah;

8. With them alſo the following Levites, Shemaiah, Nethaniah, Zebadiah, Aſahel, Shemiramoth, Jehonathan, Adonijah, Tobijah, and Tob-adonijah; and with them Eliſhama and Jehoram, Prieſts.

9. Who taught in Judah, having the Book of the Lord's Law with them; and they went about in all the Cities of Judah, and taught the People.

10. And the Dread of the Lord was upon all the Kingdoms of the Countries, which were round about Judah, ſo that they did not make war with Jehoſhaphat.

11. Some of the Philiſtines too brought him Preſents and Tax-ſilver; as the Arabians did Flocks, ſeven thouſand and ſeven hundred Rams, and ſeven thouſand and ſeven hundred He-goats.

12. And Jehoſhaphat went on, and was exceeding great; building in Judah Palaces, and Store-cities.

13. Moreover he had much Buſineſs in the Cities of Judah. And there were Warriors, valiant ones at Jeruſalem.

14. Of whom theſe are the Numbers after the Family of their Fathers: of Judah, the Captains of Thouſands, Adnah the chief, and with him valiant men three hundred thouſand;

15. And at his Hand Jehohanan the chief, and with him two hundred and eighty thouſand;

16. At whoſe Hand was Amaſiah the Son of Zichri, who freely offered to the Lord, and with him two hundred thouſand valiant Men;

17. And of Benjamin, the valiant Eliada, and with him armed Men with Bow and Shield two hundred thouſand;

18. As likewiſe at his Hand Jehozabad, with whom were a hundred and eighty thouſand made ready for War.

19. Theſe waited on the King, beſides thoſe whom he put in the fortified Cities in all Judah.

Ver. 11. Arabians] Of theſe People Leo Africanus counts three Sorts, Lib. i. 19. the Iſhmeelites, ſuch as were in that Country before them, and they who came in after them.

Ver. 14. three hundred thouſand] I account for theſe great Numbers, by the Probability that many People might come out of the Kingdom of Iſrael, and dwell in that of Judah, both for the ſake of Religion and other Advantages; as there were civil Wars in Iſrael before Jehoſhaphat came to the Crown, and the wicked tyrannical Ahab and Jezebel reigned there. So thoſe who dwelt in Judah and Benjamin, might be reckoned as belonging to either.

down to Ahab at Samaria, who killed Sheep and Oxen for him abundantly, and for the People that were with him, and perſuaded him to go up againſt Ramoth-gilead.

3. And when Ahab King of Iſrael aſked Jehoſhaphat King of Judah, Wilt thou go with me to Ramoth-gilead? He anſwered him, I am the ſame as thou art, and like thy People are mine, who ſhall be with thee in the War.

4. But added he to him, Enquire, I pray, the Word of the Lord preſently.

5. Upon this the King of Iſrael gathered together the Prophets, four hundred Men, and ſaid to them, Shall we go to war againſt Ramoth-gilead, or ſhall I forbear? And they declared, Go up, and God will deliver it into the King's Power.

6. However Jehoſhaphat aſked, Is here no Prophet of the Lord yet, of whom we may enquire?

7. And the King of Iſrael anſwered him, There is yet one Man, to enquire of the Lord from him; but I hate him, for he does not propheſy well concerning me, but ill all his Days, that is Micaiah the Son of Imla. To which Jehoſhaphat replied, Let not the King ſay ſo.

8. He therefore called an Officer, and ſaid, Make haſte for Micaiah the Son of Imla.

9. Now the King of Iſrael, and Jehoſhaphat King of Judah, ſate upon their reſpective Thrones, ſuitably cloathed, ſitting in the Floor at the Entrance of the Gate of Samaria; and all the Prophets propheſied before them.

10. And Zedekiah the Son of Chenaanah, having made him Horns of Iron, declared; Thus ſays the Lord, With theſe ſhalt thou puſh the Syrians, till they are conſumed.

11. All the Prophets likewiſe propheſied ſo, ſaying, Go up to Ramoth-gilead, and proſper, for the Lord will deliver it into the King's Power.

12. So the Meſſenger who went to call Micaiah, ſpoke thus to him, Behold the Words of the Prophets are good with one Conſent to the King; let thy Word, I pray, be like that of one of them, and ſpeak thou Good.

13. But Micaiah ſaid, By the Lord's living, what my God ſays, I will ſpeak.

14. And coming to the King, he aſked him, Micah, ſhall we go againſt Ramoth-gilead to war, or ſhall I forbear? Who anſwered, Go you up, and proſper, ſince it ſhall be delivered into your Power.

15. Yet when the King ſaid to him, How many times ſhall I require thee to ſwear that thou wilt ſpeak to me Nothing but the Truth in the Name of the Lord?

16. He replied, I ſaw all Iſrael ſcattered upon the Mountains, as Sheep which have no Shepherd; and the Lord ſaid, Theſe have no Maſter, let them return to their ſeveral Homes in Peace.

17. At which the King of Iſrael ſaid to Jehoſhaphat, Did not I tell thee, he would not propheſy well concerning me, but ill?

18. Beſides he ſaid: Therefore hear you the Word of the Lord; I ſaw him ſitting upon his Throne, and all the Army of Heaven were ſtanding on his right Hand and his left.

19. When the Lord ſaid, Who will perſuade Ahab King of Iſrael, that he may go up, and fall at Ramoth-gilead? To which one making a Propoſal after this Manner, and another after that;

20. There came forth a Spirit, and ſtood before the Lord, who ſaid, I will perſuade him; and upon the Lord's aſking him, By what?

21. He anſwered, I will go forth, and be a falſe Spirit in the Mouths of all his Prophets. And he replied, Thou ſhalt perſuade, and alſo prevail; go out, and do ſo.

22. Therefore now behold the Lord has put a falſe Spirit into the Mouths of theſe thy Prophets; and the Lord has ſpoken ill concerning thee.

23. With that Zedekiah the Son of Chenaanah going nigh, ſtruck Micaiah on the Cheek, and aſked, What Way was it the Spirit of the Lord paſſed from me to ſpeak to thee?

24. And Micaiah ſaid, Behold thou wilt ſee on that Day, in which thou ſhalt go into an inner Chamber to hide.

25. The King of Iſrael notwithſtanding ordered; Take Micaiah, and have him back to Amon the Governor of the City, and to Joaſh the King's Son.

26. And tell; Thus ſays the King, Put this Man into a Houſe of Reſtraint, and make him live upon both the Victuals and Drink of Oppreſſion, till I return in Peace.

27. Whereas Micaiah ſaid, If thou at all returneſt in Peace, the Lord has not ſpoken by me; hear, added he, all theſe People.

28. So the King of Iſrael, and Jehoſhaphat King of Judah, went up againſt Ramoth-gilead.

29. And the former ſaid to Jehoſhaphat, I will diſguiſe my ſelf, and go into the Battle, but do thou put on thy Garments. Accordingly he diſguiſed himſelf, and they went into the Battle.

30. Now the King of Syria had thus commanded the Captains of the Chariots that he had, Do not fight with ſmall or great, but with the King of Iſrael alone.

31. And when they ſaw Jehoſhaphat, they ſaid, It is the King of Iſrael, and turned about to fight againſt him; at which he cried out, and the Lord helped him, God turning them away from him.

32. But as ſoon as they ſaw that it was not the King of Iſrael, they turned back from after him.

33. And a Man drawing a Bow undeſignedly, hit the King of Iſrael between the Breaſt-plate and the Joints; ſo that he ſaid to his Charioteer, Turn thy Hand, and have me out of the Army; for I am ſick.

34. The Battle alſo came to ſuch a Height that Day, that the King of Iſrael was made to remain in the Chariot before the Syrians till the Evening; but died at the Time of the Sun's going down.

CHAP. XIX.

AND Jehoſhaphat King of Judah returned home in Peace to Jeruſalem.

2. Into whoſe Preſence Jehu the Son of Hanani the Seer went forth, and ſaid to him; Doſt thou help the Wicked, and love thoſe who hate the Lord? So there is Wrath from before the Lord againſt thee for this.

3. But good Things are found with thee, becauſe thou haſt taken away the Groves out of the Country, and prepared thy Heart to ſeek God.

4. And Jehoſhaphat who dwelt in Jeruſalem, went out again among the People from Beer-ſheba to Mount Ephraim, and brought them back to the Lord God of their Fathers.

5. He alſo appointed Judges in the Country, in all the fortified Cities of Judah, at each City:

6. And ſaid to the Judges; See what ye do: for ye judge not for Man, but for the Lord, who is with you in a Matter of Judgment.

7. Therefore now let the Dread of the Lord be upon you, obſerve, and do it: for there is no Injuſtice with the Lord our God, or reſpecting of Faces, or taking of Bribes.

8. And likewiſe in Jeruſalem Jehoſhaphat appointed ſome of the Levites, Prieſts, and of the chief of the Fathers of Iſrael, for the Judgment of the Lord, and for Controverſy, when they returned to Jeruſalem.

9. To whom he gave command as follows; Thus ſhall ye do in the Fear of the Lord, in Faithfulneſs, and with a perfect Heart.

10. And whatever Controverſy comes to you, from your Brethren who dwell in their Cities, between Blood and Blood; between Law, Commandment, Ordinances and Rules; ye ſhall warn them, that they ſhould not treſpaſs againſt the Lord, and ſo Wrath be upon you and your Brethren: thus do, and ye will not treſpaſs.

11. Behold Amariah too the high Prieſt is over you in every Matter of the Lord, and Zebadiah the Son of Iſhmael is Ruler of the Family of Judah in every Matter of the King, and the Levites are Officers before you: be courageous, and act, and the Lord will be with the Good.

CHAP. XX.

AND after that the Moabites, Ammonites, and with them ſome beyond the Ammonites, came againſt Jehoſhaphat to war.

2. So ſome came, and told him thus, There is a great Multitude coming againſt thee from beyond the Sea, from Syria; and behold they are at Hazezon-tamar, which is En-gedi,

3. Upon this he was afraid, and put his Face to ſeek the Lord, and proclaimed a Faſt for all Judah.

4. Which alſo gathered together to enquire from the Lord, even out of all the Cities

Cities of Judah did they come to enquire of him.

5. Jehoſhaphat then ſtood among the Congregation of Judah and Jeruſalem, in the Houſe of the Lord, before the new Court,

6. And ſaid: O Lord God of our Fathers, art not thou God himſelf in Heaven, who ruleſt over all the Kingdoms of the Nations, in whoſe Hand is Strength and Power, and none can ſtand with thee;

7. Art not thou our God, who didſt expel the Inhabitants of this Country from before thy People Iſrael, and gaveſt it to the Offſpring of Abraham who loved thee for ever?

8. And they have dwelt in it, nay built thee a Sanctuary therein for thy Name, and ſaid,

9. If Harm coming upon us, the Sword, Judgment, or Peſtilence, or Famine, we ſtand before this Houſe and thee, as thy Name is in it, and cry to thee by reaſon of our Diſtreſs; thou wilt hear, and ſave.

10. And now behold the People of Ammon, Moab and Mount Seir, againſt whom thou wouldeſt not permit Iſrael to go, when they came from the Country of Egypt, ſo that they turned aſide from them, and did not deſtroy them;

11. Behold thus they requite us, by coming to drive us out of thy Inheritance, which thou haſt made us inherit.

12. Our God, wilt not thou bring Judgment on them? For there is no Strength in us, before this great Multitude that is coming againſt us; nor know we what we ſhall do, but our Eyes are upon thee.

13. And all Judah ſtood before the Lord, with their Babes, Wives and Children.

14. Then Jahaziel, the Son of Zechariah, the Son of Benaiah, the Son of Jeiel, the Son of Mattaniah, a Levite of the Poſterity of Aſaph, had the Spirit of the Lord upon him within the Congregation,

15. And ſaid: Hearken, all Judah, the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and King Jehoſhaphat, thus ſays the Lord to you; Do not be afraid nor daunted, by reaſon of the Abundance of the Multitude; for the Battle is not yours, but God's.

16. To Morrow go down againſt them, who behold are coming up by the Aſcent of Ziz; and you ſhall find them by the End of the Valley, at the Outſide of the Wilderneſs of Jeruel.

17. Ye need not fight in this Caſe: place your ſelves, ſtand ſtill, and ſee the Salvation of the Lord with you, O Judah and Jeruſalem; be not afraid nor daunted, go out to Morrow before them, and the Lord will be with you.

18. And Jehoſhaphat bowed with his Face to the Ground, all Judah likewiſe and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem fell down before the Lord, to worſhip him.

19. The Levites alſo of the Poſterity both of the Kohathites and Korhites, ſtood up to praiſe the Lord God of Iſrael, with a loud Voice above.

20. Afterwards they roſe early in the Morning, and went out to the Wilderneſs of Tekoa, and when they were going out, Jehoſhaphat ſtood, and ſaid, Hear me, O Judah and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem; believe the Lord your God, and you will be confirmed, believe his Prophets, and you will proſper.

21. Beſides he took counſel with the People, and appointed Singers to the Lord, even to praiſe thus in holy Comelineſs, while they were going out before the armed Men, Give thanks to the Lord, becauſe his Kindneſs is for ever.

22. And at the Time they began with Singing and Praiſe, the Lord put Ambuſcades againſt the People of Ammon, Moab and Mount Seir, that were coming againſt Judah, and they were ſmitten.

23. For the People of Ammon and Moab ſtood againſt the Inhabitants of Mount Seir, to overthrow and deſtroy; and as ſoon as they had made an end of the Inhabitants of Seir, they helped to ſlay one another.

24. So that when Judah was come by the Watch-tower to the Wilderneſs, they looked at the Multitude, and behold they were dead Bodies fallen to the Ground, and none eſcaped.

25. Now upon Jehoſhaphat's coming with his People to take the Spoil of them, they found among them Abundance as well of Subſtance as dead Bodies, and deſirable Inſtruments, which they took away for themſelves, till they could carry no more; nay they were three Days in taking the Spoil, becauſe it was much.

26. And on the fourth Day they aſſembled to the Vale of Bleſſing, for there they bleſſed the Lord: therefore have they called the Name of that Place The Vale of Bleſſing to this Day.

This is left out by Uſher in his Annals, he having not allowed Time enough for the Tranſactions only of the laſt and preſent Chapters, when there is more in Kings, from the Death of Ahab to that of Ahaziah, which he reckons to be both in the ſame Year.

27. Next

27. Next they returned every Man to Judah and Jeruſalem, Jehoſhaphat being at the Head of them to return to Jeruſalem with Rejoicing: for the Lord made them rejoice over their Enemies.

28. Thus they entered Jeruſalem with Lutes, Harps and Trumpets, to the Houſe of the Lord.

29. And the Dread of God was upon all the Kingdoms of the Countries, when they heard that the Lord fought againſt the Enemies of Iſrael.

30. The Kingdom of Jehoſhaphat was afterwards quiet, his God giving him reſt on every ſide.

31. And he reigned over Judah, being in his thirty fifth Year when he began reigning, and reigned twenty five Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Azubah, the Daughter of Shilhi.

32. And he went in the Way of his Father Aſa, without turning aſide from it, doing what the Lord approved of.

33. However the Chapels were not taken away; as the People had not prepared their Hearts for the God of their Fathers.

34. As to the reſt of Jehoſhaphat's Affairs, the former and latter, behold they are written in the Affairs of Jehu the Son of Hanani, who is mentioned in the Book of the Kings of Iſrael.

35. And after that Jehoſhaphat King of Judah joined himſelf with Ahaziah King of Iſrael, who did wickedly:

36. He even joined himſelf with him, to make Ships to go to Tarſhiſh, and they made the Ships at Ezion-geber.

37. Whereupon Eliezer the Son of Dodavah of Mareſhah propheſied againſt Jehoſhaphat thus, For thy joining thy ſelf with Ahaziah, the Lord has broken thy Works; and the Ships were broke in Pieces, ſo that they could not hold out to go to Tarſhiſh.

CHAP. XXI.

AND Jehoſhaphat lay down with his Fathers, being buried with them in the City of David; and Jehoram his Son reigned in his room.

2. Who had Brothers by Jehoſhaphat, Azariah, Jehiel, Zechariah, Azariahu, Michael and Shephatiah; all theſe being the Sons of Jehoſhaphat King of Iſrael.

3. And their Father gave them great Gifts of Silver, Gold, and precious Things, with fortified Cities in Judah; but gave the Kingdom to Jehoram, becauſe he was the Firſtborn.

4. However Jehoram being riſen up in his Father's Kingdom, and having made himſelf ſtrong, ſlew all his Brothers with the Sword, and alſo ſome of the Princes of Iſrael.

5. Jehoram was in his thirty ſecond Year when he began reigning, and reigned eight Years at Jeruſalem.

6. And he went in the Way of the Kings of Iſrael, as the Family of Ahab did: for he had the Daughter of Ahab for a Wife, and did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with.

7. Yet the Lord would not deſtroy the Family of David, by reaſon of the Covenant that he had made with him, even according as he ſaid he would give him and his Sons a Lamp continually.

8. In his Time Edom revolted from under the Power of Judah, and made a King over them.

9. Whereupon Jehoram paſſing with his Princes, and all the Chariots with him; got ready at Night, and beat the Edomites who compaſſed him about, and the Captains of the Chariots.

10. Nevertheleſs Edom has revolted from under the Power of Judah to this Day: then did Libnah revolt at the ſame Time from under his Power, becauſe he had forſaken the Lord God of his Fathers.

11. He even made Chapels on the Mountains of Judah, and cauſed the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem to go a whoring, nay compelled Judah.

12. And there came to him this Writing from Elijah the Prophet: Thus ſays the Lord God of David thy Father; Foraſmuch as thou haſt not gone in the Ways of thy Father Jehoſhaphat, and in thoſe of Aſa King of Judah;

13. But haſt gone in the Way of the Kings of Iſrael, and made Judah and the In-

15. Thou too ſhalt be in great Diſeaſes, by a Diſtemper of thy Bowels, till they come out by reaſon of the Diſeaſe, Time after Time.

16. Beſides the Lord ſtirred up againſt Jehoram the Spirit of the Philiſtines, and of the Arabians who were at the Side of the Cuſhites.

17. Who came up againſt Judah, broke into it, and carried away all the Subſtance that was found at the King's Houſe, and alſo his Sons and Wives; ſo that he had no Son left, but Jehoahaz the youngeſt of his Sons.

18. Nay after all this the Lord ſmote him in his Bowels with an incurable Diſeaſe.

19. And when the Time was out, Term after Term, at the End of the Term of two Years, his Bowels came out with his Diſeaſe, and he died by bad Diſtempers; inſomuch that his People made no Burning for him, like that of his Fathers.

20. He was in his thirty ſecond Year when he began reigning, and reigned eight Years at Jeruſalem; thus he went away without being deſired, and they buried him in the City of David, but not in the Graves of the Kings.

CHAP. XXII.

AND the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem made Ahaziah his youngeſt Son King in his room, becauſe the Troop that came with the Arabians to the Camp had ſlain all the former: thus Ahaziah the Son of Jehoram King of Judah reigned.

2. It was in the forty ſecond Year when Ahaziah began reigning, and he reigned one Year at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Athaliah, the Daughter of Omri.

3. He went too in the Ways of the Family of Ahab: for his Mother was his Counſellor to do wickedly.

4. So he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, like that Family: for they were Counſellors to him after the Death of his Father, to his Deſtruction.

5. He even went in their Counſel, going with Jehoram the Son of Ahab King of Iſrael to war, againſt Hazael King of Syria, at Ramoth-gilead; and the Syrians ſmote Jora m.

6. Therefore he returned to be cured at Jezreel, becauſe there were Wounds with which they ſmote him at Ramah, when he fought againſt the King already mentioned; and Azariah the Son of Jehoram King of Judah, went down to ſee this Son of Ahab at Jezreel, becauſe he was ill.

7. And the treading down of Ahaziah was of God, by coming to Joram: for when he was come, he went out with Jehoram to

The War with Moab ſeems to be ſoon after the Death of Ahab, 2 King. i. 1. and iii. 5, 6. and Jehoram did not begin reigning till ſix Years after, 2 King. viii. 16. and ſo Uſher places his receiving this Writing in the 8th Year after Elijah's Death.

Ver. 17. Jehoahaz] The Author of the Preſent State of the Printed Hebrew Text finds fault with the Heb. as corrupted, that it has the Name tranſpoſed; but ſince it is a Tranſpoſition of ſix Letters, and there is alſo the ſame in Ch. xxv. 23, 25. it is incredible to be made by Miſtake in tranſcribing.

She is alſo called thus 2 King. viii. 26. and I imagine it might be, becauſe Omri was King when ſhe was born: for this Ahaziah the youngeſt Son, Ver. 1. being born in the 14th Year of Ahab's Reign, it is not to be ſuppoſed but that the Mother was born before.

Ver. 6. becauſe] In 2 King. viii. ult. it is a Prepoſition ſignifying becauſe of, but here a Conjunction, the ſame as before the End of the Verſe.

Ib. Azariah] The Author of the Preſent State of the Printed Hebrew Text does not allow this to be the King's Name, but ſtrangely imagines it given to him by the Tranſcribers of the Scripture, from that of one of his Captains, Chap. xxiii. 1. for which the Reader's Conſideration may be ſufficient Anſwer.

Jehu the Son of Nimſhi, whom the Lord anointed to cut off the Family of Ahab.

8. And when Jehu was executing Judgment againſt Ahab's Family, upon finding the Princes of Judah, and the Sons of Ahaziah's Brothers, who waited on Ahaziah, he ſlew them.

9. Beſides he ſought for Ahaziah, and they caught him, as he was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Jehu; and having killed him, they buried him, becauſe, ſaid they, he is the Son of Jehoſhaphat, who ſought the Lord with his whole Heart; and the Family of Ahaziah had none to retain Power for the Kingdom.

10. And Athaliah the Mother of Ahaziah ſeeing that her Son was dead, got ready, and deſtroyed all the royal Iſſue of the Family of Judah.

11. But Jehoſhabeath the King's Daughter took Joaſh the Son of Ahaziah, and ſtealing him away from among the King's Sons who were killed, put him and his Nurſe into a Bed-chamber: thus Jehoſhabeath the Daughter of King Jehoram, the Wife of Jehoiada the Prieſt (for ſhe was Ahaziah's Siſter) concealed him from the Preſence of Athaliah, ſo that ſhe did not kill him.

12. And he was with them in the Houſe of God hid ſix Years, while Athaliah reigned over the Country.

CHAP. XXIII.

AND in the ſeventh Year Jehoiada ſtrengthened himſelf, and took the Captains of Hundreds, Azariah the Son of Jeroham, Iſhmael the Son of Jehohanan, Azariah the Son of Obed, Maaſeiah the Son of Adaiah, and Eliſhaphat the Son of Zichri, into Covenant with him.

2. Who went round about in Judah, and gathered together the Levites out of all the Cities of Judah, with the chief of the Fathers of Iſrael; and they came to Jeruſalem.

3. Then all the Congregation made a Covenant with the King at the Houſe of God, and he ſaid to them; Behold the King's Son ſhall reign, as the Lord ſpoke concerning the Sons of David.

4. This is the Thing that you ſhall do; A third Part of you who come in on the Sabbath of the Prieſts and Levites, ſhall be Porters at the Doors,

5. Another ſhall be at the King's Houſe, and the other at the Gate of the Foundation; and all the People in the Courts of the Lord's Houſe.

6. But let none enter into the Houſe of the Lord, excepting the Prieſts, and thoſe who miniſter of the Levites, who may go in, becauſe they are holy; however all the People ſhall keep the Charge of the Lord.

7. The Levites ſhall alſo compaſs the King round, with their reſpective Weapons in their Hands; and let him who enters into the Houſe be killed: thus be you with the King, both when he comes in and goes out.

8. And the Levites and all Judah did entirely as Jehoiada the Prieſt commanded, taking their ſeveral Men who entered in on the Sabbath, with thoſe that went out on it: for he did not ſend away the Partitions.

9. Beſides he gave to the Captains of Hundreds, the Spears, Bucklers, and Shields which were King David's, that were at the Houſe of God.

10. And he made all the People ſtand, each having his Dart in his Hand, from the right Side of the Houſe to the left Side of it, at the Altar, and at the Houſe, by the King round about.

11. They next brought forth the King's Son, and put the Crown on him, with the Teſtimony, and made him King; whom Jehoiada and his Sons anointed, and they ſaid, Let the King live.

12. Now when Athaliah heard the Noiſe of the People, running, and praiſing the King, ſhe came to them at the Houſe of the Lord.

13. And looking, behold the King ſtood by his Pillar, at the Entrance, attended by the Princes and Trumpeters; while all the People of the Country rejoiced, and blew Trumpets, there were alſo Singers with Inſtruments of Muſick, and ſuch as informed how to praiſe: upon which ſhe tore her Cloaths, and ſaid, Conſpiracy, conſpiracy;

14. But Jehoiada the Prieſt brought forth the Captains of Hundreds, the Officers of the Army, ſaying to them, Have her out to the Inſide of the Ranks, and let him who comes after her be killed with the Sword: for the Prieſt ſaid, Ye ſhall not kill her at the Houſe of the Lord.

15. Accordingly they laid Hands on her, as ſhe went in the Entrance of the Gate of the Horſes at the King's Houſe; and they killed her there.

16. Afterwards Jehoiada made a Covenant between him, and all the People and the King, that they ſhould be the People of the Lord.

17. Whereupon all the People went into the Houſe of Baal, and broke it down: his Altars and Images did they break, and ſlew Mattan the Prieſt of Baal before the Altars.

18. Jehoiada too put the Offices of the Houſe of the Lord into the Cuſtody of the Prieſts, the Levites, whom David diſtributed in the Lord's Houſe, to offer up the Burnt-offerings of the Lord; as it is written in the Law of Moſes, with Rejoicing and Singing, by the Direction of David.

19. And he made the Porters ſtand at the Gates of the Lord's Houſe, that none might come in who was unclean in any Thing.

20. Laſtly he took the Captains of Hundreds, the Nobles, Governors of the People, and all the People of the Country, who brought the King down from the Houſe of the Lord, and went through the upper Gate to the King's Houſe; where they made the King ſit upon the Throne of the Kingdom.

21. And all the People of the Country were glad, and the City was ſtill, when they had killed Athaliah with the Sword.

CHAP. XXIV.

JOASH was in his ſeventh Year when he began reigning, and reigned forty Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Zibia of Beer-ſheba.

2. And he did what the Lord approved of, all the Time of Jehoiada the Prieſt.

3. Jehoiada alſo took for him two Wives, and he begot Sons and Daughters.

4. After which it was in the Mind of Joaſh to repair the Houſe of the Lord.

5. So gathering together the Prieſts and Levites, he ſaid to them, Go out to the Cities of Judah, and gather Money of all Iſrael, to mend the Houſe of your God Year by Year, and do ye make haſte in the Matter; but the Levites did not make haſte.

6. Then the King called Jehoiada the chief, and ſaid to him, Why haſt not thou required of the Levites, to bring from Judah and Jeruſalem, the Collection of Moſes the Servant of the Lord, and the Congregation of Iſrael, for the Tent of Witneſs?

7. For wicked Athaliah's Sons had broke open the Houſe of God, and alſo made ready all the conſecrated Things of the Lord's Houſe for Baalim.

8. And the King ordering, they made a Cheſt, and put it at the Gate of the Lord's Houſe without.

9. Beſides they made proclamation through Judah and Jeruſalem, that Men ſhould bring to the Lord the Collection of Moſes the Servant of God, for Iſrael in the Wilderneſs.

10. Upon which all the Princes and People were glad, and brought, and caſt into the Cheſt, till they had finiſhed.

11. And at the Time the Cheſt was brought into the King's Office by the Hands of the Levites, and when they ſaw that there was much Money, the King's Scribe, and the Officer of the high Prieſt came, and emptied the Cheſt, then took it, and carried it back to its Place: thus they did Day by Day, and gathered Money abundantly.

12. Which the King and Jehoiada gave to thoſe who did the Work of the Service of the Lord's Houſe, and hired Maſons and Carpenters, to repair the Houſe of the Lord, and alſo to ſuch as contrived with Iron and Braſs, to mend it.

13. So the Doers of the Work wrought, and the Work was made up firm by their Hands: for they made the Houſe of God ſtand in its Form, and ſtrengthened it.

14. And when they had done, they brought the Reſidue of the Money before the King and Jehoiada, and it was made into Inſtruments for the Houſe of the Lord, Inſtruments of miniſtring and offering up, with Spoons, and Inſtruments of Gold and Silver: and they were offering up Burnt-offerings in the Houſe of the Lord continually, all the Time of Jehoiada.

15. But Jehoiada was old, and being full of Days died, when he was in his hundred and thirtieth Year.

16. And they buried him in the City of David with the Kings, becauſe he had done well in Iſrael, both with God and his Family.

17. Now after the Death of Jehoiada, the Princes of Judah came, and bowed down to the King; who then hearkened to them.

18. And they forſook the Houſe of the Lord God of their Fathers, ſerving Groves and Images; ſo that there was Fury againſt Judah and Jeruſalem, for this their Guilt.

19. Yet he ſent Prophets among them, to bring them back to the Lord; who teſtified againſt them, but they would not give ear.

20. In particular the Spirit of God cloathed Zechariah the Son of Jehoiada the Prieſt, who ſtood up above the People, and declared to them; Thus ſays God, Why do ye tranſgreſs the Commandments of the Lord, ſo that ye do not proſper? Becauſe ye forſook the Lord, he has alſo forſaken you.

21. But they conſpired againſt him, and ſtoned him with Stones, at the Commandment of the King, in the Court of the Lord's Houſe.

22. Thus King Joaſh remembred not the Kindneſs that his Father Jehoiada did to him, but ſlew his Son; who when he died ſaid, The Lord ſee, and require.

23. And at the Revolution of the Year the Syrian Army came up againſt him, and coming to Judah and Jeruſalem, they deſtroyed all the Princes of the People from them, all the Spoil of whom they ſent to the King of Darmaſcus.

24. Though the Syrian Army came with few Men, yet the Lord delivered into their Power an Army of exceeding many, becauſe they had forſaken the Lord God of their Fathers; and thoſe executed Judgments on Joaſh.

25. When they were alſo gone from him (for they left him in great Diſeaſes) his Servants conſpired againſt him, for the Blood of the Sons of Jehoiada the Prieſt, and ſlaying him upon his Bed, he died; and they buried him in the City of David, but did not bury him in the Graves of the Kings.

26. Even theſe conſpired againſt him, Zabad the Son of Shimath an Ammoniteſs, and Jehozabad the Son of Shimrith a Moabiteſs.

27. Concerning his Sons, and the Greatneſs of the Burden upon him, and the Foundation of the Houſe of God, behold the Things are written in the Hiſtory of the Book of the Kings: and Amaziah his Son reigned in his room.

CHAP. XXV.

AMAZIAH began reigning in his twenty fifth Year, and reigned twenty nine Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Jehoaddan of Jeruſalem.

2. And he did what the Lord approved of, only not with a perfect Heart.

3. And as ſoon as the Kingdom was confirmed to him, he killed his Servants that had ſlain the King his Father.

4. However he did not put their Children to death; but as it is written in the Law of the Book of Moſes, wherein the Lord thus commanded, Fathers ſhall not be put to death for the Children, nor ſhall Children for the Fathers, for they ſhall die each for his own Sin.

5. Moreover Amaziah gathered Judah together, and appointed according to the Family of the Fathers, Captains of Thouſands, and Captains of Hundreds, for all Judah and Benjamin; and muſtering them from their twentieth Year upward, he found them three hundred thouſand choſen Men to go out to War, who could handle Spear and Shield.

6. He further hired from Iſrael a hundred thouſand ſtout Men, for a hundred Talents of Silver.

7. But a Man of God came to him with this Meſſage; O King, let not the Army of Iſrael come with thee: for the Lord is not with Iſrael, even all the Ephraimites.

8. Yet do thou come, act, be ſtrong for the War: God can make thee fall before the Enemy, for there is Power in God, both to help, and cauſe to fall.

9. And upon Amaziah's ſaying to the Man of God, But what is to be done for the hundred Talents which I have given for the Troop of Iſrael? he anſwered, The Lord can give thee much more than this.

10. Then Amaziah ſeparated them, namely the Body of Troops that was come to him from Ephraim, to go to their Place: therefore were they exceeding angry with Judah, and returned to their Place in the Heat of Anger.

11. However Amaziah ſtrengthened himſelf, and leading his People, went to the Valley of Salt, and ſlew ten thouſand Men of Seir.

Ver. 26. Zabad] This appears to be a Contraction of Jozachar, 2 King. xii. 21. as Shomir there is of Shimrith here, being the ſame Letters in Heb. ſo far; and the laſt Letters of the former ד and ר ſeem through their Likeneſs altered one into the other.

Ver. 27. the Things] For what are [they?] not his ſons are written ſurely.

Ver. 5. three hundred thouſand] In the vulg. Lat. but thirty thouſand.

Ver. 8. do thou come] go on in the War without the Iſraelites: the Verb being imperative, and כִּי אִם uſually ſignifying only yet or but. So Jun. and Trem. have ſed with an imperative Verb; as likewiſe Caſtal. followed them with alioquin, otherwiſe God will.

12. And ten thouſand who were living the Men of Judah carried away, and bringing them to the Top of a Rock, threw them from thence, and all of them were burſt aſunder.

13. But the Men of the Troop whom Amaziah made return from going with him to the Battle, fell on the Cities of Judah from Samaria to Beth-horon, and ſlew of them three thouſand, taking much Spoil.

14. And after Amaziah came from ſlaying the Edomites, having brought the gods of the Men of Seir, he ſet them up for his own gods, bowed down before them, and burnt incenſe to them.

15. At which incenſed with Amaziah, the Lord ſent to him a Prophet, who ſaid to him, Why doſt thou ſeek to the gods of the People, that could not deliver their own People from thy Power?

16. To whom the other ſaid, while he was ſpeaking to him, Art thou made a Counſellor to the King? Forbear, why wouldeſt thou be ſlain? So the Prophet forbore, but ſaid, I know that God has purpoſed to deſtroy thee, becauſe thou haſt done this, and not hearkened to my Counſel.

17. Next Amaziah King of Judah took counſel, and ſent Word to Joaſh, the Son of Jehoahaz, the Son of Jehu, King of Iſrael, Come, let us look one another in the Face.

18. But he ſent Word to Amaziah King of Judah; A Bramble which was in Lebanon ſent to treat thus with a Cedar that was there, Give thy Daughter to my Son for a Wife; whereas a wild Beaſt that was in Lebanon went by, and trod down the Bramble.

19. Thou ſayeſt, behold thou haſt beat Edom, and thy Heart lifts thee up to glory: abide now at Home; why wilt thou make war for Hurt, that thou thy ſelf mayeſt fall, and Judah with thee?

20. Yet Amaziah would not hearken; for it was of God, that he might deliver them into the other's Power, becauſe they ſought to the gods of Edom.

21. So Joaſh King of Iſrael went up, and they looked one another in the Face, he and Amaziah King of Judah, at Beth-ſhemeſh which belonged to Judah.

22. And Judah was beat before Iſrael, ſo that they fled to their ſeveral Tents.

23. Amaziah alſo King of Judah, the Son of Joaſh, the Son of Jehoahaz, did Joaſh King of Iſrael take at Beth-ſhemeſh; and brought him to Jeruſalem, breaking down the Wall of it, from the Gate of Ephraim to the Corner-gate, four hundred Cubits.

24. Beſides he took away all the Gold, the Silver, and all the Inſtruments that were found in the Houſe of God with Obed-edom, and the Treaſures of the King's Houſe, as alſo Sons for Hoſtages; and returned to Samaria.

25. And Amaziah the Son of Joaſh King of Judah, lived after the Death of Joaſh the Son of Jehoahaz King of Iſrael, fifteen Years.

26. As to the reſt of Amaziah's Affairs, the former and latter, behold are they not written in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Iſrael?

27. And from the Time that Amaziah turned aſide from after the Lord, the People made a Conſpiracy againſt him at Jeruſalem, upon which he fled to Lachiſh; whither they ſent after him, and killed him there.

28. They nevertheleſs carried him upon Horſes, and buried him with his Fathers in the Metropolis of Judah.

CHAP. XXVI.

AT length all the People of Judah took Uzziah, when he was in his ſixteenth Year, and made him King in the room of his Father Amaziah.

2. He built Eloth, which he recovered to Judah, after the King was laid down with his Fathers.

3. Uzziah was in his ſixteenth Year when he began reigning, and reigned fifty two Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Jecholiah of Jeruſalem.

Ver. 13. ſlew of them] So is the Meaning and Order of the Heb. Words: for, as Poole obſerves, they did not ſmite 3000 Cities.

Ver. 19. Heart lifts thee up] Archytas in a Treatiſe concerning a good and happy Man has theſe Words at the End, Ὡς περ τὸ λαμπρὸν φάος μαραυγίαν περιτίθησι τοῖς ὀφθαλμοῖς· ἔτω καὶ ἀ ὑπερβαλλοῦσα τύτυχία τῳ νόῳ τὰς ψυχᾶς. As too much Light hurts the Eyes, ſo does too much Proſperity the Mind.

Ver. 20. of God] Thus Homer ſays of Patroclus, in Pope's Tranſ.

For he, the God, whoſe Counſels uncontroll'd

The God who gives, reſumes, and orders all,
He urg'd thee on, and urg'd thee on to fall.

4. And

4. And he did what the Lord approved of, entirely as Amaziah his Father had done.

5. For he ſought God in the Time of Zechariah, who had underſtanding in the Viſions of God; and in the Time of his ſeeking the Lord, God made him proſper.

6. So that he went forth, and fighting againſt the Philiſtines, broke down the Wall of Gath, with thoſe of Jabneh and Aſhdod; as alſo built Cities by Aſhdod, and the Philiſtines.

7. And God not only helped him againſt the Philiſtines, but againſt the Arabians who dwelt at Gur-baal, and the Meunites.

8. Nay the Ammonites gave Preſents to Uzziah; and his Renown went to the Entrance of Egypt, for he became exceeding ſtrong.

9. Moreover Uzziah built Towers in Jeruſalem, at the Corner-gate, at the Valley-gate, and at the Angle; and made them ſtrong.

10. He likewiſe built Towers in the Wilderneſs, and dug many Wells, for he had many Cattle, both in the Vale and the Plain; Huſbandmen and Vine-dreſſers, on the Mountains and in Carmel, for he was a Lover of Huſbandry.

11. Uzziah too had an Army making war, that went out to Battle in Troops, by the Number of their Muſter, made by Jeiel the Scribe and Maaſeiah the Officer, at the Direction of Hanani one of the King's Princes.

12. The whole Number of the chief of the Fathers of the valiant Men, was two thouſand and ſix hundred.

13. In whoſe Management was an Army for Battle, of three hundred and ſeven thouſand and five hundred, making war with the Power of an Army; to help the King againſt the Enemy.

14. And Uzziah prepared for thoſe of the whole Hoſt, Shields, Spears, Helmets, Corſlets, Bows, and Slings for Stones.

15. Beſides he made at Jeruſalem Inventions by the Artificers Contrivance, to be upon the Towers and Corners, to ſhoot Arrows and great Stones with: thus his Renown went out far off, for he was wonderfully helped, until he was ſtrong.

16. But when he was ſtrong, his Heart was haughty to Deſtruction, and he did amiſs againſt the Lord his God; going into the Temple of the Lord, to burn incenſe upon the Incenſe-altar.

17. However Azariah the Prieſt went in after him, with whom were eighty of the Lord's Prieſts, Men of Valour.

18. And they withſtood King Uzziah, ſaying to him, It does not belong to thee, Uzziah, to burn incenſe to the Lord, but to the Prieſts the Sons of Aaron, who are conſecrated to do it: go out of the Sanctuary, for thou haſt done amiſs, and it is not for thy Honour from the Lord God.

19. Upon this Uzziah was in Indignation, having a Cenſer in his Hand to burn incenſe, and while he was in Indignation with the Prieſts, the Leproſy roſe in his Forehead, before them in the Houſe of the Lord, from off the Incenſe-altar.

20. And Azariah the high Prieſt, with all the others looking at him, behold he was leprous in his Forehead, ſo they hurried him from thence; nay he was even driven on to go out, becauſe the Lord had ſmitten him.

21. Thus was King Uzziah leprous to the Day of his Death, and dwelt leprous at a ſeparate Houſe, becauſe he was cut off from the Houſe of the Lord; and Jotham his Son was over the King's Houſe, judging the People of the Country.

22. Now the reſt of Uzziah's Affairs, the former and latter, Iſaiah, the Son of Amoz, the Prophet wrote.

23. And Uzziah lay down with his Fathers, they burying him with them in the burying Field which belonged to the Kings, though they ſaid, He is leprous; and Jotham his Son reigned in his room.

CHAP. XXVII.

JOTHAM was in his twenty fifth Year when he began reigning, and reigned ſixteen Years in Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Jeruſha the Daughter of Zadok.

2. And he did what the Lord approved of, entirely as Uzziah his Father had done, only he went not into the Temple of the Lord; however the People ſtill did corruptly.

3. He built the higheſt Gate of the Lord's

Ver. 7. Meunites] called Maonites, Judg. x. 12. here being no more an h than there.

Ver. 19. Leproſy] It may ſeem as if Uzziah was inclined to unite the Prieſtly Office to the Kingly, as was anciently done, when he was in his 60th Year, the Time of Entrance into old Age, Lev. xxvii. 3, 7. as this is alſo repreſented to be ſeveral Years before his Death, Ver. 16, 21. 2 King. xv. 5. and on the other hand Jotham would not be fit to judge the People before he was in his 17th Year, which he then was: I cannot ſee where to ſet it in the Table with greater Probability.

Ver. 2. not into] as Uzziah did, Ch. xxvi. 16. The connective Particle properly ſignifies only, and does not well bear an Adverſative, eſpecially with a great Point; howbeit, as Johnſ. in his Dict. has, being alſo not now in uſe.

Houſe,

Houſe, and on the Wall of the Aſcent he built abundantly.

4. Cities did he likewiſe build on the Mountains of Judah, as he did in the Woods, Palaces and Towers.

5. Beſides he fought with the King of the Ammonites, and prevailed againſt them; ſo that the Ammonites gave him the ſame Year a hundred Talents of Silver, ten thouſand Cors of Wheat, and ſo many of Barley: this the Ammonites rendered to him both the ſecond Year and the third.

6. So Jotham became ſtrong, becauſe he prepared his Ways before the Lord his God.

7. As for the reſt of Jotham's Affairs, all his Wars and his Ways, behold they are written in the Book of the Kings of Iſrael and Judah.

8. He was in his twenty fifth Year when he began reigning, and reigned ſixteen Years at Jeruſalem.

9. And Jotham lay down with his Fathers, they burying him in the City of David; and Ahaz his Son reigned in his room.

CHAP. XXVIII.

AHAZ was in his twentieth Year when he began reigning, and reigned ſixteen Years at Jeruſalem; but did not what the Lord approved of, like his Father David.

2. For he went in the Ways of the Kings of Iſrael; and alſo made molten Images for Baalim.

3. He burnt incenſe too in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, and burnt his Sons in the Fire; according to the abominable Things of the Nations, that the Lord expelled from the Preſence of the Iſraelites.

4. Beſides he ſacrificed, and burnt incenſe, in the Chapels, upon the Hills, and under every green Tree.

5. Then the Lord his God delivered him into the Power of the King of Syria, ſo that they beat him, and carried away a great many of them priſoners, and brought to Damaſcus; and he was alſo delivered into the Power of the King of Iſrael, who ſmote him with a great Slaughter.

6. For Pekah the Son of Remaliah ſlew in Judah, a hundred and twenty thouſand in one Day, all Men of Valour; for their forſaking the Lord God of their Fathers.

7. And Zichri a powerful Man of Ephraim ſlew Maaſeiah the King's Son, Azrikam the Ruler of the Houſe, and Elkanah the next to the King.

8. The Iſraelites alſo carried away of their Brethren two hundred thouſand Women, Sons and Daughters, and likewiſe took much Spoil from them, which they brought to Samaria.

9. But a Prophet of the Lord was there, his Name being Oded, and he went out before the Army that came to Samaria, ſaying to them; Behold for the Wrath of the Lord God of your Fathers againſt Judah, he has delivered them into your Power, and ye have ſlain them with Indignation reaching to Heaven.

10 And now ye think to bring the People of Judah and Jeruſalem into ſubjection, for Servant-men and Maids to you: are there not however with you your ſelves guilty Things againſt the Lord your God?

11. Now therefore hearken, and reſtore the Priſoners that ye have carried away of your Brethren: for the ſervent Anger of the Lord is upon you.

12. Nay there roſe up Men of the chief of the Ephraimites, Azariah the Son of Jeho-

Ver. 5. prevailed againſt them] Since the Reaſon of their paying Tribute but three Years, ſeems to be the Invaſion of Judah by Syria and Iſrael, 2 King. xv. 37. and that about the Year before Jotham's Death, who died in his 16th by the 1ſt Tab. of the Reigns, conſequently this falls about the 12th.

Ver. 3. his Sons] viz. one of them, 2 King. xvi. 3. ſo Chap. xxxiii. 6. compared with 2 King. xxi. 6.

Ver. 5. and he was alſo] Uſher, with Prideaux his implicit Follower, ſtates this War, that the Syrians and Iſraelites firſt combined their Forces, and beſieged Jeruſalem ineffectually; but the next Year returned, and beat Ahaz with ſeparate Armies, according to Prideaux with three, and this, ſays Uſher, they could not do being joined before. Which is ſomething ſtrange, and if I may be allowed to reconſider it after ſuch great Authority, I ſhould think the two Kingdoms invaded Judah in different Places, agreeable to this Verſe, that Rezin took other Cities, as Sennacherib afterwards went on to do, Ch. xxxii. 1. 2 King. xviii. 13. and Ahaz going with his Army againſt Pekah, was defeated, Ver. 6. and that then he ſhut himſelf up in Jeruſalem, which they beſieged, 2 King. xvi. 5. Iſa. vii. 1. but not took, as Prideaux adds. I would ſubjoin a Conjecture, as moſt probable, that Zichri, who might be the Son of Tabeal, Iſa. vii. 6. made an Inſurrection in the City while Ahaz was gone out, and did what is told in the 7th Ver. the Perſons ſlain being likely ſuch as the King left at Home. As to the Time and Continuance of this War, the Conqueſt of Iſrael by the King of Aſſyria being in the 20th Year of Hoſhea's and 4th of Aſa's Reign, his Conqueſt of Syria the Year before, and the Siege of Jeruſalem in the Year before that, with the 1ſt Year of Ahaz and laſt of Jotham coincident, which for Perſpicuity ſee in the large Table; there is to be conſidered, whether it more probably began in the Year laſt mentioned, or the foregoing. Conſequent upon Ahaz's reigning wickedly, God delivered him into the Power of the Kings of Syria and Iſrael, 2 Chr. xxviii. 2, 3, 4, 5. therefore he had firſt a ſufficient Time of Probation, which is not to be ſuppoſed very ſhort; and Micah, who propheſied before Jotham died, Mic. i. 1. ſpeaking of Iſrael riſing up lately (not now or juſt then) againſt Judah, Ch. ii. 8. both theſe, and this antecedent to the other, ſeem to extend the Time further back than that Year in which Jotham died, though it might be leſs than a Year before; and the Kingdom being ſtrong under him, might repel their Enemies a while.

hanan,

hanan, Berechiah the Son of Meſhillemoth, and Jehizkiah the Son of Shallum, and Amaſa the Son of Hadlai, againſt thoſe who came from the War,

13. And ſaid to them, Ye ſhall not bring the Priſoners hither: for ye intend it for Guilt againſt the Lord upon us, to add to our Sin and Guilt; when we have much Guilt, and there is fervent Anger upon Iſrael.

14. So the armed Men left the Priſoners and the Prey, before the Princes and the whole Congregation.

15. And the Men who were mentioned by Name got ready, and taking hold of the Priſoners, cloathed all that were naked of them with the Spoil, nay not only cloathed them, and ſhod them, as alſo made them eat and drink, but anointed them, and carried all thoſe who were feeble on Aſſes, bringing them to Jericho the City of Palm-trees by their Brethren; then they returned to Samaria.

16. At that Time King Ahaz ſent to the Kings of Aſſyria to help him.

17. For the Edomites had come again, beat Judah, and carried away ſome Priſoners.

18. The Philiſtines further invaded the Cities of the Vale, and the South of Judah, and had taken Beth-ſhemeſh, Aijalon, Gederoth, and Shocho with its Towns, as likewiſe Timnah and Gimzo with theirs; and they dwelt there.

19. For the Lord brought down Judah, by reaſon of Ahaz King of Iſrael, becauſe he made Judah naked, and did what was amiſs againſt the Lord.

20. And when Tilgath-pilneeſer King of Aſſyria came to him, he diſtreſſed him, and did not ſtrengthen him.

21. For though Ahaz took the Share of the Lord's Houſe, and of that of the King and Princes, and gave to the King of Aſſyria, he was not a Help to him.

22. And in the Time of his being diſtreſſed, he even did more amiſs againſt the Lord; that was King Ahaz.

23. For he ſacrificed to the gods of Damaſcus that beat him, ſaying, Becauſe thoſe gods of the Kings of Syria help them, I will ſacrifice to them, that they may help me: whereas they cauſed him to fall, and all Iſrael.

24. Moreover Ahaz gathered the Inſtruments of the Houſe of God, and cut them aſunder, and ſhutting up the Doors of the Lord's Houſe, he made him Altars in every Corner at Jeruſalem.

25. At every particular City likewiſe of Judah he made Chapels, to burn incenſe to other gods, provoking the Lord God of his Fathers.

26. As for the reſt of his Affairs, and all his Ways, the former and latter, behold they are written in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Iſrael.

27. And Ahaz lay down with his Fathers, and they buried him at the City of Jeruſalem, but did not bring him to the Graves of the Kings of Iſrael; and Hezekiah his Son reigned in his room.

CHAP. XXIX.

HEZEKIAH began reigning in the twenty fifth Year, and reigned twenty nine Years at Jeruſalem; whoſe Mother's Name was Abijah, the Daughter of Zechariah.

2. And he did what the Lord approved of, entirely as his Father David had done.

3. He, in the firſt Year of his Reign, in the firſt Month, opened the Doors of the Lord's Houſe, and mended them.

4. Beſides he brought the Prieſts and Levites, gathering them together at the eaſt Street,

5. And ſaid to them: Hear me, you Levites, now conſecrate your ſelves, and conſecrate the Houſe of the Lord God of your Fathers, carrying what is ſeparate out of the holy Place.

6. For our Fathers did amiſs, doing what the Lord our God was diſpleaſed with, and forſook him; they even turned about their Face from the Habitation of the Lord, putting the Back.

Ver. 19. King of Iſrael] as Jehoſhaphat is alſo called, Ch. xxi. 2. with reſpect to Jacob named Iſrael, which might be ſurely as well as to Judah his Son; beſides there being now no King in the particular Kingdom of Iſrael, as ſhewn by the Chronology of the Kings, they might put themſelves under the Protection of Ahaz, or he aſſume Authority over them; ſo that the Sept. and Vulg. having Juda is not to be regarded.

Ver. 20. diſtreſſed] which he might do by receiving the following Preſent of Ahaz, without helping him.

Ver. 21. not a Help] not aſſiſting Ahaz, as he required and expected; though he fell upon his Enemies the Syrians, and conquered them, 2 King. xvi. 9.

Chron.* B. 6. 2, 117. which Hezekiah went on with in the firſt Year of his Reign, as appears two Verſes further. The Reader may find ſeveral other ſuch particular Kinds of Reckoning in thoſe Times. If it be taken for Hezekiah's Age, his Father would be 10 Years old when he was born, 2 King. xvi. 2. 2 Chron. xxviii. 1. Some Annotators have ſuppoſed it was ſo, even Uſher and Lightfoot reckon him but 11; and Sanctius brings an Inſtance of a noble Youth in Spain, who had a Child by his Nurſe about that Age: but as that was both a Time and Country for falſe Miracles, and as the Nurſe might probably want a rich Huſband, or at leaſt a Father to her Child, I think the Story is not entitled to much Credit.

Ver. 4. at the eaſt Street] The Entrance into the Temple being at that Side.

7. They further ſhut up the Doors of the Porch, put out the Lamps, did not burn incenſe, nor offer up Burnt-offerings in the holy Place, to the God of Iſrael.

8. Therefore was the Fury of the Lord upon Judah and Jeruſalem; ſo that he delivered them to Diſturbance, Aſtoniſhment and Hiſſing, as you ſee with your Eyes.

9. For behold our Fathers are fallen by the Sword, and our Sons, Daughters and Wives, have been in Captivity for this.

10. Now it is in my Heart to make a Covenant with the Lord God of Iſrael, that his fervent Anger may turn away from us.

11. My Sons, now be not erroneous: for the Lord has choſen you to ſtand before him, to wait on him, that ye may miniſter to him, and burn incenſe.

12. Then the Levites got ready, Mahath the Son of Amaſai, and Joel the Son of Azariah, of the Sons of the Kohathites; and of the Sons of Merari, Kiſh the Son of Abdi, and Azariah the Son of Jehalelel; and of the Gerſhonites, Joah the Son of Zimmah, and Eden the Son of Joah;

13. And of the Sons of Elizaphan, Shimri and Jeiel; and of the Sons of Aſaph, Zechariah and Mattaniah;

14. And of the Sons of Heman, Jehiel and Shimei; and of the Sons of Jeduthun, Shemaiah and Uzziel.

15. Who gathered together their Brethren, and conſecrating themſelves, came according to the Commandment of the King, by the Words of the Lord, to cleanſe the Lord's Houſe.

16. So the Prieſts went in within the Houſe of the Lord, to cleanſe it, and brought out all the Uncleanneſs which they found in the Temple of the Lord, into the Court of the Lord's Houſe; and the Levites took it, to carry out abroad to the Brook Kidron.

17. And they began on the firſt of the firſt Month to conſecrate, and on the eighth Day of the Month came to the Porch of the Lord, thus they conſecrated the Houſe of the Lord in eight Days; on the ſixteenth Day alſo of the firſt Month they made an end.

18. Next they went in within to King Hezekiah, and ſaid; We have cleanſed the whole Houſe of the Lord, the Altar of Burnt-offering with all its Inſtruments, and the Table ſet in order with all the Inſtruments of that.

19. All the Inſtruments too, which King Ahaz in his Reign threw away in his doing amiſs, have we prepared, and conſecrated; and behold they are before the Lord's Altar.

20. Upon which King Hezekiah roſe early, and gathering together the Princes of the City, went up to the Houſe of the Lord.

21. And they brought ſeven Steers, with the ſame Number of Rams, as likewiſe of Lambs, and of He-goats, for a Sin-offering, for the Kingdom, the Sanctuary and Judah; which he ordered the Sons of Aaron the Prieſts, to offer up on the Lord's Altar.

22. Accordingly they killed the Bullocks, and the Prieſts took the Blood, and ſprinkled on the Altar; they alſo killed the Rams, and ſprinkled the Blood on the Altar, as they did likewiſe the Lambs, ſprinkling it there.

23. They brought nigh the Goats too of the Sin-offering before the King and Congregation, and they leaned their Hands upon them.

24. Afterwards the Prieſts killed them, and offered their Blood for Sin on the Altar, to make atonement for all Iſrael; for the King ordered the Burnt-offering and Sin-offering ſhould be for all Iſrael.

25. And he ſet the Levites in the Houſe of the Lord with Cymbals, Lutes and Harps, by the Commandment of David, of Gad the King's Seer, and the Prophet Nathan: for by the Hand of the Lord was the Commandment by the Miniſtry of his Prophets.

26. Thus the Levites ſtood with the Inſtruments of David, and the Prieſts with Trumpets.

27. And Hezekiah ordered to offer up the Burnt-offering upon the Altar; and at the Time the Burnt-offering began, the Lord's Poem was begun, with the Trumpets, and the Inſtruments of David King of Iſrael that were in Hand.

28. The whole Congregation alſo worſhipped, the Singers ſung, and the Prieſts blew the Trumpets; all being till the Burnt-offering was finiſhed.

29. And when they had made an end of offering up, the King and all who were preſent with him fell down, and worſhipped.

30. Moreover King Hezekiah and the Princes ordered the Levites, to praiſe the Lord with the Words of David and Aſaph the Seer; and they praiſed even gladly, as alſo bowed, and worſhipped.

31. Then Hezekiah made anſwer, Now ye have filled your Hands for the Lord, come nigh, and bring the Sacrifices and Thank-offerings to the Houſe of the Lord. The Congregation accordingly brought Sacrifices and Thank-offerings, and all who were of a free Heart Burnt-offerings.

32. Now the Number of the Burnt-offerings which the Congregation brought, was ſeventy Bullocks, a hundred Rams, two hundred Lambs: all theſe were for Burnt-offering to the Lord.

33. And thoſe that were conſecrated were, ſix hundred Oxen, and three thouſand Sheep.

34. However as the Prieſts were ſo few, that they could not ſtrip all the Burnt-offerings, their Brethren the Levites ſtrengthened them, till the Work was finiſhed, and till other Prieſts had conſecrated themſelves; for the Levites were more upright of Heart to conſecrate themſelves, than the Prieſts.

35. And there was alſo Burnt-offering abundantly, among the Fat of the Peace-offerings, and among the Drink-offerings belonging to the Burnt-offering. Thus was the Service of the Lord's Houſe prepared.

36. Inſomuch that Hezekiah was glad, with all the People, at God's preparing the People: for the Matter was on a ſudden.

CHAP. XXX.

MOREOVER Hezekiah ſent to all Iſrael and Judah, and alſo wrote Letters to Ephraim and Manaſſeh, that they ſhould come to the Houſe of the Lord at Jeruſalem, to keep the Paſſover to the Lord God of Iſrael:

2. The King, his Princes, and all the Congregation at Jeruſalem, having conſulted to keep the Paſſover in the ſecond Month.

3. For they could not keep it at that Time, becauſe the Prieſts had not conſecrated themſelves ſufficiently, nor were the People gathered to Jeruſalem.

4. Which Matter the King approved of, as did the whole Congregation.

5. They therefore appointed the Matter, to make proclamation throughout all Iſrael, from Beer-ſheba to Dan, that they ſhould come to keep the Paſſover to the Lord God of Iſrael at Jeruſalem: for they had not done it as it is written a great while.

6. So the Poſts went with Letters, from the Hand of the King and his Princes, through all Iſrael and Judah, and according to the King's Commandment, as follow; O Iſraelites, return to the Lord God of Abraham, Iſaac and Iſrael: ſo will he return to the Remnant of you who are left out of the Power of the Kings of Aſſyria.

7. And be not like your Fathers and Brethren, who did amiſs againſt the Lord God of their Fathers; and he delivered them to Deſolation, as you ſee.

8. Now do not make your Necks ſtiff, like your Fathers: give the Hand for the Lord, and go into his Sanctuary which he has conſecrated for ever, and ſerve the Lord your God, that his fervent Anger may turn away from you.

9. For when ye return to the Lord, your Brethren and Children will have compaſſion before thoſe who have taken them priſoners, even to return to this Country: for the Lord your God is gracious and compaſſionate, and will not turn aſide the Face from you, if ye return to him.

10. Thus the Poſts paſſed from City to City, through the Country of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, even to Zebulun; but they laughed at them, and made a ſcoff of them.

11. Yet ſome Men of Aſher, Manaſſeh and Zebulun, were humbled, and came to Jeruſalem.

12. In Judah alſo there was the Hand of God, to give them one Heart, to do the Commandment of the King and Princes, by the Word of the Lord,

13. And many People were gathered to Jeruſalem, to keep the Feaſt of unleavened Cakes in the ſecond Month, a Congregation in great Abundance.

14. Who got ready, and took away the Altars that were at Jeruſalem; and taking away all the Incenſe-altars, threw them into the Brook Kidron.

15. Then they killed the Paſſover on the fourteenth of the ſecond Month, and the Prieſts and Levites being aſhamed, conſecrated themſelves, and brought the Burnt-offerings to the Houſe of the Lord.

16. And ſtanding in their Station after their Manner, according to the Law of Moſes the Man of God, the Prieſts ſprinkled the Blood from the Hand of the Levites.

17. Since there were many in the Congregation who did not conſecrate themſelves, therefore the Levites were for the killing of the Paſſover for all that were not clean, to conſecrate to the Lord.

18. For a Multitude of the People, many of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, Iſſachar and Zebulun,

19. Every one who prepares his Heart to ſeek God, the Lord God of his Fathers, though there is not like the Cleanſing of the holy Place.

20. And the Lord hearkened to Hezekiah, and healed the People.

21. So the Iſraelites who were preſent at Jeruſalem, kept the Feaſt of unleavened Cakes ſeven Days with great Gladneſs; and the Levites and Prieſts praiſed the Lord Day by Day, with ſtrong Inſtruments to the Lord.

22. And Hezekiah ſpoke kindly to all the Levites, who taught the good Underſtanding of the Lord; and they did eat at the appointed Time ſeven Days, ſacrificing Sacrifices of Peace-offerings, and making confeſſion to the Lord God of their Fathers.

23. Beſides the whole Congregation took counſel to keep other ſeven Days, and they kept the ſeven Days with Gladneſs.

24. For Hezekiah King of Judah offered up for the Congregation, a thouſand Bullocks and ſeven thouſand Sheep, and the Princes offered up for the Congregation, a thouſand Bullocks and ten thouſand Sheep; the Prieſts conſecrating themſelves abundantly.

25. And the whole Congregation of Judah, with the Prieſts and Levites, and all the Congregation who came from Iſrael, nay the Sojourners who came from that Country, as well as they who dwelt in Judah, were glad.

26. Thus there was great Gladneſs at Jeruſalem: for from the Time of Solomon the Son of David King of Iſrael, there was not like this at Jeruſalem.

27. At length the Prieſts the Levites got ready, and bleſſed the People, ſo that their Voice was heard, and their Prayer came to his holy Habitation at Heaven.

CHAP. XXXI.

AND when all this was finiſhed, all Iſrael who were preſent went out to the Cities of Judah, broke the Statues, cut down the Groves, and broke down the Chapels and Altars, out of all Judah and Benjamin, and in Ephraim and Manaſſeh, till they were conſumed: then all the Iſraelites returned each to his Poſſeſſion, at their Cities.

2. Hezekiah too appointed the Partitions of the Prieſts, and the Levites in their Partitions each according to his Service, the Prieſts and Levites for Burnt-offerings and Peace-offerings, to miniſter, make confeſſion, and to praiſe, at the Gates of the Lord's Camps;

3. As alſo the King's Part out of his Subſtance for Burnt-offerings, for thoſe of the Morning and Evening, and thoſe for the Sabbaths, New-moons and appointed Times; as it is written in the Law of the Lord.

4. Moreover he ordered the People who dwelt at Jeruſalem, to give the Part of the Prieſts and Levites; that they might be ſtrengthened in the Law of the Lord.

5. And as ſoon as the Matter was made publick, the Iſraelites multiplied the Firſt-fruits of Corn, Wine, and Oil, and Honey, with all the Crop of the Field; and the Tenth of all did they bring abundantly.

6. As for the People of Iſrael and Judah, who dwelt in the Cities of Judah, they alſo brought the Tenth of the Herds and Flocks, and that of the holy Things conſecrated to the Lord their God, and put by Heaps.

7. In the third Month they began to lay the foundation of the Heaps, and finiſhed in the ſeventh Month.

8. Then Hezekiah and the Princes came, and ſeeing them, they bleſſed the Lord and his People Iſrael.

9. And when he enquired of the Prieſts and Levites concerning the Heaps;

10. Azariah the chief Prieſt of the Family of Zadok ſaid to him as follows, Since it was begun to bring the Offerings to the Houſe of the Lord, there has been to eat, be ſatisfied, and leave even abundantly; for the Lord has bleſſed his People, and what is left is this Abundance.

11. Next Hezekiah ordered to prepare Rooms at the Houſe of the Lord, which they did;

12. And brought in the Offerings, Tenths, and conſecrated Things faithfully: over whom Conaniah the Levite was Ruler, and his Brother Shimei the ſecond.

13. And Jehiel, Azaziah, Nahath, Aſahel, Jerimoth, Jozabad, Eliel, Iſmachiah, Mahath and Benaiah, were Officers at the Hand of Conaniah, and his Brother Shimei; by the Command of Hezekiah the King, and Azariah the Ruler of the Houſe of God.

14. Kore the Son of Imnah the Levite alſo was Porter at the Eaſt, over the Free-offerings of God, to give the Offerings of the Lord, and the very holy Things.

Ver. 1. conſumed] utterly, them and all are added by King James's Tranſlators.

15. And

15. And at his Hand were Eden, Miniamin, Jeſhua, Shemaiah, Amariah and Shechaniah, in the Cities of the Prieſts faithfully, to give to their Brethren by Partitions, as well to the great as the ſmall;

16. (Beſides their Pedigree of Males from their third Year upward) to every one who went into the Houſe of the Lord, each Day's Buſineſs the very ſame Day, for their Service in their Charges, after their Partitions:

17. Both the Pedigree of the Prieſts according to the Family of their Fathers, and the Levites from their twentieth Year upward, in their Charges, by their Partitions;

18. As likewiſe to the Pedigree of all their Children, Wives, Sons and Daughters, in the whole Congregation: for in their Faithfulneſs they conſecrated themſelves with Holineſs.

19. To the Poſterity of Aaron alſo the Prieſts, in the Fields of the Suburbs of their Cities, in every ſeveral City, the Men who were expreſſed by Name, were to give the Parts to all the Males among the Prieſts, and to all the Pedigree among the Levites.

20. And after this Manner Hezekiah did through all Judah, doing what was good, right and true, before the Lord his God.

21. Nay in every Work that he began in the Service of the Houſe of God, and in the Law and Commandment, to ſeek his God; he did it with all his Heart, and proſpered.

CHAP. XXXII.

AFTER theſe Things, and the Confirmation, Sennacherib King of Aſſyria came, and entering into Judah, encamped againſt the fortified Cities, and intended to break them open for himſelf.

2. But when Hezekiah ſaw that Sennacherib was come, and his Face was for War againſt Jeruſalem;

3. He took counſel with his Princes and powerful Men, to ſtop up the Water of the Fountains that were without the City; and they helped him.

4. And there were gathered together many People, who ſtopped up all the Fountains, and the Brook that overflowed in the midſt of the Country, ſaying, Why ſhould the Kings of Aſſyria come, and find much Water?

5. He alſo ſtrengthened himſelf, built up all the Wall that was broke down, making it up to the Towers, and another Wall without, as alſo repaired the Fortreſs of the City of David, and made Darts abundantly, with Shields.

6. Moreover he put Captains of War over the People, and gathering them together to him at the Street of the Gate of the City, ſpoke kindly to them as follows;

7. Be courageous and ſtout, be not afraid, nor daunted becauſe of the King of Aſſyria, nor by reaſon of all the Multitude that is with him: for there are more with us than with him.

8. With him is an Arm of Fleſh, but with us is the Lord our God, to help us, and to fight our Battles. And the People relied upon the Words of Hezekiah King of Judah.

9. After this Sennacherib King of Aſſyria ſent his Servants to Jeruſalem (while he was againſt Lachiſh, and all thoſe of his Dominion with him) to Hezekiah King of Judah, and to all Judah that were at Jeruſalem, with this Meſſage:

10. Thus ſays Sennacherib King of Aſſyria; Upon what do ye truſt, that ye abide in the Siege at Jeruſalem?

11. Does not Hezekiah perſuade you to give up your ſelves to die, with Hunger and Thirſt, by ſaying, The Lord our God will deliver us from the Power of the King of Aſſyria?

12. Has not the ſame Hezekiah taken away his Chapels and Altars, and ordered Judah and Jeruſalem thus, Ye ſhall worſhip before one Altar, and burn incenſe upon it?

13. Do not ye know what I and my Fathers have done to all the People of the Countries? Were the gods of the Nations of the Countries at all able, to deliver their Country from my Power?

14. Who was there among all the gods of thoſe Nations, which my Fathers utterly deſtroyed, that was able to deliver his People from my Power, that your God ſhould be able to deliver you from it?

15. Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceive you, nor perſuade you after this Manner, neither do ye believe him; ſince there was no god of any Nation or Kingdom able to deliver his People from my Power, and that of my Fathers: much more will your God not deliver you from my Power.

16. Nay his Servants ſpoke more againſt the Lord God, and his Servant Hezekiah.

17. Beſides he wrote Letters to reproach the Lord God of Iſrael, and to ſpeak thus againſt him, As the gods of the Nations of the Countries that did not deliver their People from my Power, ſo the God of Hezekiah will not deliver his People from it.

Ver. 15. faithfully] being the ſame Word as in Ver. 12.

18. And they called aloud in the Tongue of Judah, to the People of Jeruſalem who were upon the Wall, to make them afraid, and to trouble them; that they might take the City.

19. They alſo ſpoke againſt the God of Jeruſalem, as againſt the gods of the People of the Earth, the Work of Men's Hands.

20. And for this King Hezekiah, and Iſaiah the Son of Amoz the Prophet prayed, and cried to Heaven.

21. And the Lord ſent an Angel, who cut off all the valiant Men, with the Rulers and Captains, in the Camp of the King of Aſſyria; ſo he returned with Shame of Face to his own Country, and going into the Houſe of his god, thoſe who proceeded forth from himſelf made him fall there by the Sword.

22. Thus the Lord ſaved Hezekiah, and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, from the Power of Sennacherib King of Aſſyria, and from the Power of all, guiding them on every ſide.

23. Many then brought Preſents to the Lord at Jeruſalem, and precious Things to Hezekiah King of Judah; and he was advanced in the Sight of all the Nations after that.

24. In thoſe Days was Hezekiah ſick likely to die, and prayed to the Lord; who ſpoke to him, and gave him a Token.

25. But Hezekiah did not render according to the Benefit to him, for his Heart was exalted; whereby there was Wrath againſt him, as alſo againſt Judah and Jeruſalem.

26. However he was humbled for the Loftineſs of his Heart, together with the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem; ſo that the Wrath of the Lord did not come upon them in his Time.

27. And Hezekiah had Riches and Honour exceeding much, and made him Treaſuries for Silver, Gold, precious Stones, Spices, Shields, and all pleaſant Things;

28. Store-houſes likewiſe for the Crop of Corn, Wine and Oil; with Stalls for all manner of Beaſts, and Herds at the Stalls.

29. He further prepared him Cities, and Poſſeſſion of Flocks and Herds abundantly: for God gave him very much Subſtance.

30. And the ſame Hezekiah ſtopped up the uppermoſt Spring of the Water of Gihon, making it ſtraight down to the Weſt of the City of David; and he proſpered in all his Work.

31. But ſo it was among the Interpreters of the Princes of Babylon, who ſent to him to enquire of the Miracle which was in the Country, that God left him, to try him, that whatever was in his Heart might be known.

32. As for the reſt of Hezekiah's Affairs, and his Generoſity, behold they are written in the Viſion of the Prophet Iſaiah, the Son of Amoz, together with the Book of the Kings of Judah and Iſrael.

33. And Hezekiah lay down with his Fathers, they burying him in the higheſt of the Sepulchres of David's Sons, nay all Judah and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem did him Honour at his Death; and Manaſſeh his Son reigned in his room.

CHAP. XXXIII.

MANASSEH was in his twelfth Year when he began reigning, and reigned fifty five Years at Jeruſalem.

2. And he did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with; according to the abominable Things of the Nations, that the Lord expelled from the Preſence of the Iſraelites.

3. For he built up again the Chapels which his Father Hezekiah had broke down, raiſed up Altars to Baalim, made Groves, worſhipped all the Army of Heaven, and ſerved them.

4. He alſo built Altars in the Houſe of the Lord, of which the Lord ſaid, My Name ſhall be in Jeruſalem for ever.

5. And he built Altars to all the Army of Heaven, in the two Courts of the Lord's Houſe.

6. Beſides he made his Sons paſs through the Fire in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, uſed Soothſaying, Divination and Witchcraft, and had to do with familiar Spirits and Sorcerers; doing what the Lord was much diſpleaſed with, to provoke him.

7. Nay he put a carved Image of an Idol that he made, in the Houſe of God, of which God ſaid to David and his Son Solomon; In this Houſe and in Jeruſalem, that I have choſen out of all the Tribes of Iſrael, will I put my Name for ever.

8. And I will not turn aſide the Feet of

Iſrael

Iſrael again, from the Country which I appointed for your Forefathers; only if they obſerve to do all that I have commanded them, according to all the Law, Ordinances and Rules, by the Miniſtry of Moſes.

9. Thus Manaſſeh made Judah and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem err, to do worſe than the Nations, that the Lord had deſtroyed from the Preſence of the Iſraelites.

10. And the Lord ſpoke to Manaſſeh and his People, but they would not hearken.

11. Therefore the Lord brought againſt them the Princes of the Army who belonged to the King of Aſſyria, and they took Manaſſeh among the Thorns, and binding him with Chains, carried him away to Babylon.

12. However when he was diſtreſſed, he made ſupplication before the Lord his God, and was humbled exceedingly in the Preſence of the God of his Fathers.

13. And upon his praying to him, he was intreated by him, and hearkening to his Petition, brought him back to Jeruſalem into his Kingdom: ſo Manaſſeh knew that the Lord himſelf was God.

14. And after that he built a Wall without the City of David, at the Weſt of Gihon in the Valley, even to the Entrance of the Fiſh-gate, and incloſed the Aſcent, making it very high; as alſo put Captains of the Army at all the fortified Cities in Judah.

15. Moreover he took away the gods of the Strangers, and the Idol out of the Houſe of the Lord, with all the Altars which he had built on the Mount of the Lord's Houſe and in Jeruſalem; and threw them without the City.

16. And he built up the Altar of the Lord, offering upon it Sacrifices of Peace-offerings and Thank-offering, and ordered Judah to ſerve the Lord God of Iſrael.

17. But the People ſacrificed yet in the Chapels, only it was to the Lord their God.

18. As for the reſt of Manaſſeh's Affairs, his Prayer to his God, and the Words of the Seers who ſpoke to him in the Name of the Lord God of Iſrael, behold they are in the Matters of the Kings of Iſrael.

19. So his Prayer, and God's being intreated by him, with all his Sin and Vice, as alſo the Places at which he built Chapels, and his ſetting up Groves and carved Images, before he was humbled, behold they are written in the Matters of the Seers.

20. And Manaſſeh lay down with his Fathers, they burying him at his own Houſe; and Amon his Son reigned in his room.

21. Amon was in his twenty ſecond Year when he began reigning, and reigned two Years at Jeruſalem.

22. He likewiſe did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with, as Manaſſeh his Father had done: for Amon ſacrificed to all the carved Images which the other made, and ſerved them.

23. And was not humbled before the Lord, as his Father Manaſſeh was; but he himſelf treſpaſſed much.

24. At length his Servants conſpired againſt him, and killed him in his own Houſe.

25. But the People of the Country ſlew all that conſpired againſt him; and the ſame made Joſiah his Son King in his room.

CHAP. XXXIV.

JOSIAH was in his eighth Year when he began reigning, and reigned thirty one Years at Jeruſalem.

2. And he did what the Lord approved of; going in the Ways of David his Father, without turning aſide to the right Hand or left.

3. Even in the eighth Year of his Reign, when he was yet a Youth, he began to ſeek the God of David his Father; and in the twelfth Year he began to cleanſe Judah and Jeruſalem, from the Chapels, Groves, carved Images and molten ones.

4. They alſo broke down the Altars of Baalim before him, and the ſun-burnt Images that were above he cut down from them, and the Groves, carved Images and molten ones he broke, beat ſmall, and ſprinkled upon the Surface of the Graves of thoſe who ſacrificed to them.

5. Moreover he burnt the Bones of the Prieſts upon their Altars, and cleanſed Judah and Jeruſalem.

6. In the Cities likewiſe of Manaſſeh, Ephraim and Simeon, even to Naphtali, with their Tools round about.

7. When he had thus broke down the

Altars

Altars and Groves, and beat the carved Images in Pieces ſmall, and cut down all the ſun-burnt Images in the whole Country of Iſrael, he returned to Jeruſalem.

8. And in the eighteenth Year of his Reign, at the cleanſing of the Country and the Houſe, he ſent Shaphan the Son of Azaliah, Maaſeiah the Prince of the City, and Joah the Son of Joahaz the Recorder, to repair the Houſe of the Lord his God.

9. Who coming to Hilkiah the high Prieſt, delivered the Money that was brought into the Houſe of God, which the Levites who kept the Door had gathered from the Hands of Manaſſeh and Ephraim, from all the Reſidue of Iſrael, and from all Judah and Benjamin; then they returned to Jeruſalem.

10. And they delivered it into the Hands of ſuch as managed the Work, that were ſet over the Houſe of the Lord; who gave it to the Doers of the Work, that wrought in the Houſe of the Lord, to ſearch and repair the Houſe:

11. Even to the Artificers and Builders did they give it, to buy Stone that was cut, and Timber for Joinings, and to put the Houſes in frame which the Kings of Judah had deſtroyed.

12. And the Men acted faithfully in the Work, thoſe who were ſet over them being Jahath and Obadiah, of the Poſterity of Merari, and Zechariah and Meſhullam, of the Poſterity of the Kohathites, to be chief; and the Levites, all that underſtood Inſtruments of Muſick.

13. They were alſo over thoſe who carried burdens, and the chief of all that did the Work in each particular Service; and of the Levites there were Scribes, Officers and Porters.

14. Nay when they brought out the Money that was carried into the Houſe of the Lord, Hilkiah the Prieſt found the Book of the Lord's Law by the Hand of Moſes.

15. And Hilkiah ſaid thus to Shaphan the Scribe, I have found the Book of the Law in the Houſe of the Lord; he alſo gave the Book to him.

16. Then Shaphan brought the Book to the King, and brought him back Word again, ſaying, All that was delivered into the Hands of thy Servants they do.

17. For they have poured out the Money that was found in the Houſe of the Lord, and delivered it into the Hands of ſuch as were ſet over, and into the Hands of thoſe who managed, the Work.

18. Beſides he told the King thus, Hilkiah the Prieſt has given me a Book; and Shaphan read in it before him.

19. And as ſoon as the King heard the Words of the Law, he tore his Cloaths.

20. He alſo commanded Hilkiah, Ahikam the Son of Shaphan, Abdon the Son of Micah, Shaphan the Scribe, and Aſaiah a Servant of the King, as follows,

21. Go, enquire of the Lord for me, and for thoſe who are left in Iſrael and Judah, concerning the Words of the Book which is found: for the Wrath of the Lord is great which is poured out on us, becauſe our Fathers have not obſerved the Word of the Lord, to do according to all that is written in this Book.

22. So Hilkiah, and thoſe who belonged to the King, went to Huldah the Propheteſs, the Wife of Shallum, the Son of Tokehath, the Son of Haſrah, Keeper of the Garments, ſhe dwelling at Jeruſalem in the ſecond Part; and they ſpoke to her after that manner.

23. Who ſaid to them: Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael; Tell the Man that ſent you to me;

24. Thus ſays the Lord: Behold I will bring Ill to this Place, and upon the Inhabitants of it, even all the Curſes which are written in the Book that they have read before the King of Judah;

25. Becauſe they have forſaken me, and burnt incenſe to other gods, that they might provoke me by all the Works of their Hands; therefore ſhall my Wrath be poured out on this Place, and not be quenched.

26. But concerning the King of Judah who ſent you to enquire of the Lord, thus ſhall you tell him; Thus ſays the Lord God of Iſrael, As for the Words which thou haſt heard,

27. Foraſmuch as thy Heart is tender, and thou didſt humble thy ſelf before God, when thou heardeſt his Words againſt this Place, and the Inhabitants of it, and humbling thy ſelf before me, didſt tear thy Cloaths, and weep before me; I alſo heard, ſays the Lord.

29. Upon this he ſent, and gathered all the Elders of Judah and Jeruſalem.

30. He then went up to the Houſe of the Lord, with all the Men of Judah, and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, as alſo the Prieſts and Levites, nay all the People from the greateſt to the leaſt; where he read in their Hearing all the Words of the Book of the Covenant, that was found at the Houſe of the Lord.

31. And the King ſtanding at his Station, made a Covenant before the Lord, to go after him, and to keep his Commandments, Teſtimonies and Ordinances, with all his Heart, and all his Soul, to do the Words of the Covenant that were written in this Book.

32. And he made every one who was found in Jeruſalem and Benjamin ſtand to it: thus the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem did according to God's Covenant, the God of their Fathers.

33. After which Joſiah took away all the Abominations from all the Countries that belonged to the Iſraelites, and made every one who was found in Iſrael ſerve, namely the Lord their God: all his Time they did not turn aſide from after the Lord God of their Fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

MOREOVER Joſiah kept a Paſſover to the Lord in Jeruſalem; and they killed it on the fourteenth of the firſt Month.

2. He alſo appointed the Prieſts in their Charges, and ſtrengthened them to the Service of the Lord's Houſe.

3. And ſaid to the Levites, who made all Iſrael that were holy to the Lord underſtand; Put the holy Ark into the Houſe, which Solomon the Son of David King of Iſrael built, not to be a Burden on your Shoulders: ſerve now the Lord your God, and his People Iſrael.

4. So prepare your ſelves after the Family of your Fathers, according to your Partitions, by the Writing of David King of Iſrael, and that of his Son Solomon.

5. And ſtand in the holy Place after the Diviſions of the Family of the Fathers, belonging to your Brethren, the Males of the People, and the Partition of the Family of the Father of the Levites.

6. Thus kill the Paſſover, conſecrate your ſelves, and prepare your Brethren, to do according to the Word of the Lord by the Miniſtry of Moſes.

7. And Joſiah took up for the Males of the People, Sheep, Lambs and young Goats, all for the Paſſover-offerings, for every one who was found, to the Number of thirty thouſand, with three thouſand Bullocks: theſe were of the King's Subſtance.

8. His Princes likewiſe took up freely for the People, Prieſts and Levites: Hilkiah, Zechariah and Jehiel, Rulers of the Houſe of God, gave to the Prieſts for the Paſſover-offerings two thouſand and ſix hundred, with three hundred Bullocks.

9. Conaniah too, Shemaiah and Nethaneel his Brethren, Haſhabiah, Jehiel and Jozabad, the chief of the Levites, took up for the Levites for the Paſſover-offerings five thouſand, with five hundred Bullocks.

10. The Service being thus prepared, the Prieſts ſtood in their Station, and the Levites in their Partitions, according to the King's Commandment.

11. And they killed the Paſſover, the Prieſts ſprinkling from their Hands, and the Levites ſtripping.

12. Then they took away the Burnt-offering, to give after the Diviſions in the Family of the Fathers, belonging to the Males of the People, that they might bring near to the Lord, as it is written in the Book of Moſes; and ſo for the Bullocks.

13. Beſides they boiled the Paſſover with Fire according to the Manner; and the holy Things did they boil in Pots, Kettles and Caldrons, and run with them to all thoſe of the People.

14. After which they prepared for themſelves, and the Prieſts; becauſe the Prieſts Aarons Sons were at offering the Burnt-offerings, and Fat till Night: therefore the Levites prepared both for themſelves, and the Prieſts the Sons of Aaron.

15. And the Singers the Sons of Aſaph were in their Station, according to the Commandment of David, Aſaph, Heman, and Jeduthun the King's Seer, as were the Porters at each Gate: none of them were to depart from their Service; ſince their Brethren the Levites prepared for them,

16. So was all the Service of the Lord prepared the ſame Day, by keeping the Paſſover, and by offering up Burnt-offerings upon the Lord's Altar; according to the Commandment of King Joſiah.

17. And the Iſraelites who were preſent kept the Paſſover at that Time, as alſo the Feaſt of unleavened Cakes ſeven Days.

18. And there was not kept ſuch a Paſſover as that in Iſrael, from the Time of the Prophet Samuel, nor did any of the Kings of Iſrael keep a Paſſover like that which Joſiah kept, and the Prieſts, and Levites, with all Judah and Iſrael who were preſent, and the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem,

19. In the eighteenth Year of Joſiah's Reign was this Paſſover kept.

20. After all this when Joſiah had prepared the Houſe, Necho King of Egypt came up to fight againſt Carchemiſh by Euphrates, and Joſiah went out to meet him.

21. But he ſent Ambaſſadors to tell him; What haſt thou to do with me, O King of Judah? It is not againſt thee thy ſelf now, but to the Family that I have war with, and God has ordered me to make great haſte: refrain thyſelf from oppoſing God, who is with me, that he may not deſtroy thee.

22. Nevertheleſs Joſiah would not turn about his Face from him, but diſguiſed himſelf to fight with him, and without hearkening to the Words of Necho from the Mouth of God, went to fight in the Vale of Megiddo.

23. And the Archers ſhooting at King Joſiah, he ſaid to his Servants, Take me away, for I am very ill.

24. Accordingly his Servants took him away out of the Chariot, and carried him in the ſecond Chariot which he had, taking him to Jeruſalem, where he died, and was buried in the Graves of his Fathers; and all Judah and Jeruſalem mourned for Joſiah.

25. Jeremiah alſo lamented for him, nay all the Singing-men and Singing-women ſpeak of Joſiah in their Lamentations to this Day, and have made them an Ordinance in Iſrael; which behold are written in the Lamentations.

26. As for the reſt of Joſiah's Affairs, and his Kindneſs, according as it is written in the Law of the Lord;

27. Even his Affairs, the former and latter, behold they are written in the Book of the Kings of Iſrael and Judah.

CHAP. XXXVI.

THEN the People of the Country took Jehoahaz the Son of Joſiah, and made him King in the room of his Father at Jeruſalem.

2. Joahaz was in his twenty third Year when he began reigning, and reigned three Months at Jeruſalem.

3. At length the King of Egypt put him away at Jeruſalem; and fined the Country a hundred Talents of Silver, and a Talent of Gold.

4. The ſame too made Eliakim his Brother King over Judah and Jeruſalem, and turned his Name to Jehoiakim; and Necho took away Joahaz his Brother, bringing him to Egypt.

5. Jehoiakim was in his twenty fifth Year when he began reigning, and reigned eleven Years at Jeruſalem; and he did what the Lord his God was diſpleaſed with.

6. Againſt him came up Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, and bound him in Chains to carry him thither.

7. Nebuchadnezzar alſo brought ſome of the Inſtruments of the Lord's Houſe to Babylon, and put them in his Temple there.

8. As for the reſt of Jehoiakim's Affairs,

Ver. 25. Lamentations] That theſe were not the Book of Lamentations a Number of Paſſages there ſhew, beſides that they are too long for a funeral Solemnity, if not to be got ready againſt the Time, and the Singers inſtructed to ſing them.

Ver. 3. at Jeruſalem] which ſhews that Necho took it: accordingly Herodotus, Lib. ii. p. 67. ſays Necus King of Egypt fought a Battle againſt the Syrians in the Plains of Magdolus, and having got the Victory, took the great City Cadytis; the People of thoſe Parts being in general called Syrians by the heathen Writers afterwards, as the Place of the Battle by him mentioned was evidently the Scripture Vale of Megiddo, Ch. xxxv. 22. as for Cadytis, the ſame Author has taken notice of it further, Lib. iii. pag. 71. as being the City of the People of Paleſtine, and Part of the Arabian Territories, as likewiſe that it was about the Bigneſs of Sardis, the chief City of Leſſer Aſia; which ſufficiently prove it to be Jeruſalem; however ſee Prideaux, Connect. An. 610. and concerning that Conqueſt, *Joſephus Ant. Ver. 6. to carry him] It is probable he either died in Jeruſalem after he was taken, or in the Journey to Babylon, ſee alſo Joſeph. Ant. B. x. 8. who ſays he was ſlain; and ſo the Prophecies of Jeremiah were fulfilled concerning him, Jer. xxii. 19. & xxxvi. 30. the firſt of which does not ſuit well with his dying at Babylon: and that he was not carried thither, appears alſo by its being to carry him, not and carried him; notwithſtanding thoſe Words on Jer. xxii. 19. in Poole's Annotations, "The "Scripture ſaith expreſsly he was carried to Babylon, and his Abominations that he did, with what was found in him, behold they are written in the Book of the Kings of Iſrael and Judah; and Jehoiachin his Son reigned in his room.

and

9. It was in the eighth Year when Jehoiachin began reigning, and he reigned three Months and ten Days at Jeruſalem; and did what the Lord was diſpleaſed with.

10. And at the Return of the Year King Nebuchadnezzar ſent, and brought him to Babylon, with the valuable Inſtruments of the Lord's Houſe; and made Zedekiah his Kinſman King over Judah and Jeruſalem.

11. Zedekiah was in his twenty firſt Year when he began reigning, and reigned eleven Years at Jeruſalem.

12. He likewiſe did what the Lord his God was diſpleaſed with, nor was humbled before the Prophet Jeremiah at the Command of the Lord.

13. And he alſo rebelled againſt King Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him ſwear by God; but he ſtiffened his Neck, and ſtrengthened his Heart, from returning to the Lord God of Iſrael.

14. Moreover all the chief of the Prieſts and People did what was much amiſs, according to all the Abominations of the Gentiles, and defiled the Houſe of the Lord that he had conſecrated in Jeruſalem.

15. And when the Lord God of their Fathers ſent to them by the Miniſtry of his Meſſengers, and that early, becauſe he had compaſſion upon his People and Habitation;

16. They derided God's Meſſengers, deſpiſed his Words, and erred againſt his Prophets, till the Wrath of the Lord aſcended againſt his People, and there was no Remedy.

17. Therefore he brought up againſt them the King of the Chaldeans, who ſlew their young Men with the Sword in the Houſe of their Sanctuary, and had no compaſſion upon young Man or Virgin, the Elder or very aged Perſon: he delivered all into his Power.

18. As for all the Inſtruments of the Houſe of God, great and ſmall, and the Treaſures of the Lord's Houſe, with thoſe of the King and his Princes, he carried all to Babylon.

19. Nay they burnt the Houſe of God, broke down the Wall of Jeruſalem, burnt all its Palaces with Fire, and deſtroyed all the valuable Inſtruments of it.

20. And thoſe who were left from the Sword he carried away to Babylon, and they became Servants to him and his Sons, till the Reign of the Kingdom of Perſia;

21. To fulfil the Word of the Lord by the Mouth of Jeremiah, till the Country had finiſhed its Sabbaths: it keeping Sabbath all the Time it was deſolate, to fulfil ſeventy Years.

22. Now in the firſt Year of Cyrus King of Perſia, the Lord, to accompliſh his Word by the Mouth of Jeremiah, ſtirred up the Spirit of that King, ſo that he ſent Word through all his Kingdom, and it was alſo in Writing as follows;

23. Thus ſays Cyrus King of Perſia, The Lord God of Heaven having given me all the Kingdoms of the Earth, and appointed me to build him a Houſe at Jeruſalem, which is in Judah; whoever there is among you of all his People, the Lord his God be with him, and let him go up.

" 2 King. xxiv. 15." for that was Jehoiachin his Succeſſor. Prideaux repreſents it, that in the Siege he was taken Priſoner in ſome Sally, and ſlain wi h the Sword, Connec. An. 599. whereas it is improbable the King ſhould go out, and be taken in that Manner. But this Opinion of Prideaux ſeems to ſpring from another wrong one, that Jeruſalem was not now taken, the ſame Siege ſtill continuing under Jehoiachin, till he ſurrendered it up, Idem An. 598. On the contrary Nebuchadnezzar carried ſome of the Things of the Lord's Houſe to Babylon in Jehoiakim's Time, 2 Chron. xxxvi. 7. and muſt therefore take the City; beſides that the Siege in the Reign of Jehoiachin was a new one, 2 King. xxiv. 10.

Ver. 9. It was in the eighth Year] of the Babylonian Captivity, that being in the 4th Year of his Father's Reign, Jer. xxv. 1, 11. who died in the 11th as by the Table. For Jehoiachin himſelf was then in his 18th Year, 2 King. xxiv. 8. 1 Eſdr. i. 43. by which thoſe Places are reconciled; ſee the like Chap. xxii. 2. To put this for his Age, does not accord with his doing that which was evil in the Sight of the Lord, and having Wives, 2 King. xxiv. 15. And that his Father made him his Aſſociate in the Kingdom ſo young, when he had reigned but one Year, and that under the King of Egypt, Ver. 4, 5. (as ſome will have it) is to me unlikely, conſidering too how well it agrees with the Date above-mentioned; which is alſo the Mind of Lightfoot.

Ver. 10. Kinſman] being not his Brother, but his Uncle, 2 King. xxiv. 17.

Ver. 22. Newton, in his Obſervations upon the Prophecies of Daniel, Chap. 1. has theſe Words: " The " Book of Ezra was originally a part of the Book of the " Chronicles, and has been divided from it. For it be- " gins with the two laſt Verſes of the Books of Chro- " nicles, and the firſt Book of Eſdras begins with the two " laſt Chapters thereof. Ezra was therefore the Com- " piler of the Books of Kings and Chronicles, and brought " down the Hiſtory to his own Time." The Author of the Preſent State of the Printed Hebrew Text ſuſpects theſe two laſt Verſes have been added improperly, p. 492. but to make a happy Concluſion it is very properly; nay his Complaint of their breaking off in the very midſt of a Sentence in Ezra i. 3. makes them not leſs proper, ſince it was proper for this to end, as ſoon as a perfect Sentence could be made out of the other, even ſuppoſing it taken from thence; and it may be ſeen that theſe two laſt Verſes make compleat Senſe.

NOTES upon the BOOK of EZRA.

CHAP. I.

NOW in the firſt Year of Cyrus King of Perſia, the Lord, to accompliſh his Word from the Mouth of Jeremiah, ſtirred up the Spirit of that King, ſo that he ſent Word through all his Kingdom, and it was alſo in Writing as follows:

2. Thus ſays Cyrus King of Perſia; The Lord God of Heaven having given me all the Kingdoms of the Earth, and appointed me to build him a Houſe at Jeruſalem, which is in Judah;

3. Whoever there is among you of all his People, his God be with him, and let him go up thither, and build the Houſe of the Lord God of Iſrael, who is God at Jeruſalem.

4. And every one that is left at any of the Places, let the Men of the Place where he ſojourns, convey him away with Silver, Gold, Goods and Cattle, together with a Free-offering for the Houſe of God in Jeruſalem.

5. With that the chief Fathers of Judah and Benjamin got ready, as alſo the Prieſts and Levites, with all whoſe Spirit God ſtirred up, to go up to build the Houſe of the Lord there.

6. All thoſe likewiſe who were round about them ſtrengthened their Hands with Inſtruments of Silver, with Gold, Goods, Cattle and precious Things, beſides all that was offered freely.

7. King Cyrus alſo brought forth all the Inſtruments of the Lord's Houſe, which Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of Jeruſalem, and put in the Houſe of his gods.

8. This he did by the Hand of Mithredath the Treaſurer, who counted them out to Sheſhbazzar the Prince of Judah.

9. Of which theſe are the Numbers; thirty golden Bowls, a thouſand ſilver ones, nine and twenty Knives,

10. Thirty golden Baſons, four hundred and ten ſilver ones of the ſecond Sort, and a thouſand other Veſſels.

11. All the Inſtruments of Gold and Silver were five thouſand and four hundred; all which Sheſhbazzar brought up with thoſe of the Captivity, who came up from Babylon to Jeruſalem.

CHAP. II.

AND theſe are the People of the Province that came up from Captivity, the Captives whom Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon carried away thither, who returned to Jeruſalem and Judah, to their reſpective Cities;

2. The Number of which Men of the Iſraelites, that came with Zerubbabel, Jeſhua, Nehemiah, Seraiah, Reelaiah, Mordecai, Bilſhan, Miſpar, Bigvai, Rehum and Baanah, were:

4. The Poſterity of Shephatiah, three hundred ſeventy two;

5. The Poſterity of Arah, ſeven hundred ſeventy five;

6. The Poſterity of Pahath-moab, belonging to thoſe of Jeſhua and Joab, two thouſand eight hundred and twelve.

7. The Poſterity of Elam, a thouſand two hundred fifty four;

32. The Poſterity of Harim, three hundred and twenty;
33. The Poſterity of Lod, Hadid and Ono, ſeven hundred twenty five;
34. The Poſterity of Jericho, three hundred forty five;
35. The Poſterity of Senaah, three thouſand ſix hundred and thirty;
36. The Prieſts were: the Poſterity of Jedaiah, belonging to the Family of Jeſhua, nine hundred ſeventy three;
37. The Poſterity of Immer, a thouſand fifty two;
38. The Poſterity of Paſhhur, a thouſand two hundred forty ſeven;
39. The Poſterity of Harim, a thouſand and ſeventeen.
40. The Levites were: the Poſterity of Jeſhua and Kadmiel, belonging to the Poſterity of Hodaviah, ſeventy four.
41. The Singers were: the Poſterity of Aſaph, a hundred twenty eight.
42. The Poſterity of the Porters, namely of Shallum, Ater, Talmon, Akkub, Hatita, Shobai, all were a hundred and thirty nine.
43. The Aſſiſtants were the Poſterity of Ziha, Haſupha, Tabbaoth,
44. Keros, Siaha, Padon,
45. Lebanah, Hagabah, Akkub,
46. Hagab, Shalmai, Hanan,
47. Giddel, Gahar, Reaiah,

55. The Poſterity of Solomon's Servants, namely of Sotai, Sophereth, Peruda,
56. Jaalah, Darkon, Giddel,
57. Shephatiah, Hattil, Pochereth-zebaim, Ami;
58. All the Aſſiſtants, and the Poſterity of Solomon's Servants, were three hundred ninety two.
59. And theſe came up from Tel-melah, Tel-harſa, Cherub, Addan, Immer; but they could not tell the Family of their Fathers, and their Offspring, whether they were of Iſrael:
60. The Poſterity of Delaiah, Tobijah, Nekoda, ſix hundred fifty two.
61. Of the Poſterity alſo of the Prieſts, that of Habaiah, Koz, Barzillai, who taking a Wife of the Daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, was called by their Name;
62. Theſe ſought for their Regiſter among them whoſe Pedigree was reckoned up, but were not found; ſo they were held to be polluted from the Prieſthood.

Ver. 43. Aſſiſtants] as ſhewn Chap. viii. 20. They are thought to be the Poſterity of the Gibeonites ſpoken of Joſh. ix. for which I find a very good Reaſon, beſides their Employment, though I do not obſerve any Author who mentions it; that the Word in the Original comes from the Verb uſed Joſh. ix. ult. for made, as they were then inſtituted. Nethinim is plural without s, as obſerved of Cherubim at Gen. iii. 24. and ſhould be for a Name Nethinites, till there ſtood up a Prieſt with Urim, and with Thummim.

64. The whole Congregation together, were forty two thouſand three hundred ſixty:

65. Beſides their Servant-men and Maids, theſe being ſeven thouſand three hundred thirty ſeven; and they had two hundred Men and Women who were Singers.

66. Their Horſes were ſeven hundred thirty ſix, their Mules two hundred forty five,

67. Their Camels four hundred thirty five, the Aſſes ſix thouſand ſeven hundred and twenty.

68. And ſome of the chief Fathers, when they were come to the Lord's Houſe in Jeruſalem, offered freely for the Houſe of God, to ſet it up upon its Baſe;

69. Giving to the Treaſure of the Work, according to their Ability, ſixty one thouſand Drams of Gold, five thouſand Manehs of Silver, and a hundred Prieſts Coats.

70. So the Prieſts, Levites, and ſome of the People, with the Singers, Porters, and Aſſiſtants dwelt in their Cities; nay all Iſrael in theirs.

CHAP. III.

AND when the ſeventh Month approached, after the Iſraelites were in the Cities, the People gathered together as one Man to Jeruſalem.

2. Then Jeſhua the Son of Jozadak got ready, and his Brethren the Prieſts, as likewiſe Zerubbabel the Son of Shealtiel, with his Brethren, and built the Altar of the God of Iſrael, to offer up Burnt-offerings upon it, as it is written in the Law of Moſes the Man of God.

3. As ſoon as they had prepared the Altar upon its Baſes, becauſe of the Dread that was upon them by reaſon of the People of the Countries, they offered up Burnt-offerings upon it to the Lord, and that both Morning and Evening.

4. They alſo kept the Feaſt of Tabernacles, as it is written; and the Burnt-offerings were Day by Day in Number, according to the Manner of each Day's Buſineſs on the very ſame Day;

5. And after that the continual Burnt-offering, and the conſecrated Things of the new Moons, of all the Lord's appointed Times, and of every one who offered a Free-offering to the Lord.

6. From the firſt Day of the ſeventh Month they began to offer up Burnt-offerings to the Lord, when the Foundation of his Temple was not laid.

7. Moreover they gave Money to the Fellers, and Artificers, as alſo Meat, Drink, and Oil to the Zidonians, and Tyrians, to bring Cedar-trees from Lebanon to the Sea of Joppa, according to the Licence of Cyrus King of Perſia to them.

8. And in the ſecond Year of their coming to the Houſe of God at Jeruſalem, in the ſecond Month, Zerubbabel the Son of Shealtiel, Jeſhua the Son of Jozadak, and the reſt of their Brethren the Prieſts and Levites, with all that were come out of the Captivity to Jeruſalem began, and placed the Levites from twenty Years old upward, to be chief over the Work of the Lord's Houſe.

9. So Jeſhua, his Sons and Brethren, Kadmiel, and his Sons, the Poſterity of Judah, ſtood as one to be chief over the Doers of the Work in the Houſe of God; with the Sons of Henadad, their Sons and Brethren, the Levites.

10. And when the Builders laid the Foundation of the Lord's Temple, they placed the Prieſts cloathed having Trumpets, and the Levites that were the Poſterity of Aſaph with Cymbals, to praiſe the Lord according to the Hands of David King of Iſrael.

11. Who anſwered in praiſing, and giving thanks to the Lord, becauſe he was good, ſince his Kindneſs was upon Iſrael for ever; and all the People ſhouted with a loud Noiſe in praiſing the Lord, for the Foundation of his Houſe being laid.

12. But many of the Prieſts, Levites, and chief Fathers, that were Elders, who had ſeen the former Houſe when it was ſtanding, upon their Sight of this, wept aloud; while many were loudly ſhouting for Joy:

Ver. 64. forty] The particular Numbers probably were only the Families of Levi, Benjamin and Judah, which belonged to that Kingdom; and the total Sum here, which exceeds the Particulars, might be made up with People of the other Tribes who were mixed among them; ſee Ch. vi. 17.

13. Inſomuch that the People did not know the Voice of Shouting in Joy, from that of thoſe who were weeping, though the People ſhouted with ſuch a loud Noiſe, that the Sound was heard far off.

CHAP. IV.

AND when the Enemies of Judah and Benjamin heard, that the Captives were building a Temple for the Lord God of Iſrael;

2. They came to Zerubbabel, and the chief Fathers, and ſaid to them; Let us build with you, for we are as you, ſeeking your God, to whom we have ſacrificed from the Time of Eſar-haddon King of Aſſyria, who brought us up hither.

3. But Zerubbabel, Jeſhua, and the reſt of the chief Fathers of Iſrael anſwered them, You have Nothing to do with us, to build a Houſe for our God; for we together will build for the Lord God of Iſrael, as King Cyrus King of Perſia has commanded us.

4. Then the People of the Country made the Hands of the People of Judah ſlack, and troubled them in building.

5. They alſo hired Counſellors againſt them, to fruſtrate their Purpoſe, all the Time of Cyrus, and till the Reign of Darius, Kings of Perſia.

6. And in the Beginning of the Reign of Ahaſuerus, they wrote an Accuſation againſt the Inhabitants of Judah and Jeruſalem.

7. In the Time likewiſe of Artaxerxes King of Perſia, Biſhlam, with Mithredath, Tabeel, and the reſt of his Society, wrote to him; and the Writing of the Epiſtle was done in Syriack, and interpreted out of it.

8. Rehum the Preſident, and Shimſhai the Scribe, wrote a Letter againſt Jeruſalem, to King Artaxerxes after this Manner:

9. Then with them the reſt of their Society, the Dinites, Apharſathchites, Tarpelites, Apharſites, Archevites, Babylonians, Shuſhanchites, Dehavites, Elamites,

10. And the reſt of the Nations whom the great and honourable Oſnappar brought away, and made them dwell in the City of Samaria, and the Reſidue beyond the River, and at ſuch a Time:

11. This is the Copy of the Letter which they ſent to him. To King Artaxerxes, thy Servants the Men beyond the River, and at ſuch a Time.

12. Let it be known to the King, that the Jews who came up from thee to us, are come to Jeruſalem, building the rebellious and bad City, and make up the Walls, and join the Foundations together.

13. Let it now be known to the King, that if this City be built, and the Walls made up, they will not give Toll, Tax and Tribute, by which thou wilt bring damage to the Revenue of the Kings.

14. Now ſince we have a Salary of the Palace, and it is not fit for us to ſee the King's Reproach, upon this we have ſent, and made it known to the King;

15. That Somebody may ſeek in the Book of the Records of thy Fathers, where thou wilt find, and know, that this City has been a rebellious one, and brought damage to Kings and Provinces, and that the People made Conſpiracy within it of old time, whereupon this City was laid waſte.

16. We make known to the King, that if this City be built, and the Walls made up, by this means thou wilt have no Part beyond the River.

17. The King ſent Account to Rehum the Preſident, Shimſhai the Scribe, the reſt of their Society who dwelt in Samaria, and the Reſidue beyond the River: Peace, and at ſuch a Time.

18. The Epiſtle which you ſent to us was read plainly before me;

19. And Order being given by me, ſome ſought, and found that this City of old time has been lifting up it ſelf againſt Kings, as alſo Rebellion and Conſpiracy have been made in it;

20. Nay there have been powerful Kings in Jeruſalem, who were Rulers over all beyond the River, and Toll, Tax, and Tribute was given to them.

21. Give Order now to make theſe Men ceaſe, that this City may not be built till Order is given by me.

22. And be warned of doing amiſs about this: why ſhould Hurt increaſe to bring damage to the Kings?

23. So after the Copy of the Epiſtle of King Artaxerxes was read before Rehum, Shimſhai the Scribe, and their Society; they went away in haſte to Jeruſalem againſt the Jews, and made them ceaſe by Force, and Might.

24. At which Time the Work of the Houſe of God in Jeruſalem ceaſed, and continued ſo till the ſecond Year of the Reign of Darius King of Perſia.

CHAP. V.

THEN the Prophets, Haggai for one, and Zechariah the Son of Iddo, propheſied to thoſe Jews who were in Judah and Jeruſalem, in the Name of the God of Iſrael.

2. At that Time Zerubbabel the Son of Shealtiel, and Jeſhua the Son of Jozadak got ready, and began to build the Houſe of God in Jeruſalem; with whom were God's Prophets ſupporting them.

3. At the ſame Time there came to them Tatnai the Governor beyond the River, Shethar-boznai, and their Society, and ſaid thus to them, Who gave you Order to build this Houſe, and make up this Wall?

4. When we told them after the ſame Manner, what were the Names of theſe Men who erected this Building.

5. And upon the Elders of the Jews was the Eye of their God, ſo that thoſe could not make them ceaſe, till the Cauſe came to Darius; and then they brought back an Epiſtle about this.

6. The Copy of the Letter which Tatnai Governor beyond the River, Shethar-boznai, and his Society, the Apharſechites who were there, ſent to King Darius.

7. In the Account which they ſent to him it was written after this Manner. To King Darius be all Peace.

8. Let it be known to the King, that we went into the Province of Judea, to the Houſe of the great God, and it is building with huge Stones, Timber is laying in the Walls, and this Work is done ſpeedily, and proſpers in their Hands.

9. We then aſked thoſe Elders, ſaying to them after this Manner, Who gave you Order to build this Houſe, and make up this Wall?

10. And we alſo aſked them their Names, to make them known to thee, that we might write the Names of the Men who were ſome of the chief of them.

11. Upon which they returned us an Account after the following Manner: We are the Servants of the God of Heaven and Earth, and are building the Houſe that was built many Years before this, which a great King of Iſrael builded, and made up.

12. However after our Fathers provoked the God of Heaven, he delivered them into the Power of Nebuchadnezzar the Chaldean, King of Babylon, who deſtroyed this Houſe, and carried the People away thither.

13. But in the firſt Year of Cyrus King of Babylon, he gave Order to build this Houſe of God.

14. And moreover thoſe Inſtruments of God's Houſe, of Gold and Silver, which Nebuchadnezzar took away out of the Temple that was in Jeruſalem, and carried them away into the Temple of Babylon; did King Cyrus take from thence, and they were given to one whoſe Name was Sheſhbazzar, whom he made Governor.

15. And he ſaid to him, Take theſe Inſtruments, go, carry them down into the Temple in Jeruſalem; and let the Houſe of God be built in its Place.

16. Then this Sheſhbazzar being come, laid the Foundations of the Houſe of God in Jeruſalem: and from that Time till now it has been building, and is not finiſhed.

17. Now therefore if it is well to the King, let Somebody ſeek in the Houſe of the King's Treaſure which is there at Babylon, whether it is ſo, that Order was given by King Cyrus to build this Houſe of God in Jeruſalem; and let the King's Mind be ſent to us about it.

CHAP. VI.

AT the ſame Time King Darius gave Order, and ſome ſought in the Library, where the Treaſures were laid up in Babylon.

Ver. 4. what were] Thus not only the vulg. Lat. Bib. but alſo the Tigur. with that of Jun. and Trem. have quæ eſſent nomina, what were the Names, not in a Queſtion; which the Senſe of the Relation does not admit of, that the Jews ſhould aſk the others, What are the Names? And the contrary too is manifeſt by Ver. 10. Caſtal. likewiſe tranſlates in the ſame Manner.

2. And

2. And there was found in a Cheſt at the Palace, that was for the Province of the Medes, one Volume, in which was a Record thus written:

3. In the firſt Year of King Cyrus, he gave Order; Let the Houſe of God in Jeruſalem be built, the Place in which they offer Sacrifices, and the Foundations of it be firmly laid, let its Height be ſixty Cubits, the Breadth of it the ſame;

4. With three Rows of huge Stones, and a Row of new Timber; and let the Expence be given out of the King's Houſe.

5. And moreover let the Inſtruments of God's Houſe, of Gold and Silver, which Nebuchadnezzar took away out of the Temple that was in Jeruſalem, and brought away to Babylon, be carried back, and had into the Temple in Jeruſalem to their Place, and laid up in the Houſe of God.

6. Now, ſaid he, Tatnai the Governor beyond the River, Shethar-boznai, and your Society, the Apharſechites who are beyond the River, be you far from thence.

7. Let the Work of the Houſe of God alone; let the Governor of the Jews, and their Elders, build the ſame in its Place.

8. Beſides I give Order concerning what you ſhall do for theſe Elders of the Jews, to build this Houſe of God, that out of the King's Riches, the Toll beyond the River, the Expence ſhall be ſpeedily given to theſe Men, that they may not be made to ceaſe.

9. And what there is Need of, as Bullocks, Rams and Lambs, for the Burnt-offerings of the God of Heaven, Wheat, Salt, Wine and Oil, according to the Command of the Prieſts who are in Jeruſalem, let it be given them Day by Day without Failing.

10. That they may offer delicious Things to the God of Heaven, and pray for the Life of the King and his Sons.

11. I alſo give Order, that any Man who ſhall alter this Matter, Timber ſhall be pulled down from his Houſe, and being ſet up, he ſhall be deſtroyed upon it, and his Houſe ſhall be made a Dunghil for the ſame.

12. God likewiſe, who cauſes his Name to remain there, caſt down every King and People, who ſhall put forth their Hand to alter it, to deſtroy this Houſe of God in Jeruſalem. I Darius give Order, let it be done ſpeedily.

13. Then Tatnai the Governor beyond the River, Shethar-boznai, and their Society, by reaſon of what King Darius ſent, did ſpeedily after that Manner.

14. So the Elders of the Jews built, and proſpered by the propheſying of Haggai the Prophet, and Zechariah the Son of Iddo; building and making it up, as well by the Order of the God of Heaven, as by that of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes King of Perſia.

15. And this Houſe was finiſhed by the third Day of the Month of Adar, which was in the ſixth Year of the Reign of King Darius.

16. Upon which the Iſraelites, the Prieſts, Levites, and the reſt of the Captives, kept the Dedication of this Houſe of God with Joy.

17. For the Dedication of which they offered a hundred Oxen, two hundred Rams, four hundred Lambs; and twelve He-goats for a Sin-offering for all Iſrael, after the Number of their Tribes.

18. And they ſet the Prieſts in their Diviſions, with the Levites in their Partitions, for the Service of God in Jeruſalem; according to the Writing of the Book of Moſes.

19. The Captives too kept the Paſſover on the fourteenth of the firſt Month.

20. For the Prieſts and Levites cleanſed themſelves together, and were all of them clean; and the latter killed the Paſſover for all the Captives, for their Brethren the Prieſts, and for themſelves.

21. Which the Iſraelites who were returned from Captivity, and all that had ſeparated themſelves to them, from the Uncleanneſs of the Nations of the Country, to ſeek the Lord God of Iſrael, did eat.

22. And they kept the Feaſt of unleavened Cakes ſeven Days with Gladneſs: for the Lord had made them glad, and turned about the Heart of the King of Aſſyria towards them, to ſtrengthen their Hands in the Work of the Houſe of God, the God of Iſrael.

Ver. 2. in a Cheſt] So Munſt. and Ar. Montan. tranſlate in Scrinio, as likewiſe Sol. Jarhi and Ab. Ezra interpret it, the Word being alſo found thus in the Targum of Eſt. i. 4. with the ſame Verb, וְאַשְׁכַּח תַּמָּן שִׁית מְאָה אַמְיָתִין and he found there ſix hundred Cheſts. If we next conſider the Context that this was in the City of Babylon, Ver. 1. it could not be at Achmetha, or Ecbatan as ſome have it, another and diſtant City.

Ib. for] There was a Cheſt as it ſeems kept to hold the Records belonging to the Province of the Medes. And beſides the Impropriety of ſaying the Palace was in ſuch a Province, the Expreſſion may ſhew the Writing was found where it was ſought for.

Ver. 14. Artaxerxes] Artaxerxes Longimanus, of whom ſee the next Chapter; not the ſame as in Chap. iv. 7. their Characters being very different.

CHAP. VII.

NOW after theſe Things, in the Reign of Artaxerxes King of Perſia, Ezra, being the Son of Seraiah, the Son of Azariah, the Son of Hilkiah,

2. The Son of Shallum, the Son of Zadok, the Son of Ahitub,

3. The Son of Amariah, the Son of Azariah, the Son of Meraioth,

4. The Son of Zerahiah, the Son of Uzzi, the Son of Bukki,

5. The Son of Abiſhua, the Son of Phinehas, the Son of Eleazar, the Son of Aaron the chief Prieſt;

6. This Ezra came up from Babylon, and he was a ready Scribe in the Law of Moſes, which the Lord God of Iſrael gave; to whom the King had granted all his Requeſt, according to the Hand of the Lord his God upon him.

Ver. 1. Son of Seraiah] As they were not all immediate Sons, there being ſix left out between Azariah and Meraioth, 1 Chron. vi. 7, 8, 9, 10. and as Seraiah had now been dead 130 Years, 2 King. xxv. 18, 21. Jer. lii. 24, 27. & Chronol. Tab. 5. inſtead of putting Ezra for the Brother of Jehozadak in 1 Chr. vi. 14, 15. with other Commentators, I much rather ſuppoſe he might be as far off at leaſt as Jehozadak's Grandſon, by the Space of Time, and his Son being high Prieſt at the End of the Captivity, Ch. iii. 2. Hag. i. 1, 12, 14. Zech. iii. 1. and his Grandſons being in the Time of Ezra, Ch. x. 18. Neh. xii. 26.

Ver. 6. a ready Scribe] A Notion has prevailed among the Criticks of the Scripture, that Ezra wrote it out into another Character; that the Hebrew Letters before were the ſame with the Samaritan now, and that the preſent Hebrew are Chaldee ones. This how merely theorical ſoever it may ſeem, has been attended with a very pernicious Conſequence, the preferring the Samaritan Pentateuch, which is the whole of the Scripture in that Character, to the Hebrew in particular Places where they differ. The Samaritan Copy is not another Language, but the ſame as the Hebrew in other Letters, with ſome Alterations and Additions; but there is alſo a literal Verſion made from that, both in the Samaritan Character and Language. Now it is evident this Copy was compoſed after Ezra, ſince it has the marginal Readings, which are generally allowed to be his; and alſo ſome of its Alterations from the Hebrew plainly aroſe through Miſtake of ſuch Hebrew Letters as are nearly alike, whereas thoſe Alterations may be obſerved not to come by making the Hebrew Copy from the Samaritan, becauſe the Letters of the laſt are ſo different: for inſtance, inſtead of the Heb. Word וירק Gen. xiv. 14. the Samarit. is צחקץ where the Letter ץ does not anſwer to ר but to ד by Miſtake, as is viſible; for is it ſo likely on the contrary that ץ ſhould be miſtaken for ף that ſtands for ר? which muſt have been the Caſe, had the Hebrew Exemplar been taken from the Samaritan. To ſet this Matter yet in a clearer Light, as well as ſave Words in the enſuing Examples, I will put down ſome of the Hebrew ſimilar Letters, with the Samaritan correſponding ones, which are thus:

Heb.	Sam.		Heb.	Sam.		Heb.	Sam.		Heb.	Sam.
ד	ץ	Daleth	ה	ץ	He	ו	ץ	Vau	ב	פ	Beth
ר	ף	Reſh	ח	ת	Heth	י	ת	Jod	כ	ג	Caph

An Example of the firſt kind we have ſeen already, as there is another of the ſame in Num. xvi. 15. where for Aſs the Sam. has deſirable Thing; and שהם in Exod. xxviii. 20. being in the Sam. Copy שחם ſhews obviouſly that the Difference of the middle Letters came by miſtaking the Heb. not the Sam. He for a Heth: the Conſequence of which muſt have been, that the Samaritan was made from and after the Hebrew. And this will be more confirmed by the Samaritan Pentateuch having the ſame Word ſignifying an Onyx-ſtone, like the Heb. elſewhere, as Gen. ii. 12. Exod. xxv. 7. Again in Exod. xxii. 11. the Diſagreement of ישלם and צאנצ demonſtrates to the Sight, that it was not the Sam. Vau which was taken to be a Jod, they being ſo very much unlike; the Difference therefore leaves us only to conclude, that the Heb. Jod was taken for a Vau through their Likeneſs, by him that made the Samaritan Codex from the Hebrew. But to prove that the Samaritan Text is not authentick, is according to Walton himſelf in the Polyglot Bible, De Sam. Verſionibus, Sect. 17. cum umbra propria contendere, to fight with one's own Shadow. Nevertheleſs thoſe who are unacquainted with ſuch Proof may, as Experience ſhews is done, eſteem the Samaritan before the Hebrew, while the Learned now generally hold that the Scripture was before the Babylonian Captivity in Samaritan Letters, which they give out to be the ancient Hebrew ones, and the Samaritans pretend their preſent Copy is a true one from that before the Captivity. I will therefore purſue the Matter further, and venture to give my Sentiments, why I think the Hebrew Letters were the ſame formerly as now.

It would be contrary to what is found in other Languages, if the Hebrew and Chaldee had not always the ſame Letters, ſince they have ſo great Affinity with each other. How many Languages more different are there round about us, all having the Latin Alphabet? If we look to thoſe with different Letters, as the Hebrew, Greek, Latin, Arabick, Chineſe, &c. what a vaſt odds is there in their Words, Declenſion, and Conſtruction? Another Thing, by which it has been evident to me, that the Hebrew had the ſame Letters before the Captivity as ſince, is that ſeveral of the Differences between the Keris and Chetibs, or the Heb. Margin and Text, are one having the Letter ו and the other י which eſpecially could not be miſtaken from the Samaritan Characters, as may be ſeen before. Ezra is ſuppoſed to put thoſe marginal Readings to the Books that were written before his Time, as Simon called the Juſt might to the others; and if the Copy Ezra peruſed had the wrong Letter of theſe two, by the Error of the Tranſcriber through their Likeneſs, he probably placed the right one in the Margin; as in Jer. lii. 1. where the Text has חמיטל and the Margin חמוטל which is incredible ſhould come from the Samaritan Letters. So the firſt in the Bible, Gen. viii. 17. is in the Text הוצא in the Marg. היצא the former of which is plainly a Miſtake, the Root being יצא and muſt needs be made from the preſent Hebrew Character. There is alſo ſuch a Difference from Beth and Caph, Joſh. iv. 18. with divers others elſewhere; ſee Baron Spanheim's De Uſu & Præſt. Num. Ant. Diſſert. 2. Conringius de Num. Hebr. Carpzovius Crit. Sacr. Vet. Teſt. P. I. Cap. v. Sect. 6. p. 229—231. Cellarius Hiſt. Samarit. Nay the like may be found in the ſame or parallel Words of the Heb. Text only. Jacob called a Place פניאל that is the Face of God, Gen. xxxii. 30. agreeable to the Reaſon there rendered for it; but it was afterwards called פנואל Ver. 31. Judg. viii. 8. by the Change of the middle Letters ſo nearly alike, eſpecially if the Tail of the former was extended too much, as might eaſily be done in Writing: this Moſes has put right when he tells what Jacob called it, but Cuſtom having prevailed for the other, it was not proper to alter its real Name, though of wrong Etymology. Now how came the latter but by Miſtake of the former, and that from the Hebrew, not the Samaritan Letters? So חירם King of Tyre, as he is commonly called, is in 2 Chron. חורם On the other hand עלון Gen. xxxvi. 23. is עלין 1 Chron. i. 40. where the latter Name being obtained through an ocular Miſtake of thoſe Letters, was left unaltered by the Compiler of Chronicles. In the ſame Verſes are alſo שפו and שפי and in the ſame Chapters beſides, צפו Gen. xxxvi. 11. צפי 1 Chron. i. 36. פעו Gen. xxxvi. 39. פעי 1 Chron. i. 50. עלוה Gen. xxxvi. 40.

7. There

7. There likewiſe came up ſome of the Iſraelites, of the Prieſts, Levites, Singers, Porters, and Aſſiſtants to Jeruſalem, in the ſeventh Year of King Artaxerxes.

עליה 1 Chron. i. 51. הימם Gen. xxxvi. 22. הומם 1 Chron. i. 39, &c. as alſo with the Letter Daleth changed into Reſh המדן Gen. xxxvi. 26. חמרן 1 Chron. i. 41. and with Reſh into Daleth הדר Gen. xxxvi. 39. הדד 1 Chron. i. 50, 51. (as Gen. xxv. 15. & 1 Chron. i. 30.) there is alſo a particular Change of ועקן Vaakan rather than and Akan, Gen. xxxvi. 27. into יעקן Jaakan, 1 Chron. i. 42. which is evidently of the ſame Kind. Thus דעואל Num. vii. 42, 47. & x. 20. is called רעואל Chap. ii. 14. חדר Gen. xxv. 15. הדד 1 Chron. i. 30. ראה a Glede, Deut. xiv. 13. דאה Lev. xi. 14. and הדרעזר 2 Sam. viii. 3. &c. חדרעזר 1 Chron. xviii. 3. Harodite, 2 Sam. xxiii. 25. Harorite, 1 Chr. xi. 27. Hiddai, 2 Sam. xxiii, 30. (the Letter d being doubled only by a Point) Hurai, 1 Chr. xi. 32. The Heb. מ likewiſe being obſcure, and ſo the ſmall Stroke on the left Side not appearing, is nearly like ב hence doubtleſs we have מראדך Iſa. xxxix. 1. and בראדך 2 King. xx. 12. דיבון Iſa. xv. 2. Jer. xlviii. 18. 22. and דימון Iſa. xv. 9 twice; which could not happen through any Analogy of the Samaritan Letters ב and ע and hence the Difference of Copies with ב and כ by and according to, Hoſ. xiii. 2. That of יוזכר Jozachar, 2 King. xii. 21. by Contraction זבד 2 Chr. xxiv. 26. with two of the three Letters altered through their Likeneſs, is very remarkable for this Purpoſe, though I have never met with it remarked by any.

As more Inſtances of this Kind may be ſuperfluous, let it be conſidered in the next place, how utterly unlikely it is, that the Hebrew and Chaldee Letters, had they been different as is pretended, ſhould have admitted of ſuch a Change of the Words as Ezra is imagined to have made. Who can think thoſe Languages would have had each the ſame Number of Letters, and every ſingle Letter in the ancient Hebrew have been matched by another in the Chaldee of the ſame Nature and Sound, if they had been in ſuch different Characters? It is far from being ſo with the Tongues mentioned above, which have diverſe Letters. I grant there is an Exception in the Syriack Tongue, which nearly agrees with the Chaldee, and yet has Letters of other Forms; but Syriack appears to be only a Dialect of Chaldee, and Walton obſerves that the Syriack Letters were introduced by the Chriſtians of Antioch, that they might not be like thoſe uſed by the Nazarites and Ebionites: ſo that this does not invalidate the Obſervation on the others. In like manner the Retortion of the Argument will be prevented concerning the Samaritan Character: for whereas it might be ſaid, A Change of the Scripture from the Heb. to the Sam. Letters would be as unlikely as a Change the contrary Way, but it is certain one of them was made, becauſe the five Books of Moſes are extant in both Sorts of Letters; in Anſwer to this, the Samaritan might admit of ſuch a Change as well as the Syriack, and yet neither of them be any Exception to the mutual Nature and Order of fundamental Languages: for the Law was not improbably written in the preſent Samaritan Character, by that People in oppoſition to the Jews, they having been long at great Enmity with each other, as in John iv. 9. & Joſephus Ant. xii. & xx. 5. nay perhaps thoſe Letters were but then invented, and called Samaritan to make their Copy be thought ancient, and ſo might have been fitted to the Hebrew or any Language. Samaritan ſeems a Dialect of the Chaldee, both by their being ſo nearly the ſame at this Time, and by the Account from whence thoſe People firſt came, 2 King. xvii. 24. on which Text ſee the Note. Or if their old Language at their firſt inhabiting Samaria had ſuch Letters, it being become obſolete when their Pentateuch was compoſed, the Letters might be either made more or fewer, and ſuited in Sound to the Heb. ones, as if they were newly invented. Thus there appears no Difficulty how the Samaritans might make their Exemplar from the Hebrew. But the Caſe turns out very different, by duly conſidering the Notion of Ezra's tranſcribing the Scripture out of Samaritan into the Chaldee Letters, which bears a Reſemblance to the meeting of Mountains: for Ezra could not make the ancient Language and Character of the Jews otherwiſe than it was, and as the Number, Forms and Sounds of the Chaldee Letters were confined by common Uſe, they muſt alſo remain the ſame: I conſequently conclude, that Ezra did no ſuch Thing, but that the ancient Heb. Letters were the ſame with the preſent and with the Chald. ones, little Variations perhaps, as we find in other Languages, excepted. And what ſhould Ezra make the pretended Alteration for? What can be anſwered, but that it was becauſe the Heb. Language or Letters were loſt, or forgotten, and therefore changed for the Chaldean. Which appears not to be true, ſince the Books of Haggai, Zechariah, Malachi, Nehemiah, Eſther, Part of Ezra and Daniel, were afterwards written in Hebrew; and if it had been neceſſary to have the Scripture in a Chaldee Character, would it not have been as neceſſary that thoſe Parts of it ſhould be in that Language? Beſides Joſephus ſays, that after Ezra's Death the Jews converſed in Hebrew, Antiq. B. xi. Ch. 5. though it is probable the Chaldee might be moſtly uſed among the Vulgar: but having theſe two Sorts of Letters, as ſuppoſed by the Objectors, in Uſe; would they prefer that of their Enemies before their own, when they were returned into their own Country? And if the Knowledge of the very Heb. Letters was loſt, would not the Language much more? Whereas according to that Opinion it ſeems that thoſe Jews retained their Language, and forgot their Letters; ſince the latter only are pretended to be altered. Or if they loſt both, what would the Service of the Letters be without knowing the Words? They might have learned the ſuppoſed ancient Letters, without changing them, much eaſier than the Language. Nay how ſoon might 22 Letters have been learned! I cannot think Ezra would have done ſuch an abſurd, and what may be called profane, Piece of Work. Nor is there any ancient authentick Teſtimony for it, either in the Scripture, Apocrypha, or in Ariſteas, Philo, Joſephus, &c. on the contrary Ariſteas, who wrote the Hiſtory of the Septuagint's Tranſlation, about two hundred Years before the Time of Chriſt, ſays τυγχάνει ἑβραϊκοῖς γράμμασι καὶ φωνῇ λεγόμενα, the Letters and Language were both Hebrew; and ſo Joſephus calls them, Proœm. ad Antiq.

But there remains a grand Objection, which Prideaux ſays he thinks cannot be anſwered, Connect. Anno 446. There are ſome Medals or Coins that have on them in the Samaritan Character Holy Jeruſalem, which it is pleaded were not made after the Babylonian Captivity, becauſe the Samaritans would not have put Jeruſalem on them, nor called it Holy, and ſo that it was done by the Kingdom of Judah before the Captivity, conſequently that their Letters were the ſame as the Samaritan. On which there is room to doubt, whether it is unqueſtionable that theſe Coins are authentick, as there are I ſuppoſe no others extant ſo ancient. Some of the famous Darics mentioned by Herodot. Lib. 4. and Plutarch in Artax. might be coined about a Century after, but as others went under that Name which were made both by the Perſian and Macedonian Race of Kings, Univer. Hiſt. B. I. xi. 2. the Diſtance of Time will be conſiderable. 'There is great Reaſon to believe, ſays the Univ. Hiſt. 'B. III. Ch. xxxvii. that not one of the Samaritan 'Coins is genuine, at leaſt not one of them is indiſputably ſo:' for which is quoted Reland, Ottius & Spanheim; ſee Adrian Reland De vet. Hebr. Num. Diſſert. and none might be more ready for Impoſitions of that Kind than the Samaritans, to ſet their Scripture and Religion above thoſe of the Jews, as the Credit of ſuch Coins made before the Captivity would do: and if they ſhould not be genuine, which it cannot be proved they are, the whole Objection would be void; and is uncertain now, ſo that Nothing can be determined from it. But that there are ſuch forged Coins or Medals is well known, and

8. And

8. And he came to Jeruſalem in the fifth Month, which was in the ſame Year.

9. For on the firſt of the firſt Month he began to come up from Babylon, and on the even Walton owns he had ſeen ſome. Beſides the Cheat or Miſtake, if it be either, might partly at leaſt be chargeable on the Papiſts, as Morinus, Souciet, &c. from whom we have the Account of theſe Pieces; who no doubt would be willing to have it ſo, to depreciate our Scripture, and who are known to deal in ſuch Ware. But ſuppoſing them not to be made after the Captivity, neither does it ſeem likely to me, that they were ſtamped by the Kings of Judah before; becauſe there are no Kings Heads on them, which ſhews as if the Regal Government at Jeruſalem was then over. And if any other Time can be allotted for them without Abſurdity, it will be ſufficient. What remains is only that of the Captivity, which I take to be the Time when thoſe Pieces were made, if not Counterfeits, by the Samaritans; being before they were at Variance with the Jews, and while they worſhipped the true God, 2 King. xvii. 26, 27, 28, 41. Ezr. iv. 2. and conſequently had an eſteem for Jeruſalem the peculiar Place for his Worſhip. Their being termed Adverſaries, Ezr. iv. 1. might be with reſpect to what they were afterwards, or at the Time of writing it; beſides that the original Word ſignifies ſuch as ſtreighten others, which another People would the Jews by only endeavouring to join with them. Thoſe People accuſtomed to Conqueſts, and not ſettling at home like the Jews, but being more acquainted both with the World and remarkable Affairs, might be much more likely to make Medals than the Iſraelites, of whom we find no ſuch Thing. They, when the Inhabitants of Judah were carried away into Captivity at laſt, might look on the whole Country as their own, and dwell there, Ezr. iv. 4. nay the King of Babylon, who was alſo King of Aſſyria, ſeems to have deſigned or allowed it ſhould be ſo, by not tranſplanting others thither; and they having embraced the Jewiſh Religion, might then eſteem Jeruſalem their Metropolis, however in an Eccleſiaſtical Senſe, and ſo put the Epithet of Holy to it on their Coins or Medals.

Let us now examine thoſe eight Pieces of which Walton has exhibited the Figures, eſpecially ſince he pretends they are ſufficient without any other Arguments, to make it certain that the Samaritan were the ancient Hebrew Letters. The firſt has on one Side in the Samaritan Character A Shekel of Iſrael, round a Figure taken for the Pot of Manna, with the Letters Shin and Daleth above it; and on the other Side Holy Jeruſalem, round another Figure ſuppoſed to repreſent Aaron's Rod. On which I would obſerve, that as the latter Inſcription ſhews it was not done by the Kingdom of Iſrael, ſo does the former that it was not by the Kingdom of Judah, and conſequently was ſtamped by the Samaritans as above. Beſides it being uſual to denote the Name of the Place where Pieces were coined, as our Author obſerves, and mentions Aleph ſo poſited on his 2d Shekel, as the firſt Letter of ſome City's Name where it was made; what can be more probable than that this Shin ſtood for Samaria, being the firſt Letter of it? That with the Daleth may be counted for שמרנ דשש contrived and faſhioned at Samaria, as דמה has ſuch a double Signification. The 2d Coin has the ſame Figures and Words, only differently ſpelled, as the foregoing, and Aleph above the Pot: one of which Beza on Mat. vii. 24. gives the Figure of, and ſays he had. What is more natural to think, than that this Letter was put for אשור Aſſyria the Name of the Empire, or for אסרחדן Eſar-haddon their King who brought thoſe Samaritans thither, Ezr. iv. 2? How conformable is it to their Manner. 2 King. xvii. 24. to the End, thus to mix Things? The 3d is like the firſt, only there is no Pot nor Rod; as if not much regarded by the Makers, which ſuits with the Samaritans. The 4th Morinus himſelf ſuppoſes to be a Samaritan Piece, which allows of their coining, and ſo makes for their doing the reſt. The 5th being counted a half Shekel, having ſome of the Letters worn out, has Aleph over the Pot like the ſecond. The 6th is ſo defaced, that there are few Letters to be known on it, of which however I have Something to obſerve further. The two laſt, ſays Walton, were poſt reditum e captivitate Babylonica, after the Captivity of Babylon, and yet they have both Holy Jeruſalem on them as the former; which deſtroys the Argument, if there was Occaſion for it, that the Samaritans would not put ſuch an Inſcription then. Which now, let me aſk, yields the moſt unanſwerable Argument, the Change of the Letters in the Scripture before mentioned, for what I have been pleading, or theſe Coins againſt it?

One more Objection, weak as it is, I am not willing to omit: Jerome mentions in his Time that the Letter Tau was formerly like a Croſs, from whence, and the Shapes of the Letters, it was inferred this was the Samaritan Tau. Which may be ſafely allowed, though it is not of that Form now, and though the Patrons of the other Opinion diſſent from themſelves, as to what Sort of Croſs it repreſented, whether this † or this ×: for what does it avail if Jerome intended it of the Samaritan Tau? or what if he thought that was the ancient Heb. Character? Of what Weight is his mere Opinion concerning Matter of Fact 900 Years before? who was ſo variable in his Judgment touching the Hebrew and Greek Copies, and who is remarked for writing others Sentiments as his own. As for the Kind of Croſs that appears on the 6th Coin, who can tell but it is a Piece of a Letter? Or is it certain that thoſe obliterated Letters were Samaritan? Eſpecially ſince Reland, where quoted before, and Loeſcher De Cauſis Ling. Hebr. p. 201, 202. ſhew that they differ from the Samaritan Letters almoſt as much as from the Hebrew.

Nay if there was any Occaſion for it, one might ſuppoſe that if any of thoſe Pieces were made before the Tranſmigration to Babylon, by the People of Judah; they might uſe the Samaritan Letters in coining, upon ſome Account or other, which might not be hard to conceive; and yet the Scripture might be in different ones, whichſoever were of common Uſe, though the latter would be more probable. Or thoſe Coins might be Tribute-money paid by the Aſſyrians and others, to David, or Solomon; which it is eaſy to ſuppoſe were thus ſtamped, eſpecially as ſeveral Conquerors impoſed ſuch a Tribute on the People brought into Subjection to them: I ſay others, becauſe the Difference of Spelling and Character may intimate, they were made by diverſe People uſing the ſame Language with ſome Variation; which alſo ſpeaks for this being the Caſe. But Carpzove anſwers the Objection of the Shekels, by the Diſtinction of common and ſacred Heb. Letters.

It is added in the famous Univerſal Hiſtory, B. iii. Ch. 37. ‘ 'Tis now univerſally received amongſt the ‘ Learned, and the Dates on the Pieces themſelves ‘ clearly evince it, that the oldeſt of theſe Coins, with ‘ Legends upon them, do not precede the Settlement of ‘ the Prieſthood in the Aſmonæan Family, which hap‘ pened not much above an hundred and fifty Years be‘ fore the Chriſtian Æra; and ſome of them are much ‘ later,' Spanhem. & Conring. ubi ſupra—‘ The Sep‘ tuagint Verſion is (therefore) of higher Antiquity than ‘ any of thoſe Coins which are ſuppoſed to have the Sa‘ maritan Character upon them. Now 'tis certain the ‘ Authors of this Verſion have frequently differed from ‘ the Hebrew, by their miſtaking one ſimilar Aſſyrian (as ‘ the Heb. is alſo called) Letter for another. This is an ‘ undeniable Argument, the individual Hebrew Copy they ‘ tranſlated was written, not in the Samaritan, but the ‘ Aſſyrian Character; and conſequently, that the Hebrew ‘ Text was written in that Character, before any of thoſe ‘ Shekels were in being.'

From hence, or even otherwiſe, may be eaſily perceived, how weak and ignorant Whiſton's Pretence is, in his Eſſay towards reſtoring the true Text of the Old Teſtament, p. 149. that the Heb. Bible was only in Samaritan Characters till the Beginning of the ſecond Century of firſt

first of the fifth Month he arrived at Jeruſalem, according to the good Hand of his God upon him.

10. For Ezra prepared his Heart to ſeek the Law of the Lord, and to do it, as alſo to teach the Ordinances and Rules in Iſrael.

11. And this is the Copy of the Epiſtle which King Artaxerxes gave to Ezra the Prieſt and Scribe, a Scribe of the Words of the Lord's Commandments, and of his Ordinances to Iſrael.

12. Artaxerxes King of Kings, to Ezra the Prieſt, a Scribe of the Law of the God of Heaven: May all be well, and at ſuch a Time.

13. I give Order, that every one of the People of Iſrael, particularly the Prieſts of it, and Levites in my Kingdom, who will go freely to Jeruſalem, ſhall go with thee:

14. Since thou art ſent from before the King, and his ſeven Counſellors, to enquire concerning Judah and Jeruſalem, according to the Law of thy God which is with thee;

15. And to carry away the Silver, and Gold, which the King and his Counſellors have freely offered to the God of Iſrael, whoſe Habitation is in Jeruſalem;

16. Nay all the Silver, and Gold, which thou procureſt in the whole Province of Babylon, with the Free-offering of the People and Prieſts, who freely offer for the Houſe of their God that is in Jeruſalem.

17. By this means thou mayeſt buy ſpeedily with this Money Oxen, Rams, and Lambs, with their Meat-offerings, and Drink-offerings; and offer them upon the Altar of the Houſe of your God that is in Jeruſalem.

18. And what ſhall ſeem well to thee, and thy Brethren, to do with the reſt of the Silver and Gold, ye may do according to the Mind of your God.

19. The Inſtruments alſo which are given to thee for the Miniſtry of the Houſe of thy God, deliver before the God of Jeruſalem.

20. And the reſt that is needful for that Houſe, which falls to thee to give, thou ſhalt do it out of the Houſe of the King's Treaſures.

21. Beſides I King Artaxerxes give Order to all the Treaſurers who are beyond the River, that all which Ezra the Prieſt, a Scribe of the Law of the God of Heaven, requires of you, ſhall be done ſpeedily;

22. Even to a hundred Talents of Silver, a hundred Cors of Wheat, ſo many Baths of Wine, the ſame of Oil, and Salt not preſcribed.

23. All that is commanded by the God of Heaven, let it be done carefully for his Houſe: why ſhould there be Wrath againſt the Kingdom of the Monarch and his Sons?

24. We further make known to you, that as for all the Prieſts and Levites, the Singers, Porters, Aſſiſtants, and Miniſters of the Houſe of God, there ſhall be no Ruler to impoſe Toll, Tax, or Tribute upon them.

25. And thou Ezra, according to the Wiſdom of thy God which is with thee, make Magiſtrates and Judges, who all know the Laws of thy God, to judge all the People that are beyond the River, and you ſhall let them know who do not.

26. Laſtly every one who does not perform the Law of thy God, and the King's Law, let Judgment be ſpeedily executed upon him, whether it be to Death, Baniſhment, a Fine of Money, or Bonds.

27. Bleſſed be the Lord God of our Fathers, who put it thus into the King's Mind, to adorn the Houſe of the Lord that is in Jeruſalem;

28. And extended Kindneſs to me, before the King and his Counſellors, and with all the King's powerful Princes; ſo that I was ſtrengthened according as the Hand of the Lord my God was upon me, and gathered together the chief of Iſrael to go up with me.

CHAP. VIII.

AND theſe are the chief Fathers of them, and their Pedigree, who came up with me in the Reign of Artaxerxes from Babylon:

2. Gerſhom of the Poſterity of Phinehas,

Chriſtianity, and was then changed into the preſent Hebrew ones by the Jews; ſince the 70 Tranſlators could not make the forementioned Miſtakes from the Samaritan Letters.

Though it has been pretended that the Talmudiſts hold the Samaritan to be the ancient Hebrew Character, it appears otherwiſe by their ſaying the Letters on Aaron's Breaſtplate were cut quite through it, and ſo Mem. ם and Samech ס were ſupported miraculouſly, as the middle of them was entirely disjoined from the Breaſtplate, Tractat. Megillath. whereas that would not be the Caſe with the ſame Samaritan Letters 𐤌 and 𐤎. The like may alſo appear, by the Reaſons given for ſome of the Letters Names; as that the ſecond was named Beth, which is the Heb. Word for Houſe, from its Shape ב reſembling the Top, Pavement, Wall, and Entrance of it; the third ג Gimel from gamal, a Camel, for imitating the Bunch on its Back; another ו Vau a Hook or Hinge, which it is like; another כ Caph, that is bending, or the Palm of the Hand, for the ſame Reaſon; ע Ain, an Eye, פ Pe, a Mouth, ש Shin, a Tooth or Teeth, &c. in like manner. Even in the Tract Sanhedrim of the Talmud, quoted to ſupport the contrary Opinion, this that I eſpouſe is particularly pleaded for, as obſerved in Univer. Hiſt. B. I. vii. 4. and vindicated by Buxtorf the Son, Poſtellus and Hottinger againſt Morinus, &c.

Ver. 13. of it] not Ezra's.

Ver. 25. is with thee] How neceſſary it is to tranſlate thus, as I do in other Places, need not be expatiated on; ſo Prov. vii. 20.

Daniel of the Poſterity of Ithamar, Hattuſh of the Poſterity of David;

3. Zechariah of the Poſterity of Shechaniah, of that of Paroſh, and with him a Pedigree of a hundred and fifty Males;

4. Elihoenai the Son of Zerahiah, of the Poſterity of Pahath-moab, and with him two hundred Males;

5. The Son of Jahaziel, of the Poſterity of Shechaniah, and with him three hundred Males;

6. And Ebed the Son of Jonathan, of the Poſterity of Adin, and with him fifty Males;

7. Jeſhaiah alſo the Son of Athaliah, of the Poſterity of Elam, and with him ſeventy Males;

8. And Zebadiah the Son of Michael, of the Poſterity of Shephatiah, and with him eighty Males;

9. Obadiah the Son of Jehiel, of the Poſterity of Joab, and with him two hundred and eighteen Males;

10. And the Son of Joſiphiah, of the Poſterity of Shelomith, and with him a hundred and ſixty Males;

11. As likewiſe Zechariah the Son of Bebai, of the Poſterity of Bebai, and with him twenty eight Males;

12. Johanan too the Son of Hakkatan, of the Poſterity of Azgad, and with him a hundred and ten Males;

13. And ſome of the laſt Sons of Adonikam, whoſe Names were, Eliphelet, Jeiel and Shemaiah, and with them ſixty Males;

14. Laſtly of the Sons of Bigvai, Uthai, and Zabbud, and with them ſeventy Males.

15. And I gathered them together at the River that comes to Ahava, where we encamped three Days; and underſtanding about the People and Prieſts, I found none of the Poſterity of Levi there.

16. Then I ſent for Eliezer, Ariel, Shemaiah, Elnathan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zechariah and Meſhullam, chief Men; as alſo for Joiarib, and Elnathan, prudent Men.

17. Whom I ordered to go to Iddo the chief at a Place called Caſiphia, and told them what they ſhould ſay to him and his Brethren the Aſſiſtants there, that they ſhould bring us Miniſters for the Houſe of our God.

18. And they brought to us, according to the good Hand of our God upon us, a Man of Underſtanding, of the Poſterity of Mahli, the Son of Levi, the Son of Iſrael, namely Sherebiah, with his Sons and his Brethren eighteen;

19. Haſhabiah likewiſe, and with him Jeſhaiah of the Poſterity of Merari, his Brethren and their Sons twenty;

20. And of the Aſſiſtants, whom David and the Princes put for the Service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty, all of whom were expreſsly mentioned by Name.

21. And I proclaimed a Faſt there at the River Ahava, to afflict our ſelves before our God, that we might enquire of him the right Way for us, our Children, and all our Subſtance.

22. For I was aſhamed to aſk of the King Forces or Horſemen, to help us againſt the Enemy in the Way; becauſe we had ſaid to him, that the Hand of our God is upon all who ſeek him for Good, but his Power and Anger againſt all who forſake him.

23. So we faſted, and beſought our God for this; and he was intreated by us.

24. Moreover I put apart twelve of the chief Prieſts, Sherebiah, Haſhabiah, and ten of their Brethren with them.

25. To whom I weighed the Silver, Gold and Inſtruments; the Offering for the Houſe of our God, which the King, his Counſellors, his Princes, and all Iſrael that were found had offered:

26. I even weighed into their Hands ſix hundred and fifty Talents of Silver, and Silver Inſtruments a hundred Talents, of Gold a hundred,

27. Twenty Baſons of Gold of a thouſand Drams, and two Veſſels of the beſt yellow Braſs, as handſome as Gold.

28. And I ſaid to them; Both you and the Inſtruments are holy to the Lord, and the Silver and Gold are a Free-offering to the Lord God of your Fathers;

29. Be careful, and keep them, till you weigh them before the chief of the Prieſts, the Levites, and chief Fathers of Iſrael in Jeruſalem, at the Rooms of the Lord's Houſe.

30. Accordingly the Prieſts, and Levites received the Silver, Gold, and Inſtruments by Weight, to carry to the Houſe of our God at Jeruſalem.

31. Then we marched from the River Ahava, on the twelfth of the firſt Month, to go to Jeruſalem; and the Hand of our God was upon us, ſo that he delivered us from the Power of the Enemies, and of thoſe who lay in wait by the Way.

32. Thus we came to Jeruſalem, where having abode three Days;

33. On the fourth Day the Silver, Gold, and Inſtruments were weighed in the Houſe of our God, into the Hand of Meremoth the Son of Uriah the Prieſt, with whom there was Eleazar the Son of Phinehas, and with them Jozabad the Son of Jeſhua, and Noadiah the Son of Binnui, Levites;

34. All being by Number and Weight; and the whole Weight was written down at the ſame Time.

35. The Captives alſo who were come from the Captivity, brought Burnt-offerings to the God of Iſrael, twelve Bullocks for all the Iſraelites, ninety ſix Rams, ſeventy ſeven Lambs, twelve He-goats for a Sin-offering; the whole being a Burnt-offering to the Lord.

36. And they gave the King's Decrees to his Lieutenants, and to the Governors beyond the River; who ſupported the People, and the Houſe of God.

CHAP. IX.

AND when theſe Things were done, ſome Princes came to me, and ſaid; The People of Iſrael, with the Prieſts and Levites, are not ſeparated from the People of the Countries, the Canaanites, Hittites, Perizzites, Jebuſites, Ammonites, Moabites, Egyptians and Amorites, according to their Abominations.

2. For they have taken ſome of their Daughters for themſelves, and for their Sons, ſo that the holy Offſpring has mixed it ſelf with the People of the Countries; and the Hands of the Princes and Rulers have been chief in this Fault.

3. And upon my hearing this Matter, I tore my Garment and Cloak, plucked off the Hair of my Head and Beard, and ſate down aſtoniſhed.

4. Then there gathered to me every one who trembled at the Words of the God of Iſrael, for the Fault of thoſe of the Captivity; and I ſate aſtoniſhed till the Evening Offering.

5. At which Time I roſe up from my Affliction, while my Garment and my Cloak were torn, and fell down upon my Knees, ſpreading forth my Hands to the Lord my God;

6. And ſaid: O my God, I am aſhamed, and in Confuſion to lift up my Face to thee, my God; for our Iniquities are multiplied above our Heads, and our Guilt is become great to Heaven.

7. We have been in great Guilt from the Days of our Forefathers to this Day; and for our Iniquities have we, our very Kings, our Prieſts, been delivered into the Power of the Kings of the Countries, to the Sword, Captivity, Prey, and Shame of Face, as at this Time.

8. But now as it were a ſmall Moment there has been Favour from the Lord our God, to leave us a Remnant eſcaped, and to give us a Nail in his holy Place; for our God to enlighten our Eyes, and to give us a little Reviving in our Servitude.

9. Servants as we were, yet our God did not forſake us in our Servitude, but extended Kindneſs to us before the Kings of Perſia, to give us a Reviving to ſet up the Houſe of our God, to make up its Deſolations, and to give us a Fence in Judah and Jeruſalem.

10. And now, our God, what ſhall we ſay after this? Since we have forſaken thy Commandments,

11. Which thou didſt enjoin by the Miniſtry of thy Servants the Prophets as follows; The Country that you are to enter in to poſſeſs, is a Country of Separation, by the Separation of the People of the Countries, through their Abominations with which they have filled it from one End to the other, by their Uncleanneſs:

12. Now therefore neither give your Daughters to their Sons, nor take their Daughters for yours, nay ſeek not their Proſperity or Welfare for ever; that you may be ſtrong, and eat the Good of the Country, and make it a Poſſeſſion to your Poſterity for evermore.

13. And after all that is come upon us for our evil Deeds, and great Guilt, ſince thou our God haſt reſtrained it below our Iniquities, and haſt given us ſuch Deliverance as this;

14. Should we again break thy Commandments, and be joined by Marriage to the People of theſe Abominations? Mighteſt not thou be angry with us till thou haſt conſumed us, for there to be no Remainder, or Remnant eſcaped?

15. O Lord God of Iſrael, thou art righteous, ſince we are left a Remnant eſcaped, as at this Time: behold we are before thee in our Guilt, though we cannot ſtand before thee for this.

CHAP. X.

AND when Ezra prayed, and made confeſſion, weeping, and caſting himſelf down before the Houſe of God, there were gathered to him a very great Congregation of the Iſraelites, Men, Women and Children; for the People wept exceeding much.

2. And Shechaniah the Son of Jehiel, one of the Sons of Elam, made anſwer to Ezra; We have done amiſs againſt our God, as we have dwelt with ſtrange Wives of the People of the Country; yet now there is Hope for Iſrael concerning this.

3. Now therefore let us make a Covenant with our God, to put out all the Wives, and thoſe that are born of them, by the Advice of my Lord, and thoſe who tremble at the Commandment of our God; and let it be done according to the Law.

4. Riſe up, for the Matter belongs to thee, and we will be with thee: take courage, and do it.

5. So Ezra got up, that he might make the chief Prieſts, Levites, and all Iſrael ſwear to do according to that Thing; which they did.

6. And riſing up from before the Houſe of God, he went to the Room of Johanan the Son of Eliaſhib; whither being come, he neither eat nor drank any Thing, becauſe he mourned for the Fault of thoſe of the Captivity.

7. Next they made proclamation throughout Judah and Jeruſalem, to all the Captives, to gather together at Jeruſalem;

8. Nay that every one who did not come in three Days, according to the Advice of the Princes and Elders, all his Subſtance ſhould be deſtroyed, and he ſeparated from the Congregation of thoſe of the Captivity.

9. Accordingly all the Men of Judah and Benjamin gathered together to Jeruſalem, in three Days, it being on the twentieth of the ninth Month; and all the People ſate in the Street by the Houſe of God, trembling for that Matter, and by reaſon of the Rain.

10. When Ezra the Prieſt got ready, and ſaid to them; Ye have done amiſs, as ye have dealt with ſtrange Wives, to add to the Guilt of Iſrael.

11. Therefore now make Confeſſion to the Lord God of your Fathers, and do his Will, by ſeparating from the People of the Country, particularly from the ſtrange Wives.

12. To which the whole Congregation made anſwer aloud; It belongs to us to do according to thy Words.

13. But the People are many, and it being a Time of Rain, there is not Power to ſtand abroad; and it is not a Buſineſs for one Day, nor two, becauſe we have tranſgreſſed much in this Matter.

14. Let our Princes remain, we pray, for the whole Congregation, and let all who have dwelt with ſtrange Wives in our Cities come at appointed Times, and with them the Elders of each City, and the Judges of the ſame; till the fervent Anger of our God for this Matter is turned away from us.

15. Only Jonathan the Son of Aſahel, and Jahziah the Son of Tikvah remained for it; whom Meſhullam, and Shabbethai the Levite helped.

16. Then the Captives did ſo, and Ezra the Prieſt, with Men who were chief Fathers for the Houſhold of their Fathers, all of them by Name, were ſeparated, and ſate down on the firſt Day of the tenth Month, to examine the Matter.

17. Thus they finiſhed about all the Men that had dwelt with ſtrange Wives, by the firſt Day of the firſt Month.

18. And there were found of the Sons of the Prieſts who had dwelt with ſtrange Wives, Maaſeiah, Eliezer, Jarib, and Gedaliah, of the Sons of Jeſhua, the Son of Jozadak, and his Brethren;

19. Who gave their Hands to put out out their Wives, and being guilty, there was a Ram of the Flock for their Guilt:

23. Of the Levites likewiſe, Jozabad, Shimei, and Kelaiah, otherwiſe Kelita, Pethahiah, Judah and Eliezer:

24. And of the Singers, Eliaſhib: of the Porters too, Shallum, Telem and Uri:

25. Beſides of the Iſraelites; of the Poſterity of Paroſh, Ramiah, Izzija, Malchijah, Mijamin, Eleazar, Malchijah and Benaiah;

26. And of the Poſterity of Elam, Mattaniah, Zechariah, Jehiel, Abdi, Jeremoth and Elijah;

27. And of the Poſterity of Zattu, Elioenai, Eliaſhib, Mattaniah, Jeremoth, Zabad and Aziza;

NOTES upon the BOOK of NEHEMIAH.

CHAP. I.

THE Words of Nehemiah the Son of Hachaliah. It came to paſs in the Month of Chiſleu, in the twentieth Year, when I was at the Palace in Shuſhan,

2. That there came Hanani, one of my Brethren, with ſome Men of Judah; whom I aſked about the Jews that were eſcaped, who were left of the Captivity, and about Jeruſalem.

3. And they told me, The Remnant who are left of the Captivity there in the Province, are in great Adverſity, and Reproach; the Wall of Jeruſalem is alſo broke down, and the Gates of it burnt with Fire.

4. So when I heard theſe Words, I ſate down, weeping and mourning ſome Days; I faſted too, and prayed before the God of Heaven,

5. And ſaid: I beſeech thee, O Lord God of Heaven, the great and aweful God, who keeps Covenant and Kindneſs with thoſe that love him, and keep his Commandments;

6. Let thy Ear now be attentive, and thy Eyes open, to hearken to the Prayer of thy Servant, which I pray before thee at this Time, Day and Night, for the Iſraelites thy Servants; and do confeſs their Sins which we have committed againſt thee, and this I and my Father's Family.

7. We are wholly corrupted towards thee, and have not kept the Commandments, Ordinances and Rules, which thou gaveſt in charge to Moſes thy Servant.

8. Remember, I pray, the Words which thou didſt command him to ſay; Should ye do amiſs, I will diſperſe you among the Nations:

9. Yet ſhould ye return to me, and keep my Commandments, and do them; though there are ſome of you expelled to the outermoſt Part under the Sky, I will gather them from thence, and bring them to the Place where I have choſen to make my Name remain.

10. Now theſe are thy Servants, and People, whom thou haſt redeemed by thy great Power, and ſtrong Hand.

11. I beſeech thee, O Lord, let thy Ear now be attentive to the Prayer of thy Servant, and to that of thy Servants who are willing to reverence thy Name, and give now thy Servant Succeſs at this Time, and grant him Compaſſion before this Man. For I was Butler to the King.

CHAP. II.

AND in the Month of Niſan, in the twentieth Year of King Artaxerxes, the Wine being before him; when I took it up, and gave to him, having not been ſad in his Preſence,

2. The King ſaid to me, Why is thy Countenance ſad, ſince thou art not ſick? This is Nothing but Sadneſs of Heart. Very much afraid at this,

3. I anſwered him, Let the King live for ever; why ſhould not my Countenance be ſad, when the City, the Place of my Fathers Sepulchres, is waſte, and the Gates of it conſumed with Fire?

4. Upon this he interrogated me, What is it thou aſkeſt for? And I praying to the God of Heaven,

5. Said to the King, If it is well to the King, and if thy Servant is well before thee, that thou wouldeſt ſend me to Judah, to the City of my Fathers Sepulchres, and let me build it up.

6. And the King replied to me, while the Queen ſate by him, For how long ſhall thy Journey be? And when wilt thou return? So the King being pleaſed to ſend me, I put him a Time.

7. Beſides I requeſted him; If it is well to the King, let there be Letters given me for the Governors beyond the River, that they ſhould convey me along, till I come into Judah;

8. And a Letter for Aſaph the Keeper of the Foreſt that belongs to the King, that he ſhould give me Timber to make the Gates of the Palace which belongs to the Houſe, and for the Wall of the City, and for the Houſe that I ſhall go into. Which the King granted me, according to the good Hand of my God upon me.

9. Then I went to the Governors beyond the River, and gave them the King's Letters; he ſending Captains of the Army, and Horſemen with me.

10. Which Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the Ammonite Servant hearing of, it greatly diſpleaſed them; becauſe there was a Man come to endeavour for the Good of the Iſraelites.

11. Now when I was come to Jeruſalem, and had been there three Days;

12. I roſe up by Night, having a few Men with me, but told Nobody what my God had put into my Heart to do at Jeruſalem, and there was no Beaſt with me but that which I rode on.

13 And I went out at the Gate of the Valley by Night, and before the Serpent-fountain, as alſo to the Dung-gate; then I got by force through the Walls of Jeruſalem, which were broken down, and the Gates of it conſumed with Fire.

14. So I paſſed on to the Fountain-gate, and to the King's Fiſh-pond; but there was no Place for the Beaſt that was under me to paſs.

15. Therefore I went up in the Night by the Brook, and got by force through the Wall; at length I came back, and entering in at the Gate of the Valley, I returned.

16. And the Rulers neither knew whither I went, nor what I did: for I had not yet told the Jews, whether Prieſts, Nobles, Rulers, or the reſt who did the Work.

17. Afterwards I ſaid to them, You ſee the Adverſity which we are in, how Jeruſalem is waſte, and the Gates of it are burnt up with Fire; come, and let us build up the Wall of Jeruſalem, that we may be a Reproach no more.

18. Moreover I told them of the Hand of my God which was good upon me, and alſo the King's Words that he expreſſed to me: upon which they ſaid, Let us get ready, and build: ſo they made their Hands ſtrong for the good Matter.

19. But when Sanballat the Horonite, Tobiah the Ammonite Servant, and Geſhem the Arabian heard of it, they ſcoffed at us, deſpiſed us, and demanded, What Thing is this that you are doing? Will you rebel againſt the King?

20. To whom I returned this Anſwer, The God of Heaven himſelf will give us Succeſs, therefore we his Servants will get ready and build; whereas you have no Part, Right, nor Memorial in Jeruſalem.

CHAP. III.

ACCORDINGLY Eliaſhib the high Prieſt got ready, with his Brethren the Prieſts, and built up the Sheep-gate, which they conſecrated, and ſet up its Doors; even to the Tower of Meah did they conſecrate it, to that of Hananeel.

2. And at the Side of him the Men of Jericho built; at his Side alſo did Zaccur the Son of Imri build.

3. But the Fiſh-gate the Sons of Haſſenaah built; they made it, and ſet up its Doors, Locks and Bars.

4. At the Side alſo of them Meremoth the Son of Urijah, the Son of Koz, repaired; as did at their Side Meſhullam the Son of Berechiah, the Son of Meſhezabeel; and at theirs Zadok the Son of Baana.

5. Next at the Side of thoſe the Tekoites repaired; but their Gentry would not bring their Necks into the Service of their Lord.

6. And Joiada the Son of Paſeah, and Meſhullam the Son of Beſodeiah repaired the old Gate; they made it, and ſet up its Doors, with the Locks, and Bars of it.

There is however another Heb. Word of the ſame Letters, differing from this only by having no Point over the right Side of w but even that ſignifies to expect or wait for, and no where elſe beſides in this and the 15th Ver. nor by any Proof here to view or conſider: yet I find this to be what is pretended for it, notwithſtanding it is another Word, and not that which is here uſed; and notwithſtanding this other Word or Verb wants the whole Conjugation Kal, in which the Word here is. Jun. and Trem. alſo turn it effringebam, I broke; nay the Septuagint likewiſe συντρίβων the ſame.

7. And

7. And at their Side Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Jadon the Meronothite, the Men of Gibeon and Mizpah repaired, to the Throne of the Governor on this ſide the River.

8. Uzziel the Son of Harhoiah one of the Goldſmiths repaired at the Side of him, and at his Hananiah the Son of one of the Apothecaries; but they left Jeruſalem as far as the broad Wall.

9. And at the Side of them repaired Rephaiah the Son of Hur, Prince of the half Part of Jeruſalem.

10. Moreover at their Side Jedaiah the Son of Harumaph repaired, even before his Houſe; and at the Side of him did Hattuſh the Son of Haſhabniah repair.

11. Another Meaſure Malchiah the Son of Harim, and Haſhub the Son of Pahathmoab repaired, and the Tower of the Ovens.

12. And at the Side of him repaired Shallum the Son of Halloheſh, the Prince of the other half Part of Jeruſalem, with his Daughters.

13. Hanun and the Inhabitants of Zanoah repaired the Gate of the Valley, they built it, ſetting up its Doors, Locks and Bars; and a thouſand Cubits of the Wall to the Dung-gate.

14. But Malchiah the Son of Rechab, the Prince of Part of Beth-cherem, repaired the Dung-gate; he built it, and ſet up its Doors, Locks and Bars.

15. And Shallun the Son of Col-hozeh, a Prince of Part of Mizpah, repaired the Fountain-gate, he built it, covered it, and ſet up its Doors, Locks and Bars; and the Wall of the Fiſh-pond of Shelah, at the King's Garden, even to the Stairs going down from the City of David.

16. After him Nehemiah the Son of Azbuk, Prince of the half Part of Beth-zur, repaired to the Place before the Sepulchres of David, and to the Fiſh-pond that was made, and the Houſe of the ſtout Men.

17. Rehum the Son of Bani, of the Levites, repaired after him: at his Side did Haſhabiah Prince of the half Part of Keilah repair, for his Part.

18. After whom repaired, of their Brethren, Bavai the Son of Henadad, Prince of the other half Part of Keilah.

19. And Ezer the Son of Jeſhua, Prince of Mizpah, repaired another Meaſure at his Side, over againſt the going up to the Arſenal, at the Corner.

20. After him Baruch the Son of Zabbai earneſtly repaired another Meaſure, from the Corner to the Door of the Houſe of Eliaſhib the high Prieſt.

21. After whom Meremoth the Son of Urijah, the Son of Koz, repaired another Meaſure, from the Door of Eliaſhib's Houſe to the End of it.

22. And after him repaired the Prieſts, the Men of the Plain.

23. After the ſame Benjamin, and Haſhub, repaired before their Houſe: after whom Azariah the Son of Maaſeiah, the Son of Ananiah, repaired by his Houſe.

24. After him Binnui the Son of Henadad repaired another Meaſure, from the Houſe of Azariah to the very Edge of the Corner;

25. Palal the Son of Uzai over againſt the Corner, and the Tower going out of the King's uppermoſt Houſe, which is at the Court of the Priſon; after him Pedaiah the Son of Paroſh;

26. And the Aſſiſtants dwelling on the Aſcent, to the Place before the Water-gate eaſtward, and the Tower going out.

27. After the ſame the Tekoites repaired another Meaſure, over againſt the great Tower going out, and to the Wall of the Aſcent.

28. From above the Horſe-gate the Prieſts repaired, againſt their reſpective Houſes.

29. Zadok the Son of Immer repaired after the ſame, before his Houſe: and after him Shemaiah the Son of Shechaniah, the Keeper of the Eaſt-gate repaired.

30. After whom Hananiah the Son of Shelemiah, and Hanun the ſixth Son of Zalaph, repaired another Meaſure: after the ſame Meſhullam the Son of Berechiah repaired, before his Room.

31. After him repaired Malchiah, a Goldſmith's Son, to the Place of the Aſſiſtants and Merchants, before the Muſtering-gate, and to the going up to the Corner.

32. And between the going up to the Corner and the Sheep-gate, the Goldſmiths and Merchants repaired.

CHAP. IV.

BUT when Sanballat heard that we were building the Wall, it displeased him, so that he had great Indignation, and scoffed at the Jews;

2. Saying thus before his Brethren, and the Army of Samaria, What are the feeble Jews doing? Will they be left to themselves? Will they sacrifice? Will they finish in a Day? Will they restore the Stones out of the Heaps of Rubbish, when they are burnt?

3. And Tobiah the Ammonite being by him, said, Even what they build, if a Fox should go up, he might break down their Stone-wall.

4. Hear, our God, that we are in Contempt, turn back their Reproach on their own Heads, and deliver them to be a Prey in a Country of Captivity.

5. Nay do not cover over their Iniquity, nor let their Sin be blotted out from before thee: for they have provoked thee even before the Builders.

6. Thus we built the Wall, all which was joined together, one half of it to the other; the People having a Mind to do it.

7. And when Sanballat, Tobiah, the Arabians, Ammonites, and Ashdodites heard that the Walls of Jerusalem were making up firm, that the Breaches began to be stopped, it greatly displeased them.

8. So they conspired all of them together, to come to fight against Jerusalem, and to hinder it.

9. Upon this we prayed to our God; and set a Watch against them Day and Night, for fear of them.

10. And Judah said, The Strength of the Labourers is gone, and there is so much Rubbish, that we cannot build the Wall.

11. Besides our Enemies threatened, They shall not know, nor see, till we come in among them, and slaying them, make the Work cease.

12. When the Jews too who dwelt by them came, they told us ten times, They will be at all Places by which you can return to us.

13. Therefore I set at the lower Places behind the Wall, and in the clear Places, the People according to the Families, with their Swords, Spears and Bows.

14. Which having seen done, I addressed my self, and said to the Nobles, Rulers, and the rest of the People; Be not afraid by reason of them; remember the Lord is great and terrible, and fight for your Brethren, your Sons and Daughters, your Wives and Houses.

15. Now when our Enemies heard that it was known to us, and God had made their Counsel void, we returned all of us to the Wall, each one to his Work.

16. But from that Day one half of my Servants wrought in the Work, and the other held the Spears, Shields, Bows and Corslets; the Princes being behind all the Family of Judah.

17. The Builders on the Wall, and they that carried Burdens, with those who loaded, wrought in the Work with one of their Hands, and the other held a Dart.

18. The Builders also were girded each with his Sword upon his Loins, when they were building, and he that sounded the Trumpet was by me.

19. And I charged the Nobles, Rulers, and the rest of the People; The Work being much and wide, and we being separated upon the Wall far off one from another;

20. At the Place in which you hear the Sound of the Trumpet, gather thither to us: our God will fight for us.

21. So we wrought in the Work, and half of them held the Spears from Break of Day, till the Stars appeared out.

22. I likewise ordered the People at the same Time, Let each one with his Servant lodge within Jerusalem; that they may be a Guard to us by Night, as well as be at the Work by Day.

23. And neither I, my Brethren, my Servants, nor the Men of the Guard who followed me, did any of us pull off our Cloaths; each having his Dart and Water.

Ver. 2. be left] to do so: or will they [the Persians] leave them; or permit, as several translate: fortifie being foreign to it.

Ib. to themselves] For the Heb. has a Preposition properly signifying to before the Pronoun.

Ver. 9. Upon this] Nevertheless thwarting the Sense.

Ver. 12. They will be] with this supplied, which seems intended, it signifies that when the Enemies fell upon them, they would also beset the Ways, that they might not escape back to their Friends in the Country, from whence they were come to help repair Jerusalem; see Ch. xi. 1.

Ver. 13. clear] as the like Word is rendered, Isa. xviii. 4. and the higher Places wanted the less Defence.

Ver. 14. seen done] For what else did he look at?

Ver. 17. Dart] to throw down from the Wall on the Enemy, in case of an Assault; see 2 Chron. xxxii. 5. from the Verb to throw.

Ver. 22. to us] Vul. to you.

Ver. 23. Dart] as Ver. 17. Jun. and Trem. translate cuique gladius suus, each had his Sword; Castal. suum quisque telum dextera tenentes, holding every one his Dart in the right Hand: it being a Noun, the same as in 2 Chron. xxiii 10. & xxxii. 5. Job. xxxiii. 18. & xxxvi. 12. Joel ii. 8. and these are all the Places where it is found.

Ib. Water] to drink at any Time, as People do at Work, without going away for it.

CHAP. V.

BESIDES there was a great Cry of the People, and their Wives, againſt their Brethren the Jews.

2. For there were ſome who ſaid, We, our Sons, and Daughters are many; therefore we muſt receive Corn, that we may eat, and live:

3. And others who complained, We have mortgaged our Fields, Vineyards and Houſes; that we might buy Corn in the Famine:

4. As there were more that did; We have borrowed Money for the King's Tax, on our Fields, and Vineyards.

5. Yet now our Fleſh is like that of our Brethren, our Children as theirs; and behold we are bringing our Sons and Daughters into ſubjection for Servants, nay ſome of our Daughters are brought into ſubjection; and there is no Power in our Hands, becauſe others have our Fields and Vineyards.

6. Greatly diſpleaſed, when I heard their Cry, and theſe Words,

7. I conſulted in my own Mind, then chid the Nobles and Rulers, telling them, You exact Uſury each one of his Brethren; whereupon I ſet a great Congregation againſt them.

8. I further ſaid to them, We have bought our Brethren the Jews who were ſold to the Nations, according to our Ability; and will you even ſell your Brethren? Or ſhall they be ſold to us? But they were ſilent, and found not a Word to ſay.

9. Moreover I proceeded; The Thing that ye do is not good; ſhould not ye walk in the Fear of our God, by reaſon of the Nations our Enemies?

10. And likewiſe I, my Brethren and Servants, might exact Money and Corn of them; I beſeech you, let us leave this Uſury.

11. Reſtore to them preſently, I pray, their Fields, Vineyards, Olive-yards and Houſes, with the hundredth Part of the Money and Corn, the Wine and Oil, which you exact of them.

12. And they anſwered, We will reſtore, and require Nothing of them, we will do as thou ſayeſt. Then I called the Prieſts, and made them ſwear to do according to theſe Words.

13. I alſo ſhook my Arm, and ſaid, Thus let God ſhake every Man, who does not confirm theſe Words, from his Houſe and Buſineſs, even thus let him be ſhaken, till he is void; to which all the Congregation ſaid, So let it be, and praiſed the Lord. The People likewiſe did according to theſe Words.

14. Now from the Time when I was appointed to be their Governor in the Country of Judah, from the twentieth Year to the two and thirtieth of King Artaxerxes, being twelve Years, I and my Brethren did not eat the Victuals belonging to the Governor.

15. Whereas the former ones who were before me were burdenſome to the People, taking of them Bread and Wine, beſides forty Shekels of Silver, nay their Servants had government over the People; but I did not do ſo, by reaſon of the Fear of God.

16. And I alſo repaired in this Work ſome of the Wall, and we bought no Land; beſides all my Servants gathered thither to the Work.

17. Jews too and Rulers a hundred and fifty Men, with them who came to us from the Nations that were round about us, were at my Table:

18. Inſomuch that what was made ready for one Day was an Ox, ſix choice Sheep, and for me Fowls, as alſo within ten Days a great deal of all Sorts of Wine; yet with this I did not require the Victuals belonging to the Governor, becauſe the Service was heavy upon this People.

19. Remember me, O my God, for Good, according to all that I have done for them.

CHAP. VI.

AT length when Sanballat, Tobiah, Geſhem the Arabian, and the reſt of our Enemies, heard that I had built up the Wall, and there was no Breach left in it, although I had not at that Time ſet up the Doors at the Gates;

2. Sanballat and Geſhem ſent to me, to come, that we might meet together at one of the Villages in the Vale of Ono; they intending to do me ſome Miſchief.

3. But I ſaid by Meſſengers whom I ſent to them, I am doing a great Work, ſo that I cannot come down; why ſhould the Work ceaſe, when I leave it off, that I may come down to you?

4. Yet they ſent to me after that Manner four times, and I returned them anſwer after this Manner.

5. Then Sanballat ſent his Servant to me after after

after the ſame Manner the fifth time, with an open Letter in his Hand;

6. In which was written; There is heard among the Nations, and Gaſhmu ſays, thou and the Jews intend to rebel, therefore thou buildeſt up the Wall, that thou mayeſt be their King, as it is reported;

7. And that thou haſt ſet up Prophets to proclaim concerning thee in Jeruſalem, that there is a King in Judah; and now the King will hear the like Report: now therefore come, and let us take counſel together.

8. But I ſent to tell him, There is Nothing according to theſe Words which thou ſayeſt, for thou forgeſt them out of thy own Heart.

9. Though all of them made us afraid, ſaying, Their Hands will leave off the Work, ſo that it ſhall not be done. Now therefore ſtrengthen my Hands.

10. Beſides I went into the Houſe of Shemaiah, the Son of Delaiah, the Son of Mehetabeel, who was ſhut up; and he ſaid, Let us get together at the Houſe of God within the Temple, and ſhut the Doors of the Temple: for they will come to kill thee, and that in the Night.

11. Nevertheleſs I anſwered, Should ſuch a Man as I flee? Or who that is as I am, would go into the Temple, that he might live? I will not go in.

12. And I knew that behold God had not ſent him: for he ſpoke the Prophecy againſt me, becauſe Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13. He being hired to the intent that I ſhould be afraid, and by doing ſo ſhould ſin; that they might have Something for an ill Name to reproach me.

14. Remember, O my God, Tobiah and Sanballat, according to theſe their Doings, and alſo Noadiah the Propheteſs, and the reſt of the Prophets, who would have made me afraid.

15. So the Wall was finiſhed on the twenty fifth of Elul, in two and fifty Days.

16. Which when all our Enemies heard, and all the Nations that were round about us ſaw, they were exceedingly caſt down in themſelves; being ſenſible that this Work was done by our God.

17. Moreover in thoſe Days the Nobles of Judah ſent many Letters to Tobiah, and Tobiah's came to them.

18. For there were many in Judah ſworn to him: for he was Son-in-law to Shechaniah, the Son of Arah: and his Son Jehohanan married the Daughter of Meſhullam, the Son of Berechiah.

19. They would alſo be talking of his good Deeds before me, and divulging my Words to him; who ſent Letters to make me afraid.

CHAP. VII.

AND when the Wall was built up, I ſet up the Doors; and Porters, Singers, and Levites were appointed.

2. I alſo ordered Hanani my Brother to be over Jeruſalem, with Hananiah the Prince of the Palace: for he was like a Man of Veracity, and feared God above many.

3. Then I ſaid to them, Let not the Gates of Jeruſalem be opened till the Sun gives heat; and while theſe ſtand by, let ſome ſhut, and make faſt the Doors: they are likewiſe to place Guards for the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem, in their ſeveral Watches, and beofre their own Houſes.

4. Now the City was of a large Space, and great; but the People were few within it, and there were none of the Houſes built up.

5. My God in the next place put into my Heart, that I ſhould gather together the Nobles, Rulers and People, to reckon up their Pedigree; and I found a Book of the Pedigree of thoſe who came up at firſt, in which I found written.

CHAP. VIII.

AND all the People gathered together as one Man, into the Street that is before the Water-gate, and ſpoke to Ezra the Scribe to bring the Book of the Law of Moſes, which the Lord gave in command to Iſrael.

2. Accordingly Ezra the Prieſt brought the Law before the Congregation, both of Men and Women, and all who had underſtanding to hear it, on the firſt Day of the ſeventh Month.

3. In which he read before the ſame Street, from the Morning-light till the middle of the Day, before Men, Women, and thoſe who had underſtanding; and the Ears of all the People were to the Book of the Law.

4. Now Ezra the Scribe ſtood upon a wooden Pulpit that was made for the Affair; and by him ſtood Mattithiah, Shema, Anaiah, Urijah, Hilkiah and Maaſeiah, on his right Hand; and at his left Pedaiah, Miſhael, Malchiah, Haſhum, Haſhbaddanah, Zechariah, Meſhullam.

5. And Ezra opened the Book in the Sight of all the People, foraſmuch as he was above them; at the doing of which they all ſtood up.

6. Then he bleſſed the great Lord God: and all of them anſwered, So let it be, ſo let it be, with lifting up their Hands; they alſo bowed, and worſhipped the Lord, with their Faces to the Ground.

7. Beſides Jeſhua, and Bani, with Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodijah, Maaſeiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites made the People underſtand the Law, who ſtood ſtill.

8. Thus they read in the Book, in the Law of God expounded, putting the Senſe, and made them underſtand the Scripture.

Ver. 6. the great Lord God] Vul. Lat. the Lord God with a great or loud Voice.

Ver. 8. read] It has been a Matter of great Enquiry and Debate, when and by whom the Hebrew Points, Part of which are the Vowels of that Language, were introduced. Before the Babylonian Captivity, while Hebrew was the Mother-tongue of the Jewiſh People, as their Letters are all Conſonants, and there was little or no Neceſſity for Vowels, it may be thought or allowed, they had but few or none of the latter. But being diſperſed after the Tranſmigration, and not living together, as their Anceſtors had done before in Egypt; the Chaldee, as it is agreed, was become their common Language at the Return from Captivity: whereby there was then Need of Vowels for the right reading and underſtanding of the Scripture Words, the adding of which was concluded both by Jews and Chriſtians to be done by Ezra, that ready Scribe or Writer, Ezr. vii. 6. aſſiſted by the Men of the Great Synagogue, Haggai, Zechariah, Malachi, with thoſe in Ezra ii. 2. and others; a particular Account of which may be ſeen in Buxtorf's Tiberias, Cap. 10, & 11. But lately in the Beginning of the 16th Century, one Elias Levita a Jew of Germany ſtarted another Opinion: for the Jews continuing to put a great Value on their Tradition, Mark vii. 13. and having pretended that the true Meaning of the Scripture was delivered down to them from the inſpired Writers by Word of Mouth, till their Rabbi Judah, whom they call Hakkadoſh, the Holy, wrote it in a Book intituled Miſhnah, about 150 Years after Chriſt; ſo this Elias Levita pretended the right Reading of the Scripture was preſerved in the ſame Manner, till their Maſorites at Tiberias compoſed the Points, about 500 Years after Chriſt, Eliæ Lev. Maſoreth Hammaſoreth, & de Accentibus. As the inventing this Opinion made for the Jewiſh Tradition, ſo the promoting it did for the Popiſh ones, by leſſening the Truth and Authority of the Holy Scriptures, which have been a great Check to the Traditions of the Papiſts: it is therefore no Wonder that Morinus (that bitter Reviler of the Proteſtants at the ſame Time) in Exercit. Biblicæ, and their great Father Simon in his Critical Enquiries, &c. with others of them, ſhould ſo cordially eſpouſe the Cauſe; nor for the ſame Reaſon of degrading Sacred Writ, that thoſe who are deiſtically inclined ſhould do the ſame, in order for Human Reaſon to juſtle out Divine Revelation; accordingly it may be generally found that the late Authors of thoſe two Sorts, when they make mention of this, hold with Elias, only pretend the Points are erroneous or uncertain; as Hutchinſon moſt confidently does, for Imaginations of his own. The Jews however, though it does not extenuate the Scripture in their View, becauſe they think ſuch oral Tradition of the Points as valid, and as much from Inſpiration at firſt, as if they had been all along written, do altogether reject this new Conjecture of Elias Levita; ſee Buxt. de Punct. P. II. Cap. iii. iv. and p. 366. while it muſt be confeſſed divers learned Proteſtants, with Capellus at their Head, have likewiſe fallen in with it, led perhaps too much by Novelty, or the Authority of others, not conſidering it ſufficiently themſelves; as not thinking it perhaps material, of which further.

The better to underſtand the State of the Matter, and be more capable of judging in it, let us ſuppoſe the Vowels

9. And Nehemiah who was the Tirſhatha, and Ezra the Prieſt the Scribe, with the Levites who made the People underſtand, ſaid to them all, This Day is holy to the all taken out of the Engliſh Books of the old Teſtament, as alſo out of the Latin ones; the firſt might then be pretty nearly to us when we were uſed to them, as the Hebrew Bible was to the Jews before the Captivity, while that was their common Language; and what it was to them after the Captivity, we may conceive by conſidering how ſuch a Latin Copy without Vowels would be to us. There being indeed commonly in Hebrew a Conſonant and a Vowel alternately, that Tongue muſt be the eaſier in ſuch a Reſpect, but this may be thought overballanced by the Hebrew having more than double the Vowels of our European Languages; nay if an Engliſh and Latin Copy without Vowels as mentioned before had ſome Mark for the Places of them, it would exceed the Hebrew in Plainneſs upon that Account. It is however not to be omitted, that the Matres Lectionis, as ſome call the Letters י, ו, and א, are ſomewhat helpful in reading the unvowelled Hebrew, but not much in the Scripture: for when י is uſed as a Vowel, it has the Power both of i and e, ו of o and u, and א is never a Vowel, but uſed with all the five; beſides theſe two firſt Letters themſelves, which are properly Conſonants, being deſtitute of Points, do not inform a Reader when they are endued with the Nature of Vowels, nor are they in Place for one half of them; ſo that this is next to Nothing of Certainty without farther Help; and the Jews put more of them in modern Words for that Purpoſe, which the Bible wanting, even this may ſhew it had pointed Vowels; ſee more fully Buxt. de Accent. p. 370, 371. In pleading theſe, Walton owns they were very ſeldome in the middle of Words, and yet aſſerts they were the onely Vowels, Conſiderator conſidered, p. 206; and Simon pretending there were more than now, makes bad worſe.

The Caſe being thus fairly ſtated, methinks an unprejudiced Perſon ſhould not want Arguments to be perſuaded that the Jews neither did, nor could read the Hebrew Bible without Points, till the Time Elias Levita talks of, as Prideaux owns and ſhews, Connect. P. i. B. 5. and that they were frequent in reading it, is well known. So far and ſo long, as the Words and Pronunciation of them were retained in the Memory of any from their Forefathers, ſuch Perſons might read: for the Conſonant-letters alone could not teach them how to do it; neither did, as is manifeſt by the Septuag. and Targumiſts reading otherwiſe. And is it to be imagined that even the Readers in the Synagogues could ſay the whole Scripture by Heart? Words it is true might often be known by the ſame Words in other Places, the Sounds of which were remembred, and many more might be known according to the Rules of Grammar, by Number, Conjugation, Tenſe, &c. but as there are divers Nouns ſeldom extant, ſome but once, and ſeveral irregular Verbs, with Abundance of particular Words that vary from the uſual Conſtruction; the Remembrance of the common Words, and the general Knowledge of Grammar (then but little) would be inſufficient without remembring alſo the Exceptions and Words leſs frequent: all which to mind diſtinctly in the ſeveral Places, might require a larger Memory, than to be able to ſay the whole Scripture out of Book, as it lies connected together; ſee Buxt. Tiber. Ch. 9. at end, and even Capel. Crit. Sacr. Sect. 63. Many Verbs, with the Knowledge of the Heb. Grammar, might be known how to be read by the Letters, if regular; but even in ſuch Verbs, their Letters would not inform whether the pointing, or reading, was regular or irregular in ſuch a Place, or what it was if the latter, and ſo it would be uncertain; which ſome plead it is, for the like Reaſons. And beſides the various Anomalies of the Verbs, the Vowels of the Nouns are very different. So that all the ſame Pronunciation without Points could not be derived from the ſacred Penmen, as pretended in Proleg. iii. ſect. 51, 53. ad Bib. Polyglot.

An Objection that is raiſed from the preſent reading of the Samaritan Pentateuch, and the Writings of the Jewiſh Rabbies without Points, gives me Occaſion for making the Matter ſtill plainer. It is certainly much eaſier to put Vowels to the Conſonants, than to read them without; becauſe the firſt allows of all Helps, and any Time for performing it, whereas the other is to be done ex tempore by Memory: it muſt needs be granted too, that the Points were inſerted in the Targums by no mean Hands, yet they were far from being correct; and though Buxtorf himſelf has done it anew, than whom perhaps none in theſe Ages was more capable, the Learned are not ſatisfied it is entirely right. How could thoſe Verſions then have been read without Vowels? Much leſs how could the Original? There is a material Difference in the Jewiſh Rabbinical Books, which may be ſuppoſed written plainly grammatical, and ſo are every where to be read in the ſame Manner, with the Aid too of א, ו, and י, inſerted at Pleaſure. And notwithſtanding the Targums have more Difficulties by following the Scripture, yet leſs than the Hebrew Text it ſelf; beſides Chaldee was the Jews Language after the Captivity. The pointed Bibles may now aſſiſt them, inſtead of Hebrew being their Mother-tongue, to read the unpointed ones, where Memory fails; and as they know what is to be read beforehand, they may get their Leſſon ready; as indiſputably their Boys do, who, as I have ſeen at London, read a Portion of Scripture in the Synagogue: for the Schoolmaſter there himſelf confeſſed to me, that he could not teach the Writings of their Rabbies. Beſides they read but Part of the Scripture in their publick Worſhip. As to the Samaritans, Prideaux ſeemed to think they have Points, though not tranſmitted to us: Nay Jerome writes, in one of his Prefaces to Kings, The Samaritans have the Five Books of Moſes, written with the ſame Letters as the Jews, figuris tantum & apicibus diſcrepantes, only differing in their Shape and Points; for what elſe can the latter be, ſince Something beſides the Form or Character of the Letters? They might alſo help themſelves with the Heb. Points, and they having only the Pentateuch, that may be eaſier read, where it depends ſo much on Memory, than the whole Bible; and perhaps they make but little Practice of reading that, which may be incorrectly too: as the learned Poſtellus in his Alphabet of 12 Languages writes, The Samaritans have now no Points, as they had in the Time of Jerome, and they read, depravatè admodum, very badly without them. But the Neceſſity of the Points ſtill more appears, by their making and diſtinguiſhing Conſonants, as well as Vowels: for the double Letters are made by [·] in the ſingle ones, the Sound of h is alſo taken away by it, and ſh diſtinguiſhed from ſ by the ſame; ſo caph and he together maſc. are known from caph only fem. by ך and ה.

Another Objection ſprings from what has been already mentioned, that the Copies kept in the Synagogues are void of the Points, from whence it would be inferred, that they are a late Invention. If Ezra did introduce the Points, yet the great Labour and Care of annexing them to the Bibles, which might be done after the Letters were all written, was probably the Reaſon that many went without them, and this accords well with their Origin being from Ezra; ſo that the Points might not be put to the Synagogue-Law, becauſe they had a later Riſe than the Letters, that this might be as the Ten Commandments of God's own Writing were. The Points moreover might look like an unpleaſing Mark of their Declenſion and Captivity, damping the Delight they ſhould have in worſhipping God; or they might be left out for Oſtentation, to ſhew they could read without them; or elſe might be avoided there, that the Prieſts ſhould be ſkilful and induſtrious to read ſo; or that thoſe Copies might have no Fault, which could ſcarcely be with the numerous Points. From the Scarcity of the pointed Bibles before Printing was known, eſpecially if they were formerly kept only in the Jewiſh Schools, as Prideaux affirms, it is no Wonder that divers ancient Writers make no Mention of them, as might otherwiſe be expected, nor that the Septuagint did not uſe, as it ſeems, pointed Copies; ſee Gen. xlvii. 31. to which may be added, that their Tranſlation is ſuppoſed to be made, not from the Heb. but the Chaldee, as Buxt. ſhews, De Punct. Par. i. Cap. 9. ſo unpointed Originals are to be aſcribed to the Uſe of ſome Targummiſts (for Onkelos tranſlates ſo near to the Heb. as may be incredible without his having the Vowels, which may alſo be an Argument of their Antiquity) particularly Jonathan, of whom the Jews have ſuch a high Veneration, that they write, he received his Targum or Chaldee Tranſlation, as to the Senſe of it, from the three laſt Prophets, Zech. Hag. and Mal. that while he was making it, the whole Country of Paleſtine was ſhaken with an Earthquake, and this was heard from Heaven, Who is he that reveals my Secrets to Mankind? that if a Fly or the like pitched on him or his Paper, it was burnt up from Heaven, without any Hurt to himſelf or the Paper; that the Angels would fly from Heaven to know it, when he was abſent; and that he was the Chief of fourſcore Diſciples of the famous Hillel: and as he differs conſiderably from the pointed Hebrew, as for Inſtance inſtead of with in Hoſ. xi. 12. he has People twice, the Difference in Heb. being only a Vowel; here is a ſtrong Plea againſt the Points being invented by the Jews afterwards: for how can it be imagined but they would have been guided by him, as their greateſt Authority in that Caſe? And the latter Targum-Writers appear to have written after the pretended Invention of the Points, yet they differ from them ſtill more: from all which it is not difficult what to conclude. Moreover the Cabbaliſts reading otherwiſe ſometimes than the Pointing (in the Luxuriancy, and Wantonneſs of their myſtick Meanings, and Allegories; which ſome bring for a Reaſon that the Law was not pointed by Moſes, but Ezra, and reckon thoſe Senſes to be ſeventy) may indicate the Neceſſity of the Points, rather than their Abſence. On the other hand the Talmudiſts, throughout their voluminous Writings, do not quote, as Buxtorf ſuppoſes, and who knew better? one Paſſage of Scripture but according to the preſent Punctuation; the Jeruſalem Talmud being publiſhed about the Year of Chriſt 230, and the Babylonian 500: the like almoſt he ſpeaks concerning Jerome in his large Works, unleſs perhaps he has any where been led from it by allegorizing, or by the Septuagint Tranſ. nor even that does he grant hardly, ſee Buxt. Fil. Tract. de Punct. p. 77, 154, 164, 166. How poſſibly could they ſo often and ſo much keep to a Reading, that was not yet aſcertained, when the bare Letters admitted of its being ſo various? If it might be objected, that the Tiberian Jews (whom young Buxt. aptly calls Utopians, who never were but in Imagination) made the Pointing according to the Talmuds; yet ſurely not by Jerome's Books, who was a Chriſtian, and lived in the 4th Century. But if there were ſuch as compoſed the Pointing from the former Hebr. Writings, as doubtleſs they would and muſt have done, how came they not to be guided by the Targums, Septuagint, &c? As this cannot be anſwered to any Purpoſe, it concludes full againſt the Novelty of the Heb. Vowels. As for the little Mention that is made of thoſe Points in the Talmuds, &c. it is no Wonder, when the Subjects there treated on did not require more. What therefore does that make for there being then no Points? But one Inſtance of them quite overturns it, as before. That Jerome had Recourſe to the Text pointed, notwithſtanding the great Scarcity of it in thoſe Times, is ſufficiently manifeſt by his aſſerting ſo often the Heb. is thus and thus, contrary to the Seventy, or others, who took it otherwiſe; when without the Vowels it might be either Way, and would ſignify either; ſee Examples in Buxt. De Punct. Pt. 1. Cap. xi. p. 146, &c. & 161, &c. as likewiſe by his writing in ſome Words an e, where the Heb. had no Sound, but where being pointed would be Sheva, which in other Places ſtands for e: now he might eaſily put e for [:] ſignifying it, though there ſilent; but how ſhould he make a Vowel and Syllable from Nothing? ſee ſome Examples in Buxt. De Punct. p. 158.

Prideaux in Con. B. 5. at End, relates that there is a Copy, which they pretend to be the original one written by Ezra, kept at Bononia, that has the Vowel-points; which though incredible to be the ſame, yet it is natural to ſuppoſe that when the Copy was renewed, it was made like the old one, which may amount to the ſame. The Copy written by Hillel was a famous one, which upon a Perſecution in the 10th Century in the Kingdom of Leon, being brought from thence, as Abrah. Zacuth writes in the Book יוחסין Juhaſin, fol. 132. the Jews corrected their other Copies by it; Part of which that was ſold in Africa, he ſays, he ſaw: David Ganz alſo the Author of צמח דוד Zemah David (theſe being two principal Jewiſh Hiſtorians) applauds that Bible, as do ſeveral others. This Hillel lived before the Time of Chriſt, as Pet. Cunæus, de Republica Hebraica, aſſerts, and our Countryman the learned Prideaux particularly ſhews, Connect. Part ii. Book 8. at Beg. and that his Book had the Points Kimhi and others teſtify, De Accent. p. 351, 352. nay Simon himſelf ſays in his Critical Enquiries, Chap. 3. that Hillel's Copy has Vowel-points and Accents. But he pretends that Hillel was after the Maſorites of Tiberias, and his Proof for it is, becauſe his Bible has Points; thus taking that as granted which he pleads for (not uncommon with him) that thoſe Maſorites invented them: nay by the Variations which he mentions, in the pointing of that Codex from the Maſoretic Copies, it appears to be more ancient, as they are uniform ſince the Notes of the Maſorah were added. In a noted MS. intituled ספר הבהיר Sephir Habbahir, written by Nehonja before the Time of Chriſt 50 Years, as the Book Juhaſin, fol. 20. and Zemah David, fol. 35. ſhew, there is expreſs Mention of the Points; a Quotation from which is given by Behai in his Commentary on Gen. xviii. 3. in theſe Words: הנקודות מניעות האותיות כמו שהנשמה מניעה את הגוף שדרשו רבותינו בספר הבהיר דמין נקודתא באתותא דאוריתא דמשה כנשמתא דחיי בגופא דאניש The Points move the Letters as the Mind does the Body, according as our Rabbies expound it in the Book Bahir; The Points with the Letters of the Law of Moſes, are like the living Mind with the mortal Body of Man. Another famous Treatiſe called זוהר Zohar. written before the Talmuds, about a hundred Years after Chriſt, as the Books mentioned for the Time of the other relate, by Shimeon ben Johai, or his Scholars from him, concludes a Sentence with theſe Words, Col. 2. דתלת נקודין חלם שורק חירק of the three Points or Vowels, Holem, Shurek and Hirek. And in the ſame Place there is Mention made more than once of אתון ונקודי the Letters and Points; in Colum. 152. is alſo a particular Account of the Points. It is poſſible ſome Addition may have been made to thoſe Books, which may have cauſed them without that Conſideration not to ſeem ſo ancient. And the ancient Copies of the Miſhnah, or Text of the Talmud, which was publiſhed about 150 Years after the Birth of Chriſt, had the Points and Accents, as Ephodeus and others ſhew, Buxt. de Punct. p. 78, 79. In the Talmuds likewiſe, after which both Elias Levita and Capel pretended the Pointing was invented, טעמים the Accents are ſeveral Times ſpoken of, as in Talm. Hieroſ. Megillah, Ch. 4. Talm. Babyl. Megil. Ch. 1. on Neh. viii. 8. Nedarim, fol. 37. Col. 1 & 2. Berachoth, fol. 62. Hagiga de Ollat. Agnor. fol. 6. ſee Buxtorf in Tiberiade, Cap. ix. Sect. 3. and more with his Son Of the Points, Part i. Ch. 5, 6. The like may be found in the Book Cozri, being the Account of a Conference between a Jew and King Chozroes, as there ſaid 4500 Years from the Creation, by which the latter was converted to Judaiſm; ſee Juhaſin. p. 42, &c. And ſo in the Book יצירה Jetzirah, for its Antiquity, &c. aſcribed by ſome to Abraham, however is mentioned in the Talmud, Sanhed. Ch. 7. there is a diſtinct Account of the double Letters, which are made ſo by the Pointing; as alſo the ſame double Letters are ſpoken of in Zohar, on pared;

pared; for this Day is holy to our Lord: and be not ſorrowful, ſince the Joy of the Lord is your Strength.

11. The Levites likewiſe made all the People hold their Peace, by ſaying, Be ſilent, for this Day is holy, and be not ſorrowful.

Geneſ. Col. 153. and particular ones in ſeveral Places of the Talmud, as Buxt. the Son ſhews, Pt. i. Chap. 14. and even by Words in the Writings of the New Teſt. he demonſtrates the like was then uſed; of which take theſe two: Joppa is according to the Point Dageſh, for otherwiſe the Heb. is ſpelled with ph; and Sarepta, Luk. iv. 26. was Zarephath, 1 King. xvii. 9. with ph and th, the taking away the Aſpiration h being denoted by one of the Heb. Points; and more than he has collected together, p. 230. I ſuppoſe may be found, eſpecially Words having p, t and c, without h, from the Heb.

How unaccountable it is that Perſons not prejudiced as before mentioned, and who duly weigh the Matter, can believe ſuch a Story as Elias the Levite tells, when no Hiſtory nor Author of thoſe Times gives any Account of ſuch Invention of the Points! not Seder Olam Zeutah, Kabbalah Abr. Lev. Juhaſin, Shalſheleth Haccabalah, or Zemah David, which five Books comprehend the Hiſtory of that Time; ſee alſo Buxt. de Punct. p. 378. So that the Relation of a Fact about a thouſand Years before, reſts on his own Authority, and ſome late uncertain Quotation; while on the other hand there was to be retained in Memory from Age to Age another thouſand Years, the diſtinct Remembrance of 15 Vowels and 25 Accents, as they are commonly reckoned, and how they were to be applied to every Word and Syllable in the whole Scripture. Probably he might think the Story would not paſs, unleſs he affixed to it Time, Place and Perſons: which help to diſcredit it, as the Jews were then diſperſed from the Country of Judea where Tiberias was; and though Jerome mentions ſome, or rather one, there in his Time, yet their Univerſities and learned Men in general being in the Province of Babylon, about 100 Years before, from about the Year of Chriſt 230, to the Year 1037, Buxt. Tib. Cap. 6. no doubt but thoſe would have performed ſuch a great Undertaking, if it had been done, as they did the Babyloniſh Talmud of that Time, nor would it have otherwiſe been received.

Capellus a principal Follower of Elias Lev. in his Arcanum Punctationis revelatum, Lib. i. 7. pleads the marginal Readings of the Scripture being only concerning the Letters, and none about the Points: which at moſt can be a Sign of no more, than that thoſe Readings were not made ſince the Points; and that they were put in the Margin ſince the Time of Ezra, needs not be ſuppoſed, nor ſeems likely; and the Jews hold it for certain that thoſe Words were put by Ezra; only the few which are in Ezra, Nehemiah, &c. might be added by Simon called the Juſt, who is allowed to have added ſome Paſſages to the Text it ſelf, which muſt have been done after Ezra's Time; and ſo might ſome of thoſe Readings be put, ſince the Number of them differs. As Buxtorf the Father anſwered Elias Levita in his Tiberias, annexed to the Baſil Heb. Bible in two Vol. fol. and in the firſt Edit. of his Heb. Gram. as did alſo other of the Jews; ſo his Son made farther Anſwer to Capellus, for which ſee his Book De Punctorum &c. Antiquit. and in particular Pt. ii. Ch. 6, 7. where he expoſes the new Notion of Capellus, that the Pointing was begun by the Tiberian Jews as before, but continued with Additions by others, and at laſt finiſhed by Ben Aſher about our Year 1040; which the profound Silence of all Writers during that long Time renders very chimerical, beſides the other Abſurdities attending it, as there ſhewn.

The Work of the Maſorites, who were probably at the Schools or Colleges of the Jews in Meſopotamia or the Province of Babylon, was the compoſing thoſe Notes on the Scripture, from whence they took their Name, called the greater and leſſer Maſoreth: which Notes evidently, I might ſay demonſtratively, ſhew that the Authors of them were not the Inventors of the Points, becauſe divers of them are Remarks on the Pointing, as Godwyn obſerves, Moſ. and Aaron, Lib. vi. 7. Thus on Gen. xix. 2. they obſerve that every הנה for behold, which are numerous in Scripture, is pointed הִנֵּה with the Vowel zere, excepting here only, where it is הִנָּה with the Vowel ſægol; ſo on Gen. xvi. 15. that שם is ſix times with ſægol, and always beſides with zere. If the Maſorites had invented the Points, would not they have made them alike, or told the Reaſon of the Difference? eſpecially unleſs they had done it through Overſight, which the Note ſhews they did not. So they remark on Exod. xxxii. 1. that מה what before ח or y is pointed with three different Vowels, 17 times מה 5 times מָה and twice מַה of which may be ſaid the like as before, and of Abundance more. Such Alterations might chiefly ariſe from the Cuſtom of Speech, as the Words here mentioned are of the Nature of ours that end with a Vowel, which Vowel we ſometimes contract, and perhaps change, in the Sound, by reaſon of the firſt Syllable of the following Word. The Points muſt needs be added at firſt, from the Sound of ſpeaking thoſe Words to which they were put; ſo that the Points were of Neceſſity before the pronouncing of the Words was loſt. One may wonder what ſhould induce Prideaux to think that the Points were invented a little after the Time of Ezra, rather than in it, Connect. An. 446. Poſit. 2. If it is believed there were Maſorites from his Time, and the Pointing was made by ſome of the firſt of them; why may not Ezra himſelf be admitted into their Number (inſtead of, or with, his changing the Letters, as on Ezr. vii. 6.) and ſo the Controverſy end? Whereas it is pretended that ſome Maſorites found out the Points, and others of them afterwards made the Remarks on their Irregularity; would not thoſe who did the latter have made the Pointing uniform, inſtead of ſuch Remarks, if it had been done at firſt by ſome of their own Body, or Perſons of equal Authority with themſelves? Nay would not the Maſorites, had they been the Authors, have made it alike at firſt, ſince they muſt do it by ſome certain Rules? And for Capellus and Walton to ſuppoſe all the Irregularities to be their Miſtakes, is too abſurd; and why then did they not mend them? Now there is not only great Difference of Pointing in the poetical Books from the reſt, and in the Decalogue from both, but ſo much interſperſed about, according to the Plainneſs or Elegancy of the Writer's Style, that I have been ready to conclude it was the Work of the firſt Penmen: but the learned and induſtrious Ezra, and his Cotemporaries, with the Advantage of the Hebrew being their native Language, might have Ability to ſuit the Points to the whole, and fewer would have ſerved when it was a living Language, according as we know when to pronounce our Vowels long or ſhort by Uſe; but were others to learn true Reading by them, they would need to be diſtinguiſhed; as a Speck joined under the Heb. ſhort a makes it long, and one put over the long e makes it ſhort. Hence alſo vaniſhes the bold Objection of Lewis Capellus, that ſo many Heb. Vowels and Points are abſurd and ſuperſtitious, and ſo neither the Work of the inſpired Penmen nor of Ezra: not conſidering, as it ſeems, that whoever put the Points, only accommodated them to the Reading that was before, and for which they were neceſſary; and doubtleſs the Reading ever was, as in all other Languages, with the Sound of long and ſhort Vowels, nay and with different Degrees of Shortneſs to ſome, as the Heb. Vowels denote. I ſhould think it muſt or would eaſily be granted, that the Heb. Reading of the Scripture never altered much, eſpecially as the Jews have been in ſuch conſtant Practice of it, both publickly and privately, and as it has been contained within the Compaſs of one Book: ſo that if there was not ſuch Pronunciation before as the pointed Vowels indicate, they muſt be ancient indeed; and if there was, they are conſequently right and proper; and therefore ſuitable to the divine Writers or Ezra, according as Capellus argues largely for the contrary. Beſides it is utterly improbable that the Tiberian Jews or any other would would attempt to change their Reading, by introducing the Sounds of new Vowels, and ſo lewdly violating their ſacred Tradition, as it would have been; nay it is utterly improbable they could have done it: for would all the Jews in the World have been ſo impoſed on? Thoſe who can believe Capellus in this, may in the reſt. But what if he did not believe it himſelf? For that may appear not altogether unlikely, without ſuppoſing he wrangled thus to ſupport his new Notion, by his not foreſeeing this unavoidable Conſequence of it; that if ſome Jews at Tiberias firſt invented, and brought into uſe, ridiculous and erroneous Vowels and Characters of Sound, they muſt alſo the Sounds themſelves, or elſe thoſe Marks of the Sounds uſed before muſt be right. But if the preſent Punctuation be thought too much for Ezra and his Collegues, we may ſafely allow, and ſuppoſe, there might be five Vowels or the like before, for the diſtinct Sounds beſide long and ſhort; and that to retain the Variation of thoſe Sounds, Ezra added more Vowels, &c. and for more exact Pronunciation the Accents likewiſe: for though the certain Tone, or Modulation, of theſe be now loſt; yet they are of much Uſe to diſcover the Senſe, by parting or joining the Words.

The Sect of the Karraites among the Jews, who reject their Traditions, and are counted thoſe of the beſt Learning and Judgment, do ſtrenuouſly adhere to the Pointing, as well as other Parts of Scripture, Simon's Critical Hiſt. B. i. Ch. 27, 29. and Crit. Eng. Ch. 4. And why may not I produce for it (what many learned Men have done) the Words of Chriſt himſelf, Mat. v. 18? Since as Jot is allowed to ſignify any little Letter, eſpecially the Hebr. Jod; the other may properly mean a Point, of which the Vowels are compoſed, and which the ſmall ones ſimply are; and not the Ends of the Conſonants, as Capellus weakly contended, becauſe the Loſs of ſuch would not be at all material. Why not alſo Deut. xxvii. 8? for how could all the Law be written very plainly, or be well expreſſed, without any Vowels, and that even to Paſſengers by Jordan? I may add and conclude this with the Verſe on which I am writing, viz. Neh. viii. 8. for who ſees not that the Partition into Verſes was then neceſſary? which according to the Babylonian Talmud was meant by putting the Senſe, Tiber. Ch. 8. this being agreed to be Part of the Pointing, and aſcribed alſo by thoſe in the Oppoſition to the Tiberian Maſorites, after the finiſhing of the laſt Talmud, to which they confine it; whereas the elder Buxtorf not only brings expreſs Quotations of the Verſes from the Miſhnah, which muſt be before the Talmuds that were written on it, but he ſays the Talmudiſts make mention of the Verſes a thouſand times, Tiberias, Ch. 8. as Buxt. jun. likewiſe proves that the very ancient Miſhnahs had the Points to them, De Punct. p. 78, 79. and even Walton relates, that the Levites read a Verſe firſt in Hobrew, and then in the Chaldee, as he had ſeen it in an old MS. brought from Ormus, Conſiderator conſid. p. 288. and it is fully proved by the Athenian Society in The Young Students Library, fol. pr. 1692, Pt. i. Ch. 14. that the Maſorah was before the Talmuds, by the Mention and Account of it divers times there; then as the Maſorah contained Remarks on the Pointing, both Vowels and Accents, they muſt needs be before it, and conſequently longer before the Talmuds, and the laſt eſpecially; which therefore refers them to the Time and Care of Ezra.

What may ſeem to have made ſome Proteſtants ſo remiſs about the divine Authority or Certainty of the Heb. Points, and others to give it up, is a Notion that the Meaning of the Scripture is ſecured by the Letters only, without the others. This Prideaux, whom I mention as a popular, and withal deſerving Author, ſets himſelf induſtriouſly to prove, Connect. Pt. i. B. 5. at End. But as it is of the Nature of an univerſal Negative, we have but his ipſe dixit for it, that muſt be invalid by one Inſtance to the contrary; and he himſelf mentions ancient Verſions, where in ſeveral Places the Authors of them did read the Text otherwiſe than according to the Punctuation: which as it muſt needs be owing to their uſing unpointed Bibles, the others being then ſcarce, is an evident Token that the Senſe was there ſometimes uncertain on that Account. To make the Matter clear and indubitable (referring the Reader alſo to Buxt. De Punct. Antiq. p. 419, 420, 421.) let it be conſidered; that, beſides divers Nouns eſpecially of very different Significations by the Pointing, with the ſame Letters, as דבר has 8, ſhewn in Ferdinando Parkhurſt's Divine Canon. p. 113. the dual and maſc. plural Numbers end alike, the Points excepted; that to denote my with a Noun maſc. the Letters are the ſame whether the Noun be ſingular or plural, nay the plural Nouns maſc. when contracted, which are ſo numerous, are the ſame as both theſe; that ſeveral times when ſingular Feminines have a like Pronoun of the third Perſon affixed, they receive it by Contraction without any Alteration of the Letters, it being noted only by a Point in the ה that the uſual Abbreviations of the maſc. and fem. Pron. ſing. of the 2d perſ. ך and ך are both the ſame unpointed, while the Prophets often ſpeak in that Perſon, and make Tranſitions from one Thing to another; that double Letters are only ſingle ones pointed; that שׁ and שׂ are as two different Letters, not only in the Reading but as to the Meaning of the Words where they rae, whoſe Variation is only in the placing the Speck over them; and that in the Verbs there are the ſame Letters, with different Signification, in various Conjugations, eſpecially Piel act. and Pual paſ. Moods, Tenſes, Genders and Numbers, almoſt innumerably, which I will not tire the Reader and my ſelf with repeating; only obſerve that the different Meaning unknown by the Letters alone, will moſtly fall among the irregular or imperfect Verbs. It is true, the Senſe of the Context would often determine it without the Points, but not always in ſuch a Multitude of various Caſes as occur in Scripture. Thus in the Septuagint Verſion מטה in Gen. xlvii. 31. is rendered a Staff, by others a Bed, the Conſonants ſignifying either; and as it is not related whether Jacob was up, and ſo leaning on the Top of a Staff, or in Bed, the Vowels only ſhew it was the latter. The ſame Tranſlation Hoſ. ix. 12. inſtead of when I depart, has σάρξ μου my Fleſh: the Heb. Word tranſlated is בשורי and the common way of expreſſing when I depart would be בסורי the Root being סור and the Change into שׁ extraordinary, nay could not have been if it was an uſual שׁ but my Fleſh would have been in the vulgar Manner בשרי and the Vowel Holem is either וֹ or the Point only above without the ו ſo that he who tranſlated this Part, as is to be ſuppoſed from an unpointed Copy, took as it ſeems the moſt obvious Way. But the Word being pointed בְּשׂוּרִי diſcovers the infinite Verb, and ſo the Commutation of the Letter; for though in baſar, Fleſh the Letter is alſo שׁ it is the Point ſhews that. Again in Jer. l. 38. חרב the firſt Word is either Sword or Dryneſs according as it is pointed, and for the Context, there the Diſcourſe had been carried on with Sword five times mentioned, as it is here continued by the Septuagint from the foregoing Verſe; but by the Punctuation we know it is the other. In the 9th Verſe of the ſame Chapter the Meaning of משכיל depends entirely on the Place of the Point over the שׁ for שָׂכַל ſignifying to deprive or bereave of Children, and שָׂכַל to be proſperous or ſkilful, this textual Word is to be underſtood by the Root which that Letter agrees with, and the Senſe of the Paſſage would accord to either: and here our Tranſlators appear miſtaken by not minding that Point, or following an incorrect Copy; for the Lexicons both of Pagninus and Buxtorf, with the Grammar and Concordance of the latter, have it the other Way. However this Inſtance is in full Force for what it is produced; ſince if the placing that ſingle Point or Speck is here uncertain, ſo is the Senſe of the Paſſage, and accordingly Tranſlators render ſome one Way, and ſome the other, So משא Uſury or a Burden, Neh. v. 7. and the like, Ch. x. 31. What a Caſe would the Scripture be in then if it had no Points, or if thoſe it has were but the Work of ſome latter Jews? The like of that Point ſee at Gen. xxvi. 12. Thus it is the placing of the Point ſettles the Meaning Gen. xlix. 6. שׁוֹר being a Wall, שׁוֹר an Ox. and collectively Oxen, with either of which the Verb to extirpate or root out will agree: the pointing decides it for the latter, notwithſtanding the Inattention of our Tranſlators, and the Authority of Ab. Ezra, an Author fond of new Things; look alſo Iſa. xlii.

22. So in Ezek. xxxiv. 3. the Septuagint have γάλα Milk, instead of Fat; חֵלֶב without the Points being the same as חֶלֶב and either will suit with the Passage. In Micah v. 4. likewise, where we read in the pointed Bibles יִשְׁבוּ they shall abide, it might be taken for יָשֻׁבוּ they shall return, were it not for the middle Vowel, which Meaning would be strengthened by the foregoing Verse; nay the Chaldee and vulg. Lat. Translators have turned it the latter Way, one by יתובון the other by convertentur, but the Septuagint have ὑπάρξουσί they shall abide. And in the 14th Verse of the same Chap. עָרֶיךָ thy Adversaries, as the Pointing shews, and the best Translators render, might be unpointed thy Cities, as we see it in the Eng. Bible: which has also pools instead of Blessings, Psa. lxxxiv. 6. in the same wrong Manner. By the pointing too of יִרְאָה Mic. vi. 9. it is that we only know it comes from רָאָה to see, which might else be from יָרֵא to fear, by the Addition, as is frequent in Heb. of ה according to which it would be יִרְאֶה with but one Vowel different; and so the Targum has it rendered דְּחָלִין the Greek Version φοβεμένες and the old Lat. timentibus, all which Verbs signify to fear, not see. Those who use the pointed Bibles know that נַעַר is a Noun, and signifies a young one, Zech. xi. 16. but the ancient Interpreters without the Points took it for a Participle in a very different Sense, as the Septuagint that which is scattered, &c. In like manner נִכְחַת she was or might be reproved, Gen. xx. 16. the Words of Moses; might be taken, as they are by the vulg. Lat. Author and Ainsworth, for Abimelech's Words, נֻכַחַת thou art or mayest be reproved; nay the Septuagint, Onkelos, Pagnine, Leo Judæ, Castalio, Jun. and Trem. understod it in the 2d Person, though the Pointing does not allow it, being too different from the usual Form. And מְצוֹד a Fortification has by several, and our own Translators, been mistaken for מְצוּד a Net, Prov. xii. 12. as also again in the Plural, Eccles. vii. 26. the only Odds being a Speck differently placed. Not only the vulg. Lat. Bib. has high instead of wherein, Isa. ii. 22. referring it to the Man Christ Jesus, by taking בְּמָה to be בָּמָה without the Points; but even Jerome displays his Eloquence in pleading for it. And so both the same vulg. Latin and Greek apply אֲדַמֶּה I make comparisons, Hos. xii. 10. to Christ, as if it was passive אֹדָמֶה I have been resembled, as there rendered; either of which the Context would admit of, if it was not pointed. Again both these Translations for שֻׂם puts, Psa. xl. 4. have name from שֵׁם thus, The Man is blessed whose Trust is the Name of the Lord. And instead of longs, Psa. lxiii. 1. in the pointed Heb. כְּמָה the Word being no where else, was taken in those Versions for כַּמָּה or כַּמֶּה rendered from thence in the Eng. Doway Transl. very manie wayes. For want of Points, and the Distinction of the Verses that is made by Points (which it seems their Copy had not) the Septuagint for God אֵל Psa. xc. 2. render not from אַל putting it to the next Verse: the Word likewise for number in Ver. 12. they join to the foregoing Verse. The same Gr. Translators, with all my Lat. ones, excepting Jun. and Trem. render the Heb. Isa. xlix. 17. for בָּנַיִךְ thy Builders, as Ezek. xxvii. 4. when it is בָּנַיִךְ thy Children. Munst. Cast. and L. Jud. as also Grot. following the com. Lat. reckon נָחֲלוּ are become sick, Jer. xii. 13. to be possess or inherit, as if it was נָחֲלוּ the Points being the only Difference. Nay from the Distinction of a single Speck over the right or left Corner of ש the vulg. Lat. Transl. L. Jud. Cast. and Grot. interpret the Meaning to be take away, instead of forget, Jer. xxiii. 39. nor is Munster there clear of the Mistake; to Obad. iii. the LXX. vulg. Lat. and Pagn. have lifted up for deceived, with Cast. the like; and with the same small supposed Variation only, both the former translate there is the Way, not that appoints the Way, Psa. l. 23. with all in proper Sense, though not that of the pointed Original. In Mal. ii. 3. instead of Seed, the same Gr. and vulg. Lat. have Arm, from the Absence of the Points, which Sense Grotius says is best; but the Vowels determine otherwise. So Psa. xlvii. 9. instead of עַם the People of, the LXX have μετὰ and the vulg. Lat. Translator cum, with, taking it for עִם which Capellus says is better, Critic. Sacr. Lib. iv. Cap. 17. as likewise Breasts than Loves or Love, Cant. i. 2. &c. is by the same; thus he also supposes the Seventy's, He has watched over my Tres. from our Heb. Letters. Reading bahem too for beham, Gen. xiv. 5. the Sept. and vulg. Lat. Interp. have with them in the room of in Ham. Instead of dwelt at in 1 King. xv. 21. the LXX have translated it returned to, which Capellus also prefers, while the Letters and Sense allow both. The same Critick produces divers Instances, where other Vowels would make a good, or better Reading, than the present is, as it should not be cut off for its Iniquity, Zeph. iii. 7. the desolate, for from the Sword, Job. v. 15, a Midianite Man, for a Man of Dimension, 2 Sam. xxi. 20. to the Nations, for to Truth, Isa. xlii. 3. &c. Critica Sacr. Lib. vi. Cap. 4. See more about in the Notes, especially on Psalms, and of שֹׁבֵר in particular on Chap. ii. 13. of this Book. Thus by the Difference of the Accents only if not, where, Job ix. 24. is known from if not now, Chap. xxiv. 25. the Words and even the Points being the same, and now would make Sense in the former as well as latter; see Nold. Concordan. Annot. 492, 493. And the Accent or Pause only shews that together round about, Job x. 8. belongs to the last Verb; which our Translators have misapplied, by pointing otherwise than the Hebrew. The very skilful Sol. Jarbi says in his Commentaries on Ezek. i. 11. that unless he had seen the Accent great Zakeph at Faces, he should not have known how to expound it, for it was this taught him to part that Word from the following. And not regarding little Zakeph, Am. ii. 4. Montan. and Castal. with the Tigur. and Genev. Translators have joined לִי to me with the following Word in rendering it, which that Point parts it from. To which add that Walter Cross says, he might reckon up twelve different Translations of Psa. cx. 3. by neglecting the Accent either at Power or Morning, Taghmical Art, p. 45. of which also see Buxt. De Accent. p. 424. And how should we defend that noble Prophecy of Gen. xlix. 10. in shewing Christ is come, but by the Accent, against the Jews? For they would have until to be for ever, either of which the Heb. Word signifies; and to be joined to Feet, which it might if the great Stop Athnah did not separate them: so that the very Sense of this express and glorious Text for Christianity, depends on a single Accent, one of which it was therefore necessary should not fail, according to Mat. v. 18. and this may be a strong Proof that the latter Jews did not invent even the Accents, nor yet alter them; for then it might be as they want it, The Scepter will not depart from Judah, nor a Law-giver from between his Feet for ever; for Shiloh will come; see their Beresh. Rab. Sect. 99. Behai in Loc. Menas. Ben Isr. in Conciliat. These Instances set down as they occurred to Mind, may be sufficient to satisfy the Reader of the Truth of what they are brought for. Such as understand the Original, and will be at the Trouble to examine from whence the Differences in the Greek and old Latin Versions arise, which seem to be made from unpointed Copies, might probably be furnished with a large Stock; and even all those would be perhaps but the least Part of them, as we may rationally suppose that when their Authors found it doubtful by the Heb. Letters, they oftener took the right Way than the wrong. But even though the Sense were secured without the Points, their Antiquity should not be given up: for if the Adversaries of the Scripture could have the Pointing be uncertain, they would no doubt represent the Scripture it self to be so. To conclude, it was in particular necessary for me to clear up this Matter, by reason of the Use I make of the Pointing, to justify the Manner of translating several Passages. Of this our great Lightfoot says, The Words written without Vowels in an unpricked Bible might be bended divers Ways, and into divers Senses, and different from the Meaning of the Original, Harm. of 4 Evang. And Cross thus, Read the Criticks, and thou wilt find five, sometimes ten different Senses, by not observing the Points, Taghm. Art. p. 46. To conclude the Chaldee

15. And that they ſhould publiſh, and make Proclamation throughout all the Cities, eſpecially Jeruſalem, as follows, Go forth to the Mountain; and bring Olive-branches, and Branches of other oily Trees, Myrtle-branches, Palm-branches, and Branches of thick Trees, to make Booths, at it is written.

16. So the People went forth, and bringing them, made themſelves Booths, each upon his Roof, and in their own Courts, as well as in thoſe of the Houſe of God, as alſo in the Street of the Water-gate, and that of the Gate of Ephraim.

17. Thus the whole Congregation who returned from Captivity made Booths, and dwelt in them; though the Iſraelites had not done ſo from the Days of Jeſhua the Son of Nun, to that Day: and there was very great Gladneſs.

18. Moreover he read in the Book of the Law of God daily, from the firſt Day to the laſt; keeping the Feaſt ſeven Days, and on the eighth it was a ſolemn Day, according to Cuſtom.

CHAP. IX.

AFTERWARDS on the four and twentieth Day of the ſame Month, the Iſraelites were gathered together with Faſting, Sackcloth, and with Earth upon them.

2. The Poſterity of Iſrael alſo ſeparated from all Strangers, and ſtood confeſſing their own Sins, and the Iniquities of their Fathers.

3. Then ſtanding up where they had ſtood, they read in the Book of the Law of the Lord their God a fourth Part of the Day, and a fourth Part they confeſſed, and worſhipped him.

4. And Jeſhua, with Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani got up on the Stairs of the Levites, and cried aloud to the Lord their God.

5. The Levites too, Jeſhua, and Kadmiel, Bani, Haſhabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah ſaid: Riſe up, bleſs the Lord your God from Age to Age; and let them bleſs thy glorious Name, though it is exalted above all Bleſſing and Praiſe.

6. Thou art he who is Lord alone, thou madeſt Heaven, the Heaven of Heavens, and all their Army, the Earth, and all which is upon it, the Seas, and all that are in them, and thou preſerveſt them all: therefore the Army of Heaven worſhip thee.

7. Thou art he who is the Lord God, that choſeſt Abram, broughteſt him out of Ur of the Chaldeans, and didſt put his Name Abraham;

8. As likewiſe finding his Heart faithful before thee, thou madeſt a Covenant with him, to give the Country of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, and Perizzites, and Jebuſites, and Girgaſhites, that is to his Offſpring; and haſt confirmed thy Words, for thou art righteous.

9. Moreover thou ſaweſt the Affliction of our Forefathers in Egypt, and heardeſt their Cry at the Red Sea.

10. And didſt give forth Signs and Miracles on Pharaoh, on all his Servants, and all the People of the Country, becauſe thou kneweſt that they behaved proudly againſt them: ſo didſt thou make thee a Name, as at this Day.

11. Next thou didſt cleave the Sea aſunder before them, inſomuch that they paſſed through the midſt of it on dry Ground; and didſt throw down thoſe who purſued them in the Depths, as a Stone into the ſtrong Waters.

12. Thou alſo leddeſt them with a Pillar of a Cloud by Day, and with a Pillar of Fire by Night, to make the Way light for them in which they went.

13. And thou cameſt down upon Mount Sinai, and ſpokeſt to them from Heaven, giving them right Rules, and Laws of Truth, good Ordinances and Commandments.

14. Beſides thou madeſt known thy holy Sabbath to them; and didſt order Commandments, Ordinances, and Laws for them, by the Miniſtry of thy Servant Moſes.

15. Nay thou gaveſt them Bread from Heaven for their Hunger, and broughteſt them Water out of the Rock for their Thirſt; and toldeſt them they ſhould go in to poſſeſs the Country, which thou hadſt lifted up thy Hand to give them.

16. For all that they and our Fathers behaved proudly, hardened their Necks, and did not hearken to thy Commandments;

17. And not only refuſed to hearken, but did not remember thy Wonders which thou hadſt done with them, hardening their Necks, ſo that they made a Captain in their Rebellion to return to their Slavery: yet thou waſt a God of much Forgiveneſs, gracious and merciful, delaying of Anger, and of great Kindneſs, and didſt not forſake them.

18. Even when they made them a molten Calf, and ſaid, This is thy God that brought thee up from Egypt; and ſhewed great Contempts:

19. Yet thou through thy many Mercies, forſookeſt them not in the Wilderneſs: the Pillar of the Cloud did neither depart from them by Day, that was to lead them in the Way, nor the Pillar of Fire by Night, that was to make it light for them, and the Way in which they went.

20. And thou gaveſt thy good Spirit to inſtruct them, and not with-holding thy Manna from their Mouths, gaveſt them Water for their Thirſt.

21. Thus didſt thou ſuſtain them forty Years in the Wilderneſs, they wanted Nothing: their Garments did not wear out, nor their Feet ſwell.

22. Thou moreover gaveſt them Kingdoms and People, and didſt part them into Corners: for they poſſeſſed the Country of Sihon, with thoſe of the King of Heſhbon, and of Og King of Baſhan.

23. And thou didſt multiply their Poſterity to be like the Stars of Heaven; and broughteſt them into the Country, which thou toldeſt their Forefathers they ſhould go in to poſſeſs.

24. So the Poſterity went in, and poſſeſſed the Country, before whom thou didſt ſubdue the Inhabitants of it, the Canaanites, and deliver them into their Power, with their Kings, and the People of the Country, to do to them according to their Will.

25. And they took fortified Cities, with fat Land, and poſſeſſed Houſes full of all good Things, Ciſterns cut out, Vineyards and Oliveyards; and Trees for Food in abundance; ſo that they eat, and were ſatisfied, nay became fat, and delighted themſelves in thy great Goodneſs.

26. They notwithſtanding provoked, and rebelled againſt thee, caſt thy Law behind their Backs, as alſo killed thy Prophets who teſtified againſt them, to make them return to thee, and they ſhewed great Contempts.

27. Therefore thou didſt deliver them into the Power of their Enemies, who diſtreſſed them: yet in the Time of their Diſtreſs when they cried to thee, thou heardeſt from Heaven, and according to thy many Mercies, gaveſt them Saviours, who ſaved them from the Power of their Enemies.

28. But when they had Reſt, they committed Wickedneſs again before thee: therefore thou lefteſt them in the Power of their Enemies, who ruled over them; nevertheleſs when they cried again to thee, thou heardſt from Heaven, and didſt deliver them according to thy Mercies many times.

29. And teſtifiedſt againſt them, to make them return to thy Law; for all that they behaved proudly, and did not hearken to thy Commandments, and as for thy Rules they ſinned againſt them, by which the Man who does them ſhall live, nay they yielded an obſtinate Shoulder, hardened their Necks, and would not hear.

30. However thou didſt delay concerning them many Years, teſtifying againſt them by thy Spirit through the Miniſtry of thy Prophets; and yet they would not give ear: therefore didſt thou deliver them into the Power of the People of the Countries.

31. Nevertheleſs in thy many Mercies thou didſt not cauſe them to be conſumed, nor forſake them: for thou art a gracious, and merciful God.

32. Now therefore our God, the great, the powerful, and the aweful God, who keepeſt Covenant and Kindneſs, let not all the Trouble be little before thee, which has met with us, our Kings, Princes, Prieſts, Prophets, and Fathers, with all thy People, from the Days of the Kings of Aſſyria to this Day.

33. But thou art righteous in all that is come upon us: for thou haſt acted right, ſince we have done wickedly.

34. And our Kings, Princes, Prieſts, and Fathers have not performed thy Law, nor hearkened to thy Commandments, and thy Teſtimonies by which thou didſt teſtify againſt them.

35. Neither did they ſerve thee in their Kingdom, and in thy great Goodneſs which thou gaveſt them, and in the large and fat Country that thou didſt put before them, nor return from their evil Deeds.

36. Behold we are Servants this Day, and that in the Country which thou gaveſt to our Forefathers, to eat its Fruit, and the good Things of it.

37. And the Increaſe of it is much for the Kings, whom thou haſt put over us for our Sins; and they have dominion over our Bodies, as well as our Cattle, according to their Will, ſo that we are in great Diſtreſs.

38. By reaſon of all this we therefore make a firm Covenant, and write it down, to be ſealed by our Princes, Levites and Prieſts.

35. And to bring the Firſt-fruits of our Ground, and of all Fruit of all Trees yearly, to the Houſe of the Lord;

36. To bring likewiſe the Firſt-born of our Sons and Cattle, as it is written in the Law, the Firſtlings of our Herds and Flocks, to the Houſe of our God, to the Prieſts who miniſter in it;

37. And that we ſhould bring the firſt of our Dough, and Lifted-offerings, with the Fruit of all Trees, Wine and Oil, to the Prieſts at the Rooms of the Houſe of our God, as alſo the Tithe of our Ground to the Levites; who ſhould take the Tithes in all the Cities of our Tillage;

38 And that the Prieſt the Son of Aaron ſhould be with them, whenthey take the Tithe; and that the Levites ſhould bring up the Tithe of the Tithe to the Houſe of our God, to the Rooms at the Treaſure-houſe;

39. That the Iſraelites and Levites ſhould bring the Lifted-offering of the Corn, Wine and Oil, to the Rooms where the Inſtruments of the Sanctuary, the Prieſts who miniſter, the Porters, and Singers are; and that we ſhould not forſake the Houſe of our God.

CHAP. XI.

AND the Princes of the People dwelt in Jeruſalem; the reſt of the People caſting Lots to bring one out of ten to dwell there in the holy City, and nine Parts in the other Cities.

2. Moreover the People bleſſed all the Men that freely offered themſelves to dwell in Jeruſalem.

3. Now theſe are the chief of the Province who dwelt in Jeruſalem (as there did in the Cities of Judah, in their reſpective Poſſeſſions at the ſame, Iſraelites, Prieſts, Levites, Aſſiſtants, and the Poſterity of Solomon's Servants)

4. That is to ſay, of the Poſterity of Judah, and of that of Benjamin: of the former, Athaiah the Son of Uzziah, the Son of Zechariah, the Son of Amariah, the Son of Shephatiah, the Son of Mahalaleel, of the Poſterity of Pharez;

5. And Maaſeiah the Son of Baruch, the Son of Col-hozeh, the Son of Hazaiah, the Son of Adaiah, the Son of Joiarib, the Son of Zechariah, the Son of Shiloni.

6. All the Poſterity of Pharez who dwelt in Jeruſalem, being four hundred and ſixty eight valiant Men.

7. Theſe too of the Poſterity of Benjamin; Sallu the Son of Meſhullam, the Son of Joed, the Son of Pedaiah, the Son of Kolaiah, the Son of Maaſeiah, the Son of Ithiel, the Son of Jeſaiah;

8. And after him Gabbai, Sallai, nine hundred and twenty eight:

9. Over whom Joel the Son of Zichri was Officer, and Judah the Son of Senuah was the ſecond over the City.

10. Of the Prieſts; there were Jedaiah the Son of Joiarib, Jachin;

11. Seraiah the Son of Hilkiah, the Son of Meſhullam, the Son of Zadok, the Son of Meraioth, the Son of Ahitub, the Ruler of the Houſe of God;

12. And their Brethren who did the Buſineſs of the Houſe, eight hundred and twenty two; and Adaiah the Son of Jeroham, the Son of Pelaliah, the Son of Amzi, the Son of Zechariah, the Son of Paſhhur, the Son of Malchiah;

13. With his Brethren, chief Fathers, two hundred and forty two; and Amaſhſai the Son of Azareel, the Son of Ahzai, the Son of Meſhillemoth, the Son of Immer;

14. Their Brethren alſo, mighty Men of Valour, a hundred and twenty eight; over whom Zabdiel a Son of one of the great Men was Officer.

15. And of the Levites; Shemaiah the Son of Haſhub, the Son of Azrikam, the Son of Haſhabiah, the Son of Bunni;

16. Of the chief Levites likewiſe Shabbethai, and Jozabad, who were over the outward Buſineſs of the Houſe of God;

17. And Mattaniah the Son of Micha, the Son of Zabdi, the Son of Aſaph, the Principal who began making confeſſion in Prayer, with Bakbukiah the ſecond of his Brethren, and Abda the Son of Shammua, the Son of Galal, the Son of Jeduthun.

18. All the Levites in the holy City were two hundred and eighty four.

19. The Porters, Akkub, Talmon, and their Brethren who kept the Gates, a hundred and ſeventy two.

20. And the reſt of the Iſraelites, Prieſts, and Levites, were in all the Cities of Judah, in their ſeveral Poſſeſſions.

21. But the Aſſiſtants dwelt on the Aſcent; over whom were Ziha, and Giſpa.

22. And the Officer of the Levites in Jeruſalem, was Uzzi the Son of Bani, the Son of Haſhabiah, the Son of Mattaniah, the Son of Micha: of the Poſterity of Aſaph there were Singers, over againſt the Buſineſs of the Houſe of God.

23. For it was the King's Commandment concerning them, that there ſhould be a Settlement for the Singers to have each Day's Allowance the very ſame Day.

24. And Pethahiah the Son of Meſhezabeel, of the Poſterity of Zerah the Son of Judah, was at the King's Hand for all Matters on behalf of the People.

25. Beſides at the Villages in their Fields, there dwelt of the Poſterity of Judah in the City of Arba and its Towns, in Dibon and its Towns, in Jekabzeel and its Villages,

26. As alſo in Jeſhua, Moladah, Bethpelet,

27. Hazar-ſhual, Beer-ſheba and its Towns,

28. Ziklag, Mechonah and its Towns.

29. En-rimmon, Zareah, Jarmuth,

30. Zanoah, Adullam, and their Villages, Lachiſh and its Fields, Azekah and its Towns; and they encamped from Beer-ſheba to the Valley of Hinnom.

31. And the Poſterity of Benjamin from Geba, at Michmaſh, and Aija, and Beth-el with its Towns,

32. Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah,

33. Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim,

34. Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat,

35. Lod, and Ono, the Valley of Artificers.

36. And of the Levites there were Partitions in Judah and Benjamin.

CHAP. XII.

AND theſe are the Prieſts, and Levites who came up with Zerubbabel the Son of Shealtiel, and Jeſhua: Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,

2. Amariah, Malluch, Hattuſh,

3. Shechaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,

4. Iddo, Ginnethoi, Abijah,

5. Mijamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,

6. Shemaiah and Joiarib, Jedaiah,

7. Sallu, Amok, Hilkiah, Jedaiah: theſe were the chief of the Prieſts, and their Brethren, in the Days of Jeſhua.

8. And the Levites were, Jeſhua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, Mattaniah, who with his Brethren was over the Thanksgivings.

9. Moreover Bakbukiah, and Unni, their Brethren, were over againſt them at the Charges.

10. And Jeſhua begot Joiakim, and he Eliaſhib, and he Joiada,

11. And he Jonathan, and he Jaddua.

12. In the Days alſo of Joiakim, theſe chief Fathers were Prieſts: of Seraiah, Meraiah; of Jeremiah, Hananiah;

13. Of Ezra, Meſhullam; of Amariah, Jehohanan;

14. Of Melicu, Jonathan; of Shebaniah, Joſeph;

15. Of Harim, Adnah; of Meraioth, Helkai;

16. Of Iddo, Zechariah; of Ginnethon, Meſhullam;

17. Of Abijah, Zichri; of Miniamin, of Moadiah, Piltai;

18. Of Bilgah, Shammuah; of Shemaiah, Jehonathan;

19. And of Joiarib, Mattenai; of Jedaiah, Uzzi;

20. Of Sallai, Kallai; of Amok, Eber;

21. Of Hilkijah, Haſhabiah,; of Jedaiah, Nethaneel.

22. The chief Fathers of the Levites were written down in the Days of Eliaſhib, Joiada, Johanan, and Jaddua; and the Prieſts to the Reign of Darius the Perſian.

23. The chief Fathers of the Poſterity of Levi were written in the Book of the Chro-

But it is enough to allow it of this Verſe only at moſt; it being not at all improbable that Jaddua was born in the Time of Nehemiah, Ver. 11. ſince his Father Jonathan, who was probably the eldeſt Brother, had a Brother married then, Chap. xiii. 28. and no other Part of it comes near that Time. 24. And the chief of the Levites were, Haſhabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeſhua the Son of Kadmiel, with their Brethren over againſt them, to praiſe, and make confeſſion, by the Commandment of David the Man of God, Ward over againſt Ward.

25. Mattaniah, and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meſhullam, Talmon, Akkub, were the Porters keeping the Ward, over the Things gathered together at the Gates.

26. Theſe were in the Days of Joiakim the Son of Jeſhua, the Son of Jozadak, and in the Days of Nehemiah the Governor, and of Ezra the Prieſt, the Scribe.

27. Now at the Dedication of the Wall of Jeruſalem, they ſought for the Levites from all their Places, to bring them to Jeruſalem, to make the Dedication with Rejoicing, both by Thankſgivings and Singing, with Cymbals, Lutes, and with Harps.

28. And the Sons of the Singers gathered together, namely from the Plain round about Jeruſalem, from the Villages of Netophathi,

29. From the Houſe of Gilgal, and from the Fields of Geba and Azmaveth: for the Singers had built them Villages round about Jeruſalem.

30. The Prieſts and Levites alſo purified themſelves, as they did the People, the Gates and Wall.

31. Then I brought up the Princes of Judah from againſt the Wall, and placed two great Companies for Thankſgivings; one going on the right Hand, from againſt the Wall to the Dung-gate.

32. After whom went Hoſhaiah, and half the Princes of Judah,

33. With Azariah, Ezra and Meſhullam,

34. Judah, and Benjamin, as alſo Shemaiah, and Jeremiah;

35. Beſides of the Prieſts Sons with Trumpets, Zechariah the Son of Jonathan, the Son of Shemaiah, the Son of Mattaniah, the Son of Michaiah, the Son of Zaccur, the Son of Aſaph;

36. His Brethren likewiſe, Shemaiah, and Azareel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel, and Judah, Hanani, with the Inſtruments of Muſick of David the Man of God, and Ezra the Scribe before them.

37. And at the Fountain-gate which was before them, they went up at the Stairs of the City of David, in the Aſcent to the Wall; and from againſt the Houſe of David, to the Water-gate eaſtward.

38. Over againſt whom went the other Company for Thankſgiving, and I after it; and half of the People from againſt the Wall, from againſt the Tower of the Ovens, to the broad Wall;

39. And from againſt the Gate of Ephraim, at the old Gate, and at the Fiſh-gate, and the Tower of Hananeel, with that of Meah, to the Sheep-gate: and they ſtood ſtill by the Priſon-gate.

40. At length the two Companies for Thankſgiving ſtood at the Houſe of God, and I accompanied with half of the Rulers;

41. And the Prieſts, Eliakim, Maaſeiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah with Trumpets;

42. Maaſeiah too, Shemaiah, Eleazar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Malchijah, Elam and Ezer: and the Singers made themſelves be heard, Izrahiah being the Officer.

43. And they offered great Sacrifices that Day, and were joyful, for God made them ſo with great Joy, even the Women and Children alſo rejoiced; and the Rejoicing of Jeruſalem was heard far off.

44. The ſame Day were Men appointed over the Rooms for the Treaſures, for the Offerings, Firſt-fruits and Tithes, to gather into them at the Fields of the Cities, the Parts belonging to the Law for the Prieſts and Levites; becauſe Judah was glad of the Prieſts and Levites ſtanding there.

45. And the Singers, together with the Porters, took care of the Buſineſs of their God, and that of the Cleanſing, according to the Commandment of David and his Son Solomon.

46. For in the Days of David and Aſaph of old time, there were chief Singers, with Singing of Praiſe and Thankſgivings to God.

47. And all Iſrael in the Days both of Zerubbabel, and of Nehemiah, gave the Parts of the Singers and Porters, each Day's Matter the very ſame Day; they alſo conſecrated for the Levites, as thoſe did for the Poſterity of Aaron.

CHAP. XIII.

ON that Day they read in the Book of Moſes, in the Hearing of the People; and there was found written in it, that an Ammonite and Moabite ſhould not come in to the Congregation of God for ever;

2. Becauſe they did not meet the Iſraelites with Victuals and Drink, but hired Baalam againſt them to curſe them, though our God turned the Curſe into a Bleſſing.

3. And when they had heard the Law, they ſeparated all the mixed People from Iſrael.

4. Now before this Eliaſhib the Prieſt, who was put over the Rooms of the Houſe of our God, being kin to Tobiah;

5. Had made ready a great Room for him, where before they put the Meat-offering, Frankincenſe, and Inſtruments, with the Tithe of the Corn, Wine and Oil, that was ordered for the Levites, Singers and Porters, and the Lifted-offering of the Prieſts.

6. But in all that Time I was not at Jeruſalem: for in the two and thirtieth Year of Artaxerxes King of Babylon I went to the King, and ſome Time after having leave from him,

7. I came to Jeruſalem, and underſtood the Evil that Eliaſhib had done for Tobiah, by making ready for him a Room in the Courts of the Houſe of God.

8. Which being very evil to me, I threw all Tobiah's Houſhold-goods abroad out of the Room.

9. I alſo bade him cleanſe the Rooms, then I brought again thither the Inſtruments of the Houſe of God, with the Meat-offering and Frankincenſe.

10. Nay when I knew the Parts of the Levites were not given, and that they and the Singers, who did the Buſineſs, were gone away to their reſpective Fields;

11. I chid the Rulers, and aſked why the Houſe of God was forſaken? And having gathered them together, I placed them in their Station.

12. And all Judah brought the Tithe of Corn, Wine, and Oil to the Treaſures.

13. Beſides I made Treaſurers over the Treaſures, Shelemiah the Prieſt, Zadok the Scribe, and Pedaiah of the Levites, and at their Hand was Hanan the Son of Zaccur, the Son of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithful, and it belonged to them to diſtribute to their Brethren.

14. Remember me, my God, for this, and do not blot out my Kindneſſes, which I have done for the Houſe of my God, and for the Charges of it.

15. In thoſe Days I ſaw in Judah ſome treading Wine-preſſes on the Sabbath, bringing in Sheaves, loading Aſſes, and alſo Wine, Grapes, and Figs, and all Burdens, which they brought into Jeruſalem on the Sabbath-day; but I teſtified againſt it at the Time they were ſelling the Proviſion.

16. There were Tyrians too dwelt in it, who brought Fiſh, and any Thing that was ſaleable; which they ſold on the Sabbath to the People of Judah, even in Jeruſalem.

17. Upon this I chid the Nobles of Judah, and ſaid to them; What evil Thing is this which ye do, that ye profane the Sabbath-day?

18. Did not our Forefathers do thus, and our God bring all this Harm upon us, and this City? Yet ye add fervent Wrath upon Iſrael, by profaning the Sabbath.

19. And when the Gates of Jeruſalem were darkiſh before the Sabbath, I ordered that they ſhould ſhut the Doors, as I did alſo that they ſhould not be opened till after the Sabbath; beſides I placed ſome of my Servants at the Gates, that there might be no Burden brought in on the Sabbath-day.

20. Then the Merchants, and Sellers of all that was to be ſold, lodged without Jeruſalem, once or twice.

21. But I teſtified againſt them, and ſaid to them, Why do ye lodge before the Wall? If ye do again, I will lay Hands on you: from that Time they did not come on the Sabbath.

22. And I ordered the Levites that they ſhould cleanſe themſelves, and come keep the Gates, to ſanctify the Sabbath-day. For this alſo remember me, my God, and have compaſſion upon me according to the Abundance of thy Kindneſs.

23. Moreover in thoſe Days I ſaw Jews that dwelt with Wives of Aſhdod, Ammon and Moab.

24. And their Childaen prattled half in the Language of Aſhdod, and did not know how to talk in the Jewiſh Language, but according to the Tongue of one People or the other.

25. Therefore I contended with them, curſed them, beat ſome Men of them, and plucked off their Hair; then I made them ſwear by God; Ye ſhall not give your

26. Did not Solomon King of Iſrael ſin in theſe Things, though there was not a King like him in many Nations, and was loved by his God, who made him King over all Iſrael? yet ſtrange Women made him ſin.

27. Should we then hearken to you, to commit all this great Wickedneſs, to do amiſs againſt our God, by dwelling with ſtrange Wives?

28. And one of the Sons of Joiada, the Son of Eliaſhib, the high Prieſt, being the Son-in-law of Sanballat the Horonite, I made him flee from me.

29. Remember them, my God, for the Pollutions of the Prieſthood, as alſo of the Covenant of that and the Levites.

30. Whereas I cleanſed them from all Strangers, and placed the Charges for the Prieſts and Levites, that each one might be in his Buſineſs;

NOTES upon the BOOK of ESTER.

AND in the Time of Ahaſuerus, the ſame who reigned from India to Ethiopia, over a hundred and twenty ſeven Provinces;

2. As that King was ſitting on the Throne of his Kingdom, which was at the Palace in Shuſhan;

3. In the third Year of his Reign, he ordered a Feaſt to be made for all his Princes and Servants: the Power of Perſia and Media, the Governors and Princes of the Provinces being before him:

4. That he might ſhew the vaſt Wealth of his Kingdom, and the exquiſite Honour of his Greatneſs, the long Time of a hundred and fourſcore Days.

5. Which being expired, the King made a Feaſt ſeven Days for all the People who were preſent at the Palace in Shuſhan, both great and ſmall, in the Court of his Palace-garden.

6. There were white, green, and blue Curtains, faſtened with Lines of fine Linen and Purple, to Rings of Silver, and marble Pillars; the Couches being of Gold and Silver, upon a Pavement of red, blue, white, and black Marble.

7. And they gave them to drink in Cups of Gold, which were different one from another, Plenty of royal Wine, after the State of the King.

8. But according to a Decree, none preſſed them to drink: for the King gave orders ſo to all the Officers of his Houſe, that they ſhould do as every Man liked.

9. Vaſhti the Queen likewiſe made a Feaſt for the Women, at the royal Houſe which belonged to King Ahaſuerus.

10. On the ſeventh Day as the King's Heart was merry with Wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha and Abagtha, Zethar and Charcas, the ſeven Eunuchs who ſerved in his Preſence;

11. To bring Queen Vaſhti before him,

Ver. 1. Ahaſuerus] There have been various Opinions who this King was, and that it may be the better underſtood, ſee Ptolemy's Canon towards the End of the Chronology at the End of Dan. Some, as Finch in his Treatiſe of the Calling of the Jews, Allen in his Chain of Scripture Chronology, &c. would have the Tranſactions of this Book to be in the Time of the Captivity; but it is plain it was no King of Babylon, Ver. 3, 14, 19. and there the Jews were in Captivity; not in Perſia and Media then, in all the Provinces too of the Kingdom, Chap. iii. 8, &c. beſides that the Largeneſs of the Perſian and Median Dominions here mentioned, ſhews it to be after the Babylonian Empire was added to them. Next Allen mentions ſome affirming Ahaſuerus to be Cambyſes, who reigning but eight Years it could not be, becauſe the 12th is ſpoken of, Chap. iii. 7. I therefore conclude it was Darius Hyſtaſpis, for Mordecai being carried away with Jechoniah, Chap. ii. 5, 6. though then an Infant, muſt in that King's 12th Year be 88 Years old; ſo that it is quite unlikely to be Xerxes the next King, as Scaliger pleads, De Emendat. Temp. L. 6. and Vorſtius on Ganz Chron. p. 244. in whoſe ſame Year he would be 124 Years of Age, which Prideaux alſo confutes on another Account, Connect. Anno 465; yet himſelf ſays it was Artaxerxes Longimanus, whom Stackhouſe follows, Hiſt. Bib. Book vii. Ch. 2. and the Univer. Hiſt. B. I. xi. 4. which makes Mordecai's Age at leaſt when he was made prime Miniſter 145 Years, and Eſther his firſt Couſin, Chap. ii. 7. utterly incredible! We may therefore conclude with Jun. and Trem. in Annot. Broughton in his Works, Tome iii. pag. 581. and Uſher in Annalibus vet. Teſt. ſub anno Jul. Per. 4193, that this Ahaſuerus was Darius Hyſtaſpis. But the latter holding that this King's Wife Atoſſa mentioned by Herodotus was Vaſhti, and Artyſtona Eſther, Prideaux takes occaſion to ſhew that what Herodotus ſays of thoſe Women cannot be applied to Vaſhti and Eſther. The Anſwer is ready from Prideaux himſelf, who when Joſephus diſagrees with the Scripture as he underſtood it concerning Sanballat, does not ſcruple to ſay, Joſephus was miſtaken, Con. An. 458: the like may be ſaid of Herodotus, as Prideaux alſo does in other Caſes, Anno 710, 530, &c. However Darius having other Wives Vaſhti and Eſther might be of thoſe. Herodotus Lib. 3. gives Account of a Tribute made by Darius Hyſtaſpis, agreeable to Eſt. x. 1. but ſays Prideanx, Strabo attributeth this to Darius Longimanus, which firſt Name he ſuppoſes is a Miſtake in Strabo for Artaxerxes; whereas the latter is rather put wrong inſtead of Hyſtaſpis, and to be corrected by Herodotus. Beſides Darius Hyſtaſpis conquered India, and joined it to the Empire about the 16th Year of his Reign, Herodot. Lib. 3. Prideaux Tab. which now extended but to India.

with the royal Crown, that he might ſhew the People and Princes her Beauty, becauſe ſhe had a good Countenance:

12. But ſhe refuſed to come at the King's bidding, which was by the Service of the Eunuchs. Exceedingly enraged at this, ſo that his Wrath burned in him;

13. The King ſaid to the wiſe Men who knew the Times (for his Affairs were ſo before all that underſtood the Law and Judgment;

14. The next to himſelf being Carſhena, Shether, Admatha, Tarſhiſh, Meres, Marſena and Memucan, the ſeven Princes of Perſia and Media, who were intimate with the King, ſitting the firſt in the Kingdom)

15. What is to be done to Queen Vaſhti according to the Law, becauſe ſhe would not perform the Command of King Ahaſuerus by the Eunuchs?

16. And Memucan anſwered before him and the Princes: Vaſhti the Queen has not done perverſely to King Ahaſuerus only, but to all both of the Princes and People, who are in all his Provinces:

17. For the Affair of the Queen will go abroad to all the Women, for their Huſbands to be deſpiſed in their Sight, when it is told, that King Ahaſuerus commanded Vaſhti the Queen to come before him, and ſhe would not.

18. Thus the Ladies of Perſia and Media, who hear her Affair, will ſay the ſame Day to all the King's Princes; ſo there will be Contempt and Wrath enough.

19. If it be well to the King, let a royal Order be ſent forth from his Preſence, as likewiſe written among the Laws of Perſia and Media, for it not to be repealed; that Vaſhti ſhall not come before King Ahaſuerus, and that he will give her royal State to another, who is better than ſhe.

20. And when the Decree which the King makes, is heard throughout all his Kingdom, though it be large, all the Women will ſhew Reſpect to their Huſbands, whether great or ſmall.

21. The Matter alſo pleaſed the King and Princes, ſo that he did according to Memucan's Advice;

22. Sending Letters into all his Provinces, after the Manner of writing in each Province, and the Language of each People, that every Man ſhould be chief in his own Family, and that it ſhould be publiſhed according to their reſpective Tongues.

CHAP. II.

AFTER theſe Things when the King's Wrath was pacified, he was mindful of Vaſhti, and what ſhe had done, with that which was decreed againſt her.

2. Hereupon his Servants who waited on him ſaid; Let ſome young Virgins that look well be ſought for the King.

3. Let him therefore appoint Officers in all the Provinces of his Kingdom, to bring together all ſuch to the Palace at Shuſhan, to the Houſe for the Women, into the Cuſtody of Hege the King's Eunuch their Keeper, and let Things be given for their Cleanſing.

4. Then let the young Woman whom the King likes beſt, be made Queen in the room of Vaſhti. And the King being pleaſed with the Matter, would do ſo.

5. Now there was a certain Jew at the Palace in Shuſhan, named Mordecai, the Son of Jair, the Son of Shimei, the Son of Kiſh, a Benjaminite;

6. Who had been carried away from Jeruſalem, among thoſe Captives that Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon carried away with Jeconiah King of Judah:

7. And he bred up Hadaſſah, otherwiſe Eſter, his Uncle's Daughter, becauſe ſhe had no Father nor Mother; and the Girl had a handſome Shape, and a good Countenance: whom when her Parents were dead, Mordecai took to be his Daughter.

8. So when the King's Matter, and his Decree was heard, and many young Women were brought together to the Palace at Shuſhan, into the Cuſtody of Hegai, the Women's Keeper, Eſter was likewiſe taken into the King's Houſe in the ſame Manner.

9. And the young Woman pleaſed him, and obtained Kindneſs in his Preſence, ſo that he quickly gave her the Things for her Cleanſing, and what belonged to her, with ſeven Maids that ſeemed fit to be given her out of his own Houſe; nay he removed her and her Maids into the beſt Place of the Women's Houſe.

10. Yet Eſter did not tell her People, nor her Kindred: for Mordecai had commanded her that ſhe ſhould not.

11. And he himſelf walked about every Day conſtantly before the Court of the Women's Houſe, to know how ſhe did, and what would be done with her.

12. At length when the Turn of each young Woman came to go in to King Ahaſuerus, after ſhe had been cleanſing twelve Months, according to the Decree for the Women (for ſo the Time of their Purification was fulfilled) one ſix Months with Oil of Myrrh, and the other with Spices, and what there was for it;

13. She went in from the Women's Houſe to the King at his Houſe, with whatever ſhe ſpoke for, to be given her to go in with:

14. In the Evening ſhe went in, and returned in the Morning to the other Houſe of the Women, into the Cuſtody of Shaaſh-gaz the King's Eunuch, the Keeper of the Concubines; ſhe went in no more to the King, unleſs he delighted in her, and ſhe was called by Name.

15. But when the Turn of Eſter, the Daughter of Abihail, the Uncle of Mordecai, who had taken her for his Daughter, came to go in to the King, ſhe required Nothing but what Hegai the King's Eunuch, the Keeper of the Women ordered; and ſhe obtained Favour in the Sight of all who ſaw her.

16. Thus was Eſter taken for King Ahaſuerus, into his royal Houſe, in the tenth Month, which is that of Tebeth, in the ſeventh Year of his Reign:

17. For the King loved her the moſt of all the Women, and ſhe obtained Favour and Kindneſs before him more than any other Virgins; ſo that he put the royal Crown on her Head, and made her Queen in the room of Vaſhti.

18. Hereupon the King made a great Feaſt for all his Princes and Servants, to be Eſter's Feaſt; as alſo made a Releaſe for the Provinces, and gave Preſents according to his State.

19. And when the Virgins were gathered together the ſecond time, Mordecai ſate at the King's Gate.

20. Nor did Eſter at all tell her Kindred, or her People, according as Mordecai had charged her; doing his Command, the ſame as when ſhe was bred up with him.

21. In thoſe Days while Mordecai ſate at the King's Gate, Bigthan and Thereſh, two of the Door-keepers, the King's Eunuchs, were in a Rage, and ſought to lay Hands on King Ahaſuerus.

22. But the Matter being not unknown to Mordecai, he told Queen Eſter, who declared it to the King in Mordecai's Name.

23. And upon enquiring into the Affair, it was found out, and both of them were hanged on a Tree, which was written in the Book of the Chronicles before the King.

CHAP. III.

AFTER theſe Things King Ahaſuerus promoted Haman the Son of Hammedatha the Agagite, advanced him, and put his Seat above all the Princes who were with him:

2. Inſomuch that all the King's Servants who were at his Gate bowed, and did reverence to Haman, for ſo the King commanded concerning him; but Mordecai would not.

3. Then the King's Servants that were there aſked him, why he tranſgreſſed the Commandment of the King.

4. At laſt when they had ſpoken to him Day by Day, and he would not hearken to them; they told Haman, to ſee whether Mordecai's Matters would ſtand, for he had told them that he was a Jew.

5. And Haman ſeeing that Mordecai did not bow at all, nor reverence him, he was full of Wrath.

6. But it ſeemed contemptible to him to lay Hands on Mordecai only, when they had told him his People: therefore Haman endeavoured to deſtroy all the Jews his People, who were in all the Kingdom of Ahaſuerus.

7. In the firſt Month, which is that of Niſan, in the twelfth Year of King Ahaſuerus, they caſt Pur, that is a Lot, before Haman from Day to Day, and from that to the twelfth Month, which is named Adar.

8. And Haman ſaid to the King; There is a certain People diſperſed, and ſcattered among others in all the Provinces of thy Kingdom, whoſe Laws differ from every People's, and they do not perform the Laws of the King; ſo that it is not fit for him to let them alone.

9. If it is well to the King, let it be written that they ſhall be deſtroyed; and I will pay ten thouſand Talents of Silver to them who do the Buſineſs, to bring into the King's Treaſures.

10. Upon this the King took his Ring off his Finger, and gave it to this Haman, the Jews Enemy.

11. And ſaid to him, The Silver is given to thee, and the People to do to them as thou pleaſeſt.

12. So the King's Scribes were called on the thirteenth Day of the firſt Month, and it was written entirely as Haman commanded, to the King's Lieutenants, to the Governors who were over each Province, and to the Princes of each People of the ſame, after the Manner of writing there, and the Language of each People, in the Name of King Ahaſuerus, and ſealed with his Ring;

13. And the Letters were ſent by Poſts into all the King's Provinces, to deſtroy, kill, and to make all the Jews periſh, young Men and old, Children and Women, the ſame Day, on the thirteenth of the twelfth Month, which is that of Adar; and to plunder their Effects.

14. A Copy of the Writing for a Decree to be given in every Province, was publiſhed to all People, to be prepared againſt that Day.

15. When the Poſts were gone out, haſtened on by the King's Word, and the Decree was given forth at the Palace in Shuſhan, the King and Haman ſate down to drinking, while the City of Shuſhan was perplexed.

CHAP. IV.

AND when Mordecai knew all that was done, he tore his Cloaths, put on Sackcloth and Aſhes, and went out into the City, making a loud and bitter Cry.

2. Next he went juſt before the King's Gate, for Nobody was to go in at it who was cloathed with Sackcloth.

3. (In every Province likewiſe, at the Places to which the King's Matter and Decree came, there was great Mourning among the Jews, and Faſting, with Weeping, and Lamentation; many lying on Sackcloth and Aſhes)

4. So Eſter's Maids and her Eunuchs went in, and told her, at which ſhe was exceedingly grieved; and ſent Cloaths to put on Mordecai, and to take away his Sackcloth from him, but he would not receive them.

5. With that ſhe called Hathach one of the King's Eunuchs, whom he had appointed to attend in her Preſence, and bade him know of Mordecai, what and why this was?

6. And Hathach went forth to him, into the Street of the City which was before the King's Gate.

7. To whom Mordecai told all that was befallen him, and the Account of the Silver which Haman had promiſed to pay into the King's Treaſures, to deſtroy the Jews.

8. Beſides he gave him a Copy of the written Decree, which was given forth in Shuſhan to deſtroy them, to ſhew Eſter, and tell her, as alſo to charge her that ſhe ſhould go in to the King, to make ſupplication to him, and a Requeſt before him, for her People.

9. Accordingly Hathach went in, and told Eſter his Words.

10. Who gave him the following Charge to Mordecai;

11. All the King's Servants, and People of his Provinces know, that any Man or Woman who goes in to the King, into the inner Court, without being called, his Decree is the ſame to put them to death, beſides ſuch to whom he holds forth the golden Scepter, that they may live; and I have not been called to go in to him theſe thirty Days.

12. But upon her Words being told Mordecai,

13. He ordered to make reply to her; Do not think in thy Mind that thou wilt eſcape at the King's Houſe, any more than all the Jews.

14. Nay if thou at all holdeſt thy peace at this Time, Reſpite and Deliverance will riſe up to the Jews from another Place, whereas thou and thy Father's Family will periſh. And who knows but thou art come to the Kingdom for ſuch a Time as this?

15. Then Eſter bade to return him Word;

16. Go, gather together all the Jews who are preſent in Shuſhan, and faſt for me, without eating or drinking three Days, Night or Day: I alſo and my Maids, will faſt ſo: and thus will I go in to the King, which is contrary to the Law; and when I periſh, I periſh.

17. So Mordecai went away, and did entirely as ſhe commanded him.

CHAP. V.

NOW on the third Day Eſter put on the royal Apparel, and ſtood in the inner Court of the King's Houſe, over againſt it, as he was ſitting upon his regal Throne in the royal Houſe, oppoſite to the Door of it.

2. And when the King ſaw Eſter the Queen ſtanding there, ſhe was in Favour with him: ſo that he held out to her the golden Scepter which was in his Hand;

3. The King then ſaid to her, What is the Matter with thee, Queen Eſter? For whatever thy Requeſt is to half the Kingdom, it ſhall be given thee.

4. Who anſwered, If it is well to the King, let him come with Haman to Day, to the Entertainment that I have made for him.

5. Upon this the King bade them haſten Haman, to do what Eſter ſaid; and both of them went to the Entertainment of Wine which ſhe had made.

6. Where the King ſaid again to Eſter, What is thy Petition, that it may be granted thee? For whatever thy Requeſt is, it ſhall be performed to half the Kingdom.

7. My Petition and Requeſt, ſhe made anſwer,

9. At which Haman went out that Day glad, and with a chearful Heart; yet when he ſaw that Mordecai at the King's Gate, did not riſe up, nor ſtir for him, he was full of Wrath againſt him.

10. Nevertheleſs he reſtrained himſelf, and going home, ſent to fetch his Friends, and Zereſh his Wife.

11. To whom he rehearſed the Glory of his Riches, the Multitude of his Children, with all that the King had promoted him in, and how he had advanced him above his Princes and Servants.

12. Nay Eſter the Queen, ſaid he, did let none come with the King to the Feaſt which ſhe made, but me; and to Morrow I am alſo invited by her with him.

13. However all this avails me Nothing, when all the while I ſee Mordecai the Jew ſitting at the King's Gate.

14. Whereupon his Wife Zereſh, and all his Friends, ſaid to him, Let there be a Gallows made fifty Cubits high, and in the Morning ſpeak to the King, that Mordecai may be hanged upon it; then go in glad with the King to the Feaſt. And the Thing pleaſed Haman, ſo that he had the Gallows made.

CHAP. VI.

THAT Night the King's Sleep being unſettled, he commanded to bring the Book of Records of the Chronicles, and they were read before him.

2. Where it was found written, that Mordecai told of Bigthana and Thereſh, two of the Door-keepers, the King's Eunuchs, who ſought to lay Hands on King Ahaſuerus.

3. With that the King aſked, What Honour or Promotion has been done to Mordecai for this? And his Servants who waited on him anſwered, There has been Nothing done for him.

4. Next he enquired who was in the Court? And Haman being come into the outer Court of the King's Houſe, to ſpeak to the King to hang Mordecai upon the Gallows which he had prepared for him;

5. They told him, that there was Haman ſtanding in the Court: upon which the King replied, Let him come in.

6. Accordingly he did; and the King ſaid to him, What ſhall be done to the Man whoſe Honour the King would delight in? And Haman ſaid in his Heart, To whom will the King delight to do Honour more than to my ſelf?

7. Therefore he anſwered him; For the Man whoſe Honour the King would delight in,

8. Let there be brought the royal Cloaths which the King wears, the Horſe that he rides upon, and the royal Crown that is put on his Head;

9. And let the Cloaths and Horſe be delivered to Somebody of the King's Princes, of the Nobility, and let them cloath that Man, and cauſe him to ride upon the Horſe through the Street of the City, and proclaim before him, Thus ſhall it be done to the Man whoſe Honour the King delights in.

10. At this the King ordered him, Take the Cloaths and Horſe quickly, according as thou haſt ſaid, and do ſo to Mordecai the Jew who ſits at the King's Gate; let Nothing fail of all that thou haſt ſpoken.

11. Then Haman taking the Cloaths and Horſe, cloathed Mordecai, and cauſed him to ride through the Street of the City, proclaiming before him, Thus ſhall it be done to the Man whoſe Honour the King delights in.

12, Afterwards Mordecai returned to the King's Gate; but Haman haſtened home, mourning, with his Head covered.

13. Where he told his Wife Zereſh, and all his Friends, every Thing that had befallen him; upon which his wiſe Men and ſhe ſaid to him, If Mordecai, before whom thou haſt begun to fall, is one of the Poſterity of the Jews, thou wilt not prevail over him, but utterly fall before him,

14. Now while they were talking with him, the King's Eunuchs came, and were in a hurry to bring Haman to the Feaſt which Eſter had made.

CHAP. VII.

SO the King and he went to the Feaſt with Queen Eſter.

2. And the King ſaid to her again the ſecond Day at the Entertainment of Wine, What is thy Petition, Queen Eſter, that it may be granted thee? For whatever thy Requeſt is, it ſhall be performed, to half the Kingdom.

3. When ſhe made anſwer: If I am in Favour with thee, O King, and if it is well to the King, let my Life be granted me at my Petition, and my People at my Requeſt.

4. For I and my People are ſold to be deſtroyed, to be killed, and to periſh; whereas if we had been ſold for Servant-men and Maids, I would have held my Peace, though the Adverſary could not make up the King's Damage.

5. Whereupon the King gave reply to her, Who is it? And where is he whoſe Heart ſerves him to do ſo?

6. The Man that is the Adverſary and Enemy, ſaid Eſter, is this wicked Haman. Upon which Haman was in Terror at the Preſence of the King and Queen.

7. And the King getting up in his Wrath from the Entertainment of Wine into the Palace-Garden, Haman ſtood up to requeſt Queen Eſter for his Life, becauſe he ſaw that there was Something bad concluded againſt him by the King.

8. Who returning out of the Palace-Garden into the Houſe where this Entertainment was, and Haman being fallen down on the Couch that Eſter was upon, the King ſaid? Will he alſo force the Queen in the Houſe with me? No ſooner were the Words out of the King's Mouth, but they covered Haman's Face.

9. And Harbonah one of the Eunuchs ſaid before the King, Behold a Gallows too which Haman has made for Mordecai, who ſpoke well for the King, ſtands at Haman's Houſe, fifty Cubits high. Then ſaid the King, Hang him upon it.

10. They accordingly hanged Haman upon the Gallows which he had prepared for Mordecai: ſo the King's Wrath was pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

THE ſame Day King Ahaſuerus gave the Houſe of Haman, the Jews Enemy, to Eſter the Queen; and Mordecai was introduced before him, for ſhe told what he was to her.

2. And the King took off his Ring which he had taken from Haman, and gave it to Mordecai; Eſter alſo put him over Haman's Houſe.

3. Beſides Eſter ſpoke before the King again, and fell down before his Feet, weeping and beſeeching him to put away the Miſchief of Haman the Agagite, and his Device that he had contrived againſt the Jews.

4. To whom the King holding forth the golden Scepter, ſhe roſe up, and ſtanding before him,

5. Said; If it is well to the King, and if I am in his Favour, the Matter being right before him, and I well in his Sight: let it be written to reverſe the Letters contrived by Haman the Son of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he has writ to make the Jews periſh, who are in all the King's Provinces:

6. For how ſhall I bear to ſee the Miſchief that will come on my People? And how ſhall I bear to ſee the Deſtruction of my Kindred?

7. Upon this King Ahaſuerus ſaid to her, and Mordecai the Jew; Behold I have given Eſter the Houſe of Haman, and they have hung him upon the Gallows, becauſe he would lay his Hands on the Jews:

8. Write ye alſo for the Jews as you pleaſe in the King's Name, and ſeal it with his own Ring: ſince the Writing which is thus written and ſealed, none muſt reverſe.

9. So the King's Scribes were called at the ſame Time, on the three and twentieth of the third Month, which is that of Sivan, and it was written entirely as Mordecai commanded, to the Jews, and to the Lieutenants, Governors, and Princes of the hundred and twenty ſeven Provinces, which were from India to Ethiopia, after the Manner of writing in each Province, and the Language of each People, as well as to the Jews according to their Writing and Language.

10. And it was done in the Name of King Ahaſuerus, and ſealed with his Ring; then were the Letters ſent by Poſts, on Horſes, Riders of Mules, Camels, and young Dromedaries.

Ver. 7. would lay] not laid, com. Tranſ. it being not done.

11. By

11. By which the King granted to the Jews who were in every City, to gather together, and to ſtand up for their Lives, to deſtroy, kill, and cauſe to periſh all the Power of the People and Province, that would aſſault them, with the Children and Women; and to plunder their Effects:

12. The ſame Day in all the Provinces of King Ahaſuerus, on the thirteenth of the twelfth Month, which is that of Adar.

13. A Copy of the Writing to be given for a Decree in every Province, was publiſhed to all People; and for the Jews to be prepared againſt that Day, to be revenged on their Enemies.

14. The Poſts went out, riding on Mules and Camels, being hurried, and haſtened on by the King's Word; and the Decree was given forth at the Palace in Shuſhan.

15. Afterwards Mordecai went out from the King's Preſence in royal Cloaths, blue and white, a great Crown of Gold, and a Robe of fine Linen and Purple; and the City of Shuſhan rejoiced, and was glad:

16. The Jews having Light, Gladneſs, Joy and Honour.

17. In every Province likewiſe, and City, at the Places to which the King's Matter and Decree came, the Jews had Gladneſs and Joy, a Feaſt, and a good Day; and many of the People of the Country feigned themſelves to be Jews, becauſe they were in Dread of them.

CHAP. IX.

SO on the thirteenth Day of the twelfth Month already mentioned, when the King's Matter and Decree came to be done, on the Day that the Jews Enemies expected to have Power over them (though it was turned juſt contrary)

2. The Jews were gathered together in their Cities, throughout all the Provinces of King Ahaſuerus, to lay Hands on thoſe who ſought their Harm: and no Man reſiſted them, becauſe the Dread of them fell upon all People.

3. Beſides all the Princes of the Provinces, the Lieutenants, Governors, and they that did the King's Buſineſs, helped the Jews; becauſe the Dread of Mordecai fell on them.

4. For he was great in the King's Houſe, and his Fame went throughout all the Provinces, becauſe this Man advanced in being great.

5. Thus the Jews ſlew all their Enemies with the Stroke of the Sword, with Slaughter and Deſtruction; and did to thoſe who hated them according to their own Will.

6. In Shuſhan too at Court, the Jews killed, and deſtroyed five hundred Men.

7. Parſhandatha alſo, Dalphon, Aſpatha,

8. Poratha, Adalia, Aridatha,

9. Parmaſhta, Ariſai, Aridai and Vajezatha,

10. The ten Sons of Haman the Son of Hammedatha, the Jews Enemy, did they kill; but laid not their Hands on the Plunder.

11. The ſame Day the Number of them that were killed there being brought before the King,

12. He ſaid to Queen Eſter, The Jews have killed, and deſtroyed five hundred Men, at the Palace in Shuſhan, and Haman's ten Sons; what have they done in the reſt of the King's Provinces? Now what is thy Petition, that it may be granted thee? And what is thy Requeſt more, that it may be done?

13. If it is not amiſs to the King, ſaid ſhe, let it be granted to the Jews who are in Shuſhan, to do alſo to Morrow according to this Day's Decree, and let Haman's ten Sons be hanged upon the Gallows.

14. Which the King ordered ſhould be ſo done, and the Decree was given forth in Shuſhan: accordingly Haman's ten Sons were hanged up;

15. And the Jews who were in Shuſhan gathered together likewiſe on the fourteenth Day of the Month Adar, and killed three hundred Men there; but laid not their Hands on the Plunder.

16. Now the reſt of the Jews who were in the King's Provinces had gathered together, and ſtood up for their Lives, and were quiet from their Enemies, having killed ſeventy five thouſand of thoſe who hated them, but on the Plunder laid not their Hands,

17. The thirteenth Day of that Month; and on the fourteenth of it they were quiet, and made it a Day of Feaſting and Gladneſs.

18. But the Jews who were in Shuſhan, being gathered together on the thirteenth and fourteenth of it, were quiet on the fifteenth of the ſame, and made that a Day of Feaſting and Gladneſs.

who dwelt in the Country Towns, made the fourteenth Day of the Month Adar, a good Day of Gladneſs, Feaſting, and of ſending Preſents one to another.

20. Nay Mordecai wrote theſe Things down; and ſent Letters to all the Jews who were in all the Provinces of King Ahaſuerus, near and far off;

21. To confirm it to them, that they ſhould keep the fourteenth and fifteenth Days of the Month Adar, every Year:

22. As the Days on which the Jews were quiet from their Enemies, and the Month that was turned to them from Sorrow to Gladneſs, and from Mourning to a good Day; to make them Days of Feaſting, Gladneſs, of ſending Preſents one to another, and Gifts to the Poor.

23. Accordingly the Jews accepted what they had begun to do, and what Mordecai wrote to them:

24. Becauſe Haman the Son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Enemy of all the Jews, contrived againſt the Jews to deſtroy them, and caſt Pur, that is a Lot, to rout them, and cauſe them to periſh;

25. But at Eſter's going before the King, he ordered with Letters, that his wicked Device which he had contrived againſt the Jews ſhould return on his own Head, and that he and his Sons ſhould be hanged upon the Gallows:

26. Therefore they called theſe Days Purim, after the Name Pur, by reaſon of all the Matters of that Letter, with what they had ſeen about the like, and what had come to them.

27. The Jews confirmed, and accepted it, for themſelves and their Offſpring, and for all who ſhould be joined to them, that their keeping theſe two Days ſhould not paſs away, according as it was written to them, and according to the Time, every Year;

28. That theſe Days ſhould alſo be remembred, and kept in every Generation, by each Family, Province and City; and that theſe Days of Purim ſhould not paſs away from among the Jews, nor their Memorial be conſumed from their Poſterity.

29. Queen Eſter likewiſe, the Daughter of Abihail, wrote along with Mordecai the Jew, with all Authority, to confirm this ſecond Letter of Purim.

30. And he ſent the Letters to all the Jews, to the hundred and twenty ſeven Provinces of the Kingdom of Ahaſuerus, with Words of Peace and Truth;

31. To confirm theſe Days of Purim, at their Times, as they were confirmed to them by Mordecai the Jew, and Queen Eſter, and as they confirmed them to their own ſelves, and to their Offſpring, by the Words of the Faſtings, and of their Crying.

32. Since Eſter's Command confirmed theſe Matters of Purim, and it was written in a Book.

NOTES upon the BOOK of JOB.

CHAP. I.

THERE was a Man in the Country of Uz, whoſe Name was Job; and that Man was perfect and upright, both fearing God, and departing from Evil.

2. And there were born to him ſeven Sons and three Daughters.

3. His Poſſeſſion alſo was ſeven thouſand Sheep, three thouſand Camels, five hundred Yoke of Oxen, five hundred She-aſſes, and a very great Company of Servants; nay that Man was the greateſt of all the People of the Eaſt.

4. Moreover his Sons went, and made an Entertainment at Home, each on his Day; when they ſent for their three Siſters, to eat and drink with them.

5, And when the Days of the Entertainment were gone about, Job ſent and ſanctified them, and riſing early in the Morning, offered up as many Burnt-offerings as they all were; for he ſaid, Perhaps my Sons have ſinned, and blaſphemed God in their Heart: thus Job did every Time.

6. Now there was a Day when the Sons of God came, to preſent themſelves before the Lord; and Satan alſo came among them.

7. And the Lord aſked him, From whence doſt thou come? Who made him this Anſwer, From ranging on the Earth, and from going about on it.

8. Then the Lord ſaid to Satan, Haſt thou taken notice of my Servant Job? For there is none like him on the Earth, a Man perfect and upright, fearing God, and departing from Evil.

9. Whereupon he made reply to the Lord; Does Job fear God for nothing?

10. Haſt not thou made a Hedge about him, about his Houſe, and all that he has on every Side? Thou haſt bleſſed the Work of his Hands, and his Poſſeſſion is increaſed on the Earth.

11. But ſurely reach out now thy Hand, and ſmite all that he has, he will blaſpheme thee to thy Face.

12. With that the Lord ſaid to him, Behold all that he has is in thy Power, only ſtretch not forth thy Hand to himſelf. So he went out from the Face of the Lord.

13. And there being a Day when his Sons and Daughters were eating, and drinking Wine in their eldeſt Brother's Houſe;

14. A Meſſenger came to Job, and ſaid; The Oxen were ploughing, and the She-aſſes feeding by their Sides;

15. And the Sabeans fell upon and took them, putting the Youths to the Sword; ſo that I only am eſcaped by my ſelf, to tell thee.

16. While he was ſpeaking, another came, and ſaid, A Fire of God fell from Heaven, and burnt up the Sheep and Youths, conſuming them; ſo that I only am eſcaped by my ſelf, to tell thee.

17. While he was ſpeaking, another came, and ſaid, The Chaldeans made three Companies, and ruſhing upon the Camels, took them, and put the Youths to the Sword; ſo that I only am eſcaped by my ſelf, to tell thee.

18. Whilſt he was ſpeaking, another came, and ſaid; Thy Sons and Daughters were eating, and drinking Wine in their eldeſt Brother's Houſe;

Ver. 1. There was] Job's Afflictions are thought to be about the Time of the Iſraelites being in Egypt. It is ſcarce to be doubted that Elihu was a Buzite, Chap. xxxii. 2. from Buz Abraham's Nephew, Gen. xxii. 21. where ſee the Note; ſo that he being Cotemporary with Iſaac, and as Barachel the Father of Elihu does not ſeem to be the immediate Son of Buz (ſince he might rather be called ſo, than the Buzite, if he had) it will probably carry the Time of Elihu thus far. And to omit weak Conjectures, Job's great Age, and there being Nothing ſaid throughout the Book of the Iſraelites Deliverance from Egypt, or the extraordinary Things God then wrought, may be ſufficient to make one think, that the Diſcourſes between him and his Friends were not afterwards. The Scope of this Book, according to Maimonides, is to eſtabliſh the great Article of Providence, whereby Nothing will ſeem hard that befals one.

19. When behold a great Wind came from the Paſſage of the Wilderneſs, and ſmote the four Corners of the Houſe; ſo that it fell upon the Youths, and they died; and I only am eſcaped by my ſelf, to tell thee.

20. At which Job roſe up, and having torn his Cloak, and ſhaved his Head, he fell on the Ground, bowing down;

21. And ſaid, I came naked out of my Mother's Womb, and ſhall return naked thither; the Lord gave, and the Lord has taken away: the Name of the Lord be bleſſed.

22. In all this Job did not ſin, nor aſcribe Indiſcretion to God.

CHAP. II.

NEXT there being a Day when the Sons of God came, to preſent themſelves before the Lord; Satan alſo came among them, to preſent himſelf before the Lord.

2. And the Lord aſked him, Where doſt thou come from? Who made him this Anſwer, From ranging on the Earth, and from going about on it.

3. Then the Lord ſaid to Satan, Haſt thou taken notice of my Servant Job? For there is none like him on the Earth, a Man perfect and upright, fearing God, and departing from Evil: and he yet holds faſt his Perfectneſs, when thou wouldeſt perſuade me againſt him, to devour him for nothing.

4. Whereupon he made reply to the Lord; Skin for Skin, nay all that a Man has will he give for his Life.

5. Surely reach out now thy Hand, and ſmite his Bone and his Fleſh, he will blaſpheme thee to thy Face.

6. With that the Lord ſaid to him, Behold he is in thy Power, only preſerve his Life.

7. So Satan went out from the Face of the Lord, and ſmote Job with a grievous Boil from the Sole of his Foot even to his Crown:

8. Inſomuch that he took him a Potſherd, to ſcrape himſelf with it, and ſate among Aſhes.

9. And his Wife ſaid to him, Thou yet holdeſt faſt thy Perfectneſs: blaſpheme God, and die.

10. But he anſwered her, Thou ſpeakeſt as one of the vile Women does: ſhall we then receive the Good from God, and ſhall we not the Ill? In all this Job did not ſin with his Lips.

11. Now the three Friends of Job hearing of all this Ill that was come upon him, came from their ſeveral Places, Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite; who met together by appointment, to come to bemoan him, and comfort him.

12. However looking up far off, they did not know him, then they raiſed up their Voice, and wept; as alſo tore each his Cloak, and ſprinkled Duſt upon their Heads towards Heaven.

13. And they ſate with him on the Ground ſeven Days and ſo many Nights; none ſpeaking a Word to him, becauſe they ſaw that the Grief was very great.

CHAP. III.

AFTER this Job opened his Mouth, and curſed his Day.

2. And he ſpoke as follows:

3. Let the Day periſh on which I was born, and the Night that it was ſaid, There is a Man conceived.

4. May that Day be Darkneſs, may not God ſeek it from above; nor the Brightneſs ſhine upon it.

5. Let Darkneſs and the Shadow of Death pollute it, a Cloud dwell upon it; let the Blackneſs of the Day terrify it.

Ver. 6. joyful] as Exod. xviii. 9. where the Word has alſo the ſame Letters and Points: ſo Jun. and Trem. have fuiſſet gaviſa, and Broughton joy, agreeable to the next Verſe, as well as to Buxtorf's Lexicon and Concordance; according to which Mercerus ſays in his learned Commentary, Senſum ei poeticè tribuit, Job aſcribes Senſe to it poetically; and concerning joined adds, Hoc ratio punctorum non patitur, The Manner of the Pointing does not allow it.

Ver. 8. curſe the Day] becauſe the Approach of it hinders their Fiſhing, according to what follows; ſee Luke v. 5.

Ib. expreſsly name] in which Manner this Verb is rendered, Num. i. 17. 1 Chron. xii. 31. & xvi. 41. 2 Chr. xxviii. 15. & xxxi. 19. Ezr. viii. 20. and is not the ſame with the other Verb.

Ib. them who] the Sailors or Fiſhermen, who are remarkable for Curſing.

Ib. rouſe up the Whale] to catch him, as Chap. xli. 10. being done with Noiſe and bad Words. The Tigur. Bib. has the laſt Word balenas, Whales; Jun. and Trem. ſing as the Heb. Word is, balænam; Caſtal. puts it leviathanem, the vulg. Lat. Tranſlator undec. leviathan; it being the ſame with that in Chap. xli. 1. Pſa. lxxiv. 14. & civ. 26. Iſa. xxvii. 1. There appears no Signification of mourning, or any Thing like it, from the Heb. Root; and their is confuted becauſe it would be fem. and ſo of a wrong Gender.

Ver. 9. nor let it ſee] Paraphraſe by Sandys, whom as I remember Dryden recommends as the beſt Verſifier of his Time,

Let it not ſee the Dawning fleck the Skies,
Nor the gray Morning from the Ocean riſe.

Ib. Eye-lids of the Morning] the ſame as in Ch. xli. 18.

Ver. 14. With] inſtead of like:

Ver. 15. with Silver] Living meanly, out of the Danger of being robbed, or envied. Silver it ſeems being very plentiful, and of little Value, in ſome Parts of Arabia; where Job dwelt, and whence Solomon probably had it, 2 Chron. ix. 20, 27. Job thus intimating, he ſhould have been if dead, as the better Sort of the Great, Wiſe and Rich, chooſe to be when living. I cannot think with Caryl, the Houſes were their Graves which they filled with Silver, and as if that was more precious than Gold.

Ver. 24. Roarings] Bp. Patrick has paraphraſed this and ſome other Books in the Manner of Levi ben Gerſhom, by altering the Expreſſions; which Way I ſhould not approve of, becauſe it is, or looks like an Attempt, to make the Scripture better than it was inſpired: but who can think this Word is ſuch by Sighs and Sobs, as loud as the Roarings of the Lion, or that it is true.

Ib. the Water] which he drank.

Ver. 25. For] Caryl ſays this Verſe is not a Reaſon of that before; but what can be plainer? And he might have ſaid it better of the foregoing Verſe. His Parallels of Job. iv. 17. Mat. vii. 23. are nothing to the Matter.

Ver. 26. quiet] as the Word conſtantly ſignifies, and is no where elſe rendered to be in ſafety.

Ver. 2. Shall we] The Heb. Interrogation begins the Verſe, and ſo makes good Senſe: which is ſpoiled by adding if, and throwing the Queſtion to the next Part; wilt thou be grieved? being tantamount to thou wilt not be grieved, which certainly is not the Meaning.

art fatigued; it reaches to thee, and thou art troubled.

6. Is not this thy Awe, thy Hope, thy Expectation, and the Perfectneſs of thy Ways?

7. Call to mind now, who that is innocent periſhes? And where are the Upright cut off?

8. According as I have ſeen thoſe who plough Vanity, and ſow Trouble, reap the ſame:

9. They periſh by the Blaſt of God, and are conſumed by his breathing upon them.

10. The Roaring of the Lion, the Voice of the fierce Lion, and the Teeth of the young Lions are broke to pieces;

11. The old Lion periſhes by being without Prey, and the Whelps of the ſtout Lion are diſperſed about.

12. There was alſo a Matter brought by Stealth to me, of which my Ear received a Little;

13. In Thoughts from Viſions of the Night, when ſound Sleep falls upon Men;

14. I was ſeized with ſuch Dread and Trembling, that it made all my Bones ſhake.

15. Then a Spirit paſſing before my Face, made the Hair of my Fleſh ſtand on end.

16. It ſtood ſtill but I did not know the Appearance of it, the Apparition being before my Eyes: there was Silence, next I heard a Voice;

17. Is a mortal Perſon more righteous than God? Is a Man purer than his Maker?

18. Lo he cannot give credit to his Servants, and himſelf puts Light in his Angels.

19. Further thoſe that dwell in Houſes of Clay, whoſe Foundation is in the Duſt, are bruiſed before a Moth.

20. From Morning to Evening are they beat in pieces; they periſh for ever, without any regarding it.

21. Is not the Excellency that they have in them removed away? They die, and without Wiſdom.

CHAP. V.

CALL now, is there any who will anſwer thee? And to which of the holy ones wilt thou look?

2. For Indignation ſlays the Fooliſh, and Zeal kills the Simple.

3. I have ſeen the Fooliſh taking root, but I curſed his Habitation preſently.

4. His Children are far off from Safety; and are bruiſed at the Gate, none delivering:

5. Whoſe Harveſt the Hungry eats, and takes it even out of the Thorns; and the horrid one ſwallows up their Wealth.

6. For Vanity does not come out of the Duſt, nor Trouble ſpring forth from the Ground:

7. Though Man is born to Trouble, as the Sparks of a Coal fly up.

8. Surely I would ſeek to God, and to God commit my Cauſe:

Ver. 6. Awe] Jun. and Trem. Religion. In the com. Tranſ. fear and confidence don't ſeem very conſiſtent.

Ib. Ways] Poole writing his Annotations upon the com. Bib. which he has altered with and thy hope laſt, goes on obſerving that is not the right Order and Place of it. Sure enough!

Ver. 8. Trouble] or Labour, but not Wickedneſs, nor with ſo good Senſe; the Words of Ch. v. 6.

Ver. 9. breathing] See on Exod. xv. 8.

Ver. 10. pieces] the ſtouteſt of the wicked are deſtroyed by divine Juſtice; ſee Beza on the Place.

Ver. 18. to his Servants] viz. in general, ſo many ſerving him inſincerely.

Ib. puts—in] So the Heb. is literally.

Ib. Light] Thus Pagn. lumen, Trem. and Jun. lucem. Bro. clear light, the Root being in Hiphil to ſhine always in Job; ſee Buxt. Lex. and Beza expounds it, the Light of Underſtanding and Wiſdom.

Ib. Angels] who have not Light of themſelves, Pſa. civ. 4. Rev. xxi. 23. but that God charges them with Folly is incredible.

Ver. 19. Further] or alſo, as the Heb. Particle properly ſignifies; and another is wanting to make it How much leſs, or rather Much more; ſee Dieu's Anim.

Ib. Houſes of Clay] their Bodies.

Ib. Foundation] Original.

Ib. before] ſooner than a feeble Moth that may be ſeen in the ſame Houſe, as by the Words of the next Verſe it ſeems to be referred to Time.

Ver. 21. Is not the Excellency that they have—removed away?] Schultens thought it a fine Thing to be tranſlated, Indeed their Sinew (for Excellency) is a convulſed Nothing; though ſo unintelligible, or as he owns inexpreſſible, and when the Heb. has more for a Queſtion than we.

Ib. and without Wiſdom] Nor are they made any wiſer by ſo many Examples of their Mortality, Bez. agreeable to the foregoing Verſe; or by their own.

Ver. 1. holy ones] Angels in Heaven, and Saints on Earth.

Ver. 2. Zeal] ſuch as Job had, rather than Envy. So Jun. and Trem. have it zelus, Caſt. vehementia, and the Tig. Bib. indignatio.

Ver. 5. takes it even out of the Thorns] when put together in Ricks, and fenced, as I ſuppoſe with Thorns.

Ib. horrid one] being hairy, as the Heb. Word ſhews, ſavage, as thoſe might be that plundered Job, Ch. i.

Ver. 7. Man is born to Trouble] Diogenes Laertius relates in the Life of Crantor, how he would repeat that Verſe from Bellerophon, Οἰμοί. τί δ' οἴμοι; θνητὰ τοι πεπόνθαμεν.

O wretched me! But why, O wretched me? We ſuffer but what belongs to Mortals. So in Homer's Iliad, B. 10. in Eng.

To labour is the Lot of Man below;
And when God gave us Life, he gave us Woe.

In looking over the Diſſertations of Maxim. Tyrius, I alſo find him in the 16th enumerating the Troubles of Man's Life, and among the reſt this Expreſſion, Ἡ τὰ μὲν ἀγαθὰ, ἐπίῤῥυτα ἐκ τῆς ἑτέρας· τὰ δὲ κακὰ, ἐξ αὐτοφυοῦς μοχθηρίας ἀνίσταται. The Things that are good to us, come from another (to wit, God;) but thoſe that are ill, ſpring ſpontaneouſly from Wickedneſs.

Ver. 8. Surely] which is ſtrangely left out of the com. Tranſ.

9. Who

9. Who does great Things, and not to be ſearched out, wonderful Things out of Number:

10. Who gives Rain upon the Surface of the Earth, and ſends Water upon that of the Streets;

11. To put the Humble on high, and that the Penſive may be exalted with Safety:

12. Who fruſtrates the Thoughts of the Crafty, ſo that their Hands do no ſubſtantial Matter:

13. Who takes the Wiſe in their Craftineſs, and the Counſel of the Froward is precipitated.

14. They meet with Darkneſs by Day, and grope about at Noon as at Night.

15. Whereas he ſaves the Needy from the Sword, from their Mouth, and from the Hand of the Powerful.

16. So that there is Expectation for the Poor, and Iniquity ſhuts up its Mouth.

17. Lo bleſſed is the Man whom God reproves; ſo do not thou deſpiſe the Correction of the Almighty:

18. For he cauſes to be in pain, and binds up; he ſmites, and his Hands heal.

19. In ſix Diſtreſſes he will deliver thee, and in ſeven the Harm ſhall not reach thee.

20. In Hunger he will redeem thee from Death, and in War from the Power of the Sword.

21. When the Tongue runs on defaming, thou ſhalt be hid, and not be afraid of Waſting when it comes.

22. At Waſting and at Famine thou ſhalt ſmile, and of the Beaſt of the Earth not be afraid.

23. For with the Stones of the Field ſhalt thou have a Covenant, and the Beaſt of the Field ſhall be at peace with thee.

24. Thus wilt thou experience that thy Tent is peaceable; and mayeſt viſit thy Habitation, offending none.

25. Nay thou ſhalt know that thy Poſterity are many, and thy Offspring like the Graſs of the Earth.

26. Thou ſhalt come to the Grave in old Age, as a Cock of Corn is made up in its Seaſon.

27. Behold this, that we have ſearched out, is ſo: hear it, and know thou for thy ſelf.

CHAP. VI.

BUT Job made reply:

2. Oh that my Indignation was throughly weighed, and my Calamity that they were put up into the Scales together!

3. For it would now be heavier than the Sand of the Seas; therefore my Words are ſwallowed up.

4. For the Arrows of the Almighty are with me, whoſe Venom drinks up my Spirit; the Terrors of God are ſet in order againſt me.

5. Does the wild Aſs bray over the Graſs? Does the Ox bellow over his Provender?

6. Is an unreliſhable Thing eat without Salt? Is there Taſte in the White of an Egg?

7. Thoſe Things that my Soul refuſed to touch, are as my languiſhing Meat.

8. Oh that my Petition might come to paſs, and God would grant my Expectation!

9. Even that God would be pleaſed to cruſh me; let looſe his Hand, and cut me off!

10. Which ſhould yet be my Comfort, and I would pray in the Anguiſh he might not ſpare: for I have not concealed the Words of the Holy One.

11. What is my Strength, that I ſhould wait? and what will my End be, that I ſhould prolong my Life?

Ver. 10. Streets] to run into Ponds and Veſſels, for the Cattle and Houſhold Uſes; or ſince it is Water here, and not Rain as before, might be Brooks running there. Thus the Heb. Word ſignifies, and is tranſlated in the com. Bib. Pſa. xviii. 42. Iſa. v. 25. & x. 6. & li. 20. Jer. xi. 13. Lam. ii. 19, 21. & iv. 1. Mic. vii. 10. Nah. iii. 10. Zech. ix. 3. & x. 5. and elſewhere, but not as I know of Fields.

19. The Paths of Tema looking, the Walks of Sheba waiting for them;

20. They are aſhamed that they truſted: they come to it, and are confounded.

21. For now you are as Nobody: you ſee the Calamity, and are afraid.

22. Is it becauſe I ſaid, Give me; or, Provide a Gift for me of your Ability?

23. Or, Deliver me from the Power of the Enemy? or, From the Power of the violent redeem me?

24. Inſtruct me, that I may be ſilent; and make me underſtand, how I have erred.

25. How powerful are Sayings that are right! But how does Reproof from you reprove?

26. Do ye think to reprove the Words, and the Sayings of one deſpairing, to be but Wind?

27. Nay ye caſt down upon the Fatherleſs, and dig upon your Friend.

28. But now conſent, look on me; and it is before your Face, if I lye.

29. Return, I pray, let not that be Iniquity; even return yet, my Juſtice being in it.

30. Is there Iniquity in my Tongue? Does not my Palate underſtand Calamities?

CHAP. VII.

HAS not mortal Man a War upon Earth? And his Days are like thoſe of one hired.

2. As a Servant pants for the Shadow, and as a hired one waits at his Work:

3. So am I made to poſſeſs for my ſelf Months of Vanity: and Nights of Labour are prepared for me.

4. If I lie down, I ſay, When ſhall I riſe up, by the Evening being meaſured out? And I am full of Wanderings till the Twilight.

Ver. 14. he] Eliphaz Job's Friend, Chap. ii. 11.

Ver. 16. at which] not wherein, becauſe the Water would melt the Snow.

Ver. 17. flow out] The Word being only here, and having this Meaning both in Chald. and Arabick, as by Buxt. Chald. and Rab. Lex. and Caſtellus's Lexic. Heptaglot; and the ſame by Dav. Kimhi and Levi, with Buxt. Concordan. and Heb. Lex. ſo Pagn. renders it effluxerint.

Ib. cut off] ſo the Heb. nor is vaniſh proper to Brooks.

Ib. Heat of it] of that Time, viz. in warm Weather, as they were alſo uſeleſs before in cold, Ver. 16.

Ver. 18. The Paths of their Way] Where the Floods puſhing on, are parted by Obſtacles.

Ib. aſcend] as the Heb. is, being exhaled by the Sun.

Ver. 19. The Paths] the very ſame Heb. Word with that in the foregoing Verſe.

Ib. Walks] rendered walk, Nah. ii. 5. ways, Hab. iii. 6. Prov. ult. 27. and goings twice, Pſa. lxviii. 24. which are all the other Places where it is found.

Ver. 20. they] the Paths and Walks; as the like is aſcribed to ſuch Things, Ch. vii. 10. & viii. 18. & ix. 25, 31. Lam. i. 4. Iſa. iii. 26. & xxiv. 23. & xxxiii. 9. & xliv. 23. & xlix. 13. & lv. 12. Pſa. xcviii. 8. And thoſe who go in the Paths and Walks might better be underſtood, than to be altered into Troops and Companies.

Ib. come to it] as we ſay, That Path goes to ſuch a Place.

Ver. 22. becauſe] which the Heb. has.

Ver. 26. to be but Wind] as if ſpoken lightly or vainly, as Chap. xv. 2. & xvi. 3. whereas a deſpairing Perſon ſpeaks earneſtly and to the purpoſe; and ſurely Job would not ſay the former of himſelf. The Heb. is literally for or to be (ſo with Beza) not as; nor has it which. Broughton has hold the terms of the forlorne a wind.

Ver. 27. nay ye caſt down] by Schult. Ye make the Noſe (which he interprets Pride and diſdainful Contempt) fall.

Ib. upon] both times the ſame, and I do not ſee any other Way to render it, that has the two Parts, as well as this Word, more ſuitable. Job may be ſuppoſed for the latter, and not unaptly to his Condition, as if in a Pit, according as in the former Fatherleſs.

Ib. the Fatherleſs] Job himſelf being as ſuch.

Ver. 29. let] do not think it will be amiſs to alter your Mind and Behaviour.

Ib. Juſtice] it is Juſtice that belongs to me.

Ver. 30. Palate] like Tongue.

Ib. Calamities] which he ſuffered.

Ver. 1. a War] Montan. with the Vulg. Lat. and Tig. Bibles, as likewiſe Schul. have militia. This is the known and allowed Meaning of the Word, being from its Root to make war; and ſo rendered Chap. x. 17. Thus too the Parts of the Verſe are diſtinct, and not a Tautology; the next Verſe alſo anſwering to the latter Part, and the third to this, like fight of afflictions, Heb. x. 32.

Ver. 2. at his Work] to have it ended, agreeable to the former Part of the Verſe: looking for the Reward of it would yield Joy and Comfort, unſuitable to Job's Condition, and who does not ſeem to have expected any Reward for his Affliction; ſo that Reward appears not well added by our Tranſlators, and the vulg. Lat. to be better, præſtolatur finem operis ſui, waits for the End of his Work, or as Broughton has it, works end; but Jun. and Trem. turn it exſpectat dum fecerit, waits while he is at work. Sch. expounds it objectively, Is forced to labour all his Life long, and when one Work is finiſhed, yet quickly expects another, by which he may get himſelf a Maintenance.

Ver. 3. Nights of Labour] which is the Time for Reſt.

5. My Fleſh is cloathed with Worms, and crumbling Mould; my Skin breaks apart, and is diſſolved.

6. My Days are ſwifter than a Shuttle, and are conſumed without Expectation.

7. Remember that my Life is Wind: my Eye will again ſee no Good.

8. The Eye that ſees me will not diſcern me: thy Eyes being on me, I ſhall be gone.

9. The Cloud is conſumed, and goes away; ſo he who goes down to the Grave, will not come up:

10. He will no more return to his Houſe; nor will his Place know him any more.

11. Therefore do I not reſtrain my Mouth, I ſpeak in the Diſtreſs of my Spirit, I muſe in the Bitterneſs of my Soul.

12. Am I a Sea, or a Whale; that thou putteſt a Watch over me?

13. Though I ſay, My Couch ſhall comfort me, my Bed ſhall bear my Muſing;

14. Yet thou terrifieſt me with Dreams, and frighteneſt me by Viſions:

15. Inſomuch that my Soul chooſes Strangling, Death from my Bones.

16. I deſpiſe them, I would not live for ever: let me alone, ſince my Days are Vanity.

17. What is Man, that thou ſhouldeſt magnify him, or that thou ſhouldeſt regard him;

18. And viſit him at the Mornings, try him at the Moments?

19. How long wilt thou not turn away from me, nor leave me off, while I ſwallow down my Spittle?

20. I have ſinned; what ſhall I do to thee, the Keeper of Mankind? Why doſt thou put me for thy Butt, ſo that I am a Burden to my ſelf?

21. And why doſt not thou forgive my Tranſgreſſion, and take away my Iniquity, that now I might lie down in the Duſt? And though thou ſhouldeſt ſeek me early, I ſhould be gone.

CHAP. VIII.

THEN Bildad the Shuhite made anſwer:

2. How long wilt thou utter theſe Things, and the Words of thy Mouth be a great Wind?

3. Does God overthrow Judgment? Or does the Almighty overthrow Righteouſneſs?

4. If thy Children ſinned againſt him, and he ſent them away by means of their Tranſgreſſion;

5. If thou ſeekeſt early to God, and to the Almighty makeſt ſupplication;

6. If thou art pure and upright, he will now ſtir up for thee, and make the Habitation of thy Righteouſneſs proſperous.

7. And though thy Beginning be ſmall, yet thy End will exceedingly increaſe.

8. For aſk now, of the former Generation, and prepare for ſearching out their Fathers:

9. (Becauſe we are of Yeſterday, and ignorant; ſince our Days upon the Earth are as a Shadow)

10. Will not they inſtruct thee, tell thee, and produce Sayings out of their Mind?

11. Does the Ruſh become high, when not in the Mire? The Sedge grow without Water?

12. When it is yet in its Verdure, not plucked off, it withers before any Graſs.

13. So are the Paths of all that forget God, and the Expectation of the Hypocrite will periſh:

14. Whoſe Hope will be loathed, and his Truſt be as a Spider's Web.

15. He may lean againſt his Houſe, but will not ſtand: may take hold of it, yet will not ſtand up.

16. Should he be full of Juice before the

How bones are made to be, or ſignify life, as in the vulg. Tranſ. is not eaſily to be accounted for.

Ver. 14. loathed] by the Righteous and Sincere; according as the Verb ſignifies, and is rendered, Ezek. vi. 9. & xx. 43. & xxxvi. 31. never any Thing like cut off.

Ver. 15. will] he himſelf, not it the Houſe; it being he that is ſpoken of both before and after: and leaning upon his houſe, if he had been tall enough, would not be the Way to ſupport it.

Ib. take hold of it] not to uphold it, but to uphold himſelf by it, Poole; but rather to help himſelf up when down, by riſe up, not endure.

Ver. 16. Should] which makes the following intelligible.

Sun, and his tender Branch come forth in his Garden;

17. His Roots be wrapt upon the Heap, ſhould he behold the Houſe of Stones;

18. When he is devoured from his Place, it will deny him, I have not ſeen thee.

19. Lo that will be the Joy of his Way; and others will ſpring out of the Mould.

20. Behold God will not reject the Perfect, nor take hold of the Hand of Evil-doers:

21. Till he fills thy Mouth with Laughter, and thy Lips with Melody;

22. Thoſe who hate thee will be cloathed with Shame; and the Tent of the Wicked will be gone.

CHAP. IX.

WHEREUPON Job made reply:

2. Truly I am not ignorant that it is ſo; but how ſhall Man be righteous with God?

3. If the former would contend with him, he cannot anſwer him one Thing out of a Thouſand.

4. Againſt him, of a wiſe Heart, and of powerful Strength, who is there hardens himſelf, and proſpers?

5. That removes away Mountains, they knowing not how; who overthrows them in his Anger:

6. Who moves the Earth from its Place, and the Pillars of it totter:

7. Who commanding the Sun, it does not riſe, and ſeals up the Stars:

8. Who ſtretches out the Heavens alone, and treads upon the high Places of the Sea:

9. Who makes Arcturus, Orion, and the ſeven Stars, with the Chambers of the South:

10. Who does great Things even not to be ſearched out, and wonderful Things out of Number.

11. Behold he paſſes before me, and I do not ſee; as likewiſe goes by, and I do not perceive him.

12. Behold when he catches away, who ſhall make him bring back? Who ſhall ſay to him, What art thou doing?

13. Should not God turn back his Anger, the ſtrong Helpers would bow down under him:

14. Much leſs ſhall I anſwer him, chooſe my Words to him;

15. Whom, if I were righteous, I would not anſwer, I would make ſupplication to him that judges me.

16. If I had called, and he anſwered me, I ſhould not believe that he gave ear to what I ſaid:

17. Who bruiſes me with a Tempeſt, and multiplies my Wounds without cauſe.

18. He does not ſuffer me to fetch my Breath; for he fills me with bitter Things.

19. If it is by Might, behold he is ſtrong; and if by Judgment, who will appoint it for me?

20. If I was righteous, my own Mouth would condemn me: were I perfect, it would alſo make me perverſe.

21. I being perfect, would not know my Soul, I would deſpiſe my Life.

22. It is all one, therefore I ſay, He conſumes the Perfect, as well as the Wicked.

23. Though the Whip cauſe to die preſently, he mocks at the Trial of the Innocent.

24. The Earth is given into the Poſſeſſion of the Wicked, that blindfolds the Judges of it: if not, where, who is he?

25. Whereas my Days are ſwifter than

Ver. 17. he behold] I find in early Editions of our laſt Eng. and ſome now, [and ſeeth] without [he,] as if ſaid (though amiſs) of his roots, as in the Gen. (beſide the Meaning of the Word) are folden about.

Ib. Houſe of Stones] where they lie deep in the Ground, their ſettled Habitation; and not as Patrick ſays, becauſe the Heb. is Houſe, whoſe Head lifts up it ſelf above the higheſt Edifices.

Ver. 19. Joy] Ironical.

Ib. others will ſpring] in his Place.

Ver. 20. take hold of] the ſame Verb as Ver. 15.

Ver. 21. Till] How much the beſt may this be referred to the following Verſe! as the ſame in Ch. xxvii. 5. Cant. ii. 17. and to ſuch a Purpoſe ſee Pſa. cxii. 8. Grey thought theſe two laſt Verſes belonged ſo ill to the foregoing, that he propoſed to join them to the 7th.

Ver. 4. who] Know thou, whoe'er with Heav'nly Pow'r contends,
Short is his Date, and ſoon his Glory ends.
Pope's Homer, B. 5.

Ver. 5. removes &c.] by Earthquakes.

Ib. how] which often belongs to know in Eng. as other Adverbs to their Verbs; and omitted ſometimes will leave our Language bald.

Ver. 7. not riſe] declaring what God could do, and did not unlike this, though afterwards in Joſhua's Time.

Ver. 8. ſtretches] either at the Creation, or the Clouds, and may be both.

Ib. treads] for which Patrick ſubſtitutes, makes the Sea ſwell and liſt up its Waves; a ſtrange Property of treading! and how different from that which the great Jun. and Trem. expound it by, that is, preſſes down as with a Foot the Tide and Waves of the raging Sea.

Ver. 10. like Ch. v. 9. as here.

Ver. 19. appoint it] there being not a time in the Heb.

Ver. 20. was righteous] the Verb being in the Conjugation Kal; not in Pihel, Hiphil, nor Hithpahel, to mean juſtifie my ſelf.

Ver. 21. would deſpiſe] which Patrick explains not amiſs, only ſhort of the Energy of the Text, I do not value my Life ſo much as to contend about it.

Ver. 22. all one] I cannot defend my ſelf, whether I am righteous or wicked.

Ver. 24. that] to diſtinguiſh it from he in the two preceding Verſes.

Ib. where] See Noldius in Concordan. Annot. 492.

Ib. he] referring to the ſame Word in the Original, Ver. 22. not as Patrick does it to the Wicked; which I

one

one that runs: they flee away, ſeeing no Good.

26. They paſs away with the willing Ships, as the Eagle flies upon the Food.

27. If my Saying is, I will forget my Muſing, will leave my ſorrowful Countenance, and take Refreſhment;

28. I am afraid of all my Griefs, knowing that thou wilt not hold me innocent:

29. I ſhall be wicked; why do I labour thus in vain?

30. If I waſh my ſelf with Snow-water, and cleanſe my Hands purely;

31. Then thou plungeſt me in the Pit, ſo that my own Garments abhor me.

32. For he is not a Man like me, that I may anſwer him, that we may come together in Judgment.

33. There is none to determine between us, who may put his Hand upon us both.

34. Would he take off his Rod from me, and his Terror not frighten me;

35. I would ſpeak, and not be afraid of him; but it is not ſo with my ſelf.

CHAP. X.

MY Soul loaths my Life, I will leave my Muſing in my ſelf, will ſpeak in the Bitterneſs of my Soul.

2. I will ſay to God: Do not condemn me; let me know for what thou contendeſt with me.

3. Is it well to thee, that thou ſhouldeſt oppreſs, that thou ſhouldeſt deſpiſe the Work of thy Hands, and ſhine upon the Counſel of the Wicked?

4. Haſt thou Eyes of Fleſh? Doſt thou ſee as Man ſees?

5. Are thy Days like thoſe of Man? Are thy Years as his Days?

6. That thou enquireſt for my Iniquity, and ſeekeſt for my Sin;

7. Upon thy knowing that I am not wicked, and that none can deliver from thy Power?

8. Thy Hands grieve me, yet they made me: together round about thou alſo devoureſt me.

9. Vouchſafe to remember, that thou madeſt me like Clay, and wilt cauſe me to return to Mould.

10. Didſt not thou pour me out like Milk, and curdle me like Cheeſe?

11. Thou cloathedſt me with Skin and Fleſh, and didſt fence me with Bones and Sinews.

12. Thou madeſt Life and Kindneſs be with me; and thy Viſitation preſerved my Spirit.

13. And thou haſt laid up theſe Things in thy Heart: I know that this is with thee.

14. If I ſin, thou obſerveſt me, and wilt not hold me innocent from my Iniquity.

15. If I am wicked, alas for me; and ſhould I be righteous, I would not lift up my Head, being filled with Vileneſs: ſo do thou look on my Affliction.

16. Which is high, as thou hunteſt me like a fierce Lion; and returning, becomeſt wonderful againſt me.

17. Thou reneweſt thy Witneſſes before me, and multiplieſt thy Indignation with me; where are Changes, and War.

18. Why then didſt thou bring me out of the Womb? Who might have expired, and the Eye not ſeen me:

19. Might have been as if I had not been;

ſuppoſe he did from the miſpointing of the Verſe in our com. Tranſ.

Ver. 26. with] the ſame as in Ch. iii. 14, 15.

Ib. willing] like ſeeing in the Ver. before.

Ver. 29. ſhall be wicked] be dealt with as ſuch, according to the foregoing Words; Brough. ſhall be holden as wicked; ſee Poole's Annot.

Ver. 31. Then] Yet ſeems by Careleſsneſs.

Ver. 35. it is not ſo with my ſelf] which though it ſo clearly belongs to that juſt before, yet Patrick refers it back to other Chapters, countenanced indeed by ſome Lat. Interpreters. eſpecially Pagn. thus, I am not ſo bad as you imagine.

Ver. 1. loaths] the ſame Verb with that in Chap. viii. 14.

Ib. leave my Muſing in my ſelf] which has ſome Claim to Senſe; but what the com. Eng. has, I ſhall leave to its Expoſitors; acquainting the Reader withal, that the Heb. Word ſignifies Muſing, but never that I know of complaint.

Ver. 5. Patrick, Muſt thou take time as we do to find out the truth?

Ver. 8. grieve] This the Heb. Word conſtantly ſignifies, and never made, which is alſo a Tautology.

Ib. together round about] Theſe follow the Heb. Partition of the Verſe, which the beſt Tranſlators likewiſe obſerve: thus alſo Job loſt what he had, Chap. i. 14—19. and was puniſhed in his Body, Chap. ii. 7.

Ver. 9. wilt cauſe] The Heb. having Nothing for a Queſtion; and it being an Aſſertion, is undoubtedly true, as well as agreeable to the preceding Part of the Verſe: to intimate the contrary, as a Queſtion ſometimes does, would be falſe; and to be aſked for Information, would be ſilly.

Ver. 15. do thou look on] not ſatisfied with Schult. having altered the Imperative Verb into a Participle, or Noun, to make, and am a Spectator of my Affliction: Grey would change it further to drunk with, by the Mutation of ר into ו.

Ver. 16. is high] ſo the Original, and not increaſeth; beſides that Job's Affliction was probably abating to him before he began to ſpeak, Ch. ii. ult. & iii. 1.

Ver. 17. before] The Words rendered againſt and upon, in the com. Tranſ. ſignify as here put, and that properly, the two laſt being alike.

Ver. 18. not ſeen me] that is alive, as being otherwiſe but his Body: for he ſpeaks of being ſtill-born, as the next Verſe ſhews; and alſo not to have had his Mother died with him, by being not delivered of him; as Patrick makes this, and then begins the next with Or.

have have been carried away from the Belly to the Grave.

20. Are not my Days a little while? So ceaſe thou, and put this from me, that I may take Refreſhment a little:

21. Before I go, without returning, to the Country of Darkneſs and the Shadow of Death;

22. The Country of Obſcurity, like the dark Shade of Death, without Order; and that ſhines as if it were dark.

CHAP. XI.

NEXT Zophar the Naamathite made anſwer:

2. Shall not a Multitude of Words be anſwered? And ſhall a talking Man be juſtified?

3. Shall thy Falſehoods make Perſons ſilent? And ſhalt thou ſcoff, and none make aſhamed?

4. Since thou haſt ſaid, My Doctrine is pure, and I am clean in thy Sight.

5. But oh that God indeed would ſpeak, and open his Lips with thee!

6. Who would tell thee the hidden Things of Wiſdom, for they are double to what is material: and know thou, that God exacts of thee for thy Iniquity.

7. Canſt thou find God by ſearching? Canſt thou find out the Almighty perfectly?

8. It is at the Heights of Heaven, what canſt thou do? Deeper than Hell, what canſt thou know?

9. The Meaſure of it is longer than the Earth, and wider than the Sea.

10. If he paſs through, and ſhut up, or gather together, who ſhall turn him back?

11. For he knows vain Perſons, and ſees Vanity: ſo will not he conſider;

12. That a Man is empty-hearted, and Man is born as the Colt of a wild Aſs?

13. If thou wouldeſt prepare thy Heart, and ſpread forth thy Hands to him;

14. If there be Vanity with thee, remove it far off, and let not Iniquity dwell in thy Tents.

15. For then wilt thou lift up thy Face without Blemiſh; and wilt be firm, and not fear.

16. Nay thou wilt forget Trouble, remembering it as Water that paſſes away.

17. And Age will riſe up above Noon: thou wilt fly, wilt be like the Morning.

18. Moreover thou wilt truſt, becauſe there is Expectation; nay wilt dig, going to Bed with Confidence.

19. Thou wilt even lie down, and none make afraid; but many will make ſupplication before thee.

20. Whereas the Eyes of the Wicked will fail; and Flight will periſh from them, ſo that their Expectation will be the expiring of the Soul.

CHAP. XII.

TO which Job made reply:

2. What forſooth becauſe you are the People, and Wiſdom ſhall die with you?

3. I alſo have Senſe like you, I fall not beneath you; nay with whom are not ſuch Things as theſe?

4. I am one that is for Sport to his Neighbour, who calls to God, that he may anſwer him; a righteous, a perfect one, is for Sport.

5. He who is ready to ſlip with the Foot, is a Lamp contemned in the Thought of him that is at eaſe.

Ver. 20. a little while] being ſingular, and not an Adjective to Days.

Ib. and] not Ital.

Ver. 5. indeed] omitted in the com. Eng.

Ver. 6. material] A ſecret, as in the com. Tranſ. muſt be that which is; but being ſpiritual, will not be material, or conſiſt of Matter.

Ib. for thy Iniquity] or becauſe of, without any unwarrantable Addition: ſo Pagn. and Munſt. render propter iniquitatem tuam, Brought. for thine Iniquity; ſome of the lat. Tranſlators de, from; the vulg. lat. Verſ. from which the Eng. was taken, has very widely, et intelligeres quod multo minora exigaris ab eo, quam meretur iniquitas tua, and thou mayeſt underſtand that thou haſt exacted much leſs from him than thy Iniquity deſerves.

Ver. 10. paſs through] which the Verb frequently means, and not any where cut off by Buxtorf's Concordance: ſo Trem. and Jun. turn it tranſmeabit; and in Broughton's Tranſlation it is paſſe by.

Ib. gather together] This is explained by Trem. and Jun. and likewiſe by Poole, as an Act of the divine Favour, in Oppoſition to the foregoing.

Ver. 12. That] Thus Jun. and Trem. begin the Verſe with Ut.

Ib. is empty-hearted] juſt ſo Caſtal. ſit inaniter cordatus, agreeable to the foregoing Verſe; and the Verb is made from Heart.

Ver. 13. wouldeſt &c.] i. e. if thou wouldeſt pray aright, do what follows in the next Verſe; which is very obſcure in the com. Eng.

Ib. ſpread] in Prayer (to which ſtretch is unapt) and according to the Heb.

Ver. 17. riſe up] This is the Meaning of the Heb. Word, Nothing of being clear.

Ib. Noon] the middle Time of Life, ſuitable to the Word Age; long Life being here ſpoken of.

Ib. fly] as this Verb commonly ſignifies, perhaps never ſhine forth. Jun. and Trem. ſay evolabis, ſhalt fly away, and expound it from thoſe Calamities.

Ib. like the Morning] reſtored from his Gloom.

Ver. 18. dig] an Intrenchment, to accord with the following; but by Patrick, Wells.

Ver. 20. Expectation] much better than hope: for if they hoped to die, why ſhould they endeavour to eſcape?

Ver. 4. who] the one before.

Ib. that he may] For as Poole obſerves, Job conſtantly complains that God did not regard his Prayers, and would not therefore ſay here God did anſwer him; nor is it fit to think Job ſhould ſay, he that makes ſport, at the Righteous too, calls to God, and he anſwers him: thus the judicious Caſtal. ut ſe exaudiat.

6. The Tents of ſuch as waſte are quiet, and they that move God have Confidence, into whoſe Hand he brings.

7. Nay indeed aſk now the Beaſts, and they will teach thee; as likewiſe the Fowls of the Air, and they will declare to thee:

8. Or diſcourſe with the Earth, and that will teach thee; and the Fiſhes of the Sea will tell thee,

9. Who is inſenſible among all theſe, that the Hand of the Lord does this?

10. In whoſe Hand is the Life of every living Thing, and the Spirit of all the Fleſh of Man.

11. Does not the Ear try Speeches, as the Palate taſtes Food for it ſelf?

12. In the very Aged ſhould be Wiſdom, and in Length of Time Underſtanding.

13. With him there is Wiſdom, and Power: of him is Counſel, and Underſtanding.

14. Behold he throws down, and it cannot be rebuilt: he ſhuts upon a Man, and it cannot be opened.

15. Behold he ſtops the Waters, and they dry up; as alſo ſends them forth, and they turn the Ground upſide down.

16. With him is Strength, and ſubſtantial Matter: of him is he that errs, and he who cauſes to err.

17. He makes Counſellors go away ſpoiled, and deprives Judges of Senſe.

18. He releaſes the Correction of Kings, and binds their Loins with a Girdle.

19. He makes Prieſts go away ſpoiled, and overthrows the ſtout ones.

20. He puts aſide the Speech of the Stedfaſt, and takes away the Senſe of the Elders.

21. He pours out Contempt upon Nobles, and ſlackens the Belt of the ſtrong ones.

22. He reveals deep Things from Darkneſs, and brings forth the Shadow of Death to the Light.

23. He increaſes the Nations, and cauſes them to periſh: he ſpreads abroad the Nations, and leads them away.

24. He takes away the Courage of the Heads of the People of the Earth, and makes them wander in a void Place with no Way.

25. They grope about in Darkneſs, where there is no Light; and he makes them ſtagger, not unlike one drunk.

CHAP. XIII.

LO my Eye has ſeen it all, my Ear has heard and underſtood it.

2. As ye know, I do alſo; I fall not beneath you.

3. I would indeed ſpeak to the Almighty, and am willing to reaſon with God.

4. But indeed ye are Forgers of Falſehood, Phyſicians of Nought all of you.

5. Oh that ye would be quite ſilent! ſince it would be Wiſdom in you.

6. Hear now my Reproof, and hearken to the Contendings of my Lips.

7. Will you plead unjuſtly for God, and argue deceitfully for him?

8. Will you reſpect his Face? Will you contend for God?

Ver. 6. quiet] ſo Jun. and Trem. with Montan. tranquilla; as the Meaning is, not proſper.

Ver. 7. Nay] or For, much better than But; Job referring for Confirmation of what he ſaid in the Verſe before, to the Brutes, ſome of whom ſucceſsfully oppreſs and deſtroy others, as Blackmore particularly expatiates in his Poem; yet ſince this excludes the Earth, Ver. 8. it cannot be the proper Meaning; nor that of Patrick, thoſe Creatures affording their Service to the Wicked, becauſe that was not aſſerted: but God's bringing to all, both animate and inanimate, as alſo Ver. 9. conſequently to all Mankind.

Ib. indeed] left out as in Chap. xi. 5.

Ver. 9. does this] namely God provides for the Wicked, Ver. 6. ſince his Care and Providence extends to all the irrational Creatures, and the very Vegetables of the Earth, Ver. 7, 8.

Ver. 11. as] ſo Chap. xxxiv. 3.

Ver. 12. very Aged] Job's Friends, Chap. xv. 10. & xxxii. 7. who he grants may know Things; but not like God, who has alſo ſufficient Ability and right Judgment, Ver. 13.

Ver. 14. ſhuts] Patrick, caſts into difficulties and ſtreights; which I like much better than the contrary protects of Trem. and Jun. being according to the Drift of this Heb. Word in Ch. xi. 10. & xvi. 11.

Ver. 16. Strength and ſubſtantial Matter] Words both different from thoſe in Ver. 13.

Ib. errs, and] both the Simple and Cunning, as if for all.

Ver. 17. Counſellors] who adviſe how to take the Spoil.

Ver. 18. Correction of Kings] the Tyranny or Puniſhment which they exerciſe. Thus the firſt Word ſignifies elſewhere, but not bond.

Ib. binds] to lead them away Priſoners.

Ver. 19. Prieſts] thus the Heb.

Ver. 23. leads them away] the Verb נחה always ſignifying to lead, bring, or lead away, as may be ſeen by the Lexicons. Jun. and Trem. have the ſame, viz. abducit, Pagn. ducit, leads; and Munſt. ducit eas (in captivitatem) leads them (into Captivity.) It has not any Meaning of ſtraiteneth.

Ver. 2. by Hogey in Lat. Verſe, the ſame as in Chap. xii. 3.

Ergone concedam laudes ego jure priores
Doctrina, ingenio, cognitione, fide?

Shall I then allow you the Right of ſuperior Praiſe in Learning, Senſe, Knowledge or Religion?

Ver. 3. would] as Zophar, whom Job is anſwering, deſired, Chap. xi. 5.

Ver. 4. indeed] the Word that is in the foregoing Verſe.

Ver. 6. Reproof] This and Contendings the Heb. Words properly ſignify, concurrent with what follows, and coming from the Verbs contend and reprove, Ver. 8, 10.

Ver. 8. reſpect] according to 2 Chr. xix. 7. Jam. ii. 9. accept being in a different Senſe to receive kindly, as in Gen. xxxii. 20.

9. Would it be well that he ſhould ſearch you out? As Man deludes, would ye delude him?

10. He will throughly reprove you, if ye reſpect the Face ſecretly.

11. Will not his Excellency terrify you, and his Dread fall upon you?

12. The Remembrance of you will be like Aſhes, your Brows to Brows of Clay.

13. Be ſilent to me, and I will ſpeak; nay whatever comes upon me.

14. Why do I take my Fleſh in my Teeth, and venture my Life?

15. Lo ſhould he kill me, ſhall I not hope? But I will reaſon my Ways to his Face.

16. He alſo will be Salvation to me: though a Hypocrite ſhall not come before him.

17. Hear attentively my Speech, and my Declaration with your Ears.

18. Behold now I have ſet in order the Judgment; I know that I ſhall be juſtified.

19. Who is it that will contend with me? For now ſhould I be ſilent, I ſhall alſo expire.

20. Only do not two Things to me, then will I not hide from thy Face:

21. Remove thy Hand far off from me, and let not thy Terror frighten me;

22. Then call, and I will anſwer: or I will ſpeak, and reply thou to me.

23. How many Iniquities and Sins have I? Let me know my Tranſgreſſion and Sin.

24. Why doſt thou hide thy Face, and reckon me for an Enemy to thee?

25. Wilt thou violently ſhake a driven Leaf, and drive away the dry Stubble?

26. For thou writeſt bitter Things againſt me, and makeſt me inherit the Iniquities of my Youth.

27. Beſides thou putteſt my Feet in Fetters, and obſerveſt all my Paths: thou ſetteſt a Mark upon the Tracks of my Feet;

28. Even of him that conſumes as Rottenneſs, like a Garment which the Moth eats.

CHAP. XIV.

MAN who is born of a Woman, is of ſhort Time, and full of Diſquiet.

2. He comes forth, and is cut off, as a Flower; nay flees away without remaining, like a Shadow.

3. Yet thou openeſt thy Eyes upon ſuch a one, and bringeſt me into Judgment with thee.

4. Who can give a pure Thing out of an unclean? Not one.

5. If his Days are determined, the Number of his Months is with thee, thou makeſt his Decree that he ſhall not paſs;

6. Turn away from him, and ceaſe, till he has finiſhed his Day like one that is hired.

7. For there is Expectation of a Tree, if it is cut down, that it will yet be renewed, and its tender Branch not ceaſe;

8. If its Root become old in the Earth, and the Stem of it die in the Mould:

9. By the Scent of Water it will ſpring forth, and yield a Branch like a Plant.

10. Whereas a ſtout Man dies, and becomes weak; even Man expires, and where is he?

11. The Waters evaporate from the Sea; nay a River waſtes away, and dries up:

12. Thus a Man lies down, and will not riſe up till the Heavens are gone; they will not awake, nor be ſtirred up from their Sleep.

Ver. 12. will be] ſo Caſtal. tranſlates erit.

Ib. Aſhes] like which they would look pale by the divine Dread.

Ib. Brows] which this Word denotes, as Lev. xiv. 9. put for the Countenance; but does not ſignify bodies: Patrick expounds them by Arguments.

Ib. Clay] They would be ſo frighted as to look like dead Men. Thus I have ventured at a rational and proper Meaning to this Verſe, which I had not found before.

Ver. 13. Be ſilent] Here is only one Verb, and thus Broughton renders it.

Ver. 14. Why] I do not venture to ſpeak, that I may ſave my Life, it is only that I may juſtify my ſelf, Ver. 15.

Ib. in my Teeth] as it were biting it in Diſtraction.

Ver. 15. Lo] thus the Heb. is, Nothing like though, nor is there any Thing for yet after.

Ib. not] See 2 Sam. xvi. 18. 2 King. xviii. 10. 1 Sam. ii. 3.

Ver. 16. though] quamvis likewiſe have Jun. and Trem. for being an improper Connexion to the foregoing.

Ver. 21. thy Hand] in puniſhing.

Ver. 27. Fetters] if in the ſtocks, his Feet could not have gone in Paths.

Ver. 28. Even of him] which makes it intelligible; but who is he in our Tranſ. before?

Ver. 3. Yet] The Heb. is without the Adverb of Interrogation; and the Affirmation is proper, as alſo Pagn. Montan. and Mercer have it, like Chap. xiii. 26, 27. and the reſt of Job's Complaints to God.

Ib. bringeſt] which is affirmative, and ſhould have been bring in a Queſtion.

Ver. 4. pure] as we ſay very clean; there being not the Antitheſis, nor Similitude of Sound, in the Heb. as in the com. Eng.

Ib. unclean] q. d. Veſſel, ſuitable to give, as the Heb. is.

Ver. 5. If] Thus it is in Heb. as Ver. 14. ſo that Job ſpeaks doubtfully of it, as he well might. Accordingly it is ſi in the Tig. Bib. with thoſe of Pagn. Mont. and Caſtal. as alſo in Mercer's Com.

13. Oh that thou wouldeſt hide me in the Grave, conceal me till thy Anger turn away; wouldeſt ſet me a Decree, and remember me!

14. If a Man dies, ſhall he be made alive? All the Days of my Warfare will I wait, till my Change comes.

15. Thou mayeſt call, and I will anſwer thee: thou mayeſt long for the Work of thy Hands.

16. For now when thou counteſt up my Steps, doſt not thou watch for my Sin?

17. My Tranſgreſſion is ſealed in a Bag, and thou haſt ſewed up my Iniquity.

18. And ſurely the Mountain that falls does fade, and the Rock is removed from its Place;

19. The Waters beat the Stones ſmaller, thou overfloweſt the Things of it that grow of themſelves from the Mould of the Earth: ſo thou cauſeſt the Expectation of Man to periſh.

20. Thou prevaileſt over him perpetually, and he goes away; changeſt his Countenance, and ſendeſt him away.

21. His Children may be honoured, and he know it not; or diminiſhed, and he not underſtand concerning them:

22. But his Body is in grief for it ſelf, and his Soul for it ſelf does mourn.

CHAP. XV.

HOWEVER Eliphaz the Temanite made anſwer:

2. Will a wiſe Man anſwer with windy Knowledge, and fill his Belly with the Eaſt-wind?

3. Will he diſpute with a Speech that is of no advantage, and Words with which he does not profit?

4. Nay thou breakeſt off Fear, and abateſt Meditation before God.

5. For thy Mouth tells of thy Iniquity, and thou chooſeſt the Tongue of the Crafty.

6. Thy Mouth condemns thee, and not I; and thy own Lips teſtify againſt thee.

7. Waſt thou born the firſt Man, or formed before the Hills?

8. Doſt thou hear the Secret of God, and leſſen Wiſdom to thy ſelf?

9. What doſt thou know, and we do not; thou underſtand, and it is not with us?

10. Both the Grey and the very Aged are among us, of more numerous Days than thy Father.

11. Are the Comforts of God too little for thee, and is the Matter wrapt up with thee?

12. How does thy Heart take thee away, and how do thy Eyes aim;

13. That thou turneſt back thy Temper at God, and bringeſt ſuch Words out of thy Mouth?

14. What is Man that he ſhould be pure, and that he ſhould be righteous who is born of a Woman?

15. Lo he cannot give credit to his holy ones, and the Heavens are not clean in his Sight.

16. Much more abominable and filthy is a Man, who drinks down Iniquity as Water.

17. I will ſhew thee, hear me; ſince this I have ſeen, and will tell;

18. Which the Wiſe have declared from their Forefathers, and not concealed:

19. To whom alone the Earth was given, without a Stranger paſſing among them.

20. All the Days of the Wicked he is in anguiſh, and the Number of Years are hid to the Violent.

Ver. 13. Decree] I don't find it ſignify ſet time, which ſeems made from appointed time in the next Verſe.

Ver. 14. Warfare] the ſame as in Chap. vii. 1.

Ver. 15. call] for him by Death.

Ib. mayeſt long] viz. with Job's Conſent and Liking.

Ib. for] that is to take Job home to himſelf.

Ver. 17. ſealed]. to keep it ſafe againſt him.

Ver. 18. the Mountain] How much more Man! which is to me apparently the Meaning: yet here I find the Commentators at a loſs, and Patrick in his Method being forced to ſay Something, connects this with the latter Part of the next Ver. thus, Why therefore (ſince ſuch ſtrange and unexpected things come to paſs) may there not be ſome hope for miſerable Man? whereas it is not the having Hope, but the deſtroying it, which is there mentioned; and his beginning the Sentence with, Yet notwithſtanding the higheſt Mountains may fall, ſpoils that too.

Ib. that falls] by an Earthquake, here deſcribed.

Ib. fade] in its Verdure and Vegetables; the Heb. being thus.

Ib. the Rock] belonging to that Mountain.

Ver. 19. overfloweſt] I ſuppoſe with Water, but Patrick ſays with Duſt or Sand.

Ver. 20. changeſt his Countenance] by the Approach of Death.

Ver. 22. for it ſelf] the ſame both times.

Ver. 4. Meditation] This Word is ſo rendered, Pſa. cxix. 97, 99. which are the only Places of Scripture where it is beſides, and comes from the Verb meditate.

Ver. 5. tells of] by ſpeaking ſo perverſely. Thus by teach the ſame Verb is turned, Chap. xxxiii. 33. & xxxv. 11. theſe being all the Places where it occurs in this Conjug.

Ver. 7. Hills] As Poets uſe the Privilege of coining Epithets, to fill up the Meaſure of their Verſe; Duport in the Greek has μακρὰ, to be long Hills, but Hogey with a better Choice arduos, ſteep or lofty.

Ver. 11. too little] according to the Heb.

Ver. 12. how] the ſame repeated.

Ib. aim] ſo Buxtorf both in the Heb. and Chald. Lexicons, as likewiſe Jun. and Trem. have collimant, and Broughton aim; which ſeems to agree better with the Context than wink.

Ver. 15. holy ones] Angels as well as Saints.

Ver. 20. are hid] his Life being very uncertain, through the great Danger he is in. How foreign ſome expound it may be ſeen.

21. The

21. The Noiſe of Dread is in his Ears, that the Waſter will come to him in Peace.

22. He does not believe he ſhall turn back from Darkneſs, but that he is watched for the Sword.

23. He wanders about for Bread, ſaying, Where is it? He knows that the Day of Darkneſs is ready at his Hand.

24. Diſtreſs and Streightneſs terrify him; it prevails over him like a King prepared at a Battalion.

25. Becauſe he has ſtretched out his Hand againſt God, and ſtrengthened himſelf againſt the Almighty.

26. Who runs to him on the Neck, on the thick Knobs of his Bucklers.

27. Though he covered his Face with his Fat, and made a Fold upon the Flank.

28. And he dwells in Cities concealed, in Houſes that are uninhabited, which are ready to be Heaps.

29. He is not rich, nor does his Wealth riſe up; neither ſtretches he out the Compleatneſs of thoſe on the Earth.

30. He does not depart from Darkneſs, the Flame dries up his Branch; and he goes away by the Breath of his Mouth.

31. Let him not believe in Vanity who is led aſtray: for Vanity will be his Exchange.

32. It will be fulfilled when it is not his Day, and his Bough will not be green.

33. He will violently ſhake off his unripe Grape as the Vine, and cut off his Flower like the Olive.

34. For the Aſſembly of Hypocrites will be ſolitary, and Fire will conſume the Tents of Bribery:

35. Who conceiving Trouble, and bringing forth Vanity, their Belly alſo prepares Deceit.

CHAP. XVI.

YET Job made reply:

2. I have heard many ſuch Things as theſe: ye are troubleſome Comforters all of you.

3. Is there any End to windy Expreſſions? Or what makes thee ſo vehement that thou anſwereſt?

4. I could alſo talk like you, if your Soul was in the room of mine, could join together Words againſt you, and ſhake my Head at you.

5. Whereas I would ſtrengthen you with my Mouth, and the Moving of my Lips ſhould pacify.

6. If I ſpeak, my Grief is not aſſwaged; or ceaſe, what goes away from me?

7. But now he has made me weary: thou haſt cauſed all my Company to be deſolate.

8. Nay haſt made me ſhrivelled, which is a Witneſs; and it is riſen up, for my Failing teſtifies in my Face.

9. He tears in his Anger, and hates me, he gnaſhes at me with his Teeth: my Adverſary ſharpens his Eyes towards me.

Ver. 21. Dread] So Homer in one Verſe, Odyſ. xiv. 88.

Καὶ μὲν τοῖς ὄπιδος κρατερὸν δέος ἐν φρεσὶ πίπτει,

And indeed a ſtrong Dread of Vengeance falls on the Minds. by Pope,

Ev'n theſe, when of their ill-got Spoils poſſeſs'd,
Find ſure Tormentors in the guilty Breaſt;
Some Voice of God cloſe whiſp'ring from within,
"Wretch! this is Villainy, and this is Sin."

Ver. 22. turn back from Darkneſs] which he finds he is going into, Ver. 23. It being return out of in com. Tranſ. Patrick puts it to be killed in the Night.

Ver. 23. at his Hand] Grey by ſeveral Alterations, though he boaſts of but one Letter, turns it into this Shape, He knows that his Deſtruction is ready; the Day of Darkneſs will terrify him: Diſtreſs and Streightneſs will prevail over him; but the laſt Verb being ſingular wanted alſo to be altered, and who can really think all this was done? But that Writer pretends he could not make the Hebrew to be Metre as now; when he might perhaps as well as ſome of the reſt, ſince he breaks over Verſes and Periods for it, Ch. xiv. 4. & xxxiii. 27. & xxxiv. 7. and admits of half Feet or odd Syllables, with Variety and Mixture, Annot. on Ch. iii. 3.

Ver. 24. it] or this, viz. the whole.

Ver. 25. Becauſe] the ſame Particle that begins Ver. 27. which Jun. and Broughton ſo render.

Ver. 26. Who] as the Tig. Verſ. and Patrick connect it: for that the wicked Man ſhould do thus to God, as the com. Tranſ. ſeems to read, and Poole interprets it, is ſhocking.

Ib. Neck] ſee the next Chap. v. 12.

Ver. 27. covered] by living luxuriouſly.

Ver. 28. concealed] The ſame Ver. 18. Ch. xxvii. 11. & vi. 10. & xx. 12. and never ſignifying deſolate, though ſometimes cut off; but I think the former ſuits beſt with the Context, and the like Deſcription of ſuch, Ch. xxx. 3, 6. and as Arabian Robbers. Patrick imagines he that is here ſpoken of laid the Cities deſolate, and drove out the Owners, letting the Houſes run to ruin; but do Conquerors do ſo, and dwell in ſuch Places?

Ver. 29. riſe up] He is not rich, nor does he get rich; but Patrick from continue makes him rich already, contrary to Ver. 23, 28.

Ib. thoſe] the Cities and Houſes, Ver. 28.

Ver. 30. his Mouth] God's, Ver. 25.

Ver. 31. Exchange] He ſhall exchange one Vanity for another, Poole's Annot. the ſame Word as in Chap. xxviii. 17. Lev. xxvii. 10, 33. Ruth iv. 7. from its Root to change or exchange, never recompence.

Ver. 34. Fire will conſume the Tents of Bribery] In Pierce Plowman's Viſion, P. 2.

That fyre ſhal fal and brenne all to blo aſhes
The houſes and homes, of hem that deſyreth
Giftes of yeres giftes, becauſe of her offices.

Ver. 6. goes away from me] thus the Original is. Broughton will go from me.

Ver. 7. he] Grey ſuppoſes Something wanting for this; but why any more than with thou?

Ver. 8. it is riſen up, for my Failing teſtifies in my Face] ſo the Heb. literally; while for being left out, the com. Tranſ. has it perverted.

Ver. 9. he] my Adverſary, as follows, one of thoſe ſpoken of in the next Verſe.

10. They

10. They gape at me with their Mouth, they ſtrike me on the Cheek with Reproach, they fill themſelves together againſt me.

11. God has delivered me up to the Unjuſt, and turned me aſide into the Power of the Wicked.

12. I was quiet, but he breaks me aſunder, and taking hold of me by the Neck, ſcatters me; as alſo ſets me up for his Mark.

13. His Archers come round about againſt me, he cuts my Reins aſunder, and does not ſpare; he pours out my Gall on the Ground.

14. He breaks me down with one Breach atop of another; he runs upon me as a powerful one.

15. I ſew Sackcloth upon my Skin, and exerciſe my Horn in the Duſt;

16. My Face is diſordered by weeping, and upon my Eye-lids is the Shadow of Death:

17. For no Violence that is in my Hands; and my Prayer is pure.

18. O Earth, do not cover my Blood, and let there be no Place for my Cry!

19. Even now behold my Witneſs is in Heaven, and my Evidence in the Heights.

20. My Friends being my Deriders, my Eye drops Tears to God;

21. And reaſons for the Man with God, as a Perſon for his Friend.

22. For a few Years are come, and I muſt go in the Path where I ſhall not return.

CHAP. XVII.

MY Breath is corrupted, my Days are extinguiſhed, the Graves are for me.

2. Are there not Mockers with me; in whoſe Provokings my Eye abides?

3. Put now, engage me with thee: who is it will give me his Hand?

4. For thou haſt hid their Heart from Underſtanding, therefore doſt thou not lift up.

5. The Eyes of his Children will fail, who ſpeaks Flattery to Friends.

6. Thus he ſets me up for a Proverb of the People; whereas before I was like a Timbrel.

7. My Eye alſo is dim becauſe of Indignation, and my Members are all of them as a Shadow.

8. The upright ones will be aſtoniſhed at this, and the Innocent will exert himſelf againſt the Hypocrite.

9. The Righteous too will keep in his Way, and he that is of clean Hands will increaſe in Strength.

10. And indeed return, all thoſe, and come now; and I ſhall not find a wiſe Man among you.

11. My Days are paſſed away, my Intentions are plucked off, the Poſſeſſions of my Heart.

12. They put Night for Day, Light being near by reaſon of Darkneſs.

13. If I ſhould wait, the Grave will be my Houſe, I ſhall make my Bed in Darkneſs.

14. To the Pit I may cry out, Thou art my Father; to the Worm, my Mother and Siſter.

15. And where is now my Expectation? As for that, who will take notice of it?

Ver. 10. fill themſelves] with what is evil, as the Heb. is ſo.

Ver. 13. cuts my Reins aſunder] by their Shooting, the 2d Part of the ſame Allegory, as Schult. remarks, yet tranſlates it plough, referring to Pſa. 129.

Ver. 15. exerciſe] as the Heb. is; and in the Duſt or Ground, inſtead of holding it up (a Metaphor from horned Cattle) and exerciſing it there.

Ver. 18. Blood] Let me not die concealed, without an open and fair Trial, when I have ſo good Evidence of my Side as God himſelf, to whom I cry; according to the following Verſes, and Ch. xix. 23, 24. I cannot reconcile myſelf to the Expoſition of others, that Job meant, If I have murdered any one, let the Earth diſcloſe it; it being very ſtrange to call ſuch his Blood, and to break out into ſuch a vehement Exclamation about what he was not charged with; againſt which ſee Mercer. Com. Patrick paraphraſes it, If this be not true, Let my bloud be left to the Dogs to lick when I am dead; but it is much more natural to take it ſpoken as that was true, like Ch. xxi. 4. the contrary being alſo mentioned when it is ſo, as Ch. ix. 24. and how did Job expect to die by ſhedding his Blood?

Ib. be no Place for my Cry] to conceal it, as in the Earth.

Ver. 21. And] being the very common Heb. Conjunction, no Interjection.

Ib. the Man] Job made his Addreſs to God, and reaſoned for himſelf, by weeping.

Ver. 22. are come, and] agreeable to the next Verſe: Brought. be arrived, and. Surely Job did not think he ſhould live ſome Years.

Ver. 2. Eye abides] by ſeeing them.

Ver. 3. thee] Somebody that would be engaged on his behalf, ſuch a one as had Underſtanding, which God had hid from thoſe his Friends, Ver. 4, 10.

Ver. 5. fail] in looking for Friendſhip, becauſe their Father has only a deceitful Pretence to it.

Ib. Flattery] intimating that thoſe Freinds held together againſt him, by flattering one another, as Ver. 2. he terms them Mockers.

Ver. 6. he ſets] viz. the ſame that flatters, that is each of his three Friends.

Ib. like a Timbrel] pleaſant and agreeable to the People, as in Ch. xxix. not according to Patrick, the vulgar paſtime.

Ver. 10. thoſe] mentioned Ver. 2, 4. and ſingularly Ver. 5, 8. as the Pronoun is not you; ſo 1 King. xxii. 28.

Ver. 12. put Night for Day] by depriving him of Reſt, and by Light as follows.

Ib. Light being near] a Candle, Lamp, or Fire, in his Illneſs. The Heb. ſignifies near, not ſhort; and what proper Senſe does the latter make, eſpecially concurrent with that before which is ſpoken of Night, without [and] after, for Something elſe?

Ver. 14. Pit] as Foveam moſtly by the Lat. Tranſlators, the Heb. ſignifying either this or Corruption.

16. They will go down to the Bars of the Grave, when there is deſcending together into the Mould.

CHAP. XVIII.

NOW Bildad the Shuhite made anſwer:

2. How long will ye be putting an End to the Words? Ye ſhould conſider, that we are to ſpeak after.

3. Why are we thought like Beaſts, are defiled in your Sight?

4. Shall the Earth be forſaken for thee, one that tears himſelf in his Anger, and the Rock be removed away from its Place?

5. Even the Light of the Wicked is quenched, and the Spark of his Fire does not ſhine.

6. The Light is dark in his Tent, and his Lamp is extinguiſhed in it.

7. The Steps of his Strength are ſtreightened, and his own Counſel caſts him down:

8. For he is ſent into a Net by his Feet, and walks about upon a Brake.

9. The Gin takes hold of the Heel, the horrid one prevails over him.

10. A Line for him is hid in the Earth, and a Trap for him in the Path.

11. Terrors frighten him round about, and drive him away on his Feet.

12. In his Strength he is hungry, and Calamity is prepared at his Side.

13. It conſumes the Limbs of his Skin, the Firſt-born of Death conſumes his Limbs.

14. His Confidence is plucked away from his Tent, and makes him march to the King of Terrors.

15. It dwells in his Tent, though not his own; Brimſtone is ſcattered upon his Habitation.

16. His Roots are dried up from below, and his Branch is lopped off from above.

17. His Remembrance periſhes from the Earth, and he has no Name upon the Surface of the Street.

18. They thruſt him away from Light to Darkneſs, and remove him from the World.

19. He has neither Son nor Grandſon among his People, nor any Remainder in his Lodgings.

20. The latter ones are aſtoniſhed at his Day, and the former take hold of Horror.

21. Verily theſe are the Dwellings of the Unjuſt, and this is the Place of him who knows not God.

CHAP. XIX.

UPON this Job made reply:

2. How long will you make my Soul ſorrowful, and bruiſe me with Words?

3. Theſe ten Times have you put me to confuſion: you are not aſhamed that you are hardened towards me.

4. And moreover had I indeed erred, my Error would abide with my ſelf.

5. If you will indeed magnify your ſelves againſt me, and plead againſt me my Reproach;

6. Know now that God overthrows me, and comes about againſt me with his Hunting-net.

7. Behold I cry, Violence; but am unanſwered: I cry out, but there is no Judgment.

8. He hedges up my Way, ſo that I cannot paſs, and puts Darkneſs in my Paths.

Ver. 16. They] others who might take notice of it, as I think, rather than hopes.

Ver. 2. you] others of the Company preſent (which Beza ſays it is manifeſt there were, by very many Places of this Diſputation, and divers probable Circumſtances, and ſo Patrick ſays) who might ſhew themſelves to be of Job's Side; by the Superiority of his Speeches by the Sight and Conſideration of his miſerable Condition (at which they would ſcarce be ſo hard-hearted as thoſe Friends) and by the Knowledge of his former good Life (which Eliphaz, &c. as diſtant Dwellers, might be more unacquainted with, and ſo more ſuſpicious of) and ſome might have ſpoken for Job, though the chief Speeches only are recorded.

Ver. 5. quenched] This and the following in the preſent Tenſe have likewiſe Jun. and Trem. with Caſtal. as the more proper Reading, and according to Ver. 21. The Heb. having no preſent Tenſe, denotes it either by the paſt or future; and that this was intended here, rather than either of them, may appear by the uſing both thoſe Tenſes promiſcuouſly, is dark, being preterite in Heb. and the great Argument of Job's Friends is, that God now puniſhes the Wicked, as Chap. ix. 8, 9. and v. 4, 5, 12, 13, 14. and xv. 20, 21, 22, 23. as his is the contrary, Ch. ix. 24. & xii. 6.

Ver. 8. Brake] into which he is liable to fall, and be pricked with the Thorns. The Nouns of this Kind are commonly turned thicket in the preſ. Tranſ. and never ſignify ſnare; it is very different too from that rendered ſo Ver. 10.

Ver. 13. Limbs] thus the Heb. and plural; otherwiſe Branches or Members, not Strength, nor the ſame as in Ver. 7. 12.

Ver. 15. It] Calamity, Ver. 12. Patrick makes as if it was he that dwells there after him; to mention which is enough.

Ib. own] So Caſtalio elegantly, Habitat in ejus Tabernaculo non ſuus.

Ver. 20. are] not future.

Ver. 3. are hardened] ſo Montan. indurati eritis, Jun. and Trem. obſirmatis vos, as Brought. in Eng. harden your ſelves. The Eng. Tranſ. is made from a wrong Verb נכר inſtead of the right הכר

Ver. 5. Reproach] poor miſerable and reproachful Condition, as Broughton turns it wretched caſe.

Ver. 6. Know] Conſider it is God does theſe Things to me.

9. He ſtrips off my Glory from me, and takes away the Crown of my Head.

10. He breaks me down round about, ſo that I am going away; and removes my Expectation as a Tree.

11. Nay he is angry with me, and reckons me to him like his Enemies.

12. His Troops come together, and caſt up their Way againſt me, encamping round about at my Tent.

13. He removes far from me my Brethren, and verily thoſe who know me are alienated from me.

14. My Neighbours leave me off, and my Acquaintance forget me.

15. The Sojourners of my Houſe and my Servant-maids reckon me for a Stranger: I am a Foreigner in their Sight.

16. I call to my Servant, and he does not anſwer; I muſt beſeech him with my Mouth.

17. My Breath is become ſtrange to my Wife, though I am pitying the Children of my Body.

18. Even Children deſpiſe me: when I riſe up, they ſpeak againſt me.

19. All the Men that conſulted with me abhor me, and thoſe whom I loved are turned againſt me.

20. My Bone cleaves to my Skin and Fleſh; and I eſcape with the Skin of my Teeth.

21. Pity me, pity me, you my Friends: for the Hand of God reaches to me.

22. Why do ye perſecute me as God, and are not ſatisfied with my Fleſh?

23. Oh that my Words were now written! oh that they were penned down in a Book!

24. That with a Pen of Iron and Lead, they were engraved in the Rock for ever!

25. However I know my Redeemer lives, and will ſtand up at laſt upon the Earth.

26. And when after my Skin they have deſtroyed this, out of my Fleſh ſhall I behold God:

27. Whom I ſhall behold for my ſelf, nay my own Eyes have ſeen, and not a Stranger's; my Reins being conſumed in my Body.

28. Though you ſay, How do we perſecute him? Yet the Root of the Matter is found in me.

29. Be afraid your ſelves by reaſon of the Sword, for there is Wrath of Iniquities for the Sword; that you may know what is Judgment.

CHAP. XX.

AGAIN Zophar the Naamathite made anſwer:

2. Therefore my Sentiments make me reply, becauſe they haſten me in my ſelf.

3. I hear the Correction of my Shame, and the Spirit cauſes me to anſwer from my Underſtanding.

4. Doſt thou know this was for ever, ſince Man was placed upon the Earth;

Ver. 15. Sojourners] The Heb. is properly ſo; and doubtleſs his Maids dwelt in his Houſe, whom theſe are diſtinguiſhed from. I account for their Behaviour thus to Job, by their misliking the good Order kept in his Houſe, and ſo much Entertainment of poor People and Strangers, Ch. xxxi. 16—20, 31, 32.

Ver. 17. though] even when I am pitying the Children that we have loſt, which might bring her into a Nearneſs with me, if any Thing would.

Ib. pitying] That this Verb ſignifies in the Conjug. Kal to be gracious or to pity, and in Hithpahel to beſeech, is certain and determined; the former of which is in Ver. 21. and the latter in Ver. 16. of this very Chap. with the ſame Word here between them in Kal, as thoſe in Ver. 21. Who then could have at all doubted which Meaning this muſt have, only it ſeems the other made a readier though wrong Senſe, as Truth will ſometimes lie deeper than Error. But ſince this Signification admits of ſuch good Senſe, it may be pronounced true to Demonſtration; it being unaccountable, and abſurd to be the contrary.

Ver. 19. that conſulted with me] Heb. of my Counſel.

Ver. 20. Skin of my Teeth] Patr. a Mouth to complain withal; too much refined! and that might be ſome Eaſe to him: better his Gums reduced to Skin.

Ver. 22. as God] as if you had Authority over me like him.

Ver. 23. penned down] Printing being long after invented.

Ver. 24. of Iron and Lead] to be hard and heavy, to make deep Strokes.

Ver. 26. Skin] already conſumed by the Boils, Chap. ii. 7.

Ib. they have deſtroyed this] or this is deſtroyed.

Ib. this] Fleſh as follows, which he might then point to; the Skin being Part of the Body.

Ib. out of] which the Heb. is, and not in; and where was this but in Heaven, when his Soul was gone out of his Body? According to the next Verſe likewiſe. Thus the Tigur. Verſ. has e carne mea, out of my Fleſh; Caſtal. ex meo corpore, out of my Body; Pagn. Montan. and Munſt. de carne mea, from my Fleſh. Moreover God ſeems here diſtinguiſhed from the Redeemer Chriſt Jeſus.

Ver. 27. have ſeen] So the Heb. and being different from the foregoing, require to be ſo taken.

Ver. 28. Though] This is not the common Conjunction for and or but.

Ib. Root] the right Principle of Religion and Virtue; ſo that their hard Treatment of him was Perſecution, though they pretended otherwiſe.

Ver. 29. Wrath] which thoſe Friends of his had againſt him.

Ib. Iniquities] that which the Original Word ſignifies.

Ver. 2. Therefore] For this thy ſevere Sentence and Denunciation of God's Judgments againſt us, Chap. xix. 29. Poole.

Ver. 3. hear] from Job.

Ib. Shame] in the foregoing Speech, Ver. 2, 3, 5, 19, 22, 29.

Ib. from] or out of.

Ver. 4. Doſt thou know] as the Original is, and Lew. de Dieu would have it turned, to ſignify thou doſt not know; or perhaps rather thou ſeemeſt not to know.

Ib. was] For he cannot ſpeak of Job's knowing it then.

5. That

5. That the Mirth of the Wicked is ſoon over, and the Joy of the Hypocrite for a Moment?

6. If his Excellency aſcend to the Heavens, and his Head reach to the Clouds:

7. He periſhes eternally like his own Dung; thoſe who have ſeen him ſay, Where is he?

8. He flies away as a Dream, ſo that they do not find him, and is fled like a Viſion of the Night.

9. The Eye that has looked on him does ſo no more, nor obſerves him any more in his Place.

10. His Children pleaſe the Poor, and his Hands reſtore his Subſtance.

11. His Bones being full of his youthful Things, they lie down with him in the Mould.

12. Though Wickedneſs be ſweet in his Mouth, though he conceal it under his Tongue;

13. Should he ſpare it, ſo that he will not forſake it, but with-hold it within his Palate:

14. His Bread in his Bowels is turned, it is the Gall of Aſps within him.

15. He having ſwallowed down Wealth, vomits it up; God expels it out of his Belly.

16. He ſucks the Poiſon of Aſps; the Tongue of the Viper ſlays.

17. He does not ſee the Streams, the Rivers, the Floods of Honey and Butter.

18. He reſtores what he laboured for, and ſwallows not down; according to the Wealth his Retribution is, and he does not rejoice:

19. Becauſe he has oppreſſed, forſaken the Poor, has taken away a Houſe, which he did not build.

20. For he knows no Quiet in his Infide, does not eſcape by what is pleaſing in him.

21. There is Nothing left of his Food; therefore his Welfare cannot remain.

22. When his Sufficiency is fulleſt, he is ſtreightened; every Hand of the Troubleſome comes on him.

23. Being about to fill his Belly, God ſends on him his fervent Anger; and rains it upon him at his Meat.

24. He fleeing from the Armour of Iron, the Bow of Steel ſtrikes him through.

25. It is drawn forth, and comes out of the Body, as the glittering Thing does out of his Gall: Terrors are upon him.

26. All Darkneſs is hid at his ſecret Places, a Fire not blown conſumes him: it is ill with him who is remaining in his Tent.

27. The Heaven reveals his Iniquity, and the Earth raiſes up it ſelf at him.

28. He diſcovers the Increaſe of his Houſe, the Things that flow away in the Day of his Anger.

29. This is the Portion of a wicked Man from God, and what his Sayings poſſeſs from him.

CHAP. XXI.

NEVERTHELESS Job made reply:

2. Hear attentively my Speech, and let this be your Comforts.

3. Bear with me, that I may ſpeak; and after my Words thou mayeſt mock.

4. As for me, is my Muſing to Man? And if it were, why ſhould not my Spirit ſhrink?

5. Look at me, and be aſtoniſhed; and put the Hand upon the Mouth.

6. Even if I do but remember, I am troubled, Quaking ſeizes my Fleſh.

7. Why do the Wicked live, become old, are alſo powerful in Ability?

8. Their Poſterity is eſtabliſhed in their Preſence with them, and their Offspring in their Sight.

9. Their Houſes are in Peace from Dread, and the Rod of God is not upon them.

Ver. 10. His Children pleaſe the Poor] not with another Verb for ſeek.

Ver. 20. For] a Cauſal Conjunction anſwering to not rejoice, Ver. 18.

Ib. eſcape] not ſave.

Ver. 21. Welfare] or Good, not Goods, and has Nothing to make it the Accuſ. Caſe or Object of the Verb.

Ib. remain] as both in Buxtorf's Lexic. and Concord. and likewiſe Jun. and Trem. render it manet; Caſtal. durat, endures; in the Vulg. Lat. it is permanebit, ſhall remain, in the Tig. Bib. with the Adverb inſtabile eſt, is unſtable; Brought. tranſlates it continue.

Ver. 25. does] Schultens and Grey conſtrue this, though ſingular, with Terrors.

Ver. 28. diſcovers] that which he has concealed, being wrongfully gotten: it is the ſame Verb as in the foregoing Verſe, which it is ſtrange ſhould be thus uſed in a quite different Senſe; and that Increaſe is not the Nominative Caſe or Subject may appear, becauſe Things that flow away cannot, being plural, when the Verb is ſingular.

Ib. Things that flow away] For this is a Participle, and not a Verb ſhall flow away, which would alſo want a Subject and Conjunction, as may be ſeen by our Tranſlators adding and his goods; at which Rate one might make many ſtrange Meanings to the Scripture.

Ib. his Anger] God's.

Ver. 29. what his Sayings poſſeſs] Heb. the Poſſeſſion of his Saying, thus reflecting on Job for his.

Ver. 2. your Comforts] viz. the Comfort which Job required of them, ſince they would give him no other, Ver. 34.

Ver. 4. Muſing to Man] to find Relief thence; ſee alſo Ch. x. 1.

Ib. ſhrink] Heb. be ſhortened.

Ver. 6. Quaking] Schult. minded to be contrary, makes this the Object, though ſtanding unaptly in the Original, and my Fleſh the Subject.

10. His Bull engenders, and does not loath: his Cow calves, and does not caſt its Calf.

11. They ſend forth their Children as a Flock, and thoſe who are born of them dance.

12. They join with the Timbrel and Harp, and rejoice at the Sound of the Organ.

13. They ſpend their Days in Proſperity, and in a Moment go down to the Grave.

14. Who ſay to God; Depart from us, for we deſire not the Knowledge of thy Ways.

15. What is the Almighty, that we ſhould ſerve him? And what ſhall we profit, for us to intercede with him?

16. Their Proſperity indeed is not in their own Power; the Counſel of the Wicked is far from me.

17. How often is the Lamp of the Wicked put out? And their Calamity comes upon them: he diſtributes Torments in his Anger.

18. They are as Straw before the Wind, and like Chaff that the Whirlwind ſteals away.

19. God lays up his Iniquity for his Children; he will recompenſe him, which he ſhall know.

20. His Eyes ſhall ſee his Deſtruction, and he ſhall drink of the Wrath of the Almighty.

21. For what will be his Delight in his Houſe after him, when the Number of his Months are cut off?

22. Shall any teach God Knowledge? ſince he judges thoſe who are high.

23. One dies in his perfect Strength, being altogether ſtill and quiet.

24. His Veſſels are full of Milk, and he is moiſtened with the Marrow of his Bones.

25. And another dies with a bitter Mind, and does not eat with Comfort.

26. They lie down together in the Mould, and the Worms cover them over.

27. Behold I am not ignorant of your Thoughts, and the Devices that ye uſe violently againſt me.

28. For ye ſay, Where is the Houſe of the Nobleman? And where is the Tent at the Dwelling-places of the Wicked?

29. Have ye not aſked thoſe who paſs along the Way? And do not ye know their Signs?

30. That the wicked one is kept back to the Day of Calamity, they ſhall be brought to the Day of Indignation?

31. Who declares his Way to his Face? And who recompenſes him for what he does?

32. Yet he is brought to the Graves, and is careful for the Tomb.

33. The Clods of the Valley are ſweet to him, and all Mankind draw after him; as there were thoſe out of Number before him.

34. And how do ye comfort me with Vanity, when there is falſe Dealing left in your Replies?

CHAP. XXII.

WITH that Eliphaz the Temanite made anſwer:

2. Is a Man advantageous to God, becauſe one of Underſtanding is ſo to others?

Ver. 10. loath] the Cow, the Verb never ſignifying faileth.

Ver. 12. join] Heb. lift up, i. e. pedes vel vocem, their Feet or Voice, ſays the Margin of the Tig. Bib. which has in the Text, ducunt choros, they lead the Dances; and Pagn. tranſlates Elevabunt vocem, they will lift up the Voice; Jun. & Trem. vociferantur, bawl out; Caſtal. perſonant, ſound up; there being with in Heb.

Ver. 13. go down] The Root נחת but pointed as if from רתת are broke at, the Reaſon of which Pointing Buxtorf aſſigns, Gram. L. C. 17. but it is miſtakenly placed to the latter in the Concord.

Ver. 14. Who] ſo Jun. as aptly, as Therefore is unapt.

Ver. 15. that] the ſame both times in Heb. as here in Eng.

Ver. 16. indeed] This and the following Job grants, as it ſeems, by way of Exception to his main Argument of the Proſperity of the Wicked, as Ch. xxvii. 13, &c. For thoſe who take it another Way, and that How often ſignifies very ſeldom, which Jun. and Trem. accordingly add to Ver. 18, 19, 20. allow the ſame.

Ver. 18. as Straw] which does not remain long in the ſame Place.

Ver. 21. Delight] if his Children ſhould do well afterwards: for Ver. 19. ſeems to mean their Suffering for him while he lives, that it may be a Recompence to him.

Ver. 23. altogether ſtill and quiet] The being ſtill, &c. muſt be ſuppoſed before the Approach or Coming of Death.

Ver. 28. ye ſay] according to Chap. xx. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, & xviii. 14, 15, 16, 17, 21. & xv. 34. & viii. 18. & v. 3.

Ver. 29. Have ye] Job aſking theſe Queſtions by way of Anſwer to theirs.

Ib. paſs] ſuch as go about, and are acquainted in the World.

Ib. their Signs] they can tell what fine Houſes and brave Eſtates wicked Perſons have; ſee Blackmore's Poetical Paraphraſe.

Ver. 30. kept back] not puniſhed now.

Ib. they] Grey would have this be he, and the next Verſe begin with And, by taking Advantage of this Verſe ending with the ו ſo that he would have his metrical Lines ſtand good, one ſhortened, and the other lengthened, a Syllable each. But what Violation is this!

Ver. 31. his Way] that of the Wicked; q. d. who reproves him for his Way of living?

Ver. 32. Graves] as Chap. xvii. 1. meaning the Wicked dies a natural Death, and is not recompenſed as he deſerves by a violent one, Ver. 31. which Senſe is perverted by Yet in the com. Tranſ.

Ib. is careful] thus Jun. and Trem. have turned it aſſiduus eſt; nor does it ſignify remain in any other Place, or by Buxtorf's Lexic. nay ſuch a Meaning ſeems uſeleſs, and beſides the Drift of Job's Diſcourſe, here.

Ib. for the Tomb] to have it made fine and grand.

Ver. 33. are ſweet] he lies quiet in his Sepulchre without any Injury. It is the preterperf. Tenſe, of which ſee Chap. xviii. 5.

Ver. 2. others] Heb. them, as Ver. 17, 19. ſo the Chald. עֲלֵיהוֹן

3. Is it a Delight to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? Or is it Gain, that thou makeſt thy Ways perfect?

4. Will he for fear of thee reaſon with thee, enter with thee into Judgment?

5. Is not thy Wickedneſs much, and there no End to thy Iniquities?

6. For thou haſt received in pawn of thy Brother without cauſe, and pulled off the Garments of the Naked.

7. Thou haſt not made the Faint drink Liquor, but haſt with-held Victuals from the Hungry.

8. Whereas the Man of Power had the Country, and he who was of a reſpected Face dwelt in it.

9. Thou haſt ſent the Widows away empty, and the Arms of the Fatherleſs have been bruiſed.

10. Therefore Snares are round about thee, and Dread troubles thee ſuddenly.

11. Or Darkneſs, ſo that thou canſt not ſee, and Abundance of Water covers thee.

12. Is not God at the Height of the Heaven, and ſees the Top of the Stars, though they are high?

13. So thou ſayeſt, How does God know? Can he judge becauſe of Obſcurity?

14. The thick Clouds are a Hiding-place to him, inſomuch that he does not ſee; and he walks about the Compaſs of the Heaven.

15. Haſt thou obſerved the ancient Path, in which the Perſons of Iniquity went?

16. Who were ſhrivelled when it was not the Time, the Flood was poured forth on their Foundation.

17. That ſaid to God, Depart from us: and what ſhould the Almighty do for them?

18. However he filled their Houſes with Good; but the Counſel of the Wicked is far from me.

19. The Righteous ſeeing, are glad; and the Innocent derides them.

20. Though our Subſtance was cut off; yet the reſt of them the Fire conſumed.

21. Be uſed now to him, and have Peace: by thoſe Things will Good come to thee.

22. Receive now the Law from his Mouth, and put his Sayings in thy Heart.

23. If thou returneſt to the Almighty, thou wilt be built up, thou wilt remove Iniquity far from thy Tents.

24. Thus lay up the choiceſt Gold which is among the Duſt, and that of Ophir in the Rock of the Floods.

25. Nay the Almighty will be thy choiceſt Gold, and very ſtrengthening Silver to thee.

26. For then wilt thou delight thy ſelf in the Almighty, and lift up thy Face to God.

27. Thou wilt make ſupplication to him, and he will hear thee; and wilt perform thy Vows.

28. When thou alſo doſt decree a Matter, it will be confirmed to thee; and the Light will ſhine upon thy Ways.

29. Though People may put down, yet thou wilt ſay, There is Exaltation; and he will ſave him who has a dejected Look.

30. He will deliver the Iſle of the Innocent; and it ſhall be delivered by the Pureneſs of thy Hands.

CHAP. XXIII.

JOB notwithſtanding made reply:

2. Even now my Diſcourſe is Rebellion, my Hand is heavy for my Sighing.

Ver. 4. reaſon] as Job had deſired, Chap. xiii. 3. where the ſame Verb. is uſed; reprove being alſo inconſiſtent with for fear of.

Ver. 6. without cauſe] How could it poſſibly be for nought, unleſs the Gain or Intereſt only be meant? And then the Action would be generous, inſtead of faulty. In ſhort that ſeems compleat Nonſenſe.

Ver. 8. the Man of Power] meaning probably Job himſelf.

Ver. 11. Or] By adding two Letters at the End, or a Word after, Grey would have it thy Light, to which he would alſo put a Letter before for And.

Ver. 14. about the Compaſs] too far from hence.

Ver. 15. Haſt] Eliphaz anſwers to the ſuppoſed Saying of Job.

Ver. 16. ſhrivelled] by being drowned and lying in the Water, which they would not have been otherwiſe but by Age, ſo that it was before the Time: this Word is found beſides only in Chap. xvi. 8.

Ib. on their Foundation] ſo tranſlate Jun. and Trem. with Pagn. the Heb. Word ſignifying poured forth, not overflown.

Ver. 17. Depart from us] Young with Exceſs of Wit ſays, To the Scandal of the Antediluvians be it ſpoken, there were Britiſh Iniquities before the Flood, The Cent. not. Fab. L. 2.

Ver. 29. put down] active, being the Conjug. Hiphil; ſo Patrick's Paraphraſe drops, of Job praying to God to lift up others in a low Condition.

Ver. 30. the Iſle of] Grey by the Addition of a Letter is, with ſome others, for it to be him that is not; but Iſle, ſignifying little Place, appears to make better Senſe.

Ver. 2. Even now] when he was in ſuch Affliction, that Allowance in ſpeaking might well be granted him.

Ib. Rebellion] eſteemed ſo; and Brought. renders is holden a Rebellion: the ſame Word with this Meaning is in Prov. xvii. 11. Iſa. xxx. 9. and ſeveral Places in Ezek. but no where ſignifying bitter, as may be ſeen by the Heb. Concordance.

Ib. Hand] as the Heb. is, for Reſiſtance; but that it ſhould ſignify a Stroke received is unaccountable.

3. Oh

3. Oh that I knew how I might find him! I would come to his prepared Place.

4. I would ſet in order the Judgment before him, and fill my Mouth with Reaſonings.

5. I would know the Words he would anſwer me, and underſtand what he would ſay to me.

6. Would he contend with me in a great deal of Power? No, but he would put that in me.

7. There the Upright might reaſon with him: and I ſhould be delivered for ever from my Judge.

8. (Behold I may go forward, and he is not there; or backward, and not perceive him;

9. To the left Hand when he works, yet I cannot behold; he is covered over at the right Hand, ſo that I cannot ſee.)

10. For he knows the Way that is with me: when I am tried, I ſhall come forth like Gold.

11. My Foot has held his Step; I have kept his Way, and not turned aſide.

12. I have not departed from the Commandment of his Lips; I have laid up the Sayings of his Mouth more than my appointed Food.

13. But he is the ſame, and who can turn him back? And when his Soul deſires, he acts.

14. For he renders my appointed Food; and many ſuch Things as theſe are with him.

15. Therefore am I troubled by reaſon of him: I conſider, and am in dread by him.

16. For God makes my Heart tender, and the Almighty troubles me.

17. For I am neither cut off from the Face of the Darkneſs, nor has he covered what is dark from my Face.

CHAP. XXIV.

WHY, if Times are not hid by the Almighty, and Men know him, do they not ſee his Days?

2. Some remove the Bounds, take away the Flock by force, and feed.

3. They lead away the Aſs of the Fatherleſs, take the Ox of the Widow in pawn.

4. They turn aſide the Needy from the Way; the Poor of the Earth are hid together.

5. So like wild Aſſes in the Wilderneſs they go forth in their Work, ſeeking early for the Prey; the Deſart, being Food for each of them, is for the Children.

6. They reap their reſpective Provender in the Field, and pick in the Vintage of the Wicked.

7. They make the Naked lodge without Cloathing, and with no Covering in the Cold:

8. Who are wet by the overflowing Storms of the Mountains, and embrace the Rock by being without Shelter.

9. They take away the Fatherleſs from the Breaſt by force, and receive what the Poor has on in pawn.

10. They cauſe to go naked without Cloathing, and take away the Sheaf of the hungry ones:

11. Who make Oil within their Walls; tread the Wine-preſſes, and are thirſty.

12. Men groan from the City, and the

Ib. heavy] eſteemed ſo, as before.

Ver. 6. the Wicked] themſelves, wickedly ſeizing another's Vineyard for their own.

Ver. 8. Who] as in Ver. 11. and it is plainer here than there.

Ver. 9. has on] viz. the Cloaths, contrary to Deut. xxiv. 17. ſo our Language nicely anſwers to the Heb. ſee alſo Jun.

Ver. 11. their] the wicked Oppreſſors, who would not let ſuch drink the Wine as made it for them.

Soul

Soul of the pierced ones cries out; yet God does not lay it to being indiſcreet.

13. They are among thoſe who rebel againſt the Light, they know not the Ways of it, nor abide in its Paths.

14. The Murderer riſing up with the Light, kills the Poor and Needy; and in the Night is like a Thief.

15. And the Adulterer watches with his Eye for the Twilight, ſaying, No Eye obſerves me; putting withal a Maſk on his Face.

16. Each digs through the Houſes, in Darkneſs, they have marked for themſelves by Day; they being unacquainted with the Light.

17. For the Morning is to them the Shadow of Death together; for each knows the Terrors of the Shadow of Death.

18. Each being light atop of the Water, their Portion will be curſed on the Earth; will not behold the Way of the Vineyards.

19. Dryneſs, as well as Heat, will take away the Snow-water by force; the Grave thoſe who ſin.

20. The Womb will forget each of them, the Worm be ſweet on him, he will be remembred no more; and Iniquity will be broke like a Tree.

21. He aſſociates with the Barren who bears not, and does not well for the Widow.

22. And he draws the Strong by his Might: when he riſes up, there is no Belief of Life.

23. Confidence is permitted to him, ſo that he depends on it: however the Eyes of One are upon their Ways.

24. They are lifted up a little while, then are gone, and are impoveriſhed, ſhut up as all are; and are cut off as the Top of an Ear of Corn.

25. And if not now, who will make me a Liar, and put my Speech for Nought?

CHAP. XXV.

MOREOVER Bildad the Shuhite made anſwer:

2. Dominion and Dread are with him, he makes Peace in his high Places.

3. Is there any Number to his Troops? And upon whom does not his Light ariſe?

4. How then ſhall Man be juſtified with God? And how ſhall he be pure who is born of a Woman?

5. Lo as far as the Moon, even that does not ſhine, and the Stars are not clean in his Sight;

6. Much leſs Man a Worm, and the Son of Man an Earth-worm.

CHAP. XXVI.

LASTLY Job made reply:

2. How doſt thou help him who has no Might, ſave the Arm that has not Strength?

3. How doſt thou counſel him who has no Wiſdom, and make known ſubſtantial Matter abundantly?

4. To whom doſt thou declare the Words? And whoſe Spirit utters forth from thee?

5. Inanimate Things formed from under the Waters, and ſuch as dwell with them,

Ver. 14. with the Light] betimes, to wait for an Opportunity to kill.

Ver. 16. Each digs] This being ſingular, and very ſuitably for both the Murderer and Adulterer.

Ver. 17. for each knows the Terrors of the Shadow of Death] ſo the Original literally. What Shifting were our Tranſlators put to, that they might keep the Verb ſingular!

Ib. Terrors] the groſſeſt Darkneſs of the Night, Poole.

Ver. 18. light atop of the Water] that is like a Bubble there, which breaks before it paſſes through the Vineyards; as the Heb. runs thus: ſo not ſpoken of Pirates.

Ib. will] The Verbs being here of the future Tenſe, as well as Job's Argument was to ſhew that the Wicked would periſh hereafter.

Ver. 19. the Grave thoſe who ſin] which Schult. renders, they ſin Hell, as he expounds it very deeply, &c. Is this the fine Writer! becauſe he was againſt the Heb. Points.

Ver. 21. aſſociates with] according to the Meaning of the ſame Verb and individual Word in Prov. xiii. 20. & xxviii. 7. & xxix. 3. and of this Verb in xxii. 24. Judg. xiv. 20. רֵעֵהוּ being from a Root of the ſame Letters; which our Tranſlators have interpreted as if from רוּעַ whence the Word would be מֹרֵעַ and I know not what good Senſe can be made of it. But this means well, that the Murderer, or Adulterer aforeſaid, has a barren Wife, and leaves her an unhappy Widow. And thus Jun. and Trem. tranſlate, and Buxt. expounds the Word here.

Ver. 22. Shews the Harm and Danger, concurrent with the foregoing, that People ſuffer from ſuch Perſons.

11. The Pillars of Heaven ſhake, and are aſtoniſhed at his Rebuke.

12. He breaks apart the Sea by his Might, and ſtrikes down its Haughtineſs by his Underſtanding.

13. He made the Heaven comely by his Spirit, his Hand formed the ſtretching Serpent.

14. Behold theſe are the Borders of his Ways, but how little a Matter is heard of him? And his powerful Thunder who underſtands?

CHAP. XXVII.

AND Job proceeded to take up his Speech as follows:

2. By God's living, who puts away my Judgment, and the Almighty's who makes my Soul bitter;

3. All the while my Spirit is in me, and the Breath of God in my Noſtrils;

4. My Lips ſhall not ſpeak unjuſtly, nor my Tongue diſcourſe deceitfully.

5. Far be it from me that I ſhould juſtify you till I expire; I will not put away my Perfectneſs from me.

6. I hold faſt my Righteouſneſs, and will not leave off; my Heart ſhall not reproach me in my Days.

7. My Enemy will be as the Wicked, and he that raiſes up himſelf againſt me as the Unjuſt.

8. For what is the Expectation of the Hypocrite, though he gain; ſince God will caſt out his Soul?

9. Will God hear his Cry, when Diſtreſs comes upon him?

10. Will he delight himſelf in the Almighty, call upon God at all Times?

11. I will teach you by the Hand of God; that which is with the Almighty will I not conceal.

12. Behold ye have all of you ſeen; and why are ye vain in this Manner?

13. This will be the Portion of a wicked Man with God, and the Poſſeſſion of the Violent, that they will receive from the Almighty.

14. If his Children multiply, it is for the Sword; and his Offspring will not be ſatisfied with Bread.

15. Thoſe that remain of him will be buried in Death, and his Widows not weep.

16. Though he heap up Money as Earth, and prepare Cloathing like Clay;

17. He may prepare, but the Righteous will put on, and the Innocent divide the Money.

18. He builds his Houſe as a Moth, and as a Booth the Keeper makes.

can ſpeak more of God's works than Bildad, Brought, Marg.

Ib. Inanimate Things] are naked before him, as follows.

Ib. formed] the Heb. being a paſſive Participle, not a Verb: thus the Senſe is pertinent.

Ib. ſuch as dwell] Fiſhes and Reptiles, which dwell out of our Sight, and being alive are contradiſtinguiſhed from the inanimate Things.

Ver. 9. holds] from appearing.

Ver. 11. Pillars] Mountains, which ſeem ſo.

Ib. ſhake] by Vulcanoes; unnoticed as far as I perceive with the Commentators, though as neceſſary as that in the next Verſe.

Ib. and are aſtoniſhed] As if it is not ſufficient to alter the Scripture, ſome are alſo for making and leaving it uncertain; as here Grey ſays the and ſhould be taken away, or elſe the Verb read contracted.

Ver. 12. breaks apart] into Waves; although others have thought it the Partition of the Seas, &c. from one another.

Ib. its Haughtineſs] as Interpreters agree, and the reſt of the Matter ſhews; ſee Chap. xxxviii. 11.

Ver. 13. ſtretching] like a Bar, as appears by the Heb. rendered ſtretching, Iſa. xxvii. 1. and in Contradiſtinction to crooked there.

Ib. Serpent] the Whale, Jun. he ſpeaking of God's mighty Works any where.

Ver. 14. the Borders] more ſuitable than parts, as Hervey lately ſhews, Contemplat. on the Starry Heavens Vol. 2. and much nearer to the original Word.

Ver. 1. proceeded] probably after ſome Pauſe, to hear whether they would reply, which might be the Occaſion of inſerting theſe Words.

Ver. 3. Spirit] So this Word is rendered, Chap. xxvi. 4. Prov. xx. 27. and plural Souls, Iſa. lvii. 16.

Ib. Breath] as it is tranſlated in the parallel Places, Chap. iv. 9. 2 Sam. xxii. 16. Pſa. xviii. 15. Lam. iv. 20. How unapt and irreverent is Spirit here!

Ver. 5. juſtify you] by owning my ſelf wicked.

Ib. till I expire] This is before the Heb. Partition of the Verſe, and ſo belongs to the former Part.

Ver. 7. My Enemy will be] not my ſelf, as you charge me. How he will be ſo, the two next Verſes ſhew.

Ver. 8. Hypocrite] whom he counts as his Enemy, being himſelf ſincerely righteous; and ſeems thus to retort on theſe his Antagoniſts.

Ib. caſt out] as this Verb is turned, Deut. vii. 1. put out, Deut. vii. 22. caſt, Deut. xxviii. 40. ſee Matth. viii. 12. & xxii. 13. & xxv. 30. 2 Pet. ii. 4. and Buxt. Gram. Lib. i. Cap. 17. ad Fut. where this very Word is grammatically inveſtigated.

Ver. 15. his Widows] as being the Widows of thoſe belonging to him.

Ib. not weep] at their Burial, being not ſorry for their Death.

Ver. 18. as] ſo weakly.

Ib. Keeper] probably of Cattle.

19. The Rich will lie down, and not be gathered; he opens his Eyes, and is gone.

20. Terrors will overtake him like Waters, a Whirlwind ſteal him away at Night.

21. The Eaſt-wind will take him up, and he be gone; and will drive him tempeſtuouſly from his Place.

22. Nay God will caſt upon him, and not ſpare, who would quite flee from his Hand.

23. Each one will clap their Hands at them, and hiſs at him from his Place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

SINCE there is a Mine for the Silver, and a Place for the Gold they refine,

2. Since Iron is taken out of the Duſt, and Braſs melted out of the Stone;

3. He puts an end to Darkneſs, and ſearches out to all Perfection, the Stones of the Dark and the Shadow of Death.

4. A Flood breaks out from the Sojourner, of thoſe that are forgotten by the Foot, are drawn away, removed from Man.

5. Under the very Earth, from whence Bread comes out, is alſo turned up like Fire:

6. The Stones of it are the Place of the Sapphire, and it has Earth of Gold.

7. There is a Path which the ravenous Bird knows not, nor does the Eye of the Vulture look on it:

8. The young Lions do not tread it, the fierce Lion paſſes not therein.

9. He ſtretches forth his Hand on the flinty Rock, overthrows the Mountains from the Root.

10. He cleaves Streams among the Rocks, and his Eye ſees every precious Thing.

11. He confines the Rivers from overflowing, and brings out the hidden Thing to Light.

12. But from whence is Wiſdom procured? And where is the Place of Underſtanding?

13. Man does not know the Value of it, nor is it found in the Country of the Living.

14. The Deep ſays, It is not in me; as does the Sea, There is none with me.

15. Preſerved Gold is not to be given for it, nor Silver weighed for the Price of it.

16. It is not to be rated with the famous Gold of Ophir, with the precious Onyx, or the Sapphire.

17. The Gold and Cryſtal does not equal it, nor is the Exchange of it to be a Veſſel of pure Gold.

18. The Corals and the Pearl is not to be mentioned, and the getting of Wiſdom is more than of Carbuncles.

19. The Emerald of Cuſh does not equal it, with the famous Gold that is pure it is not to be rated.

20. From whence then does Wiſdom come? And where is the Place of Underſtanding?

21. As it is hid from the Eyes of every living Thing, even concealed from the Fowls of the Air.

22. Perdition and Death may ſay, We have heard the Fame of it with our Ears.

23. God underſtands its Way, and he knows the Place of it.

24. For he beholds to the Ends of the Earth, he ſees under all the Heaven:

Ver. 19. gathered] to the Righteous or Happy, as Gen. xxv. 8. & alibi.

Ver. 20. overtake] which the Verb ſignifies, and not take hold on; nor is that a proper Action for Waters.

Ver. 23. them] the Violent, Ver. 13. being plur. and the ſame as their here in the Heb.

Ib. hiſs at] here being the Heb. Prepoſition for at, as juſt before.

Ib. from his Place] when he is gone, and conſiſtently with the latter [at,] which I conceive the com. Tranſ. is not.

Ver. 1. Since] or foraſmuch as, being a rational connective Particle in Heb. and ſo joins this and the next to the 3d Verſe; for what otherwiſe would theſe two ſignify?

Ib. Mine] Heb. coming forth, ſo not a Vein.

Ib. Gold] which they refine; the Heb. Relative being often underſtood, but not where; and our Tranſlators alſo add it.

Ver. 3. He] the Rich, Ch. xxvii. 19.

Ib. puts an End to Darkneſs] by digging in the Earth, and letting in, or carrying in Light; therefore ſetteth improper.

Ib. ſearches out] theſe Things.

Ib. to all Perfection] ſo the Hebrew; ſee Chap. xi. 7.

Ver. 4. from the Sojourner] where the Miner is digging, who may not unfitly be called a Sojourner there, as the Heb. Word ſignifies.

Ib. of thoſe that] So not wanting even the Waters to be added; nay is better than that would be, if inſerted.

Ib. forgotten by the Foot] having not been there before a great while; thus denoting the ſudden unexpected breaking out of the Water, which comes to paſs in digging Mines.

Ver. 5. like Fire] Earth of a fiery Colour, or as if it were burnt.

Ver. 9. He] as Ver. 3.

Ver. 11. confines] by Symmachus the Gr. and Jerome the Lat. Tranſlator, ſearches, through Miſtake of ב in חבש for ם.

Ver. 12. from whence] as Ver. 20. and elſewhere; never where.

Ib. Wiſdom]

> But Wiſdom, awful Wiſdom! which inſpects,
> Diſcerns, compares, weighs, ſeparates, infers,
> Seizes the Right, and holds it to the laſt;
> How rare! Young's Night Thoughts, viii.

Ver. 14. Deep] the Mine, of which he had been ſpeaking, as different from the Sea.

Ver. 18. getting] as if by drawing out, like the precious Stones, from the Root to draw: ſo Jun. and Trem. render it acquiſitio. It differs from both the Words rendered price, Ver. 13, 15.

Ver. 22. Perdition and Death] the dangerous Mine and the Grave, according to the foregoing; as being Places where it might be ſuppoſed hid, Ver. 21.

25. To make the Weight for the Wind, and that he may diſpoſe the Waters by Meaſure.

26. When he made a Decree for the Rain, and a Way for the bright Cloud of the Thunder;

27. Then did he ſee it, and count it up; prepare it, as well as ſearch it out.

28. And he ſaid to Man, Behold the Fear of the Lord that is Wiſdom, and to depart from Evil is Underſtanding.

CHAP. XXIX.

JOB further proceeded to take up his Speech thus:

2. Oh that I was as in Months formerly, as in the Days when God preſerved me!

3. When he made his Lamp ſhine upon my Head, by his Light I went in Darkneſs;

4. According as I was in the Days of my Youth, when the Secret of God was in my Tent;

5. While yet the Almighty was with me, my Children round about me;

6. When my Walks were waſhed with Butter, and the Rock poured forth with me Streams of Oil;

7. When I went out to the Gate at the City, prepared my Seat in the Street.

8. The young Men ſaw me, and hid; and the very aged riſing, ſtood up.

9. The Princes held in the Words, and put the Hand to their Mouth.

10. The Voices of the Rulers were hid, and their Tongue cleaved to the Roof of their Mouth.

11. For the Ear on hearing, bleſſed me; and the Eye when it ſaw, teſtified for me.

12. Becauſe I delivered the Afflicted from crying out, with the Fatherleſs, and him who had no Helper.

13. The Bleſſing of him that was periſhing came upon me; and I cauſed the Heart of the Widow to ſing.

14. I put on Righteouſneſs, and it cloathed me; my Judgment was as a Cloak and Diadem.

15. I was Eyes to the Blind, and Feet was I to the Lame.

16. I was a Father to the Needy; and the Cauſe I knew not, that I ſearched out.

17. On the other hand I broke the Eye-teeth of the Unjuſt, and caſt out the Prey from his Teeth.

18. And I ſaid, I ſhall expire at my Neſt, and multiply Days as the Sand.

19. My Root was opened to the Water; and the Dew abode all Night on my Branch.

20. My Glory became freſh with me, and my Bow was renewed in my Hand.

21. Thoſe hearkened to me, and waited; being ſilent at my Counſel.

22. They did not ſpeak again after my Word; and my Speech dropped upon them.

23. Nay they waited for me as for the Rain, and opened their Mouth wide as for the latter Rain.

24. Laugh at them, they did not believe it; nor did they caſt down the Light of my Face.

25. I choſe their Way, and ſate chief, nay dwelt as a King in a Troop; according as one who comforts Mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

WHEREAS now thoſe that are of leſs Age than I laugh at me, whoſe Fathers I ſhould have diſdained to put with the Dogs of my Flock.

2. Even the Ability of their Hands why ſhould I have, in whom old Age was periſhing?

3. Who were ſolitary in Want and Famine, being fled to a dry Place, before that in Waſting and Devaſtation.

Ver. 25. diſpoſe] ſee Poole's Annot.

Ver. 26. bright Cloud] ſuch as there is with Thunder: the Word is found beſides only in Chap. xxxviii. 25. Zech. x. 1. in which latter Place being plural, it is turned bright clouds in the com. Tranſ.

Ver. 27. count it up] the ſeveral Parts of it, as he orders the Wind and Waters by Weight and Meaſure, Ver. 25. and this before he declared it to Man, Ver. 28.

Ver. 3. See ſeveral Verſes of this Chapter explained in the Pref.

Ib. by] or more ſtrictly according to.

Ver. 18. at my Neſt] quietly at Home.

Ver. 21. Thoſe] in Ver. 9, 10. from ſpeaking of whom he had been drawn by Digreſſion.

Ver. 22. dropped] like Rain, Ver. 23. Deut. xxxii. 2. rather than with Duport.

Καὶ μευ ἀπὸ γλώσσης μέλιτ⊙ γλυκίων ῥέεν αὐδή.
and Speech ſweeter than Honey flowed from my Tongue.

Ver. 23. Mouth] as it were to drink in his Diſcourſe, as the Earth does the Rain.

Ver. 24. Laugh] See Hag. ii. 16.

Ib. not believe it] when they ſaw him laugh, did not believe it was at themſelves, as they thought his Regard to them was greater than to do ſo.

Ib. Light] the Chearfulneſs of his Countenance, which they did not alter to Louring, by being angry or offering him any Affront for his laughing at them.

Ver. 25. choſe their Way] appointed how they ſhould do Things: Patrick very ſlenderly, went to viſit them, as he could more readily borrow it from Jun. than ſeek better.

Ver. 1. to put with] to have made them my meaneſt Shepherds.

Ver. 2. their] the Fathers, Ver. 1.

Ib. periſhing] they being too old and infirm; ſee Blackm. Poem.

Ver. 3. in Want] For to flee to ſuch a Place as here mentioned for want, and be ſolitary there, would probably make their Want greater; whereas Ver. 5. ſhews another Cauſe of their fleeing thither.

4. Who

4. Who plucked off Mallows at the Shrub, and Juniper-roots for their Food.

5. They were driven out from the Body, People cried out againſt them as a Thief;

6. To dwell in the Cavity of the Vallies, the Holes of the Ground and of the Rocks.

7. They brayed among the Shrubs, were gathered together under the Nettles.

8. They are the Sons of the Vile, even the Sons of thoſe without Renown, who were ſmitten from the Earth.

9. Yet now I am their Muſick, and am for a By-word to them.

10. They abhor me, they remove far from me, and do not refrain from ſpitting in my Face.

11. For he has let looſe my String, and afflicted me; ſo they thruſt away the Bridle from my Preſence.

12. The Youthful riſe up at the right Hand, they thruſt away my Feet, and caſt up the Ways of their Deſtruction againſt me.

13. They deſtroy my Path, conduce to my Calamity; without having any Helper.

14. They come as a large Breach, ruſh along for Waſting.

15. Each one is turned againſt me, Terrors ſeverally purſue my noble Part as the Wind; and my Safety paſſes away like a thick Cloud.

16. So that now my Soul is poured out in me, the Days of Affliction take hold of me.

17. He is digging out my Bones from within me at Night; and my Sinews do not lie ſtill.

18. My Cloathing is altered by a Multitude of ſtiff Scabs; it girds me as the Collar of my Coat.

19. He has caſt me to the Clay, and I am made like Duſt and Aſhes.

20. I cry out to thee, but thou doſt not anſwer me; or when I ſtand up, conſider me.

21. Thou art turned to be fierce at me, ſheweſt Hatred to me with the Strength of thy Hand.

22. Thou lifteſt me up to the Wind, cauſing me to ride, and diſſolveſt my very Subſtance.

23. For I am ſenſible thou wilt cauſe me to return to Death, and the Houſe appointed for every living one.

24. However he will not ſtretch forth the Hand to the Grave, though there is Crying out for theſe Things in the Calamity by him.

25. Did not I weep for him who had a hard Time? My Soul was ſorry for the Needy.

26. When I expect Good, Evil comes; and waiting for Light, there comes Darkneſs.

27. My Bowels boil, and are not quiet; the Days of Affliction prevent me.

28. I walk being penſive, without the Sun; riſing up, I cry out in the Congregation.

29. I am a Brother to Dragons, and a Companion to young Oſtriches.

Ib. before that] which being parted by a great Heb. Stop from the foregoing Word, may ſhew this belongs to the Perſons, and more to the Purpoſe; nay how was the Place ſo altered? And why ſhould he tell that?

Ver. 4. Mallows] Of which ſee Horace, Od. L. i. 31. with the Delph. Note.

Ver. 5. Body] of Society, Buxtorf ſays of the City; thus the Word is, Iſa. 51. 23.

Ver. 8. ſmitten] put to Death for their Crimes; ſee it in Buxt. Lex. under נכה which ſignifies to ſmite, and not to be vile. Brought. has baniſhed from the Earth.

Ver. 9. Yet now] becauſe Job I ſuppoſe was for keeping good Order, and promoting Induſtry in the Country; which they did not like, and might now hope to live at more Liberty.

Ver. 11. String] of my Bow, Ch. xxix. 20. as this Word is rendered, Pſa. xi. 2. and no where elſe Cord.

Ib. thruſt away] or ſend as the Verb properly ſignifies, and not let looſe like that before; it is the ſame with that in the next Verſe.

Ib. Bridle] Job's Authority over them.

Ib. from my Preſence] as Ver. 10. Ch. xxiii. 17. this being alſo uſed for Perſon in Heb. and thus Pagn. renders frenum a facie mea dimiſerunt, as likewiſe Jun. and Trem. habenas a præſentia mea dimiſerunt; Munſt. abjecerunt a facie mea frenum, have caſt away the Bridle from my Face; Brought. they caſt away the Bridle from me.

Ver. 13. conduce] which Word I uſe for want of a plainer, that ſo well ſuits to the Heb.

Ib. without having any Helper] that is they do it of themſelves.

Ver. 14. Breach] in the Wall of a beſieged City, Patr. then not of Waters.

Ib. ruſh along] according as in Gen. xliii. 18.

Ib. for] which this Particle largely denotes, ſcarce in; ſo the literal Verſ. of Pagn. and Mont. has pro.

Ver. 15. Each one is] The Verb being ſingular, and not of the ſame Gender as Terrors. Jun. and Trem. turn it, My Neſt is turned upon me, from Ch. xxix. 18. a wild Conjecture!

Ver. 16. in me] as Pſa. xlii. 4.

Ver. 17. digging out] comparatively, by the excruciating Tortures; and thus the Heb. being alſo active and ſingular.

Ib. from] which the Heb. has.

Ver. 18. a Multitude] as is the Heb. and they being on the Boils.

Ib. ſtiff Scabs] The original Word ſignifying Strength, and other Things comprehenſive, may here denote this; from whence the corrupt Matter iſſuing out, made his Cloathing ſtiff, and the Scabs tight, like a Collar.

Ver. 20. ſtand up] to ſpeak.

Ver. 21. ſheweſt Hatred] oppoſeſt being beſide or ſhort of the Heb.

Ver. 22. to ride] where he would be in great Dread and Danger of falling.

Ver. 24. to the Grave] to puniſh there.

Ib. Crying out] not a Verb, but Noun.

Ib. for theſe Things] Very literal: for being as in the next Verſe, and not maſc. to make they, which is alſo ſo improper, but the Heb. neuter; and I find ſince that Jun. and Trem. have it propter iſta, the ſame.

Ib. by him] not well expreſſed by his.

Ver. 25. had a hard Time] aptly to the Original.

Ver. 27. boil] The preſent Tenſe being moſt proper, as Ver. 29, 30.

Ver. 29. Oſtriches] The ſame Lam. iv. 3.

30. My Skin is black upon me, and my Bone parched becauſe of Heat.

31. My Harp alſo is become Mourning, and my Organ the Voice of ſuch as weep.

CHAP. XXXI.

I MADE a Covenant with my Eyes; and how ſhould I mind about a Virgin?

2. For what would be the Portion of God from above, and the Poſſeſſion of the Almighty from the Heights?

3. Is there not Deſtruction for the Unjuſt, and a ſtrange Thing for the Workers of Iniquity?

4. Does not he ſee my Ways, and count up all my Steps?

5. If I have gone with Vanity, or my Foot has made haſte to Deceit;

6. Let him weigh me in the Scales of Righteouſneſs, and let God know my Perfectneſs.

7. If my Going has turned aſide from the Way, or my Heart gone after my Eyes, or a Blemiſh cleaved to my Hands;

8. Let me ſow, and another eat, nay let my Offſpring be rooted out.

9. If my Heart has been enticed to a Woman, or I have lain in wait at my Neighbour's Door;

10. Let my Wife grind for another, and let others ſtoop down upon her:

11. For it is Heinouſneſs, and it is an Iniquity for the Judges;

12. Becauſe it is a Fire that conſumes to Perdition, and would root out all my Increaſe.

13. If I have deſpiſed the Judgment of my Servant or Handmaid, when they pleaded with me;

14. What then ſhall I do, when God riſes up? And when he viſits, what ſhall I anſwer him?

15. Did not he who made me in the Belly make him, and one prepare us in the Womb?

16. If I have with-held the Poor from the Deſire, or made the Eyes of the Widow fail;

17. Or have eat my Bit alone, and the Fatherleſs not eat of it;

18. (For from my Youth he has been bred up with me as with a Father, and I have led her from my Mother's Belly)

19. If I have ſeen any periſhing without Cloaths, or the Needy with no Covering;

20. If his Loins have not bleſſed me, and he warmed himſelf by the Fleece of my Sheep;

21. If I have ſhook my Hand at the Fatherleſs, when I ſaw my Help in the Gate:

22. Let my Shoulder-blade fall from the Shoulder, and my Arm be broke from the Bone.

23. For the Deſtruction of God was Dread to me, and by reaſon of his Excellency I could not.

24. If I have made Gold my Hope, or ſaid to the famous Gold, Thou art my Truſt;

25. If I have been glad when my Wealth was great, and when my Hand had got much;

26. If I have looked at the Light when it ſhined, or the precious Moon going along;

27. And my Heart has been enticed in ſecret, or my Mouth kiſſed my Hand:

28. That alſo would be an Iniquity for the Judges; becauſe I ſhould have denied the God above.

29. If I have been glad at the Calamity of him who hated me, or ſtirred up my ſelf when Harm met with him;

30. (Nor have I ſuffered my Mouth to ſin, by aſking for a Curſe to his Life)

31. If the Men of my Tent did not ſay, Oh that we had ſome of his Fleſh! we are not ſatisfied;

32. The Stranger not lodging abroad, I opening my Doors to the Paſſenger;

Ver. 2. what would] much clearer, I preſume, than the common.

Ver. 7. my Heart gone after my Eyes] Vulg. Lat. my Eye followed my Heart.

Ver. 8. Offspring] of the Things ſown.

Ver. 9. enticed to a Woman] Trem. and Jun. the ſame, pellectus fuit ad mulierem: the Heb. Words ſignifying thus properly and frequently, ſcarce or ſeldom deceived and by; beſides that Job is ſpeaking of his own Behaviour, and that in Relation to his Neighbour's Wife, not a common Woman. So this Verb too is rendered Ver. 27. and ſo the Prepoſition, Ver. 5.

Ver. 10. grind] as Women-ſlaves did, Exod. xi. 5. Mat. xxiv. 41.

Ver. 23. could not] do as mentioned before; endure being added by our Tranſlators, but improperly; ſo Hogey here,

Ante oculos Domini præſentia numina ſemper
A vitiis animum continuere meum;

the Divinity of the Lord always preſent before my Eyes, with-held my Mind from the Offences.

Ver. 26. precious] an Adjective ſo ſignifying to Moon.

Ib. Moon] The Worſhip of the heavenly Bodies being the oldeſt Idolatry of all, according both to Diod. Siculus the Heathen, and Maimonides the Jew.

Ver. 26, 27. paraphraſed by Sandys,

If when I ſaw the early Sun aſcend,
Or the new Moon her ſilver Horns extend;
I bowing kiſs'd my Hand, thoſe Lights ador'd
As Deities, and their Relief implor'd.

Ver. 30. aſking for] So the Heb. is with a Prepoſition, and not ſignifying to wiſh, nor that ſuiting ſo well to Mouth.

Ver. 31. Fleſh] Job ſometimes taking in, and feeding, ſo many Strangers and Paſſengers, Ver. 32. that ſome Retainers of his Houſe complained they did not leave enough for them; ſee Jun. Annot.

33. If I have covered my Tranſgreſſions like Adam, by hiding my Iniquity when I loved it;

34. Becauſe I was in dread of a great Multitude, or the Contempt of Families terrified me, ſo that I was ſilent, did not go out of the Door:

35. Oh that he would hear me! Behold it is my Aim that the Almighty would anſwer me; and let the Man who contends with me write a Book.

36. Would not I take it up on my Shoulder, tie it for Crowns to me?

37. I would declare to him the Number of my Steps; would approach him like a Ruler.

38. If my Ground cry againſt me, and the Ridges of it weep together;

39. If I have eat the Strength of it without Money, or cauſed the Soul of its Owners to pant:

40. Let the Thorn come forth in the room of Wheat, and the ſtinking Weed in the room of Barley. The Words of Job are finiſhed.

CHAP. XXXII.

AND theſe three Men ceaſed from anſwering Job, becauſe he thought himſelf righteous,

2. Upon this Elihu was angry, the Son of Barachel the Buzite, of the Family of Ram; which he was with Job, for his juſtifying his own ſelf more than God;

3. As he was with his three Friends, becauſe they found no Anſwer, yet condemned him.

4. However Elihu tarried for Job in the Diſcourſe: for they were of older Age than he.

5. But when Elihu ſaw that there was no Anſwer in the Mouth of the three Men, he was angry.

6. So Elihu the Son of Barachel the Buzite made anſwer: I am of little Time, and you are very aged; therefore I feared, and was afraid to ſhew you my Knowledge.

7. I thought Days ſhould ſpeak, and a Multitude of Years make known Wiſdom.

8. Whereas it is the Spirit in Man, and the Inſpiration of the Almighty cauſes them to underſtand.

9. Not the Great are wiſe, or the Elders underſtand Judgment.

10. Therefore I ſay, Hear me; I will alſo tell my Experience.

11. Lo I waited for your Speeches, gave ear to what you underſtand, till you ſhould ſearch out Words.

12. Beſides I had Conſideration to you, when behold there was no Reprover to Job, an Anſwerer of his Sayings from you;

13. Leſt ye ſhould ſay, We have found Wiſdom, God ſhall drive him away, not Man.

14. Now he has not ordered the Words for me, nor will I reply to him with your Sayings.

15. They were daunted, anſwered no more; Words were removed away from them.

16. And I waited, becauſe they would not ſpeak: becauſe they have ſtood ſtill, anſwered no more;

17. I will alſo anſwer my Part, will likewiſe declare what I underſtand.

18. For I am full of Words, the Spirit of my Inſide ſtreightens me.

19. Behold my Inſide is like Wine that is not opened, it would burſt aſunder as new Bottles.

20. I will ſpeak, that I may have Breath; will open my Lips, and anſwer.

21. Let me not now reſpect the Face of a Perſon, nor give Titles to Man.

22. For I know not how to give Titles; otherwiſe my Maker would ſoon take me away.

Ver. 33. when I loved it] This being a Heb. Preposition and infinitive Mood, which are to be thus rendered, as Buxtorf ſhews, Theſ. Lib. 2. Cap. 20. the Verb ſignifying loved, Buxt. Lex. in חבב and is ſo tranſlated, Deut. xxxiii. 3. which is the only Place where it occurs beſides.

Ver. 34. Becauſe] The Neglect of this Heb. Particle, with which the Verſe begins, has thrown the Senſe, now plain and eaſy, into Confuſion and Uncertainty; as may be ſeen by Poole's Annotation.

Ver. 35. Aim] or Mark as Ezek. ix. 6. the Word being elſewhere but there, only has a Root that ſignifies to mark, Ezek. ix. 4. 1 Sam. xxi. 13, &c.

Ver. 36. Would] אם making a Queſtion often, but perhaps never ſignifies ſurely.

Ver. 37. like a Ruler] boldly.

Ver. 39. pant] See Buxt. in the Root נפח Jun. and Trem. defatigaverim, have fatigued; Caſtal. vexavi, vexed; Munſt. contriſtavi, made ſorry; Vulg. Lat. afflixi, afflicted; Pagnin. affeci dolore, cauſed to grieve; Brought. grieved.

Ver. 6. Knowledge] The Heb. Word denoting no leſs, and ſo rendered in Ch. xxxvi. 3. & xxxvii. 16. which alſo appears by Ver. 8. & Ch. xxxiii. 3.

Ver. 10. ſay] for it is evident he had not ſaid it before.

Ver. 12. Beſides] He not only waiting to hear what they had further to ſay, but conſidering what Plea they might have for not ſpeaking.

Ver. 13. ſhall] We will leave him to God to be confuted; which makes ſome Senſe, and the Heb. Verb is future.

Ver. 15. They] Elihu now addreſſing himſelf to others preſent, according to Patrick both in his Argument and Paraphraſe.

Ver. 17. I] connected to the foregoing.

Ver. 21. now] more ſuitable to the Tenour of his Expreſſion than I pray you, and rather better denoted by the Heb. na.

CHAP. XXXIII.

AND ſurely vouchſafe, Job, to hear my Words, and give ear to all my Matters.

2. Behold now I opening my Mouth, my Tongue ſpeaking in my Palate;

3. My Sayings are in the Uprightneſs of my Heart, and my Lips ſpeak out Knowledge that is pure.

4. The Spirit of God made me, and the Breath of the Almighty cauſed me to live.

5. If thou canſt reply to me, ſet in order before me, place thy ſelf.

6. Lo I am for God according to what thou haſt ſaid, I am alſo formed out of the Clay.

7. Behold my Terror ſhall not frighten thee, nor my Hand be heavy upon thee.

8. Verily thou didſt ſay in my Ears, and I heard the Voice of the Words;

9. I am clean without Tranſgreſſion, I am innocent, and have no Iniquity.

10. Lo he finds Ruptures againſt me, reckons me for an Enemy to him.

11. He puts my Feet in Fetters, obſerves all my Paths.

12. Behold in this thou art not righteous, I will anſwer thee: for God is ſuperior to Man.

13. Why doſt thou contend with him? Since he does not anſwer for any of his Matters.

14. Though God ſpeaks once, and twice, without its being obſerved.

15. In a Dream, a Viſion of the Night, when ſound Sleep falls upon Men, in Slumbers upon the Bed;

16. Then he reveals in the Hearing of Men, and ſeals their Inſtruction;

17. To make Mankind put away ſome Work, and that he may cover Exaltation from a Man.

18. He keeps back his Perſon from the Pit, and his Life from periſhing by the Dart.

19. When he is rebuked with Pain upon his Bed, and all his Bones ſtrongly;

20. So that his Life loaths Victuals, and his Appetite delightful Food;

21. His Fleſh is conſumed from the Sight, and his Bones which were not ſeen ſtand out;

22. So that his Perſon draws near to the Pit, and his Life to the Things which cauſe to die:

23 If there is a Meſſenger with him, an Interpreter, one of a thouſand, to declare to Man his Uprightneſs;

24. He is then gracious to him, and ſays, Redeem him from going down to the Pit, I have found a Ranſom.

25. His Fleſh is made freſher than a Child's, he returns to the Days of his Youth.

26. He makes ſupplication to God, who is favourable to him, and whoſe Face he ſees with Shouting: for he renders to Man his Righteouſneſs.

27. He obſerves Men, and of him who confeſſes, I have ſinned, and done perverſely in what was upright, which was not fit for me;

28. He redeems the Perſon from paſſing into the Pit, and his Life ſees the Light.

29. Lo God works all theſe Things, two or three times with a Man;

30. To cauſe his Perſon to return from the Pit, to be enlightened with the Light of the Living.

31. Hearken, Job, hear me; be ſilent, and I will ſpeak.

32. If there is any Thing to ſay, reply to me: ſpeak, for I am willing to juſtify thee.

Ver. 2. opening] in the Uprightneſs as follows, which ſhould not therefore be parted.

Ver. 9. I am] for which ſee Chap. x. 7. & xiii. 15, 16, 23. & xvi. 17. & xxiii. 10, 11, 12.

Ver. 10. finds] look Chap. vii. 12. & ix. 17, 18. & x. 2, 3, 6. 16, 17. & xiii. 27. & xiv. 16. & xix. 11. & xxx. 21.

Ib. Ruptures] The Word occurs once more, viz. in Num. xiv. 34. and is from a Root denoting to break.

Ib. reckons me for an Enemy to him] Job uſed theſe Words in the ſecond Perſon interrogatively, Chap. xiii. 24. ſee alſo Chap. xix. 11.

Ver. 11. Fetters] ſee Chap. xiii. 27. where the Word is the ſame.

Ib. obſerves] the ſame Verb with that in Chap. xiii. 27. from whence Elihu takes all the Words of this Verſe.

Ver. 14. Though] which is a fit Connection to the foregoing.

Ver. 16. ſeals] confirms, makes impreſſion.

Ver. 17. To make] the infinitive Mood in the Conjug. Hiphil, which directly ſignifies ſo. Jun. and Trem. render Ut amoveat homo opus, That Man may remove the Work; Broughton, That earthly-man may leave off to work: taking man for the Subject, and Work (as the Heb. Word is, not Purpoſe) for the Object of the Verb.

Ib. cover] for keep away.

Ver 18. Dart] the Stroke of Death.

Ver. 19. When] God firſt admoniſhes Man who is doing amiſs, Ver. 17. then graciouſly puniſhes without deſtroying. The Reader may obſerve how ill this Verſe is connected with the preceding by alſo.

Ib. all] as Chap. iv. 14.

Ver. 21. ſtand out] ſtick out ſeeming improper.

Ver. 23. his Uprightneſs] viz. how he ſhould be upright.

Ver. 24. He] which upon a cloſer Conſideration I take, as I uſed to do, for God, as Ver. 2. 6. but find moſt others for the Meſſenger, yet as I think by violent forcing the Words: thus Patrick,

Ib. I have found a Ranſom] I have found him a Penitent; but is that the ſame?

Ver. 25. is made] being the preterperfect in Pybal; yet Poole from the Eng. future Tenſe, interprets theſe to be the Tidings delivered to him by the Meſſenger.

Ver. 29. two or three times] as may be obſerved in particular Perſons, whom Providence thus deals with, but not oftentimes; ſo that we ſhould take care of changing the original literal Expreſſion.

33. If

33. If not, do thou hear me: be ſilent, and I will teach thee Wiſdom.

CHAP. XXXIV.

BESIDES Elihu made anſwer:

2. Hear my Words, O wiſe ones; and ye who know, give ear to me.

3. For the Ear tries Words, as the Palate taſtes Food.

4. Let us chooſe us Judgment, let us know among ourſelves what is good.

5. For Job ſaid; I am righteous, and God puts away my Judgment.

6. Shall I lye againſt my Right? My Arrow is mortal without Tranſgreſſion.

7. What Man is like Job, who drinks Scoffing like Water?

8. He further takes a Journey for company with the Workers of Iniquity, and to go with wicked Men.

9. For he ſaid, A Man has no Advantage, in his being pleaſed with God.

10. Therefore hear me, O Men of Senſe; far be Wickedneſs from God, and Iniquity from the Almighty.

11. For the Work of Man will he recompenſe to him; and according to a Perſon's Path will he cauſe him to find.

12. Truly alſo God will not do wickedly, nor the Almighty pervert Judgment.

13. Who committed the Earth to him? or who put in order the univerſal World?

14. If he ſhould put his Heart on it, gather up to himſelf its Spirit and Breath;

15. All Fleſh would expire together, and Mankind return to the Mould.

16. And if there is Underſtanding, hear thou this, give ear to what my Words expreſs.

17. Will even one who hates Judgment reſtrain? Wilt thou then condemn the powerful righteous One?

18. Is it to be ſaid to a King, Thou art ungodly, to Noblemen, You are wicked?

19. Nay to him who does not reſpect the Face of Princes, nor is the Rich taken notice of before the Poor? For all of them are the Work of his Hands.

20. They die in a Moment, the People being ſhook at Midnight, and paſs away; even a ſtout one is taken away without Hand.

21. For his Eyes are upon the Ways of a Perſon, ſo that he ſees all his Steps.

22. There is no Darkneſs, nor any Shadow of Death, for the Workers of Iniquity to hide there.

23. Though he does not put upon a Perſon too much, for him to go againſt God in Judgment.

24. He breaks in pieces the Powerful ones not to be ſearched out, and makes others ſtand in their room.

25. Therefore he knows their Doings; and overthrows at Night, ſo that they are cruſhed.

26. He ſtrikes them for wicked ones, in a Place where others ſee:

27. By reaſon they are ſuch as depart from following him, and do not conſider any of his Ways:

28. Cauſing the Cry of the Poor to come to him; who hears the Cry of the afflicted ones.

29. Thus when he gives Reſt, who ſhall condemn; and when he hides the Face, who ſhall obſerve him; both concerning a Nation, and Man alike?

30. That a Man who is a Hypocrite may not reign, becauſe of Snares to the People.

31. For one ſhould ſay to God; I having endured, without being deſtroyed;

32. Beſide what I behold, do thou teach me: if I have wrought Iniquity, I will no more.

33. Is it from thee he recompenſes it, becauſe thou rejecteſt, becauſe thou chooſeſt, and not I? Now ſpeak what thou knoweſt.

34. Let Men of Senſe tell me, and the wiſe Man hear me.

35. Job has not ſpoken with Knowledge, nor have his Words been with Underſtanding.

Ver. 5. righteous] Chap. xxvii. 6. & xxix. 14.

Ib. puts away] from him, as Job ſaid Chap. xxvii. 2. ſee alſo Chap. ix. 32. & xix. 7.

Ver. 6. Shall I] to this Purpoſe Job, Chap. xxvii. 4, 5.

Ib. My Arrow is mortal] ſo the Original, meaning the Arrow wounds me mortally.

Ib. mortal without Tranſgreſſion] thus he had ſpoken, Chap. xvi. 12, 13, 17. & vi. 4.

Ver. 9. no Advantage] which may refer to Chap. ix. 22, 23, 30, 31. & xii. 6. & xxx. 20.

Ver. 17. reſtrain] or bind, as the Word ſignifies, not govern; and may denote the Reſtraint and Puniſhment a juſt Ruler puts on Wickedneſs, ſhewing that ſince God does prohibit and puniſh it, he cannot hate Judgment.

Ver. 20. ſhook] when ſeized by Death, and as the Heb. is.

Ver. 24. powerful] abbir in Ver. 20. cabbir here, from different Heb. Roots.

Ver. 28. Cauſing] by the Oppreſſion they then uſe.

Ver. 29. alike] not only.

Ver. 31. deſtroyed] This Heb. Verb has two Meanings, to pawn or take in pawn, and to deſtroy or ſpoil, beſides another in the Conj. Pibel to bring forth young, which this does not belong to; ſo that this Signification may ſtand for certain here. Thus Jun. and Trem. turn it ſum deſtructurus; and others generally take the Word in this Senſe, as indeed how can they in the other, much leſs in that which it has Nothing of, as offend?

Ver. 33. and not I] rather than I? Haſt thou that Privilege beyond me? But what Senſe is it when out of the Queſtion, and put affirmatively, as in the com. Tranſlation?

36. Oh

36. Oh that Job might be tried perpetually, for the Replies of bad Men!

37. For he adds Rebellion to his Sin, he claps among us, and multiplies his Sayings at God.

CHAP. XXXV.

ELIHU continued to anſwer:

2. Doſt thou reckon this to be right that thou haſt pretended, My Righteouſneſs is more than God's?

3. For thou haſt ſignified, What does it advantage thee, what do I profit, to be without my Sin?

4. I will return Word to thee, and to thy Companions with thee.

5. Look on the Heavens, and ſee; and obſerve the Skies that are high above thee.

6. If thou ſinneſt, what doſt thou work againſt him? and ſhould thy Rebellions be multiplied, what doeſt thou to him?

7. If thou art righteous, what doſt thou give him? or what does he receive from thy Hand?

8. Thy Wickedneſs may be Something to a Man like thyſelf, and thy Virtue to the Son of Man.

9. By reaſon of a Multitude they make the Oppreſſed cry, theſe cry out becauſe of the Arm of the Great.

10. But none enquires, Where is God my Maker? Who gives Pſalms in the Night:

11. Who teaches us more than the Beaſts of the Earth, and makes us wiſer than the Fowl of the Air.

12. There they cry (and he does not anſwer) by reaſon of the Pride of the Wicked.

13. Verily God will not hear Vanity, nor the Almighty obſerve it.

14. Even though thou ſayeſt, thou canſt not obſerve him; there is Judgment before him, ſo thou ſhouldeſt wait for him.

15. And now becauſe thou doſt not, he viſits in his Anger; yet it is not known in the great Abundance.

16. So that Job opens his Mouth with Vanity, multiplies Words without Knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

AND Elihu proceeded, ſaying:

2. Wait for me a little, and I will ſhew thee; ſince there are yet ſome Words for God.

3. I will bear my Knowledge even from far, and aſcribe Righteouſneſs to my Maker.

4. For truly my Words ſhall not be Falſehood; one perfect in knowing is with thee.

5. Lo God is powerful, yet does not deſpiſe; powerful in Might, in Wiſdom.

6. He does not keep alive the Wicked, but gives forth the Judgment of the afflicted ones.

7. He takes nôt away his Eyes from the Righteous, who is with Kings on the Throne; but cauſes them to dwell perpetually, and they are exalted.

8. And if they are bound with Chains, are caught with the Cords of Affliction;

9. He declares to them their Work, and their Tranſgreſſions, becauſe they become ſtrong.

10. Nay he uncovers their Ear for Inſtruction, and ſpeaks; that they may return from Iniquity.

11. If they hear, and ſerve; they ſpend their Days in Welfare, and their Years in pleaſant Things.

12. But if they will not hear; they periſh by the Dart, and expire without Knowledge.

13. Yet the Hypocrites in Heart make Anger, they do not cry out, though he bind them.

14. Their Perſon dies in Youth, and their Life with the Proſtitutes.

15. He delivers the Afflicted in his Affliction, and uncovers their Ear in Oppreſſion.

16. And he alſo would have turned thee away from a narrow Paſſage to Wideneſs, in the Place of which there is no Streightneſs; and that which was ſet down on thy Table would have been full of Fat.

17. But thou having filled up the Judgment of the Wicked, Judgment and Right have hold.

18. Becauſe there is Wrath, beware leſt he ſhould turn thee away with Clapping, when a great Ranſom would not put thee aſide.

19. Will he value thy Riches? Not the choiceſt Gold, nor all the Forces of Strength.

20. Do not pant for the Night, when People are taken up in their Place.

21. Take heed, look not to Iniquity; though thou haſt made choice of that, rather than Affliction.

22. Behold God exalts by his Might: who teaches like him?

23. Who appoints him his Way? or who can ſay, Thou haſt wrought Iniquity?

24. Remember, that thou mayeſt increaſe his Work, which Men obſerve.

25. All Mankind look on it, Man beholds far off.

26. Lo God is ſo ſpacious, that we do not know him; nor is the Number of his Years to be ſearched out.

27. For he abates the Drops of Water, that pour out Rain according to the Vapour of it;

28. With which the Skies do flow down, diſtil upon Mankind abundantly.

29. Even if one conſiders the Spreadings of the thick Cloud, the Noiſes of his Tabernacle;

30. Behold he ſpreads his Light upon it, and covers the Roots of the Sea.

31. For by them he judges People, gives Food numerouſly.

32. With Hands as it were he covers the Light, and commands it by that which comes between.

33. The Noiſe of it declares concerning it, the Cattle too about the going up.

CHAP. XXXVII.

AT this alſo my Heart trembles, and leaps out of its Place.

2. Hear attentively the Commotion of his Voice, and the Utterance that goes out of his Mouth.

3. He lets it looſe under all the Heaven, and his Light to the Bounds of the Earth.

4. A Voice roars after it, he thunders with the Voice of his Excellency; and does not delay them, when his Voice is heard.

5. God thunders wonderfully with his Voice: he does great Things, that we know not.

6. For he ſays to the Snow, Be thou on the Earth; with the Shower of Rain, and that of his ſtrong Rains.

7. He ſeals up the Hand of all Mankind, for all Men to know his Work.

8. Then the Beaſt enters into the Place of lying in wait, and dwells in its Habitations.

9. The Whirlwind comes from the Chamber, and the Cold from the Scatterings.

10. Ice is given by the Breath of God, ſo that the Breadth of the Waters is in Streightneſs.

Ver. 18. Clapping] with ſome remarkable Judgment, ſo that People would clap Hands at him, as in Ch. xxvii. 33. the Verb of this Noun.

Ver. 20. taken up] from this World, but the Original not cut off.

Ver. 29. Even if] ſo the Heb. directly.

Ver. 30. Light upon it] Lightning upon the thick Cloud: Patr. upon the Sea, no Antecedent to it.

Ib. Roots] the Channels of Rivers, being like Roots (Heb. plural) from the Body of the Sea; and which are covered by the Floods made by Thunder-ſhowers. How improperly then was it altered to bottom! And with how little Senſe!

Ver. 31. by them] by Thunder-ſhowers, from Ver. 27, 28, 29.

Ib. judges] when the Thunder and Lightning do harm, or at leaſt terrify.

Ib. gives] by the Rain which then falls, and commonly in a dry Seaſon.

Ver. 32. Hands] as the Heb. is.

Ib. covers the Light] The Lightning ſeeming to lie behind the Clouds, out of our Sight; to which God gives the Command of it, either to retain it, or ſend it forth. Nor are we incongruouſly to ſuppoſe with Poole, this Light the Sun, and that in Ver. 30. the Lightning; both the ſame as in Chap. xxxvii, 3, 11, 15.

Ver. 33. going up] the riſing up of the Shower. Of which Virgil, Ib. Scatterings] of the northern Snows or Winds.

Ver. 10. in Streightneſs] being confined by the Ice.

11. He

11. He tires the thick Cloud alſo with Watering, diſperſes the Cloud of his Light.

12. And it is turned round about by his Counſels, to work all thoſe Things that he commands, upon the Face of the World at the Earth:

13. Whether it is for Correction, or for his Earth, or for Kindneſs, that he cauſes it to come forth.

14. Give ear to this, Job: ſtand ſtill, and conſider the Wonders of God.

15. Doſt thou know when God puts upon them, that he may make the Light of his Cloud ſhine?

16. Doſt thou know the Ballancings of the thick Cloud, the wonderful Things of him who is perfect in Knowledge?

17. How thy Garments are warm, when he gives the Earth reſt, from the South?

18. Didſt thou ſpread forth the Skies with him, that are firm like a melted Looking-glaſs?

19. Let us know what we ſhall ſay to him; we cannot ſet in order by reaſon of Darkneſs.

20. Should it be told him, that I would ſpeak? Would a Man ſpeak, that he may be devoured?

21. And now they ſee not the bright Light which is in the Skies; but the Wind paſſes, and cleanſes them.

22. Gold as it were comes from the North; with God then there is terrible Majeſty.

23. The Almighty himſelf we cannot find out, he is ſpacious of Might; but in Judgment, and a Multitude of Righteouſneſs, he would not afflict.

24. Therefore Men ſhould fear him: he does not regard any of a wiſe Heart.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

THEN the Lord made anſwer to Job from a Tempeſt:

2. Who is this that darkens Counſel, by Words without Knowledge?

3. Gird now thy Loins like a Man; and I will aſk thee, and do thou inform me.

4. Where waſt thou when I founded the Earth? Declare, if thou art acquainted with Underſtanding.

5. Who put the Meaſures of it, becauſe thou knoweſt? or who ſtretched out the Line upon it?

6. Upon what were the Baſes of it fixed? Or who caſt down the corner Stone of it?

7. When the Morning Stars ſung together, and all the Sons of God ſhouted.

8. And who covered the Sea with Doors, when it guſhed forth, coming as out of the Womb?

9. When I made the Cloud its Cloathing, and Darkneſs the Swathe of it;

10. As alſo broke up for it by my Decree, putting the Bar and Doors;

11. And ſaid, Hitherto ſhalt thou come, and no further; and here ſhall be ſtopped the Exaltation of thy Waves.

12. Haſt thou commanded the Morning ſince thy Days? Made Break of Day know its Place;

13. To take hold of the Borders of the Earth, that the Wicked may be ſhook out of it?

14. It is turned like the Clay of a Seal, and the Things are placed as a Garment.

15. But from the Wicked their Light is with-held; and the Arm that was lifted up is broke.

16. Haſt thou gone to the Springs of the

Ver. 16. Ballancings] by what is put upon them, Ver. 15.

Ver. 20. would ſpeak] as Job wanted to do to God, Ch. xiii. 3, 14, 15, 22. & xxiii. 3, 4.

Ib. that] the ſame Particle repeated in the Heb.

Ver. 21. bright Light] the Sun.

Ver. 22. Gold] yellow reddiſh Clouds by the Sun, before it riſes, or after it ſets in the Summer, and ſo northward; whereas fair weather, which the Word has no Meaning of, is a blue Sky.

Ver. 23. but] This is parted from the preceding by the great Heb. Pauſe, and thus tranſlated by others, as the Senſe alſo requires.

Ib. would] as Lam. iii. 33. ſo Broughton has would.

Ver. 24. ſhould fear] ſo Caſtal. metuant, Munſt. timeant; which both the foregoing and following Words confirm.

Ver. 2. Counſel] the Providence of God, which Job had repreſented more obſcure than it is.

Ver. 5. becauſe] as in Ver. 21. Chap. xxxix. 11.

Ver. 10. broke up] the Earth into a large deep Cavity, to hold the Sea.

Ib. Bar] the Sea-ſhoar, ſing.

Ib. Doors] the Entrance of Rivers into the Sea.

Ver. 13. Wicked] whom the Day-light diſcovers and hinders, ſuch as the noted Arabian Robbers of thoſe Parts.

Ver. 14. It is turned] the Earth when the Morning-light ſhews it.

Ib. the Clay] on which the Shapes of Things appear; ſo now on the Earth. Patr. the Wicked change Colour as Clay doth, &c. wildly.

Ib. the Things] which cover and adorn the Earth, this Verb being plural.

Sea,

Sea, and walked about in the Search of the Gulf?

17. Have the Gates of Death been diſcovered to thee? and haſt thou ſeen thoſe of the Shadow of Death?

18. Haſt thou perceived to the Wideneſs of the Earth? Declare, if thou knoweſt it all.

2. Doſt thou count up the Months they fulfil, that thou mayeſt know the Time for them to bear?

3. They bow themſelves, bring forth their young ones, ſend out their Pangs.

4. Their Brood thrive, become big with Corn: they go out, and do not return to them.

Ver. 24. which diſperſes] the Particles of Light and Heat from the Morning-ſun, diſperſing the groſſer cold Particles of the Air from the Eaſt. Patr. changes which into what, and the Senſe with it?

Ver. 25. bright Cloud] See Chap. xxviii. 26.

Ver. 26. Wilderneſs] Of this Young in his Paraphraſe, a Poem,

Who in rough Deſarts, far from Human Toil,
Make Rocks bring forth, and Deſolation ſmile?
There blooms the Roſe, where Human Face ne'er ſhone,
And ſpreads its Beauties to the Sun alone.

Ver. 30. takes hold of it ſelf] The Verb being to take hold, and in the Conjug. Hithpahel.

Ver. 31. ſeven Stars] with which the Sun is in the Spring, and whoſe Delights the Froſt juſt mentioned does ſome times bind; as the other following Queſtions ſpeaking of Things that are done by God, begin more properly with Doſt than Canſt.

Ib. Drawings] the Influences of his Seaſon, as the Delights of the other; a Participle from the Verb draw.

Ver. 37. caſts down] as the Verb ſignifies in this Conjug. and is rendered 2 Sam. viii. 2. never ſignifying ſtay. So Jun. and Trem. proſternat, Broughton diſtill, Pagn. deſcendere faciet, will make deſcend.

Ver. 38. Mould is] God then pouring down Showers of Rain, as out of Bottles; being here ſhewing his Acts of Kindneſs, and of ſupplying the Want of Things, Ver. 39, 41. And duſt does not grow into hardneſs in dry Weather, but on the contrary the hard Earth becomes Duſt.

Ver. 39. and] This Grey would move to be his to Prey; of what Uſe but to ſhew his Skill in Criticiſm?

Ib. Company] Pagn. congregationem, Broughton herds, Jun. and Trem. catervam, the Gang, Munſt. cœtus, the Crew. It is rendered Company in the preſ. Tranſ. Pſa. lxviii. 30. and troup, 2 Sam. xxiii. 11. nor does appear ever to denote appetite.

Ver. 41. without] which the other Places of this Word ſhew, n. Chap. xli. 33. Iſa. v. 14.

Ver. 2. count up the Months] not merely the Number of them, for that Job might know, but from the Time of their reſpective Conception: which it is ſtrange ſo

29. From thence he ſearches out Food; his Eyes behold far off.

30. Nay his young ones ſwallow up Blood; and where the Pierced are, there is he.

CHAP. XL.

THE Lord too anſwered Job thus,

2. Is it Inſtruction to contend with the Almighty? Let him who reproves God anſwer it.

3. And Job replying to the Lord, ſaid;

4. Lo I am baſe; what Return ſhall I make to thee? I put my Hand on my Mouth.

5. I have ſpoken once, but will not anſwer; and twice, but will not proceed.

6. Again the Lord anſwered Job from the Tempeſt as follows:

7. Gird now thy Loins like a Man; I will aſk thee, and do thou inform me.

8. Wilt thou even make void my Judgment; condemn me, that thou mayeſt be juſtified?

9. Beſides haſt thou an Arm like God, and canſt thou thunder with aSound likehim?

10. Deck thy ſelf now with Excellency and Loftineſs, as alſo put on Majeſty and Comelineſs.

11. Diſperſe the Indignations of thy Anger; nay look at every proud one, and humble him.

12. Lookat every proud one, bring him down; and cruſh the Wicked where they are.

---

many Commentators did not think of, and the Aſſembly of Divines borrow the Geneva Note, viz. That is, how long they go with young.

Ver. 8. Excellency] This Noun not coming from תור as there are none of its Kind from that Sort of Verbs, but from יתד like חָרוּל, עָצוּם, קָלוּט and שָׁרוּעַ and conſequently ſignifies thus, like others from the ſame Root.

Ver. 12. bring back] from where it was ſown.

Ver. 13. Stork] It ſeems agreed this is the Bird here mentioned, and our Tranſlators have rendered the ſame Word ſo, Lev. xi. 19. Deut. xiv. 18. Pſa. civ. 17. Jer. viii. 17. Zech. v. 9. that is every where elſe. Beſides that faithful Relator, Sir John Narborough, in his Voyage to the Streights of Magellan tells us, Oſtriches can't fly, Ver. 18. but their Wings are to help them run.

Ver. 14. When] as this Particle is turned, Chap. xxxviii. 40. and ſo in the Vulg. Lat. quando, in the Tig. Verſ. quum: being not the Heb. Relative, but a Conjunction.

Ver. 16. Her Labour] to have Young.

Ver. 21. They paw] his Feet, or the Horſes, being plural.

Ver. 23. Lance] tranſlated Spear, Ch. xli. 29. Joſh. viii. 18, 26. Jer. vi. 23. and Lance, Jer. l. 42. the Senſe of this Context too requiring it ſhould be an offenſive Weapon.

Ver. 24. ſwallows] by ſnorting with his Head at the Ground; not by galloping, as others.

Ib. Trembling] not fierceneſs, if rage.

Ver. 25. Ha] but one Word in the Heb.

Ver. 4. I put] being not the future Tenſe.

Ver. 5. twice] for a few times; not, as Patr. theſe two Words.

13. Hide them in the Mould together, bind their Faces in the hidden Place.

14. Then will I alſo confeſs to thee, that thy right Hand can ſave thee.

15. Behold now the Elephant which I made with thee, that eats Graſs like an Ox.

16. Behold now his Might is in his Loins, and his Strength in the Navel of his Belly.

17. His Tail delights like a Cedar, the Sinews of his Stones are plaited together.

18. His Bones are the Strength of Braſs, his Limbs like a Bar of Iron.

19. He is the chief of the Ways of God; who having made him, can bring his Sword nigh.

20. For the Mountains bear Increaſe for him, where all the wild Beaſts play.

21. He lies down under the ſhady Trees, in the Covert of the Reed, and in the Mire.

22. The ſhady Trees cover him with their ſeveral Shadows, the Willows of the Flood compaſs him.

23. Lo he ſuppreſſes a River without haſtening: he truſts that he can bring forth Jordan into his Mouth.

24. He takes it with his Eyes, the Noſe pierces through Snares.

CHAP. XLI.

CANST thou draw out the Whale with a Hook, and his Tongue with a Line thou makeſt ſink down?

2. Wilt thou put a Ruſh into his Noſe, and pierce through his Jaw with a Thorn?

3. Will he multiply Supplications to thee? Will he ſooth thee with ſoft Things?

4. Will he make an Agreement with thee? Wilt thou take him for a Servant continually?

5. Wilt thou play with him as a Bird, and tie him for thy Girls?

6. Shall the Companions make a Feaſt upon him? Shall they part him in the midſt between the Dealers?

7. Wilt thou fill his Skin with Grappling-hooks, and his Head with Fiſh-ſpears?

8. Put thy Hand upon him; remember the Combat, do not proceed.

9. Lo the Hope of him is falſe: will he alſo be caſt down at the Sight of any one?

10. There is not a fierce one that will rouſe him up: who is it then will ſtand before me?

11. Who would prevent me? and I will recompenſe; what is under the whole Heaven being mine.

12. I will not be ſilent with his Limbs, the Matter of Powers, and Grace of his Diſpoſition.

13. Who ſhall diſcover the Outſide of his Cloathing? With his double Bridle who ſhall come?

14. The Doors of his Face who ſhall open? His Teeth round about being terrible.

Ver. 15. the Elephant] In Heb. it is as it were Beaſts, denoting doubtleſs in the Manner of the Heb. Plurals, a very great Beaſt, and conſequently the Elephant, as likewiſe Ver. 19. ſhews, and Fuller in Miſc. Sacr. L. iv. 10. and thus Calmet, with the Generality of Interpreters. So koloth the plural of Sound is Thunder.

Ib. with thee] inter terreſtria, ut tu es, among the living Creatures of the Earth, as thou art, Jun. and Trem. Annot.

Ver. 17. His Tail] to which there is not the accuſative Article in Heb.

Ib. delights] what the Word ſignifies, not moveth.

Ver. 18. Limbs] not the ſame Word as before.

Ver. 19. his Sword] God can ſlay him; but Patrick expounds it of the Creature's crooked Teeth, to mow the Graſs.

Ver. 20. Mountains] From hence it alſo appears a weak Interpretation, that this was the Hippopotamus, a Creature living moſtly in the River Nile in Egypt, where too there are ſcarce any Mountains, and where Jordan is not, Ver. 23.

Ver. 23. ſuppreſſes] either by drinking ſo much of it, that it becomes rather a Brook than a River; or by lying down in it with his vaſt Bulk, which ſtops it for a while, as an Elephant might actually do in a narrow Place of many Rivers: this latter Senſe Jun. and Trem. explain it in, which may ſeem the more full, proper and probable Meaning of the Word, as it has none of drinking up, and ſo here is neither Tautology nor Hyperbole. See Bp. Patrick's incoherent Interpretation of all this and the next Verſe.

Ib. without haſtening] does not do it for an Inſtant only, but ſome Time, though more Water keeps running down.

Ver. 24. Noſe] the Elephant's Trunk, which notably ſhews it to be that Creature: yet Poole ſuppoſing his Trunk would not be omitted, ſtrangely expounds it to be ſignified by his Tail, Ver. 17. or Sword, Ver. 19.

Ver. 1. the Whale] as being the biggeſt of all Fiſhes, of which it may be plainly obſerved he ſpeaks, Ver. 12, 13, 14, 18, 25, 31, 33, 34. as likewiſe in Pſa. civ. 26. where this Word is uſed, and it ſhews he is in the Sea. The Suppoſition then of its being the Crocodile is weak, which Beza owns before Chap. xxxviii. has no Tongue, and is in a River, even though there were no Whales near Job's Country; ſince it was ſufficient for him to have heard of them, which may well be thought ſuch a great and knowing Man as he had done; but it is to be conſidered that the Lord, and not Job ſpeaks it.

Ver. 2. Ruſh] to carry him on when taken, like a little Fiſh: the ſame that is ſo rendered, Iſa. ix. 14. & xix. 15. and bulruſh, Iſa. lviii. 5. without any Meaning of hook.

Ver. 7. Grappling-hooks] to draw him to Land, Jun.

Ver. 8. Put] elegantly for Shouldeſt thou put.

Ver. 9. Hope of him] of taking him.

Ib. will he] the Heb. being deſtitute of not; and therefore Jun. and Trem. render, an etiam ad aſpectum ipſius hominis dejicietur? Will he alſo be caſt down at the Sight of a Man himſelf?

Ver. 10. one] viz. ſingly by himſelf.

Ver. 11. would prevent me] by making any Oppoſition, as in the foregoing Verſe; not by Offices or Kindneſſes done for God, as Poole expounds, neither ſuitable to the Word nor preceding Words: and would is neceſſary, becauſe none can prevent God, as it might alſo be a Reproof to Job.

Ib. mine] denoting his great Power.

Ver. 13. diſcover] by bringing him out of the Water.

15. Excellent

15. Excellent is the Strength of the ſcaly Shields, each ſhut with a cloſe Seal.

16. One to another they come ſo nigh, that the Wind does not enter between them.

17. They cleave to each other; take hold of, and do not ſeparate, themſelves.

18. With his Sneezings the Light ſhines; and his Eyes are as the Eye-lids of the Morning.

19. Lamps go from his Mouth, Sparks of Fire eſcape.

20. Smoak goes out of his Noſtrils, like a Pot that is blowed under, or a Caldron.

21. His Breath kindles Coals, and a Flame goes out of his Mouth.

22. Strength lodges in his Neck, and Sorrow triumphs before him.

23. The Muſcles of his Fleſh cleave together; are firm upon him, cannot be moved.

24. His Heart is firm like a Stone, nay firm as a Piece of the lower one of a Mill.

25. The Strong are afraid by reaſon of his Excellency, they purify themſelves by reaſon of the Breakings.

26. The Sword that comes nigh him ſhall not riſe up, the Spear, the Dart, or the Breaſtplate.

27. He reckons Iron for Straw, Steel for rotten Wood.

28. The Offspring of the Bow does not make him flee: the Stones of the Sling are turned into Stubble to him.

29. Thoſe of the Croſs-bow are counted as Stubble; and he laughs at the Shaking of the Lance.

30. Sharp Shells are under him; he makes a Bed with broken Things upon the Dirt.

31. He cauſes the Deep to boil as a Pot, makes the Sea like Ointment.

32. He makes a Path light after him; the Gulf is reckoned to be grey.

33. There is none upon the Land comparable to him: he is made without Dread.

34. He can look on every one, he is a King above all the Lion's Breed.

CHAP. XLII.

AND Job replied thus to the Lord:

2. I know that thou art capable of every Thing, and no Device is kept back from thee.

3. Who is this that hides Counſel, without Knowledge? Therefore I declared, and did not underſtand, Things too wonderful for me, when I knew not.

4. Hear, I beſeech thee, and I will ſpeak; I will aſk of thee, and do thou inform me.

5. I have heard of thee with the Hearing of the Ear, but now my Eye ſees thee.

6. For this Cauſe I diſdain my ſelf, and repent, in Duſt and Aſhes.

7. Now after the Lord had ſpoken theſe Words to Job, he ſaid to Eliphaz the Temanite; I am angry with thee, and with thy two Friends; becauſe you did not ſpeak what was right of me, like my Servant Job:

8. So take ye now ſeven Bullocks and ſeven Rams, and go to him, and offer up a Burnt-offering for your ſelves; and he ſhall pray for you: ſince I will accept him, without making it vile with you, becauſe you did not ſpeak what was right of me, like him.

9. And Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did as the Lord ordered them; upon which he accepted Job.

10. Beſides the Lord turned back his Captivity when he prayed for his Friends; and the Lord added double to all that had been his.

Ver. 15. Strength] quite left out of the com. Verſ. though this Heb. Word in the ſame Conſtruction is there rendered ſtrong pieces, Chap. xl. 18.

Ib. Shields] which the Scales for Strength and Largeneſs were like.

Ver. 18. as the Eye-lids] Young in a Note to his Paraphraſe on Job, ſuppoſes that this gives as great an Image of what it expreſſes, as can enter the Thought of Man; and Quarles expreſſes it,

——— his moving Eye
Shines like the glory of the morning ſky.

Ver. 25. by reaſon of] which is in both Places of this Verſe the ſame in Heb.

Ib. Excellency] as the Word is tranſlated, Chap. xiii. 11. Pſa. lxii. 4. and Dignity, Gen. xlix. 3. Hab. i. 7. ſo Jun. and Trem. here excellentia, Broughton ſtatelyneſſe.

Ib. purify themſelves] by Repentance, &c.

Ib. the Breakings] of the Waves.

Ver. 26. not riſe up]to ſtrike him; Nothing about hold.

Ver. 29. Thoſe of] Whence may appear the Reaſon that was unknown of the Verb being plural, mentioned by Clarke.

Ver. 30. Sharp Shells] In the vulg. Lat. how ſtrange ſoever, The Beams of the Sun, and ſeveral of the Jews take it in like Manner, interpreting חרש heres by חרס heres; but the Word is in divers other Places for earthen Veſſels or Potſherds, which Shells reſemble.

Ib. under him] without hurting him.

Ver. 31. Ointment] no Pot of it in Heb.

Ver. 32. He makes a Path, &c.] like the Way of a Ship in the Night, which appears luminous merely from the Agitation of the Sea Water.

Ib. grey] the Colour of the Froth.

Ver. 33. Land] Heb. Duſt or Mould, not Earth otherwiſe.

Ver. 34. Lion] He being counted King of the Brutes. It is thus rendered Chap. xxviii. 8. in which two Places only the Word occurs. Caſtal. tranſlates, omne genus ferarum, every kind of wild Beaſts; Trem. and Jun. omnes feras, all the wild Beaſts, Broughton all the wild kind. It would have been tireſome to remark how often, as here, the com. Eng. Tranſ. was made from the wretched old corrupt Lat. inſtead of the Heb. in this Book.

Ver. 3. Who is this] What am I, that I ſhould do ſo? Chap. xxxviii. 2.

Ib. when] the common Heb. Conjunction, not the Relative.

Ver. 10. double] For as to his Children, according to Baſil, Hom. 23. the better Part of thoſe deceaſed ſtill ſurvived, and ſo he had the double of them alſo.

11. For

11. For all his Brothers and Sisters, with all who knew his Face, came to him, and eat Victuals with him at his House: when bemoaning him, and comforting him, for all the Ill that the Lord had brought upon him; they gave him each a Lamb, and each an Ear-ring of Gold.

12. Thus the Lord blessed the End of Job more than his Beginning: so that he had fourteen thousand Sheep, six thousand Camels, a thousand Yoke of Oxen, and a thousand She-asses.

13. He had also seven Sons, and three Daughters.

14. And he named one Jemimah, as he did another Keziah, and the third Keren-happuch.

15. Nor were there found such fair Women in all the Country as the Daughters of Job; to whom their Father gave a Possession among their Brothers.

16. Moreover Job lived after this a hundred and forty Years, and saw his Sons, and Grandsons, four Generations.

17. At last Job died an old Man, and full of Days.

Ver. 11. for all] as for you, Ver. 8. and how much more proper than over the Reader may observe.

Ib. Lamb] See Gen. xxxiii. 19. and as there is Nothing of Job's losing his Money, nor helping himself with it, it appears to be then, and there at least, not in use. It may be added that Beza has it (in the Eng. Transl.) some one of his cattell, which he expounds, either a Sheep, or an Ox, or a Camel.

Ver. 17. died] Sandys,

Then full of Days, and deathless Honour, gave His Soul to God, his Body to the Grave.

In the Saxon or very ancient English Book of Job, written not a thousand Years after Christ, it is said, On (in) eallum his life he leofode (lived) twa hund yeara & eahta & feowertiy (248) yeara. he wæs se fifta (the fifth, see Hickes's Sax. Gram. p. 42.) man after Abrahame tham heahfædere (his forefather.)

NOTES

NOTES upon the PSALMS.

PSALM I.

BLESSED is the Man, who neither goes in the Counſel of the Wicked, nor ſtands in the Way of Sinners, nor ſits in the Seat of Scorners;

2. But his Delight is in the Law of the Lord, and in his Law he meditates Day and Night.

3. He is even like a Tree planted by the Brooks of Water, which yields its Fruit in its Seaſon, and its Leaf does not wither; nay all that he does will proſper.

4. The Wicked are not ſo, but like Chaff which the Wind blows away.

5. Who therefore will not ſtand in Judgment, nor Sinners in the Aſſembly of the Righteous.

6. For the Lord is acquainted with the Way of the Righteous, whereas that of the Wicked will periſh.

PSALM II.

WHY do the Gentiles croud together, the Nations ſtudy a vain Thing?

2. The Kings of the Earth ſet themſelves up, and the Princes conſult together, againſt both the Lord and his anointed One,

---

Tit. Pſalms] The Pſalms, ſays the late famous Iſaac Newton, ſeem to have been collected by Ezra into one Volume; becauſe I meet with Pſalms as late as the Babylonian Captivity, but with none later, Obſervat. on Prophec. of Dan. Chap. 1. In the Pref. of the Pſalter with Prayers to each Pſalm, aſcribed to the Ld. Hatton, the Author ſays, I began to believe there could come no Affliction great enough, to ſpend ſo great a Stock of Comfort as was laid up in the Treaſure of the Pſalter. This Pſalm might probably be compoſed by Ezra himſelf, as a Sort of Preface or Introduction to the reſt. The Beauties of it by Johnſton in Lat. Hexameter and Pentameter Verſe, ſee in the Prefatory Diſcourſe to it, p. 44, 47, 49, 51, 52, 54. making ſome Allowance, as written to promote the Sale.

Ver. 1. In an Eng. Tranſ. of the Pſalter from the Lat. (the firſt that ſeems known of any of the Scripture after the Saxon) by Richard Rolle, a Hermit of Hampole by Doncaſter in Yorſhire, who died in 1349, it is thus, Bleſſid is that man the whuche ghede not in the counſel of wiked, and the wey of ſynfule ſtood not, and in the chayer of peſtilence ſatte not; and by John Wielif, who tranſlated the whole Bible out of Lat. and died 1384, Bleſſid is the man that ghede not in the counſel of wickide men, and ſtood not in the weye of ſynnirs, and ſaat not in the chair of peſtilence, Lewis Hiſt. of Eng. Tranſlations.

Ib. Counſel] Old Metre, rede, ſo ſignifying formerly, as alſo Pſa. cxix. 45.

Ver. 2. meditates] occupieth himſelfe, in a Tranſlation of the Pſalms and Calvin's Commentaries on them (which I have peruſed) publiſhed by Arthur Golding, Gent. of Eſſex, 1571, a Claſſic Tranſlator in that Time.

Ver. 3. its Fruit] The Gen. have her, to diſtinguiſh perhaps from the Man's.

Ib. all that] The Tranſ. in the Com. Prayer has look added in before, being an old vulgar Expletive. The Author of Holy David and his old Engliſh Tranſlators clear'd, pr. 1706, which appears to be done by no mean Hand, pleads for the Uſe of it now, becauſe uſed by the Martyrs in Q. Mary's Days, and which, adds he, we ſhall not willingly part with for the ſake of a Hebrew Criticiſm, Pref. This is ſuch an Inſtance of ſetting any Tranſlation above the Original, as I never met with from a Proteſtant before. Why were the Geneva, the Biſhops and the King's Tranſlations made after, if that was ſo ſacred? Why was not the Preference given to the Words of David, Chriſt, &c. in the Heb. and Gr. if People are to uſe Words they do not underſtand? And if that Verſion ſhould be retained for that Reaſon, why not the reſt of it beſide the Pſalms? And he allows it ſeems to follow the Gr. (inſtead of the Heb.) in above ſixty Places, Defence, p. 4. and after ſays, I do not much queſtion, but our laſt Tranſlation agrees with the Greek in as many Texts, excepting the Supplements, p. 33.

Ib. he does] viz. the Man; not the Tree, as our laſt Tranſlators by removing the chief Diviſion of the Verſe from wither to ſeaſon, and uſing his for the Tree, make it look.

Ver. 4. away] The Pſalter, following the Gr. or vulg. Lat. ſubjoins from the Face of the Earth; but to what Advantage?

Tit. Pſa. 2.] made by David from divine Inſpiration, Acts iv. 25. and was anciently the 2d, Acts xiii. 33. For the Time and Occaſion of it as to David himſelf (though he was confeſſedly inſpired, yet perhaps in the Manner the Apoſtle mentions, 1 Pet. i. 11. to write it with a ſpiritual Relation to Chriſt, which ſignifies Anointed, as in Ver. 2.) I refer the Reader to 1 Chron. xiv. 2, 8, 17. to ſee it was not prophetically made upon Jeroboam's Revolt, as Lightfoot ſays it was.

Ver. 1. This Verſe is rendered by Rich. Rolle aforeſaid, Whi gnaſtide the folke? and the puple thoughte ydil thoughtis? But in another Copy, Why gnaſtes the gens, and the peple thoughte ydil thingis? And by Wiclif, Whi gnaſtiden with teeth hethene men, and peplis thoughten veyn thingis?

Ib. croud together] Since this Word is no where beſide in Heb. it looks as if it was made from Chaldee, and ſo much the more becauſe the Word of that Language is uſed for Son, Ver. 12. beſides that it was ſuitable to mock them with a Term of their own; the Verb then occurs in Chaldee, where it bears this Meaning, Dan. vi. 6, 11, 15. as well as in the Targum here, and alſo with Sol. Jar. Ab. Ezra and Jerome: if it be thought however Heb. becauſe there are two Nouns belonging to it found once each, viz. in Pſa. lv. 14. & lxiv 2. yet the Signification concurrent with them will be the ſame. In Coverdale's Bible 1535, the firſt in Eng. it is grudge, and in Matthewe's 1537, frowne, ſuppoſed to be altered by John Rogers, that noble Protomartyr in Q. Mary's Reign.

Ver. 2. anointed One] for which the vulg. Lat. Tranſ. has Chriſt; and ſo the old Saxon being put into our modern Letters, reads, to geanes-dribten (perhaps for tb'right one, th being formerly in ſeveral Words pronounced like d, as in murther, &c.) and to geanes Criſte

3. Let us pull off their Bonds, and throw their Cords from us.

4. He who dwells in Heaven ſmiles, the Lord derides them.

5. Then he ſays to them in his Anger, troubling them in his Fury,

6. But I have anointed my King upon Zion, my holy Mountain.

7. I will tell of the Decree: the Lord ſaid to me; Thou art my Son, to Day have I begotten thee.

8. Aſk of me, and I will give the Gentiles for thy Poſſeſſion, and the Limits of the Earth for thy Inheritance.

9. Thou ſhalt break them in pieces with an iron Rod, ſhalt ſcatter them about as a Potter's Veſſel.

10. Now therefore, O Kings, underſtand; be inſtructed, you Judges of the Earth.

11. Serve the Lord with Fear, and rejoice with Trembling.

12. Kiſs the Son, leſt he ſhould be angry, and you loſe the Way, though his Anger be kindled but a little; in whom all that truſt are bleſſed.

PSALM III.

A PSALM of David, when he fled from the Preſence of his Son Abſalom.

O Lord, how my Adverſaries are multiplied! many riſe up againſt me.

2. Many ſay of my Life, There is no Safety at all for it through God. A Pauſe.

3. But thou, O Lord, art a Shield for me, my Glory, and he who lifts up my Head.

his. The Point, not a Period, ſufficiently indicates ſaying, which our Tranſlators have not added before Ver. 6. Pſa. xxx. 8. & l. 4. &. lii. 6. nor put a proper Point. Hammond's Opinion is ſtrange, that David and his People ſaid the next Verſe.

Ver. 3. Cords] the ſame with the Bonds, as the Progreſſion of the Verbs implies, and more elegant than to have ſaid them; yet the LXX have put Yoke in their room, as the Word denotes thick.

Ver. 4. ſmiles] which to my View is more reverent than laughing, nay the latter irreverent.

Ver. 6. have anointed my King] or poured out on, not ſet. Septuagint, am made King by him: this being the 2d of near 260 Verſes which the Author of Holy David and his old Eng. Tranſlators clear'd has collected together, that differ in the Com. Prayer from the Gr. by following the Heb. but ſome ill tranſlated; and if to the Number were added the many more, wherein the Com. Prayer Tranſ. varies with the Gr. from the Heb. as alſo the ſupernumerary Inſtances elſewhere, and thoſe of above one in a Verſe here; how lax and libertine a Verſion muſt that of the LXX appear? And who in his Wits can ever think the Heb. was juſt as they have tranſlated?

Ver. 7. I will, &c.] The Author of A New Verſion of the Pſalms, printed in 1744, ſays in his Notes, Theſe cannot be the Words of David, for he is ſpoken of throughout this Pſalm as a third Perſon (which is only ſaid, not proved) but probably of Nathan who compoſed this Pſalm, and directed to David, which makes him the ſecond Perſon here.) Now by the Text Thou art my Son was ſaid to the Son himſelf, viz. David, and according to the Notion of this Interpreter ſhould be Thou art his Son, &c. or He is my Son, &c.

Ib. of] or concerning; in the Chald. God's, and Gr. the Lord's, the Difference of the former being but אֵל el ſhort and אֵל el long, only it ſtands in the wrong Place, and therefore cannot be ſo: this I ſee is rendered in the Liturgy whereof, but wrong, and to another Thing.

Ver. 9. break——in pieces] Sept. manage, from רעה inſtead of רעע with other Vowels.

Ver. 11. rejoice] The Verſ. of the Septuag. (which the Vulg. Lat. follows cloſely as a literal Tranſlation of it, in this Book, which it does not in others) has to him, that might be made, though careleſsly, from the laſt Letters of גילו rejoice.

Ver. 12. Kiſs the Son] for which the LXX have, Take hold of Diſcipline: the latter Word being only thrice more in the Heb. for Son, viz. in Prov. xxxi. 2, and uſually denoting Corn, which the Jews underſtood metaphorically of Diſcipline, as Buxt. ſhews from their Talmud, in his Vindication of the Truth of the Hebrew againſt Capellus, p. 673. and as kiſſing would not ſuit with it in either Senſe; thoſe Tranſlators might probably take ku the Termination of the Verb as if it had been gu, which ſmall Difference will account for their ſo rendering.

Ib. loſe the Way] For periſh from it has an obſcure Meaning, or none; and periſh in it, as divers take it, by adding in, an uncertain one, whether in the Son's Way or their own: but this is proper as it ſtands in the Original; and whether the Son be conſidered as David or Chriſt, denoting both, it may ſignify the Way to pleaſe him or have his Favour, which they might miſs of, unleſs they did him homage by kiſſing. The Com. Prayer Tranſ. has right added to way, from the Gr. and Lat. righteous.

Ib. but a little] Gen. ſuddenly, as if in a little while, but that is overſtretched.

Ver. 1. A Pſalm] This Title, as ſeveral more, makes a Verſe in Heb. and ſome Titles are Part of the firſt Verſe; to reconcile which in the beſt Manner I could to our Eng. Bible, that the Verſes may agree together, I make the 1ſt Verſe begin with the Title, like the Heb. and end as the Engliſh.

Ver. 2. Life] of which it is plain he ſpeaks, and this Word alſo ſignifies; ſee 2 Sam. xvii. 2, 16.

Ib. Safety at all] the augmenting of the Word, by a double Sign of the Gender, denoting an Increaſe of its Signification: therefore Jun. and Trem. render, non eſt ulla ſalus, there is not any Safety.

Ib. through] to make it intelligible, and to convey ſome Idea to the Underſtanding, which I apprehend in does not, and this was the propereſt I could think of; ſee the like often in this Book. It is the ſame that I render ſo Pſa. vi. 7. where it cannot ſignify in, as in many other Places.

Ib. God] with his by the LXX, for which ſome Scribe might write ἀυτῷ for him twice, and then the laſt of them be thought wrong for ἀυτῆ his, to which it was accordingly altered.

Ib. A Pauſe] Selah has been thought to come either from ſalal, to caſt up, or exalt, and ſo to denote the raiſing up of the Voice there; or from ſalah, to tread down, and ſo to ſignify a Pauſe: the latter Meaning ſeems likely, the former not, by Meditation being joined with it. Pſa. ix. 16, and the more ſo, as it may come from ſhalah, to be ſtill, or quiet; ס and ש being divers times put one for the other, and ſometimes ס and ש ſee Bux. Lex. Heb. &c. in בשם and Lex. Chald. &c. after Epiſt. Ded. As to Selah being at the End of the Pſalm, it might be for a Pauſe before another began, and that either for Reflection, or the Advantage of the Sound; but I think Muſick does not end with a high Note.

Ver. 3. Glory] In the Pſalms of the Liturgy it is worſhip, as there is in the preſ. Tranſ. Luk. xiv. 10. which Pſalms were taken from The Great Bible, pr. 1539, but

4. I call to the Lord with my Voice, and he anſwers me from his holy Mountain. A Pauſe.

5. I lie down, and ſleep, I awake: for the Lord upholds me.

6. I will not be afraid of ten thouſand People, who beſet me round about.

7. Ariſe, O Lord, ſave me, my God: for thou ſtrikeſt all my Enemies on the Cheek, thou breakeſt the Teeth of the Wicked.

8. Salvation is of the Lord: thy Bleſſing is upon thy People. A Pauſe.

PSALM IV.

FOR the chief Muſician on the Inſtruments that are ſtriken. A Pſalm of David.

Anſwer me when I call, O God of my Righteouſneſs, who enlargeſt me being in Diſtreſs: be gracious to me, and hear my Prayer.

2. O Sons of Men, how long ſhall my Glory become Shame, you loving Vanity, ſeeking for Lyes? A Pauſe.

3 But know that the Lord has ſeparated the pious one for himſelf: the Lord will hear when I call to him.

4. Tremble, and do not ſin: ſpeak in your own Heart upon your Bed, and be ſtill. A Pauſe.

5. Offer the Sacrifices of Righteouſneſs, and truſt on the Lord.

6. Many ſaying, Who will ſhew us that which is good? Lift up the Light of thy Countenance, O Lord, upon us.

unknown by whom tranſlated, though probably not by Tyndal; ſee Lewis Hiſt. p. 224, 225, 227, 107.

Ver. 4. anſwers] So this Verb properly ſignifies; remotely or ſcarcely to hear, as it is frequently turned by our Tranſlators in this Book; and is here as elſewhere improper, ſince God muſt hear David, but might not anſwer him: Ainſw. has anſwered, and ſo Jun. reſpondit, Leo Jud. reſpondebit, will anſwer.

Ver. 7. the Cheek] but the Septuag. have it without cauſe; taking, I fancy, ל for a prefixed Pronoun, which it often is, and conſtruing thus, all that hate me (as their Verſion goes) for living, what the mere Letters might bear, and then concluding that was vainly or without cauſe; unleſs as Heſychius ſuppoſes μάθιας is to be read for ματαίως, Bythner's being wider.

Ver. 1. For the chief Muſician] to be ſet to Muſick by him, and played on the following Inſtruments. The Septuag. and Vulgate have it, To the End, whether further from Truth or Senſe I ſhall not determine; but the Doway College, not pretending the firſt, attempt at the latter, that the matter perteineth to future times or perſons, Annot. So whether or not drawn from קצה for want of knowing נצח or מנצח may paſs for Nothing, or no Senſe but what is forced upon it, as might upon almoſt any Thing.

Ib. the Inſtruments that are ſtriken] rendered ſtringed Inſtruments, Iſa. xxxviii. 20. Hab. iii. 19. and comes from the Verb to ſtrike or play on a muſical Inſtrument, contradiſtinguiſhed from ſuch as are blown, Pſa. v. 1. Jun. and Trem. render it fidum, of the ſtringed inſtruments; Caſtal. fidibus, to the ſtringed inſtruments; in the Tig. Verſ. it is in general ad inſtrumenta muſica; Ainſw. expounds it Inſtruments of Muſicke played on with the Hand; Grotius pulſu ſonant, thoſe that ſound by ſtriking: ſo that our Tranſlators need not have left it untranſlated, for want of a Meaning to it. Beza at the End of the Table to his Paraphraſe ſays, Muſical Inſtruments were agreeable to that ceremonial Time. but now all Ceremonies being ceaſed, we muſt worſhip in Spirit and Truth; and Calvin in Com. Paul ſuffereth not Men to praiſe God but with a known Tongue. Certainly the Voice of Man, although it be not underſtood, far excelleth dead Inſtruments, which only feed the Ears with a vain Sound.

Ib. A Pſalm of David] as appears, eſpecially by Ver. 2, 7. while he was perſecuted by his Enemies in Saul's Reign.

Ib. Anſwer] the ſame Verb as in Pſa. iii. 4. but different from that in Ver. 3. which properly ſignifies hear. Sept. God heard, as otherwiſe pointed.

Ib. O God of my Righteouſneſs] for which Buchanan begins with from Virgil,

O Pater, o hominum divumque æterna poteſtas:
O Father, and everlaſting Power of Men and Gods; of which his Detractor in the Prefat. Diſc. to Jonſton's Verſ. exclaims, Is not this ſhocking in this Place? For what Relation has it to what follows?

Sinceræ mihi conſcie mentis:
who knoweſt my ſincere Mind. Sufficient Relation! and both together concurrent with that of the Original, eſpeclally as God in Heb. ſignifies Powerful Being. But our Critick not content with the foregoing, places the former Line between two other of Buchanan's, the worſt he falſely pretends that ever were written, as if they ſtood together, when they are ſome Pſalms apart. How heinous ſuch Abuſe! ſee his p. 20. But at the Concluſion, after labouring hard to debaſe him as a moſt wretched Poet, he confeſſes, that many of Buchanan's Poems are adorned with all the Graces of Language, Numbers, and Harmony, with more to the ſame Purpoſe, Supplem. p. 42. and who but from thence will conclude that his Pſalms are the ſame, who ſuffered for his Religion a Year and half in the Inquiſition?

Ib. be gracious] So I chooſe to render it in its moſt proper Meaning, rather than have mercy, when I do not find it denote forgiving ſin.

Ver. 2. ſhall my Glory become Shame] for which the LXX will you be dull-hearted? Why, as if לכלמה had been לב למה and כבודי alſo כבדי the Adjec. or כובדי the Part. not כבודי as with Byth.

Ib. Lyes] See 1 Sam. xxiv. 9. ſo the Gen. poorly refined by leaſing.

Ver. 3. Where Calvin's Commentary, Let this be taken for a Maxim, that thoſe ſhall never be deſtitute of God's Help, who proceed ſincerely in their Race.

Ib. ſeparated] Sept. made wonderful, reckoning ה as א

Ver. 4. Tremble] or be moved, whence the LXX's be angry; not ſignifying ſtand in awe.

Ib. Heart] It is ſaid Pythagoras uſed to exhort his Scholars to aſk themſelves when they came home, as Diog. Laertius writes in his Life, or before they went to ſleep, as it is in Pythagoras's Golden Verſes, Πῆ παρέβην; τί δ' ἔρεζα; τί μοι δέον οὐκ ἐτελέσθη; Where have I been? What have I done? What ſhould I have done which I did not?

Ib. and be ſtill] With the LXX is, what you ſp. a: in your Hearts upon your Beds have remorſe for: but not even Bythner attempts at more than the eaſy Part, to tell how they ſtumbled ſo, which he has done wrong, as אמרו is they ſpeak, not you, ſo that they changed the Mood arbitrarily, and not by reading otherwiſe. As to the laſt Word it appears to me that ודמו was taken as נדמו and the latter for the Imper. in Niphal נ being its Characteriſtick (though it ſhould be הדמו) in which is ſignified cut off.

Ver. 5. the Sacrifices of Righteouſneſs] a broken Heart, as in Pſa. li. according to the Jewiſh Rabbi Obadiah Gaon; but according to Sol. Jar. the Fruits of good Works.

Ver. 6. Lift up] Sept. is ſigned; as it is ſpelled with ה inſtead of א or נסה has the Signification of נסא neither of which they being aware of, appear to have deduced it from נסם taking Light alſo for feminine.

7. Thou

7. Thou putteſt Gladneſs into my Heart, more than at the Time their Corn and Wine are much.

8. I lie down, and ſleep together in Peace: for thou, O Lord alone, makeſt me dwell ſecurely.

PSALM V.

FOR the chief Muſician of the Inſtruments that are blown. A Pſalm of David.

Give ear to my Words, O Lord, conſider my Meditation.

2. Hearken to the Expreſſion of my Cry, my King and God; for to thee will I pray.

3. O Lord, in the Morning ſhalt thou hear my Voice: in the Morning I will put myſelf in order for thee, and watch.

4. For thou art not a God who is pleaſed with Wickedneſs, Evil ſhall not lodge with thee.

5. The mad ones ſhall not ſet themſelves up before thy Eyes: thou hateſt all that work Iniquity.

6. Thou wilt make thoſe periſh who tell Lies: the Lord abhors the bloody and deceitful Man.

7. As for me, I will come to thy Houſe in the Abundance of thy Kindneſs: I will bow down in thy Fear at thy holy Temple.

8. Lead me, O Lord, in thy Righteouſneſs, by reaſon of thoſe that obſerve me: make thy Way ſtraight before me.

9. For there is Nothing right in the Mouth of ſuch a one, their inward Part is Frowardneſs, their Throat an open Grave: they flatter with their Tongue.

10. Condemn them, O God, let them fall by their own Counſels; drive them away in the Multitude of their Crimes: for they rebel againſt thee.

11 But let all who truſt in thee be glad, let them ſing continually; ſince thou protecteſt them: and let ſuch as love thy Name triumph through thee.

12. For thou doſt bleſs the Righteous, O Lord: thou compaſſeſt him about with Favour, as a Shield.

Ver. 7. This Verſe out of Beza's Pſalms in Paraphraſis is agreeably thus, For far greater is this inward Joie which thou giveſt unto me, than is theirs, when their Vintage and Harveſt are moſt plentious, Eng. Edit. 1581.

Ib. more than at the Time] In the Liturgy, ſince the time, by taking an unſuitable Senſe of the Preposition. Sept. from or by the Fruit of, but χαρπῦ may have been καιρῦ.

Ib. Wine] Litur. alſo and oyle from the Gr. and Lat.

Ver. 8. Like Pſa. iii. 5.

Ver. 1. of the Inſtruments that are blown] Jun. and Trem. ad pneumatica, inſtrumenta, to the wind inſtruments; and Ainſ. writes, "Theſe (by the Name) ſeeme to be "wind inſtruments, as flutes, trumpets, cornets. For "Chalil is a Pipe, Iſa. v. 12." he might have added, and xxx. 29. and plur. 1 King. i. 40. Jer. xlviii. 36. both from a Verb ſignifying to play on an inſtrument, Pſa. lxxxvii. 7. 1 King. i. 40. if this Word does not take its Meaning from nahal, a Flood, the Sound of which that of thoſe hollow Inſtruments reſembled; or according to Grot. the Humming of Bees.

Ib. through] as neceſſary, in order to be underſtood, and give a clear Idea; and ſo tranſlated Pſa. lx. 12. & xcii. 4. & cviii. 13. & xxi. 7. & xliv. 5. which Noldius expounds by the Help of: ſo often with by, and ſo Luk. x. 17. Eph. ii. 7, 22. Rom. vi. 23.

PSALM

PSALM VI.

FOR the chief Muſician on the Inſtruments that are ſtriken upon the Eighth. A Pſalm of David.

O Lord, do not rebuke me in thy Anger, nor correct me in thy Wrath.

2. Be gracious to me, O Lord; for I am languiſhing: heal me, O Lord; for my Bones are diſturbed.

3. Nay my Soul is diſturbed exceedingly; but thou, O Lord, how long?

4. Return, O Lord, deliver my Soul: ſave me for the ſake of thy Kindneſs.

5. For there is no Remembrance of thee in Death: who can praiſe thee in the Grave?

6. I am wearied with my ſighing; I make my Bed wet every Night, I ſoak my Couch with my Tears.

7. My Eye is waſted by Diſpleaſure, it is decayed through all my Adverſaries.

8. Depart from me, all ye Workers of Iniquity: for the Lord hears the Voice of my weeping;

9. The Lord hears my Supplication; the Lord will receive my Prayer.

10. Let all my Enemies be aſhamed, and troubled exceedingly: let them turn back, be aſhamed in an Inſtant.

PSALM VII.

A Variable Poem of David; which he ſung to the Lord upon the Words of Cuſh the Benjaminite.

O Lord my God, in whom I truſt, ſave me from all my Purſuers, and deliver me:

2. Leſt he ſhould tear my Soul as a Lion, rending aſunder, and none deliver.

3. O Lord my God, if I did this; if there was Iniquity in my Hands;

4. If I recompenſed Harm to him that was at Peace with me (whereas I delivered him who was my Adverſary without cauſe;)

5. Let the Enemy not only purſue my Soul, but overtake, nay tread down my Life to the Earth, and make my Honour remain in the Duſt. A Pauſe.

6. Ariſe, O Lord, in thy Anger, get up againſt the Fury of my Adverſaries; and awake for me, with the Judgment thou haſt commanded.

7. Thus will the Aſſembly of the People come round about thee; and for that return thou on high.

8. Let the Lord give Sentence to the Folk; judge me, O Lord, according to my Righteouſneſs, and my Integrity in me.

9. Let the Harm of the Wicked ceaſe, I

Ib. A Pſalm of David] at the Time of ſome Sickneſs, among his other Troubles, when his Enemies were ſeeking to catch him for Saul.

Ver. 3. how long] In the Litur. there is annexed wilt thou puniſh me, and in the Geneva Tranſ. wilt thou delay, without any Thing for it ſo much as in the Gr. or vulg. Lat.

Ver. 5. By Buchanan, who turned the Pſalms into fine Latin Verſe, Ubi ſæva duram mors manum injecit ſemel.

Quis amplius meminit tui?
Quis mortis alta ſubrutus caligine
Nomen celebrabit tuum?

that is literally, Where cruel Death once lays on his Hand, who remembers thee any more? Who that is overwhelmed in the deep Darkneſs of Death will celebrate thy Name?

Ver. 6. wet] ſo Munſt. humecto: for ſwim was impoſſible, and all the night too; and for water it might as well be ſaid melt, if Words were to be taken only in their primary Signification.

Ver. 7. Eye] Wondering at beautie, which the Lit. has, I found Eye was taken for Look or Appearance (in Mat. Bib. countenance) and that for beautie.

Ver. 10. turn back] from purſuing me.

Ver. 1. A variable Poem] in the Tune of it; ſince the Matter continues, and ſeems uniform in the Pſalm; it being from a Root that ſignifies to wander: ſo Jun. and Trem. render it Ode varia.

Ib. Cuſh] who might be one of thoſe David complained of, 1 Sam. xxiv. 9. and was of Saul's Tribe.

Ver. 2. he] Saul.

Ib. rending aſunder] The late Writer of Critical Notes on ſome Paſſages would have this be redeem, like the ſame Verb in Pſa. cxxxvi. 24. Lam. v. 8. but there only, and that from the Chald. Signification, both with מ from after; which Pſalm, if not written after the Captivity, as Lamentations, is a Pſalm of Praiſe, and ſo might be indited more learnedly than this mournful Supplication. However would this make better Senſe? No, none at all; and it is further required for the Heb. Copy to have ואין and none, more than it has: ſuch Demands, if granted, we might ſoon find to increaſe upon us, and the Bible to become a moſt uncertain Book. This Author is peculiar in finding fault with our following the Chaldee; when it is the Chald. Tranſ. and ours follow the Heb. Original together.

Ver. 3. this] which Cuſh accuſed him of.

Ver. 4. delivered him] Saul, as 1 Sam. xxiv. 4, 6, 7. but the Author of Holy David clear'd expounds it in a contrary as well as wrong Senſe by betrayed, as though it belonged to if, when there is I before have. The LXX render, let me indeed fall from my Enemies empty; how, but by the Top of ל being off, and ſo the Verb thought to be חרץ omitted by Byth. as too difficult.

Ib. him] Jonſton in his famed Latin Verſe, into which he turned the Pſalms, inſtead of the firſt him has ſocios, Companions, and for the latter gens, hation; when Nim both times evidently means but one, and that the ſame Perſon, viz. Saul, againſt whom David was falſely accuſed of doing this mentioned Ver. 3.

Ver. 6. againſt] So the Geneva Bib. and Ant. Hulſe in Annot. tranſlates in excandeſcentias, as being more proper to the Heb. than becauſe of, which would rather be מ The LXX put it in the Borders, imagined from the Verb paſs.

Ver. 7. for that] Matter or Aſſembly, the Pronoun being ſing. Caſtal. ſays eam ob cauſam, for that cauſe; Leo Jud. hujus rei gratia, for the ſake of this thing.

Ib. return thou on high] aſcend the Throne to judge, Jun. and Trem.

Ver. 8. according] deſiring his Enemies might be judged by that, as well as himſelf; according to the Heb. Pointing, and Ver. 6, 19. &c.

15. He digs a Pit, and when he has done it, will fall into the Ditch he makes.

16. His Labour will return on his own Head, and his Violence come down upon his Crown.

17. I will praiſe the Lord according to his Righteouſneſs, and ſing melodiouſly to the Name of the Supreme Being.

PSALM VIII.

FOR the chief Muſician upon the Inſtrument Gittith. A Pſalm of David.

O Lord our Sovereign, how noble is thy Name on the whole Earth! who putteſt thy Majeſty above the Heaven.

2. Thou layeſt the Foundation of Strength by the Mouth of Infants and ſucking Babes, by reaſon of thy Adverſaries; to make the Enemy and Revenger quiet.

3. When I ſee thy Heaven, the Work of thy Fingers, the Moon and Stars which thou haſt ſet in order;

4. What is Man, that thou ſhouldeſt remember him? and the Son of Man, that thou ſhouldeſt viſit him?

5. Yet thou haſt made him wanting but a little of the Angels, and crowneſt him with Glory and Honour.

6. Thou makeſt him rule over the Works of thy Hands, putting all under his Feet;

7. Flocks and Herds of all Sorts, as likewiſe the wild Beaſts,

8. The Fowls of the Air, and the Fiſh of the Sea, that paſs along its Paths.

9. O Lord our Sovereign, how noble is thy Name on the whole Earth!

PSALM IX.

FOR the chief Muſician, upon the Death of Goliath. A Pſalm of David.

Ver. 11.] In the Liturgy ſtrong and patient is from the Vulg. or Gr. but they have the former in the room of God or himſelf, ſo that there is farther Addition in the Litur.

Ib. himſelf] For this the Sept. have μὴ not, ſuppoſing אל to be אֵל

Ib. every Day] There is an Eng. Tranſlation of this Book (and in my Poſſeſſion) aſcribed to the Earl of Dartford (whoſe I may hereafter call it) then with K. James II. in France after his Abdication, that was printed there in 1700; though Lewis after his great Searches, confeſſes in his Complete Hiſt. of Eng. Tranſlations, p. 357. he could never hear of it but in Le Long's Biblioth. Sacra: which Tranſ. is a great Amendment, as to the Engliſh and better underſtanding, of the Doway or Vulg. Verſion; and here it has, will his Anger always continue? for the other's, is he angrie euerie day? notwithſtanding the Note there gave it another Turn, viz. God doth not puniſh al ſinners preſently, but often differeth.

Ver. 12. Who] which it is neceſſarily rendered, both to ſhew this was God, and to diſtinguiſh it from he.

Ib. he] Cuſh, of whom the Pſalm is made. The LXX have it in the 2d perſ. plur. you, not becauſe they read ſo, as the Cant is, viz. תשובו for ישוב but becauſe they wrote ſo, i. e. ſo looſely.

Ver. 13. make] never ordaineth.

Ver. 14. by Doct. Arthur Jonſton,

Parturit hæc noxam; ſterili ſed credidit arvo
Semina, nec præter ſomnia vana metet:

that is, This (turba, Multitude) is delivered (as a Woman) of Miſchief; but truſts the Seed or Grain to a barren Field, nor reaps other than vain Dreams; where he not only changes the Scripture Allegory, but abſurdly his own.

Ib. breeds] to travail (old Engliſh) being the ſame as to bring forth, and the Heb. Verbs are different. Beſides if he had brought forth, how did he now travail, as in the com. Bible?

Ib. Vanity] the ſame that is ſo tranſlated Job. xv. 35.

Ver. 15. will fall] agreeable to the following.

Ver. 1. the Inſtrument Gittith] The reſt being alſo muſical Inſtruments, and Jun. and Trem. render this Gittæa inſtrumenta; ſuch as might have been uſed with Obed-edom the Gittite, where the Ark was, 2 Sam. vi. 11. ſee alſo 1 Chr. xv. 21, 25, 28. & xvi. 38. but the Targum has it, the Harp which he brought from Gath. So that this Pſalm was probably made afterwards in David's Proſperity, as the Matter of it likewiſe ſhews.

Ib. noble] or magnificent; Sept. wonderful, beyond the Meaning of the Word.

Ver. 2. layeſt the Foundation] as might well be, and the Verb ſignifies, not to ordain: and is very different from that turned ſo in the next Verſe, as both are from that in Pſa. vii. 13. nay thoſe in Pſa. lxxxi. 5. & cxxxii. 17. which are thus rendered in the com. Tranſ. differ from all theſe, and from one another; ſo fond were our Tranſlators of this Word.

Ib. Strength] Sept. a Vindication, which and how ſhewn ſee on Mat. xxi. 15.

Ver. 3. I ſee thy Heaven] When Anaxagoras, who was a great Contemplator of the Heavens, was blamed by one for not minding his Country, he pointing towards Heaven, ſaid, Ἐμοὶ γὰρ καὶ σφόδρα μέλει τῆς πατρίδος, but I do mind it very much, Diog. Laert. in Vita.

Ver. 1. upon the Death of Goliath] Lightfoot turns it, upon the Death of the Champion, Vol. I. p. 55. ſuitable to the com. Tranſ. 1 Sam. xvii. 4. the Targum has it, עַל מִיתוּתָא דְגַבְרָא דִי נְפַק מִבֵּינֵי מַשְׁרִיתָא upon the Death of the Man who came out between the Armies, as rendered in 1 Sam. xvii. muth being Death, and labben, of him between, according to the Term he is mentioned by there. Jun. and Trem. alſo have it of his Death; with which the Matter of the Pſalm ſeems to agree: and though Poole objects, from Ver. 14. that Zion was then, and long after, in the Hands of the Jebuſites; the Anſwer is ready, that this might be compoſed long after Goliath's Death, and yet concerning it. Have not Poems been made on Things which were longer before?

I will praiſe the Lord with my whole Heart; will tell all thy wonderful Things.

2. I will be glad, and triumph through thee; will ſing melodiouſly to thy Name, O Supreme One:

3. For the returning back of my Enemies; who fall, and periſh by thy Preſence.

4. For thou haſt performed my Judgment, and Cauſe; didſt ſit on the Throne judging righteouſly:

5. Thou haſt rebuked the Gentiles, haſt made the wicked one periſh, blotted out their Name for ever and evermore.

6. The Waſtings are finiſhed perpetually, O Enemy, that haſt quite deſtroyed Cities, whoſe Remembrance is periſhed with them.

7. But the Lord abides for ever, who prepares his Throne for Judgment.

8. And he will judge the World with Righteouſneſs, will give Sentence to the People with Uprightneſs.

9. The Lord is alſo a high Place for the oppreſſed, a high Place at Times of Diſtreſs.

10. So they who know thy Name, will truſt in thee: for thou doſt not forſake thoſe, O Lord, that ſeek thee.

11. Sing melodiouſly to the Lord who dwells in Zion, declare his Deeds among the People.

12. For he who requires Blood remembers them, does not forget the Cry of the Afflicted.

13. Be gracious to me, O Lord, ſee the Affliction I have from ſuch as hate me, who art my Lifter up from the Gates of Death.

14 That I may tell all thy Praiſe at the Gates of the Daughter of Zion, may rejoice in thy Salvation.

15. The Gentiles are ſunk down in the Pit that they made: their Foot is taken in that Net which they hid.

16. The Lord is known by the Judgment he performs, inſnaring the Wicked in the Work of his own Hands. A Pauſe for Meditation.

17. The Wicked ſhall return to the very Grave, all the Nations that forget God.

18. For the Needy will not be forgotten perpetually, the Expectation of the Afflicted periſh for evermore.

19. Ariſe, O Lord, let not Man become ſtrong; let the Gentiles be judged before thy Face.

20. Put them in Fear, O Lord, let theſe be ſenſible they are Mortals. A Pauſe.

PSALM X.

WHY, O Lord, doſt thou ſtand far off, hide thy ſelf at Times of Diſtreſs?

2. The Wicked in Pride perſecutes the Afflicted: let them be taken in the Devices that they contrive.

3. For the Wicked praiſes the Deſire of his own Mind, and pronounces him happy that gets Money, contemning the Lord.

Ver. 3. For] which ſhews the Cauſe of his praiſing God.

Ver. 5. the wicked one] Goliath, according to Jun. and Trem. in Annot. the Heb. being ſing. and ſo Kimhi ſays of it at this and the 16th Verſe.

Ver. 6. Waſtings] Gr. Javelins or Swords, as with a different Point.

Ib. Waſtings are finiſhed] thou canſt waſte no more.

Ib. that haſt] or though thou haſt, which connects the Verſe together, and makes Senſe of it, tho' not like Patrick's. The Author of the New Verſion would force this to be the Lord, but the Beginning of the next Verſe refutes it.

Ib. with them] Gr. with a Noiſe, thoſe Tranſlators taking המה to be a Noun from המה which the Points might have prevented.

Ver. 9. a high Place] Jonſton for the former puts murus, a Wall, and for the latter arcus, a Bow; but his Commentator does not tell us why two ſuch very different Things, and the laſt offenſive inſtead of defenſive.

Ver. 12. For] the ſame as begins Ver. 4.

Ib. he who requires Blood] who takes Vengeance for it, the Heb. being a Participle.

Ver. 13. hate me] As a Critick on the Scripture, who does not lacerate it, in this Age, would appear ſingular, and make a poor Figure; ſo I find the Author of the New Verſion remarking, that he ſuppoſes the initial Letter of the next Word to belong to this; notwithſtanding they are parted with the great Heb. Point, and notwithſtanding there would be no me then, when he has it in his own Tranſ. but this is not all, ſince there is no ſuch Heb. Word as he would make the next, nor can be by the Structure of the Verb; and if there was ſuch a Participle in Kal, which he ſeems to have miſtaken it for, it would be neuter, not active.

Ver. 16. inſnaring] it being an active Participle, and ſo ſhewing what the Judgment is.

Ver. 17. Grave] ſhall return to the Earth, whence they originally came, dying for their Wickedneſs.

Ver. 18. Expectation] Sept. Patience, with too much Liberty, and in the Litur. worſe, patient abiding.

Ver. 20. them in Fear] Heb. Fear to them; but the Noun being ſpelled with ה inſtead of א the LXX from another Root render, a Lawgiver over them.

Ver. 1. hide thy ſelf] With the LXX diſregard, only by puſhing the Tranſlation of the Word beyond its Meaning.

Ver. 2. in Pride] Pſalt. for his owne luſt, on the ſlender Authority of Munſter, in the Childhood of reviving the Hebrew, and he not confining himſelf ſtrictly to it.

Ver. 3. pronounces him happy that gets Money] Sept. the Unrighteous is well ſpoken of, with the Verb before paſſive, both which alter the Senſe, and are eaſily diſtinguiſhed in Heb. had they kept to that; and by uſing Unrighteous they run into the Gulph of Univerſality, as the Lord Verulam, with great Wiſdom and Penetration, ſuppoſes the Ancients meant by being ſwallowed up in Charybdis, and that ſhipwreck'd on the Rock of Scylla was Diſtinction, in his Icarus.

Ib. happy] according to Juvenal's, animi felices credit avaros,

And thinks the money'd Man alone is bleſt, Sat. 14.

Ib. contemning] Sept. the Sinner (out of the next Ver.) has provoked the Lord.

Ib. the Lord] which Pagn. Leo Jud. Ainſw. Jun. and

4. Whom, in the Height of his Look he will not ſeek, none of his Thoughts are of God.

5. His Ways are grievous at all Times, thy Judgments being on high, diſtant from him: as for all his Adverſaries, he puffs at them.

6. He ſays in his Heart, I ſhall not be moved, for one Age after another I am one who ſhall not be in Adverſity.

7. His Mouth is full of Curſing, Deceit and Fraud: under his Tongue are Trouble and Vanity.

8. He ſits in Ambuſh at the Villages, ſlays the Innocent in lurking Places; his Eyes are hid for the Poor.

9. He lies in wait at a lurking Place, like a Lion in his Den, which is to catch the Afflicted; whom he catches by drawing him into his Net.

10. He wears himſelf away, crouches down, and fails in Strength, for the Poor.

11. Says he in his Heart, God forgets, hides his Face, never ſees.

12. Ariſe, O Lord; O God, lift up thy Hand: do not forget the Afflicted.

13. Why ſhould the Wicked contemn God, ſaying in his Heart, Thou wilt not ſeek it out?

14. Who ſeeſt it, for thou beholdeſt what is troubleſome and diſpleaſing, to reward with thy Hand: the Poor is left to thee, thou art the Helper of the fatherleſs.

15 Break the Arm of the Wicked; and of him that is evil ſeek out his Wickedneſs, till thou canſt find no more.

16 The Lord is King for ever and evermore: the Gentiles are periſhed out of his Country.

17. Thou heareſt the Deſire of the Meek, O Lord: thou who prepareſt their Heart, let thy Ear hearken.

18 To judge the Fatherleſs and Oppreſſed, let him proceed no more: to drive a Man violently out of the Country.

PSALM XI.

FOR the chief Muſician. By David.
I truſt in the Lord; how can ye ſay to my Soul? Wander as a Bird on your Mountain:

2. For lo the Wicked bend the Bow, taking aim with their Arrow upon the String, to ſhoot in the Dark at thoſe of an upright Heart;

3. And the Foundations being deſtroyed, what can the Righteous do?

Trem. with the vulg. Lat. Tranſ. put alſo accuſatively, and Caſtal. in like manner genitively.

Ver. 4. none of his Thoughts are of God] The wretched Condition ſo lively deſcribed in The Complaint, or Night-Thoughts, Night 2.

All Feeling of Futurity benumb'd;
All God-like Paſſion for Eternals quencht;
All Reliſh of Realities expir'd;
Renounc'd all Correſpondence with the Skies;
The Freedom chain'd; quite wingleſs the Deſire;
In Senſe dark-priſon'd all that ought to ſoar,
Prone to the Center, crawling in the Duſt;
Diſmounted every great and glorious Aim;
Embruted every Faculty divine;
Heart-buried in the Rubbiſh of the World.

Ver. 5. grievous] By the Sept. polluted, from חלל for חול

Ver. 6. Age] as he thinks of living a great while.

Ib. who] being the Heb. Relative, and ſtanding as here; therefore not for. The Author of the New Verſion ſuppoſes it uſed with hardly any Meaning, but better Interpreters, Jun. &c. have found this in it.

Ver. 7. Deceit] By the LXX Bitterneſs, from מרר which is from רמה overlooking or diſregarding the 2d מ

Ib. under his Tongue] as if concealed there to be ſpoken.

Ver. 8. at the Villages] According to the LXX with Riches: Byth. ſays perhaps they read (better interpreted) חצר by עשר but that is wide, and אצר nearer, eſpecially as א is often changed to ח for which they might take ח

Ver. 10. wears himſelf away] It has no Signification of croucheth; and is rendered ſore broken, Pſa. xxxviii. 8. & xliv. 19. broken, Pſa. li. 8. and contrite, Ver. 17. theſe being all the Places where this Verb is. Jun. and Trem. atterit ſe as here; Montan. atterit ſe, Leo Jud. conteritur.

Ib. fails] For this is ſing. and the Word for Poor plur. and thus it agrees with the firſt Verb. Jun. and Trem. have procidit membris robuſtis ſuis, falls down with his ſtrong Limbs.

Ver. 11. hides] Gr. turns away, as the Manner of hiding.

Ver. 13. ſeek] agreeable to Ver. 11. ſo in Saxon it is ſecath, and Ainſw. turns it enquire, Jun. and Trem. inquiſiturum.

Ver. 14. reward] Heb. primarily give; ſo that the LXX, not attentive enough to the Context, have rendered deliver them into.

Ver. 17. prepareſt] LXX Preparation, miſtaking the Verb for a Noun, which the Heb. has not.

Ver. 18. judge] or condemn, as indicated Ezek. xxii. 2. & xxiii. 36. 45.

Ib. let him proceed no more:] So we muſt read if we have any Regard to the Heb. Pointing.

Ib. him] ſo often ſpoken of before.

Ib. to drive] infin. like judge, and ſo may be thought to have the ſame Subject; and that it is active the Uſe of it ſhews, Iſa. ii. 19. 21. becauſe ſome ſuppoſe it paſſive, as the Author of the New Verſion tranſlates, but controuls it in his Note thereon. Litur. be exalted, from the Gr. to magnify himſelf, at Random.

Ver. 1. ye] David's Friends, who adviſed him to keep away from his Enemies, probably the Ziphites, 1 Sam. xxvi. 1. 20. as Pſa. liv. ſeems made on another Occaſion mentioned, 1 Sam. xxiii. 19.

Ib. your] But the Author of the New Verſion ſpeaks for reading it them, by taking a Letter out of one Word and putting it to another, which would make Nonſenſe; but the LXX have neither your nor their, and ſo in the Critical Notes of 1747, we are told of ' corrupted into כ

2. upon the String] The LXX in the Quiver, as if that was better.

Ver. 3. the Foundations] Gr. the Things that thou madeſt up, miſtaking it for the Verb, as though הַשְּׁתוֹת were הַשִּׁיתוֹתָ not as with Bythner in neither Form.

Ib. do] The Author of the New Verſion thinks it more ſuited to the Genius of the Language to be a Noun, by altering the Points, thus, What is the Work or Reward of the Righteous? This he explains

4. Why

4. Why the Lord in his holy Temple, the Lord whoſe Throne is in Heaven; his Eyes behold, his Eye-lids ſearch Mankind.

5. The Lord ſearches the Righteous; but the Wicked, and him that loves Violence his Soul hates.

6. He will rain upon the Wicked Snares, Fire and Brimſtone; and a very tempeſtuous Wind will be the Share of their Cup.

7. For the righteous Lord loves Righteouſneſs, his Face beholds the Upright.

PSALM XII.

FOR the chief Muſician upon the Eighth. A Pſalm of David.

Save, O Lord: for the pious one is ceaſed, for the Faithful are failed from Mankind.

2. They talk vainly one to another; nay with a flattering Lip, and a double Heart, do they prate.

3. The Lord will cut off all flattering Lips, the Tongue that ſpeaks great Things:

4. Thoſe who ſay, we will prevail with our Tongue, our Lips are our own; who is Maſter over us?

5. For the Waſting of the Afflicted, for the Crying of the needy ones, now will I riſe up, ſays the Lord; I will ſet him in Safety, who is puffed at.

6. The Lord's Sayings are pure ones; like Silver tried in an earthen Veſſel, refined ſeven times.

7. Thou, O Lord, wilt preſerve them; wilt keep him from this Generation for ever.

8. The Wicked walk round about, when Vileneſs is exalted with Mankind.

PSALM XIII.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm of David.

How long, O Lord, wilt thou forget me? Perpetually? How long wilt thou hide thy Face from me?

2. How long ſhall I make Conſultations in my Mind, with Sorrow in my Heart daily? How long ſhall my Enemy be exalted againſt me?

---

by What has he to do or expect? Which is making it a Verb again, and the ſame to, or elſe uncertain. But a ſmall Acquaintance with the Genius of the Heb. might have informed him, that Genit. Caſes ſtand next after the other; whereas Righteous is here before it, and parted from it.

Ver. 4. Why the Lord] David anſwers; which the Expletive Why makes more expreſſive.

Ib. behold] In the Com. Pray. conſider the poore, worſe than the Gr. look to the poor.

Ver. 5. his Soul hates] Inattentive to the Gender made by ה as well as the Senſe, the Sept. tranſlate hates his own Soul.

Ver. 1. ceaſed] As ſays Juvenal, Sat. 13.

Rari quippe boni——

Good Men are ſcarce, their Number very ſmall, Stapylton's Tranſ.

Ver. 3. flattering] Mudge, ſmooth Lips, but why ſhould they be cut off?

Ver. 4. Thoſe] being an Object or Accuſ. Caſe to cut off, like Lips and Tongue.

Ib. prevail] Mudge, are Maſters of our Tongue; which diminiſhes the Senſe, and makes the next a Tautology.

Ver. 5. Safety] I have related at Pſa. vii. 11. that a Tranſlation by the Earl of Dartford has the vulg. Lat. in better Engliſh, than that by the College of Doway: ſo here the laſt mentioned, publiſhed 90 Years before, is, I wil put in a Saluation: I wil do confidently in him; which the Earl alters to, I will provide for their Safety, and I will do it effectually.

Ib. who is puffed at] or at whom there is Puffing. Mudge, that he would enſnare, as if he was the Afflicted or Needy; in Critical Notes, with luſtre to himſelf, by changing יִרְחַב to יִרְחָב

Ver. 7. them] the afflicted and needy, Ver. 5. which are both there plural; but by Patrick, the Words.

Ib. him] David himſelf, as being one of the afflicted and needy; for this Pronoun is ſingular, and ſo a Tautology of keeping and preſerving the ſame prevented.

Ib. from this Generation] of People in Saul's Reign.

Ver. 8. walk round about] being frequent and buſy.

Ib. Vileneſs] or vile Things, as Copies differ in placing the Point, but is either Way feminine. So Ainſw. as Jun. and Trem. have res vilis, a vile Thing; Pagn. vilitas, Vileneſs; Caſtal. nequitia, Lewdneſs; Munſt. ignominia, Shamefulneſs. The Pſalter in the Common-prayer has it monſtrouſly, are put to rebuke. And Mudge of late, as Thou art high up, Thou art become contemptible to the Sons of Man; but for this Purpoſe he honeſtly confeſſes two Letters are to be added for Thou, and this Noun to be altered into a Verb, as he ſays he reads, that is when he has written it ſo himſelf: however he would ſcreen himſelf under the Septuag. who tranſlate, according to thy Height thou haſt (not multiplied as with their Latin Tranſlators, but) took much care of the Sons of Men, bad enough too; changing the Verb into a Noun, and the Noun into a Verb, and as if it was flowed to the Sons of Men, deriving זלות from זול I think, as more likely than Bythner's סלל And notwithſtanding Bp. Hare owns he does not know what this Verſe means; if I may ſpeak the Truth, I ſee no Difficulty in it: nay though Wheatland and Silveſter, 1754, tranſlate it under the Authority, as they ſay, of Bp. Patrick,

Amaz'd the wicked wander to and fro,
When thou doſt raiſe from Earth th' obſcure and low;

I muſt diſſent, that on the contrary the Wicked were then proſperous, as Ver. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7. almoſt the whole Pſalm, plainly ſhew; and how was it otherwiſe, if, as Patr. ſays, the Court of Saul and the corrupt Manners of that Age are here complained of? On the other hand the Vileneſs being bad, is correſpondent to Pſa. xv. 4. 1 Sam. iii. 13. Iſa. xxxii. 6. and Patrick's Expoſition reads quite unnatural to the Words.

Ver. 1. Jonſton,

Quò, Deus! uſque mei capient te oblivia? Vultum, Durus et averſus, quò, Pater! uſque teges?

of which the Author of the Prefatory Diſcourſe to Jonſton's Edition ſays he does not remember ever to have ſeen ſuch a Pathos, or Expreſſion of the Paſſion by the Sound.

Ib. Perpetually] This without being a freſh Queſtion is very improper; ſo Pſa. lxxxviii. 46. but otherwiſe lxxix. 5.

Ver. 2. make Conſultations] as the Heb. is; ſc. quomodo è manibus inimicorum meorum evadere poſſim, that is, how I may eſcape out of the Hands of my Enemies, Hulſe; well: but Mudge tranſlates form Deſigns againſt my Life, to put an End to it himſelf, as he repeats in a Note; whereas this Heb. Prepoſition commonly ſignifies in, and another againſt, this Noun Soul or Mind, and another Life; ſo that David may be cleared of this Accuſation.

3. Look up, anſwer me, O Lord my God: enlighten my Eyes, leſt I ſhould ſleep in Death;

4. Leſt my Enemy ſhould ſay, I have prevailed over him; my Adverſaries ſhould rejoice, that I am moved.

5. Whereas I truſt in thy Kindneſs, my Heart ſhall rejoice in thy Salvation.

6. I will ſing to the Lord; for he is bountiful to me.

PSALM XIV.

FOR the chief Muſician. By David. The vile one ſays in his Heart, There is no God: they corrupt, they make themſelves abominable by Deeds, none doing Good.

2. The Lord looking from Heaven upon Mankind, to ſee whether there is any who underſtands, who ſeeks God;

3. Every one is departed, they are become filthy together, none doing good, not even one.

4. Will none of the Workers of Iniquity know, who eat my People as they do Bread, not calling upon the Lord?

5. There they are ſeized with Fear, becauſe God is in the Generation of the Righteous;

6. You that make the Purpoſe of the Afflicted Shame, that the Lord ſhall be his Refuge.

7. Oh that there was the Salvation of Iſrael from Zion! when the Lord turns back the Captivity of his People, Jacob will rejoice, Iſrael will be glad.

PSALM XV.

A PSALM of David. Lord, who ſhall lodge in thy Tabernacle? Who ſhall dwell on thy holy Mountain?

2. He that walks in Integrity, works Righteouſneſs, ſpeaks Truth with his Heart,

3. Slanders not with his Tongue, does no Hurt to his Companion, nor carries Reproach againſt his Neighbour;

4. In whoſe Sight a contemptible Perſon is deſpiſed, but he honours them who fear the Lord; he that ſwears to his own Hurt, without changing,

5. Lends not his Money on Uſury, nor takes a Bribe againſt the Innocent; doing theſe Things: he ſhall never be moved.

PSALM XVI.

A GOLDEN Poem of David. Preſerve me, O God: for I truſt in thee.

Ib. my Enemy] Saul.

Ib. be exalted] Beza in the Eng. ſomething oddly, gape over my head, and gape over me more remote in Pſa. xvii. 9.

Ver. 6.] The Addition at the End in the Pſalt. is from the Gr. and that taken as appears from the End of the 7th Pſa.

Ver. 1. no God] The Proof of his Exiſtence by Reaſon, having lately read in Stillingfleet's Origines Sacræ, and Howe's Living Temple, I refer the Eng. Reader to, as there may be Occaſion for it.

Ib. Deeds] Sept. Studies, in another Meaning as imagined of the Heb. Word.

Ib. no not one of the Pſalt. in the Gr. there is not even one, might be fetched from the 3d Ver. and is not in Pſa. liii. 1.

Ver. 2. looking] We read that Diogenes lighted a Candle in the Day-time, and ſaid he was looking for a Man, meaning a right one, Diog. Laert. in ejus Vit.

Ver. 3.] The Pſalter adds in three Verſes after this, from the Old Lat. as in Rom. iii. where ſee; and R. B. only that I know of, turns them into Verſe.

Ver. 4. my People] David's, he ſpeaking in his own Name, as Poole obſerves, throughout this Pſalm. By which, and Ver. 5, 7. this ſeems to be penned while David reigned at Hebron over Part of Iſrael: according to Patr. in Abſalom's Rebellion, whither quite too many Pſalms appear referred by the Commentators.

Ver. 5. There] in the Place where they oppreſs, Kimhi.

Ib. they] who oppoſed David's reigning, 2 Sam. iii. 1.

Ib. ſeized] In the Contents of the Bible, to this Ver. is, He convinceth the wicked by the light of their conſcience, to which is added own at Pſa. liii.

Ib. Fear] The Gr. adds where no Fear was, from its own Verſ. Pſa. liii. 5.

Ver. 7. from Zion] which David was not yet poſſeſſed of, but might underſtand that was to be the Place of the Sanctuary, and ſo wiſhed for it as here.

Ib. Captivity] by the Philiſtines, 1 Sam. ult. 1, 7. as Pſal. lxxviii. 61. & cvi. 46.

Ver. 1. holy Mountain] Zion, Part of the City Jeruſalem, which it ſeems David had now in Poſſeſſion, and as I ſuppoſe had lately got, in the Eſteem for which he compoſed this Pſalm.

Ver. 4. In whoſe Sight a contemptible Perſon is deſpiſed] widely tranſlated in the Pſalter, He that ſetteth not by himſelf (for our makes not much of himſelf, I ſuppoſe) but is lowly in his own Eyes.

Ib. contemptible] as all the Wicked are, notwithſtanding any outward Greatneſs. Melanthius in his Book of Painting, as cited by Diog. Laert. in the Life of Polemo, ſays there ſhould be a certain ἀνδαδειαν καὶ σκληρότητα, Height and Stiffneſs of Mind, in People's Actions and Manners, to guide them rightly.

Ib. Hurt] but the Gr. Neighbour, the Diſtinction being רַע and רֵעַ only in the Points: the Liturgy takes in both Meanings, and ſeparate the one from the other.

Ib. changing] LXX deceiving, from רמה by imaginary Tranſpoſition, and the Liturg. diſappointeth him.

Ver. 5. Lends not] Beza ſtrangely, at leaſt in the Eng. Tranſ. Which doth not lend his Monie to the hindrance of an other.

Ib. doing theſe Things] being the Concluſion of the proper Anſwer to Ver. 1. ſo that the great Heb. Stop for a Colon is here proper and neceſſary, and not a full Point at Innocent; where is but a ſmall miniſtring Accent, to join it to does or Doer.

Ver. 1. A golden Poem] from its Root famous Gold. Ainſw. expounds it Davids jewell, or notable ſong; and Leo Jud. tranſlates Inſigne aureolum, a notable golden Matter; Jun. and Trem. Inſignis ode, A notable Poem; which Interpretation alſo Lew. de Dieu prefers. But Jerome and Aquila humble and honeſt, as if the Word was parted into two.

2. One

2. One may ſay to the Lord; Thou art my Maſter, my Goodneſs is not to thee;

3. It is for thoſe Saints who are on the Earth, and the noble ones in whom is all my Delight.

4. Their Sorrows will be mutiplied who give a dowry to another: I will not pour out their Offerings of Blood, nor take up their Names into my Lips.

5. Thou Lord, the Portion of my Share and Cup, ſupporteſt my Lot:

6. The Lines being fallen to me in pleaſant Places, a handſome Poſſeſſion alſo for me.

7. I will bleſs the Lord, who gives me Counſel; nay my Reins inſtruct me in the Nights.

8. I ſet the Lord before me continually; becauſe he is at my right Hand, I ſhall not be moved.

9. Therefore my Heart is glad, and my Inſtrument of Glory rejoices; my Fleſh alſo ſhall dwell ſecurely.

10. For thou wilt not leave my Perſon in the Grave; nor let thy holy one ſee Corruption.

11. Thou wilt make known to me the Path of Life, the Fulneſs of Joys in thy Preſence, the pleaſant Things at thy right Hand eternally.

PSALM XVII.

A PRAYER of David.

Hear what is righteous, O Lord, hearken to my Cry, give ear to my Prayer; that are not with deceitful Lips.

2. Let my Judgment come out from befor thee, let thy Eyes ſee Uprightneſs.

Ver. 2. One] as denoted in Latin by the ſecond Perſ. ſing.

Ib. Goodneſs] Pſalt. goods meanly.

Ib. not to thee] Gr. thou haſt no need of, mere Para-phraſe.

Ver. 3. the noble ones—my Delight] Inſtead of this the LXX tranſlate, he has made his Will or Pleaſure admirable; exchanging the Noun for the Verb, ſtrained beyond its Signification too, and the Pronoun ' for ו but the Vulgate rectifies the latter, the Doway Tranſ. being, he hath made al my willes meruelous in them, which the Earl of Dartford turns to intelligible or retranſlates into Senſe thus, he has wonderfully made appear all my good intentions towards them.

Ver. 4. give a dowry to] or endow, as it ſignifies, and is rendered Exod. xxii. 16. where it is only found beſides in this Conjug. Kal. Vulgarly ſung,

They ſhall heape ſorrowes on their heads, which run as they were mad:
To offer to their idoll gods, alas it is too bad.

Ib. another] Sept. afterwards, as a different Vowel might make it.

Ib. pour out their Offerings] the LXX have gather together their Aſſemblies, both Verb and Noun from the Root נגך which are from כסן the ſame Letters tranſpoſed, and ſuch Words ſometimes take Meanings one from another; but there had need be ſome Neceſſity for it in the Expreſſion, or the ſame Signification of the ſame Word elſewhere, which are here wanting: but to pretend thoſe Tranſlators read it with the Letters inverted, as Bythner ſpeaks, is utterly incredible; for who could miſtake ך for כ by the Likeneſs, and alſo the End for the Beginning of the Word at the ſame Time?

Ib. nor take up their Names into my Lips] Jonſton,

Abſit ut hæc memorans os ſe contaminet; aures
Abſit ut offendant nomina læva meas:

far be it from my Mouth to pollute it ſelf by mentioning them; far be it from their nonſenſical Names to offend my Ears.

Ver. 5. Lot] the Kingdom; ſee 2 Sam. v. 12. ſo not in Saul's Time.

Ver. 7. Archdeacon Daniel in his Paraphraſe on this Pſalm has,

Let others to the diſtant pow'rs complain,
And on their idle godſhips call in vain;
Be it my pride to act a juſter part,
And own the God exulting in my heart.
Here, here he triumphs an unrival'd gueſt,
And with his ſacred fire inflames my breaſt.

This is in the Miſcellaneous Poems printed ſeveral times for Lintot, Vol. II. but afterwards unworthily ſuppreſs'd in his Paraphraſe on ſome ſelect Pſalms. So K. James, in his Verſion authorized by K. Charles, and printed at Oxford. 1631,

My thonghts all night (by him inſpir'd) doe teach what courſe to take.

Jonſton likewiſe has,

Hujus & afflatu ſacras precordia flamm:a
Concipiunt, pulſa nox ubi luce redit s and by the Inſpiration of him my inward Part conceives holy Flames, when the Light being driven away Night returns. And Hulſe in his Heb. Elegancies out of the Pſalms, No. 44. ſays, To be inſtructed by the Reins, is ab internis animi & conſcientiæ motibus ad pietatis officia trahi, to be drawn to the Duties of Religion by the inward Motions of the Mind and Conſcience.

Ib. my Reins] which he ſays the Lord poſſeſſed, Pſa. cxxxix. 13. Beza in Paraphraſis, O Lord, thou doſt teach me inwardly every Night. The Doway Bible by Miſtake has veines.

Ib. inſtruct] In the Com. Prayer Pſa. chaſten, which the Heb. alſo ſignifies, and may be contained in this; and that the Author of Holy Dav. clear'd explains, for the Reproofs and Checks I have every Night from my own Heart, whenever I do amiſs.

Ver. 8. ſet] By the Sept. looked to paraphraſtically; becauſe, as I judge, the literal Meaning is ſomewhat diffuſive and unfixed.

Ib. the Lord] Pſalt. God, by ſome Overſight, neither in the Gr. Vulg. nor Munſt.

Ver. 9. Inſtrument of Glory] viz. the Tongue, as quoted Acts ii. 26. and as the Gr. Tranſlators with ſome of the Lat. and our former Eng. render it; according alſo to Pſa. xxx. 12.

Ib. dwell ſecurely] ſhall reſt in hope, Acts ii. 26. is quoted from the Greek Tranſ. not from the Heb. Original.

10. not leave] Hatton in his Prayer on this Pſalm has, that when our fleſh ſhall ſee corruption, our ſouls may not be left in hell; as if Souls might return out of Hell: but his Performance ſeems mean, taking a Verſe or two of a Pſalm almoſt verbatim, and moſt of the reſt common and dull, beſides ſecretly ſtriking at the Sectaries (while he pretends thoſe Prayers are to ſuit all) though printed the 15th time 1724.

Ib. Perſon] as, ſays Poole, this Word is every where uſed; doubtleſs it is frequently; ſee of this Amama in Anti-barb Bibl. and Byth. Lyr. Pr.

Ib. Grave] So Nathan Mordecai in his famous Heb. Concordance ſays, שאול פירושו קבר the Meaning of ſheol is the Grave; as it is rendered by ſepulcrum, Sepulchre or Grave, by Jun. and Trem. Pagnin. Leo. Jud. and it is interpreted of the Reſurrection of Chriſt, Acts ii. 31. and by Gruden in his late famous Concordance expounded, Thou wilt not ſuffer my body to putrefy in the grave,.

Ib. holy one] The Word having ' redundant, which were it not for the pointed Vowels might be plural, the Author of the State of the Pr. Heb. Text, p. 218, 496, 498, exclaims againſt the printed Heb. Copies, though the Marginal Reading, univerſally owned, is regularly ſingular, and though the Vowel-Points confine the Text alſo to that, which are not as when plural in Pſa. lii. 9. &c.

Ver. 1. that are not] not Prayer only, where is the rpincipal Stop in the Heb. ſhewing this belongs to the other alſo: ſo Croſs in Tagh. Art. p. 204.

Ver. 2. Uprightneſs] as Pſa. ix. 8.

3. Thou

3. Thou ſearcheſt my Heart, thou viſiteſt in the Night, trieſt me, finding Nothing: I intend my Mouth ſhall not tranſgreſs.

4. Among the Works of Men, by the Word of thy Lips, I take heed of the Robber's Paths.

5. Uphold my Steps in thy Roads, that my Feet may not be removed.

6. I call upon thee, for thou wilt anſwer me, O God: incline thy Ear to me, hear what I ſay.

7. Diſtribute thy Kindneſs, who ſaveſt by thy right Hand the truſting ones, from thoſe who riſe up againſt them.

8. Keep me as the Apple of the Eye, hide me in the Shadow of thy Wings;

9. From the Face of the wicked ones who waſte me, the Enemies to my Life, that come about againſt me;

10. Who are incloſed with their Fat, ſpeaking proudly with their Mouth.

11. They now ſurround us by our Steps, ſet their Eyes inclining to the Ground.

12. His Likeneſs is as a Lion that longs for the Prey, and as a young Lion that ſits in lurking Places.

13. Ariſe, O Lord, prevent his Looks, overthrow him: deliver my Life from the Wicked with thy Sword;

14. From Men with thy Hand, O Lord, from Men of the World, whoſe Share is in their Life, and whoſe Belly thou filleſt with thy reſerved Things, that are ſatisfied with Sons, and leave their Excellency to their own Children.

15. As for me, let me ſee thy Face in Righteouſneſs; be ſatisfied when I awake with thy Likeneſs.

PSALM XVIII.

FOR the chief Muſician. By the Lord's Servant David; who ſpoke to the Lord the Words of this Poem, at the Time when he had reſcued him from the Power of all his Enemies, with that of Saul, as follow:

I will love thee affectionately, O Lord, my Strength.

2. The Lord is my firm Place, and my Fortification, as alſo my Deliverer, my God, my Rock, in whom I will truſt; my Shield, and the Horn of my Salvation, my high Place.

3. I will call upon the Lord, who is to be praiſed; ſo ſhall I be ſaved from my Enemies.

Ver. 3. I intend] With the LXX is, and haſt not found Iniquity in me, thruſting in the firſt, and making the two laſt Words for my, which they alſo miſtook for the firſt Perſon of the Verb.

Ib. tranſgreſs] As the Heb. Verb alſo ſignifies paſs, the LXX have turned it ſpeak, joining it to the next Ver.

Ver. 4. Robber's Paths] the By-ways where he robs, ſuch as his Enemies waited for him in. So the Word is properly rendered, Jer. vii. 11. Ezek. vii. 22. and Roads are aptly diſtinguiſhed in the Original from ſuch Paths. The Vulgate contrarily has I have kept the hard Ways; and the com. Tranſ. having added in it me from; Patr. violently expounds it, preſerved me from murtherous Practices.

Ver. 7. Diſtribute] and not ſhew in Heb. being the ſame that is turned ſet apart, Pſa. iv. 3. Sept. make wonderful, as elſewhere.

Ib. thy Kindneſs] which is one Heb. Word ſignifying no more.

Ver. 10. Fat] which by tranſpoſing the Letters might be Cord, and ſo Mudge renders it Cords.

Ver. 11. by our Steps] Saul's Agents obſerving by the Footſteps of David and his Men whither they were gone, and looking down to the Ground for that Purpoſe. Very pertinent! Yet Mudge alters the Vowels, and tranſlates, We have ſucceded; but which his new-made Verb never ſignifies. The LXX have it caſting me out, for making go, as a Participle, and with ' for).

Ver. 12. His Likeneſs] So the Heb. is, but the Gr. They received me, or rather took me up, ך being taken for ך perhaps, as) muſt for ' and aſcribed to the root רום Byth. ſolves it by the LXX expreſs'd the Senſe; which may be denied, for David's Enemies could not take him, even by what he ſays here, Ver. 4, 9, 11, 13.

Ver. 13. him] The Seventy them, yet I dare ſay they did not read ם for ן as alſo juſt before.

Ib. with thy Sword] So Caſt. Jun. and Trem. with Ainſw. and the Genev. Tranſ. render; with being often underſtood in Heb. as in Lat. and ſeems much more agreeable to the Context, than to add which is: thus Smyth, who compoſed a pretty good Verſion, has,

Save, by thy Sword, from wicked ones;
Save, by thy Hand, from Men:

as alſo Wither. And the com. Metre,

And with thy Sword him ſmite.

In which Manner Dupart turns it in Gr. Verſe. If we will let Mudge move it into the next Ver. he will have (indeed has) it, ſave thy Sword. A ſtrange Expreſſion! after a good deal of Thinking too, and which the ſtudying out could not require, while he doubtleſs ſaw it ſo in the Sptuag.

Ver. 14. From Men] Inſtead of which in a Pſalter that Auguſtine uſed was; Perdens eos, Deſtroying them: for the Difference in Heb. would be only memitham (the Part. in Hiph. from muth) for mimthim, by which the Author might make the Miſtake.

Ib. Men] By the LXX in the firſt Place Enemies, in the latter few, tho' ſignifying neither, and is the ſame both times.

Ib. with thy Hand] In the Gr. is of thy Hand, but the Heb. is not Genitive.

Ib. whoſe Share is] But by the LXX and Vulg. divide them, as a Verb. Hence the Collegians of Doway obſcurely, from a few out of the Land divide them, in their life; but by the Earl of Dartford more expreſſive, ſeparate them in their life time from the ſmall Number of thoſe, who are thine upon the earth.

Ib. their Excellency] the very ſame as in Job iv. 21. ſo Jun. and Trem. have here excellentiam ſuam: for reſt does not ſeem very proper.

Ver. 15. when I awake with thy Likeneſs] With the LXX when thy Glory ſhall appear, as their Imagination dictated.

Ver. 1. See this Pſalm 2 Sam. xxii. In the Argument of it to his Paraphraſe, Beza writes, We muſt needs grant that we have no Writing extant of any Poet, who flouriſhed the moſt in Wit and Eloquence, to be compared with this Pſalm, if we only look at the Phraſe. And as for the Matter, he deſcribes thoſe his ſo dangerous Perils in ſuch a Manner, that he who reads them will almoſt think he beholds the Things with his Eyes; and he ſo paints forth the Glory of God in executing Judgment, and his Divine Majeſty with ſuch a high Style, that the Reader may think the Heavens and Earth yet ſtill to ſhake; and for the like ſee Delane's Life and Reign of David, p. 71. or as quoted by Wheatland.

Ver. 2. firm Place] or ſolid Place, as the Sept.

Ib. Rock] the ſame as in 2 Sam. xxii. 3. and here in Ver. 46. which it ſignifies properly, not Strength.

4. The Pangs of Death ſurrounded me, and the Floods of Ungodlineſs terrified me:

5. The Pangs of the Grave compaſſed me about, the Snares of Death prevented me.

6. I called upon the Lord in my Diſtreſs, and cried out to my God; who heard my Voice from his Temple, and my crying out before him came into his Ears.

7. Then the Earth ſhook, and moved; the Bottoms of the Mountains trembled, and were ſhaken; becauſe he was incenſed.

8. Smoak went up through his Noſe, and Fire out of his Mouth conſumed; by which Coals were kindled.

9. He alſo bended the Heavens, and came down; there being a Miſt under his Feet.

10. Beſides he rode upon a Cherub, and did fly; nay flew ſwiftly upon the Wings of the Wind.

11. He made Darkneſs his Hiding-place, his Tabernacle round about him, dark Waters, thick Clouds of the Skies.

12. By the Brightneſs that was before him his thick Clouds paſſed on, with Hail, and Coals of Fire.

13. The Lord thundered too in the Heavens, and the Higheſt gave forth his Voice, with Hail, and Coals of Fire.

14. He alſo ſent his Arrows, and diſperſed them: and ſhot Lightnings, and routed them.

15. The Channels of the Water were not only ſeen, but the Foundations of the World diſcovered; at thy Rebuke, O Lord, by the Blaſt of the Breath of thy Noſe.

16. Sending from on high, he took me, drew me out of much Water.

17. He reſcued me from my ſtout Enemy, and from thoſe who hated me; becauſe they were too ſtrong for me.

18. Who prevented me at the Time of my Calamity; but the Lord was for a Staff to me.

19. And brought me forth to a large Place, delivering me; for he delighted in me.

20. The Lord recompenſed me according to my Virtue: he rendered to me after the Purity of my Hands.

21. For I obſerved the Ways of the Lord, and was not wicked contrary to my God.

22. All his Judgments were likewiſe before me, nor did I put away his Ordinances from me.

23. Nay I was perfect with him, and kept my ſelf from having Iniquity.

24. So the Lord rendered to me according to my Virtue, after the Purity of my Hands before his Eyes.

25. To the kind one thou ſheweſt thy ſelf kind, to the perfect Perſon perfect,

26. To the pure one ſheweſt thy ſelf pure, and to him who is perverſe froward.

27. For thou doſt ſave the afflicted People, and humble the haughty Eyes.

28. Thou alſo lighteſt my Candle: the Lord my God makes my Darkneſs bright.

29. By thee too I run through a Troop; and by my God I leap over a Wall.

30. As for God, his Way is perfect, the Word of the Lord is tried: he is a Shield to all that truſt in him.

31. For who is God beſides the Lord? And who the Rock excepting our God?

32. It is God girds me with Ability, and makes my Way perfect;

33. Making my Feet as the Hinds, and ſetting me upon my eminent Places.

Ver. 4. Ungodlineſs] There being בְּנֵי wanting to make ungodly Men.

Ver. 5. prevented me] as if from living.

Ver. 8. Smoak] which in the Saxon Manuſcripts of the Pſalms at Cambridge is rec, after which it is yet called in ſome Places of England, when coming not from Fire; from which Tongue 'tis allowed on all Hands, the Body of ours is really derived, ſays Brightland in the Pref. to his Gram. of the Eng. Tongue.

Ver. 10. flew ſwiftly] by the Change only of the Letter ר into ד in 2 Sam. xxii. 11. which might be a Refinement of David himſelf, tho' Capel ſays the other is better, Critica Sacra, Lib. i. Chap. 7. but I give it to this, as being not ſo common, both in reſpect to the Matter and the Heb. Word, and I think more ſublime.

Ib. flew ſwiftly upon the Wings of the Wind] Apollinarius, who lived in the fourth Century, and whoſe Paraphraſe on the Pſalms in Gr. heroic Verſe, is ſtill extant (that on other Books being loſt) has it, ἵπτατο Βυκτάων ἀνέμων πλερύγεσσιν ἀερθείς,

he flew mounted with the Wings of ſwift crouding Winds.

Ver. 11. of the Skies] Pſalt. to cover him, as the Tranſlator thought fit.

Ver. 15. Water] מ being prefixed to the Word for Sea in 2 Sam. xxii. 16. added perhaps by the royal Author, on reviſing and collecting his Pſalms together: Abarbinel reckons up 74 Varieties in the whole Pſalm, including different Spelling. Hare thinks this the Copy reviſed.

Ver. 18. for] which is in the Heb. more here than at 2 Sam. xxii. 19. and more agreeable to the Structure of that Language.

Ver. 19. delighted in me] Doway Bib. would me; which may paſs for as good Latin, viz. the Original voluit me, as Engliſh.

Ver. 23. perfect] 'Our Tranſlators, writes Gell, 'uſually render what is in the holy Text perfection or 'perfect, by ſincerity and ſincere and upright, as Pſa. xviii. '23. or elſe miſlead the credulous Reader by putting one 'or other in the Margent,' Eſſay, p. 697.

Ver. 26. perverſe] being not the ſame Word with the following, any more than in 2 Sam. xxii. 17.

This is paraphraſed well in the old com. Metre,

And thou wilt uſe the wicked Men,
As wicked Men deſerve;

but by Mud. tranſlated, with the Crooked Thou behaveſt croſsly.

Ver. 29. run through a Troop] which Mudge flattens to courſe in Parties; and the Sept. transform into ſhall be delivered from Temptation: for אָרִיץ might be paſſive from רצה thus אָרָץ by dropping ה as is ſometimes done, would the Points permit it, tho' that Verb muſt be racked to ſignify ſo.

Ver. 32. By Payne, forſooth amending the old Metre,

He is the Lord that girdeth me with ſtrength for war, and why?
He maketh my way perfect, and on him I will relie;

ſuch whys being much uſed by him, tho' not always ſo improperly.

34. He teaches my Hands War; and a ſteel Bow has been broken by my Arms.

35. And thou haſt given me the Shield of thy Salvation, thy right Hand has ſupported me, and thy Gentleneſs made me great.

36. Thou enlargeſt my Steps under me; inſomuch that my Ancles do no ſlip.

37. I purſue my Enemies, and overtake them; nay do not return till they are conſumed.

38. Thus I ſtrike them, ſo that they are not able to get up: they fall down under my Feet.

39. For thou girdeſt me with Ability for War; overthroweſt them under me that riſe up againſt me.

40. And thou haſt given me the Necks of my Enemies, that I may cut off thoſe who hate me.

41. They cry out, but none ſaves; on the Lord, but he does not anſwer them;

42. While I beat them ſmall, as the Duſt before the Wind; empty them out, as the Dirt of the Streets.

43. Thou delivereſt me from the Contentions of the People; makeſt me the Head of the Gentiles: a People that I knew not ſerve me.

44. They hearken to me by the Report of the Ear: Strangers ſubmit to me;

45. Who decay, and ſhake for fear out of their cloſe Places.

46. The Lord lives, and bleſſed is my Rock: ſo let the God of my Salvation be exalted.

47. It is God renders Vengeance for me, and brings the People under me;

48. Delivering me from my Enemies: thou doſt withal exalt me above them that riſe up againſt me; reſcueſt me from the violent Man.

49. Therefore will I praiſe thee among the Gentiles, O Lord, and ſing melodiouſly to thy Name.

50. He makes the Salvation of his King great; and will ſhew Kindneſs to David his anointed one, and his Offspring for ever.

PSALM XIX.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm of David.

The Heavens declare the Glory of God, and the Firmament tells the Work of his Hands.

2. One Day after another utters Speech, and one Night after another ſhews Knowledge.

3. There is no Speech, nor yet Words, without their Voice being heard.

4. The Draught of them goes forth to all the Earth, and their Declarations to the End of the World: he has made a Tent with them for the Sun.

5. Which is like a Bridegroom coming out

Ver. 34. broken] Mudge follows the Seventy, Thou makeſt my Arms a Bow of Braſs, by altering the Heb. they miſtook; but miſtaking himſelf too in doing it. Bythn. muſt alſo be miſtaken in ſuppoſing they read נְחַתָּה from ינח which has not the Conj. Kal, and there it would be יַנְחֵתָה more likely they took the Word נחתה for נתתה from נתן as the Gr. Word likewiſe ſhews.

Ver. 35. Gentleneſs made me great] But Mudge, not without Alteration of the Original, anſwering me invigorateth me; and the Sept. by Reiteration, thy Diſcipline has corrected me to the End, and thy Diſcipline it ſelf will teach me; in which they might put Diſcipline or Correction, for Gentleneſs or Meekneſs, by a Metonymy of the Cauſe for the Effect, and teach to ſuit with it, both in the gloſſing way, to make Something that is plain, tho' wrong, as Tranſlators frequently do: as to the reſt, I count that thy Diſcipline was written by Overſight twice, and afterwards the Want of a Verb to the firſt was ſupplied by one of its own Signification; and, as the repeating it might ſeem to denote Continuance, to the End was alſo added.

Ver. 42. empty them out] being one Word in Heb. as if contracted from the two in 2 Sam. xxii. 43.

Ver. 43. makeſt] by taking out a Heb. Letter after מ and putting in another before it, 2 Sam. xxiv. 44.

Ver. 45. decay, and &c.] Sept. are become old and lame, by reaſon of their Ways; deriving the firſt Verb from בלח inſtead of נבל and the ſecond not from חרג as being only here, and the Meaning of it known by the Chald. but as Bythn. ſkilfully remarks from חגר that ſometimes ſignifies ſo in Chald. and is thus written 2 Sam. xxii. 46. yet there they tranſlate, ſhall be caſt away, and overthrown; and they might take Places ſhut up to be Ways.

Ver. 48. withal] The LXX Interpreters taking אַף to be Anger, and ſo reading my Enemies of Anger, tranſlate my angry Enemies, neglecting the Heb. Stop, the ſame as at Wicked in the firſt Ver. of this Book, which is an Inſtance of what Conſequence the very Accents are.

Ver. 50. anointed] The Vulgate has Chriſt David.

Ver. 1, &c. Addiſon,

The ſpacious Firmament on high,
With all the blue æthereal Sky,
And ſpangled Heav'ns, a ſhining Frame,

Th' unweary'd Sun, from Day to Day,
Does his Creator's Pow'r diſplay, &c.

Ver. 2. after] as Noldius ſhews this Heb. Prepoſition ſignifies, Concord. Heb. Partic. 24. and of which Poole likewiſe gives Inſtances, adding the Day doth not utter this to the Day: accordingly Brady and Tate have it,

The Dawn of each returning Day freſh Beams of Knowledge brings;
And from the dark Returns of Night, divine Inſtruction ſprings.

Ver. 4. Draught] Sept. Sound, imagining קום as a Contraction of קולם and not reading the latter from the foregoing Ver. as Byth. conceits.

Ib. with them] the Heavens and Firmament looking like a Tent for the Sun; but what other Tabernacle for him is there in them? The Gr. is, in the Sun he has put his Tent: for which the Heb. would not only require the Change of ל into ב but alſo of בהם into ו joined to another Word, utterly improbable to have ever been.

Ver. 5. By Jonſton,

Sponſi more novi thalamo ſe tollit Eoo;
Carpit et, exultans more gigantis, iter.

There is not in all Virgil, ſays the Pref. Diſc. a greater Sublimity of Verſe than in theſe Lines, viz. in ſounding to the Senſe: in Eng. Like a new married Man from the Wedding-Chamber he raiſes himſelf up from the Eaſt, and takes his Journey triumphant like a Giant; as I underſtand it, and not as in the printed Interpretation, out of his Morning Bed, which debaſes the Image the inſpired Writer gives.

6. His coming forth is from the End of the Heavens, and at their Extremities is his Circuit; from whoſe Heat there is Nothing hid.

7. The Law of the Lord is perfect, converting the Soul; the Teſtimony of the Lord is certain, making wiſe the Simple;

8. The Precepts of the Lord are right, rejoicing the Heart; the Commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the Eyes;

9. The Fear of the Lord is clean, remaining for ever; the Judgments of the Lord are true: they are all righteous together.

10. More to be deſired than Gold, or much pure Gold; and ſweeter than Honey, or the Dropping of Honey-combs.

11. Thy Servant is alſo admoniſhed by them; by obſerving them there is great Reward.

12. Who underſtands his Errors? Cleanſe me from thoſe that are hid.

13. Keep back thy Servant likewiſe from preſumptuous Things, let them not have dominion over me; then ſhall I be perfect, as well as innocent from great Tranſgreſſion.

14. Let the Speeches of my Mouth, and the Meditation of my Heart, be acceptable before thee, O Lord, my Rock and Redeemer.

PSALM XX.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm of David.

The Lord will anſwer thee at the Time of Diſtreſs, the Name of the God of Jacob will exalt thee;

2. He will ſend Help for thee from the holy Place, and ſupport thee from Zion;

3. Will remember all thy Offerings, and make thy Burnt-ſacrifice right. A Pauſe.

4. He will grant thee what is in thy Heart, and fulfil all thy Purpoſe.

5. In whoſe Salvation let us ſing, and ſet up a Standard in the Name of our God; ſince the Lord will fully grant all thy Petitions.

6. I know already that the Lord ſaves his anointed one; whom he anſwers from his holy Heaven, in the ſaving Power of his right Hand.

7. Some of Chariots, and others of Horſes, but we are mindful of the Name of the Lord our God.

8. Thoſe have ſtooped, and are fallen down: whereas we roſe, and ſhall be kept up.

9. O Lord, ſave: let the King anſwer us on the Day we call.

PSALM XXI.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm of David.

The King, O Lord, is glad through thy Strength; nay how exceedingly he rejoices through thy Salvation!

Ver. 3. make—right] The Verb uſually ſignifies to make fat, but ſeveral take it to mean here turn into Aſhes; ſo this being general agrees with either, better than accept.

Ver. 5. ſet up a Standard] Sept. be magnified, as if ד and נ were tranſpoſed, but more likely the Signification only was transferred.

Ib. of our God] In the Com. Pray. of the Lord our God, from a corrupt Copy only of the Sept. which the vulg. Lat. did not follow.

Ver. 7. are mindful of] Sept. will call upon, by there being ב before Name, and as the Verb alſo ſignifies to make mention; yet that tranſlating is wrong, and the Vatican Editions have ſhall be magnified, as in Ver. 5.

PSALM XXII.

FOR the chief Muſician; upon the Morning Hind. A Pſalm of David.

My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me, being far off from ſaving me, and the Words of my Roaring?

2. O my God, I call by Day, but thou doſt not anſwer; and by Night, there being no Silence to me.

3. Yet thou art holy, dwelling where the Praiſes of Iſrael are.

4. In whom our Fathers truſted; and as they did, thou deliveredſt them.

5. They cried to thee, and were ſet free: they truſted in thee, and did not become aſhamed.

6. But I am as a Worm, and not a Man; the Reproach of Men, and the deſpiſed one of the People.

7. All who ſee me ſcoff at me thus, thruſting out the Lip, ſhaking the Head;

8. He commits himſelf to the Lord, let the ſame deliver him: he may reſcue him, ſince he delights in him.

9. For thou broughteſt me out of the Belly; madeſt me dependent at my Mother's Breaſts.

10. I was caſt upon thee from the Womb: thou haſt been my God from my Mother's Belly.

11. Be not far off from me, for there is Diſtreſs near, and no Helper.

12. Many Bullocks compaſs me, the Bulls of Baſhan incloſe me about.

13. They open their Mouth at me, as a Lion tearing and roaring.

14. I am poured out like Water, and all my Bones come apart, my Heart is like Wax, being melted in my Inſide.

15. My Strength is dried up like a Potſherd, and my Tongue cleaves to my Jaws; ſo that thou makeſt me ready for the Duſt of Death.

Ver. 5. Honour] In the Liturgick Pſalms, great worſhip; ſee Pſa. iii. 3.

Ib. Strings] Sept. Remnants thus, wilt prepare their Face in thy Remnants, a ſtrange Expreſſion, by which alſo they leave out על againſt, and for this have only the Meaning of another Noun from the ſame Root.

Ver. 1. the Morning Hind] in the Eng. Marg. the Hind of the Morning: this appears to denote David himſelf, then in ſuch a Condition as a Hind is, that is hunted in a Morning; and conſequently was (as the Matter alſo ſhews) in the Time of his Troubles under Saul.

Ib. Hind] Sept. and Vulg. Receiving, which the Doway Tranſlators render Enterpriſe, but Byth. expounds it Help (viz. received) no Matter which is right or wrong: I know not how the LXX turned it ſo, but by taking לת ה in the two Words for לקרת and ſhould be obliged to him that can diſcover it better.

18. They divide my Garments to themſelves, and caſt lots for my Cloaths.

19. Therefore be thou not, O Lord, far off: my Strength, make haſte to my Help.

20. Reſcue my Life from the Sword, the only Thing I have from the Dog's Paw.

21. Save me from the Lion's Mouth; as thou heareſt from the Horns of the Unicorns.

22. So will I declare thy Name to my Brethren, among the Congregation I will praiſe thee.

23. You who fear the Lord, praiſe him; all that are Jacob's Offspring, honour him; and be in fear of him, you whole Offspring of Iſrael.

24. For he does not deſpiſe, nor abhor, the Calamity of the Afflicted, neither hide his Face from him; but hears, when he cries out to him.

25. By thee ſhall my Praiſe be in the, great Congregation: I will perform my Vows before thoſe who fear him.

26. The Meek will eat, and be ſatisfied; they will praiſe the Lord who ſeek him: your Heart will live for evermore.

27. All the Limits of the Earth will remember, and return to the Lord; and all the Families of the Nations bow down before thee.

28. For the Kingdom is the Lord's, who has dominion in the Nations.

29. All the fat ones of the Earth, that have been eating, will bow down; all who are deſcending to the Mould will fall down before him; and none will preſerve his Life.

30. The Offspring will ſerve him, that will be counted up to the Lord for a Generation.

31. They will come, and declare his Righteouſneſs, to the People who ſhall be born, that he has done it.

PSALM XXIII.

A PSALM of David.

The Lord is my Shepherd; I do not want.

Ver. 16. Dogs] Dogs and worſe Men have compaſs'd me, has Dan. Burgeſs in his Metre, as though they were very Dogs; but the Pſalmiſt has no and for that.

Ib. piercing] There being no other Place or Word in the *Heb. Ch. xviii, xix. who may well be hearkened to in this; I would mention here, that they pierced is not as the Heb. is, but as ſome ſuppoſe it ſhould be: whereas the Heb. Word as it is, may be taken for a Participle of the ſame Meaning, from כאר as in the Lexicon of Capellus, as here rendered, without any ſuppoſed Corruption of Jews, or Loſs of Senſe; according to Pocock, and as Carpzove, ſhews in his Defence of the Heb. Lat. my Cup that makes drunk how brave it is! have the latter made out of the next Verſe, which ſuch as would correct the Original by thoſe Tranſlations may take their Choice of; whilſt the Targum is like the Heb. excepting that for abounds it has is large.

Ver. 6. reſt] tranſlated dwell by miſtaking the Heb. Root.

Ib. a long Time] Heb. to Length of Days, Sax. on langeneſſe daya.

Ver. 1. Pſalm] It is not unlikely to be made on Occaſion of bringing the Ark to Mount Zion; ſo Grotius refers it to 2 Sam. vi. 12.

Ver. 4. himſelf] The Marg. Reading is my for him or his, and ſelf or ſoul the Jews expound to ſignify the Name of God (of which ſee Viccars here in his Decapla in Pſalmos) as if ſpoken by him, which the reſt of the Pſalm ſhews it was not.

Ver. 6. thy] of God with the Sept. by dull Paraphraſe ſpoiling one of the fineſt Elegances of Language, but Patr. worſe by referring thy to Children of Jacob.

Ib. is Jacob] Jun. and Trem. ſay, the Generation of Jacob; Caſtal. videlicet Jacobeorum, that is of thoſe belonging to Jacob; Leo Jud. of Jacob are they; Ainſw. of Jakob, and Hulſe, is Jacob. How abſurd is it for the Poſterity of Jacob, to ſpeak to and ſeek themſelves, as it amounts to in the com. Tranſ.

Ver. 7. Take away] the ſame Verb that I have rendered carry in the 4th and 5th Verſes.

Ib. Heads] By this the Gates ſeem compoſed of an upper and under Part, that might open ſeparately, as is not unuſual now; and though the upper Part might be turned up, yet ſurely not the other, which would then come in the room of that: ſo that take away better ſuits both, and the whole Doors, and the proper Meaning of the Verb is take. Let it be obſerved too that this was ſpoken in reſpect to the Ark, being not barely the Emblem, but peculiar Reſidence of the Divine Preſence, which required the Tops of the Gates to be opened, as expreſſed Pſa. cxviii. 10. when it was brought in aloft, as at Ver. 9. The Gr. and Vulg. thus, Lift up your Gates, O Princes, but ſo aukwardly poſited, as to manifeſt the Heb. was the ſame it is now, which will by no means admit of ſuch Conſtruction; ſee Byth. Lyra Proph.

Ver. 9. get away] or take away your ſelves; for it does not appear that the Doors had ſeparate Heads like the Gates, as being alſo leſs grand, and Things of a greater Height might be brought into the Courts, to require Heads to the Gates; particularly it may be ſuppoſed the Ark was carried in there on the Levites Shoulders, 1 Chron. xv. 15. and taken down to be carried into the Tabernacle or Temple, 1 Chron. xvi. 1. which makes it all clear to be underſtood.

well as teach me: for thou art the God of my Salvation; for thee I wait every Day.

6. ר Remember thy Mercies, O Lord, and Favours: for they are from everlasting.

7. ח Do not remember the Sins of my Youth, and my Trespasses: according to thy Kindness be thou mindful of me, for the sake of thy Goodness, O Lord.

8. ט The Lord is good, and upright; therefore he instructs Sinners in the Way.

9. י He makes the Meek go in that which is right, whom he teaches his Way.

10. כ All the Lord's Paths are Kindness and Truth, to those who keep his Covenant and Testimonies.

11. ל For thy Name's sake, O Lord, do thou also pardon my Iniquity, for it is great.

12. מ Whoever the Man is that fears the Lord, he will instruct him in the Way he should choose:

13. נ He himself shall abide in that which is good, and his Offspring inherit the Earth.

14. ס The Lord's Secret is for those who fear him, and his Covenant to be made known to them.

15. ע My Eyes are to the Lord continually, that he may bring my Feet out of the Net.

16. פ Look towards me, and be gracious to me; as I am one alone, and afflicted.

17. צ They have made the Distresses of my Heart large: bring me out of my Streights.

18. ר See my Affliction, and Trouble; and forgive all my Sins.

19. ר See that my Enemies are many, and hate me with violent Spite.

20. ש Preserve my Soul, and deliver me: let me not be ashamed, for I trust in thee.

21. ת Let Sincerity and Virtue keep me; because I wait for thee.

22. פ Redeem Israel, O God, from all their Distresses.

PSALM XXVI.

BY David.

Judge me, O Lord, for I walk in my Integrity; and trusting in the Lord, do not slip.

2. Prove me, O Lord, and try me: examine my Reins and Heart.

3. For thy Kindness is before my Eyes, and I walk continually in thy Truth.

4. I do not sit with vain Persons, nor go in with lurking Fellows.

5. I hate the Company of Evil-doers, and sit not with the Wicked.

6. I wash my Hands in Innocency, and come round thy Altar, O Lord;

7. To be heard with the Voice of Thanksgiving, and to declare all thy Wonders.

8. O Lord, I love the Habitation of thy House, and the Place of the Tabernacle for thy Glory.

Ver. 5. for thee] Elegant without a Conjunction, notwithstanding Mudge's Manglings, who has more than merited Bentley's Aristarchus, in another Rich. Johnson, that Chief of all Grammarians; but alas he wrote against the com. Gram. to whose Memory the Author pays the Tear that is due.

Ver. 8. Jonston,

Est justus, comisque Deus; gens discit ab illo
Devia, quod fugiat, quodque sequatur iter:

God is both just and gentle; the wandering People learn of him, what Road they should shun, and what follow.

Ver. 10. Kindness] as in Ver. 6. Sax. Mildheortnyssa.

Ver. 11. also] which answers very well to the foregoing Ver. though left out of our Transl. and notwithstanding Bp. Hare and Mudge would have hear my Voice thrust in before it, to make it and, which would spoil that more certain Connection.

Ib. great] consequently it was that about Uriah and his Wife, especially by what is said, 1 King. xv. 5. and so must be written after that; nay seems by Ver. 19, 20. at Absalom's Rebellion. The Verses of this Psalm, being as many as the Heb. Letters, begin alphabetically; but not exactly so, for the second Verse as well as the first begins with the first Letter, unless the two first Words are transposed, and the sixth and nineteenth Letters are omitted, instead of which the twentieth is doubled together, and the seventeenth repeated at the End, as they are here prefixed to the Verses; whose Antiquity may from hence, and other Places of this Kind appear.

Ver. 13. He himself] Mudge, His own self, justly.

Ver. 14. Secret] which Wh. and Sil. express,

His secret Wisdom will instruct their Mind; and further explain to be, His good suggestions to their souls.

Ver. 17. made] being active and transitive. But Mudge has, Enlarge the Straits of my Heart; and bring: that is by a considerable Change of the Original to make it so. May no such Gains be mine!

Ver. 21. keep] Gr. cleave to, two other Heb. Verbs that resemble this signifying to bind or besiege, and one of them would have the same Letters, tho' not Points.

Ver. 1. This Psalm seems to be made when David was getting out of Saul's Favour, and found himself in Danger, but could yet resort to the Altar and Tabernacle. Beza applies it much to the King's Court, but with forced Interpretation; as Hatton does more forcibly to the Sacrament.

Ver. 2. examine] Vulg. burn; but by the Earl I suppose you will think better, try——by fire.

Ver. 3. walk continually] by Geo. Sandys, our excellent English Traveller and Poet,

Nor from thy Truth
Have I in Youth,
Or will in Age depart.

Sept. metaphorically have been pleased, as they translate Enoch pleased, Gen. v. 24.

Ver. 4. go] Sax. fare, as wayfaring for waygoing, and farewell for gowell.

Ib. in] into their Lurking-places; see Psa. x. 8, 9.

Ib. lurking Fellows] Heb. them who are hid, and how could David be sure to avoid Dissemblers? Which Word is made by Baxter four Syllables, and thus exaggerated,

With lyars and Dissemblers
I never will go in; which certainly no Man could safely say, not even Baxter in his Society. Sept. them who do unlawfully, from עול for עלם

9. Do

9. Do not let my Soul be gathered with Sinners, nor my Life with bloody Men;

10. In whoſe Hands there is Villainy, and their right Hand is full of Bribes.

11. But I walk in my Integrity: redeem me, and be gracious to me.

12. My Foot ſtands in Uprightneſs: I bleſs the Lord in the Congregations.

PSALM XXVII.

BY David.

The Lord is my Light and Salvation, of whom ſhould I be in fear? The Lord is the Strength of my Life, of whom ſhould I be afraid?

2. When Evil-doers come near againſt me, to eat my Fleſh, being my own Adverſaries and Enemies; they ſtumble, and fall.

3. If an Army encamp againſt me, my Heart ſhall not fear: if War riſe up againſt me, in that ſhall I be ſecure.

4. I have requeſted one Thing of the Lord, which I ſeek; that I may dwell in the Lord's Houſe all the Days of my Life, to look on the Pleaſantneſs of the Lord, and to enquire in his Temple.

5. For he will keep me ſecret in his Tabernacle, at the Time of Adverſity, will hide me in a private Place of his Tent, lift me up high on a Rock.

6. Even now he lifts up my Head above my Enemies round about me, therefore will I offer in his Tent Sacrifices with Shouting; I will ſing, and that melodiouſly, to the Lord.

7. Hear, O Lord, I call with my Voice; be alſo gracious to me, and anſwer me.

8. My Heart ſaying for thee, Seek my Face; I do ſeek it, O Lord.

9. Hide not thy Preſence from me, nor turn thy Servant away in Anger, who art my Help: do not leave me, nor forſake me, O God of my Salvation.

10. Though my Father and Mother forſake me, yet the Lord will receive me.

11. Teach me thy Way, O Lord, and lead me in the Path of Uprightneſs, by reaſon of thoſe that obſerve me.

12. Give me not up to the Mind of my Adverſaries: for falſe Witneſſes would riſe up againſt me, and he who breathes out Violence;

13. But that I have cauſed a Belief, that I ſhall ſee the Lord's Goodneſs in the Country of the Living.

14. Wait for the Lord, be ſtedfaſt, and he will ſtrengthen thy Heart; therefore wait for him.

Ver. 9. let] See Pſa. xxviii. 3.

Ib. gathered] The Sept. deſtroy, by deriving it from ספה when it is from אסף

Ver. 3. in that] viz. War, being both fem. ſo that in him is wrong in the Lit. which to defend in Holy David clear'd is made worſe, by ſuppoſing this was left quite out, and in him ſupplied.

Ver. 6. offer] In the Popiſh Engliſh, but a Year before our preſ. Tranſ. haue immolated an hoſt of iubilation.

Ver. 8. My Heart ſaying for thee] dictating to him on God's behalf, according to Dav. Kimhi, Sol. Jarhi and Mudge: this is before, Seek my Face in Heb. and parted with it by the great Point from that which follows.

Buchanan turns it,

Te mens anhelat, vultus ad vultum tuum
Intentus uſque reſpicit:

My Mind breathes out thee, my attentive Countenance looks to thine; and Cocceius literally, as his Manner is, Pro te dixit cor meum, Quærite, &c. My Heart ſaid for thee, Seek, &c. Heaven's Voice, if we liſten, ſays Young, ever ſpeaking in the human Heart, Centaur, Let. iv. In the Pſalter it is, My Heart hath talked of thee.

Ib. Seek my Face] Sadly mangled in the Greek and Latin Copies.

Ver. 12. he who] viz. Saul, the Heb. Word being ſingular.

Ib. breathes out Violence] With the LXX, Iniquity has lyed to it ſelf, in no Affinity to the Heb. ſays Bythn. but I fancy they turned Violence from particular to general, and breathes the contrary, to make Something that was plainer.

Ver. 13. But that] This, it is as improbably as audaciouſly ſaid in Critical Notes on ſome Paſſages, p. 31. the Chaldee has inſerted into the original text: for how ſhould that be done, if it is of no ſignification or uſe, but to ſpoil the Senſe, as there pretended? Yet more monſtrous is the Imagination, that Part of the Heb. Word had belonged to the foregoing Verſe, and the other Part was added to it without Senſe; which tranſlating before by would, that cannot be denied to the Heb. Verbs, happily ruins.

Ib. cauſed a Belief] by his being appointed King by Samuel, ſlaying Goliath, &c. which probably might reſtrain his Enemies for a while, and when this Pſalm was written, for fear of Puniſhment in his future Proſperity; tho' others refer it to his old Age or latter Time, for which I want ſufficient Reaſon. It is in the Conjug. Hiphil, which denotes cauſing another to do what the Verb ſignifies, and tho' in this Verb it is commonly uſed like Kal, yet is not therefore to loſe its natural Meaning.

Ver. 14. wait for] To wait on is to attend on, miniſter to or ſerve; whereas this Heb. Verb has no ſuch Meaning, but ſignifies to wait or look for, or expect, as the Particle does rather for than on: ſo Pagn. Munſt. Leo Jud. and the Vulg. Lat. Tranſ. render it expecta, Jun. and Trem. only ſpelling it differently exſpecta, Ainſw. earneſtly wait thou for, the Saxon being yeanbida, abide for. The ſame Verb being uſed in this Senſe ſeventeen Times in the Pſalms, and fourteen in Iſaiah, beſides other Books, the preſent Account of it may ſerve for all. Jonſton having, Fide Deo, firmamque fidem, ſunt præmia præſto; it is extolled for the Harmony of i and æ repeated, Pref. Dif. aſcribed to Benſon, p. 52. while it lies in the f and pr, which with other Vowels would ſound better, than thoſe Vowels with other Conſonants.

PSALM

PSALM XXVIII.

BY David.

To thee, O Lord, I call; my Rock, be not deaf to me: leſt thou being ſo, I ſhould become like them who go down into the Pit.

2. Hear the Voice of my Supplications, when I cry out to thee, when I lift up my Hands to thy holy Oracle.

3. Let me not be drawn away with the Wicked, and thoſe who work Iniquity; that talk peaceably with their Neighbours, while there is Miſchief in their Hearts.

4. Give them according to their Work, and the Evil of their Doings; after the Deed of their Hands give them: render their Recompence to them.

5. Becauſe they conſider not of the Lord's Works, and of the Deed of his Hands; he will throw them down, and not build them up.

6. Bleſſed be the Lord; for he has heard the Voice of my Supplications.

7. The Lord is my Strength, and Shield; in whom my Heart having truſted, I have been helped: therefore ſhall my Heart triumph, and I will praiſe him with my Poem.

8. The Lord is Strength to ſuch, and he is the very ſafe Fortreſs of his anointed one.

9. Save thy People, and bleſs thy Poſſeſſion; nay feed them, and lift them up for ever.

PSALM XXIX.

A Psalm of David.

Aſcribe to the Lord, you Poſterity of the mighty ones, aſcribe to the Lord Glory and Strength.

2. Aſcribe to the Lord the Glory of his Name, bow down to the Lord with holy Comelineſs.

3. The Voice of the Lord is upon the Waters, the glorious God thunders, the Lord is upon the great Waters.

4. The Lord's Voice is with Power, the Lord's Voice is with Majeſty.

5. The Voice of the Lord breaks the Cedars, even the Lord breaks the Cedars of Lebanon.

6. Nay he makes thoſe ſkip like a Calf, Lebanon and Shirion like an young Unicorn.

7. The Voice of the Lord cuts out Flames of Fire.

8. The Lord's Voice ſhakes the Wilderneſs, the Lord ſhakes the Wilderneſs of Kadeſh.

9. The Voice of the Lord cauſes the Hinds to bring forth, makes the Woods bare, and is in his Temple: all of it tells his Glory.

Ver. 1. This ſeems to be written after his Deliverance from Abſalom's Rebellion, but while he was in Danger by Sheba's, 2 Sam. xviii. & xx. by which the Reader may know how to apply the Particulars: ſo I find Nichols ſince, but others apply it to other Times.

Ib. my Rock, be not] from whence Woodford,

My God, be not a Rock to hear, though thou art one to ſave.

Ib. deaf] as the Verb ſignifies: the Litur. has ſtrangely think no ſcorn of me, and K. James obſcurely, to follow the new Tranſlation he had ordered, leave ſilence helpe to ſend, for be not ſilent in ſending Help.

Ver. 3. let] For ſurely God would not draw him away with the wicked. The Vulg. for trahas, draw, has tradas, deliver, corruptly.

Ib. away] Com. Pray. neither deſtroy me, only from the old Tranſlations. The Vindication of it in the Defence of this Tranſlation, p. 19. is a miſerable one, This ſignifies the ſame thing with the foregoing words, or explains the meaning of them; either being quite needleſs, and unjuſtifiable.

Ver. 5. and of] The old Metre old indeed, his law, ne yet his lore.

Ver. 7. ſhall my Heart triumph] Gr. my Fleſh is recovered again; but will our new Criticks aſſert, bold as they are, in their wonted Faſhion, that the LXX read בשר or שאר where the Heb. has now לב on the contrary I think they turned Heart into Fleſh, not to repeat it; and ſuited the Verb to it, which they do not render ſo elſewhere, but variouſly.

Ver. 8. to ſuch] ſuch as were like David himſelf in the foregoing Verſe, there being alſo the Heb. Prefix for to. This having been rendered of his People, in a libertine Way, from the next Verſe, the Author of Critical Notes on ſome Paſſages fancies, that לומו had been לעמו p. 33. and all the old Verſions, but the Chaldee, which he brags of, with the Gr. the Lat. from that, and no Matter what from them.

Ib. anointed one] Sternhold, not as David's at all, but his own, of his elect by Chriſt.

Ver. 1. The two firſt Verſes being taken from 1 Chron. xvi. 28, 29. the reſt ſeems added for Illuſtration to make up another Pſalm: Hammond, &c. apply it to the Victories, 2 Sam. viii. for which I ſee no Reaſon The LXX and our Pſalt. in the midſt of the former Ver. have bring to the Lord young Rams, only a different Rendering of the firſt Words.

Ver. 2. Comelineſs] The LXX Court, as if they took הדר the radical Part of the Word to be חדר and the Meaning from חצר

Ver. 5. Thus rendered by Johnſton,

Frondens hac Libani vertex nudatur: et ingens diſſilit horriſoni verbere fracta cedrus.

Here the Craſhing of the Tree that is torn all to Pieces, ſtrikes the Ear in a very wonderful Manner, Prefat. Diſc.

Ver. 6. thoſe] Mountains, as Interpreters remark; to which, I ſuppoſe, the Author might point or nod, to make it quite proper.

Ib. Shirion] as Mount Hermon was called by the Zidonians, Deut. iii. 9.

Ver. 7. cuts out Flames] for Lightning; nor does the Verb ſignify divideth.

Ver. 9. makes—bare] by ſtripping off the Leaves with the Tempeſt he deſcribes, which the Heb. ſignifies in good Senſe, and is tranſlated by, Iſa. lii. 10. & xlvii. 2. Joel i. 7. Jer. xlix. 10. and by uncover, Ezek. iv. 7.

10. The Lord remained at the Deluge, and the Lord will remain King for ever.

11. The Lord gives Strength to his People, the Lord bleſſes his People with Proſperity.

PSALM XXX.

A Psalm, being a Poem for the Dedication of David's Houſe.

I extol thee, O Lord; becauſe thou haſt advanced me, and not let my Enemies be glad concerning me.

2. O Lord my God, I cried out to thee, and thou haſt healed me.

3. O Lord, thou haſt brought up my Perſon from the Grave, haſt kept me alive from going down into the Pit.

4. Sing melodiouſly to the Lord, you his pious ones, and give thanks at the Remembrance of his Holineſs.

5. Though he is a Moment in his Anger, there is a Life in his Favour: in the Evening may be Weeping to abide for a Night, but at the Morning is Singing.

6. I thought when I was in my Quietneſs, I ſhould never be removed;

7. Thou having in thy Favour, O Lord, made my Mountain remain ſtrong: who hiding thy Face, I was troubled.

8. To thee, O Lord, I called, and to the Lord made ſupplication.

9. What Gain will there be in my Blood, when I go down to Corruption? Will the Mould praiſe thee? Will that declare thy Truth?

10. Hear, O Lord, and be gracious to me: O Lord, be my Helper.

11. Thou didſt turn my Lamentation into Dancing for me, didſt undo my Sackcloth, and gird me with Gladneſs:

12. That my Inſtrument of Glory might ſing to thee melodiouſly, and not be ſilent: O Lord my God, for ever will I praiſe thee.

PSALM XXXI.

For the chief Muſician. A Pſalm of David.

In thee, O Lord, I truſt, let me never be aſhamed, through thy Righteouſneſs deliver me.

2. Incline thy Ear to me, reſcue me quickly: be a ſtrong Rock to me, a Houſe well fortified, to ſave me.

3. For thou art my firm Place, and Fortification: ſo guide me, and lead me, for thy Name's ſake.

4. Bring me out of the Net that they have hid for me; becauſe thou art my Strength.

5. I commit my Spirit into thy Hand; who haſt redeemed me, O Lord, the true God.

6. I hate thoſe that obſerve falſe Vanities; and I my ſelf truſt on the Lord.

7. Let me rejoice, as well as be glad, for thy Kindneſs; that thou haſt ſeen my Affliction, haſt known my Soul in Diſtreſſes,

8. And haſt not ſhut me up in the Power of the Enemy, but made my Feet ſtand in a large Place.

9. Be merciful to me, O Lord, for I am diſtreſſed: my Eye is waſted away with Diſpleaſure, my Soul, and my Belly.

---

while diſcovereth may be ſaid to make none, notwithſtanding the diſingenuous Attempt in Holy David clear'd, to have it mean, to make any thing ceaſe to be a covering, which is doing violence to common Senſe.

Ib. all of it] So the Heb. is exactly, not every one, and Temple is parted from it by a great Stop; how good Senſe it makes thus, is plain enough. Croſs mentions it, Tagh. Art, p. 204. but does not rectify the Tranſlation.

Ver. 10. remained] when the Inhabitants of the Earth were deſtroyed; to which both Jewiſh and Chriſtian Interpreters refer it.

Ib. Deluge] the Word that is ſeveral Times uſed in Geneſis for that of Noah, and no where elſe but here; the Heb. having another common Word for Flood.

Ver. 1. David's Houſe] which he built, 2 Sam. v. 11. and was to be dedicated, Deut. xx. 5. ſo Ab. Ezr. refers it to 1 Chr. xiv. 1. or as Beza and Lightfoot, &c. think, after his Houſe was polluted by Abſalom's Inceſt, which ſome Expreſſions favour.

Ver. 5. a Life] in Length of Time, thus anſwering to a Moment. Both D. Kim. and Ab. Ezr. underſtand by it long Life; ſee further L. de Dieu, Animad.

Ib. Evening] Apollinarius, ἑσπέριον κλαυθμὸν τέρψις μεταμείψεθ' ἑωθ.

Ver. 7. Mountain] *Septuag. Comeline*ſ, miſtaking ר for ד which Mudge however vindicates, with a freſh Miſtake of them both in his Note, telling of the Change juſt contrary.

Ver. 12. Inſtrument of Glory] the Tongue, as Patrick ſings,

My Tongue, no longer ſilent be,
To God due Praiſes give;
That in thy thankful Verſe his Fame
Eternally may live;

And Watts,

My Tongue, the Glory of my Frame,
Shall ne'er be ſilent of thy Name;
Thy Praiſe ſhall ſound thro' Earth and Heav'n,
For Sickneſs heal'd, and Sins forgiv'n.

Ib. not be ſilent] Sept. I may not at all be vexed; it being no great Matter with them to change the Perſon, as well as Meaning.

Ver. 5. commit] unfitly and obſcurely in Goodridge's Manner,

Receive, into thine Arms now thrown,
My Spirit! and protect thine own.

Ver. 9. Belly] as being particularly affected in Trouble. Sax. innoth, and another Copy wamb; ſo the allowed Metre,

My womb for woe doth ake.

10. Becauſe my Life is conſumed in Sorrow, and my Years in Sighing; my Strength fails through my Iniquity, and my Bones are waſted away.

11. I am reproached by all my Adverſaries, and among my Neighbours eſpecially; ſo that my Acquaintance who ſee me in the Street being afraid of me, get away from me.

12. I am forgot, like a dead Man that is out of Mind: I am as a Thing which is loſt.

13. For I hear the ill Report of many, there is Dread on every Side, by their conſulting together againſt me who contrive how to take away my Life.

14. But I truſt upon thee, O Lord; who, I ſay, art my God.

15. My Opportunities being in thy Power, deliver me from the Power of my Enemies, and from my Perſecutors.

16. Make thy Face light to thy Servant, ſave me through thy Kindneſs.

17. O Lord, let me not be aſhamed; for I call upon thee: let the Wicked be aſhamed, be ſilent in the Grave.

18. Let the lying Lips be made dumb; that ſpeak hard Things againſt a virtuous one, in Pride and Contempt.

19. How great thy Goodneſs is, which thou layeſt up for them that fear thee, doſt work for thoſe who truſt in thee, before Mankind!

20. Thou hideſt them in a private Place of thy Preſence, from the Moleſtations of Man: thou keepeſt them ſecret in the Tabernacle, from the Strife of Tongues.

21. Bleſſed be the Lord: for he has made his Kindneſs wonderful to me, in a fortified City.

22. Though I ſaid in my Haſte, I am cut off diſtant from thy Sight; certainly thou didſt hear the Voice of my Supplications, when I cried out to thee.

23. O love the Lord, all his pious ones: it is he who keeps the Faithful, and brings a Recompence upon the Excellency of him that does proudly.

24. Be ſtedfaſt, and he will ſtrengthen your Heart, all you who wait for the Lord.

PSALM XXXII.

AN inſtructing Poem of David.

It is bleſſed to have Tranſgreſſion forgiven, Sin covered.

2. The Man is bleſſed to whom the Lord does not reckon Iniquity, and in whoſe Mind is no Deceit.

3. When I did not ſpeak, my Bones decayed, by my Roaring every Day:

4. Becauſe thy Hand was heavy upon me Day and Night; my natural Moiſture being turned into the Drought of Summer. A Pauſe.

Ver. 10. Becauſe my Life is conſumed in Sorrow] in Saxon, forthamthe ateorode on ſare lif min.

Ib. Iniquity] Mudge produces the Seventy to make it Affliction; but I want better Authority than their tranſlating only, and that is not Affliction, but Poverty, they deriving it from ענה inſtead of עוה

Ver. 15. Opportunities] for Deliverance, Gr. κληροι, Lots; but poſſibly that, ſubject to ſo many Changes as it was, might have been καιροι, tho' I rather think it thrown at a Venture as Lots are.

Ver. 20. See Pſa. xxvii. 5.

Ib. Moleſtations] This Word, uncommon like the Heb. one, ſeems to anſwer beſt to the various Interpretations of the Jewiſh Writers, as well as Tranſlators; who may be ſaid moſtly to differ as to the Kind of Moleſtation. The ſame Term will in like Manner agree with the Heb. and Chald. Roots; nay the taraches of the LXX founds like the Root rachas.

Ver. 21. in a fortified City] Keilah, 1 Sam. xxiii. 7. which may ſhew the Occaſion of this Pſalm; ſee Tate's Verſion, Ver. 8, 21. Mudge fancying Jeremiah made the Pſalm, turns it to beſieged.

Ver. 22. diſtant] There is the like Expreſſion, 1 Sam. xxvi. 20. which may ſignify his Diſtance from the Ark of God, whoſe peculiar Preſence was there. This agrees well with the latter Part of the Verſe, and appears evidently to be made at or ſoon after David's being in Keilah, for which alſo ſee Patr.

Ver. 23. upon the Excellency] ſo the Heb. literally; but the old Lat. indeed is abundanter, plentifully.

Ver. 24. See Pſa. xxvii. 14.

Ver. 1. An inſtructing Poem] it ſpringing from the Verb uſed Ver. 8. I ſuppoſe this was written by David in his Proſperity, but partly from and concerning his former Experience, for the Benefit of others.

Ib. forgiven] or taken away, as the Verb ſignifies, and is rendered in like Manner, Hoſ. xiv. 2. and according to this the Douay Annotators argue well (for Juſtice is due to all) tho' as they ſay againſt Calvin and his Complices.

Ib. forgiven—covered] Singular Participles, which ending with ־ the Gr. Tranſlator (not to ſay the LXX) appears ſo poor a Grammarian, as to have taken for Subſtantives plur. in the conſtructed Form, as if Forgiveneſſes of Tranſgreſſion, &c. tho' the Penult. י might have corrected it.

Ver. 4. my natural Moiſture] In the Gr. I am turned to Miſery by the Thorn being thruſt in: of which ſome Account may be given, viz. that קיץ Summer was taken to mean the ſame as קוץ a Thorn; that the ל of לשד was not radical, but a Prepoſition, and the other to come from שדד to lay waſte; and that thruſt in was fetched from חרב a Sword, of the ſame Root; not as Byth. would have it by Tranſpoſition from רבר aſſociate, which is different from thruſt in, and taking נ for me, which he puts to the Gr. to make them agree ſo: which Tranſlation is known now to be here erroneous.

Ib. Drought of Summer] which is very great in that Country; inſomuch that Corten ſays, he travelling thro' good Part of Phenicia and Syria, from the Month of May to September, obſerved the Land was quite burnt up, ſo that in many Places he could not ſee one ſingle Graſs; yet by the Rain in other Seaſons, there being none, he ſays, all the Summer long, and by the quick growing of the Corn, as quoted from him on Lev. xxiii. 10. he found Plenty of all Manner of Neceſſaries of Life: but from hence how ſtrong and lively appears David's Compariſon!

5. Thou

5. Then I acknowledged my Sin to thee, and did not cover my Iniquity; ſaying, I would make confeſſion of my Tranſgreſſions to the Lord: upon which thou forgaveſt the Guilt of my Sin. A Pauſe.

6. For this ſhall every pious one pray to thee, at the Time that thou mayeſt be found; to whom they cannot however get nigh at the Flood of much Water.

7. Thou art a Hiding-place to me, keeping me from Diſtreſs, with Poems of Deliverance: thou incloſeſt me about. A Pauſe.

8. I will inſtruct thee, and teach thee in what Way thou ſhouldeſt go: I will direct thee with my Eye.

9. Be not like a Horſe, or a Mule, without Underſtanding, whoſe Mouth is to be curbed with a Bridle and Bit, that he may not come near thee.

10. A wicked Man will have many Sorrows; but Kindneſs will incloſe him about who truſts in the Lord.

11. Be glad through the Lord, and rejoice, virtuous Men; nay ſing aloud, all you that are of an upright Heart.

PSALM XXXIII.

SING aloud, virtuous Men, through the Lord: Praiſe becomes the Upright.

2. Give thanks to the Lord with the Harp, ſing to him melodiouſly with the Lute, the ten-ſtringed Inſtrument:

3. Sing a new Poem to him, play with a good Sound.

4. For the Word of the Lord is right, and every Work of his is true.

5. He loves Virtue and Juſtice: the Earth is full of the Lord's Kindneſs.

6. By the Word of the Lord were the Heavens made, and all that belonged to them by the Breath of his Mouth.

7. He gathers the Water of the Sea as a Heap, he puts the Depths in Treaſuries.

8. Let the whole Earth ſtand in awe of the Lord, let all the Inhabitants of the World be in fear of him.

9. For what he ſays, muſt be: when he commands, it is eſtabliſhed.

10. The Lord fruſtrates the Gentiles Deſign, makes the Thoughts of the People void.

11. The Lord's own Deſign will be eſtabliſhed for ever, the Thoughts of his Heart to all Ages.

12. The Nation is bleſſed whoſe God is the Lord, the People that he chooſes for a Poſſeſſion to himſelf.

13. The Lord looks from Heaven, ſeeing the whole human Race:

14. From his ſettled Reſt he takes a view of all the Inhabitants of the Earth:

15. Whoſe Hearts he forms together, conſiders of all their Works.

16. No King is ſaved by the Greatneſs of Force, a ſtout Man is not delivered by a great deal of Strength.

Ver. 5. Guilt] rather than iniquity; to avoid which the Sept. have Sin changed into Heart.

Ver. 6. cannot get nigh at the Flood] as experienced Souls know, which the Remembrance of may be uſeful, and the following Lines, from Vida's Art of Poetry, B. I. tranſlated by Pitt, conduce to it,

Thus o'er the fields the ſwain purſues his road,
Till ſtopt at length by ſome impervious flood,
That from a mountain's brow, o'ercharg'd with rains,
Burſts in a thund'ring tide, and foams along the plains;
With horror chill'd, he traverſes the ſhore,
Sees the waves riſe, and hears the torrent roar;
Then griev'd returns; or waits with vain delay,
Till the tumultuous deluge rolls away.

Ver. 7. Poems] Sept. my Rejoicing, the Difference being but [.] inſtead of [..]

Ib. thou incloſeſt &c.] which makes the latter Part of the Verſe, ſeparated from the former as here by a great Point.

Ver. 8. I will] by which it is thought David meant himſelf; and it ſeems juſtified by the Title, as well as accords with Pſa. xxxiv. 11.

Ib. direct] But the Sept. confirm, having the Senſe of ץיע from יע whoſe laſt Letters ſound like a hard and ſoft z.

Ver. 9. that he may not come near] by turning his Head to bite: Heb. not to come near, which is the ſame, but mentioned becauſe Mudge ſays it is not left (right) and ſeems to think not cannot have ſuch a Meaning (but that he may ſee to be wrong) and therefore turns it contrary, he will not come near thee; which either disjoints it from the reſt, and ſo makes no Senſe, or otherwiſe elſe is wanting before it.

Ver. 11. I agree, ſays Mudge, with Dr. Hare that the laſt Verſe will very commodiouſly begin the next Pſalm; but I diſagree with them, ſince it is uſual to end a Pſalm with Triumph, and this would make Tautology there, to ſay Nothing of ſuch Schiſm.

Ver. 3. play &c.] See how enlarged and altered in the Liturgy!

Ver. 6. by the Breath] as if in ſpeaking, according to Gen. i. 14. ſo Tate and Brady,

By his Almighty Word, at firſt,
the Heav'nly Arch was rear'd;
And all the beauteous Hoſts of Light at his Command appear'd:

Kennett has it,

Heaven's radiant Hoſt, the golden Orbs above,
Roſe at his Voice, as by his Breath they move.

Ver. 7. as a Heap] Capellus that Scandal of the Proteſtants in the laſt Century, for writing againſt the Hebr. Text, tho' the Patron of many in this, for the ſame Reaſon; not contented to have the Scripture altered, as he ſays the LXX, Targ. Hieron. and Arab. read (that is miſtook) ned, a Heap, for nod, a Bottle; would alſo change כ as into ב in, without any Authority, ſo much as of a Tranſlator, Crit. Sacr. Lib. iv. Cap. 17. & Lib. vi. Cap. 9. But ſee like this Pſa. lxxviii. 13. Exod. xv. 8. Joſ. iii. 13. and where is there like either of the other? Which alſo both make very poor Senſe.

Ver. 10. the Gentiles Deſign] See 2 Sam. v. 17. whither I refer this.

Ib. void] The Gr. and old Lat. Verſions have an Addition, which in the Doway Bible is, and he reproveth the counſels of princes, our Litur. caſteth out; the Plea for which is in Defence, p. 9. this is no more than was ſaid at the beginning of the verſe: but what then is it here for?

Ver. 13. By Beza in Paraphraſe, For God is not an idle Spectator of the Things he has created, nor lets them be carried on by chance; but beholds them all with a watchful Eye, and eſpecially all Mankind.

17. A Horſe is a falſe Thing for Safety, and cannot make eſcape by his great Force.

18. Behold the Lord's Eye is towards them who fear him, to thoſe that wait for his Kindneſs;

19. To deliver their Perſon from Death, and to keep them alive in Famine.

20. Our Soul tarries for the Lord; who is our Help and Shield.

21. For through him our Heart is glad, ſince we truſt in his holy Name.

22. Let thy Kindneſs, O Lord, be upon us, according as we wait for thee.

PSALM XXXIV.

BY David; when he had altered his Behaviour before Abimelech; who driving him out, he got away.

א I will bleſs the Lord at all Times: his Praiſe ſhall be continually in my Mouth.

2. ב My Soul ſhall glory through the Lord: when the Meek hear, they will be glad.

3. ג Magnify the Lord with me, and let us extol his Name together.

4. ד Upon my ſeeking the Lord, he anſwered me, and delivered me from all my Fears.

5. ה They that look to him, and aſſemble together, will not have their Faces aſhamed.

6. ז But ſay, When ſuch an afflicted one called, the Lord heard, and ſaved him from all his Diſtreſſes.

7. ח The Angel of the Lord encamps round about thoſe who fear him, and delivers them.

8. ט Taſte, and ſee, that the Lord is good: the Man is bleſſed who truſts in him.

9. י Fear the Lord, you Saints of his: for thoſe that fear him, have no Want,

10. כ Young Lions may be poor, and hungry; but ſuch as ſeek the Lord will not want any good Thing.

11. ל Come, young ones, hearken to me: I will teach you the Fear of the Lord.

12. מ Whoever the Man is that deſires Life, that loves Age, to enjoy what is good:

13. נ Keep thy Tongue from Evil, and thy Lips from ſpeaking Deceit;

14. ס Depart from Evil, and do good; ſeek Peace, and purſue it.

15. ע The Eyes of the Lord are towards the Righteous, and his Ears towards their Cry.

16. פ The Lord's Face is againſt them that do Evil, to cut off their Remembrance from the Earth.

17. צ When thoſe cry, the Lord hears; and delivers them from all their Diſtreſſes.

18. ק The Lord is near to ſuch as are of a broken Heart, and ſaves them who are of a bruiſed Spirit.

19. ר A virtuous Man has many Adverſities; from all of which the Lord delivers him.

20. ש He preſerves all his Bones, there is not one of them broke.

21. ת Adverſity will kill the Wicked; and they that hate the Virtuous will be deſolate.

22. פ The Lord redeems the Soul of his Servants; and none ſhall be deſolate who truſt in him.

PSALM XXXV.

BY David.

Contend, O Lord, with thoſe that contend with me, fight with thoſe that fight with me.

2. Taking hold of the Shield and Buckler, riſe up for my Help.

Hymn 351.

Ver. 21. glad] Hopkins's Metre,

Our ſoul in God hath joy and game:

Goodridge in his Preface likewiſe produces good-will, Ver. 5. as ſome great Fault, being uſed of God, though there is the Like, Luk. ii. 14.

Ver. 22. wait for] the ſame Verb and Prepoſition as in Pſa. lxix. 3. 2 King. vi. 33. Mie. vii. 7. thus Montan. tranſlates it here expectavimus, Jun. and Trem. exſpectamus, Ainſw. hopefully wait for. The Reader may obſerve ſeveral other ſuch Places, where the com. Tranſ. has hope in.

Ver. 1. This Pſalm is Alphabetical like the 25th, only here the 6th Letter is left out, and the 17th repeated at the End.

Ib. had] for it is plain by Ver. 3, 4, 6. this was compoſed after his Deliverance.

Ib. Abimelech] being a common Name to the Kings of the Philiſtines, Gen. xx. 2. & xxvi. 1. and this is called by his proper Name Achiſh in 1 Sam. 21.

Ver. 5. They that look] But by overlooking the Letter ט as it might be, for א the Seventy have tranſlated Come, Imp. for no more the Heb. Letters would differ, tho' from the Roots, נבט and בוא

Ib. aſſemble together] rendered every where elſe in the com. Tranſ. flow together or flow, as here by Jun. and Trem. Leo. Jud. and Ainſw. which however is not ſo proper, being always ſaid of People.

Ib. their] Mudge, and Crit. Notes, your; for it is but changing a Heb. Letter, and Look Imp. by a Point.

Ver. 10. Young Lions] Seventy, The Rich, through the Nearneſs of כפירים to כברים

Ver. 13. Keep thy Tongue from Evil] In the Sax. or old Eng. bewere tungan thine fram yfele.

Ver. 17. thoſe] the Righteous, Ver. 15. ſo that here is no Neceſſity of adding as the Sept. &c. do.

Ver. 21. Adverſity] According as in Ver. 19. being the ſame Word, and coherent, with the foregoing, the Tran. of Jun. &c.

Ver. 1. It is evident this was made while David was in his Troubles under Saul.

Ib. Contend] the ſame Verb that follows.

Paſſage of my Purſuers: ſay to my Soul, I am thy Safety.

4. Let thoſe be aſhamed and put to confuſion, who ſeek my Life: let them be turned back and bluſh, that contrive my Hurt.

5. Let them be as Chaff before the Wind, the Angel of the Lord driving away,

6. Let their Way be in Darkneſs and ſlippery Places, the Angel of the Lord purſuing them.

7. Becauſe they hid their Net for me undeſervedly in a Pit, which they dug in the ſame Manner for my Soul.

8. Let Waſting come on him that he does not know of, and his Net that he hid catch himſelf; by which very Waſting let him fall.

9. So will my Soul rejoice through the Lord, will be joyful through his Safety.

10. All my Bones will ſay, O Lord, who is like thee, that delivereſt the Afflicted from him that is too ſtrong for him, even the Afflicted and Needy from him that ſpoils him?

11. Violent Witneſſes ſtand up, who examine me about what I know Nothing of.

12. They reward me Evil for Good, making my Soul deſtitute.

13. But as for me, when they were ſick, I having a Garment of Sackcloth, afflicted my Soul with Faſting; and my Prayer will return into my own Boſom.

14. I went about as if it was my Friend, or Brother; bowed down, being ſad, like one who mourns for a Mother.

15. Yet when I halt, they are glad, and are got together, even thoſe that are Cripples, againſt me, without my knowing it; who tear, and will not be ſtill:

16. With Hypocrites, Scoffers for Bread, gnaſhing their Teeth at me.

17. Lord, how long wilt thou ſee it? Bring back my Life from their Waſtings, the only Thing I have from the young Lions.

18. I will thank thee in the great Congregation, will praiſe thee among the numerous People.

19. Let not thoſe who are my Enemies wrongfully be glad concerning me, them that hate me undeſervedly wink the Eye.

20. For they do not ſpeak peaceably, but contrive very deceitful Things againſt the quiet ones of the Country.

21. Gaping at me with their Mouth, they ſay, Ha, ha, we ſaw with our own Eyes.

22. Thou ſaweſt, O Lord, do not keep ſilence: Lord be not far off from me.

23. Awake, and rouſe up, for my Judgment; my God and Lord, for my Cauſe.

24. Judge for me according to thy Righteouſneſs, O Lord my God; and let them not be glad concerning me.

Ver. 5. Angel of the Lord] That is, ſays Mudge, a very violent Wind; according to which them would be Chaff, whereas the Text ſays only like Chaff, and ſo the Angel but like Wind. He brings for it his own Tranſ. of Pſa. civ. 4. but are Angels made elementary Matter, and that which is inanimate too? And are Winds Angels?

Ver. 7. in a Pit] As the ſame Heb. Word ſignifies Corruption, or as it might be Deſtruction, the Litur. has to deſtroy me, but not ſo congruous to the Paſſage.

Ib. dug] LXX reproached, as two Letters changing Place would make it, or it may be without, they having taken the other Meaning inſtead of Pit.

Ver. 8. Waſting] Mudge, the Pit; but he may alter Meanings, who ſticks not to alter Words themſelves. So he has reſted for returned, Ver. 13. and ſays, It would be odd to talk of a Prayer's returning, without having mentioned any Prayer at all; when it is mentioned at the ſame Time, and as much for returning as for reſting.

Ver. 12. Concerning which look, cix. 5.

Ver. 13. will return] being ſincere, and the Verb fut. ſo that he truſted his Prayer would be effectual, though now only for himſelf, as Luk. x. 6. but Patrick's Paraphraſe falls ſhort, I wiſh my ſelf no better, than I deſired God to do for them.

Ver. 14. Mother] This the LXX have not, thinking אם as I apprehend to be אם if.

Ver. 15. halt] the ſame Word as in Pſa. xxxviii. 17. The LXX have againſt me, taking the Heb. to mean at my Side.

Ib. Cripples] as the Meaning of the Word is, and ſo anſwers to halt: thus the Adjective is rendered lame, 2 Sam. iv. 4. & ix. 3. ſee alſo de Dieu's Animad. With the LXX Scourges from one Root.

Ib. tear] Sept. were diſſipated] for ſo the Doway College tranſlate the Lat. Tranſ. from the Gr. as if tore in pieces. Litur. making mows (for mouths) at me; the laſt added in, and the other, which the Heb. does not ſignify, taken from Munſter, as likewiſe the firſt Member of the next Verſe.

Ib. be ſtill] from Doway again compunct, thoſe Clergy being not fond of the Laity's underſtanding the Scripture, but the Earl of Dartford puts it penitent: probably it was made from the Paſſive of the Verb to be cut.

Ver. 16. With Hypocrites] This with the Sept. is they tempted me, taking the three firſt Letters of בחנפי as if they ſtood ſeparate, and the ם for Nothing.

Ib. Scoffers] The LXX they ſcoffed at me, for which however ו is wanting.

Ib. for Bread] It is properly a Cake, as rendered 1 King. xvii. 12. and two Nouns together may include for between them; ſee Prov. xxviii. 21. but the LXX with Scoffing, becauſe the Word has ע and ג in it like the foregoing. What a Cluſter of falſe Tranſlation is here!

Ver. 20. not] Sept. to me, taking one Heb. lo for another, and the wrong one for li:

Ib. contrive &c.] turned ſtrangely in the Eng. from Calvin, they dab deceitful Words upon the Clifts of the Earth; and in that from the Vulgate, in the anger of the earth ſpeaking they meant guiles; the latter like the Septuag. only they have not, of the earth ſpeaking, for they might render deceitful things or words only deceits, and ארץ, in the Country, which was dropped next to the other ץ. What a Bleſſing it is we have better, and more faithful Tranſlations! which we ſhould not have had, if there muſt have been no more Alteration.

Ib. quiet] Byth. obſerves that Anger with the LXX is from רגז for רגע

Ver. 21. Ha] Aha being vulgarly, and ignorantly, for Ha ha.

25. Nor let them ſay in their Heart, Ha, it is to our Mind; not ſay, We have devoured him.

26. Let thoſe be aſhamed and bluſh together, who are glad of my Hurt: let them be cloathed with Shame and Confuſion, that magnify themſelves againſt me.

27. But let ſuch ſing, and be glad, as delight in my Righteouſneſs; and ſay continually, The Lord be magnified, who delights in the Proſperity of his Servant.

28. Thus ſhall my Tongue diſcourſe of thy Righteouſneſs, of thy Praiſe every Day.

PSALM XXXVI.

FOR the chief Muſician. By the Lord's Servant David.

The Tranſgreſſion of the Wicked ſays within my Heart, there is no Fear of God before his Eyes.

2. For he ſooths himſelf up in his own Conceit, till he finds his Iniquity to be odious.

3. The Words of his Mouth are profane or deceitful: he has left off underſtanding how to do well.

4. He contrives what is profane upon his Bed, ſtands in a Way that is not good, not deſpiſing that which is evil.

5. O Lord, thy Kindneſs is in the Heavens, thy Faithfulneſs to the Skies.

6. Thy Righteouſneſs may be compared to the mighty Mountains, thy Judgments to the vaſt Deep: thou Lord, preſerveſt Man and Beaſt.

7. How precious thy Kindneſs is, O God! in the Shadow of whoſe Wings Mankind do truſt.

8. They are filled abundantly with the fat Things of thy Houſe; and thou makeſt them drink of thy pleaſant Brook.

9. For the Fountain of Life is with thee; by whoſe Light we ſee Light.

10. Extend thy Kindneſs to them that know thee, and thy Righteouſneſs to thoſe who are of an upright Heart.

11. Let not the Foot of the Proud come to me, nor the Hand of the Wicked remove me:

12. Where the Workers of Iniquity fall, are driven away, and cannot get up.

PSALM XXXVII.

BY David.

א Be not thou exaſperated againſt Evil-doers, be not envious againſt thoſe that commit Iniquity,

2. For they will quickly be cut down like Graſs, and fade like a green Herb.

3. ב Truſt in the Lord, and do Good: dwell in the Country, and feed faithfully.

4. Delight thy ſelf alſo in the Lord, and he will grant thee the Petitions of thy Heart.

5. ג Commit thy Way to the Lord; and truſt on him, who will accompliſh it;

6. Nay will bring forth thy Virtue as the Light, and thy Judgment as the Noon.

7. ד Be ſilent to the Lord, and wait with concern for him: be not exaſperated againſt

16. מ A little is better to a righteous Man, than the Abundance of many wicked ones.

17. For the Arms of wicked Men will be broke; but the Lord upholds the Righteous.

18. נ The Lord is acquainted with the Days of the Perfect; and their Poſſeſſion will be for ever.

19. They will not be aſhamed in the Time of Adverſity, but be ſatisfied in the Days of Famine:

20. ב When the Wicked will periſh, and the Lord's Enemies be as the precious Part of Lambs; conſuming away, even into Smoak.

21. ל The Wicked borrows, and will not pay; but the Righteous ſhews favour, and gives.

22. For they who are bleſſed by him will inherit the Earth; as thoſe that are curſed by him will be cut off.

23. מ A Man's Steps being ordered by the Lord, he will delight in his Way.

24. Fall as he may, it will not be quite down; becauſe the Lord holds up with his Hand.

25. נ I have been young, as I am old; yet never ſaw a virtuous Man forſaken, nor his Offſpring begging Bread.

26. He ſhews favour at any Time, and lends; ſo his Offſpring is bleſſed,

27. ס Depart from Evil, and do Good; then remain for ever.

28. For as the Lord loves that which is right, he will not forſake his pious ones, who are preſerved for ever; while the Offſpring of the Wicked is cut off.

29. Virtuous ones will inherit the Earth, and remain upon it perpetually.

30. פ The Mouth of the Virtuous talks what is wiſe, and his Tongue ſpeaks what is right.

31. The Law of his God is in his Heart, none of his Steps will ſlip.

32. צ The Wicked watches for the Righteous, and endeavours to make him die.

33. Whom the Lord will neither leave in his Power, nor ſhall he condemn him when he is judged.

34. ק Wait for the Lord, and obſerve his Way; and he will exalt thee to inherit the Earth: when the Wicked are cut off, thou wilt ſee it.

35. ר I have ſeen the Wicked terrible, and ſpreading himſelf as a green Tree in its native Soil.

36. But he paſſed away, and behold was not; ſo that when I ſought him, he could not be found.

Ver. 10. he is not] rather than his Place; and thus Ainſw. he ſhall not be. Sept. ſhall not find, by putting in and out.

Ver. 16. many] The Litur. applies it to another Word by great riches, which neither the Gender nor Station of it will allow.

Ver. 19. but be ſatisfied] by Wither, who carries on the Pſalm with the Eng. Alphabet,

Nor emptie be, when others Faſt.

Ver. 20. as the precious Part of Lambs] Sep. in being glorified and exalted, not diſtinguiſhing יקר from בקרת and רים from ברום the Adverb and Nouns from Gerunds.

Ver. 22. For] from Ver. 17—20.

Ib. by him] the Lord, Ver. 20.

Ver. 25. Bread] Sax. hlaf, whence loaf.

Ver. 28. for ever] After this in the Liturgy is added from the Gr. and Vulg. Lat. the unrighteous ſhall be puniſhed; which Words are not ſo much as pretended to be taken from any other Place of Scripture, Defence, p. 7. and in the quarto Edit. 1636 is righteous for unrighteous.

Ver. 33. nor ſhall he condemn him] wherein Mudge may be allowed to be right.

Ver. 34. ſee] Beveridge juſtly objects to what Tate and Brady add,

With longing Eyes, and as a glad Spectator;

Defence of the Old Singing Pſalms, p. 57. but that is ſince altered; yet what he objects more ſtrongly to, p. 62—70. the ſitting as a Spectator at a Tragedy, is made worſe, by leaving out as.

Ver. 35. green Tree in its native Soil] Sept. the Cedars of Lebanon: they making the former from the Tranſpoſition of זר which drew their Place with them.

Ib. native] Luxuriant, as the forteſt's native tree, Wh. and Sil.

Ver. 36. he paſſed away] In the Com. Pray. I went by, as the LXX were minded to alter it; for they could not eaſily take נ to be א

Ib. paſſed away] How ſuitable to this of King David, is the following Sentence in Poetry of the famous Perſian King Phridun, who is ſo highly celebrated by the eaſtern Writers,

'Look back, remember thoſe thou haſt ſeen high,
'And mark if thou haſt never ſeen them ſink,'

D'Herbelot. Biblioth. Orient. in Art. Feridoun.

37. ש Ob-

37. ו Obſerve the Perfect, and mind the Upright: for that Man will be happy at laſt.

38. On the contrary Tranſgreſſors are deſtroyed together, the Wicked at laſt are cut off.

39. ח For the Salvation of the Righteous is from the Lord, who is their Strength in the Time of Diſtreſs.

40. And thoſe the Lord will help, and deliver: he will deliver them from the Wicked, and ſave them; becauſe they truſt in him.

PSALM. XXXVIII.

A PSALM of David, to bring to remembrance.

O Lord, do not rebuke me in thy Fury, and correct me in thy Wrath.

2. For thy Arrows are come down into me, as is alſo thy Hand upon me.

3. There is no Soundneſs in my Fleſh, by reaſon of thy Diſpleaſure: no Peace in my Bones, by reaſon of my Sin.

4. Becauſe my Iniquities paſs over my Head; are like a heavy Burden, too weighty for me.

5. My Sores ſtink, being corrupted, by reaſon of my Folly.

6. I am turned awry, bowed down very much, go all Day ſad.

7. For my Loins are full of Vileneſs; and there is no Soundneſs in my Fleſh.

8. I am weakened, and bruiſed very much: I roar by the Raging of my Heart.

9. Lord, all my Deſire is before thee, and my Sighing is not hid from thee.

10. My Heart pants, my Strength has left me; and the Light even of my Eyes themſelves is not with me.

11. My very Lovers and Friends ſtand at a diſtance from my Plague; as for my Neighbours, they ſtand far off.

12. And thoſe that enquire for my Perſon would inſnare; ſuch as ſeek my Hurt ſpeak froward Things; and deceitful ones they ſtudy every Day:

13. Yet I like the Deaf do not hear; and am as a dumb one that opens not his Mouth.

14. Thus I am as a Man who neither hears, nor has Reproofs in his Mouth.

15. Becauſe I wait for thee, O Lord; do thou anſwer, O Lord my God:

16. Leſt, as I think, they ſhould be glad concerning me, when my Foot is moved ſhould magnify themſelves againſt me.

17. Since I am ready to halt, and my Grief is before me continually.

18. For I declare my Iniquity, am troubled for my Sin.

19. My Enemies too who are living are ſtrong, and thoſe that hate me wrongfully are many.

20. Who reward Evil for Good: for my following what is good they are againſt me.

21. Do not forſake me, O Lord: my God, be not far off from me.

22. Make haſte to my Help, Lord my Salvation.

PSALM XXXIX.

FOR the chief Muſician Jeduthun. A Pſalm of David.

I thought I would keep my Ways, not to Mudge chuſes I paſt by, with the Seventy, as if of as much or more Authority than the Heb.

Ib. he could not] Com. Pray. Pſa. from the LXX, his place could no where bee found; which I cannot think true.

Ver. 37. Perfect] Though perfect in Scripture is commonly expounded by upright, and ſometimes tranſlated inſtead of it, here is a Diſtinction.

Ver. 38. at laſt] How improper the preſent Engliſh Reading is may be conſidered.

Ver. 39. For] This Mudge ſays ſhould be ſtruck off, to place the ת firſt; why did not he make the reſt as exact? And how does he know they ſhould be ſo?

Ver. 1. to bring to remembrance] As the following Pſalm ſhews David in the Depth of his Afflictions, and in Saul's Time, Ver. 11, 12. of which he could not ſpeak as paſt, by reaſon of the imperative Verbs, Ver. 1, 21, 22, and as the Condition he was in repreſents him almoſt deſpairing of Life, and therefore unlikely he ſhould then put ſuch a Title to it for his future Remembrance; upon mature Conſideration of the Matter, I ſuppoſe he added this Title afterwards in his Advancement.

Ver. 2. come down] as the Verb here repeated ſignifies neither ſtick faſt nor preſſeth.

Ver. 5. Folly] Sax. unwiſdomes.

Ver. 6. turned awry] with Pain, not troubled, Mudge wried. The LXX's am become miſerable, may be from נח for עוה

Ver. 7. Vileneſs] This the LXX I ſuppoſe taking for Contempt from others rendered Mockings.

Ver. 10. themſelves] plur. not it.

Ver. 11. at a diſtance] Gen. Tranſ. aſide, which K. James's Tranſlators changed into the old ſcarce vulgar aloof, and Mudge keeps it ſtill.

Ib. my Plague] The LXX, came near, and ſtood, which נגעו ועמדו in the Place of נגעי יעמדו might have made, only by lengthening the ס's.

Ver. 19. wrongfully] unrihtlice in Sax.

Ver. 20. my following what is good] Beza adds, howſoever otherwiſe I be a Sinner, Medit. on penit. Pſ. as if to controul the Text, or at leaſt expound it away.

Ver. 1. Jeduthun] of whom ſee, 1 Chron. xvi. 41, 42. & xxv. 1, 3. Jun. and Trem. as well as Theodoret, ſuppoſe it was made when David was in the greateſt Diſtreſs by the Conſpiracy of Abſalom.

Ib. thought] which this Heb. Verb being ſometimes uſed for, ſeems to mean here: the noted Hales of Eaton in a Sermon on it, publiſhed among his Golden Remains, ſuppoſes it to ſignify reſolved.

ſin with my Tongue; I would keep a Band to my Mouth, while the Wicked was yet before me.

2. I was dumb with Silence, held my peace even from what was good: at laſt my Grief being troubleſome,

3. My Heart hot within me, the Fire kindling in my Meditation, I ſpoke with my Tongue;

4. Make known to me my End, Lord, and the Meaſure of my Days, what it is; that I may be ſenſible how I am ceaſing.

5. Behold thou haſt made my Time a Hand's-breadth, and my Age is Nothing before thee. Certainly every Man ſet up is all Vanity. A Pauſe.

6. Certainly a Man goes about for an Image, they doubtleſs make a Noiſe in vain: he heaps Things up; without knowing who will receive them.

7. And now, what do I wait for, Lord? My Hope it is in thee.

8. Deliver me from all my Tranſgreſſions, make me not the Reproach of the Vile.

9. I was dumb, opened not my Mouth, becauſe thou didſt it.

10. Take away thy Stroke from me; who am conſumed by the Blow of thy Hand.

11. With Rebukes thou correcteſt a Man for Vice, and diſſolveſt what is deſirable of him as a Moth. Certainly all Mankind are Vanity. A Pauſe.

12. Hear my Prayer, O Lord, and give ear to my Cry; be not ſilent at my Tears: for I am a Stranger with thee, a Sojourner like all my Fathers.

13. Turn away the Things from me, ſo that I may get refreſhment; before I go away, and am not.

PSALM XL.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm of David.

I waited conſtantly for the Lord; who inclined to me, and hearing my Cry,

2. Brought me up from the Pit of Tumult, from the miry Clay, and ſet up my Feet on a Rock, eſtabliſhing my Steps.

3. Nay he put a new Song into my Mouth, of Praiſe to our God: many ſaw, and fearing, truſted in the Lord.

4. The Man is bleſſed who puts his truſt in the Lord; and has no regard to the Haughty, and thoſe that turn aſide to Lying.

5. Thou haſt, O Lord my God, done many of thy Wonders and Intentions for us; not to be ſet in order to thee, were I to declare, and ſpeak: they being too numerous to be counted up.

6. Sacrifice and Offering thou didſt not deſire, thou piercedſt my Ears; not requiring Burnt-ſacrifice, and Sin-offering.

7. Then I ſaid, Behold I am coming; it being written of me in the Volume of the Book.

8. To do thy Will I deſire, O my God, and thy Law is within my inward Parts.

Ver. 2. being troubleſome] The Gr. Tranſlator, as I ſurmiſe, being put to it to underſtand how Grief was troubled, made it renewed, and perhaps with reſpect to the Word נעור to Youth.

Ver. 4. Make known] Mudge, The Lord hath ſhewn, which the Original, he ſays, will bear both alike: admit it, but as this is Part of what the Pſalmiſt ſpoke, Ver. 3. and as the reſt to the End is all ſpoken to the Lord, this ſeems the ſame.

Ver. 5. ſet up] aptly to the Heb. but in the Gr. with Relation to the Senſe living.

Ver. 7. Hope it is in thee] Sept. Subſtance is from thee; which looks as if היה it, omitted in our Tranſ. was taken for the Noun Being from היה and perhaps conſtrued thus, my Hope is in thee for a Being, i. e. Maintenance or Subſtance: Bythner's making it out by Heb. xi. 1. muſt be left to ſuch as may like that better.

Ver. 11. a Moth] Targ. a Snail, Sept. a Spider, as Byth. notes; but in the former is rather a Moth, as in Buxt. Chald. Lexic. Col. 661.

Ver. 13. Turn away the Things] The Verb being in the ſimple Conjugation Kal, Iſa. xxii. 4. Job vii. 19. & xiv. 6. of this Signification, is here in the Conjugation Hiphil, which might be expreſs'd exactly Grammatical, Cauſe (the Things) to turn away. The Object required by the Verb, is properly the Things complained of before.

Ver. 1. One of David's Pſalms, we may ſuppoſe, amidſt his Exerciſes, when he had been delivered from many, Ver. 2, 5. and was involved in many more, Ver. 12, 17. and the [us] in Ver. 5. his Companions mentioned 1 Sam. xxii. 2.

Ver. 4. puts] Sept. name, with another Vowel-point.

Ib. thoſe that turn aſide to Lying] For which the Sept. have falſe Madneſſes, from the Chald. שטה which the Heb. has Nothing of, neither in שוט whence this Word regularly comes, in שיט nor שטה and has no שטה

Ver. 5. ſet in order] Gr. in thy Thoughts there is not who may be likened to thee; but the Heb. Pauſe at Thoughts diſunites it.

Ib. ſpeak] Where is the grand Diviſion of the Verſe.

Ib. they being] Payne with a ſingular Verb to the greateſt plural Subject, all things that ever was; as Pſa. xlii. 9. while foes oppreſſeth me.

Ver. 6. piercedſt my Ears] to be God's Servant for ever, as in Exod. xxi. 6. Deut. xv. 6. according to Jun. and Trem. with Grot.

Ver. 7. Book] The firſt of Samuel, which gives Account of David's being anointed King, Ch. xvi. that he might do God's Will, which Saul would not; that Book being doubtleſs written by Samuel ſo far, as there are ſome ſecret Things between God and himſelf in the ſame Chap. and it is likely David had ſeen it, 1 Sam. xix. 18.

Ver. 8. Calvin in his Commentary here, It is in vain to frame the Feet, Hands and Eyes, to the keeping of the Law, unleſs Obedience begin at the Heart. It is the proper Office of the Holy Ghoſt to engrave the Law of God in our Hearts. Truly God worketh not in us as in Stones, that he ſhould draw us without the Feeling or inward Moving of our Heart. Eng. Tranſ.

9. I have preached Righteouſneſs in the great Congregation; behold I have not ſhut up my Lips, O Lord, thou knoweſt.

10. Nor have I covered up thy Righteouſneſs within my Heart, I have ſpoken thy Faithfulneſs and Salvation: not concealing thy Kindneſs and Truth at the great Congregation.

11. Do not thou, O Lord, ſhut up thy Mercies from me: let thy Kindneſs and Truth continually keep me.

12. For Evils are come round againſt me, till they are out of Number; my Iniquities have overtaken me, and I am not able to ſee: they are more numerous than the Hairs of my Head; inſomuch that my Heart fails me.

13. Vouchſafe, O Lord, to deliver me: O Lord, to my Help make haſte.

14. Let thoſe be aſhamed and bluſh together, who ſeek my Life to deſtroy it: let them be turned back and put to confuſion, that deſire my Hurt.

15. Let ſuch be deſolate for a Reward of their Shame, as ſay to me, Ha, ha.

16. But let all that ſeek thee, be joyful and glad through thee: let them ſay continually, The Lord be magnified, who love thy Salvation.

17. As for my ſelf, who am afflicted and needy, the Lord will think of me; thou art my Help, and Deliverer: O my God, do not ſtay.

PSALM XLI.

FOR the chief Muſician, A Pſalm of David.

He who minds the Poor is bleſſed; him the Lord will deliver at the Time of Adverſity.

2. The Lord will preſerve and keep him alive, he ſhall be bleſſed on the Earth; and thou wilt not give him up to the Deſire of his Enemies.

3. The Lord will ſupport him upon the languiſhing Couch: thou wilt make all his Bed in his Sickneſs.

4. As to my ſelf I ſay, O Lord, be merciful to me: heal my Soul, for I have ſinned againſt thee.

5. My Enemies ſay ill of me, When will he die, and his Name periſh?

6. And if one comes to ſee me, he talks what is vain; his Heart having gathered him Something that is bad, out he goes into the Street, relating it.

7. All that hate me, who contrive againſt me what may be hurtful to me, whiſper together concerning me;

8. An ungodly Matter ſticks cloſe to him; and as he is lain down, he will not get up again.

9. Even the Man that was peaceable to me, in whom I truſted, who eat of my Bread, has lifted up the Heel againſt me.

10. Yet do thou, O Lord, be gracious to me, and raiſe me up; that I may recompenſe them.

11. By this I know that thou delighteſt in me, becauſe my Enemy does not openly exclaim againſt me.

12. And as for me, thou upholdeſt me in my Integrity, and wilt ſet me up before thee for ever.

13. Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, from everlaſting to everlaſting: ſo, even ſo let it be.

Ver. 9. great Congregation] Sax. cercean micelre, afterwards changed to mickle Kirk.

Ver. 15. deſolate] With the Sept. Let them bear their Shame immediately: Bythn. aſſerts roundly, without his uſual perhaps, that inſtead of שמו they read שאו tho' מ and א are heterogeneous Letters, not alike in Shape nor Sound; rather they might derive it from שום for שמם ſuch Roots being commonly blended together, and κομίζω indeterminate or diffuſive in Meaning; yet there is no Need to ſay, they read שומו however that Author is more happy in conjecturing they took for a Reward to be at the Heel, and ſo immediately.

Ver. 1. Another Pſalm made, as it ſeems, while David ſuffered from thoſe who acted for Saul againſt him, and at the Time of ſome Sickneſs.

Ib. Poor] and needie ſay the LXX, as in the Litur. and if the ſame with poor, for ſo the Writer of the Defence vindicates it, what is the Uſe of it?

Ib. will deliver] The Sax. has alyſth (looſe) in another Copy gefreath.

Ver. 2. not give] No foes their triumph on his ruin raiſe, Wh. and Sil.

Ver. 7. together] This being the firſt Word of the Ver. in the Original, the LXX join it to that before, whence the Doway Tranſ. has, He went forth and ſpake together; but in the Gr. it is ἐπὶ τὸ αὐτὸ, and in the Lat. in idipſum, on it ſelf, all ſcarce intelligible, nor did they well know which to put it to in the Vulg.

Ver. 8. An ungodly Matter] or Thing, not Diſeaſe; the ſame Word as in Pſa. lxiv. 5. for they might reckon him in Rebellion againſt his Sovereign, the Words being properly thus, and rendered wicked thing, Pſa. ci. 3.

Ib. ſticks cloſe to him] Sept. they have made againſt me; not that יצוק בו was ever יצקו בי tho' ſome Criticks feign what is more unlikely, and Bythn. יצינו here; but was done at Random ſo.

Ver. 9. the Man] whom ſome take to be Achitophel; but by the Hiſtory David was not ſick at the Time of his Rebellion, 2 Sam. xv. 14, 30, 31. & xvii. 22. & xviii. 2, 4, 24. & xx. 3.

Ib. lifted up the Heel] Mudge, curſed Thing: brutally as a Beaſt does to kick, which he ſeems to allude to. Litur. laid great wait (not denoted ſurely by Heel) for me.

Ver. 11. openly exclaim] durſt venture their Tongues no further than Backbiting and Whiſpering, Ver. 6, 7. which as he did not hear, was much eaſier to him.

Ver. 13. ſo, even ſo let it be] as the Heb. amen, veamen ſignifies; in the Sax. Verſ. beohit ſyhitſwa.

PSALM XLII.

FOR the chief Muſician. An inſtructing Poem for the Korahites.

As a Hart cries out for the Brooks of Water, ſo does my Soul for thee, O God;

2. For whom it thirſts, even for the Living God: Oh when ſhall I come, and appear in God's Preſence?

3. My Tears are Food for me Day and Night, by the ſaying to me every Day, Where is thy God?

4. Being not unmindful of theſe Things, I pour out my Soul in me; that I may paſs in the Croud, may accompany them to the Houſe of God, with the Voice of Singing, and Praiſe of a Multitude that keep a Feaſt.

5. Why art thou caſt down, my Soul, and diſturbed in me? Wait for God; for I ſhall yet praiſe him, the Safety of his Preſence.

6. O my God, my Soul is caſt down in me: therefore I remember thee from the Country of Jordan and of the Hermonites, from Mount Mizar.

7. One Deep calls to another at the Noiſe of thy Spouts: all thy Waves and Billows paſs over me.

8. By Day the Lord will appoint his Kindneſs; and in the Night his Poem ſhall be with me, a Prayer to the God of my Life.

9. I ſay to God my Rock, Why doſt thou forget me? Why do I go ſad, by the Oppreſſion of the Enemy?

10. For the Slaughter in my Bones my Adverſaries reproach me, by their ſaying to me every Day, Where is thy God?

11. Why art thou caſt down, my Soul? And why art thou diſturbed in me? Wait for God; for I ſhall yet praiſe him, the Safety of my Preſence, and my God.

PSALM XLIII.

JUDGE me, O God, and plead my Cauſe againſt an unkind Nation: deliver me from the deceitful and unjuſt Man.

2. For thou art the God of my Strength: Why doſt thou caſt me off? Why do I go about ſad, by the Oppreſſion of the Enemy?

3. Send forth thy Light and Truth: let them lead me, bringing me to thy holy Mountain, and thy Tabernacles.

4. That I may go to God's Altar, to him himſelf, who makes me exceedingly rejoice; and praiſe thee with the Harp, O God, my God.

5. Why art thou caſt down, my Soul? And why art thou diſturbed in me? Wait for God; for I ſhall yet praiſe him, the Safety of my Preſence, and my God.

PSALM XLIV.

FOR the chief Muſician. An inſtructing Poem for the Korahites.

O God, we have heard with our Ears, our Fathers have told us, the Work that thou wroughteſt in their Days, in thoſe of old Time.

Ver. 1. Korahites] Look 1 Chr. ix. 19. 2 Chr. xx. 19.

Ib. cries out] rendered cry in the other Place where it occurs, viz. Joel i. 20. and does not ſignify panteth. The Imagination alſo of his being hunted, is what the Pſalmiſt gives no Hint of.

Ver. 2. the Living God] Vulg. the living fountain, by fontem for fortem.

Ib. when] The Sax. or old Eng. put the h before the w, hwænne, as in the next Ver. hwær.

Ver. 4. not unmindful of theſe Things] Sax. thyſſa gemyndiy. This ſingular Elegance in our Language, of two Negatives to be affirmative, comes in not unaptly here: ſo with dis——Lev. x. 20. Num. xxiii. 27. im——Pſa. lxxxvi. 2. ig——Job xxi. 27. as Rom. i. 13. & xi. 25. &c. and a——Eſt. ix. 13. ſee Prov. xi. 21. & xvii. 5. & xix. 5. Eph. v. 17. in com. Tranſ. where the Original has not.

Ib. that I may] The Heb. Particle here frequently ſignifies that, and the Verb is future; by which it anſwers well to the foregoing.

Ib. Croud] Sac from ſuc, to mingle, yet Mudge tranſlates, under a ſcarlet Canopy; but what Wonder, by altering the Heb. ſo the LXX in the Place of the Tabernacle.

Ib. accompany them] Lit. bring them forth, as the Heb. has not with.

Ver. 5. him, the] according to the Heb. and Ver. 11.

Ver. 6. from the Country] In the Pſalt. of the Litur. concerning; which ſhews it was made from the Vulg. Lat. and that in a wrong Senſe, de ſignifying either from or concerning, but both the Heb. and Gr. not admitting the latter.

Ib. Country of Jordan] whither it ſeems David was fled from Abſalom, 2 Sam. xvii. 22. as it does not appear the Korahites were appointed Singers in Saul's Reign; ſee 1 Chr. v. 31. & xv. 16. 2 Chr. xxix. 25. In the Contents of the laſt Tranſ. is, David's zeal to ſerve God in the temple, and to the next Pſalm, David praying to be reſtored to the temple, tho' the Temple was not built in David's Time.

Ver. 7. Lightfoot ſuppoſes David made this, obſerving the Waters of Jordan, Harm. of Old Teſt.

Ib. Waves] Sept. high Things, not from שבר but שגב as Bythn. conjectures.

Ver. 11. Safety] for health as it means now is not ſignified by the Heb.

Ver. 1. This Pſalm ſeems made on the ſame Occaſion as the foregoing, if not a Sort of ſecond Part or Poſtſcript to it.

Ib. Judge] the Sax. is dem for doom.

Ib. Man] I ſuppoſe Abſalom.

Ver. 3. Tabernacles] the Tent and Ark, Grot.

Ver. 4. rejoice] With the LXX is, making my Youth glad: Bythn. ſays they took Youth from the Arabick Signification; which I do not find it has, ſo ſuppoſe they might take the Meaning of ילד from גיל

Ver. 1. It ſeems likelieſt to me this was made in the Time of Jehoiakim's Captivity, perhaps by Jeremiah; tho' others think differently and very variouſly, but inconſiſtently with Ver. 9, 11.

2. Whom

2. Whom, with thy Hand, having diſpoſſeſſed the Gentiles, thou didſt plant; puniſhing the Nations, and expelling them.

3. For they poſſeſſed not the Country by their Sword, nor did their own Arm ſave them; but thy right Hand, thy Arm, and the Light of thy Countenance, becauſe thou delightedſt in them.

4. It is thou art my King, O God; appoint Safety for Jacob.

5. By thee muſt we puſh our Adverſaries, by thy Name tread them down who riſe up againſt us.

6. For I will not truſt in my Bow, nor can my Sword ſave me.

7. Becauſe thou didſt ſave us from our Adverſaries, and madeſt them that hated us aſhamed;

8. We praiſed God every Day, and gave thanks to thy Name conſtantly. A Pauſe.

9. Whereas now thou doſt caſt off, and put us to confuſion; not going out with our Armies:

10. Thou makeſt us return back from the Adverſary; and thoſe who hate us ſpoil for themſelves:

11. Thou delivereſt us up as Sheep for Meat; and ſcattereſt us among the Gentiles:

12. Thy People thou ſelleſt for no Profit, without making Increaſe by their Prices:

13. Thou expoſeſt us to the Reproach of our Neighbours, the Scoff and Mocking of them that are round about us;

14. As thou doſt for a Proverb among the Gentiles, to the Shaking of the Head in the Nations.

15. Every Day my Confuſion is before me, and the Shame of my Face covers me;

16. By the Voice of him who reproaches and blaſphemes, by the Face of the Enemy and Revenger.

17. Notwithſtanding all this is come on us, we do not forget thee, nor act falſely againſt thy Covenant;

18. Our Heart is not turned back, nor is our Step turned aſide from thy Path:

19. Though thou bruiſeſt us in the Place of Serpents, and covereſt us over in the Shadow of Death.

20. If we forget the Name of our God, or ſpread forth our Hands to a ſtrange god;

21. Will not God ſearch this out? As being he who knows the hidden Things of the Heart.

22. Since for thy ſake we are ſlain all the Day, are reckoned as Sheep for Slaughter:

23. Awake; why doſt thou ſleep, Lord? Stir up, caſt not off for ever.

24. Why doſt thou hide thy Face, forget our Affliction and Oppreſſion?

25. For our Soul bows down to the Mould; our Belly cleaves to the Earth.

26. Riſe up, a Help to us; and redeem us by reaſon of thy Kindneſs.

PSALM XLV.

FOR the chief Muſician upon the ſix-ſtringed Inſtruments of the Korahites. An inſtructing Poem of the beloved Daughters.

My Heart bubbles up a good Matter, I ſpeak my Performances concerning the King; my Tongue being as the Pen of a ready Scribe.

2. Thou art much fairer than Mankind, Grace is poured into thy Lips: therefore God bleſſes thee for ever.

3. Gird thy Sword upon the Thigh, thou powerful one, in thy Dignity and Honour.

4. And in thy Honour ride ſucceſsfully, upon the Account of Truth and Meekneſs, of Righteouſneſs; whoſe right Hand will teach thee terrible Things.

Ver. 2. them] the ſeven Nations of Canaan, Deut. vii. 1. while it ſcarce appears what this them belongs to in the com. Tranſ. and which Poole makes ſome ado about, till he has quite ſpoiled it.

Ver. 8. every Day] by Smyth who compared different Tranſlations, &c. whilſt day the day ſucceeds.

Ver. 9. going out] Sax. utgæſt.

Ver. 10. for themſelves] The Litur. has our goods, which there is no Pretence for the Heb. to denote.

Ver. 1. The Date of this we may fix in the Reign of Solomon, ſoon after his Marriage with Pharaoh's Daughter; 1 King. iii. 1. but by whom made is uncertain.

Ib. ſix-ſtringed Inſtruments] according to Sol. Jar. and as we read of a ten-ſtringed Inſtrument, Pſa. xxxiii. 2. and elſewhere: thus Jun. and Trem. render it hexachorda, and Ainſw. expounds, that is, ſix-ſtringed Inſtruments.

Ib. bubbles up] as the Heb. Word ſignifies; Sax. bealcetteth for belcheth.

Ib. ſpeak] in Sax. ewethe for quoth.

Ib. of the beloved Daughters] for them to ſing; the Word being fem. and properly ſignifies beloved: Jun. and Trem. amicarum, of the Friends; Ainſw. of the well-beloved Virgins. They ſeem to be thoſe mentioned, Ver. 9.

Ver. 2. much fairer] by the doubling of the Heb. letters, as alſo Ainſw. has it; with Jun. and Trem.

Ib. therefore] Litur. becauſe, which the Author of Holy David &c. vindicates by ſaying, 'So Dr. Hammond 'corrects our laſt Tranſlators in his Margent;' but ſuch Correction muſt want to be corrected again, the Heb. being clearly as here: the ſame is in Ver. 7. which the Litur. has wherefore.

Ver. 4. thy Honour] Sept. deſign, a Verb. imper. only with other Points as Byth. remarks.

Ib. ſucceſsfully] Pſalt. in Com. Pray. Good luck have thou; too low, unfit, and wrong parted.

Ib. teach thee terrible Things] as if to do ſuch, after having Experience of its Strength; otherwiſe if this had reſpect to them when performed, let or make thee know might be fitter.

5. With thy ſharp Arrows in the Heart of the King's Enemies, the People will fall under thee.

6. Thy Throne, O God, is for ever and ever, the Scepter of thy Kingdom is a right one.

7. Thou loveſt Righteouſneſs, and hateſt Wickedneſs: therefore God, thy God, has anointed thee, with the Oil of Joy more than thy Companions.

8. All thy Garments are with Myrrh and Aloes, with Caſſia, out of the Palaces of Ivory, whence they make thee glad.

9. Kings Daughters are among thy precious ones; the royal Conſort being ſet at thy right Hand in the famous Gold of Ophir.

10. Hear, O Daughter; do thou both look, and incline thy Ear; forgetting thy own People, and Father's Family.

11. Then will the King earneſtly deſire thy Beauty: to whom, as he is thy Lord, bow thy ſelf down.

12. The Daughter of Tyre alſo with a Preſent, the rich ones of the People will make ſupplication before thee.

13. The King's Daughter is all glorious within, her Cloathing is of Chequer-works of Gold.

14. She is brought to the King with embroidered Garments, the Virgins her Companions that follow her are admitted to come to thee.

15. They are introduced with Gladneſs and Rejoicing, they come into the King's Palace.

16. In the room of thy Fathers will be thy Sons; whom thou ſhalt make Princes on all the Earth.

17. I will cauſe thy Name to be remembred in all future Ages: therefore the People will praiſe thee for ever and evermore.

PSALM XLVI.

FOR the chief Muſician of the Korahites. A Poem upon the Virgin-inſtruments.

God is our Refuge and Strength, a Help in Diſtreſſes he is found exceedingly.

2. Therefore we will not fear, though the Earth ſhould be changed, and the Mountains moved into the Heart of the Seas;

3. The Waters of which ſhould be boiſterous, being diſturbed, the Mountains ſhake by the Height of it. A Pauſe,

4. There is a River whoſe Streams make glad the City of God, the holy Place of the Tabernacles of the Supreme One.

5. Within which there is God, it cannot be moved: God will help it at the Appearance of the Morning.

6. The Gentiles are in a tumult, the Kingdoms are moved: he giving forth his Voice, the Earth is diſſolved.

7. The Lord of Armies is with us, the God of Jacob is our high Place. A Pauſe.

8. Come, ſee the Works of the Lord; who having made Deſolations on the Earth;

9. Cauſes Wars to ceaſe to the End of it, breaks the Bow, and cuts aſunder the Spear, burning the Wagons in the Fire.

Ver. 5. The Reader may try what he can make of it, juſt as it is, in the New-England Meetre,

Thine arrows ſharp: the people they ſhall fall down under thee;
Yea, in the heart (they ſhall fall down)
foes to the King that be.

But the Doway Tranſlators tell us what they mean by, the peoples underneth thee ſhal fal into the hartes of the kings enemies, viz. The example of people conuerted, ſhall moue the hartes of the aduerſaries to come alſo unto the truth; yet the Earl of Dartf. aſhamed of it perhaps, as well he might, turns the ſame, Nations ſhall fall under thee, into the hearts of the Kings enemies thy arrows ſhall light.

Ver. 9. wrought about with divers colours, in the Lit. is from the Gr.

Ver. 10. People] for which Hopkins has Children unadviſedly.

Ver. 12. Tyre] See 1 King. v.

Ver. 13. within] Denham,

Tho' with pure Gold her Garment ſhin'd,
And all her Arts the Needle join'd,
Her higheſt Beauty is her Mind;

and King prettily,

Who far above thy beauties ſeen,
All glorious art within;

but Hatton, quite omitting the latter, prays, Let thy holy Church be decked with exterior Ornaments and ſecular Advantages (however qualified by adding) ſuch as may truly promote the intereſts of holy Religion.

Ver. 15, 16] Where Tate and Brady are worth reading.

Ver. 1. a Poem] It may be ſuppoſed written by David, on his Succeſs in War, and finiſhing it with other Nations, as 2 Sam. viii. Hatton entitles it A Prayer——for the Peace of Chriſtendom; which ſhould have been put to his own Prayer after the Pſalm, as the reſt ſhould, this being ſtrictly no Prayer, but a Poem of Triumph.

Ib. the Virgin-inſtruments] the Heb. Word otherwiſe ſignifying Virgins, as Cant. i. 3. & vi. 8. and Munſt. writes, Plerique aſſerunt Alamoth eſſe inſtrumentum muſicum, that moſt ſay it was ſome Inſtrument of Muſick.

Ib. is found exceedingly] as the Heb. is: but the Gr. which find us; for indeed the ſame ſignifies we (ſhall) find, yet would rather be referred to God.

Ver. 3. Mountains] Sax. duna, i. e. downs.

Ver. 4. whoſe Streams] where the Sept. the Forces of the River, as it were explanatory.

Ib. the holy Place] The LXX turn it for a Verb, the Supreme One has ſanctified his Tabernacle, with ו alſo as ו to Tabernacle.

Ver. 5. at the Appearance of the Morning] at his beholding in the Verſion of Auguſtine's Expoſition of the Pſalms, omitting בקר

Ver. 6. in a tumult] as the Heb. Word ſignifies, or diſturbed, as I render it, Pſa. xlii. 6. & xliii. 5.

Ib. are moved] by reaſon of Perplexity and Overthrow from the Lord, coherent with diſſolved, and according to the Meaning of this ſame Verb in the foregoing Verſe, which alſo by the Obſervation of de Dieu does not ſignify but ſuch Kind of being moved, and this Way of Interpretation he pleads for.

Ver. 8. who] the Heb. Relative.

Ver. 9. Wagons] Sept. Shields, with no viſible Cauſe, unleſs as being round.

10. Saying,

10. Saying, Leave off, and know that I am God; who will be exalted among the Gentiles, exalted on the Earth.

11. The Lord of Armies is with us, the God of Jacob is our high Place. A Pauſe.

PSALM XLVII.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm for the Korahites.

Clap Hands, all People, ſound forth to God with the Voice of Singing.

2. For the Supreme One is aweful, a great King over the whole Earth.

3. Who brings the People under us, and the Nations under our Feet.

4. He chooſes our Poſſeſſion for us, the Excellency of Jacob whom he loves. A Pauſe.

5. God goes up with Shouting, the Lord with the Sound of the Trumpet.

6. Sing melodiouſly to God, even melodiouſly: ſing melodiouſly to our King, even melodiouſly.

7. Since God is King of the whole Earth, ſing melodiouſly with Underſtanding.

8. God reigns over the Gentiles, God ſits upon his holy Throne.

9. The Nobles of the People are gathered together, with the People of the God of Abraham: for the Defenders of the Earth are of God, who is highly exalted.

PSALM XLVIII.

A POEM, being a Pſalm for the Korahites. The Lord is great, and highly praiſed, in the City of our God, on his holy Mountain.

2. Mount Zion is handſomely ſituated, the Joy of the whole Earth, at the north Sides; being the Town of the grand King.

3. In whoſe Palaces God is known for a high Place.

4. For behold, the Kings met, paſſing by together:

5. They ſeeing, wondered accordingly; were troubled, haſtened away;

6. Trembling ſeized them there, Anguiſh as of a Woman in labour.

7. Thou breakeſt the Ships of Tarſhiſh with the eaſt Wind.

8. As we have heard, ſo we ſee in the City of the Lord of Armies, in that of our God; who will himſelf eſtabliſh it for ever. A Pauſe.

Ver. 9. Nobles of the People] of other Countries, as the Word being here plural, and then ſingular ſhews, as alſo what follows: thoſe Nobles might be Ambaſſadors, &c. to David, and this Pſalm made in Thankfulneſs for ſome Victory: accordingly Denham,

And now the Peoples Leaders yield,
With thoſe of Abr'ham's God to join;

other Tranſlators alſo have with, ſome to; and who knows but עם with might be left out, as its Place was next to עם People? The LXX miſtook this for that, having only with.

Ib. the Defenders] Litur. God doth defend, quite unwarrantably; but the Doway Tranſ. worſe, the ſtrong goddes of the earth, are excedingly aduanced, from the vulg. Lat. and Gr. which the Tranſlators apply to the Trinitie, tho' in that there is but one God.

Ib. who is] Gr. they are, looſely as there; not that נעלה was ever נעלו though one Side of the ה might be obſcure.

Ver. 2. north Sides] of Jeruſalem, but as a Part of it: Mount Zion called the holy Mountain, Ver. 1. probably containing Mount Moriah, as with Jun. and Trem. and agreeable to Pſa. lxxxvii. 1. & cxxi. 1. & cxxxiii. 3. or having both theſe Names, like Sinai and Horeb, Exod. iii. 2. where the Temple was built, 2 Chron. iii. 1. being the north Part of the City, as in Lightfoot's Geographical Deſcription of Jeruſalem, Chap. xxii. and that of Villalpandus; which may alſo appear confirmed by Iſa. xiv. 13. notwithſtanding this is ſtrongly oppoſed in the Univer. Hiſt. Book I. Ch. vii. 7. and Mount Zion placed in the Map, as it is likewiſe in that of Fuller's Piſgah-ſight of Paleſtine, on the ſouth Side. In anſwer to that of the Prophet (without taking notice of this) it is in the ſaid Hiſtory ſuppoſed to mean, the Conqueror would eſtabliſh his Dominion where was the King's Palace, ſituate on the northern Side of Mount Sion; which either makes it not properly upon the Mount, or repreſents the Mount as north of it ſelf; and the Heb. Word rendered Congregation ſignifying ſolemn Aſſembly, doubtleſs meant the Aſſembly at the Temple. The Pretence that the other Opinion might be proved from ſeveral Writers, may be left till it is done, while there are for this alſo Kimhi, Druſius, Cellarius, Calmet, Jun. and Trem. in Ezek. xl. 2. the Author of Holy David clear'd on Pſa. cxxxv. 21. Patrick, &c. And I don't ſee how theſe Texts of Scripture, which muſt be right, can have a contrary Senſe. Jeruſalem ſtood on two Hills, that were ſituate North and South, and a Valley between; the northern One being higheſt, on which the Temple was, Joſeph. Jewiſh War, B. vi. Ch. 6. where Mount Moriah muſt be; and Joſephus ſays, this Hill φρούριον μεν ὑπὸ δαβίδε ἐκαλείτο, was called the Fortification by David, plainly alluding to 2 Sam. v. 7. 1 Chr. xi. 5, 7. according to which Zion ſeems apparently then; and the other Hill he adds was called Acra; which ſome as above now take to be Zion, and that it was not Mount Zion which the Temple was on: but it appears otherwiſe by 1 Mac. iv. 37, 38. & v. 54. & vii. 33. and by its being alſo called holy, Pſa. ii. 6. Joel ii. 1. & iii. 17. and by Pſa. ix. 11. & xiv. 7. & xx. 2. & l. 2, 8. & lxv. 1. & lxxvi. 2. & lxxxiv. 7. & lxxxvii. 1, 2. & cii. 16. & cx. 2. & cxxviii. 5. & cxxxii. 13. & cxxxiv. 3. & lxxiv. 2. & lxxviii. 68, 69. Iſa. ii. 2, 3. & xii. 6. & xxviii. 16. & xlvi. 13. & viii. 18. & xviii. 7. & xxix. 1, 7, 8. & xxxi. 6. & l. 28. Lam. ii. 6. Mic. iv. 7. Heb. xii. 22. Rev. xiv. 1. I do not however deny, that the ſouth Part of Jeruſalem is at preſent called Zion, by the Chriſtians who reſide there, as the Accounts of Travellers ſhew; but ſuch a Miſtake might ariſe from the Ignorance concerning it in former Ages, which might be ſpecified if needful. Yet if a ſufficient Anſwer ſhall be given to this, I am ready to relinquiſh it to the prevailing Opinion.

Ib. King] as Mat. v. 35. Pſa. cxlix. 2. Jer. viii. 19.

Ver. 4. the Kings] of thoſe People, I ſuppoſe, mentioned 2 Chron. xx. 1. and ſo Patr. I find ſince. Litur. of the earth, from the Gr.

Ver. 7. the Ships] ſome of Jehoſhaphat's Enemies coming from beyond the Sea, 2 Chr. xx. 2. whereas the Syrians brought neither Kings nor Ships againſt Hezekiah; to which ſome apply this.

9. We

9. We think of thy Kindneſs, O God, within thy Temple.

10. According to thy Name, O God, ſo is thy Praiſe to the Ends of the Earth; whoſe right Hand is full of Righteouſneſs.

11. Mount Zion will be glad, the Daughters of Judah rejoice, by reaſon of thy Judgments.

12. Compaſs Zion, and going about it, count up its Towers.

13. Take notice of its Forts, look up at its Palaces; that you may count for the following Generation.

14. For this God ſhall be ours for ever and evermore: he will guide us over Death.

PSALM XLIX.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm for the Korahites.

Hear this, all People, give ear, all Inhabitants of the World;

2. Both Mankind in general, and particular Perſons, the Rich and Poor together.

3. My Mouth ſhall ſpeak Wiſdom, and the Meditation of my Heart ſhall be Underſtanding.

4. I will incline my Ear to an Oration, open my hidden Speech with the Harp.

5. Why ſhould I fear at the Time of Adverſity, that the Iniquity of my Heels will incloſe me about?

6. Of thoſe who truſt on their Wealth, and boaſt in the Abundance of their Riches,

7. None can redeem a Brother at all, nor give God the Ranſom of him;

8. (The Redemption of their Life being precious, and ceaſes for ever)

9. That he may yet live eternally, without ſeeing Corruption.

10. For one may ſee the Wiſe die, the Fool and Brutiſh periſh together, and leave their Wealth to others.

11. Whoſe Mind was as if their Hoſues would be for ever, their Dwelling-places to all Ages; that called the Lands by their own Names.

12. Whereas Man does not abide in Honour, he becomes like the very Beaſts that periſh.

13. This Way of theirs is their Folly; yet thoſe that are after them are pleaſed with their Sayings. A Pauſe.

14. Who are put into the Grave as Sheep, Death feeding on them, and the Upright will rule over them in the Morning; whoſe Form the Grave is to conſume even from the Habitation at it.

Ver. 9. think] Sept. have received, from רום one may imagine for דמה

Ib. Temple] But the Sept. now, tho' not the Vulg. Lat. People, by λαῶ miſtranſcribed for ναῶ, however unnoticed by Byth. &c.

Ver. 12. count up its Towers] Gr. and vulg. Lat. tell in her Towers, tho' the Heb. has no in; and therefore is not allowable, notwithſtanding it admits of the ingenious Imbelliſhment given to it by the Earl of Dartford, relate thoſe things from the top of its towers.

Ver. 13. look up] Something of up appears to be the Signification by its Noun Hill, the Verb being only here, and this which Ab. Ezra gives it, looks by far the moſt ſuitable; not that in the Litur. ſet up her houſes, nor by the LXX diſtribute from the Chald. in a poor and forced Senſe.

Ver. 14. over] So L. de Dieu would have it turned ſupra, as he ſays in its proper Meaning. Hare ſuppoſes the two laſt Words ſhould be Part of the Title of the next Pſalm, into which Mudge intirely comes, with the farther Liberty only of making them into one Word, and adding another before; Aſtoniſhing!

Ver. 1. It ſeems clear to me that this Pſalm is not in David's Style (tho' I confeſs that is a curious Point to know) but rather bears Reſemblance to ſome of Aſaph's, or to Pſa. xlv. No more particular Time of being indited appears in it, than that it was probably on the Removal of ſome rich ungodly Perſon or Perſons by Death.

Ver. 2. Both Mankind in general, and particular Perſons] Heb. Both the Sons of Adam, and the Sons of a Man; which ſeems therefore to be rather rendered ſo, than low and high.

Ver. 3. Meditation] Sax. ymind.

Ver. 4. Oration] Ainſw. writes, 'In old Engliſh or Saxon, it was called a big-ſpel,' without ſhewing any Reaſon or Conformity of it to our Language; whereas it is biyſpelle, as we ſay a by-word or by-way, by or beſide what is common, and ſpell is ſtill retained in pretended Conjuration, and in diſpoſing the Letters into Words or Syllables; thus is the Sax. godſpel (where god is uſed inſtead of good) for Goſpel.

Ver. 5. that the Iniquity] fearing that he ſhould be quite ſurrounded with the Puniſhment of his Iniquity, Pſa. cxxx. 3. which he hoped to eſcape from, and repreſents as purſuing him; which accounts for this Expreſſion, thought ſo obſcure, the Iniquity of my Heels: ſo Jun. and Trem. ſupply ut, that. But אויבי my Enemies for עקבי my Heels, as in Crit. Notes from the Syr. and Arab. is utterly improbable.

Ver. 7. redeem—at all] By the doubling of the Verb as frequently; yet the Doway Tranſ. from the old Lat. is, A brother doth not redeme, man ſhal redeme, but with the latter expounded to be negative.

Ver. 8. Redemption of their Life] as Exod. xxi. 30. where both Nouns are the ſame.

Ib. ceaſes for ever] can never be done.

Ver. 11. Whoſe Mind] But by the LXX their Graves, viz. ſhall be their Houſes: for they interpreted קרבם by קברם

Ver. 12. abide] Mudge, regardeth; who ſays he corrects the laſt Verſe by this, when it is this by that.

Ib. that periſh] In Crit. Notes on ſome Paſſ. p. 40. it is ſuppoſed the preſent נדמו was לו נדמה which is rendered there And is like it; but what Reſemblance have ה לו and ו that thoſe ſhould be miſtaken for this? nay [and] is then wanting; and are [Beaſts] the new-diſcovered [it?] Is ſuch the faſhionable Criticiſm that we are to be overborn with?

Ver. 14. Sheep] which are put one after another into the Slaughter-houſe, as Mankind into the Grave.

Ib. Form] Being what the Heb. ſignifies, as in Ezek. xliii. 11. The LXX have turned it Help, confounding צור with עזר through the Reſemblance perhaps, or according to Byth. took that Senſe from Rock.

Ib. the Habitation at it] The Body does not only die, but is conſumed in the Grave: for the Pronoun is ſingular,

15. But

15. But God will redeem my Perſon from the Power of the Grave; for he will receive me. A Pauſe.

16. Do not fear, becauſe a Man is rich, becauſe the Glory of his Houſe increaſes:

17. For he will take Nothing away at his Death, his Glory will not go down after him:

18. Though he may bleſs his own Soul in his Life, and they may praiſe thee, becauſe thou doeſt well for thy ſelf;

19. It will come to the Generation of his Fathers, they will never ſee the Light.

20. Man being in Honour, does not underſtand, he becomes like the very Beaſts that periſh.

PSALM L.

A Psalm of Aſaph.

The Mighty God, the Lord ſpeaks, calling the Earth; from the Riſing of the Sun to his Setting.

2. From Zion the Perfection of Beauty does God ſhine forth.

3. Our God comes, and is not ſilent: a Fire conſumes before him, and it is very tempeſtuous round about him.

4. He calls to the Heaven from above, and to the Earth, that he may judge his People:

5. Gather my pious ones to me, who make a Covenant with me by Sacrifice.

6. In the mean time the Heaven declares his Righteouſneſs, becauſe God is Judge himſelf. A Pauſe.

7. Hear, my People, and I will ſpeak; O Iſrael, and I will teſtify to thee; who am God, thy God.

8. I will not reprove thee concerning thy Sacrifices, or thy Burnt-offerings being before me continually.

9. I will take no Bullock out of thy Houſe, nor He-goats out of thy Folds.

10. For every Beaſt of the Wood is mine, the Cattle on a thouſand Mountains.

11. I know every Fowl of the Hills, and have the wild Beaſt of the Field with me.

12. If I ſhould be hungry, I would not tell thee; for the World is mine, and what it is full of.

13. Should I eat the Fleſh of ſtrong Beaſts? Or drink the Blood of He-goats?

14. Offer Thankſgiving to God, and perform thy Vows to the Supreme One;

15. As alſo call upon me at the Time of Diſtreſs: who will deliver thee, and thou ſhalt honour me.

16. On the contrary God ſays to the Wicked: What Buſineſs haſt thou to declare my Ordinances, or take up my Covenant into thy Mouth?

17. Since thou doſt hate Inſtruction, and caſt my Words behind thee.

18. If thou ſeeſt a Thief, thou art pleaſed with him; and thy Part is with Adulterers.

19. Thou applieſt thy Mouth to what is evil, and thy Tongue joins Deceit together.

20. Thou ſitteſt ſpeaking againſt thy Brother, giveſt forth an ill Report againſt thy Mother's Son.

21. Becauſe thou haſt done theſe Things, and I being ſilent, thou thoughteſt I was wholly like thy ſelf; I reprove thee, and ſet them in order before thy Eyes.

22. Conſider this now, you that forget God; leſt I ſhould tear in pieces, and none deliver.

23. He who offers Thankſgiving, ſhall honour me; and to him that appoints the Way, I will ſhew the Salvation of God.

---

and has a Prepoſition to it: ſo Jun. and Trem. interpret the Habitation to be the Grave, and the Zurich or Tig. Bible, with Caſt. have it. But ours making the Prep. plural, take it as in the Geneva Verſ. when they ſhall go from their Houſe to the Grave; ſo that the Author of Holy David clear'd, is wrong in the following Note hereon, It is a very dark and imperfect Paſſage in the Heb. and none of our Tranſlators have thought fit to ſupply the Senſe. The LXX have Glory, but how I know not, unleſs they took zebul for tzebi.

Ver. 18. thy ſelf] Sept. him, though it is not credible they read ו inſtead of ך and which the plural Verb denies.

W.* making it into Stanzas of 12 Lines, the 10 and 12 to be ſeven Syllables, has done it miſerably, with very bad Sound and Rhime, though he is counted one of the Geneva Tr. but a good Tranſlator might be a bad Poet, as well as Cicero.

PSALM LI.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm of David, when the Prophet Nathan came to him, after he had gone in to Bath-ſheba.

Be gracious to me, O God, according to thy Kindneſs: according to the Multitude of thy Mercies, blot out my Tranſgreſſions.

2. Waſh me throughly from my Iniquity, and cleanſe me from my Sin.

3. For I acknowledge my Tranſgreſſions, and my Sin is before me continually.

4. Againſt thee, thee in particular, have I ſinned, and done what thou art diſpleaſed with: by reaſon of which thou art righteous in thy Words, and pure in thy Judging.

5. Behold I was begot in Iniquity, and my Mother conceived me in Sin.

6. Lo thou didſt deſire Truth in the inward Parts, and in that which is ſhut up madeſt me know Wiſdom.

7. Oh purify me with Hyſſop, that I may be clean: waſh me, ſo that I may be whiter than Snow.

8. Cauſe me to hear Joy and Gladneſs: let the Bones thou haſt bruiſed rejoice.

9. Hide thy Face from my Sins, and blot out all my Iniquities.

10. Create a clean Heart for me, O God, and renew a ſteady Mind within me.

11. Do not caſt me from thy Preſence, nor take thy Holy Spirit from me.

12. Reſtore to me the Joy of thy Salvation; and let the free Spirit uphold me;

13. So will I teach Tranſgreſſors thy Ways, that the Sinners may return to thee.

14. From Blood, O God, the God of my Salvation, deliver me; whoſe Tongue ſhall ſing of thy Righteouſneſs.

15. Lord, open my Lips, and my Mouth ſhall declare thy Praiſe.

16. For thou deſireſt not Sacrifice, which I would give: thou doſt not delight in Burnt-offering.

17. The Sacrifices of God are a broken Mind: a broken and bruiſed Heart, O God, thou doſt not deſpiſe.

18. Deal well in thy Favour with Zion, build up the Walls of Jeruſalem.

19. Then wilt thou deſire the Sacrifices of Righteouſneſs, Burnt-offering and whole Burnt-offering: then will they offer up Bullocks on thy Altar.

PSALM LII.

FOR the chief Muſician. An inſtructing Poem of David, when Doeg the Edomite went, and told Saul the News, that David came to Ahimelech's Houſe.

Why doſt thou boaſt in Harm, ſtout Fellow? God is kind every Day.

2. Thy Tongue contrives froward Things, it is as it were a ſharp Razor in acting deceitfully.

3. Thou loveſt Evil more than Good, Falſehood more than ſpeaking what is juſt. A Pauſe.

4. Thou loveſt all devouring Words, O deceitful Tongue!

5. God will alſo deſtroy thee perpetually: whom he will take, and pluck away from the Tent, rooting thee out from the Country of the Living. A Pauſe.

6. Then virtuous Perſons, who will ſee, and ſhew reverence, will laugh at him,

7. There is the Man, who would not

Ver. 4. by reaſon of which] for that muſt be improper here: but thus it is plain and conſiſtent, that God's ſpeaking to David, and judging him, as by Nathan, 2 Sam. xii. 7—14. was very right and juſt, becauſe he had ſinned againſt God.

Ib. Words] which he had then heard by Nathan.

Ib. pure] The LXX mayeſt overcome or prevail, from the Syriack Signification, as I agree with Byth.

Ver. 5. I was &c.] Grotius writes, 'Senſus eſt, 'Non nunc tantum, ſed & a pueritia mea, ſæpius peccavi;' i. e. The Meaning is, Not now only, but even from my Youth, I have ſinned often: for it is an hyperbolical Kind of ſpeaking, adds he, as the comparing it with Pſa. lviii. 3. Iſa. xlviii. 5. Ver. 6. didſt deſire] being the paſt Tenſe in Heb.

Ib. and] or ſo, or therefore, as conſequent to the foregoing.

Ib. in that which is ſhut up] Pſalt. ſecretly; that is, ſays the Author of Holy David clear'd, by the private checks of my own Conſcience.

Ib. madeſt me know Wiſdom] Quominus excuſatio mihi de peccato ſuppetat, that I might be without excuſe in ſinning, Grot. the Verb being future only to didſt deſire. Goodridge terms it the ſhining of God's Wiſdom and Light Divine in the Soul.

Ver. 7. purify] Sept. ſprinkle, the other being done by it, Lev. xiv. 7.

Ver. 17. Here Jonſton,

Mens ſcelerum ſub mole gemens, fraudeſque peroſa,
Una placet, numen placat et una tuum:

A Mind groaning under the Weight of wicked Things, and hating Deceits, only pleaſes and only pacifies thy Divine Preſence; on which the Preface-writer breaks out, How wonderfully fine is this Paſſage! He had the Thing it ſelf in his very Soul. Where is the Pen that can do Juſtice to theſe Lines? What a Strength of Language? What a Harmony of Numbers is there in the former? What a Pathos in the latter? Doubtleſs it is excellently done, as the Verſion is in general well.

Ver. 1. An inſtructing Poem of David] Pſa. xxxii. The Doway Verſ. has here underſtanding to David, at the next underſtanding to David, and the following underſtanding for David; ſo varying the Senſe with the Words, while the Lat. is the ſame.

Ib. God is kind] contrary to thee.

Ver. 2. is as it were] unleſs a Razor works deceitfully.

Ver. 5. and pluck] Patr. vulgarly, and more than that, he will pay thee in the ſame Coin thou haſt dealt to them, which he doubles in relating.

Ib. rooting thee out] Sept. and thy Root, having the Verb for a Noun.

make make God his Strength; but truſt in the Abundance of his Riches, and ſtrengthen himſelf in his Frowardneſs.

8. Whereas I ſhall be like a verdant Olive-tree at the Houſe of God; in whoſe Kindneſs I truſt for ever and evermore.

9. I will praiſe thee for ever, becauſe thou haſt done it; and will wait for thy Name, becauſe it is good, before thy pious ones.

PSALM LIII.

FOR the chief Muſician upon the Inſtrument Mahalath. An inſtructing Poem of David.

The vile one ſays in his Heart, There is no God: they corrupt and make themſelves abominable by Iniquity, none doing Good.

2. God looking from Heaven upon Mankind, to ſee whether there is any who underſtands, who ſeeks God;

3. Every one of them is turned back, they are become filthy together, none doing Good, not even one.

4. Will not the Workers of Iniquity know, who eat my People as they do Bread, not calling upon God?

5. There they are terrified with Fear, where no Fear is, becauſe God ſcatters the Bones of him that encamps againſt thee; who makeſt them aſhamed, becauſe God deſpiſes them.

6. Oh that there were the Salvations of Iſrael from Zion! when God turns back the Captivity of his People, Jacob will rejoice, Iſrael will be glad.

PSALM LIV.

FOR the chief Muſician on the Inſtruments that are ſtriken. An inſtructing Poem of David, when the Ziphites came, and ſaid to Saul, Does not David hide himſelf with us?

O God, ſave me by thy Name, and judge for me by thy Power.

2. O God, hear my Prayer, give ear to the Words of my Mouth.

3. For Strangers are riſen up againſt me, and the Violent ſeek my Life; not ſetting God before them. A Pauſe.

4. Behold God is my Helper, the Lord is among thoſe who uphold my Life.

5. He will render what is ill to my Obſervers: cut them off in thy Truth.

6. I will ſacrifice to thee with a Free-offering: I will praiſe thy Name, O Lord, becauſe it is good.

7. For he delivers me from all Diſtreſs, and my Eye can look on my Enemies.

Ver. 8. ſhall be] agreeable to the foregoing.

Ib. Olive-tree] Two Sax. Copies have eletreow, but Spelman's for Olive has eleberye, i. e. Oilberry.

Ib. at] it being unlikely that Trees grew in it: therefore Tate and Brady have,

But I am like thoſe Olive-Plants that ſhade God's Temple round; and Buchanan,

Domini in agello conſita;

which may be underſtood, or rendered, ſet in the Lord's Court.

Ib. for ever and evermore] being different Heb. Words; new-Eng. Verſ. for ay and ay.

Ver. 9. wait for thy Name—before] which the better Senſe may ſhew is to belong one to the other; and ſo the Pointing is made in the Verſion of Jun. and Trem. and Poole pleads for it in the ſame Senſe.

Ver. 1. This is nearly the ſame as the 14th Pſalm, which might be altered by David himſelf, and ſo made another. Buchanan is blamed for paraphraſing ſo largely here with,

Opinionum fœda mentem toxico, &c.

Filthy in Mind with the Poiſon of Opinions, &c. but it may be allowed in Poetry, and to diverſify it from the 14th.

Ib. the Inſtrument] See the Title of Pſa. viii.

Ib. none doing Good] Baxter, tho' he ſhews his peculiar Skill in altering ſome of this from the 14th Pſalm, keeps this Line verbatim,

[Of them] that do good there is none,

to be tuned either with, or without the two incloſed Words: as if by the former, there are, and are not thoſe who do good; and by the latter, that the ſame is both ſingular and plural.

Ver. 5. him that encamps againſt thee] which Mudge ſays is too uncouth, and ſo changes the Original to make it—— no Matter what! the Vile Wretch, and pleads the Authority of the Seventy, who have Menpleaſers.

Ver. 6. Jonſton finely,

Illa dies, lux illa! veni, de rupe Sionis
Iſacidis cœli quâ feret autor opem:
Tum domus Abrahamidûm celebrabit gaudia, duro
Cum ſacro gens cernet colla ſoluta jugo.

O that Day, that Light! come, on which the Maker of Heaven will bring Help from the Rock of Sion to thoſe of Iſaac: then will the Houſe of them who belong to Abraham celebrate their Joys, when the holy Nation beholds their Necks let looſe from the Yoke.

Ver. 1. with us] which being not in 1 Sam. xxvi. 1, but in Ch. xxiii. 19. this Pſalm is to be referred thither; ſee Pſa. xi. 1.

Ver. 3. Strangers] Our new Capellian Critick Mudge, by the Change of a Conſonant and a Vowel, can make it the Proud, nay dares to tranſlate ſo, which exceeds the Effrontery of Capellus himſelf. He would defend it by Pſa. lxxxvi. 14. but why did not he alſo alter the reſt to that, if they muſt be alike? if not, why here in this Word?

Ib. Violent] as the ſame is tranſlated Pſa. lxxxvi.

Ver. 6. will praiſe] Buchanan,

——te canam
Patrem, bonis placabilem,
Maliſque formidabilem.

I will ſing thee the Father, gentle to the Good, and terrible to the Evil. Goodridge, but not for the Value of it, though ſome of his ſmoothеſt, being wrapt up in his uſual Obſcurity;

I will thy holy Name for ever bleſs,
So Great, ſo Good, ſo all my happineſs:

for Great and Good may belong either to God, or Name, or bleſs, or happineſs.

Ib. good] old Pſalter, ſo comfortable.

Ver. 7. can look on] being not afraid of them, or fleeing from them.

PSALM LV.

FOR the chief Muſician on the Inſtruments that are ſtriken. An inſtructing Poem of David.

Give ear, O God, to my Prayer; and do not hide thy ſelf from my Supplication.

2. Hearken to me, and anſwer me: who lament in my Meditation, and cry out;

3. By the Voice of the Enemy, by reaſon of the Preſſing of the Wicked: for they remove Iniquity upon me, and hate me in Anger.

4. My Heart is in Anguiſh within me, and the Terrors of Death are fallen upon me:

5. Fear and Trembling is come into me, and Quaking covers me.

6. Inſomuch that I ſay; Oh that I had Wings like a Dove! I would fly away, and there remain.

7. Lo I would wander far off, lodging in the Wilderneſs. A Pauſe.

8. I would haſten my Eſcape, from the Whirlwind, from the Tempeſt.

9. Devour, Lord, divide their Tongue aſunder: for I ſee Violence and Contention in the City.

10. Which they beſet Day and Night, upon its Walls: Vanity and Trouble being within it.

11. Froward Things are within it; nor does Fraud and Deceit depart from its Streets.

12. For it is not an Enemy reproaches me, which I could bear; not one that hated me who magnifies himſelf againſt me, from whom I could hide:

13. But thou, a Man, as it were of my own Rank; my Guide, and Acquaintance:

14. Who took Counſel together ſweetly, went to the Houſe of God among the Croud.

15. Let Death arreſt them, let them go down into the Grave alive: becauſe wicked Things are in their Lodging amongſt them.

16. As for me, I will call on God, and the Lord will ſave me.

17. In the Evening, Morning, and at Noon will I meditate, and cry out; and he will hear my Voice.

18. He redeemed my Life into Peace, from the War that I had: for they were by me with many.

19. God, even he who abides eternally, will hear, and afflict them; a Pauſe: that having no Changes, do not fear God.

20. He ſtretches out his Hands againſt his peaceable ones, profanes his Covenant.

21. As ſmooth as Butter in his Mouth, but with War in his Heart, ſofter than Oil are his Words; yet they are like drawn Swords.

22. Caſt thy Burden upon the Lord, who will ſuſtain thee: he will never let the Righteous be moved.

23. So thou, O God, wilt bring them down to the Pit of Corruption; bloody and deceitful Men ſhall not live half their Days: but I truſt in thee.

Ver. 2. Meditation] according to the Signification of the Verb, and as tranſlated Pſa. civ. 34. with the like Noun Pſa. cxix. 97, 99.

Ver. 3. with very familiar Phraſe in the Pſalter, too long, and needleſs to recite thence.

Ver. 4. are fallen upon me] Sax. feoll ofer me.

Ver. 5. Fear] Sax. eyſa, as if Awes.

Ver. 8. Where Hopkins, That I were quite—perhaps for That I might be quit of.

Ib. Whirlwind] Heb. Wind of marching, ſo that it was a Sort of Wind, not Storm. The LXX Interpreters turn it Faintheartedneſs, or according to the Gr. Little-mindedneſs, the former Word ſignifying Spirit as well as Wind, and for the other I cannot ſee they did leſs than miſtake סעה for מעם but it does not match very well with Tempeſt.

Ver. 10. Day and Night] which Buchanan makes poetical indeed,

Sive lux fundat radios micantes,
Sive nox fundat tenebras opacas:

Whether the Light ſettles glittering Rays, or the Night ſettles ſhady Darkneſs; and the like Ver. 17. alias 18.

Ver. 11. Fraud] The Heb. being toc, the LXX put it the ſame in Gr. with the Termination of that Language, viz. tocos, which ſignifies Uſury; but the Heb. has no ſuch Meaning: ſo the Gr. is Pſa. lxxii. 14. but Pſa. x. 7. Deceit; this Noun being but in theſe three Places.

Ver. 14. Counſel] Our Counſel ſteer'd us, our Souls were knit as one; in which Line of Goodridge's Pſalms, to be ſung in the beſt Manner, a Choir would be liable to ſing different Syllables to one Note, there being too many, and all unfit to be doubled. The LXX have it Victuals, Bythn. ſuppoſes from מער (for מור) N. 1107. that ſignifies Support, which is wide Work; but perhaps ἐδέσματα was at firſt ἐρείσματα Supports.

Ver. 18. they were by me with many] fighting againſt me, ſays Kafvenaki; and the com. Verſ. has,

Altho the number be full great,
that would againſt me ſtand.

Our Ainſw. renders it, with many were they with me; and Kimhi underſtands it, with many they were againſt me; there being ב for with before many, and David's Enemies being ſpoken of in the plur. both before and after, Ver. 15, 19.

Ver. 19. even] Mudge alters the Original to take this off, yet has and for it himſelf.

Ib. who] the Heb. Relative.

Ver. 20. againſth is peacable ones] Gr. in recompenſing, applied to God, being another Senſe of the Verb, and his neglected, which determines for this.

Ver. 21. Butter] Sept. Anger, in a very different Meaning of the Phraſe, by deriving it from חמה inſtead of חמא

Ib. Mouth] Hare and Mudge would have it Countenance, by the Addition of a Letter, and is one of their moſt plauſible Amendments of the Text; but had they diſcovered a Verſion would run ſo ſmooth and exact with the Heb. it would have been raſh to fancy the other.

PSALM LVI.

FOR the chief Muſician; upon the Dove among a Crew far off. A golden Poem of David, when the Philiſtines took him in Gath.

Be gracious to me, O God, for Man would ſwallow me up: every Day fighting, he oppreſſes me.

2. My Obſervers would ſwallow up every Day: for many fight againſt me, O High One.

3. The Day I am afraid, I truſt on thee.

4. Through God I will praiſe his Word; in God I truſt, ſo will not be afraid: what can Fleſh do to me?

5. Every Day they make my Words ſorrowful; all their Thoughts being againſt me for Harm.

6. Coming together, they hide themſelves, obſerving my Footſteps; when they wait for my Life.

7. Shall they eſcape in the Iniquity? Caſt down the People in Anger, O God.

8. Thou counteſt up my Wandering; put my Tears into thy Bottle: are they not in thy Accompt?

9. Then my Enemies will return back, on the Day that I call: this I know, becauſe God is for me.

10. Through God I will praiſe the Word: through the Lord will I do it.

11. In God I truſt, ſo will not be afraid: what can Man do to me?

12. O God, thy Vows are upon me: I will render Thanks to thee.

13. Since thou haſt delivered my Perſon from Death; ſhall not my Feet be from falling, to walk continually before God, in the Light of the Living?

PSALM LVII.

FOR the chief Muſician; do not deſtroy. A golden Poem of David, when he fled from the Preſence of Saul into the Cave.

Be gracious to me, O God, be gracious to me, for my Soul truſts in thee; and in the Shadow of thy Wings will I truſt, till the Calamities paſs away.

2. I will call on the Supreme God, on God who performs for me.

3. He will ſend from Heaven, and ſave me, putting him to Reproach who would ſwallow me up; A Pauſe: God will ſend his Kindneſs and Truth.

4. My Soul is as it were among ſtout Lions; I lie with thoſe that are ſet on fire, Men whoſe Teeth are as a Spear and Arrows, and their Tongue as a ſharp Sword.

Ver. 1. the Dove among a Crew far off] So fitly does this Title ſuit the Occaſion, and ſhews it ſelf tranſlated with more Beauty and Uſe than divers others. Among is the Sign of the Genit. Caſe as of a Crew; and the Word for Crew is rendered Congregation, Pſa. lviii. 2. where it only occurs beſides, as the Maſoreth notes; and ſo, as Ainſw. obſerves, the Chaldee expounds it.

PSALM LVIII.

FOR the chief Muſician; do not deſtroy. A golden Poem of David.

Do ye indeed, O Crew, ſpeak what is righteous? Do ye judge upright Things, O human Race?

The ſame above both Clouds and Heav'ns extend.

Ver. 1. The Wickedneſs of Saul's Agents, by which David ſuffered, appears to be the Occaſion of this Pſalm.

Ib. Crew] For רעם Mudge ſays he reads רשם tho' there is ſcarce ſuch a Word, or but improperly, and then renders this Phantom ye Divine Powers, but means human ones, and thoſe bad too.

Ver. 2. on the Earth] This ſtanding here in Heb. is joined to the former Part in the Litur. by Dr. Hammond, Munſt. Jun. and Trem. Caſt. Ainſw. Pagn. &c. which its Accent King Paſer ſhews it ſhould.

Ib. weigh out] pretending to ſpeak and act, according to Law and Juſtice, as Ver. 1. and Beza ſays, There is no greater Injury than that under the Cloak of Law, Arg.

Ver. 3. from the Belly] as before from the Womb in Heb. where Barton extravagantly, no ſooner born than ſpeaking lies;

how much better R. B. no ſooner ſpake, but lie; and Patrick,

But 'tis no wonder, ſince you were
Deprav'd, almoſt as ſoon as born:
A wicked Brood train'd up to lye,
To flatter, and all Truth to ſcorn;

or Tate and Brady,

To Vertue Strangers from the Womb, their Infant-ſteps went wrong;
They prattled Slander, and in Lies employ'd their liſping Tongue:

which laſt Wh. and Sil. follow.

Ver. 7. They will] For it appears by he and his in this Ver. that David now turned his Speech from ſpeaking to God, agreeable alſo to Ver. 9, 10, 11. and to when underſtood here.

Ib. diſſolued] Sept. deſpiſed, from מאס but by the Point double Dageſh is from מסס

Ver. 8. the untimely Birth of a Woman] for which the LXX have the Fire fell; yet as ſtrange as it may ſeem, the Heb. might be ſo without the laſt Letter and the Points; and they have Wax for Snail.

Ver. 9. Pots] The ſame Word ſignifying Thorns, the LXX render, Before your Thorns were ſenſible of the Brier, but by the Col. of Doway——did underſtand the old bryar.

Ib. feel the Briers] burning under them, which they will quickly do; ſee Eccleſ. vii. 6.

Ib. drive him away] alluding to Briers ſo driven away from under the Pots, eſpecially by the Hearths being in the middle of the Rooms, or abroad in Camps, &c.

Ver. 10. Feet] The Sept. Hands, as if they knew better what belonged to Waſhing, when it is going in the Blood.

Ver. 1. Hatton intitles this, A Prayer againſt Hereticks; as if ſeeking to kill David, made the Men ſuch, or whom he had rather in View, K. Charles.

Ver. 4. meet] ſo the Heb.

a Noiſe

a Noiſe as a Dog, and go round about the City.

7. Behold they utter forth with their Mouth, Swords being in their Lips: for, they ſay, Who hears?

8. But thou, O Lord, wilt ſmile at them; wilt deride all the Gentiles.

9. His Strength is of thee I obſerve: for God is my high Place.

10. The God of my Kindneſs will prevent me; God will let me look on my Obſervers.

11. Do not ſlay them, leſt my People ſhould forget: remove them with thy Power, and bring them down, Lord our Shield.

12. By the Sin of their Mouth, the Words of their own Lips, let them be alſo taken in their Pride; and for the Curſing, and the Lying they expreſs.

13. Conſume in Wrath, conſume, that they may not be: and let them know that God has dominion in Jacob, to the Limits of the Earth. A Pauſe.

14. So let them return in the Evening, make a Noiſe as a Dog, and go round about the City.

15. Let them wander for Food: if they are not ſatisfied, let them murmur.

16. But I will ſing of thy Strength, nay will ſing aloud of thy Kindneſs in the Morning: for thou art my high Place, and a Refuge at the Time of my Diſtreſs.

17. My Strength, I will ſing melodiouſly to thee: for God is my high Place, the God of my Kindneſs.

PSALM LX.

FOR the chief Muſician upon the ſix-ſtringed Inſtrument of the Teſtimony. A golden Poem of David, to teach; when he contended with the Syrians of Meſopotamia and thoſe of Zobah, and Joab returning, ſlew twelve thouſand Edomites in the Valley of Salt.

O God, who has caſt us off, broke us aſunder, being angry; reſtore to us.

2. Thou who haſt ſhaken the Country, broke it in pieces; heal the Breaches of it, for it is moved.

3. Thou who didſt ſhew thy People a hard Thing, madeſt us drink the Wine of Horror;

4. Haſt given a Standard to thoſe that fear thee, to be ſet up by reaſon of the Truth. A Pauſe.

5. That thy beloved ones may be delivered, ſave with thy right Hand, and anſwer me.

6. God has ſaid in his Holineſs, that I ſhall triumph: I will divide Shechem, and meaſure out the Vale of Succoth.

7. Gilead is mine, and ſo is Manaſſeh, Ephraim is alſo the Strengh of my Head, Judah my Law-giver.

8. Moab is my Waſhing-pot, I will throw my Shoe againſt Edom: O Philiſtia, ſhout againſt me.

9. Who will bring me to the fortified City? Who will lead me to Edom?

10. Wilt not thou, O God, that didſt caſt

Ver. 9. His] Saul's, from the Title of the Pſalm.

Ib. His Strength is of thee I obſerve] as the Heb. is literally; denoting that Saul could do no more than he had Power from God to do, which was not to deſtroy David, as the next Words ſhew. The Verb does not ſignify wait. Thus the Tig. Verſ. has it, Robur illius ad te obſervabo.

Ver. 11. With thy Power] Litur. among the people; but what a Wonder it is that thy was left out for the ſake of it.

Ver. 12. and for] in the old Eng. Pſalms, and why? their preaching is of curſing and lies; which I doubt not but was adapted to the prelatical Prieſts, whoſe Sermons were ſuch againſt the Reformers.

Ver. 1. contended with] Sept. ſet on fire, as if הצות infin. from נצה was חוצית pret. from יצת

Ib. twelve thouſand] ſix thouſand being ſlain as it ſeems before Joab's Return by Abiſhai in the main Battle, and ſo the whole 18000 aſcribed to him, 1 Chron. xviii. 12. Joab killing theſe afterwards in Sieges and Skirmiſhes; and not the 6000 ſlain in leſſer Skirmiſhes, as Grotius would have it.

Ib. broke us aſunder] by the civil Wars while David reigned at Hebron, 2 Sam. iii. 1. nor does the Word ſignify ſcattered.

Ib. reſtore] as Pſa. xxiii. 3. without thy ſelf.

Ver. 2. Country] Correſpondent with us and thy People, Ver. 1, 3.

Ver. 3. madeſt—drink] in the Sax. Verſ. drencteſt, drenchedſt.

Ver. 4. to be ſet up by reaſon of the Truth] With the Sept. to flee from the Face of the Bow, deriving the Verb from נוס inſtead of נסס as it would be here the ſame, and turning קשט by קשת the laſt Letters of which are alike in Sound; and both theſe through the Infrequency of thoſe Heb. Words.

Ver. 8. my Waſhing-pot] Gr. the Pot of my Hope, from the Chald. Root, not uſed in Heb.

Ib. ſhout againſt me] ſaid ironically, as Ab. Ezr. Jun. and Trem. with Ainſw. note. But becauſe of (which the Heb. ſcarce ſignifies) makes it contrary to what is ſaid of the other heathen Countries, nay contrary to Pſa. cviii. 9, And here the Singing Pſalms ſo commended by Manton, &c. for being neareſt the Original, and in the Title-page for being the moſt agreeable to the Text (meaning by both the com. Eng. Tranſ.) have.

And over Paleſtinia's land
I will in triumph go;

but in Ver. 10. there are uſed for Nearneſs to the preſ. Eng. hadeſt and dideſt, each two Syllables: and the com. Pſalms have here,

And thou Paleſtine ought'ſt to ſeek for favour me unto,

The Gr. and com. Lat. have, Foreigners are ſubject to me, which the Heb. here has Nothing like that I find, unleſs the Verb was made from the double Signification of רעה to break and be in fellowſhip, and the Noun from מלש to roll; nor is the Gr. the ſame as in Pſa. xviii. 44. to be taken thence; neither do the Chald. Syriack, nor Arabick make it out, though the Ethiopick Language a little; nor yet any Corruption perceivable or probable in the Gr. and it is the ſame Pſa. cviii. 9.

caſt us off; and that didſt not go forth, O God, in our Armies?

11. Give us Help, by reaſon of the Adverſary; ſince human Safety is vain.

12. Through God we ſhall act with Ability, and he will tread down our Adverſaries.

PSALM LXI.

FOR the chief Muſician upon the Inſtrument that is ſtriken. By David.

Hear my Cry, O God, hearken to my Prayer.

2. From the End of the Country will I call to thee, when my Heart is overwhelmed: lead me on the Rock that is higher than my ſelf.

3. For thou haſt been a Refuge to me, a ſtrong Tower from the Face of the Enemy.

4. I will evermore lodge in thy Tent, will truſt in the Covert of thy Wings. A Pauſe.

5. Since thou, O God, haſt heard my Vows, giving the Inheritance of ſuch as fear thy Name.

6. Days upon Days add to the King, let his Years be as ſucceeding Ages.

7. Let him ever dwell in God's Preſence: prepare Kindneſs and Truth, that they may keep him.

8. So will I ſing melodiouſly to thy Name for ever, to perform my Vows Day by Day.

PSALM LXII.

FOR the chief Muſician Jeduthan. A Pſalm of David.

To God only my Soul is in Silence; from whom my Salvation is.

2. He only is my Rock and Salvation, my high Place: I cannot be much moved.

3. How long will ye frowardly deviſe againſt a Man? All of you will be ſlain; ye will be like a Wall that is bended, a Fence thruſt aſide.

4. They only conſult how to expel him from his Excellency, taking delight in a Lye: they bleſs each with his Mouth, but curſe with their inward Parts. A Pauſe.

5. To God only be ſilent my Soul; for my Expectation is from him.

6. He only is my Rock and Salvation, my high Place: I cannot be moved.

7. With God is my Salvation and Glory: my ſtrong Rock, my Refuge is in God.

8. Truſt in him at all Times, O People, pour out your Heart before him: God is a Refuge to us. A Pauſe.

9. Mankind in general are only Vanity, particular Perſons a Lye: they would be lighter than Vanity, being in the Scales together.

10. Do not truſt in Oppreſſion, nor in Spoil become vain: ſet not the Heart on Wealth, becauſe it is fruitful.

11. Once has God ſpoken, twice have I heard this; that Strength is of God.

Ver. 2. End of the Country] whither he ſeems fled from Abſalom, as 2 Sam. xvii. 22. rather than Saul, ſince he calls himſelf King, Ver. 6.

Ver. 5. Vows] Lit. deſires unaccountably, as the ſame too is turned vows at the End of the Pſalm.

Ib. of] That of the Lit. and ſome other Tranſ. unto; for which a Heb. Prepoſition is wanting, but Nothing for this; beſides the other turning it out of Courſe, as he ſpeaks of himſelf.

Ver. 6. add] ſo Jun. and Trem. ſuperaddito, Caſt. adjice, both imperative, as proper, to accord with prepare, Ver. 7. and with ſo, Ver. 8.

Ver. 7. prepare — they may keep] For which the LXX have who ſhall ſeek out? rather than the Vulg. require; the Word for prepare being who in Chald. & נצר might miſtakenly be referred to צוד hunt.

Ver. 1. of David] probably while he reigned, by Ver. 4. and the Muſician's Name, of whom ſee Pſa. xxxix. Beza in Arg. moſt extravagantly, It ſeems that whoever has this Pſalm in Memory, can be overcome with no Kind of Temptation.

Ib. only] the ſame Particle as in Ver. 2, 4, 5, 6.

Ib. Silence] the ſame Word with that in Pſa. xxii. 2. and a Noun: which the Tig. Verſ. and Mont. have ſilens, ſilent; Ainſw. keepeth ſilence; Pagn. Coccei. & Munſt. ſilet, is ſilent; the laſt of whom expounds it, præſtolatur in ſilentio, waits in ſilence; and Jonſton, Mente Deum tacita veneror—I worſhip God with a ſilent Mind.

Ver. 3. be ſlain] Gr. kill, act. which would bear an Argument, as it is pointed irregularly, but for the following Words.

Ver. 4. from his Excellency] as if David repeated their Expreſſion concerning him: Sandys in Anacreontic Verſe,

All conſpire to caſt me down,
From my Brows to tear my Crown.

But the LXX have it my Price, imaginary from the ſame Root, but by ו for י

Ib. taking delight in a Lye] Sept. I ran in Thirſt; with the Verb from רוץ inſtead of רצה tho' 'tis ſtrange they ſhould miſtake ירצו for רצתי as they did כ to be ב for in, but Thirſt is leſs apparent.

Ib. his Mouth] ſo the Heb. for Eleganey.

Ver. 5. be ſilent] agreeable to Ver. 1. ſo Munſter renders it ſile; Leo Jud. ſilens; Pagn. tace, hold thy peace; Ainſw. keepe thou ſilence.

Ver. 9. in general] See Pſa. xlix. 2. the Sax. is, ydel bearn manna leaſe bearn manna, that is vain are the Sons of Men, lying the Sons of Men.

Ib. be lighter than] Heb. go up more than.

Ver. 10. in Spoil] Allowed by the Situation of it, ſome join this to truſt, as the Tranſlators of the Lithurgick and Geneva Verſions, Ham. &c. but the Accent-points do not allow it, the kingly Accent Zarka making a Diſtinction at Oppreſſion, as alſo the Miniſter Yerah ben yomo carrying on this to the following.

Ver. 11. twice] according as in Job. xxxiii. 14. which with the Word [this] deſtroy the old Gr. and Lat. Interpretation of hearing two Matters, and Grotius's farther Refinement thereon, which might have been beſt applied to the two next Expreſſions here.

12. And

12. And of thee, Lord, is Kindneſs: though thou wilt reward a Man according to his Work.

PSALM LXIII.

A PSALM of David, when he was in the Wilderneſs of Judah.

O God, who art my God, I will ſeek thee early: my Soul does thirſt for thee, my Fleſh longs for thee in a dry Country, and is faint without Water:

2. To ſee ſuch Power and Glory of thine, as I beheld thee with in the holy Place.

3. For thy Kindneſs being better than Life, my Lips ſhall praiſe thee.

4. So will I bleſs thee while I live, lifting up my Hands in thy Name.

5. When my Soul is ſatisfied as with Marrow and Fatneſs, my Mouth ſhall utter praiſe with ſinging Lips.

6. If I do but remember thee upon my Bed, I think on thee in the Watches.

7. For thou haſt been my Help: in the Shadow of whoſe Wings I will ſing.

8. My Soul follows cloſe after thee; thy right Hand upholding me.

9. Therefore thoſe who ſeek my Soul for Waſting, will go into the lower Places of the Earth.

10. Each will be made to flow out by means of the Sword, they will be the Portion of Foxes.

11. Whereas the King will be glad through God, by whom every one who ſwears ſhall glory: when the Mouth of thoſe that tell Lyes will be ſhut up.

PSALM LXIV.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm of David.

Hear my Voice, O God, in my Meditation: keep my Life from the Dread of the Enemy.

2. Hide me from the Counſel of the Evildoers, from the Tumult of the Workers of Iniquity:

3. Who ſharpen their Tongue like a Sword; bend with their Arrow, even a bitter Word,

4. To ſhoot the Perfect in lurking Places; ſhooting him ſuddenly, without being afraid.

5. They ſtrengthen an evil Matter for themſelves, tell how to hide Snares; aſking, Who can ſee them?

6. They ſearch for Iniquities, finiſhing the Search that is made: for the Mind of the Man, and the Diſpoſition, is deep.

7. But God will ſhoot them with an Arrow ſuddenly: there ſhall be Wounds of their own.

Ver. 12. though] which the Senſe requires, and that it ſhould not be for.

Ver. 1. Wilderneſs] that mentioned, as it ſeems, in his Flight from Abſalom, 2 Sam. xv. 23. & xvi. 2. & xvii. 16, 29. as he was King, Ver. 11.

Ib. longs] Sept. how manifold, as with other Points.

Ib. in] Mudge tranſlates as, not that the Heb. is ſo, but that he would have the Author be at Jeruſalem, and not in the Wilderneſs of Judah, though the Title in his own Verſion expreſsly ſays the latter. And if the Title was leſs authentick, it would be leſs Preſumption to alter that. But this diſcerning Writer appears to have made his Criticiſm from an Error of Bythner in Lyr. Proph. who tranſlates the Targ. and Septuag. by ſicut, when both ſhould be in.

Ib. is faint] This Heb. Adjective being maſc. agreeing with Fleſh in the ſame, whereas the Word for Country is ſeldom but fem. and therefore is unlikely to be uſed otherwiſe when another Subſtantive has a better Claim to it, and makes a better Expreſſion; ſee for this L. de Dieu's Animadv. The Word is alſo different from that rendered thirſt before.

Ver. 9. for Waſting] Inſtead of this the LXX ſay in vain, which the Heb. without the laſt Letter and the Points would allow of, and their little Skill in it appears not to have diſtinguiſhed.

Ib. lower Places] Sax. neodran; whence nether.

Ver. 10. Each &c.] Heb. They will make him flow out, i. e. his Life with his Blood.

Ver. 11. by whom] not by him [the King] which would have been unlawful, Iſa. lxv. 16.

Ver. 1. A Pſalm of David] during his Troubles, as is ſuppoſed, from Saul.

Ib. Meditation] not Prayer, which his Voice rather was; it is the ſame Word as at lv. 2.

Ver. 2. Counſel] there is no other Word for ſecret here in the Original.

Ver. 4. ſuddenly] Sax. ſona.

Ver. 5. them] the Snares.

Ver. 6. ſearch for Iniquities] to find them in David, according to Ab. Ezr. but not ſearched out Iniquities, which is finding them.

Ib. finiſhing] Gr. fail in, which is contrary, and not ſignified by the Heb. Verb, but forced from its Meaning conſume, as practiſe in the Litur. is from this.

Ib. made] in Heb. ſearched, being a paſſive Participle from the Verb before. Grotius ſuppoſes this Place may beſt be interpreted (but he unhappily, tho' fitly uſes the Word ſarciri, that is botch'd or patch'd up, or what is worſe mended) thus, conſumti eſſemus. Sed inveſtigatio perfectiſſima (ſupple, Dei eſt, ex ſequentibus) & ad intimuus hominis & profundum cor: '(ſupple pervenit.)' viz. we might have been conſumed. But a moſt perfect Search (ſupply, there is of God, from the following) both to the inward Part of the Man and the deep Heart (ſupply comes.) Whereas ſuppoſing the firſt might be the 2d Perſon, yet the main Partition of the Verſe is not there, but further as in the Eng. Tranſ. nor is there any Thing in Heb. for his Sed But. This may ſerve for an Inſtance what Violence Learned Men ſometimes uſe to the Scripture.

Ib. for the Mind of the Man] Gr. The Man will come, the Conj. ו being taken for ו the Index of the fut. Tenſe, whence ſuch a Meaning would ariſe.

Ver. 7. ſhoot them] Gr. be exalted, the Pronoun taken as Part of another Verb; but beſides the Points there is ו wanting to it.

Ib. ſuddenly] which belongs to the former Part of the Verſe, by the Heb. Pointing. The New-England Verſifier, with his common Art of tranſpoſing has, their wounds be ſudden ſhall.

8. As for their Tongue, they will make it fall upon themſelves: every one that ſees them will get away.

9. Thus all Men will fear, and declare the Work of God; as well as conſider his Doing.

10. The Virtuous will be glad through the Lord, and truſt in him: as all who are of an upright Heart will glory.

PSALM LXV.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm of David, or a Poem.

To thee there is Silence and Praiſe, O God, in Zion: and to thee ſhall the Vow be performed.

2. O thou who heareſt Prayer, to thee all Fleſh will come.

3. The Words of unjuſt Things are too powerful for me: as for our Tranſgreſſions, thou purgeſt them away.

4. He is bleſſed whom thou chooſeſt, and bringeſt near, that he may dwell in thy Courts; we being ſatisfied with the Goodneſs of thy Houſe, of thy holy Temple.

5. With aweful Things in Righteouſneſs didſt thou anſwer us, O God of our Salvation; the Truſt of all the Ends of the Earth, and of the Sea far off:

6. Who eſtabliſhes the Mountains by his Might, being girded with Power:

7. Who reſtrains the Noiſe of the Seas, the Noiſe of their Waves; as likewiſe the Tumult of the Nations.

8. And thoſe that inhabit the Borders fear by reaſon of thy Signs: thou cauſeſt the Morning and Evening to come out melodiouſly.

9. Thou viſiteſt the Earth, making it overflow, thou enricheſt it much with the Stream of God that is full of Water; preparing their Corn, for ſo thou prepareſt it.

10. Watering its Ridges, bringing down its Furrows; thou diſſolveſt it by Showers, bleſſeſt the Sprout of it.

11. Thou crowneſt the Year with thy Goodneſs; and thy Ways diſtil Fatneſs:

12. They diſtil on the Habitations of the Wilderneſs; and the Hills are ſurrounded with Rejoicing.

13. The Paſtures are cloathed with Flocks, and the Vales covered with Corn: there is Shouting, nay Singing, for Joy.

PSALM LXVI.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Poem, or Pſalm.

Sound forth to God, O whole Earth.

2. Sing the Glory of his Name melodiouſly, ſhew the Glory of his Praiſe.

3. Say to God; How terrible art thou in thy Doings! By the Greatneſs of thy Strength let thy Enemies ſubmit to thee.

4. Let all the Earth worſhip thee; and

The Sept. have it of little Children, expounding פתאם I imagine as מפי־ם a Plural of מף which has none, through the Likeneſs there may be in Sound of ת with ט and א with ע or with Bythn. from פתח ſimple.

Ver. 8. get away] or get him gone, but the Lit. laugh them to ſcorne, fancied to be the Senſe of moved, and by the LXX more plauſibly to be troubled, as they tranſlate.

Ver. 9. fear] Com. Pray. ſee, through the Likeneſs of thoſe Heb. Verbs, but there is a [ע] too many for that.

Ib. Work] Hopk. witty Workes.

Ver. 1. A Pſalm of David] as it ſeems in his Proſperity, after the Ark and Tabernacle were ſettled at Zion, where he dwelt Ver. 4.

Ib. Silence] being the ſame Word as in Pſa. xxii. 2. without any Meaning of waiteth: ſo Montan. and Leo Jud. render it ſilentium; and Ainſw. has in his Annotations, Unto thee there is ſilence and praiſe.

Ib. in Zion] Beza, beſides adding only to it twice, ſays in Argum. The Benefits of God are never any where rightly acknowledged and praiſed, but only in his holy Congregations; then not at all privately, but how contrary to Mat. vi. 6. and warranted by no Text.

Ib. performed] Litur. in Jeruſalem, not in Heb. nor but in ſome Copies of Gr.

Ver. 3. The Words of] Which the Heb. has, and the Gr. from thence The Words of the Wicked.

Ib. me] Mudge us; for ſays he, I turn the ע into ו not knowing that there would be a מ wanting then.

Ver. 4. we] The Liturgy has it he, for which the Writer of the Old Eng. Tranſlators clear'd produces the like from Munſt. and Leo Jud. as if one falſe Tranſ. would juſtify another againſt the clear Original.

Ver. 6. girded] begyrd in Sax.

Ver. 7. Noiſe] The LXX turning this Cavity, tho' the ſame juſt after thus; and to make the Verb accord with it, being ſeldom uſed in the Senſe of reſtrain, they deviouſly transfer it to diſturb.

Ver. 8. melodiouſly] Pſalt. paraphraſtically to praiſe thee; but the ſuperior Pleaſantneſs of Sounds at Morn and Even, and particularly the Birds, appear delineated in this fine Copy of Nature.

Ver. 9. the Stream of God] the Clouds, as being high, or towards Heaven.

Ver. 11. thy Ways] the Clouds where God is ſuppoſed to paſs, and as rendered in the Litur. ſee Pſa. civ. 3. Nah. i. 3. Job. xxxvi. 28.

Ver. 13. covered] Sept. abound, either merely expoſitory, or interpreting grataph by gnadaph.

Ib. there is] To form ſome Idea for the Underſtanding, and what might be heard; yet in Pope's Tranſ. of Homer's Iliad, B. 23. is,

The Fields their vegetable Life renew,
And laugh and glitter with the morning Dew;

but ſmile would be better than laugh.

Ver. 1. This appears to be made about the Time of the 18th Pſalm by David.

Ver. 2. Glory of] Thus the Heb. Mudge has, give him the Glory of his Praiſe; but the Heb. neither ſignifies give, ſing melodiouſly to thee: let them ſing to thy Name melodiouſly. A Pauſe.

5. Come, and ſee the Works of God; terrible in what he does with reſpect to Mankind.

6. He turned the Sea into dry Ground; they paſſed through the Flood on Foot: there were we glad through him.

7. He has dominion by his Power for ever; his Eyes will watch the Gentiles: thoſe that are rebellious ſhall not exalt themſelves. A Pauſe.

8. Bleſs our God, O People, and cauſe the Voice of his Praiſe to be heard:

9. Who has made our Souls live, and not ſuffered our Feet to be moved.

10. For though thou didſt prove us, O God, trying us, as Silver is tried,

11. Broughteſt us into a Net, didſt put a preſſing Thing on our Loins,

12. Madeſt Man ride on our Heads, we going both into Fire and Water; nevertheleſs thou haſt brought us forth to a plentiful Place.

13. I will come therefore to thy Houſe with Burnt-ſacrifices, performing to thee my Vows;

14. Which my Lips opened with, and my Mouth ſpoke in my Diſtreſs.

15. I will offer up to thee Burnt-ſacrifices of Rams full of Marrow, with Incenſe: I will prepare the Ox, along with the Hegoats. A Pauſe.

16. Come, hear, all you that fear God; and I will tell what he has done for my Soul.

17. I called to him with my Mouth, and he was extolled by my Tongue.

18. If I had minded Iniquity in my Heart, the Lord would not have heard.

19. Surely God did hear, he hearkened to the Voice of my Prayer.

20. Bleſſed be God, who has not put away my Prayer, nor his Kindneſs from me.

PSALM LXVII.

FOR the chief Muſician on the Inſtruments that are ſtriken. A Pſalm, or Poem.

God will be gracious to us, and bleſs us, he will make his Face light to us; a Pauſe:

2. That thy Way may be known on the Earth, thy Salvation among all the Gentiles.

3. Let the People praiſe thee, O God, the People all of them praiſe thee.

4. Let the Nations be glad, and ſing; becauſe thou judgeſt the People with Uprightneſs, and guideſt the Nations themſelves on Earth. A Pauſe.

5. Let the People praiſe thee, O God, the People all of them praiſe thee.

6. The Earth yields its Increaſe; God, our God bleſſing us.

7. Which as he does, let all the Limits of the Earth fear him.

PSALM LXVIII.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm, or Poem of David.

God riſes up, his Enemies diſperſe, and thoſe that hate him flee by his Preſence.

2. As the Smoak thou driveſt is driven away, as the Wax is melted by the Preſence of the Fire; the Wicked periſh by the Preſence of God.

3. Whereas the Righteous are glad, they triumph at God's Preſence, and are tranſported with Joy.

4. Sing to God, ſing melodiouſly to his Name: caſt up a Way for him who rides on the Plains by his Name The Lord, and rejoice at his Preſence.

---

nor has him, and there is a great Fault in his Verſion of another Member made by Miſtake from the two, and placed between them.

Ver. 5. terrible] Sax. eyeſlic, as if awelike.

Ver. 7. rebellious] Litur. ſuch as will not beleeve, from Munſt. as often.

Ver. 9. made] Heb. put, not holdeſt: which Goodridge following, has ſomething ingenious, as his Thoughts often are, but ſpoiled by the Expreſſion (he being no Poet, ſcarce a Grammarian, notwithſtanding his great Pretences, and his Book printed the 2d time at Oxford) thus,

Who keeps our Soul; holds back the Fugitive;
And gently winds it i'th' ſoft Bonds of Life.

Ver. 12. a plentiful Place] Sept. Refreſhment, from רוח for רוה ſuch Blunders being with them.

Ver. 18. minded] Beza thus, With a Mind free from all evil Imagination, for elſe he would not have heard me.

Ver. 1. Pſalm] Hatton intitles it, A Prayer that all Men may bleſs God, and God may bleſs all Men.

Ib. be &c.] repeated at the End by a mere Tautology, in the Litur. from the old Lat.

Ver. 4. guideſt] never ſignifying to govern: and is the very ſame Word as in Job xxxviii. 32. as the Verb is alſo rendered in this Book, Pſa. lxxiii. 24. Pſa. lxxviii. 72. elſewhere commonly by our Verb lead.

Ver. 6. Increaſe] This Pſalm may therefore be thought compoſed, ſoon after the Famine mentioned 2 Sam. xxi. 1.

Ver. 1. This was probably made, according to Uſher ſung, at the Removal of the Ark to Mount Zion, 2 Sam. vi. ſee Num. x. 3.

Ver. 2. the Wicked periſh] both as the Smoak, and as the Wax, which the great Heb. Point juſt before (and not as in com. Tranſ.) ſhews, and that ſo and them added to the Original, pervert the Senſe.

Ver. 4. caſt up] See Iſa. xl. 3. and there is the ſame Verb with this uſed Chap. lvii. 14. & lxii. 10: and it might be done here for the Paſſage of the Ark. The LXX have ὁδοποιήσατε, make a Way.

Ib. Plains] as the Word ſignifies; and might be where the Ark rode, accompanied with the Divine Preſence, 1 Chr. xv. 26. Sept. Sun-ſettings.

Ib. The Lord] as Praiſe the Lord for Hallelujah; Jah being a Contraction of Jehovah. In the Com. Pray. is yea for Jah, by a great Miſtake.

Ib. and rejoice at his Preſence] After this there is added in the Gr. and Lat. from that, they ſhall be troubled at his

5. A Parent to the Orphans, and a Judge to the Widows, is God in his holy Habitation.

6. God cauſes thoſe who were lonely to dwell in a Family, brings forth the Priſoners that were in Fetters; but ſuch as are rebellious inhabit a dry Place.

7. O God, when thou wenteſt out before thy People, when thou didſt march through the Deſart; a Pauſe:

8. The Earth ſhook, the Heavens alſo diſtilled, by the Preſence of God; that Sinai by the Preſence of God, the God of Iſrael.

9. Thou madeſt very liberal Rain drop down, O God; and thy Poſſeſſion being out of heart, thou didſt prepare for it;

10. In which thy Congregation dwelt: thou preparedſt by thy Goodneſs for the Afflicted, O God.

11. The Lord gave the Word, a great Company of Women declaring it.

12. The Kings of the Armies did flee, did flee away; and ſhe who remained at home divided the Spoil.

13. Though you had lain as between the two Stones of the Hearth, you were like the Wings of a Dove covered with Silver, and its Feathers with yellow Gold.

14. When the Almighty ſcattered the Kings in it, thou madeſt it as Snow on Zalmon.

15. The Mountain of God is like that of Baſhan, a Mountain with Brows like that of Baſhan.

16. Why do you ſtart up, O Mountains with Brows? The Mountains that God deſires to dwell on, the Lord will alſo inhabit perpetually.

17. The Chariot of God was with twenty Millions repeated; among whom the Lord was at Sinai, in the holy Place.

18. Thou wenteſt up on high, taking the Priſoners captive; didſt receive Gifts, to dwell among Men, and even ſuch as were rebellious, O Lord God.

Preſence; which having conſidered, it appears the likelieſt to me that the LXX ſo tranſlated at firſt, inſtead of the other, miſtaking ועלזו for יערצו by reaſon of a bad written Copy (which other Places ſhew they uſed) ז and ע being alike in Sound, and the Strokes of ל and ו too; but that proving falſe, the true Tranſlation was put in after, without taking the wrong out, on Suppoſition that the right was miſſed or overlooked.

Ver. 6. were lonely] Sept. are of one Manner.

Ib. in a Family] as was David's Caſe, 2 Sam. v. 13.

Ib. Fetters] coſharoth as koſharoth, Sept. Strength, Something becauſe it muſt be Something, unleſs a like Chald. Word (for all that I ſee) ſignifying a Beam may be any Thing for it.

Ib. but ſuch as are rebellious] With the Sept. in like Manner ſuch as are in Bitterneſs, blundering (what ſhall I call a Thing ſo frequent?) at ם which they took to be מ yet who knows what Diſadvantages they laboured under, joined with the Inaccuracy of that Time, and the LXX being generally in the ſame Place but one Perſon?

Ver. 7, 8. See Judg. v. 4, 5.

Ver. 9. out of heart] as Huſbandmen ſay of Land, and what is evidently the Meaning here.

Ver. 11. Women declaring] the Heb. Word being fem. and thus Sternhold,

God will give women cauſes juſt to magnifie his name.

Ver. 12. did flee] Sept. of the beloved one; but I think almoſt unpardonably, not to know ידדון from דוד they alſo have to the Beauty here, in Place of ſhe who remained, by a more eaſy Miſtake.

Ver. 13. two] being the dual Number; ſee Ezek. xl. 43. and the Note of Hulſe here.

Ib. covered with Silver] The Sax. is oferſylfrede.

Ver. 14. ſcattered] Vulg. Lat. diſcerns, a wrong Meaning of the Gr. Word.

Ib. in it] the Poſſeſſion, Ver. 9. both being feminine; that is in the Country of Iſrael, when they took it, deſtroying 31 Kings; as the Servitude of Egypt is deſcribed in the foregoing Verſe: yet in the Liturgy is read for their ſake.

Ib. thou madeſt] being the 2d Perſon in Heb.

Ver. 15. Baſhan] which has Hills ſo high, that they are covered with Snow all the Summer long; from whence the River Jordan has its Increaſe, as its Source from the Mountains of Lebanon, Corten's Trav. The LXX tranſlate a fat Mountain, from רשן for בשן

Ver. 16. ſtart up &c.] to the Sight of thoſe that went towards them. Sept. ſuſpect the Mountains are curdled together from the Arabick, this Verb being no where elſe; but the Targummiſt as here, the moſt likely I ſuppoſe to know, beſides that רצד might take its Senſe from רקד with the next Letter in the middle, nay the Arab. is rather look or look up, which latter conveys the ſame Idea, and agrees far the beſt with the Context.

Ib. with Brows] Vulg. crudded (as cheeſe) whence the Doway Tranſlators, after having proved from [The Mountaine of God] that theirs is the true Church, proceed to prove that other Congregations are not, becauſe they are not crudded, that is, ſay they, not united in the ſame pointes of faith.

Ver. 17. Chariot] Sing. in Heb. The Temple being not yet built, and the Deſcription of a Chariot and ſuch a Multitude, agreeing better with a Mountain than a Houſe, ſhew Sinai to be meant, eſpecially as there is Nothing of Compariſon in the Original.

Ver. 18. to dwell] A Diſcourſe being publiſhed to extol Jonſton's Lat. Tranſ. there are Obſervations added to ſhew him a thorough Maſter of the Hebrew, by ſhaking off the Maſſoretic fetters of punctuation (which is ſuch Skill as Alexander had in untying the Gordian Knot) as ſaid by The Authors of the Univerſal Hiſtory, who all the while might be but the ſame Perſon who wrote the Diſcourſe aforeſaid. But whoever the Writer, let us attend to what is written, which is that this ſhould be into the dwelling-place, whence Jonſt. turns it,

——————ex hoſte receptas
Exuvias adytis intulit ille ſacris:

he brought the Spoils received from the Enemy to the holy innermoſt Places of the Tabernacle: yet as thorough a Maſter as he was, he could not find any ſuch Noun in the Heb. as to the Letters without Points, much leſs any from here to ground his Spoils received upon, nor brought, all which the Text has Nothing of; while it is ſaid to have been murdered by others, who ſupply among them from what was ſaid before. I crave the Patience of my Reader to ſubjoin, that there are but a dozen more Inſtances produced (for which it appears by their Progreſſion the Pſalms were ſearched throughout) to ſhew that Jonſton followed a different Pointing of the Hebrew: when notwithſtanding there is not one of thoſe Inſtances pretended to conſiſt of ſuch a Matter, nor this neither; ſo that Jonſt. may paſs with the Philohebraici as innocent, as the other ignorant.

Ib. rebellious] Iſraelites in the Wilderneſs, who had been as Priſoners in Egypt, and were taken away by the Lord; but this Verſe eminently refers to the Work of Chriſt.

19. They

19. Bleſſed be the Lord, who daily loads to us, the God of our Salvation. A Pauſe.

20. Our God is the God of all Salvation; of the Sovereign Lord are alſo the Iſſues of Death.

21. But God will ſmite the Head of his Enemies, the hairy Crown of him who goes on in his Offences.

22. The Lord ſaid; From Baſhan will I bring back, I will bring back from the Depths of the Sea;

23. That thy Foot, with the Tongue of thy Dogs, may be dipt in the Blood of each of the Enemies.

24. They ſee thy Goings, O God; the Goings of my God, my King in the holy Place.

25. The Singers go before, the Players on Inſtruments behind, in the middle the Virgins ſtriking the Timbrels.

26. Bleſs God in the Aſſemblies, the Lord, you of the Fountain of Iſrael.

27. Little Benjamin is there, and their Ruler, the Princes of Judah, and their Aſſembly, the Princes of Zebulun, with thoſe of Naphtali.

28. Thy God has appointed thy Strength: ſtrengthen, O God, this which thou haſt wrought for us.

29. By reaſon of thy Temple at Jeruſalem, to thee will the Kings bring Preſents.

30. Rebuke thou the Company at the Reeds, the Rabble of People like Bulls with Calves, that each may ſubject himſelf with Pieces of Silver; being he who ſcatters the People that delight in Wars.

31. The Grandees will come from Egypt, Cuſh will run with his Hands to God.

32. O Kingdoms of the Earth, ſing to God, ſing melodiouſly to the Lord; a Pauſe:

Ver. 20. all Salvation] or Salvation of all Kinds.

Ib. the Iſſues of Death] which the Lord can therefore reſtrain: it is not from, but of as before Salvation and Sovereign.

Ver. 21. the hairy Crown] Sax. hnol locces.

Ver. 22. from] Patr. expounds it well, I think, by as from.

Ver. 25. Singers] The LXX Princes, by taking שׂ for שׁ

Ver. 26. you of] Patr. ye that are the Offspring; ſo Sandys,

His Praiſe in your Aſſemblies ſing,
You who from Iſrael's Fountain ſpring.

and New-Engl. Verſ. the like. But Bp. Hare is for taking away what is before the Fountain, and referring that to the Lord; becauſe, as he ſays (which he well might) he does not underſtand what it is to praiſe God from the Fountain of Iſrael: whereas that is ſhooting beſide the Mark; for why muſt he alter the Original, becauſe he does not underſtand a wrong or ill-expreſs'd Tranſlation? Has what he would cut off no Signification but from? Yes certainly, ſeveral others. Then why ſhould the Heb. ſuffer? But ſuch a manner of Expreſſion does no where occur. If not of the com. Tranſ. yet of this, and that of the ſame in the Original, Iſa. lviii. 12. Exod. vi. 24. Lev. xi. 32, 35, 37. & xxv. 25. Eſt. iv. 5. 2 Sam. xi. 17. 2 King. xxv. 12. Am. ii. 11. Pſa. lxxii. 16. & cxxxvii. 3. Dan. i. 3. Ezr. ii. 68. & vii. 7. Neh. xi. 4, 25. & xiii. 19, 28. 1 Chron. ix. 28, 29, 30, 31, 32. 2 Chron. xxi. 4. With many more, only in the 3d Perſ. and who can give any Reaſon why not as well in the 2d, tho' Examples may be wanting, as Scripture Expreſſions are to require it? And for Fountain in ſuch a Senſe, ſee Deut. xxxiii. 28. The Pſalt. has it what Munſt. dictated, the ground of the heart.

Ver. 27. their Ruler] LXX in a Trance, ſuppoſing מ radical; but if they took it for the pret. Participle, י is wanting.

Ib. Aſſembly] Kimbi gives the Meaning of it both in his Book of Roots and Commentary, the Word being no where elſe, from Stones put together, the Root ſignifying to ſtone; and thus the Aſſembly too being agreeably one of thoſe in the Verſe before; but I find no Jewiſh nor ancient Expoſitor, nor Analogy of the Root, that counſel is taken from.

Ver. 28. Thy God] In the Sep. Verſ. O God; the Difference in the Heb. would be ך, and ם. Query whether the Error might not ariſe, by ָ kametz making with caph an Approximation to mem? For that as ſupplying the Letter ה might be retained, where the other pointed Vowels were omitted; which they muſt be in the Copy the LXX tranſlated from, or elſe they did not underſtand them. Otherwiſe muſt not they wilfully neglect ך for how could they miſtake it for ם

Ver. 30. Reeds] where baſe People and Robbers remained, as the Beaſts they reſembled, ſee Job xxx. 7, 8. for the Word ſignifies a Reed, not Spear.

Ib. People like Bulls with Calves] Both miſchievous and wanton, or Men and Boys: thus in the Earl of Dartford's Tranſ. A People reſembling a herd of bulls and heifers; and ſo Goodr. and well, Confound thoſe Men, who do themſelves deface!

The Bulls and Calves, the Brutes of humane Race.

Ib. ſubject himſelf] being in the Mood Hithp. as it is once more, Prov. vi. 3. yet, amazing to find! Mudge renders it not foul, if I may ſay renders, for there is Nothing of [not] in the Heb. though he has it in the ſame Character; and would he turn it in Prov. ſo? The LXX have it be ſhut out, I confeſs I know not how, unleſs they interpreted raphas by kaphatz for the Sound, or what is leſs likely took רפס for אטם thro' ſome Reſemblance.

Ib. with Pieces] Not aware that ברצ is a Prepoſ. and Noun, the LXX taking it for a Verb, appear to have gone as far off as צרף to fetch the Meaning who are tried.

Ib. with Pieces of] Inſtead of this Mudge, by taking out ברצי and putting צרפי tranſlates the fine Streams, which his own Word does not ſignify, but Goldſmiths, as in ſeveral Places: this, he ſays, is only a Tranſpoſition of Letters, and a ב changed into a פ as though there is any Probability that two ſuch Things ſhould happen together, and become the eſtabliſhed nay only Reading, and the Tranſpoſition too a diſtant one. Some of the Cabbaliſt Jews have done little Things of this Kind in Jeſt, not worth Notice; but when done in Earneſt, it requires an earneſt Oppoſition and Expoſing. Is it my Buſineſs? it may be ſaid; however it ought to be Somebody's, for Pſa. xi. 3. and if ſome Twells had done by this New Verſion, as by that of the New Teſtament, he might have ſaved me the Labour: but is it not my Buſineſs? Is it no Matter whether I tranſlate a right or a wrong Copy? May my Readers as well think my Tranſlation falſe, when I can juſtify it to be true? He adds, the Seventy read it ſo; which is as if another ſhould ſay, Mudge read לא not, juſt before; and the Seventy turn it by a Verb, who are tried with Silver.

Ver. 31. run] to carry Preſents and Offerings, Ver. 29. for the Heb. Word is not ſoon ſtretch out.

33. To him that rides on the chief Heaven which was of old Time: who behold utters his Voice, a ſtrong one.

34. Aſcribe Strength to God; whoſe Excellency is in Iſrael, and his Strength in the Skies.

35. Thou art terrible, O God, out of thy holy Places! The God of Iſrael is he who gives Strength and Forces to the People: bleſſed be God.

PSALM LXIX.

FOR the chief Muſician upon the ſix-ſtringed Inſtruments. By David.

Save me, O God, for the Waters are come to the Soul.

2. I am ſunk down in deep Mire, and there is no ſtanding: I am come into deep Places of Water, and the Flood overflows me.

3. I am weary with my Calling, my Throat is dried up, my Eyes fail; while I wait for my God.

4. Thoſe who hate me undeſervedly have been more numerous than the Hairs of my Head; they that would cut me off, being my Enemies wrongfully, have been ſtrong: then I reſtored what I took not away.

5. O God, thou knoweſt of my Fooliſhneſs; and my Offences are not concealed from thee.

6. Let not thoſe be aſhamed by me, who wait for thee, O Sovereign Lord of Armies; let them not be put to confuſion by me, that ſeek thee, O God of Iſrael.

7. For I bear Reproach for thy ſake, Confuſion covers my Face.

8. I am alienated from my Brothers, and ſtrange to my Mother's Sons.

9. Becauſe the Zeal of thy Houſe eats me up, and the Reproaches of thoſe who reproach thee fall upon me.

10. Though I weep with the Faſting of my Soul, it is likewiſe Reproaches to me.

11. And making Sackcloth my Cloathing, I become a Proverb to them.

12. They diſcourſe of me that ſit at the Gate, and with Muſick ſuch as drink ſtrong Liquor.

13. As for me, let my Prayer be to thee, O Lord, at the Time of Favour, O God, in the Abundance of thy Kindneſs: anſwer me, in the Truth of thy Salvation.

14. Deliver me out of the Mire, that I may not ſink down: let me be delivered from thoſe who hate me, and from the deep Places of Water.

15. Let not the Flood of Waters overflow me, the Depth ſwallow me up, nor the Pit ſhut its Mouth upon me.

16. Anſwer me, O Lord, for thy Kindneſs is good: according to the Abundance of thy Compaſſions look on me.

17. And do not hide thy Face from thy Servant: becauſe I am diſtreſſed, anſwer me ſpeedily.

18. Come near to my Soul, ranſom it: redeem me, by reaſon of my Enemies.

19. Thou knoweſt my Reproach, my Shame, and Confuſion: all my Adverſaries are before thee.

20. Reproach breaks my Heart, and I am very ſick: while I wait, and there is none to bemoan; and for ſome to comfort, without finding.

21. They put Gall for my Meat, and make me drink Vinegar in my Thirſt.

22. Let their Table before them become a Gin, and what is for Peace a Snare.

23. Let their Eyes be darkened from ſeeing, and cauſe their Loins to ſtagger continually.

24. Pour out thy Indignation upon them, and let the Rage of thy Anger overtake them.

25. Let their Palace be deſolate, let there be no Inhabitant in their Tents.

26. For they perſecute him that thou haſt ſtriken, and rehearſe Things to the Grief of thy wounded ones.

Ver. 35. out of thy holy Places] But the LXX in thy Saints, by an inexcuſable Error, if according to the Canting of the Antiſcripturiſts they read ו for ם

Ver. 1. By the Mention of ſaving Zion, Ver. 35. this may ſeem made in David's deep Diſtreſſes from Abſalom.

Ver. 3. while I wait] Heb. waiting, but which might be taken for the Eyes. Mudge, with writing, after the Seventy: but that was their Ignorance, as it is no better; for ſuppoſing they had no Points, yet where will he find ſuch a Noun?

Ver. 12. Gate—drink] both at the Courts of Judicature and Entertainments.

Ver. 13. O God] Buchan. with poetical Liberty has,

O genitor, ſine fine bonus, ſine fraude fidelis,
In rebus arctis da ſalutarem manum:

O thou Creator, good without End, and faithful without Fraud, give me thy ſaving Hand in theſe ſtreightening Concerns.

Ver. 20. breaks my Heart] The LXX, My Soul has expected, by ש for שׁ

Ver. 26. rehearſe] with Hare and Mudge, according to the LXX, add, by taking out a Letter; and which accordingly leſſens the Senſe into a General, that was too general before by talk. Thus by taking out [t] another might make ſacks of corn, Exod. xxii. 6. and pleaſe his own Fancy with it; and ſo hunt for haunt, 1 Sam. xxx. 31. bought, Mat. xvi. 8. places, Pſa. lxxviii. 69. did, 1 Chron. x. 6. kind, Pſa. xviii. 33. ague for plague, xci. 10. The Reader may ſee their applauded Criticiſm in Bythner's Lyra Prophetica, N° 86. who was a good Author for School-boys; yet the ר ſeems rather taken for ח from חסד as the left Side might be defective, or the ו thought to be that.

Ib. thy] But with the LXX my, which might be by neglecting ך and the Pointing.

27. Permit

27. Permit Iniquity upon their Iniquity, and let them not come into thy Righteouſneſs.

28. Let them be blotted out of the Book of the Living, and not be written with the Righteous.

29. As for me, who am afflicted, and grieved; let thy Salvation, O God, exalt me.

30. I will praiſe the Name of God with a Poem, and magnify him with Thankſgiving:

31. Which will be better to the Lord, than an Ox, or Bullock, that has Horns and Hoofs.

32. The Meek will ſee, and be glad; your Heart alſo will live who ſeek God:

33. As the Lord hearkens to the Needy, and does not deſpiſe his Priſoners.

34. Let the Heaven and Earth praiſe him, the Seas and all that creep in them:

35. Becauſe God will ſave Zion, and build up the Cities of Judah; ſo that they ſhall inhabit there, and inherit it.

36. The Offſpring too of his Servants, ſhall poſſeſs it, and thoſe who love his Name dwell therein.

PSALM LXX.

FOR the chief Muſician. By David, to bring to remembrance.

O God, to deliver me, O Lord, to my Help make haſte.

2. Let thoſe be aſhamed and bluſh, who ſeek my Life: let them be turned back and put to confuſion, that deſire my Hurt.

3. Let ſuch return for a Reward of their Shame, as ſay, Ha, ha:

4. But let all that ſeek thee, be joyful and glad through thee, and let them ſay continually, God be magnified, who love thy Salvation.

5. As for my ſelf, that am afflicted and needy, O God, make haſte to me; thou art my Help, and Deliverer: O Lord, do not ſtay.

PSALM LXXI.

IN thee, O Lord, I truſt, let me never be aſhamed.

2. Through thy Righteouſneſs reſcue me, and deliver me: incline thy Ear to me, and ſave me.

3. Be to me a Rock for Habitation, that I may come to continually, who haſt commanded to ſave me: for thou art my firm Place, and Fortification.

4. O God, deliver me from the Power of the Wicked, from that of the unjuſt and rigorous one.

5. For thou haſt been my Expectation, O Sovereign Lord, my Truſt from my Youth.

6. I have leaned upon thee from the Belly; thou tookeſt me out of my Mother's Womb: my Praiſe is of thee continually.

7. I am as a ſtrange Sight to many; but thou art my ſtrong Refuge.

8. Let my Mouth be filled with thy Praiſe, with thy Glory every Day.

9. Do not caſt me off at the Time of old Age, forſake me not when my Strength is conſumed.

10. Though my Enemies ſay of me, and thoſe who obſerve my Soul conſult together,

11. As follows, God has forſaken him; purſue, and take him: for there is no Deliverer.

12. O God, be not far off from me: my God, to my Help make haſte.

13. Let thoſe be aſhamed, conſumed, who are againſt my Life: let them be cloathed with Reproach and Confuſion, that ſeek my Hurt.

14. I will however wait continually, and add to all thy Praiſe.

15. My Mouth ſhall count up thy Righteouſneſs, thy Salvation every Day; though I know not the Accompts.

Ver. 27. Permit] Grant or Let there be, as this Heb. Verb ſignifies, as well as give its principal Meaning, but never add that I find; nor is it here imperative, but infinitive, the very ſame as in Pſa. viii. 1. though quite left out in the Concordances; conſult alſo Ham.

Ver. 28. blotted] Hulſe, in Elegan. 183. concerned for the Opinion of decreed Election, which this is ſo oppoſite to; pleads that to blot out is not to make void what was written, becauſe Election is unchangeable, but is to ſhew it never was written, as hinted in the following Words: but beſides the two great Abſurdities manifeſt in his Expoſition, with what Senſe could David pray for what had been unalterably done long before? And be written may either ſignify remain written where they were, or be written afterwards in another Book or Place.

Ver. 31. Ox, or Bullock] The LXX confound them together by young Calf, though ſuch has not Horns, by reaſon the Conjunction is wanting; but ſo it is after.

Ib. Hoofs] Sax. clawa.

Ver. 1. This is the latter Part of the 40th Pſalm, with a little Alteration.

Ver. 1. For the Time of this Pſalm ſee Ver. ix. 18. ſuppoſing it written by David, as is likely, eſpecially ſince the Prayers, Pſa. lxxii. 20. properly include it being ſo near, and it is thought to be in Abſalom's Rebellion. The three firſt Verſes are like thoſe of Pſa. 31. tranſpoſed and altered; it being agreeable to an old Man to fall into ſimilar Expreſſions.

Ver. 3. who] which Mudge ſpoils by adding in that before thou haſt, ſo making God command, or as he has it, commiſſion himſelf.

Ver. 6. tookeſt] According to the LXX art my Protector, as they would have it.

Ver. 9. the Time of old Age] Sax. tide ylde.

Ver. 15. though] Which with Jun. &c. I eſteem to bear a better Connection than for.

16. I will come in the Power of the Sovereign Lord, making mention of thy own Righteouſneſs only.

17. O God, thou haſt taught me from my Youth, and hitherto have I declared thy Wonders.

18. And even during old Age and grey Hair, O God, do not forſake me; till I have declared thy Arm to this Generation, thy Power to every one that is to come.

19. Thy Righteouſneſs, O God, is alſo very high, that doeſt great Things: O God, who is like thee?

20. Thou that didſt make me ſee many and grievous Diſtreſſes, haſt again revived me; and from the Depths of the Earth haſt brought me up again;

21. Thou haſt increaſed my Greatneſs, and comforted me round about.

22. I will alſo praiſe thee with an Inſtrument, thy Truth on the Lute, my God: will ſing melodiouſly to thee with the Harp, O Holy One of Iſrael.

23. My Lips too ſhall ſing, for I will ſing melodiouſly to thee; as likewiſe my Soul, which thou haſt redeemed.

24. My Tongue alſo ſhall diſcourſe of thy Righteouſneſs every Day: for they will be aſhamed, and bluſh, that ſeek my Hurt.

PSALM LXXII.

FOR Solomon.

O God, give thy Judgments to the King, and thy Righteouſneſs to the King's Son.

2. He will judge thy People with Righteouſneſs, and thy afflicted ones with Judgment.

3. The Mountains will bear Peace for the People, and the Hills by Righteouſneſs.

4. He will judge the Afflicted of the People, will ſave the Children of the Needy, and puniſh the Oppreſſor.

5. With the Sun, and before the Moon, will ſucceeding Generations fear him.

6. Who will be like the Rain coming down upon the mowed Graſs, like Showers watering the Earth.

7. The Righteous will flouriſh in his Time, and there will be Abundance of Peace till the Moon is not.

8. And he will rule from Sea to Sea, as alſo from the River to the Limits of the Earth.

9. Thoſe of the deſart Places will bow before him, and his Enemies lick the Duſt.

10. The Kings of Tarſhiſh, and of the Iſles will render Preſents, the Kings of Sheba and Seba bring Gifts.

11. Nay all Kings will bow down to him, all Nations ſerve him.

12. For he will deliver the Needy who cries out, with the Afflicted, and him that has no Helper

13. He will ſpare the Poor and Needy, and ſave the Souls of the needy ones.

14. He will redeem their Soul from Fraud and Violence, and their Blood will be precious in his Sight.

15. And he that is living, will alſo give him of the Gold of Sheba; and pray for him continually, bleſſing him every Day.

16. There will be a Handful of Wheat in the Country, on the Top of the Mountains, the Fruit of which will ſhake like Lebanon; and thoſe of the City will flouriſh like the Graſs of the Earth.

Ver. 17. Youth] Sax. iuyothe; the Sax. ȝ having the Sound of y as well as g, which the modern Grammarians ſeem ſcarce to know, but without which the Derivation of divers of our Words from that Language would be ſpoiled.

Ver. 18. old] One telling Diogenes he ſhould lie ſtill now he was an old Man, he returned for Anſwer, What if I was running a Race, ſhould I ſlacken my Pace towards the End, and not rather mend it? Dieg. Laert.

Ib. thy Power] Notwithſtanding Mudge aſſerts but at Ver. 3. that it is a conſtant Rule with him, not to think himſelf juſtified in making an Alteration [in the Original] where good Senſe may be drawn from it (which if not by him, it is poſſible may by ſome other) yet he removes this to the next Verſe, joins it with another Verb, and turns it from an Object into a Subject; when ſurely God's Power may be declared (for ſo he tranſlates) as well as his Strength or Arm; and by there being no Conjunction between, it appears to be a Repetition of the ſame.

Ver. 21. my] Whereas the Gr. has thy, as elſewhere.

Ver. 22. an Inſtrument] which the Heb. has, anſwerable thus to the two Objects, thee and thy Truth.

Ver. 23. ſhall ſing] as commonly rendered, and more proper for Lips than rejoice: in Matthews's Bible would fayne ſynge; Com. Pray. will be fain when I ſing, joining this to the next.

Ver. 1. For Solomon] By David as the laſt Verſe ſhews, and conſequently in his latter Days, even after Solomon was made King, and was likely his laſt Pſalm.

Ib. King—King's Son] Solomon and David's Son, the ſame elegantly.

Ver. 5. With—and before] This being the Heb. ſeems elegantly to denote by Day and Night, agreeable to Acts xxvi. 7.

Ver. 6. upon the mowed Graſs] Pſalt. into a fleece of wool; from which erroneous Tranſ. Hatton ſtrangely prays, O Bleſſed Jeſu, who didſt deſcend from Heaven (as if his Body came thence) into the Womb of the bleſſed Virgin like rain into a fleece of Wool.

Ver. 7. Peace] The placing this Word in Lat. by Jonſton, gives ſuch a Weight and Fulneſs to it, by ſtaying the Mind on it, that it may be thought difficult to be matched, as follows,

Candida tum Probitas florebit, et optima rerum
Pax; vario donec lumine luna nitet.

Ver. 10. Iſles] Sax. ſing. iyland, whence our Pronunciation, better than Spelling from Lat. with s.

Ver. 15. pray for him] The Vulg. Lat. from orabunt is become adorabunt, and the Douw. Tranſ. is notoriouſly falſe from that, ſhall adore it, viz. the Gold.

Ver. 16. a Handful] The Univerſal Hiſtory, B. 2. Ch. 2. Sect. 1. takes notice, that Biſhop Hare, in his Edition of the Pſalms, finds fault, unleſs this Word piſſath be allowed

17. His Name will continue for ever, be propagated before the Sun, and thoſe will be bleſſed through him; all Nations will call him bleſſed.

18. Bleſſed be the Lord God, the God of Iſrael, who alone does Wonders.

19. And bleſſed be his glorious Name for ever; whoſe Glory will fill the whole Earth. So, even ſo let it be.

20. The Prayers of David the Son of Jeſſe are finiſhed.

PSALM LXXIII.

A PSALM of Aſaph.

God is certainly good to Iſrael, to thoſe who are of a pure Heart.

2. But as for me, my Feet almoſt turned aſide, my Steps were in a manner quite gone;

3. Becauſe I envied the mad ones, ſeeing the Proſperity of the Wicked:

4. As there are no Bonds till their Death, but they are fat with Strength.

5. They are not in the Labour of Man, nor puniſhed with Mankind.

6. Pride therefore incloſes them like a Chain, Violence covers them for an Ornament.

7. Their Eyes ſtand out by reaſon of Fat, they paſs the Imaginations of the Heart.

8. They are ſo corrupt that they pronounce Oppreſſion miſchievouſly, and that in a lofty Manner.

9. They ſet their Mouth againſt Heaven, and their Tongue goes through the Earth.

10. Therefore his People return hither, when full Water is wrung out to them.

11. And they ſay How does God know? Or, Is there Knowledge in the Higheſt?

12. Behold theſe are the Wicked, who are always quiet, increaſing Wealth.

13. Certainly in vain have I purified my Heart, and waſhed my Hands in Innocency;

14. Since I am puniſhed every Day, and have Correction each Morning:

15. Such Things if I had ſaid I would declare, lo I ſhould have been treacherous to the Generation of thy Children.

16. Thinking to know this, it was laborious in my Sight;

here to have a contrary Senſe, that is, to ſignify a great Abundance, he ſhall ſuſpect it to have crept in inſtead of ſome Word of the like Import: which, remarks the Author juſtly on it, would be in fact loſing all the Beauty of the Expreſſion, as much as if his Lordſhip had ſaid, that the fertile Vallies ought to be inſerted inſtead of the barren mountain Tops; for where would be the Wonder, that a great Heap of Corn, or a fertile Ground, ſhould bring forth a plentiful Crop! Such clearing of the Scripture is commendable Work, as the other is very contrary.

Ib. a Handful of Wheat] In Heb. פסת בר which the LXX render together a Support, ſome how, one may imagine, from the Root סער ſuch Things I obſerve fall out at Words ſeldom uſed, and therefore conclude were unknown to them.

Ib. thoſe of] But the Com. Pray. has, his fruit—ſhall be greene in the citie, though the Verb is plur. and the Prep. of a different Kind from in.

Ib. Graſs] hiy, hey and hiey, in different Sax. Copies as Spelman ſhews in the Lat. and Sax. Pſalter, pr. 1640.

Ver. 19. ſo let it be] Sax. beo hit ſwa.

Ver. 20. Prayers] viz. the firſt Collection of them, perhaps all that Ezra had then got to copy out, but met with more afterwards; and the Pſalms being divided inro five Books, this is the End of the ſecond.

Ver. 1. Aſaph] See Pſa. l. Some intitle theſe Pſalms for, the Genev. Verſ. committed to Aſaph; but ſince Aſaph was an Inditer as well as David, 2 Chron. xxix. 30. and David's are juſt ſaid to be finiſhed, we need not heſitate to aſcribe theſe as far as Pſa. lxxxiv. to Aſaph as the ſecond Pſalmiſt; after which follow ſeveral by divers Authors. Some report that Aſaph, mentioned 2 Chron. xxix. 30. lived in the Time of Hezekiah; but why rather then than in David's Time?

Ib. God is good] In the ancient Eng. or Saxon, god god; God being no other than Good, as we call him now Almighty.

Ver. 2. my Steps] Sternh. barbarouſly, And 'ere I wiſt, even at a pinch, my ſteps away gan glide.

Ver. 4. Bonds] The Heb. Word having what is unuſual, four radical Letters חרצב the Vulg. Lat. has it Reſpect or Regard, for which there was reſpect doubtleſs had to רצה and I ſuppoſe it was thought ח ſhould be ה but I do not ſee from whence the Denial of the Sept. came, however it is certain they render it in Iſa. lviii. 6. as we here.

Ib. till] more properly denoted both by the Heb. and Senſe than in: ſo Trem. and Jun. uſque ad, as Noldius alſo applies it here, among other Places, for which ſee his Concord. And Blackmore has,

No Plagues till Death do them moleſt,
But in full Strength they dwell.

Ib. Strength] Gr. Scourging, how again does not appear.

Ib. Ornament] Sept. Iniquity, but the ſame Prov. vii. 10. Appearance.

Ver. 7. Eyes] Sept. Iniquity, by עון from עוה for עין

Ver. 10. hither] to the Sanctuary (by reaſon of Affliction, or the Oppreſſion of the Wicked, Ver. 6. 8. ſignified by the Water, as the like Pſa. lxxv. 8. Iſa. li. 17. with Wring) where it is not unlikely the Pſalmiſt then was, and upon the ſame Account, Ver. 17. This Verſe is ſtrangely tranſlated in the Pſalter: as likewiſe by Mudge thus, Therefore let his People come before them; and Waters in full Meaſure would be wrung out from them; but beſide turning to, which the Heb. directly ſignifies, into its oppoſite from, he does not tell us how he makes before them, which an Hebrician leſs than himſelf will be at an utter Loſs to know; however he has this explanatory Note, ſhould God's People come before them, they would ſqueeze them to the full, they would wring out all the Juice in their Bodies. Which crude and wild Notion, no better ſupported, I did not think worth Notice, till I found Wheatland and Silveſter ſaying they clos'd in with it, and tranſlating after it; yet I cannot ſee it wants any farther Refutation. The Sept. have the latter Part, full Days ſhall be found in them; ſo that our Critick in his Faſhion might have been expected to ſay, they read ימי and ימצאו as indeed Bythn. does, which would be but adding a Letter to each Word; but the Caſe here was, that he had a fonder Fancy of his own to be preferred.

Ib. when] Jun. and Trem. have cum, ſince.

Ver. 12. always] to render this in the World is ſomething ſtrange, when it has no ſuch Meaning.

Ib. increaſing] Sept. retained, tho' rendered in the Vulg. by Bythn. &c. obtained, from נשג when it is from שגא

Ver. 13. purified] Sept. juſtified, as by tzikkadti for ziccithi.

Ver. 15. had ſaid] So that I ſaid is needleſsly, and unſkilfully added by the LXX, &c. in the 13th Ver.

Ib. treacherous] ſhould not have been faithful, as I ought, among God's People.

17. Till coming to God's Sanctuaries, I underſtood their End.

18. Thou doſt certainly ſet them in ſlippery Places, making them fall to utter Waſting.

19. How they are deſolate as it were in an Inſtant, have an end, are conſumed by Terrors!

20. As a Dream is by awaking; when thou ſtirreſt up, Lord, thou wilt deſpiſe their Image.

21. Though my Heart was heaved up, and I had ſharp Pain in my Reins.

22. For I was ſenſeleſs, and did not know, being like a Beaſt with thee.

23. With whom I am continually, thou holdeſt me by the right Hand.

24. Thou wilt guide me by thy Counſel, and afterwards receive me into Glory.

25. Whom have I in Heaven beſides? And I deſire none on the Earth with thee.

26. My Fleſh and Heart failing, God is the Rock of my Heart, and my Portion for ever.

27. When behold, thoſe who are far off from thee periſh: thou cutteſt off every one that goes a whoring from thee.

28. But as to my ſelf, coming near to God is good for me: I have put my Refuge in the Sovereign Lord, that I may declare all thy Works.

PSALM LXXIV.

AN inſtructing Poem of Aſaph.
Why, O God, doſt thou caſt off perpetually, thy Anger ſmoaking againſt the Flock of thy Paſture?

2. Remember thou didſt purchaſe thy Aſſembly in old Time, didſt redeem the Tribe of thy Poſſeſſion, this Mount Zion, on which thou haſt dwelt.

3. Lift up thy Feet to the perpetual Waſtings, all that the Enemy has wickedly done in the holy Place.

4. Thy Adverſaries roar within thy Synagogues, for Signs they have put their own.

5. A Man would be known as he brought up Axes againſt the infolded Wood:

6. Whereas now they have beat down the Carvings of it together, with Pick-ax and Hammers.

7. They have ſet thy Sanctuary on fire; profaned the Dwelling-place of thy Name to the Ground.

8. They ſay in their Heart, We will oppreſs them together: they have burnt all the Synagogues of God in the Country.

9. We do not ſee our Signs, there is no more a Prophet, nor one with us who knows how long.

10. O God, how long ſhall the Adverſary reproach? Shall the Enemy contemn thy Name perpetually?

11. Why doſt thou draw back thy Hand, even thy right one? With-hold it from within thy Boſom.

12. For God is my King of old Time, who works Salvation in the midſt of the Earth.

Ver. 18. to utter Waſting] Sept. when they were lifted up, by נשא

Ver. 19. Terrors] But Mudge, Precipitation, by other Vowels, when there is no ſuch Word. Sept. Unlawfulneſs, like בל דת for בלהות

Ver. 20. when thou ſtirreſt up] not the ſame Verb with the foregoing. Some turn it in the city, the Heb. being alike, but leſs correſpondent to the foregoing.

Ver. 21. had ſharp Pain] Sept. my Reins were changed, wretchedly from שנה

Ver. 28. to God is good] in the Sax. gode god is, where god ſignifies good.

Ib. Works] The Gr. &c. concludes with in the Gates of the Daughter of Sion.

Ver. 1. This may be thought penned upon the Babylonian Conqueſt of Judah, and that by one of the Poſterity of Aſaph ſo named; of whom there is Mention as Singers, 2 Chr. xxxv. 15. Ezr. ii. 41. & iii. 10. and one of them propheſied, 2 Chr. xx. 14.

Ib. caſt off] Litur. abſent, but from Munſt. and not Aſaph.

Ib. Paſture] Sax. læſwe, as the Huſbandmen yet call it Leaze.

Ver. 2. Tribe] which the Heb. Word ſignifies as well as rod, and the former muſt needs be intended here, as others alſo tranſlate; ſo that Cruden in Conc. giving the Meaning of the Eng. Words in our laſt Tranſ. is put to the Shift to ſay 'Rod ſignifies ſometimes a tribe or people,' uoting this Text for it.

Ver. 3. Lift up] Sax. ahefe.

Ib. Feet] Sept. Hands, not from any Meaning of the Heb. Word, but their own Fancy, as at lviii. 10. that Hands ſuited better.

Ib. Waſtings] Sep. Pride, as if from naſa, to lift up, and not from ſhaah.

Ver. 5. would be] or came to be, it being fut. and ſo at laſt the fine Flower of Bp. Hare is withered, which is the tranſpoſing of this and the following Verſe; whereby a Man would be known, as the Bp. himſelf, for cutting down the Building of the Sanctuary. With the LXX is, and they did not know; but it is not plur. in the Heb. nor is there any Appearance of and or not.

Ib. known] there being many Thouſands appointed to go to Lebanon by Turn, 1 King. v. 14.

Ib. brought up Axes] Foraſmuch as the Verb does not ſignify lift, but bring or have up in that Senſe, and as it is Axes, the principal Men of the Courſes ſeem intended, who brought the Workmen with Axes to Lebanon.

Ver. 6. Carvings] With the Sep. Gates, through the Proximity of the Heb.

Ver. 7. ſet—on fire] See 2 King. xxv. 9. and the Heb. is the ſame as in Judg. i. 8. & xx. 48. 2 King. viii. 12.

Ver. 8. We will oppreſs them together] For how could they ſay to one another, Let us, in their Hearts? Mudge writes that נתם is a little uncouth for a Verb, and ſo he underſtanding it with the Seventy tranſlates inſtead of this, the whole Brood of them at once. But what then do they ſay? Is it Nothing at all? Perhaps ſuch Infatuation is juſt, eſpecially here, when this Author ſo far outdoes himſelf, that though he can invent Nothing to put in the room of that Word, yet will not allow it to ſtand; whereas Buxtorf gives a good Account of its Structure from Ab. Ezr. &c. at ינה oppreſs, while the Seventy run ſtrangely wide.

Ver. 10. how long] Sax. hulange.

Ver. 11. With-hold it from within] pluck it out of being

13. Thou didſt force aſunder the Sea by thy Strength, brokeſt the Heads of the Whales in the Water.

14. Thou didſt daſh together the Heads of Leviathan, madeſt him Meat for the People at the deſart Places.

15. Thou didſt cleave the Fountain and the Flood, thou driedſt up the Rivers of Force.

16. Of thee is the Day, of thee alſo is the Night: thou didſt prepare the Light and the Sun.

17. Thou didſt ſet all the Bounds of the Earth; the Summer and Winter thou formedſt.

18. Remember this, that the Enemy has reproached, O Lord, and the vile People have contemned thy Name.

19. Do not deliver the Life of thy Turtle-dove to that Company: forget not the Company of thy Afflicted perpetually.

20. Look on the Covenant; ſince the dark Places of the Earth are filled with the Habitations of Violence.

21. Let not the Bruiſed return aſhamed: let the Afflicted and Needy praiſe thy Name.

22. Ariſe, O God, plead thy own Cauſe: remember thy Reproach from the Vile every Day;

23. Not forgetting the Voice of thy Adverſaries, the Tumult of ſuch as riſe up againſt thee, which goes up continually.

PSALM LXXV.

FOR the chief Muſician; do not deſtroy. A Pſalm of Aſaph, or a Poem.

We give thanks to thee, O God; we give thanks, thy Name being near: thy Wonders declare it.

2. When I receive the ſolemn Aſſembly, I will judge with Uprightneſs.

3. The Country and all its Inhabitants being diſſolved, I will rectify the Pillars of it. A Pauſe.

4. Saying to the mad ones, Be not mad; and to the Wicked, Do not exalt the Horn:

5. Do not exalt your Horn on high, ſpeaking with a ſtiff Neck.

6. Since Exaltation is not from the Riſing or Setting of the Sun, nor from the Wilderneſs.

7. For God is the Judge: he humbles one, and exalts another.

8. And there is a Cup in the Lord's Hand, with Wine ſtirred, it is full of Mixture; and he will pour out of this: but the Lees of it all the Wicked of the Earth wringing out, ſhall drink.

9. Whereas I will preach for ever, will ſing melodiouſly to the God of Jacob.

10. And cutting off all the Horns of the Wicked, thoſe of the Righteous ſhall be exalted.

Ver. 5. ſtout] By the LXX ſimple, as if deriving אביר from ביר or בור a Well or Cavern, hollow.

Ib. become a Spoil] Sept. troubled, looſely.

Ib. find their Hands] to fight, finely expreſſed; but the Vulg. found Nothing in their Hands wrong.

Ver. 6. are faſt aſleep] which may well enough be ſaid of Chariots ſtanding quite ſtill in the Aſſyrian Camp in the Night, without the Horſes being put to them again; better than caſt into a dead ſleep.

Ver. 7. at the Time] It is pretended by the Authors of the Univerſ. Hiſt. in Pref. Diſc. that this is altogether lame and ungrammatical (but how ſo?) and that the original Word is of Chaldee extract, and ſignifies ſtrength, &c. (but where elſe is any ſuch Word ſo ſignifying? Or if there was, why rather Chald. than Heb.) as alſo that Jonſton has tranſlated accordingly; though it is eaſy to ſee he has only omitted it for the Conveniency of his Verſe.

Ver. 8. the Sentence] which accords well with the Context, and is not the ſame as Judgment that follows.

Ver. 10. For] Man's Rage cauſes the Power, Wiſdom, and Juſtice of God to be praiſed, when he judges.

Ib. Wrath] With the LXX Thought, by זמת for חמת as I have not ſeen it ſhewn how.

Ib. Reſidue] God permitting the Wrath of Man as far as it tends, or will turn to his Praiſe, and no further.

Ib. reſtrain] Mudge, indebted for it to the Sept. ſhall attend thy Feſtivals, reading he ſays תתנך (inſtead of תחגר) with the ר lengthen'd only. How plauſible a Look this! but ſee Gen. iii. 6. Prov. xxx. 6. and ſhould the Tail be allowed him, it would make no Letter at all, as one of thoſe is round at the Corner, and the other ſquare; his [-] too ſhould be [ ] or [ר] for [ר] and now for the Meaning of his Verb, it is to keep or make, not attend, a feaſt, and only has a ſuffixed Pronoun accordingly, as in Exod. xii. 14. keep it a feaſt, but can we ſay here, keep thee a feaſt? nay how wild is, what remaineth of Furies ſhall attend thy Feſtivals? So that I ſee no Need to retreat to that Bulwark of the Points, which the Enemies never can force, while ſallying out to them is more than ſufficient. In the Liturgy refraine ſeems a Corruption of reſtraine.

Ver. 11. Lord] our being added in the Dow. Tranſ. as elſewhere, reads ſtrangely with your.

Ib. about him] Here is the Heb. Partition of the Verſe.

Ib. Fear] as the Word in other Places ſhews, and its being a Noun-ſubſtantive.

Ver. 12. gathers in] as Grapes.

Ver. 1. A Pſalm] made, as Nichols ſuppoſes in the Time of the Captivity, and ſo by Sol. Jar. on Ver. 6.

Ver. 2. Strength] Heb. Hand uſually, metaphorically ſometimes Power or Strength, but I truſt never ſore; ſee Pſa. lxiii. 10. Jer. xviii. 21. Patr. expounds it by ſpread out my Hands unto him.

Ib. flowed away] In the Tranſ. of the Sept. is, with my Hands towards him: for in נגרה it is evident ר was reckoned ד as ח, the fem. Tranſlation of the Verb, might be ſuppoſed ה the maſc. Pronoun ſometimes uſed.

Ver. 3. God, when] as at the Beginning of the foregoing Verſe, and what the Senſe loudly calls for; whence this and the next Conjunction are rendered when in the Litur. by Jun. &c.

Ib. diſturbed] The Sept. on the contrary delighted; the Manner of which I may have happened to hit on, that אהב was imagined to come from חמה which is from חמם

6. I

6. I remembred my Muſick in the Night, meditated with my Heart, and my Mind ſearched:
7. Whether the Lord would caſt off for ever? And be favourable again no more?
8. Whether his Kindneſs would fail perpetually? The Word ceaſe to all Ages?
9. Whether God had forgot to be gracious? Or had ſhut up his Compaſſions in Anger? A Pauſe.
10. At length I concluded, it was to weaken me, that the right Hand of the Higheſt was altered.
11. Being mindful of the Lord's Doings: for I remember thy Wonders of old Time;
12. As likewiſe meditate on all thy Work, and muſe on thy Deeds.
13. O God, thy Way is in Holineſs: what god is ſo great a one?
14. Thou art a God doing Wonders: who madeſt thy Strength known among the People;
15. Redeeming thy own with thy Arm, the Poſterity of Jacob and Joſeph. A Pauſe.
16. The Waters ſaw thee, O God, which as they did, they were afraid; the Depths alſo trembled.
17. The Clouds overflowed with Water, the Skies uttered a Sound; thy Arrows too went about.
18. The Sound of thy Thunder was in the Globe, the Lightnings enlightened the World; the Earth trembled and ſhook.
19. Thy Way was in the Sea, and thy Path in the great Waters; ſo that thy Footſteps were not known.
20. Thou leddeſt thy People as a Flock, by the Miniſtry of Moſes and Aaron.

PSALM LXXVIII.

AN inſtructing Poem of Aſaph.
Give ear, my People, to my Law: incline your Ears to the Words of my Mouth.
2. I will open it with a Declamation, utter hidden Speeches of old Time;
3. Which we have heard and known, our Fathers having told us.
4. We will not conceal from their Sons, to the following Generation; from thoſe who ſhall tell the Praiſes of the Lord, with his Strength, and his Wonders that he has done.
5. For he raiſed up a Teſtimony in Jacob, and put a Law in Iſrael; which he commanded our Fathers to make known to their Sons:
6. In order that the following Generation might know, the Sons that ſhould be born; who ſhould riſe up, and tell theirs.
7. That they might put their Hope in God, and not forget God's Acts, but keep his Commandments.
8. And might not be like their Fathers, a Generation obſtinate and rebellious; a Generation that did not eſtabliſh their Heart, and whoſe Mind was not ſtedfaſt with God:
9. The Sons of Ephraim who being armed, ſhooting with the Bow, turned on the Day of Battle.
10. Not obſerving the Covenant of God, and refuſing to go in his Law;
11. They even forgot his Acts, with his Wonders which he ſhewed them.
12. Who did a wonderful Thing before their Fathers, in the Country of Egypt, the Region of Zoan:
13. He cleaved the Sea, and made them paſs through, ſetting up the Waters as a Heap.
14. And led them with a Cloud by Day, as likewiſe with a Light of Fire all the Night.
15. He cleaved the Rocks in the Wilderneſs, and cauſed them to drink in great Deeps:

Ver. 6. My Mind ſearched] Litur. I——ſearch out my ſpirits; as ſtrange you may ſay as wrong, but the old Lat. is, I ſwept my Spirit.

Ver. 8. perpetually] The com. Verſ. in Metre by Hopkins was, till altered,

What is his goodneſs cleane decaid, for ever and a day?

Ver. 10. to weaken me] literal to the Heb. as in Buxt. Lex. חלה and Hulſe expounds the Verſe as I tranſlate it, preferring this as the ſimple Meaning, to other Gloſſes. Gr. I have begun from חלל for which ח is wanting in Hiphil.

Ib. was altered] which this Heb. Word denotes as well as Years, and the Senſe rather claims here: ſo Jun. and Trem. tranſlate mutata, Caſtal. viciſſitudinem; as the Tig. Verſ. has mutat, the Vulg. Lat. from the Gr. mutatio, Ainſw. the change, and Cocceius variare.

Ver. 13. Holineſs] Commonly ſo tranſlated I think, and more to the Heb. (not to ſay Matter) which uſes another Word for Sanctuary.

Ver. 15. Joſeph] as being preſerved by him, with Patr. well.

Ver. 18. Globe] By the Sept. Wheel, as being alſo round; hence the Earl of Dartford by a Stretch of Imagination, utterly diſallowable in a Tranſlator, has, the wheels of the Egiptians felt thy thunder.

Ib. the Earth] by Metonymy, for the Inhabitants of it; ſo not by an Earthquake, as ſome fancy, this being the Deſcription of a Thunder-ſhower.

Ver. 4. We will not conceal] Gr. They have not been concealed, as otherwiſe vowelled.

Ver. 8. obſtinate] New-Eng. Verſ. vulgarly, a croſs ſtiff race.

Ib. whoſe] Dod, whoſe ſpirit cleaves not God: why not, nor Spirit cleaves to God?

Ver. 9. Sons of Ephraim] as related 1 Chron. vii. 21. being here put before what was done at Egypt, &c. rehearſed Ver. 12, 13, &c. yet Patr. refers it to Deut. i. 44. Jun. to Ver. 61, &c. Ainſ. later ſtill to 2 King. xvii.

Ver. 10. Law] old Met. irreverently trade, and again Ver. 36. in which are alſo for double Rhimes after and wonder, Ver. 4. Caterpillar and Graſhopper, Ver. 46.

Ver. 13. cleaved] Sax. toſlat or ſlat, that is did ſlit.

Ib. Heap] Gr. Bottle, as if נד ned had been נאד nod.

Ver. 15. Rocks] It being done both at Horeb and Kadeſh, Exod. xvii. 6. Num. xx. 1, 11.

16. Bringing Brooks out of the firm Place, and making the Waters run down like Rivers.

17. But they ſtill proceeded to ſin againſt him, by provoking the Higheſt in the dry Place.

18. And tempted God with their Heart, by aſking for Food to their Appetite.

19. Nay they ſpoke thus againſt him; Can God provide a Table in the Wilderneſs?

20. Behold he ſtriking the Rock, the Waters guſhed out, and the Floods overflowed: Can he alſo give Bread? Will he prepare Fleſh for his People?

21. Therefore the Lord hearing, was in a Wrath, and a Fire was kindled againſt Jacob, Anger alſo going up againſt Iſrael.

22. For they did not believe in God, nor truſt in his Salvation.

23. However he commanded the Skies from above, and opening the celeſtial Doors;

24. He rained down Manna upon them to eat, and gave them the Corn of Heaven.

25. Man did eat the Bread of the Powerful: he ſent them Proviſion to Fulneſs.

26. He made the Eaſt-wind march in the Heaven, and guided the South-wind by his Strength;

27. Raining down Fleſh upon them as Duſt, and winged Fowl as the Sand of the Seas:

28. Which he cauſed to fall within his Camp, round about his Tabernacles.

29. So that they did eat, and were thoroughly filled; and he brought them their Deſire.

30. From which being not alienated, while their Food was yet in their Mouth,

31. The Anger of God went up againſt them, whom he ſlew in their Fatneſs, and bowed down the young Men of Iſrael.

32. For all this they ſinned more, and did not believe his Wonders.

33. He therefore conſumed their Days in Vanity, and their Years in Trouble.

34. When he ſlew them, the reſt ſought him; and returning, enquired early for God.

35. Then they remembred that God was their Rock, and the Supreme God their Redeemer.

36. Nevertheleſs they ſoothed him with their Mouth, and did lye to him with their Tongue:

37. As their Heart was not eſtabliſhed with him, nor were they ſtedfaſt in his Covenant.

38. Yet he being merciful, purged away Iniquity, and did not deſtroy; but turned back his Anger much, not ſtirring up all his Wrath.

39. For he remembred that they were Fleſh, Breath that would go away, and not return.

40. How often did they provoke him in the Wilderneſs, grieve him in the Deſart?

41. And turning back, they tempted God, and limited the Holy One of Iſrael.

42. They did not remember his Hand, the Day when he redeemed them from the Adverſary;

43. When he put his Signs in Egypt, and his Miracles in the Region of Zoan:

44. Turning their Streams into Blood, and their Brooks, ſo that they could not drink.

45. He ſent among them a Mixture of noiſome Creatures, which devoured them; and Frogs, that deſtroyed them.

46. Beſides he gave their Increaſe to the Caterpillar, and their Labour to the Locuſt.

47. He killed their Vines with Hail, and their Sycomores with great Hailſtones.

48. And delivered up their Beaſts to the Hail, and their Cattle to burning Sparks.

49. He ſent among them his fervent Anger, Wrath, and Indignation, with Diſtreſs; ſending Meſſengers of bad Things.

50. He made an even Path for his Anger, did not keep back themſelves from Death, and delivered up their Beaſts to the Murrain;

51. Slaying all the Firſt-born in Egypt, the Beginning of Power in the Tents of Ham.

Ver. 25. Bread] of the Corn before; not the Fowls after.

Ver. 28. his] thus the Heb.

Ver. 31. Fatneſs] Septuag. but not Vulg. Numbers, unſkilfully from מנה

Ib. bowed down] as the Word denotes; Sep. fettered down.

Ver. 33. Vanity] Capellus was ſo fond of ſhewing various Readings in the Heb. Bib. that he ſays the LXX read חרב inſtead of דרם the Sword, Crit. Sacr. p. 286, when the latter was never there; ſee Buxt. Vind. p. 662.

Ver. 36. ſoothed] Sept. aukwardly loved.

Ver. 46. Caterpillar] The LXX have it Blaſt, the Verb being conſume; but they render it thus 2 Chr. vi. 28. Iſa. xxxiii. 4.

Ver. 49. Meſſengers of bad Things] Whom Ab. Ezr. with Jun. and Trem. &c. expound to be Moſes and Aaron; and the Heb. is as here with a Genit. Caſe in this Order; ſee Ex. xxxiii. 4.

Ver. 49, 50. ſending Meſſengers of bad Things. He made an even Path] which Mudge thus, meaſured out a Miſſion of Evil Angels to be a Path; this he ſays is a very noble Sentence.

Ver. 50. Beaſts] as the Word ſignifies, and by Exod. ix. 3, 6. we may find was done: accordingly it is rendered beſtias by Jun. and Trem. beſtiam by Mont. as likewiſe in the Vulg. Lat. jumenta, and by Ainſ. the wilde Beaſt.

Ib. Murrain] the ſame as Exod. ix. 3. ſo the Eng. Marg. is their beaſts to the Murrain.

Ver. 51. Power] Sept. Labour, miſtaking it for חיל with the ſame Conſonants, and forcing the Senſe of that.

52. Whereas

52. Whereas he made his People march like Sheep, and guided them in the Wilderneſs as a Flock.

53. As likewiſe led them ſo ſecurely, that they did not fear, but the Sea covered their Enemies.

54. He alſo brought them to the Bounds of his holy Place, this Mountain that his right Hand purchaſed.

55. And drove out the Gentiles from their Preſence, cauſed the Poſſeſſion to fall to them by Line, and made the Tribes of Iſrael dwell in their Tents.

56. They notwithſtanding tempted, and provoked the Supreme God, and did not obſerve his Teſtimonies.

57. But turned back, and were treacherous like their Fathers: they were turned like a deceitful Bow.

58. And cauſed him to have Indignation by their Chapels, as likewiſe moved him to Jealouſy by their carved Images.

59. God hearing, was in a Wrath, and exceedingly rejected Iſrael:

60. Inſomuch that he forſook the Tabernacle of Shilo, the Tent he had placed among Mankind.

61. And gave up his Strength to Captivity, and his Glory into the Adverſary's Hand.

62. Moreover he delivered up his People to the Sword, and was in a Wrath with his Poſſeſſion.

63. The Fire conſumed his young Men, and his Virgins were not praiſed.

64. His Prieſts fell by the Sword, and his Widows did not weep.

65. The Lord however awaked like one who had been aſleep, like a ſtout Man ſinging by reaſon of Wine;

66. And ſtruck his Adverſaries on the Backſide, giving them an everlaſting Reproach.

67. Afterwards he rejected the Tent of Joſeph, and did not chooſe the Tribe of Ephraim:

68. But choſe the Tribe of Judah, Mount Zion which he loved.

69. And built his Sanctuary like the high Places, as the Earth that he founded for ever.

70. He likewiſe choſe his Servant David, taking him from the Folds of the Sheep:

71. From behind thoſe that were with Young, he brought him to feed Jacob his People, and Iſrael his Poſſeſſion.

72. Whom he fed according to the Integrity of his Heart, and guided them by the Diſcretion of his Hands.

PSALM LXXIX.

A PSALM of Aſaph.

O God, the Gentiles are come into thy Poſſeſſion, they have defiled thy holy Temple, have made Jeruſalem Heaps.

2. They have given the dead Bodies of thy Servants for Meat to the Fowls of the Air, the Fleſh of thy pious ones to the Beaſts of the Earth.

3. They have ſhed their Blood as Water round about Jeruſalem, none burying.

4. We are a Reproach to our Neighbours, a Scoff and a Mocking to thoſe that are round about us.

5. How long, O Lord, wilt thou be angry? Perpetually? Shall thy Zeal burn like Fire?

6. Pour out thy Wrath on the Gentiles who do not know thee, and upon the Kingdoms that call not on thy Name;

7. Becauſe each has been conſuming Jacob, and they have made his Habitation deſolate.

8. Do not remember to us the Iniquities of former Things; let thy Mercies ſpeedily prevent us: for we are exceedingly impoveriſhed.

9. Help us, O God of our Salvation, upon the Account of the Glory belonging to thy Name; as alſo deliver us, and purge away our Sins for thy Name's ſake.

Ib. did not weep] to wit at their Huſbands Burial as uſual, becauſe they were ſlain abroad in the War, and their Bodies in their Enemies Power, 1 Sam. iv. 4, 11. as I think it may better be underſtood, than according to other Expoſitors, that their Grief was too great to weep; for even ſuch Exceſs of Sorrow would ſoon have abated to Weeping or Lamentation: but the comparing it with Job xxvii. 15. may ſettle the Interpretation, where is the like Expreſſion, and may beſt ſignify the Mourning at the Funeral, according to the learned Mercer, who ſhews the various Opinions concerning it.

Ver. 65. ſinging] LXX ſurfeited, ſtrangely.

Ver. 66. Backſide] See 1 Sam. v. 6.

Ver. 69. built his Sanctuary] Solomon's Temple: ſo far the Narration is carried, and was likely compoſed ſoon after; tho' Patrick ſpeaks of it in the Arg. (to his own Contradiction here) but till David's Promotion.

10. Why

10. Why ſhould the Gentiles ſay, Where is their God? Let him be known among them in our Sight, by the Revenge of thy Servants Blood that is ſhed.

11. Let the Groaning of the Priſoner come before thee, according to the Greatneſs of thy Power: cauſe ſuch to be left as are to die.

12. And render to our Neighbours ſevenfold into their Boſom, their Reproach with which they have reproached thee, O Lord.

13. So will we thy People, and the Flock of thy Paſture, give thanks to thee for ever; will tell thy Praiſe to all Ages.

PSALM LXXX.

FOR the chief Muſician on the ſix-ſtringed Inſtruments. A Teſtimony of Aſaph, or a Pſalm.

O Shepherd of Iſrael, give ear, who guideſt Joſeph like a Flock: thou who dwelleſt at the Cherubs, ſhine forth.

2. Before Ephraim, Benjamin and Manaſſeh, ſtir up thy Power; and come for Salvation it ſelf to us.

3. O God, cauſe us to return; and make thy Face light, that we may be ſaved.

4. Lord God of Armies, how long doſt thou ſmoak againſt the Prayer of thy People?

5. Thou cauſeſt them to eat Victuals with a Tear, and makeſt them drink the Cup in Tears.

6. Thou makeſt us a Contention to our Neighbours; and our Enemies ſcoff to themſelves.

7. O God of Armies, cauſe us to return; and make thy Face light, that we may be ſaved.

8. Thou broughteſt away a Vine from Egypt: didſt drive out the Gentiles, and plant it.

9. Thou madeſt ready before it, cauſing its Roots to grow, ſo that it filled the Country.

10. The Mountains were covered with its Shadow, and the Boughs of it were as the Cedars of God.

11. It ſhot forth its Branches as far as the Sea, and its Twigs to the River.

12. Why haſt thou broke down its Fences, ſo that all who paſs along the Way pluck it?

13. The Hog from the Wood digs under it, and the wild Beaſt of the Field feeds on it.

14. O God of Armies, return, we beſeech thee: ſee from Heaven, look at, and take conſideration on this Vine;

15. As alſo the Vineyard which thy right Hand has planted, and upon the Bough thou haſt ſtrengthened for thy ſelf.

16. It is burnt with Fire, is cut down: by the Rebuke of thy Face they periſh.

17. Let thy Hand be upon the Perſon of thy right Hand, upon the Son of Man thou haſt ſtrengthened for thy ſelf.

18. So will we not turn back from thee: keep us alive, and we will call on thy Name.

19. O Lord God of Armies, cauſe us to return: make thy Face light, that we may be ſaved.

PSALM LXXXI.

FOR the chief Muſician upon the Inſtrument Gittith. By Aſaph.

Sing to God our Strength, ſound forth to the God of Jacob.

2. Take the Pſalm, and give the Timbrel, the pleaſant Harp with the Lute.

3. Sound the Trumpet at the Newmoon, in the appointed Time, on the Day of our Feaſt.

4. For it is an Ordinance to Iſrael, a Cuſtom to the God of Jacob.

5. He made it a Teſtimony in Joſeph, when he went forth againſt the Country of Egypt; where I heard a Language I did not know.

6. I took away his Shoulder from the Burden: his Hands paſſed from the Pots.

7. Thou didſt call in Diſtreſs, and I delivered thee, I anſwered thee in the ſecret Place of Thunder, proved thee at the Water of Meribah. A Pauſe.

8. Hear, my People, to whom I will teſtify; O Iſrael, if thou wilt hearken to me.

9. Let there be no ſtrange god in thee, nor do thou bow down to a foreign one.

10. I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee up from the Country of Egypt: open thy Mouth wide, and I will fill it.

11 But as my People would not hearken to what I ſaid, nor Iſrael conſent to me;

12. I ſent them away in the Imagination of their own Heart, they went on in their own Counſels.

13. Oh that my People had hearkened to me! that Iſrael had walked in my Ways!

14. I would ſoon have brought down their Enemies, and made my Hand turn back againſt their Adverſaries.

15. Thoſe who hated the Lord ſhould have ſubmitted to him; whereas their Time ſhould have been for ever.

16. He would alſo have made them eat of the beſt of the Wheat; and with Honey from the Rock would I have ſatisfied thee.

PSALM LXXXII.

A PSALM of Aſaph.

God ſtands in the Aſſizes, he judges among the Magiſtrates.

2. How long therefore will you judge unjuſtly, and reſpect the Perſon of the Wicked? A Pauſe.

3. Judge for the Decayed, and Fatherleſs; do juſtice to the Afflicted, and Poor;

4. Deliver the Decayed, and Needy; reſcue from the Power of the Wicked.

5. They neither know, nor underſtand, going about in Darkneſs: all the Foundations of the Earth are moved.

6. I ſaid, You were gods, and all of you the Sons of the Higheſt:

7. Surely you will die like Men, and fall like one of the Princes.

8. Ariſe, O God, judge the Earth: for thou haſt poſſeſſion in all Nations.

PSALM LXXXIII.

A POEM or Pſalm of Aſaph.

O God, have no Silence: hold not thy peace, nor be ſtill, O God.

2. For behold thy Enemies are tumultuous, and thoſe who hate thee lift up the Head.

3. They are crafty in Counſel againſt thy People, and conſult againſt thy hidden ones.

4. They ſay, Come, and let us cut them off from being a Nation, that the Name of Iſrael may be remembred no more.

5. For they conſult with the Heart together, they make a Covenant againſt thee:

6. The Tents of Edom, and the Iſhmaelites, Moab and the Hagarites,

7. Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek, Philiſtia, with the Inhabitants of Tyre;

8. Aſſyria is alſo joined with them, they are an Arm to the Poſterity of Lot. A Pauſe.

9. Do to them as to Midian, as to Siſera, as to Jabin, at the Brook Kiſhon:

PSALM LXXXIV.

FOR the chief Muſician upon the Inſtrument Gittith. A Pſalm for the Korahites.

How lovely thy Tabernacles are, O Lord of Armies!

2. My Soul longs, and even fails for the Courts of the Lord: my Heart and Fleſh cry out for the Living God.

3. Even the Sparrow finds a Houſe, and the Swallow a Neſt for her ſelf, in which ſhe puts her young ones; namely thy Altars, O Lord of Armies, my King, and God.

4. Thoſe are bleſſed who dwell in thy Houſe; they ſtill praiſe thee. A Pauſe.

5. The Man is bleſſed whoſe Strength is in thee, the Highways being in their Heart.

6. Paſſing through the Vale of Mulberry-trees, they make it a Fountain: the Rain alſo covers with Bleſſings.

8. Lord God of Armies, hear my Prayer: give ear, O God of Jacob. A Pauſe.

9. See, O God our Shield, and behold the Face of thy anointed one.

10. For a Day in thy Courts is better than a thouſand others: I chooſe to be at the Threſhold in the Houſe of my God, rather than to dwell in the Tents of Wickedneſs.

11. Becauſe the Lord God is a Sun and Shield; the Lord gives Grace and Glory: he with-holds no good Thing from ſuch as walk in Integrity.

12. O Lord of Armies, the Man is bleſſed who truſts in thee.

PSALM LXXXV.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm for the Korahites.

6. Wilt not thou revive us again that thy People may be glad through thee?

7. Shew us thy Kindneſs, O Lord, and give us thy Salvation.

8. I will hear what God the Lord will ſpeak: for he will ſpeak Peace to his People and pious ones; but let them not return to Folly.

9. Certainly his Salvation is near to thoſe who fear him; that Glory may dwell in our Country.

10. Kindneſs and Truth are met together, Righteouſneſs and Peace do kiſs each other:

11. Truth bloſſoms up out of the Earth, and Righteouſneſs beams down from Heaven.

12. The Lord alſo will give what is good, and our Country will yield its Increaſe.

13. Righteouſneſs will go before him, and he will put his Feet in the Way.

PSALM LXXXVI.

A Prayer of David.

Incline thy Ear, O Lord, anſwer me: for I am afflicted, and needy.

2. Preſerve my Soul, as I am not impious: ſave thy Servant, thou my God, who truſts on thee.

3. Be gracious to me, O Lord: for I call to thee every Day.

4. Make glad the Soul of thy Servant: for to thee, Lord, I lift up my Soul.

5. For thou, Lord, art good, and forgiving, as alſo of large Kindneſs to all who call upon thee.

6. Give ear to my Prayer, O Lord, and hearken to the Voice of my Supplications.

7. I will call upon thee at the Time of my Diſtreſs: for thou wilt anſwer me.

8. There is none like thee among the gods, O Lord, no Works are like thine.

9. All Nations that thou haſt made, will come and bow down before thee, O Lord, and give Honour to thy Name.

10. For thou art great, and doeſt Wonders: thou art God alone.

11. Teach me thy Way, O Lord, I will walk in thy Truth: unite my Heart to fear thy Name.

12. I will praiſe thee, Lord my God, with my whole Heart, and will honour thy Name for ever:

13. Since thy Kindneſs is great to me; and thou haſt delivered my Soul from the lower Hell.

14. O God, the Proud are riſen up againſt me, and the Aſſembly of the Violent ſeek my Life; who do not ſet thee before them.

15. But thou, Lord, art a merciful and gracious God, forbearing of Anger, as alſo of large Kindneſs and Truth.

16. Look on me, and be gracious to me: give thy Strength to thy Servant, and ſave the Son of thy Handmaid.

17. Cauſe to be with me a Sign of Good, that thoſe who hate me may ſee, and be aſhamed; becauſe thou, O Lord, doſt help and comfort me.

A Psalm or Poem for the Korahites.

His Foundation being on the holy Mountains;

Ver. 8. ſpeak] The LXX add in me, by Dartford within mee.

Ib. to Folly] left out of the Pſalter, but the old Lat. has for it to the Heart; the Gr. being and to them that turn the Heart to him: which it is evident to me was done thus; the ſeventy Tranſlators (if they were ſo many, and all ſo ignorant) took the Heb. אֵל for אֶל the latter being twice before (and this by the Way may ſhew the Neceſſity or Benefit of the Points) as they did alſo לְכִסְלָה to Folly for לֵב סֶלָה the Heart. Selah; parting the Word into two, and miſtaking a Letter, with what is worſe, thinking there was a Prepoſition belonging to the Verb before it. Could one of our new Criticks notwithſtanding have diſcovered this, how triumphantly would he have aſſerted the LXX read ſo!

Ver. 11. bloſſoms—beams] fructified, and fructifying.

Ver. 13. he will put] It makes an abſurd Idea, that Righteouſneſs as going before the Lord, ſhould ſet us in his Steps behind him; as likewiſe that we ſhould come from Heaven: where Righteouſneſs is repreſented to be Ver. 11. and ſo now coming from thence, and the Lord in the way of it, to bleſs as before thoſe who fear him, all conſiſtently: thus Jun. and Trem. alſo take it, *Caſt. PSALM LXXXVIII.

A Poem or Pſalm for the Korahites, for the chief Muſician to play upon the Inſtrument Mahalath. An inſtructing Poem of Heman the Ezrahite.

O Lord God of my Salvation, by Day I cry, by Night before thee.

2. Let my Prayer come into thy Preſence, incline thy Ear to my Cry.

3. For my Soul is full of ill Things, and my Life approaches to the Grave.

4. I am reckoned with thoſe who go down to the Pit, and like a Man of no Strength;

5. Made free among the Dead, like the Slain that lie in the Sepulchre, whom thou remembreſt no more, they being cut off by thy Hand.

6. Thou haſt put me into a Pit of the lower and dark Places, into the Depths.

7. Thy Wrath preſſes hard upon me, and thou afflicteſt with all thy Waves. A Pauſe.

8. Thou haſt cauſed my Acquaintance to be far off from me, haſt made me an Abomination to them: I am ſhut up, and cannot get out.

9. My Eye is ſorrowful by reaſon of Affliction: I call upon thee, O Lord, every Day, ſpreading my Hands to thee.

10. Wilt thou do Wonders to the Dead? Will the Deceaſed riſe up, praiſing thee? A Pauſe.

11. Will thy Kindneſs be told in the Sepulchre, thy Faithfulneſs in Deſtruction?

12. Shall thy Wonders be known in Darkneſs, and thy Righteouſneſs in the Country of Forgetfulneſs;

Ib. Inſtead of it at the End Mudge puts him, by turning ה into ה which I do not remember ſtands for him, or that it is any Pronoun, but הוּ

Ver. 6, 7. ſuch a one was born there—Even the Singers] In the Place of all this the Gr. and Vulg. Lat. produce, and theſe Princes that have been in it: wherein Princes aroſe as at Pſa. lxviii. 25. next in it appears taken by Overſight from Ver. 5. inſtead of there from Ver. 4. and the Gr. may as well mean have been born, as have been, notwithſtanding the Lat. has eſpouſed the latter; yet beſides theſe Allowances it is grievouſly diſtorted from the Heb.

Ver. 7. as well as &c. to the End] Sept. and Vulg. The Dwelling in thee is as of all them that rejoice: here מעיני my Springs was indubitably expounded by מעוני Dwellings, though the Word in that conſtructed Form would be improper, or elſe by מעון Dwelling, which has far leſs Likeneſs; and rejoice might be fetched from no different Root.

Ib. all my Springs] Mudge has, they ſhall be all Singers, but by tearing down the Heb. Diſtinction, and making Addition to it beſides; nay his new Word is wrong, chulam for cullam.

Ver. 1. Heman] mentioned 1 Chron. vi. 33. & xv. 17, 19. & xvi. 42. 2 Chron. v. 12. & xxxv. 15. 1 King. iv. 31. and according to Ab. Ezr. and Grotius. Though Poole ſays he was probably that Heman, yet he refers him to another in the Marg. 1 Chron. ii. 6. and on 1 King. iv. 31. ſuppoſes they were the ſame Ethan and Heman that are mentioned 1 Chron. ii. 6. & xv. 19. but who can believe Judah's Grandſons were David's Singers? Whereas the other Heman was the Deſcendant of Levi, in the 21ſt Generation, 1 Chron. vi. 33—38. and Grandſon of the Prophet Samuel. He ſeems to write of his own private Experience. Ainſworth ſays, This Pſalme is the moſt dolefull of all the Bible, full of complaints even to the end; and Beza the like. Hatton begins his Prayer on it in theſe Words, O Lord God of our ſalvation, who for our ſakes wer't wounded, and didſt die and lie in the grave, even without any mention of Jeſus or Chriſt, excepting at the End, through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord, according to which this at the Beginning muſt not be He; but beſides that, he did not die &c. as being God.

Ib. by Day I cry, by Night before thee] juſt as the Heb. ſtands, not without Elegance, and as Pſa. xxii. 2. yet Hare and Mudge would make of my Salvation, be I cry; and the latter ſays for it, the ſame three Words are joined Pſa. xxii. 1, 2. which is not true, unleſs אקרא יומם two of them are the ſame as ישועתי יומם or as they alter the former שועתי

Ver. 5. more] Sax. ma, afterwards changed to mo.

Ib. cut off] That the LXX made a Miſtake of גזר for גוד which latter the Text has, looks moſt likely, by their rendering it driven away, though that Verb does not ſignify it directly.

Ver. 6. Thou haſt put] But by the LXX, They have put; taking שתני probably to be שתוי though it would be ill ſpelled for שתוני

Ver. 9. is ſorrowful] In the Lit. faileth, it being in the old Lat. my Eyes have languiſhed.

16. Thy Fury paſſes over me, thy Diſturbances are cutting me off.

17. They compaſs me like Water every Day, thy come about againſt me together.

PSALM LXXXIX.

AN inſtructing Poem of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I will ever ſing the Lord's Favours, will make known thy Faithfulneſs with my Mouth to all Ages.

2. For I ſay; Kindneſs is ever built up, thou doſt eſtabliſh thy Faithfulneſs in Heaven it ſelf thus;

3. I have made a Covenant with my choſen one, have ſworn to David my Servant,

4. I will eſtabliſh thy Offspring for ever, and build up thy Throne to all Ages. A Pauſe.

5. Thus will Heaven praiſe thy Wonders, O Lord, thy Faithfulneſs alſo in the Congregation of the Holy.

6. For who in the Sky is equal to the Lord? Or like him among the Sons of the Mighty?

7. God is feared much in the Counſel of the Holy, and reverenced by all that are round about him.

8. O Lord God of Armies, who is a ſtrong Lord like thee? Whoſe Faithfulneſs is round about thee.

9. Thou ruleſt over the Loftineſs of the Sea: when its Waves are lifted up, thou reſtraineſt them.

10. Thou haſt bruiſed Rahab like one that is pierced through, haſt diſperſed thy Enemies by thy ſtrong Arm.

11. The Heaven is thine, the Earth is thine alſo: thou didſt found the very World, and what it is filled with.

12. The North and South are what thou haſt created: Tabor and Hermon ſing through thy Name.

13. Thou haſt an Arm with Power: thy Hand is ſtrong, thy right Hand is exalted.

14. Righteouſneſs and Judgment are the Settlement of thy Throne: Kindneſs and Truth go before thy Face.

15. The People are bleſſed that know the joyful Sound; who go on, O Lord, in the Light of thy Countenance.

16. They rejoice through thy Name every Day; and are exalted by thy Righteouſneſs.

17. For thou art the Ornament of their Strength: and our Horn is exalted through thy Favour.

18. For our Shield is of the Lord, and our King of the Holy One of Iſrael.

19. Then didſt thou ſpeak in Viſion to the pious one, and ſay: I have put Help on the Powerful, have exalted him who is choſen from the People.

20. I have found my Servant David, have anointed him with the holy Oil.

21. With whom my Hand ſhall be eſtabliſhed, my Arm alſo ſhall ſtrengthen him.

22. The Enemy ſhall not exact on him, nor an unjuſt Perſon afflict him.

23. On the contrary I will cruſh his Adverſaries from his Preſence, and ſmite ſuch as hate him.

It might be written in the latter Part of Solomon's Reign, 1 King. xi. 14, 23, 25. with Patr. in Jehoiachin's or Zedekiah's; but I am not inclined to think the Author complained ſo in vain.

26. He ſhall call upon me, Thou art my Father, my God, and the Rock of my Salvation.

27. Beſides I will make him the Firſt-born, the higheſt of the Kings of the Earth.

28. I will keep my Kindneſs to him for ever, and my Covenant ſhall be firm to him.

29. Nay I will put his Offspring to be for evermore, and his Throne as the Days of Heaven.

30. If his Children forſake my Law, and go not in my Rules;

31. If they profane my Ordinances, and do not keep my Commandments:

32. I will viſit their Tranſgreſſion with a Rod, and their Iniquity with Stripes.

33. But I will not break off my Kindneſs from him, nor deal falſely in my Faithfulneſs.

34. I will not profane my Covenant, nor change what came out of my Lips:

35. Who ſware once in my Holineſs, that without my failing to David;

36. His Offspring ſhould be for ever, and his Throne like the Sun before me;

37. That it ſhould be ever eſtabliſhed as the Moon, and a faithful Witneſs in the Sky. A Pauſe.

38. Whereas thou haſt caſt off, and deſpiſed, haſt been in a Wrath with thy anointed one.

39. Thou haſt deteſted the Covenant of thy Servant, haſt profaned his Crown to the Ground.

40. Thou haſt broke down all his Fences, haſt made his ſtrong Holds a Ruin.

41. All who paſs that Way have plundered him: he has been a Reproach to his Neighbours.

42. Thou haſt exalted the right Hand of his Adverſaries, haſt made all his Enemies glad.

43. Moreover thou haſt turned back the Edge of his Sword, and not made him ſtand up in the Battle.

44. Thou haſt made his Pureneſs ceaſe, and thruſt down his Throne to the Ground.

45. Thou haſt ſhortened the Days of his Youth, haſt covered him over with Shame. A Pauſe.

46. How long, O Lord, wilt thou hide thy ſelf? Perpetually? Shall thy Wrath burn like Fire?

47. Remember of what Time I am: why didſt thou create all Mankind in vain?

48. What Man lives, and will not ſee Death, who will deliver his Perſon from the Power of the Grave? A Pauſe.

49. Where are thy former Favours, Lord, that thou haſt ſworn to David in thy Faithfulneſs?

50. Remember, Lord, the Reproach of thy Servants, which I have born in my Boſom, of all the great People:

51. With which thy Enemies have reproached, O Lord, with which they have reproached the Footſteps of thy anointed one.

52. Bleſſed be the Lord for ever. So, even ſo let it be.

Ver. 32. I will] See 2. Sam. vii. 14.

Ver. 35. that] the Heb. is If as at Pſa. xcv. 11. but this runs better in Eng. obliquely than direct.

Ver. 36. Throne] Sax. heahſetl, high Settle or Seat.

Ver. 38. deſpiſed] Cruden in his late fam'd Concordance, thinking abhorred too harſh, ſays it ſignifies here To reject or caſt off; which certainly it never does, and would here too make an utter Tautology, being the ſame with the foregoing Verb. This is the firſt Word that Author thus begins with, and ſo goes on to juſtify wrong tranſlating by putting Meanings to Words which they never have, when they could not be vindicated in their real Meaning; in which Manner any Thing might be juſtified. This I mention for an Inſtance, not as the worſt, but as his firſt; while he omits ſhewing the different Signification where it really is, as in about, bray, &c.

Ib. been in a Wrath with thy anointed one] Here the LXX delayed thy Chriſt, the Verb ſignifying to paſs or paſs over.

Ver. 43. Edge] Sept. Help, deriving עזר from azar.

Ver. 45. Youth] Vulg. Time, as another Word from the ſame Root.

Ver. 47. I] אני but Mudge doubts whether it ſhould not be נא I pray, or אדני Lord. His is the Highway to Uncertainties: conſonant to which he adds, Dr. Hare's hadel (inſtead of haled) how periſhing I am, makes alſo good Senſe; juſt as if any ſuch might be Scripture, or the Scripture any ſuch.

Ver. 48. What Man] It is reported of Xenophon, writes Laertius in the Life of him, that on the News of his Son's Death he ſaid, Ἀλλὰ γὰρ ἤδειν θνητὸν γεγεννηκώς, I know indeed I begot him mortal.

Ib. Perſon] which the Heb. Word ſignifies as well as Soul, and deliver his ſoul from the hand of the grave is a ſtrange Expreſſion. And as extravagant Words ſuppoſed to be right, produce extravagant Thoughts to make them out, ſo I find R. B. thus attempting it,

What ſtrong Man lives, and ſees not Death, or who his ſoule ſhall ſave;
And ſtop the hand that ſtops his breath,
the hand of Hell, the Grave?

Ib. Power] as rendered, Pſa. xlix. 15. Hoſ. xiii. 14. and certainly ought to be here.

Ib. Grave] The Litur. hell; bad indeed that none ſhall deliver his Soul thence! And if the old Tranſlator did mean the State of Death, the Unlearned who mind it when they hear it, may be nothing relieved by that.

Ver. 51. Footſteps] LXX Change, I know not how, but from Heel like the Arabick.

PSALM

PSALM XC.

A PRAYER of Moſes, the Man of God. Lord, thou haſt been a Habitation for us in all Ages.

2. Before the Mountains were brought forth, or thou hadſt formed the Earth and the World, nay from everlaſting to everlaſting thou art God.

3. Thou turneſt Man back, till he is worn away; ſaying, Return, O Mankind.

4. For a thouſand Years are in thy Sight as Yeſterday, when it is paſt over, and a Watch in the Night.

5. Thou overfloweſt them, they are as a Sleep: like the Graſs that grows in the Morning;

6. Which then flouriſhing, as well as growing, at the Evening is cut down, and withers.

7. For we are conſumed by thy Anger, and troubled by thy Wrath.

8. Thou haſt ſet our Iniquities before thee, our Youth in the Light of thy Face.

9. For all our Days are turned away by thy Indignation: we conſume our Years like a Diſcourſe.

10. In the Days of our Time are ſeventy Years, and if by Stoutneſs eighty, yet their Might is Labour and Vanity: for it is ſoon cut off, and we fly away.

11. Who knows the Strength of thy Anger? Thy Indignation being like the Fear of thee.

12. Make known ſo to number our Days, that we may bring the Mind to Wiſdom.

13. Return, O Lord; how long ſhall it be? and be ſorry for thy Servants.

14. Satisfy us with thy Kindneſs in the Morning; that we may ſing, and be glad all our Days.

15. Make us glad according to the Days thou haſt afflicted us, the Years we have ſeen Adverſity.

16. Let thy Work appear on thy Servants, and thy Beauty upon their Children:

17. Nay let the Pleaſantneſs of the Lord our God be upon us; and eſtabliſh the Per-and worſe in the next Ver. by doubling then and againe.

Ver. 3. Thou turneſt] The Septuag. have Do not turn, by taking אל God from the End of the laſt Ver. to this, and deeming it to be אַל not; ſo that it is apparent their Copy was without both the Points and Verſes, as it is that the latter were coeval with the former, by reaſon of the Points Dependance on them.

Ib. Return] which Hare ſays refers to Gen. iii. 19.

Ver. 5. overfloweſt] So Pſa. lxxvii. 17. Litur. ſcattereſt, from זרה inſtead of זרם and the reſt ſee how arbitrarily: but the LXX worſe, who tranſlate their Years will be Things that are of Nought, therein alſo taking שְׁנָה a Sleep to be שָׁנָה a Year, which the good Guardians the Points preſerve from.

Ib. Sleep] Hare by altering the Heb. Pointing, would make it, Thou moiſteneſt them with Sleep; too trivial, forced and unſuitable.

Ver. 8. Youth] As tranſlated Ver. 45. of the laſt Pſa. with Job xx. 11. & xxxiii. 25. Iſa. liv. 4. id eſt every where elſe.

Ver. 9. we conſume] The LXX annex this to the preceding, with and before it thus, and in thy Indignation we have failed.

Ib. like a Diſcourſe] Sept. our Years were meditated or conſidered like a Spider; but it was hard ſtraining to make the Syllabic Expletive מו which puzzled them, a Spider like שממית for it could not be attempted on עכביש the other Heb. Word for that Inſect; next the Word for Diſcourſe being changed into a Verb, to patch up ſome Senſe, viz. from הגה to הגו would ſignify either to meditate or diſcourſe. Byth. only ſays, they turned aſide much from the Text.

Ver. 10. ſeventy Years] which remains much the ſame, unleſs ſhortened by Intemperance; as Greaves obſerves there is no Decay in Nature as to Stature, for ſome thouſand Years, by the embalmed Bodies in Egypt, and his Meaſure of the hollow Part of the Monument in the great Pyramid there.

Ib. Might] Sept. Overplus, as if רהב had been רבה tranſpoſed.

Ib. it is ſoon cut off] Sept. Meekneſs or Gentleneſs is come upon us; wherein I imagine the firſt was framed from גָּז being Wool, which גָּז might be taken for; and that חיש ſoon was ſuppoſed to be for היש the ה not radical, and ſo the other there is.

Ib. fly away] Sept. ſhall be chaſtiſed, deducing it from עוּר to be tired it ſeems inſtead of עוף as ו is not inſerted. Bythner's Account is, they have done it ſtrangely.

Ver. 11. knows] where one Sax. Copy (as in Spelman's Pſalter) has can, another conn, for kens; a third wat, for wots; and a fourth cneowe.

Ib. the Fear of thee] better than thy fear: which Tate and Brady explain,

——thy Wrath does fall or riſe,
As more or leſs we fear;

and Blackmore probably from them,

Thou, as Men fear thee leſs or more,
Wrath more or leſs doſt ſhew:

but the Expoſition of Jun. and Trem. is more coherent; that God's Wrath is according to the Fear of himſelf, which he puts in People, by his Threatenings, Signs and Works, as in Num. xiv.

Ver. 12. to number our Days] The firſt of this Mudge joins to the 11th Verſe, turning it to eſtimate, of which the Proof is wanting; and by changing יְמִינוֹ into יְמִינְךָ he tranſlates thy Right Arm. He pleads indeed the Seventy for both, but is their Verſion to be preferred to the Original? And was not this Writer tranſlating the latter?

Ib. number] Diog. Laertius in the Life of Bias writes, Ἔλεγε τὸν βίον ὅτω μετρεῖν ὡς καὶ πολὺν καὶ ὀλίγον χρόνον βιωσομένης. He ſaid we ſhould ſo meaſure Life, as if we were to live either a long or a little while.

Ib. that we may bring] With the LXX, and thoſe inſtructed at Heart in Wiſdom; as though נבי׳א from בוא was נבוֹי a Participle in Niphal from בון notwithſtanding that Verb being neuter has not that Mood.

Ver. 16. Let thy Work appear on thy Servants] Sept. And look on thy Servants, and on thy Work; by which it appears ו at the Beginning was miſtaken for י with and on added in to fill up the Senſe.

PSALM XCI.

HE who abides in the ſecret Place of the Higheſt, lodges in the Shelter of the Almighty.

2. I would ſay, Of the Lord is my Refuge and Fortification, in my God himſelf I truſt.

3. For he will deliver thee from the Snare of the Fowler, from the very woful Peſtilence.

4. He will cover thee with his Feathers, and under his Wings ſhalt thou truſt: his Truth will be a Shield and Buckler.

5. Thou ſhalt not be afraid of the Dread at Night, of the Arrow that flies by Day,

6. Of the Peſtilence which goes in Darkneſs, of the Deſtruction that waſtes at Noon.

7. Should a thouſand fall at thy Side, and ten thouſand at thy right Hand, it ſhall not come nigh thee;

8. Only thou ſhalt behold with thy Eyes, and ſee the Recompence of the Wicked:

9. Since the Lord my Refuge, the Higheſt, thou haſt made thy Habitation.

10. No Harm ſhall fall out to thee nor Plague come near thy Tent.

11. For he will command his Angels concerning thee, to keep thee in all thy Ways.

12. Who will hold thee up in their Hands, leſt thou ſhouldeſt ſtrike thy Foot againſt a Stone.

13. Thou ſhalt tread upon the fierce Lion, and the Aſp: thou ſhalt trample the young Lion, and the Serpent.

14. As he has had a Love for me, ſays God, I will deliver him: I will exalt him, ſince he has known my Name.

15. He ſhall call upon me, and I will anſwer him: I will be with him in Diſtreſs; will bring him out, and honour him.

16. With long Life will I ſatisfy him, and ſhew him my Salvation.

PSALM XCII.

A PSALM or Poem for the Sabbath Day. It is good to give thanks to the Lord, and ſing melodiouſly to thy Name, O Supreme One;

2. To declare thy Kindneſs in the Morning, and thy Faithfulneſs in the Nights;

3. Upon the ten-ſtringed Inſtrument and Lute, with Meditation on the Harp.

Ver. 1. I imagine this to be a Pſalm of Encouragement, written to David by Gad or ſome other, at the Time of the Peſtilence, 2 Sam. xxiv. though the Jewiſh Writers would have theſe ten Pſalms following the 90th, as well as that, to be compoſed by Moſes, according as he declared 11 Bleſſings, Deut. xxxiii. which is trifling in their Manner. Beza in Argum. relates what Benefit he received from this Pſalm, at his Convincement 31 Years before, as alſo when he had the Peſtilence, and his Family four times: remarkable indeed! enough to be mentioned here, as well as there. Yet in the Pſalms made into French Verſe by him and Marot, this is done by the latter, and not Beza himſelf, as might have been expected.

Ver. 2. would] that it may belong to the Perſon ſpoken to, concurrent with the reſt.

Ver. 3. Peſtilence] Sept. Matter, as the Conſonants permit.

Ver. 4. Truth] In the Liturgy is alſo faithfulneſſe, and there only I ſuppoſe.

Ib. and Buckler] Taking this to be a Verb the LXX render, his Truth will compaſs thee with a Weapon; but ſo badly, that ו is neglected.

Ver. 6. Deſtruction that waſtes at Noon] Sept. Miſchance and the noon Devil, interpreting קטב ישוד ſo widely as by קרח ושד the latter being eaſy and apparent to be ſeen, notwithſtanding Byth. ſays, he does not know why they turned it Devil; but it was by taking the wrong Word, for juſt after he tells how it was done.

Ver. 7. Should] For he is deſcribing the Safety of a good Man, which ſhall breaks the Courſe of, by telling how the bad muſt ſuffer: ſo Noldius puts it for אם If to be underſtood, and Caſt. tranſlates with Etiamſi, Though.

Ver. 9. thou] which the Tranſ. in the Litar. applies to the Lord.

Ver. 10. No] Old Met.

Thou ſhalt not neede none ill to feare,
With thee it ſhall not mell;

which laſt Word I knew not the Meaning of, and therefore ſuppoſe many others did not, while it remained ſo for a whole Century; till I read in Beveridge's Defence it was meddle, and he ſays rightly ſpelt and pronounced, therefore pleads for it; as if the old Saxon was now the right Engliſh: but I knew, and ſtill do, notwithſtanding his Emphatical, that two Negatives are counted or make an Affirmative, and therefore that none ſhould be any, or not omitted, &c.

Ver. 12. ſtrike] Sax. ætopurne. Whence Hutton prays thus oddly, Keep me from precipices, from fracture of bones, from diſlocations, noiſome or ſharp diſeaſes, ſtupidities and deformities.

Ib. thy Foot] Payne,

or foot be hurt by ſtone,

the Verſe having not Room for thy and a; but at Ver. 14. he had too much Room, and ſo made Nonſenſe by filling it up with to thus,

'Cauſe he hath known my Name, to be his God I ever will:

O David! what unſkilful Hands have been fingering thy Harp!

Ver. 16. Patrick plainly and well,

And when a good old Age is paſt,
Bring him to Heav'n at laſt.

and paraphraſed by Beza, I will likewiſe prolong his Life to the full, much leſs ſhall he die with others; and in the end will make him Partaker of my true and everlaſting Felicity.

Ver. 1. A Pſalm] by David I ſuppoſe when he was King, Ver. 10. as with Patr. ſeen ſince. But ſome of the Jews, without Probability, Ver. 3, 6, 7, 9, 11, 12, 13. ſuppoſe it to be made by Adam, and ſaid on the firſt Sabbath, and Morning after he was created.

Ib. Supreme One] Pſalter, moſt Higheſt, as elſewhere, with a double Superlative improperly; and worſe, tho' ſtill followed, in Ver. 8.

Ver. 3. Meditation] the ſame Word as in Pſa. xix. ult. and ſo Ainſw. renders it, Jun. and Trem. meditatione; not ſignifying any ſound.

4. For thou makeſt me glad, O Lord, by thy Work: I will ſing by the Deeds of thy Hands.

5. How great thy Deeds are, O Lord! thy Thoughts are very deep.

6. The ſenſeleſs Man does not know, nor the Fool underſtand this:

7. When the Wicked ſpring forth like Graſs, and all who work Iniquity flouriſh, that they will be deſtroyed for evermore.

8. But thou art high for ever, O Lord.

9. For behold thy Enemies, O Lord, for behold thy Enemies will periſh: all that work Iniquity will be ſcattered.

10. Whereas thou wilt exalt my Horn as an Unicorn's; I am anointed with freſh Oil.

11. And my Eye ſhall look on my Obſervers: my Ears ſhall hear of the Evil-doers that riſe up againſt me.

12. The Virtuous will ſpring forth like a Palm-tree: he will grow like a Cedar on Lebanon.

13. Thoſe who are planted in the Houſe of the Lord, will ſpring forth in the Courts of our God.

14. They will be fruitful ſtill in old Age, fat and freſh will they be;

15. To declare that the Lord is upright: who is my Rock, and there is no Injuſtice at all in him.

PSALM XCIII.

THE Lord reigns, he has put on Excellency; the Lord has put on Strength, he has girded himſelf: the World alſo is eſtabliſhed, it cannot be moved.

2. Thy Throne has been eſtabliſhed from the ſame everlaſting Time that thou art.

3. The Floods ſending up, O Lord, as they do, their Sound, the Floods ſending up their Daſhing;

4. More than the Sounds of many Waters, the magnificent Waves of the Sea, is the Lord magnificent on high.

5. Thy Teſtimonies are very firm: Holineſs becomes thy Houſe, O Lord, to the longeſt Time.

PSALM XCIV.

O God who haſt Vengeance, the Lord; O God who haſt Vengeance, ſhine forth.

2. Get up, O Judge of the Earth, render a Recompence upon the Proud.

3. How long ſhall the Wicked, O Lord, how long ſhall the Wicked triumph?

4. Who utter forth, ſpeaking hard Things: all that work Iniquity boaſt themſelves.

Ver. 5. How great] Buchanan, with the Grandeur of Poetry,

O opera, facta O magna vere, O ſub cava
Conſilia nube condita!
Conſilia cæcis mentibus mortalium
Ignota:

O Works, O Deeds truly great, O the Purpoſes deſign'd under the hollow Sky! Purpoſes unknown to the blind Minds of Mortals.

Ver. 10. am anointed] preterite in the Heb. in the New-Eng. Verſ.

I anointed be ſhall I;

all which ſhould have been read backward. Mudge has, my old Age is freſh invigorated with Oyl; but to his Confutation this is a Verb, and the other not.

Ver. 11. look on—hear of] What did our Tranſlators mean by adding in my deſire? That the Pſalmiſt deſired the Deſtruction or Harm of his Enemies? As in the Gen. Verſ. there is my deſire againſt, and my Wiſh againſt. I had thought, ſays Bp. Beveridge, all the righteous deſire the Repentance of the Wicked, Defence of Sing. Pſalm. p. 57. ſee the like Pſa. liv. 7. & lix. 10. & cxii. 8. & cxviii. 7.

Ver. 12. ſpring forth] the ſame Verb as in Ver. 7. Sax. bloweth.

Ver. 14. fruitful ſtill in old Age] Thus ſpeaks Cicero excellently in his Book Concerning old Age, Cap. 3. Aptiſſima omnino ſunt arma ſenectutis, artes, exercitationeſque virtutem, &c. rendered by Tho. Newton in his ancient Verſion, pr. 1577, The fitteſt weapons for Oldage are Artes and exerciſes of Vertues: which beinge all the time of mannes age embraced, bring unto hym, when hee hath lyued a long while, meruailous fruites and commodities. Not only, becauſe they never forſake or ſtart from him, no, not in the verye laſt puſh of his Age (which ſurely is a moſte excellente thinge) but alſo becauſe the Conſcience of oure former lyfe, well and vertuoſly led, and the remembrance of our many good deedes, is moſt pleaſaunt.

And by Sir John Denham,

Age's chief Arts, and Arms, are to grow wiſe,
Virtue to know, and known to exerciſe;
All juſt returns to Age then Vertue makes,
Nor her in her extremity forſakes:
The ſweeteſt Cordial we receive at laſt,
Is conſcience of our vertuous Actions paſt.

Ver. 15. at all] as Pſa. iii. 2.

Ver. 1. I ſhould chooſe to aſcribe this alſo to David, while he reigned. The devout G. Wither (let me call him) who elſewhere wrote ſo zealouſly againſt Vice, prays here, Thou art our King, our Lord, and our God. Thou haſt Wiſdome enough to know what is beſt for us, Powre enough to effect it, Love enough to grant it, and Perpetuitie enough to continue it: Oh! give us but grace and faith enough to believe and apply it; and (though the Waters rage never ſo horribly) we ſhall undoubtedly be ſafe for ever and ever, Amen.

The 1ſt Verſe is with Tate and Brady thus,

With Glory clad, with Strength array'd,
The Lord that o'er all Nature reigns,
The World's Foundation ſtrongly laid,
And the vaſt Fabrick ſtill ſuſtains.

Ib. he has put on] Old Met. in glory goodly dight, for well dreſſed.

Ib. girded himſelf] Sax. begyrde hine.

Ib. be moved] Ib. bith onſtyred.

Ver. 3. Daſhing] according to the Heb. and thence the Sounds of the Sept.

Ver. 1. It appears to be made by David in his Afflictions under Saul, Ver. 20, 21. & alibi; nor would he have permitted what is mentioned, Ver. 5, 6. while himſelf was King.

Ib. ſhine forth] as in lxxx. 1. Sept. God—has done freely; ſo monſtrouſly taking the Meaning of הופיע as it ſeems from חפש Freedom.

5. They bruiſe thy People, O Lord, and afflict thy Poſſeſſion.

6. They ſlay the Widow and Stranger, and murder the Fatherleſs.

7. Yet they inſinuate, The Lord does not ſee, nor does the God of Jacob conſider.

8. Conſider, you ſenſeleſs ones among the People: and O Fools, when will you underſtand?

9. Will not he who plants the Ear hear? Will not he who forms the Eye behold?

10. Will not he who chaſtens the Gentiles rebuke? He who teaches Man Knowledge?

11. The Lord knows the Imaginations of Man, that they are Vanity.

12. The Man is bleſſed whom thou doſt chaſten, O Lord, and teach him out of thy Law;

13. To give him reſt from the Days of Adverſity, till there is a Pit dug for the Wicked.

14. For the Lord will not leave his People, nor forſake his Poſſeſſion.

15. For Judgment will return to Righteouſneſs, and all thoſe that are of an upright Heart will be following it.

16. Who will riſe up for me, againſt the Evil-doers? Who will ſtand for me, againſt them that work Iniquity?

17. Unleſs the Lord had been my Help, my Soul would have almoſt dwelt in Silence.

18. If I think my Foot ſlips; thy Kindneſs, O Lord, ſupports me.

19. Among the Multitude of my Thoughts within me, thy Comforts delight my Soul.

20. Shall the Throne of Calamities be joined to thee, of one that forms Trouble contrary to the Ordinance?

21. They come in Troops againſt the Perſon of the Righteous, and condemn the Blood of the Innocent.

22. But the Lord will be a high Place to me, and my God the Rock of my Refuge.

23. And he will cauſe their Iniquity to return upon themſelves, cutting them off in their Wickedneſs: the Lord our God will cut them off.

PSALM XCV.

COME, let us ſing to the Lord, ſound forth to the Rock of our Salvation:

2. Let us go before him with Thankſgiving, ſound forth to him with Pſalms.

3. For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods:

4. In whoſe Hand are the private Places of the Earth, and the ſtrong ones of the Mountains are of him:

5. Of whom is the Sea, and he made it, his Hands alſo formed the dry Ground.

6. O come, let us worſhip, and bow down, let us kneel before the Lord our Maker.

7. For he is our God, and we are the People of his Paſture, and the Flock of his Hand: to Day if you will hearken to what he ſays;

8. Do not harden your Heart, as at Meribah, as at the Day of Maſſah in the Wilderneſs:

Ver. 13. till] which rather belongs to correct and teach, than give reſt; and ſo the foregoing Member of this Verſe might be put in a Parentheſis, but that it has a Connection with the next Verſe.

Ver. 15. For Judgment will return] Pſalt. backward and otherwiſe, nor leſs contrary to the Heb. if not to good Senſe, Untill righteouſneſſe turn again, &c. from the Vulg.

Ver. 18. think] as moſt ſuitable to the reſt, and particularly the following Ver. King, as one hard put to it for Words has,

When of my Slipping I complain'd.

Ver. 19. Thoughts] Sept. Pains or Sorrows, perhaps they knew not why themſelves, as Pſa. xiii. 23. they render it Paths; it being no where elſe.

Ver. 20. the Throne] that of Saul. In the Pſalter, ſtool, mean and unſuitably.

Ver. 21. come in Troops] The LXX hunt, ſeeming to take ג for ע or ſo to interpret.

Ver. 2. ſound] and is manifeſtly made from the old Lat. or Gr. the Heb. having it not.

Ver. 7. Wither in the Prayer, So far, we ought to be, from arrogating the powre either of our Beeing, or Well-beeing; that (we muſt confeſſe) to undoe our ſelves, is all which we are able of our ſelves to do.

Ib. People] Here is ſaid, in the Critical Notes, to be a Tranſpoſition of this and ſheep, and that it ſhould be as in Pſa. lxxix. 13. & c. 3. I anſwer, How did the Author know, but that People as well as Sheep belongs to Paſture there? However the Paſſages are not parallel; and why may not this be ſo as well as that in Pſa. xxiii. 2. Joh. x. 9.? Should not People alſo be firſt? And does not Sheep ſuit beſt with Hand?

Ib. to Day] which Heb. iv. 7. ſhews to be David's Words. But Mudge changing the Heb. Letters as he owns, has my Voice; thus ſpoiling what Longinus in Homer, and Addiſon in Milton admire as a Beauty, Spec. N°. 321. 9. At 9. At which your Fathers tempted me, proved me, as alſo ſaw my Work.

10. Forty Years I loathed that Generation, and ſaid, The People err with their Heart, and they do not know my Ways:

11. Of whom I ſware in my Anger, They ſhall not enter into my Reſt.

PSALM XCVI.

SING to the Lord a new Song, ſing to the Lord, O whole Earth.

2. Sing to the Lord, bleſs his Name, declare his Salvation from Day to Day.

3. Tell his Glory in the Nations, his Wonders among all the People.

4. For great is the Lord, and to be praiſed exceedingly: he is to be feared the moſt of all gods.

5. For all the gods of the People are Idols; whereas the Lord made the Heavens.

6. Majeſty and Honour are before him, Strength and Comelineſs are in his Sanctuary.

7. Aſcribe to the Lord, O Families of the People, aſcribe to the Lord Glory and Strength.

8. Aſcribe to the Lord the Glory of his Name; take up an Offering, and come to his Courts.

9. Bow down to the Lord in the Place of holy Grandeur; tremble at his Preſence, all the Earth.

10. Say in the Nations, The Lord reigns; the World alſo is eſtabliſhed, it cannot be moved: he judges the People in Uprightneſs.

11. Let the Heaven be glad, and the Earth rejoice; the Sea roar, and what it is filled with.

12. Let the Field triumph, and all that is in it: then let all the Trees of the Wood ſing,

13. Before the Lord: for he comes, for he comes to judge the Earth; he will judge the World in Righteouſneſs, and the People in his Faithfulneſs.

PSALM XCVII.

THE Lord reigns, let the Earth rejoice, let the many Iſles be glad.

2. A Cloud and Dimneſs are round about him, Righteouſneſs and Judgment are the Settlement of his Throne.

3. A Fire goes before him, and burns up his Adverſaries round about.

4. His Lightnings enlighten the World: the Earth ſeeing, is afraid.

5. The Mountains are melted like Wax at the Preſence of the Lord, at the Preſence of the Maſter of the whole Earth.

6. The Heaven declares his Righteouſneſs, and all the People ſee his Glory.

7. All that ſerve a carved Image ſhall be aſhamed, who boaſt in Idols: worſhip him, all you Angels.

8. Zion hearing, is glad, and the Daughters of Judah rejoice; by reaſon of thy Judgments, O Lord.

9. For thou, O Lord, art the Higheſt above all the Earth, art exceedingly exalted above all the gods.

10. You who love the Lord, hate what is evil: he preſerves the Souls of his pious ones, delivers them from the Power of the Wicked.

11. Light is ſown for the Righteous, and Gladneſs for thoſe who are of an upright Heart.

12. Be glad, you righteous ones, through the Lord, and give thanks at the Remembrance of his Holineſs.

PSALM XCVIII.

A PSALM.

Sing to the Lord a new Song, for he has done Wonders: his right Hand and holy Arm has wrought Salvation for him.

2. The Lord has made known his Salvation, he has revealed his Righteouſneſs in the Sight of the Nations.

3. He has remembred his Kindneſs and Faithfulneſs to the Family of Iſrael: all the Limits of the Earth have ſeen the Salvation of our God.

Ver. 9. proved me] me not in vulg. Lat.

Ver. 10. loathed] as the Heb. is, but in the Gr. diſpleaſed.

Ver. 1. This Pſalm ſee moſtly in 1 Chron. xvi. 23—33. by David on the Occaſion of the Ark being brought to Zion, Ver. 1, 7.

Ver. 5. Idols] Sept. Devils.

Ver. 10. reigns] In a Note here of the Popiſh Doway Bible it is related, there has been read after it from the Wood, ſignifying the Croſs of Chriſt, which it was ſuppoſed the Jews blotted out; and Morinus arguing vehemently againſt the Authenticity of the preſent Heb. Bible, and for that of the Latin one, produces this for an Inſtance, more than once, in his Exercit. Bibl. while the Lat. Bible it ſelf has it not: nor is it likely ſuch an odd Expreſſion was genuine, and eſpecially to be made for the Removal of the Ark, 1 Chron. xvi. 1, 7, 31.

Ver. 12. Trees of the Wood] Sax. treowa wuda.

Ver. 7. Angels] as quoted Heb. i. 6.

Ver. 11. ſown] Sept. riſen, to their Senſe of it from Light.

Ver. 3. Limits] Sax. yemæra; whence Mear-ſtones, to bound the Lands in common Fields.

4. Sound forth to the Lord, O whole Earth: make a Noiſe, nay ſing, and that melodiouſly.

5. Sing melodiouſly to the Lord with the Harp, with the Harp, and the Voice of a Pſalm.

6. With Trumpets, and the Sound of a Cornet, blow a Tune before the King, the Lord.

7. Let the Sea roar, and what it is filled with; the World, and thoſe that dwell therein.

8. Let the Rivers clap Hands, the Mountains ſing together,

9. Before the Lord: for he comes to judge the Earth; he will judge the World in Righteouſneſs, and the People in Uprightneſs.

PSALM XCIX.

THE Lord reigns, let the People tremble: he ſits at the Cherubs, let the Earth totter.

2. The Lord is great in Zion, and he is exalted above all People.

3. Let them praiſe thy great and aweful Name, it being holy.

4. And the King to his Strength loving Judgment, thou haſt eſtabliſhed Uprightneſs: Judgment and Righteouſneſs haſt thou performed in Jacob.

5. Exalt the Lord our God, and bow down at his Footſtool; he being holy.

6. Moſes and Aaron among his Prieſts, and Samuel among them who called upon his Name, called to the Lord, and he anſwered them.

7. He ſpoke to thoſe in the Pillar of a Cloud: they kept his Teſtimonies, and the Ordinance he gave them.

8. O Lord our God, thou didſt anſwer them: thou waſt a God forgiving them, yet taking vengeance upon their Deeds.

9. Exalt the Lord our God, and bow down at his holy Mountain: for the Lord our God is holy.

PSALM C.

A PSALM of Thankſgiving.

Sound forth to the Lord, O whole Earth.

2. Serve the Lord with Gladneſs, come before him with Singing.

3. Know that the Lord himſelf is God; he made us, and not we our ſelves, his People, and the Flock of his Paſture.

4. Enter his Gates with Thankſgiving, his Courts with Praiſe: give thanks to him, bleſs his Name.

5. For the Lord is good, his Kindneſs is for ever, and his Faithfulneſs to all Ages.

PSALM CI.

A PSALM of David.

Kindneſs and Judgment I will ſing; to thee, O Lord, will I ſing melodiouſly.

2. I will have underſtanding in the perfect Way; when wilt thou come to me? I will walk continually in the Integrity of my Heart, within my Houſe.

3. I will not put an ungodly Thing before my Eyes, I hate the Work of ſuch as turn away, it ſhall not cleave to me.

Ver. 9. comes] with the Ark to Zion, 1 Chr. xvi. 33. as Part of Ver. 7. is alſo taken out of 1 Chron. xvi. 32. from which or Pſa. xcvi. this is partly made.

Ver. 1. tremble] in the Pſalter after a lax Manner, be the People never ſo unpatient, &c.

Ver. 2. great] Sax. micel for mickle, and in the next Verſe miclum.

Ver. 4. King] David, as likely, to whom the Seventy intitle it; ſee alſo Ver. 2.

Ver. 5. at] for which the Heb. has ל but in the vulg. Lat. is adorate ſcabellum pedum ejus, worſhip his Footſtool; and the Earth being this Footſtool, Iſa. lxvi. 1. the Body of Chriſt Earth, and the Sacramental Bread Chriſt's Body, according to no leſs a Father than Auguſtine, &c. or more directly the Croſs on which Chriſt was crucified being taken for this Footſtool; the Conſequence would be ſuch Idolatry as is practiſed in the Church of Rome; ſee Amama, Anti-barb Bibl. p. 532, &c. Our old Metre has, which though deſigned no doubt to mean worſhip him, would more properly mean worſhip his Footſtool.

His foot-ſtoole worſhip him before;

Ver. 8. yet] Goodridge,

Thier ſin did puniſh, but th' offenders ſave;

much better if for th' Offenders there was the Sinners.

Ver. 1. This ſeems another of David's Compoſitions in his Proſperity, Ver. 4.

Ib. Earth] ſingular; which the Chald. Targ. explains by, all the Inhabitants of the Earth.

Ver. 5. the Lord is good] Mudge thinks, he ſays, the following Tranſlation is the truer, bleſs his Name, for it is good. The Lord, for ever is his Favour; ſo condemning his own, and there is no it &c.

Ver. 1. Pſalm of David] which may be accounted a Vow of his, before he received the Kingdom, Ver. 2. Tate and Brady begin this with,

Of Mercy's never-failing Spring,
And ſtedfaſt Judgment I will ſing;
And ſince they both to thee belong,
To thee, O Lord, addreſs my Song.

Ver. 2. have] In the Pſalter the whole Verſe is, O let me have underſtanding: in the way of godlineſs; all the Verſes being there parted with a Colon, in Imitation of the Heb. Athnah, that often has not that Power, as in Gen. i. 1. nor has it here.

Ib. perfect] Diog. Laertius writes in the Life of Ariſtotle, that he propoſed the Uſe of Virtue in a perfect Life to be the End of living.

Ver. 3. put before—my Eyes] With the old Pſalt. take in hand, which was thought an Improvement it ſeems.

Ib. it] By the LXX, ſtriding the Verſes, A perverſe Heart; and ſo they join the next, with an Impropriety that denotes it wrong, beſides the Heb. Diſtinctions, tranſlating, a wicked declining from me I did not know.

4. A perverſe Heart ſhall depart from me, I will not be acquainted with Evil.

5. I will cut him off who prates againſt his Neighbour in Secret: I will not bear with him that is of a lofty Look, and a Mind puffed up.

6. My Eyes ſhall be on the Faithful of the Country, to dwell with me: he that goes in a perfect Way ſhall miniſter to me.

7. He ſhall not dwell within my Houſe who acts deceitfully: he who ſpeaks Lyes ſhall not be eſtabliſhed before my Eyes.

8. Betimes will I cut off all the Wicked of the Country; to cut all that work Iniquity from the City of the Lord.

PSALM CII.

A Prayer of the Afflicted, when he is overwhelmed, and pours out his Meditation before the Lord.

O Lord, hear my Prayer, and let my Cry come to thee.

2. Hide not thy Face from me on the Day of my Diſtreſs, incline thy Ear to me: on the Day that I call, anſwer me ſpeedily.

3. For my Days are conſumed like Smoak, and my Bones parched like a Hearth.

4. My Heart is ſtruck like an Herb, and withered: for I forget to eat my Victuals.

5. Through the Voice of my Groaning, my Bone cleaves to my Fleſh.

6. I am like to a Pelican of the Wilderneſs: am as an Owl of the waſte Places.

7. I am careful, and am as a Sparrow that is alone upon the Roof.

8. Every Day my Enemies reproach me; thoſe who are mad at me being ſworn againſt me:

9. When I eat Aſhes as Victuals, and mix my Drink with Weeping;

10. By reaſon of thy Indignation, and Fury: for thou haſt lifted me up, and thrown me down.

11. My Days are like a Shadow ſtretched out, and I am withered like an Herb.

12. But thou, O Lord, abideſt for ever, and thy Remembrance to all Ages.

13. Do thou ariſe, have compaſſion upon Zion: for the Time to pity it, for the appointed Time is come.

14. Since thy Servants take delight in its Stones, and pity the Duſt of it.

15. So ſhall the Gentiles fear the Name of the Lord, and all the Kings of the Earth thy Glory:

16. Becauſe the Lord has built up Zion, has appeared in his Glory;

17. Has had regard to the Prayer of the Bare, and not deſpiſed their Prayer.

18. This ſhall be written for the following Age; that the People who ſhall be created may praiſe the Lord:

19. Becauſe he has beheld from the Height of his holy Place, the Lord has looked from Heaven to the Earth;

20. To hear the Groaning of the Priſoner, to let looſe ſuch as are to die:

21. That they may rehearſe the Name of the Lord in Zion, and his Praiſe in Jeruſalem;

22. When the People are gathered together, and the Kingdoms to ſerve the Lord.

23. He weakens my Strength in the Way, he ſhortens my Days.

Ver. 4. With Goodridge, not quite unmeaning perhaps to himſelf,

All crooked, vex't, convenient Truths, I hate.

Ib. Evil] conſentaneous with that in the preceding Verſe.

Ver. 5. prates againſt] The Verb being made from the Noun for Tongue, and ſo having a general Meaning; only that it muſt be againſt: ſo of Lips Prov. x. 8, 10.

Ib. bear] Sept. eat, by אכל when it is אוכל

Ib. a Mind puffed up] high Stomach, Pſalt. Mudge ridiculouſly, wide of Heart.

Ver. 7. Lyes ſhall not] In which Reſpect like King David, was Almanzor King of the Saracen Empire (that extended farther than the Roman) whoſe Sharpneſs againſt Lying, and avoiding it himſelf, with the Benefit of the ſame in his Adminiſtration of Juſtice, is related by Sir Walter Raleigh in his little choice Hiſt. of Mahomet, &c. p. 146, 147, 148, 151, 152, 179, 180.

Ver. 1. Prayer] made as is likely in the Babylonian Captivity, Ver. 14, 16, 20, 21. and towards the End of it, Ver. 13. perhaps by Ezra or Daniel.

Ver. 4. for] as the Particle properly ſignifies, ſcarce at all ſo that; and thus it makes ſuitable Senſe.

Ver. 5. cleaves] for want of Moiſture, Pſa. xxxii. 4. to make the Fleſh ſupple; ſo that ſcarce need not have been added in the Pſalter, and certainly ſhould not, to make a contrary Senſe. And the other his Groaning, eſpecially with what produced it, might cauſe; though Mudge pretends to join it better with forgetting to eat.

Ib. Fleſh] ſo the Heb. and not ſkin, for then there muſt have been no Fleſh, which would not have been true.

Ver. 8. are mad at me] LXX praiſe me, by another Meaning of the Verb.

Ver. 9. I eat &c.] The Sax. is, ahſan ſwa ſwa hlaf ic æt & drynge min mid wope ic yemengde.

Ver. 11. Shadow] Sax. ſcadu, ſc being to be ſounded like ſh, as I often find.

Ver. 12. Remembrance] In Ab. Ezra's Commentaries, Throne, from ſome confounding, as it ſeems, of this with Lam. v. 19.

Ib. the Time] Here Daniel in his Paraphraſe on the ſeven Penitential Pſalms, where he appears to me leſs happy in his Poetry, than in thoſe publiſhed ſome Years before,

Yes we ſhall ſee our lovely Sion riſe,
And liſt its glittering Turrets to the Skies.

Ver. 23. weakens &c.] Sept. anſwered (in a different Senſe of the Word) him (added in) in the way of his (as if ' for ') Strength.

24. I ſay; O my God, do not take me away in the middle of my Days: thy Years being throughout all Ages.

25. Formerly thou didſt found the Earth, and the Heaven was the Work of thy Hands.

26. They will periſh, but thou wilt remain; and will all of them decay like a Garment: as Cloaths wilt thou change them, and they will be changed.

27. Whereas thou art the ſame, and thy Years will not come to an end.

28. The Children of thy Servants will continue, and their Offspring be eſtabliſhed before thee.

PSALM CIII.

BY David.

Bleſs the Lord, O my Soul, and all my inward Parts, his holy Name.

2. Bleſs the Lord, O my Soul, and forget not any of his Benefits:

3. Who forgives all thy Iniquities, cures all thy Diſeaſes,

4. Redeems thy Life from the Pit, compaſſes thee about with Kindneſs and Mercies,

5. Satisfies thy Mouth with that which is good: thou art renewed as an Eagle with thy Youth.

6. The Lord does juſt and right Things, for all the Oppreſſed.

7. He made known his Ways to Moſes, his Acts to the Iſraelites.

8. The Lord is merciful and gracious, delaying of Anger, and of large Kindneſs.

9. He will not contend perpetually, nor retain Anger for ever.

10. He does not to us according to our Sins, nor recompenſes us according to our Iniquities.

11. For as the Height of the Heaven is above the Earth, his Kindneſs is powerful to thoſe who fear him.

12. As far diſtant as the Eaſt is from the Weſt, has he removed our Tranſgreſſions from us.

13. As a Parent has compaſſion upon Children, the Lord has compaſſion upon ſuch as fear him:

14. For he knows our Frame, remembers that we are Earth.

15. As for Man, his Days are like Graſs: like a Flower of the Field, ſo he flouriſhes;

16. Over which when the Wind paſſes, it is not, and its Place knows it no more.

17. But the Kindneſs of the Lord is from Everlaſting to Everlaſting, upon them that fear him; and his Righteouſneſs to Children's Children:

18. To thoſe who obſerve his Covenant; and to thoſe who remember his Precepts, to do them.

19. The Lord has eſtabliſhed his Throne in Heaven, and his Kingdom has dominion over all.

20. Bleſs the Lord, his Angels, who are powerful in Might, that do his Word; by hearkening to the Voice of it:

21. Bleſs the Lord, all his Armies, his Miniſters who do his Will:

22. Bleſs the Lord, all his Works in all Places of his Dominion: bleſs the Lord, O my Soul.

PSALM CIV.

BLESS the Lord, O my Soul: O Lord my God, thou art very great, art cloathed with Majeſty and Honour:

2. Who cloatheſt thy ſelf with Light as Apparel, ſtretcheſt out the Heaven as a Curtain:

Ver. 23, 24. ſhortens my Days. I ſay; O my God] For this the LXX have, the Fewneſs of my Days declare thou to me, as might be without the Points, which therefore muſt be neceſſary.

Ver. 1. By David] I believe in his latter Time.

Ver. 4. Kennett,

He from thy precious Life each Plague removes Cheers with his Joys, and crowns thee with his Loves;

but with an Apoſtrophe before each s of the Verbs, bright Compoſitions being too commonly attended with ſuch Blemiſhes; divers of which (in Favour both to the Authors and Reader) I have amended in the Poetical Citations on this Book.

Ver. 5. Mouth] Sept. Deſire, by עדן for עדין

Ib. Youth] Sax. Yeoyuth, not geoguth as the Grammarians direct the Letter ȝ to be ſounded.

Ver. 6. juſt and right Things] both plur. in Heb.

Ver. 20. to] Boſton Verſ. to make the very Proſe into Verſe has,

Unto the voice of's word;

and the like Pſa. civ. 3.

Ver. 22. Soul] Apollinarius concludes,

Θυμὲ τὸν βασιλῆα διαμπερὲς αἰνετὰ μίλπε.

O Soul, ſing thy King who is to be praiſed always.

Ver. 1. This is aſcribed by Conſent to David; probably then made in his proſperous Days. Beza remarks the Difference between this and the foregoing Pſalm, that there the particular, and here the general Benefits of God are rehearſed.

One of our modern Poets begins paraphraſing it,

Thee, thee my riſing Soul aſpires to ſing,
Almighty Father, everlaſting King;

Walter Harte thus,

Awake my Soul! in hallow'd raptures praiſe
Th' Almighty God, who in th' empyreal height
Majeſtic ſhines, too glorious to behold.

And Daniel in his Paraphraſe of it has,

For thee their golden Lyres they (the Angels) ſtring
Of thee in ſweeteſt Numbers ſing;
Confeſs thee God, and hail thee King.

3. He that frames his Chambers in the Waters, puts the thick Clouds his Chariot, goes upon the Wings of the Wind:

4. Who makes his Angels Spirits, his Miniſters a flaming Fire.

5. He founded the Earth upon its Baſe, that it might not be removed for ever and evermore.

6. Thou coveredſt it with the Deep as a Garment, the Waters ſtood above the Mountains.

7. By thy Rebuke they fled, by the Sound of thy Thunder they haſtened away.

8. They went up the Mountains, down the Vales, to the Place which thou hadſt founded for them.

9. Thou haſt ſet Bounds, that they may not paſs over, may not return to cover the Earth:

10. Sending the Springs in the Vallies, which run between the Mountains.

11. They give Drink to every Beaſt of the Field, the wild Aſſes quench their Thirſt.

12. The Fowls of the Air inhabit at them, that utter the Voice from between the Branches.

13. He waters the Mountains from his Chambers; the Earth is ſatisfied by the Fruit of thy Doings:

14. He cauſes the Graſs to ſprout forth for the Cattle, and Herbs for the Service of Mankind, bringing Bread out of the Earth;

15. With Wine that makes the Heart of Man glad, cauſing the Face to rejoice with Oil, as well as Bread that ſupports Man's Heart.

16. The Trees of the Lord are repleniſhed, the Cedars of Lebanon which he has planted:

17. Where the Birds make Neſts, the Fir-trees being the Houſe of the Stork.

18. The high Mountains for the wild Goats, the Rocks are a Refuge for the Rabbits.

19. He made the Moon for appointed Times, the Sun knows his Setting.

20. Thou putteſt Darkneſs, and it is Night; in which every Beaſt of the Wood creeps out.

21. The young Lions roar for the Prey, and in ſeeking their Food from God.

22. The Sun riſing, they withdraw, and lie down at their Habitations.

23. Man goes forth to his Work, and to his Buſineſs till the Evening.

24. How many thy Deeds are, O Lord! all of which thou doeſt in Wiſdom: the Earth is filled with thy Poſſeſſions.

25. As for that Sea which is great and of a large Space, creeping Things are there, even out of Number, ſmall with great living Creatures.

26. The Ships go there; that Whale haſt thou formed to play in it.

27. All of them wait for thee, to give their Food in its Time.

28. Thou giving to them, they gather: thou opening thy Hand, they are ſatisfied with what is good.

29. Thou hiding thy Face, they are troubled: withdrawing their Breath, they expire, and return to their Earth.

Ver. 3. Jonſton,

——Euriſque jugalibus—— eaſt Winds yoked together; of which the Pref. Can we find any Thing equal to it in Homer, Virgil, or Milton? Perhaps in the latter the Angels ſliding down on a Sun-beam, which Addiſon condemns as too fanciful; and this ſpoils the Wings.

Ver. 4. Spirits] Mudge has it Winds, and ſays, He turns his Angels and Miniſters into Winds and Fires: but ſee on Pſa. xxxv. 5. Calvin contrarily, making the Winds his Meſſengers; and the College of Doway falſely from the Lat. makeſt ſpirites thine angels.

Ver. 5. not be removed] out of its Orb.

Ib. and evermore] omitted in the com. Tranſ.

Ver. 8. They went up &c.] Sept. The Mountains aſcend, and the Plains deſcend; the Heb. not having by, like our Eng.

Ib. went up] at the Creation; ſo that Mudge rightly obſerves, a noble Image is loſt in our Tranſlation; and the Author of H. David and his Tranſ. clear'd has found a preternatural one in its room interpreting it, Theſe Waters by ſecret tracks and means creep up to the tops of the higheſt Mountains.

Ver. 12. Voice] Wheatland and Silveſter; but with ſlow heavy Numbers unlike the Warbling of Birds,

And from their boughs thy Praiſe their voices tell.

Ib. Branches] The LXX have it Rocks, the Word in the Original being Chald. which therefore, and being no where beſides, I will venture to ſuppoſe they did not underſtand.

Ib. bringing Bread out of the Earth] by watering it, Ver. 13. but our Language does not well bear to put it as an Infinitive with the reſt between, or the Heb. Infin. may be uſed for a Participle, as in Buxt, Theſ. Lib. ii. C. 16. ſub. fin. for in the preſ. Tranſ. He cauſeth the graſs and herb to grow, that he may bring forth wine, oil, and bread, is wrong, ſince graſs and herbs do not produce theſe. Yet there is no Need of altering the Heb. for He cauſes into an Infinitive, as Mudge does.

Ver. 15. rejoice] There is Nothing of ſhine in the Meaning of the Word, but it might come firſt from the Targum (not that I think our Tranſlators conſulted it) miſtaking, or taking lehatzhil for lehatzhir.

Ver. 17. make Neſts] Sax. niſtiath.

Ib. Fir-trees] Here the LXX, the Houſe of the Stork or rather Heron is their Leader; theſe venerable Sages, but venerable for little more than their Antiquity, though they might do the beſt they could, nay with a good Intent and Service too, miſtook beroſhem for beroſham, the Sound being nearer together than the Letters.

Ver. 19. knows] which Patrick well ſpecifies by,

The Sun knows when to ſet, and where.

Ver. 23. goes forth] Sax. utfærth.

Ver. 24. Poſſeſſions] not riches but by Deduction, as the Creation of the Sept.

Ver. 25. large] Sax. rum, roomy.

30. Thou ſending thy Spirit, they are created; and thou reneweſt the Surface of the Ground.

31. The Glory of the Lord is for ever, the Lord is glad through his own Deeds.

32. He looking at the Earth, it trembles: touching the Mountains, they ſmoak.

33. I will ſing to the Lord while I live, will ſing melodiouſly to my God as long as I have a Being.

34. My Meditation of him ſhall be ſweet, I will be glad through the Lord.

35. Sinners will be conſumed from the Earth, and the Wicked be no more: bleſs the Lord, O my Soul. Praiſe the Lord.

PSALM CV.

GIVE thanks to the Lord, call on his Name, make known his Acts among the People;

2. Sing to him, ſing melodiouſly to him, diſcourſe of all his Wonders;

3. Glory in his holy Name, let the Heart of thoſe who enquire for the Lord be glad;

4. Seek the Lord, and his Strength, enquire for his Preſence continually;

5. Remember his Wonders which he has done, his Miracles, and the Judgments of his Mouth;

6. You Poſterity of his Servant Abraham, you Children of Jacob, his choſen ones.

7. He is the Lord our God, his Judgments are on the whole Earth.

8. He remembers his Covenant for ever, the Thing that he commanded to a thouſand Generations;

9. Which he confirmed with Abraham, and was his Oath to Iſaac;

10. And eſtabliſhed it to Jacob for an Ordinance, to Iſrael an everlaſting Covenant,

11. As follows, I will give thee the Country of Canaan, the Line of your Poſſeſſion:

12. When they were Perſons to be numbred; as being few, and Sojourners in it;

13. And went about from Nation to Nation, from one Kingdom to another People.

14. He ſuffered no Man to oppreſs them, but reproved Kings for their ſakes,

15. Do not touch my Anointed, nor hurt my Prophets.

16. And he called for a Famine upon the Earth, he broke the whole Staff of Bread.

17. He ſent a Man before them, Joſeph who was ſold for a Servant.

18. They afflicted his Feet with Fetters, he himſelf entered the Iron;

19. Till the Time that his Word came: the Saying of the Lord tried him.

20. The King ſent, and let him looſe; the Governor of the People, and releaſed him.

21. He made him Maſter of his Houſe, and Governor over all his Poſſeſſion;

22. To bind his Princes at his Will, and make his Elders wiſe.

23. Iſrael afterwards came to Egypt, and Jacob ſojourned in the Country of Ham.

24. And he cauſed his People to be very fruitful, nay made them ſtronger than their Adverſaries:

25. Whoſe Heart turned to hate his People, to contrive againſt his Servants.

26. He ſent his Servant Moſes, Aaron whom he had choſen.

27. They performed among them the Things of his Signs, and Miracles in the Country of Ham:

28. He ſent Darkneſs, and made it dark; which Things did not rebel againſt his Word.

30. Their Country produced Frogs abundantly, in the Chambers of their Kings.

31. Upon his ſpeaking, there came the Mixture of noiſome Creatures, Lice in all their Bounds.

32. He gave Hail for their Showers of Rain, Fire with Flames in their Country.

33. Beſides he ſmote their Vines and Fig-trees, breaking the Trees of their Borders.

34. At his ordering, there came the Locuſt and Canker-worm, even out of Number:

35. Which eat up every Herb in their Country, as they did the Fruit of their Ground.

36. And he ſlew all the Firſt-born in their Country, the Beginning of all their Power.

37. Then he brought thoſe forth with Silver and Gold; and none failed among his Tribes.

38. The Egyptians were glad when they went forth; becauſe their Dread fell upon them.

39. He ſpread a Cloud for a Covering, and Fire to make light the Night.

40. Being aſked, he brought Quails; and ſatisfied them with the Bread of Heaven.

41. He opened the Rock, and the Water guſhed out; it ran a River in the dry Places.

42. For he remembred his holy Word, Abraham his Servant.

43. And brought forth his People with Joy, his choſen ones with a Poem.

44. To whom he gave the Countries of the Gentiles; and they inherited the Labour of the Nations:

45. That they might obſerve his Ordinances, and keep his Laws. Praiſe the Lord.

PSALM CVI.

PRAISE the Lord, give thanks to the Lord, becauſe he is good; ſince his Kindneſs is for ever.

2. Who can expreſs the powerful Things of the Lord? Can publiſh all his Praiſe?

3. Such are bleſſed as obſerve that which is right, he who does what is juſt at all Times.

4. Remember me, O Lord, with the Favour of thy People, viſit me with thy Salvation;

5. That I may ſee the good of thy Choſen, be glad in the Gladneſs of thy Nation, may glory with thy Poſſeſſion.

6. We have ſinned with our Forefathers, we have committed Iniquity, have done wickedly.

7. Thoſe did not conſider thy Wonders in Egypt, remembred not the Multitude of thy Favours; but provoked at the Sea, by the Red Sea.

8. However he ſaved them for his Name's ſake; to make known his Power.

9. And he rebuked the Red Sea, ſo that it dried up; and cauſed them to go through the Depths as the Wilderneſs.

10. Whereby he ſaved them from the Power of the Hater, and redeemed them from that of the Enemy.

11. And the Waters covered their Adverſaries, not one of them was left.

12. So they believed his Words, ſinging his Praiſe.

13. Yet they ſoon forgot his Works, they did not wait for his Counſel;

14. But had a longing Deſire in the Wilderneſs, and tempted God in the Deſart.

15. And he gave them their Petition, but ſent Leanneſs into their Perſon.

16. Beſides they envied Moſes in the Camp, Aaron the Saint of the Lord.

17. The Earth opened, and ſwallowed up Dathan, and covered over the Aſſembly of Abiram.

18. A Fire too was kindled in their Aſſembly: the Flame burnt up the Wicked.

19. They made a Calf at Horeb, and bowed down to a molten Image:

20. Changing their Glory into the Form of an Ox that eats Graſs.

Ib. Image] The Doway Tranſlators took care to inform their People, 'They adored the image that repreſented a 'calf, not God.'

21. They forgot God their Saviour, who did great Things in Egypt,

22. Wonders in the Country of Ham, terrible Things at the Red Sea.

23. Therefore he ſpoke of deſtroying them, but that Moſes his choſen one ſtood in the Breach before him, to turn back his Wrath from ſlaying.

24. They alſo deſpiſed the deſirable Country, did not believe his Word;

25. But murmured in their Tents, hearkened not to what the Lord ſaid.

26. Upon which he lifted up his Hand towards them, to caſt them down in the Wilderneſs;

27. As likewiſe to caſt down their Offſpring in the Nations, and to ſcatter them in the Countries.

28. Moreover they joined themſelves to Baal-peor, and eat the Sacrifices of the Dead.

29. Thus they incenſed with their Doings; inſomuch that the Plague broke in among them.

30. Whereas Phinehas ſtood up, and executed Judgment; ſo the Plague was ſtopped.

31. And it is reckoned to him for Righteouſneſs, to all Ages for ever.

32. They enraged further at the Water of Meribah; and it was ill with Moſes for their ſakes.

33. For they provoked his Spirit, ſo that he ſpoke raſhly with his Lips.

34. They did not deſtroy the People, of whom the Lord ſpoke to them.

35. But they mixed themſelves among the Gentiles, and learned their Works.

36. Whoſe Images they ſerved, which became a Snare to them.

37. Nay they ſacrificed their Sons and Daughters to Devils:

38. Shedding innocent Blood, that of their Sons and Daughters, whom they ſacrificed to the Images of Canaan; and the Country was polluted with Blood.

39. So they defiled themſelves with their Works, and committed Whoredom with their own Doings.

40. Incenſed at this with his People, the Lord abhorred his Poſſeſſion.

41. Then he delivered them into the Power of the Gentiles; and thoſe that hated them had dominion over them.

42. Their Enemies alſo oppreſſed them; and they were brought down under their Power.

43. Many times he reſcued them, though they provoked by their Counſel, and were impoveriſhed through their Iniquity.

44. And looking on their Diſtreſs, when he heard their Cry;

45. He remembred his Covenant to them, and was ſorry according to the Multitude of his Favours;

46. Giving them Compaſſions before all who took them captive.

47. Save us, O Lord our God, and gather us together from the Gentiles; that we may give thanks to thy holy Name, may glory in thy Praiſe.

48. Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, from Everlaſting to Everlaſting; and let all the People ſay, So let it be. Praiſe the Lord.

PSALM CVII.

GIVE thanks to the Lord, becauſe he is good; ſince his Kindneſs is for ever:

2. Let the Redeemed of the Lord ſay, whom he has redeemed from the Power of the Adverſary;

3. And gathered them from the Countries, from the Eaſt and Weſt, from the North and the Sea.

Ver. 27. caſt down—ſcatter] as in Deut. i. 41. Num. xxi. 1. ſee Ezek. xx. 23.

Ver. 28. eat] The ſame as the preſ. Tenſe, like caſt and read, but more eſpecially beat and heat.

Ver. 30. executed Judgment] In the Liturgy prayed; but that Meaning is in another Conjug. of the Verb, and neither accords ſo well with the Hiſtory, nor with ſtood up; though Buxt. puts it to that in his Concordance, and ſome other Verſions have it ſo.

Ver. 31.

His righteouſnes therefore ſhall be commended
Through Ages all, till Ages all are ended, Wither.

Ver. 47. See 1 Chron. xvi. 35, 36. where this Paſſage is, and ſo was not unqueſtionably compoſed in the Time of the Captivity of Babylon, or ſome other of a latter Date, as Poole writes; whom Nichols follows: but taking captive may refer to the Philiſtines, 1 Sam. ult. as Captivity, Pſa. 14. ult. and elſewhere. Hence alſo this Pſalm may appear to be made by David; as Jun. and Trem. ſay this Verſe ſhews, and in the former Part of his Reign over Iſrael; ſee alſo Ham. Patr. and Dav. clear'd.

Ver. 48. So let it be] Lewis in his Hiſt. of the Eng. Tranſ. p. 332. writes, 'We ſee many of the Words in 'the Original retained, as Hoſanna, Hallelujah, Amen, 'Raka, Mammon, &c. for which no Reaſon can be 'given but that they are left untranſlated in the vulgar 'Latin:' which is ſurely a very weak Reaſon, if any at all. Ver. 3. Sea] the Red Sea from whence Iſrael was particularly gathered; this the Original is, and not ſouth, nor need be.

4. Who wandered in the Wilderneſs, in a deſart Way, finding no City of Habitation.

5. Hungry as well as thirſty, their Soul fainted in them.

6. When they cried to the Lord in their Diſtreſs, he delivered them from their Streights;

7. And cauſed them to go in the right Way, to walk to a City of Habitation.

8. Let them give thanks to the Lord for his Kindneſs, and his Wonders to Mankind.

12. Though he brings down their Heart with Labour, they fall, and none helps;

13. When they cry to the Lord in their Diſtreſs, he ſaves them from their Streights;

14. And brings them out of Darkneſs and the Shadow of Death, pulling off their Bonds.

15. Let them give thanks to the Lord for his Kindneſs, and his Wonders to Mankind.

16. For he breaks the braſen Doors, and cuts off the iron Bars.

17. Fools, by the Manner of their Tranſgreſſion and Iniquities, afflict themſelves.

18. Their Soul abhorring all Food, and they approaching to the Gates of Death;

19. When they cry to the Lord in their Diſtreſs, he ſaves them from their Streights.

20. He ſends his Word, and not only cures, but delivers them out of their Pits.

21. Let them give thanks to the Lord for his Kindneſs, and his Wonders to Mankind.

22. And let them offer Sacrifices of Thankſgiving, and tell his Deeds with a Poem.

23. Such as go down to the Sea in Ships, doing Buſineſs on the great Waters;

24. Thoſe ſee the Works of the Lord, and his Wonders in the Deep.

25. Who ſpeaking, raiſes up the tempeſtuous Wind, which makes the Waves of it high.

26. They go up into the Air, down into the Depths: their Soul is diſſolved with what is ill.

27. They reel and ſtagger like one drunk; and all their Wiſdom is ſwallowed up.

28. Yet when they cry to the Lord in their Diſtreſs, he brings them out of their Streights.

29. He reſtores the Tempeſt to Silence; and their Waves are huſhed.

30. Then are they glad, becauſe they are ſtill; and he leads them to their deſired Port.

31. Let them give thanks to the Lord for his Kindneſs, and his Wonders to Mankind.

32. And let them extol him in the Congregation of the People, as likewiſe praiſe him in the Habitation of the Elders.

33. He makes the Rivers a Wilderneſs, and Springs of Water a thirſty Place;

Ver. 16, 17. by Wheatl. and Silv. as if reviving afreſh in this Pſalm, which may be likened to a Star in a blank Place, but that a Place of the Heavens, and the inviting Matter might tune their Souls anew, thus,

The iron bars burſt at his pow'rful ſtroke,
His mighty arm the braſen portals broke.
The men, whom folly's outſide charms allure,
Anguiſh for vice, and grief for ſin endure:

but by Dod otherwiſe, for a Taſte to my Reader,

For he hath broke the gates of Braſſe, and barres of yron cut
In ſunder. For tranſgreſſion theirs, the fooles are ſore afflict.

Ver. 17. The LXX have it thus, He helped them out of the Way of their Iniquity, for they were humbled for their Iniquities; deriving אולימ (for how elſe could it be?) from the Active of אול and taking מ for a Prepoſition, though then it ſhould be מהאילמ but it ſerved ſuch Grammarians.

PSALM CVIII.

A Poem or Pſalm of David.

My Heart is prepared, O God: I will ſing, and that melodiouſly, even with my Inſtrument of Glory.

2. Awake Lute and Harp: I will awake early.

3. I will praiſe thee among the People, O Lord; and will ſing to thee melodiouſly in the Nations.

4. For thy Kindneſs is great above the Heavens, and thy Truth to the Skies.

5. Be exalted above the Heavens, O God; and let thy Glory be above all the Earth.

6. That thy beloved ones may be delivered, ſave with thy right Hand, and anſwer me.

7. God has ſaid in his Holineſs, that I ſhall triumph: I will divide Shechem, and meaſure out the Vale of Succoth.

8. Gilead is mine, ſo is Manaſſeh, Ephraim is alſo the Strength of my Head, Judah my Law-giver.

9. Moab is my Waſhing-pot, I will throw my Shoe againſt Edom, will ſhout againſt Philiſtia.

10. Who will bring me to the fortified City? Who will lead me to Edom?

11. Wilt not thou, O God, that didſt caſt us off; and that didſt not go forth, O God, in our Armies?

12. Give us Help, by reaſon of the Adverſary; ſince human Safety is vain.

13. Through God we ſhall act with Ability; and he will tread down our Adverſaries.

PSALM CIX.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm of David.

O God of my Praiſe, be not ſilent.

2. For the Mouth of the Wicked, and that of the Deceitful are opened againſt me: they ſpeak to me with a lying Tongue;

3. And compaſs me with Words of Hatred, fighting againſt me undeſervedly.

4. For my Love they are againſt me; and I am at Prayer.

5. And they render to me Evil for Good, as alſo Hatred for my Love.

6. Set the Wicked over him, and let the Adverſary ſtand at his right Hand.

7. When he is judged, let him go forth guilty, and his Prayer become Sin.

8. Let his Days be few, let another take his Office;

9. His Children being Orphans, and his Wife a Widow.

10. Nay let his Children altogether wander, and beg, ſeeking from their waſte Places.

12. Let him have none that extends Kindneſs, nor ſhews Pity to his Orphans.

13. Let his Poſterity be cut off: in the following Age let their Name be blotted out.

14. Let the Iniquity of his Fathers be remembred with the Lord, and the Sin of his Mother not be blotted out.

15. Let them be before the Lord continually, that he may cut off their Remembrance from the Earth:

16. Becauſe he does not remember to ſhew Kindneſs; but perſecutes the afflicted and needy Man, even to put him to death that is of a bruiſed Heart.

17. And ſince he loves Curſing, let it come to him; and ſince he delights not in Bleſſing, let it be far from him.

18. Since he even wears Curſing as his Apparel, let it come into his inward Part like Water, and like Oil into his Bones.

19. Let it be to him as the Garment which he puts on, and for the Girdle that girds it continually.

20. Be this the Reward of ſuch as hate me from the Lord, and of thoſe who ſpeak Evil againſt my Soul.

21. But do thou, O Sovereign Lord, act with me for thy Name's ſake: ſince thy Kindneſs is good, deliver me.

22. For I am afflicted and needy, and my Heart is wounded within me.

23. I go away like a Shadow when it is ſtretched out, I am ſhaken off like a Locuſt.

24. My Knees ſtagger by Faſting, and my Fleſh fails of Fatneſs.

25. And I am reproached by them: ſeeing me, they ſhake their Head.

26. Help me, O Lord my God, ſave me according to thy Kindneſs.

27. And let them know that this is thy Hand, that thou, O Lord, doeſt it.

28. Though they curſe, do thou bleſs: though they are riſen up, let them be aſhamed; but let thy Servant be glad.

29. Let them be cloathed with Confuſion who are againſt me; and put on their Shame as a Cloak.

30. I will give thanks to the Lord exceedingly with my Mouth, and praiſe him amongſt many.

31. For he ſtands at the right Hand of the Needy, to ſave from thoſe who judge his Soul.

Ib. thou having] The Authors of the Univerſal Hiſtory criticiſing on this Place, as a notable Performance againſt the Heb. Pointing, render From the Womb of the Morning is the Dew of thy Birth, Book I. Ch. vii. Sect. 4. toward the End; by which not only the Original Punctuation is broke through, but לָךְ for this left out untranſlated. Their other Objection amounts to no more than that ſhall or will be is not in the Hebrew, whereas the Verb-ſubſtantive is frequently omitted in that Language. And Hervey lately writes, 'The moſt exact Tranſlation 'of this difficult Paſſage is, I apprehend, as follows; 'Præ rore uteri auroræ, tibi eſt ros juventutis vel prolis 'tuæ (which he gives in Engliſh) The Dew of thy 'Birth is larger, more copious, than the Dew which 'proceeds from the Womb of the Morning,' Medit. Vol. I. p. 131. But would he have it ſtand ſo in the Text? If it is the moſt exact, it ought. Should there be thoſe double Tranſlatings, juventutis vel prolis, and larger, more copious? Should there be Birth, which the Heb. Word has no Meaning of? Should tibi be made inſignificant with tuæ, or be omitted in Eng. as before? There doubtleſs may be a more exact, nay ought to be a better and truer Tranſlation. But that of the LXX is much worſe, I begot thee before the Morning-ſtar; conſtruing ילדת Youth, as ילדתי I begot, and the Words לְךָ טַל thou having the Dew, as הי׳ל (morning) Star. Poole ſays, 'This Place is judged the moſt difficult and obſcure of 'any in this whole Book.' He ſeems to follow Ainſworth, both handling it uncertainly and darkly. Being continued in the 2d Perſon ſing. it is evidently ſpoken of Chriſt by Ver. 1, 4. the Morning apppears to be that of the Goſpel-day, the Womb the Production of Converts, who are I ſuppoſe termed Dew, becauſe they were numerous like the Drops of it, and of large Extent, not without Alluſion to the Dew of the Morning.

4. The Lord has ſworn, and will not repent, Thou ſhalt be a Prieſt for ever after the Manner of Melchi-zedek.

Ver. 7. feel] Sax. grapiath.

Ver. 9. truſt] Mudge truſteth, ſaying he tranſlates theſe three Verſes thus as the Seventy; but they have, has hoped: and he ſays, with a Change of Vowel only; how well it is for the Scripture then, that it has this Bulwark for Defence!

Ver. 14. add to] ſo the Heb. exactly, by which may eaſily be underſtood Wealth, or Bleſſings from the foregoing; whereas increaſe would properly reſpect the Perſons ſpoken of, which does not appear to be the Meaning: and what is increaſed muſt be more, more and more being deviſed by the Tranſlators, which the nameleſs Author of the Verſion ſo much praiſeod, keeps to thus ridiculouſly,

The Lord will you, you and your ſeed, ay more and more encreaſe.

Ver. 1. David, being advanced to the Kingdom, likewiſe made this Pſalm, according to Jun. and Trem. which ſeems likelier than when in great danger of Saul in the deſert of Maon, as peremptorily concluded in the old Contents.

Ib. I love] Mudge adds Him in the ſame Letter, and then ſays, It would begin more eaſily (namely his own) if we placed the Hallelujah which is in the End of the preceeding Pſalm, at the Beginning of this: ſo he might have ſaid of heareth the Voice of my Supplications, as it follows in his Verſion, that it is eaſier for the Genitive, to leave out my with Voice. The Seventy indeed have their Alleluia at the Head of this and the two next Pſalms, by Way of Title to them, taken from the End of the foregoing ones; as it is ſcarce credible the Heb. Copies ſhould be ſo changed.

Ib. hears] fut. in Heb. which is uſed for the preſ. Tenſe. According to the Heb. Pointing there muſt alſo be a Stop made here, and as De Dieu reaſons ought, that the three Benefits may be diſtinctly pronounced, firſt God's hearing, ſecond my Voice, third my Supplications; and the Reader may obſerve a Beauty in it.

Ver. 3. Streights] as Lam. i. 3. Pſa. cxviii. 5. not ſignifying pains: Mudge has Toils (technical enough) ſaying, I read מצרי (but by the Way there is no ſuch Heb. Word) to ereate (mind!) a Meaning of Nets or Toils, which will agree with the Snares; to wit that he himſelf puts for Anguiſhes, which in the other Meaning of the Word is but Cords. This appears ſaid by David in his Troubles under Saul, when his Friends deſerted or neglected him, who had given him Promiſes or Expectations of their Friendſhip; but ſince that he had found it from them again. It is now ſaid for Thankſgiving after Childbirth.

Ver. 3, 4. Wither in the Prayer, When the guilt of Sinn, the fears of Death, the torments of Hell, and the ſugeſtions of the Devill (conſpiring with our frailties) have once encloſed us: We have then no powre of reſiſtance in our ſelves; and it is thy great Mercy, if the little ſpark of our faith be not wholy quenched. Help us therefore in our extremityes.

Ver. 9. walk continually] being in the Conjug. Hithp. where it ſo ſignifies. The Vulg. has pleaſe without before, to mend the Senſe of the LXX, who have it with that, but is ſo more erroneous. They did not miſtake the Verb it appears, but put this for the Meaning.

Ver. 11. Liars] Mudge, a Lie; for, ſays he, there is only a Subſtitution of two Vowels (which are all) much mere eaſy: what pretty Play this! but the Expreſſion is to me much harder.

Ver. 25. ſave] The Heb. Word being hoſhingah, from thence was Hoſanna, Mat. xxi. 9. as Grotius notes. By which may alſo be perceived the hard ſtrong guttural Sound of the Letter ע for which ſome put h, and our Tranſlators commonly in the proper Names (where the Occaſion offers) Nothing; but Ainſw. would have Hoſanna made from this and the following Word together, which he writes Hoſhiah-na, putting a ſoft a for ע which the double nn only may refute, nor are thoſe Heb. Words connected with a Hyphen, though it is frequent in that Language.

Ver. 26. bleſs] In the Pſalter, have wiſhed you good luck; vulgar and unfit.

Ver. 27. bind the Sacrifice with Cords] Sept. make a Feaſt in the thick i. e. Boughs, according to Lev. xxiii. 39, 40. but not what is ordered here, they taking the wrong Senſe of the latter Words, as the Verb demonſtrates; which being iſru they might expound by עשה eſch, the former Part from the Nearneſs of Sound, and in the laſt taking ר for ה Yet Whiſton in his Eſſay towards reſtoring the true Text of the Old Teſt. would have the Heb. Pſalms in particular corrected by the Gr.

Ver. 1. This Pſalm, which is moſtly agreed to be David's, Jun. and Trem. in the Contents, ſpeak of his comforting himſelf with in his Exile; for which alſo ſee Ver. 9, 19. each Heb. Letter beginning 8 Verſes.

Beza begins it in French Verſe,

Bien heureuſe eſt la perſonne qui vit
Avec entiere & ſaine conſcience:

Right bleſſed is the Man who lives with a perfect and ſound Conſcience.

Ver. 3. no] The Gr. Tranſlators tranſfer the Negative to the latter Part, in this Manner, not thoſe who work Iniquity go in his Ways, which is forcing the Heb. Conſtruction.

Ver. 6. For beautiful Lines in the New Verſion, viz. of Tate and Brady (as being common) ſee Ver. 6. 11. (made better by Watts) 42, 50, 70, 74, 90, 91, 97, 99, 109, 112, 120, 127, 139, 140, 146, 151, 162, 165, 168.

Ver. 8. Ordinances] In the Com. Prayer Pſalms it is ceremonies, which Patrick expounds to be, Thoſe Statutes of thine, for which I ſee no other reaſon but thy Will; therefore they were to be God's poſitive known Will.

Ver. 9. a young Man] Sax. ſeyeonga, ſe being for the Article; and for the former ז I put y, for the latter g, as the Sound requires.

Ib. taking heed] Pſalt. ruling himſelfe: for which its great Defender produces no Proof, nor Authority but that of Caſt. exequendis verbis tuis, performing thy Words.

Ver. 18. Open] By the Dow. College Revele, better by the Earl of Dartf. Unveille, though clumſily ſpelled, which his Verſion too much is, and printed as Engliſh at a foreign Preſs, yet fair.

Ver. 20. is broke] has longed by the Sept. &c. is at mere Random as far as I ſee, unleſs put as the Meaning of broke.

Ver. 21. are curſed] If we regard ſome old Tranſlations more than the Hebr. this is to belong to what follows.

Ver. 23. Princes] Sax. ealdorman.

25. ד My Perſon cleaves to the Mould: keep me alive according to thy Word.

26. ד I declared my Ways, and thou didſt anſwer me: teach me thy Ordinances.

27. ד Make me underſtand the Way of thy Precepts, that I may meditate on thy Wonders.

28. ד My Soul drops away for Sorrow: raiſe me up according to thy Word.

29. ד Put away from me the Way of Falſehood, and be gracious to me with thy Law.

30. ד I have choſen the Way of Faithfulneſs, putting thy Judgments.

31. ד I have cleaved to thy Teſtimonies; O Lord, let me not be aſhamed.

32. ד I will run the Way of thy Commandments, when thou enlargeſt my Heart.

33. ה Teach me, O Lord, the Way of thy Ordinances, and I will keep it to the End.

34. ה Make me underſtand, and I will keep thy Law, nay obſerve it with the whole Heart.

35. ה Cauſe me to go in the Path of thy Commandments, for I delight in it.

36. ה Incline my Heart to thy Teſtimonies, and not to Gain.

37. ה Avert my Eyes from ſeeing Vanity, keep me alive in thy Ways.

38. ה Confirm thy Sayings to thy Servant, who is in thy Fear.

39. ה Turn away my Reproach, of which I have been afraid: for thy Judgments are good.

40. ה Behold I have deſired thy Precepts: keep me alive in thy Righteouſneſs.

41. ו And let thy Favours come to me, O Lord, thy Salvation according to thy Sayings;

42. ו That I may anſwer the Matter to him who reproaches me: for I truſt in thy Word.

43. ו And take not away the Word of Truth very much from my Mouth; ſince I wait for thy Judgments.

44. ו So will I obſerve thy Law perpetually, for ever and evermore.

45. ו Then ſhall I walk continually in Wideneſs; becauſe I ſeek for thy Precepts.

46. ו And I will ſpeak of thy Teſtimonies before Kings, and not be aſhamed.

47. ו Nay I will delight my ſelf in thy Commandments, which I love.

48. ו And will lift up my Hands to thy Commandments which I love, as alſo meditate on thy Ordinances.

49. ז Remember the Word to thy Servant, for which thou haſt made me wait.

50. ז This is my Comfort in my Affliction, that thy Sayings keep me alive.

51. ז The Proud deriding me very much, I turned not aſide from thy Law.

52. ז I remembred thy Judgments long ago, O Lord, and comforted my ſelf.

53. ז A Tempeſt took hold of me from the Wicked, who forſake thy Law.

54. ז Thy Ordinances have been my Pſalms, in the Houſe of my Sojourning.

55. ז I have remembred thy Name in the Night, O Lord, and obſerved thy Law.

56. ז This have I had, becauſe I kept thy Precepts.

57. ח O Lord my Portion, I ſaid, that I would obſerve thy Words.

58. ח I made ſupplication before thee with the whole Heart: be gracious to me according to thy Sayings.

59. ח I thought of my Ways, and turned back my Feet to thy Teſtimonies.

60. ח I made haſte, and did not delay, to obſerve thy Commandments.

Ver. 26. and thou didſt anſwer] Mudge, when Thou afflicteſt; but his reading the Heb. otherwiſe is abſurd, ſince the Difference does not conſiſt in that, but in the various Meaning of the Verb: nay it is exactly here as Pſa. cxxxviii. 3. (where he renders Thou anſweredſt me) and elſewhere the like, in the ſame Mood and Tenſe of the ſame Verb: for our Author ſhould have known that ע being guttural makes a peculiar Pointing, before he had turned Critick againſt it, ſince his Criticiſm is wrong as well as abſurd.

Ib. teach] Sax. tæc, Ver. 66. lær, and variouſly ſo elſewhere.

Ver. 27. meditate] the ſame as Ver. 48, 78.

Ver. 28. drops away] Sept. has ſlumbered. Byth. ſuppoſes by the Gr. being corrupted from ἔσταξε to ἐνυστάξε, but is ἐνυστάξεν.

Ver. 29. Falſehood] Mudge, the Way of Lie; but could he think that proper, or better than lying as before.

Ib. be gracious to me] which the Heb. Word means, and not as in the Pſalt.

Ver. 32. run] Sax. arn or yrn, by Tranſpoſition of the Letters.

Ver. 57. Portion] Sax. dæl.

64. ח The Earth, O Lord, is full of thy Kindneſs: teach me thy Ordinances.

65. ט Thou haſt dealt well with thy Servant, O Lord, according to thy Word.

66. ט Teach me the beſt of Senſe and Knowledge: for I believe in thy Commandments.

67. ט Before I was afflicted I erred; but now I obſerve thy Sayings.

68. ט Thou art good, and doeſt good: teach me thy Ordinances.

69. ט The Proud forge Falſehood againſt me: I keep thy Precepts with the whole Heart.

70. ט Their Heart is as fat as Greaſe: I delight in thy Law.

71. ט It is good for me, that I have been afflicted; in order that I might learn thy Ordinances.

72. ט The Law of thy Mouth is better to me, than thouſands of Gold and Silver.

73. י Thy Hands made me, and eſtabliſhed me: cauſe me to underſtand, that I may learn thy Commandments.

74. י When thoſe who fear thee ſee me, they are glad, becauſe I wait for thy Word.

75. י I am ſenſible, O Lord, that thy Judgments are with Righteouſneſs, and that thou haſt afflicted me with Faithfulneſs.

76. י Let there be thy Kindneſs, I beſeeeh thee, to comfort me, according to thy Sayings to thy Servant.

77. י Let thy Mercies come to me, that I may live: for thy Law is my Delight.

78. י Let the Proud be aſhamed, for they in Falſehood deal with me perverſely; I meditating on thy Precepts.

79. י Let thoſe return to me who fear thee, and who know thy Teſtimonies.

80. י Let my Heart be perfect in thy Ordinances, in order that I may not be aſhamed.

81. כ My Soul fails for thy Salvation, I wait for thy Word.

82. כ My Eyes fail for thy Sayings, ſo that I ſay, When wilt thou comfort me?

83. כ Though I am like a Bladder in the Smoak, I do not forget thy Ordinances.

84. כ How many are the Days of thy Servant? When wilt thou execute Judgment on my Perſecutors?

85. כ The Proud dig Pits for me, which is not according to thy Law.

86. כ All thy Commandments are with Faithfulneſs: they perſecuting me wrongfully, do thou help me.

87. כ They have almoſt made me fail on the Earth; yet I have not forſaken thy Precepts.

88. כ Keep me alive according to thy Kindneſs; and I will obſerve the Teſtimonies of thy Mouth.

89. ל O Lord, thy Word is placed for ever in Heaven.

90. ל Thy Faithfulneſs is to all Ages: thou haſt eſtabliſhed the Earth, ſo that it ſtands faſt.

91. ל The Things ſtand faſt this Day according to thy Judgments: for all are thy Servants.

92. ל Unleſs thy Law had been my Delight, I had then periſhed in my Affliction.

93. ל I will never forget thy Precepts; for by them haſt thou kept me alive.

94. ל I am thine, ſave me: for I ſeek thy Precepts.

95. ל The Wicked waiting for me, to deſtroy me; I am prudent with thy Teſtimonies.

Ver. 61. Companies] Gr. the Cords of Sinners have been folded about me; in a diverſe Meaning of the Heb. Subject, and another of the Verb founded on that, which is to be met with ſometimes among the Tranſlators (unleſs it can be imagined they deduced עור from עמר) and eſpecially here, as this Verb is not elſewhere, however in ſuch a ſingular Sénſe; but its Noun Prey diſcovers what it is.

Ver. 67. Before] in the Sax. ærthamthe. The Earl of Dartf. has very erroneouſly Becauſe for it.

Ver. 70. as fat as Greaſe] Gr. curdled like Milk; by ſuppoſing the Noun חלב without the Points was חלב and then framing a Senſe to the Verb from it, as at Ver. 61. upon Occaſion of this Word being here only: though it is not quite incredible, that the ſaid Signification of טפש was fetched from קפא

Ver. 100. keep] By the LXX ſought out, with Reſpect to the foregoing Member more than the Heb. Word; as ſuppoſing Practiſe was not ſo proper to make wiſe, contrary to Job xxviii. ult. as well as the Original here; Practice alſo producing experimental, which is the beſt Knowledge.

Ver. 107. according to] Sax. æfter.

Ver. 109. Life] as Judg. xii. 3. 1 Sam. xix. 5. & xxviii. 21. Job, xiii. 14. ſignifying the great Danger he was in of loſing it. Duport in his Gr. Verſe turns it, Νωλεμέως ψυχὴ μεῦ ἐπὶ ξυρῆ ἵσταται ἀκμῆς.

My Soul ſtands continually on the Edge of a Razor.

Ib. Danger] Sept. thy Hands, as thinking it better Senſe doubtleſs than this.

Ver. 112. End] by K. Jam. too quibbling, And to the the end, without an end.

Ver. 113. Imaginations] So I ſince find Mudge has it, and ſhews it ſhould be. Sept. the unrighteous, only perhaps as ſuiting hate.

Ver. 119. makeſt—become Droſs] Heb. makeſt ceaſe Droſs, which I ſuppoſe will not bear to be tranſlated nearer, and reduceſt—to Droſs would be the ſame. Mudge, whom I cannot but conſider as one of the Party that are for mending the Scripture, ſays, I chuſe to point it הִשְׁבַּתָּ (but there is a Letter wrong, and again in the Errata) Thou cauſeſt to ſink (adding like) as if is a Notion that ſuits with Droſs. But my Notion is, that the Metal being heavier than its Droſs, is what ſinks in melting (and otherwiſe neither of them can ſink) and the Droſs ſwims on the Top; nor does שבת ever ſignify ſink. He adds, making it ſtill more uncertain, except with the Seventy we would rather alter the firſt Letter into a ת which if the Seventy did alter, ſurely they did amiſs; and will he juſtify their wide tranſlating, I have reputed all the Sinners of the Earth Tranſgreſſors? deriving the laſt from שגג and adding י to the Verb.

Ver. 120. My Fleſh ſhivers] Sept. Nail my Fleſh, conceiting this Signification from the Noun, which has contrarily the Signification of Nails from the Verb as Buxt. notes, as alſo fancying סְמַר to be סְמַר

Ver. 121. mayeſt thou not] Neither the Verb nor Adverb being imperative, and the former potential or optative, as well as indicative, give this agreeable Connexion with the foregoing its due Weight: while Mudge aſſerts, it muſt be tranſlated Thou wilt not, except you read אַל i. e. inſtead of בַּל to make it imperative.

Ver. 122. It is remarked that every Verſe beſides throughout this long Pſalm, has ſome Word ſignifying the Law of God; unleſs the 90 be alſo excepted.

Ib. Be engaged for] Litur. Make thou—to delight, in another Meaning (if the Verb has that) but which would require another Mood.

Ver. 126. for the Lord to act] It has been a Matter of no ſmall Doubt, whether the Meaning is not to act for the Lord, eſpecially as the Heb. ſtands in that Order, and moſt anciently took it that Way, both Jews and Chriſtians, inſomuch that the great Rabbi Judah of the former called the Holy, thought himſelf juſtified by it to write

PSALM CXX.

A Poem of the Stairs.

I called to the Lord in my Diſtreſs, and was not unanſwered by him.

2. O Lord, deliver my Soul from the falſe Lip, from the deceitful Tongue.

3. What ſhall be given to thee? Or what ſhall be added to thee, O deceitful Tongue?

4. The Arrows of the Powerful ſharpened, with Coals of Juniper.

6. My Soul it ſelf has dwelt much with him who hates Peace.

7. I am for Peace; but when I ſpeak, they are for War.

PSALM CXXI.

A Poem of the Stairs.

I look up to the Mountains, from whence my Help comes.

2. My Help is from the Lord, who made the Heaven and the Earth.

3. May he not ſuffer thy Foot to be moved: may he not ſlumber who keeps thee.

4. Behold he who keeps Iſrael, does neither ſlumber, nor ſleep.

5. The Lord keeps thee: the Lord is a Shelter to thee on thy right Hand.

6. The Sun ſhall not ſmite thee by Day, nor the Moon in the Night.

7. The Lord will keep thee from all Evil: he will keep thy Soul.

8. The Lord will keep thy going out and coming in, henceforth even for ever.

Ver. 164. by Buchanan, Septies tuam æquitatem me canentem lux videt:

A Day ſees me ſinging thy juſt Dealing ſeven times; which his Country-man Jonſton follows with,

Hanc me canentem ſedulo Lux una cernet ſepties.

Ver. 165. have much Peace] Thus Juvenal at the End of his 10th Satyr,

——Semita certe
Tranquillæ per virtutem patet unica vitæ:

Rendered in a late proſe Tranſlation, Be aſſured, that the only Path to a Life of Peace is through a Courſe of Virtue.

Ib. no Stumbling-block] Nothing that they ſtumble at; but have Something to offend them, Mat. xviii. 6, 7.

Ver. 1. the Stairs] thus rendered Neh. iii. 15. & xii. 37. Exek. xl. 6. & xliii. 17. and Steps, Exod. xx. 26. 1 King. x. 19, 20. 2 Chron. ix. 18, 19. Ezek. xl. 22, 26, 31, 34, 37, 49. Sol. Jarhi in his Commentary writes of this and the 14 next Pſalms, שיאמרי ה׳ וי אותו על חמש עשרה מעלות היורדות מעזרת ישראל עד זדת נשים They were thoſe which the Levites ſaid upon the 15 Stairs going down from the Court of the Iſraelites to that of the Women. So Godwin in his Moſes and Aaron, Lib. ii. 1. and Grotius in Annot. The Deſcription of which Stairs may be ſeen in Prideaux's Ichnography of the Temple, Connect. Part I. B. 3. Both Numbers agreeing, gives this Expoſition much the Preference; eſpecially compared with the like Word, Neh. ix. 4. whereas thoſe who ſuppoſe it otherwiſe, leſs probable, feign the other 15 to anſwer this of the Pſalms. They may be ſuppoſed all made by David, excepting the cxxvith and cxxxiid, as the Titles ſhew of ſome; and this againſt Doeg.

Ver. 3. added] So the Heb. ſignifies, not done; and which by the com. Tranſ. makes, Sharp arrows ſhall be done unto thee.

Ver. 4. Coals of Juniper] which Jerome on Manſion 15 of the Iſraelites ſays, it is reported, ſi cinere fuerint opertæ, uſque, ad annum perveniant, if they were covered up in the Aſhes, would keep a Year. This Curioſity of Nature is given away in the Pſalt. for the juſtling Epithets hot burning; and the LXX being at a Loſs through the Infrequency of it, put it deſolate.

Ver. 5. Meſhech——Kedar] Iſraelites barbarous and wicked like the People there; as it does not appear David ever was in thoſe Places, being Part of Arabia.

Ver. 7. I ſpeak] Unto them the Litur. as the Gr. but to whom elſe ſhould he ſpeak?

Ver. 1. Mountains] Zion and Moriah, 2 Chron. iii. 1. and Grotius ſuppoſes it was written in the Time of the War with Abſalom.

Ver. 3. ſlumber] Sax. hnæppie.

Ver. 6. ſmite] Litur. burn; which the Heb. does not ſignify, and puts the learned Vindicator hard to it to make out of the Moon: among other Things he brings that Saying of the Vulgar, when they tread in cold Water, that they have ſcalded their Feet, yet ſuppoſes the Moon has Heat to the ſame Degree ſhe has Light; though it is evinced by the Burning-glaſſes, ſhe tranſmits none at all of the former.

Ib. Nor the Moon] Duport too far out of his uſual Dulneſs;

Οὐδὲ σέ κεν κερόεσσα βάλοι κατὰ νύκτα σελήνη·

nor the horned Moon puſh thee by Night; but he might make it from Apollinarius, who has the like Senſe and Words.

Ver. 8. going out——coming in] Sax. ingang——utgang, being tranſpoſed.

PSALM CXXII.

A Poem of the Stairs, by David.

I was glad when they ſaid to me, Let us go to the Houſe of the Lord.

2. Our Feet have ſtood in thy Gates, O Jeruſalem.

3. Jeruſalem is built like a City, which is joined together of it ſelf.

4. Whither the Tribes go up, the Tribes of the Lord to the Teſtimony of Iſrael; to give thanks to the Name of the Lord.

5. For the Thrones of Judgment abide there, the Thrones of the Houſe of David.

6. Aſk concerning the Peace of Jeruſalem: let them be quiet who love thee.

7. Let there be Peace in thy Fort, Quietneſs in thy Palaces.

8. For the ſake of my Brethren and Friends, I now ſpeak, Let Peace be in thee.

9. For the ſake of the Houſe of the Lord our God, I will ſeek thy Good.

PSALM CXXIII.

A Poem of the Stairs.

I look up to thee, who dwelleſt in Heaven.

2. Behold as the Eyes of Servants are to the Hand of their Maſters, as a Handmaid's to that of her Miſtreſs; ſo are our Eyes to the Lord our God, till he is gracious to us.

3. Be gracious to us, O Lord, be gracious to us: for we are filled much with Contempt.

4. Our Soul it ſelf is filled much with the Scoffing of thoſe that are at eaſe, with the Contempt of the Proud.

PSALM CXXIV.

A Poem of the Stairs, by David.

Unleſs it had been the Lord who was for us, let Iſrael now ſay;

2. Unleſs it had been the Lord who was for us, when Mankind roſe up againſt us:

3. Then would they have devoured us alive, when they were incenſed at us;

4. Then would the Waters have overflowed us, the Flood paſſed over our Soul;

5. Then that of lofty Waters would have paſſed over our Soul.

6. Bleſſed be the Lord, who has not delivered us a Prey to their Teeth.

7. Our Soul is eſcaped as a Bird from the Snare of the Fowlers: the Snare is broken, and we are eſcaped.

8. Our Help is in the Name of the Lord, who made the Heaven and the Earth.

PSALM CXXV.

A Poem of the Stairs.

Thoſe who truſt in the Lord are as Mount Zion, that is not moved, but abides for ever.

2. As the Mountains are round about Jeruſalem it ſelf, the Lord will be about his People, henceforth even for ever.

Ver. 1. Poem] the Time of which appears by Ver. 2, 5. ſee 2 Sam. v. 6.

Ver. 2. have ſtood] Heb. have been ſtanding.

Ver. 3. Jeruſalem] where Maundrell being in the Year 1697, paced it round without the Wall, and it was by his Account, on the North 1435, South 1290, Eaſt 1005, and Weſt 900 of his Paces or Steps, 10 of which he computes at 9 Yards; the whole making juſt two Miles and a half, as he ſays; but certainly there wants 233 Yards, or a Furlong and 13 Yards, of it, being exactly 2 Eng. Miles (as doubtleſs he reckoned by) a Quarter, and 207 Yards. The Gates he reckons 7, one at the Weſt, and two at each of the other Sides, Journ. from Alep. to Jeruſ. ſee more on Pſa. xlviii. 2.

Ver. 4. to the Teſtimony] Pſalt. to teſtifie unto Iſrael; but it is a Noun, not a Verb.

Ver. 6. Aſk] as the Word means commonly, ſcarce pray.

Ver. 7. Fort] according to the Heb. and not Walls.

Ver. 1. This ſeems rather made by David in his Troubles, before his Advancement; though ſome conjecture it to be long after him. Which Sandys begins in this lofty Manner,

Thou Mover of the rolling Sphears,
I through the Glaſſes of my Tears,
To thee my Eyes erect.
As Servants mark their Maſters Hands,
As Maids their Miſtreſſes Commands,
And Liberty expect;

And Smyth, as alſo Tate and Brady have almoſt verbatim the two Lines, As Servants &c.

Ver. 3. us] who might be thoſe with David.

Ver. 1. Iſrael] over whom David ſeems to nave now reigned; applied by Nichols to Abſalom's Rebellion, but better ſeemingly by Patr. to the foreign Enemies.

Ver. 3. alive] quick being not only obſolete, but may be miſtaken by ſuch as uſe it for quickly.

Ver. 5. that] the Verb being ſing. and ſo Jun. and Trem. add Flood, but the LXX attribute it to Soul.

Ver. 1. Patrick's relating this and Pſa. cxxiii. to be made on Occaſion of Sennacherib's beſieging Jeruſalem, is ſo conjectural, that David may better have the Preference of their paſſing for his, ſince he wrote ſo many, if we do ſeek who is likelieſt.

Ver. 2. round about] As Dr. Perry who was lately there, deſcribes the Situation of it, which he ſays "is very "high, compared with the Plains to the Seaward, yet is "in a ſmall Deſcent, ſurrounded with Hills ſomewhat "higher than it ſelf, except only to the South-eaſt, "where it looks down into a deep Abyſs, on the Back "of which runs a Range of Mountains of Arabia Petræa, "which ſeem pretty equal in Height with Jeruſalem," View of the Levant, p. 123. And Dr. Rauwolff a German, who was there in 1575, relates "that the Dead "Sea, where Sodom and Gomorrah ſtood, might be "plainly ſeen from thence over a barren Hill, though it "was a Day's Journey off, as likewiſe Mount Seir be-"yond it, and the high Hills Abarim and Nebo," Travels, Part. iii. 3.

3. For

3. For the Rod of the Wicked ſhall not reſt upon the Lot of the Righteous; that the Righteous may not put forth their Hands to Iniquity.

4. Do good, O Lord, to the Good, and to ſuch as are upright in their Hearts.

5. As for thoſe that turn aſide to their crooked Ways, the Lord will make them go with the Workers of Iniquity; Proſperity being in Iſrael.

PSALM CXXVI.

A Poem of the Stairs.

1. When the Lord turned back the Captivity of Zion, we were like thoſe who dream:

2. Then was our Mouth full of Laughter, and our Tongue of Singing; then they ſaid among the Gentiles, The Lord has magnified himſelf in dealing with theſe.

3. The Lord has magnified himſelf in dealing with us, who are glad.

4. O Lord, turn back our Captivity, as the Streams in the South.

5. Thoſe who ſow with Tears, ſhall reap with Singing.

6. He that weeps as he goes along, carrying the gotten Seed; ſhall come along with Singing, carrying his Sheaves.

PSALM CXXVII.

A Poem of the Stairs for Solomon.

1. If the Lord does not build the Houſe, they labour in vain who build it: if the Lord does not keep the City, the Keeper watches in vain.

2. It is in vain for you to riſe up early, to ſit down late, eating the Bread of Grief: ſo he gives his Beloved Sleep.

3. Behold Children are the Lord's Poſſeſſion, the Fruit of the Womb is a Reward.

4. As Arrows in the Hand of the Powerful; ſo are the Children of Youth.

5. The Man is happy whoſe Quiver is full of them: they will not be aſhamed, but will ſpeak with the Enemies at the Gate.

PSALM CXXVIII.

A Poem of the Stairs.

1. Every Man is bleſſed who fears the Lord, who goes in his Ways.

2. For thou wilt eat of the Labour of thy Hands: thou art bleſſed, and it is well with thee.

3. Thy Wife will be like a fruitful Vine at the Sides of thy Houſe, thy Children like Olive Plants round about thy Table.

4. Behold that ſo will the Man be bleſt who fears the Lord.

Ver. 3. reſt] The Author of Holy David &c. to vindicate the old Pſalt. labours to ſhew that reſt (a verb) does not neceſſarily import a long abode (which is a Noun) or that cometh (not from the Heb.) imports it as well.

Ib. Lot] Sax. hlyt.

Ver. 5. crooked Ways] Vulg. Obligationes, Obligations, by Corruption probably of obliquationes.

Ib. make—go] lead, which the Heb. has Nothing of, being quite unfit.

Ver. 1. Ezra is ſuppoſed to have made this after ſome of the People were returned from the Captivity of Babylon, Ver. 1, 4. Brady and Tate begin it,

When Sion's God her Sons recall'd from long Captivity,
It ſeem'd at firſt a pleaſing Dream of what we wiſh'd to ſee:

as Baſil Kennett does with,

When favour'd by Jehovah's Guardian Hand,
The Captive Tribes regain'd their Native Land;
We ſeem'd in Dream, or Viſion, to poſſeſs
A Pleaſure ſo profuſe of Happineſs.

Ib. dream] Sept. are comforted; from this Verb's Meaning to recover or get well, Iſa. xxxviii. 16. not as Byth. ſays from another to ſpare.

Ver. 2. Mouth] By the Art of Spelling mouthes is made two Syllables in the old Metre.

Ver. 4. South] where we find Mention made of Streams not perennial, Job vi. 15, 19. whoſe Return he finely compares theirs to: an exquiſite Simile!

Ver. 5. ſhall reap] Sax. ripath.

Ver. 6. gotten] as getting, Job xxviii. 18.

Ib. Sheaves] Sax. gripan; but in ſome Parts of England, the Handfuls before they are put together in Sheaves are called Grips for Gripes.

Ver. 1. for Solomon] as Pſa. lxxii. from whence the Time of writing it appears, he being but young when David died.

Ib. If the Lord] Euruphamus the Pythagorean in his Treatiſe upon Life writes, Ἀνθρώπου φύσις, τὰ μὲν ἐκ τῆς ἰδίας προαιρέσιος, τὰ δὲ καὶ τῆς ἐκ τοῦ Θεοῦ γινομένης ἐπικουρίας ὑποδεὴς ἐστι. The Nature of Man is ſuch, that he can conſult himſelf, yet he alſo wants divine Help.

Ib. vain] Sax. ydel.

Ib. Keeper] the Participle of the foregoing Verb.

Ib. watches] as this Verb is rendered Pſa. cii. 7. Prov. viii. 34. Ezr. viii. 29. Iſa. xxix. 20. Jer. v. 6. & xxxi. 28. & xl. 27. Dan. ix. 14. and never ſignifies waketh.

Ver. 2. to riſe up early, to ſit down late] Here the LXX have, to get up early: riſe you after ſitting down; with little Senſe, and a wrong Pauſe, nay as if שבת was שבו

Ib. ſit down] from Labour or Watching, Ver. 1. for it is not ſitting Work that is ſpoken of.

Ib. eating] a Participle, which our Tranſ. ſeems to have miſtaken for a Verb infinitive.

Ib. ſo he] the Lord by keeping the City at Night, Ver. 1.

Ib. Beloved] referring to Solomon's Name, 2 Sam. xii. 25. and ſo meaning him particularly.

Ver. 4. the Children of Youth] who being born when their Parents are young, may grow up to be ſerviceable to them; and Grot. notes that ſuch are ſtronger. Our Tranſlators by children of the youth, ſeem to have meant only young Children, as in the Litur. or young Men, and either ill expreſſed. For Youth the LXX have ſhaken ones, as a Participle.

Ver. 5. Quiver] wherein Arrows were carried.

Ib. at the Gate] ſhall go to the very Gate of their Enemies City, to demand Entrance; ſee Gen. xxii. 17. which ſeems more denoted than Trial at Law.

5. The Lord will bleſs thee from Zion, and thou wilt ſee the Welfare of Jeruſalem all the Days of thy Life.

6. Thou wilt alſo ſee thy Children's Children, Proſperity in Iſrael.

PSALM CXXIX.

A Poem of the Stairs.

They have diſtreſſed me much from my Youth, let Iſrael now ſay;

2. They have diſtreſſed me much from my Youth: yet have not prevailed againſt me.

3. The Ploughers ploughed on my Brow, making their Furrows long.

4. The Lord was juſt, he cut the Cord of the Wicked aſunder.

5. Let all who hate Zion be aſhamed, and turned back.

6. Let them be as the Graſs of the Roofs, that withers before it is pulled up:

7. With which no Reaper fills his Hand, nor he that makes Sheaves his Arm.

8. Neither do thoſe who paſs by ſay, The Bleſſing of the Lord be on you, we bleſs you in the Name of the Lord.

PSALM CXXX.

A Poem of the Stairs.

I call upon thee, O Lord, from the Depths.

2. Lord, hear my Voice: let thy Ears be attentive to that of my Supplications.

3. If thou, O Lord, ſhouldeſt obſerve Iniquities; Lord, who ſhall ſtand?

4. But there is Forgiveneſs with thee, that thou mayeſt be feared.

5. I wait for the Lord, my Soul waits; and I hope for his Word.

6. My Soul does for the Lord, more than they themſelves who watch for the Morning it ſelf.

Ver. 5. Zion] which may ſhew what Part of David's Life he compoſed this and the following Pſalm in, as has been before obſerved of others.

Ver. 1. Poem] For the Author ſee at Pſa. cxx & cxxv. though ſome gueſs him to have lived after the Babylonian Captivity.

Ver. 3. Ploughers ploughed] According to the 70 Interpreters Sinners hammered; accepting the Verb otherwiſe, and ſo paraphraſing the Noun. Johnſon in his late large Dictionary of the Engliſh Language in 2 vols. fol. has to theſe Words no Inſtance of ſpelling them with w, and there is plough, Luk. ix. 62.

Ib. Brow] Being Something that ſtands out or high, and ſo rendered Lev. xiv. 9. Kennett indeed has an ingenious, but unwarrantable Thought, according to the com. Reading thus,

Th' inhumane Scourgers on my Back have plough'd
With livid Tracts, and Furrows mark'd in Blood:

for that is not ſimilar to drawing a Plough, nor was David whipt, we may ſuppoſe, by his Enemies; yet Mudge too expounds it, ſcourged ſeverely. And the Writer of Holy David clear'd more unaccountably labours to ſhew the Back was Zion.

Ib. Furrows] the Wrinkles on the Brow or Forehead, cauſed by Trouble and Illneſs of Body, which appear in Weeping, downcaſt Looks, and Leanneſs. Sept. Iniquity, from עוה for ענה

Ver. 4. Cord] Sing. though with a plur. Termination; that which the Plough was drawn with. Sept. Necks, from the Thickneſs denoted; Litur. Snares, from too fond, and here a wrong Freedom.

Ver. 6. is pulled up] according to the Signification of the Verb, which never is groweth up; ſo Munſt. and plucked up in the Litur. and Ham. pulleth off by Ainſw. &c. beſides Maundrell in his Journey from Aleppo to Jeruſalem, 1697, at the End informs us, that in the Land of Paleſtine they pull up their Corn for the ſake of the Straw, and he accordingly there explains this Verſe; ſee alſo L. de Dieu's Animad. The laſt Eng. Tranſ. before the preſ. has afore it cometh forth, the com. Met. ere it grow; on which Ward ſays, How Graſs can wither before it grow, is a Paradox.

Ver. 7. With which] there being Graſs among Corn; and though Mudge ſays it cannot refer to this Graſs, ſurely it may.

Ib. no—fills] ſome Copies of the vulg. Lat. will not fill, others has not filled.

Ib. Reaper] for the Mower does not take the Corn in his Hand: and this Participle is tranſlated the Reaper, Am. ix. 13. and plur. the Reapers, Ruth ii. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 14. 2 King. iv. 18. no where elſe mower or mowers.

Ib. Arm] rendered Arms, Iſa. xlix. 22. thus Pagn. turns it Brachium, Jun. and Trem. Lacertum, as alſo Buxtorf's Lexic. has it.

Ver. 6, 7, and 8. ſeem wholly to refer to that uſeleſs, unprofitable, ungathered Graſs, that grows ſpontaneouſly on the Roofs of Houſes. A Graſs (ſays he) that withers before it is ripe; a Graſs, that as its Situation admits not of mowing, ſo it is not even reaped, cut down with a Sickle. A Graſs, that however luxuriant it may ſeem, is never worth the Labour of gathering, and therefore never enjoys thoſe encouraging Benedictions of the Paſſengers upon the Labourers employed in gathering in the uſeful and mature Productions of the Earth. For of ſuch kind of Benedictions are thoſe undoubtedly which are contained in the 8th Verſe.

Ver. 1. Poem] written as may ſeem after David had ſinned concerning Uriah.

Ver. 4. that thou mayeſt be feared] Vulg. Lat. and for the ſake of thy Law, joined to the following; תורא thou mayeſt be feared, being taken for תורה Law: but for this the Septuag. now have Name, which I ſuppoſe was deſigned to be rendered by νόμος, or rather was by Miſtake νόμα, and the gen. Caſe put νόματος, which being no Word, was altered into ὀνόματος. This Remark, however novel (as all were at firſt) has a Right not to yield to any Thing leſs apparent; and the Matter is Matter of Fact.

Ver. 5. and] The LXX. miſſing this, join that before and that after together.

Ver. 6. does] rather watch, or elſe hope, than wait; the Litur. at Adventure fleeth, Hammond haſteneth, Jun. ſtudioſior eſt, is more careful; but the Sept. and vulg. Lat. hoped.

Ib. more than &c.] Sept. from the morning watch till Night, paraphraſtically at Random, to ſhun a ſeeming Tautology that might be Elegance.

Ib. Morning] Sax. dæyredlicre; q. d. red like day, and in another Copy moryintyde.

7. Let

7. Let Iſrael hope for the Lord: for with the Lord there is Kindneſs, and with him much Redemption.

8. And he will redeem Iſrael from all its Iniquities.

PSALM CXXXI.

A POEM of the Stairs, by David.

O Lord, my Heart is not exalted, nor are my Eyes lofty; neither do I go in great Things, nor in ſuch as are too wonderful for me.

2. Do not I order and make my Soul quiet, like one that is weaned of his Mother? My Soul is as it were weaned in me.

3. Let Iſrael hope for the Lord, henceforth even for ever.

PSALM CXXXII.

A POEM of the Stairs.

O Lord, remember of David, all his being afflicted:

2. Who ſwore to the Lord, vowed to the Strong One of Jacob;

3. I will not go into the Tent of my Houſe, will not get up on the Couch of my Beds,

4. Will not give my Eyes Sleep, my Eyelids Slumber;

5. Till I find a Place for the Lord, Tabernacles for the Strong One of Jacob.

6. Behold we heard of it in Ephrathah, found it in the Fields of Jaar.

7. We will come to his Tabernacles, will bow down at his Footſtool.

8. Ariſe, O Lord, to thy Reſt, thou and the Ark of thy Strength.

9. Let thy Prieſts be cloathed with Righteouſneſs, and let thy pious ones ſing.

10. For the ſake of thy Servant David, turn not back the Face of thy anointed one.

11. The Lord has ſworn to David truly, from which he will not return; Of the Fruit of thy Body will I ſet on thy Throne:

12. If thy Children obſerve my Covenant, and my Teſtimonies that I teach them, their Children alſo ſhall ſit on thy Throne for evermore.

13. For the Lord has choſen Zion, having deſired it for his own Dwelling.

14. This ſhall be my Reſt, ſaid he, for evermore: here will I dwell, becauſe I deſire it.

15. I will throughly bleſs its Proviſion, will ſatisfy its Needy with Victuals.

16. I will cloath the Prieſts of it too with Salvation; and its pious ones ſhall ſing joyfully.

17. There will I make the Horn of David ſprout forth; having provided a Lamp for my anointed one.

Ver. 2. Do not] One Particle denoting a Queſtion, and another not. The LXX tranſlate, If I have not been humble, as if it was שחתי from שחח when it is שויתי Did they take ו to be ח

Ib. and make—quiet] Sept. but exalted, from רומם inſtead of דומם Litur. refrain from Munſter. but with the Verbs tranſpoſed, and the Meaning of the other from the LXX; what jumbling Work this!

Ib. as it were weaned] The LXX have, ſo wilt thou recompenſe; in another Signification indeed of the Verb, but כ is not to be ſtrained into [ſo;] and if they wrote ως not for ὡς, but for ὡς, as, it would be without the little Senſe it has now.

Ib. in me] So Pagn. and the Tig. Verſ. have in me, the Lat. and Eng. being here the ſame; Munſt. and Mont. ſuper me, upon me; Jun. and Trem. apud me, with me; which laſt Ainſw. renders this Heb. by, that is quite omitted in the com. Bible.

Ver. 3. Iſrael] which may be a Hint that it was written while David reigned, as Pſa. cxxiv.

Ver. 1. I ſuppoſe with Grotius, Poole, and others, that this Pſalm was made by Solomon, Ver. 8, 9, 10. being nearly the ſame with the Concluſion of his Prayer, 2 Chr. vi. and Ver. 10, 11. ſeem plainly to ſhew it.

Ib. being afflicted] a Verb, but turned by the LXX Meekneſs, and how is eaſy to be ſeen by one that knows a Little of the Hebr.

Ver. 4. Eye-lids] Sax. bræwum.

Ib. Slumber] The Supplement of the LXX to no Purpoſe, ſee in the Com. Pray.

Ver. 6. we] viz. David, when he was young, and dwelt in Beth-lehem-Ephrathah, Mic. v. 2. Ruth iv. 11. Solomon ſpeaking this in the Name of their or the Royal Family; in which Manner nearly both Grotius and Hulſe take it; and this I think is much likelier than taking Ephrathah for Shiloh, only becauſe that was in the Tribe of Ephraim.

Ib. the Fields] left out in the Litur. but the Writer of the General Defence in H. D. clear'd keeps to his Title even here, not allowing a Fault. O happy Tranſlation!

Ib. Jaar] at Kirjath-jearim, 1 Chron. xiii. 6. which is The Town of the Jaars or Woods; and ſeems here put for a proper Name like Ephrathah, as Jun. and Trem. with Mudge alſo have it, and Hulſe expounds it.

Ve. 9. cloathed] Sax. ſcrydde, whence Shroud.

Ver. 11. will not return] but that Solomon's Children ſhould ſit, &c. Ver. 12.

Ver. 12. Teſtimonies] plur. ſee De Dieu Anim.

Ver. 13. the Lord] viz. himſelf, as he ſpeaks in ſeveral Places; though Mudge ſays, Theſe are the Words of the Author.

Ver. 15. Proviſion] Which the Septuagint, rendering Χήραν, the vulg. Lat. Tranſlator plainly miſtook for χήραν, or made from a wrong Gr. Copy that had it ſo, inſtead of the Heb. and thus turned it viduam, Widow; and yet to juſtify it, the Doway Tranſlators cunningly expound the Widow to be the Church wanting Chriſt's viſible preſence; whereas this was Zion's, Ver. 13. and ſo muſt be the Church's Widow, not Chriſt's; ſee Amama, Anti-barb. Bibl. L. i. C. 3.

Ver. 16. Salvation] Litur. health; which if it denoted the ſame as Salvation formerly, not now.

18. I will cloath his Enemies with Shame, but his Crown ſhall flouriſh upon himſelf.

PSALM CXXXIII.

A Poem of the Stairs, by David.

Behold how good and how pleaſant it is, for Brethren to dwell even together!

2. Like the good Oil upon the Head, running down on the Beard, namely Aaron's; which ran down to the Edge of his Apparel:

3. Like the Dew of Hermon, like that which comes down upon the Mountains of Zion; for there the Lord commanded ſhould be the Bleſſing, Life for evermore.

PSALM CXXXIV.

A Poem of the Stairs.

Behold bleſs the Lord, all you Servants of the Lord, that ſtand in the Lord's Houſe in the Nights.

2. Lift up your Hands in the holy Place, and bleſs the Lord.

3. The Lord bleſs thee from Zion, who made the Heaven and the Earth.

PSALM CXXXV.

Praise the Lord, praiſe the Name of the Lord, praiſe, O Servants of the Lord;

2. Who ſtand in the Lord's Houſe, in the Courts of the Houſe of our God.

3. Praiſe the Lord, for he is good: ſing melodiouſly to his Name, for it is pleaſant.

4. Since the Lord has choſen Jacob for himſelf, Iſrael for his own Property.

5. For I know that the Lord is great, and our Lord the moſt of all gods.

6. All that the Lord pleaſes, he does in Heaven and on the Earth, in the Seas and all Depths:

7. Cauſing the Vapours to go up from the End of the Earth, making the Lightnings for the Rain, bringing the Wind out of his Treaſuries:

8. Who ſmote the Firſt-born of Egypt, both of Man and Beaſt.

9. He ſent Signs and Miracles within thee, O Egypt, againſt Pharaoh, and all his Servants:

10. Who ſmote large Nations, and ſlew ſtrong Kings;

11. Sihon King of the Amorites, and Og King of Baſhan, with all the Kingdoms of Canaan:

12. And gave their Country a Poſſeſſion, a Poſſeſſion to his People Iſrael.

13. O Lord, thy Name is for ever: O Lord, thy Remembrance is to all Ages.

14. For the Lord will judge his People, and be ſorry for his Servants.

15. The Images of the Gentiles are Silver and Gold, the Work of Man's Hands.

Ver. 18. his Crown] my Sanctification by the Sept. the ſame Noun denoting a Nazarite, and ו paſſing with them for ו.

Ver. 1. by Buchanan,

Nil caritate mutua fratrum, nihil
Jucundius concordiam:

there is Nothing more pleaſant than the mutual Love, not any Thing more than the Agreement of Brethren.

Ib. Brethren] Antiſthenes, as Diog. Laertius writes in his Life, ſaid the living of Brethren in Amity was ſtronger than any Wall.

Ib. even] as Ainſworth renders it, and Pagn. the Tig. Verſ. with Jun. and Trem. etiam, the ſame; and as the Heb. Particle ſignifies, not in unity. And thus they might be compared to Oil, that is coheſive, which particularly appears in its running down gently as here deſcribed, according to the Proſpect their Habitations make when joined together, which is both beautiful and uſeful in a Society, eſpecially religious. And being figuratively, though not expreſſively, ſpoken of their divine Fellowſhip, will exceed bare Unity; which in bad Things would make them worſe.

Ver. 2. Edge] the upper one, I ſuppoſe; and not running all down to the ſkirts of his garments, to daub them that were ſo very precious, and to be kept ſo nice, Exod. xxviii. Lev. vi. 11. Ezek. xlii. 14. accordingly Ainſw. renders it collar, as likewiſe Kimhi expounds it, with Ford, &c. but Watts brings the Oil down to his Feet.

Ver. 3. Dew of Hermon] We were ſufficiently inſtructed by Experience, ſays Maundrell in his Journey from Aleppo to Jeruſalem, pag. 57. what the holy Pſalmiſt means by the Dew of Hermon, our Tents being as wet with it, as if it had rained all Night.

Ib. like] in an eaſy Manner from before. Mudge falls back into the Abſurdity of our old Tranſ. the Dew of Hermon falling upon the Mountains of Zion, notwithſtanding he quotes Maundrell.

Ib. Zion] by which we may underſtand the Time of penning this and the next Pſalm, as before of the cxxviii and cxxix.

Ib. there] at Zion, as it ſeems to me with Poole, being laſt mentioned, and becauſe the Verb commanded is preterite, which would rather be future if it referred, as ſome would have it, to Brethren's dwelling.

Ver. 1. Gr. and Litur. more, in the courts of the houſe of our God.

Ver. 1. This may alſo be aſcribed to David, and the Time of it ſeen by the laſt Verſe.

Ib. Praiſe] inſtead of which thrice, the com. Met. has it ſix times in the two Verſes.

Ver. 3 ſing] Mudge, ſtrike up to the Name of the Lord; taking the latter from the foregoing Part, where the Heb. Pointing confines it, nor does it ſtand for a Genit. to Name, and withal blotting out his.

Ver. 7. from the End of the Earth] at the Horizon, where the Earth ends to the Sight; but according to Kimhi, from the Sea where the Land ends.

Ib. Treaſuries] Sax. goldhordum.

16. They

16. They have a Mouth, but do not ſpeak; have Eyes, but do not ſee;
17. Have Ears, but do not hearken; nay there is no Breath in their Mouth.
18. Thoſe that make them are like them, with every one who truſts in them.
19. O Family of Iſrael, bleſs the Lord: O Family of Aaron bleſs the Lord.
20. O Family of Levi, bleſs the Lord: you that fear the Lord, bleſs him.
21. The Lord be bleſſed from Zion, who dwells at Jeruſalem. Praiſe the Lord.

PSALM CXXXVI.

GIVE thanks to the Lord, becauſe he is good; ſince his Kindneſs is for ever.
2. Give thanks to the God of gods; for his Kindneſs is for ever.
3. Give thanks to the Lord of lords; for his Kindneſs is for ever:
4. To him who does great Wonders alone; for his Kindneſs is for ever:
5. To him who made the Heaven with Underſtanding; for his Kindneſs is for ever:
6. To him who ſpread forth the Earth upon the Waters; for his Kindneſs is for ever;
7. To him who made great Lights; for his Kindneſs is for ever:
8. The Sun for the Government of the Day; for his Kindneſs is for ever:
9. The Moon and Stars for the Government of the Night; for his Kindneſs is for ever:
10. To him who ſlew of Egypt their Firſt-born; for his Kindneſs is for ever;
11. And brought out Iſrael from among them; for his Kindneſs is for ever;
12. With a ſtrong Hand, and an Arm ſtretched out; for his Kindneſs is for ever:
13. To him who cut the Red Sea into Parts; for his Kindneſs is for ever;
14. And made Iſrael paſs through the midſt of it; for his Kindneſs is for ever;
15. But ſhook off Pharaoh and his Army into the Red Sea; for his Kindneſs is for ever:
16. To him who made his People go through the Wilderneſs; for his Kindneſs is for ever:
17. To him who ſmote great Kings; for his Kindneſs is for ever;
18. And ſlew ſtately Kings; for his Kindneſs is for ever:
19. Sihon King of the Amorites; for his Kindneſs is for ever;
20. And Og King of Baſhan; for his Kindneſs is for ever;
21. And gave their Country for a Poſſeſſion; for his Kindneſs is for ever;
22. A Poſſeſſion to Iſrael his Servant; for his Kindneſs is for ever.
23. Who remembred us in our Lowlineſs; for his Kindneſs is for ever;
24. And reſcued us from our Adverſaries; for his Kindneſs is for ever.
25. He gives Food to all Fleſh; for his Kindneſs is for ever.
26. Give thanks to the God of Heaven; for his Kindneſs is for ever.

PSALM CXXXVII.

BY the Rivers of Babylon there we ſate, as alſo wept, when we remembred Zion.
2. We hung our Harps on the Willows within it.
3. For there thoſe who took us captive, aſked us for the Words of a Song; and thoſe who laid on Heaps, for Mirth, ſaying, Sing us ſome of a Song of Zion.
4. How ſhall we ſing a Song of the Lord in a foreign Country!
5. If I forget thee, O Jeruſalem, let my right Hand forget its Skill.
6. Let my Tongue cleave to the Roof of my Mouth, if I do not remember thee, if I do not advance Jeruſalem above my chief Gladneſs.
7. Remember, O Lord, the Edomites ſaying at the Time of Jeruſalem, Make bare, make bare to the Foundation of it.
8. O Daughter of Babylon, that art to be waſted; he ſhall be bleſſed who renders to thee thy Recompence, for what thou haſt done to us.

Ver. 18. make] Sax. doth.

Ver. 1. This Verſe ſee 1 Chron. xvi. 34. on which David himſelf might probably make the reſt.

Ib. his Kindneſs] 'Benignitas ejus, in Hebræo,' his Kindneſs, in Hebrew, ſays Grotius. Payne not mends, but mars, in the Couplet of the com. Met. For certainly, with Give Praiſes, why?

Ver. 2. of gode] Pſalt. all and Ver. 3. but not in Heb. Gr. nor Lat.

Ver. 13. into] Litur. by a Lapſe in two.

Ver. 15. ſhook off] from the Chariots and Horſes, the Verb ſignifying thus, as both our Ainſw. and Mudge render it.

Ver. 26. The Pſalt. adds another Verſe neither in the Heb. nor Gr. but the ſame as the third in the vulg. Lat.

Ver. 1. of Babylon] where doubtleſs it was compoſed; and by the Prayer againſt the Edomites, Ver. 7. whoſe Overthrow was about five Years after that of Jeruſalem, as ſhewn on Ezek. xxv. 13. was made in that Time: which ſeems too ſoon for Ezra to be the Author of it, and Jeremiah did not go thither, to which laſt the Septuagint aſcribe it.

Ver. 3. thoſe who laid on Heaps, for Mirth] In the Pſalt. melodie in our heavineſſe, worth no more than mentioning.

9. He ſhall be bleſſed who takes, and diſperſes thy Children at the Rock.

PSALM CXXXVIII.

BY David.

I will give thanks to thee with my whole Heart, before the Magiſtrates will I ſing melodiouſly to thee.

2. I will bow down at thy holy Temple, and give thanks to thy Name, for thy Kindneſs and Truth: for thou magnifieſt thy Word above all thy Name.

3. On the Day that I call, thou alſo anſwereſt me, thou ſtrengtheneſt me with Strength in my Soul.

4. All the Kings of the Earth will give thanks to thee, O Lord, when they hear the Words of thy Mouth.

5. And will ſing in the Ways of the Lord; becauſe the Lord's Glory is great.

6. High as the Lord is, yet he ſees the Lowly; and knows the Lofty far off.

7. Though I go in the midſt of Diſtreſs, thou keepeſt me alive: thou doſt ſtretch forth thy Hand againſt the Anger of my Enemies, and thy right Hand ſaves me.

8. The Lord performs for me; O Lord, thy Kindneſs is for ever: leave not off the Works of thy Hands.

PSALM CXXXIX.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm of David.

O Lord, thou ſearcheſt out, and knoweſt me.

2. Thou knoweſt my ſitting down, and riſing up, underſtandeſt my Thought far off.

3. Thou compaſſeſt my Path, and where I lie down, and art uſed to all my Ways.

4. When there is no Word with my Tongue, behold, O Lord, thou knoweſt all the Matter.

5. Thou beſetteſt me behind and before, and putteſt thy Hand upon me.

6. The Knowledge is too wonderful for me: it is ſo high, that I am not capable of it.

7. Whither ſhall I go from thy Spirit? Or whither ſhall I flee from thy Preſence?

8. If I climb up to Heaven, there thou art; or make a Bed in Hell, art there.

9. Should I, taking the Wings of the Morning, dwell at the End of the Sea;

10. There alſo thy Hand would lead me, and thy right Hand hold me.

11. Or ſhould I ſay, Certainly the Darkneſs will hide me; the Night too would be light about me.

Ver. 9. diſperſes] The Heb. Verb, which is a common one, and ſo its Meaning certain and well known, ſignifies thus, and not daſheth; but it is ſuppoſed the diſperſing or ſcattering here was to be by daſhing, which is not proved: and as here, is it not better to keep to the ſimple Senſe? which may be diſperſing the Children among the Rocks, or turning them out into the Wilderneſs; whereas the other requires their Brains alſo to be underſtood, that ſhould be diſperſed or ſcattered, but by the Text it was the Children themſelves; and if daſhing had been intended, why was it not expreſſed? ſince the Heb. has another Verb, viz. רטש for it, uſed on ſuch Occaſion, 2 King. viii. 12. Iſa. xiii. 16, 18. Hoſ. x. 14. & xiii. 16. As it ſtands in the com. Tranſ. &c. it ſeems very ſhocking; but Barton expreſſes it more horribly,

He ſhall be bleſſed for his Pains,
That daſheth out their Infant-brains;

and thus Ford, with Patr.

Ib. thy] Vulg. Lat. their.

Ver. 1. David ſeems to have made this before he was King; and though according to Patrick, as I now ſee, after, I ſhall let mine ſtand: the Pſalm being ſhort, the Reader may ſoon take it into Conſideration.

Ib. Magiſtrates] for gods ſounds ſtrangely; and Angels of the Gr. and old Lat. as if it was to be in Heaven: the former has alſo at the End of the Verſe, becauſe thou haſt heard all the Words of my Mouth, but the latter in the Middle without all.

Ver. 2. above all thy Name] above all that is reported concerning thee; but ſee the Pſalt. with the Addition of [and] to Munſter.

Ver. 5. in the Ways of the Lord] being in his Ways.

Ver. 8. performs] The Pſalter not penurious, has his loving kindneſſe.

Ver. 1. This and the two following Pſalms are ſuppoſed to be written during David's Troubles under Saul.

Ver. 3. where I lie down] from the Chald. and the Heb. otherwiſe ſignifying a Square, to the imaginary Bounds of that I aſcribe the LXX's turning it my Line.

Ver. 4. When] before he ſpoke; for when he did ſpeak, Man might know it.

Ib. Word] The LXX. put to it unrighteous, to favour their annexing this to the latter Member of the preceding Verſe.

Ver. 5. beſetteſt] The Meaning of faſhioned in the Pſalt. &c. is taken from another Verb, and leſs ſuitable.

Ib. behind and before] Theſe ſtanding firſt in the Heb. Ver. are by the LXX coupled with the laſt Part of the foregoing (ſo they ſplit the three Verſes) and rendered the latter and the former.

Ver. 7. Whither ſhall I go from thy Spirit?] hwyder ic gange fram gaſte thinum in the Sax.

Ver. 9. taking the Wings of the Morning] to fly all Day with the Sun: ſo Smyth has this Verſe,

If mounted on the airy Wings
Of the grey-feather'd Morn,
I ſhould unto the farther Shores
Of weſtern Seas be born.

Ib. at the End of the Sea] in the Weſt, beyond the Mediterranean, as the Sun does from that Country in the Evening.

Ver. 11. Or] not If as at Ver. 8.

12. Even the Darkneſs does not darken from thee, but the Night gives light like the Day: the Darkneſs is the ſame as the Light.

13. For thou didſt poſſeſs my Reins, didſt cover me in my Mother's Womb.

14. I will give thanks to thee, becauſe by the aweful Doings I am wonderful, thy Works being ſo; which my Soul is very ſenſible of.

15. My Strength was not concealed from thee, when I was made in Secret, embroidered in the lower Parts of the Earth.

16. Thy Eyes ſaw my Lump, and in thy Book all Parts of it were written (which in Time were formed) when there was not one of them.

17. How precious therefore are the Thoughts of thee to me, O God! how many is the Sum of them!

18. Should I count them up, they are more than the Sand: when I awake, I am ſtill with thee.

19. Since thou wilt kill the Wicked, O God; depart from me, you bloody Men:

20. Thoſe who ſpeak of thee heinouſly, thy Adverſaries that utter themſelves vainly;

21. Do not I hate them that hate thee, O Lord, and loath ſuch as raiſe themſelves up againſt thee?

22. I hate them with perfect Hatred, they are to me for Enemies.

23. Search me out, O God, and know my Heart: try me, and know my Thoughts.

24. And ſee whether I am in a grievous Way; ſo lead me in the everlaſting one.

PSALM CXL.

FOR the chief Muſician. A Pſalm of David.

Deliver me, O Lord, from bad Men, keep me from the very violent Perſon;

2. Who contrive bad Things with the Heart, come together every Day for Wars.

3. They ſharpen their Tongue like a Serpent: the Venom of an Aſp is under their Lips. A Pauſe.

4. Preſerve me, O Lord, from the Hands of the Wicked, keep me from the very violent Perſon; who contrive to thruſt away my Feet.

5. The Proud hide a Gin for me, and Cords, ſpread a Net at the Side of the Road; they ſet Snares for me. A Pauſe.

6. I ſay to the Lord, Thou art my God; give ear, O Lord, to the Voice of my Supplications.

7. O Sovereign Lord, the Strength of my Salvation, thou protecteſt my Head on the Day for Armour.

8. Do not grant the Deſires of the Wicked, O Lord, let not his Heinouſneſs be brought forth, that they may exalt themſelves. A Pauſe.

9. As for the Head of thoſe who ſurround me, let the Trouble of their own Lips cover them.

10. Let burning Coals be removed upon them: let him caſt them into the Fire, into Pits, ſo that they may not riſe up.

Ib. hide] The Sept. tread on, from the Word's other Meaning, as it ſeems, bruiſe.

Ib. about me] בְּעַדְנִי being here ſpell'd with נ paſſed with the Gr. Tranſlators I perceive for בְּעֶדְנִי in my Delight, and ſo it might with us but for the Points.

Ver. 13. poſſeſs] Bp. Hare, create: for if you alter kanitha into kannotha in a Conjug. which that Verb has not, it will ſignify make a neſt. Ten thouſand ſuch new Criticiſms might be made in the Bib.

Ib. didſt cover me in] Sept. receivedſt me from, if the Vulg. Lat. was made right from the Gr. (as made from that it evidently was in this Book) but they might put ἀντελάβῃ in another Senſe, viz. to help; which I am the more inclined to think, as they might deduce that from סכן which Letters the Word has in it, but not any to mean receive.

Ver. 14. I am wonderful] ſhewing by the exceeding wiſe Formation a Reverence to the Creator; of which ſee particularly the great Phyſician Galen throughout his Treatiſe De Uſu Partium.

Ver. 15. embroidered] Sept. and my Subſtance, inſtead of Stature from קוֹם it with a worſe Fault of taking ר to be ו and.

Ib. Earth] which his Mother might be termed, to be literal; ſee Job i. 21.

Ver. 16. Lump] which ſingly well expreſſes the ſingle Heb. Word.

Ib. Parts] ſo in the Ver. before.

Ver. 17. How] Gr. exceedingly, as the Senſe of the other, or from מאד for מה and the Vulg. Lat. a Stretch further too much.

Ib. Thoughts] In the Margin of the Popiſh Doway Bible it is ſaid, "New Traſlaters pervert this Place, tranſlating "[thoughts] for [frendes;]" when in that Verſion cogitations is put for the ſame Heb. Word, Ver. 2. of our Bib. and ſo Pagn. and Montan. beſides the Proteſtant Tranſlators have it here; ſee alſo Hulſe.

Ver. 18. Should] Here is no more Need of adding If than in the Heb.

Ver. 19. Since] Heb. If, including ו that follows, as in other Places.

Ver. 20. Adverſaries] Sept. Cities, in a very different Senſe, and neglecting thy; the Conſonants ſerving for either.

Ver. 8. Do not grant the Deſires of the Wicked] whereas the LXX have, Do not deliver (the Heb. being give) me to the Sinner from my Deſire; reckoning מ a Prep. and the laſt ו a Pron.

Ib. his Heinouſneſs] rendered by the LXX, they contrived, and pieced out with againſt me, on the Suppoſition, that ו ſtood for ו and not overſkilled in Grammar.

Ib. be brought forth] The LXX have, do not leave me, by not being aware of this Meaning of the Verb from the Chald. and miſtaking the 2d Perſ. through the Noun being fem. for the 3d.

Ver. 9. thoſe who ſurround me] The LXX having it their Compaſſings, ſhews they left the Heb. for their own Notion, as I preſume they did not read ם for ו

Ver. 10. be removed] So the Heb. but if Mudge may change the Letters ימ ו or וט into מר beſides the Pointing, as he ſays, It is probable it ſhould be read, it would become be rained.

Ib. let him] namely the Lord, Ver. 8.

11. Let

11. Let not the prating Perſon be eſtabliſhed on the Earth: let Harm hunt the violent one, to the driving him about.

12. I know that the Lord will manage the Cauſe of the Afflicted, the Judgment of the needy ones.

13. Certainly the Righteous will give thanks to thy Name, the Upright will dwell in thy Preſence.

PSALM CXLI.

A Psalm of David.

O Lord, I call upon thee, make haſte to me: give ear to my Voice, when I call to thee.

2. My Prayer ſhall be prepared as Incenſe before thee, the lifting up of my Hands as the Evening-offering.

3. Set a Watch, O Lord, for my Mouth, keep cloſe the Door of my Lips.

4. Do not let my Heart incline to an evil Thing, to do Deeds in Wickedneſs, with Men that are Workers of Iniquity; nor let me eat of their pleaſant Things.

5. Let the Righteous beat me in Kindneſs, and reprove me, let Oil for the Head, not break my Head: for yet even my Prayer is in their Adverſities.

6. Their Judges being thrown down at the Sides of the Rock, will hear my Words, for they are pleaſant.

7. As with one who cuts, and cleaves

Ib. Pits] for the Proof of this, as it is a ſolitary Word in the Heb. conſult Pagnine's great Lexicon.

Ver. 11. prating Perſon] Heb. Man of Tongue, as of Violence after, being general.

Ver. 4. to do Deeds in Wickedneſs] Sept. to make Excuſes for Sins; not by miſtaking the Heb. Words, but their Meaning.

Ib. eat of their pleaſant Things] Sept. communicate with their choſen ones, as before, but more widely. Barton in Hymn 566,

Nor let me of their Dainties eat,
That ſwallow Sin as Men do Meat.

Ver. 5. beat] in Crit. Notes teach, by אלם for ילם which our Unbelievers may believe.

Ib. in Kindneſs] not be ſevere like the Wicked. As the following not requires let with it by the Heb. ſo that Senſe ſeems to require this to agree with it, as likewiſe for that comes after. Thus alſo the Tig. Verſ. and ours in the Com. Pray. friendly.

Ib. let Oil] Mudge in his Notes after the LXX has, let not the Unguent of the Wicked perfume my Head, which he ſays would carry an eaſy Senſe. But is that ſufficient to make the Scripture ſo, when it is not? And how is it to be done! By turning ראש into רשע and יני into ינך which is changing, tranſpoſing, and adding even the Letters: as if by the former one ſhould make fall to be fail, Iſa. xl. 30. 2 Pet. i. 10. flayed ſlayed, 2 Chron. xxxv. 11. fet ſet, 2 King xi. 4. hand land, Mic. v. 12. found ſound, Hoſ. xiv. 8. feller ſeller, Iſa. xiv. 8. fight ſight, Heb. x. 32. and on the contrary ſound found, Tit. i. 13. & ii. 2. favour favour, 2 Cor. ii. 15, 16. with light ſight, Prov. xv. 30. bands hands, Pſa. ii. 3. Act. xvi. 26. bear hear, Joh. xvi. 12. and contrarily hear bear, Ch. vi. 60. ſkirt ſhirt, Deut. xxvii. 20, hunt hurt, Ezek. xiii. 18, 20. breaches breeches, Judg. v. 17. both doth, 2 Cor. ix. 10. liver river, Ezek. xxi. 21. fine find, Job. xxviii. 1, ſeaſon reaſon, 1 Pet. i. 6. naughtineſs haughtineſs, 1 Sam. xvii. 28. corner cornet, Zech. x. 4. require requite, 2 Chron. xxiv. 22. Pſa. x. 13. pretending only that a Letter was altered a little, as it would then make ſome Senſe: ſo by other ſmall Variation hand head, Zeph. ii, 15. ſet ſent, Zech. viii. 10 ſent ſet, 1 Pet. ii. 14. bought brought, 2 Pet. ii. 1. ſtraits ſtairs, Lam. i. 3. led held, Jer. ii. 17. devoured: coals to be devouring coals, Pſa. xviii. 8. and Myſtery Miſtreſs, Rev. xvii. 2. it ſhall be take, be taken away, Lev. iii. 15. death dearth, 2 King. ii. 21. not fear what man can, Pſa. cxviii. 6. taught tare, Judg. xvi. 8. palaces places, Ezek. xix. 7. ſpirit of falſhood, Mic. ii. 11. Now our New Tranſlator coming off with no better Succeſs, notwithſtanding his Diligence in muſtering up thoſe few Places (tho' ready done for him by Bythner and Hare) to ſhew that the Seventy had the Scripture in Heb. different from us (for how elſe could they read it ſo, as he ſays?) What is to be candidly thought of it upon the Whole, as there are numerous more Places wherein the Verſion of the Seventy is ſo wide from the Heb. that it is not, indeed cannot, be owing to the Variation of ſimilar or ſingle Letters? Did the Seventy always tranſlate literally and exactly? How can it be with ſo many Additions, &c? If they differed much in ſome Places from the Heb. why might they not a little in others, without imagining the Original was changed in the latter? And this is the Point to be inſiſted on; anſwer it, him that can. Why all ſuch Pains and Pother about Letters and Points, to make Pretence that the Heb. is altered, when there are ſo many Words and Expreſſions, wherein the old Tranſlators vary from it, and from one another? And how, but by their wide tranſlating? So that the Original, notwithſtanding any Thing in thoſe Verſions, might be the ſame then as now; and is much ſafer to be depended upon, as an Original ſhould. Nay I have here pretty largely ſhewn, in various Inſtances, ſufficient to judge of the reſt, how the LXX made their Miſtakes from the preſent Reading; as was moſt ſuitable for this Book, where they are followed by the Vulg. &c. which was done by conſidering and ſearching the Heb. without Bythner, yet compared with him ſince, and ſome added. But I found it otherwiſe with the Targum, where the Variations from the Heb. are generally mere Paraphraſe or Additions, not Grammatical Faults; and therefore lay out of my Way, as not belonging to cloſe Tranſlation. The farther Service of theſe Lucubrations will appear by the 24th Critical Canon in Wetſten's Nov. Teſt. which has, Cognita origine variantis Lectionis, perit plerumque varians Lectio: the Riſe of a various Reading being known, it moſtly becomes none.

Ib. the Head] the ſame Noun that follows with my.

Ib. Adverſities] With the LXX pleaſant Things: it appears they ſtumbled at the Letter ע which they took as ע tho' to Byth. otherwiſe, from the Matter.

Ver. 6. Their Judges] The LXX here in a gloſſing Humour have, Their ſtrong ones are devoured cloſe by the Rocks, inferior to the Original.

Ver. 7. cuts, and cleaves] which L. de Dieu ſays the Chald. and Syr. underſtand better of ploughing, than cleaving Wood, and on might as well be rendered in; yet on Conſideration that the ſcattering of Bones rather reſembles the Pieces of Wood, I prefer the latter Meaning, but would not add it to the Text: the com. Met. has both,

As he that heweth wood, or he that diggeth up the ground.

The LXX have, As the Thickneſs of the Ground is broke aſunder; by which it is clear, tho' I ſuppoſe unnoticed before, that ו and paſſed with them for ר in the fut. Tenſe, as poleah the Participle did for the Noun ſignifying a Piece, whence they ſtrained Thickneſs or Cruſt.

aſunder

aſunder on the Ground, our Bones are ſcattered at the Grave's Mouth.

8. For my Eyes are to thee, O Sovereign Lord: I truſt in thee; do not let my Soul be made bare.

9. Preſerve me from the Power of the Gin which they have laid for me, and the Snares of the Workers of Iniquity.

10. Let the Wicked fall each into his own Nets, whilſt I withal paſs over.

PSALM CXLII.

AN inſtructing Poem of David, being a Prayer when he was in the Cave.

I cry to the Lord with my Voice, make ſupplication with my Voice to the Lord.

2. I pour out my Meditation before him, declare before him my Diſtreſs.

3. When my Spirit is overwhelmed in me, thou knoweſt my Path: they hiding a Gin for me, in that Way which I walk.

4. To look at the right Hand, and ſee, there is even none acknowledges me, Refuge is periſhed from me: none enquires for my Soul.

5. I cry to thee, O Lord: I ſay, Thou art my Shelter, my Portion in the Country of the Living.

6. Hearken to my Cry, for I am impoveriſhed exceedingly: deliver me from my Perſecutors, for they are too ſtrong for me.

7. Bring my Soul out of Priſon, to give thanks to thy Name: let the Righteous compaſs me, becauſe thou art bountiful to me.

PSALM CXLIII.

A PSALM of David.

O Lord, hear my Prayer, give ear to my Supplications: in thy Faithfulneſs anſwer me, in thy Righteouſneſs.

2. And do not enter into Judgment with thy Servant; ſince no one living will be juſtified before thee.

3. For the Enemy perſecutes my Soul, bruiſes my Life to the Earth, cauſes me to dwell in dark Places, like thoſe that have been dead long ago.

4. And my Spirit is overwhelmed in me, my Heart is within me deſolate.

5. I remember the Days of old Time, meditate on all thy Work, muſe on the Doing of thy Hands.

6. I ſpread forth my Hands to thee: my Soul is to thee as a faint Country. A Pauſe.

7. Anſwer me ſpeedily, O Lord; my Spirit fails: hide not thy Face from me, leſt I ſhould become like thoſe who go down to the Pit.

8. Cauſe me to hear thy Kindneſs in the Morning, for I truſt in thee: let me know that Way which I ſhould go, for to thee I lift up my Soul.

9. Deliver me from my Enemies, O Lord: I hide with thee.

10. Teach me to do thy Will, for thou art my God, whoſe Spirit is good; lead me into a Country of Uprightneſs.

11. For thy Name's ſake, O Lord, keep me alive: in thy Righteouſneſs bring my Soul out of Diſtreſs.

12. In thy Kindneſs too cut off my Enemies, and make all the Adverſaries of my Soul periſh: for I am thy Servant.

Ver. 10. his own Nets] Which Beza in Paraph. the Pronoun being ſing. calls the Nets of God, as if becauſe he had ordained them.

Ver. 1. Cave] of Adullam, 1 Sam. xxii. 1. as ſeems moſt ſuitable, and to diſtinguiſh the Place, Time, and Occaſion of this Pſalm, from thoſe of the 57th. Wither has a notable Prayer on it, applied to Jeſus.

Ib. cry] This and the following Verbs are of the future Tenſe in the Heb. and by Jun. and Trem. with Caſtal. rendered in the preſent, as that Heb. Tenſe denotes for Want of the preſent; beſides that it appears David was praying now, not telling he had prayed.

Ver. 5. Shelter] Shrunk to hope in the Pſalter.

Ver. 7. compaſs] Sept. will wait for, from the Chald.

Ib. becauſe] How unſuitable for thou ſhalt! And how looſely is this Particle turned by which thing if in the Pſalt.

Ver. 1. The Matter of this Pſalm ſhews it was compoſed before David's Deliverance out of his Troubles: the Gr. ſays when Abſalom purſued him; but as that is of no Authority, the laſt Verſe alſo ſeems inconſiſtent with David's Care and Concern for that rebellious Son, 2 Sam. xviii. 5, 33.

Ib. A Pſalm of David] which Mudge puts as throughout, A Pſalm; One of David: leſs oddly, if it be conſidered that a Part is to accord with the Whole.

Ver. 6. a faint Country] So the great Linguiſt, as well as Hiſtorian, Livy writes, Lib. xl. 35. Otioſam Provinciam Coſſ. habuerunt, the Conſuls had an idle Province, where they had Little or Nothing to do. Payne inſtead of mending (which he had made his Buſineſs) follows a corrupt Copy of the old Metre with, as doth the thirſty lands.

The LXX give it an ingenious Turn, but ſuch are to have no Place in the Sacred Text, as Earth (ſo thoſe of Doway, &c. render, tho' better, Land or Ground) without Water.

Ver. 9. I hide] the Heb. Verb being of the 1ſt Perſon, as in Buxt. Conc. and not the infin. Mood and a Prepoſ. beſides which there is Nothing in the Original for I flee.

Ver. 10. good] where the Heb. grand Partition of the Verſe is.

Ib. a Country of Uprightneſs] Where the People loved Honeſty and Juſtice, and he might live at Peace from his Enemies, Patr. and Auth. of Holy David clear'd.

Ver. 11. in] not for—ſake as before.

PSALM CXLIV.

BY David.

Bleſſed is the Lord my Rock, who teaches my Hands Battle, my Fingers War;

2. Being my Kindneſs, and Fortification, my high Place, and a Deliverer to me, my Shield, in whom I truſt: he makes my People ſubject under me.

3. O Lord, what is Man that thou acknowledgeſt him; the Son of Man, that thou thinkeſt of him?

4. Man is as it were Vanity, his Days are like a Shadow which paſſes away.

5. O Lord, bend thy Heaven, and come down: touch the Mountains, ſo that they may ſmoak.

6. Lighten with Lightning, and ſcatter them: ſend thy Arrows, and rout them.

7. Stretch forth thy Hand from on high, deliver me, and reſcue me from much Water, from the Power of ſtrange People;

8. Whoſe Mouth ſpeaks Vanity, and their right Hand is a falſe one.

9. O God, I will ſing a new Song to thee: with the Lute, the ten ſtringed Inſtrument, will I ſing to thee melodiouſly:

10. Who gives Salvation to Kings, delivers his Servant David from the bad Sword.

11. Deliver me, and reſcue me from the Power of ſtrange People; whoſe Mouth ſpeaks Vanity, and their right Hand is a falſe one:

12. That our Sons may be as Plants grown up in their Youth, our Daughters as the carved Corners of the Building of a Palace;

13. Our Store-houſes full producing of each Kind, our Sheep becoming Thouſands, ten Thouſands in our Grounds;

14. Our Oxen bearing the Yoke, with no Breach, no going forth, nor yet crying out in our Streets.

15. The People are bleſſed to whom it is thus; the People being bleſſed whoſe God is the Lord.

PSALM CXLV.

A PRAISE of David.

א I will extol thee, my God O King, and bleſs thy Name for ever and evermore.

2. ב I will bleſs thee every Day, and praiſe thy Name for ever and evermore.

3. ג The Lord is great, and highly to be praiſed; nay there is no ſearching out of his Greatneſs.

4. ד One Generation praiſes thy Works to another, and declares thy powerful Things.

5. ה I diſcourſe of the glorious Honour of thy Majeſty, and thy wonderful Matters.

6. ו As ſome ſpeak of the Strength of thy terrible Things, I alſo tell of thy Greatneſs it ſelf.

7. ז They utter forth the Remembrance of thy large Goodneſs, and ſing of thy Righteouſneſs.

8. ח The Lord is gracious and merciful, forbearing of Anger, and of great Kindneſs.

Ver. 1. It is ſuppoſed this was made a little after David came to the Crown; and probably before Pſa. xviii. in which two there is a Reſemblance: the Gr. indeed adds πρὸς τον γολιάθ, againſt Goliath; but the Plurals, Ver. 7, 11. and my People, Ver. 2. indicate otherwiſe.

Ver. 2. Kindneſs] Litur. hope, as it was thought I ſuppoſe the other was improper: but the Penman of H. Dav. clear'd would make it up by ſaying, Hope ſignifies the thing hoped for; while the Heb. Word means no more of hoped than hope, nor does it ſignify his covenanted Mercy that I know of.

Ib. my People] who otherwiſe might be diſaffected and rebellious. By adding ם my would be taken away, which Mudge ſuppoſes rather to be right; if we are diſpoſed to new make the Scripture.

Ver. 8. right Hand] given in Treaty, which it ſeems they broke.

Ver. 12. That our Sons] Sep. Whoſe Sons, and ſo their Daughters, with the reſt throughout the 2 next Verſes; the Variation beſides the Points is ן and ם however the laſt Verſe ſpoils it all, ſo that there is added in the Vulg. they have ſaid.

Ib. Building] Much more conſonant to the Root, that ſignifies to build, than ſimilitude; the latter alſo requiring כ according to.

Ver. 13. Store-houſes] Sax. horderna.

Ib. of each Kind] Sept. out of this into that, ſuppoſing ן for ן

Ver. 14. bearing] as the Heb. is; the Gr. thick, and others alſo widely, as Patr. expounds it Cows great with young.

Ib. going forth] Pſalt. leading into captivitie, which may be the Meaning of it.

Ver. 1. The Verſes of this Pſalm, made I ſuppoſe in David's Proſperity, are Alphabetical, only the 14th Heb. Letter נ is omitted; for which is added in the Greek, The Lord is faithful in his Words, and holy in all his Works, which in Heb. might begin on that Letter: whereon Grotius ſeems to triumph, as if this was loſt there, ſaying, How will they anſwer to this, who bid us ſtand in all Things by the Decrees of the Maſorites? But could this learned Man be ignorant, that there is ſuch Defect too in other Places, and not ſupplied in the Gr. as in Pſa. xxv, and xxxiv, and xxxvii? for which ſee my Notes; and what Anſwer would he have made to thoſe? He might have ſaid God's Spirit is not confined to Man's Alphabet; as the Stars do not ſtand in Ranks, nor in the Shape of our Conſtellations, &c. which Anſwer would ſerve for this; nay is it not manifeſt, that this is added with a little Alteration from the 17th Verſe? See likewiſe Buxtorf's Anſwer to Capellus, Vindic. p. 437, 438.

Ib. for ever and evermore] aptly and exactly to the Heb. but the Dow. Verſ. has here, with Ver. next and laſt, for ever, and for ever and ever.

Ver. 6. I] Sept. they, which the Heb. does not countenance at all.

Ver. 8. forbearing] by Wither,

How prone to pitty, and to Wrath how ſlowe; who has ſubjoined to this Pſalm a zealous Prayer againſt decreed Reprobation.

9. ט The

9. ט The Lord is good to all, and his Mercies are upon all his Works.

10. י All thy Works give thanks to thee, O Lord; and thy pious ones bleſs thee.

11. כ They ſpeak of the Glory of thy Kingdom and talk of thy Power:

12. ל To make known his powerful Things to Mankind, and the honourable Glory of his Kingdom.

13. מ Thine is a Kingdom of all Ages, and thy Dominion is in every particular Generation.

14. נ The Lord upholds all who are falling, and raiſes up all who are bowed down.

15. ס The Eyes of all wait for thee, and thou giveſt them their Food in its Seaſon.

16. פ Thou openeſt thy Hand, and ſatisfieſt the Will of every living one.

17. צ The Lord is righteous in all his Ways, and kind in all his Works.

18. ק The Lord is near to all that call upon him, to all who do it truly.

19. ר He accompliſhes the Will of ſuch as fear him; both hears their Cry, and ſaves them.

20. ש The Lord preſerves all who love him; but will deſtroy all the Wicked.

21. ת My Mouth ſhall talk of the Lord's Praiſe; and all Fleſh will bleſs his holy Name for ever and evermore.

PSALM CXLVI.

PRAISE the Lord, praiſe him, O my Soul.

2. I will praiſe the Lord while I live, will ſing melodiouſly to my God as long as I have a Being.

3. Do not truſt in Princes, in the Son of Man of whom there is no Safety.

4. His Breath goes forth, he returns to his Ground, on which Day his Thoughts periſh.

5. He is bleſſed that has the God of Jacob for his Help, whoſe Expectation is upon the Lord his God;

6. Who made the Heaven and the Earth, the Sea and all that is in them: who keeps Truth for ever;

7. Who executes Judgment for the Oppreſſed, gives Food to the Hungry: the Lord lets looſe the Priſoners.

8. The Lord opens the Blind, the Lord raiſes up ſuch as are bowed down, the Lord loves the Righteous.

9. The Lord preſerves the Strangers, ſupports the Fatherleſs and Widow; but overthrows the Way of the Wicked.

10. The Lord will reign for ever, thy God, O Zion, to all Ages. Praiſe the Lord.

PSALM CXLVII.

PRAISE the Lord; for it is good to ſing melodiouſly to our God; nay pleaſant, Praiſe being comely.

2. The Lord builds up Jeruſalem, gathers together thoſe who are driven away of Iſrael.

3. He heals ſuch as are of a broken Heart, and binds up their Sores.

4. He reckons up the Number of the Stars, calling them all by Names.

5. Our Lord is great, and of much Might: his Underſtanding is infinite.

6. The Lord ſupports the Meek, humbles the Wicked to the Earth.

7. Sing to the Lord with Thankſgiving, ſing melodiouſly to our God with the Harp:

8. Who covers the Heaven with thick Clouds, prepares Rain for the Earth, makes the Graſs ſprout forth on the Mountains.

Ver. 9. upon] as more proper than over.

Ver. 12. honourable] not a contemptible, vain, or falſe Glory: by Tranſpoſition of the two Words, Ver. 5. being there the Honour of Glory, here the Glory of Honour; but the latter of two Subſtantives in Heb. often anſwers to an Adjective of ours.

Ver. 13. Dominion] Sax. klafordſcipe for Lordſhip.

Ver. 14. upholds] ſo that they do not fall: for if they fall, how does he uphold them?

Ver. 17. is] K. James,

The Lord, in every Way of his,
he righteous doth remaine;

where he is redundant, and not allowable even in Poetry, but ſuch Inſtances are too frequent to mention in him and others, as here alſo Ver. 3, 14.

Ver. 1. All theſe Pſalms to the End of the Book, may I ſuppoſe be aſcribed to David, after he was King over all Iſrael; notwithſtanding the com. Gr. and Lat. aſcribe this to Haggai and Zechariah.

Ver. 8. loves] Pſalt. careth for, with too much Liberty.

Ver. 1. comely] This the LXX Tranſlators ſkipt over, or more favourably miſtook it for the Verb-ſubſtantive הוה in Niph. as there is to היה with א for its Kindred-letter ה they rendering, Praiſe is ſweet to our God.

Ver. 2. Of this Grotius ſays, It ſuits beſt to the Times of Nehemiah: but with due Deference to the Opinion of ſo great a Man and his Followers, this building up of Jeruſalem might have been in the Time of David, as it ſeems by 2 Sam. v. 9. and likewiſe the gathering together, &c. from 1 Sam. xxxi. 7. whereas the other was of Judah as a Nation, and not Iſrael; and as the Nation is called by this Name again, with Jacob, Ver. 19. and that ſignified to be one Nation, Ver. 20. I muſt remain in the ſame Mind as at the Entrance of the foregoing Pſalm.

Ver. 8. makes the Graſs, &c.] by Sandys, that fine Decypherer of Nature,

With Graſs he cloaths the pregnant Hills,
And hungry Beaſts with Herbage fills.
He feeds the Ravens croaking Brood, (Left by the Old) that cry for Food:

and by Jonſt.

Gramine qui montes operit; pecorique miniſtrat
Pabula, quæſitas et tibi; corve! dapes; which in the Pref. Diſc. is remarked to be worthy of great Attention, for the fine Mixture of Singulars and Plurals;

9. He gives to the Beaſt its Food, to the young Ravens that call.

10. He takes no Pleaſure in the Power of a Horſe, does not delight in the Legs of a Man.

11. The Lord delights in thoſe who fear him, in thoſe who wait for his Kindneſs.

12. Give thanks to the Lord, O Jeruſalem: praiſe thy God, O Zion.

13. For he ſtrengthens the Bars of thy Gates, bleſſes thy Children within thee,

14. Makes peace in thy Bounds, ſatisfies thee with the beſt of the Wheat.

15. He ſends forth his Speech on the Earth: his Word runs very ſpeedily.

16. He gives Snow comparable to Wool, diſperſes the white Froſt like Aſhes,

17. Caſts his Ice as if in Bits: who can ſtand before his Cold?

18. He ſends forth his Word, and melts them: making his Wind blow, the Water flows.

19. He declares his Word to Jacob, his Ordinances and Judgments to Iſrael.

20. He does not deal ſo with any Nation; as for the Judgments, they do not know them. Praiſe the Lord.

PSALM CXLVIII.

PRAISE the Lord, praiſe the Lord from Heaven, praiſe him in the Heights.

2. Praiſe him, all his Angels: praiſe him, all his Armies.

3. Praiſe him, Sun and Moon: praiſe him, all you Stars of Light.

4. Praiſe him, O Heaven of Heavens, and Water which is above the Heavens.

5. Let them praiſe the Name of the Lord: for when he commanded, they were created.

6. And he makes them remain perpetually for ever: he gave an Ordinance, which ſhall not paſs away.

7. Praiſe the Lord from the Earth, O Whales, and all Depths,

8. Fire and Hail, Snow and Smoak, tempeſtuous Wind performing his Word,

9. Mountains and all Hills, Fruit-trees and all Cedars,

10. Beaſts and all Cattle, creeping Things and winged Fowls,

11. Kings of the Earth and all Nations, Princes and all Judges of the Earth,

12. Young Men and alſo Virgins, old Men with Children.

13. Let them praiſe the Name of the Lord; ſince his Name alone is high, his Majeſty above the Earth and the Heaven.

14. And he exalts the Horn of his People, is the Praiſe of all his pious ones, of the Iſraelites a People near to him. Praiſe the Lord.

PSALM CXLIX.

PRAISE the Lord, ſing to the Lord a new Song, his Praiſe in the Congregation of the pious ones.

2. Let Iſrael be glad through his Maker, the Children of Zion rejoice through their King.

3. Let them praiſe his Name with Dancing, ſing to him melodiouſly with the Timbrel and Harp.

4. For the Lord delights in his People, he adorns the Meek with Salvation.

5. Let the Pious triumph glorioufly, ſing aloud upon their Beds.

6. Let there be Extollings of God in their Throat, and a Sword with Edges in their Hand; in Eng. thus, Who covers the Mountains with Graſs; as alſo to the Herd affords Proviſions, and the Sacrifice-feaſts that are aſked for to thee, O Raven.

---

Ib. Mountains] The Gr. proceeds with (whence our Pſalt.) and Herb for the Service of Men, as Pſa. civ. 14. for ſo the LXX borrow, chop and change.

Ver. 9. Ravens] So one Cambridge Sax. Copy has hrefn, but another crawan, and Spelman's broca, being Birds not much unlike.

Ver. 10. does not delight in the Legs of a Man] Non curat celeres curſores, Cares not for ſwift Runners, Grot.

Ver. 16. Snow comparable to Wool] As at the Time when I write this; with a ſtriking Reſemblance, ſeveral Flakes ſeeming about an Inch long.

Ib. Wool] Sax. wulle.

Ver. 4. Water which is above the Heavens] the Air below being alſo called Heaven, as Grotius obſerves.

Ver. 5. for] Here the LXX thruſt in, he ſpoke, and they were made; from whom the vulg. Lat. and Litur. have theirs.

Ib. when he commanded] The Pſalt. having before it, he ſpake the Word, and they were made, from the Gr. or Lat. is but a different Rendering of the ſame Heb. Words, like that in Pſa. xxix. 1. as the Author of the State of the Pr. Heb. obſerves, p. 505.

Ver. 7. Earth] including the whole Globe, and even its Atmoſphere; ſince Hail, Snow, Wind and Fowls are comprehended, as well as Whales.

Ib. Whales] So Jun. and Trem. with Caſt. have it cete, agreeing beſt with Depths.

Ver. 14. is] with what Advantage is eaſily ſeen.

Ib. near to] Litur. that ſerveth.

Ver. 1. Song] Sax. lofſang, which ſounds like Love-ſong, and might be taken ſo in other Places of the Pſalms; but is not, for the Sax. lof is Praiſe, as it follows in this Verſe.

Ver. 3. Timbrel] By the E. of Dartf. drum.

Ver. 4. adorns the Meek with Salvation] For this the Lit. has helpeth the meek-hearted; which puts the great Defender hard to it for a Plea, with help importing all manner of Divine Favours, &c. The Sept. have exalts; how does not appear, otherwiſe than looſely from the right Verb.

Ver. 5. glorioufly] ב with Nouns being uſed in Heb. for Adverbs, Buxt. Gram. Lib. ii. Cap. 20. whereas Mudge turns it in their Heart, taking Glory for Heart inſtead of Tongue, Pſa. xvi. 9.

Ver. 6. Sword] by which they were evidently to do

7. To execute Vengeance among the Gentiles, Rebukes in the Nations;
8. To bind their Kings with Chains, and their honourable ones with iron Fetters;
9. To execute among them the Judgment that is written: it being the Honour of all his pious ones. Praiſe the Lord.

PSALM CL.

PRAISE the Lord, praiſe God in his holy Place, praiſe him in the Firmament of his Strength.

2. Praiſe him in his powerful Things, praiſe him according to the Abundance of his Greatneſs.
3. Praiſe him with the Sound of the Trumpet, praiſe him with the Lute and Harp.
4. Praiſe him with the Timbrel and Dancing, praiſe him with the ſtringed Inſtruments and Organ.
5. Praiſe him with the loud Cymbals, praiſe him with the ſounding ones.
6. Let the whole Breath praiſe the Lord. Praiſe you the Lord.

what follows, that is the Iſraelites to their Enemies: and cannot be that Power which God hath given to the church to rule the conſciences of men, as ſaid in the Contents of the com. Bible; nay even thoſe were but to execute the Judgment written, Ver. ult.

Ver. 7. Vengeance] Sax. wræce.

Ver. 8. bind] Sax. yewrithenne.

Ib. Chains—Fetters] Id. fotcopſum—handcopſum.

Ver. 1. holy Place] Litur. holineſſe, unintelligible. The Dowayiſts gravely inſtruct their Readers in the Fooleries of Auguſtine (for his being ever ſo great a Doctor or Father will not make them otherwiſe) as that 150, the Number of the Pſalms, ſignifies the Concord of the two Teſtaments: for in the old the Sabbath, which is the ſeventh Day, in the new ours, that is the eight (it ſhould be eighth to be Senſe, but it is the firſt) making fifteen (the 7th Day and 1ſt or 8th Day make but two) multiplied by ten, the Commandments, riſe unto 150. Again 7 multiplied by 7 (for the old Sabbath, which was only one, not 7) whereto one, the 8*th* (tho' it was 8 before) being added make 50, which multiplied by 3, ſignifying the B. Trinity, make 150.

Ib. in the Firmament] This I ſuppoſe may mean on Earth, being within the Concave of the mighty Firmament; the Sight and Conſideration of which, might be a Means of ſtirring up the Mind to praiſe God.

Ver. 2. in] the ſame as in the preceding Verſe.

Ib. the Abundance (or Multitude) of his Greatneſs] as the Heb. is, and the Sax. mæniyfealdnyſſe mucelnyſſe his.

Ver. 6. the whole Breath] as joined in Conſort with the foregoing Inſtruments, it alſo appearing to be only Man that is called on to praiſe God in this and the Pſalm before; and in the 148th where other Animals were, inanimate Things were likewiſe. I conclude this Book with my Remarks, that I found the following Pſalms, by reaſon of their Sublimity, difficult to tranſlate, viz. liii, lviii, lxviii, lxxiii, lxxiv, lxxvi, lxxxiv, lxxxvii, xc, xcv, cx, cxxxix, cxl, cxli; and ſo in a leſs Degree, the iv, x, xxii, lxxv, xciii, cvii; but the xlvii, lxvii, xcvi, xcvii, xcviii, xcix, c, cxxxvi, and cxlv, plain and eaſy.

The END of the FIRST VOLUME.
